

Consumers Borrowing More; Sign Optimistic

By STEVEN P. ROSENFELD AP Business Writer

Consumers went deeper in debt in April to buy cars and other goods and services — something economists are counting on to help end the recession and fuel a recovery.

The Federal Reserve Board report Tuesday of the largest monthly increase in consumer credit in seven months was viewed as an encouraging economic development.

The Fed reported consumers took on $1.18 billion more in installment debt than they paid off in April. It was the biggest increase since last September, but below increases of around $2 billion a month for most of 1981.

"If nothing else, a little pickup here probably does reflect a lessening of fears of the future," said Robert Ortner, chief economist of the Commerce Department.

But signs of economic distress also persisted.

Reserve Mining Co. said it was extending a planned four-week summer shutdown of its Silver Bay, Minn., iron ore mine through Dec. 5, idling most of its 2,700 employees.

Matthew Banovitz, the company president, said the shutdown could be extended even longer if conditions in the steel industry worsen.

The Fed's report on consumer debt included borrowing for purchases of cars and mobile homes and the use of credit cards, but did not include home mortgage loans.

Outstanding auto-loan debt grew by $233 million in April, the first expansion of the year. Earlier this month, the nation's automakers reported new-car sales increased in May, with the rate of daily sales at a three-year high.

In July, income taxes will be cut 10 percent and Social Security benefits will be increased 7.4 percent.

In Washington, House Democratic and Republican leaders tentatively approved separate spending plans, each calling for reducing administration budgets for the military.

The Democrats' plan would trim inflation-adjusted growth of defense spending to 5 percent from President Reagan's proposed 10 percent to help hold the deficit for the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1 to $107.8 billion. The Republicans proposed 7 percent real growth in defense spending as part of a budget with an estimated $99.2 billion deficit.

Salvadoran Rebels Accuse Army Troops of Massacre

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — El Salvador's leftist rebels have accused American-trained army troops of slaughtering 600 peasants in two northern villages last week.

The government jammed a broadcast of the charge and has made no comment on it.

"The first reports received from Chalatenango (province) mention 600 victims — men and women, children and old people — murdered by the gringo battalion," the rebel Radio Venceremos said.

The "gringo" battalion was a reference to a that returned last month after 14 weeks of training at Fort Benning, Ga., and is taking part in an anti-guerrilla sweep in Chalatenango.

"They were killed because of a single crime: they lived within or near the places where our forces are stationed," the broadcast said.

The broadcast was made Saturday but could not be monitored here because of jamming. A transcript made by a U.S. government facility in Panama became available Tuesday.

Radio Venceremos makes frequent claims of government massacres that sometimes are confirmed and other times prove groundless. Foreign reporters cannot check this one out because roads in the area are mined and the government prohibits them from going there.

The anti-guerrilla dragnet by about 4,000 troops was launched in rugged northern areas of Chalatenango on May 29. The rebel broadcast said the slaughter occurred in the villages of Titire and Titurito, near the town of Arcatao, 69 miles north of San Salvador.

Israeli, Syrian Forces Close In On Confrontation

By The Associated Press

Israeli and Syrian forces are drawing closer to a confrontation in Lebanon, with Syria rushing in reinforcements and Israeli forces advancing into east central Lebanon, 40 miles north of Israel's border and close to the Syrian stronghold in the Bekaa Valley.

Although Prime Minister Menachem Begin said the Israelis "don't want war with Syria," there were more frequent clashes between the two forces Tuesday. Israel said it shot down six Syrian jets, two of them in Israeli airspace, and Syria said its artillery and helicopter gunships attacked an Israeli armored column near the Lebanese village of Ain Dara, five miles west of the Bekaa Valley and 12 miles east of Beirut.

While this Israeli column moved eastward just below the Beirut-Damascus highway, Israeli infantry and naval forces on the Mediterranean coast captured Sidon, the Palestinians' chief supply

Juarez Facing Water Shortage

CIUDAD JUAREZ, Mexico (AP) — About 60 residents of Juarez' poorer outlying districts, or colonias, have threatened to shut off water to the city's affluent neighborhoods if shortages making their children sick are not solved.

The group, led by two state committee members of the leftist United Socialist Party of Mexico, met Tuesday with city water board head Bernardo Escudero and demanded that he end the water shortage in the colonias.

"There's one truck for the whole colonia. We don't even have water to cook," said Maria Celia Perez, who lives in Colonia Division del Norte.

Dr. Jose Carlos Lardizabal said Tuesday the Red Cross clinic had treated 70 children in the last 24 hours who were suffering from dehydration.

Fifteen children were in the clinic Tuesday and two or three had been sent to the Juarez General Hospital in critical condition, he said.

There have been no deaths so far this year, but Lardizabal said the summer months here usually take the lives of several children a year. He said the children become dehydrated from vomiting and diarrhea caused by contaminated food and water.

Escudero told the group electricity blackouts Friday and Monday had tripped the automatic shut-off mechanisms of pumps on the city's 54 wells.

Because the water has to be pumped to storage tanks and pumped again to higher elevations, about 6,000 families in three colonias were left without water, he said.

While that problem was being solved Tuesday, Escudero said 15 new wells are not operating because the federal government has not delivered pumps for them.

He said the board has bought two pumps with its own money and they should be working by Friday. Over-time pay for drivers of tanker trucks also has been authorized, he said.

Sixty percent of the city's population of about 1 million has running water and Escudero said new wells and pipelines built with a $40 million World Bank loan will give 80 percent of the city water and sewage service by 1983.

In the meantime, the spigot in Elvia Valles' yard remained dry. Like many of her neighbors, Mrs. Valles said water provided by a tanker truck is insufficient for her needs.

"We fill two little gallons (for drinking) when the truck comes in the morning," Mrs. Valles said, "but it is not enough. My grandson is in the Red Cross (clinic) with dehydration."

Mrs. Valles grandson, 1-year-old Jose Antonio Garcia Mendez, was reported in good condition at the clinic.

Parties to Prison Suit May Settle

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Parties to the inmate lawsuit that led to orders for sweeping reforms in state prisons will try to reach agreements out of court that could end the 10-year-old civil rights case, Gov. Bill Clements says.

Clements said Tuesday no date had been set for the meeting that Texas Board of Corrections Chairman Louis Austin of Dallas is arranging.

The lawsuit, filed by an inmate, sparked a reform order from U.S. District Judge William Wayne Justice. The U.S. Justice Department intervened on behalf of the inmates.

Agreements have been reached on some issues, including the end of the use of inmates as "building tenders" or guards. However, some of the most important aspects are still in court. The state has appealed Justice's order requiring individual cells for each inmate in the 33,000-prisoner system.

"It is my hope that we will soon be able to conclude the lawsuit without need for further appeals to federal courts — and turn our full attention to seeking long-term solutions to the problems of the prison system," Clements said in a statement.

The governor said at a Friday news conference that Texas would appeal a federal prison reform order to the U.S. Supreme Court as soon as all compromises had been worked out.

Other points still in contention include Justice's order requiring smaller prison units located close to big cities.

Clements said participants in the settlement talks are expected to include Brad Reynolds, head of the U.S. Justice Department's Civil Rights Division; top staff members of the Texas Department of Corrections; attorneys for inmates who filed the suit; the state attorney general's office; Houston lawyers who are providing allies, today opened a new chapter in his arms control campaign by calling for deep reductions in allied and Soviet-bloc forces stationed in Europe.

BONN, West Germany (AP) — President Reagan, arriving here on the eve of a summit conference of NATO

In a speech to the Bundestag, West Germany's parliament, Reagan also made a sympathetic gesture to the peace movement, whose followers were gathering for mass demonstrations.

"To those who march for peace, my heart is with you," Reagan declared. "I would be at the head of your parade if I believed marching along could bring about a more secure world... I understand your genuine concerns."

Reagan, on the final leg of his European tour, unveiled a formula for cutting troop levels in Europe to 700,000 on each side.

It would mean a cut of 91,000 NATO forces and 262,000 Warsaw Pact troops, according to U.S. estimates. However, the Kremlin argues that U.S. estimates of Warsaw-bloc troops are too high.

The president flew here from a farewell conference in London with Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher and British Foreign Secretary Francis Pym on the Falkland Islands war and Israel's drive into southern Lebanon.

Addressing the Bundestag, Reagan underscored the U.S. commitment to the defense of Europe — and particularly West Germany — in the wake of a firestorm that erupted last year when he said he could envision a nuclear exchange limited to the European continent.

"We are with you Germany. You are not alone," Reagan vowed.

Reagan said his proposal for ground troop reductions "would not eliminate the threat nor spare our citizens the task of maintaining a substantial defensive force, (but) it could constitute a major step toward a safer Europe for both East and West."

"And it also would demonstrate the political will of the two alliances to enhanced stability by limiting their forces in the central area of their military competition," he said.

An estimated 17,000 police officers were mobilized to protect Reagan and the 15 other heads of state arriving for the NATO summit. There has been a rash of anti-Reagan demonstrations and a dozen bomb attacks on U.S. offices and military bases in the last week.

Stanley Assault Said Imminent

By The Associated Press

Britain admitted a frigate and two big landing ships were damaged by Argentine planes as the British press reported the assault on the 7,000 besieged Argentine troops at Stanley was imminent.

Argentina claimed its warplanes sank a British frigate, damaged three landing ships so badly that two were abandoned and the third put out of action, and inflicted heavy casualties among troops being put ashore Tuesday at Port Fitzroy, 15 miles southwest of the Falklands capital.

The British Defense Ministry reported the frigate Plymouth and the 412-foot-long landing ships Sir Tristram and Sir Galahad suffered "some damage," but it did not say how extensive this was. However, it said the only casualties reported were five men injured aboard the Plymouth.

The ministry also claimed that two of the Argentine planes were shot down, a third may have been downed and at least four others were damaged. The Argentines made no mention of any aircraft losses.

With thousands of British troops already in position to attack from the west and north of Stanley, the British Defense Ministry reported that troops of the 5th Infantry Brigade were "firmly established" on the Argentines' other land side at Fitzroy and adjacent Bluff Cove.

"Over the last few days, initial deployments to that area have been reinforced, and the troops and their support are now ready to move forward," the ministry said.

Cmdr. Mike Bracelin, a member of the Royal Navy's operations staff in London, said the British force now comprises 5,000 marines and paratroopers, 3,000 infantrymen of the 5th Brigade and "hundreds of backup troops." He said the British also have landed 20,000 tons of ammunition and other supplies at their beachhead at San Carlos, 50 miles west of Stanley.

British troops moved into Fitzroy and Bluff Cove after the 5th Brigade's commander, Brig. Tony Wilson, learned in a telephone call that the Argentines had pulled out of the two settlements, defense correspondent Robert Hutchinson of Press Association, the British domestic news agency, reported from the Falklands.

Hutchinson said a British army patrol at Swan Inlet, 15 miles southwest of the settlements, discovered the telephone line to Fitzroy was working. Wilson stepped into a phone booth, put in a 50-pence (90 cents) coin and got a villager, Reg Binney, on the line.

"Are the Argies still at Fitzroy?" Wilson asked.

"No," Binney replied, "why don't you come over and join us?"

Military sources in London reported the British 105mm guns on the ridges west of

County Voters Back Losers

Deaf Smith County voters stayed away from the polls in droves last Saturday in the Democratic Party runoff in which only four races were on the ballot. Only 318 voters spent the time in the booth, much as expected by party officials.

County voters went against the overall winners in three of the four races, however. Land Commissioner candidate Pete Snelson, Attorney General hopeful John Hannah, and Place 1 Court of Criminal Appeals candidate John Humphreys all drew the nod in Deaf Smith County, but found themselves on the short end statewide.

Snelson, a candidate endorsed by The Hereford Brand, collected 251 votes to opponent Gary Mauro's 67 in the county. Mauro, who trailed Snelson in the May 1 Primary, received endorsements from the other two candidates, State Rep. Dan Kubiak and farmer George Fore of Paducah.

In the Attorney General race locally, Hannah received 222 votes to only 94 for Mattox. Mattox won the nod statewide, as he had done in the Primary, leading the pack then also.

In the court of appeals races Humphreys received 176 votes as compared to 108 for opponent Charles Campbell, while Chuck Miller of Dallas won the nod over Bill Black by a 182-103 count for the Place 2 seat.

'We Are Democrats' Airs On Thursday

Texas Democratic Party Chairman Bob Slagle invites all Democrats to watch and participate in a two-hour nationally televised program entitled "We Are the Democrats" from 7-9 p.m. Thursday, June 10.

The program is being aired on Ted Turner's national cable channel, WTBS out of Atlanta, on local channel 6.

"I urge all Democrats in Texas with access to the national cable channel to watch and to call in with their opinions. We have a tremendous opportunity not only to present our perspective on the problems facing our country, but also to show the kind of unity we have achieved in the 18 months Ronald Reagan has been President," said Slagle.

Viewers will be able to telephone an "800" number, (800-528-6600) to register their views on the issues discussed and to pledge contributions to the Democratic National Committee.

"We Are the Democrats" will feature high-ranking and prominent members of the Democratic Party. Making an appearance will be Jimmy Carter, Walter Mondale, Sen. Ted Kennedy, House Speaker Tip O'Neill, Muriel Humphrey, Mickey Leland and many other personalities who compose the broad range of interests in the Democratic Party.

FBI Joins Search

For New Mexico Man

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — The FBI has joined the search for a New Mexico man who has disappeared mysteriously with about $2 million in cash and gold, authorities here said.

Clifford R. Nicholson, 37, of Clovis, N.M., has been missing since last Thursday after he closed a land deal. His motor home was found abandoned in an Amarillo restaurant parking lot, police detective Brice Hite said.

"There's no concrete evidence that there's foul play involved," Hite said. "He's just gone."

"There wasn't anything in the motor home to indicate foul play either. There was no trace of the money," Hite said.

FBI agents were following the case because of the possibility that Nicholson had been kidnapped.

Nicholson, in the trading and gold-mining business, was last seen about noon Thursday in Amarillo by his lawyer, who was drawing up paperwork on a corporation Nicholson was forming, authorities said. His motor home was found Sunday, Hite said.

Granny Fights Away

Knife-wielding Intruder

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Mary A. Bacy, a 63-year-old grandmother, kept a hammer under her couch — just in case — but never had to use it until Tuesday morning.

That's when she used the hammer to pound a knife-wielding intruder while yelling for members of her family, who chased the man down the street and beat him up, police said.

"I got that hammer out and started swinging," Mary A. Bacy said.

She said she has always kept the hammer under her couch in case someone broke in, but never had to use it until Tuesday.

Six of Mrs. Bacy's nine children live in the neighborhood and her screams, along with telephone calls of neighbors, brought them running.

One of Mrs. Bacy's daughters, 39-year-old Gloria Heath, said she joined the chase for the man when a neighbor called her early Tuesday morning.

"He was running down the street and my brothers caught him and started beating him," Mrs. Heath said. "I beat him too. They brought him back to the house and police took him in."

Fort Worth police were holding a 22-year-old man, but he had yet not been charged with anything.

Mrs. Heath said her mother was watching television about 2 a.m. when the man smashed the door open and entered the house.

"He beat her and threatened to kill her if she didn't lie down and make her get down on the floor," she said. "He was taking his pants down and she felt for her hammer under the couch. When she found the hammer, she started hitting."

Baptist Convention

Gives $3 Million

DALLAS (AP) — Financially strapped Dallas Baptist College has received a $6 million shot-in-the-arm from anonymous donors and the Texas Baptist General Convention.

The unnamed philanthropists offered the four-year college $3 million if the Baptist convention would agree to kick in another $3 million.

Convention directors agreed to the plan Tuesday, spokesman Orville Scott said, easing financial problems at the school.

Dallas Baptist College ran a $1.5 million deficit this school year and has a long-term debt of "around $6.5 million," he said.

The 190-member executive board of the Baptist convention voted 63-40 in favor of the $3 million package of loans and gifts for the 17-year-old college, Scott said.

Wichita Falls Man

Dies In Plane Crash

GRAHAM, Texas (AP) — A single-engine private plane crashed in a pasture and killed the pilot who was trying to direct a ground crew to a crude oil pipeline leak, authorities said.

Larry Eugene Whit, 56, of Wichita Falls, was pronounced dead at the scene after the Cessna 150 crash about 10 miles north of this North Central Texas town Tuesday, authorities said.

Whit, who was working for the F.C. Barr Co. of Kenedy, was talking by radio with two men on the ground to direct them to the leak. His transmissions ended moments before the crash, the men told police.

Whit's body was taken to the Tarrant County Medical Examiner's Office for an autopsy, said Justice of the Peace Bob Choate.

Republican Candidate Swap Leaves Democrats Screaming

By KEN HERMAN Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Allen Clark Jr. says the process that made him the Republican nominee-select for state treasurer is "legal, proper, appropriate and non-fattening."

But voices in the opposition camp are screaming about the second GOP candidate swap in as many weeks.

Clark, if approved by the State Republican Executive Committee on June 16, will substitute for Millard Neptune as Democrat Ann Richards' November opponent for treasurer.

GOP state Chairman Chet Upham introduced Clark Tuesday as the replacement for Neptune, the stalking-horse candidate who withdrew.

Firm Raises Stakes In Bid For Mesa

NEW YORK (AP) — Cities Service Co. has raised the stakes in its bid to acquire Mesa Petroleum Co., offering management a cash and stock package valued at about $1.2 billion.

Cities Service Chairman Charles J. Waidelich said Tuesday that the nation's 20th-largest oil company was offering Mesa's management $21 in cash per share for 51 percent of Mesa's 66.8 million outstanding common shares

"To a far greater degree than is true in the other party, Republicans generally are homemakers or people in business or industry or people who practice their professions as accountants, lawyers, engineers and doctors. Generally to serve in public office they would have to step down from the standpoint of total income," said Neptune.

Clark said he considered running in the May 1 primary, but "I was not in a position business-wise back in January" to enter the race.

The 39-year-old former Green Beret captain is president of three Midland-based energy companies. From 1979 through 1981 he was a special assistant to Gov. Bill Clements.

He left that post for a top deputy position with the Veteran's Administration in Washington, a job he quit after 22 days. He said he felt like a "token Vietnam veteran" in the agency.

Clark, a 1963 West Point graduate, lost both legs below the knees after being hit by mortar fire in Vietnam.

"I have always considered myself a professional manager," he said. The position of Texas state treasurer requires a professional manager.

"If elected, I will conduct myself and fulfill my responsibilities with the honor code under which I lived at West Point and was raised by my parents — that of duty, honor, country, — always uppermost in my mind," he said.

Ms. Richards, who said Neptune had told her he was in the race to stay, questioned the candidate switch.

"My philosophical preference is the voters choose the people they want to run. It should not be the kind of thing done from a top-down instruction," she said.

"I just hope he is the candidate and he'll stay there until November," she said of Clark.

Clark offered no positions on questions concerning investment of state money.

"I just have general impressions about a lot of things like that," he said.

Ms. Richards said, "He's got a lot of homework to do." The former Travis County commissioner became the Democratic nominee when incumbent Warren Harding withdrew from a runoff after running second on May 1.

Five Wrecks Reported In May

Sergeant Billy Don Scott, Area Supervisor of Deaf Smith County, reports that for the month of May the Texas Highway Patrol Troopers investigated a total of five accidents in this county. There was one fatal accident, and four property damage accidents.

In District 5B, which includes the top 31 counties of the Panhandle, there were 205 accidents investigated by the Texas Highway Patrol.

Highway Patrol Captain Bob Russell reports that the Texas Highway Patrol Troopers investigated six fatal accidents with a total of seven persons killed, 65 injury accidents with a total of 104 persons injured, and 134 property damage accidents.

'Task Force' Plots Reagan Comeback

GRAPEVINE, Texas (AP)

A self-appointed task force of arch conservatives and long-time Ronald Reagan supporters have decided to use their influence to convince the president to fire his chief of staff and get his "mandate back on track."

Wright indicated after the meeting a major goal for the group was convincing Reagan to dump Baker — who Wright said was a "symptom of a deeper problem."

The 3½ hour strategy session was attended by 18 long-time Reagan supporters from across Texas and two national conservative leaders — Howard Phillips, national director of the Conservative Caucus, and John Loftin, editor of Conservative Digest magazine.

Loftin said simply dumping Baker is not a panacea to the problems. "We have Reagan without Reaganism," Loftin said after the meeting.

Wright said he will meet with other Reagan supporters across the country in the next two weeks and try to convince them the president needs to live up to the "1980 Reagan mandate."

He said the goal of the loosely knit organization is to see that Reagan "becomes 'the best president in history.'"

But to do that, Wright said Reagan first must fulfill his campaign promises, which include reducing taxes and abolishing the Departments of Education and Energy.

Wright made his comments in two prepared statements and he refused to answer any questions. He also refused to identify the Texans who attended and the Texans refused to identify themselves or comment on the meeting.

port 31 miles north of the Israeli border, after a 24-hour attack that left much of the city of 250,000 in flames.

Although Israel's announced goal was to drive Palestinian artillery and rockets 25 miles back from the Israeli border, Israel's coastal advance pushed to Saadiyat, 37 miles north of the border and only 13 miles south of Beirut. Then Israeli helicopters ferried about 100 tanks and other armored vehicles six miles to the east, to Deir el-Qamar, and the column made a speedy advance to Ain Dara, 13 miles to the northeast.

valley said they saw long lines of Syrian armor, artillery and rocket launchers moving westward Tuesday night. The Syrian force, estimated at 30,000 troops before Damascus began sending in reinforcements, intervened in the Lebanese civil war in 1976 to prevent a leftist victory and remained to police an Arab League truce.

Syria claimed its fire hit 11 Israeli tanks at Ain Dara. Israel did not confirm the Syrian attack there but reported small clashes elsewhere between Syrian and Israeli armored units. It said some Syrian tanks were damaged.

There was no official estimate of total casualties in the Israeli invasion, now its fourth day. Israel's chief military spokesman, Brig. Gen. Yaakov Even, said "many terrorists were killed" by the Israeli forces moving up the Lebanese coast through Tyre and Sidon. Lebanon's ambassador to the United Nations, Ghassan Tuani, said thousands had been killed, and "the vast majority are civilians."

At the United Nation, a U.S. veto killed a Security Council resolution proposed by Spain to condemn Israel for rejecting the council's earlier demand for a cease-fire. The resolution would have given Israel six hours to cease hostilities or face the possibility of economic and diplomatic sanctions.

The other 14 council members voted for the resolution. U.S. Ambassador Jeane Kirkpatrick said the veto was cast because the resolution was "not sufficiently balanced."

A $100 glass door was broken at the Tice Grocery on 25 Mile Avenue during a burglary in which only an $8 knife has been reported missing, according to Hereford police.

Bullard Speaks To Hospital Auxiliary

Jim Bullard, Deaf Smith General Hospital Administrator, spoke to the Deaf Smith County Hospital Auxiliary when they met Monday noon in the hospital board room. He told the group about medical services which have been added to the community and new additions to the medical staff.

Among the new staff are Dr. David Baddour, urologist, who has offices in the hospital; Dr. Jan Swann, pediatrician, who will be coming to Hereford in August or September; Dr. Tim Revell, who will be coming in July; and possibly one more physician coming later.

Bullard asked for community support of these new doctors. He also spoke about volunteers helping on the weekends in the Emergency Room and a possible training session for the volunteers.

Due to a vacancy in the secretary's office of the Auxiliary, Gwen London was nominated and elected to that position.

The treasurer gave a yearly report showing that $1,118.90 had been given to the hospital from the proceeds of the Gift Shop and other money raising activities.

At the Town and Country Jubilee in August, the Auxiliary will have a Frisbee Toss Booth.

Gwen and Baxter London reported on their trip to the Texas Hospital Auxiliary Convention in San Antonio.

Thirteen members were present, including Grace Covington, Olga Harris, Nellie Bethune, Bea Hutson, Juanita Bennett, Ms. London, Nell Culpepper, Marjorie Mehlberg, Marilyn Larson, Jane White, Lupe Cerda, and Mary E. Williamson.

German Sausage Festival Scheduled At Nazareth

The public is invited to attend the 10th annual German Sausage Festival Saturday, June 19, at Nazareth. Between 1500 and 1700 pounds of homemade sausage will be made by the Lions Club. This will be sold frozen by the pound.

A large meal will be served from 4 to 7 p.m. The menu will include German sausage, potato salad, sauerkraut, relish plate, corn, green beans, homemade bread, German chocolate cake and apple crisp. Charge will be $3.75 per plate.

An arts and crafts show and sale, with area artists participating, will begin at 2:30 p.m. Some booths are still available. For more information contact 945-2562 or 945-2583.

There will also be a fiddler's contest with no entry fee. Prizes will be given to the winners. Following the contest, all area musicians are invited to play in a blue grass concert. Also scheduled are softball and water polo.

A dance will begin at 9 p.m. that evening and will feature the Rough Riders Band. Admission will be $3 per person.

Woodrow Wilson was the only President in U.S. history to hold a Ph.D degree.

Receives Trophy

Frances Rape received a trophy last weekend at the State Square Dance Festival in El Paso for being the high Festival ticket seller in the Panhandle Association. She is a member of the Good Timers Square Dance Club.

Good Timers Return From State Festival

Frances Rape, member of the Good Timers Square Dance Club, was honored this past weekend at the State Square Dance Festival in El Paso.

She was awarded a trophy for selling the most Festival tickets in the Panhandle Association and will also receive a $50 savings bond from the Panhandle Square and Round Dance Association for her efforts in ticket sales.

This is her second year to receive the honor.

There were approximately 1,931 dancers in attendance at the Festival. The highlight of the Saturday night dance was a drawing for three prizes.

First prize, a Ford Mustang, went to A.L. Hughes of Waco; second prize, a Ford Escort, was won by Bernice Galaznik of Freeport; and third prize, two ceiling fans, went to D.L. Kerr of Dallas.

Ladies Auxiliary Meet In Regular Session

Members of the Ladies Auxiliary met Monday evening at the VFW Post No. 4818 with Freligh Sowell Bishop presiding. The meeting was preceded by a covered dish supper for auxiliary and VFW members.

Three visitors from Dimmitt were welcomed. They included new District 13 President-Elect Florene Leinen, District 13 Secretary-Treasurer-Elect Mildred Huseman, and Tina Conner.

Members voted in a new member, Vivian Williams, who will be initiated at the next meeting. Also, Mrs. Leinen told members about the Parade of Transmittals which is scheduled at the state convention June 26. Those who want to be included in this can pay their dues now. Members present Monday included Betty Boggs, Doris Coffin, Rose Goheen, Essie Martin, Erma Murphey, Bessie Sauley, Edith Richardson, Doris Wilson, Dora Lea Howell, and Marie Goheen.

Youth Choir To Perform Sunday

"A Reason to Rejoice," a celebration of faith by Allen Pote and Carole McCann, will be presented by Spirit Wind 1982 during the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday at First United Methodist Church.

The public is invited free of charge to this dramatic celebration which expresses themes of joy, love, and hope from Hebrew origin to modern day times.

This performance is just one of 14 concerts which the group will present all over the Panhandle area during their week and a half long tour, June 8-20.

The cast is made up of high school youth from throughout the Northwest Texas Conference of the United Methodist Church, and this is the fourth summer tour for this group.

Participating from Hereford are Marcia Crowley and Becky Ruland, sopranos; Bethany Boyd, alto; Craig McCuistian, tenor; and Chris Crowley and Clay Stribling, basses.

Other students are from McAdoo, Amarillo, Seymour, Lubbock, Panhandle, Dalhart, Canyon, Spearman, Olton, Levelland, Big Spring, and Borger.

Director is Bert W. Bostic, Director of Music and Youth at First United Methodist Church, Hereford. Assisting with music and accompanist for the group is Sharon Pudlo, Director of Music Ministries for the First United Methodist Church of Levelland.

Technical directors are Patsy Giles of Hereford and Nolan Dees of Canyon. Flautist is Phyllis Lindley of Spearman.

The tour started last night with a concert at King's Manor in Hereford. The group will perform at Friona tonight at 7 p.m.

The rest of the itinerary is as follows: Olton, June 10; Dimmitt, June 11; Canyon, June 12; Hereford, June 13, 11 a.m.; Borger, June 13, 7 p.m.; Spearman, June 14; Childress, June 15; Seymour, June 16; Crowell, June 17; Abilene, June 18; Snyder, June 19, 2 p.m.; and Levelland, June 20, 11 a.m.

All performances are at 7 p.m. unless noted otherwise.

Showing Hampshires

By Jeff Hicks
Deaf Smith County 4-H Member

There are many breeds of sheep, but one of the most common to our area is the Hampshire. It is one of the most impressive breeds with its bold, massive body.

The hair on the face, legs, and ears, is very dark brown, approaching black, and makes a sharp contrast with the white wool on the head and legs. The ears will be long, wide and thick. Hampshire wool is coarse and wiry to touch. Both rams and ewes are hornless.

If you are looking to start or to increase your flock you might want to consider the Hampshire. They are prolific and have strong maternal instincts, and are good milk producers. Hampshires are low wool producers, but have high mutton content. Although these sheep are bred primarily for meat, you will frequently see the Hampshire in the winner's circle at any stock show.

Through personal experience with my flock, I have found that Hampshires adapt to confinement conditions very well, mostly because of their calmer disposition.

This information was obtained from "Livestock Enterprises, Animal Science," Extension Service and personal experience.

Don't Despair, Seek Intervention

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I wish teenagers could experience the utter despair, panic and desperation that parents feel when they find out their children are using drugs.

After caring for them so lovingly and trying to keep them healthy (doctors, nutritious meals and so on), to see them wreck their bodies and minds and ruin their lives is more than a person can bear!

As a mother I can tell you I am filled with guilt because my child has taken that road. It has made me feel I have failed—that my love and guidance were not enough. I also feel helpless. Nothing I say or do makes any difference. Would kids stop if they could feel the pain that we, their parents, feel? I don't want my children to be rich and famous, just sane and healthy. Please address yourself to this subject once again, Ann. So many of us need reinforcement.--A Youngstown Mother

DEAR MOTHER: How I wish I could speak personally with each and every parent whose child has gotten mixed up with drugs! I would tell them it's not their fault. People make choices, and your kid made that choice for reasons that may have had very little to do with you. Peer pressure, what their friends think, is often a greater factor in teenage behavior these days than parental influence.

Don't despair—many young people who were serious drug abusers have straightened around. It's not a death sentence. And miraculously, their brains were not fried or their bodies permanently damaged. Youth has great resilience.

The best thing parents can do under the circumstances you describe is to seek intervention by someone the child respects: A clergyman, a physician, a teacher, a close friend. This isn't the end of the world. Remember, it's always darkest just before the dawn. (P.S. Some of the kids who are on drugs ARE going to experience the despair, panic and desperation you describe when THEIR children do to them what they are doing to you.)

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our son lives 3,000 miles away. My husband and I are retired. He wants us to move out there.

The problem is our son's wife. She has never shown any respect for my husband or me. I should also tell you we have knocked ourselves out trying to please her. I am ashamed to admit we even tried to buy her approval—without success.

My greatest fear is that this conniving girl will make excessive and unreasonable demands on me. When I refuse, she will have an excuse to get mad and bar me from her home (which we helped pay for).

My son is of no help whatever. She has him under her thumb.

My husband is very eager to move out there. (The weather is a big incentive.) He is such a good person I'd do anything to make him happy. Please give me some counsel.—Fearful in Buffalo

DEAR BUFF: Move, but vow to keep your distance from your daughter-in-law. Go to their home only when invited, behave like a guest and invite them to yours on the same basis.

Pursue your own interests and make your own circle of friends. When she recognizes the fact that you have distanced yourself from her, she will not feel like making any demands.

Kings Manor News

By ANDY POWERS

May was a great month for the residents of King's Manor. Perhaps the most important of all is the daily devotionals at 7 a.m. I am sure that the joy of these devotionals each morning goes with those present all day.

Hattie Jones' son and daughter-in-law served homemade ice cream and cake to all in honor of Hattie on Mother's Day. We are thankful to L.J. and Mary Jones for this treat.

On May 6 the young people's choir of the First Christian Church brought us a beautiful cantata. It was good to see such a large number of talented young people working together and we appreciate Mr. Owens' talent and leadership.

Johnny Ray Watson, a great concertist, gave us an hour of entertainment of May 13. His powerful voice and skill on the piano have made him internationally famous. I first met him while he was on a tour entertaining in Jerusalem. He is now a resident of Hereford.

Those who had birthdays in May were Llewellyn Deason, Sam Clay and Andy Powers. One of our residents was accused of trying to have two birthdays in one week. He evidently likes ice cream and cake.

Vesper services were led by Tom Manning, the Rev. Jesse Hodge of Wesley Methodist Church, and the Rev. Sam Auslam of Lubbock. On Tuesday, May 25 the children of the First United Methodist Church gave a beautiful dramatization of Daniel in the lions' den. The costumes and singing were very good.

The highlight of the month was "The Sky is the Limit" balloon launch. Many guests helped us celebrate and residents each launched a balloon. Many bought not one, but several, since it was a project to raise money to improve and beautify our lovely Garden Room.

The success of the project was under the direction of Mrs. Bea Noland, our activity director, assisted by Jessie Mae Dodson, Alma Cross, Ina Hastings and many others.

An important part of entertainment was the performance of the clown, Bill Johnson. He seemed to try to bring laughs to those who needed it most, and some laughed who have little to laugh about. We appreciated having Lynton Allred act as Master of Ceremonies.

To put the icing on the cake, the Golden Age Quartet, made up of Homer Garrison, J.B. Noland, and Cecil and Eunice Boyer entertained for about an hour. We always enjoy their singing.

Some wear dark glasses at work because of light glare; others don shades so they can vacation-dream on the job, grumps the boss.

Movie Nostalgia

The "King of Hollywood," Clark Gable, is pictured here in his most remembered role as Rhett Butler in the film classic "Gone with the Wind." The film, nominated for 14 Academy Awards, is as popular with today's audiences as it was when it was first released in 1939.

Gable was everyone's choice for the dashing Rhett Butler, although it took some fancy wheeling-dealing by David Selznick to borrow him from Columbia Studios for his MGM production. Oddly enough, Gable's magnificent performance did not earn him the Best Actor award — that went instead to Robert Donat for "Goodbye Mr. Chips."

However, Gable did receive an Academy Award in 1934 for his role in the Frank Capra classic "It Happened One Night." That film is one of only two to ever be honored with four major Oscars — Best Picture, Best Actor, Best Actress and Best Director. The other was 1975's "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest."

Question: Can you name the Oscar recipients in the categories mentioned above for "It Happened One Night" and "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest"?

Answer: "It Happened One Night" — Best Actor: Clark Gable; Best Actress: Claudette Colbert; Best Director: Frank Capra. "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" — Best Actor: Jack Nicholson; Best Actress: Louise Lainer; Best Director: Milos Forman.

Wheat Harvest May Drop Below Estimates, Analysts Say

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Department analysts are still putting together their new estimate for the 1982 winter wheat production, but there are already some signs that the crop may not be as big as expected.

The major indication has been persistent wet weather, which while stalling progress on spring planting through much of the nation is also starting to have some effect on winter wheat as it nears harvest.

"Winter wheat remained in fair to good condition, although continued wet weather increased plant disease," the government's weekly crop bulletin said Tuesday.

U.S. Wheat Associates, an industry group, reported that damage in Oklahoma, the third largest winter wheat producer in the nation, has not been significant so far, despite delayed harvesting.

But it said, "Continuing wetness and standing water in the fields are beginning to cause deterioration. As a result Oklahoma production may be below earlier estimates."

The USDA crop bulletin said stand development was running substantially behind 1981 in eight of the 15 major states including Washington, last year's fourth largest producer. Only 35 percent of the crop was headed there compared to 77 percent at the same time a year ago.

Winter wheat accounts for three-fourths of the U.S. wheat crop, two-thirds of which is exported. The record 2.1 billion bushel harvest last year was a major reason for the current price-depressing U.S. wheat surplus.

Agriculture Department analysts, after saying late last year that the 1982 winter wheat harvest could hit another record at 2.13 billion bushels, backed off that projection in May, downgrading their first estimate of the season to 2.06 billion bushels.

Their revised estimate will be released Thursday.

Agriculture Secretary John Block has asked farmers to cut back their acreage 15 percent this year to counter the oversupply. Early indications are that farmers operating some 35 percent of the winter

$6 Million Funding List Released

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department is funneling $6 million into 44 states to help finance special soil conservation projects focusing primarily on reduced tillage and no-tillage systems. The money comes from a $190 million fund to finance, on a cost-sharing basis, general soil and water conservation projects designated by local committees made up of farmers and ranchers.

The states and the amounts received are Alabama $168,000, Arizona $160,000, Arkansas $20,260, California $21,000, Colorado $100,000, Connecticut $21,250, Florida $150,000, Idaho $115,000, Illinois $331,750, Indiana $174,500, Iowa $52,000, Kansas $295,000, Kentucky $154,000, Louisiana $317,000, Maine $350,000, Maryland $25,000, Massachusetts $37,500, Michigan $177,500, Minnesota $50,000, Mississippi $305,000, Missouri $50,000, Montana

USDA Issues Nine Fines In Animal Welfare Cases

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three airlines and three people have agreed to pay more than $3,000 in fine and penalties as a result of animal welfare charges filed against them this year by the Agriculture Department.

Between January and May, the department's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service also won orders blocking alleged violations of federal law in three other animal welfare cases, including one involving the New York City Department of Parks.

All nine cases involved alleged violations of the Animal Welfare Act, which insures protected animals adequate housing, handling, sanitation, food, water, transportation, and veterinary care.

The cases resolved by the department in the last five months involved:

—Trans World Airlines Inc, which consented to a $1,000 penalty and agreed to notify all employees handling animals to comply with the law.

—Frontier Airlines, which paid a $500 fine as part of a consent settlement.

—Wien Air Alaska of Anchorage, Alaska, which consented to a $500 penalty.

—Charles Hazzard, an unlicensed dog dealer in Honey Brook, Pa., who consented to a $500 fine and agreed to get a license and abide by animal welfare requirements or liquidate his business.

—W.L. Dudley of Creston, Iowa, who was ordered to pay $500 penalty, stop interfering with USDA inspection of her facilities and cease operating as an animal dealer until obtaining a new license.

—Edward G. Fabry of New York, who agreed to pay a $150 penalty, open up his facility to USDA inspectors and maintain required records on the sales and purchases of regulated animals.

—The New York City Department of Parks, which agreed to stop federal animal welfare violations at its Prospect Park Zoo in Brooklyn that dated back to 1979. The zoo has been in compliance since last August.

—Cecil and Bessie Carter of Bonham, Texas, who agreed to stop selling regulated animals without a license.

—Affiliated Medical Research Inc. of Trenton, N.J., which agreed to avoid future federal violations and provide USDA inspectors with access to its facilities.

Honey is one of the earth's purest foods, since disease-causing bacteria cannot exist in it.

Glimmer of Hope

Soybean Prices May Rise

COLLEGE STATION — The soybean market is offering a little glimmer of hope for improved prices to growers this year.

But whether or not the market, which has been severely depressed the past year, actually does strengthen depends on increased use of soybean meal and oil.

However, soybean supplies are up from a year ago, and farmers plan to increase soybean plantings this year, points out Johnny Feagan, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

While Texas farmers plan to reduce plantings to about 650,000 acres, down about 50,000 from last year, U.S. plantings should total about 69.5 million acres, up from 68 million a year ago.

If those increases in acreage hold up, U.S. soybean stocks will likely increase despite increased consumption, says Feagan. That would keep the pressure on bean prices, which stood at $5.84 a bushel on April 15, down from $7.50 a year ago.

Sluggishness in soybean crushing, which will only be up about 3 percent during the current marketing year compared to a 9 percent increase in bean supplies, suggests the seriousness of the price situation in the crushing industry, notes the economist.

Soybean meal production is up about 4 percent for the current year with some increase in both domestic use and exports. And meal use could increase if broiler and hog production make some gains, thus bringing some strength to the soybean market.

Soybean oil supplies could reach 13 billion pounds for 1981-82, which would exceed last year's record, notes Feagan. Domestic use of soybean oil should be up about 5 percent this year, but exports are off except for Pakistan which has been taking about one-third of the total U.S. exports as of mid-April. Brazilian exports of soybean oil continue to put pressure on U.S. prices, and Argentine exports should increase this year due to a 10 percent government-imposed subsidy on soybean meal and oil.

Texas Leads Onion Yields

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spring onion production in all the three major states of Arizona, California and Texas is running well ahead of 1981 and should hit 666 million pounds this year, the Agriculture Department says.

The newest forecast puts the 1982 crop 24 percent above last year with yields expected to hit 23,500 pounds an acre.

Texas, the leading producer, is expected to harvest more than 349 million pounds, California more than 244 million pounds and Arizona more than 72 million pounds.

'Horns Subdue Hot Cardinals in 12th

By TOM VINT Associated Press Writer

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Entering the College World Series several collegiate baseball coaches indicated No. 1-ranked Texas was the nation's best team. Others added that sixth-ranked Stanford probably was the hottest.

Tuesday night it took Texas 12 innings to outslug Stanford, 8-6, in the winners' bracket semifinal of the NCAA's Division I championship in Omaha. The loss snapped a 14-game Cardinal win streak.

The victory sends the 59-4 Longhorns and likely starter Roger Clemens, 12-1, into Thursday's 7:10 p.m. CDT winners' bracket final against 51-18-1 Miami and Sam Sorce, 10-5.

Stanford, now 49-17-1, drops into the elimination round to face 33-13 Maine at 8:10 p.m. Wednesday. That follows a 5:10 p.m. match between No. 2-ranked Wichita State, 71-13, and fourth-ranked Oklahoma State, 57-15.

"We survived," said Texas Coach Cliff Gustafson of his club's win over Stanford. "We beat a very fine ball club."

The Longhorns came up with a pair of runs in the 12th with Tracy Dophied driving home Spike Owen and Randy Richard singing home Mike Brumley to break a 6-6 deadlock.

"This was going to be a slugfest all the way," said Brumley, who went 4 for 5 with a two-run homer in the fifth. "My predicted score was 9-8 so I was close. They're a lot like us. They swing some good bats."

Brumley's homer, the first of the season from the right side of the switch-hitting sophomore, put Texas ahead briefly at 4-3.

"I hit a fast ball down and over the plate," said Brumley. "That was the first one right-handed. I'd hit four left-handed this year. We haven't faced that many left-handers (pitchers) this year so Spike and I, being switch-hitters, don't get that many swings from the right side. But I'll tell you what, it felt good tonight."

Stanford scored three runs in the fourth on RBI singles by Loring Davis and Bob DeCosta, and on a sacrifice fly by Eric Hardgrave. Catcher Bob Hausladen erased the Texas lead with a three-run homer for the Cardinal in the bottom of the fifth.

Texas then put the lid on Stanford with one hit in the final six innings behind the pitching of Calvin Schiraldi and Kirk Killingsworth.

"The key, I think, was the pitching of Schiraldi, holding them off base. He kept us in the game," said Gustafson. Killingsworth came on in the 10th inning and picked up his ninth win without a loss.

Stanford Coach Mark Marquess said bouncing back Wednesday night will be a challenge for his club. "Maine already bounced back (beating Cal-State Fullerton Sunday night)," he said. "This was our first loss. It was an extra-inning game. We're going to have to bounce back."

YMCA Net Lessons Slated

Registration for YMCA Youth Tennis Lessons is now underway according to Y director Weldon Knabe. The first session of classes will run from Monday, July 12 through Friday, July 18. Classes are open to youth ages seven and up.

Classes will meet 9-10 a.m. Monday through Friday. Registration fees are $7 for YMCA members, and $15 for non-YMCA members.

The classes are limited to 16 persons, and will be filled on a first come, first served basis. If enough interest is shown a second class will be held, Knabe said.

The class instructor will be Ruben (Pudgy) Vargas. All participants should bring their own racquet and two tennis balls.

Before Holmes addressed the news conference, trainer Eddie Futch said, "Larry Holmes wants to win this fight even more than when he won the championship."

A victory for Holmes would make his record 40-0, and the champion has indicated his career is nearing an end. Rocky Marciano is the only heavyweight champion to retire undefeated.

"This is a fight my kids will have to live with the rest of their life ... my brothers, my family," said Holmes, indicating a defeat would badly tarnish his reputation.

"I'm fighting this fight for my family, my people."

Asked if he might have a favorite passage of scripture he read before a fight, Holmes said he had a prayer: "God don't let me kill this guy. Just let me beat him up and get out of here."

WHO AM I?

They call me "Super Tex." I'm also know as irascible, volatile and single-minded. I like to win. That's what I've done for more than 25 years. Now some claim I'm the best American ever to compete in my sport.

ANSWER: A. (Anthony) J. (James) Foyt, auto racer. He is a seven-time national champion and a four-time Indianapolis 500 winner (1961, '64, '67 and '77).

Lakers Finally Win Title

By JOHN NADEL AP Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers are National Basketball Association champions for the second time in the past three years. And according to their captain and elder statesman, the seed for the 1981-82 title was planted a long time ago.

"Last year's Houston series was the start of this season," said Kareem Abdul-Jabbar after the Lakers topped the Philadelphia 76ers 114-104 Tuesday night to win the 36th NBA Championship Series 4-2. "The NBA championship becomes sweeter as you grow older."

The Lakers won the 1980 title without Abdul-Jabbar, who suffered an ankle injury in Game 5, then watched on television as a rookie named Earvin "Magic" Johnson took his place in the pivot in Game 6 and led Los Angeles to a 123-107 triumph over the 76ers at Philadelphia.

Last year, however, was a different story. The Lakers failed to win the Pacific Division title and were stunned by Houston in a first-round mini-series.

Now, they're all the way back. But it wasn't easy.

Just 11 games into this season, Paul Westhead, who coached the 1980 title team, was fired and replaced by Pat Riley.

The Lakers, who swept Phoenix and San Antonio to get to the Championship Series, wound up with a 12-2 post-season record, a mark equaled only by the 1971 champion Milwaukee Bucks.

Johnson, who scored 42 points, grabbed 15 rebounds and had seven assists in Game 6 two years ago, had 13 points, 13 rebounds and 13 assists Tuesday night. Like his team, the 22-year-old Johnson was a repeat winner, earning the Most Valuable Player award in the Championship Series for a second time.

Abdul-Jabbar, held to a career playoff low of six points in Game 5 on Sunday, didn't score until midway through the second quarter

Tuesday night, but finished with 18 points, 11 rebounds and five blocked shots. Wilkes led his team with 27 points while Nixon contributed 16 points and seven assists.

As was the case in the two previous Championship Series games at the Forum, the Lakers never trailed.

It was 30-26 after one quarter and 66-57 at halftime. The 76ers got as close as one point three times late in the third quarter before the Lakers rattled off the final six points of the period to take an 86-79 advantage into the final 12 minutes.

Los Angeles led by 11 points on three occasions early in the fourth period but the 76ers stormed back once again, getting to within three points at 103-100 on a jump shot by Andrew Toney with 3:52 remaining.

But that was as close as they could get. The Lakers missed four shots but kept hitting the boards. Abdul-Jabbar, completing his 13th NBA season, finally connected from close range, was fouled, and hit the free throw to make it 106-100 with 3:07 to go. The 76ers did not threaten thereafter.

Julius Erving led the 76ers with 30 points and Toney added 29.

"Our guys just hung in there," said Philadelphia Coach Billy Cunningham. "I am proud of the way we played. I just want to congratulate the Lakers."

Local Boxer Wins Crown

Jamie Ruiz, 15, will be carrying the colors of the Hereford Boxing Club into the Quarterfinals of the Jr. Olympics Trials at Shreveport, LA this weekend after winning the 106-lb. Senior Division crown at the West Texas Jr. Olympics Championships last weekend in Andrews.

Ruiz, who has been boxing for about eight years, outpointed three opponents enroute to the title last week. His victims included Paul Pegueno of Odessa, Ruben Salcido of Andrews, and Ray Anthony Parades of Amarillo. He has a 6-1 record this year.

Ruiz, the Region 9 champ, will be facing top competition at Shreveport.

His coach, Raymond Casarez, said that the sponsorship of several local people made the trip to Andrews possible.

"We would like to thank Bryon Roark, Rudy Metz, and Boynton's Grocery," Casarez said.

The local boxing club is sponsored by the American G.I. Forum.

Seven HHS Riders Aiming at Finals

Seven Hereford rodeers will compete at the Tri-State High School Rodeo Finals in performances Thursday through Saturday in the Amarillo Fairgrounds Coliseum. The top 15 scorers of the 10 association events are qualified.

Leading the Hereford team and the Tri-State in bull riding is Scott Wilcox, a senior who has garnered 48½ points this season. Teammate Chet Burrows nabbed a tenth place ranking with 15 points for the season.

It will be brother against brother in the steer wrestling. Steve McConnell at top slot in the association with 80 points will be competing with Shawn McConnell who is ninth with 14 season points.

Mike Butcher is fifth in barebacks with 28 points. Wilcox, in eighth with 13 points, will also compete.

Robert Esqueda, at sixth with 27 points, and partner Vance Molesworth of Canyon, who has 25 points for seventh place, will enter team roping.

Rita Ward, who is third in pole bending with 48 points, will also compete in barrel racing and breakaway roping. Miss Ward is ninth in breakaway roping with 20 points and tied with three other cowgirls in the barrel racing with four points.

Performances are at 8 p.m. with a 2 p.m. performance Saturday.

Tickets are $3 in advance from any rodeo club member; $3.50 at the gate. Children's prices are one dollar less.

Stocker for the event is Bill Hext of Canadian. Judges are Dash Danner and Terry Childers, assisted by Jerry Light on the flag.

NFL Owners, Players Resume Contract Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Contract talks between the National Football League and the players' union have resumed with both sides sticking to their earlier positions.

On Monday, the National Football League Players' Association formally presented its demand for a fixed percentage of each team's gross revenues.

The 26-page financial document, which took more than 1,000 hours to draft, was rejected in less than 24 hours by the NFL Management Council, the owners' bargaining team.

"I think the one thing we made perfectly clear to the players is that we are not going to buy today, in July, in September or 100 days into a strike a percentage of the gross," said Jack Donlan, executive director of the Management Council.

Baseball Great Satchel Paige Dead at 75(?)

By DOUG TUCKER AP Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Was Satchel Paige the greatest pitcher who ever lived?

That question may be asked as long as serious students of baseball discuss the game. It can never be answered with certainty because he was in his 40s when he followed Jackie Robinson across baseball's color line in 1948.

But Paige, who died in Kansas City Tuesday following a heart attack at the age of 75 ... or thereabouts ... was near 40 when he beat Hall-of-Famer Dizzy Dean 1-0 in a 13-inning exhibition game. And Dean, along with many old-timers who saw Paige in his heyday, swore by him.

"Let 'em argue," Dean said, "the best pitcher I ever seen is ol' Satchel Paige. My fastball looks like a change of pace alongside that li'l pistol bullet Satch shoots up to the plate."

Many things about Paige, his nickname, his age and the breadth of his talent, remain in death as mysterious as they were throughout his colorful, quotable life.

Paige died at 1:30 p.m. at a Kansas City hospital, just three days after attending the renaming of a baseball park here in his honor.

He was born Leroy Robert Paige in Mobile, Ala., to a woman who was born a slave a few weeks before the outbreak of the Civil War. The Baseball Encyclopedia lists his birthdate as July 7, 1906, which means he was 42 when he made his Major League debut in 1948 with a 6-1 record and 2.48 earned run average for the Cleveland Indians.

The St. Louis Browns listed five different ages for him in their media guides in the early 50s.

"I want to be the lonliest man in the United States that nobody knows nothin' about," he once said with a wink. Asked in a 1976 interview what he would say if a judge put him under oath and demanded to know his age, Paige answered, "I'd tell him how the goat ate it."

"The goat ate the Bible with my birth certificate in it."

His career began in 1925 or 1926 with the Chattanooga

Black Lookouts. He retired in 1965 after hurling three scoreless innings for the Kansas City Athletics against the Boston Red Sox. In between, he pitched in an estimated 3,000 games, playing for dozens of Negro and bush league teams in Alaska, South America, Puerto Rico, Cuba and Mexico. He spent time in the majors with the Indians, Browns, and coached briefly with the Atlanta Braves.

A tall, stringbean righthander, he threw a nearly unhittable fastball and, in his prime, enjoyed throwing warmup pitches at a half-dollar.

One of the most enduring Paige stories concerns a young Joe DiMaggio, who was preparing for a tryout with the New York Yankees when he faced Paige in winter games on the West Coast. After many frustrating trips to the plate, he finally managed a hit.

"Now I know I'll make good with the Yanks," DiMaggio reportedly confided to a teammate. "I got a single off Satchel Paige."

Cards Squeeze Expos Twice

By KEN RAPPOPORT AP Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals put the squeeze on the Montreal Expos — two times, in fact.

And it added up to a 5-4 victory in 12 innings for the Cardinals Tuesday night.

"It was a struggle, but I think we executed well," said Cardinal Manager Whitey Herzog after watching his team use textbook suicide-squeeze plays in the seventh and 12th innings, not to mention two perfect sacrifice bunts.

The second squeeze play, by Ken Oberkfell, capped a two-run rally and provided the National League East leaders with their winning run.

The Expos, meanwhile, weren't nearly as proficient fundamentally. They stranded 10 runners.

"We had our scoring opportunities, and we also had walks that we could have benefited from, but we didn't," said Montreal Manager Jim Fanning.

Mike Ramsey's squeeze bunt brought home Tom Herr from third base in the seventh to provide the Cardinals with a 2-2 tie. They went ahead 3-2 in the top of the 11th on Lonnie Smith's sacrifice fly before the Expos came back to tie in the bottom of the inning on Tim Wallach's RBI double.

Then in the 12th, Willie McGee tripled home Ozzie Smith with the go-ahead run and scored on Oberkfell's bunt for a 5-3 Cardinal lead.
