Hey, It Rained!

It rained! Hereford's thunderstorm Monday night rendered .24 of an inch of rainfall, bringing the total since Jan. 1 to 1.45 inches.

While city dwellers were digging out stale plastic raincoats that haven't been thought of since the last rain March 29, when Hereford got .15 of an inch, area farmers didn't see much reason to get excited. Rainfall in county areas were from mere sprinkles to just under .20 of an inch.

Lighting near Bootleg caused three or four grass fires. Hereford firemen were summoned to the scene about 8:30 p.m., however by the time they arrived rain had put out the blaze.

Kathy Hammock at the county barn there reported about .10 of an inch.

Barrett and Crofoot West had the most rain of outlying reporting stations with about a quarter inch.

that he was in the Lubbock area resulted in a fruitless search of an automobile and a residence in that city Monday.

Virgil Lucero, 27, is still eluding authorities after he and Joe Benavidez, 30, overpowered jailer David Castillo Sunday afternoon just after visiting hours at the county jail.

The pair, awaiting trial on armed robbery charges, surprised Castillo as the jailer was transporting misdemeanor prisoners back to their area of the jail after visiting hours.

According to Castillo, "I had just opened the door and they jumped me. Lucero went for my keys, and Benavidez tried to stab me with an ice pick."

The prisoners ran from the jail after subduing Castillo, moving off in different directions.

Benavidez was re-captured around 6:30 a.m. Monday at 301 Lawton. He gave little resistance as officers made the arrest, despite having a knife in his possession.

Lucero apparently eluded road block efforts of area law enforcement officials, and was reportedly seen in Lubbock Monday morning. Deputy sheriff Johnny Moya and DA Investigator Terry Colston joined a couple of Texas Rangers in the search in Lubbock, but came up empty.

When captured Benavidez had in his possession a knife allegedly taken from a residence at 319 McKinley late Sunday. Authorities received a call about noises in the basement of the house, and made a complete search. No one was found inside the house, but the owners reported a knife missing. The knife was apparently the same one found in Benavidez's possession when he was captured Monday morning.

Castillo, who has been with the jail for almost a year, was treated and released at Deaf Smith General Hospital following the escape. He received stab wounds to his head and leg, a bloody nose, and several bruises in the escape.

Deaf Smith County Sheriff Travis McPherson said that "it's just a matter of time," before Lucero is caught. "We've got his description entered into the computer, and his photograph is being entered in a bulletin that goes out across the state."

McPherson said he has no further indications of where Lucero will head.

Castillo, apparently in shock from the incident, saw Benavidez run to an area near McCaslin Lumber Co. after the escape, and took chase in his vehicle. But, the prisoner eluded that search as well.

Both Benavidez and Lucero were awaiting trial on armed robbery charges stemming from an incident involving a local convenience store. Benavidez was slated to be tried as a habitual criminal with at least two previous convictions already. Officials established road blocks on all major routes out of Hereford Sunday, and continued them until around noon Monday.

Lucero, 5-5 and weighing 150 pounds, is described as having black hair, and brown eyes, and was wearing blue jeans and a tank top when he escaped.

JP Gets Help; Petition Presented

By BOB NIGH
MANAGING EDITOR

Deaf Smith County Commissioners Monday approved a request for additional help for the Justice of the Peace's office to help clear up a backlog of work, and received a petition signed by about 400 persons asking the court to reconsider its policy of no dances at the Bull Barn as the court met in regular session at the courthouse.

The court approved a part-time helper for JP O.K. Neal's office for a two-month period after a closed session to discuss the problem with Neal and after receiving some suggestions to help the office run more smoothly from George Louder of Amarillo.

Neal had asked the court for more help after an increased work load had put his office behind "about four months" worth.

Louder, of Talentmax, Inc., made several suggestions to the court to help relieve some of the pressure on the JP's office.

They included splitting hours between the two full time secretaries, giving one hours from 7-5 and the other from 8-6; changing the layout of the office to avoid unnecessary interruptions of work; moving the vending machines to another part of the courthouse; and educating one of the secretaries to which offices at the courthouse handle which problems so that she can refer people to the proper office.

Neal had told the court that his office is unindated with phone calls and personal visits by people who really needed to talk to or see someone else in the courthouse. Louder confirmed that finding, and said that the close proximity of the vending machines to the JP's office also created a large volume of traffic which tended to interrupt the JP's workday.

Although not on the agenda, the court allowed the San Jose Catholic Church Men's Organization to present a petition concerning the county's Bull Barn policy. The group wants the ban on dancing removed, citing it as "unfair, and loaded particularly against the Hispanic segment of the community."

The commissioners had put a ban on dancing of any type at the Bull Barn last summer after experiencing a bevy of problems there.

Father James O'Connor of San Jose told the court that the feeling that the policy is

Buck Being Passed On Budget Compromise Flop

WASHINGTON (AP) — With budget talks between the White House and Congress grinding to a halt, administration officials and House Democrats are blaming each other for failure to reach a bipartisan compromise.

"The American people should be relieved and delighted to know that (President Reagan) doesn't have any plans to waver and wobble and feebly cave in to calls for expediency under the guise of compromise," said Treasury Secretary Donald T. Regan, a negotiator. Negotiator Rep. James R. Jones, D-Okla., replied, "If the president is rigid in the view that no significant change is necessary in his economic program, then there is no hope for compromise."

A flurry of charges Monday preceded what may be the final stages of the talks. Negotiators were expected to meet again privately late today at the White House.

As the month-long talks progressed, sources reported the negotiators moved from hope of reaching a detailed compromise on Reagan's embattled budget to an attempt last week instead to settle for broad targets. Now, there are doubts that agreement can be achieved on general targets for tax increases and spending cuts.

If the talks collapse or end inconclusively, that would mean the Republican majority in the Senate and the Democratic-controlled House would begin work quickly on their own alternatives to the

Hinckley Trial Has 90 Prospective Jurors

WASHINGTON (AP) — John W. Hinckley Jr., is getting his first look at the prospective jurors who will be asked to decide whether he was insane when he shot President Reagan nearly 13 months ago and thus not legally responsible for his actions.

Ninety prospective jurors received notices to report to U.S. District Court today where jury selection will begin in an ornate, 200-seat ceremonial courtroom.

Security measures for the start of the trial, as tight as for a presidential appearance, included two metal detectors and a portable X-ray machine in the corridor outside the courtroom. Bomb-sniffing police dogs and gun-toting law enforcement officers will be stationed inside and outside the grey, stone building.

Hinckley, 26, the son of a wealthy Colorado oil executive, is being tried for the March 30, 1981 shootings of Reagan, White House press secretary James Brady, Secret Service agent Timothy McCarthy and Washington policeman Thomas Delahany.

A 13-count indictment charges him with attempting to kill the president; assault on a federal officer; use of a

Sarpalius Defends DWI Legislation

State Sen. Bill Sarpalius of Hereford defended his proposed drunk-driving law this past week after two Randall county officials had claimed the new bill would weaken the present law.

Sarpalius met with Randall County D.A. Randy Sherrod for almost three hours last week and said he was re-writing some parts of the bill to meet some of the D.A.'s objections.

Sarpalius noted, however, that neither Sherrod nor county court-at-law judge Rick Wilcox, who also criticized the bill, had read the proposed bill before they were quoted in a Canyon News article last week.

"Critics who say our bill is weaker are wrong. There's not a doubt in my mind it's stronger than the one we have now," said Sarpalius.

The Hereford senator said his bill would help prosecutors, judges and law enforcement officers by requiring good evidence in DWI cases and by helping pay some of the costs for law enforcement tools, such as video cameras.

Under the proposed bill, breath tests would be required and a refusal by the defendant to take the test would be admissible in court. Furthermore, a law enforcement officer could require blood tests to be taken from a driver who was injured and was being treated at a hospital.

In addition, a portion of the fine from persons arrested by city police officers would be returned to the city, Sarpalius said. This would create an incentive to city police to charge drivers with DWI rather than to a lesser charge of public intoxication.

The emphasis of the bill is to get a charge of drunk driving to stick on the first arrest, the senator said. "We've noticed in our research that by the time someone gets convicted of DWI, he's been around two or three times," Sarpalius said. This would include charges that have been reduced from drunk driving to a lesser offense.

Sirhan Parole Hearing Opens

SOLEDAD, Calif. (AP) — Robert F. Kennedy's convicted assassin, fighting to keep his 1984 parole date, exclaimed "God forbid!" at an assertion that he had spoken of murdering Sen. Edward Kennedy.

Sirhan B. Sirhan "should not be paroled in 1984 nor at any foreseeable time in the future," Deputy District Attorney Larry Trapp said Monday as a hearing opened on a petition to rescind the Sept. 1, 1984, parole date.

"Newly discovered facts combine to reflect a man who feels much the same today as he did in 1968," Trapp said, "a man who continues to see violence as a solution for world problems."

The hearing, held behind the walls of Soledad prison, was to continue today and could last two weeks.

Sirhan, 38, was sentenced to death and spent time on Death Row at San Quentin Prison, but the death penalty was ruled unconstitutional in 1972 and his sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. He became eligible for parole in 1975 and was granted a release date of 1986. With credit for good behavior, the date was moved up to 1984.

Former parole board member James H. Hoover has said he set the date for release in the belief he "had no choice" under guidelines then in force for setting determinate sentences. An allegation that Sirhan threatened to kill Edward Kennedy, a Massachusetts Democrat, was first told to authorities by Lawrence Eugene Wilson, a convict who recently was found to have forged a letter to the parole board urging his own release.

Trapp acknowledged to the three-member panel of the Community Release Board hearing Sirhan's case that some evidence he plans to present has "lost some of its persuasiveness" due to revelations challenging the credibility of witnesses.

Trapp said public examination of statements by prison inmates about Sirhan, an immigrant from Palestine, had damaged their usefulness. Sirhan shot Robert Kennedy in a pantry of the Am- (See SIRHAN, Page 2)

Sherman Campaign
Brought To Hereford

Gene Sherman, wife of Max Sherman, brought his campaign for Texas Attorney General to Hereford Monday, stressing the need for people to vote on May 1.

Sherman is a former state senator from the Panhandle and was more recently the president of West Texas State University. He is seeking the Democratic nomination for attorney general in the May primary.

Mrs. Sherman said her husband has been pleased with the number of newspaper endorsements across the state. Most recently, Sherman has received the editorial endorsement of the Tyler Courier-Times, Temple Telegram, San Angelo Standard-Times, Wichita Falls Record, and the Abilene Reporter-News. He had previously received endorsements of the Dallas Times-Herald, the Fort Worth Star Telegram, the El Paso Herald-Post and Times, Amarillo Globe-News, and Hereford Brand.

A number of semi-weekly and weekly newspapers have also endorsed Sherman, including the Canyon News, Tulia Herald, Moore County News, and Castro County News.

Mrs. Sherman took her husband's campaign to several Panhandle cities Monday.

Evidence Growing
Black Hole Exists

WASHINGTON (AP) — Astronomers are gathering increasing evidence that a powerful "black hole" spewing huge amounts of energy exists at the center of the Milky Way galaxy.

Measurements of different types of radiation coming from the galactic center indicate a massive object sucking in dust, gases and possibly even stars, scientists said Monday at an American Institute of Physics meeting.

A black hole is believed to be a massive object, such as a large star, that collapses into itself and concentrates its matter and gravity.

Although the galactic core is not visible because of intervening cosmic clouds, indirect measurements indicate an object that could have a mass between 100 times and a million times that of the sun.

"An exotic, compact object must exist at the galactic center," Robert L. Brown of the National Radio Astronomy Observatory told a news briefing. The object gives off 10 million times the radiation of the sun, he added.

Gamma ray, X-ray and infrared radiation measurements point to a powerful energy machine in the luminous core of the galaxy, and a black hole appears to be the most likely prospect, scientists said.

Interest Rates On Money Market
Certificates Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Beginning today, banks and savings and loans may pay as much as 13.015 percent interest on six-month money market certificates, down from the previous 13.165 percent.

Also beginning today, S&Ls may pay as much as 14.1 percent and commercial banks as much as 13.85 percent interest on 2½-year "small-saver" certificates.

The new returns stem from the government's latest auction of Treasury bills. About $4.7 billion in six-month bills were auctioned Monday at an average discount rate of 12.64 percent, down from the 12.719 percent of last week.

The government also sold about $4.7 billion in three-month bills at an average rate of 12.469 percent, down from the 12.497 percent of last week.

Interest on the $10,000-minimum-deposit six-month certificates is limited to one-quarter point above the higher of two figures: Monday's yield on six-month T-bills or the average yield on such bills at the four most recent auctions. In this case the four-week average of 12.765 percent was higher.

Beginning Saturday, S&Ls may pay as much as 12.469 percent interest and commercial banks as much as 12.219 percent on new three-month savings certificates, which require a $7,500 minimum deposit.

Conjoined Infants Die

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Progressive shock led to the death of two Siamese twins who were joined at the abdomen and chest and shared several major organs, including a common heart, doctors said.

The two newborn girls, who died Monday, were born late Saturday night as part of a set of triplets. Their sister, who was born a minute after the twins, is doing well, doctors said.

Siamese twins born in a set of triplets are "very, very, rare," said Dr. Edwing Contreras, the attending physician.

The twins had been ill from birth. They had been in critical condition at Lubbock General Hospital's neonatal intensive care unit since Saturday night and had been placed on a respirator to help them breathe.

In the end, doctors said the girls suffered progressive shock which led to their deaths.

Big Bombs Or Little Ones

Nobody is in favor of nuclear war.

The debate beginning to dominate Congress and Main Street is between those who want nuclear weapons abolished...

And those who consider nuclear weapons the only deterrent potential adversaries would respect.

There were similar arguments over each escalation of military technology, but admittedly fusion and fission have added a new factor.

Honest disagreement divides even families.

Recently the Wall Street Journal cartooned a man and wife sitting conspicuously apart in their car while the back bumper was plastered with two stickers: NUKES and NO NUKES.

Let's assume that all Americans who are debating nuclear disarmament are loyal Americans and sincere in their diverse points of view.

Billy Graham has now diverted a significant segment of his ministry to urging "destruction of all nuclear arms."

He says, "We are living on the edge of annihilation of the human race."

He says, "This is the first generation that faces the prospect of being the last generation."

There are a hundred or more organizations mobilizing resistance to nuclear proliferation, many of them urging that the United States destroy its nuclear arsenal—whatever the Soviets do.

Before we join the pickets demanding nuclear disarmament, these considerations must give us pause:

—if we disarm and the Soviets don't, we are at the mercy of men who are without mercy.

—If we and the Soviets disarm, the world could be held hostage by any madman—a Kadafi, a Castro or an Arafat.

All nuclear weapons cannot be defused.

As Daniel Boorstin says, "Technology can't go home again; you cannot uninvent the automobile."

Indeed, already in the arsenals of the superpowers are weapons — ray weapons and bug bombs— even more hideous than nuclear weapons.

Yet, even if it were possible for the nations of the world to reach accord on the destruction of all super-weapons, so that future wars would be fought with only conventional weapons—we couldn't win.

Our 6 percent fraction of this planet's mothers could not possibly bear enough boys to match the limitless hordes of Asia.

We could only bleed to death trying.

And some of us are unconvinced that dying on the end of a bayonet is any more "humane" than any other way.

Ironic as it now seems, the best hope of peace may be the prospect of an unwinnable war.

Then this awesome technology in the hands of our enlightened fraction of the planet's population may effect not our destruction but our deliverance.

Water Plant Burglarized

The Hereford water treatment plant was burglarized during the weekend and police are still investigating the theft of a chain link gate, a sprinkler and fence post.

Hereford Car Wash, 100 Avenue A, was burglarized sometime between Saturday and Sunday. Missing are a vacuum cleaner, a sewing machine and an AM-FM radio. Total value was set at $225.

About $80 in Tonka toy trucks were reported missing from a yard in the 900 block of South Main.

Three bikes were reported stolen.

Officers checked a minor accident in the 200 block of West Fourth and issued two citations Monday.

Committee Hears Charges From Alleged Victims

WASHINGTON (AP) — As Stuart Greenfield of Miami tells it, he and his family were setting out for a Memorial Day weekend on the water when armed Internal Revenue Service agents stormed his boat and held the Greenfields captive for six hours.

Ten years later, in a quiet Amish community in Oakland, Md., an IRS-led force of 29 men, armed with shotguns and semiautomatic rifles, seized the home and cabinet shop of Dwight Snyder. Since then, says Snyder, his wife has spent time in a mental hospital and his 5-year-old daughter has had trouble sleeping.

In each case, outlined Monday before a House Ways and Means subcommittee, the IRS was intent on seizing property to satisfy unpaid taxes. And in each case, the IRS offered a different story than was told by the taxpayer.

IRS Commissioner Roscoe L. Egger Jr. and other officials of the tax-collection agency said their use of a big, heavily armed force in Snyder's case was justified by past implied threats and by the menacing actions of Snyder's neighbors during earlier IRS visits to the home. As for the story told by Greenfield, Egger said, "There is no real indication the abuses he referred to took place."

But Sirhan's attorney, Luke McKissack, said the law does not provide special punishment for political assassins and urged the board to treat Sirhan as it would any other life term prisoner.

"Sirhan feels he cannot get a fair hearing in this election year, 1982," McKissack said.

ment, but contends he is innocent by reason of insanity. The tight security has not escaped his notice.

"The measures they go to in order to protect me are simply staggering," Hinckley wrote in response to a news magazine's written questions. "I feel like the president myself with my own retinue of bodyguards. We both wear bullet-proof vests now."

Twenty-four hours before the scheduled start of the trial, authorities installed the security equipment and began enforcing some of the stringent measures that will be in effect for the case, expected to last at least a month.

Everyone entering the building, including courthouse employees, were required to walk through a metal detector and have their belongings searched. Normally employees, news reporters and others with special identification can avoid the screening process.

unpopular spending plan Reagan submitted to Congress Feb. 8.

Senate Majority Leader Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., who has maintained an upbeat public stance on the budget talks, acknowledged Monday that he was "somewhat discouraged" by the situation.

Sources who asked not to be quoted by name said Monday that the negotiators have given up talking about a possible change in the 7.4 percent Social Security cost-of-living increase scheduled for July.

Sources said without the Social Security reduction, the most recent worksheet prepared for negotiators projected a 1983 deficit of between $100 billion and $110 billion.

Proposals to change the annual cost-of-living increase for Social Security and other benefit programs have been at the heart of many proposals to reduce budget deficits for the next several years.

However, the president and House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill Jr., D-Mass., have opposed a Social Security change.

Both Reagan and O'Neill spoke Monday about the budget talks.

The president told a U.S. Chamber of Commerce meeting in Washington he was "willing to look at additional revenue sources, so long as they are not inconsistent with the tax incentive measures for individuals and business that we adopted last year."

O'Neill, meanwhile, told the American Newspaper Publishers Association meeting in San Francisco that the steps necessary to cut the budget will require sacrifices and "only the president of the United States can ask people to make those sacrifices."

unfair "is widespread in the community among both Hispanic and Anglo citizens. "I plead for fairness and a little sensitivity for that (Hispanic) segment of the community," Father O'Connor said.

The catholic men's organization wants the ban removed mainly so that its annual Fiestas Patrias Celebration dances can be held at the Bull Barn. They contend that no other facility in Hereford is large enough to handle the crowds which attend the dances.

One of the four dances held in conjunction with the Fiestas Patrias Celebration has already been held. The annual celebration is held as local Hispanics observe the Mexican Independence.

The organization requested the court to hold a special meeting to address the question this week so that they would know which way to go at the final organizational meeting for the celebration to be held Friday evening.

County Judge Glen Nelson said he would try to set up a meeting, but told the group how difficult it is to get all four commissioners to a special meeting. And, Pct. 3 Commissioner Bruce Coleman said that he would like to have all four members of the court present at such a meeting.

In other matters Monday the court:

—Heard a preliminary report about a group of local women attempting to get a foundation begun to establish a permanent home for foster care.

—Authorized DA Roland Saul to draw up a county policy regarding seismic activity in the county.

—Rejected all bids for a tractor and mower for Pct. 1 upon the recommendation of Pct. 1 Commissioner Bill Bradley.

—Tabled action on authorizing bids on surplus county equipment.

—Discussed pending litigation with Assistant DA Jerry Smith in a closed session.

—Discussed public officials' insurance with Bud Eades of Plains Insurance Agency.

Pct. 4 Commissioner James Voyles was absent from the meeting Monday.

driving as a felony upon the second arrest, and those cases are tried in district court. "It's true under our bill that the first two offenses will be handled in county court," said Sarpalius. "We set it purposely that way."

The senator said this increases the likelihood that a person arrested the first time for DWI will be tried for DWI. He also said the penalties are harsher under his bill.

Probation would be allowed under his bill, as it is presently, but deferred adjudication of sentences would not be allowed. Under deferred adjudication, the offense is taken from the driver's record after the terms of the probation are completed. A driver can be convicted more than once without it appearing on his record.

One change Sarpalius has in the new bill concerns a provision that would cleanse a driver's record after three years of not having a DWI conviction. After talking to Sherrod, he will change that provision to retain the conviction on record unless the driver applied to a judge to have it removed. Sarpalius said he set minimum jail sentences at 72 hours rather than the present three-day minimum for a reason. "A person can serve two days in jail in two minutes," he said.

"You can check in at one minute to midnight and check out at one minute after midnight, and you've served two days. But 72 hours is 72 hours."

A new national program, "Salute to Excellence," to recognize outstanding contributions and improve skills of 4-H volunteer leaders, has been announced by the National 4-H Council.

The program includes a five-day recognition and training forum at the National 4-H Center in Washington, D.C. plus incentive grants to implement back-home action plans. R.J. Reynolds Industries, Inc., Winston-Salem, N.C., is supporting the program.

One volunteer leader from each state, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico will be selected by the Extension Service of that state for expense-paid attendance at the leader forum during National 4-H Week, Oct. 4-9. The program here will include briefings with top officials from the executive branch of government, visits with congressional representatives, workshop sessions and field trips to cultural and historic sites in the nation's capital.

Workshops will emphasize management, interpersonal relationships and group dynamics, communications skills, the role of volunteers in expanding 4-H, the legislative process and creative techniques for working with youth.

During the forum, leaders will work on action plans to form the basis of applications for incentive grants of $1,000 per state to strengthen the 4-H program, especially through volunteer leadership.

The quality of experiences that 4-H members get depends heavily on volunteer leaders. More than 525,000 4-H volunteer leaders serve as the direct link between the extension service and almost 5 million 4-H members across the nation. Texas boasts some 20,000 4-H volunteer leaders for its 140,000 members.

By providing national recognition for this volunteer involvement as well as incentive grants to strengthen 4-H programs at the grass roots level, educational efforts to develop life skills, citizenship responsibility and leadership through learn-by-doing experiences can be increased.

Further information about the "Salute to Excellence" program is available from the state 4-H office at Texas A&M University.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Study Club Members Elect New Officers

Election of new club officers was held when members of Calliopean Study Club met Thursday evening in the home of Meredith Wilcox. Faye Holt served as co-hostess.

Serving as president will be Mary Sue Hull; vice-president, Linda Muse; recording secretary, Katherine Ruga; treasurer, Sheri Kerr; corresponding secretary, Claudia McBryer.

A CHANGE FOR THE BETTER

VOTE MAY 1st

If you cannot be present on election day, TODAY (April 27) is the last day you can vote absentee. Absentee votes are taken at the Courthouse on the second floor.

Today In History

Associated Press Today is Tuesday, April 27, the 117th day of 1982. There are 248 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On April 27, 1521, Ferdinand Magellan, the Portuguese navigator whose expedition was the first to sail around the world, was killed by natives in the Philippines.

On this date: In 1830, Simon Bolivar abdicated as president of Colombia.

In 1945, U.S. and Soviet troops in World War II met at the Elbe River, cutting Germany in two.

In 1960, Syngman Rhee resigned as president of South Korea.

And in 1968, Soviet cosmonaut Yuri Gagarin, who had been the first man to fly in space, was killed in the crash of a training plane.

Ten years ago: Apollo 16 astronauts John Young, Thomas Mattingly and Charles Duke made a safe splashdown in the Pacific after an exploratory mission to the moon.

Five years ago: West Germany announced a major program to build and export nuclear reactors using plutonium, despite U.S. opposition.

One year ago: The White House backed off from a threat made two days earlier by Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig Jr., that the U.S. would impose a total embargo on trade with the Soviet Union if it invaded Poland.

Today's birthday: Former Federal Reserve Board Chairman Arthur Burns is 78 years old.

Thought for today: Ambition is so powerful a passion in the human breast that however high we reach we are never satisfied. — Nicolo Machiavelli, Italian political philosopher (1469-1527).

Ann Landers

Resents Sharing Expenses

DEAR ANN: Where is it written that the children must share the expenses of an aged parent?

My husband's mother has six living children. She is 80 and in a nursing home. She has funds to pay for her keep. Her Social Security check goes for incidentals.

My husband's oldest sister bought her mother a new set of dentures. Last week he received a letter from her assessing him $75—one-sixth the cost of the teeth. This sister took it upon herself to get them without consulting anyone. I say if she couldn't afford to pay for the teeth herself, she should have asked first if anyone would help. (The woman is a college professor and wears a full-length mink coat).

My husband is 60 and trying to save a little so we won't be dependent upon our children. If we could pay all his mother's expenses, we would gladly do it. As it is, we just make ends meet. Both his sisters are well-heeled. It hurts me the way they treat my husband by discussing in his presence all they do for their mother. I thought caring for someone was an act of love. I would be interested in how your readers feel about this.

Also, the teeth cost $450. I think his sister could have found some for less money.—Faithful Reader in Memphis

DEAR FAITHFUL: These days nobody knows how "well-heeled" anybody is. Since I have not seen the financial statements of the members of your husband's family, I am not qualified to say who should do what.

I don't agree that the sister who contracted for the dentures without consulting the others should pay for them herself. Dentures are not a luxury and the price is not exorbitant according to today's standards. It seems fair that the bill be split six ways.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Last night at the supper table we had a big row. I'd like you to tell me who was right.

4-H Members Give Aerobics Program

Two girls from the Showmanship 4-H Club gave a program entitled "Heart Break" for the Friday afternoon meeting of the Cultural Extension Club. Members met in the home of Tillie Scott.

After opening exercises by Ruth Gandy and a routine business meeting, Penny Reinart introduced Candy Sparkman and Christie Powell, who demonstrated an aerobics exercise for the heart, stating three impor-

When I served the dessert (rice pudding), our six-year-old Jill said, "I don't have a spoon, Mommy." I told her to go get one. Her father piped up, "No...let Mommy get it. She didn't set the table right." I thought he was out of line and told him so. He responded with a crude comeback.

Jill, in an effort to "help," said, "I don't need a spoon...look," and she began to eat the pudding with her hands. Her father shouted, "Your manners are terrible. Leave the table." This made me mad. We argued for 30 minutes and he ended up throwing it in my face that my brother still owes him $300. How about it, Ann? Comment.—Not So Peaceful In Niagara Falls

DEAR NIAGARA: Your six-year-old sounds more mature than your husband. Too bad he doesn't know that parents should never criticize one another in the presence of their children. It undermines the united front that is essential to establish them as authority figures. The divide-and-conquer technique is one that children learn early in life—and it can be very effective.

Deadline Is Friday For Reservations

Friday is the deadline for reservations to be made to attend the 1972 Hereford High School's Class reunion.

Festivities for the reunion will begin at 11 a.m. May 29 in which former graduates and their families are invited to a picnic at Veterans Park. Each family is asked to bring a sack lunch and beverages will be furnished.

A catered dinner and dance will be held that evening at 7 p.m. Fee for the picnic is $5 to cover the cost of drinks and the dinner-dance will be $25 per couple.

For further information contact Pam Wagner at 364-3870 or Jeanie Lomas at 364-2544.

tant phases—warm-up, peak work, and cool down. They closed the program with the statement, "don't let your heart break under stress."

Two visitors were welcomed, Mary Ella Ricketts of Texaco, and Juanita Hershey. Others attending were Jewel Rogers, Jewel Hargrave, Bertha Dettmann, Mary Ella Ricketts, Fannie Townsend, Mildred Lewis, Carrie Mae Doak, Virginia Summer, Edith Hunter, Vernis Parsons, Ella Stehr, and Wilma Goetsch.

The next meeting will be a luncheon in the home of Virginia Sumner. The group will make tablecloths for Westgate Nursing Home at that time.

Streak Changes Color of Sox

CHICAGO (AP) — Winning streaks — like most cats, dogs and horses — are color blind. But while animals are reluctant to change masters, winning streaks are not, exchanging their White Sox for Red Sox in the blink of an eye.

"It wasn't cold at all. It turned out to be a beautiful evening," Boston Manager Ralph Houk said Monday night after his Red Sox overcame 40-degree temperatures and brisk winds to sweep a doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox 3-2 and 5-0. It extended Boston's winning streak to seven games.

The Red Sox-White Sox doubleheader, both make-up games, were the only American League contests played Monday night.

"When we went 8-0 (the first eight games of the season) I was not overly concerned. Now we've lost four straight and I'm not overly concerned either," said Chicago Manager Tony LaRussa. "This is April."

The Red Sox return home for an eight-game stand, hoping to surpass the nine-game winning streak Boston rolled up in September 1980. "Maybe we should stay on the road."

Chuck Rainey, who posted his last victory on June 27, 1980, scattered just five hits and struck out five in the nightcap to gain the shutout.

"Tonight I just went after them as hard as I could. I just figured I'd throw as hard as I could," he said.

Rainey, 1-0, got all the support he needed from Rick Miller, who drove in the first run of the contest with one of his three singles to key the 13-hit Boston attack.

Houston Wins, 6-2

Ryan Finally Gets Win

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Les Moss, filling in for Mel Wright as a Houston Astros coach, says all pitchers should be blessed with Nolan Ryan's problems.

"He was in the 90s all the way, even in the eighth and ninth innings," said Moss after viewing Ryan's fastballs during the right-hander's 6-2 conquest Monday night of the St. Louis Cardinals. "The mistakes he makes he corrects himself."

Ryan, who had been off to his worst major league start, notched his first triumph in five decisions with the backing of heavy Houston hitting.

In Monday's only other National League contest, the

That run was the only scoring through five innings as Rainey got locked into a pitcher's duel with Chicago's Ernesto Escarrega, 0-1, a 32-year-old rookie up from the Mexican Leagues.

In the opener, Jim Rice decided another pitcher's duel by singling home Wade Boggs with the winning run in the eighth inning.

Boggs led off the Boston eighth with a single, the first hit of his major league career, and was sacrificed to second by Jerry Remy. Rice hit an 0-1 pitch from Richard Dotson, 1-2, up the middle to break a 2-2 deadlock and hand the win to Luis Aponte, 2-0, who came on in relief of Bruce Hurst in the bottom of the seventh.

Pittsburgh Pirates handed the Atlanta Braves their fourth straight defeat by rallying to a 6-4 victory.

"Once we had the lead, I was able to challenge the hitters," said Ryan after finishing with a four-hitter in which he made 137 pitches. "I needed the work. You just have to be positive about it."

Against John Martin, 2-2, the Astros also only faintly resembled the club that dropped 11 of 15 contests since winning twice over St. Louis in a season-opening series.

Ex-Cards outfielder Tony Scott singled sharply in the first, with Ray Knight belting his second homer one out later. Two innings afterward, it became 4-0 after Knight doubled and Jose Cruz crashed his first homer.

Knight, the third baseman obtained by Houston in an off-season trade from Cincinnati, labeled a 14-hit attack assembled by the Astros overdue.

Ryan, who fanned five and walked two, yielded an unearned run when shortstop Dickie Thon booted Smith's eighth. Smith stole second, moved to third on Herr's fly ball and scored on Keith Hernandez' grounder.

Atlanta lost its fourth straight home game following a 13-game winning streak to open the season. "Bill Madlock's two-run homer in the eighth broke a 4-4 tie. The Pirates tied the game earlier in the inning when Dave Parker doubled and scored on Jason Thompson's single.

Madlock then unloaded against reliever Larry McWilliams. Thompson and Mike Easler also homered as the Pirates.

Finish Undefeated

Stanton District Track Champs

The Stanton 9th grade boys' track team won the district championship trophy at Clovis Saturday, while the 8th graders finished fourth and the 7th graders took third place.

The Dogie 9th graders scored 84 points, outdistancing Plainview and Clovis Gattis with 77 points each. Stanton had four individual blue-ribbon winners and one relay took first place. Chad Stephan was first in the 65-meter hurdles; Francisco Saucedo was first in the 800 meters; Lee Brockman took top honors in the shot put, and Jerry Ramirez was first in the pole vault. The 1600-meter relay team of Lupe Rocha, Francisco Saucedo, Randy Villarreal and Kevin Redus took first. The 400-meter relay team was second and was composed of Rocha, Albert Gonzales, Saucedo and Redus. The 800-meter relay team of Javier Mendiola, Chet Bunch, Sammy Suarez and Gonzales won a third-place. The 800 medley relay was fourth with Stephan, Brockman, Suarez and Gonzales on the legs.

Second places went to Rocha in the 400, Redus in the 200 meters and the high jump. Third places went to Villarreal in the 400 and Stephan in the low hurdles. Kirt Simon tied for third in the pole vault. Bunch was fourth in the high jump, the low hurdles and fifth in the high hurdles. Villarreal was fourth in the 800 meters; Suarez was fourth in the 200 meters and Brockman was fourth in the discus. Frank Vallejo was fifth in the 1600 meters.

The 8th graders finished fourth on the meet with Alan Dudding, Stefan Hacker, Johnny Pena, Richard Frye, Rodney Torres, Patrick Rodriguez, Jel Buniga, Philip Webster, Jessie Gonzales, Richard Rios and Adam Olivarez accounting for the 47½ points.

Dudding had the only individual first-place for the 8th graders, winning the 400 meters in 53.9. He also ran legs on the first-place 1600 relay and on the second-place 400 meter relay. Pena was second in the 400 and Hacker was third in the high hurdles and tied for second in the high jump.

The Stanton 7th graders claimed third place in the team standings, with Gattis taking the title and Yucca placing second.

Todd Weaver and Keith Herrera copped first places for the team in the 400 and 600 meter runs, respectively. The 800 medley relay was first and was composed of Concho Ruiz, Lorenzo Contreras, Vincent Brown and Gilbert Tijerina.

Brown was third in the 100-meter dash and Ralph Rios was fourth in the pole vault. The 1600-meter relay team of Contreras, Rios, Tijerina and Weaver captured a third place.

Amarillo Wins Region Meet

Amarillo High won the team title at the Region 1-5A Girls' Track Meet last weekend, while the Hereford Whitefaces settled for a 12th place finish. But, the Herd posted their best times of the year in almost every event they participated in.

The Sandies claimed the team trophy with 96 points, far ahead of runner-up Temple, which had 49. Big Spring was third with 48 points.

The top finish for the Whitefaces was a fourth place in the 200 meters by Lori Albracht. Albracht ran a 25.2, four-tenths of a second faster than her previous best this year, and also tying the school record set by Darlene Sanders in 1979.

The Herd also got three fifths and a pair of seventh place finishes to total 12 points at the meet.

Angela White, who set a new HHS record (14.6) in the 100 Hurdles at the district meet, ran a 14.8 at regional for fifth place.

And, the HHS 800 Relay team of Albracht, Sandy Brownlow, Jana Morgan, and Jill Pickens placed fifth in the field with a 1:44.7, their fastest time of the year. The fifth place was the best ever by a Hereford 800 Relay team at regionals according to coach Martha Emerson. The Herd's best previous time in the event this season was a 1:47.0.

Kellie Howell set a new school record in the 1600 Meter Run at the regional meet with a 5:41.4 and a seventh place finish, and the Herd's 1600 meter relay team was also seventh with a 4:06.6 in the finals.

The 1600 Relay team of Deborah Rogers, Allyson Thomas, Michelle Osborn, and Teresa Phibbs ran a 4:05.9 in the prelims, also a HHS best this season.

Bulldogs Bite Hard In Twinbill

The Plainview Bulldogs rolled to a 16-2 win over the Hereford Whitefaces in the opener of a District 4-5A twinbill at Whiteface Field Saturday, and then put the icing on the cake with a 7-3 win in the nightcap.

The double losses dropped the Herd to 0-4 for the second half of loop play, with a doubleheader in Lubbock against the Lubbock High Westerners on tap today.

The Bulldogs scored four times in the first inning off of HHS starter Matt Collier in the first game, and made it 6-0 in the second before the Whitefaces scored both of their runs in the bottom of the inning. The second game was not settled until the seventh inning when Plainview tallied three times to move ahead 7-3. Both teams scored twice in the third frame and added solo tallies in the fourth, but the 'Dogs pushed across a run in the sixth to take a 4-3 lead, and then put the game away with three runs in the seventh.

The Whitefaces play a non-district game against Dumas at Whiteface Field Saturday, and close out the season against the Monterey Plainsmen at home May 4 and the Coronado Mustangs in Lubbock May 8.

USC May Sue Over Penalties

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The president of the University of Southern California says the school may take legal action against the National Collegiate Athletic Association because of the severity of penalties issued against the football team.

The school is prohibited from playing in bowl games during the 1982-83 and 1983-84 academic years and from appearing on television in 1983 and 1984.

"The penalties are unreasonable, inequitable and wholly unjustified for the number and nature of the infractions involved," James H. Zumberge said at a news conference Monday.

USC was penalized by the NCAA last Friday because an assistant coach sold tickets given to players.

"We also believe that the severity of the penalties reflects a measure of vindictiveness that is shocking for an organization with the stature of the NCAA," said Zumberge.

He said USC had not been before the Infractions Committee in the past 23 years and had cooperated with the NCAA in its investigation.

"I am now exploring with counsel the legal options available to the university and will discuss them soon with the Executive Committee of the university's Board of Trustees," he said. "Football is a very, very important part of the university scene. We can't treat the possibility of going to court as a trivial matter."

He pointed out that the universities of Texas, Oklahoma and Georgia already had suits pending against the NCAA on various matters, but agreed that final settlements of suits might take several years.

He said USC would await the outcome of pending cases against the NCAA before taking action of its own.

David Berst, a member of the NCAA investigation staff, in Shawnee, Kan., defended the penalties.

"I will get mail this week saying that we let USC off the hook, and I'll get mail saying we were too harsh on USC to prove the point that we can penalize the big schools," he said. "Neither is true. We will let the comments fall where they may. The record will speak for itself."

Zumberge estimated the penalties might cost USC more than $1 million and other schools, both in the Pacific 10 Conference and independents such as Notre Dame would suffer financial losses from the TV ban.

The basic charge, and one admitted by the university president, was that assistant coach Marv Goux took tickets given to football players and then sold them at inflated prices, returning the money to the players.

Although the NCAA wanted Goux fired, the university argued successfully for a lesser penalty whereby he could not recruit or talk to booster groups for two years. He will remain on the staff.

Zumberge said an investigation indicated neither Director of Athletics Richard Perry nor Coach John Robinson knew of the transactions.

'Hostage' Latest Victim On Road to Derby

By DICK JOYCE AP Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Hostage is the latest victim on the road to Saturday's Kentucky Derby, a path that this year has proved rocky indeed.

Just six days after pre-Derby favorite Timely Writer was knocked out of the classic because of an abdominal problem and surgery, Hostage was injured during a workout Monday and retired.

As the Arkansas Derby winner, Hostage had been considered one of the top contenders for 108th Kentucky Derby which is expected to attract a wide-open field of 20 3-year-olds for the 11-4 mile race.

Trainer Mike Freeman said the colt suffered a fractured sesamoid and a chipped bone in his right front leg.

Jockey Chris McCarron

flew in from the West Coast for the workout, scheduled at seven furlongs over a sloppy track.

"When I started breezing him, he was doing nicely," McCarron said. "Then I felt him take a couple of bad steps and he bobbed so I felt I'd better pull him up."

Freeman praised McCarron for cutting short the workout, saying that "he had the good sense to pull him up, sensing that he had done something quite serious."

Freeman, who had been preparing for his first Derby he was "obviously crushed. It was just one of those things, a one in a million shot. He did it all in one step. The horse has never liked mud and getting caught a little bit short on time, he was just going to have a steady breeze out there."

Hostage, owned by Mrs. Paul Hexter, had been reshod a half-hour before the workout, but Freeman said that was not connected to the mishap.

The son of Nijinsky II earned $209,096 in eight career starts, posting four victories, one second and one third. He had two victories and a second in three 1982 starts.

Other leading Derby hopefuls struck by the injury jinx in recent months include Deputy Minister, the 2-year-old champion, Stalwart, Lets Dont Fight, Distinctive Pro, Aloma's Ruler and Victorian Line.

With Hostage out of the race, El Baba and Bold Style, the second and third finishers in the Arkansas Derby April 10 at Oaklawn Park, will be trying to become the first Arkansas Derby starter to win the Kentucky Derby.

El Baba, owned by Mrs. Joe W. Brown, is expected to emerge as the favorite for the Derby. He has won eight of 11 career starts and has the highest earnings among Derby contenders with $384,863.

Among El Baba's victories is the Louisiana Derby. He won twice at Churchill Downs as a 2-year-old when he won all five starts.

Of the possible Derby starters, only El Baba and Air Forbes won have carried 126 pounds.

The son of Bold Commander broke his maiden at Churchill Downs last year, his only win in seven starts last year. The Arkansas Derby was his only loss in four starts this year. He has earnings of $119,161.

Rested Lakers Tackle Phoenix

By WILLIAM R. BARNARD AP Sports Writer

Coach Pat Riley believes the nine-day break the Los Angeles Lakers had between their last game and tonight's playoff opener with the Phoenix Suns was more welcome than dangerous.

"I think the rest has helped us immeasurably," said Riley. "Norm Nixon was having a little problem with his knees, tendinitis. Jamaal (Wilkes) and Kareem (Abdul-Jabbar) were totally exhausted."

"We could be a little rusty in the beginning, but I think we'll work our way through that. The rest was worth any problems we might have with rustiness."

The Lakers, champions of the Pacific Division, haven't played since their regular-season finale a week ago Sunday.

Meanwhile, the Suns became only the fourth team to rebound from a 1-0 deficit to win a best-of-three National Basketball Association playoff series when they defeated the Denver Nuggets 124-119 in Denver Saturday night.

In another Western Conference semifinal opener tonight, San Antonio is at Seattle.

The second games of the two Western and two Eastern series will be Wednesday night. In the East, Boston plays host to Washington and Milwaukee is at Philadelphia. The Celtics and 76ers won Sunday's opening games.

Riley said the Suns "have played exceptionally well" recently with a revamped starting lineup that includes centers Alvan Adams and Rich Kelley.

But the Lakers coach added that "they're going to have a difficult time matching up with us with that lineup. That puts Adams on Wilkes."

A former Phoenix starter, Walter Davis "is getting production in less minutes," Riley said. "When he comes off the bench, they go right to him. When he comes in you better get your pants hitched up and shoes tightened because he's coming right at you."

Seattle survived the mini-series round with 104-83 triumph over Houston in Game 3 Sunday.

The Sonics, who overcame the individual talents of Moses Malone to beat the Rockets, now have to gear up for NBA scoring champion George Gervin of San Antonio.

Gervin, who turned 30 today, has vowed that he will play "until I get a championship. Who knows how long George Gervin can play?"

Gervin has been on a playoff team with San Antonio for nine straight years, dating back to when the Spurs were in the American Basketball Association.

Fiery Steinbrenner Strikes Once More

By WILL GRIMSLEY AP Special Correspondent

If George Steinbrenner were a physician instead of a ballclub owner and a patient came to him with a cold, he probably would order the appendix out or amputation of a leg.

He acts impulsively, this high-strung, head-strong, often insensitive boss of the New York Yankees.

He admits he is demanding and intolerant of anything short of the ultimate. He must be No. 1. No. 2 won't do. The Avis slogan, "We try harder," is a repugnant motto to him. The name of the game is not to compete but win, win, win. The end justifies the means.

So a nice, old fellow named Bob Lemon becomes the latest casualty in this fierce drive to feed relentless ambition. After managing for only 14 games of a 162-game season, the grandfatherly Hall of Famer is crassly dumped as manager and succeeded by young Gene Michael.

Michael knows the feeling. Last September, he too was abruptly fired as were Bill Virdon, Billy Martin and Dick Howser before him. Lemon joins Martin as being twice burned. Under Steinbrenner, there have been eight managerial changes in 10 years.

The ouster of Lemon on such short notice is hard to understand under any circumstances. It is mind-boggling when thrown against the poignant scenario of the winter meetings in Hollywood, Fla., last December.

Although planning to give the job to Michael on a long term basis, Steinbrenner nevertheless rehired the 62-year-old Lemon, a loyal employee and respected pilot, for the 1982 season.

Michael knows the feeling. Last September, he too was abruptly fired as were Bill Virdon, Billy Martin and Dick Howser before him. Lemon joins Martin as being twice burned. Under Steinbrenner, there have been eight managerial changes in 10 years.

The ouster of Lemon on such short notice is hard to understand under any circumstances. It is mind-boggling when thrown against the poignant scenario of the winter meetings in Hollywood, Fla., last December.

Although planning to give the job to Michael on a long term basis, Steinbrenner nevertheless rehired the 62-year-old Lemon, a loyal employee and respected pilot, for the 1982 season.

Michael to come back and carry on the next three years.

The Yankee owner called some writers to his suite to explain his rationale, and it was so touching it hit you right here.

"I was going another direction," he explained, "but when Lem showed up — having lost 25 pounds and not having had a drink for months — and requested that he be allowed to manage one more year, how could I refuse him?"

"Every time I have called him to do a job, he never asked when, where or how much. I felt that, because of this loyalty, he should be given this chance."

Recalling Steinbrenner's record for snap managerial shakeups, reporters asked if such a move "didn't put Lemon under the guillotine — once the Yankees sagged, out would go Lemon, in would come Michael."

"No," insisted Steinbrenner, "I gave him my word. Even if we're 20 games behind, Lem will stay as manager. I will only replace him if he requests it in the case of bad health."

Lemon was flushed with pride.

"I've never had a chance to go a full season," he said. "George wants to see if I can go the route — me, too."

Now Steinbrenner is saying, in effect, he had his fingers crossed.

He didn't mean a word of it. Now it's down the drain for a man's dream.

But what of the Yankees? Will this sudden shift resuscitate "the greatest talent money can buy?" Don't bet on it.

These are not the proud, swashbuckling Yankees of old. It is a confused, disoriented lot, and has been from the start of spring training.

"I haven't had any fun all year," complained Goose Gossage, the relief ace. "It was the most depressing spring I've ever had."

Steinbrenner virtually mandated that players be at camp — a drudgery anyhow — two weeks in advance. Then he brought in Olympic coaches and installed exotic electronic equipment to be used in intensive batting and running exercises.

Players were treated not like pros but like a regiment of Marines or a flock of collegiate rookies. Steinbrenner's personal heroes have always been the late General George Patton and Vince Lombardi.

The club was jaded by the time it left Fort Lauderdale. The boss not satisfied, kept reaching out and buying fresh talent, overloading the roster and creating frictions.

"It's like somebody goes to a candy store and buys everything," said pitcher Tommy John.

Lendl Defeats McEnroe Again

DALLAS (AP) - Ivan Lendl has John McEnroe's number. McEnroe feels it should be Number One.

For the fourth consecutive time, the No. 2 rated Lendl defeated the No. 1 ranked McEnroe Monday night. The 6-2, 3-6, 6-3, 6-3 World Championship of Tennis Finals victory netted the Czechoslovakian $150,000.

But should Lendl be No. 1 in the world?

"His record is better than mine," said McEnroe, who was trying for a record three WCT Finals titles. "There's an argument for him being No. 1. He's playing better than I am although I don't like to think one match is everything."

Asked if he felt he was No. 1, Lendl said: "No answer." Before the match, the 22-year-old who has now won $900,000 on the WCT tour this season, said "I would like to be No. 1 but I'm not going to say it...don't ask me if I win."

Asked how important the match was to him, Lendl said: "Everytime I beat him (McEnroe) it is important. This is my second biggest (victory)...the Grand Prix Masters was the first...the next is the French Open."

Lendl, who has won 78 of his last 80 matches, handled the defending champion superbly, temper tantrums and all.

He whistled 13 aces past McEnroe, who had a $60,000 payday.

McEnroe battled gamely on a sprained ankle. He dove into some yellow carnations trying to save a point and generally hustled hard. However, his first service was inconsistent, leading to some pouty antics on his part.

Once he refused to take the court after beefing about a linesman's call. Later he admitted "maybe it was a little petty."

Lendl refused to be bothered by the gamesmanship.

He was rock steady particularly in the third game of the fourth set which went to deuce eight times on McEnroe's service. Lendl broke service with a backhand winner and McEnroe never recovered.

The some 15,000 fans in Reunion Arena booed McEnroe in the first set, but warmed to him in the second when he broke Lendl's service for the first time in the second game.

Don't try to tax your imagination — the IRS has been working on that project for some time.

Teams Take 'Chances' in Draft

By BRUCE LOWITT AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — When the first day of the National Football League draft had been completed a year ago, the Cincinnati Bengals knew they had filled one of their most pressing needs. They'd selected a wide receiver.

Only thing is, they filled it with the "wrong" one. But then, even in the sophisticated, computerized world of pro football, nobody's perfect.

The Bengals had the 10th pick in the 1981 draft. With it they selected a highly regarded wide receiver from Kansas — the first wide receiver taken, in fact.

With their second-round pick, 37th overall, the Bengals decided to buy a little insurance, so they went for another wide receiver, a less-highly-regarded player from Florida.

That No. 1 pick, David Verser, became the Bengals' kickoff returner. He also caught six passes during the team's drive to the American Football Conference championship.

That No. 2 pick, Cris Collinsworth, became one of the best receivers in the league, catching 67 passes for a club-record 1,009 yards, this after just about every team in the league — including the Bengals — had ignored him at least once.

Or consider Tyrone McGriff.

In the spring of 1980, after their fourth Super Bowl victory, the Pittsburgh Steelers had the last pick in each of the 12 rounds. With their last one they selected McGriff, a nonentity from Florida A&M.

Things didn't look very promising, so he ventured north to ply his trade in Canada. There, too, the situation was bleak. So he returned to the Steelers for another shot — and wound up starting 10 of their 16 games in 1980.

What about safety Cliff Harris?

Back in 1970, when the NFL draft was a 17-round affair, every team in every round ignored the kid from Ouchita Baptist in Arkadelphia, Ark. He just happened to hook on with Dallas as a free agent — and became one of the great defensive backs in the league.

Even using a No. 1 pick doesn't guarantee instant success, along with the "franchise" player like Terry Bradshaw or Ed "Too Tall" Jones, there is an occasional Tom Cousineau (he skipped to Canada rather than sign with Buffalo) or Terry Baker (he starred at Oregon State but was a washout as quarterback and running back with the Los Angeles Rams in the mid-1960s.)

When Gil Brandt, the master builder of the so-called computerized player like Terry Bradshaw or Ed "Too Tall" Jones, there is an occasional Tom Cousineau (he skipped to Canada rather than sign with Buffalo) or Terry Baker (he starred at Oregon State but was a washout as quarterback and running back with the Los Angeles Rams in the mid-1960s.)

When Gil Brandt, the master builder of the so-called computerized

Cowboys, was asked why in this era of sophisticated scouting and precise testing the first-round player can bomb out and a late-rounder can blossom in the pros, he replied: "They still haven't found a way to reach in and measure a guy's heart."

Save for a rainy day and they'll up the price of umbrellas.

The tourists are coming! The tourists are coming! This year, for the first time, the number of foreign visitors to the United States exceeds the number of Americans traveling abroad.

For those of you who have traveled extensively, I beg you to have compassion for these pilgrims who climb off the plane having consumed 18 hard rolls and a plastic chicken. Those brave adventurers who balance a 35-pound camera around their neck and a tote bag filled with jelly beans which their travel agent told them the natives would accept in exchange for the privilege of taking their picture.

Those gypsy nomads who cringe every time they have to flash their passport. (If they look like their picture, they're too sick to travel.)

Those truth seekers who have studied the history, economics, politics, and power structure of America through satellite television and know two words: Matt Dillon.

Already, I could cry for them. Some bus tour will tell them the No. 1 not-to-be-missed historic site is in White Sands, N.M., where the space shuttle, Columbia, recently landed. It has a few rattlesnakes, land mines and porta-potties, but you'll never forgive yourself if you go home without seeing it.

Another tour guide will charge them $40 a head to ride a mechanical bull in Texas and experience a "typical American evening out." They will be served barbecued ribs at a long table by a waiter who speaks only Spanish.

The itinerary will undoubtedly include a tour of a plastic factory where a showroom will have a prominent sign, "WE SHIP ANYWHERE," a trip through a bowery where they can see an american derelict, and a visit to the cave where Jesse James and his gang were reported to have hidden out. (Please use flash and set your cameras at 160th of a second.)

They will load up on "American" food: tacos, pizza, egg rolls and Polish sausage, and buy a cowboy hat they don't have the nerve to wear home.

The high point will be Disneyland, where they will pay $8 for a 52-year-old mouse on a T-shirt and meet other tourists in line waiting for rides.

They will go home convinced they have "seen America." What a shame. All you tourists, and you all know who you are, can take my picture by five genuine American garbage cans for a bag of jelly beans. How about it?

HEALTH
Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Is my blood pressure low?

DEAR DR. LAMB - My blood pressure has always been around 110 over 70. But now it runs 90 over 60 to 104 over 68. I have been eating foods with a lot of iron to help. What can I do to build this pressure up or do I really have a blood pressure problem?

DEAR READER - If you don't have any symptoms you don't have a problem.

You may be interested to know that 90 over 60 is normal for entrance into flying training for the military. And unless you feel faint or have a tendency to faint those low pressures are probably better for your health.

There is a general misconception about normal blood pressure. It starts with the idea that normal is the most common finding. But in our society the most common finding is enough fatty-cholesterol deposits in the arteries to cause heart attacks and strokes. Who wants that?

While 140 over 90 for adults is usually considered the upper limit of normal, people with pressure in these levels have a higher incidence of heart attacks and strokes. In terms of risk of heart disease people with pressures of 105 over 75 (or less) have the least chance of developing heart disease or other complications of fatty-cholesterol deposits.

Eating a lot of foods with iron will not affect your blood pressure unless you have an iron deficiency anemia. I'll give you the same advice I learned from one of my professors of medicine when I was a medical student. "The first thing a patient should do when he finds out he has low blood pressure is to go home, get down on his knees and thank God he has it."

DOWNHILL RUN

U.S.-Canadian Share of World Motor Vehicle Production

SOURCE: Motor Vehicle Manufacturers Assn.

NEA/Moffitt Cecil

The volume of motor vehicle production by U.S. manufacturers in American and Canadian plants has not kept pace with the explosive growth of world output. In 1980, the two-country total was 9.38 million vehicles compared with 8.40 million 30 years earlier. As a result, the North American share of world production has dropped sharply.

'Golden Fleece' Given To SynFuels Corp.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., today awarded his Golden Fleece of the Month award to the U.S. Synthetic Fuels Corp. for what Proxmire described as "a splurge of spending that would make an Arab sheik green with envy."

The Wisconsin Democrat, who grants the award for what he considers is the "biggest, most ironic or most ridiculous example of waste" in government spending each month, cited the corporation's spending on administration, consultants and office space.

William F. Rhatican, the corporation vice president for external affairs, defended the agency and its "tight-fisted" spending. He said Proxmire "has had the wool pulled over his eyes by his own staff."

Proxmire, in singling out the corporation, cited the expenditure of $44,226 for an outside study of Synfuels' pay levels.

The add-on heat pump can provide both central cooling and heating. The pump can be used with your existing heating system and can provide all your heating requirements on moderately cold days. The add-on heat pump also saves on your overall heating costs by providing up to two units of heating energy for each unit of electricity it uses. And the pump automatically switches over to your existing heating system whenever it cannot meet your home's complete heating needs.

John Kallas, Consumer Services Representative, Lubbock.

Of the known recoverable energy reserves in the United States, nearly 80% are in the form of coal deposits. This is one reason for Southwestern Public Service Company's decision to switch to coal-fired power plants. Today, more than 40% of the electricity produced by SPS is generated by coal-fueled boilers. At SPS, we expect to produce almost 60% of our customers' electricity with coal by 1985.

Earl Zwickley, Plant Engineer, Tolk Station, Muleshoe.

Microwave ovens use less electricity because they cook faster than conventional ovens. Microwaves cost less to operate than conventional electric ranges and can save on summer air conditioning costs as well, since they use a cool cooking method. Faster cooking helps foods retain their natural flavors, vitamins and minerals.

Connie Moyers, Home Service Advisor, Clovis.

Knowing what electricity is worth is worth knowing. For answers to your questions, call or write your SPS manager.

Centrists Boycott Assembly

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — The Christian Democrats returned to the rightist-dominated Constituent Assembly after boycotting the formal opening and claimed they have enough votes to elect a moderate to head the new provisional government.

The assembly met late into the night Monday, debating internal organization matters. It is not expected to name a provisional president for several days at least.

Christian Democratic leader Julio Adolfo Rey Prendes said Monday he believed banker Alvaro Magana, a political independent and one of three candidates nominated by the military, has enough votes to win the presidency. But with the rightists in control of the assembly, his election could touch off a power struggle that might tempt the army to intervene.

The four rightist parties joined forces last week to elect firebrand ultra-rightist Roberto d'Aubuisson president of the assembly and put rightists into the other nine assembly offices. They demonstrated their opposition to the army's present leaders by not inviting Gen. Jaime Abdul Gutierrez, the military member of the present ruling junta and the military commander in chief.

to the assembly's opening ceremony Monday.

No other military official attended the opening, and the Christian Democrats, the largest single party in the assembly with 24 of the 60 seats, joined in the boycott.

Gen. Gutierrez was one of the two colonels who led the 1979 coup that ousted ultra-rightist Gen. Carlos Humberto Romero from the presidency.

After the Christian Democrats won a plurality in the election, the United States hoped the assembly would give the provisional presidency to President Jose Napoleon Duarte, the head of the U.S.-backed civilian-military junta and the president of the Christian Democratic Party. But all the rightist parties opposed giving him any office because he was responsible for the junta's land reform and bank nationalization programs.

After d'Aubuisson and the rightists took control of the assembly last week, the Reagan administration had second thoughts about opposing them, and U.S. Ambassador Deane R. Hinton said U.S. aid would continue regardless of the makeup of the new government.
