

Whitefaces fall to No. 1 ranked Coyotes, 28-8

Six turnovers are key to quarter-finals loss for Herd

BY MARSHALL DAY
News Editor

The Hereford Whitefaces held off the state's No. 1 ranked offense for the first half in Saturday's quarter-finals game, but the Coyotes came back in the second 24 minutes to take advantage of Hereford mistakes to post a 28-8 win and advance into the state AAAA semi-finals this week.

The Hereford defense contained the Wichita Falls offense in the first half, giving up only 42 total yards. But, the Coyotes came back and scored three touchdowns in the final half to take the game out of reach.

Wichita Falls scored the first time it got its hands on the ball following a 4-yard punt by Hereford's Keith Kitchens just minutes into the game. Hereford was forced to punt on its first possession and the ball was partially blocked out of bounds at the Hereford 38.

It took the Coyotes nine plays to make it into the end zone for the first score of the game and that TD came on a fourth down situation from the one. Wendell Carroll climbed over the top of the trenches to get into the end zone with 7:23 still remaining in the opening period.

The Hereford defense time and again halted the attack of the Coyotes but in the early going of the second half the Coyotes put the game away.

After taking the opening kickoff at their own 39, the Coyotes moved the distance to score in nine plays with Gary Lancaster going over from the five.

The Coyotes leading ground gainer going into the game, Ronnie Littleton, was held to only 66 total yards, well below his average game total of 133. Littleton picked up only 12 yards in 14 carries in the first half.

When the Coyotes found Littleton was unable to crack the Whiteface defense, they called on their other backs to tote the ball. The Coyotes went to the air only two times in the entire game, and neither one was completed.

Littleton, did, however, score. He picked off a Keith Kitchens pass at the Hereford 33 and rambled back into the end zone, just 15 seconds after the score by Lancaster.

The Whitefaces' only score came with only 3:16 left in the game when the score was 21-0.

The Coyotes had intercepted another of the five Keith Kitchens passes they did during the game and moved the ball to the Hereford one-yard line. Littleton was unable to go across on a fourth down try and the Whitefaces took over with 4:41 left in the game.

James Harris got the call for five yards out to the six then Kitchens connected on a 38-yarder to end Bruce Barrett. On the next play he hit Rudy Gonzales for a 32 yard gain to the Coyote 25 then found Harris in the open for the 25-yard scoring toss.

Hereford went for the meaningless two-point conversion and Kitchens tossed it in to Gonzales for the two points. In playing catch-up ball, the Whitefaces were forced to the air after Winston Short recovered a Wichita Falls fumble at midfield with 2:39 left.

Kitchens was dropped for a 16 yard loss then an 8 yard loss as he dropped back to pass. The third time he handed off to Barry McNutt who threw incomplete and on a fourth down try the ball was just out of Barrett's reach and the Coyotes took over the ball at the Herd 32.

Carroll got the call for the Coyotes and picked up 16. Winston Fouts lost one then Carroll went in from the 17 for the score with just 28 seconds remaining on the clock.

Taking the kickoff, the Whitefaces immediately went to the air and the first aerial was again picked off by Littleton. One play ran the clock out to give

Grand jury returns 11 indictments Friday

The Deaf Smith County grand jury moved through a list of 12 persons Friday in a three-hour session and returned 11 indictments, including a joint indictment against two men for raping a 16-year-old girl.

The grand jury, with Paul Harvey as foreman, began its session at 9 a.m. and were completed by noon.

The joint indictment was returned against Tommy Perez and Rayond Fernandez Guerra, acting together in the Nov. 8 rape of a Hereford Labor Camp resident. (See related story on this page.) Indictments also were returned against:

—Juan Ybarra Enriquez, 25, 411 Ave. D, driving while intoxicated, second offense.

—Pedro Mendoza Gonzales, 32, 305 Ave. F, driving while intoxicated, second offense.

—James R. Bontcher, 29, Box 15, Earth, Tex., swindling with a worthless check.

—Carlos Rodriguez Zepeda, 20, 418 Ave. E, theft over $50.

—Gerald Thomas Prater, 34, 326 Ave. I, burglary by breaking, and —Mary Louise Stidom, 22, 413 Brady, theft over $50.

The grand jury indicted three other persons, but they still are at large and names were not released. One was indicted for swindling with a worthless check, one for forgery and passing and the other for theft over $50.

One case was dismissed. The grand jury, in getting through with its session, set the stage for the pre-holiday trials scheduled in District Judge Archie McDonald's court the week

Second suspect in rape case arrested

The second man wanted in the rape of a 16-year-old Hereford girl was arrested in the courthouse Wednesday when he appeared there to find out when he was to return for formal sentencing on another charge.

Raymond F. Guerra, 27, Route 2, was arrested by deputy Sheriff Johnny Moya. Bond was set at $5,000 by Justice of the Peace Glen Nelson.

Guerra was identified by the girl as one of the two who allegedly raped her last month. Officers had been unable to locate the second man who was known only by the name of "Chino."

Investigation indicated Guerra was the man they were seeking and when one of the deputies showed several pictures to the victim, she picked Guerra's picture out as

Snow hurts beet crop, aids businesses, wheat

Sugarbeet growers, seeking to come out of the hole after several bad years, were dealt another setback last week when snows up to six inches settled on fields and caused the shut down of the Holly plant here.

The snow also caused some concern for the meager remainings of the 1971 grain sorghum crops that still are in the fields.

"The snows have stopped harvest again and we are out of beets and have the factory shut down," Holly agricultural manager Bob Ginn said Friday. "We ran out of beets yesterday (Thursday) and we have no idea of when we can get rolling again."

Only 38 per cent of the area sugar beet crop has been harvested, leaving some 12,900 acres still left in the fields. Some farmers indicated they would do some harvesting late at night and early in the mornings while the ground is still frozen enough to hold the weight of the heavy harvesting machinery.

If the snow melts, farmers will be unable to get into the fields.

"The snow itself if not going to hurt us at all," Ginn said; "as far as the sugar beets are concerned, but it is going to keep us from getting into the fields."

Justin McBride, county agricultural agent, said Friday the grain sorghum that is left in the fields faces some problems in three diseases being noticed.

The danger involved in some of the remaining grain sorghum he said, is some of it is beginning to fall or "lodge." The diseases are causing this and the longer and later the crops are left in the fields the more of it that will be lost.

"As far as winter wheat goes, it won't hurt it except farmers won't be able to graze it. As far

BEAUTY AND THE BEAST — While the recent snow added some beauty, such as this Christmas decoration on Main Street, it also brought along the "beast" in the form of hazardous driving conditions as can be seen at the bottom of the photograph. ## 6 Whitefaces named all-district

The Hereford Whitefaces, in their second year in Class AAAA, placed six players on the 4-AAAA all-district team and also provided the league's top skipper in first year coach Larry Dippel, and the "Player of the Year."

Named to the all-district team were Steve Clark, Richard Sierra, Ike Graves, Eugene Suttle, Winston Short and Keith Kitchens.

Kitchens was cited as the "Player of the Year" for directing the Hereford offense to the district crown in Hereford's second year in AAAA.

Monterey had the "Sophomore of the Year" in Zane Cox.

All-district players were selected by the district's five coaches in a meeting following league play in early November. Announcement of the team was not permitted until the district representative was eliminated from the state play-offs.

Graves, Sierra, Short and Suttle all were unanimous all-district selections on defense while Clark and Kitchens made the offensive unit. Graves was named at defensive end with Leon Quimby of Lubbock. Graves, who saw duty at end and was credited with 75 tackles during the regular season, also saw occasional action in the offensive backfield.

Sierra, a 200 pound senior noseguard, was a unanimous selection at that position. He was one of the key figures in the Hereford defense and was credited with 108 tackles and ranked No. 8 in the league in that department.

He also had two fumble recoveries.

Short, a junior, was the league's leading tackler. The 200 pound linebacker had 148 tack-

DESPITE THE WEATHER — Hereford residents refused to let last week's snowy, cold weather dampen their football spirit. The Whitefaces were given full support by the many attending the last game of the season, in Bivins Stadium, Amarillo, where the temperature hovered near 30 degrees and the wind was sharp.

The field had been cleared the day before, but the sidelines and bleachers still held snow at gametime. The field became a marshy area before the game was completed. The Whiteface Band, High School Twirlers and Drill Team are seen here performing during halftime. Photo by Betty Koelzer the second man.

Guerra was at the courthouse to find out when he was to appear for the formal sentencing on a theft charge.

Guerra was indicated by the grand jury Friday along with the first man, Tommy Perez, 25, of 417 Ave. G.

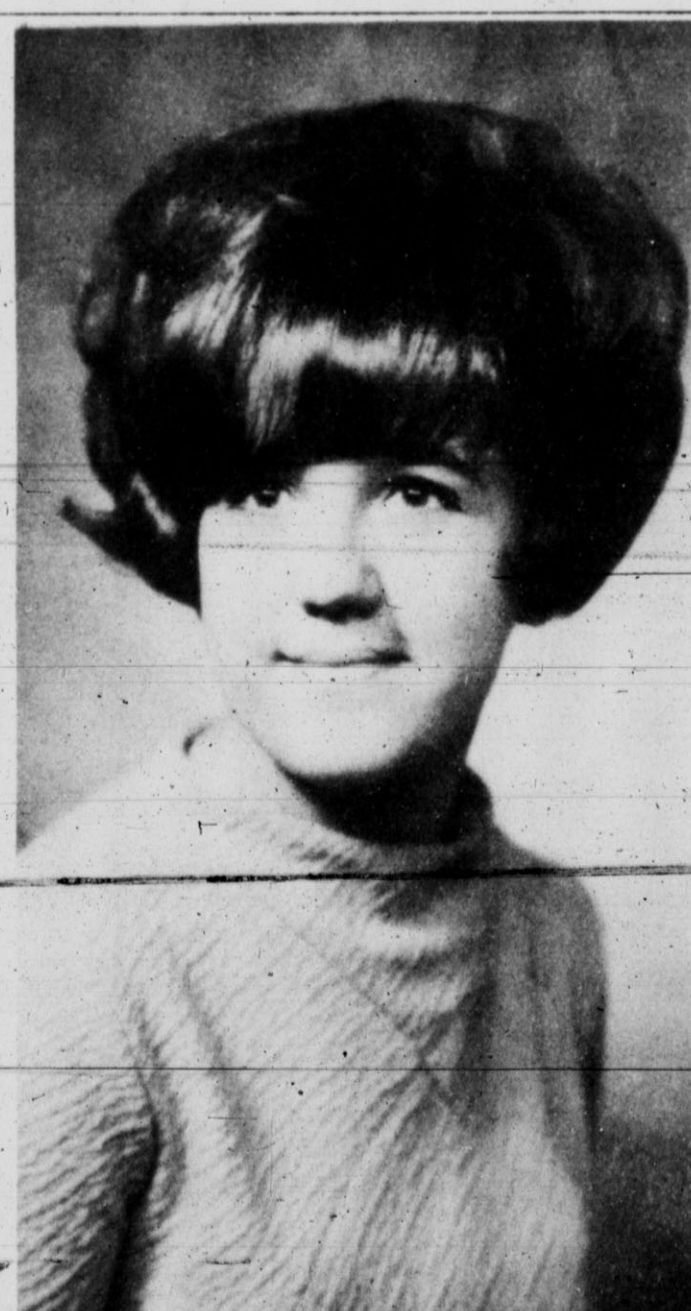

Perez was arrested by Sheriff's officers Nov. 8. He was released Thursday on $5,000 bond.

According to investigating officers, the girl called the sheriff's office the morning of Nov. 7 and told them she had been raped. She told them Perez and another man had forced her and another girl into a car at the Labor Camp and drove them west of town near the old Prisoner of War Camp.

It was there the alleged rape took place.

The other girl was not assaulted, according to officers who investigated the case.

Guerra was sentenced Friday to two years in the state penitentiary for the theft charge he was checking on at the time of his arrest for the rape charge.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED — Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Skypala announce the engagement of their daughter, Kathleen Rose, to Michael Raye Margrave, son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Margrave of El Paso. The couple plans a February 5 wedding at St. Anthony's Catholic Church. The bride-elect, 1969 graduate of Hereford High School, attended Amarillo Junior College and transferred to The University of Texas at El Paso. She is a junior journalism major. Margrave is a graduate of Irvin High School of El Paso. He completed two years service with the United States Navy, serving on the USS Saratoga. He is enrolled in Columbia School Broadcasting and is employed by Phelps-Dodge of El Paso.

Suttle was another key figure in the deadly Hereford defense with 69 tackles for the season. He shared the secondary position with Curtis Jordan of Monterey, Dan Walker of Coronado, Mitchell Malouf of Plainview and Dwayne Sarten of Lubbock.

Kitchens was one of five backs named to the all-district backfield.

He shared the backfield with Glenn Yarbrough of Monterey Rip Amason of Coronado, Scott Hallman of Plainview and Kevin Thompson of Plainview.

Kitchens, through the regular 10 games, hit 67 of 178 passes for 903 yards and five touchdowns. He was fourth in passing percentage at .376, but was second in the league in total offense with 1033 yards. He had 130 yards rushing and 903 passing for an average of 103.3 yards per game.

He also was third in the league in punt average with a 35.9 mean. That was just less than a yard short of the No. 1 average by Ron Trevino of Lubbock.

Clark was one of three offensive tackles on the all-district team, sharing the honor with all-state candidate Tommy Lusk of Plainview and Gaylan Barnett of Lubbock.

Clark also was a standout on defense, recovering two fumbles and getting 101 tackles.

Plainview had the most players on the all-district squad with seven, followed by Hereford with six, Coronado with five, Monterey with four and Lubbock High with four.

the Coyotes a 28-8 win over the Whitefaces.

The game, played in a "mud bath" at Dick Bivins Stadium in Amarillo, was less than ideal. Because of the playing conditions of the field, a stiff wind and chilling cold, neither team was able to uncork a consistent offense.

Wichita Falls had only 42 total yards in the first half and only three first downs.

Hereford, by the same token, had only four yards rushing and 23 passing and only two first downs.

It was the punting game that hurt the Whitefaces all day.

Kitchens, who had averaged close to 35 yards per punt through the regular season, was able to average only 28 yards per boot. One kick went for four yards, another for 14 and another 20. His longest was for 45 yards.

of Dec. 13-17.

One of the major trials set for that week is the murder case against Wesley High and his brother Alfred High who are charged with the shooting death of a Plainview man during the June 19 Emancipation Proclamation celebration here.

The pair's attorney, John Broadfoot of Amarillo, was seeking a change of venue because of the publicity in this area, but this week changed his mind.

He had subpoenaed area newsmen for a hearing two weeks ago but that hearing was called off because of another murder case he was defending in Amarillo.

A second hearing was scheduled for last Friday, but again that was called off.

The trial is scheduled for Dec. 17.

Another case set for that week in December is the rape case against Aljeroy Rozell. Rozell, a 28-year-old Negro, was accused of raping the wife of a 41-year-old White man while the White man held the struggling woman. That trial is scheduled for Dec. 16.

Golden wedding observed

BY MELVIN YOUNG
Since this column must be written before we know the results of the Saturday afternoon clash between the Hereford Whitefaces and the Wichita Falls Coyotes, it becomes a little difficult to say anything meaningful. If we predict a Hereford victory and we happen to lose, then we look rather ridiculous and on the other hand if we anticipate a loss and the team comes through as they have the past few weeks, then we

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brock married 50 years

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brock were honored at a reception celebrating their golden wedding anniversary, when their children and families were hosts in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Schmidt.

They were assisted by family members in greeting numerous friends who called. Mrs. Brock was wearing a blue knit dress, with a gold orchid pinned on a shoulder.

A granddaughter, Sheryl Schmidt, with Sheryl Wright and Elizabeth Barton by turns served refreshments and registered guests. The table, laid with a white cloth, was centered with gold carnations and gold candles.

Married Nov. 19, 1921, at Crosbyton, the Brocks have lived in Hereford 41 years. Their children are Mrs. Schmidt; Mrs. Thomas Davis and Mrs. Victor Talbot of El Cajon, Calif.; Alton Brock, who lives in Japan, Richard of Laredo, Clyde of Baytown and Kenneth of Altus, Okla.

had no faith in their ability. So we'll leave that as it is and just hope that everything works out well.

Actually the team has done a tremendous job this year and we're real proud of their accomplishments.

—HB—
We're happy as well to see Coach Larry Dippel having such a successful season, particularly during his first year as head coach. And it has been a great season.

By the way, someone was quizzing former head coach Larry Wartes the other day about his predictions for Saturday, and we thought he fielded the question rather well.

"I told Dippel after the El Paso game that I had carried him this far and from here on he was on his own," Wartes replied, and left without making a prediction as to the outcome of yesterday's game. And that was probably the smart thing to do. Wartes resigned last year to enter the administrative field but of course is still one of the biggest boosters of the athletic program.

—HB—
And Pat Hughes, assistant principal at La Plata, got the following telegram Thursday from a friend of his at Killeen. Killeen, of course, is one of the teams still in the running for the state championship—or at least was Thursday.
"If Hereford continues to play football—suggest you find out what a "Kangaroo" is. . . ."

Well sir, Pat looked and looked and couldn't find "Kangaroo" in any of his reference books, but decided that perhaps his friend must have been talking about the Killeen Kangaroos. So he wired back: "Hereford knows about a Harvester, Thunderbird and a Coyote, but what the hell is a Kangaroo?"

He's still waiting for a reply to that one.

—HB—
Actually, we're just hoping that none of the team comes home with frostbite!

—HB—
Kinda reminds you of that Dallas Cowboy-Greenbay Packer championship game of a few years ago played in 14 degree below zero weather?

And the man on Main says, if you want to worry your wife, don't talk in your sleep. Just smile.

Air quality monitoring station set up at Tech

An experimental air quality monitoring station has been set up on the campus of Texas Tech University by the Air Pollution Control Services division of the Texas State Department of Health.

According to Dr. Duane Johnson, environmental health specialist with the state health department, the portable station is prototype being used for testing and evaluation of equipment which eventually will be used to equip similar monitoring stations for measuring air quality in every major urban area in the entire state.

"Once all these monitoring stations are set up," said Dr. Johnson, "we will be able to gather scientifically accurate data concerning levels of air pollution in each particular city. This, in turn, will enable us to more effectively determine what can be done to improve air quality."

He explained that the monitoring stations will thus serve as "yardsticks" to measure existing levels of air pollution as well as to evaluate subsequent efforts made to remedy poor air quality conditions.

Dr. Johnson said much of the equipment being tested has only recently been developed and is of the latest design available. "Texas is a leader among the states in environmental quality control, and we want to keep it that way," he said. "For this reason, we are striving to develop the best possible methods and equipment for environmental quality testing and improvement such as in this air quality monitoring station."

The prototype station will remain on campus through Tuesday (Dec. 7). It is situated behind the Texas Tech creamery building on campus across from the Speech Building and east of the Agricultural Engineering Building.

"We want everyone to see what Texas is doing in the area of environmental quality control," said Dr. Johnson. "All students, faculty members and the general public are invited to personally visit the station and view the equipment."

He added that interested persons may visit the station any time today as well as on Monday and Tuesday.

Religious group set to perform at St. Anthonys

The Covenant Players, a religious drama group, will perform at 7:30 p.m. Friday at St. Anthony's Catholic Church auditorium.

Organized in 1965, the Covenant Players is a self-supporting interdenominational group which has performed over 60,000 times in 49 states and Canada. It has a repertoire which includes more than 250 one-act plays and shorter vignettes that run in length of time from five seconds to 90 minutes.

The plays are written without emphasis of specific denominational theology, but rather to challenge people to a re-evaluation of whatever their personal commitment may be. They cover a variety of subjects including ethics, morality, human relationships, social concern, involvement, commitment, affluence and poverty. Using humor as a mainstay, the repertoire leaves no facet of drama untouched in its attempt to provide a diversified program that is both entertaining and challenging.

Co-captains of the Air Force football team are seniors Brian Beam, San Leandro, Calif., tailback, and defensive tackle John Greenlaw of Tacoma, Wash.

Small talk

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

AS IF THE holiday season doesn't bring enough excitement and changes of schedule and extra things to claim your attention, here we have a champion football team all of a sudden—and I don't care whether or not they have lost a game by the time this paper is published; they are already champions in my book.

And on top of that, here comes the biggest snow we've had so early in the winter in a mighty long time. And no matter how beautiful it is, a snow can be quite disruptive to normal living in these parts.

Add them all up, and we don't guarantee that a single event in our Calendar of Events will take place as announced. We tried to check up on all that seemed doubtful, but sometimes when we reached the person who was supposed to know, he wasn't sure either.

POSITIVELY THE Hereford Community Players program scheduled Monday with the public invited, has been canceled and won't be attempted until after the holidays.

Garden Beautiful Club's Christmas party set for last Friday is postponed until next Friday. Allegria Study Club's meeting wasn't held Thursday and the program was canceled; a holiday coffee is slated Dec. 16.

Women of St. Thomas Episcopal Church moved their Christmas boutique up a week and hope the weather will be nice next Saturday.

As this is written, the date of the HHS musical show, Oliver!, is still Friday evening, but outcome of the football game could change that although it isn't likely. And if it snows any more over the weekend, there may not even be any school this week!

These are just the changes that occur to me at the moment but you see what the situation is.

ANY SITUATION is relative, though, as I think Dr. Einstein proved, and Ruth Knox says she couldn't help noticing that even though schools had to dismiss Thursday, beauty shops were open and their customers weren't canceling.

She had this fact emphasized when she went to keep an early appointment. Stan backed the car out for her, through deep snow in the driveway, to ruts in the street.

But when she started to drive south, the car went east, west and otherwise and the mailbox was knocked down before a utility pole stepped it. Nothing serious, you understand; she was driving carefully and laughing at herself. And the postman went ahead and put the mail in the box that day.

SHE MADE IT TO the beauty shop and found the operators and more early customers there. Virginia Newell came in, said she left Gaylord in their car stuck at the store and she had caught a ride with the milkman in his truck.

Mary Herring and Joyce Allred had been chauffeured to the shop by their husbands. One way and another, the ladies came for the really important thing, getting beautified.

It reminded Sue George that Hap Cavness, driving Gladys to a hairdressing appointment through snow last year, offered to wager that several of his patients would cancel because of the weather, but none of the beauty shop's customers! She

Immunization records necessary

Immunization records, primarily of concern only to doctors, patients and parents in the past, have taken on extreme significance under the new compulsory school immunization law, says the Texas State Department of Health.

Also of more urgency now is the keeping of records for preschoolers. Pre-schoolers who attend a child care center are included under provisions of new laws which become effective January 1. Immunization records will be their ticket into regular school later on.

Public health experts point to the incidence of communicable disease among younger children in stressing the need for early immunization. Since immunizations will be needed later on anyway, health experts recommend starting a program early in the life of each child.

The importance of accurate, current and certified records will be brought home to you in a hurry if your youngster is was smart enough not to take the bet.

Signature or rubber-stamp validation of personal records by physicians or public health clinics is recommended but not required until the summer semester of 1972, after which validation of new records is required.

Many forms on which to keep personal immunization records are available, but you can keep all vital information in a tablet or notebook if desired. This can be taken with you on each trip to a doctor or health clinic for recording of the date, type of immunization and doctor's signature.

Make a section for each family member, listing birth date and place of birth and other pertinent information such as the presence of a chronic illness, physical handicap, allergies and RH factor if it is present.

The health record should include a check list of diseases which each family member has had and the dates. Have a section for immunization records of such diseases as measles, mumps, whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus, polio and rubella. Allow room for boosters.

Also write down any serious illnesses, accidents, surgical procedures and instances of hospitalization, including dates. Finally, list the family's health and accident insurance information for quick and easy reference.

Bobby Ussery (1967-68) and Jim Winkfield (1901-02) were the only jockeys to win the Kentucky Derby in successive years.

A 30-pound porcelain mute swan, made in Texas, will be given to the White House after it has toured European embassies.

Newcomer in city

Native back in Texas

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

A PARTNER WITH her husband in business and a homemaker with one son still at home, Mrs. Laren Barrick, who moved to Hereford about a month ago from Roswell, N.M., still has time to enjoy meeting and getting acquainted with residents here.

The Barricks are new owners of H & H Furniture, and were in the same type of business at Roswell. Jean Barrick says her principal duties are in the office, but she helps with sales work when she is needed, and likes it because it brings her in contact with more people.

She never studied bookkeeping formally, but learned from her husband the basic principles and the peculiar details of keeping books in a retail furniture store.

HER GRADUATION from high school at Belton, her hometown, was followed immediately by her marriage, without special training for a business career.

Born at Belton, she was Jean Camp, one of a family of 10 children. Her father, two sisters and three brothers still reside in that central Texas city.

Since their marriage the Barricks lived in Oklahoma and Kansas before they went to New Mexico, and Mrs. Barrick says she is happy to be back in Texas, adding that "It's really different; you can just listen to them talk and tell the people here are Texans."

FRIENDLINESS of Hereford residents is noticeable, she says, and she is finding it easy to become acquainted. The family is located now in a home at 220 Hickory, after living a short time in a motel.

The younger son, Ricky Lee, a freshman, completes their household at present. Other children are Peggy Jo, who is employed and attends college at Tucson, Ariz.; Betty Sue, Mrs. Dan Kapanak, of Philadelphia, and Benny Ray, on the police force at Roswell.

The latter two have two children each to give the Barricks grandchildren as conversation pieces.

CHURCH ACTIVITIES claim a share of Mrs. Barrick's attention; membership is in the Baptist Church.

The slender brown-eyed blonde says she has never needed hobbies to fill "spare time", but she did sew for her daughters when they were growing up.

Jean and Laren Barrick enjoy a game of cards with friends for relaxation, and have bowled at times in the past.

The family pet is a Boston terrier, Queenie, who accompanies them to the store sometimes and who is thoroughly spoiled, her mistress admits.

Miss Texas Teen-Ager contest is underway

Applications are being accepted for the Miss Texas Teen-Ager Pageant to be held in Convention Hall at the St. Anthony Hotel in San Antonio on July 29-29, 1972. On the date of July 29 a Miss Texas Teen-Ager will be named, and the young lady who wins the title will be sent to the National Finals in Atlanta, Georgia, with her expenses paid. She will enjoy a 4-day trip, with the actual national finals taking place on Aug. 26, 1972.

Girls will be judged, ages 13-17, on their scholastic achievements, civic contributions, poise, personality and appearance. It is not a bathing suit or talent contest. The pageant is recognized by civic and political leaders across the country.

Judging will be handled by a panel of outstanding judges from the state of Texas on the dates listed. It is open to all girls ages 13-17 who are residents of the state of Texas and are United States citizens. There is no entrance fee. The official theme of this year's pageant is "What's Right About America?" Any young ladies desiring to obtain applications may do so by writing the Official Certification

Headquarters for the State of Texas, 126 Bunn Drive, Rockton, Ill. 61072.

CARD OF THANKS
We would like to express our appreciation to all our friends for the cards, food, flowers, visits, and prayers during our recent loss. A special thanks to Dr. Payne and all the nurses at the hospital.

Christmas story told by member

A legend of how the owl and the robin played a part in the Christmas story was told by Mrs. Roy Bell at the Bud to Blossom Garden Club meeting Friday morning.

The Club met for a Christmas brunch in the home of Mrs. Ray Polan with the yearbook committee, Mmes. Bill Gentry, Sam Long, Jess Robinson and Billy Wayne Sisson, as co-hostesses.

The story was in conjunction with bird conservation, the national club project. General discussion was on what and how to feed birds during the winter months.

Members wore corsages they assembled from plant material and brought decorations for the home that can be made from plant material.

Members voted to make a wreath for the entrance door at Westgate, the hospital unit of Kings Manor Retirement Home. A workshop was called for 2 p.m. Monday in the home of Mrs. Ray Polan.

Mrs. R.N. Yarbro, president, welcomed four new members, Mmes. Jim Pavlicek, Pat Malone, Pete Caviness and John Chavarría.

Other members present were Mmes. Bruce Brown, Homer Powell, Raymond Zamarippa and Gaylen Bryan.

Jan West feted at shower tea

Jan West, whose marriage to Jim Bob Perrin is planned Dec. 22 in First Baptist Church, was honored at a shower-tea Friday afternoon in Hereford Country Club.

Hosting the courtesy were Mmes. Wayne Phillips, James Higgins, Walter London, Virgil Marsh, Harold Close, O.G. Hill Jr., Hap Caviness, L.H. Lookingbill Jr. and A.E. Hodges.

Also Mmes. Ansel McDowell, Virgil Justice, J.E. McCathern, Charles Hoover, N.E. Tyler, Earl Stagner and V.C. Hopson of Dimmitt.

At the door to receive guests with Miss West were her mother, Mrs. Samie West, her fiance's mother, Mrs. Jim Perrin the honoree's grandmothers, Mrs. Lewis West of Hereford and Mrs. Bob Thomas of Post, and Mrs. Nina Collins, the prospective bridegroom's grandmother.

Approximately 100 guests registered at a table where Mrs. Gary Moore presided. Kerri Hall and Janet Baker served coffee and a variety of gaily decorated Christmas cookies.

Quartet tables, laid with red cloths, were centered with red candles and angel figurines amidst rings of apple and holly.

For the occasion the bride-to-be chose a red, A-line style dress with white lace panel trim down the front.

Players cancel Monday program

Cancellation of the Hereford Community Players scheduled meeting Monday is announced by Mrs. John Gilliland, president, because program guests from West Texas State University are unable to fill their engagement here.

Since December is a busy month for all organizations, no attempt was made to set another date before the holidays, Mrs. Gilliland said, but a performance by the WTSU Readers Theatre will be rescheduled as early as possible in 1972.

Washington report--from Cong. Bob Price

Despite a show of public "unconcern" this country is on a collision course with the energy problem, Congressman Bob Price said Saturday.

"While we are not in the grips of an immediate, energy crisis except in some locations in the East, we are facing a threat of an energy gap," Price told the Panhandle Chapter of the American Petroleum Institute.

"With energy demands threatening to outrun available supplies by larger and larger margins, we may encounter difficulty in keeping our homes, schools, and offices heated. In addition, we may find it impossible to satisfy our domestic needs and national defense needs at the same time," he said.

Price noted that one dry hole recently drilled in Alaska cost $4.5 million. "With this type of investment required and only a small percentage of the wells drilled being capable of producing marketable quantities of petroleum, it can be easily seen that additional incentives must be made available if the necessary funds are to be available for exploration."

"I have introduced two bills in Congress which some people call a give-away to the petroleum companies, but I call them consumer security bills. They are designed to assure the consumers of this country adequate supplies of petroleum to maintain the standard of living to which we have become accustomed," Price said.

One of the Congressman's bills would provide a 1.5 percent tax credit to individuals or companies for domestic exploratory drilling and secondary recovery operations. The other would remove the Federal Power Commission's to regulate the price of natural gas flowing in interstate commerce. This would allow the price of gas to be set on the basis of supply and demand.

Price pointed out the recent advertising program of the American Petroleum Institute as a good method of making the citizens of the U.S. more aware of the energy crisis.

"The theme of this advertising program—'America runs on oil—and a country that runs on oil can't afford to run short.'—is an accurate theme. I only hope it will have enough of an impact on the American people to force the necessary changes in public policy to encourage more petroleum exploration in stead of discouraging it."

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Driving Without a License

When Jeff's car knocked down a pedestrian, he felt no great sense of guilt. After all, he had been driving properly, well within the speed limit. Clearly it was not his fault that the man had stepped out suddenly from behind a parked car.

Then Jeff remembered, with a sinking feeling, that his driver's license had expired. Sure enough, the pedestrian seized upon this point in suing for damages.

"Anyone without a driver's license," he argued at a court hearing, "has no business driving a car in the first place."

Nevertheless, the court decided Jeff could not be held legally liable. The judge said his lack of a license, even though wrongful, had no connection at all with the accident.

Generally speaking, the mere fact that a motorist has no license does not make him automatically responsible for accidents. For this would be imposing an extra penalty upon him, in addition to the regular penalty the law already imposes for driving without a license.

Furthermore, an unlicensed driver is himself entitled to collect damages, if someone else negligently injures him. Otherwise, noted one court, he would become a helpless target for any other driver on the road.

On the other hand, there is no doubt that the state does have a right not only to require a license but also to enforce that requirement rigorously.

In one case a citizen became incensed at the idea of police roadblocks, which were used from time to time to check up on the licenses of passing motorists. Finally he went to court for an injunction demanding an end to this practice.

"Until a motorist has done something wrong," he said, "the police have no authority to stop him. He has a right to use the public streets without any interference."

But the court rejected his demand, saying that the right to use the public streets is subject to restrictions necessary for the public safety. A roadblock, said the court, is a logical and practical method for weeding out drivers not fit to drive.

Hereford High is accredited school

Hereford High School of Hereford Independent School District, Hereford has been continued as an accredited school by the Commission on Secondary Schools of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. The action was taken at the annual meeting of the Association held November 28-December 1, in Miami Beach, Fla. and was announced by principal Jerry Don George and Roy Hartman, superintendent of the school.

tion is official recognition that a school is committed to school improvement through the accreditation process. Each member periodically conducts a thorough self-study and is visited by teams of competent educators who help determine the school's strengths and indicate areas needing improvement. Only those schools which voluntarily enter into these self-improvement programs and commit themselves to compliance with accepted educational standards are admitted to membership in the Association.

"The regional accreditation program has been in operation for 76 years and has demonstrated, by concrete educational achievements, that the process is of value to students, teachers, parents, and communities throughout the South," according to John Guyer, Chairman, and H.E. Phillips, Executive Secretary of the Texas State Committee.

The Southern Association is one of six regional accrediting associations in the nation. It serves eleven states: Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky,

Wedding vows spoken in holiday setting

Holiday colors in evergreen branches, holly and red blossoms appeared in the wedding decor when Miss Gwen Duncan and Jim A. Huckert exchanged marriage vows in a twilight ceremony Saturday at St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. L.T. Johnson, 711 North Lee; the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Norma Huckert, 206 Lawton, and Joe Huckert, 232 North Main.

The Rev. John Kiesling, associate pastor of St. Anthony's, officiated for the marriage service. Mrs. Don L. Davis, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor and Donnie Huckert, his brother, the best man.

Bridesmaids were the bride's sister, Miss Glenda Morse, and Mrs. John Kuper. Lewis Poarch and Don L. Davis served as groomsmen; Neal Duncan, brother of the bride, Glenn Thomas and Michael Funk as ushers.

Music was by Miss Susie Hickman, vocal soloist, and Mrs. Jim Cramer, organist. Themes from the motion pictures, Love Story and Romeo and Juliet, and the song, We've Only Just Begun, were the principal selections.

Baskets of holly, spruce and pine were set on either side of the altar, lighted by tapers in paired candelabra. Altar flowers were white pompon mums and red carnations.

Wide scalloped bands of Spanish lace ornamented the bride's white chiffon gown, worn over satin. Double rows of the lace were stitched down the entire gown front to the tootie hemline.

Sleeves were fitted to the elbow, then below a band of lace flared widely to the wrist and finished with ruffles of the lace. Narrow satin ribbon around the empire waistline tied in a Dior bow at center front.

From the back waistline, held by another satin bow, a train extended chapel length. Lace down the center and around the edge matched that around the illusion veil which fell over her shoulders, caught to her auburn hair by a caplet of lace lillies and roses.

Red roses, white pompon mums and holly made the bridal bouquet, tied with ribbons in the same colors.

Velvet dresses in empire style, with puffed sleeves ending in French cuffs, were worn by her attendants. The matron of honor wore red, the bridesmaids holly green, all sparkled with sequin braid on the bodice and around collar and cuffs.

Their headpieces were velvet bows and net demi-veils, reversing the colors of the dresses; their flowers were red carnations and white mums.

After the wedding a reception was held in the Knights of Columbus Hall, where Mrs. Robert Hickman and Mrs. John Claypool served the wedding cake, Misses Kathleen Funk and Debbie McCutchen ladled punch. At the guest registry was Mrs. Donnie Huckert.

Set in a circle of holly, the cake had three tiers decorated with red sugar flowers, on a base of four heart-shaped cakes. One red and one white rose topped the confection.

A New Mexico wedding trip began after the reception. Mrs. Huckert wore for travel a green velvet A-line dress with high rolled collar and bracelet length sleeves, with white accessories.

The couple will be at home next week at No. 5, Fullwood Apartments.

The bride, employed by Deaf Smith County Abstract Company, was a 1971 graduate from Friona High School. She was a twirler in her freshman year at Stanton Junior High and also a senior at Friona.

After four years in the U.S. Air Force, stationed a year in England, the bridegroom is an employee of Gibson Discount Center. He was a 1966 graduate of Hereford High.

Contest finalists honored

Seven finalists in the "Voice of Democracy" essay contest will be honored at a banquet Monday evening, and at the same time the top three winners will be announced.

Sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the VFW Auxiliary, the banquet will take place at Diekie's Restaurant at 6:30 p.m. with Kenneth Gott and Mrs. George Green hosting the event.

Out of the many high school English students who entered the essay contest, the seven finalists selected were Nancy Brink, Dale Hairgrove, Lesly Breeding, Kim Gott, Rhonda Holbert, Jack Norman and Terry Swindell.

After the essays were selected by the English teachers, the students recorded them at the local radio station. Those recordings, identified by number rather than name, were then judged by officials of the West Texas University speech department at Canyon.

The winner of first place will receive a $25 savings bond, a trophy and a medal; second place will receive $10 and a medal; and third place $5 and a medal.

The first place winner will go on to district competition. State and national contests follow in turn. The top prize is a $10,000 scholarship. A total of $330,000 in prizes will be given throughout the nation.

Participants in the 1971 Grand American trapshooting championships fired more than 2,088,000 shotgun shells. The event lasted nine days.

VA offers special help to Nam vets

The Veterans Administration plans special help for Vietnam veterans who draw unemployment compensation 13 weeks or longer.

Jack Coker, Director of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco, said that a plan worked out with the Department of Labor provides that state employment security agencies give VA names, addresses, telephone, social security and service serial numbers of the unemployed veterans.

Coker explained that VA, through its 72 Veterans Assistance Centers and other facilities, then makes several contacts with the veteran to interest him in going to school or taking on-the-job training (OJT) under the GI Bill.

The agency has been promoting education and OJT for some time as one means of reducing unemployment among Vietnam veterans. However, Coker pointed out, this latest plan enables VA to more effectively identify veterans, especially the disadvantaged, who are in need of jobs.

Although finding jobs is not a primary responsibility of VA, the agency helps in any way it can, and is a leader in hiring veterans under the Veterans Readjustment Appointment Authority. VA has hired 5,000 veterans since 1968.

Through specialists in its Veterans Assistance Centers, VA found jobs for nearly 15,000 veterans in fiscal year 1971, and for about 45,000 veterans since 1968.

Other job-assisting activities are carried out through the agency's "Outreach Program," with job marts, job banks, job counseling, job interview classes and cooperation with the President's National Committee on Jobs for Veterans.

The Kansas City Royals beat the Boston Red Sox 11 times in 12 games during the 1971 season.

Children's play tickets on sale

Prices reduced from past year's level, tickets are on sale this week for the children's holiday show which West Texas State University students will present in La Plata School auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

All tickets, for both children and adults, will be sold at 50 cents this year. The Christmas play is sponsored here annually by Hereford Community Players.

Tickets are on sale at McDowell Drug Store downtown and at Harold Close Drug in Sugarland Mall, Mrs. John Gill-land, president, announces. They will also be available at the door Thursday evening.

The play this year is a musical titled Rags to Riches. Members of the dramatic fraternity, Alpha Psi Omega, at WTSU present a stage production at Christmas time each year, giving it in Canyon, Hereford and Amarillo.

The fraternity's share of proceeds will go to its scholarship fund.

Although intended mainly for children, the live shows have interested adults also, and many parents here accompany their children to the entertainment every year.

$20,000 available through REAP to area farmers

Local farmers and ranchers still have some $20,000 in Rural Environmental Assistance Program funds available to them through the ASCS office here but those funds must be used up before the end of the year according to Dan Herring to no the Soil Conservation Service.

If the money is not used before Dec. 31, it will be scratched from the books and that could mean an overall reduction in REAP funds for this county for next year.

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service provides the money through REAP and the Soil Conservation Service provides the technical assistance.

Practices available through the program are:

REAP WORK — This plastic irrigation pipeline is one of the many projects available to farmers and ranchers under the Rural Environmental Assistance Program. Area farmers and ranchers have until the end of the year to apply for the $20,000 remaining in the program.

—Establishing permanent grasses such as Western Wheatgrass, Tall Fescue, Smooth Brome, Orchard Grass and Tall Wheatgrass. The cost-share for this practice is 50 per cent of the seed cost not to exceed $6 per acre with payment of seeding operations set at 75 cents per acre.

—Constructing wells for livestock water with a cost-share of drilling the wells set at $1.25 per linear foot. The water storage facility is 30 per cent of the actual cost not to exceed $225 per unit.

—Constructing or sealing dams, pits or ponds with a cost-share set at 12 cents per cubic yard of earth moved.

—Installing pipelines for livestock water set up with a cost-share of 7 1/2 cents per linear foot for one inch pipe, 9 cents for one-and-a-half inch pipe, and 10 1/2 cents for the two inch pipe.

—Establishing permanent waterways and grasses set up at 50 per cent of the cost of grading, shaping or filling, not to exceed $75 per acre with a 50 per cent cost-share of the seed not to exceed $10 per acre.

—Constructing diversion terraces and terraces with diversion terrace payments of 8 cents per cubic yard and standard terrace payments of $2.50 per 100 linear foot. The parallel terraces can be constructed at a cost of $5 per 100 linear foot, and —Reorganizing farm irrigation systems where the cost-share varies according to the kind and size of the irrigation pipe used. The usual cost is about one-third the original cost.

A payment of 30 cents per acre is set up for chiseling of five inches deep and 39 cents for listing at least four inches deep.

Construction of lagoons for animal wastes, animal waste storage facilities, diversions for management of animal waste, sediment retention structures, sediment or chemical runoff control measures and measures to stabilize a source of sediment to prevent or reduce the pollution of land, water or air are all set up for 50 per cent of the cost, not to exceed an amount determined by the county committee.

Anyone interested in applying for one or more of the practices should contact the ASCS office.

Savings Bond sales near goal

Sales of United States Savings Bonds in Deaf Smith County totaled $5,081 in October and took the county's total to 95 per cent of its 12-month goal. Through the first 10 months of this year $95,404 was spent on the purchase of United States Savings Bonds, according to county chairman Jim Sears. This is approximately 95 per cent of the $100,000 goal for the year, with two months remaining in which to reach the goal. Series E and H Savings Bond sales in Texas during October were $15,480,475. Sales for the first ten months of 1971 totaled $167,863,056 which represents a 10.4 per cent increase over the same period last year. Nationwide, sales were $407 million during the month, unchanged from the same month a year ago. Redemptions were 10 per cent below last year's and the least for any October since 1962. "WHAT IS YOUR NAME?" DEMANDS KAREN, THE YOUNG MAN DRAWS HIMSELF UP HAUGHTILY: "I AM ZANEDON, SON OF DUKE ORODIN OF THORO, GENERAL OF THE ARMY, LORD OF THE....." "THAT WILL BE ENOUGH, ZANEY. WE WILL SHOW YOU YOUR HIDING PLACE."

AT THE SIGHT OF HIS ROOM HE FLIES INTO A RAGE. "IT IS AN OUTRAGE TO QUARTER ONE OF MY NOBLE BIRTH IN A STABLE. SEND ME SOME SERVANTS AT ONCE! OH! THE GOVERNOR WILL HEAR OF THIS!" "BY NOW THE GOVERNOR ALREADY KNOWS YOU HAVE ENTERED THE MISTY ISLES ILLEGALLY," ANSWERS VALETA PLEASANTLY.

THEY PROMISE TO SEND A STABLEBOY WITH FRESH STRAW AND A BUCKET OF WATER. "WE WILL ALSO SEND SOME SCRAPS FROM THE KITCHEN."

WHEN IT IS LEARNED THAT THE BRIDEGROOM HAS ESCAPED, THE TWO SHIPS OF THE WEDDING PARTY RETURN TO THE MISTY ISLES. THE GROOM'S MOTHER SHOWS HER ANXIETY.

THEY STORM INTO THE HARBOR MASTER'S OFFICE. "OUR NOBLE SON, MY BABY, HE MUST BE FOUND OR MY HEART WILL BREAK! SEARCH EVERY PALACE, EVERY MANSION, EVEN THE HOUSES OF THE COMMON PEOPLE!"

hints from Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:
Here is a new use for your nylon net and discarded plastic bleach bottles... a brush!
Using 72" wide nylon net, cut it into six strips 3" wide. Then lay one strip on top of the other until all six are in a pile, and gather them all together through the middle.
Now cut out the handle from your empty bleach jug (with about 1/2" of the bottle backing along with it, of course), then punch holes with an icepick at about 1/2" intervals all around the edge of the plastic.
Next, with a string, stitch the net through the holes of the plastic and finish by separating each row of net so it will be

TRAILER TALES
DEAR HELOISE:
When planning a trip with a trailer, here's a hint to make packing easier...
If you bring your groceries home in just the right-sized cardboard boxes, you can then pack what you'll be needing in these boxes, carry them to the trailer, and they will just slip right into the drawers.
Mark the inside bottoms "Save for trailer." Careful selection of boxes will allow "nesting," and ease of storage till that next easy-to-pack trip.

HELP FOR HOMEMAKERS

Susan's cake for my Susan's birthday.
A spice cake (her favorite) was covered with a brown sugar icing. Then I made the black-eyed Susans by using little black gumdrops for the "eyes" and candy corn for the "petals." Placed one large daisy with double rings of candy corn "petals" in the center and eight daisies with a single ring of "petals" around the edge of the cake.
Then I used a decorator tube to run a graceful connecting "stem" around the cake and placed a few "leaves" snipped from green gumdrops along the stem.
For a pretty finish, I stood big gumdrops holding birthday candles around the cake on the platter.
Mrs. M. A. S.
That's "flower power" for sure... and pretty 'nuf to make any little girl's eyes light up!

ZOO'S WHO?
DEAR HELOISE:
I have a 2-year-old brother who loves to go to the zoo, but is not able to do so very often. So I made up a make-believe zoo.

I overturned his old pushpen and put all his play animals under it and invited lots of friends over. To come play they need to bring a stuffed animal, or a big brother, sister or mother to be the zookeeper.
It's great fun!
Diane Leggett

LET'S COOK!
DEAR HELOISE:
My mother and I collect recipes, so here's my idea which we have found very useful:
I wrote down all our favorite recipes on index cards. Then I punched holes in the top right-hand corners and strung them on a shower-curtain ring.
Now we can hang them on a cabinet knob right where we do all our baking and the recipes are right at our eye level.

THE LID'S OFF!
DEAR HELOISE:
I save all the plastic lids that come on coffee cans, shortening cans, etc. for my teenage son.
He is very interested in crafts and uses these lids when making patterns to be used in his hobby.
He says they work so much better than the ones he made out of light cardboard or paper. They are very flexible and last and last.
Bobby's Mother
SO IT'S CORNY!
DEAR HELOISE:
Corn on the cob is so hard to butter. Most people apply butter with a knife. The hot corn heats the butter and away slides the butter. Now, try this tip from a man 70 years old. USE A FORK.
Just scrape the back of the fork across the butter forcing it between the tines of the fork. Then turn the fork over and apply butter to corn on the cob using the curved side of the fork (toward the corn). The fork just fits the curvature of the corn and holds the butter longer.
Less waste, less drip.
Roy Panzenhagen.

SALAD SPECIAL
DEAR HELOISE:
The ham salad found in the refrigerated section of the supermarket can be very useful in many ways—especially in an emergency.
Mix it with the yolks of hard-boiled eggs for "deviled" eggs; with chopped or sliced eggs for egg salad; with diced cooked potatoes, either hot or cold; or to pep up canned meats for sandwich fillings.
It's also great inside tiny hot biscuits for hors d'oeuvres.
Hazel
LETTER OF LOVE
DEAR HELOISE:
Here's one of my grandmother's favorite recipes:
Mix equally: Love, Time and Attention. Season well with Discipline as needed. Apply generously to any child.
Results: Unbelievable!

Check This Out

NO one among Santa's elves could figure out the answer to this problem. Can you? Let's see. Object is to place a dozen checkmarks in strategic circles so that just two checks appear in each horizontal, vertical and corner-to-corner row.

Clue: Checkmarks assume an orderly pattern.

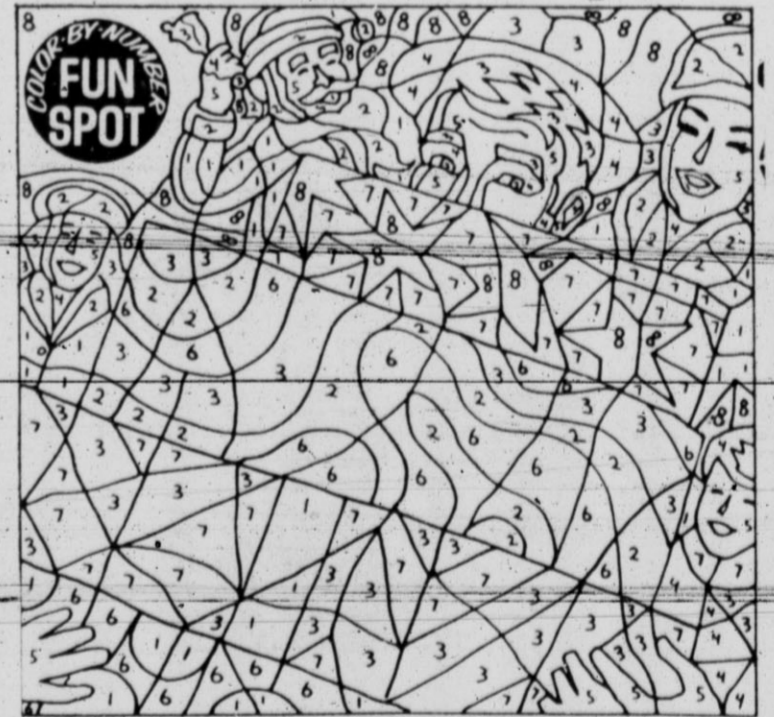

Remember, you are allowed only 12 checks in all; no more than two per row.

SANTA has made a note, above, of something Christmas shoppers do in more ways than one. Can you add and subtract words and letters to read it? Hint: One word is a gem.

BULLETIN BOARD

- HANG IN THERE: With eyes closed and without peeking, see if you can stand on one leg in one place 60 seconds or more without moving. It's not so easy.
- A Christmas tree that is 15 feet shorter than a flagpole that is three times as high is how tall? Careful, this one's a stickler.
- In Latin it's "Pacem in terris." In French it's "Paix sur la terre." In English it's what?
- Repeat this sentence aloud rapidly, several times: Sick sailors sorting snails saw the sleek sloop sink.
- Tongue twister: Santa slowed his sleek new sled and shortly shouted, "See?" Repeat rapidly aloud.

OLIVER TWIST, played by Chris White in the musical show, Oliver!, due for staging by Hereford High School music and speech students Friday evening, finds himself in trouble when he is "sold" by a greedy work-taker, then told he must sleep in the room with the coffins. Songs, comedy and a story solving the identity of the founding Oliver make up this play with its background in the London slums of the early nineteenth century, adapted from a novel by Dickens.

FRED RATLIFF directs the production and Nancy Jones is rehearsal pianist.

Tulia's Elm Tree Inn

A step back into history

On any day a person can step from the streets of modern-day Tulia, Tex. through the door of the Elm Tree Inn and find himself face to face with a part of the past.

The Elm Tree Inn, located at 200 West Broadway in Tulia, is one of the Panhandle's historical landmarks as designated by the Texas State Historical Society. The two-story hotel can accommodate 40 guests and reservations can be made for daily, weekly or monthly guests.

The history of the Inn is preserved in its furnishings and hospitality since it was first opened in 1906 as the Tulia Hotel. At that time it was a meeting place for cattle buyers, cowboys and travelers of the Panhandle region.

About 10 years ago a Tulia family completely restored and redecorated the Inn at a cost of $200,000. It was furnished throughout with valuable antiques and the decor is reminiscent of the turn of the century when the Inn was first built.

The lobby of the Inn is an attraction in itself with crystal chandeliers, red carpet and a guest register desk that once served as an old saloon bar.

Tiffany lamps, flocked floral wall paper, brass spittoons, a pump organ, an ornately carved buffet, brass beds, water closets and antique velvet chairs draw the attention of guests when they first enter.

The first floor dining room is decorated with a huge Tiffany lamp, stained glass divider and fancy red tables. Meals are served at the Inn from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m. every day except Wednesday.

Besides providing excellent over-night accommodations and meals, tours also are set up at the Inn.

THE INFORMED CONSUMER

BY CRAWFORD C. MARTIN
 Attorney General of Texas

Remember that unordered set of books you received in the mail along with a receipt requesting payment? Did you return the books or pay the bill? You didn't have to, you know. Recall the time you got up early so you could get to the store in time to purchase an item at a "one-day-only special sale", only to find that they were "all out" of the bargain 10 minutes after the store opened? Or how about that nice young college student who came to your door asking for a few minutes of your time to take a survey for a paper he was writing...and didn't leave until he had spent three hours trying to get you to buy a $600 set of books you didn't want or need?

 Unfortunately, most consumers—at one time or another—have had their anger aroused by these and similar incidents. The Texas Attorney General's files are filled with case histories of problems encountered by innocent, although sometimes gullible, consumers. Many of these legitimate gripes could have been avoided if the consumer had been aware of certain laws, or had been aware of the types of fraudulent practices typically used by unethical sales organizations. An informed consumer can be his own best protection in the market place.

majority of businessmen who want an honest and ethical climate in which to conduct their operations.

This column, "The Informed Consumer", has been developed by my staff and by me to give consumer facts on consumer protection laws and information on consumer related topics. It was designed to make the "buyer be wary" as well as "be aware". Hopefully, it will assist consumers in recognizing and avoiding common business frauds. Included will be facts on the role of state and federal agencies in the area of consumer protection. Some topics which will be covered in the near future include: referral selling, the scheme which offers the consumer a chance for a "good deal" by supplying names of friends as prospective customers; work-at-home schemes that prey on the elderly consumers and the young mother seeking to supplement the family's income while staying at home with her children; pyramid business organizations which pay bounties for bringing others into the program; a store's responsibility for accepting returned merchandise; and a credit series.

If you feel that you have been the victim of a deceptive act or practice contact my Consumer Protection Division at the Office of the Attorney General, P. O. Box 12548, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711.

The Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division enforces Texas's Deceptive Trade Practices law which presently permits the Attorney General to enjoin certain false, misleading, or deceptive acts or practices in the conduct of trade or commerce. The Attorney General has received some 4000 complaints in the last year from Texas citizens who feel that they have been defrauded. Such complaints are processed and, if necessary, legal action is instituted to enforce the consumer protection laws. The Attorney General's office is not permitted to render legal advice or opinions to individual citizens, nor may this office obtain refunds for individuals who have been defrauded. The Attorney General may, however, obtain an injunction against those firms which violate the Deceptive Trade Practices Act. If the firm continues its deceptive practices, the Attorney General may secure up to $10,000 in penalties for each and every subsequent violation of the injunction.

Law enforcement in this area is emphasized by my office because compliance with fair and honest trade practices benefits not only consumers, but the ma-

Long deserved honor

It comes as no surprise to us that D.C. Martin has been chosen "Outstanding Administrator of the Year." The only surprise is that he has not been honored earlier for his outstanding ability and dedication to the teaching profession.

D.C. Martin could have had about any job in the Hereford Independent School System, and indeed, was offered the post of superintendent on more than one occasion. He did not accept, primarily due to health reasons, but we suspect that he also wanted to remain a little closer to the children and the teaching profession per se. He would have been an outstanding superintendent, just as he has been an outstanding principal and teacher before that.

D.C. Martin is loved by student and faculty alike, and he has always been willing and eager to go above and beyond the call of duty to help a youngster and he has always been available to advise and help the teaching staff whenever necessary. He has probably had the smallest turn-over of teachers of any school in Hereford, and many members of his staff followed Mr. Martin when he was transferred from Central Elementary to Aikman where he still serves as principal.

But Martin is more than just a professional teacher. He is an avid church worker, and has been quite active in civic and community affairs since coming to Hereford in 1947. He always seems to find time to do more than his part in the betterment of the community and his kindness will long be remembered by those he has befriended.

Hereford is fortunate in having one of the finest school systems in the county and it is indeed fortunate to have the caliber of men in the system as D.C. Martin.

Those Demos--Connally

Treasury Secretary John Connally has one thing every candidate for public office wants—he is in the spotlight at the center of the stage.

As Phase Two of the new economic policy goes forward, Connally seems to loom larger than life in the role of the Administration's almost indispensable man. It is a role which any candidate might covet.

But Connally's candidacy for any office is purely speculative, and the Secretary of the Treasury denies he is a candidate for anything.

But from the moment last December that President Nixon announced his plan to appoint Connally to the Treasury post, there has been speculation that the former Democratic governor of Texas would become a candidate to succeed Vice President Spiro T. Agnew on the 1972 Nixon ticket. Now, almost a year later, nourished by Connally's emergence as the foremost advocate of the Administration's economic policies, the speculation has intensified.

Connally has denied having any interest at all in the Vice Presidency. Asked about press speculation on his possible candidacy, he replied that he did not know where the press was getting its information—but that it was not coming from him.

President Nixon has turned away questions on who his 1972 running mate will be. But he has left open the possibility of a change by saying that he has not made a decision.

A combination of charm, skill, forcefulness and hard work have made Connally the Administration's most effective negotiator of economic issues with Congress, the business community, the press and the public. He has attained this distinction in less than a year—and without the usual financial and economic background of a Treasury Secretary.

Connally is a close friend and former protege of President Lyndon B. Johnson and a Democrat who maintains firm relationships with prominent associates in his party.

But he is scrupulously loyal to the Republican Administration which he serves. He is meticulous in deference to the President, ascribing all credit to Nixon's policies while serving as a lightning rod for much of the criticism and difficulty that are inevitably entailed.

In every respect he is "good soldier" of the Administration.

Nixon and his party endured serious disappointment in the November 1970 mid-term election. The voter's refusal to elect more Republican candidates was widely attributed to the President's economic policies, which had brought on a recession and rising unemployment without abating inflation appreciably.

Prospects changed Aug. 15 when the President, announcing a new economic policy, imposed the wage-price freeze, proposed a tax cut, levied a surcharge on imports and "floated" the dollar in world currency exchanges.

Connally's counsel, no more than hinted at before mid-August, prevailed in determining the new course of economic policy.

He headed the Administration task force that devised the new policy. He became chairman of the Cost of Living Council, which has over-all responsibility for administration of the program in the domestic area. As Treasury Secretary he shouldered the burden of negotiating solutions to the U.S. balance of payments and foreign trade problems and the problems of the international monetary systems.

Connally's fast ascent from provincial governor to national figure and his independent Texas base, with a conservative electorate and 28 presumably deliverable electoral votes which Nixon did not win in 1968, make him an attractive possibility as a running mate for the President in 1972.

Some Washington observers believe Connally's eye is actually on the presidential nomination in 1976. Whether as a Democrat or a Republican, a term as Vice President would give him the exposure and leverage he would need to insure the nomination and a strong national race.

Although Connally insists he remains a "Democrat," one thing was quite noticeable at his press conference following the AFL-CIO 11-22-71 convention: Over and over in criticizing the Democratic Congress he referred to the Democrats as "they."

If you've ever wondered where the dinosaurs roamed, it was right here in Texas!

In the bed of the Paluxy River in the proposed Texas Dinosaur State Park, four miles west of the charming resort city of Glen Rose and 55 miles southwest of Fort Worth, you can see the tracks of huge dinosaurs that roamed the central Texas area 100 million years ago. These scientifically authenticated evidences of the presence of prehistoric beasts in these parts were discovered in the 1880's. In the 1930's, the University of Texas removed several of these tracks and displayed them in museums in New York and Austin.

While foraging for sustenance and survival, these ponderous animals walked through soft clay. This clay turned to rock and filled with silt. Advancing and receding seas over the eons deposited layer after layer of sediment over these imprints, preserving them. Eventually in this present dry land era, the erosion of the Paluxy River has revealed the tracks in a rare earth strata known as the Glen Rose Limestone. Three types of dinosaurs are in evidence:

1) — The Sauropod. He exceeded 60 feet in length and 30 tons in weight and was the largest known animal to roam the earth. It had a long neck and tail, took 10 foot strides and its feet were 38 inches across!

2) — The Ornithomimid had a duck-billed snout with 2000 teeth, was a vegetarian and stood semi-erect. It was about 30 feet long and 16 feet tall.

3) — The Theropod. This was the only meat-eater and a fierce fighter, walked on hind legs and preyed on other animals. He stood about 33 feet long and 12 feet high.

Come, Texas, and explore these beautiful, hidden canyons in this remarkable Glen Rose area where the hills rise abruptly out of the plain. Look for tracks in the river bed and along the shore. They are so perfectly preserved that fossils have been made last week in fact! Feel the earth tremble or hear a low growl!

Anti-pollution crusade aims criticism at lead

By Bert Mills

Washington, D.C.—Lead is one of the most useful raw materials that man has extracted from the earth but under certain circumstances it can poison people, so "get the lead out" has become a slogan of environmentalists leading the anti-pollution crusade.

The slogan has been applied chiefly to leaded gasoline, which at least 19 out of 20 automobiles use. However, despite use in an ever-increasing number of cars for nearly half a century, nobody has ever died of lead poisoning from gasoline. Indeed, the National Academy of Sciences has reported that lead contained in auto emissions "has no known harmful effects."

Unquestionably, lead additives improve the performance of modern automobile engines. Their purpose is to control the rate of explosive combustion over the pistons, thereby producing a more uniform thrust. This has resulted in lighter engines of higher compression, and greater efficiency, which translates into better performance and economy for motorists.

Nevertheless, the auto makers have deemed that lead must go because lead fouls the exhaust systems that must be improved to meet Federal anti-pollution standards. So lead does not poison anybody helps cars run better, but may soon be outlawed as a gasoline ingredient.

Most motorists will be hurt in the pocketbook when that happens. Unleaded gasoline will cost as much as seven cents a gallon more including reduced engine efficiency, and the vast majority of 5 million old cars now on the road will have to be modified at a cost estimated to range between $300 and $600.

Leaded Paint Causes Problems
Auto pollution is by no means the only environmental problem confronting the lead industry. Lead poisoning of children from old paint has been known for decades but has been heavily publicized in recent years. As far back as 1959, New York City reported 12 deaths of children due to lead poisoning from paint. Last year there were only two, despite many more cases, due to increased knowledge and more control programs.

It has been established that lead poisoning of children occurs chiefly among youngsters under 6 years of age living in dilapidated housing in slum areas. Lead paint applied from 10 to 50 years ago peels and falls into food, or is ingested by gnawing on woodwork.

Earlier this year the Federal Lead-Based Paint Poisoning Prevention Act took effect. It provides support for local programs to detect and treat lead poison cases, seeks new ways to remove old lead paint, and bans interior use of lead-based paint. The industry supported this legislation.

A trade group, Lead Industries Association, has published booklets on the problem of lead poisoning of children from paint, and 100,000 copies have been distributed within two years. Lead poisoning of children is wholly preventable and the industry expects the problem will be eradicated.

Ceramic Poisoning Rare
Isolated but well-publicized cases of lead poisoning from ceramic dinnerware have given the lead industry another headache of late. A national magazine told of a doctor's family poisoned by a poorly-glazed pitcher from Mexico. That one case and the publicity it received led to an investigation by the U. S. Food and Drug Administration.

The pottery industry has developed a seal of approval. Dinnerware which has been tested and found to release less than the allowable amount of glazes bears a seal on the package. One pottery maker fires the seal on the product itself, on the back of plates.

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm comes up with an idea on political campaigns.

Dear editor:

At the moment I don't know what the final outcome will be, but Congress has been considering a bill to finance Presidential campaigns with tax money.

Like it is, as you know, Presidential candidates have to raise millions of dollars to finance their campaigns, and they get the money from private contributions.

I have never contributed any money to a candidate, but being a member of the human race, if I gave one a sizeable amount I'd probably have something else in mind other than seeing him elected. And if I were a candidate and got elected, it'd be mighty hard for me to forget who picked up the check. A man doesn't give a loaded cigar to a banker who has just extended his loan.

So, Congress has been trying to stop the practice. It's proposing that everybody designate one dollar on his income tax for financing Presidential campaigns. This would raise forty some odd million dollars, with say 20 million going to the Republicans, 20 million to the Democrats, and possibly 5 million to any third party. If a party accepted the money, it couldn't accept any private contributions.

This looks like a good idea except maybe to the big lobbyists, but I've got an added suggestion. Instead of taking just one dollar from your income tax, how about making it two and using the extra 40 million to pay some candidates not to run?

Some people might object to giving one dollar to help get some candidates elected, but where's the man who doesn't know a candidate he wouldn't give two dollars not to run?

This is enough about politics. Out of a clear sky a man asked me the other day what I thought of mini-skirts. A mini-skirt is like a bicycle. It's all right in the summertime but it's pretty drafty in the wintertime.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Talk of Texas

BY JACK MAGUIRE

SIDESHOW—One of the major attractions at the State Fair of Texas in Dallas last month was the public appearance of H.L. Hunt, the oil billionaire who once was so publicity shy that he refused to be photographed.

The 82-year-old Hunt personally manned a booth to promote Epsom salts, suntan lotion, soap and patriotism, Hunt-owned companies manufacture drugs and cosmetics, so he decided to sell them himself to the 3.5 million persons who came to the fair.

In addition to dispensing information about his drugs and cosmetic products, Hunt used the booth to promote the patriotic radio broadcasts that he sponsors. The aged tycoon, who says he dislikes fairs, does enjoy talking with people these days, and his booth was thronged each time he entered it.

SAILORS OF FORTUNE—The Republic of Texas once rented its famous Navy to the Mexican state of Yucatan. Yucatan had revolted against the Mexican federal government and needed all of the help that it could get. The Texas Navy, having little to do after helping the Republic win its independence from Mexico, was available for hire. Commodore Edwin Ward Moore let the Yucatan government rent both ships and men for $8,000 a month. Yucatan still lost its war.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH — Texas is one of only four states whose health departments manufacture vaccines to save taxpayers the cost of buying commercially produced serums.

Since 1933, the Health Department at Austin has been making vaccines for Texans. It turns out hundreds of thousands of doses of serum each year to combat diseases like tetanus, diphtheria, smallpox, polio, measles, German measles and others. Most of the serums are given to the poor through local health departments. They also are stockpiled for use in emergencies like hurricanes and epidemics.

CAPITAL LOSS—Padilla, the Mexican city that once was the seat of government for Texas, soon will disappear from the face of the earth.

Located between Matamoros, on the border with Texas, and Ciudad Victoria, Padilla was the Texas capital when Texas was a part of the Mexican state of Tamaulipas. It was founded in 1749.

Water rising behind the newly completed Las Adjuntas dam will completely cover the town that housed 1,000 people. Residents, however, have moved to Nuevo Padilla, a new town built for them a few miles away by the Mexican government.

TRAVELING TEXAS—For a minimum of $15 per day, tourists now are offered guided trips through the Big Thicket in East Texas.

Arrangements (which must be made in advance) can be handled through the Big Thicket Association Museum at Saratoga, Hardin County.

SENSING THE NEWS

By Anthony Harrigan
EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT
Southern States Industrial Council

A report by the District Committee of the U. S. House of Representatives is notable for an exceptionally candid and truthful assessment of an urban problem. The report expressed proper concern about the swarm of intruders in the District of Columbia. "It is not the Congress or the federal establishment which is the interloper here—as some District spokesmen maintain," the report said, "but rather the thousands of persons who have swarmed here, most of whom add little or nothing to the day-by-day operations of the federal government, who are 'local' in character and needs, who are the intruders and who are not vital to the federal government's operations."

U.S. Rep. John McMillan, chairman of the District committee, and the other committee members deserve public thanks for authorizing such a forthright statement. Unless American cities obtain some form of influx control, urban problems will remain out of hand.

The nation's capital is a prime example of the difficulties America's big cities face. It is loaded with "intruders" who are responsible for high crime rates and appalling welfare loads. America's capital city is one of the most unsafe cities in the world. It is less dangerous to walk the streets of Saigon at night than to walk a few blocks from the White House after dark.

Unfortunately, the federal courts persist in denying cities and states the authority to restrict the flow of newcomers seeking welfare. For example, a three-judge federal court in Providence, R.I., recently ruled that Rhode Island's one-year residency requirement for welfare recipients is unconstitutional. A requirement of this sort is essential if the welfare population is to be checked.

Scant attention is being paid to the flood of immigrants—many of them illegal immigrants—from the Caribbean area. "The New York Times" recently reported that there are more than 200,000 Dominicans in the metropolis. Many of them travel from the Dominican Republic to Puerto Rico and then "pass" as Puerto Ricans. Under existing law, Puerto Ricans can move to the continental United States without entry formalities. New York City also is gaining a big population of Haitians and other Caribbean islanders. Many of these people bring to the United States crime, superstition and a penchant for idleness.

Unfortunately, middle-class Cubans who come to this country, as refugees from Castro's tyranny—and worked hard—are disliked by Puerto Ricans and Dominicans and other Caribbean peoples who drift into crime and welfareism.

While one can sympathize with the economic plight of the Caribbean peoples, it is imperative that the influx of unskilled newcomers be stopped. The United States cannot continue to absorb the proletarian populations of the Caribbean.

The Caribbean newcomers are only one part of the urban problem. Central cities are decaying because white collar and blue collar working people are fleeing to the suburbs. The reason the productive people are moving to the suburbs is because the inner cities are dangerous, public schools have been turned into centers of sociological experimentation, and the enfranchisement of dependent people has created political regimes that cater to the ignorant, unpropertied and lawless.

Summerfield girl in drama

Barbara Huckert, a Summerfield sophomore at West Texas State University, will be featured in the old-fashioned melodrama, "Rags to Riches," which will be presented Thursday at Hereford High School.

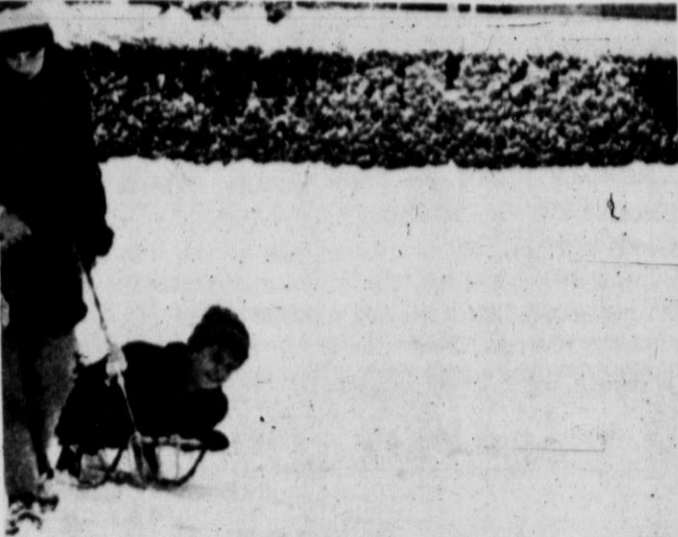

The play is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. at the high school auditorium.

The play, complete, with rinky-dink piano, villain hissing and a sugar-and-spice heroine, revolves around the lives of three ragged orphans on the streets of New York.

Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students and children.

Following the presentation here, the group will present the play at the West Texas State University Branding Iron Theatre on Dec. 10 and on Dec. 11 it will be taken before the Childress Junior High School.

Miss Huckert, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Huckert, portrays a caroler and one of the townspeople.

Wedding service read in bride's home city

Married in an evening ceremony at Guthrie, Oklahoma, Saturday evening, Oscar Lee Williams Jr. and his bride, the former Mary Elaine Mock, will be at home at 112 Centre after a honeymoon in Oklahoma City.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover D. Mock of Guthrie. The bridegroom's parents are Hereford residents.

First United Methodist Church at Guthrie was the setting for the wedding, read by the Rev. Fred Knight, pastor. Barry D. Mock of Oklahoma City gave his sister in marriage.

Her maid of honor was Miss Margaret Talbot and the best man was Randy Cawthon of Hereford. Serving as ushers were the bridegroom's brother, Ross Williams of Hereford, Roger Gartman and Floyd Clay.

Preceding the ceremony, candles in an arch behind the pulpit and in candlesticks on either side were lighted by the bride's nephew, Tommy Mock of Oklahoma City. Glow of the tapers accentuated a background picture of Christ. Baskets of white China mums tied with purple ribbon flanked the altar space.

Wedding solos were by Miss Cheryl Jackson and the bride's uncle, Paul Overton of Ada, accompanied by Mrs. Norman Jacobs at the organ. Selections included Somewhere from the musical, West Side Story, and a popular song, Something.

The bride's gown of white bombazine was styled with empress' body of re-embroidered silk, Victorian neckline and sleeves, and A-line skirt with chapel train.

Double bands of Alencon lace edged her illusion veil, which extended over the train and was held to her hair with a Dior bow. She carried a purple orchid centered in white palm leaves and lavender gypsophyllia.

Her attendant was dressed in lilac silk organza, in style similar to that of the bride's. A deep purple sash circled the high waistline and flounces of the material trimmed neckline and sleeves.

The headpiece was a halo of small orchid trims and herle sugar flowers.

Mrs. Lee Williams former Oklahoma resident bouquet was a nosegay of purple blossoms edged with white palm leaves.

At the reception in the church parlor, Janet Smith registered guests. Miss Jaime Pitman of Hereford and Katherine Enos served the wedding cake while Mrs. Conrue Wilson poured punch. Miss Phyllis McNutt assisted.

White net caught with deep purple bows was laid over the lavender cloth on the table where the principal decoration was the three-tiered cake topped with a cluster of wedding bells and ornamented with purple sugar flowers.

H.D. CHATTER Did someone say diet chocolate?

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

SOMETHING NEW has been added—new diet chocolate. This is an outstanding flavor for a specific purpose.

The new diet chocolate of flavoring strength, reproduces the rich smooth flavor of real chocolate and yet it is devoid of calories and fat content found in the natural chocolate.

It is delicious as a chocolate milk drink or a cup of hot chocolate produced by adding only one teaspoon per cup of whole or skimmed milk depending on your diet requirement. Add sugar or sugar substitute to suit your taste.

THIS FLAVORING is good for cake, icing and puddings. Also, recommended for dieters is the imitation butter flavor.

The club women are selling these two diet items and will order for you if you'll call or call the office 364-3573. The order will be mailed Monday, December 6, at 4:30. Try these new recipes.

WHITE CHOCOLATE CAKE

- 1/4 lb. white chocolate
- 1/2 c. hot water
- 1 c. butter
- 1 c. sugar
- 4 eggs
- 1 c. coconut
- 1 c. pecans
- 1 c. buttermilk
- 1 t. soda
- 2 1/2 c. cake flour
- 2 t. diet chocolate flavoring

Melt chocolate in hot water; let cool. Cream butter and sugar; beat until fluffy. Add one egg yolk at a time, beating well after each addition. Sift 2 1/2 c. cake flour, 1 t. soda. Add to mixture alternately with 1 c. buttermilk.

Add melted chocolate and 2 t. chocolate flavoring. Beat 4 egg whites until stiff, but not dry; fold into mixture. Gently stir in 1 c. pecans and 1 c. coconut. Bake in 3 layers at 350 degrees for 25-30 minutes.

COCONUT-PECAN FROSTING

- 1 c. evaporated milk

- 1 c. sugar
- 3 egg yolks
- 1/4 lb. margarine
- 1 and one-thirds c. coconut
- 1 c. pecans
- 1 t. chocolate flavoring

Combine in sauce pan; milk, sugar, egg yolks, margarine, and chocolate flavoring. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture thickens—about 12 minutes. Add coconut and chopped pecans. Beat until frosting is cool and thick enough to spread.

DELICIOUS FUDGE

- 2 c. sugar
- 1/2 c. dairy sour cream
- one-third c. white corn syrup
- 2 T. butter
- 1/4 t. salt
- 2 t. diet chocolate flavoring
- 1/4 c. quartered candied cherries
- 1 c. coarsely chopped walnuts

Combine first five ingredients in saucepan; bring to a boil slowly, stirring until sugar dissolves. Boil without stirring, over medium heat, 220 degrees on candy thermometer, or until a little mixture dropped in cold water forms a soft ball.

Remove from heat & let stand 15 minutes; do not stir. Add diet chocolate flavoring, heat until mixture starts to lose its gloss (about eight minutes). Stir in cherries and walnuts and quickly pour into a greased shallow pan. Cool and cut into squares. Or cool and roll into bite size balls.

Also, these small balls can be pressed between two walnut halves. This candy is good dipped in semi-sweet and bitter chocolate. This is the candy we were going to make at the Dawn Club Workday, which was supposed to be Friday but was cancelled because of the weather.

The first session, Monday night, will feature a welcome by state Senator Glenn Kothmann of San Antonio and addresses by U.S. Congressmen Henry B. Gonzalez of San Antonio and Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls.

Lieutenant Governor Ben Barnes will bring greetings to the statewide farm organization meeting on Tuesday morning, followed by the keynote address by South Dakota Farmers Union president Ben Radcliffe of Huron, South Dakota. Texas Farmers Union president Jay Naman of Waco will make his annual report to the convention on Tuesday morning.

The highlight of the Tuesday afternoon convention program will be an address by United States Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota. Senator Humphrey is expected to speak at 3 p.m. and following his address will present the Farm Editor Awards to television farm director Bedford Forrest of Station KFDD in Amarillo and farm writer Monk Vance of the Fort Worth Star Telegram.

Drama, comedy in HHS musical

The London underworld of a century ago, with its thieves and kidnapers, their women and a gang of boy pickpockets, is the setting of the musical Oliver! which Hereford High School students will present, with Friday evening as the tentative date.

A success first in England and then on Broadway, this musical by Lionel Bart offers comedy and tuneful songs as well as the story of a boy from the poorhouse whose mysterious parentage is solved at last.

A question about the production date is posed by outcome of the state quarterfinal grid game which the HHS Whitefaces are playing this weekend; if they win and the semifinal game date conflicts, the musical will be postponed until after the Christmas holidays.

feature an address by National Farmers Union president Tony Dechant. Dechant will speak on the stake which family farm agriculture has in the 1972 elections.

A special program has been planned for the ladies and young people attending the San Antonio meeting. Farmers Union ladies will be treated to a special luncheon and style show program at a downtown department store. A youth party on Tuesday night and special brunch for young people and youth leaders has been planned for Wednesday morning.

The delegates will debate and adopt resolutions concerning state and national farm policy that will be used to measure the candidates in 1972. Several political hopefuls for statewide office are expected to visit the convention sessions.

Adapted from Charles Dickens' novel, Oliver Twist, the show has memorable characters from that book. In addition to young Oliver, played by Chris White, there are the crafty Fagin, who trains street boys for criminal careers; the brutal gang leader, Sikes, and his pathetic sweetheart Nancy; the greedy woman who runs the workhouse and the conniving official who helps her rob the orphan boys of food.

Pat Swindell and Sharon Powell appear as Sikes and Nancy. Randy Clements as Fagin; Georgette Malouf as the workhouse keeper and Dale Hairgrove as Mr. Bumble, whose courtship contributes comedy, along with the portrayals by Becky Cox and David Thomas of the undertakers whose song is aptly titled, It's Your Funeral.

Another principal who adds to the comedy is Lee Line as the Artful Dodger, a leader of Fagin's boy pickpockets. Larry Driver enacts the wealthy man who rescues Oliver from the gang, while Nancy Brink and Bill Gage carry on another romance in comedy vein.

Diedra Dzuik as Bet, a gangster's girl; Ike Graves as Dr. Grimwig and Becky Larsen as Old Sally, who help discover Oliver's true identity, and Jane Lyons as a maid round out the cast.

Street criers, members of Fagin's gang, workhouse boys and Londoners on the streets are others who appear to join in songs. Although the choruses include small boys, only high school students are used with several girls taking boys' roles.

Fred Ratliff, high school choral director, is directing the production with Nancy Jones as rehearsal pianist. Ben Gollehon will direct an orchestra to accompany the show. Craig Ottesen is stage manager.

Stage settings, including a revolving platform to permit quick scene shifts, are being built by students and members of the school music faculty. Gene O'Rear, Doug Morris and Jim Brink have assisted Ratliff and worked on sets.

'Good old days' adventure told

A family's experiment in living as their forefathers lived on farms without machinery, or electricity, is related by the father, a city newspaperman, in John Stallard's delightful book, Four in a Wild Place.
Reasons for the return to the wild, as well as the story of the Stallards' life on an abandoned farm in northern Wisconsin, are related in the style of a top reporter.
This book is one of the newer ones in Deaf Smith County Library, where it may be checked out without cost by library card holders.

Inquiries about obtaining and using library cards will be answered by Lorene Newman, librarian, or her assistants in the room on the first floor of the courthouse, which may be reached directly by entering the south door at ground level.

FOUR IN A WILD PLACE
By John Stallard
What was it like living on a farm before the turn of the century? What was it like carving a homestead out of the wilderness without electricity, without running water? What was it like for children to grow up in such circumstances?

These were some of the questions John Stallard asked himself one Sunday when he and his family happened upon an abandoned homestead 100 miles north of their home in Milwaukee.

Stallard was a top reporter with the Milwaukee Journal. He had a car, a modern home, security, and a bright future. And yet like many of us, he sensed that this was not enough, that there was more to life than commuting to work and punching the time clock.

To find the answer to these questions, the Stallards sold their car, rented their house, and went back to the woods with their two children, aged three and five. They re-created, insofar as was possible, the conditions of that earlier way of life. Like Thoreau, they chose "to front only the essential facts of life," and like Thoreau they found peace and a sense of fulfillment that seem to have vanished from "civilized" life.

This is the story of the Stallards' year-long experiment in homesteading. As city folks they had a lot to learn about growing vegetables, about livestock, about wood-burning stoves.

The author reports their mistakes as well as their successes, and in so doing, explodes some myths about "the good old days."
The Stallards learned a new set of values from the physical beauty of the woods and from the honest simplicity of their neighbors. Perhaps the greatest reward of this experience was watching their children discover and react to their new environment.
Kentucky is fourth in the nation with a 300-pound porcelain mule dicapped.
HOW NAVAJOS VOTE WINDOW ROCK, ARIZ. (AP)
—The Navajo tribe, largest in the United States, is governed by an elective body consisting of a chairman, vice chairman and 74 council members.
They are elected to four-year terms in reservation-wide elections in which paper ballots are used.
The last election was in mid-November, 1970, when Peter MacDonald was elected tribal chairman and Wilson Skeet, vice chairman.
Navajos have been voting in county, state, and federal elections since 1924.

Boys Ranch Xmas Fund is launched

The annual goal to provide each of the 370 boys at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch with a new suit or clothing package began today through the Christmas Suit Fund Project.

Providing new suits for the boys has become a favorite way of Christmas giving for many of their friends who contribute $25.00 for a suit. Amarillo merchants permit the boys to select suits or clothing combinations according to their preferences at a special discount. Ages of all the boys are from four to 18, and the difference in the prices of the clothing for the younger and older boys will make the average cost approximately $25.00. In many cases, they are the first new suits the boys have ever owned, and for others the suits replace those that have become worn or outgrown.

"All during the week the boys wear their work or school clothes, and they look forward to Sunday because they get to dress up for that one day or for their Saturday town trips," Virgil Patterson, Ranch president said. "These will also be suits worn by graduating seniors next spring and those who get to return to their hometowns for Christmas will also be all dressed up. Even more important, the suits are year-round reminders to the boys that there are those who really care."

Contributions to the Boys Ranch Christmas Suit Fund may be mailed to the boys Ranch office, P.O. Box 1890, Amarillo, Texas or taken to the office at 600 West 11th Street in Amarillo.

Westway Baptist is enrolled in program

The Westway Baptist Church has enrolled in the 1971-72 Texas Baptist Town and Country Church Achievement Program, according to Clinton Watson, state program director.

The new program is sponsored by the Missions Support Section of the Baptist General Convention of Texas. It is designed to stimulate interest in a church's total ministry by providing growth incentives.

"This program dares a church to be greater," said Watson. "It challenges it to strengthen its program. It is the only program of its kind offered to touch every aspect of a church's life."

He pointed out that eligible churches - there are more than 2,000 in Texas eligible to participate in this program - and their pastors making outstanding achievements during the year will be honored by the Amarillo Baptist Association and at the annual convention of Texas Baptists next year in Abilene.

Pastor Lynn DeHart, will lead the church to adopt goals for advancement in the areas of a better local church, a better community and a better world. A Record of Progress notebook will be compiled by church members and will serve as the basis for evaluation among all participating churches. No church may enter the program if its community's population exceeds 2,500 persons.

Bride With a "Past"

When Ernest asked Jane to marry him, she last no time in saying yes. Furthermore, she took pains to tell him what a loyal and devoted wife she would be. But she left out one small detail: she was already expecting a child by another man.

Not long after the wedding, Ernest became aware of his wife's condition. Understandably indignant, he hurried to court to demand an annulment on grounds of fraud.

However, Jane was not willing to give him up.

"I told him no lies," she pointed out in her own defense. "Ernest just never asked questions about my past. Surely a girl is not required to confess everything she ever did wrong."

Nevertheless, the court ruled that Ernest was indeed entitled to an annulment.

The first purpose of matrimony, said the court, "is procreation. A woman, to be marriageable, must be able to bear children to her husband, and a repudiation to this effect is implied in the very nature of the (marriage) contract."

True, the law does overlook a certain amount of "deceptive art" in matters of romance. It recognizes that each party will naturally try to put his best foot forward. But an annulment will be granted if the deception involves something truly basic to the marriage relationship, as in the case of Ernest and Jane.

Suppose the child that is expected is the husband's, not some other man's. Could he still get an annulment, merely because his bride did not tell him the facts before the wedding?

The courts have said no. They note that her deception does him no great harm, because he would be legally responsible for the child anyway.

What, if the situation is just the opposite? That is, the girl is not expecting a child at all but tells the man that she is - and that he is the father.

In this situation too, most courts have refused to grant an annulment. As one court put it, the husband should not expect the law to rescue him from a predicament made possible by his own premarital misconduct. He had, said the court, "created his own dilemma."

DOWNTOWN AND SUGARLAND MALL

Mrs. W. S. Fluit, Mrs. Jack Brown, Mrs. Baker Womble, Mrs. S. S. Williams and Mrs. A. L. Manjeot.

By the Garden Gate with Glad

By Mrs. Art Manjeot

The flight on the Braniff 747, from Dallas to Hawaii was a good flight and the comradeship of the guests on the plan was excellent. In fact, one of the pleasant features of the entire trip was the good fellowship of the travelers one with another.

When the pilot announced that we were approaching Honolulu, we felt a bit of disappointment in that we did not arrive at sunset time, so that we could see the beautiful sunset over the Pacific Ocean. Beauty was there though, seemed it had been especially prepared, as the mainland of the island, the lights of the city of Honolulu began to appear. The harvest moon silently sailed away over the horizon, and our approach to the airport was made exceptionally beautiful by the myriads of lights.

The creative beauty which the million of lights gave the scene, reminded me of a lovely, gorgeous, designed piece of jewelry lighted with the gleams of glistening diamonds. The heart of the city was ablaze with dazzling lights, and the countless numbers of gleaming lights formed a never to be forgotten picture as they followed the pattern of the city from the center to the top of the mountains which surround the city.

Every sense within me cried out, "let us stop and enjoy." Other things awaited us, and the new sensations of arrival, a bit of Hawaiian music, the heartbeat of the great city with its many people, bade us welcome.

Leaving the airplane, we were ushered into a large room at the airport. Each member of the tour was given a beautiful lei, of the exotic tropical flowers (mine was red fragrant carnations). The lei symbolizes many emotions, some of them being joy, welcome and farewell—a thousand shades of love and deep comradeship.

The custom of sharing of the lei is for a man to adorn the lady with the lei and place upon her cheek a kiss of welcome and hospitality. Likewise the woman presents the lei to the man.

There are many feelings which cannot be expressed. As I watched the friends of Honolulu present the leis I became so involved in watching their expressions (some of the plains farmers really showed interesting expressions) and observing reactions. Really I was so enthralled by the actions of the crowd that I almost became separated from my party (the Bernard Robersons, Bea Hutson, and the Rays of Levelland). Really the object that kept me in touch was the saucy straw hat that Bernard wore. It was typically Hawaiian, one that he had previously purchased on a former tour of the island.

To me one of the real thrills of traveling, is that of meeting other people, and I met many that I would like to know better. I visited with tourists from over 25 cities (towns or famlinds) approximately 10 states and five foreign countries.

A couple which I became interested in and had a nice visit with, was a G. I. and his lovely wife who had come over to spend RR. with him. He was from Vietnam. They seemed pleased that I took time to visit with them and expressed to them sincerest wishes of a happy rest and relaxation on the island. He lovingly placed her lei, and soon I left them to stroll alone. Really not realizing that there were many other people around.

The Sheraton-Wakiki Hotel where we stayed was a massive 34-story building, very new and exotically decorated. There were no opening of doors when we arrived, because there were none on the first floor. It was comfortably air-conditioned by the passage of the winds from the ocean, which made it very pleasant and delightful. Soon we were assigned to our rooms.

Mrs. Fluit (Florence) and I were on the 27th floor, and our view was magnificent. The large glass doors opened onto a cozy balcony, attractively furnished, and the scenery was breath-taking. The background was the much named Diamond Head Mountain, with the rolling Pacific Ocean extending as far as eyes could see. Each morning we saw the lovely sunshine come up above the D.H. Mountain, and the white capped waves roll onto the pretty white sands of the shore.

Looking down I was enthralled by the beauty of the landscaping. The paths which led to the water front, the lush growth of plants, and the happiness of the people swimming, surfing, laying on the sand, and walking hand in hand along the ocean—sometimes getting showered by the breakers.

Each morning we went first to enjoy the view, and at evening when we had had our devotional, we silently went out on the balcony to drink in the beauty. Many happy moments were spent in this favorite place. In fact one of the last things I did before I left was to take one more longing look at the Pacific Ocean with its close-up views, and the sailing of the mighty ships that plughed ber waves. I learned anew that sometimes silence is the greatest tribute to beauty. The awed heart hushes our futile words of adoration and praise to His wonderful world.

The first venture of we five (Msdms. Fluit, Brown, Womble, Williams and Manjeot) was to go to the largest shopping center in the world. We looked, shopped and visited. Most of us purchased muu-muus. They are the style of the island people and many of the vacationers. The ladies wore beautifully colored muu-muus and the men wore matching shirts, many of our couples were outstanding. The one I purchased was very bright, with large vivid pink hibiscus flowers (red hibiscus is the state flower) and other floral patterns. My friends also purchased some very lovely ones, with outstanding patterns and colors, and each time we went out we wore tropical flowers in our hair. Really, when we ate, each time we had on our plates a flower.

It is easy to shop and visit with the natives, because their language is English; but it is interlaced with a few Hawaiian words. These words embellished the English language with the warmth of the Polynesian. The language is a musical language and it is very pleasant to hear the natives speak. Some of our group did well with the language.

The spoken language was essentially easy—the words being pictures rather than abstract symbols of ideas and descriptive of the mountains, waters, tropical beauty, etc. The written language is very simple as there are only twelve letters in their alphabet. The seven familiar vowels are the same as ours. (a, e, i, o, u) and they have seven consonants. They are h, l, m, n, p, and w.

The pronunciation is the catch, as o is sounded as oo, e like eh. Each word ends in a vowel. The first word the visitor learns is "aloha." (HA are the letters most emphasized and drawn out). Really the feeling expressed is what counts. It is fun and interesting to speak the language (the much used words) and enter into the spirit of the people, their warmth, informality and expressed hospitality is heartwarming.

Monday the tour group was called together. We were briefed on planned tours, attractions, entertainment, sports, and other things which the tourists participate in. Mrs. Carole Richey, of Temple, was our hostess and manager of the tour. She was pleasant and very helpful.

Hereford people who made the KTEM and KPAN Hawaiian tour were Mr. and Mrs. Clint Formby, Chip, Brenda, Marshall and Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Roberson, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Dettman, Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Barber, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Betzen, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Betzen, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kuper, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Paetzold, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Friemel, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Simpson, Msdms. Baker Womble, S. S. Williams, W.S. Fluit, A.L. Manjeot, Jack Brown, Ira Scott, Beatrice Hutson, C.T. Guseman, W. Reed Williams, Nola Ralston, J.M. Posey, Mr. and Mrs. W.W.

Gilbreath, Mrs. Corinne Moore, Mrs. Roger Brumley, Mrs. John McCleky, and Misses Nelda Norton and Pat Adams.

Mrs. Bea Hutson had her granddaughter of Seguin with her, and Leslie really had a good time. Mrs. Bernard Roberson in Levelland and the Harlan Barbers' friends, the Martins of Odessa, joined the tour at Lubbock. Mrs. Ira Scott's sister of Amarillo, and Mrs. Earline Ross Phillips, a former Herefordite and a friend of Mrs. Guseman, joined in the fun with the Hereford folks and a good time was had by one and all. Aloha! Until next week—Glad

Childhood desire becomes reality for Carolyn Trice

BY JANIE BANNER
Staff Writer

With an ambition to be a dress designer since childhood,

Mrs. Billy Trice feels she has now, in a smaller way, fulfilled that desire. Carolyn started making doll clothes when she was just a little girl and had to cut her own patterns. Even now she plans many of her own patterns, to keep on the original side of her hobby.

"I've never sewn any two outfits exactly alike," she said. "I think that takes the monotony out of making them and I really enjoy doing every one different. Each time I make one outfit, I think of something different to do the next time."

Most of her work is done by machine with finishing touches being carefully done by hand. Carolyn refers regularly to fashion magazines and clothing stores to observe changing styles so she can keep abreast with modern attire.

The idea of sewing for strangers' dolls came when friends and family members suggested she make the clothes for others to enjoy also.

Now she says "I really enjoy having others have the clothes I've made. I have met so many nice people this way; it is really unbelievable how kind and considerate they are about what time of day they call on time of day they call on me."

Carolyn, the mother of a little girl, knows what other little girls like in clothes for their 11-inch Barbie dolls, the only size she sews for. Her daughter, Karen, is nine. By having this type of hobby she meets mothers like herself with small girls.

Among outfits displayed the day of the interview were jumpers with brightly colored blouses, party dresses and washable wedding gowns with flowery bouquets in hand, accessorized by strings of beads attached to the neck of the dress.

Leather boots, pantsuits, hats, purses and capes, skirts, formal, nightgowns and robes are all fashionably designed from a variety of materials.

Next year Carolyn plans to sew underclothes, house shoes, leather and suede vests, try the new furry materials, and suits shirts and other clothing for the Ken Barbie doll and GI Joe for which she has had some requests from children this year.

Now that Christmas is near,

Carolyn has been quite busy filling orders around town. She normally spends two to three afternoons each week with her hobby. All finished clothes are put on her daughter's dolls to insure perfect fit.

Carolyn conceded that her mother, Mrs. H.L. Moses, sews clothes for her and Karen. She said "She likes to do that but I'd rather be stuffing dolls."

By that she was referring to another facet of her hobby—making rag dolls. She has made approximately 30 rag dolls in the past two years, using thread to embroider the faces so buttons can't be taken off and popped into a child's mouth.

The rag dolls range in size from 15 to 25 inches and, though similar, they possess individuality in dress.

Carolyn said "I think all little girls and some boys would like some type of rag doll." She sews both boy and girl dolls.

Although her children come first, (son Chris is four), Mrs. Trice will quickly add that sewing doll clothes comes next before yardwork, where the list of hobbies ends.

The Trice family lives at 217 Centre. They are members of the Central Church of Christ.

Mrs. Billy Trice with Karen, Chris and lots of dolls and clothes
