Haig Insists Nicaragua, Cuba Involved in War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig Jr. is insisting that the capture of a Nicaraguan guerrilla is further proof of his contention that the insurgency in El Salvador is directed and controlled from Nicaragua and Cuba.

Despite that assertion Thursday, Haig found himself on the defensive before a congressional subcommittee that demanded more evidence to support his charges.

Haig expressed dismay that his word was not enough, but promised to provide more evidence to counter mounting congressional skepticism. Initially, he said he hoped to make the information available Friday, but State Department officials later said it probably would not be ready until next week.

Meanwhile, a Nicaraguan official said in Washington that his government is the target of a CIA-directed plot that includes attacks by counter-revolutionaries from across the border in Honduras.

Jaime Wheelock, minister of agriculture for the Sandinista government, said it's the same kind of destabilization plan that toppled the leftist government of Salvador Allende in Chile in 1973. However, he acknowledged that he lacked concrete proof.

Proof also was a problem for Haig, who told a foreign operations subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee, that Nicaragua and Cuba were directing the fighting against the Salvadoran government.

"Today, for the first time, a Nicaraguan military man was captured in Salvador, having been sent there by the FSLN to participate in the direction, which is so evident of this guerrilla operation, from Nicaragua," Haig said.

The FSLN is an acronym for the leftist Sandinista Front for National Liberation, which holds power in Nicaragua.

Haig later told reporters the Nicaraguan was a "guerrilla" rather than a member of the Nicaraguan military. "He was a guerrilla; he was working with the Salvadoran rebels, and he admitted it. He was sent there by the Nicaraguan government to assist in the revolution."

The United States has had about 50 military advisers helping the government in El

Jobless Now 5.6 Million

By MERRILL HARTSON AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The unemployment rate jumped back up to 8.8 percent in February as 5.6 million Americans — more than ever before — had to settle for part-time work, the government reported today.

The Labor Department said the jobless rate inched closer to a post-World War II high last month after a temporary dip of three-tenths of a percentage point in January.

The rate now stands only two-tenths of a percentage point below the postwar high of 9 percent, which was recorded in May 1975. Before December, the last time unemployment was as high as 8.8 percent was in June 1975 after the recession that year reached its peak.

The percentage of people with jobs fell last month to 57.3 percent, the lowest level in 4½ years, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said.

More than 9.6 million Americans were out of work last month, an increase of 280,000 over January.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are the unemployment rates for February, compared to January, in the nation's 10 largest industrial states, as reported on a seasonally adjusted basis today by the Labor Department:

- California, 8.9 percent, up from 8.7 percent.
- Florida, 7.3, down from 7.4.
- Illinois, 9.6, up from 9.0.
- Massachusetts, 7.8, up from 6.9.
- Michigan, 14.8, down from 14.9.
- New Jersey, 8.9, down from 9.4.
- New York, 8.4, up from 7.8.
- Ohio, 11.3, up from 10.7.
- Pennsylvania, 10.3, down from 11.2.
- Texas, 5.7, up from 5.6.

Since last July, when unemployment stood at 7.2 percent, 1.8 million people had been thrown out of work.

The bureau said the number of people forced to accept part-time employment rose by nearly a half-million in February, eclipsing the previous record of 5.3 million established in December.

Analyst Deborah Klein said the part-time figures do not take into account people who prefer shortened work hours for various reasons.

The 5.6 million, she said, "are either people who are in the same job but have their hours cut or who have lost their full-time jobs and have had to accept other work on a part-time basis."

The bureau also reported that workers who have been unemployed for three months or more — a sign of the long-term effects of a deepening recession — increased by about 325,000 last month.

Total employment remained in February at 99.6 million for the third consecutive month after declining by 1.3 million between July and December. The civilian labor force expanded by 286,000 last month following a decline

Vessey Named Staff Chairman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Calling him "a soldier's soldier," President Reagan has plucked Gen. John W. Vessey Jr., from obscurity as the Army's second-in-command and named him the next chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Reagan's choice, which he announced Thursday during a California holiday, surprised just about everyone at the Pentagon.

It was a particular jolt to the Navy, which had hoped its chief, Adm. Thomas Hayward, would be elevated to the nation's highest military post because the Navy figures pre-eminently in administration build-up plans and strategy.

Vessey ranks as one of the darkest horses in memory in the sweepstakes for the JSC chairmanship.

Never before has a vice chief of staff vaulted so high in one leap and he is the first officer in nearly 25 years to be chosen as chairman without first having served as chief of his service.

Vessey also is the first Army general to be named head of the JSC without having graduated from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point.

The nomination is subject to Senate confirmation, but that probably will be nothing more than a formality.

Vessey will replace Air Force Gen. David C. Jones, who is retiring as head of the JSC.

Vessey, who will be 60 next June 29, has a reputation for what one officer called his "closeness to troops," as well as for a wide-ranging knowledge of strategy.

Born in Minneapolis, Minn., Vessey was a young National Guardsman before World War II and was mustered into active service before Pearl Harbor. After fighting across North Africa and into Italy, he won a battlefield commission as an artillery second lieutenant on the

Inmate Trial Concludes; Jury Deadlocked, 10-2

GALVESTON, Texas (AP) — Six weeks of testimony from 50 witnesses failed to persuade jurors to pronounce a verdict in the capital murder trial of Texas Department of Corrections inmate Eroy Edward Brown.

The seven-man, five-woman panel deliberated four days before state District Judge Henry Dalehite declared a mistrial Thursday. Jurors were deadlocked 10-2 in favor of acquitting Brown, who was charged in the drowning of prison warden Wallace M. Pack.

Inconsistencies between physical evidence and testimony of witnesses led to the mistrial, one juror said.

"There was just a lot of evidence that wasn't submitted, so all we could go on was the physical evidence. That's all we had," said Al Chandler, 47, of LaMarque. "Inconsistency, inconsistency. We had to go with what was consistent with the scene."

Chandler said jurors favoring acquittal believed there were contradictions in the prosecution's story about the scuffle between Brown, Pack and Ellis Unit farm manager Billy Max Moore and the physical evidence.

The jurors also disregarded the last two weeks of testimony when defense attorneys paraded several inmates and former inmates to the stand, each saying Pack and Moore were violent men who abused prisoners.

"We had to eliminate the last two weeks of testimony all together," Chandler said. "I didn't think Warden Pack was on trial, and I didn't think Billy Moore was on trial."

While disregarding the inmates' testimony, jurors also said they doubted the stories of two prisoners who claimed they saw Brown shoot and kill Moore and chase Pack into a drainage ditch.

"I didn't go for the (James) Solomon and (Levi) Duson stuff at all. Only one person did," said juror Bernard Roche, 63, of LaMarque.

Roche said he thought the inmates' view of the incident was distorted and believed they could not possibly have seen the scuffle between the

American, Braniff in 'Airfare War'

By The Associated Press

American Airlines and Braniff International Corp. plunged into another battle in an escalating airfare war today with a second two-for-one ticket promotion, while Texas International added a twist and offered to exchange bus tickets for plane tickets.

The bargain-rate tickets available from American and Braniff went on sale today one minute after midnight, and will be on sale until 11:59 p.m. Saturday. The tickets will be good from March 15 to April 30.

Debt-riddled Braniff's promotion was limited to flights originating or terminating in Oklahoma and all Texas cities it serves except Dallas-

Forth Worth. Braniff said similar promotions last month increased its passenger loads by 50 percent.

Braniff's chief competitor, American, announced a two-for-one ticket promotion at 10 cities in Texas and Oklahoma for flights to any of its 60 mainland U.S. destinations. The 10 cities are Amarillo, Austin, Houston, San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Harlingen-Rio Grande Valley, Midland-Odessa and Lubbock in Texas and Oklahoma City and Tulsa.

Anyone purchasing a round-trip coach fare from American to any domestic city from these 10 points will receive one free roundtrip coach ticket of comparable or lesser value. Braniff will charge $1 for the second ticket. Both Braniff and American are based in the Dallas area.

Two weeks ago both airlines had similar promotions in which flights originated and terminated at Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport.

Houston-based Texas International Airlines, now offering to beat the lowest bus fares in every U.S. city it serves, will give away 5,000 round-trip, standby tickets Sunday to people who bring in bus tickets and rip them up, company spokesmen said.

Williams Fights To Retain Seat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harrison A. Williams Jr., fighting to save his place in the Senate, is telling his colleagues he was a victim of "renegade" federal officials who deliberately prosecuted him on false Abscam charges.

The New Jersey Democrat, defending himself for nearly six hours Thursday, termed the FBI's Abscam investigation "ethically repugnant" and vowed to battle what he called the "preposterous recommendation that I be expelled."

Portraying himself as the victim of prosecutors who took him to court on "charges they knew to be false," Williams described the time since the Abscam case broke as an "Orwellian nightmare" and a "lonely fight."

"My wife and I have been under some ordeal, I tell you, for over two years," he said.

With about 80 senators on hand and the galleries packed for the second day of Senate hearings, Williams said in his familiar, low-key baritone, "I could make things easier for you by resigning."

But that, he said, "would be a betrayal of the trust placed in me by the citizens of New Jersey in four Senate elections."

Williams claimed that "renegade individuals" in the FBI and Justice Department created the case against him "out of nothing."

Stenholm Pushing Marketing Plan

By CHARLES RICHARDS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — With current commodity prices below the cost of production, Rep. Charles Stenholm of Texas is urging farmers to get aboard a voluntary marketing plan he has proposed to push the prices higher.

As long as farm prices are at levels of the pre-Depression era, farmers should withhold their crops from the marketplace, the Stamford Democrat said at a news conference Thursday.

He asked farmers nationwide to participate in a "20-10-20" marketing plan, which he said will give help that the new farm bill failed to provide. The plan seeks to deal with glutted markets and depressed prices.

"The opening salvo of the plan, which we are encouraging farmers to voluntarily commit to, is quite simple: stop selling any non-perishable crop below the cost of production," Stenholm said.

Stenholm, a member of the House Agriculture Committee, is the only farmer in the Texas delegation.

Under the plan, farmers would voluntarily place 20 percent of their existing supplies (both carryover and new crop) into a farmer-held reserve program.

"This could be through home or commercial storage and through either the federal Commodity Credit Corporation loan program or a privately financed program," Stenholm said.

Of the remaining 80 percent, farmers are asked to sell a maximum of 10 percent in any 30-day period over the next three months and a maximum of 20 percent of the remaining balance of the crop during any of the last nine months of the marketing year.

An additional 10 percent could be sold, at any time, if prices reached an agreed-upon level above the cost of production.

"A growing number of agricultural leaders from across the nation are supporting this marketing concept," Stenholm said. He called the plan "the only available means farmers have at the moment to stay out of the bankruptcy courts."

"A wheat producer, cotton farmer, grain farmer or corn grower shouldn't be expected to survive economically by paying through the nose for all he has to have to grow those crops, producing all he possibly can, and then throwing every single bushel or bale of his crop on the market at the beginning of harvest at less than it cost him to grow it

Bowie Commissioner First Acquitted

TEXARKANA, Texas (AP) — Bowie County Commissioner J.C. Arnold has become the first county official to be acquitted of charges resulting from a two-year federal investigation into corruption among North Texas and Oklahoma county officials.

Jurors deliberated about four hours Wednesday before acquitting Arnold of charges that he defrauded the county government by accepting bribes in connection with a road equipment scheme.

The federal investigation has netted 19 guilty pleas or convictions in a 10-county area in Texas. More than 165 commissioners, former commissioners and equipment suppliers have pleaded guilty or been convicted in Oklahoma.

Arnold, who has announced that he is seeking re-election, had been charged with four counts of extortion, two counts of conspiracy and 30 counts of mail fraud.

He is scheduled to go to trial in October on a second indictment charging him with one count of extortion, one count of conspiracy to obstruct justice and one count of obstruction of justice.

Arnold, 63, was accused of dummying up false invoices for equipment that never was delivered, and splitting the money with the salesmen.

Fields Applauds

EPA Decision To Check Hazardous Waste Site

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Jack Fields, R-Texas, of Humble has applauded the decision by the Environmental Protection Agency to spend $437,000 to study and clean up a hazardous waste site near Houston that recently was judged one of the worst in the nation.

The federal government has allocated $437,000 to investigate the seriousness of hazardous waste at the French Limited disposal site at Crosby, Texas, Fields said Thursday. The study will determine how serious a health threat the site represents, whether area ground water has been contaminated, who is to blame for the situation and the best method to clean it up, Fields said.

Of the $437,000, $272,500 will be used for the investigation and $164,500 for a feasibility study on cleaning up the site, Fields said. By law, the EPA is allowed to recover from the French Limited Disposal Company the cleanup costs.

Runs Roadblock, Escapee Shoots Self

CASTROVILLE, Texas (AP) — Police say a man who escaped from the Uvalde County Jail and ran a roadblock shot himself to death as pursuing officers closed in on his disabled vehicle two miles east of Castroville.

Darrel Miller, a 31-year-old oilfield worker, shouted that he "would not be taken alive" shortly before the fatal shotgun blast was fired about noon Thursday, Chief Medina County Deputy Sheriff Alvin Santelben said.

An illegal alien from Honduras, identified as Janet McDonald, escaped with Miller but was not injured and was rearrested, officers reported.

Uvalde County Deputy Clyde Hobbs said that the manhunt began when Miller, a trusty awaiting trial on an armed robbery charge, stuck a butcher knife to jailer John Johnson's back at 6:17 a.m. Thursday.

Miller took Johnson's keys, unlocked a cell and freed Ms. McDonald, then fled in Johnson's car, Hobbs said.

Santelben said that Department of Public Safety and Medina County officers set up a roadblock west of Castroville on U.S. 90, but that the truck occupied by Miller and Ms. McDonald ran through the roadblock and continued through Castroville at speeds up to 75 miles an hour.

Two miles east of Castroville, a DPS trooper shot out both back tires of the truck and Miller turned into the driveway of the Harold Bipper home.

As Miller crouched behind the vehicle, a shot rang out and officers said they found the escapee dead of a shotgun blast to the chest.

Officers said Ms. McDonald told them that Miller promised to help her get back to Honduras if she would accompany him in the escape.

Writers Outraged By New State Tax

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Literary giants whose labors have led them to homes in the Connecticut hills let loose a collective cry of pain when they saw their incomes cut by one of the state's many efforts to generate revenue.

"I just think it's unjust," said playwright Arthur Miller of Roxbury, who won a Pulitzer Prize for "Death of a Salesman."

"We don't make our incomes in this state," he said in a telephone interview. "We only spend them here."

But despite the efforts of a number of Pulitzer Prize-winning authors to wriggle free of the state's new "unincorporated business tax," legislators who passed it are reacting with little sympathy.

Harrison Salisbury, president of the Authors League of America Inc. and a Pulitzer winner for his international reporting for The New York Times, is leading the effort to persuade the General Assembly to exempt writers from the tax.

"It's a small-business tax," said Salisbury, who lives in a northwestern town that happens to be named Salisbury. "We're not businesses. We don't have a shop. We just have our typewriters and our paper."

Tick Patrol Cowboys Request Right To Tote Sidearms

By CHARLES RICHARDS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Texas cowboys, one of whom brought his saddle with a bullet in it, appeared before a congressional subcommittee and won support for their pleas that they be allowed to carry sidearms in their daily patrols of the Rio Grande.

Tom Deats, 33, of Carrizo Springs, Texas; Ed Bowers, 39, of Rio Grande City, Texas; and Mark Smith, 24, of Del Rio, Texas pleaded Thursday for passage of legislation recently introduced by Rep. Abraham Kazen, D-Texas, of Laredo.

The 900-mile-stretch of the Rio Grande they patrol, looking for stray cattle that might be carrying ticks, puts the inspectors into frequent contact with armed smugglers, rustlers and illegal aliens, they said.

"Especially at night, the Rio Grande is a major crossing point for the smuggling of illicit narcotics into the United States and, of course, a busy intersection on the illegal alien trail between the two countries," Kazen told the subcommittee on department operations, research and foreign agriculture.

"They are unarmed in an isolated world where drug and contraband smugglers play a high stakes game," Kazen testified.

The cattle tick has been eradicated in the United States, but still thrives in isolated areas of Mexico, Kazen said. The inspectors are needed, because Texas and a dozen other states would face losses of millions of dollars if the tick infested their cattle, Kazen added.

Many of the inspectors already carry firearms, for their own protection, Kazen said.

"I'm afraid, with all the smuggling going on, that one of these fellows some day is going to be forced to fire his firearm, and he will be prosecuted because he doesn't have the legal authority to carry firearms," he added.

The USDA has 94 men who patrol the river from Del Rio to the Gulf of Mexico. Most of them have been shot at, they said — one of them less than two weeks ago.

A USDA official testified in support of the request, and subcommittee chairman George Brown, D-Calif., told the men "you have made a very convincing case for this legislation. I promise you the committee will give prompt attention to taking action on this bill."

Dr. Harry Mussman, administrator of the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, said it would cost from $300 to $400 per weapon — or a total of up to $36,000 — to provide each of the inspectors with firearms. Training also would be necessary, he said.

If the total cost were $200,000, that would be small compared to the loss of an inspector's life, said Rep. William Wampler, R-Va., the ranking Republican on the subcommittee.

"These tick inspectors patrol the river border alone, on horseback, and are exposed to the ever-present smuggling, cattle rustling and movements of illegal aliens.

Violent criminal activities occur in the areas they patrol," Mussman said.

Deats is president and Bowers the vice president of Local 3106 of the American Federation of Government Employees, representing inspectors in the tick eradication program.

Bowers said the inspectors know how to use guns and would be happy just to have the authority to carry the ones they already own.

"We need the bill to make it clear we actually have the authority to carry the weapons, at no cost to the taxpayers," Bowers said.

Brown interrupted. "I'm getting the picture here that virtually all of your inspectors are already carrying firearms. It appears the problem is one of making this legal instead of all of a sudden given you firearms. Is my perception correct?"

"You're pretty sharp, Mr. Chairman. You got it," Deats said, to laughter in the hearing room.

Deats added, "It's not a matter of putting out a bunch of money on training or a bunch of malarkey. We can handle that. We were all raised on firearms and are familiar with it."

Wampler said he favors the request, but sees no reason the inspectors should have to furnish their own guns. Other federal officials are supplied guns and ammunition and they should be too, he said.

The inspectors' responsibility is to inspect stray livestock — or any cattle or horses being smuggled into Texas — to make sure that ticks, which multiply rapidly, do not get into Texas and infest it and other southern states, Kazen said.

Smith's uncle, also a tick inspector, was killed in a line camp in August 1976. That slaying is still unsolved, the tick inspectors said.

Nonetheless, a few senators came to Williams' aid.

Democrats John Melcher of Montana and Russell Long of Louisiana asked sympathetic questions and Sen. Sam Hayakawa, R-Calif., once a renowned semanticist, said he was intrigued by the linguist's testimony.

Williams, 62, was convicted on bribery and conspiracy charges and ordered to pay a $50,000 fine and serve three years in jail.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — An elderly man who admitted shooting his terminally ill brother five times at a nursing home has been sentenced to 10 years probation and ordered to spend 10 hours a week working with senior citizens.

"I regret this thing had to happen. I couldn't see my brother in the shape he was in," Woodrow Collums, 69, of nearby Poteet, said after he was sentencing Thursday.

Asked whether he would do the same thing again, Collums replied: "I couldn't answer that."

District Judge Tom Rickhoff sentenced Collums to 10 years deferred adjudication, which under Texas laws clears a defendant's record when successfully served. Rickhoff also ordered Collums to do community service work 10 hours a week over the next three years in his senior citizens center in his hometown.

Collums, who withdrew as a candidate for Atascosa County judge on Feb. 1, pleaded guilty last month to walking into a San Antonio nursing home last Nov. 14 and firing the shots at point-blank range into Jim Collums, 72.

Jim Collums was suffering from Alzheimer's Disease, an incurable and progressive brain disorder.

Collums waited at the nursing home for police to arrest him. He was charged with murder and released on $10,000 bond.

Later he wrote an emotional letter to his family and friends that was published in local newspapers.

"He had suffered long enough. I could not stand to see him suffer any longer," he wrote.

Helen Collums, the dead man's widow, said she understood why the younger brother killed her husband and testified in his behalf at a probation hearing last month.

Salvador since last spring. There hadn't previously been any specific accusations, publicly at least, that the Nicaraguans had sent advisers to the rebel side.

Haig said "unchallengeable" evidence was presented in private to the House Intelligence Committee on Thursday regarding the full scope of Nicaraguan involvement in El Salvador and Cuban involvement in the command and control of the operations in El Salvador today.

But some of Haig's charges before the appropriations subcommittee were greeted with skepticism by its chairman, Rep. Clarence Long, D-Md., and other members of the committee.

Meanwhile, the intelligence committee chairman, Rep. Edward P. Boland, D-Mass., issued a statement on Thursday's closed briefing.

He said "convincing" evidence was presented that the Salvadoran rebels "rely on the use of a site in Nicaragua for command and control and for logistical support."

"There is further persuasive evidence that the Sandinista government in Nicaragua is helping train insurgents and is transferring arms and financial support from and through Nicaragua to the insurgents," Boland added.

"Cuban involvement especially in providing arms is also evident," Haig also told the committee that events in Central America and the Caribbean posed the greatest threat to the security of the United States in the world today, something he has not said previously.

"I know of no danger to the United States of greater imminence and greater urgency than the situation in our hemisphere," Haig said.

Haig also testified that U.S. embassy officials in Honduras have been told by Miskito Indian refugees from Nicaragua that "Cuban and other Caucasian, non-Spanish-speaking people that they assumed to be Russian" were present when Nicaraguan troops razed villages in the eastern part of the country.

Haig said Indians were "stripped of their belongings and those who resisted were shot directly on the spot." He said all of 5,800 Indian refugees in one Honduran camp were questioned by U.S. embassy officials.

But Wheelock, who was in Washington for a speaking engagement, denied the government had abused the Indian population.

Wheelock admitted that the Nicaraguan government has build a point-by-point refutation of the case against him.

Flanked by two lawyers, he introduced documents which he said show prosecutorial doubts about the strength of the case against him and questioned the quality of videotapes of meetings he held with a phony FBI sheik.

Williams also called in the opinion of a linguistics expert who said the apparently damning words he uttered on the videotapes did not convey his true intentions.

During the presentation — with Vice President George Bush presiding — some senators focused on unrelated papers, wrote letters, read newspapers or worked on matters not pertaining to the three men. Both defense attorney Craig Washington and prosecutor Mike Hinton praised jurors for their persistence in attempting to reach a verdict.

"In spite of your inability to reach a decision, you ought to be very proud of yourselves," Washington said. "It's God's will that you didn't reach a verdict, so you don't have anything to worry about."

Faye Pack, the warden's widow, admitted she was

"discouraged. But I haven't given up hope yet. There will be another time, another trial, another town, another judge, another jury — and we will win."

Walker County District Attorney Mark Ward said Brown will be retried "as soon as we can find another court and another county."

Washington said Brown would be confined in Galveston County "until another jury somewhere acquits him and he and I walk out free." Brown's aunt, Eddie Manryland, had predicted earlier the jury would not reach a verdict.

"The good thing about it is the second chance all things will come out clearer for us," she said.

The jury deliberated slightly more than 19 hours over four days. An additional five hours was spent in the courtroom as the jury had testimony read to them.

of more than 300,000 the month before, which masked the continuing deterioration in the job market.

The bureau said manufacturing employment fell by about 45,000 in February, a decline that was less severe than the losses of 200,000 jobs in each of the previous four months, as shown by the government's survey of business payrolls.

The report also said construction employment, which had been severely depressed in January because of bad weather, rose by about 80,000 in February. But the bureau said the increase was not large enough to erase the January decline in that category.

Adult women accounted for most of the February increase. Their jobless rate rose four-tenths of a percentage point to 7.6 percent — the same as the unemployment rate for adult men.

Economists are saying that long unemployment lines probably will remain a fact of life for several months in a recession that Reagan administration officials now concede is much worse than expected. And no one seems certain when the turnaround might occur.

Anzio beachhead in May 1944.

In contrast to some senior officers whose rise has come through technical and management expertise, Vessey's career has been identified with troop command as well as key plans and operations assignments. He wears the Distinguished Service Cross, the second highest award for bravery, as well as the Purple Heart and other medals won in battle.

Vessey doesn't fit the typical mold in a number of ways. For example, he learned to fly a helicopter as a student pilot at the Army's chopper schools when he was nearing age 50.

Among officers and enlisted men who have served with him, Vessey is spoken of as "crusty" and "cantankerous," as well as in admiring terms.

Along the way, Vessey has earned a bachelor of science degree from the University of Maryland and a masters of science degree from George Washington University.

He is married to the former Avis C. Funk of Minneapolis. They have three grown children, including a son, David, who is a chief warrant officer in the Army.

in the first place."

Embraced in his proposal is a four-point plan under which:

—Farmers agree to immediately stop selling non-perishable commodities at current prices.

—Farmers agree to participate in the 20-10-20 orderly marketing system designed to encourage market adjustments.

—Farmers agree to participate in production control programs, including the Reduced Acreage Program administered by the Department of Agriculture.

—An expanded effort will be made to use all resources to increase foreign and domestic sales of farm commodities at profitable prices.

Mistake...

Two items published Wednesday in an article about the order of Felician Monks at San Jose Mission were incorrect.

"At noon there is evangelism" should read "At noon there is the prayer of the Angelus" and "communion and rosary" should read "communal rosary."

Civil Defense Program Given

Assistant Firechief Tim Homer and fireman Jerry Collier were introduced by Betty Jo Carlson, program chairman, when members of the Hereford American Legion Auxiliary met recently in the American Legion Hall.
 The guest speakers, who talked with the group on civil defense, stressed to the public to listen to radio and television reports and to report any unusual cloud formations.
 They also urged that residents not call the station for information on weather as this will be reported by the news media.
 They suggested that citizens may protect themselves and their family from flying glass by getting underneath heavy objects, furniture, mattresses or other available materials.
 It was also stressed that one should stay away from disaster areas such as wrecks, fires or areas where the traffic will prevent the firemen from doing their job efficiently.
 During the business meeting with Edwina Thomas presiding, it was announced that the monthly bingo game at King's Manor will be held at 7 p.m. Thursday. Also, bingo participation is encouraged at 7 p.m. Monday in the V.A. Medical Center at Amarillo Hospital.

 The American Legion birthday will be celebrated March 16 in the Legion Hall with a dinner beginning at 7 p.m. for both the Legion and Auxiliary members as guests.
 An Easter bake sale is planned in Sugarland Mall at 9:30 a.m. April 9 and a tea will be held May 2 in the Legion Hall to honor and initiate new members. All members who have never been initiated are invited.
 An invitation from the Amarillo Garden Center was read inviting the group to a special meeting in the center April 2 and a letter from the department chaplain concerning the Memorial Cathedral Window in Washington was also read. Members and friends are invited to make contributions to this project to honor those who have fought battles for freedom.
 Also, during the meeting, constitution and by-laws chairman read some changes to the unit by-laws and they were approved.
 During the organization's next meeting in April, members will select nominees for Girls State representatives.

Artists of the Month

Selected as this month's artists for the Deaf Smith County Library are members of Charles Lyles' art class. The group, which meets at The Texas Gallery, began their lessons in September. Shown with Lyles are

Ann Landers

Reader Supports Advice

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm sure that by the time this letter reaches you, your mailbox will have been fire-bombed at least a dozen times by readers who are enraged at your advice to "Middle American with a Serious Problem." But I personally admire your gut-level courage to print such advice.
 At first I didn't believe I had read what I had read, so I went over it a couple more times until I realized that, sure enough, you actually advised that man to satisfy his violent and persistent sexual urges ... alone.
 The act itself has proven to be harmless unless it is used as a permanent and frequent substitute for real people. Only when masturbation is a means of remaining in a fantasy world 24 hours a day can it be considered a problem. "Middle American" seems like a decent, well-balanced chap. His feet appear to be firmly planted on the ground. If they weren't, they'd be planted in a different girl's bed every night.

 We no longer believe the horror stories about hairy palms, blindness and insanity, but an awful lot of guilt persists among those who turn to self-gratification. Hopefully, this will change in time.
 How much better to relieve the tensions solo than to mislead some vulnerable woman or beget an unwanted child. Keep dishing out that terrific advice, Ann. So many people need it, and you're the only one around who has the courage and the clout. - Kansas City

DEAR K.C.: You're right about the fire-bombed mailbox! I'm accustomed to getting clobbered, but when I'm sure I'm on solid ground it doesn't bother me a bit. Thanks for your support.
DEAR ANN LANDERS: There are many things Americans can be proud of, but the way we treat animals is not one of them.
 Would you believe that in several states it is legal to beat jackrabbits to death with clubs? The reason given is that they destroy millions of dollars' worth of crops.
 Another shocker: Until recently in Charleston, S.C., they organized "Bunny Bops." Grown men went after the rabbits with clubs and rocks and killed them by the thousands. It was considered a "sport."
 I was born in Europe and grew up with the idea that America was the most wonderful country in the world. Now I am not so sure. Do you have any comment, Miss Landers? - V From Visalia
DEAR V: The officials at the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals tell me they are cracking down on the Bunny Boppers and making it illegal. From now on the rabbits will be gassed. However, I learned from a very reliable source that 55,000 rabbits were clubbed to death in Idaho recently as farmers were offering a bounty of 8 cents a head. This is a mighty cruel way to make 8 cents. Surely we can come up with an alternative.
DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have a problem so terrible I am ashamed to put it down on paper, but I know I must.
 I sent for your booklet, "Is It Love or Sex and How to Tell the Difference," and guess what? I tried both, and I STILL can't tell the difference. So what do I do now? HELP! - On Tenterhooks At Princeton
DEAR HOOKS: You can knock off the funny stuff and spend more time on your studies. Now that you have women on campus, competition for grades is a lot tougher.

Children's Choir Plans Chili Supper

The Carol Choir of the First United Methodist Church will be holding a chili supper on Wednesday evening, March 10 to raise money to help defray the expenses on their trip to Oklahoma City April 16 and 17 to the Oklahoma Junior Choir Festival.
 The chili supper will be held in the Fellowship Hall of the church from 5 to 7:30 p.m. A nursery will be available for those that need it.
 Tickets to the supper are being sold by the choir members from now until March 10. Tickets will also be available at the door for those wishing to attend but who have not been contacted by a choir member.
 The cost of the tickets is as follows: 12 years and up-$2.50; ages 6-11-$1.50, ages 5 and under-Free.
 The Carol Choir is composed of 26 children from fourth, fifth, and sixth grades. They will appreciate your support in the success of the chili supper.
 Grant and Groyce Hanna will for the 10th year serve as chefs for the choir's chili supper. Choir members will assist in serving the meal and providing the dessert.
 Bert Bostic is the choir's musical director.

GOD IS WHEREVER YOU MAY GO

Even though your faith and your Church have their regular place in your daily walk of life, do you remember to include them in your vacation plans? Whatever highway you travel, God is there to provide you and your loved ones with His unfailing guidance and protection, if you will only reach out and avail yourself of it. He is everywhere, in the beauty of all the mountains, lakes and valleys of this world which He created, and so are His Churches. You can easily find them anywhere throughout the land. Remember that God never takes a vacation from you; don't take a vacation from him!

Go where he will, the wise man is at home, His hearth the earth, his hall the azure dome.

Barrett Medalist In Golf Tourney

Hereford junior Steve Barrett took medalist honors and the Amarillo High Sandies claimed team laurels in the Junior Varsity Division of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Invitational Golf Tournament played at the Pitman Municipal course here Thursday.

Barrett, who shot 39-42-81 during the round, defeated AHS' Lee Wright on the first hole of a playoff for medalist honors. Barrett carded a bogey for the top spot.

Hereford's Bob Foster drove in a 15-foot birdie putt on the first hole of a playoff for third place in the medalist race. Foster, who shot an 82 during the regular round, defeated Todd Cranford of Amarillo High and Borger's Danny Riddle for the bronze medal.

Amarillo High's 335 total was good enough to win the first place team trophy, while the Whitefaces were three shots back at 338 for second.

Borger claimed the third place trophy with a 344 total. Rounding out the field were Pampa, 364; Plainview, 373; Tascosa and Tulia, 392; Clovis, 416; and Panhandle, 452.

Hereford also walked away with the team lowball trophy with a combined 71.

In addition to Barrett's 81 and Foster's 82, Greg Goebel shot 43-43-86 for Hereford, Alan Fairweather had a 42-47-89, with Steve Fairweather in at 41-48-89.

The Hereford varsity began defense of its team title in the tournament this morning. The Herd was hosting Plainview, Amarillo High, Pampa, Caprock, Tascosa, Palo Duro, Odessa, Dumas, Clovis, Borger, and Canyon in the large school (5A-4A) Division.

Teams entered in the small school (3A-2A) Division included Muleshoe, Littlefield, Tulia, and Denver City.

Lobos Watch Herd Swing 11-1 Win And 2-0 Record

The Hereford Whitefaces, rode hot bats and the power of Mickey Stengel and Alex Valdez and the steady pitching of Mike Mason to an 11-1 shellacking of Borger Thursday. The win upped the Herd's season record to 2-0 after a 13-7 win over Levelland Tuesday.

Slowpitch Softball Play Scheduled For March 26-28

The Muleshoe Invitational Slowpitch Softball Tournament will be held March 26-28. The entry deadline for the tourney is March 19, with a fee of $65 plus one Blue Dot softball due with the entry. Trophies for the first three place teams as well as individual trophies for the top two teams will be awarded.

More information about the tournament may be obtained from Terry Field, at 272-5551 or 272-3252 in Muleshoe.

ing the 'Faces an 8-0 bulge. Matt Collier reached base on an error by the BHS catcher, and Valdez ripped the next pitch over the fence.

In addition to the homers, Herd third baseman Mark Collier collected a pair of doubles in the contest, while Robert Martinez had a double and a pair of singles, and Delozier collected two singles as well.

Mason, in his first start this young season, struck out 11 Bulldogs in gaining the win for the Herd. Borger ruined the shutout in the bottom of the fifth when the Bulldogs took advantage of two HHS errors to score.

The Whitefaces will get a test Saturday when they host the Amarillo High Sandies in a 1 p.m. contest.

Reggie's Replacement Settling In

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — The big wire gate at Fort Lauderdale Stadium swung open, and a sleek, cream-colored Rolls Royce eased noiselessly into the players' parking lot.

"Put it up here behind the trailer," said Jim Morris, a little, stoop-shouldered man who has minded the New Yankees' car stable for 15 years. "Easy now, easy." "Not too close to the fence," warned Rick Perry, a beefy, bearded aide. "Can't get any scratches on this job."

Spring training buffs waiting outside the high fence strained for a good look at the occupant.

Surprise, surprise. Out stepped — not Reggie Jackson but Oscar Gamble.

The license plate should have told them. The maroon plate didn't have numbers. It read "GAMBLE" in big letters, sandwiched between "Heart of Dixie" and "Alabama."

"This is where we always parked Reggie's Rolls Corniche convertible," said Morris. "We've had a lot of Mercedes and Continentals park here but only Reggie and Gamble arrived in a Rolls."

Gamble couldn't help smiling at the coincidence. This huskily-built 6-footer with the mustache and trace of a Fu Manchu beard not only has inherited the departed Reggie's parking space. He's also picked up Reggie's bat.

"Now that Reggie's gone, we're depending on you for the long ball," boss George Steinbrenner is said to have told Gamble.

This was not news to the 32-year-old Gamble who has been a muscle man almost throughout his 13-year career spent with seven different clubs in both leagues.

"If I could get 400 at bats, I think I could hit 30 home runs," the veteran outfielder-designed hitter said. "Trouble is they've been platooning me, using me only for power against right-handers."

"I would like to play more."

Gamble's most productive years were in the mid-1970s when he was averaging 20 homers a year. He hit 17 in his first stint with the Yankees in 1976 and 31 with the Chicago White Sox in 1977.

"I have as good a home run ratio as anybody in the league," Gamble said. "I have one in every 16 at bats in the American League, one in every 23 overall."

Traded back to the Yankees by the Texas Rangers in August, 1979, Gamble hit 19 homers, batted in 64 runs and had an average of .358 for the season.

In 1980, he got off to a steaming start, batting .474 with three home runs and 16 RBI in his first 19 at bats. But he fouled a ball off his left foot on May 13, fracturing his toe. His comeback has been tedious.

Last year, performing largely in Jackson's shadow, Gamble batted .238 with 10 home runs and 27 RBI in 189 at bats.

Nazareth Up For Sixth Straight

By JACK KEEVER
Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The Nazareth team and great individual performances by Jackie Benson of Dime Box, Pennee Hall of Mont Belvieu Barbers Hill and Beverly Williams of Del Valle — in winning efforts — highlighted the girls' state basketball tournament on Thursday.

Darla Isaacks of Levelland, in a bitter 64-63 overtime loss to Carthage in the Class 4A semifinals, perhaps was even more impressive.

The 32nd annual tournament continued today with first-round games in 2A and 5A. All championship games are scheduled for Saturday.

61-33. The Swiftettes' pressing defense held Krum to a total of 11 points in the second and third quarters in gaining the finals against Dime Box, which got 22 points from Benson in defeating Larue La Poyner 61-47.

The three Birkenfeld cousins, led by Roxane with 14, combined for 27 points, and cousins Annette and Rhonda Hoelting had 10 and eight points respectively for Nazareth, which already holds the tournament record of five consecutive state titles.

Williams, a 5-foot-7 sophomore, tossed in 25 points for Del Valle in a runaway 58-34 victory over Corpus Christi Calallen in the other 4A semifinals. Her strength enabled her to hit jump shots from far out, and she had the quickness to drive in close for goals. Hall flipped in 27 points and triggered Barbers Hill's running game with slick passes and behind-the-back dribbling as the Eagles beat Comanche 70-49 in 3A.

Sweeny edged Ferris 48-45 in the second 3A semifinal game, which included a total of 63 turnovers and 50 fouls by both teams. Ferris lost three starters on fouls, including scoring star Kim Barnes. A 1981 all-tournament player, Millie Bivens, was one of two Sweeny players who fouled out.

In the finale Thursday night, Lesa Jacobs scored on a driving layup with just under a minute remaining in a three-minute overtime period, and she and Margaret Edwards each hit a free throw to give Carthage the narrow victory over Levelland.

The game went into overtime when Carthage sub Helen Hough connected on her only field goal attempt with eight seconds left to tie the game 56-56.

The loss offset a game-high 33 points by Isaacks, a 5-11 sophomore who tossed in 13 of 16 field goal attempts and seven of nine free throws. Teammate Annie Davis had a perfect shooting night in scoring 16 points — six of six field goals and four of four free throws — and she also had 10 rebounds.

Sheila Bryant led Carthage with 16 points and 10 rebounds, Patricia Jones scored 14 and Jacobs 13.

Baseball Roundup

By The Associated Press
Now Champ Summers feels wanted.

"The Giants gave up two players to get me, so that looks good," Summers said after he was traded Thursday from Detroit to San Francisco.

"They must want me. I haven't talked to anyone out there yet, but evidently they wanted me and there might be a spot for me. It was pretty obvious there was no place for me in Detroit."

Summers, unhappy with his role as a left-handed designated hitter, got his wish to be traded when the Tigers sent him to the Giants for infielder Enos Cabell and a player to be named later.

Summers, who will be 34 in June, batted .255 with three homers and 21 RBI in 1982. A well-traveled veteran with four major league teams, the outfielder is a lifetime .262 batter in nine years.

Cabell, a 32-year-old veteran of 10 major league seasons, can play third or first base. Cabell's lifetime batting average is .273 and his best seasons were with Houston in 1977 and 1978 when he hit, respectively, .282 and .295.

"We just balanced our ballclub," said Detroit Manager Sparky Anderson, who indicated he would give Cabell a shot at first base.

The Tigers also made another deal Thursday, acquiring two young players, infielder Jeff Cox and catcher Scott Meyer, in exchange for three minor leaguers.

The A's acquired Darrell

Brown, an outfielder who hit .270 in AAA ball last year, and pitchers Jack Smith and Mark Fellows.

Meanwhile, Fernando Valenzuela remained a holdout while his agent and the Los Angeles Dodgers continued negotiating on a new contract for the pitcher.

Valenzuela, who last year became the first pitcher in major league history to win the Cy Young Award and the Rookie of the Year award in the same season, says he won't show up at the Dodgers' spring training facility in Vero Beach, Fla., until an agreement is reached.

For the first time, his agent, Antonio DeMarco, has said Valenzuela isn't asking for $1 million a year, reportedly the original asking price. He is, however, asking more than the reported $350,000 the Dodgers have offered in the contract which they renewed earlier this week.

In exhibition play, Bob Watson hit a home run and two singles to help the New York Yankees beat the Atlanta Braves' "B" squad 7-6; Fran Mullins knocked in five runs with three hits, including a grand slam homer, as the Chicago White Sox beat Manatee Jr. College 8-1; Gary Gretti had two hits, including a homer, to pace his team to a 4-2 win in the Minnesota Twins' first intrasquad game of the year and Eddie Murray blasted two homers and knocked in eight runs to pace his team to a 12-4 victory in a Baltimore Orioles' intrasquad game.

Teltscher makes his Davis Cup debut against Ramesh Krishnan in a key clash of No. 2 singles players.

"All the pressure is so much on the U.S.," said

McEnroe Opened Best-Of-5 In Davis Cup Competition

CARLSBAD, Calif. (AP) — John McEnroe and untested Eliot Teltscher will try to get the United States off to a fast start against upset-minded India in first-round Davis Cup competition.

McEnroe, a driving force in U.S. Davis Cup triumphs in 1978, 1979 and 1981, opened the best-of-5 series today against India's ace, Vijay Amritraj at La Costa Hotel and Spa.

Teltscher makes his Davis Cup debut against Ramesh Krishnan in a key clash of No. 2 singles players.

"All the pressure is so much on the U.S.," said

Amritraj, a veteran of 17 Davis Cup battles. "And it's especially tough on the No. 2 singles. Second singles could be the turning point."

U.S. captain Arthur Ashe said he couldn't have been happier with the opening pairings.

"It's a perfect draw for us in that you have your best player (McEnroe) playing the first match and the last match," said Ashe.

McEnroe, defending Wimbledon and U.S. Open champion, holds a 5-1 lifetime advantage over Amritraj. McEnroe is the world's No. 1-ranked player and Amritraj currently ranks 22nd.

Teltscher, No. 7, was selected by Ashe over teammate Brian Gottfried, a more experienced Davis Cup player.

The Americans, in quest of their fourth Davis Cup title in five years, defeated Argentina for the championship in December.

On Saturday, McEnroe and Peter Fleming, regarded by many as the world's top doubles team, take on Amritraj and his brother Anand.

In Sunday's singles matches, McEnroe opposes Krishnan and Teltscher tackles Vijay Amritraj.

McEnroe, 18-3 in Davis Cup singles competition and 6-0 in doubles play, helped the U.S. overcome tenacious Mexico here a year ago in first-round play.

With Mexico leading 2-1 in matches, the U.S. got needed singles victories from Roscoe Tanner and McEnroe to seal the outcome. Ashe considers India considerably stronger than the Mexican team of a year ago.

And with McEnroe far from top form, Ashe says "we're not taking anything for granted."

Teltscher has never faced Krishnan, who ranks 76th in world ratings, but holds a 4-0 mark over Vijay Amritraj, who has a 13-7 Davis Cup record.

McEnroe has defeated Krishnan in their only two meetings. Krishnan is 3-1 in Davis Cup play.

Although Anand Amritraj is not listed among world rankings, he and his brother form one of world's toughest doubles teams. Anand has a 14-0 record in Davis Cup doubles competition and Vijay is 12-3.

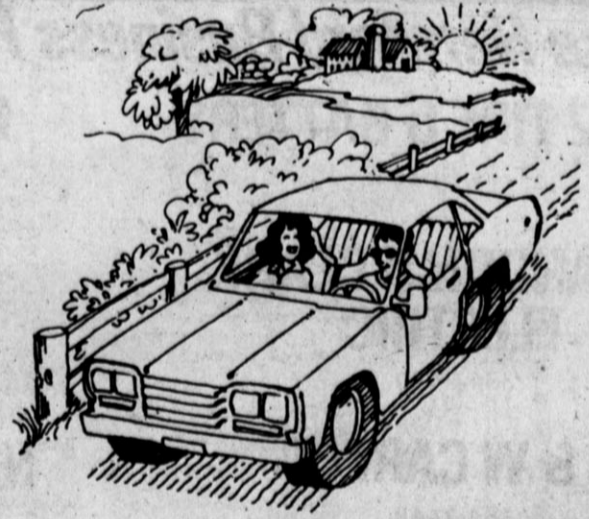

A U.S. victory would send the squad against the winner of this weekend's battle between Sweden and the Soviet Union. The two survivors meet in July.

India last went to the finals in 1974.

Peterson 'Looking For Pars'

SUN CITY, Ariz. (AP) — Amateur Lauri Merten-Peterson said she came here "looking for pars" in the opening round of the $100,000 LPGA American Express-Sun City Classic.

Instead, the 21-year-old Arizona State University senior fired a few birdies en route to a 1-stroke lead heading into today's second round.

"The birdies just came. It was nice to make all the putts," Merten-Peterson said after firing a 5-under-par 67 over the 6,232-yard Hillcrest Golf Course.

The Phoenix native, a two-time Western Collegiate Athletic Association champion, was two strokes under par through 16 holes of the first round. But she bagged back-to-back birdies on 16 and 17, then holed a 35-foot birdie putt on the 18th, a 407-yard par-4, to finish at 67.

A stroke back was veteran Carole Jo Callison, who had five birdies and one bogey for a 4-under-par 68.

Merten-Peterson, a member of the Arizona State women's golf team, said she finds it "tough to be in college and try to play in a lot of tournaments. I have a high grade point average and I'd like to keep it that way."

But she said she felt no pressure being in the lead at this point.

"I'm not nervous now. I'm swinging good," Merten-Peterson said. "I hope things don't bother me."

Wildcats Going To Semifinals

By JOHN NELSON AP Sports Writer

It bears little physical resemblance to the Coliseum of ancient Rome, but Rupp Arena in Lexington, Ky., was no less friendly to Coach Sony Smith's Auburn Tigers.

"I felt like the Christians with the Lions," Smith said after the 15th-ranked Kentucky Wildcats defeated Auburn 89-66 Thursday night in the quarterfinals of the Southeastern Conference basketball tournament.

Dirk Minniefield paced the Wildcats with 18 points, giving Kentucky its 29th straight victory at Rupp Arena and sending the 'Cats into the semifinals of the tournament tonight against Mississippi. The other SEC semifinal pits No. 18 Alabama against Tennessee.

Mississippi defeated Louisiana State 59-52 behind Carlos Clark's 28 points. Tennessee, which shared the regular-season SEC title with Kentucky, got by Vanderbilt 57-54 as Dale Ellis scored 26 points. Phillip Lockett scored 20 points in Alabama's 85-74 victory over Georgia.

"There's no question it's an advantage," Kentucky Coach Joe B. Hall said of playing the tournament at home.

The winner of the tournament gets an automatic bid to the NCAA playoffs. Mississippi is the defending SEC tournament champion.

There was action in three other conference tournaments Thursday night involving ranked teams.

In the first round of the Big East tournament at Hartford, Conn., eighth-ranked Georgetown easily handled Providence, 62-48; St. John's, N.Y., defeated host Connecticut 54-52; Villanova defeated Seton Hall 88-73, and Boston College ousted Syracuse 94-92.

At Tulsa, Okla., 10th-ranked Tulsa defeated New Mexico State 85-61 and Illinois State upset Bradley 55-50 in double overtime in the semifinals of the Missouri Valley Conference playoffs.

No. 12 Fresno State walloped Long Beach State 76-55 and Fullerton State upset Cal-Irvine 62-61 in the semifinals of the Pacific Coast Athletic Association tournament at Anaheim, Calif.

All three tournaments produce automatic NCAA qualifiers.

In regular-season action, seventh-ranked Minnesota clinched at least a tie for the Big Ten Conference title by beating Michigan State 54-51. Iowa, ranked 11th, was upset by Illinois, 73-67. The Gophers lead Iowa by one game with one game left. Since there is no Big Ten tournament, the regular-season champion receives an NCAA berth.

Big East
Freshman Anthony Jones scored 19 points as Georgetown rallied to beat Providence. The Hoyas, 24-6, were down by as many as 10 points in the first half before Jones led Georgetown on an 18-2 burst.

Freshman Chris Mullin hit a 15-footer with three seconds left as St. John's upset Connecticut. Dwan Chandler's 10-footer with three seconds left gave Boston College its two-point victory over Syracuse. Ed Pinckney scored 23 points in Villanova's romp over Seton Hall. Georgetown plays St. John's and Villanova plays Boston College in tonight's semifinals.

Missouri Valley
Mike Anderson scored 16 points to send Tulsa into Saturday's final of the MVC tournament against Illinois State. Tulsa, 23-5, the defending National Invitation Tournament champion, led New Mexico State 42-31 at halftime and won going away.

Rick Lamb converted a three-point play with 1:47 left in the second overtime and Illinois State held on to upend the regular-season MVC champion, Bradley.

PCAA
Forward Rod Higgins scored 25 points to lead four Fresno State players in double figures as the Bulldogs defeated Long Beach State. Fresno State built a 33-17 halftime lead, and Long Beach State could come no closer than five points, 46-41, the rest of the way.

Fresno State meets Fullerton State in tonight's final.

Big Ten
Darryl Mitchell scored 16 points, and Minnesota overcame a brief Michigan State lead with 10:14 left to take sole possession of the Big Ten lead. Michigan State led 38-36 on a basket by Kevin Willis, but the Gophers ran off the next eight points.

Seniors Craig Tucker and James Griffin led a second-half Illinois rally that erased a 16-point Iowa lead and gave the Illini its upset victory. Iowa fell to 20-6 and 12-5 in the Big Ten, while Minnesota is 13-4.

Each team has a conference game left. The Gophers host Ohio State and Iowa plays at Purdue.

In other conference tournaments involving automatic NCAA berths:

Southwest

Claude Riley scored 17 points and Reggie Roberts had 14 as Texas A&M defeated Baylor 64-63 in the quarterfinals of the SWC tournament at Dallas. Texas Christian defeated Texas Tech 67-61 in the other quarterfinal.

In tonight's semifinals, Houston plays Texas A&M and 14th-ranked Arkansas meets Texas Christian.

Southland
Joe Dumars' short jumper with 1:38 left in the third overtime gave McNeese State a 78-77 victory over Louisiana Tech in the Southland Conference tourney. The victory moved McNeese into the semifinals against Southwestern Louisiana tonight. In the other semifinal, Lamar meets Texas-Arlington.

ECAC South
William & Mary earned the right to meet top-seeded James Madison in the ECAC South semifinals by beating Navy 79-55 behind a disciplined attack that included the 14 points of Mike Strayhorn.

Old Dominion will meet Richmond in the other semifinal tonight. Old Dominion defeated George Mason 70-62, and Richmond downed East Carolina 49-42.

Several other major tournaments begin today. Top-ranked North Carolina meets Georgia Tech, No. 3 Virginia plays Clemson and 16th-rated Wake Forest plays Duke in the opening round of the Atlantic Coast Conference. No. 6 Idaho takes on Weber State in the first round of the Big Sky Conference playoffs, and Louisville meets St. Louis in the opening round of the Metro Conference tournament.

William & Mary earned the

Razorbacks Versus Frogs In SWC Tournament Semifinals

DALLAS (AP) - The rested Arkansas Razorbacks joust the fast-improving and gritty Texas Christian "Killer Frogs" tonight in the Southwest Conference Tournament semifinals while Houston plays the Texas Aggies.

No. 14 ranked Arkansas, 21-5 and the SWC regular season champions for the fifth time in six years, meet 16-12 TCU in the 7 p.m. opener.

TCU bounced Texas Tech 67-61 in the quarterfinals before a tournament record Reunion Arena crowd of 17,543 fans after the Texas Aggies survived Baylor 64-63.

Jim Killingsworth, The Associated Press SWC Coach of the Year for bringing the Horned Frogs a fourth-place finish, said "Arkansas will be well rested. We've had to play three games to their one ... we'll find out what kind of condition we are in that's for sure."

TCU exploded in the second half against the Red Raiders behind junior forward Doug Arnold who scored 16 of his 20 points after intermission.

"Doug was much more patient in the second half," said Killingsworth. "He was rushing his shot early."

TCU trailed 27-24 at halftime before Arnold went on a tear, hitting four straight shots.

The Horned Frogs scored on 12 out of 13 trips down the floor at one stage.

"We won't have to make any adjustments getting ready for Arkansas," said Arnold. "Arkansas and Tech are very much alike because they both play tough defense."

"The fact that we haven't beaten Arkansas in some time has nothing to do with this team ... they'll be ready to play."

TCU's Jeff Baker said a patient team can beat Arkansas.

"I don't know how the other teams feel but we think we can beat them," he said. "If you're cool and calm a team can tear them up."

Clarence Swannegan was high for Tech with 18 points.

Junior Claude Riley scored 17 points to carry the 18-9 Aggies by the 17-11 Bears, who were led by Terry Teagle's 29 points. Guard Reggie Roberts added 14 for the winners.

"We're looking forward to playing Houston because we came in third during the regular season and we want to prove we are as good as they are," said Roberts. "Houston has a tendency to let up on defense and I think they had better not let up against us."

Riley said, "We can beat Houston if we play hard, but they go to the boards well and we will have to block out underneath."

Texas A&M Coach Shelby Metcalf was so drained after beating Baylor he couldn't find many words for Houston.

"Winning this game was like marrying a woman with money," he said. "You earn everything you get."

The Aggies and Houston split during the regular season. Houston, the second place regular season finisher, is 20-6 for the year.

Who Am I?

OK, Lou Gehrig was the Iron Man. But what about me? I'm the Quiet Man. Nobody really noticed when I set the National League record by playing in 1,117 consecutive games. Too bad my team was one of baseball's oldest losers.

ANSWERS: Blue Williams, the long American League pitcher (a) 1930 and Everett Scott (b) 1937.

Two Hereford Students Place In WTSU Competition

WTSU - Two students from Hereford High School have received awards at a math, physics and chemistry competition hosted at West Texas State University.

Saleh Igal placed first in physics and second high individual in the large school division, while Bob Foster placed second in physics in the District 4-A and 5-A division.

The Hereford team placed second in the division. The Junior Engineering Technology Society (JETS) contest was begun to replace the annual math contest which had been sponsored by the WTSU Department of Math and Physics, said Treasure Brasher, WTSU instructor in physics, who coordinated the event.

JETS, which does not sponsor many high school chapters in the Texas Panhandle, said Brasher, promotes technical careers. The WTSU competition is the first to be hosted outside the Texas A&M University campus at College Station. The organization awards scholarships and Brasher said the competition will become an annual event at WTSU.

Brasher is a member of the state advisory board of JETS. More than 250 students from high schools in the Panhandle and South Plains region took tests in the three areas. Several students participated on all three tests and awards were given to students who took all three tests and earned the highest scores. Team trophies were awarded to teams who had at least three students who took all three tests.

The 40-minute written tests were taken by students from Plainview, Plains, Channing, Nazareth, Cotton Center, Claude, Wolforth, Tahoka, Tulla, Canyon, Spearman, Lubbock, Amarillo and Hereford.

HEALTH
Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB - My husband, who is 67, is a diabetic. I am a borderline case. We would like some information about LactAid. I have received a sample but haven't used it as it converts lactose in milk into sugar. I am wondering if there is enough sugar in the Lact-Aid to warrant not using it.

DEAR READER - For the benefit of other readers, Lact-Aid is an enzyme preparation you can put in milk and it will digest the milk sugar lactose into its two single sugars, galactose and glucose.

At birth we all have a similar enzyme in the small intestine that digests milk sugar and does exactly the same thing. Unfortunately, 10 to 20 percent of adult Anglo-Saxons and as many as 80 percent of other ethnic groups do not have enough lactase enzyme in the intestine to do this. These people develop milk intolerance which causes symptoms similar to a spastic colon or worse.

I presume you are concerned about milk intolerance since you have gotten Lact-Aid. Lact-Aid can be gotten from the SugarLo Company, P.O. Box 110, Pleasantville, NJ 08232.

The lactose in milk is sugar. It is a double sugar of galactose and glucose (called a disaccharide). Table sugar is a disaccharide of glucose and fructose. You will not get any more glucose from milk after using Lact-Aid than a diabetic without milk intolerance will get from ordinary milk.

In other words, if your diet allows you to use milk in conjunction with diabetes there is no reason why you can't use Lact-Aid. It really doesn't make any difference whether lactose is split by an enzyme in your intestine or split by an enzyme added to the milk before it is used. The end result is the same. The question about milk in general for diabetics is how rapid you absorb single sugars (double sugars are not absorbed and that is what causes the bowel symptoms).

DEAR DR. LAMB - I have Crohn's disease. Can you tell me what causes it? I have severe low abdominal pain which at times really makes me sick. When the cramping is at its worst it causes me to have chills and nausea. The diarrhea usually lasts only three to four days. The constipation can make me feel as bad as the diarrhea.

Lately I have been told my intestines are pushing against my bladder, causing an indentation and reddened area inside the bladder and that it could eventually rub a hole into it. I was told nothing could be done about it. I am overweight as well. Could this be causing the problem?

DEAR READER - No, being overweight is not the cause. Crohn's disease is also known as regional enteritis. It is a granular inflammation that most typically involves the area where the end of the small intestine (ileum) joins the colon in your lower right side but it can involve other areas, too. It can cause the symptoms you describe and may be mistaken for appendicitis. It can cause sinus tracts including erosion into the bladder. Prednisone causes a remission in about 60 percent of cases in about eight weeks. Sulfasalazine may help in three to four months. It is a difficult disease to treat.

How tiles come clean

By Polly Fisher

DEAR POLLY - Please help me with an old problem: how to clean spots and built-up soap scum off the tile in my shower stall. - ELAINE

DEAR ELAINE - For really stubborn scum and buildup, first try soaking with full-strength white vinegar. If that doesn't seem to do the job, try chlorine bleach. Be sure to rinse the bleach off immediately with fresh water, since prolonged contact with the bleach could damage some surfaces. Other readers have suggested laundry pre-spot sprays and automatic dishwasher detergent as heavy-duty cleaners. MRS. R.C., whose letter I've just received, offers this further advice for keeping the tile clean once you've removed any old spots and scum. She suggests that every six months or so, you apply an ordinary automobile wax, following the directions on the wax can. (Be sure to use this only on the walls, never on the floor. Too slippery!) Then just clean regularly by lightly wiping with a spray bathroom cleaner. - POLLY

DEAR POLLY - Run overripe bananas through a sieve (or mash them), add a little lemon juice to keep them from darkening, and freeze. This is perfect for later use in cakes and breads. - MRS. A.B.

Accidents Among Children; Take Care To Prevent Them

Accidents — they're a major cause of death among school-age children.

Car-pedestrian accidents, drownings, fire-related mishaps and firearm accidents are four major death-causing misfortunes among young children, says Diane Welch, a family life education specialist.

Even though the death rate from injurious accidents has declined in recent years, among children ages 5-14, accidents are responsible for more than half the deaths of boys and two-fifths of girls' deaths.

Consequently, children as well as adults should be aware of safety precautions and learn to follow them as a matter of habit, she adds.

Welch is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

CAR-PEDESTRIAN ACCIDENTS

Motor-vehicle accidents rank highest in terms of cause of death for boys and girls, the specialist reports.

Pedestrian fatalities account for one in every two deaths in car accidents involving children ages five to nine and one out of four at ages 10-14, she adds.

Most pedestrian fatalities occur when children are playing in or crossing the street, Welch notes.

Some precautions to help prevent car-pedestrian accidents are: help children watch for cars when crossing streets, teach children to ride bikes safely, find areas away from streets for children to play and urge children to wear belts when riding in cars.

DROWNINGS

The threat of drowning has always haunted parents when children are swimming, the specialist says.

Drowning ranked second among boys and third among girls in accidents causing death, Welch reports.

To reduce the chances of children drowning, Welch urges parents to: have children take swimming lessons both for pleasure and protection, have an adult swimmer or lifeguard watch children when swimming and make sure safety float lines or rescue rings are readily handy.

FIRES

Fire and fire-related accidents ranked second among causing death in girls and third in boys, the specialist points out.

Careless smoking and children playing with matches and lighters are the major causes of one out of every five fires, she says.

To prevent fires from occurring, Welch says children should: know that matches and lighters are not toys, learn what should be done in case a fire occurs and never be left alone in a house if they are very young.

In addition, adults need to make sure fire-hazardous articles are out of sight and reach of children, the specialist says.

FIREARMS

Accidents involving firearms are another major cause of death in school-age children, Welch says.

Firearm accidents appear more frequently among boys than girls, she reports.

In addition, a large percentage of firearm deaths occur in the home instead of outside, the specialist adds.

Consequently, to prevent accidents with guns from oc-curing in the home, Welch suggests that: if firearms must be kept in the house, keep them unloaded at all times, ammunition should be locked in a different place from guns and children should not be allowed to handle a gun until they receive proper training.

In addition to a large number of fatalities, accidents can cause permanent impairment, disability and time away from school to young children, Welch says.

In order to prevent possible accidents from occurring, parents should take the precautions listed seriously and teach their children to become aware of making safety a habit, the specialist urges.

Trim Your Fashions Up

College Station — Trim up your fashions expertly with just a few guidelines, says Alma Fonseca, a clothing specialist.

Trims are everywhere — on blouses, pants, skirts and jackets, she notes.

Fonseca is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Since many of today's new metallic trims are bulkier than most lace trims and cannot be applied easily by machine, overcast them in place with matching metallic thread or invisible thread, she recommends.

Apply cement glue to the ends of metallic trims to avoid raveling.

Then work the ends into appropriate seams by hand stitching for a professional finish.

Here are some ideas for using today's trims:

Necklines and cuffs come alive with the application of wide pre-gathered lace, metallic braids, cording, piping or soutache (a type of braid).

Flat metallic trim can be woven through lace trims that have eyelet centers.

Hemlines accented by several rows of metallic braid, cording, soutache or flat trim gain new attention with a border effect. Try creating a pattern by varying the spacing of the trims and mixing a few different styles.

You can transform a plain bodice front into a work of art with verticle rows of pre-gathered lace, metallic braids, rick-rack or soutache.

A bodice with a button placket can have lace on either side or rows of trim on both sides of the placket.

To outline yokes, stitch thinner cording, rick-rack or metallic piping in the seam.

To outline the entire edge of a jacket, sweater or wrap you can metallic piping, braid or cording. These are also great for outlining the edge of patch pockets and slant pockets or westernpockets.

Sewing metallic trims by hand gives cleaning and fashion advantages. They can be easily removed before dry cleaning larmishes and stains the garment, and they give your fashion versatility — as they'll come off as easily as you put them on.

26,000 Die Every Year Because Of Suicide

Usually you hear about it only when it involves well-known personalities like Ernest Hemingway or Marilyn Monroe, but generally this tragedy strikes ordinary people.

About 26,000 people are known to commit suicide each year in the United States. Many more attempt it.

Three times as many women as men attempt to take their lives, but nearly three times as many men complete the act.

Although suicides occur in all segments of society, the Texas Medical Association notes an increase in recent years among people between ages 15 and 24. Today, suicide is the second-leading cause of death among young people.

Individuals who attempt or commit suicide are not necessarily mentally deranged but often suffer from a treatable illness. Common feelings most of them share are loneliness, helplessness or hopelessness, often caused by the loss of someone close through death or rejection. In many cases, they are depressed.

Besides depression, other signs of a potential suicide include heavy drinking, previous threats of attempts at suicide, giving away or selling valuable possessions, recent filing of a will, and not renewing a rental lease.

If a person is talking about suicide but is unable to take immediate action, talk to him and listen closely if he responds. Then seek professional help for him.

If the person is holding a weapon or lethal drugs, divert his attention by remaining calm, encouraging him to talk and expressing concern. Try to call the police or other professionals trained in dealing with these situations.

Above all, take suicidal threats seriously because people who make them often carry them out.

Today In History

Associated Press

Today is Friday, March 5, the 64th day of 1982. There are 301 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On March 5, 1953, Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin died in his Kremlin apartment at age 73 — after 29 years in power.

On this date: In 1766, Spanish troops took possession of New Orleans from the French.

In 1933, Adolf Hitler and his Nazi Party won the largest number of seats in a German election.

In 1966, a British airliner hit Japan's Mount Fuji, killing all 124 people aboard.

In 1970, a Nuclear Non-proliferation Treaty went into effect after 43 nations ratified it.

Ten years ago: The Federal Reserve Board said the economic outlook was promising — as long as President Nixon's wage and price controls remained intact.
