Court cases set for next 4 months

The murder case against Janie F. De Los Santos, charged in the 1969 shooting death of her brother-in-law, will be heard in district court during the week of Oct. 25 when the court session for that month is conducted.

The case was one of 22 set during a docket call Thursday in district court.

The other cases set were:

for the week of Sept. 13, trials to be heard are John Wellborne, theft over $50; Leewood S. Giles, defrauding with a worthless check; Hal Kilman, forgery and passing; Terry Eugene Warren, possession of marijuana; Royal Junior Bishop, driving while intoxicated, second offense; Richard Marry, sodomy; and James Brent Sweny, possession of marijuana.

for the week of Oct. 11, trials to be heard are Ralph Williams, possession of narcotics; Alvin Black, rape; Aljeroy Rozelk, rape; Alberto Ramirez, child desertion; Gary Goeben, burglary; Shirley M. Baker, sale of LSD; Joe Royce Baker, sale of LSD; Ralph Warren, possession of marijuana; Joe Walter Warren, possession of marijuana; and Miss De Los Santos.

for the week of Dec. 13, Rodolfo Castillo, forgery and passing; Willard Black, sodomy;

Ronald Stewart, theft over $50; Donald Gene Mixon, theft over $50; and Damacio D. Bocanegra, assault with intent to murder.

Cases were set for November, but only tentatively.

Miss De Los Santos, 22, was originally indicted on charges of assault with intent to murder, but the charge later was changed to murder the day before her trial was to come up when her brother-in-law, Fortunato Martinez, died from the injuries.

The incident reportedly occurred at the home of Martinez at 318 Ave. A on Sunday, Sept. 14, 1969. Witnesses told investigating officers that at the time of the shooting Miss De Los Santos had fired several shots from a window of the residence, at Martinez, who was sitting in his car in the front of the home, police reports indicated.

Martinez was given emergency treatment at the hospital here then transferred to the hospital in Amarillo where he was in intensive care for several months before he died of injuries suffered in the shooting.

Miss De Los Santos was scheduled to go on trial in May of last year, but the day before the trial was to start, Martinez died. She was later reindicted by the grand jury on charges of murder.

The city commission announced Friday the purchase of 3,900 acres of land east of the city to be used as a deposit area for excess sewer water, thus side-stepping an obvious sewer plant bond issue in the near future.

The land, of which 320 acres is adjacent to the Santa Fe Railroad and possibly will be sold as industrial tracts, is located southeast of the air terminal, across the railroad tracks.

The land was purchased from Walter Russell for $375,000, or $129 an acre.

"We feel real good about it," said city manager Dudley Bayne. "It is a good investment and we won't be throwing our money away."

In the long run, Bayne said, the city will come out ahead on the investment because it will not have to build a sewer treatment plant to handle the increasing amount of sewage. The purchase of the land, he said, will keep the city from having to build the plant, hire more workers to keep the plant running, and spend as much as $1,500 a month on an electrical bill for a new plant.

The land will be cash-leased to a farmer who will be entitled to the sewer water pumped from the city to the playa lake on the land. Through the cash-lease plan the city will be able to see a return on its investment, Bayne said.

"This land is large enough to handle sewer water for the city for at least 20 years," Bayne said. "It won't be a problem to dispose of the water now."

"Because of this city will recover all of its investment in 15 years, we estimate, where on a sewer plant we would not be getting any return."

The four-and-one-half sections of land has 11 wells on it and five houses, all which will be left as they are. These will be available to the farmer who cash-leases the land, Bayne said.

About one-third of the cost of the land will be returned by means of selling the 320 acres of industrial tract, the city manager said. He said that within five years about the sale of the industrial tracts along the railroad could bring in about $125,000.

"We estimate it will cost about $100,000 for us to lay the pipe, but we will get federal funding of 33 per cent and could get up to 80 per cent if the state helps us out," he said.

The ponds now being used by the city will still serve their purposes. The excess water is being treated and deposited into Tierra Blanca Creek, and as soon as the pipe is laid for the playa lake discharge area it will permit the city to get a "no-discharge" permit from the state for the sewer water.

This is expected to keep state water control officials from breathing down the city's neck about water discharge.

Men reject sentence offer in murder case

Two men accused in the June 19 shooting death of a Plainview man refused to accept an offer of 25 years in the penitentiary Thursday during a court hearing by their attorney for a motion for discovery.

The offer was made by Dist. Atty. Andy Shuval during a break in court proceedings.

The defense lawyer, John Broadfoot of Amarillo, returned to the courtroom after the break and said his clients "says they are innocent and will not accept 20 years as punishment until they are found guilty."

Shuval said he is not at this time seeking the death penalty in the case.

The incident occurred Thursday during the hearing of a motion for discovery filed by Broadfoot in the district court of Judge Archie McDonald.

The hearing was sparked with verbal blasts exchanged between Shuval and Broadfoot.

Broadfoot is the defense attorney for Alfred and Wesley High, brothers, charged in the June 19 shooting death of James White, a musician, during the Emancipation Celebration.

Broadfoot also has filed a motion for a change of venue to get the trial moved to another city. He said he filed the motion because of undue publicity given the trial by Amarillo radio, television and newspaper media and because of local publicity. That hearing will come up later.

During the session, which began at 4:30 p.m. and continued until 7:30 p.m., Broadfoot and Dist. Atty. Andy Shuval continually exchanged remarks to one another and the hearing was delayed for a considerable time because of objections by both attorneys.

The first motion for discovery filed by Broadfoot contained 14 points he said he felt he needed in order to provide an adequate defense for his clients. A second motion for discovery was filed also and it contained four revised points.

"I am objecting to the condition of the District Attorney of suppressing evidence," Broad-foot told Judge McDonald. "He has denied fair discovery through the denial of an examining trial and the file reflects Mr. Shuval failed to provide us with certain information."

In going over each of the 18 points, the district judge denied most of the requests presented by Broadfoot. He did however, rule in favor of one request by Broadfoot to have all tangible evidence available for him to look over and take photographs of, if he desired.

This request was agreed to by Shuval several times although Broadfoot contended Shuval had denied him access to the materials such as guns, bullets, and paraffin tests taken at the time of the shooting.

Broadfoot, early in the hearing, asked McDonald to allow him to place Shuval on the witness stand and allow him to question Shuval about the evidence held by the prosecution.

"All the requests are out of order and without merit," Shuval said. "The purpose of this hearing is to discuss his motion for discovery."

"I did have an oral conversation with Mr. Broadfoot saying I would provide him with the things he desired... yet it seems the defense has made an attempt to make something out of nothing."

Broadfoot said there were certain facts he did not have access to, such as police reports, a list of witnesses, and "tangible evidence." See SENTENCE, Page 2

BIG INVESTMENT - City Manager Dudley Bayne, seated, discusses with Melvin Young, left, and Roy Faubion, the purchase of 3,900 acres of land by the city. The land is located east of the city near the airport and was purchased for $375,000.

School enrollment reaches 4900 mark

Preliminary figures on enrollment in Hereford Independent School system show student registration is "running about the same as last year" although school officials feel there will be an increase in the next few days.

Supt. Roy Hartman said 4,906 students had enrolled in Hereford schools through Friday, but officials expect this figure to rise to over the 5,000 mark after the first day of school Monday.

"At this point things are in pretty good shape," he said. "At least it gives that appearance at all the schools."

Hartman said the preliminary figures, although fairly close to the exact number, are not definite and "not very accurate."

The enrollment for La Plata Junior High was at 596 through Friday and at Stanton Junior High it was at 600. Some 923 students showed up at the high school to enroll Thursday and Friday.

Aikman Elementary School had about 545, Bluebonnet about 500, Central about 350, Northwest about 550, Shirley about 425 and Tierra Blanca about 416. The total registered in elementary schools through Friday was about 2,800, Hartman said.

"We are looking for another 150 in the high school within the next few days and we know there are many, many more who will come in, not only in the high school, but at the other schools also," he said.

Enrollment at this time, Hartman said, is about 100 above the same time last year, and the first day of school last year saw 5,250 students entered in the public school system.

He said the schools will have at least that many this year and the figure at the high school surpass the 1,100 mark within the first few days of school, and the picking up should continue there.

The number of students has not created any type of school capacity problems at this time, the superintendent said, and the school officials are not looking at the problem at this time.

"We haven't made any plans on exactly what we will do if we are crowded in some schools, but I do believe we will have to shuffle some kids around after all have been registered."

The school officials will not look at the problem and will not make an attempt to correct enrollment, if there are any, until after the Labor Day Holidays Hartman said.

There usually is a quick increase in student enrollment following the Labor-Day weekend. See SCHOOL, Page 2

VEE injections are mandatory

The executive director of the Texas Animal Health Commission disclosed this week that there now is a state law that requires all equines to be vaccinated henceforth against the Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis (VEE).

Justin McBride, county agent, received a letter from Dr. H.Q. Sibley, the TAHC director, announcing that Governor Preston Smith has signed a proclamation requiring compulsory vaccination for VEE within the state of Texas.

"This now makes it possible for a person to file suit against a neighbor if the neighbor has animals the other person knows have not been vaccinated and he feels they might affect his animals," McBride said.

The suit can be filed with the TAHC and the person violating the law would be subject to the penalties set by the state.

The announcement came as a result of the recent outbreak of VEE that killed a number of equines in South Texas last month. At that time equine owners were asked to have their animals vaccinated at the expense of the federal government. Now, however, the compulsory vaccination order will push the vaccination cost back to the equine owners.

"I would like to suggest that all equine owners, who for one reason or another were unable to get their animals vaccinated during the earlier vaccination period, to have their animals vaccinated now against VEE," McBride said.

During the outbreak, owners who had their animals vaccinated were given a vaccination certificate and were required to present this certificate when transporting the animals. This was required only after the animals had been vaccinated and observed for 14 days.

Now with the new law all equine owners must be able to produce the certificate when they are asked any time during the year.

People should help in mosquito fight

Wet weather over the past few weeks has forced the city to step up its mosquito extermination spraying and citizens are being asked to do what they can in preventing an increase in the mosquito population.

City Manager Dudley Bayne said the city is asking persons to check areas around their homes and gardens and make sure there are no places where mosquitos can breed. If there are, he said, these places should be eliminated.

"We are spraying early in the morning and late in the evenings now," Bayne said, "but people need to check areas around their homes themselves.

"We encourage everyone to check old cans, check old vacant lots next to their homes and everywhere there might be a possibility of mosquito breeding."

"It will take a lot of help from the local people because we have so much water everywhere."

City employes have been spraying the city only during the evenings until recently when the wet weather came. The spraying was stepped up one other time when the VEE outbreak was reported in South Texas.

Schools again offer reduced lunch plan

The Hereford school system again will offer free and reduced lunches to students whose parents are financially unable to pay the daily fee charged for meals in the schools.

Each student in the school will be presented a copy of a letter, along with an income breakdown, on the free and reduced lunch program, according to administration assistant Larry Wartes. This is the second year the school system has participated in the program.

Parents who feel they cannot afford to pay the full price of a meal-40 cents for high school and junior high and 35 cents for elementary schools-can fill out the application and return it to the school. Parents also may apply for the program if they have been sick, have large doctor bills or anything else that would make it hard for them to pay the regular price.

Meals will be adjusted according to a scale on the family income and the number of children in the family in school or a day care center. Fees for lunches go down to 10 cents, 20 cents and free.

The program will be administered as it was last year so there will be "no outward indication of which children are getting free lunches unless the child himself tells someone about it."

All information submitted on the application will be kept in the confidence of the school administrator.

After the application is submitted to the school system, officials will let the parents know if they qualify for a free or reduced program. If the parents disagree with the decision of the school, they may contact the administration and ask for a hearing.

Booster Club to gather Monday

The Whiteface Booster Club will meet at 8 p.m. Monday in the Community Center to discuss plans for the upcoming year.

Head coach and athletic director Larry Dippel will be on hand to discuss the upcoming football season and coaches will be introduced to Booster Club members.

Also, the organization will discuss the annual ice cream supper for varsity athletes.

REDDY'S BIRTHDAY — Lynton Allred, as city commissioner, represented the city at the celebration Monday in honor of Southwestern Public Service Company's 50 years in service. Local manager Carrol McDonald assisted Allred with the cake cutting.

Small talk

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

THE OTHER DAY I heard a man whose work is in communications—radio and television, that is—express the opinion that those prophets of a new world a generation ago, who insisted that a brighter era was dawning because peoples of the earth were in better communication, must have been wrong.

The more we all find out about each other, this gentleman continued, the more we seem to find to bicker about. This is contrary to those bright-new-world ideas that we had only to know and understand each other and we'd all love each other.

CURRENT DEVELOPMENTS certainly bear out his pessimistic view and add another one. Not only do we fail to love our fellow man more when we exchange more talk with him, but learning about his problems just makes us more depressed, and heaven knows our own troubles are depressing enough.

My friend in the business is not the only one venturing to mention this matter of too much communication; I've heard several scattered voices to the same effect. They seem to indicate that the theory is not holding up.

Not yet, but it all may wind up with my friend's conclusion—"Looks like to would be better for our right hands not to let our left-hands know what they're doing for a while at least."

FAMILY REUNION week is one of those National Weeks with which the calendar is overloaded, and it comes in August so the numerous reunions being held hereabout are right in season. I can't think of a better week to celebrate this time of year.

A recent reunion was held in the Lewis West home, triggered by a visit from Mr. and Mrs. Glen Westcott of Torrance, Calif. Mrs. Westcott is a sister of Mrs. West, also of Ruby Lee Hickman and Luther Lesly.

The couple visited in all their homes last week, and planned to leave Sunday morning for Caspar, Wyo. for a visit with Westcott's relatives before they return home.

While they were in this area they went over to Plainview to see another sister, Elsie Mason. Those at the chicken barbecue at the West home included Mrs. Samy West and children, Mary, Jay and Joe; the Robert Lloyds and their five children from Adrian, also some cousins from Pampa, the Bill Martins and the Jack Maldins.

HERE AND THERE: Selsy Metz and her two cute children downtown shopping. Her daughter Lesly has about the best tan I've seen all summer and if only I could tan like that instead of in a spotty fashion I might be a sun-worshiper too. Mrs. Louis Woodford waving as she drove past, with a smile friendly enough to perk up the whole day.

A nice dog I've met lately, the Pat Smiths' lively pet misnamed Droopy. . . and that reminds me of hearing about a dog with a food preference that beats all. . . seems that this animal refuses to eat his dog food until his folks put some catsup on it!

TAX MAN SAM SEZ: Most Texans expect a "whole lot of hot weather in August. Even though things have changed over the years and we work in air conditioned comfort and we sleep in air conditioned comfort in an average case, sweat over your tax problems August.

The friendly tax folks at IRS have come up with this gentle reminder: If you don't want to sweat over your tax problems when you file your tax return on a cold day in January, you better keep your receipts and records during all the hot and cold days of 1971.

Questions about social security

Q. A friend of mine told me that Medicare claims can be turned in only once a year because of the $50 deductible. Is this true?

A. No. There is a $50 deductible for each calendar year for Supplemental Medical Insurance benefits, but this does not mean that Medicare claims can be turned in only once a year. Medicare keeps a record of each account and is aware of whether the $50 deductible has been met.

Q. I'm a new member of Medicare. My doctor insists that I pay him and gives me receipts to send in to Medicare for reimbursement. Do my receipts have to reach a certain amount before I can turn them in?

A. No. You may file a claim for reimbursement without regard to the amount of expenses incurred.

Q. My mother had a heart attack last year and has to go to her doctor once a week. Her doctor charges $10 per visit. The nurse said these visits are covered under Medicare and we

A. Visit your social security office. A social security representative will show you how to file a claim for reimbursement. Further, you should ask for a "Medicare Handbook" which explains Medicare benefits and how to file a claim.

Coffee slated for CCA corps

Renewal of present memberships in Hereford Community Concert Association will be the annual orientation coffee Thursday morning when workers will get their instructions and supplies.

Memberships may be renewed before the one week of the year in which new members are enrolled. After its close no admissions to the season's concerts will be available.

The coffee in the Harlan Vander Zee home at 10 a.m. Thursday will give campaign leaders the opportunity to answer questions of workers and explain to new workers the method of enrollment.

Mrs. J.H. McCrary is campaign chairman and Hazen Woods is president of the CCA board this year.

Only members of the Association may attend the concerts it brings to Hereford each year. In past years membership cards also entitle holders to attend concerts of Canyon CCA, in an exchange arrangement which honors Canyon memberships here.

Programs are given by nationally-noted artists, chosen by the CCA board of directors after members are enrolled so the board knows the exact amount of funds available. The board guarantees three concerts a year, and others may be added if the budget permits.

Advance booking of a "hold" attraction is practiced in Hereford, so new members know who will give one of the programs. This year the Hereford "hold" is the famous Stan Kenton orchestra, to appear next April. Two others of equal quality will be added after the drive.

dence." He asked the court to order Shuval to present these to him for study in preparing a defense for the case.

He charged Shuval with suppressing evidence and asked McDonald to allow him to look at the evidence then "because in some cases evidence tends to be lost or misplaced." He said he would be willing to subpoena other members of the bar association to have them testify that Shuval has on occasions before, suppressed evidence.

"On the basis of this charge," Shuval said, "I challenge him to subpoena other members of the bar association. This attorney has charged that I have deliberately suppressed evidence and I challenge him to subpoena these men and prove it."

Broadfoot again asked the court to allow him to call Shuval to the stand to be questioned and the court overruled the motion. Broadfoot then objected to the ruling of the court, as he did on almost all of the court's decisions.

The court denied Broadfoot access to the report made by the arresting officer, the incident report and all statements made by witnesses interviewed following the shooting. All of these, Shuval said, are considered privileged information and do not have to be presented to the defense attorney.

Shuval did agree, however, to presenting Broadfoot with a list of the witnesses, although Broadfoot did not ask for it at any point in his motion for discovery. Shuval also presented him with a list of the evidence gathered by investigating officers.

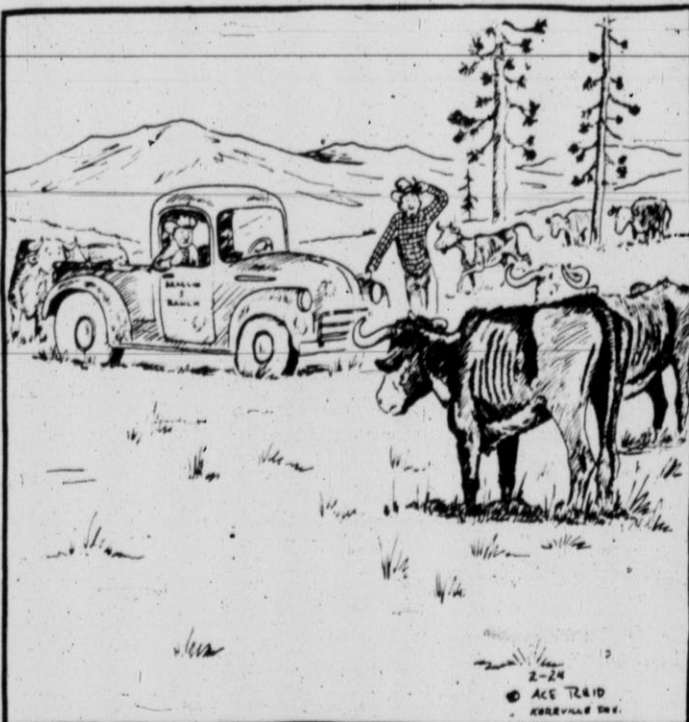

School . . .

(Continued From Page One) Each of the past few years has seen enrollment at each of the school increase, although Hartman said he does not know the reason for this increase.

"Generally there is an increase about that time, but you never know for sure. Maybe this year we won't have one, I don't know," he said.

Scholarships presented by Music Stand

Scholarships were recently granted to a Hereford girl and three other West Texas State University students by the Music Stand Scholarship Committee.

Jana Denton, who was awarded a $500 scholarship last year, received the Music Stand's $350 scholarship award this year.

Touchstone, Patsy Talley and Elson Clark.

Miss Denton, 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Denton of 705 N. Main, will be a sophomore this fall at the University of Kansas at Lawrence. She will study to earn an applied bassoon degree.

Other students found worthy to receive the scholarship awards were Jeppie Wilson Jr. of Montahans, $250 and Frank Davis and John D. Parkinson, both of Amarillo, $200.

Members of the scholarship committee spent hours researching students in various communities keeping in mind the club's dual criteria in granting the awards—talent and need must be evident before the grant could be made to a student.

The committee's decisions were presented to and approved by the Board of Directors in June.

Funds for the scholarships were obtained through juke box receipts and an annual scholarship party.

At the library Illyria is setting for exciting novel

Illyria is the setting for a novel, The Other Side of the Sun, by Madeleine L'Engle, now available at Deaf Smith County Library. Check it out today.

THE OTHER SIDE OF THE SUN

By Madeleine L'Engle

The Other Side of the Sun tells a dark story of family strife and anguish, but its quality is such that it can be read with pure pleasure. The heroine and narrator of the story is Stella, a young English woman who has married into an aristocratic South Carolina family named Renier.

Stella has come to Illyria, the Renier's great house built on the coastal dunes, to await the return of her husband, who is out of the country on a mission for the government, and to become acquainted with her new family.

At Illyria she gradually discovers, to her consternation and terror, that she is being drawn into a power struggle between opposed forces working within and around her new family.

One group is motivated by hatred, greed, and a sick desire for revenge. The other strives to avoid adding to the bloodshed marred the Renier past.

But, at first meeting, the household of Illyria seems reassuringly normal. It consists of Olivia and Mary Des, the great-aunts, whose word games and sisterly spats alternate with vivid memories of the Civil War; Uncle Hoadley and his wife, the once-beautiful Irene; Honoria and her husband Clive, two Negroes of ambiguous but questionable authority.

The omnipresent dweller in the house, however, is Mado, Stella's husband's grandmother. Although Mado has long been dead, she is very much alive in the memories of Olivia and Des, Honoria and Clive.

Stella realizes that she is, in some strange way, expected to follow in Mado's footsteps. Stella's presence at Illyria and her quite natural curiosity to learn all she can about her new husband's family lead to ominous discoveries. Under the seemingly controlled, gracious way of life at Illyria, strong loves and hates are seething.

It is Stella's innocence which precipitates a final violence in which all the secrets of the Renier family are at last laid bare.

The Other Side of the Sun attracts the reader as an absorbing story of a colorful family and the things that happen in and to it. The women in the story are especially well drawn and reveal their essential character, be it good or evil, in scenes of dramatic power.

Stella, struggling to understand and be worthy of what is demanded of her; the apparently flighty Olivia, who is afraid of dying; Honoria, with her mystic "powers"; even the dead grandmother Mado—these women who lived 50 or more years ago—speak a truth that we would do well to listen to today.

THE SHADOW OF THE LYNX

By Victoria Holt

Adventure, suspense and romance fill this new novel by one of today's most popular authors.

Victoria Holt's heroine, Nora Tamasin, is a strong-willed and courageous young woman who travels to Australia—where the unspoiled, exotic beauties of the land and the unpredictable passions of the gold rush provide the background for the event that changed her life.

Surrounded by hidden dangers and sudden death, Nora found herself, almost against her will, falling under the spell of the powerful and fascinating man known as the Lynx, a man obsessed with his desire for wealth and for revenge.

When Nora finally returned to England, and to the magnificent old house he had coveted for 35 years, she realized that she would forever be ruled by the shadow of the Lynx.

NEW GUINEA CENSUS

PORT MORESBY, New Guinea (A P)—A census will be taken shortly in New Guinea following the recent Australian census.

The government estimates the population at 2,312,000.

Even with the census, the number will still be an "estimate" because the government acknowledges census-takers will be unable to make a complete head count and reach every one of the approximately 12,000 villages.

The speaker of parliament, John Guise claims census questions are too personal, and that he, for one, will not record name, race or religion.

Registered adoptions in Britain totalled 26,986 in 1968, half under one year old, a government survey showed.

SPECIAL KIWANIS CLUB GUESTS — Robert Veigel, left, director of Cal Farley's Boys Ranch since 1965 and a resident of Hereford, was a special guest of Hereford Kiwanis Club Thursday along with speaker Louie Hendricks of Amarillo. Hendricks has been public relations manager at Boys Ranch for 12 years and is publisher of the Boys Ranch magazine, Round-Up. The men presented a film entitled "It's Easy To Smile." Introduction was made by Bob Veigel.

Gary Storys at home in Houston

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Story are at home at No. 100, 123 Winkler Drive in Houston after their recent marriage at Perryton.

Mrs. Story is the former Miss Carol Wright, daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Gordon Wright of that city. The bridegroom's parents are Mrs. and Mrs. Joe Story, Harrison Highway.

The afternoon marriage was solemnized in First Baptist Church of Perryton by the Rev. Jack Pearce, pastor.

Miss Debbie Hazelwood of Spearman was maid of honor and the bridegroom's father was best man. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Bob Wright, Miss Kathy Brown of Canyon and Mrs. Kip Lolland.

Serving as groomsmen were Steve Hodges and Jim Allison of Hereford and Mike McCullough of Lincoln, Neb., as ushers, Bob Wright, brother of the bride, and Bob Gentry of Lubbock.

Miss Sharon Frisbie of Goodland and Merryl Leatherman were candle bearers. Wedding music was by Mrs. Jim Elledge, organist, and Mrs. Ronnie Wood.

The bride's gown of organza over peau de soie had an empire bodice and full sleeves of Aleron lace. Skirt fullness swept into a chapel train. Her shoulder-length veil was attached to a beaded lace tiara. She carried daisies and gypsophyllia on a white Bible.

Blue dresses of the bridesmaids were trimmed with lace and they wore matching hair bows with brief veils, and velvet chokers. Their nosegays were blue and white daisies.

The reception was in the church fellowship hall. Mrs. Dan McDowell of Odessa, sister of the bridegroom registered guests. Mrs. Weldon Wright presided at the bride's table and Mrs. Steve Byrne of Canyon at the groom's table, while Mrs. James Klapp of Balco, Okla. poured punch.

On their way to Houston the couple visited other South Texas points. The bride wore a knit dress in burnt orange for travel.

She is an August graduate of West Texas State University with a degree in accounting. Named to Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges, she was varsity cheerleader at WT two years and a member of Chi Omega sorority.

The bridegroom received his degree in speech in May. He was Student Association president last year, also listed in Who's Who and his fraternity is Lambda Chi Alpha. He is employed in Houston by Bell Telephone Company.

BSP to initiate season

A pig roast in the backyard of the Melvin Fowler home, 203 Gough, will mark the Day of Beginning for Beta Sigma Phi members here Saturday, as members of all three chapters and their husbands are entertained.

Sorority activity for a new season traditionally with such a joint meeting, then each chapter will open its programs for the year in later separated meetings.

Fowler will be the chef to prepare the barbecued pig for supper Saturday, and each member is to bring a dish for the meal, which is set for 8 p.m.

Earlier than usual start of the Beta Sigma Phi year reflects the early opening of the school term, which will affect other women's organizations also. Customary first meetings in September are being moved up to August in several groups, though others will keep to the September-to-May schedule.

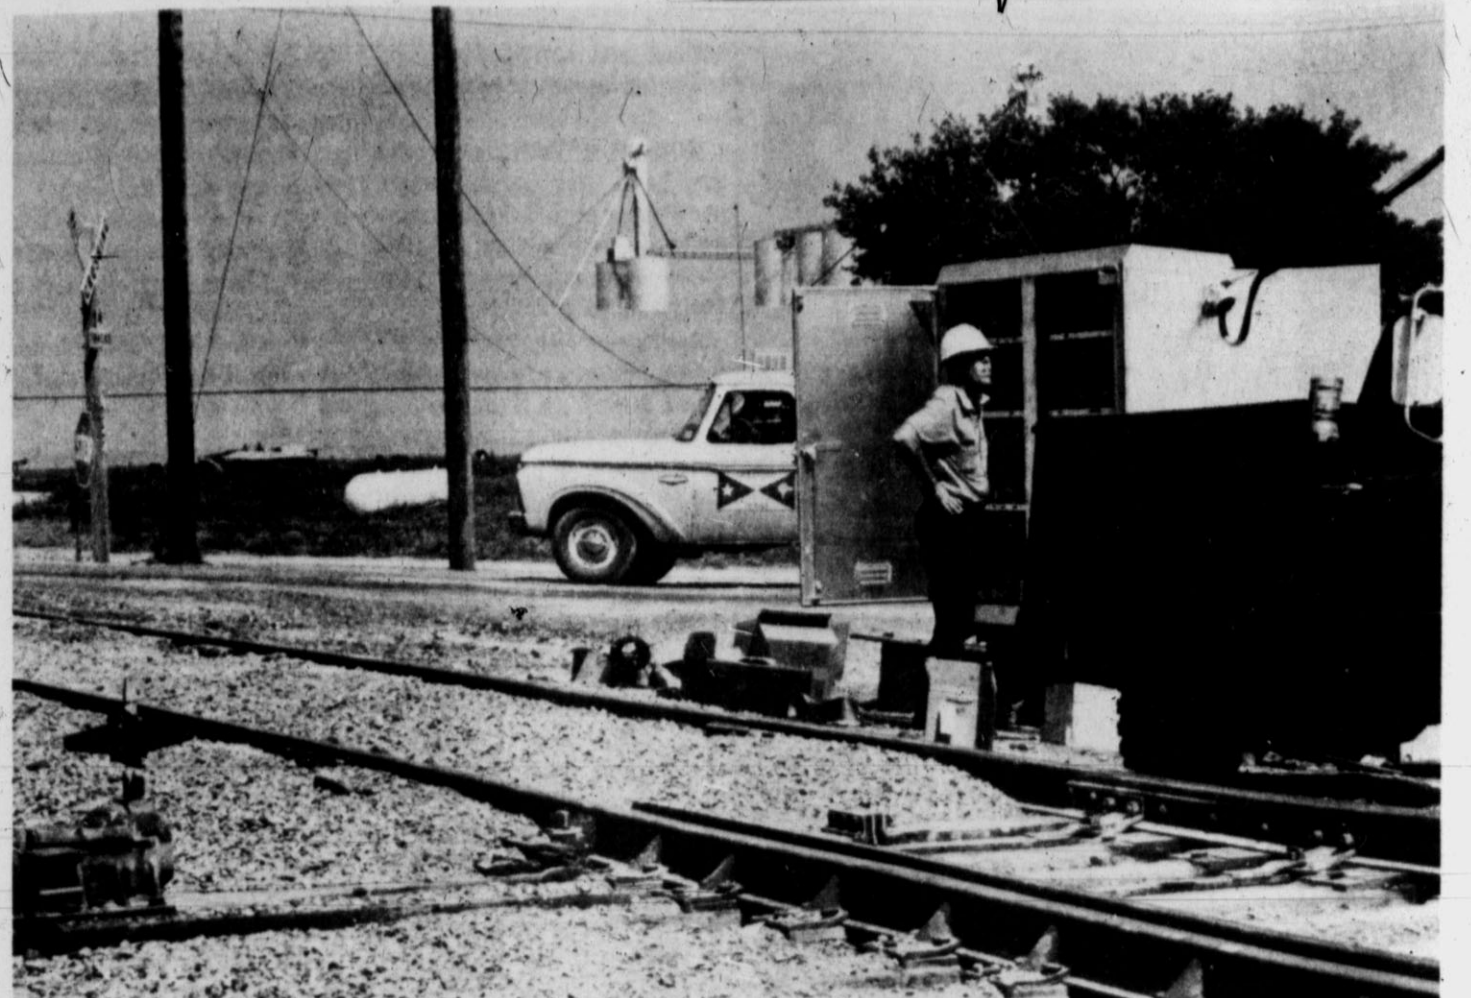

Friends honor bride

A kitchen shower honoring Mary Ann Vance, married yesterday to Gerald Nunley, was given by friends at the Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room Thursday evening.

Hostesses registered guests and served refreshments. They were Nadine Tice, Thelma Warren, Lynetta Mercer, Marilyn James, Brenda Patterson, and Michelle Beckman.

The lace-covered table was centered by a miniature bride figurine flanked by lilac candle holders. Miniature cake squares were decorated in lilac sugar flowers.

For the occasion, Miss Vance was presented a corsage of lilac carnations.

SIGNALS GOING UP — Dave Kenney, of Amarillo, Santa Fe assistant signal superintendent, surveys the progress on the flashing warning system being installed at the Progressive Road railroad crossing. Kenney says the arms will be in service some time this week.

Hereford people visit big garden

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stewart, Bette Stewart and Kay Suttle, all of Hereford, visited Hodges Gardens, Louisiana's fabulous "Garden in the Forest" recently in Western Louisiana midway between Shreveport and Lake Charles.

Featuring a year round uninterrupted succession of bloom, Hodges Gardens is collection of formal gardens, natural scenic areas, picnic grounds, sand beach, wildlife refuge, bird sanctuary, gift shop, and outdoor theater, all surrounding a 225-acre lake.

Encompassing 4,700 acres, the forest gardens stem from a vast reforestation program and forest genetics research in the early 1940's, and is owned and operated by the non-profit A.J. and Nona Trigg Hodges Foundation.

There are more states east than west of the Mississippi River.

GED testing is changed

A number of changes, including the lowering of the minimum age, have been made in the General Educational Development (GED) tests, according to the Texas Education Agency. The minimum age for persons seeking a high school diploma equivalent through GED was 19, but now has been lowered to 17. Also, the $10 fee for the tests now covers all other tests taken by the pupil if he fails on his first try.

The agency also set a limit on the number of times a person can take the test during a year. The new limit allows a person to take the tests only once every six months if he fails.

Robert Thompson, coordinator for the testing, said a change also has been made in local testing. Instead of giving the tests twice a month, they now will be given only on the third Monday of each month.

This change was made because the school already has gotten through the largest portion of persons wanting to take the tests. The next tests will be given on Sept. 20.

The TEA issues a certificate of high school equivalency on the basis of the GED tests to adult residents, provided the applicant (1.) makes a standard score of 40 or above on each of the five tests or an average standard score of 45 on all five tests, (2.) is at least 17 years of age and been out of school at least one academic year, (3.) is a resident of the state or a member of the Armed Services stationed at a Texas base, (4.) and pays for the tests.

Categories of testing are Correctness and Effectiveness of Expression, Interpretation of Reading Materials in Social Studies, Interpretation of Reading Materials in Natural Sciences, Interpretation of Literary Materials, and General Mathematical Ability.

All of the questions on the GED battery require multiple-choice rather than essay type answers. The questions are in a booklet and the answers are to be recorded on a separate sheet.

Every year in Britain two million civil legal actions are brought and almost as many people are prosecuted for crimes, a government report showed.

H.D. CHATTER
Mung beans,
a new idea
By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstrator Agent

A CROP THAT is fairly new here is the mung beans. There have been requests on sprouting and using mung beans.

Mung bean sprouts are a cheap, healthful, and pleasing addition to our common green vegetables, and are also excellent for use (either raw or cooked) as a salad, or in salads as well as in soups, stews, and many other composite dishes.

Their flavor is that of young string-beans. Their dietetic value is important, for they are rich in C-vitamins, and they can be easily grown all year round.

If cooked, the period of cooking should be brief in order to avoid destroying their vitamin value. Two minutes' boiling is sufficient, and more than 15 may prove destructive.

If to be served in stews and soups, they are best added shortly before the completion of cooking. They are especially palatable lightly fried in good oil or butter.

COMMERCIAL MUNG sprouts are grown in this way:

In growing sprouts, an essential requirement is the maintenance of a uniform temperature of about 65 degrees. The beans are first soaked for several hours.

Next, they are divided into lots of 10 pounds each, they are placed in upright cylindrical cans, standing on racks, each can with drainage slits in the bottom, and a matting-cover loosely set on top. Every six hours the beans are sprinkled with water held at the temperature of the room.

In four days or thereabouts, they have attained the desired size. It is interesting to note their growth and steady expansion in bulk until the 10 pounds of dry seeds have become 50 pounds of sprouts which fill the can and raise themselves two or three inches above its rim.

The top layer is discarded as too dry and, generally, overgrown. The remainder consists of fat, succulent just before leafing, with slender, delicate, single roots. They need only tasting and sorting-over to be ready for kitchen or table.

FOR OUR HOME use: Soak dry bean for several hours; keep water at room temperature or less. Cover shallow pan with clean cloths or paper towels and scatter beans in one layer.

Sprinkle beans with warm water and keep at room temperature. Every six hours sprinkle generously with water at room temperature. In five or six days the beans will have sprouts that can be used either cooked or raw.

Cook sprouts a short length of time covered with salted water. Sprouts should cook in two or three minutes. However, to me, the value of the sprouts is using raw sprouts in fresh salads.

SOYBEANS ARE very good to sprout. I have sprouted many of these for salad use, and they add a crispness and good flavor. Other beans may sprout as well but I have not had experience with them.

MRS. ALBERT LAMB says she has canned some onions that are delicious. She says to pack whole raw onions in a glass jar—quart size. Use onions as large as will go in mouth of the jar.

Add one cup hot water and 1 teaspoon salt. Process 55 minutes at 12 pounds pressure. When opened heat thoroughly and butter. These are very pretty and very good.

A WOMAN HAS CALLED to say she has pint and quart jars for sale. Call Annette Curtis 364-373 and she'll give you the details.

EGGS ARE TOO fresh! or had you heard? Recently there have been complaints from business firms and housewives that boiled eggs simply won't peel.

The poultry marketing specialists first question was: Have eggs changed or are people imagining things? Actually today's eggs are handled much faster and are refrigerated at all times. Therefore, fresher eggs are sold at the market.

To make a long story short: 1) An egg ages faster when kept warm.

2) Age eggs before boiling. (Pardon me for using the word "boiling"; as it should be "hard cooked.") Leave the eggs out of the refrigerator at room temperature for 24 hours. You might want to wash the eggs before aging as eggs are oiled to keep them fresh.

3) If you do not have 24 hours to age the eggs, let them set in warm water an hour before boiling.

4) Cover a pan of water and bring to a boil. Lower the eggs into the water carefully, reduce heat and hold the eggs at a simmering temperature for 18 minutes. Higher cooking temperatures or longer cooking time may cause the whites to lose tender texture and become rub-bery.

5) Remove the eggs from the hot water immediately and place under cold running water until cool. This cooling helps prevent the dark green color around the yolk.

6) Crackle the shell and peel from the large end.

THE FRESHER EGGS on the market are best for all forms of cooking—except hard cooked eggs for peeling. Today's fresher eggs will peel, without damaging the white, if given a little more care and patience during the cooking process.

JEWELLED EARS

Regardless of hem line changes, high or low-rise necklines and long or short hair styles, the need and love for earrings stays with the ladies. However, in other times and cultures, earrings were worn by both sexes. It was the Greek and Roman tradition that relegated them to the woman. The wearing by men of one earring is still accepted among the Oriental races, and in the Western world by sea-men. Africa tribesmen of both sexes have long been noted for their extravagant ear decorations, many of which include incised and elongated ear lobes.

The more traditional earrings are in the European style, with the use of fine jewels and intricately worked gold. Antique earrings are especially prized now by our younger women who have had their ears pierced according to current fashion. Modern designs in clip and pierced styles are popular and appropriate with both day and evening dress. Small pierced styles in a simple hoop or bead shape are being worn with sports attire. Important here is that the earring be of at least 10K gold fineness, and preferably 14K. This is because earrings of base metal, worn for long periods, may on some women irritate the skin of the ear lobe.

Cultured pearl earrings are a particularly useful addition to a gem wardrobe and are most practical since they can be worn for both casual and dress-up affairs depending on design. Important gold ear clips, and those set with attractive stones such as small diamonds, rubies, sapphires, are other ideas. Please stop by and see our nice collection of earrings for both pierced and non-pierced ears.

October vows set Exchange study trip scheduled

October 15 is the wedding date chosen by Miss Nancy Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Jones Jr. of Route 4, and Sid Urbanczyk, son of the Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Urbanczyk of Route 5.

Miss Jones is a candidate for graduation from Hereford High School this term.

Urbanczyk, a 1967 HHS graduate, is an agricultural business student at West Texas State University. He is presently engaged in farming southwest of the city.

Duo to leave Sept. 2, Cindy Newsom of Ft. Morgan, Colo., former Hereford resident, will spend six months in Santiago, Chile, under the International Fellowship program of student exchanges.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Newsom; the family moved to Ft. Morgan from Hereford in 1967. Her grandmother is Mrs. G.W. Newsom, 130 Ave. C.

Miss Newsome, 16-year-old senior in Ft. Morgan High School, will go with a group of students to Miami, Fla., and spend a few days before continuing to South America. She will live in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nicolas Haoa in Santiago. International Fellowship is a direct exchange program for students, similar in many ways to the American Field Service program in which students from other countries attend Hereford High School. In the exchange for Cindy, the Wayne Newsoms will be host this year to a girl from Guatemala.

Cindy has been an honor student at Ft. Morgan, and expects to graduate with her class next spring after her return in March. She will enter school immediately on arriving in Santiago, but the summer vacation there begins in November and lasts three months.

She expects to learn much of Chilean culture during the vacation, and will go back to school for another month afterward.

Bride-elect on visit honored

Kathy Byerly of Coleman, whose marriage to Charles R. Schneider is to be solemnized in that city Sept. 12, was complimented with a shower-tea Saturday afternoon in the Flaming Room of Pioneer Gas Company. She and her mother, Mrs. J.H. Byerly, are guests this weekend of her fiance's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Schneider. The bridegroom-elect, now a resident of Dallas, formerly lived here.

Guests at the tea were received by Mrs. John Schneider, the honoree and her mother and the prospective bridegroom's grandmothers, Mrs. Josephine Schneider and Mrs. A.G. Kemp.

Mrs. Gary Tyler invited callers to register; Mrs. Gary Gore and Sharon Hagans served refreshments from a table where floral decor emphasized the shades of pink which will be used for the wedding in Concho Baptist Church of Coleman.

Mrs. Clinton Thrasher of Plainview, niece of Mrs. Schneider, and Mrs. George Bolt of Fort Worth assisted in serving.

In the hostess party were Mmes. Howard Gore, Margaret Johnson, Doc Miller, Delbert Bainum, Larry Summers, Roy Boyer, Jack Mitchell, Preston Hogans, Charles Laing, Hicks Roberson, Bill Kendall and Neal Young.

TOWN OVER RAILS
NEW YORK (AP) —With land as scarce as breathing space in New York City, Edward J. Logue, president of Urban Development Corporation, has proposed a new town to be built over the Long Island City railroad yards. The town would include homes for 60,000 people and office and industrial space for 35,000 employees. The $1.386 billion project would bring about $18 million a year in new real estate taxes.

Lomas-built bases hold many of museum displays

HIS WORK HOLDS EXHIBIT — Harry Lomas, of 224 Ave. B looks at relics from the old XIT Ranch Escarabada headquarters, effectively displayed in Deaf Smith County Historical Museum on a background he made from scraps of boards and old doors. Typical of one of his many services to the museum since it was started, the display base was planned and made especially to fit the items it shows. Not all are of this crude construction; there are polished cases of fine cabinet work, too, also his handiwork.

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor
CHANCES ARE, when you view one of the history-evoking items at Deaf Smith County Museum, it is displayed on or in, or against, or propped up with, something Harry Lomas made. It may be an item that he himself gave to the museum because many of the pieces, especially in the wing devoted to ranch life, are his contributions. But of even more value to the museum are the hundreds of hours of time and the skillful work of his hands, given since work on the historical collections began here.

LOMAS HAS made the museum his hobby for the past six years, putting in many an hour's work before it opened to the public. His services range from nailing the windmill tower to acting as a guide for parties touring the exhibits.

His background as a carpenter has given him a special usefulness among the corps of volunteers who have done the actual labor of preparing and arranging exhibits which trace the history of this area since cave-man days, and supply a picture of its pioneer residents' lives. He built the rooms that simulate the pioneers' homes, the rough board shutters that cover the outside of the front windows, the glassed-in case holding the model of old La Plata, the stout frame that holds the Santa Fe locomotive bell.

HE REMODELED a store showcase into the specially-lighted cabinet for old photographic negatives and equipment, and various other cases and stands to fit certain purposes. He helped panel the entry hall and put up picture molding in the fine arts room. He fixed things. Many of the straight west of Hereford," about 30 miles from either Ft. Sumner or Montoya, towns on nearest railroads.

"When it was a two-day round trip to town and there was work to be done right now, ranchers learned to use what they had and do their own work to keep implements repaired and fix anything that broke," he explained.

Governor okays big federal grant

Governor Preston Smith today announced his approval during the past week of Office of Child Development grant of $208, 118 in new federal funds to Panhandle and South Plains District Venture, Inc. in Amarillo for Full Year (Full Day) Head Start.

The grant is funded under Title II of the Economic Opportunity Act, and is effective June 1, 1971, through May 31, 1972.

Ten classes will be conducted in three centers in Plainview, Hereford and Lubbock serving 150 migrant Mexican-American children. The centers at Plainview and Hereford will be located in the migrant camps.

As the children travel in the migrant stream with their parents, their records will be sent to the next Head Start program so their education can be as continuous as possible. Staff include 10 teachers and 19 nonprofessionals.

His father had his own blacksmith shop on the ranch. He was also an able enough carpenter to do that work for hire at times, and the son learned from him.

BORN NEAR SEDALIA, Mo., in 1894, Lomas went with his parents to Oklahoma, then Indian Territory, in 1904. Four years later they went on west to New Mexico, and Lomas lived there until he came to this country in 1914. Some of his family still live on the New Mexico place.

Except for a year in the army during World War I, Lomas has lived here since 1914; his home is at 24 Ave. B.

His interest in preserving the everyday items of pioneer days which have become today's museum pieces, is shown in the varied articles he has given the museum.

THEY INCLUDE an old tractor which was used on his parents' ranch; burro shoes he made in the ranch blacksmith shop, a railroad light, hand tools for tasks now mechanized, guns.

He has also loaned specimens of barbed wire which he collected. And in a different vein but as typical of pioneers, a handsome clock, a bisque doll and a wreath of hand-made fabric flowers are among his many contributions.

Historical Society officers and other volunteers working in the museum are unstinting in their praise for Lomas' efforts there. Their words are summed up in one, "mainstay."

BY MELVIN YOUNG

We're losing two key employees at the Brand this week.

Marki McBride, who has only worked for us this summer, has enrolled for classes at Texas Tech and will be beginning her studies tomorrow. Marki was a real joy to everyone on the staff and it has been an experience having her around this summer. We're hoping that she continues her journalism studies and will perhaps come back to Hereford some day and again join the staff of the Hereford Brand.

Janie Reinart Banner, began working for The Brand at the beginning of her junior year in High School and has been one of our most valued employees. She continued at her job after graduation and after marriage but now she and her husband Mark, will be moving to Lubbock where he has been transferred with Safeway.

We're going to miss these young ladies. But we realize that this must be. We've had so many youngsters work at The Brand over the years that have gone off to college and eventually to better jobs with larger newspapers.

that we consider this place a pretty good training station for aspiring journalists. We have worked closely with the schools and their various programs (D.E., V.O.E., I.C.T., etc.) and have been extremely pleased with the results. The only problem we've had, is that they seldom return home after their stay at the Universities.

We have another V.O.E. student with us this year. She will be working with Sue Coleman in the Women's Department and she promises to be another fine young writer. She is Sandra Fields, who is a senior student at Hereford High School this year.

—HB—

And we've had a note from Fr. Simeon Heine, who spent a couple of years here with the local Catholic Church. Simeon became a good friend during his tenure in Hereford and we've always appreciated his comments, good and bad, concerning the newspaper. He was just as quick with a compliment as he was with criticism (always constructive), and we've enjoyed his visits to the office very much. His letter follows:

"Just a line to let you know that I am enjoying the Hereford Brand which was a pleasant gift on my departure from Hereford. It arrives promptly and I am able to leaf through its pages and enjoy the articles and pictures of so many of my friends. You are to be complimented upon the pictures, especially which have added so much to each page.

"With the hope that all goes well for you and the Brand, and all the residents of Hereford whom I remember so fondly, I remain

Sincerely,
Fr. Simeon Heine, S.A."

—HB—

City Manager Dudley Bayne has announced the purchase by the City of Hereford of 3900 acres of farm land located just east of the city which formerly belonged to Walter G. Russell. At the present time, 100 acres of this land is under irrigation and in cultivation. The remainder pastureland.

Present plans call for the cash-lease of this land to some farmer, who will have the use of the water coming from the city's sewer ponds. The move was made to head-off an expensive expansion of the city's sewer system which could cost the city in the neighborhood of half-a-million dollars, according to Bayne. When the city's population reached 15,000, the present sewer system would not have been adequate.

With the acquisition of the farm land, no water from the sewer ponds will be put into Tierra Blanca Creek—all will be pumped to a lake on the new property to be used as irrigation water by those who lease the land.

Incidentally, there is a great deal of railroad trackage along the northern boundary of this land, which will be available for industrial sites. It is just south of the airport across the tracks and is ideally located for industry. This property can be sold for this purpose when new industry comes to Hereford. The property also has a number of irrigation wells and it is believed that eventually water from these wells will be pumped back to town for city use while the land under cultivation will be watered with the sewer water.

It should work out well for all concerned and we believe the purchase was a wise move on the part of the city.

—HB—

Incidentally, one man has suggested that the City build an eighteen hole golf course along the creek on this newly acquired property, and use the present 9-hole course, plus the property which the city got from the American Legion, as a city park. And certainly, it would make a beautiful park, rivaling MacKenzie State Park in Lubbock.

The idea has merit.

memo to advertisers

SEEING IS BELIEVING

How do you believe something you can't actually look at—like the audience for your advertising?

You know that some people out there buy and read our paper—but how many, where do they live, where do they shop for their copies, and how much are they willing to pay?

Best way we know of to "see" a circulation audience (and be sure it exists) is through the facts and figures of the reports of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

No problem to look over our circulation audience—just ask to see a copy of our latest ABC audit report.

Legal Notice
 Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board, High Plains Area, will hold its first biannual election on October 15, 1971. The terms of four present board members will expire at that time. Any person within the following counties who is engaged in the business of producing, or causing to be produced, grain sorghum for commercial purposes is eligible to vote, including owners of farms and their tenants and share croppers. If such person is required to pay the assessment that is collected on grain sorghum within the following counties. The counties involved are: Armstrong, Borden, Carson, Castro, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Floyd, Hale, Randall, Sherman, Swisher, Bailey, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Gaines, Terry and Yoakum. Any person qualifying to vote in the election may place his name in nomination for membership in the Board by application to the above organization, signed by himself and at least ten other persons eligible to vote in the election. Such applications must be filed at least 30 days prior to the election date, in order to have his name placed on the ballot. The election will be held by mail ballot, which will be provided to all eligible voters not later than 15 days prior to the election. Ballots must be mailed to the polling place at 1212 14th Street, Lubbock, Texas 79401, before midnight on the date of the election. Any person qualified to vote who does not receive a ballot prior to October 1, 1971, may obtain one at his local County Agent's office. 5-3-3c

CLIP AND MAIL TODAY

NEW HOPE — Members of the "New Hope," shown above, will appear for a concert here Sunday, Aug. 29 at the First Methodist Church. The group has made appearances throughout the country during the past year and is preparing an overseas tour.

Registration schedule is given for West Texas State

CANYON, Tex.—Registration for day classes at West Texas State University will be conducted Thursday and Friday in the Activities Center.

Evening class and state registrations will be held beginning at 8 a.m. Aug. 28.

Freshmen and seniors will register Aug. 26 and sophomores, juniors and graduate students the next day.

Students are required to register and pay fees in person, Dr. Donald Cates, dean of admissions and registrar said. Registration permits and WT Identification Card or Social security number must be presented at time of registration, he said.

Time of registration for each student will be determined by the letter with which his last name begins. The following alphabetic order will be followed on both days:

- 8-8:30 a.m. C-D
- 8:30-9 E-G
- 9-9:30 Ha-He
- 9:30-10 H-Iz
- 10-10:30 I-J
- 10:30-11 K-L

- 11-11:30 Sa-Sl
- 11:30-12 p.m. Sm-Sz
- 12-12:30 T-V
- 1-1:30 N-O
- 1:30-2 M
- 2-2:30 W-Z
- 2:30-3 Bm-Bz
- 3-3:30 A-BI
- 3:30-4 R

Evening registration will be conducted as follows:

- 8-8:30 a.m. B
- 8:30-9 S-V
- 9-9:30 H-J
- 9:30-10 A
- 10-10:30 E-G
- 10:30-11 C-D
- 11-11:30 W-Z
- 11:30-12 p.m. N-R
- 12-12:30 K-M
- 12:30-1 All others

A student is not registered until he has paid his fees and turned in at the business office all required registration materials. Classes begin Aug. 30. Further inquiries about registration procedures may be directed to the WTSU registrar's office.

Daytime social meeting for older residents is scheduled

Planned especially for older residents of the area but open to anyone interested, a lunch and period of visiting and games will begin at 11 a.m. Wednesday in First United Methodist Church fellowship hall.

Monthly recreation sessions of this informal type are in view in this program, launched last month under sponsorship of the church. Attendance is not limited, however, to members of this or any church, or to any special age group.

Main purpose of the meetings is to enable older residents to widen their acquaintance, to befriend, church and family service.

Mrs. John Heard, who with her husband occupies one of the cottages at Kings Manor, is serving as temporary chairman until an organization can be formed to direct activities.

For the Wednesday meeting, those who care are asked to bring a dish for the lunch, games and tables for the social hour afterward. A short devotional period and group singing will precede lunch.

Werts selected to family test group

The Robert Wert family, 106 W. 5th, has been named a member of the Countryside Family Test Group of Farm Journal, Inc.

They are among 500 other families across the nation that were chosen to test products to see if they are suitable to go on the market.

The local family was recommended by another member family.

Selected for their special skills and interests in countryside, living, homemaking and community work, the Werts made extensive reports on their family, including every electrical product they owned, Mrs. Wert said.

"We will test all types of products, ranging from flea dog collars to things as big as backyard swimming pools. The reports made on the products will be sent to the Farm Journal.

Countryside Test Group members help the editors by acting as a sounding board for editorial ideas and by reflecting local opinions, problems and customs. This service supplements travel and personal visits by the magazines staffs.

'New Hope' plans Aug. 29 concert

The "New Hope" will be presented in concert by First Baptist Church on Sunday, Aug. 29 at 7 p.m. at First Methodist Church. The group consists of a four man rhythm section, including a Continental Baroque Organ, four brassmen, and five vocalists, three guys and two girls.

This unique group is composed of professional musicians from colleges and universities around the United States. All are veteran entertainers, having appeared with various vocal groups across the country. Now, for the first time, they have joined their talents and created a fresh, new sound. They have given "new hope" to the concept of group entertainment.

The program will consist of a great deal of original material as well as an assortment of hit tunes and rock classics.

"The New Hope" is currently on an extended tour of colleges, universities, and high schools and service organizations throughout the United States.

"The New Hope" is managed and produced by CSI Productions of Woodland Hills, California.

The group has made appearances across the nation during the past few months and soon will be featured on a 30-minute film of a Folk-Rock Musical for Youth Films, Inc. They also are preparing for an overseas tour to include stops in France, Holland, Panama, New Zealand and Hawaii.

The stop here is part of an extended tour of colleges, churches, universities, high schools and military installations throughout the United States.

Canadian trip follows wedding

On a trip through Glacier National Park into Canada following their recent wedding in Denver, Capt. and Mrs. James Raymond Cwelich will be at home August 29 at 2424 South Steele, Denver. The bride is the former Miss Nancy Jo Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don T. Martin, 204 Northwest.

The high noon wedding took place in Most Precious Blood Catholic Church with the Rev. John Krenzke and the Rev. Calvin McConnell, pastor of Christ Methodist Church in Denver, officiating.

Miss Anita Griffith and Capt. Taso Dontchos were the couple's only attendants. Fellow officers of the bridegroom in the U.S. Air Force acted as ushers and formed an arch with their sabers as the couple left the church.

Candles at the altar were lit by the bridegroom's sisters, Lorraine and Barbara Cwelich, Merle Greear, organist, played wedding music including accompaniment to Ray Johnson, whose vocal solo was Song of Ruth.

The bride's gown of white organza was styled with high neckline, bishop sleeves and skirt with back fullness gathered to an empire waistline belted with the organza. Venise lace made wide cuffs and a front panel outlined with rows of lace daisies.

A daisy headpiece held her elbow-length illusion veil. She carried pink roses with stephanotis and ivy leaves. An opal ring belonging to her mother and a lace handkerchief of her paternal grandmother were included in her costume.

The maid of honor was dressed in pink and white organza with lace trim, and a white picture hat.

Cherry Creek Inn was the scene of the wedding reception, where Miss Nancy Patruccone registered guests, Misses Karen Timmerack and Jennifer Combs served the cake, Misses Linda Essig and Cindy Beattie poured punch.

Assisting were Mrs. W.L. Davis Jr. of Hereford and Miss Betty Wallace.

The bride, who has taught two years in Denver Public Schools, is a graduate of West Texas State University and a member of Delta Zeta.

Serving in the Air Force now as technical contract manager for the Titan Missile Program, the bridegroom holds an MS degree from Purdue University and BS in electrical engineering from Manhattan College.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Cwelich of Yonkers, N.Y., were among wedding

Couple married in Naples, Italy of Jerry M. Sublett

A marriage in Naples, Italy, Friday morning is of interest in Hereford to friends of the bride's family. Miss Carol Lee Eades, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.W. Eades, 111 Mimosa, exchanged wedding vows at Naples with Joseph Anthony Vasconcellos.

Both are residents of Van Nuys, Calif., and after a trip through Italy, Spain, France and England will be at home September 3 at 14600 Saticoy, No. 28, in that city.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Dolores Vasconcellos and the late Joseph P. Vasconcellos of East Orange, New Jersey.

The marriage took place in the Municipio de Napoli at 10 a.m. Friday. Witnesses by proxy guests, as were Matthew Cwelich of New York City; the bride's parents, W.L. Davis Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Troys Carmichael of Hereford.

Also Capt. and Mrs. Don R. Henslee, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Sanders of Colorado Springs; Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bogle of Center, Colo.; Mrs. F.W. Sanders of Goodland, Kan.; the Rev. Frederick J. Helbig, S.J., of St. Petersburg, Fla.

who took part in preliminary formalities, were Mrs. and Mrs. Joseph McDonald of San Francisco, Misses Susan Haddon and Laurie Schacher of Sherman Oaks, Calif.

The bride, who was graduated from Tascosa High School in Amarillo before her parents moved to Hereford, is employed by the Los Angeles County department of Social Services as a social worker.

She has a BA degree in sociology from Seattle University and previously earned the associate in arts degree from Stephens College at Columbia, Mo.

A sales representative with a transportation firm in Los Angeles, the bridegroom also attends the University of California in Los Angeles and has studied in Rutgers University at Newark.

SOME GRANT

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A $46,000 federal grant has been made for a Western Kentucky pilot project which seeks to treat acid water from strip mine sites and use it to irrigate vegetation on reclaimed land.

The marriage of Miss Connie Jo Hoover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Hoover, 301 Sunset, and Jerry Mac Sublett, son of Mr. and Mrs. V.D. Sublett, Route 4, was a Thursday evening event in the sanctuary of First Baptist Church.

Dr. Gerald Mann, pastor, officiated for the exchange of vows at an altar setting backed by an arch of green foliage with a scatter of daisies and peace dove figurines. Lighted candles shone among bouquets of yellow gladiolas, turquoise and white daisies.

Votive candles lighting the bridal aisle were placed on sprays of fresh ivy leaves. Miss Debbie Lee Hoover, her sister's maid of honor, Misses Jane Zinser, Nancy Collins of Odessa and Jana Denton, the bridesmaids, preceded the bride down that aisle.

John Sublett of Clarendon, brother of the bridegroom, was his best man, with Troy Sublett, John Hays of Dimmitt and Calvin Smith of Plainview as groomsmen.

Ushers were J.D. Harder, Ralph Loerwald, Greg Herring and David Henslee. The latter two lighted candles before the wedding procession. Principal musical selections were I'll Walk with God and All of My Life, sung by Sherry White, Janet Frye, Vicki Kendall and Carol Scott. Mrs. John Messenger was the organist.

Her father escorted the bride to the altar. With her floor-length gown of white silk organza she carried her bouquet on a Bible which was also a part of the bridal costume at her mother's wedding. Her luck piece was a dime minted in the year of her birth, gift of Mrs. Charles Newell.

Lace motifs were scattered over the dress, which was worn over snowy bombazine. Narrow lace edged the stand-up collar and extended down the front panel effect, then around the half-circle train in two rows.

Lace roses embroidered with seed pearls circled the neckline and the wide cuffs to which the sleeves were gathered, and were applied in a large spray above the hemline.

From a bandeau of white silk petals, a pouf of illusion tiers formed the elbow-length veil. Her flowers were orchids and stephanotis with ivy leaves in a cascade.

White pique embroidered in a design of turquoise and yellow daisies made the bridesmaids' dresses, with velvet ribbons of the two colors tied around the empire waistline. They wore wide-brimmed hats in those colors, with ribbon streamers, and carried nosegays of daisies and gypsophyllia.

Guests were received after the ceremony at Hereford Country Club. Misses Mona Gail Gibson, Pam Plunkett of Andrews and Laurel Davis sat in turn at the registry table.

Misses Martha Ann McBride and Kay Lynn Lyman served punch, Mrs. Craig Fuller and Miss Carol Turrentine the four-tiered wedding cake.

The half-moon table was draped in yellow net and backed by an arch of smilax and ivy. Pedestals on either side held baskets of yellow gladiola blooms and blue daisies.

Mrs. Cecil Hart, Mrs. Tommy Braddy, Mrs. Jim Perrin and Mrs. J.R. Ogesby assisted in the reception houseparty.

Mr. and Mrs. Sublett left for a week in the Northern New Mexico mountain area, and will be at home after August 27, at 306 2nd Street, Canyon.

Arhart Reinarts are third-time grandparents

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy George of Brownfield are parents of a son, Patrick Thomas, born last Saturday evening in Brownfield Hospital.

The baby weighed 6 lbs. 10 1/2 ozs. and joins a brother Chris, 3, and sister Michelle, 1.

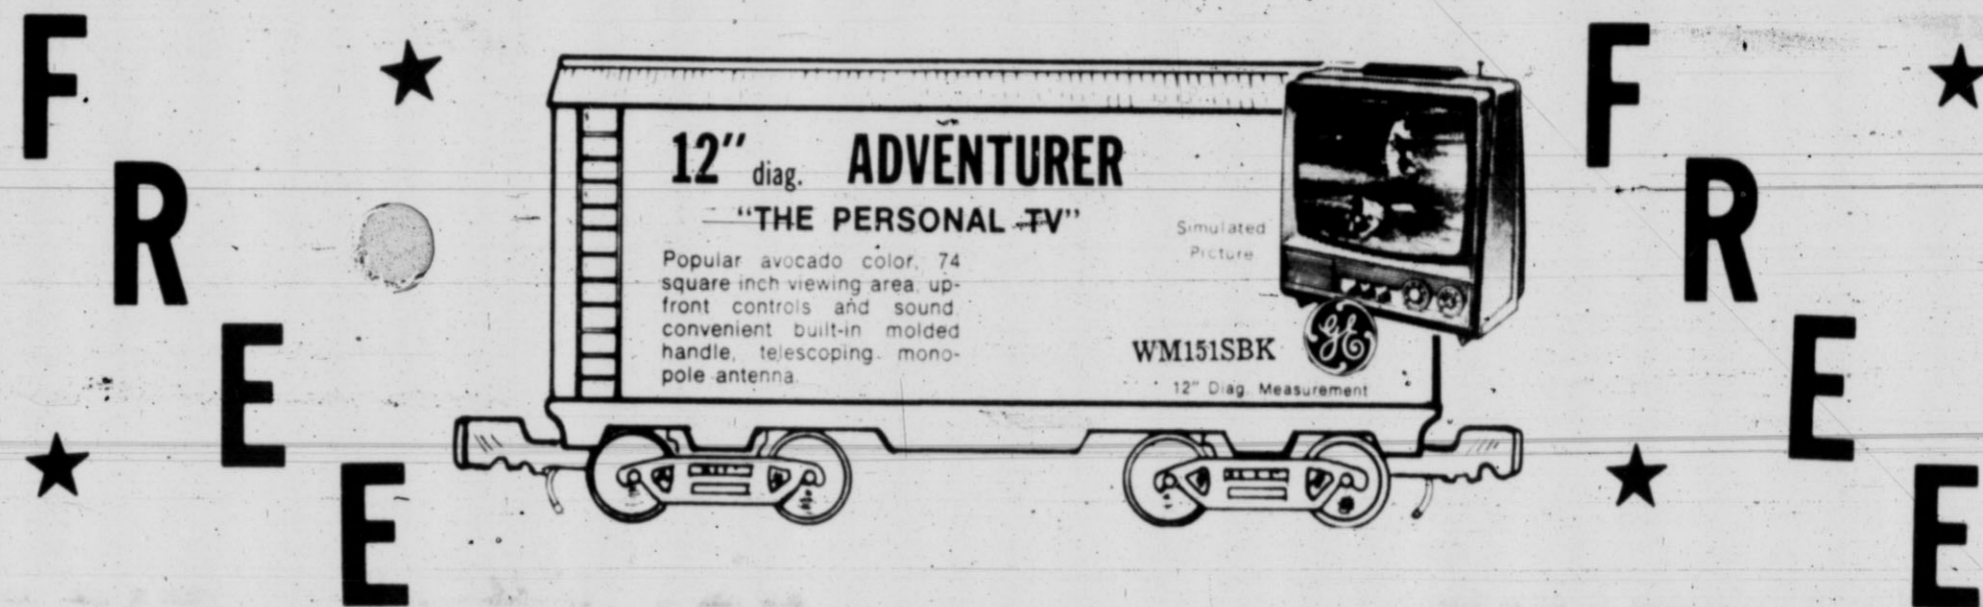

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Arhart Reinart of Route 3 and Mr. and Mrs. Jim George of Brownfield.

Mrs. George is the former Janet Reinart of Hereford.

He is a junior student in West Texas State University there, majoring in agricultural economics. He and the bride are both graduates of Hereford High School, she with the class of 1970 and he two years earlier.

The bride was Hereford Lions Club sweetheart, and at Texas Tech where she was a student last year she served on the University Center committee and was on the Dean's Honor roll both semesters.

Among wedding guests from other cities were Mrs. Rubye Cooper of Albuquerque, Mrs. Clyde Anderson of Roswell, the Bob Retzel family of Carrollton, Miss Carol Chamberlain of Clarendon and Buzz Brittain of Stinnett.

Labor leader lip

Although the "man on the street" is generally in accord with President Nixon's wage and price freeze, the reverberations from labor leaders are beginning to bounce all over the county as the full impact of the freeze begins to come through.

It seems that the bosses feel that it's great to put a "freeze" in prices but when the freeze also affects the union wages, then the protests begin. And, by the same token, manufacturers usually follow the same pattern of thinking... let's hold those wages down, but don't mess around with prices.

But apparently the President's freeze is going to include everyone, and certainly it should. If the 90-day restrictions on wage and price increases is to be effective to curb run-away inflation, then it must include everyone, and everything. It cannot succeed if it is a piecemeal plan, excluding those individuals and companies which wield the most political pull.

We will predict however, that the President will have to go a little further than just the "voluntary" and see that the embargo is enforced. We note that the creation of a special enforcement team has been announced at the Justice Department to press any court actions needed against violators of the 90-day freeze and that stiff penalties were hinted by the spokesman. It will have to be if the freeze works.

We are hoping, too, that Congress will see fit to go along with the President's recommendations concerning tax relief for individuals and companies and we would hope that the President will follow through with more and bigger money-saving cuts in federal programs, both foreign and domestic.

As unreal as it might seem, we have been in a state of depression—amidst run-away inflation. The fact that the President has finally taken positive action may herald the turning point and put us back on the road to recovery.

Fly, phone now and never pay

Existing law forbids corporations to make loans or advances to individuals campaigning for federal office but this statute, as Senator Hugh Scott said the other day, is widely circumvented.

What especially concerned Mr. Scott was that airlines and telephone companies, both regulated by the federal government, extend large amounts of credit to candidates for federal office and the candidates, to put it mildly, don't always pay their bills.

Reports collected for Mr. Scott by the General Accounting Office showed more than $2 million in outstanding debts for airline and communications service, with many of the debts dating from 1968. "I think it is about time," the Senator said, "that we political candidates adhere to the fiscal responsibility and accountability standards which we set for others."

Mr. Scott proposes to forbid the extension of unsecured credit to candidates by such companies, but would permit normal credit-card transactions as long as routine safeguards are observed. No one wants to keep candidates out of the air or off the phone, but it would be nice if they paid their bills.

The Wall Street Journal, taking note of two stories in the New York Times, comments, "Governor Rockefeller, we learn, pays some $36 million a year to sundry 'consultants'; seemingly they are mostly former state officials who never quite retired. And New York City wasn't so hard-pressed that it couldn't scrape up $60,000 for some new Cadillac and Chrysler limousines for three borough presidents and other officials."

The state's 'consultants' and the city's limousines may look like small change in multi-billion-dollar budgets. There is no doubt a lot of such small change, however. Officials who are unwilling to suffer a little pain can hardly supply leadership for the painful task of cutting costs. Given the present plight of some cities and states, there can be little question that they need fewer limousines and more leadership."

Ordinary standards of frugality have no meaning in the affairs of government. That is why the bigger government gets, the closer its citizens come to tax servitude.

Good citizenship it has a purpose

CRAWFORD, NEBR., TRIBUNE: "The Lord helps those who help themselves," is a saying from the good book. Some folks should take a close look at the spelling of that word LORD. It isn't spelled UNCLE."

HANCOCK, N. Y., HERALD: "Through the years we have been publishing this newspaper we have given many young (and some not so young) people a 'break' by withholding their names from publication after they became involved with the law which resulted in police action. We have maintained that we do not relish printing news items of people being arrested as we are not running a 'police gazette.' To that end, we have respected requests on several occasions and will continue to do so providing the person involved makes the request with one exception. We WILL NOT withhold the names of people who are picked up and found guilty of using any type of narcotic illegally."

BEDFORD, I.N.D., TIMES-MAIL: "Being impressed by the mountains of pet foods on display in the supermarkets we have long assumed that dogs have never had it so good. Now a couple of federal agencies are raising questions about the effects of exclusive feeding of all-meat dog food and fortified dog foods promoted as a 'complete' or 'balanced' diet. Poor things. And here we thought all along that dogs (and cats) have come a long way since the days when they had to settle for table scraps."

IDAHO FALLS, IDAHO, EASTERN IDAHO FARMER: "Education is a wonderful thing. Ten years ago, hardly anybody knew what the word 'ecology' meant. Now everybody knows — and everybody also knows exactly what to do about it. In the brief span of a decade, they became authorities on the subject. Of course, there's wide disagreement on what should be done to protect and preserve the environment. What we really need, perhaps, is more ecology education. That's coming, too. It is generally agreed that of all the opportunities in an expanding field in the United States, ecology offers everything."

ALTOONA, PA., MIRROR: "In the last four years the automotive industry has been the target of mounting safety concern, bolstered by the belief that modern technology possesses the capability to produce vehicles that are much safer than present models and the continuing adoption by the federal government of new safety standards. This campaign has begun to pay off. For the first time in many years, automobile fatalities were down in 1970 over 1969, despite the presence of more vehicles on the road. Estimates of the number of lives saved in 1970 because of safety standards adopted in the last four years range up to 9,000."

Senators see power as fast way to top

BY BERT MILLS

Washington, D.C.—Except for Dwight Eisenhower, all our Presidents since 1945 have been ex-Senators. This fact may explain why so many present Senators are so anxious to run for the White House in 1972.

Harry Truman, John Kennedy, Lyndon Johnson and Richard Nixon all used the Senate as a stepping stone to the White House. However, only Kennedy made it by a direct leap. The other three all served as Vice President first and two of them became chief executive by succession rather than by election.

Recent history is proof that there is indeed a future for Vice Presidents may figure in the thinking of some present Senators. At least some of the Democratic Senators seeking the Presidential nomination now may be glad to settle for second place one year hence.

There are two or three exceptions among the Democrats. Sen. Hubert Humphrey sweated out four years as President Johnson's V.P. before becoming the presidential nominee in 1968. Surely he would not accept second place on the 1972 ticket. Nor is it likely that Sen. Edmund Muskie, who was Humphrey's running mate last time, would agree to try to be number two a second time.

Sen. Edward Kennedy probably has no designs on the V.P.

post, even though both of his brothers tried for the job. Teddy is expected to bide his time in 1972, and settle for nothing less than the top spot, in 1976 or later.

Muskie-Jackson Ticket Possible

If Sen. Muskie maintains his present lead for the Democratic nomination, a possible running mate could be Sen. Henry Jackson. Now testing his appeal as a prospective President but with only a longshot chance, Jackson could supply balance to a ticket headed by Muskie.

A Westerner, with a phenomenal acceptance among voters in the state of Washington, Jackson has become a spokesman for. As a Vice Presidential candidate, Jackson could attract Republican votes and help offset charges that Muskie is "too liberal."

Other Senate Democrats who would like to be President, including George McGovern, Birch Bayh, Fred Harris and possibly William Proxmire, might not offer enough contrast to be a suitable running mate for Muskie. And maybe there ought not to be two Senators on the same ticket, suggesting a possible Vice Presidential candidate might come from among Governors or members of the House.

Rep. Wilbur Mills, for example, could be a suitable running mate for any of several liberal Democrats. To be sure, he has said he would prefer to remain Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee rather than be Vice President. But it should be remembered that nobody runs for V.P. one year in advance of the nominating convention.

Does Agnew Have a Future?

Speculation about a Democratic candidate for V.P. brings to mind that the Republicans also have a problem, named Spiro Agnew. He has been a highly controversial Vice President and well up among 1972's intriguing questions is whether he will be dumped. Does Agnew have a future or only a past?

Only one man's opinion counts. President Nixon selected Agnew as his running mate in 1968 and he will dictate the Vice Presidential decision again in 1972. The Democratic nominee for President will have a voice in choosing the man he wants on the ticket but probably will not be able to dictate the decision as Nixon will do.

If Nixon should decide next year that Agnew is more of a liability than an asset, the field is wide open. Nixon could turn to his Cabinet, to a Governor, or a member of Congress. One qualification would appear to be attractiveness to Southern voters. That's why Agnew got the job last time.

THE BOOTLEG

—Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has some trouble with the high cost of space science this week, his letter indicates.

Dear editor:

I've tried everything from reading month-old newspapers to watching re-runs on television to figuring out how we can have two Chinas in the United Nations, which shouldn't be too hard in view of the fact we've got two Dakotas and two Virginias in the United States, not to mention one Texas, but still I can't get my mind off that moon buggy. I mean, its price. Eight million dollars.

As I understand it, the buggy was powered by four quarter-horse electric motors about the size of the one in your washing machine, one on each wheel, had special wire tires, seat belts, a bunch of batteries, no top, and a high-powered television camera. It didn't have a steering wheel, just a stick that controlled the four quarter-horse motors.

While my knowledge of auto manufacturing is about as close to zero as you can get, although I know the companies do have an engineer whose main job is to design a hood release latch so it'll never be in the same place one model to the next, I have decided that the hardest thing about building an 8-million-dollar moon car is making it cost 8 million dollars.

Fifty thousand dollars. Maybe, considering inflation and all, a hundred thousand dollars, but 8 million dollars? For four electric motors, wire wheels, no top and a television camera?

How many sleepless nights did the designers and small engineers have to spend to get that much money into one small car? They're bound to have had the help of four Congressional Committees and eighteen State Legislatures, with possibly a dozen or so big city mayors thrown in and no doubt a few of the engineers who design highway cloverleaf interchanges, working I guess on double-time, triple-time, quadruple-time. I could go on but I don't know what the word for the next multiple is.

Anyway, making the car cost 8 million dollars is near about as great a scientific feat as hauling it to the moon. That price of course was F.O.B. the launch pad. When you figure in the transportation charges thereafter, hold on to your hat and hang on.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Talk of Texas

BY JACK MAGUIRE

THE BIRDMEN OF POLITICS—The Jaybirds and the Woodpeckers fought a deadly battle in Fort Bend County 82 years ago, but the combatants were men, not birds, and the issue was political control of the county.

The Jaybirds organization represented the wealth and most of the white population of the county, while the Woodpeckers were the 40-odd officials and ex-officials who gained control during the Negro-dominated Republican government that followed the Civil War. By capturing the vote of the recently freed slaves, the Woodpeckers gained and kept control of most of the county's elective offices.

It was not until June 21, 1889, that the Jaybird-Woodpecker "war" finally exploded into violence when a Woodpecker county official killed a member of the Jaybirds. Almost overnight the county became a virtual armed camp. On August 16, 1889, the two factions fought a pitched battle in Richmond, the county seat.

Hostilities ended only when martial law was declared and Governor Lawrence S. Ross went to Richmond to mediate the argument personally. He reorganized the county government and placed the Jaybirds in control. Many Woodpeckers left the county forever.

The Jaybird Democratic Association continued active until the 1950's when the Supreme Court outlawed the so-called "white man's primary" elections.

TEXAS BRAG—Marlin, Falls County health spa, claims that its hot mineral water wells are the deepest and strongest in the world. They flow 380,000 thermal gallons per day.

BOOM TO BUST—More than 70 years ago, Samuel Crowther was drilling a water well on his McMullen County ranch when the drill struck oil instead.

Believing that the area would be the next great oil field, Crowther announced the establishment of a town and the development of a project designed to make his community the hub of South Texas. Plans were to build a railroad linking Crowther and San Antonio and another to the harbor facilities at Rockport. It was believed that oil and coal deposits on the ranch would make Crowther a metropolis.

By 1910, however, Crowther had reached a population of only 45, the railroads had not been built and it appeared that the coal and oil were hardly of commercial quality. A few years later, the town was dead.

Today what's left of Crowther (a clubhouse, blacksmith shop and a few chimneys and sidewalks) still stands on the ranch now owned by George Jambers. The town has no residents.

TRAVELING TEXAS—Tourists passing through Hamilton County sometimes do a double take when they pass a graveyard on which is lettered the words: "Fairy Cemetery."

Actually none of the little people is buried there. It happens to be the burial ground for the community of Fairy.

30 YEARS AGO—1921

Preparations for the beginning of the re-roofing job on the Deaf Smith County Courthouse started Monday morning. The contract for this work was recently set by the County commissioners to the John Manville Company of Houston. Some idea of the volume of tourist traffic through Hereford this summer may be gained by the startling fact that thirty transcontinental tourist cars were filled with oil and gas at one filling station alone last Saturday.

35 YEARS AGO—1936

When the local schools officially open Monday, September 7, the new east wing and the entire old building space of Central School will be ready to accommodate students. The west wing will be completed shortly afterward. When it is finished, eight new class rooms will have been added to the old building and the entire structure renovated.

20 YEARS AGO—1951

A staggering blow was dealt crops in an area about 30 miles square north and east of Hereford Thursday night as a 20 minute battering hailstorm inflicted damage estimated at more than $250,000 on grain sorghums, cotton, corn, lettuce, and grasses. Rains ranging from .3 inch to five inches in places and extremely heavy winds accompanied the scattered hailstorm, which hit shortly after 7 p.m.

5 YEARS AGO—1966

Formation of a Fine Arts committee in Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce will be recommended to the board of directors at its monthly meeting in the Chamber of Commerce office Wednesday morning. Saturday September 10 is the date set for voters to go to the polls to decide the fate of a proposed vocational school and an elementary school. In the amount of $400,000, the money raised by bonds—if approved by school district voters—will be used for a vocational building of the high school and an elementary school south of Hereford.

1 YEAR AGO—1970

Approximately 5,700 students will be summoned Monday by the ringing of bells to the first day of the 1970-71 school year in the Hereford system. With blue prints just off the drawing board for a new bank building, the Hereford State Bank has already taken the first step toward a new role in the community with the opening of its three new drive-in teller windows just south of the present bank building.

By the Garden Gate with Glad

By Mrs. Art Manjeot

As I look over the garden gate, I note that my work is cut out for me. Weeds, weeds, and grasses... all needing attention. Also have a new army of worms invading the garden, and some green bugs on the tender rose buds. Yes, it looks like there are busy days ahead.

However when I look at the beautiful blue of the sky where the clouds are hurrying across, and feel the soft wind on my face, and feel that I can look out and up and exclaim: "Why this is the clearing up. Tomorrow the sunshine will be bright and warm, the birds will be singing, the bees busy gathering honey, and the work will go well, and 'er long the flower beds will be clean of the weeds, grass, and worms."

It is great to have the recent rains which to most everyone has been very welcome. In weeding the garden, be careful to hold down small or weak plants with spread fingers of one hand as you pull weeds or grass with the other to avoid doing harm to the root system, or damage to the plants or blossoms.

When it is time to cut the weeds (after the flower beds and vegetable gardens are cleaned up) use a swinging weed cutter for the tall weeds and grass. Swing from the waist as you cut the weeds. This is good exercise and will probably do some of the things you most want done to the hips or tummy. Really one can have fun, as much perhaps as golfing, if you get into the swing of it... and search for the enjoyment.

If you have not divided the iris, and replanted the rizons, then it is time. Dig, separate the rizons, trim the leaves to a peak shape, and plant in the selected location. In the beds which you do not plan to disturb the rizons, they should be thoroughly cleaned. All dried foliage, dead stems and faded blossom stems should be removed. Clean foliage around the base of the plant, and then burn all of the trash, foliage and other removed plant materials.

The hemerocallis (day-lilies) have finished their bloom period. If their clumps have multiplied and seem to be crowded, this is the time to dig, divide, and replant. However, if the clumps do not need dividing, then clean them as you have the iris, and give both the iris and the hemerocallis a feeding of superphosphate. This can be done by scratching around the plant, dust soil with the plant food, and then stir it into the soil at the base of the clumps.

SPRING FLOWERING BULBS

Many have already selected and ordered their bulbs for fall planting. If however, other selections will be made, let me encourage gardeners to try some of the new bulbs. Also, do not overlook the small bulbs when you turn and wish while looking through the catalogues.

The autumn blooming colchiums and the autumn-flowering crocus should be selected now, and planted in September. It is real nice to have some of the fall flowering crocus, they come along just as the full bloom of the summer garden is waning. There is also real pleasure to have the late blossoms from the colchiums. They are really a nice surprise, as they come through the ground unnoticed, and then quick there are blossoms. Really they could be called the surprise flower. The bulbs can be purchased, and placed on the windowsill without planting them in soil or giving them water. Then comes the flowers, dainty, sweet, fragile lavender lily-like blossoms. After flowering they then can be planted in the garden, where the foliage will appear the following spring. They will multiply and 'er too long there will be a very attractive bed of beautiful foliage in the spring, and then the blossoms in the fall. They bloom in September or October, depending on care and the season.

Last year, when I ordered spring flowering bulbs, I tried some of the small bulbs which I had not planted before. They brought me much pleasure and some of them are very dainty and sweet. One that we enjoyed especially was the Scilla Campanulata, and Scilla Sibirica. The first named has bell shaped flowerlets, in dainty pastel colors, on upright stems. They are sometimes called "wood hyacinths." The manner in which they grow on the stem is much like the hyacinths: Scilla Sibirica is a similar plant except the flowers are a deeper blue.

Another variety that we especially liked were the Snowdrops (Galanthus Nivalis). They bloom early March or late February, and the white attractive blossoms are demure and sweet.

Many friends have expressed to me their enjoyment of Anemone De Caen (Mixed); also Hardy Anemone Blanda. They both bloom before the tulips and other spring flowering bulbs, which many of us have grown for years. One of my garden friends, who teaches school, told me that she planted some of the Anemone De Caen and that she took the cut flowers to school. The pupils thoroughly enjoyed them. My new neighbor also expressed to me her pleasure derived from the Anemones. Grape Hyacinths, both the deep blue and white are exceptionally good for border planting. They too bloom earlier than some of the others, and require very little maintenance. They are the type that multiplies very rapidly; therefore the growth has extra bulbs for other borders, or to share with friends or neighbors.

FLOWER SHOW

The North Zone Judges Group staged a very interesting, lovely, and informative flower show at the Amarillo Garden Center Monday. Members of the Hereford Garden Club and the Bud to Blossom Club (those who are National Judges) participated. Each of the entrants did their clubs proud as each won one or more awards. Mrs. Pat Robinson won Sweepstakes (a very coveted award) in the Artistic Division. The theme of the show was the "Gardener's Zodiac." In her arrangement, Mrs. Robinson, depicting Sagartarus, the shooting star, used an onion blade with attached small onions as the star and won a blue ribbon in Creativity class. She won another first on her arrangement which carried out the idea of Taurus, the Bull (Strong as a Bull). Her container really showed strength, as she used an old plow disc. This won the Award of Distinction. Both were cleverly executed. Mrs. O.G. Hill Sr. won a blue ribbon on creativity with an arrangement depicting the space age.

Mrs. Bill Gentry came home with three first place ribbons from horticulture entries. She won these on a Peace Rose and a Nocturn Rose and Red Barberry. I earned two blue ribbons in the horticulture division, an arboreal award on a branch of Golden Rain Tree and another first on French Marigolds: Mrs. Hill was awarded two firsts in horticulture on Bryacantha Branch and a Cypress entry.

Other awards were won by Mrs. R.L. Ethridge, Mrs. Gentry, Mrs. Hill, and myself. The competition was strict and hard.

IMPORTANT: It is imperative that all of us take pride in our hometown. Get busy and clean up the alleys, the streets, cut over-grown weeds, grasses and other foreign growths. As Jeff Dull and I worked in the yard and garden the other day, we found that there is not only a new crop of worms, but that the mosquitoes are real bad in the vegetation. Really we need another CLEAN-UP campaign all over Hereford. Let's all get busy and give the Beauty Spot Committee a real hard time to make decisions this month.

In 1836 mail carriers were allowed two cents for each letter and one cent for each newspaper they delivered.

Most fish that spawn in muddy water have eggs that adhere to vegetation.

TEXAS-SIZED SUNFLOWER — Mrs. Theresa Kubacak, who lives southeast of Hereford, measures a 16 inch sunflower in her yard. Some of Mrs. Kubacak's sunflowers stand nine feet tall.

Student couple marry in church ceremony

Married in an evening ceremony Friday, Kenneth E. Leach and his bride, the former Janis Carol Dean, will be at home after a trip to Ohio at 608 Portland in Plainview, where both are students in Wayland College.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. M.E. Dean, 226 Aspen, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald McMillan of Columbus, Ohio.

The Rev. Don McWhorter, pastor of Wesley United Methodist Church, read the marriage service in the church sanctuary. Blue and white summer flowers were arranged on a pair of white and gold pedestals at the altar as a background for the wedding party.

Miss Kathy Good, college roommate of the bride, was her maid of honor, with Misses Kathy Moore and Beccie Helms as bridesmaids.

With Tom Johnson as best man, the bridegroom was attended by Steve Hatley and Bill Zeeck. All attendants are Wayland students, as are the ushers, Mike Stovall and Phil Orrick.

Jana Johnson was the flower girl and Trey Bradley the ring bearer. The bride's father gave her in marriage.

Piano selections by Mrs. Tom Betzen of Lubbock included Love Is All Around and Just the Two of Us, as well as the marches.

The bride's gown of nylon organza had insets of Chantilly lace at the high neckline and shoulder line, with wide lace cuffs on the empire bodice and the skirt fell floor length in soft folds.

Her veil, held by a coil, was bordered in lace scallops and extended cathedral length.

She carried white pompon mums and gypsophyllia on a bridal Bible with a lace handkerchief that had belonged to her great-great-grandmother. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace, a gift from an old family friend, Jake Grose of Mt. Sterling, Ohio.

Peacock blue frocks and matching hair bows were worn by the bridesmaids. Their empire dresses had puffed sleeves trimmed in scallops of the fabric of miniature mums.

Ward Hall of the church was the setting for the wedding reception, where the bridesmaids served cake and punch assisted by Mmes. G.W. Duncan, Wayland Wampler, James Priddy, Bob Burden and Boyd Collins. Guests were registered by Miss Diann Brisendine.

Covered with white lace, the table was centered with bouquets of the bride and her attendants, placed between peacock blue candles. The tiered cake was decorated with blue sugar roses, sweetpeas and wedding bells.

For the wedding trip, which will include a stop at Columbus to visit the bridegroom's parents, Mrs. Leach changed to a powder blue crepe pantsuit with white accessories. Mrs. Dean pinned her own corsage on her daughter's jacket.

A graduate of Hereford High School, the bride is a senior at Wayland and is employed as a student secretary to the registrar.

The bridegroom completed high school studies at Columbus South High.

Marriage vows spoken in morning ceremony

A home wedding in a setting of candles and green foliage was conducted at mid-morning Saturday for Miss Mary Ann Vance, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Vance, 135 Beach, and Jack Gerald Nunley Jr. of Colorado Springs.

Dr. Gerald Mann, pastor of First Baptist Church, officiated for the exchange of vows in the home of the bridegroom's parents at 602 East Fourth.

An altar was improvised in the living room, with branched candelabra holding wedding tapers in a bank of greenery.

The bride wore lace over satin, a street-length empire dress with satin belt around the high waistline meeting at a flat bow in center back. Further back interest was in the skirt, which came together in scallops of the lace over a panel of pleated chiffon.

The portrait neckline and fitted long sleeves added to simple lines of the dress front. The bridal bouquet was a lavender orchid centered in white carnations. Her short illusion veil was held by a cluster of daisies with three pearl-edged petals extending over her forehead.

Only attendants of the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Roger Ruland. The matron of honor, sister of the bridegroom, was dressed in orchid, styled with wide midriff to give an empire effect to the bodice, and slightly gathered skirt. Pearl buttons rimmed in gold supplied a waistline accent.

Mrs. Nunley chose a brown tunic with beige pleated skirt, trimmed with banding of orange around the neckline and just above the skirt hem.

A wedding reception, also in the home, followed the ceremony. Mrs. Tyler Vance of Amarillo, sister-in-law of the bride, was at the book where guests registered.

Miss Marilyn James served the wedding cake. Miss Ann Michelle Beckman the punch, assisted by Mrs. Louis Beckman Mrs. C.W. James and Mrs. Fres Mulkey.

The dining table was covered in white satin overlaid with net draped at the corners with orchid flowers and bows. A single candle of the same color, in a round silver holder circled with orchid pompon mums, centered the table.

Flowers in shades of orchid and lavender ornamented the three-tiered cake, which was topped with satin bells and doves and a circle of seed pearl hearts.

Leta and Dennis Nunley, sister and brother of the bridegroom, lighted candles while Mrs. William Z. Penn, organist, played a medley of wedding songs. Miss Carol Scott sang A Time for Us just preceding the entrance of the bride, and as a benediction, Wedding Prayer.

After a short stay in Denver, the couple will be at home in Colorado Springs where both, 1971 graduates of Hereford High plan to attend Colorado State University. The bridegroom is employed with Cable Vision there.

Mrs. Nunley, whose going-away dress was a modified A-line frock with white collar and front tabs outlined in purple stitching, was a member in HHS of the National Honor Society, the pep squad, Tri-Hi-Y and Future Homemakers.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included the bridegroom's grandfather, J.W. Spencer of Canyon, the Tyler Vance family of Amarillo; another brother of the bride, Joe Hemphill of Gainesville; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Porter, David and Lesley Porter of Gainesville, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gray and daughters and Miss Fan Purgason of Pampa.

REPORTS FOR DUTY—Pvt. Dicky T. Elliott, who spent three weeks here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Terrell Elliott, east of Hereford, and his sisters, Debbie Elliott and Donna Parker, left Wednesday for Ft. Lewis, Wash., enroute to Long Bien in Wash., enroute to Long Bien in Vietnam. He completed eight weeks of special training after basic training since he began U.S. Army service in March. Elliott is a graduate of Hereford High School. At Long Bien he will be assigned to Army duty in the East Asia combat area.

Fill your spring grazing gap with amazing new DEKALB Wintergraze Brand 9290

Been taking livestock off small-grain pasture in March? Move to new 9290, the palatable wheat-by-wheatgrass hybrid. Put abundant growth in spring grazing — right up to June.

Plant 9290 early. Properly managed, it can be grazed in the fall. In March, move your cattle back from wheat to 9290, and watch them thrive on this abundant, seed-sterile forage.

9290 furnishes the grazing of wheat with many other better features . . .

Plant a few acres and see more grazing in fall, winter and spring.

Higgins-Walker vows repeated in Canyon

Miss Marilyn Kyla Higgins and Billy Dean Walker were united in marriage ceremonies Saturday evening in Joseph A. Hill Chapel at Canyon. The Rev. Baldwin Strubling, pastor of Canyon Presbyterian Church, officiated. The bride's father gave her in marriage.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Terry Higgins of Route 1, Wildorado and Mr. and Mrs. George C. Walker of Briscoe.

Vows were read as the couple stood before an altar centered by arrangements of pink gladiolus, white carnations, pink roses and babybreath. Arched candelabra with sunbursts of emerald foliage were seen in the background. Spiral candelabra and baskets of gladiolus flanked the altar.

 Organ music was presented by Mrs. Glen Dowlen of Clea.

The bride's white sata-peau empire styled gown, featured a Victorian neckline and sheer full sleeves caught at the wrists by fitted cuffs.

Venice lace applique in vertical rows on the bodice front, encircled the neckline and waist. Her full sheer skirt trimmed at the hemline with Venice lace, fell to chapel length.

A satin bow and Camelot coil of Venice lace and seed pearls made up the bride's headpiece, which held a fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of pink roses, white carnations and babybreath.

Miss Leta Gill of Canyon was maid of honor and Miss Doni Acker of Dumas was bridal attendant. They wore floor length gowns of azalea linen trimmed at the neckline with Venice lace and seed pearls.

The empire styled, A-line skirt swept into a brush train and the girls wore horehair hats accented with velvet ribbon. White wicker baskets filled with flowers like those in the bride's bouquet, were carried by the bridesmaid and maid of honor.

Tammy and Andy Wayne Mc-

Cathern, the bride's niece and nephew, children of Mr. and Mrs. Jau Don McCathern, were flowergirl and ring bearer, respectively.

Church candles were lighted by Tracy McCathern, another niece.

Richard Meadows of Briscoe served as the couple's best man with Howard Lohberger of Briscoe as groomsmen. Joey Sabbe of Amarillo and George Markham of Canyon ushered.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gill in Canyon, was the setting for a reception immediately following the wedding ceremony.

Miss Mary Jane Kriegshauser, and Miss Kay Euler of Summerfield, and Mrs. Charles Davis of Pampa served guests who were registered by Miss Darlene Davis of Pampa.

The three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a cascade of pink and white roses, was served from a table covered with pink satin and overlaid with white net trimmed with satin.

Also assisting with the reception were Mmes. Jack Higgins, Frank Cornett, Wallace Shelton and Miss D. Ann Davis of Pampa.

For a honeymoon trip to Colorado the bride wore a blue knit dress with a white belt and rose

Local man to help sponsor dog seminar

Wayne Porter of Hereford will join other area trainers Saturday and Sunday in Clovis as sponsors for a Bird Dog Seminar of the Southwest.

The seminar will be from 1 to 6 p.m. CST in Running Water Draw Park, seven miles north of Clovis.

The purpose of the seminar is to train people to train and handle their own dogs. In the two-day course, such subjects as yard training, steadiness on point, backing or honoring, retrieving, filed trailing and some corrective training will be taught.

The course also will deal in canine parasites and pesticides. Tuition for the seminar is $10 per person.

Miss Adams, Mr. Wood marry in church here

Miss Patricia Margret Adams of Amarillo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark M. Adams of Lexington, Mississippi, and Joe Williams Wood of Amarillo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wood of Wellington, were married here Friday evening in First United Methodist Church.

The Rev. Howard Jones of the First Baptist Church of Hamlin conducted the service. The bride and her parents are former Hereford residents and some members of her family still live here.

An arrangement of large white daisies was placed on the center of the altar with candelabra on both sides of the altar.

Mrs. Clarkie Cook was matron of honor, and the bridesmaid was Miss Pam Adams. Both are sisters of the bride.

Farris Wood of Wellington, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and the groomsmen were Mike Davis of Amarillo. Ushers were Thomas and Johnny Adams of Grapevine, the bride's brothers.

Candlelighters were Tom Wylie of Dallas, cousin of the bride, and Channy Wood, nephew of the bridegroom. Music was by Mrs. Charles Jones and Ben Gollehon, who sang A Time For Us from the movie Romeo and Juliet and The Lord's Prayer.

The bride was dressed in a Camelot gown of white polyanza flowing in slightly circular cut to toe-tip length from the deep yoke of heavy lace. Full bishop sleeves were gathered to wide lace cuffs at the wrist.

Back fullness of the skirt extended to a brief train, and over it fell the longer illusion veil, which was edged with lace and held by a Guinevere cap of lace.

The bouquet was a nosegay of daisies with a white Bible. The bride also wore an antique ring borrowed from Mrs. R.L. Wylie (her aunt).

The matron wore an empire dress of pale orange miramist trimmed in white lace with a scoop neckline. The bridesmaid was dressed in the same style except in color, a pale yellow.

The attendants' both carried baskets filled with yellow and white daisies.

The reception was in Ward Parlor with Mrs. Mike Davis serving cake and Mrs. Marsh Pitman the punch. Registering guests was Miss Karen Rice of Sweetwater. Miss Vanda Wood and Miss Margo Duncan, both nieces of the groom, passed out rice bags at the reception.

The couple will be at home after August 25 after visiting New Mexico. They will reside at 2707-B Curtis Drive in Amarillo.

The bride attended Hereford High School where she was a cheerleader, and is a senior business education major at WTSU. She is president of Phi Gamma Nu business sorority.

The bridegroom attended WTSU and recently graduated from Texas State Technical Institute where he studied farm and ranch operations.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. S.C. Adams of Dallas, grandmother of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. R.L. Wylie of Dallas, Ronnie Dickard and Billy Ables of Lexington, Mississippi, Mrs. Charley Irby of Durant, Mississippi. The guests who attended the ceremony were members of the immediate families and close friends only.

Prince Valiant

IN THE DAYS OF KING ARTHUR
BY HAL FOSTER

Our Story: THE TIME OF PARTING IS AT HAND AND ZIRARA ADVISES PRINCE VAL ON THE DIFFICULT WAY AHEAD, SHOWING THE STARS THAT WILL GUIDE THEM. FOR FEW KNOW THE HEAVENS BETTER THAN THE DESERT MEN.

THE DESERT HOLDS MANY SECRETS. ONCE THEY PASS THE RUINS OF A CITY THAT WAS OLD ERE HISTORY BEGAN. A FEW ERODED COLUMNS AND HEAPS OF RUBBLE ARE ALL THAT REMAIN OF MEN'S INFINITE LABOR. NOW THE PATIENT DESERT QUIETLY COVERS UP THE SCARS.

EVER EASTWARD THEY RIDE AND EVER UPWARD AS THEY APPROACH THE DISTANT MOUNTAINS. BUT NOW THERE ARE MANY STREAMS AND VERDANT VALLEYS.

ONE EVENING THEY SHARE AN OASIS WITH A BAND OF BEDOUINS. THEY SEEM FRIENDLY AND ALL IS PEACEFUL WHILE EACH PREPARES FOR THE NIGHT.

THEN COMES THE HOUR OF PRAYER AND THE NOMADS SPREAD THEIR PRAYER RUGS AND BOW TOWARD MECCA, WHILE VAL AND ARN GIVE THANKS FOR ONE MORE DAY OF LIFE.

"INFIDELS!" SCREAMS A FANATIC, "MUST OUR PRAYERS TO ALLAH ASCEND TO PARADISE MIXED WITH THE ABOMINATIONS OF THESE UNBELIEVERS?" HE WORKS HIMSELF INTO A RELIGIOUS FRENZY.....

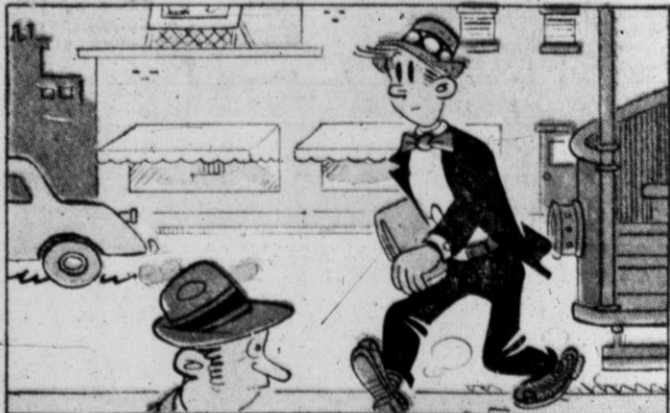

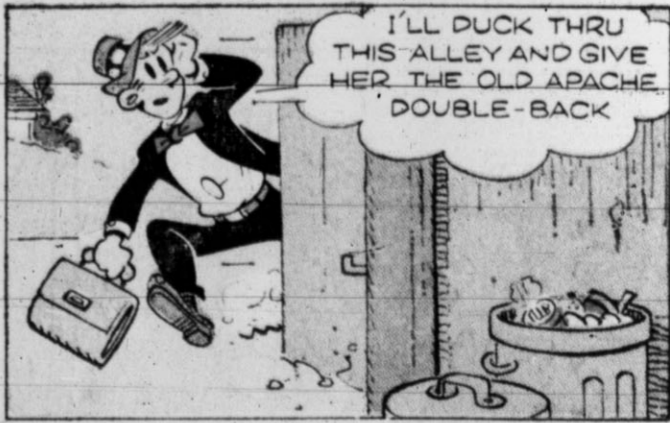

..... THAT SO EXCITES ONE WARRIOR THAT HE CRIES: "MY BLADE IS CONSECRATED TO THE TRUE FAITH. DO YOU DARE CONTEND AGAINST IT?"

hints from Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:
I went to a luncheon and was so excited about the dessert that I could hardly contain myself until I could get home and write you all about it. It was adorable and really brought forth a lot of oh's and ah's.

I couldn't believe my eyes (but I wasn't by my lonesome) when the hostess began serving the dessert. In she, walked with a tray filled with small plastic flowerpots with perky little daisies blossoming forth from each pot.

This was the DESSERT? She had taken regular minature plastic flowerpots, washed them thoroughly with soap and water and used them as the dessert container.

She used angel food cake (but any type of sponge cake would work just as well) and filled the bottom of the flowerpot with that. Her cake was sliced so that it came up to about two inches from the top of the pot. Then she scooped ice cream (frozen solidly) on top of the cake and packed this in firmly.

On the ice cream she added strawberry slices (the type of fruit is optional; however, make sure if the fruit has juice that it is thick and not too runny.) Then she finished filling the rest of the pot (just to the rim, mind you) with dessert topping.

And now for the flowers! She cut plastic straws in 3" lengths and stuck one in the middle of each pot. This made a perfect holder for the daisy that was added later.

The filled flowerpots were stored in the freezer until time to be served. The daisies were added just before serving time.

Serve this and I promise you—you'll wow 'em!

Lisa

You better believe it—You'll WOW 'em! So clever and so cute!

But you know what really made me sit up and take notice is the fact that it can be prepared well in advance. And in my book that's really a selling point.

DISHWASHER ADVICE

DEAR HELOISE:
As a home economist I would like to share a little hint:

This is for your readers who have dishwashers and complain that they don't get the silverware clean.

We are not supposed to stack all the spoons in one

HELP FOR HOMEMAKERS

NO REST FOR THE NEEDY

DEAR HELOISE:
I have always disliked the chore of putting iron-on patches on jeans because they seldom stay on very long.

They are stiff and uncomfortable too. However, I thought of sewing a piece of my husband's worn-out nylon socks, the same color as the jeans, over the knee instead.

This works very well, and our boys prefer these pants for after-school wear. The soft patches over the knees feel comfortable and allow for easier movement.

These patches stay on too.

Mrs. Milton Harder

TUNE IN ON THIS!

DEAR HELOISE:
I finally found the answer to the problem of how to mark a straight hem on a skirt for a friend.

A transistor radio with a telescoping antenna is just right. You can set the radio on the floor, the antenna my chin to my hips. Getting clothes to fit was a big problem, especially skirts. They would just never button around my waist.

So my mom took a matching rubber band and looped it around the button through the buttonhole and back around the button again.

This made the skirt fit fine and was really not very noticeable. This will also work on shirt sleeves over an arm cast.

Mary B.

WELL-COUCHED TIP

DEAR HELOISE:
Our living-room couch is of a floral cotton material and I was really stumped when a long tear appeared on the skirt.

But I was able to match the neutral background of the material with iron-on tape, and after covering the tear, I used a felt-pen marker to continue the pattern of flowers over the tape. A good match!

While doing this mending and "painting," I discovered stands up by itself. And it can be adjusted so that the antenna comes just to the line you want to mark.

BABY'S FORMULA

DEAR HELOISE:
This hint is for mothers who make baby's formula from the cans of concentrated ready-prepared formula where all you have to do is add water.

When preparing the formula, and I have to add equal parts of water, I keep one of the cans, cut off the top and fill it with water and add to the formula.

MAGNETIC IDEA

DEAR HELOISE:
I got a small magnet and glued it to the bottom of a yardstick.

I keep this near my sewing machine, where I use it to retrieve pins and needles when sewing without having to stoop for same.

HOCUS-FOCUS

CAN YOU TRUST your eyes? There are six differences in details between the top and bottom panels above. How quickly can you point out what these differences are? Answers below.

Hal Kaufman's JUNIOR WHIRL

Diamond Hunt

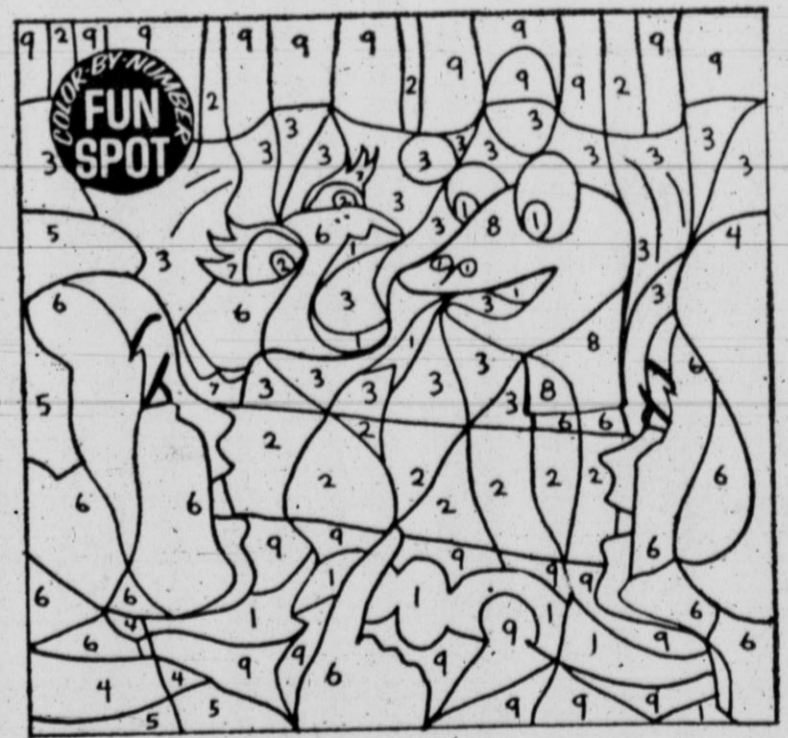

THIS is a test of observation and patience. Object is to count each and every diamond-shaped segment of the geometrical figure above. Obviously, there are two large diamonds, and numerous small ones. There are also some in-between sizes. All sizes count. More than 50 diamonds are discernible if you hunt with care. How many do you see? No fair peeking below.

WHERE THE ACTION IS! To see what's up in the scene above, simply draw a continuous pencil line from dot to dot numerically.

BULLETIN BOARD

- FOOLLOLOGY: A diplomat is a gent who thinks twice before he says —. Fill blank. Nothing.
- Would you put a bookmark between pages 12 and 13 or between pages 13 and 14? Try it and see.
- How quickly can you think of five words containing the word "sign"? Ensign, is one, for example. Dock sign, consign, sign, assignment, restriction, etc.
- Though he was generally accessible to even the most humble of citizens, no one was able to get President Lincoln to talk on the telephone. Why was that? It wasn't in use in Lincoln's day.

THE PLAY'S THE THING! To bring forth the scene above, simply add these colors: 1—Red, 2—Lt. blue, 3—Yellow, 4—Lt. brown, 5—Dk. brown, 6—Flesh, 7—Purple, 8—Green, 9—Dk. blue.

SPELLBINDER!

SCORE 10 points for using all letters in the word below to form two complete words: VENERATE

THEN score 2 points each for all words of four letters or more found among the letters. Try to score at least 50 points. One possible answer: even, rate.
