

Whitefaces take thriller, 14-13

BY MARSHALL DAY
News Editor

In a storybook ending that happens only "to the other guy," the Hereford Whitefaces clipped the Golden Amarillo Sandies, 14-13, Friday night at Deck Bivins Stadium for the Herd's first triumph of the year.

With only four seconds remaining in the game and the ball resting on the Amarillo two-yard line, Hereford's Danny Harris went in for the score that brought Hereford to within one point of the Sandies.

But, that wasn't the ending. With the few remaining seconds left on the clock, head coach Larry Dippel elected to go for the win instead of the tie. He called for the two-point conversion try and quarterback Keith Kitchens rolled to his right, found Harris in the end zone and hit him for the winning points.

Harris, the bull during the game, scored the other Hereford touchdown in the fading minutes of the first quarter when he scampered 75 yards behind excellent blocking and his own superb running. The point-after kick failed, but the score brought the Whitefaces into a 6-6 tie with the Amarillo team, which had marched in on its first possession of the game.

The first Sandie score came with just 2:56 gone in the game. They got the ball on the Hereford 25 following a blocked punt attempt and drove to the end zone in three plays with half-back Sears Woods going over from the four-yard line. Amarillo's quarterback, John Warren, picked up 21 yards on just two carries to put the ball on the four for Woods to take over.

The try for the kick was low and the defensive line of the Whitefaces blocked it.

The Hereford defense, which jelled early this season and has continued to improve with each game, again was a big factor in the win. It stopped the Sandies on two drives into Hereford territory in the second quarter and once in the third quarter.

The Sandies, who were able to complete only two of eight pass attempts against the stingy Hereford defense, got down to the Hereford 26-yard line early in the second quarter, but the defense held on a fourth down situation.

The Whitefaces had one touchdown by Harris called back about midway through the second period because of a clipping penalty. Kitchens had hit Harris on a screen pass from the 18 and Harris went into the end zone.

But, referees called a clip at the three-yard line and the touchdown was nullified and the ball brought back out to the 18.

The game seemed out of reach in the fourth quarter with just slightly over three minutes left to play, but the Whiteface defense again held and forced the Sandies to punt. Hereford got the ball on their own 32 with just 2:50 left and began its game-winning drive.

An incomplete pass ate up the first down, but Kitchens came back with a 10-yarder to Alan Cornelius to the 42. Another pass took another first down but Kitchens picked up 13 yards and a first on the next play.

With the ball on the Amarillo 45, the junior quarterback connected with Bruce Barrett for 13 with 1:38 left in the game. Harris picked up seven to the 25 and Wesley High got five more before the Sandies were called for pass interference at the 12.

With only 59 seconds remaining in the game, and the Whitefaces running out of time outs, Harris got four then five more to the three and High got the first down at the two-yard line with just seconds left.

On the next play Harris went across for the touchdown.

The go-ahead touchdown for the Sandies early in the final period began on their own 15-yard line following a 45-yard punt by Kitchens.

Facing a second and 12 situation, the Sandies gave the ball to Gilbreath who went 29 yards to the Amarillo 4. Warren picked up 19 to the Hereford 46. Gilbreath got four, Woods got five then three more, Gilbreath got two and Woods lost three which put the ball on the Hereford 26.

Warren then hit Jim Moody on a 20-yard pass to the Hereford to the Herd four. The defense held Woods to one yard and Gilbreath got four.

Momentum on upswing for Oct. 18 United Fund drive

The Deaf Smith County United Fund, sparked by a new emblem and a new slogan, but running short on time, goes after its highest goal in history on Oct. 18, the kickoff date for this year's drive.

State Senator Max Sherman will be the guest speaker at a kick-off at 10 a.m. Oct. 18 at the Community Center. He will be joined by a number of civic leaders in an effort to get the townspeople out to do their part in reaching the $40,000 goal set by the UF board this year.

"Time is short," said drive chairman Charlie Riggins. "The drive is on us and time is of the essence, but the only way the ultimate goal will be achieved is through the complete cooperation of everyone involved."

Riggins was one of the persons instrumental in the muscular dystrophy drive last month that saw Hereford become the biggest donor, percentage-wise, than any other city in the area.

The United Fund drive this year will begin Oct. 18 and continue through Oct. 31. Group leaders already have been contacted and plans have been formulated for the initial steps of the campaign.

"In the past we have tried to put too much on too few, and this year we are in even worse shape because of the lack of time. We are extremely short of time so I am hoping to incorporate more people into the act," Riggins said.

The campaign's new emblem is a large check mark with a cowboy hat hanging from the peak. The new slogan will be "Hang Your Hat at Home," and will be used in the campaign through posters to be distributed throughout the city.

Riggins said the drive will be centered around the purpose of getting a "plus 25 per cent," the amount by which most of the recent drives have fallen short.

"There is no excuse for a town of Hereford's size why we should fall short of a $40,000 goal, according to national statistics," he said. "Those statistics say a town of the size of Hereford should be classified as a $65,000 United Fund town."

Agencies served by the United Fund are Campfire Girls, Children's Rehabilitation Center of Amarillo, Boys Baseball, Council on Alcoholism, Boy Scouts, Red Cross, Salvation Army, Texas United Fund and U.S.O.

Recommended allocations set down by the board for each of the agencies this year are: Campfire Girls, $7,200; Children's Rehabilitation Center, $700; Boys Baseball, $8,000; Council on Alcoholism, $1,150; Boy Scouts, $7,000; Red Cross, $10,000; Salvation Army, $4,000; Texas United Fund, $150; and U.S.O., $400. Local expenses to the United Fund is expected to run about $1,000, down by $1,100 from last year.

"We need to stress the small amount of time we have left in which to get things going," Riggins said. "We need to stress the home benefits of the United Fund Drive because we feel it is time for us to either get our hearts into it or just lie down and have a mass-burial."

"If this thing fails this year then people here might just as well forget about it from now on."

"Hang Your Hat at Home"

Fire Dept. hosts open house today

The Hereford Volunteer Fire Department will close out activities today of Fire Prevention Week with the second and final day of open house at the fire station, 213 West Third St.

Open house will be from 1 to 6 p.m. and members of the volunteer fire department will be on hand to show visitors around and explain the operations of the station. Refreshments will be served to those attending.

Paul Hagar, fire marshal, has asked that any first grade student who received one of the inspection slips during school of last week to bring them to the fire station. Those who have inspected their homes and have had their parents sign the certificates will get a free fire hat and will be designated as junior fire marshals.

The fire department is closing out its observance of Fire Prevention Week. Members spent the week visiting each of the city's first grade classes and talking Cub Scout and kindergarten groups through the fire station.

Man jailed, charged in robbery incident

A 29-year-old Hereford man was placed in the county jail Friday morning in lieu of $1,000 bond on two charges, one of robbery by assault and the other for swindling with a worthless check.

The man, Eddie Castillo of 407 Long St., was arrested by city police officer Norman Neese when Neese identified him as the person wanted by the sheriff's office on a swindling with worthless check warrant.

Castillo was taken to the sheriff's office to be placed in jail, and when he took out his personal belongings to check them in, it was discovered he had in his possession some articles and money taken in a robbery about 4 a.m. Friday at a local motel. The robbery involved the reported knife-point assault on Edward Harwell. Harwell told police that a man had knocked on the door of his motel room and asked him if it was the place where another man lived. Harwell said he told him it wasn't and shut the door and went to the bathroom.

When he returned, he said, the man was sitting on the bed taking off his clothes and when Harwell began escorting him to door, the man reached down and picked up a pocket knife laying on a table.

Harwell said the man made him lay down on the bed and when he tried to look around the man stabbed the pillow next to his head and threatened him. He said the man went through his billfold, counted the money then returned it to the billfold and stuck the billfold in his own pocket. He then told Harwell to stay on the bed then turned out the lights and closed the door.

Castillo already had been picked up by the police department on the swindling warrant, and when they got the description of the robber, it fit Castillo. As they searched him it was then they found the billfold belonging to Harwell.

Concert group kicks off membership campaign

Kickoff for the official membership campaign of Hereford Community Concert Association will be at the annual dinner for captains and workers, scheduled at 8 p.m. Monday in the Caison House.

Memberships have been sold for several weeks with emphasis on renewals, but now the aim shifts to securing new members for the 1971-72 concert season.

Admission to concerts is by membership card only, and no more members will be received after the end of the campaign at 3 p.m. Friday, Mrs. J. H. McCrary, drive chairman, stresses.

Workers are to report their progress in the campaign to Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce office, which is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily. Any area residents who wish memberships but were not contacted by a worker, may receive cards by contacting the C of C office by noon Friday.

Membership fee is $10, as in past seasons for the Hereford Association. At least three concerts will be presented during the year. One booked in advance, by the noted Stan Kenton and his orchestra, is scheduled for next April.

The other artists who will appear in Hereford High School auditorium will be engaged after the membership campaign closes and CCA board members know the exact amount they will have to spend. This is a national and the Clebanoff Strings. Hazen Woods is president of the Hereford CCA this year, Mrs. Raymond White and Mrs. Bob Word vice chairmen, Mrs. Roy Hartman secretary and Jeff Carlie treasurer.

CCA policy, adopted years ago to assure that there is never a deficit for a local association.

Concerts in past years have been by outstanding performers such as the Texas Boys Choir, Richard Leibert at the organ

KICKOFF DINNER — Mrs. Albert Ricketts is chairman of arrangements for the kickoff dinner Monday evening which will launch the final week of Hereford Community Concert Association's membership drive. With Bobby Boyd, a committee member, she looks over publicity material for the Stan Kenton orchestra, which will give a concert for association members in April.

Road-side 'witness' involves local people

A 57-year-old California woman sat at a road-side park a few miles west of Claude for 16 days witnessing to traveling motorists that she was sent there by the Lord and warning them the world is in its second of the last seven years of tribulation.

For the 16 days she was there, Mabel Squaires was the center of attention for area news media, but where she was from and what she planned to do remained a mystery until three local residents became involved in the incident.

Unwilling to talk of anything but the Bible and her calling, Mrs. Squaires attracted the attention of Mike Waldrip, Chesley Johnston and Sam Ogan of the Frio Baptist Church. Waldrip was instrumental in finding out the woman's background getting in touch with her relatives in California.

Waldrip, Ogan and Johnston went to Claude Tuesday evening after the story was carried on several Amarillo television stations. The group talked with the woman for more than an hour Tuesday and Waldrip became suspicious when the woman would not talk of her family.

She laid down her glasses case on the picnic table and Waldrip saw the name of the optometrist who had filled her prescription. He wrote it down and when he returned to Hereford he telephoned the doctor in Buena Park, Calif.

Checking by the doctor with the Los Angeles police department revealed the woman was reported missing in California around the first of September.

The woman's daughter, Betty McClellan of Monte Clair, was contacted by the Los Angeles police and Mrs. Squaires husband, Jack, of Beverly Hills, also was contacted.

The two flew to Amarillo on Thursday where Waldrip and Ogan picked them up and drove them to Claude. The four arrived in Claude about 1:15 p.m. Thursday and the couple spent about 2 1/2 hours trying to convince the woman she should return to California with them. Those efforts failed and Armstrong County sheriff's officers had to pick the woman up and put her in the car.

"She had sold her home and everything she had in California, at her husband's consent, and turned all her money over to the workers of the Lord," Waldrip said. "She started out from California with only $27 in her possession."

In talking with her, Waldrip said the woman told them she had fasted for 16 days, and had lived on water alone since she had been at the road-side park. There was no evidence she had eaten anything at the park, but Armstrong county officials said she had received food from some motorists.

"She claimed she had reached perfection and was as perfect as Jesus Christ when he was here on this earth," Waldrip said. "She said that unless everyone reached this point in the next five years of tribulation, the world would end."

Waldrip said the woman would not talk about anything except how the Lord would "wipe everything out if she was forced to move from the road-side park," and she continually quoted from the Bible.

The 1968 Pontiac the woman was driving sat near the road-side park, but it wasn't until her relatives finally got her in the car did they find it was out of gas and the battery was dead. Waldrip and others there went into Claude, got some gas and some jumper cables, and returned and got the car going.

Waldrip and Ogan led the people to Interstate 40 and told them to head west to get to California.

"That was the last we saw of them," Waldrip said.

"She acted just as normal as you and I sitting here, but she was a real fanatic. All she talked about was the world coming to an end, that the Lord had sent her and an evangelist named David Terrel," he said.

During the time the woman's relatives were trying to convince her to return to California, an attempt was made to contact Terrel to see if he could talk her into leaving. Armstrong county officials were unable to contact Terrel because he was in Georgia, but an assistant of his was reached. He would not make a decision on the matter.

Witnesses will host supervisor

Chester Proctor, presiding minister of the Hereford congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, announced today the group will be hosting Circuit Supervisor, R.J. Schlegel, during the week of October 12-17.

This special week of activity will begin Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. with a model Theocratic Ministry School. Men, women and children of all ages are enrolled in the school which features a progressive development of public speaking for the congregation. Each week assigned students prepare and deliver short Bible talks and model door-to-door sermons. Students develop two or three elements of good public speaking practices in each assignment. The school conductor counsels each student on his progress toward becoming a better minister and public speaker.

Following the school there will be another regularly scheduled meeting that provides weekly instruction teaching methods to be used in the field ministry and in the free home Bible study service. After this session Schlegel will review the effectiveness of both meetings and offer helpful suggestions for improvement. In conclusion he will speak to the group on "Do Your Give Encouragement?"

"The three annual visits of the special representative help the congregation in all features of the ministry," Proctor said. "We look forward to these visits and everyone has scheduled his time in order to participate in this week of special activity, as additional emphasis is placed on the door-to-door ministry and home Bible study work. Schlegel personally works with as many ministers in the congregation as possible, analyzes their teaching methods and offers constructive counsel," he added.

Sunday at 10 a.m., Schlegel will deliver a public Bible lecture on the subject, "Is the Truth Transforming Your Life?". His concluding talk for the week is, "Be Loyal Like Samuel". During this week Jehovah's Witnesses will be inviting persons who show interest in the Bible to these special sessions which will be at the Witnesses' Kingdom Hall, 319 Avenue I. All meetings are free and the public is welcome.

This time, it's the Attorney General's office that's doing the meddlin'.

Special legislation legalizing bingo and lotteries for church and charitable organizations was declared unconstitutional Wednesday by Attorney General Crawford Martin.

In response to an inquiry from Jefferson County District Attorney Tom Hanna, Martin said the bill passed by the last legislature violates a constitutional provision barring the legislature from enacting laws to legalize lotteries and gift enterprises.

Now that may not bother most folks, but if you're a church-going, bingo nut and figured to make up your yearly budget deficit by staging a few bingo parties, you'll just have to forget it or risk being thrown in the jug. And that would be a little embarrassing.

Oh well, back to the old collection plate on Sunday morning.

City Tax Assessor-Collector Henry Benson has called the office and admitted that he has made a mistake—his first—we understand.

Anyway, here's the deal. The City recently reduced the tax rate from $1.40 to $1.20 per $100 valuation and the current tax statement that you received in the mail has been computed on the lower ($1.20) rate. But... the statement still says that the rate is $1.40.

He has had a number of calls, needless to say, and figured he'd better get that deal explained before the phone literally rang off the hook. Anyway, your total tax bill is correct. Just ignore that $1.40 and be assured that the tax has been computed at the lower rate. Or, if you're from Missouri, and have to be shown, then get out the old pencil and go to work on it.

By the way, there will be three concerts scheduled in Hereford this year although only Stan (that's Stan the Man) Kenton has been confirmed. The others will be announced at a later date.

Also, there will be three concerts at Canyon which you will be able to attend if you have a membership in the local association. The group has a reciprocal agreement with the Canyon Concert Association. This gives you the opportunity to attend six concerts each year.

DWI cases set, heard during county court

A county court jury found a Hereford man guilty Thursday of driving while intoxicated in the only jury trial held last week in county court.

The man, Anthony H. Brown, 63, 424 Ave. G, who waived having the jury assess the penalty, was fined court costs and sentenced to 60 days in jail, which was probated for one year.

Other cases handled in county court last week were:

—Walter H. Lucas, 46, Holiday House, Prifonia, fined $100 and court costs, sentenced to 60 days in jail which was probated for one year on charges of DWI. He pleaded guilty to the charge.

—Julian Cortez, 33, Route 2, Dimmitt, pleaded guilty to aggravated assault and was fined $125 and court costs, and —Lionel Gonzales Jr., 30, 143 Clement St., pleaded guilty to charges of DWI and was fined $150 and court costs and sentenced to 15 days in the county jail.

Cases scheduled for jury next month that were set last week are:

—Ricardo Muniz, 44, 2819 Vincenta, Laredo, who pleaded innocent to DWI charges and bond was set at $500.

—Robert Holland, 18, 227 Ave. J, who pleaded innocent to charges of swindling with a worthless check and bond was set at $500, and —Carl S. Moore, 31, Route 3, who pleaded innocent to charges of DWI and bond was set at $500.

These cases, along with a number of others, will be heard the first and third weeks in November.

Communication within family program topic

Family Communication was the program topic presented by Mrs. Roger Williams at a North Hereford Home Demonstration Club meeting Thursday in the home of Mrs. A. E. Hodges. Mrs. Williams listed 10 points to remember when communication within the family seems blocked. She said "Communication between husband and wife is the most important." Discussion followed during which members decided the best policy for family communication is to say exactly what is on one's mind. It was announced the Oct. 21 business meeting will not be held. Instead, members are encouraged to attend the Oct. 20 symposium on carpet care at the Community Center. The meeting is open to all H. D. clubs. The scheduled gathering in the home of Mrs. Iva Saltzman following the symposium, has also been cancelled. Mrs. Hodges, Texas Home Demonstration Association president, gave a report on a recent convention at Dallas. Other members in attendance were Mrs. Viola Williams, Otto Massie, W. J. Lueb, J.A. Crofford, Kenneth Haggard, Velma Salvino, Gaylon Bryan, Ed Briendine and R. A. Fullwood. Mrs. Saltzman will be hostess for the Nov. 4 meeting in her home at 301 W. Seventh. Six horses ran in the second division of the New York Handicap at Aqueduct last October 19. All finished in the exact order of their post positions.

BRIDE-ELECT — Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nance of Lockney, formerly of Hereford, announce the engagement of their daughter, Deborah, to Ronald Wayne McCandless of Lockney. The wedding has been set for November 25 at the First Baptist Church of Lockney.

Club asks cooperation in Xmas gift collection for hospital

Dawn Home Demonstration Club recently received a letter from the coordinator of special services of Wichita Falls State Hospital concerning a collection of gifts for its 1400 patients at Christmastime. Dawn H. D. club members voted to participate in collection and ask for contributions from other groups and individuals. Mrs. Pat Smith, president, announces that articles may be left at the Bull Barn Oct. 29 or at any time with Mrs. Smith at the first house west of Dawn Community Center. In their letter, the Rev. Dean Busboom, chairman, and Adrienne Bland, volunteer coordinator at the hospital, stressed the need for men's and women's underwear, socks and hosiery, house shoes, gloves, caps and scarves for cold weather. Also shirts, wash dresses, inexpensive transistor radios, cosmetics, sweaters, books, games, puzzles, craftwork and instant coffee. Funds are also welcomed for unmet financial purposes. Checks may be made out to the Volunteer Services Council, Wichita Falls Hospital. The address is Box 300, Volunteer Services Dept., Wichita Falls, Tex., 76707.

Engaged girl is honoree

A bride-elect, Miss Nancy Jones, was complimented with a recent shower-tea in the home of Mrs. Doug Nix. Miss Jones' marriage to Sidney Urbanczyk is to take place Oct. 15.

She greeted callers with her mother, Mrs. L. J. Jones; her fiancé's mother, Mrs. C. P. Urbanczyk; and her grandmothers, Mrs. L. J. Jones Sr. and Mrs. J. W. Alford of Lubbock.

Dolores Betzen and Suzanne Hewitt served refreshments from a table centered with autumn flowers in shades of yellow. Teresa Ingram of Friona was at the guest register.

Hostesses with Mrs. Nix were Walt Warren, Lester Wagner, Jimmy Brown, Cecil Hart, Joe Peters, Ray Berend, Alvin Schmucker, Carl Scumbato, S. L. Harman Jr., Joe Schulte, Adolph Knabe, Tom Robinson, David Dziuk, Joe F. Clark, Harold Kreighshauer, W. J. Lueb, Bud Snyder, Leroy Bodkin, Ed Dziuk, Jr. and Ray Watson.

Hereford boys join fraternities

Two WTSU students from Hereford have given up independent status by joining campus fraternities.

Paul Hendon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hendon, 126 Kingwood, has pledged Phi Delta Theta. Paul is a sophomore.

Richard Aven, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hilrey Aven, 230 Ranger, has joined Lambda Chi Alpha. Richard is also a sophomore.

To be eligible for pledging national fraternities such as these, men students must have completed at least 12 semester hours with a minimum "C" average for the preceding semester.

Mavericks win, Dogies fall, 20-6

The La Plata Maverick ninth graders shut out Canyon White, 24-0, Thursday night while the Stanton ninth grade fell for the fifth time, 20-6, to Borger's Red Pups.

The Mavericks find themselves with an open date next week while the Dogies meet Canyon White in Canyon on Thursday.

In the 20-6 loss to Borger, the only Stanton score came on a 20-yard sweep by Sammie Rodriguez in the third quarter. The touchdown cut the Borger lead to 14-6 going into the final period, but Borger held off the Dogies and added a touchdown of his own.

Marvin Harris carried the ball over the goal line twice, on runs of 20 and 10 yards, for the open-

Mrs. Moore is class hostess

Mrs. Maggie Moore was hostess to Golden Circle class of First Baptist Church for a social meeting this week in the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. R. Green.

Mrs. J. E. Young gave the devotional talk, Beauty From Ashes, after a prayer by Mrs. Earl Clark. Special prayers were said for Mrs. Wirt Phillips, a member scheduled to undergo surgery. Refreshments were served to a dozen class members.

Pitcher Hal Newhouser won 200 games during his career with the Detroit Tigers.

Small talk

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

THE SIGNBOARD of a church in Amarillo had a slogan this week that appeals to me; when you think about it, it gives you a lot to think about. "There is no freeze," it says, "on the wages of sin."

SPEAKING OF CHURCHLY humor, there are touches of it in the October issue of the newsletter of St. Thomas Episcopal Church from which I was getting some information about the Rev. Fred Howard's accepting a call to a larger church, St. Peters in Amarillo.

Please understand that I don't consider it humorous that the Howards are leaving Hereford; I'll miss Mary and Fred, as will many other friends in addition to those at St. Thomas. And I am pleased that he is going to a larger task, and wish the whole family well, with all my heart.

IT'S NICE THAT Margaret Bloomer rates, not one, but four escorts like those she had to a soda fountain Friday afternoon. Genuine male escorts, and handsome, too. Don't know who was treating who, but they all five ty I may have felt about the intention I already had of picking up an item concerning summer contests in the church.

It seems that Virginia Anstey visited churches in Torrington and Casper, Wyo. while she was on vacation, enough to win the "Most Churches Visited" contest. And Ruth Budlong was an easy winner of the "Church Farthest Visited" contest when she went to famous Canterbury Cathedral in England.

Those are items of interest, but you'll like the prizes they won, too; each received a copy of a book, an ordinary sort of award, plus the unusual—an all-expense paid trip for two to St. Thomas Church, Hereford, on any Sunday of their choice! Sounds like something Fred Howard would think of; that's one reason his congregation is no doubt going to miss him keenly.

DON'T TELL ME, I know it now! But the news of Bennett Cerf's recent death must have been published and broadcast on one of those days when I didn't have time to look at a paper or hear a newscast; I didn't know it when I took the listing from a WTSU schedule of special programs of the fall, and said here that he would speak on the Canon campus.

Someone who keeps up with these things better, informs me that John Ciardi is to be the speaker on the date that had been assigned to Cerf, Oct. 18.

NOTICE THAT LAPLATA School's faculty play is in rehearsal is hereby given, and if you're bored with it all and ready for a good laugh, mark down the dates, Oct. 25 and 26.

Norma Jean Gripp is directing, as usual, and the play is one with no social significance, psychological insights, meaningful relevancy or X rating. It's a plain old-fashioned comedy as you may judge from the title, The Nutt Family.

Harmony Club of Amarillo will meet in the home of a Hereford member, Mrs. Dolson Palmer, at 9:30 a.m. Monday. As is her custom each year at her turn to be hostess, Mrs. Palmer is also inviting her fellow members of Music Study Club to be guests.

Other hostesses are Mrs. Wendel Heine of Amarillo and Mrs. Bland Burson of Channing.

Phillies Owner Bob Carpenter is a member of the Delaware State Racing Commission.

Course next week on stocker cattle

The Easter Community Building, 12 miles south of Hereford, will be the scene Tuesday and Wednesday at 8 p.m. for a shortcourse for stocker cattle managers in the Southwest Panhandle.

The Panhandle Economic Program committee is presenting the program on a new approach which it feels will be of benefit to agricultural producers in this area. In the past, the programs were all held in Amarillo for the entire Panhandle, but this year PEP is presenting a number of programs on a sub-area basis.

The meeting at Easter this week is one of several that will be presented at places other than in Amarillo.

On the Tuesday agenda, R.B. Dawson Jr. of Tulsa will serve as moderator and there will be two speakers. The first will be Dr. John Coleman, Texas A&M Veterinary Research at Bushland who will speak on "Kill Em or Cure Em." His discussion will be on the proper use and administration of drugs in stocker cattle operations.

The second speaker will be Dr. Bill Clymer, area entomologist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service who will discuss "Lousy Business," a talk on livestock pests and their control. On Wednesday, Edd McLeroy of Dimmitt will serve as moderator for a program to be presented by Dr. Cal Parrott, area beef cattle specialist who will talk on "Natural Resistance." The talk will involve nutrition of stocker cattle.

Also on the program for Wednesday is Bill Sciyally, livestock appraiser who will discuss "Cash and Carry," a talk on buying and financing cattle.

The final speaker will be Ed Garnett, area economist-management who will discuss "Red Ink or Black Ink?"

Full-time agriculturist assigned to Holly's Dumas-Dalhart area

Because of the great amount of interest in sugarbeets shown by farmers in the Dumas-Dalhart area, Holly Sugar Corporation has assigned a full-time agriculturist to the area, according to an announcement in Colorado Springs today by Glen W. Yeager, vice president-agriculture.

Yeager said that Jack V. North, who has been talking with prospective growers in the Dumas-Dalhart area for the past few months, was being transferred to Texas to service these growers. North also will manage Holly's newly acquired farming operation in the area.

Prior to his transfer, North had been assistant to John A. Worrall, eastern agricultural manager in Colorado Springs.

North joined Holly as an agriculturist in California's South San Joaquin valley following graduation from Chico (Calif.) State College in 1968 with a degree in agriculture. He was promoted to Worrall's assistant in December, 1970, and transferred to corporate headquarters in Colorado Springs.

Earlier this year North had made a survey of the Dumas, Etter, Sunray and Stratford areas to determine interest in growing sugarbeets for Holly's Hereford plant.

He found a great deal of interest and also learned that High Plains farmers are interested in a crop that will give them a high net return per acre for water used.

Sugarbeets filled this need and because of the demand on the part of farmers to grow this crop, North was assigned to assist High Plains farmers on a full-time basis, Yeager explained.

Annual mission festival slated at church today

The Annual Mission Festival at Immanuel Lutheran Church will begin with an 11 o'clock service this morning with the Rev. Donald Hinz of Lubbock as guest speaker. The public is invited to attend the festival.

The Rev. Hinz, a graduate of Concordia Theological Seminary, Springfield, Ill., moved to Lubbock after serving as missionary to Guatemala from 1961 to 1971. He has a degree in International Relations from the University of Minnesota and served one year of his internship in Havana, Cuba.

At Lubbock the Rev. Hinz is coordinator and administrator for various programs in the Neighborhood House, is a resource person for residents and liaison man for Neighborhood House and area Lutheran Congregations.

Sorghum growers elect board men

Ballots are being mailed this week to each producer of grain sorghum within the 29-county area of the Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board. The ballots are for the purpose of electing four men who will fill the vacancies on the twelve-man board that are due to expiring terms of Charles Heck, Nazareth; Melvin Barton, Dimmitt; A.R. Dillard, Hereford; and C. C. "Pap" Reed of Kress.

In addition to the four incumbents, whose names appear on the ballot for re-election, are three other nominees. They are Worth Jones, Hart; Martin Gossett Jr., Dumas; and Gerald McCathern, Hereford.

The election is to be conducted by mail. Enclosed with the ballots are postpaid envelopes to return the ballots to Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board offices at 121 14th Street, Lubbock, Texas. All ballots must be postmarked by midnight Friday in order to be counted. Any bona fide producer of grain sorghum within the TGSPB area is eligible to vote. Should any producer fail to receive a ballot, he may obtain one from his county agricultural agent's office. The panel of judges will con-

Ex-drug addict to be speaker

A former drug addict now engaged in establishing a center at Amarillo to aid drug victims, the Rev. Henry G. Marshall will be the speaker at a joint meeting of the Retired Teachers Association and American Association of Retired Persons here Thursday evening.

All interested residents are invited to the meeting at 8 p.m. in Community Center. It will begin with songs led by Mrs. Maggie Thomas with Mrs. G.E. Hamilton at the piano. Games of 42 and bridge will follow the program.

The speaker, now 37 years old, became addicted to drugs before he was in his teens, and will tell of his experiences in ridding himself of the habit. He is involved now in establishment of the Damascus Christian Center.

Canyon is featured speaker for the 3 p.m. service. His ministry is with students of West Texas State University and St. Paul's Lutheran Congregation of Canyon.

Before coming to Canyon the Rev. Melber was campus pastor at DeKalb, Ill.

Silver anniversary tea is event for L'Allegra

Tea and talk with members of older clubs which sponsored the organization of L'Allegra Study Club in 1946, featured the celebration of its silver anniversary Thursday afternoon in Mary Gibson's home.

Guests—from its "mother club", Lone Star Study, and from Pioneer Study Club which could be called the "grandmother", were entertained as L'Allegra honored its charter members and past presidents.

Tours precede club business

Members of Wyche Home Demonstration Club toured McGee Furniture Store Thursday afternoon as Mrs. Lloyd McGee gave them hints on buying and caring for carpet.

A tour of the Allen Cansler home at 533 Willow Lane followed before the group met at the First National Bank hospitality room for business and refreshments.

Mrs. Wayne Jones, president, conducted a brief business session and a council report was read by Mrs. Homer Holden.

Nell Rentschler was a guest. In attendance were Mmes. E.C. Hewitt Jr., Norman Hodges, L. B. Worthan, Byron Grover, Ira Ott, Harvey Ward, Leo Helman and the County H.D. agent, Argen Draper.

On the hostess committee were Mmes. Gary McQuigg, Jerry Weldon and Buddy Bloomer. All other members assisted in welcoming the guests and serving tea. Mrs. Danny Martin, president for the 1971-72 season, presided at the tea service which was dominant among the silver appointments on the dining room table.

A cloth of embroidered sheer linen covered the table, and set back of the center was a silver

Sweet-fancy club decorates cake

Sweet and Fancy Decorating Club met Friday morning for a demonstration on making borders for cakes. All members present participated in making a birthday cake.

Their next lesson will be on piping cakes. The club will make two cakes to go to Kings Manor for residents' birthday party next month.

Members present were Mmes. Joel Lytal, Steve Coneway, Paul Coneway, J.A. Crofford, Lynn Pittard and Jay Kerr.

Scrapbooks revealing the club history in its 25 years of existence were displayed in the living room. An anniversary book was presented to L'Allegra as a gift from Pioneer Club.

Guests from the "grandmother" group were Mmes. Ray Johnson, L.H. Lookingbill Sr., A.L. Manjet, O.G. Hill Sr., Ralph McCullough, Ted Panciera, H.E. Miller and Frank Ball. Those from Lone Star Club included Mmes. Carl Williams, R. G. Blue, Jim Higgins, W.S. Flutt, Hardy Benson, G.W. Newsom, Jim Bookout, S.S. Williams, John Jacobsen Jr., Virgil Dodson and C.D. Kelton.

Mrs. Jack Brown and Mrs. Richard Winget, both charter members and past presidents of L'Allegra, were present, as were Mmes. Hilton Higgins, Corinne Easley and Dennis Lomas, each of whom has served as president.

Other members assisting were Mmes. Cal Garrett, Steve Coneway, Jim Carnahan, Jim Conkright, Dennis Farley, Dale Furr, J.H. McCrary, Bobby Veigel, Bill Warrick, Hazen Woods and one on the inactive list this year, Mrs. Gerald G. Payne.

THANK YOU

I want to thank the many friends and neighbors for the many acts of kindness, prayers, visits, cards and calls. Also for the flowers while I was in the hospital in Canyon. Also we appreciated all the food that was brought in since I have been home. Everyone has been so nice. Thanks again for everything.

Sincerely,
Thelma Jones

Physician speaks to Simms Club

Simms Study Club had Dr. D.E. McBrayer as guest speaker at a meeting Wednesday, to discuss Physical and Psychological Effects of Adolescence.

They had lunch at the Caison House and then went to First National Bank for the program. After Dr. McBrayer had completed his talk, they had a question and answer session.

Simms Study Club this year will sponsor Mary Alice Hall, 16, who lives at Gristown. They also will participate in Halloween carnivals in Adrain, Oct. 29, and Walcott, Oct. 30.

Members present at the meeting were Mmes. Tommy Blasingame, John Borman, Ray Borman, Leland Burns, DeWayne Castle, James Cavin, Jimmy Charles, Terry Creitz, Willis Duggan and Arlis Edwards.

Also present were Mmes. Jack Fulgham, Dan Guzman, Edgar Hartley, Lawrence Jackson, Joe Myer, Julian Perrin, Jerry Roberts, Oliver Wann, Tommy Wells, E.L. Young, Lennon Young and Robert Lloyd.

Arizona's football team will play three Pacific Eight teams next fall. They open to Washington State Sept. 18, play host to UCLA on Oct. 16 and play at home against Oregon State on Nov. 6.

DESIGNS ON '72

Always exciting is the showing of the Award Winning Designs from the Diamonds International Collection. This is considered the "Oscars" of the jewelry industry. The competition, which is world-wide, is sponsored by De Beers Consolidated Mines and this year was the 18th annual event. More than half of the winning designs used small diamonds to enhance precious gem materials, including such exotic elements as Alaskan gold nuggets, mountain crystal, spectrolite, and rosewood.

Two trends were evident: rings are still the most important category of jewelry, but new emphasis is also being focused on the neck and face. Bold necklaces, a diamond head-dress, a jeweled hair comb and a diamond-studded frame for the eyes were featured in the collection. One of the necklaces was a circular pendant of delicate, airy gold waves sparkled with 105 small round diamonds. Another was a tubular gold collar worked in a flower motif and studded with clusters of small diamonds. Some of the brooches even told a story such as one called "Conceptions" which consisted of a sculpted yellow gold face with marquise diamond eyes.

While we do not have any Diamonds International Designs in our diamond jewelry collection (most of the winners this year were outside of the United States), we do have some interesting pieces for you to see. We are always pleased to show them to you and explain details of their gem quality and manufacture. We have an outstanding selection of rings and pins in both yellow and white gold. Ask to see them.

Along the Frio

MRS. OWEN ANDREWS
Mrs. Billy Warrick and her mother, Mrs. Addie Bingham of Valliant, Okla. recently made a two week trip to California to visit their relatives. Ellen did all the driving on the long trip, which included visits with her sister, Mrs. Sherman Isaacs and family, at Goshen, to San Jose to see a grandson and family of Mrs. Bingham's, to Newman to see her sister, to Modesto and back to Ajo, Ariz. to see other relatives. They also took in special sights of interest, Yosemite Park etc. They report a completely good trip, with no car trouble or accident to mar it.

working in the harvest. A nephew of the Lindleys, Jim Greeson, has lived at Sublett for several years. He farms 1500 acres maize and 500 acres corn. Wesley plans to work for Jim Greeson.
Mr. and Mrs. Gary Hathaway are proud parents of a daughter born Monday, Oct. 4 at Dimmitt hospital. She has been named Debbie Louise. The Hathaways also have a 4-year-old son. They live in Hereford and are active members of Frio Baptist Church.

VISITING THE Sam Ogans Friday night and Saturday were the Gordon Parnells of Borger. They and the Ogans went to Portales on Saturday.

Among those attending the annual meeting of W.M.U. for Llanos Altos Association, at Frio Calvary Baptist Church were Mesdames Sam Ogan, Ronnie Andrews, Frank Robbins and Floyd Cole from Frio Baptist Church.

A recent visitor of the John Simpsons and other relatives around here was Miss Edith Martin, a relative, from Dallas. She, the Robert Simpsons and Mrs. John Simpson visited another relative, Mrs. Elmer Gardner, at Clovis on Friday.

Mrs. H.M. Mobley went last weekend to Throckmorton to be with her mother, Mrs. Leila Taylor, as she celebrated her 95 birthday. Mrs. Taylor lives in a Convalescent Home, there.

A grandson of the John Simpsons and of the H.E. Lindleys, Wesley Lindley, with his family were moving from Friona to Sublett, Kan. this week. The Lindleys were there on Wednesday and Thursday. Sam Lindley and O'Neil Greeson have also been there for several weeks.

The H.E. Lindleys and Elza Warricks recently made a trip to Utah to visit their nephew, O. C. Buckmaster, and family and as a fall vacation. They were away about a week. They also visited the Warricks daughter, Mrs. Les Draves and family at Alamosa, Colo.

"This can be partially explained by the higher temperature due to less radiation cooling in fields with a dense plant canopy," he adds.
Metzer says there is no control method to reduce or eliminate this problem. Some reduction in lint yields can be expected. Although regrowth will occur, it will probably be too late to help fiber development.

Robin Price, baby daughter of the Richard Prices, was honored at a shower, at Frio Baptist Church Friday afternoon. Hostesses for the occasion were Mesdames Earl Harkins, Charles Self, Clark Andrews, Robert Dobbins, Kenneth Frye, Ralph Yerby, and John H. Burnett.
A special cake and baby type decorations featured the Fellowship Hall, for the party.

A word of hope is that plants with some leaves remaining should continue to improve fiber development; especially if warm, sunny weather prevails.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Andrews returned home this weekend from a two weeks vacation. They went to Temple Hills, Md. to visit his sister, Mrs. Godfrey Baldwin, Mr. Baldwin and family.

Funeral is held in church here

The funeral of Melchor Avila Hernandez, 59, of the Easter community, was conducted Saturday afternoon in St. Anthony's Catholic Church by the Rev. Boniface Riedmann, pastor. Burial in St. Anthony's Cemetery was directed by Gilliland Funeral Home.

While there they visited many points of interest, at the Capitol and in New York especially. They came back to Norman, Okla. to visit the Marsh Pitmans and both couples were to go to Dallas for the weekend. The highlight of the Dallas visit was to include the Cotton Bowl.

Mr. Hernandez died in a hospital here Wednesday, after a short illness. He was a cotton gin employe.
Born Feb. 9, 1912 at El Paso, he married Angelita Sandoval in 1931 at Corpus Christi. They came to this county recently from Castro County. In addition to his wife, survivors are six daughters, six sons and 16 grandchildren.

Friendship Club met Monday at Easter Community Center. The club has resumed regular meetings, first and third Mondays each month. This week the ladies made hot relish and reported that their families were pleased with the products.
Attending Monday's meeting were Mesdames Sue Andrews, Mary Ogan, Marguerite Cole, Carleta Harkins, Janie Hernandez, Irma Hernandez, Rita Huerreca, Gabriel Holguin, Alice Rodriguez and Tina Duran.

AIKMAN SPOOKS — In song and skit, Aikman's fourth graders, dressed in their best masquerade outfits, gave their parents and friends a preview of the soon-to-come Halloween ghosts and goblins.

The school's first graders also performed for a large audience attending the first meeting of the school year.

Weather problem hits cotton crops

First it was the drouth, and now it is cool, wet weather that is wreaking havoc on the High Plains cotton crop.

Cotton plants with leaves that are turning dark and then falling off have become a common sight in recent weeks, and there is nothing the producer can do about it, says Bob Metzger, Extension area agronomist.

The condition is caused by poor growing conditions or a complete stoppage of growth at temperatures that fell as low as 35 degrees in September, which caused plant injury, especially in the early-planted cotton.

"A sudden rise in temperature after the prolonged cool, wet period caused further injury to plants by insufficient water uptake from cool soil and other associated factors," Metzger explains.

This temperature rise allowed secondary disease organisms to invade the injured areas, causing the leaves to darken and fall off.

The agronomist says that strong northerly winds may also cause desiccation of leaves, especially when temperatures drop below 40 degrees. The large irrigated cotton plants and narrow-row cotton seem to be injured less than small dryland cotton or fields with poor stands.

Role of insecticides may see changes before long

Although insecticides are the most effective tool producers have to protect their crops from insect damage, the role of insecticides may change in the near future as knowledge is gained for new avenues of control.
That's been the findings of research conducted by Dr. George L. Teetes, assistant professor and entomologist in charge of grain sorghum insect research at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center north of Lubbock. Teetes is working at the Center on a long-range research program on greenbug control.
"Integrating insecticides with other methods of control is the goal of our research," explains Dr. Teetes; "however, since almost any aspect of an agro-ecosystem can significantly influence the pest complex, and ultimately plant damage and crop losses, changes in any one aspect can cause far-reaching changes in others."

"This interrelationship increases the complexity and scope of the research problems of integrated control. An integrated control program must be based on sound research in areas such as threshold levels, natural enemies, biological knowledge, crop susceptibility and differential toxicity of insecticides," Teetes says. He adds that research is underway in all these areas.

such an important role. Research initiated by Dr. Dale Bottrell and Jim Cates in 1970, and continued in 1971, shows that low rates of several insecticides will keep greenbug populations below damaging numbers and yet have little effect of beneficial species.
"Our tests show that several insecticides applied at the rate of one-tenth pound actual toxicant per acre had little direct effect on beneficials," Teetes said, "however, such effective control of greenbugs was obtained that beneficials had no food supply on which to maintain themselves and rapidly decrease in numbers." These tests were conducted in small replicated plots as well as large fields with similar results.
Crop susceptibility is one of the main areas of research. The scientists are cooperating with sorghum plant breeders in selecting for plant resistance to the greenbug and attempting to determine the type of resistance that is exhibited, such as tolerance, non-preference or antibiosis. "We have sources of resistance, but we must transfer this resistance into material that is agronomically acceptable," Teetes explained. This process often appears to go slowly, but some of the crosses made this year look encouraging.

Determination of injury levels is an essential part of any insect control program. Teetes' initial findings show that grain sorghum past the boot stage can withstand high numbers of greenbugs without causing severe damage. But researchers need to know more accurately what this level is.
The greenbug has many natural enemies and Texas A&M has research underway to determine how producers can most effectively use these beneficials, especially in conjunction with insecticide application. It is in this area that the differential toxicity of insecticides plays

Biological knowledge of the greenbug is gained every year, but scientists are primarily directing their research to studying the overwintering habits of this pest.
Eventually researchers hope to incorporate all these findings into an integrated control scheme, not necessarily eliminating greenbugs from sorghum, but maintaining populations below economic injury levels using all available means in conjunction with limited insecticide applications.

State president to be at AAUW membership tea

State president of the American Association of University Women, Mrs. William C. Pool of San Marcos, will be the honor guest at a membership tea of the newly-formed Hereford branch Oct. 17 in Pioneer Gas Flame Room.

Mrs. Pool is chairman of the mathematics department of San Marcos Academy and has been active in the AAUW since 1947. She will assist the new branch in enrolling members and starting its program of study and activity.

In addition to those who enrolled at a recent luncheon, all women graduates of accredited colleges are invited to the tea, and to membership in the organization.

Funeral services for Harry Edwin Cayler, 71, a vice president of First National Bank, will be conducted at 10 a.m. Monday in First Baptist Church by Dr. Gerald Mann, pastor. Burial will be at Perryton, directed by Gilliland Funeral Home.

The longtime West Texas banker, who had been a Hereford resident since 1947, died at 9 a.m. Saturday in Deaf Smith County Hospital after a long illness. His home was at 218 Beach.

It was 24 years ago that he began employment for First National Bank of Hereford as assistant cashier, but he had worked for banks since he graduated from high school in 1918 and took a job as bookkeeper for a bank in Booker.

Later he was with banks in Liberal, Kan., Lockney and Plainview, assisted with the re-opening of a bank in Marlin and liquidation of First National at Lott, then was employed at Spearman and Perryton.

For a short time he was an accountant in the Community Public Service Co. at Perryton, but went to the City Bank and Trust a Pampa in 1945, coming from that city to Hereford.

Promoted to head cashier soon after he began work here, he became vice president later. He has seen First National Bank expand to a new building and then enlarge that building, and its deposits grow from about $5 million to the present figure five times that large. Increase in number of employes has also been five-fold.

He was one of the organizers to the United Fund here, has served as County Cancer Society drive chairman, was first player agent for Hereford Little League Association when it was formed in 1956. In Hereford Lions Club, which he has served as secretary-treasurer, he boasts a 21-year perfect attendance record.

He saw military service during World War I and is a member of Hereford American Legion Post.

Born Jan. 4, 1900 at LeMars, Iowa, he married Kathleen Kelly Dec. 26, 1934 at Perryton. She survives him, with a daughter, Mrs. Donna Burks of Plainview.

Also surviving are four sisters, Helen Nichols and Edna Womble of Sacramento, Calif., Pearl Moore of Durango, Colo., and Ruth Osterbuh of Wichita, Kan.; and three grandchildren.

The Cayler family also has requested that all memorials be made to the Hereford Lions Club at either of the banks. The money will be used by the Lions Club for community projects.

The Cayler family also has requested that all members of the Lions Club sit in one group at the funeral services Monday and the employes of the First National Bank sit in a group.

Fall best time to go camping

It won't be long until the "blue northers" come whistling in, prompting many Texans to wrap up in their shawls, brew a cup of hot chocolate and huddle in front of their television sets until next spring. If they do, they will miss the best time to go camping in Texas, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials.

For one thing, everyone goes outdoors in the spring and summer. So when you show up at your favorite camping spot, you find it is the favorite camping spot of a hundred others. Then there's summer weather. It's hot, and the insects seem to

Leisure is unusual treat for ex-clerk

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor
UNACCUSTOMED AS she is to that leisurely feeling, Mrs. J. M. Posey, housewife, is enjoying it thoroughly after 18 years as Lucille Posey, district clerk.

Not that she heeded for a rocking chair the minute she left her office in Deaf Smith County courthouse last week, when her resignation became effective. In fact, she plans to be quite busy for a while, catching up on some housework she has been putting off, and on recreation she enjoys. She has indefinite plans for a visit with relatives in Tennessee, long delayed for lack of time, and she wants to make some shorter trips. There will be more time for her hobbies, golf and bridge.

"HOUSEWORK HAS piled up this year because work at the office had grown to the point that I was too tired to do everything that needed to be done here," she gestured around an immaculate living room in her home at 302 Western. "Now I want to get it out of the way."

Increasing work in her office was not the major factor in her decision to resign as district clerk, although she says "the job gets bigger every year."

She has held the office since it was created by separation from the county clerk's office, and had been an employe for six years previously.

In fact, she has been employed steadily since 1942 when she was one of the civilian office workers at the Prisoners of War camp southwest of Hereford while her husband was in World War II military service.

A PERIOD OF CLERICAL work for a government agency followed, but she found that not so interesting as the POW camp job nor the county offices. One time the POW office was exciting as well as interesting, when there was a short-lived prison break and all civilian employes were sent into one building until the alert was over.

Mrs. Posey enjoyed almost all her duties as district clerk, not only those connected with court sessions where the public sees the clerk at work, but the routine of keeping of records.

Most unpleasant part of the job, she says, was keeping in touch with fathers who fail to obey court orders to pay child support, "because that means men must be sent to jail." Filing divorce suits was another depressing task, and she regretted seeing the number increasing here.

BUT THOSE PHASES of her work were counterbalanced by adoptions, which she calls the happiest occasions.

Careful keeping of records is the important part of the job, and she says there is more money to handle than most people are aware of. All child support payments are made through that office; even when payment is made directly to a mother it must be recorded by the district clerk.

Passport applications are also made there, another pleasant part of the work since a passport usually means a vacation trip or a visit home by the former resident of another country. These have become much more numerous in recent years, too, Mrs. Posey notes.

Her records through 1970 show 2,799 civil cases filed while she was in office and 1,165 criminal cases. Filing fees paid to the county totaled $1,360 her first year in office, compared to $7,941 last year. Child support payments for the same years grew from $9,200 to $81,778.

Mrs. Posey has continued to care for this increasing workload with only part-time assistance. Lola Veazey, who was her latest assistant, succeeded her in the office.

INSTALLATION SPEAKER — Richard Robinson, vocational director at Hereford High School, was guest speaker for the first meeting of the Distributive Education Club at the installation banquet Thursday at the Cason House. There were 33 members and guests present at the meeting.

A MEMBER OF THE Jeff T. Glibreath family, pioneer residents southwest of Hereford, Mrs. Posey is one of eight children who grew up and attended schools here. She was in college when her mother's death brought her and her sister, now Mrs. J. L. Woodford, home to care for younger children in the family.

After she was married, two of her sisters lived in her home for several years and she says she never has missed having children of her own because the younger sisters were like her children. Now she is interested in nieces and nephews and their children, like any proud grandmother.

Although she admits qualms about leaving the job she held so long, feeling her obligation to county residents who kept returning her to the office, she expects to be a happy retiree at home, traveling, on the golf course or at a bridge table.

Shower given recently

Preceding her wedding, planned for Oct. 24, Rhonda Goeringer was complimented with a shower recently in the Flame Room of Pioneer Gas Co. She is the bride-elect of Robert Wagner.

Shower hostesses were Mmes. Edgar Lemons, Ellis Lemons, Carl Lynn Hollingsworth, George Tiefel, Hubert Stoemer, Noble Howard, Charles Wagner, E. F. Vogler and Glenn Osborn.

The honoree greeted guests with her mother, Mrs. Connie Goeringer, and her fiance's mother, Mrs. Martin Wagner. Her sister, Toni, was at the bride's book where callers registered.

Miss Janet Baker poured punch at a table laid with lace over blue and decorated with blue and white feverfew and chrysanthemums.

Scott-Sims vows planned today

Miss Phyllis Scott and Dennis Clayton Sims will be married this afternoon in the home of the bride's brother, Don Scott, and Mrs. Scott at 504 Willow Lane. The Rev. Clarence Powell, Baptist pastor, will officiate for the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jesse C. Scott of Route 4, and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis F. Sims, 112 Avenue I.

Lavender and white flowers will decorate the room in which wedding vows will be read. Attending the couple will be Miss Kathy Scott, sister of the bride as maid of honor and Jimmy Sims, best man.

To be given in marriage, by her father, the bride has selected a floor-length, lace gown featuring three-quarter length puffed sleeves. Her waist-length veil is also designed in lace and her bouquet consists of lavender and white fall flowers.

Sina Sims and Mrs. Don Scott will serve cake at the reception following, also in the Scott home.

Bobby Thompson and Kathy Scott will pour punch and coffee while guests register with Mrs. Keith Sorenson. Others assisting will be Rita Sims and Mrs. A.O. Young.

The wedding cake, white with lavender sugar flower trim and topped with bride and groom figurines, will center the serving table.

For a honeymoon trip to New Mexico the bride will wear a white lace pantsuit and white

Veteran's affairs

Q — Some years ago, VA denied my claim for a disability pension and now I am becoming progressively worse. What can I do to have my claim re-considered?

A — Submit to the VA office which studied your claim or the one nearest you if you have moved, a statement from your doctor as to the current status of your disability.

Q — Two years ago, I was studying under the G.I. Bill but dropped out at the end of the semester. I now plan to enroll in the same school and program. How can I start my education benefits again?

A — Notify the school to submit a re-enrollment certification to VA. This will start your benefits again, provided the school and program are currently approved, and you have not exhausted your entitlement.

Q — Are widows of World War II veterans who died of active duty or from service-connected disabilities still eligible for G.I. home loans?

A — Yes. A recent law revived unused, expired entitlement for unmarried widows of WW II veterans as well as for veterans themselves.

This is the 85th football season for Penn State.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)— Amid the furor over leakage of the secret Pentagon papers, the United Nations reminded its employees that any document marked "restricted" should go only to "a restricted group."

Papers marked "Conference Room Paper," are to go only to "the participants and other interested recipients attending the meetings at which they were discussed."

Project to aid Westgate folk planned in club

Making lap spreads for patients at Westgate hospital unit of Kings Manor retirement home, current project of Cultural Home Demonstration Club, was planned at a meeting Friday afternoon in Mrs. Burke Inman's home.

Mrs. M. W. Sumner presented the program topic, Family Communications, and Mmes. Grady Parsons, J. D. Love, J. G. Gandy and the hostess joined in general discussion.

Adapting methods of communication to the circumstances involved, and clarifying ideas before expressing them to other family members, were emphasized by Mrs. Sumner as vital points in the exchange of ideas. "Seek not to be understood so much as to understand," she paraphrased a quotation from St. Francis of Assisi.

H.D. CHATTER

What goes into a good salad?

By Mrs. Argen Draper

Home Demonstration Agent

- 1 large firm diced tomato
- 1 large firm stalk of celery diced
- 2 medium sized grated carrots
- 3 young tender green onions (optional)
- 1/4 head of purple cabbage (optional)

Put all ingredients into large salad bowl with lid on and toss. The grated carrot give liquid and are also sweet.

QUICK CHEESE-BREAD

- 2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 4 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 1/4 teaspoons salt
- one-third cup solid all-vegetable shortening
- 1 1/4 cups grated sharp Cheddar cheese
- 1 egg
- 3/4 cup milk

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt in large mixing bowl. Cut shortening and cheese into flour until mixture resembles coarse meal. Blend egg with milk and stir into flour mixture. Spoon batter into a well-greased 8 1/2 x 4 1/2 inch loaf pan.

Bake in 350-degree (moderate) oven for 1 hour, or until lightly browned and bread tests done with a toothpick. Turn out and cool on rack 15 to 20 minutes before slicing. Makes one loaf. This bread may be served hot or cold and it is excellent toasted.

TOSSED SALAD

- Earlene Cook
- 1/2 head of firm lettuce
- 1 doz. sliced small redishes
- 1 long slender cucumber sliced

Trees which shed their bark during certain intervals of the year are called decortivating trees.

Salads have no season, but their popularity zooms during warm fall days. Crisp and refreshing, salads beat the heat and pep up flagging appetites. With the fresh produce array available during these months, vegetables and fruit salads are especially a joy to prepare.

But no matter what kind of salad you create, it will usually include greens, either as the basic ingredient or as a bed or garnish for other ingredients. According to the national average per capita, each of us eat twenty-one and a half pounds of greens yearly.

Head lettuce is the most popular salad green. But other kinds add variety in texture, taste and color. The brilliant green of outside lettuce leaves for example, or the dark green of spinach leaves help make a salad more interesting.

Or add watercress and spark salad with a spicy flavor. If you're not familiar with salad greens, the quickest way to become acquainted is to buy and try. Once you know the taste, you can use greens to their best advantage.

Proper handling of salad greens is also important for crisp, tasty salads. At home, remove fringed or inedible leaves and twist or cut out cores. Wash greens gently under cold running water, then drain well. Place in a moisture-vapor proof container and refrigerate.

Store the greens in a separate area from fruits, such as melons, apples and pears. These fruits give off ethylene gas as they ripen and are one cause of "rusting greens."

Another salad favorite is the tomato. This rich red fruit vegetable is rich in vitamins A and C. One medium-sized tomato, eaten raw, supplies almost one-half of the daily requirement of vitamin C and one-third of the vitamin A.

When you buy tomatoes, look for those which are firm and not overripe. Test their firmness by holding them gently in your hand.

Choose plump, smooth tomatoes that have an even red color and are fairly well shaped. Avoid bruised, puffy tomatoes; they are watery and usually break down when cut, and have a poor flavor.

Tomatoes with small irregularities, such as well-healed growth cracks, roughness or uneven shape, are undesirable only from the standpoint of appearance.

Tomatoes are usually sold by the pound this time of year. When buying them, remember one pound equals four servings—about 2 large, 3 medium or 4 small tomatoes.

At home, the specialist says to store ripe tomatoes in the refrigerator and use quickly. Toma-

Former residents win twin pageant

(Editor's note: Becky and Barbara Sellers were residents of Hereford until their recent move to California this year. They attended school here for a short time and were entered in the Miss Sugarland Mall Beauty Pageant. This article was taken from the Palo Alto Times, Palo Alto, Calif.)

BY TERRY HANSEN

Two blonde beauties, speaking like true Texans—which they're not—won the Miss Twins California pageant at the Cabana Hyatt House Hotel in Palo Alto Sunday night.

Becky and Barbara Sellers, 19, freely admitted to the crowd of some 600 persons that they'd resided most of their life in Wyoming and had lived only a short time in Texas before moving to San Diego.

Nonetheless, the girls couldn't keep the soft "you-all" dialect out of their voice.

The twins, born within 15 minutes of one another, are students at Grossmont College.

Barbara wants to go into law, Becky into home economics.

MARRIAGE

The girls, however, would like to be married in about two years though neither has a likely prospect at the moment.

Becky brought down the house with her remark that she was interested in home economics to take "better care" of a husband.

"But we've got to get hold of two husbands first," she said.

The girls both are 5 feet 4½ inches, 110 pounds, and have measurements of 34-23-34.

Their collective personality apparently was sparking enough to have the other contestants designate them both "Miss Congeniality" of the pageant.

The twins will now represent California in the national pageant to be held at a later date.

The girls admitted, as did most of the other twins, that they'd switched dates from time to time.

They live with an older sister in San Diego. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Sellers.

Their father is a mechanical engineer now on a project in Brawley, Calif.

There were 17 sets of twins in the contest.

Garden clubs set weekend flower shows

AUTUMNAL BEAUTY from Hereford gardens will be on display this weekend in two flower shows, both open to the public at no admission charge. Bud to Blossom Garden Club will stage its show in Pioneer Gas Company's Flame Room Friday with the theme, Potpourri of the Golden Spread, and Hereford Garden Club has chosen the unusual locale of First National Bank lobby for its Saturday and Sunday event to fit its theme, Banking on Artistry.

STANDARD FLOWER SHOWS, both will have judges accredited by the National Council of Garden Clubs in horticulture and artistic divisions. Ribbons will be given to indicate places; sweepstakes awards will be made in the two divisions; and special awards will include the tri-color, award of distinction and creativity award in arrangement, also the award of merit and the new arboreal award in horticulture.

GENERAL CHAIRMAN of Bud to Blossom show is Mrs. Wayne Porter, right, reviewing the schedule with Mrs. R. N. Yarbro, club president, and Mrs. Gaylon Bryan, standing, schedule committee member and chairman of junior exhibits.

AT THE BANK ENTRANCE, Mrs. Ben Childers, general chairman of Hereford Club's show, invites visitors to view exhibits classified under such names as gold standard, for dinner table settings; compound interest for mass arrangements, petty cash for small arrangements, garden "cents" for roses and clearing-house for annual blossoms.

HEREFORD, TEXAS 79045, SUNDAY, OCT. 10, 1971

STAGING CHAIRMAN, Mrs. W. C. Hromas, right, at the customer's counter in the bank lobby discusses with Mrs. L. W. Norvell of the staging committee some plans for most effective display of the Hereford Garden Club entries.

In our part of America there is much beauty, and we should have a real sense of pride in the beauty of the land, the crops, the new homes, the beauty created through landscaping, and gardening.

Yes, from sea to shining sea and from plains lands to mountain majestic America is a truly proud land!

Then what is all of this talk about the problem of pollution and the abuse of this beautiful land? Problem? Yes, a big one—and one that must be reckoned with to assure that this proud land, and Beautiful America will be preserved for our future generation. Strange and a bit funny, everyone is just now getting concerned with our environment and the problems of ecology.

People throughout our loved America are becoming awakened to the fact that we must all work together to preserve the rich heritage that is ours and to continue to the very best of our ability to practice conservation, and those things which apply most to pollution.

For years the Garden Clubs of America have been working on preserving America's beauty for the growing generation and others. It is helpful and refreshing to know that others are beginning to care and many other organizations have joined hands. Truly everyone's help is needed. After all, it is OUR America!

The following are some Quotes or Notes on what we do to create pollution, which effects environment and the ecological system of things we may well come to live in the most affluent slum in the world.

"People make pollution—directly or indirectly". Thomas B. Yost.

We people are affluent. We demand the better things of life—air-conditioning, television, electric appliances, etc. We demand and use power—and power plants are one of the greatest sources of air and water pollution.

Some home-makers think they must use the washing machine every day. Perhaps so? However if a study of house chores and proper planning, some of this could be eliminated, thus we would be helping to control pollution. Wise choice of aids in the laundry should be thoroughly studied by the homemaker.

131 millions cans are bought by Americans per day. You do not destroy anything—you just change its shape, size or location. The molecules remain—there is no such thing as disposal of anything.

When the average person throws something away we think we have no further cost or responsibility. This is a fallacy. All we have done is relinquished or torn up our title to the object—we are still paying for it. We are paying for it being hauled away, for disposal treatment plants, landfills, in taxes, contaminated air and water. And for the trash gatherers or the Hi-way men to pick up and destroy. The amount of money expended on payment of salaries of these people is tremendous. Who pays? ...the tax payer. Make a study of this and the facts will be alarming. 5.3 lbs. of solid waste, per person per day is collected. By 1980 it is predicted that this figure will rise to 8 lbs. per person per day. Take time to make a resume of what you throw away per day, as trash on the streets, alleys or Highways.

Solid waste — orange peel, throwaway bottles, aluminum foil, waxpaper and Junior's old highchair, an old wagon. The discarded leftovers of the consumer (watch the waste of foods at your house). Various other materials which are difficult to burn or do not self-destruct within a reasonable time, we each discard or throwaway daily. Careless about electricity?!

Be ever alert as to the great importance of water. It is not just H<sub>2</sub>O—it is more than hydrogen and oxygen...MUCH MORE. Water ways, streams, lakes, etc. have been badly abused...in fact many streams that used to run clear and sparkling are now filthy...because of pollution.

Everyone should become MORE AWARE of what is being done to our Proud Land, OUR Beautiful America. We all are for clean air and water, but what do we do about it? Do we waste precious water? Enough waste water runs down our streets (because of carelessness) to water one or more lawns for a month. We are all guilty in one way or another. Let us become more informed. Study science and laws. Study environments around our own home town. Inform ourselves as to what is being done to conserve our resources and heritage.

Today we have words—to-morrow it must be deeds.

In going from place to place in the last months I have noted that people are becoming conscious of pollution and cleanliness. It was wonderful to note the changes that had been made in our Nation's Capitol. The beautification and work of the Garden Clubs, and other organizations were certainly noticeable.

In Wichita Kansas, the main street Douglas, has been made most attractive, by the planting of trees and other plants. The Magnificent City Civic Center adds such a wonderful note of beauty to an area that had been unsightly. The architecture of the building is beautiful, and the landscaping is most effective. The sunken gardens, with paths to walk by the riverside (the water is running cleaner) are places of beauty and restfulness, (it is my hope that someday Hereford can have beautiful walking paths as a part of a well planned and beautiful park. They are needed and would add greatly to our environment). One of the banks has built a new building and the landscaping is really well done. Is like entering a garden to go to the entrance of the bank. Substantial benches, of stone have been attractively placed for the shoppers and others who want to sit and enjoy cleanliness and beauty. In one of the banks, where the drive in parking area was located, it too had been beautified by plantings.

The moonlight has been gorgeous the past week. It is such fun and pleasure to walk in the garden in the moonlight. I find it is peaceful, restful and inspirational, and aids in fitting one for the days that are to follow. The bright blue skies have been clear and lovely, very picturesque when the soft white clouds go floating by. A group of Garden Club ladies were in the garden this week and we sat on the patio and thoroughly enjoyed the beauty about us.

Congratulations to the winners of the Beauty Spots of the month of September. The full warm colors of the golden and yellow marigolds at the Phillips home on I St. (Wayne Phillips) are beautiful to behold. The green of the lawn, makes it all more lovely to see. The flowers, lawns, and garden accessories have made King's Manor a place of attraction and beauty. Do go see these lovely grounds, and pay especial attention to the window boxes at the cottages.

While visiting in the Pickens home it was a delight to see the very fine nasturtiums that she had grown. They are the vining type, and have had an abundance of bloom. Rich fall colors are exceptionally pretty at the State Hi-way House. In comparison, of colors the blend of lavender with other flowering plants at the Friemel home is most interesting and lovely. Ornamental grass clumps are at their height now. Drive out Sunset street, and note the pretty grass at the Dr. Noble home, at the Howel's and then near by the Brooks.

The long graceful fronds of grass dries very well, and makes attractive winter arrangements. Be sure and cut before full maturity, treat and spray lightly and then hang upside down before using.

Much color has been created in town this planting season by geraniums. Red, pink, rose, white, and coral are some of the colors. Seems the blossoms and stems are larger than usual and of much better quality.

Prepare grounds for the planting of the fall bulbs for spring blossoms!!

Letter to the editor

Dear Editor,
This letter is to civic-minded people of Hereford who care about our youth.

Hereford Camp Fire has need for people just like you. Camp Fire is taking a stand, we accept the challenge of the changing world and want to keep our good basic goals. We can't do this without adult help.

We want to be bigger, to include each girl in Hereford who wants Camp Fire; be better, by having specialists advise the girls; and share with more people a great experience with our girls.

There are many ways which you can help. We need leaders, assistant leaders, and sponsors. Share with the girls your hobbies' special training or any skill. Before a new group can be organized it must have leaders, assistants, and a sponsor which can be men or women. No adult, no group, is a bunch of disappointed girls.

It's fun keeping young with the youth, of course there's responsibility too. Any friend of youth can be a leader or assistant. Any dad or mother, business or organization, any church or group can be a sponsor. Being a part of Camp Fire is a link between "the girls" and the community at large; it's a two-way experience.

To the leaders we have now let me say thank you from all of our council and the girls. A leader is someone who is very special. Someone who tries to listen to 10 little girls' conversation all at the same time. Someone who calls five mothers about the one galosh that's left at the meeting place. Someone who wakes up in the middle of the night worrying about the little girl who didn't come to the last meeting. Someone who finds that cookies, Kool-Aid and kind words will help solve most any girl's problems. Someone who attends hours of training and how-to-seasons only to discover that the meaning of Camp Fire is at the bottom of her own heart. Someone who remembers to bring insect repellent. Someone who says, "Yes, I'll do it!" when it should be, "No, no a thousand times, no!"

Someone who gets a warning ticket from the State Patrol with a station wagon full of very quiet girls. Someone who is a friend to the "Friendless," and foe only to big brothers who throw rocks. Someone who breathes deeply of the wonderful

MULTIPLE CLASS REUNION — A number of Hereford High School graduates from the 1940's are preparing a reuniting event for all ex-students of the school, which will take place during Hereford's "Homecoming Weekend," Oct. 29-30. Shown preparing posters for the reunion are, left to right; Mrs. J. R. Euler, class of '46; Mrs. Jim Noyes, class of '46; Mrs. Lewis Beckman, class of '47;

Mrs. Bill Stengel, class of '46; Mrs. Grant Hanna, class of '41; and Bill Davis, class of '42. Participation in the homecoming parade on Friday afternoon, attendance at the Hereford-Plainview game on Friday evening, a family barbecue Saturday noon, tours of local industries and schools Saturday afternoon, and a Saturday evening dance are being planned for this reunion.

silence after they all go home but looks forward to the meeting next week. Someone who sings "Kookaburra" in the shower. Someone who knows the secret of eternal youth is not at the cosmetic counter but in meeting with it every week. Someone who gives and gives and gives and gets: sticky kisses, shy hugs, sly winks, and not too much later-wedding invitations and baby announcements.

A leader is someone who is very special. For further details about this challenging volunteer job so full of rich reward for you, get in touch with our local Camp Fire girls, 905 14th Street, phone 364-0395 or 364-3352.

Please help us take all the girls who want in Camp-Fire. Thank you,

Banks observe public holiday

The Congress of the United States and the Texas Legislature have designated the second and fourth Mondays in October as public holidays on which all state and federal offices and all banks in Texas must close, according to Oscar Lindemann of Dallas, President of the Texas Bankers Association.

The traditional Columbus Day of October 12 and Veterans Day of November 11 were changed several years ago by Congress and the Texas Legislature to the second and fourth Mondays in October. October 1971 will be the first year, however, in which these new Monday public holidays will be observed.

Both dates were declared mandatory bank holidays by the Texas Legislature so that Texas laws would conform with the laws of the federal government and a majority of the other states, Lindemann said.

The old golf course at St. Andrews in Scotland was built in 1552.

Year-round learning in

The traditional method of operating the public schools of Texas is on its way out. It is only a matter of time until students of this state have year-round schools.

It surprised some folks to learn that the state legislature has already passed a law for changing the school system of operation. Beginning with the school year of 1973-74, Texas public schools will go on a four quarter system instead of a two semester system, and there will be schools operated the year round.

This brings up some problems, of course. Most Texas schools will have to invest in air conditioning in the summer. Most of the newer schools have done this, apparently in anticipation of the change.

Parents who have always taken their vacation in the summer because the children were in school during the winter may now find that junior is in school during the summer quarter.

The nine month school term and three month summer vacation came about in an earlier era when children had to work on the farm to bring in the crops. It hasn't been too long ago since a lot of Texas schools let out during cotton picking time in the fall for the same reason.

However, Texas has moved from a rural to an urban society and most of the students in public schools are not needed on the farm. Most students in rural areas could get by without a summer vacation, for that matter, because farm work isn't what it used to be. It is still traditional, however.

The primary move toward year round schools is money. Taxpayers have balked at passing bond issues for new construction when the schools they have sit idle a fourth of the year. Changing to a four quarter method would get the most mileage out of school facilities. Of course it would increase the cost of maintenance, too, because heavy school traffic in classrooms and halls does wear out buildings.

The new Texas law allows state aid, as of Sept. 1, 1972, for schools offering a three-out-of-four quarter system. Several schools are going to put in the four quarter system next year.

This may change things for teachers, too. Instead of the traditional three month summer vacation, they may have to learn to get by with the traditional two week vacation taken by other folks. Of course, teachers will expect to get more pay for a year round job instead of pay based on ten months at present.

A lot of problems will arise, and it will take a lot of getting used to before Texas schools operate in the summer. It is evident that this is what is going to take place, however, and people may as well get used to the idea.

The constructionists

President Nixon's search for "strict constructionists" to fill the two vacant Supreme Court seats sounds fine in principle but raises some problems of definition.

A "strict constructionist" by broad definition believes the federal Constitution to be a limiting document, restricting the right of the federal government to expand its powers over the people and the lower levels of government. A somewhat more narrow definition holds that the limits on federal power are primarily designed to protect the rights of the states.

The history of the country could almost be written in terms of the struggle between strict and liberal constructionists over what powers the Constitution authorizes the federal government to assume. Over the long pull, of course, the liberal constructionists have won a string of victories that have expanded federal power.

In seeking strict constructionists, President Nixon would seem to be trying to erect a judicial barrier against a further expansion of federal power over the indefinite period that the "Nixon court" will sit. But Supreme Court appointments are never that simple. The President will not be nominating automatons but jurists who, once in office, will deal with constitutional principles and the realities that surround the cases that come before them.

Presumably, the President was following his usual guidelines in his appointments of Justices Burger and Blackmun. Yet in the Pentagon papers case, one of the most significant constitutional tests that has come before the court in the Burger-Blackmun era, the two Nixon appointees sounded more liberal than strict.

The court, following the leadership of the late Justice Black, held that the freedom of the press clause in the First Amendment prohibited prior restraint by government of newspaper rights to publish the Pentagon papers. The Constitution means what it says on this point, Justice Black held. Both Justices Burger and Blackmun dissented, with Justice Burger writing in his opinion that he rejected the view that the First Amendment is an absolute in all circumstances.

The question arises whether the President is seeking strict constructionists in the narrow states' rights sense or strict constructionists in the broader Bill-of-Rights sense. There are times when the two principles are in conflict, the nation's history has shown. State and local laws themselves have abridged the rights that the Constitution would seem to guarantee.

For our part, we hope that the President will find candidates who are strict constructionists in the broader sense, with the intellectual breadth and strength to uphold basic personal freedoms against encroachment by any level of government.

Those freedoms and rights supply the fundamental moral premise upon which the nation was founded and which it has sought to live up to, with varying degrees of success, over its history. If they are sacrificed to expediency or if the nation ever loses faith in their fundamental soundness, the grand American experiment will have ended.

We doubt that any such thing is going to happen in any foreseeable future, but the wisdom of the President's choices for what will be his third and fourth appointees to the court will play a significant role in insuring that it doesn't. We hope that for him "strict constructionist" is more than just a label and is meant in its broadest and fullest sense.

Nixon could select up to six high court justices

BY BERT MILLS

Washington, D.C. — President Nixon has filled two of the nine seats on the Supreme Court, has two more vacancies at the moment, and could select six of the justices before concluding his service in the White House.

Chief Justice Warren Burger and Associate Justice Harry Blackmun received their appointments from Nixon, as will the replacements for the late Hugo Black and the retired John Harlan. In addition, William Douglas is 72 and survives with the aid of a heart pacemaker, and Thurgood Marshall is in ill health and may be forced to quit.

If Nixon is elected to another term next year and remains President until 1977, the odds favor him getting one or two more vacancies to fill. Liberals who are waiting now because Nixon has had four seats to fill in less than three years are due to become still more unhappy before 1977 arrives.

However, six court appointments would not approach the record of 11, set by George Washington. And conservatives will recall that while Franklin Roosevelt failed in his effort to "pack" the Supreme Court, he did make eight appointments during his more than 12 years in office.

History also shows other precedents. Both Andrew Jackson and William Taft, later a Chief Justice himself, made six court appointments, and Abraham Lincoln and Dwight Eisenhower made five. So while Nixon's opportunity to reshape the court is unusual, it is by no means unprecedented.

Liberal Minority Foreseen

Among the seven justices now sitting, only three are considered to be dedicated liberals. Two of them, Douglas and Marshall, are prospects for early replacement, which leaves William Brennan in a prospective lonesome position. This assumes that Nixon is not likely to appoint anybody that will be identified as a liberal, although Brennan was an Eisenhower selection.

For about a quarter century, the Supreme Court has been noted for what legal scholars call "activism." More recently and particularly in the past two years since Burger and Blackmun began their service, the pendulum has begun to swing the other way, although there have been a series of 5-4 decisions which are not very conclusive.

During the 17 years that Earl Warren served as Chief Justice, ending in 1969, the court rendered a series of sweeping decisions which have brought about social changes affecting everybody. Often it seemed that the Supreme Court was writing the law of the land, and not Congress.

Incidentally it should be recalled, particularly by the Democratic liberals who are unhappy about a Republican President filling court seats, that Warren was appointed by Eisenhower. Warren had been a Republican Governor of California and a G.O.P. nominee for Vice President.

Also President John F. Kennedy got only one chance to make a court appointment and chose Byron White, who usually votes with the conservatives. The moral is that a Republican appointee is not necessarily a conservative nor a Democrat necessarily a liberal.

Breathing Spell May Come

The history of the Supreme Court shows that a period of activism is followed by a breathing spell. That seems to be what lies ahead, while new members adjust to their task, and a breathing spell is probably what the nation needs now and in the immediate future. The far-reaching decisions of the '50s and '60s need to be assimilated, digested, and refined.

When an issue like school integration is finally resolved by a court decision, it takes decades for the revolutionary situation to be met. Lower courts must follow through and implement the precedents and Congress must update the laws. Meanwhile the public must learn to live under new rules.

If the new and prospective Supreme Court does eschew activism, most Americans will probably be grateful. The fewer banner headlines the court gets in the future, the better most people will like it.

Talk of Texas

BANK NOTE—In order to do business with one San Antonio bank, even a new depositor has to have a letter of reference from someone who is already a customer.

D. A. Oppenheimer, Bankers, is one of the few private banks around, and it doesn't seek new customers at all. If someone does insist on opening an account, he has to have a minimum of $500, plus a referral from a client of the bank. And he must understand that his deposit won't be insured and that the bank makes loans only on a personal basis to a loyal clientele.

Oppenheimer is one of the state's oldest banks. Because it is a private bank, it is not subject to regulation and doesn't even bother to issue financial statements. It doesn't belong to the Federal Reserve and has no loan committee.

Its customers, however, are unusually loyal; Some of them are families which the bank has served for four generations.

IT TAKES ALL KINDS—Fred Newton of Gainesville, Cooke County, once swam the Mississippi River from Minnesota to New Orleans.

On July 6, 1930, he dived into the big river near its headwaters. Followed by his brother in a rowboat, he swam the entire length in stretches that lasted from three to almost 12 hours. He finally arrived in New Orleans on December 9—five months and three days later.

RETURN OF A GHOST—New Birmingham, the Rusk County town that hoped to become the "Iron Queen of the Southwest" in the 1880's, has been deserted for 76 years—but its old Main Street now is a nature trail for hikers.

A Lufkin paper mill, which owns the rocky, hilly forestland that once was the New Birmingham townsite, opened the hiking trail in 1969. The red-dirt trail winds through the ore-rich hills from which New Birmingham's founders hoped to develop a great iron industry.

Almost no sign of the old town remain, but the path carved from the old street is one of the most beautiful hiking trails in East Texas.

DOWN MEMORY LANE—One of the most unique exposition buildings ever constructed in Texas was the old Cotton Palace in Waco.

In the 1890's, Waco was one of the largest cotton markets in the South and citizens decided to launch a fair and exposition to honor the crop that had done so much for the Central Texas economy. They built a large and ornate central building for the exposition and named it the Cotton Palace. It was decorated by tacking thousands of open cotton bolls to its outer walls.

Built in 1894, the Cotton Palace burned in 1895. In 1910, however, the exposition was started anew and continued until the 1930's.

TRAVELING TEXAS—The Landmark Inn, at Castroville, Medina County, still serving travelers after 123 years of operation, once provided a lead-lined bathhouse for its guests. Today the Landmark is known as the Vance Hotel.

SENSING THE NEWS

By Anthony Harrigan

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT
Southern States Industrial Council

In accepting the "Great American Humanitarian Award" given by the American-Nigerian Committee, U. S. Sen. Ernest F. Hollings (D-S.C.) repeated the familiar liberal theme that the nation needs "a national commitment to end hunger." It is a theme that is irritating to working citizens who must pick up the tab for the free-loaders on relief.

Sen. Hollings would have better served the country had he stressed the need for a national commitment to end parasitism and welfare-chiseling. Only the day before Sen. Hollings spoke in New York City, "The New York Times" said that the state controller reported the fraudulent cashing last year of about $4 million in duplicate relief checks. Ironically, New York officials apparently aren't planning a crackdown on offenders. Instead welfare recipients will be able to draw money as well as food stamps from accounts established in their names at neighborhood banks. Certainly, that's something new in government giveaways—individual, taxpayer-supplied bank accounts for non-workers.

In his speech, the "Great American Humanitarian" from South Carolina complained that millions of families "are getting no help whatsoever" from the taxpayers, adding that "they are denied the right to participate in the food stamp program solely because our government has decided that to feed hungry Americans would be fiscally irresponsible."

No doubt food stamp recipients—many of whom are well-dressed and who enjoy purchasing choice cuts of meat and other goodies with taxpayers' funds—will be gratified at Sen. Hollings' solicitude for the non-working population. The citizens who have to pay the bill for the parasites may not be pleased, however. They may wonder whether the senator read the federal government's statistics on welfare, published the day before Sen. Hollings received the "Great American Humanitarian Award."

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare disclosed Sept. 23 that total welfare spending for the last fiscal year was $16.3 billion, an increase of 27 per cent over the previous year and almost twice the $8.9 billion figure of four years ago. The number of persons on the welfare rolls increased by 17 per cent during the last fiscal year.

These statistics tell a story of growing indolence and dependency in our society. Relief began in the 1930s as a temporary measure. Today, welfare is a way of life. Food stamp programs, which Sen. Hollings had a major role in pushing through the Senate, have created a new privileged class of hand-out recipients.

The ordinary working man is understandably resentful of the food stamp programs. He buys hamburger in the supermarket while the food stamp recipient buys items the working man can't afford. Proponents of food stamps deny this, but anyone who spends a little time in supermarket checkout lanes gets the truth about the food stamp abuses.

No one wants Americans to be without food. Certainly, public assistance should be available to people who are destitute. But many of the people receiving welfare or food stamps are people who refuse to accept such jobs as are available. Moreover, political sentimentality about the hunger issue has made idleness profitable. Increasingly, the incentives in our society encourage withdrawal from the work force.

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discusses the monetary system this week, mainly from the theoretical side, of course.

Dear editor:

There's no way around it, the people in Europe are a bunch of sissies.

According to an article I read last night in a newspaper that turned up in my mail box by mistake—the new postal service hasn't, as some feared, abandoned all the fine traditions of the old one—all the countries in Europe are biting their finger nails and losing sleep over the value of the American dollar. It's going down.

As a result, everybody is selling dollars, refusing to take dollars from tourists, and generally demanding that something be done before all Europe panics.

Clearly, they are a bunch of sissies. Why, the value of the dollar has been going down for years in the United States and I haven't found anybody yet who has refused to take one. Everybody I know would like to have a lot more of them.

In fact, it takes a lot more of them to pay two dollars for a dollars worth of groceries.

Of course, the monetary system is one of the things I and possibly some others, say three-fourths of Congress and all economists, have never been able to understand, and it may be that the value of the dollar hasn't gone down, just the price of things has gone up.

Whichever way it is and regardless of whether the dollar is worth 100 cents or 48 cents, I have never seen a man yet who, makes no difference what shape his back was in, wouldn't, if he saw one lying on the street, bend over and pick it up. I know a banker who dislocated a hip bending over to pick up a quarter.

Europeans ought to calm down and latch on to all the dollars they can.

As the saying goes, a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush, but you'd better not let the Environmentalists hear you say this.

Personally, I've got confidence in the dollar. It's still worth 100 cents. Unfortunately though a cent is just worth half a penny. That's where the trouble is.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Anyone involved or interested in Mustang, Bronco, Colt or Pony League baseball should attend.

At the library

Saga of family is new at library

Theirs Was the Kingdom is the remarkable volume of truth and reality of a man and his family. This best-selling novel is found on the first floor of the courthouse in Deaf Smith County Library.

THEIRS WAS THE KINGDOM
By R. F. Delderfield

"In the long, noble line of the English novel, R. F. Delderfield is building an imposing, artistic social history," wrote John K. Hutchens. "His narratives belong in a tradition that goes back to John Galsworthy and Arnold Bennett."

Theirs Was the Kingdom is the companion volume to God Is an Englishman, Delderfield's massive, best-selling introduction to Adam and Henrietta Swann, and to the foundation of "Swann on Wheels." Adam's ambitious and brisly successful bid for fortune in the frenzied commercial expansion of mid-Victorian England.

In this new volume (which stands by itself but can also be read as a sequel), Adam Swann is still the central character—ambitious, deeply in love with his tough-minded and independent wife, Henrietta, passionately devoted to his work—but the focus of the novel is beginning to turn to his children and their far-flung concerns. Alex is a professional soldier, through whose eyes we relive the triumphs and tragedies of Imperial England, the terrible defeats at Isandlwana and Rorke's Drift, the heroic relief of Khartoum.

Stella is the daughter whose marriage into landed aristocracy is annulled when her mother discovers that the unfortunate girl's husband is a homosexual and her father-in-law an unprincipled lecher.

Deborah devotes herself to uncovering the terrible injustices of the period, and through her we see the poverty, degradation and corruption beneath the glittering self-righteous surface of Victoria's England.

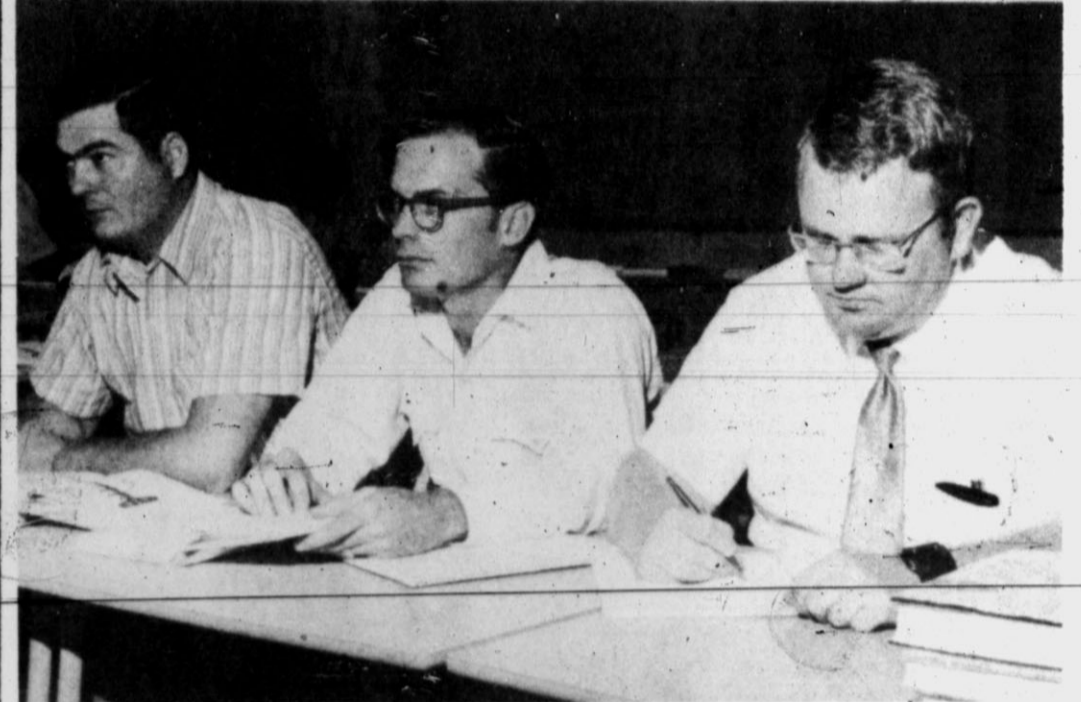

George returns from Germany determined to take over his father's business and reshape it, and brings with him a new invention that will revolutionize Swann's and change the face of England—the first motor-driven transport vehicle.

Its appearance, rumbling and roaring at 22 miles an hour down the roads that have hitherto known only men and horses, is the signal for Adam Swann's retirement as he passes the torch to a new generation.

Like God Is an Englishman, Theirs Was the Kingdom is a brilliantly woven tapestry of history, fact and adventure. It is also the continuation of one of the most successful and compelling family sagas in English literature since The Forsythe Saga.

Just-wed. couple goes to home in Indiana

Miss Barbara Wheeler of Michigan City, Indiana, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wheeler, 246 Elm, and Kurt Tanger of La Porte, Indiana were married last evening in First Baptist Church of Vega. Reverend Clyde Cain of Amarillo, pastor of Avondale Baptist Church, officiated.

The church was decorated with white gladiolas, orange carnations and candelabra arranged with orange candles.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Bert Decker of San Marcos. Ken Allen of La Porte was best man. Bridesmaids were Kathy Wheeler, sister of the bride, and Gwen Friemel of Amarillo.

Groomsmen were David Wheeler, brother of the bride, and C.E. Willeford, her uncle. Ushers were Perry Kirkland and Jerry Flood of Vega, and Clarence Henninger of Lubbock.

Flower girl was Kenda Walker of Littlefield and the ring bearer Tom Kirkland of Amarillo. Candles were lighted by Shirley Wheeler, sister of the bride, and Donna Henninger of Lubbock.

Music was by Mrs. Clyde Cain of Amarillo, organist, with Miss Karen Hobbs of Vega singing solos.

The bride's gown, organza over peau de soie, had narrow lace ruffled around the empire waist-up-the-front of the bodice and around the high neck and cuffs.

Her headpiece was made of scallops of ribbon through lace flowers.

Her lace-bordered train was attached with a bow at the back waistline. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white roses and carnations.

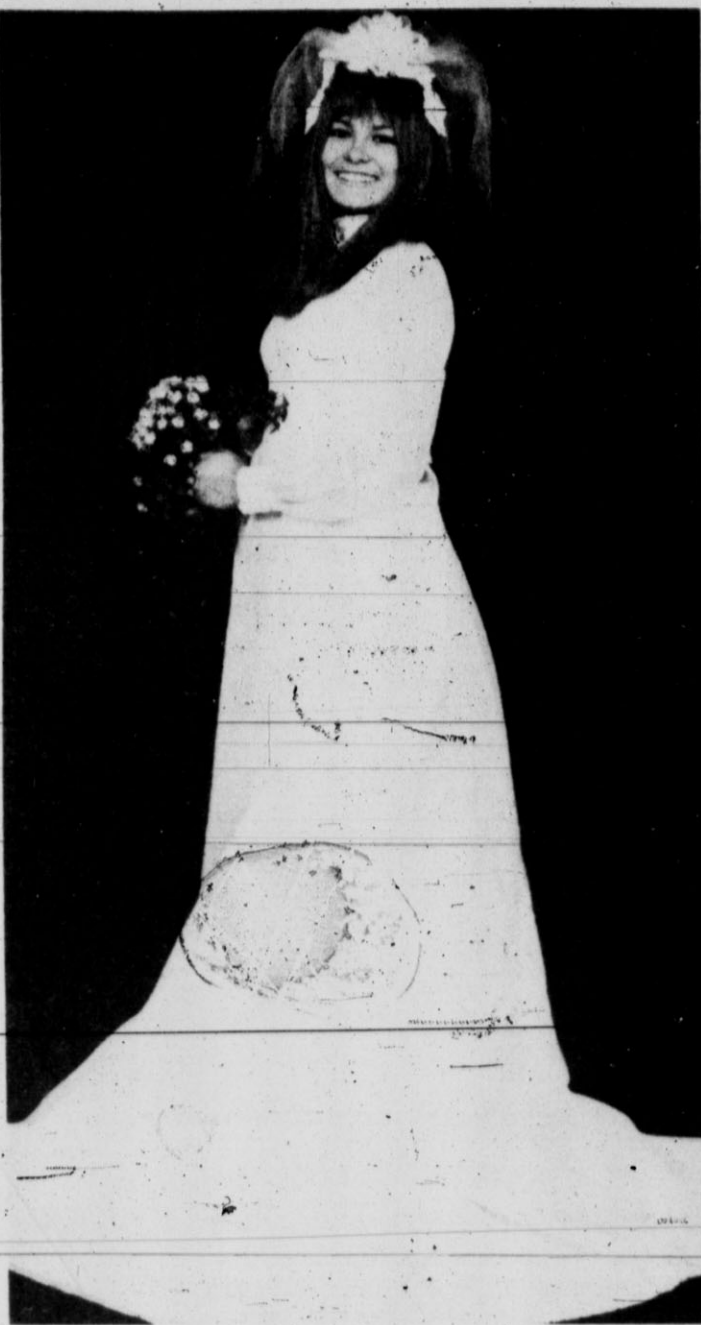

Attendants were all in chocolate brown floor length dresses with long tapered sleeves and empire waist. Orange velvet bows were worn in their hair and each carried a nosegay of orange feathered mums.

Reception was in the church fellowship hall. Serving cake and punch were Miss Jan Walton of Lubbock and Mrs. Perry Kirkland at the bride's table, Mrs. Don Howard and Mrs. Jerry Flood at the groom's table.

Registering guests was Mrs. James Walker of Littlefield. The table was laid with white net trimmed in orange. The three-tiered cake was topped with traditional bride-and-groom figures.

The couple will spend their honeymoon on the trip to Michigan City, where they will make their home at 120 East Warren after October 12.

The bride is a graduate of Vega High School and a key punch training school in Kansas City.

Dr. Mann gives review for club

Dr. Gerald Mann spoke on the subject, Creative Awareness of God when he reviewed a book entitled Dear Mr. Brown at a Thursday afternoon meeting of Bay View Study Club. Mrs. Si Darling was hostess in her home.

The book, in the form of letters asking questions about religion, was written by the Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick. At the conclusion of the program, Dr. Mann conducted a question and answer period.

Guests present were Mmes. Robert Josseland, Jodie Darling and Keith Simmer.

In business the group voted to continue to sponsor Mrs. Earnest-Langley's Campfire group. Mrs. Langley is a member of the club.

Mrs. Jack Wilcox, program committee chairman, distributed yearbooks to other members present, Mmes. Herman Ford, R.W. Eades, H.L. Benefield, W. J. Gilliland, W.S. Kerr, Ansel McDowell, J.R. Allison and Homer Powell.

At the Oct. 21 3 p.m. meeting at Carl McCaslin Lumber Company's art gallery, Dr. John English will give a program on the subject, Creativity Through The Brush.

She is now employed with Dyer Instruments in Michigan City.

The groom, son of Paul Tanger of Michigan City and Mrs. Raymond Ahern of Branford, Connecticut, is a graduate of La Porte High School.

Out-of-town wedding guests were Ken Allen of La Porte, Mr. and Mrs. Calk Carl Williford Sr. of Oustee Oklahoma.

SOME DITCH
LAS ANIMAS, Colo. (AP)—A seven-mile irrigation canal, known as the Tarbox Ditch, irrigated 1,000 acres of three nearby farms in 1967 in the first successful irrigation experiment in southeast Colorado.

Inauguration is set for Nolen

North Texas State University will inaugurate its new President C.C. (Jitter) Nolen, Dec. 1 on campus and in the City of Denton in ceremonies involving state and national academic and public officials.

Nolen married the former June Dameron of Hereford.

The program will include formal inauguration ceremonies on campus during the morning, featuring a speech by D.R. Harry Ransom, chancellor emeritus of the University of Texas System, and a luncheon at the city's Civic Center Community Building.

A 23-member university committee, headed by Academic Vice-President Gus Ferre; Dr. Frank Gafford, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences; and A.M. Willis of Longview, chairman of the NTSU Board of Regents, is planning the inauguration.

Nolen became NTSU's 10th president Aug. 1 after serving as vice-chancellor for development at Texas Christian University for three years. He was director of the University of Texas at Austin Student Center from 1951-61, and assistant director from 1961-65 and associate director from 1965-68 of the university system's Development Board.

He received the bachelor of arts degree in educational psychology from the University of Texas at Austin in 1948 and did graduate work here from 1948-51. He was awarded the honorary doctorate of law degree from TCU Aug. 13, some two weeks after he became NTSU president.

The nickname, "Jitter" was given Nolen by a boyhood friend in 1939 at an Order of the Arrow initiation at a Boy Scout camp at Lake Austin. The name was fashioned after a popular comic strip of that day called the "Adventures of Jitter."

WOMEN'S DIVISION SPEAKER — Bob Watson, Amarillo advertising executive and former television commentator, spoke on Patriotism at the fall membership lunch of Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce Women's Division this week. Guests were invited to hear the address in Hereford Country Club. Mrs. S. G. Townsend, president of the Women's Division, seated right, introduced the speaker.

Student speaks at club lunch

One aspect of America's place in international affairs was surveyed by Summerfield Study Club members on a luncheon program Thursday in the Caison House.

David Thomas, Hereford High School senior who visited United Nations headquarters in the summer, was guest speaker. He told of his participation in the U.S. Pilgrimage for Youth, sponsored by the Odd Fellows Lodge.

His talk was the climax of a program which began with reading of the American's Creed by Mrs. Mack Noland and the flag pledge led by Mrs. Earl Lance.

Steps toward becoming an American citizen were listed by Mrs. Earl Lance Sr., and general discussion by the group was on Foreign-Born Friends "I Have Known."

Mrs. Guy Walsler conducted a short quiz on club ethics and read the revised by-laws of the club, which were approved. Mrs. Ray Johnson presided for business, including reports on the two summer workshops held for members, and a community social at the Walsler home with 127 persons present.

Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. L.H. Lookingbill Sr. will represent the club at the fall board meeting and workshop of Top of Texas District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, to be held in Panhandle Monday.

Mmes. Clayton Sanders, and Earl Lance Jr. were hostesses. They served refreshments to members including Mmes. J.R. Euler, George DeLozier, Lee Curry, Thurman Atchley and those on program.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Brown to celebrate anniversary

Open house set on anniversary

Open house Sunday afternoon will mark the 40th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. A.H. Brown, 424 Ave. G, with friends invited to call between 2 and 5 p.m. Children of the couple will be hosts.

Residents of the Hereford area since 1944, the family will celebrate the anniversary of a wedding at Clayton, N.M., on Oct. 10, 1931, when Anthony H. Brown and Golda Mae Boydston were married.

Two of their children, Virginia Stevens and Charles Brown, live in this city, and one son, Franklin, is stationed in Germany for U.S. Army duty.

The others are Betty Auriemma and Jerry Brown of Amarillo, Robert of Dumas and Glenn of Tucson, Ariz.

DIPLOMATIC MOVE

MASERU, Lesotho (AP)—Iran has established diplomatic relations with this southern African kingdom. Ambassador Ahmad Tehran, who lives in Pretoria as Iran's envoy to South Africa, became non-resident ambassador after presenting his credentials to King Moshoeshoe II at the royal palace.

Unique mystery slated for Thespian staging

A departure from the comedies usually presented by Hereford High School Thespians, a mystery-drama with a unique twist will be staged at 8 p.m. Saturday in the school auditorium under direction of Wayne Hodgson.

Title of the play, The Death and Life of Larry Benson, is an indication of its unusual theme. It concerns a family whose son has been reported missing in action on a foreign battlefield three years ago, then suddenly they learn that he is on his way home.

But the young man who rushes in to greet those gathered to receive him is a stranger to them all. He insists that he is Larry Benson, calls family members and friends by name, knows every turn of the house and talks of incidents which could be known only to Larry.

The plot is complicated by the return of Larry's father, who had deserted the family while his son was gone, and by the fact that Larry's girl, Grace, has become engaged to another man.

The whole town is baffled by the man who claims to be the missing soldier; unconsciously his relatives and friends become detectives, waiting for him to tip on some detail, but he passes every test to build up tension and suspense before the moment of truth finally comes.

Charles Allison plays the boy, with Nancy Brink and Randy Clements as his parents, Donna Munnerlyn as Grace, Pat Arnold as Freda Benson, Becky Cox and Taffy Herr as Susan and Mary Ellen, Marian Betzen as Nettie Clark.

Vicki Stringer and James Davis appear as a neighbor couple. Gayle Gripp as Mrs. Elitch, Leslie Breeding as Gregory, Billy Gage as Marvin and Ike Graves as Bud.

Author of the play is Reginald Ross, who is noted for pertinent social comment in his writing for stage and television. Probably his best known play is Twelve Angry Men; he also wrote Dino and Thunder on Sycamore Street.

Tickets are on sale by Thespian members and will be available at the door Saturday, priced at $1 for adults and 75 cents for students.

Merry Maidens join 4-H week observance here

Joining in the observance of National 4-H Week in Hereford, Merry Maidens 4-H Club attended First Baptist Church as a group last Sunday, and displayed work they have done this year at the Yardstick shop in Sugarland Mall.

The 4-H flag was flown at the courthouse and post office during the week to remind residents of the youth organization and its work.

Most recent meeting of the Merry Maidens was a fondue party. Joyce Shipp, assistant county Home Demonstration agent and 4-H leader, was hostess and Nell Rentschler was welcomed as a guest.

In 1970 Texas state inspectors examined more than 306 million pounds of beef and pork and 63.5 million pounds of poultry.

Prince Valiant
IN THE DAYS OF KING ARTHUR
BY HAL FOSTER

Our Story: PRINCE VALIANT AND HIS SON ARN LOOK DOWN INTO THE VALLEY WHERE ONCE HAD STOOD A NOBLE CITY. BUT WHEN THE LAST SHOCK OF THE EARTHQUAKE HAS PASSED, NOTHING CAN BE SEEN BUT DUST, A ROLLING, CHOKING CLOUD OF DUST.

"THE TERRIBLE EMPEROR, HOO MALEEN, AND ALL HIS EVIL MEN MUST HAVE PERISHED!" TERROR SHOWS IN ARN'S EYES AS HE ADDS: "LET US LEAVE THIS UNWHOLESOME PLACE!"

"WE CANNOT BRAVE THE DESERT WITHOUT WATER, AND OUR FLASKS ARE EMPTY," VAL SAYS. "WE MUST DESCEND INTO THE VALLEY AND FILL THEM AT THE RIVER."

THE RIVER TOO HAS SUFFERED. BROKEN BRIDGES AND A SERIES OF MUDDY POOLS MARK ITS COURSE, AND FROM THESE POOLS THEY FILL THEIR CANTEENS. FROM OUT OF THE DUST COME THE SOUNDS OF THE DYING CITY; THE RUMBLE OF MASONRY AS SHATTERED WALLS COLLAPSE.

"CAN WE FIND OUR WAY OUT OF THIS DOOMED VALLEY IN THIS CURTAIN OF DUST?" WONDERS ARN. "THIS STREAM HAS A WAY OUT," ANSWERS VAL. "WE WILL FOLLOW ITS COURSE."

ALL DAY THEY THREAD THEIR WAY THROUGH AN AWESOME CANYON AND AT SUNSET EMERGE INTO THE SUNLIGHT AND SEE A WIDE PLAIN, AND BEYOND, IN THE FAR DISTANCE, THE SEA.

VAL BRINGS OUT THE SMALL INSTRUMENT ZIRARA HAD GIVEN THEM AND CAN NOW MEASURE THE DISTANCE OF THE NORTH STAR, POLARIS, FROM THE HORIZON AND LEARN THEIR LATITUDE. "WE HAVE WANDERED FAR TO THE SOUTH OF OUR COURSE. GABES WILL NOW BE OUR NEAREST SEAPORT."

NOW FATE DECREES, WITH GRIM HUMOR, THAT AS PRINCE VALIANT RIDES INTO GABES, QUEEN ALETA'S SEARCH VESSEL SAILS INTO THE HARBOR.

NEXT WEEK - "Kill Prince Valiant!"

hints from Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

We live close to a beach, and our family of seven takes advantage of this wonderful blessing every day the weather permits. The problem? Swim suits. We need so many, and they can be so expensive. I buy the boys' swim trunks at season's end for about a dollar a pair and put them away until spring. But the girls? Here is the way I solved the situation: Each winker the girls go through the knees of several pairs of stretch-denim jeans. I take those with holes in the knees and cut them off to make briefs, running cord elastic through the hem. The undamaged leg part is used to make halter tops. I trim with colorful scraps from my sewing basket, making straps, sashes and pockets to match the various colors of denim. The best thing about these swim suits is that they dry so quickly, do not wear out as fast, and do not stretch out of shape when wet. The only thing that's stretched is the dollar. Mrs. J. V.

My eyes lit up like a cash register when I read your letter. Bet your gals are the cutest things on the beach, too.

With the wild things the boys are wearing these days, you could even cut off their jeans, fringe the legs, remove the waistband, and replace it with some of those colorful scraps, through which you have run a drawstring.

Let me know how they turn out...

Heloise

SUPPORT THIS ONE!

DEAR HELOISE: I have to wear heavy surgical hose and they are hard to keep fastened. The fasteners would come undone each time I sat down. But I found a way to keep them secure all day.

I put a small piece of facial tissue over the fasteners and it holds beautifully... no more slipping. Mrs. L. Harper

BAKED BEAN SPECIAL

DEAR HELOISE: If you like picnics and neighborhood gatherings, why not put a punch in your old stand-by baked bean recipe? You can use pork and beans and put all your ingredients in as usual, and then add about a third as much crushed pineapple as you have beans. Mix and bake — or just let simmer for an hour or so.

Makes eaters come back for more and ask whatever in the world did you do to those beans! Joan E.

PAGING MR. CALDER!

DEAR HELOISE: I made a mobile for my baby's crib with a few plastic covers from spray cans. I melted a hole in the top of each one (with a hot ice pick), then put a string about ten inches long through each and made a knot inside the cover. Cross two sticks and secure them in the middle, then tack or staple each string to the sticks so they will balance.

This feature is written for you... the housewife and homemaker. If you have a hot problem or suggestion you'd like to share... write to Heloise today in care of this newspaper.

Now get hubby to make an "L"-shaped stand to attach to the crib and hang the crossed sticks from this with a piece of elastic.

It's colorful, bouncy, and the baby loves it. Margaret Panchuk

TURN IT OFF!

DEAR HELOISE: Did you ever leave the house to go on a trip and later couldn't remember if you turned off the stove, the iron, the water or whatever?

Well, when you turn off any of these things, say out loud to yourself, "OFF OFF OFF" as many times as you think necessary. Then when someone says to you, "Oh, did you remember to turn off such and such?" you'll recall saying OFF OFF OFF and can answer "yes" with confidence. Linda

WATCH OUT!

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a hint for those who have watches that are unrepairable.

Remove the back and take out the "works," leaving the crystal in place. Then slip a small photo of a loved one on the inside and replace the back.

This makes a cute frame which you can carry with you at all times. Cathy

BAKE A PIE!

DEAR HELOISE: When making piecrust and you have more crust left than needed, roll it out and then roll it up in wax paper and slide into a tube from wax paper or foil.

This prevents breakage and takes very little space in your freezer. Emily Eder

Yeah, Emily! Next time you need a piecrust — Just let thaw and flop in the pan. Worked beautifully for me. Heloise

CURTAIN GOING UP!

DEAR HELOISE: When my cafe curtains were hard to hold back... I made some flowers out of felt (just cut out a simple cloverleaf with a center pom-pom made from ball fringe) and sewed these flowers to hair clips.

If you don't have any ball fringe on hand, you can use buttons of whatever color you need.

It sure adds a pretty touch to my kitchen. Jane D.

8-POINT PLAN

DEAR HELOISE: We've had deer antlers stored in the garage for years. Finally, I got a real stroke of genius.

I took them outside and attached them to the side of the house where the children could hang bathing suits and towels after playing in their plastic pool.

They make a perfect hanger and each child has his own special "hook." Melinda

HOCUS-FOCUS

CAN YOU TRUST YOUR EYES? There are at least six differences in drawing details between top and bottom panels. How quickly can you point out these differences? Answers below.

Hal Kaufman's JUNIOR WHIRL

A Crying Shame

MONEY talks, 'tis said. It can also be made to weep. Here's how: Borrow a coin from a friend. Rub it across your sleeve or lapel to show that it's perfectly dry. Then, squeeze very hard and suddenly "tears" will flow. The secret: A small wad of cotton, soaked in water, is transferred from behind the ear to the free hand as attention is drawn to the dry coin. Squeezing causes the "tears" to flow.

BULLETIN BOARD

- SPACE RELATIONS: Imagine three pieces of string an inch apart, one directly under another. Then imagine three vertical pieces also an inch apart, each cutting across all three of the horizontal pieces. How many squares are formed? They form four squares.
- At what time in the history of the world were the largest animals known to man alive? If you don't know, guess.
- Its name starts without reason, contains an inflammable substance and ends in a vehicle. Can you identify the island?

EYES RIGHT? Test 1: Decide which of two slanted lines is a continuation of top line. Test 2: Close left eye; fix right eye on X. Bring paper closer until the black dot at right vanishes.
