

Jaycees to co-sponsor Trisha Hill in pageant

The Hereford Jaycees, along with the women's division of the Chamber of Commerce, is sponsoring Trisha Hill of Hereford as a contestant in the Miss Wheatheart of the Nation beauty pageant at Perryton, club officials announced after their meeting Thursday night.

Miss Hill, a Texas Tech junior majoring in mathematics, won the Miss Sugarland Mall title in March.

Any single girl between the ages of 16 and 21 with a good reputation and character and endorsed by any civic club or business firm is eligible for the contest, but only one contestant is permitted from one city.

The pageant is in the Perryton High School Auditorium Aug. 21, with contestants judged on the basis of beauty, personality, poise and figure.

The winner of the pageant will receive a $1,000 college scholarship, with the first runner-up receiving a $500 scholarship and the second runner-up getting a $250 college scholarship.

In other business, the Jaycees voted unanimously to submit at the Area I summer convention in Amarillo Aug. 21-22 a bid to host the 1972 meeting. Approximately 150 Jaycees from the 25 clubs in the Panhandle area annually attend the convention.

The members scheduled a work meeting for 8 p.m. Thursday at the Community Center to prepare banners, cardboard posters and other material to advertise the chapter's hopes for the convention. Dale Lawrence, Roy Chambers, Terry Hill and Bill Johnson are the members of the committee lining up plans for the convention bid.

Anyone interested in becoming a Jaycee is invited to attend Thursday's meeting, according to Jaycee president, Charles Richards.

Thursday night's meeting will also deal with plans for a special project the Jaycees will undertake in Hereford on the Labor Day Weekend. Under the direction of chairman Ted Walling and Lawrence, the Jaycees will man a rest stop open all night for Friday, Saturday and Monday of the holiday period, providing free coffee and doughnuts to motorists passing through Hereford.

The rest stop will be open on ly from 8 p.m. to 8 a.m. each day to keep from conflicting with the business of Hereford's restaurants, according to the club's present plans.

A major club project, labeled, "Do something," will be undertaken, beginning in September. Under the chairmanship of Larry Knowles, the Jaycees will determine the volunteer needs of all local agencies. Then, club members, assisted by Jaycee-Ettes, will make a house-to-house sweep of Hereford to show residents the city's volunteer needs and learn from them which ones they would be interested in helping, from one hour a week on up.

Four members of the Amarillo Jaycees, bringing details of the upcoming area convention in Amarillo and urging the local club's full attendance, were guests at the Thursday meeting.

Mike Solomon, Dan Warrick, Lawrence and Johnson will be on judging committees at the Amarillo convention for competition in public speaking, records and recognition, and two programs designed to encourage active Jaycee participation.

TRISHA HILL—The winner of the only beauty pageant held in Hereford this year, the Texas Tech coed will represent the city in the Wheatheart of the Nation beauty pageant Aug. 21 in Perryton.

Air cargo runs proposed here

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

Vegetable and beef air freight service will be carried out locally in the "near future" on an experimental basis as a result of a meeting between an Oakland, Calif. based cargo service and local civic leaders.

Three representatives of Universal Airlines met Thursday with local vegetable processors, meat packing processors and civic leaders after the meeting was set up through the Chamber of Commerce office.

Here to discuss the proposal were Hal Richards, zone manager from Ft. Worth, Dale Vines, livestock manager and Dan Jones, traffic manager, both of Detroit, the former home office of Universal Airlines. The company just recently moved their offices to Oakland.

Carroll McDonald, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Industrial Committee, said the meeting was arranged after representatives called the Chamber of Commerce and asked for a meeting with area vegetable and meat processors "to see about creating a market to fill up cargo planes going back east."

The airline company makes daily flights to and from this area. They bring cargos into this area from the Dallas office and have been returning to Dallas with empty planes.

"They said they felt it would be of benefit to all of us if they could establish some kind of cargo market to take back with them on their empty flights to Dallas," McDonald said.

McDonald said the representatives of the company suggested experimental flights of this type in the near future to see if the project is feasible.

The company's daily flights into this area involve the transporting of any large quantity products, including race horses and live cattle, McDonald said.

While here, the representatives went on a tour of Griffin-Brand's vegetable processing plant and Missouri Beef. They had planned a tour of Wilson Beef and Lamb, but last minute

Brand snares top awards in annual WTPA contest

The Hereford Brand captured two first place and two second place awards in the annual "Better Newspaper Contest," whose results were announced Saturday morning at the annual West Texas Press Association summer convention in Wichita Falls.

The four awards represented recognition in all but one of the five contest categories.

General Manager Melvin Young, who presided over the convention as president, received first place awards for General Excellence and Advertising Composition and second place awards for column writing and editorial writing.

He also received a plaque in recognition of his efforts in leading the organization for the past 12 months. He handed over the gavel Saturday to Frank Baker, editor of the Fort Stockton Pioneer.

In a special category, the Fort Stockton Pioneer won the Community Service Award.

The only contest in which the Brand failed to place was the news pictures category. The Brand won a first place plaque for pictures at the Panhandle Press Association and a second place award for Photo Journalism in statewide competition at the Associated Press Managing Editors convention earlier in the year.

It was the second General Excellence trophy the Brand captured this year, earlier taking home the Panhandle Press Association version.

General Excellence is a category honoring all-around achievement in quality of writing, both in general news and women's news, and the paper's appearance. The efforts of the production department, headed at the Hereford Brand by Jay Spain, play a key role in this award. Judging in the contest was based on two consecutive issues from either April or September, 1970.

The Brand's winning entry covered the issues of April 26 and 30, 1970, which were during the controversial grand jury session on courthouse dissolution and possible organized crime in the county.

Grady King and Lynn Brisendine submitted the winning advertising composition entry.

Two of Young's "Branding Iron" columns in 1970 — one on the peculiarities of printing and another touching on the world kissing championship won by his daughter — brought him his honor. First place in the column category went to Bob Hamilton of Iowa Park, who formerly was a news editor for the Hereford Brand. Hamilton's mother, Thelma Link, lives in Hereford and is a cashier for a local restaurant.

The editorial entry consisted of one editorial Young wrote attacking the "Mafia Hunt" undertaken by the grand jury and former Dist. Atty. Jerry Tucker and one editorial publisher Jimmie Gillentine wrote about the desirability of a junior college in Hereford.

The Perryton Herald captured first place in editorial writing.

It was the last of four newspaper contests which the Brand was entered in this year.

In the previous contests, the Brand brought home these awards:

—Associated Press Managing Editors, El Paso: first place, news feature (Charles Richards); second place, photo journalism (Tyler Vance); honorable mention, short feature (Marshall Day); and honorable mention, feature series (Charles Richards).

—Panhandle Press Association, Amarillo: first place, community service; first place, general excellence; first place, news pictures (Betty Koelzer, Penny Young); second place, editorial writing (Melvin Young, Jimmie Gillentine); second place, advertising initiative (Lynn Brisendine).

—Texas Press Association, Austin: second place, appearance.

BRIGHT FUTURE — Jim Lindsey, Chamber of Commerce executive V.P., tells Lions he sees a bright future ahead for the city. He is flanked by Lions president Lynton Allred and Sweetheart Deann Dickson.

New chamber exec sees bright potential

The new executive vice president of the Chamber of Commerce Jim Lindsey, says the amount of young leadership in Hereford has encouraged him in his first days at his job.

"You feed both the old and new leaders if you're going to move forward, and I'm impressed with the young leadership you have here. All of them I've met have mentioned the desire for industrial development," Lindsey said in a talk to the Hereford Lions Club Wednesday.

Two days earlier, he had made a similar guest appearance before the Rotary Club.

Lindsey, who at 30 is a young leader himself, said the initiative shown by Hereford's young men is one of several reasons why he feels this city "has more potential than any small community I've ever been to." The potential will become reality, he said, if Hereford's citizens actively involve themselves in promoting the community.

Lindsey reemphasized he plans to make enticement of new industry to Hereford a priority issue. Several things must precede that, however, he said.

He said it is a well-knit organization, not just isolated individuals, that has proven the best key to get new industry. In line with that, Lindsey said he plans to change the Chamber of Commerce organization to a "task force" mode of attack, stressing more community involvement and definite goals.

"Enthusiasm is a big part of any city or county. We have to have leadership and work toward a goal," he said.

Lindsey said he plans to spend a lot of time over the next few weeks trying to learn the community and its various aspects. One thing he has already noticed, he said, is that in the Hereford area, the people are willing to give a day's work for a day's pay. With the hundreds of thousands of people in the Dallas area, industry has found it hard to find workers willing to do that, he said.

Along with a positive attitude,

Hereford has an adequate labor force, industrial sites, and a bountiful source of water, he said.

But, there are needed areas of improvement, also, Lindsey said.

"We're junked up, and any industrial prospect that came in and looked at that, I don't think they would be pleased," Lindsey said. "We need to do our homework and find out what the needs of our community are and set out to meet them. In the time I've been here, I've been very pleased and I hope we can all work together toward the goals we come up with."

Satellite School needs volunteers

The Satellite School center for the mentally retarded in Hereford is in need of adult volunteers for this fall.

During the summer, teen-age girls, most of them members of a new high school chapter of TARS (Teens Aid The Retarded), have volunteered each morning and afternoon.

Satellite officials would like persons who could volunteer morning or one afternoon a week.

Anyone interested in helping with the program should call Agatha Cardinal, the teacher, at 364-3394 or Doris Richards, volunteer coordinator, at 364-5378.

Two receive jail terms

Two men received jail terms and a fine the past week for misdemeanor charges placed against them in County Court.

Charles Perez and Elida R. Tijerina both pleaded guilty Monday; Perez for carrying a prohibited weapon and Tijerina to driving while intoxicated.

County Judge H.C. Williams assessed a $100 fine and 60-day jail term against Perez, 20, of Laredo Hotel in Hereford. The judge sentenced Tijerina, 36, of Reinauer Barracks, No. 4, to five days in jail and $100 fine.

Ricky L. Fletcher, 18, of 903

Maple, Friona, was charged before Justice of the Peace Glenn Nelson Thursday on a felony charge of theft of a 1967 automobile. He was being held in jail at Clovis for local authorities, and a spokesman for the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's office said Fletcher waived extradition. About three weeks' earlier, another felony charge, for forgery, was filed against Fletcher in Hereford.

In other recent action in Nelson's court, felony charges were filed against Lino R. Hernandez driving while intoxicated, second offense; Weldon Pace, swindling with a worthless check; Monty Corbin, defrauding with worthless check, two counts; Ruby Maxine Taylor, forgery and passing a forged instrument; Robert W. Clower, 18, K-Bar Motel, burglary of a private residence at night; Rodney Dean Parker, 18, Hereford, burglary of a private residence at night; Bill Gaunce, burglary; Truman Sims, 21, 708 9th St., forgery; and Billy Latham, swindling with a worthless check.

RHIANNON PHILLIPS-POWELL
from Hereford to Hereford

Hereford, England, named after the breed? Heck, no!

A 25-year-old native of Hereford, England—which is responsible in a round-about way for this city having the name it does — is spending a few days this week in the county on the Conkright Ranch.

Rhiannon Phillips-Powell has been touring the United States by bus for about six weeks and after two or three days here, will continue her tour for another six weeks or so, before returning to college at Durham, England.

Was Hereford, England, named after the Hereford breed of cattle?

"No, the Hereford breed was named because of Hereford, England," she said with a definite shake of her head that sent her long, rusty-yellow hair flying. And many years later, Hereford, Tex., was named after the cattle. If they had named the England town "Mudville" instead, it's quite likely there would be a big breed of cattle known as Mudville and a town by that name as seat of Deaf Smith County.

"Your Hereford is very different from Hereford, England, but it seems very friendly," Miss Phillips-Powell said Friday, shortly after her arrival. Hereford, England is about 50,000 population, is more industrial and has a number of hills.

While in the local area, she plans to catch up on a favorite pastime, riding horses. She has two of her own in England and is a member of the university riding team.

Jim Conkright greeted Miss Phillips-Powell on her arrival Friday and took her to the Conkright Ranch about 12 miles north of Hereford, and told her there would be horses available.

In England, she has ridden and show-jumped in many horse shows, including such prominent events as the Dublin Horse Show and the Wembley Horse of the Year Show. She said she has "no idea" how many trophies (See ENGLAND, page two)

Light rain hits vicinity Friday

Scattered pockets of rain clouds swept across the county late Friday evening, depositing up to half an inch of moisture in some southern portions of the county.

The heaviest amounts of moisture were reported just south of Hereford where half an inch fell during the night. Just south of the half-inch reports, at Community Grain in the Easter Community, the weather did an about-face and left only a trace of moisture.

Hereford received four-tenths of an inch from the rain clouds that passed through here about 8:30 p.m. Friday.

In the western portion of the county, on the Bruce Coleman farm, things "were a little damp," but measurable amounts of rain were reported. That area received up to four inches over a four-day period two weeks ago.

The rain clouds that hovered over the area all day Friday dropped numerous small sprinkles in the eastern part of the county Friday afternoon before finally letting loose. The combined afternoon and evening showers left about a quarter of an inch at the J. E. McCabe farm east of the Dawn community.

Visit recalls long association of AF families

Mrs. Herb Doanes and children have had as guests this week Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Finger and children, Pam, Val, Kenny and Denny, who were enroute from Eglin Air Force Base, Fla., to their home in Sacramento, Calif., after Finger's retirement from Air Force service.

They plan to leave Monday, and will stop at Castle AFB, Calif., where Doanes now is stationed. The two men have by coincidence served together in three different parts of the world during their Air Force careers, and the families have been closely associated.

Lunch served on patio for class, guests

A patio luncheon at the home of Miss Della Stagner entertained members of Faithful Service Class of First Baptist Church recently.

The meal was served and the women chatted through a pleasant hour at tables overlooking summer blooms and an apple tree laden with ripening fruit. Miss Stagner is teacher of the class.

Guests were Mrs. Earl Clark, Mrs. W. G. Owen and Brent Doanes.

BY MRS. OWEN ANDREWS
Brand Reporter

The Youth Revival at Frio Baptist Church closed Sunday night. Rev. Issy Atiles was evangelist and Roger Eads music director. Both are from the Dallas area. Lunch was brought to the church Sunday so that members and guests ate there.

Rev. and Mrs. Sam Ogan have been in Olympia, Washington the past two weeks helping Rev. Jake Armstrong in Bible schools and a revival in his church there. They were scheduled to return home this week, driving through with the Armstrongs as they were coming to Glorieta.

Rev. Gene Suttle, Hereford, was guest preacher the first Sunday the pastor Ogan was away, for both services. His wife accompanied him to the evening service.

Ronnie Andrews returned home Saturday after a two-weeks training session with the Amarillo Reserve Unit. The army camp was at Ft. McClellan, Ala.

Mrs. Wallace White and daughter, Rhonda, of Biloxi, Miss., spent the past two weeks visiting her mother, Mrs. E.B. Berryman, and sister, Mrs. Clark Andrews and family. On Saturday, Mrs. White and Rhonda, Mike White, who has spent several weeks here with the relatives, Rocky, Kirk and Lynette Andrews flew to Mississippi. The Andrews will visit the Whites at Biloxi several days.

Visiting Mrs. Joe Andrews and family the first of the week were her grandmother, Mrs. Z.P. Pilgreen, and a cousin, Mrs. Bill Young, Leslip and Clay, all from Vernon.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Stringer and family of Ojal, Calif. have visited friends in the community during last week. The Charles Selfs, Earl Harkins, Richard Prices and Stringers spent the weekend on a fishing outing at a lakesite near Ft. Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Andrews and Mrs. Wallace White visited their uncle, Bill Berryman and Mrs. Berryman at Lubbock Thursday. Also there was the Berryman's daughter, Pansy, and her three sons from Tacoma, Wash. They were visiting her parents and other relatives a few weeks.

Steve Robbins was in Dallas recently to attend to plans for starting school in Dallas Fashion Merchandising College this fall.

Beverly Cole was spending a few days this week with her sister, Mrs. Herman Vinson of Pampa.

Mrs. Fritz Smith, Sue and Jan and Mrs. Elmer Kimble attended a bridal shower for Debbie Shirley at the Jack Dyer home at Hart on Saturday. Miss Shirley from Dallas is to be married on Aug. 16 to Bob Crick, cousin of Mrs. Smith. The ceremony will be at Dallas.

Stephanie Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Martin of San Lorenzo, Calif. returned home this week after several weeks here visiting her Robbins relatives.

The Earnest Harders and Leonard Schmidts were attending a family reunion of their mothers people, the Kreigers, at Pine, Colo., west of Denver this weekend. A relative Edgar Kreiger, is in Europe on an Educational Study Course and has visited the old home of the Kreiger family in Poland. He has sent pictures to the family to be seen at this gathering.

Mrs. Annie Lee Dobbins, the Edgar Vinsons, Robert Dobbins and the Scott families of Hereford and Dimmitt are attending a family reunion at Oak Creek Lake, near Winters this weekend.

Mrs. Lloyd Shultz and her mother, Mrs. Alma Smith, were visiting and attending to business at Lamesa, a couple of days this week.

"Just since I've been in the U.S. is the first time I've ridden Western-style," she said. In England, the stirrups are shorter, with the saddles more like those of jockeys. They sit more erect and keep the reins tight all the time. Western-style, the saddle has a horn in front, whereas England has none.

In England, her parents live about a mile away from "the Vern," which is about the same thing as saying you live a mile from the King Ranch. The Vern is the home of a prominent Hereford herd in England, which has become to be known by the same name.

Her grandfather, W.G.C. Britten, was a former mayor of Hereford and a key figure in Hereford circles. He used to travel and judge Hereford cattle

CARGO...

The cost of the air transportation, McDonald said, was never given by the representatives, but they did indicate it would be a reasonable rate because it would see to it that their palnes would not have to return to Dallas without a cargo.

"We never did get to pin them down on their prices," he said, "but they seemed to leave the impression we could get a pretty good rate."

The flights would not come directly to the Hereford airport because the present run-way is inadequate to handle even the smallest of the company's planes. The stops probably would be made in Amarillo and the cargo taken there to be put in the planes.

HERE AND THERE this week I've had chances to talk to some interesting people. That is, they knew something interesting.

Like Niki Dameron, properly excited over her first experience at being the mother of the bride and also happy as she always is at seeing Hereford friends again. Naturally, she's very busy, like all the rest of the family, getting ready for Kerri's wedding to Jack Aikin Thursday.

It's going to be quite a weekend for the Damerons. The whole clan, gathered here for the wedding Thursday evening, will leave early Friday for Fort Worth where C.C. Nolen, husband of the former June Dameron of Hereford, that evening will receive an honorary doctorate as he addresses the summer graduates of TCU.

There will be assorted parties for members of the wedding and out-of-city guests right up to the time of the ceremony. Oh yes, Kerri's family, now residents of Salida, Colo., are house guests of the John Douglas Pitmans.

THEN GENEVIEVE Miller, whose news is that daughter Audri and husband, Dr. Paul L. Beach, will be here for a week or so on their way to Australia. They live in Columbus, Ohio, and Dr. Beach, associate professor of physics at Capital University there, has received a grant for study in the University of Melbourne. They are coming to the home of her parents, the H.H. Millers of Dawn, by way of Austin where they visited other relatives.

Audri, incidentally, received her masters degree in speech from Ohio State University at Columbus in June.

Foremost Protection Guarantee: Your Foremost tire protection guarantee covers all Foremost passenger tires (except our special application tires with separate guarantee) against all road hazard or defect failures. You are protected for the entire stated months of guarantee. If your tire fails during the guarantee period, return it to us and we will, at our option, repair your tire, or make an allowance based on the original purchase price, excluding applicable Federal Excise Tax, toward the purchase of a new tire. We will allow 100% of the original purchase price, excluding applicable Federal Excise Tax, during the 100% allowance period. Thereafter, we will allow 50% of 25% of the original purchase price, excluding applicable Federal Excise Tax, toward the purchase of a new tire. (See chart below.) Federal Excise Tax adjustment allowance will be made on the basis of the percent of the original tread remaining.

FOREMOST PROTECTION GUARANTEE CHART

Here's how your guarantee works:

Entire guarantee period	27 months	50% allowance period	8-15 months
100% allowance period	1-7 months	25% allowance period	16-27 months

Tread Life Protection: We build into every Foremost tire safe traction indicators. They signal when your tire should be replaced. If your tire wears out (except for incorrect alignment) we will make an allowance based on the original purchase price, excluding applicable Federal Excise Tax, toward the purchase of a new tire. We will allow 100% during the first half or 1/2 during the second half of the stated months of guarantee. Federal Excise Tax adjustment allowance will be made on the basis of the percent of the original tread remaining.

This guarantee is not transferable. It is only for private passenger cars or passenger station wagons.

Letter to the editor

Dear Editor:

Since this happened last night (Monday) and Mr. and Mrs. Mercer left in the early hours this morning, I thought perhaps you would not have the following information: I am Jimmy Mercer's sister-in-law.

Jimmy Mercer of 112 Aspen in Hereford, received word last night that his father, J.R. Mercer of Central City, Kentucky had died.

Jimmy and his wife and daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Sims of Lubbock, had just returned from Kentucky Sunday evening where they had been visiting his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Mercer left early this morning for Central City, Kentucky to attend the funeral.

Mr. Mercer's parents have visited many times in Hereford and are known by quite a few local people.

Thank you, Mr. Travis Caraway 2106 27th Lubbock, Texas

Trip to New Orleans follows wedding here

A New Orleans honeymoon began for Mr. and Mrs. Michael Gerald McCathern after their marriage Friday in the Church of the Nazarene and they will return August 10 to a home west of Hereford.

Mrs. McCathern was Miss Cathy Darlene Crist before the late afternoon ceremony conducted by the Rev. Thomas H. Botsford of Parsons, Kan.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald A. Crist, 138 Nueces, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald McCathern, Route 5.

Summer blossoms in blue and white were arranged on either side of the church altar with paired spiral candelabra and fresh foliage. Candles burned in tiered holders in the center.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in white satin with touches of lace at the Edwardian neckline, on wide cuffs of the bishop sleeves and around the hemline which rounded into a chapel train. The bodice was gathered to a high-rise waistline.

Her illusion veil fell in layers to elbow length and she carried a bouquet of white roses. For "something old" she wore her mother's pearl earrings.

Miss Carla Crist, her sister, was maid of honor and Wayne Stoerner best man. The bride's aunt, Mrs. Claudia Smith, was bridesmatron, Jimmy Christie the groomsman, Paul Hendon and Denny Hicks ushers.

Attendants' voile dresses repeated the sapphire color of altar flowers. Floor length, they were trimmed at the empire waistline with lace flowers in darker blue. Bouquets were blue and white nosegays.

Before the ceremony Miss Carla Crist sang solos, More, One Hand One Heart and We've Only Just Begun. Mrs. Botsford accompanied and played organ selections including the marches.

The Crist home was the scene of the wedding reception, where Miss Becky Owen poured punch while the bridegroom's cousin, Miss Joy McCathern, served the cake from a table covered with sheer white over blue.

Sugar roses and sweetpeas in shades of blue decorated the colonnade cake. Guests were registered by Miss Cathy McCathern, sister of the bridegroom.

Mrs. McCathern dressed for the wedding trip in a blue pantsuit with white accessories.

She is a recent graduate of a fashion design school at Arlington.

Local teachers address annual reading seminar

Three Hereford school teachers presented programs recently in Canyon at the 19th annual meeting of the Texas Association for the Improvement of Reading.

Participating were Lonidene Edmonson, Jerry Lane and Kathy Holmes, all teachers at School here. They presented talks at one of the Sectional meetings.

Their talks were on "Reading in a non-graded school."

Teachers from Hereford and throughout the state attended the conference on the campus of West Texas State University.

Discussions were on (1) Philosophy of the school and the physical plant. Grouping of individual differences in oral language, readiness and reading, (3) Variety of materials available to meet individual needs, abilities and skills, (4) Parent-teacher conferences for reporting progress, and (5) Evaluation of the school year.

EDITH SHEPPARD ATTENDS GRANDSON'S WEDDING

Mrs. Edith Sheppard, 402 N. Roosevelt, was in Amarillo last weekend attending the Saturday evening marriage of her grandson, Lynn Wells and Miss Jane Fanning in First Presbyterian Church.

Following a wedding trip to Las Vegas, Nev. the couple will make their home in Lubbock where they will be senior students at Texas Tech University.

Wells, who is studying business, is employed at Dunlap Men's Ready to Wear Shop in Lubbock.

BRIDE-TO-BE HONORED — Kerri Dameron of Salida, Colo., who grew up in Hereford and is back for her wedding to Jack Aikin next week talks with her mother, Mrs. William S. Dameron, center, and her fiancé's mother, Mrs. John Aikin, at the tea in Hereford Country Club which began a series of parties here in her honor. She was previously honoree at several events in Salida.

Pre-wedding parties begin for bride-elect

Parties preceding the wedding of Kerri Dameron and Jack Aikin on August 12, began here with a pretty tea and shower for the bride-elect Thursday afternoon, although she was complimented in Salida, Colo., before she came to Hereford the first of this week to make wedding preparations.

Longtime Hereford residents, her family has lived in Salida in recent years. Others of the Dameron family still reside in this city, as do the parents of the bridegroom-elect, and a round of parties will be a prelude to the wedding in First Christian Church.

Hereford Country Club was the locale of the tea-shower, where the honoree received guests with her mother, Mrs. William S. Dameron; her grandmother, Mrs. W.E. Dameron; her mother's godmother, Mrs. J.M. Nichols of Fort Worth; her fiancé's mother, Mrs. John Aikin, and grandmother, Mrs. W.S. Ramsey of Detroit, Texas.

Kim Dameron, younger sister of the bride-to-be, was at the table where callers registered. Mrs. Dennis Downey of Lubbock, the prospective bridegroom's sister, served punch at one end of the long table set in the center of the room, where a dove figurine perched atop a white cage on a pedestal at the opposite end.

White roses and carnations filled the cage and ivy twined down the pedestal to a mass of fern and gypsophyllia at the base. From a rosette of electric blue satin on top of the cage, streamers extended down and across the cutwork linen cloth to the second dove.

A similar arrangement, in miniature, ornamented the registry table.

Mrs. C.E. Rush and Mrs. Wayne Phillips of the hostess group were at the door to greet guests and Mrs. Walter London Jr. at the head of the receiving line.

Other hostesses were Mmes. Ivan Block, B.F. Cain, Tommy D. Carnahan, Bruce Coleman, A.R. Dillard, Ben Gohellon, Glenn Gripp, Joe Hacker, Lewis Lea, Ted Panciera.

Also Mmes. Joe Reinauer, Betty Rice, John P. Robinson, G.S. Solomon, Robert Thompson, Robert Veigel, Samie West, Carl Williams, Leo Witkowski, William Z. Penn, Claude McDougal and Delmo Williams.

The blonde honoree wore for the party a white dress, the lacy bodice with fitted waistline cut to a point over the semi-circular skirt which was finished with a narrow ruffle.

The gold pendant she wore around her neck was an heirloom piece which will be a part of her wedding costume as it has been for all brides in Mrs. W.E. Dameron's family for four genera-

Letter of intent builds novel plot

The story in this book now available at Deaf Smith County Library contains a plot similar to a chilling mystery-murder show on television. To better sense the surrounding atmosphere of such a story, check it out today.

LETTER OF INTENT

By Ursula Curtiss

The woman in Room 218 took the harmless-looking white envelope from the bell-boy and opened it with only mechanical interest.

Then, stupid with shock, she read the printed, unsigned message: "I've been waiting for this. If you don't call off the wedding, I will."

Surely, the woman thought, she could identify who...? And she could do something about it.

But who was the bride? Who had threatened her? And what was Celia's role in this? Celia, who was as sleekly striking as a leopard—and as dangerous.

She had been a heavy, dowdy, inarticulate girl of 18 when she had left the tenement in a New England slum to work for the rich, pleasant Stevensons. If it had not been for an unfortunate episode with the Stevensons' son she would never have become old Mr. Tomlinson's housekeeper.

Here, behind a mask of innocence, she maneuvered the first shocking tragedy—that was to start her on the precarious climb to a world she was determined to enter, a world she had known only as an outsider.

Letter of Intent is a chilling psychological drama about a woman, driven by ambition, who would use any weapon against her adversaries. The tension mounts until the action reaches an unexpected shattering climax.

WAY JOURNEY

By Fred Grove

For sensitive young artist Paul Lattimer Benedict, the trip west from his family's comfortable home in Baltimore had been filled with plans of painting the Indians in their primitive state.

But he got a closer look than he had ever counted on when he was captured and held as a slave by a band of Kiowas.

Appalled by the Indians' life of war and savagery, in which every emotion from anger to joy seemed to be expressed by violence, Paul's only thoughts were of escape.

But while the Kiowa arrogance, barbarous superstition, and blind faith in signs and fetishes repelled and bewildered him, he was fascinated by the mysticism and fatalism of these wild, wandering people.

And in the long months after his capture he won their grudging respect through acts of strength and bravery, while inwardly he was unaware of the subtle changes in his own attitudes and character, changes which became suddenly clear when a visit to a white man's town sent him fleeing back to his adopted people.

War Journey is a colorful tale of the plains Indians and a moving saga of the inevitable passage of their simple way of life. It is a fascinating contrast of two conflicting cultures, Indian and white, in which white civilization dramatically appears less "civilized" than we would like to think.

Letter to the editor

Dear Editor:
In last Sunday's Brand, I read of the remodeling of our theater downtown.

This pleased me very much, and I hope while they are cleaning up the theater they will also do a little housecleaning on some of the movies they have been showing lately.

Obliged:

Relative of local woman stars in tourney

The cousin of a Hereford woman made a 15-foot jump shot with two seconds left that gave the American girls a 63-62 basketball victory over Cuba in the Pan American Games in Cali, Columbia, last week.

She is Janice Beach, cousin of Mrs. Ed Wilson.

Janice is a freshman at Wayland Baptist College, where she was a member of the Wayland Flying Queens the past year.

She played high school basketball at Elmer, Okla., which won the state championship her senior year. She broke the state tournament record for either boy or girl by scoring 61 points in one game and a new total record with 117 points in three games, an average of 39 per contest.

For her entire senior year, Miss Beach scored 1,340 points.

IF YOU HAVE seen Joyce Shipp and me flying here and there with an attractive young woman, its an Extension Specialist who has been visiting us. She is Becky Dunlap from College Station and will be working as a clothing specialist in the state. She's seen a lot of work that we've done this week. The 4-H and the 4-H Leaders Council met; we toured the west part of the county and saw Welcott and Bippus communities; Mrs. Raymond Smith, Mrs. John A. Smith, Mrs. J.G. Gandy and Mrs. T.J. Parsons are some of the club women we visited. Becky has been complimentary of the work we do here.

ky Dunlap, Extension clothing and textiles specialist. Yarns of all fibers will be made into chiffons, corduroys, denims, challis and silk broadcloths. Cotton, wool, silk and all the man-made fabrics will span the seasons, she continues. Miss Dunlap says fall has a variety of moods. You can choose from the ethnics, batik-inspired prints, natural looks, all-important denims, country looks, tapestries and the quilts-all interpreted into a variety of fabrics for daytime and evening wear.

COTTONS MAKE the fall scene in muslins, soft twills, brushed denims, or embroideries. All-cotton tapestries will also be available, with a flat weave or a deep pile furry hand. Fashionable woollens will include the print on texture, softly brushed looks with a blanket feel and challis or classic paisley prints.

Adding a new touch to the classic weaves will be metallic yarns, the specialist says. And, solids are still important in a fluffy jacquard weave that is machine washable.

ACRYLIC FABRICS for fall come in tapestries, challis and a kitteny single knit. These fabrics will be blended with wool and other synthetics. Keep eye on the acrylics, as they have great growth potential, Miss Dunlap says.

A dimension of mystic beauty in fall fabrics will be created with transparent nylons, sheer velvets and organza and silk chiffons. As for fall colors, they are clear and bright—blue, plum, pink burgandy, terra cotta, papaya, green and red, the specialist reports. Black, white, cream and gray will be the great neutrals.

John Willoughby coaches team to district title

A former Hereford man, John Willoughby, has coached a baseball team in Odessa to a district championship in the Freshman Teenage Baseball League and will take his team to the state championship in Killeen Tuesday.

Willoughby's team won 14 of 18 games in regular season play and their emerged No. 1 among 11 teams that made it to the district tournament. His squad won the championship game last Saturday night with a 9-8 extra-inning victory.

Twelve teams, representing six leagues of eight teams each, competed in the district tournament. Willoughby, son of Mr. and Mrs. I.H. Willoughby, 509 Ave. J, participated in every organized program Hereford offered. He was an all-star in Hereford's first Little League season and later competed in Pony League and American Legion play. He lettered in baseball three years in high school here.

Travel pictures to be shown on AARP program

A picture tour of the Holy land, with glimpses back into its history, will be shown by Eddie Coble, summer associate minister of First Christian Church, at the August meeting of the Hereford unit, American Association of Retired Persons. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. Thursday in Community Center, and Bert Brown, president, announces that all residents are invited to see the slide showing. Virgil Dodson is program chairman.

Coble, a Texas Christian University ministerial student who is on the summer assignment here, has presented the travelogue at church meetings and it has proved of unusual interest. Some of the scenes of Jerusalem, Damascus and Northern Israel have been photographed this year.

A brief business session and a social period with games of 42 and bridge will complete the meeting.

Showing of travel slides emphasizes one of the services of AARP for its members, Brown says. Tours are arranged by the national organization to numerous American and foreign areas, planned for leisurely travel to appeal to retired persons.

Information has been received on several new tours as well as brochures on others which have been popular in the past, Brown says, and interested persons may contact him for details.

Women's C of C board to lunch

Executive committee members of the Women's Division, Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, will meet for lunch Tuesday in Hereford Country Club.

Mrs. S. G. Townsend, president, has notified members of the August meeting, to begin at 12 noon.

Judson Nowotny funeral is held at San Marcos

Funeral services for Judson Nowotny, who died of an apparent heart attack early Wednesday in his home at San Marcos, were conducted Saturday morning in Pennington Funeral Chapel of that city, and burial was in Sunset Memorial Park at San Antonio.

Mr. Nowotny had recently moved to San Marcos as minister of education in First Baptist Church, a similar position to the one he filled in Hereford First Baptist Church the two preceding years.

He had complained of feeling ill when he came home from a meeting Tuesday night, and believing he was suffering from indigestion took medicine which had no effect. Shortly after midnight he collapsed and died before he could be taken to a hospital.

A memorial fund has been started for a scholarship for his daughter, Patty, a 1971 graduate of Hereford High School, and contributions may be made at First Baptist Church office.

Survivors in addition to his wife and Patty are another daughter, Pam; a son, David, and his parents, who live in San Antonio.

Future bride honored

A recent shower in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Company complimented Mark Tiefert's Aug. 13 bride-to-be, Judi Duke.

Hosting the courtesy were Mmes. Hubert Stoerner, Earl Springer, E.F. Vogler, Herbert Bruns and Glen Osborn.

Guests were received by the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Weldon Green, and Mrs. Arthur Tiefert, mother of her fiancé.

Marcia Tiefert, sister of the prospective bridegroom, was at the guest registry and Mrs. Tommy Green of Amarillo and Ruby Perkins presided at the serving table.

A white broquet cloth covered the serving table which was centered by a lavender and white floral arrangement in a crystal bowl. Miniature cake squares were decorated with purple sugar flowers.

Members of the houseparty received corsages made of small kitchen utensils.

A TV WARNING

FRANKFORT, Ky. — Kentucky Educational Television has adopted a stylized small-letter "a" as a symbol to be flashed on the screen to warn viewers certain programs may be inappropriate for the entire family.

Among guests were the honoree's mother, Mrs. Charles Hoover, and her fiancé's mother, Mrs. V.D. Sublett.

Hostesses alternated in serving refreshments of daisy-shaped cookies with yellow centers and punch.

The table was laid with a white cutwork cloth over yellow and centered by an arrangement of daisies with greenery in a glass bowl.

For the occasion, Miss Hoover was presented a corsage of yellow daisies to accent her turquoise pants outfit.

Connie Hoover feted at shower

Connie Hoover, Aug. 19 bride-elect of Jerry Sublett, was honored by friends at an informal "odds and ends" shower Thursday evening in the George Turentine home west of the city.

The couple will be married in the First Baptist Church by Dr. Gerald Mann, pastor.

Hostesses for the courtesy were Jan, Carol and Patti Turentine and Marki McBride.

Debbie Hoover, sister of the bride-to-be, invited guests to register their names on a rolling pin, a gift presented later to the president of the Office Education club. At present she is a secretarial employe of the Retail-Credit Association.

Associated with his father in farm and feedlot operations, the bridegroom will enter West Texas State University as a freshman this fall. He is also a 1971 graduate of HHS and was secretary of the National Honor Society last term.

Out-of-town wedding guests included the bridegroom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Oglesby and Mrs. W.J. Stewart of Canyon; Mrs. Bill Crocker, Bonita Crocker, Mr. and Mrs. Ardell Black of Lubbock, Mrs. Norman Sims and daughters of Seminole.

The Ray Stewarts entertained the wedding party and family members at the rehearsal dinner Wednesday evening at K-Bob's Restaurant.

Boren-Stewart vows pledged by candlelight

Married in a candlelight ceremony at First United Methodist Church Thursday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Ray Stewart will be at home on a farm in the Dawn community after a short wedding trip. The bride is the former, Miss Cynthia Ann Boren.

Parents of the couple, residents of Dawn, are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Boren, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stewart.

Spiral candelabra held tapers lighting the altar for the evening ceremony read by the Rev. Norman Cobb, associate pastor of the church. Emerald leaves formed a background for an arrangement of white and yellow pompon mums and daisies under the central cross.

Mrs. Bill Dutton, the bride's sister, was matron of honor and Miss Karren Kendrick the bridesmaid. Attending the bridegroom were his brother-in-law, Bobby Neil of Abilene, his best man and Leroy Johnson as groomsmen.

Ushers were Jay Boren, brother of the bride, Eugene Suttle, Bill Caraway and Dale Kleuskens. Bette Stewart, the bridegroom's sister, and Wayde Boren, the bride's brother, lighted candles.

Solos, O Perfect Love and Wedding Prayer, were by Miss Judy Cargo with Mrs. Tony Calkins as organ accompanist. She also played the marches.

The wedding veil which Mrs. Dutton wore as a bride was a part of her sister's costume. Of illusion, it was caught to a crystal and seed pearl tiara.

Her silk organza gown was in empire style, with Venetian lace roses ornamenting the high neckline, bishop sleeves and chapel train which was attached at center back waistline. She carried a cascade of yellow roses and white carnations.

Buttercup yellow crepe made the bridesmaids' frocks. Lace sleeves were long and full; high waistlines were circled with yellow velvet belts laced with avocado ribbon and tied with rosettes of the two colors.

They wore headpieces and carried nosegays of daisies and pompon mums with yellow ribbon streamers. Bette Stewart, dressed in identical style, had a corsage instead of a bouquet.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Boren chose an avocado crepe dress while Mrs. Ray Stewart wore a sheer floral print emphasizing turquoise. Both had gardenia corsages.

At the reception in the church fellowship hall, Mrs. Bobby Neil registered guests. Misses Judy Bezner and Nelda Norton served the wedding cake, Misses Kathy and Sue Roberts the punch.

The four-tiered cake had a mass of yellow roses on the top tier, with bride-and-groom figurines placed on the tier beneath. The bride's bouquet, with yellow tapers and streamers, centered the white satin cloth edged in wide lace which covered the table.

New Mexico was the destination of the couple as they left after the reception. Mrs. Stewart was wearing a pantsuit in avocado knit with yellow trim and accessories. Her corsage was of roses from her bouquet.

She was graduated in May from Hereford High School, where she was named outstanding VOE student and served as

Ann Homer, Neal Lueb marry in Groom church

The marriage of Miss Ann Marie Homer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Homer of Groom, and Neal Walter Lueb, son of Mr. and Mrs. W.J. Lueb of 807 South 25 Mile Avenue, was solemnized Saturday evening.

The nuptial mass was celebrated by the Rev. J. Arnold Carlson in the Immaculate Heart of Mary Church in the bride's home town. Miss Homer has been a Hereford resident the past two years while she taught in the city's schools.

The couple will be at home after August 14 at 601 Avenue H, following a trip to the New Mexico mountains.

White bows tied sprays of green leaves which were fastened to alternate pew ends down the center aisle of the church, where Mrs. Foy E. Moudy of Lubbock, matron of honor, Kay Bohlander of Pampa, first bridesmaid, and Christine Homer, her sister's bridesmaid, preceded the bride to the altar.

Petals were scattered in her path by younger sister, Jane Elizabeth Homer, the flower girl Tracy Homer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Homer, carried the rings.

Albert Sciombato acted as Lueb's best man, with Dennis Hoffman of Oklahoma City and Weldon Brinkman as groomsmen. Ushers were Tim Homer of Okmulgee, Okla., Tony Britten of Groom, Philip Sciombato and Joe Don Noland.

With Miss Ruth Homer of Amarillo as organist, wedding music included a vocal solo, Ave Maria, by William Penn; Panis Angelicus, O Sacrament Most Holy and On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother, by a small choir.

Pink and white gladioli were set in tall bouquets on either side of the altar, and pink dresses of the bridal attendants repeated the chosen wedding colors.

A princess gown of white satin with full front panel of lace was worn by the bride. Designed and made for her by Mrs. H.J. Wilhelm, the dress had fitted sleeves with ruffles of lace at the wrists, wedding ring neckline and deep back pleat trimmed with lace and a white satin bow, shaping into a slight train.

Over the train, a cathedral length, her lace-edged illusion veil floated from a headpiece of satin petals bordered with seed pearls.

She wore a lavalliere which had been worn by the bridegroom's mother and maternal grandmother in their weddings, and carried white carnations and stephanotis surrounding a white orchid.

Rose-pink crepe made the bridesmaids' dresses, also in princess style with rolled collar and puffed sleeves, trimmed with lace. In their hair they wore pink velvet bows.

The wedding reception was in St. Mary's parish hall, where the couple and their parents greeted guests. Mrs. Don Lyles of Amarillo ladled punch and Miss Mary McElroy of Creston, Iowa, a cousin of the bride, served the cake.

The registry was Miss Mariellen Britten of Groom. Debra, Carrie and Tracie Block, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis

Block of Hereford, gave each guest a rice bag.

Pink candles and flowers decorated the table where the focal point was the three-tiered wedding cake topped with a gold cross and intertwined rings.

For traveling Mrs. Lueb changed to a pink pantsuit with tunic top. Accessories were in black crushed patent and her corsage was the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

She was graduated in 1969 from West Texas State University, where she held membership in Alpha Chi and Kappa Delta Pi Honor societies, and was a 1965 graduate of Groom High School.

Employed by American Helicopters, the bridegroom has attended the Spartan School of Aeronautics at Tulsa and had three years of military service in the U.S. Army. He was graduated from Hereford High School.

Guests for the wedding from other cities included the bride's grandmother, Mrs. L.W. Herring of Creston, Iowa, and Mr. and Mrs. L.Y. Jackson of Ancho, New Mexico.

BAN ON GEOLOGISTS

STANTON, Mo. — Geology students have been ruled out as guides at Meramec Caverns on US 66 here.

"They are too technical when they conduct tours," says cave director Lester B. Dill. "Tourists" would prefer to hear about how Jessie James used the cave to elude the law. I'll hire geology students for other duties here but not as guides."

Communication issue doesn't detain career

BY JANIE BANNER
Staff Writer

TWO MONTHS in Hereford during the summer of 1969 brought Nilda Guevara of Quito, Ecuador to the decision that she wanted to return to the city this year and begin a career in nursing.

She came here with her older sister Odila to visit the L.T. Johnsons at 711 Lee. Odila was a classmate of Mrs. Johnson's at West Texas State University from 1964-67 on a church-sponsored scholarship.

Before the Ecuadorians left the States, Nilda decided she would return as soon as it was possible.

Meanwhile, as visa papers were being drawn up and legal matters taken care of, she corresponded with Joyce Seigler, Director of Nurses at Deaf Smith County Hospital. They made plans for her future employment.

NILDA HAD four years of study and a BA degree in nursing from a school in Ecuador prior to her first visit to the U.S.

Although she is a registered nurse in her country, Nilda must remain on the obstetrical floor at DSC Hospital until she has taken a course in nursing and a State Board Exam to meet requirements of this State and country.

The exam will have to wait, however, until she has taken additional English language courses this fall at WTSU.

"SHE HAS A significant language problem," said Joyce Johnson, who translated for Nilda and discussed questions with her in what she termed South American-Spanish.

"The Mexican-Americans here mix English words with Spanish making it very difficult for Nilda to understand," she explained.

"SLANG IS the most difficult problem because there is no translation of slang words,"

Despite the speech problem, Nilda says, "The people here are very kind."

If Nilda decides she would like to stay permanently after living and working here for one year, she will then apply for citizenship

DURING THE 12-month period she will continue to work, and read, swim, skate, play volleyball and cook for those are things she enjoys spending her leisure time doing.

Her sister Odila, now teaching and studying in Ecuador, plans future visits. The girls, along with three other sisters, are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Juan Guevara Sevilla.

Labor bit off more than it can chew

The labor accord that came this past week when steel workers and the industry agreed on big wage increases, may have an adverse effect on the unions as well as the consumer.

U. S. Steel and others wasted no time in presenting the economy with the first due-bill following the settlement. It came in the form of a price boost in steel averaging 8 per cent on nearly all steel-mill products. This is probably the largest boost in prices ever made in one move. And as usual, the higher price in steel will soon be translated into higher prices for cars, appliances and other products made from steel.

The consumer will also pay the bill for the increase in wages given to the railroad workers, and the cost of living will continue to rise.

But like the coal miners of yesterday, the steel workers may be creating a raft of problems for themselves. The closedown of some old mills and a phasing out of the least-profitable product lines, resulting in increased efficiency for companies may be the first step taken to offset the increase in wages. The net result of this move of course, is higher unemployment. There is also a threat of establishing steel mills in nations where wages are low in an effort to meet competition from foreign steelmakers, resulting in another reduction of manpower over a period of time.

The short-term outlook for steel, according to national news services, is gloomy. Many furnaces that were banked in preparation for a strike will return to production slowly and some may never return at all. Experts in the field now predict that the industry's operations are expected to hover at less than half of capacity for at least a while and mill officials are projecting the current month's shipments at the lowest tonnage for any month since July 1962. They also put the current quarter's shipments at less than 18 million tons, an eight-year low.

And like the coal miner, the steel workers may well have won the battle but lost the war. Already the United States is importing more goods than it is exporting — for the first time in over 100 years — and if the trend continues, the overall economy of the U. S. is in deep trouble. This time, the union may well have "bitten off more than they can chew."

VEE fight succeeded

Now that deadly Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis has been brought under reasonable control, it is appropriate to draw a few conclusions, tentative and otherwise.

As of this weekend, deaths of horses in a five-State area had been held to less than 1,500, with slightly more than 2,000 others reported sick. This is an awful toll, but nonetheless an excellent record, considering the virulence of the "sleeping sickness" and the difficulty of wiping out the mosquitoes carrying it.

It should be noted that this record has been made possible by an effective vaccine developed in the Army's "bad old bacteriological warfare research program." Fortunately, "anti-Pentagon" enthusiasts were not able to cripple the program in time to prevent this contribution to the public good.

It may now be concluded that early criticism of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and other Federal agencies for failure to prevent the disease's entry into the U. S. was too bitter.

One of those who felt U. S. horses were not protected soon enough or well enough was Rep. Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls. He is chairman of the House Agriculture Sub-committee on Livestock and Grains.

A hearing he called in Washington last week was most useful. USDA officials explained that, as the disease swept northward through Mexico, the U. S. could take no steps in that country without its government's request, which was not made.

At the same hearing, USDA officials and Surgeon Gen. Jesse L. Steinfeld assured that the Government and the swine industry are well-prepared to deal with a new disease, "swine fever." This one, extremely deadly to hogs, has reached as close to the U. S. as Cuba.

A discouraging but inevitable conclusion is that Dr. H. Q. Sibley, Texas animal health commissioner, is correct in appreciation that VEE "will be with us for a long time." California's current experience with mosquito control is instructive. There, mosquitoes which carry human encephalitis and others which can transmit VEE have developed immunity to pesticides.

In Texas, VEE will join other diseases against which horses will have to be immunized as a regular practice. Indications are that VEE immunity will last only about a year, but annual vaccination will be well worth the trouble.

The big news is that a tremendous threat to Texas' nearly one million horses and many more thousands in four adjoining States has been contained. Congratulations go to all who directed and joined in the effort.

NEW PALTZ, N.Y., INDEPENDENT:

"Many criminals convicted of crimes are given a fine to pay as punishment. The nature of their crimes, such as drug selling or prostitution, are so financially rewarding that it really is no penalty at all to pay the fine. New laws need to be passed which will punish certain types of crimes by prison sentences only making the crime not worthwhile to commit again in terms of consequences."

NORTH VERNON, IND., SUN: "Everyone says the trouble with people is they don't communicate enough with one another. So where are we? Your phone is probably tapped; it now costs eight cents to mail a letter; and if you started sending up smoke signals they'd arrest you sure for violating the anti-pollution laws."

HOMEDALE, IDAHO, NEWS: "Those pioneers who once fought taxation without representation should see it with representation."

SACRAMENTO, CALIF., JOURNAL: "Did you read that a survey of 14 major cities indicate that ONE THIRD of all Real Estate in the USA is now getting a FREE ride... at the expense of the people who DO pay taxes? If all the exempt property were added to the tax rolls, it would mean a saving of about $300 per year to the average Taxpayer. Maybe it's time WE revolt!"

According to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, a crime of violence is committed each and every minute of the year. Also, a burglary every 16 seconds; larceny of more than $50, every 21 seconds; a car stolen every 36 seconds; a robbery every 2 minutes; a forcible rape every 14 minutes and a murder every 36 minutes. The price of being civilized?

Talk of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE

HOME OF THE GIANTS? — A religious group that believes Darwin's theory of evolution is wrong hopes to find scientific evidence in Texas that man did not evolve from apes.

There is some evidence along the Paluxy River in Somervell County, near Glen Rose, that the Bible fundamentalists may be right and Darwin wrong. In the area known as Dinosaur Valley, where tracks made an estimated 70 million years ago may still be seen by tourists, there also are large footprints that appear to have been made by man.

Darwin theorized that man-like animals appeared long after the dinosaur age. If the religionists can prove that the Paluxy footprints were made by man and that they are 70 million years old, this would be substantial evidence against Darwin's theory. The religious group bases its belief on the verse in Genesis which records that: "There were giants on the earth in those days."

Maybe Alley Oop was real and not just a comic strip character.

REMEMBER WHEN? — Good fabrics sold for as little as 10 cents a yard, new patterns could be had for a nickel and a good seamstress could turn out a fashionable dress for half a dollar?

Lots of them did just that in the 1930's.

HEADING FOR THE LAST ROUND-UP? — Roping calves, bulldozing steers and riding bucking broncs may be o.k. on the range, but one group seeks to ban these activities at rodeos.

The Humane Society has decided that rodeos are mayhem for the animals and not sporting events at all. The organization also thinks that most rodeo acts also are too violent for young television viewers, and so it has petitioned the Federal Communications Commission to ban such telecasts.

Charging that rodeos are a "spectacle of brutality," the Humane Society has mounted a national advertising campaign which it hopes will keep 25 million Americans away from the 3,000 such shows that are staged in the U. S. each year.

TEXAS AT WORK — There is a new breed of hobbyists abroad in the land who call themselves "grave rubbers."

They have no truck with the ghouls who rob graves. "Grave rubbers" are interested in applying a sheet of thin paper to artistic designs and historic legends on old tombstones. From this tracing — produced by rubbing the paper with graphite — they reproduce replicas in metal or stone of grave markers that they wish to preserve.

THE UNCHANGING TIMES — With the return of legal booze to the corner tavern in Texas, old-timers are wondering if the free lunch is on the way back, too.

In the days of the old saloon, the purchase of a nickel beer often entitled the customer to eat his fill from a bounteous buffet of cheeses, cold meats and hard-boiled eggs.

50 YEARS AGO — 1921

The mayor issues a proclamation requesting a weed cutting drive. It reads as follows: To the People of Hereford: A very rank growth of weeds has been allowed to mature over a large part of town. They are especially unsightly as well as being a menace to the health of the community. An ordinance of the city requires the occupants of all property to cut the weeds and to keep their premises clear of them. During the last week in this month a convention of the Christian Endeavor will be held here and it would be a fine thing if a concerted effort would be made by all people to cut the weeds and clean them up.

35 YEARS AGO — 1936

A land survey to secure data which will enable farmers and ranchers to define clearly their present problems and at the same time obtain the greatest possible benefits from their operations is being conducted in Deaf Smith County by a group of field specialists from the U. S. Planning Division. Numerous Hereford people speak of Main Street as "The street." For example, we heard Hall Beavers say, "I'll be over on the street after awhile."

20 YEARS AGO — 1951

Most of the harvesting began processing for the 1951 "million dollar" potato crop will be completed sometime this week, a survey of the potato sheds in Hereford revealed. The market started out strong, but dropped from about $3.75 to $2.25, although spuds are moving "readily" at about $2.35 today... Perhaps you didn't notice, but the steps at the courthouse now have a new coat of gray paint. The clean-up work was done during last week.

5 YEARS AGO — 1966

The 1966 phase of Hereford Public School building program is completed for all practical purposes. La Plata Junior High School will open as the largest and most modern phase of the over two-million dollar building program begun several years ago. Cost of the junior high unit is over $1,050,000. This includes landscaping and band uniforms as well as fixtures. Located in northwest Hereford the new junior high school becomes part of the extended campus including Northwest Elementary School and Whiteface Field along with the field house.

1 YEAR AGO — 1970

Downtown merchants have joined together in a promotional and advertising organization "on the premise that together we can do things a lot better than separately." The new organization will be known as Downtown Variety Park. U. S. Rep. George Bush, U. S. Rep. Bob Price and governor candidate Paul Eggers carried the Republican banner into Hereford Friday and told about 70 persons at a noon luncheon the best way they can reverse trends toward inflation and rising crime is to change leadership.

Sen. Robert Byrd a very active man

BY BERT MILLS

Washington, D.C.—Visitors to the U.S. Capitol who watch a session of the Senate often ask the identity of the busiest man on the floor and are surprised to learn he is Senator Robert C. Byrd, a Democrat from West Virginia.

Senator Byrd is the Majority Whip, the assistant leader of Senate Democrats. In that capacity, he is almost constantly on the floor during every session, handling procedural matters, lining up votes for the majority party, and doing small chores for absent colleagues like inserting speeches in the record.

There are two Byrds in the Senate now and the West Virginian is not to be confused with either Senator Harry F. Byrd Jr. of Virginia or his late father. Although from neighboring states, the two Senator Byrds are not related and come from very different backgrounds. Harry is the son of a famous family, but Bob was a penniless orphan.

Robert Byrd does not look or act like a Senator. Some visitors mistake him for an employee rather than a member of "the world's most exclusive club." He is of medium stature, dresses conservatively, and seldom makes a speech. But he is on the floor almost constantly while the Senate is in session.

Byrd is a highly successful politician, much beloved by West Virginia voters. He has held elective office continuously since 1946, at the state or national level. He began as a member of the state House of Delegates, became a state Senator, then came to the House of Representatives, and has been a U.S. Senator since 1959.

Earned Education Hard Way

Born in North Carolina and raised by a foster father who was a West Virginia coal miner, Bob Byrd was a high school valedictorian at 16 but had no money for college. Instead he went to work in a grocery store and became a butcher. After wartime work in a shipyard, he opened his own grocery.

When he ran for the legislature at age 28, Byrd helped attract attention by playing mountain music on his fiddle. An easy winner in his first race, he became a college freshman a while, a legislative freshman, enrolling at Morris Harvey College. Byrd never owned a car until he was 32 and a candidate for the state Senate.

Elected again despite a revelation that he had been a member of the Ku Klux Klan at age 24, he served only two years as a state Senator. Then he was sent to Washington as a Representative. Six years later he was elected to the U.S. Senate, where he has been ever since.

Senators are not supposed to have spare time but Byrd found time to acquire a law degree by studying at night. That was in 1963, when the Senator was 45. Naturally, Byrd graduated cum laude from law school.

Next Majority Leader?

Robert Byrd has one remaining goal. Heaspires to succeed Senator Mike Mansfield (D., Mont.) as Majority Leader. Mansfield is 68 and not in robust health and might choose to relinquish his leadership role even if he remains in the Senate. If so, Byrd is waiting in the wings.

Byrd won the Whip post by ousting Senator Edward Kennedy (D., Mass.) early this year. The result was a surprise to many observers but the West Virginian has piled up a lot of credits with his colleagues. He is still just doing that, in case a chance for the top job comes.

Byrd has some liabilities as a prospective Majority Leader. For example, he made an all-night filibuster speech against the 1964 Civil Rights bill. He also sided with the Southern bloc in the unsuccessful effort to confirm two Southern judges to the Supreme Court, and has backed President Nixon's Vietnam policies and has a liberal voting record on education, health, and housing bills.

If hard work can do it, Byrd will be the next Democratic leader. Only 53, he has cleared every hurdle thus far. His career should be an inspiration to poor but ambitious young men willing to pay the price of hard work.

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm throws some doubt on the latest idea for solving city traffic problems

Dear editor:

According to an article I read last night to get my mind off the national deficit which I'd been reading about to get my mind off my personal deficit, there were 7 million new bicycles bought in the U. S. last year.

In fact, the article went on, there are now over 75 million bicycles in the country and the experts have spotted a trend, claiming more and more city people are pedaling to work and leaving their cars at home.

"It's faster, cheaper, healthier, and doesn't pollute," they said, urging other people to try it on the grounds that "it may be the answer to the impossible traffic congestion in our cities."

I've thought this over and what they say is true, in the spring, summer, and early fall, especially if you're going down hill.

But when winter comes on, that glorious feeling with a gentle breeze in your face and birds singing in the golden morning hours changes pretty fast when the temperature drops to freezing and you're bucking an icy north wind with coat-tails flapping, hands frozen to the handlebars and tears rolling down your frozen cheeks. On a bicycle then is about the last place a man wants to be.

Of course, I guess you could build an enclosed cab on a bike, but you'd need a windshield wiper for when it's raining, a defroster, turn indicator lights, and perhaps a heater, and what would happen to you if you fell over while inside with the door shut I don't want to think about.

I doubt if the bicycle is the answer to the cities' traffic and pollution problems, unless everybody was required to work only on beautiful sunny days when the temperature is above 50. That might be all right with city people but those are the very days I don't want to work or for that matter, ride a bicycle.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

BEAUTY SPOTS IN HEREFORD GARDENS: The Japanese Garden on 16th street is different, and makes a good study for an interested gardener; bright red geraniums at Mrs. Baker Womble's home on Star.

The balsam at the home of Miss Della Stagner, 304 Union, are the loveliest plants that I have seen in years; for beautiful mass effect in a gorgeous red, be sure and see the plantings of petunias at the Joffes home on Elm and Plains; the white Altheas at the Peeler home on Texas are very striking; the sheer whiteness and form of the blossoms is effective.

There is a most interesting poodle evergreen at 213 Texas, shows good care and grooming; Fashion roses, with the attractive border planting at the Ralph McCullough home on Texas are lovely.

I was really distressed, as I drove up and down the streets and alleys and downtown Sunday, to see the unsightly weeds, trash and just pure filth that has accumulated. While driving through some of the alleys, I almost did not make it because of the overturned barrels and trash.

Such a condition just should not exist in our home town of Hereford. Where is our civic pride and desire to be good neighbors? Maybe it would be a good idea to select the cleanest alleys or the most attractive street or block, rather than a beauty spot.

Contest is held by TOPS group

A contest is underway during August in Calorie Patrol TOPS Club, to be decided on a point system of scoring to encourage weight loss, attendance and enthusiasm for goals set for members.

Mrs. Harlan Barber and Mrs. Owen Andrews were named by the club president, Mrs. Willis Duggan, as leaders of the two groups in the contest.

Calorie Patrol Club meets at 9:30 a.m. each Tuesday on Community Center. Membership is open to any residents interested in the TOPS Club aim, Take Off Pounds Sensibly.

An all out clean-up and revival of pride in surroundings would do much. This could well start in the business part of town.

I would like to urge that all who are interested in gardening and pretty flowers to take a survey of Hereford. There are truly many beautiful flowering plants, shrubs, and magnificent roses to see. (Do not look at the alleys or the weeds, but rather seek out the beautiful.)

It is worth anyone's time to drive out to King's Manor and see the lovely planter boxes and other plantings. The roses are especially pretty now, as are the petunias and other annuals on the south side.

Many have asked me about rooting roses. The following is a very simple system, and has been recommended by Vera Deason and other garden authorities.

Choose a rose stem from which the petals have recently dropped, and which breaks with a snap when bent. Count down six sets of leaves, three on each side of the stem and cut the stem at that point from the parent plant without disturbing the rest of the plant. Snip off the two lower sets of leaves; remove the two top sets by cutting off the main stem at an angle just below the two top sets. This should leave only two sets of leaves. Near the top of your cutting, dip the cutting base in a hormone powder.

Meantime, find a suitable sunny spot in your garden. Loosen the soil well, then pack it firmly with the flat of your hand. Using an ice pick, pencil or dowel, make as many holes in the cultivated soil as you have cuttings. Slip each cutting into a hole up to two remaining leaves, but do not cover any of the leaves. Firm the soil gently around the cutting and cover each with a quart jar.

The jar can be secured to the ground by pressing firmly and twisting clockwise. Threads of the neck of the jar will draw the mouth of the jar into the soil. Be sure and label each variety. You could write the name of the rose in grease pencil on the jar. Another way of marking is to cut strips of a Clorox or like jar, and then place the strip inside of the jar, after having written the name on the white strip. (This is a nice way to mark all plants in the garden. Learn to know the names of your roses, annuals, etc. by name. It is fun to know them thus.)

Such cuttings may be taken any time from early summer until frost, but if you take them during hot summer months it is well to cover the jar with small white paper bags to prevent burning or overheating from the sun. If rain is inadequate, occasional watering will be necessary to promote growth. When first planted keep soil moist, not wet.

As the cuttings make, there will appear small leaves in about four weeks. The original leaves will brown and fall off. Neither cuttings nor jar should be disturbed until danger of frost has passed the next spring. Then when you are ready to transplant the young plants to their permanent homes in your garden, dig them carefully leaving a fair sized ball of soil around each plant.

If you wish you can start the cuttings where you plant to have them grow, therefore you will not have to move them. However, it is good to have the cuttings in a special place, so that all can receive the attention they need. Mrs. O.G. Hill-Sa... grows many roses from cuttings, and she likes to plant the cuttings after the heat of the summer is practically over. Many of the roses growing at the Hereford Garden Center were rooted by her and planted. Some are climbers and others are Hybrid teas or Floribundas.

Peace roses, Queen Elizabeth, Chicago Peace, White Knight, Crimson Glory, Farmer's Wife, Fashion and many others are good to take cuttings from.

Air Layering for hard-to-root plants: Another method of propagation is air layering. It is not a new method at all, as it was practiced by the Chinese centuries ago and was called marcottage. Even though it is an old method, there is something new associated with it. This is the use of polyethylene plastic which has added to the simplification of the old method.

The process for this propagation is as follows: Select a branch or stem on a shrub which will be the new plant after the following steps are used. On the selected branch or stem, measure about 12 inches from the end of the stem, and make on it a 1-inch circle of bark removed. Moist sphagnum peat and place this around the wound where the bark has been removed. When this is accomplished, select a strip or piece of polyethylene and wrap very securely the place where the sphagnum was placed over the stem, seal carefully by wrapping securely, then tie in place.

Over a period of time roots form inside the peat. If the stem is year-old wood it will develop faster than older growth. The smaller the new plant, the easier it will be to transplant after rooted. When rooted the new plant is cut loose and planted.

One of the main problems with air-layering is that of keeping the sphagnum just moist enough and not too moist. With too much moisture, oxygen would be excluded; with not enough oxygen, rooting would be seriously impeded. However, remember the polyethylene has been placed there for the main purpose of holding and maintaining the proper moisture, then too it is well to keep in mind that the mother plant will supply the needed nutrients to the layered stem. It will be necessary to exercise patience in this process, as sometimes it takes several months for roots to form. The cutting will start producing food itself within a limited time or the entire process will be a failure.

Before the process is started collect all needed materials, and work with accurate speed, so that unnecessary loss of moisture will not take place. The needed materials for the project are a sharp knife, a generous handful of sphagnum, (perhaps a bit more) a piece of polyethylene, approximately 6x8 inches, and some tape and probably some rubber bands.

When you can see five or six roots inside the plastic, then you can make plans to complete the project by cutting it from the mother plant, and plant where you have planned to have it grow permanently. For several days the new plant should be protected from the sunlight, as it should not be exposed to full sunlight until the roots have started taking hold in the new soil. Remove the plastic, do not disturb the ball of moss (peat).

Moisten the peat moss, and remember to handle the new plant carefully so that no injury will be made.

Most any of your favorite shrubs can be propagated in this manner, forsythia responds to this method well, as does the various types of Eunonymus, barberry, lobelia, privet, althea (Rose of Sharon), Texas, Holly (some types) and honeysuckle.

Water well drillers from Hereford, Amarillo merge

A merger of Walco Drilling, Inc. of Hereford and McDonald Drilling, Inc. of Amarillo has been announced by officials of both corporations. The merged corporations will be called Water Industries, Inc. with the same personnel in the original organizations staying in the new corporation.

"Walco Drilling is one of the oldest drilling contractors in the Hereford area," said Paul Coneway, president of the new corporation. "McDonald Drilling is recognized as one of the oldest drilling contractors in the Texas Panhandle, having pioneered the Hereford irrigation development in 1914.

"We feel that the combined experience of these two firms will result in a knowledge of water well contracting unsurpassed in this area."

D.L. McDonald, father of W.G. McDonald, current president of McDonald Drilling, started the Hereford irrigation development with the first well being drilled and developed in 1910 for G.R. Jowell of Hereford. Since then, in addition to irrigation development, the firm has specialized in industrial and municipal water development in the Southwest.

Customers for the Amarillo firm include large industrial concerns in the Texas Panhandle as well as municipal jobs in West Texas and New Mexico.

Walco Drilling, Inc. of Hereford, Texas, is a subsidiary of the Water Industries, Inc. of Amarillo, Texas.

W.G. McDonald will continue to reside in Amarillo and head the office of the Amarillo branch of the organization.

Walco Drilling, in addition to irrigation well development in the Panhandle and eastern New Mexico, has done extensive governmental contracting and municipal work in the same area.

The firm recently completed three wells for the Navajo Tribal Utility Authority at Chinle, Ariz.

At present the new organization is completing wells for the University of New Mexico and Swartzman Packing Co., both in Albuquerque.

"Water Industries, Inc., will continue to operate in the future as in the past," Coneway said. "The only thing we have done is combine experience and change our name."

Officers of the new organization are Paul Coneway, president; Billy F. Wall, vice president; W.G. McDonald, vice president and Stephen Coneway, secretary.

The home office of the new organization will be at 212 East New York St., the office of Walco Drilling.

Gandy-Warren wedding vows are read Friday

Wedding vows uniting Miss Elizabeth Gandy and Ralph William Warren were conducted Friday evening in St. Anthony's Catholic Church by the Rev. Timothy McDonald.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James G. Gandy of 414 Star, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Warren, 801 Baltimore.

The bride's father gave her in marriage as Mrs. Allen Evers presented a program of wedding music. She accompanied Glenn Owens as he sang 'We've Only Just Begun, More, The Wedding Prayer and One Hand, One Heart.'

The bride's white chiffon gown featuring Alencon lace, was empire style with an A-line skirt which formed into a cathedral length train.

Leg o' mutton sleeves ended in a fitted lace cuff accented by small buttons at the wrist. Matching lace bordered the Sabrina neckline and trimmed the skirt front to the hemline.

Her bouffant tulle veil fell from a chiffon butterfly bow accented with seed pearls. She carried a nosegay of white feathered mums and yellow roses.

The couple spoke vows as they stood before an altar flanked by branched candelabra and bouquets of white gladiola and yellow pompon mums.

Bridal attendants were Miss Beki Edelman, maid of honor, the bride's sister, Mrs. M.K. Shaw of Amarillo, matron of honor, Misses Joyce Warren of Albuquerque and Anita Warren, sisters of the bridegroom, bridesmaids.

Attendants were attired in yellow dotted Swiss gowns in empire style with yellow ribbon accenting the waistlines. Each dress featured a scoop neckline and puffed sleeves. Yellow hats trimmed with yellow ribbon were worn as headpieces.

Deborah Lynn Gandy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Gandy of Denton, the bride's niece, was flower girl. Douglas Warren, brother of the bridegroom, carried rings.

Greg Bullard served as the couple's best man with their brothers, Ken Warren and Eddie Gandy, and Danny Sides, as groomsmen.

Candles were lit by Tammy Shaw and Monica Warren. Joe Warren, brother of the bridegroom, and Jerry Sparks ushered.

Guests at the reception which followed in the Knights of Columbus Hall, were invited to register by Alice Ann Caraway.

Cake and punch was served by Mrs. Jerry Warren, Mrs. John Gandy and Mrs. Larry Carlson of Amarillo. Also assisting was Terry Love of Grants, N.M.

The four-tiered wedding cake in yellow sugar rose decor centered the serving table which was laid with lace over yellow. To one side of the cake were burning white tapers in silver holders.

For a honeymoon trip to New Mexico and Colorado the bride wore a yellow knit pantsuit, yellow rose corsage and white accessories. On returning they will make their home on Star Route.

Company. Out-of-town wedding guests included Mrs. J.M. Knight, Electra; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Warren, Oklahoma City; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Warren, Mrs. Thelma Wethington and Mrs. Blanche Birkenfeld, all of Nazareth.

Evelyn Kuper marries C. L. Lyles of Turkey

Miss Evelyn Rose Kuper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kuper of Route 5, and Charles L. Lyles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Euman Lyles of Turkey, exchanged marriage vows in a mid-afternoon ceremony Saturday at St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

The Rev. John Keesling of St. Anthony's and the Rev. Jerry McFather, pastor of First Baptist Church at Turkey, conducted the wedding service as the bride's father gave her in marriage.

Baskets of gladiolas and other flowers in shades of yellow were set with green foliage at the altar.

As a prelude to the ceremony, Larry Kuper sang Promise of Love and More, then as a professional solo was A Time for Us from Romeo and Juliet. He also sang the Lord's Prayer, all accompanied by Mrs. Allen Evers, who played the organ recessional. We've Only Just Begun Both are cousins of the bride.

Her sister, Mrs. David Davis of Amarillo, was her matron of honor and the bridegroom's brother, Larry Lyles of Turkey, the best man. Miss Diana Adams was bridesmaid and Roddy Wilson of Turkey groomsmen.

Guests were ushered by a brother of the bridegroom, Joe Ray Lyles of Turkey, brothers of the bride, Joe Ralph and Richard Kuper and a cousin, Johnny Kuper of Summerfield.

Designed and made by the bride and her mother, her wedding gown of organza over white satin had sheer full sleeves with wide lace cuffs, a lace yoke rising to a wedding ring collar and pearl-embroidered lace appliques down the front skirt panel.

The circular train was also embellished with lace and seed pearls. The veil which fell in tiers over her shoulders was held by a cluster of pearl-trimmed organza flowers above her forehead. She carried a cluster of white carnations and stephanotis.

Bridesmaids wore yellow organza over satin, with long sleeves and jewel neckline. Touches of white and green were in the trim at the empire waist.

After the wedding the couple received friends at the Flame Room of Pioneer Gas Company. The triple-tiered cake, ornamented with yellow roses and topped with bride-and-groom figurines, was set between candelabra on the bride's table.

It was served by Miss Judy Harris, Miss Rita Womack of Dimmitt, cousin of the bride, and Miss Nancy Latimer of Lubbock, the bridegroom's cousin. Misses Rhonda Stewart and Linda Baird poured punch.

Miss Alice Kuper, the bride's sister, was at the guest book. Others assisting at the reception were Mmes. Leander Reinart, Donald Adams, M.J. Koelzer, C.W. James and Johnny Betzen.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyles left for a week in the Colorado mountains and after August 14 will be at home in Poole Mobile Home Park at Canyon.

Both are students in West Texas State University there, the bride a sophomore majoring in elementary education. She was an honor graduate of Hereford High School with the 1970 class and has been employed this summer by the Texas Employment Commission.

A senior education major, the bridegroom has completed ROTC training at Fort Riley, Kansas, and will be commissioned a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army next May. He was graduated from Turkey High School in 1968.

Guests from other cities for the wedding included the John Womack family of Dimmitt, the Cyril Neusch family of Amarillo, the Paul Aichlmayr family of Salem, Ore., Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Leven of Panhandle.

Also, from Turkey in addition to the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W.E. Lyles, Mrs. Keno Wilson, Mrs. G.W. Taylor, Johnny Powell, Mr. and Mrs. D.C. Powell and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Johnson.

Coffee honors Nancy Martin

A shower-coffee Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. Charlie Holt complimented Nancy Jo Martin, Aug. 14 bride-elect of Capt. James Raymond Welch.

Mrs. Holt greeted guests who were received by the honoree with her mother, Mrs. Don T. Martin.

Hostesses with Mrs. Holt were Mmes. H.V. Beasley, Richard Winget, Millard Nobles, Dale Timin, G.S. Solomon, R.N. Yarbrough, Ray Todd, J.B. Nolan, Bob Word, Joe Story, Norman Gray, Jack Wilcox, Troys Carmichael, John Pool, Bert Boomer, Eleanor Hudspeth and Miss Flo Dickinson.

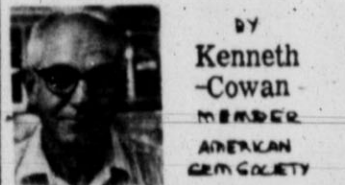

Patti Nobles registered guests including Mrs. Andrew Parks of New Orleans, a college friend of the honoree. The bride-elect's chosen colors of pink, green and white were brought out in an epergne arrangement of roses in shades of pink with babybreath entwined with pink ribbon and centered with bride and groom figurines.

Mrs. Al Shamblin of Amarillo served coffee, fruit, sweet rolls and cheese balls from a table laid with a white sheer cloth.

DIAMONDS FOR EVERYONE

Diamonds have been universally loved since before Pliny's time, and probably will still be as highly regarded when summer homes on the moon are a reality. While many women dream of a five-carat "sparkler", it is not necessary to put off ownership of a genuine diamond until that day comes. Even the tiniest of girl babies can own a diamond of her own set in a locket or baby ring that can become a charm later on.

Those of you with pierced ears can easily wear diamonds that lend glamor to every costume. Starter bracelets and necklaces set with diamonds are a practical idea today and are a great way to solve a family's dilemma on what to give mother, wife or sister on special anniversaries and birthdays. There are many new, attractive designs now in these "diamonds that grow" jewelry pieces both in white and the popular yellow gold combinations.

Precious little gold pins in animal or flora and fauna shapes can be enlivened with small, twinkling diamond eyes and collars. Men can also enjoy diamonds set in tie bars, cufflinks, or tacs. The secret in using these smaller stones is their placement in the design, and in the diamond cutting. Some small diamonds are what we term single cuts with a circular top, and sixteen facets for brilliance. Other small diamonds may be full cut with the same number of facets that a stone one carat or more in weight receives. We will be happy to show you some examples of diamond jewelry you can enjoy today regardless of budget. Stop in soon.

The heart of the matter

Finding the "heart beat" of your diamond is no trick at all for the finely engineered instrument pictured above. It is the special 10-power magnifier that professionally trained jewelers use to see into the heart of a stone.

The fashioning and internal markings which might affect the per carat value of a diamond are clearly revealed. We will be happy to show you the diamond you select under this instrument, and explain details of its value.

OPERATION BLACKMAIL

The Sunday Blue Law is vague, ineffective, discriminatory and should be repealed...

The Sunday Blue Law contradicts the constitution and violates the very system that made our country great and furthermore, it is probably the result of dirty politics!

Any storekeeper along with the district attorney are invited to make a purchase on both Saturday and Sunday, of the so-called restricted items...provided they certify, in good faith, that the purchase being made on that day is pursuant to Sec. 2 of Article 286A of the Vernon's Penal Code of Texas...thus no one can question their motive and the merchant would be in compliance with the (ridiculous) Sunday Blue Law...and should any of these storekeepers or the district attorney decide to file charges on that merchant for making the sale, then they would be lying under oath and the merchant would not be subject to violation of the Sunday Blue Law.

These same storekeepers along with the district attorney can go to Lubbock and purchase on both days, Saturday and Sunday, all the beer they want, legally...

However, should any of these storekeepers and /or the district attorney get caught without any underwear on Sunday, then according to the Sunday Blue Law, that person would have to remain without underwear until the stores open.

This is the kind of logic that our state legislators are imposing on us...

Since there aren't too many people with guts who can stand up for what they believe is right, and since there are too many politicians who are busy trading with each other votes on absurd bill such as the Sunday Blue Law at the expense of the public-then let the public suffer the consequences...

Frankly, what we need is more honest, sincere people, be it at Austin or at the local level, and less hypocrites and dirty politics...

It is not our intention to be critical of the district attorney, by any means, after all it is his duty to enforce State laws to the best of his judgement and ability...

But we are critical of those pushing the district attorney, wasting our tax dollars while they are attempting to satisfy their own personal interests...

I am sure the district attorney can occupy himself with more worthwhile projects that would be in the general public interest and welfare-after all, the public can resolve this issue, if they wish, by not shopping on Sunday- but the public, evidently, is not willing to be subjected to infringement on their individual freedom-at the expense of dirty politics...

Final comment: We don't need to remain open 7 days a week to out-do our competition...but I refuse to bow down to blackmail and harrasment by few storekeepers who can hardly make a living- whose aim is to regulate competition by fixing prices, store hours, policies, etc...

They call it fair trade---

I call it communism philosophy---

Incidentally, we are closing our business in Hereford because We Want To and not because our competition forced us to... Our competitors will certify to that...

We still believe in a free competitive society and we intend to prove it today and everyday until we decide to close our business in Hereford...

In the meantime we intend to give competition HELL with low prices that make their heads spin!

Prince Valiant
IN THE DAYS OF KING ARTHUR
BY HAL FOSTER

Our Story: FARMS AND ORCHARDS ARE LEFT BEHIND AND THEY ENTER A GRIM LAND SHIMMERING UNDER A BURNING SUN. "ONCE THIS WAS A GREAT FOREST REACHING TO THE ATLAS MOUNTAINS, BUT THROUGH THE YEARS THE TREES HAVE BEEN CUT FOR SHIPS' TIMBERS, NOW THE PATIENT DESERT CREEPS SILENTLY FORWARD TO CLAIM ITS OWN."

A LAND OF SHIFTING DUNES, A JUMBLE OF BARREN HILLS WHERE THE SUN IS AN ENEMY, THEIR WATER IS ALMOST GONE WHEN A VERDANT VALLEY APPEARS.

THERE AN ANCIENT CITY STANDS SILENT BEHIND CRUMBLING WALLS. THE ONLY SIGN OF LIFE IS AN ANCIENT GUARD AT THE ROTTING GATES.

"NO STRANGER MAY ENTER THE GATES OF BEAUTIFUL SARDAROC, FOR THEY BRING NEW WAYS, STRANGE CUSTOMS THAT MIGHT CHANGE OUR LAWS," WHEEZES THE GUARD. "ARE YOUR LAWS SO GOOD THAT THEY CANNOT BE IMPROVED?" ASKS VAL.

"OH, NO, THEY ARE BAD LAWS," ANSWERS THE ANCIENT, "BUT THROUGH THE CENTURIES WE HAVE REBELLED AND SOUGHT NEW RULERS AND ALWAYS THE CHANGE HAS BEEN FOR THE WORSE. NOW IT HAS BEEN DECREED THAT NO NEW LAWS BE ENACTED..... EVER!"

1800 8-8

"SO NO ONE MAY ENTER OR LEAVE OUR CITY. IF YOU WANT FOOD OR WATER GO AROUND TO THE BACK WHERE THERE IS A MARKETPLACE OUTSIDE THE WALLS."

© King Features Syndicate, Inc. 1971. World rights reserved.

THEY RIDE AROUND THE CRUMBLING, LICHEN-COVERED WALLS TO THE MARKETPLACE. AS NO ONE MAY ENTER THE CITY AND NONE MAY LEAVE, THE CITIZENS DO THEIR TRADING FROM WINDOWS HIGH IN THE WALLS.

WAIT A MINUTE!

WHAT'S THE MATTER, MOM?

YEH, WHAT'S UP?

ALL OF A SUDDEN—I HAVE A STRANGE FEELING

DAGWOOD, WHAT ABOUT YOUR CHORES?

AFTER I DIVIDED UP THE CHORES THERE WAS NOTHING LEFT FOR ME TO DO, SO I DECIDED TO TAKE A NAP

PONYTAIL BY LEE HOLLEY

hints from Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:
I have an idea that is just bound to make any little girl happy.
Take an old umbrella and remove the cover so you only have the skeleton of the umbrella left. Then fold the ribs down on one side so that you have just half an umbrella.
Using the cover folded in half as a pattern, cut three layers of nylon net. Then wherever desired and you'll have an enchanting, "dream provoking" canopy that will fit flat on the wall over your little girl's bed.

She'll just have to love it because it's adorable.
Ginny F.
...and visions of sugar-plums danced in her head!
Heloise

WASTE NOT, WANT NOT!

DEAR HELOISE:
Never discard those round disposable potato chip containers. I've found many uses for them.
I put the lid on the bottom for reinforcement, sewed two terry cloth hand towels together end-to-end, making a tube out of them. Then I put a half-inch hem at the top and the bottom of the "tube" and put elastic through these hems.

I slipped this over the potato chip container and had a very nice wastebasket, or whatever else you care to use it for.
Darlene

DEAR HELOISE:
I have my recipes typed on 3" x 5" file cards.
I fitted two snapshot album corners to the lower corners of a 3" x 5" card, moistened them and stuck them to my cupboard door at eye level, and then removed the card.
Now all my recipe cards fit perfectly into the little snapshot corners.
The cards are easy to see.

HELP FOR HOMEMAKERS

and high enough above my work counter so they do not get spattered while I am cooking.
They are easily removed for storage in my file cabinet, and the corners remain in position for the next recipe card I use without being too obvious.
Calpurnia

SEW SMART

DEAR HELOISE:
Anyone who has ever done any felt applique work knows how difficult it is to cut around a pattern that has been pinned to a piece of felt, or if you draw around the pattern it's hard to get rid of any markings that are left.
I had a lot of leftover scraps of adhesive-backed paper and traced my patterns on these. I cut them out and stuck the adhesive-backed-paper on the felt.
I not only saved time and my eyes, but it was so much easier to cut because the felt with the adhesive-backed paper had more body and lines were sharper.

I separated and soiled my pieces and then stripped off the paper as they were used.
Mrs. J. A. Chamberlin

HERE'S TO DOLLS!

DEAR HELOISE:
Here's a hint for those little girl readers of yours who are "teenage" doll fans.
Save toothpaste caps. Clean them and the little girls will love them to use as glasses and cups for their dolls.
We use several different brands of toothpaste and each has a different color lid, so my sister has a "super-keen" set of cups and glasses.
A Teenager

DEAR HELOISE:
After waxing the floor, take an old sponge mop (without the sponge) and wrap a dry towel around it and then you have a good buffer for the floor.
Pam Keefer

A GREAT IDEA

I have always had a hard time grating American (processed) cheese when recipes call for it because it's so soft.
Instead of grating it, I cut it in little rectangles approximately the size of an egg and cut it in my hard-boiled-egg slicer. By turning the cheese in the slicer three different directions I get tiny squares that melt easily.
It is much faster and not nearly as messy as trying to grate that type of cheese.
Annelie Lowman

were like new, and another pair with worn terry cloth tops, but the soles were in real good shape.
So I took the good soles from the terry cloth slippers and glued them in the furry slippers. This gave me one perfect pair.
Just make sure you get the cement all around the edges of the soles that you are gluing in. They have held up beautifully.
Jessie Pugh

NO SOFT SOAP!

DEAR HELOISE:
I bought a pair of doll panties with lace and sewed up the leg holes. Then I slipped in a bar of soap and stitched the waist closed also.
This makes a novel pin-cushion gift for diaper-pin users and looks so cute in the nursery.
Mrs. P. A.

LETTER OF LOVE

DEAR HELOISE:
I wonder if you realize how much you are appreciated? You are a channel through which we help one another.
Thank you from the bottom of my heart...
A Loyal Fan

HOCUS-FOCUS

CAN YOU TRUST YOUR EYES? There are six differences in drawing details between top and bottom panels. How quickly can you point out what these differences are? Answers below.

Hal Kaufman's JUNIOR WHIRL

Do Eyes Have It?

BULLETIN BOARD

- RIDDLE ME THIS: What is it that Adam and Eve never had, but which they gave their children?
Parents.
- Here's a real quickie (time limit 30 seconds): Change the first letter of the word golf and get an animal.
WOLF.
- Wits tester: If a man gives one son 15 cents and another son 10 cents, what time is it?
A quarter to two.
- Draw a short horizontal line on paper; write the letter "M" above it and the letter "B" below it. And there you have the name of a pretty woodland flower. What's that?
An anemone (m m on B) is the flower.

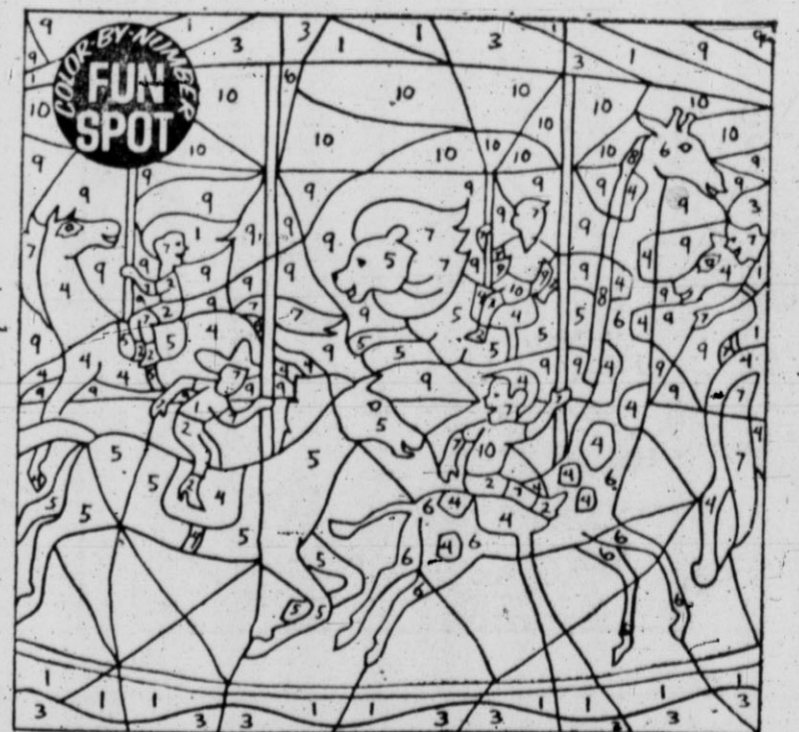

IT IS known that most persons are right- or left-eyed in the same manner that they excel with either the right or left hand. This may be apparent as you undertake the exercise above.

The object is to trace an imaginary line from point A to point B and return, using one eye; and then repeating with the other eye.

Have you discovered which is your most proficient, or "strong," eye?

HAL'S PALS! Thanks to the 1st grade class above for so many fine drawings. We'll print more from time to time, space permitting. Send them on to Junior Whirl, c/o this newspaper.

ROUND AND ROUND! To see what's going on above, apply these colors: 1-Red, 2-Blue, 3-Yellow, 4-Dk. brown, 5-Brown, 6-Orange, 7-Flesh, 8-Black, 9-Green, 10-Purple.

SPELLBINDER!

SCORE 10 points for using all letters in the word below to form two complete words:

FASTENER

THEN score 2 points each for all words of four letters or more found among the letters. Try to score at least 50 points.

One possible answer: fast, nest.
