

'Don't Get Psyched Out' Is Word At TCFA Meeting Here

Cattle Feeders Seek Solutions To Economic Beating

By O.G. NIEMAN

Cattle feeders around the Hereford area discussed their problems but came up with few answers here Tuesday night during a meeting of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association.

Feeders have undergone an unprecedented economic beating for about nine months, and Texas feedyards are now operating at about 65 per cent capacity. Just as feeders thought they were about to get back in the black, grain prices shot to record highs, further discouraging feeders from putting replacements in feedyards.

"There will be no shortage of beef—just a shortage of Choice fed beef to which consumers have become accustomed," reported Glenn Deen, president of the TCFA. The remaining beef offered will be non-fed or off-grass beef. Deen said it won't be as tender or as flavorful as Choice fed beef, "but it'll beat no beef at all."

THE CATTLE population of the U.S. reached 138 million head on July 1, which is 7.5 million more than a year ago—the largest yearly increase in history.

Approximately 100 feeders and feedlot managers attended the TCFA meeting here Tuesday night in the Civic Club Center, with some of the leaders urging members not to be "psyched out" by the market situation and "all the rumors floating around."

One feedlot manager suggested that feeders hold to a 5-day delivery date, in place of the present 10-day period, in an attempt to get more competitive bidding from the packers. A vote on the idea showed a large majority in favor of the action.

CHARLES BALL, executive vice president of the association, said TCFA would contact all feedlot managers in the area and ask their participation in the 5-day delivery date policy.

While a number of feeders expressed concern over the amount of "baby beef" regulatory agency matters; Jim Gill and non-fed beef being slaughtered, another pointed out that the problem might be found in feeders moving too much "short-fed" or unfinished beef. "We've got to quit looking at the Midwest and set our own market . . . we're not in control of our situation."

The TCFA meeting here was one of a series of general meetings held around the area the past few months. Ball explained the purpose of the meeting was threefold: (1) To explain what the TCFA is doing, (2) To seek suggestions and ideas from the members, (3) To solicit support of the organization.

JIM DAVIDSON, TCFA treasurer from Sudan, presided at the session in the absence of Deen. Ball introduced three directors who were present—Virgil Marsh of Hereford, Cap Naegle of Bovina, and Martin Gossett of Dumas.

Ball then introduced staff members of the Amarillo office and each made brief comments on his job. They were Richard McDonald, assistant who handles Joe Wood, market analysts; Steve Munday, information director; and Gary Culp, membership and development.

A short slide presentation was also on the program to outline the benefits of belonging to the TCFA. These included a number of activities in legislative, promotion and research, along with up-to-minute market information and weekly newsletters and special memos.

During the question and answer period at the meeting, one feeder urged members to let their Congressmen know "that tight money and high interest rates is not slowing down inflation, but creating more of a problem." He added that legislators need to listen to "the grassroots voice of America instead of a few Harvard graduates!"

DEEN REPORTED that cattle on feed in the seven major feeding states on Aug. 1 were down 24 per cent, compared to the same date a year ago. In the last two months, the price of sorghum jumped 50 per cent and in the last 36 months, it is up 200 per cent. He said reasons for the high grain prices are grain exports to foreign countries and an early-summer drought in much of the United States.

Retail beef prices have increased rapidly in recent months, admitted Deen, but not as much over a period of years as many other things. In the last 20 years, for example, retail beef prices have increased 98 per cent, but disposable income has increased 165 per cent.

Deen added that live cattle prices are lower now than they were a year ago. "Many cattlemen—cow-calf ranchers as well as cattle feeders—are operating today at below their cost of production," stated Deen.

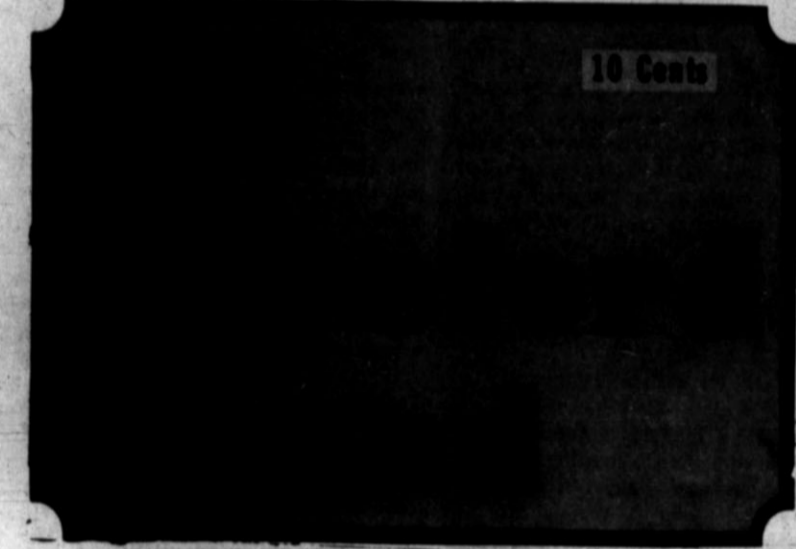

In talking about the appearance of "non-fed" or "grass-fed" beef at the grocery store, Ball said it may cause some confusion at the meat counter this fall. "While there is a marked distinction between eating quality of the two kinds of beef, it may not be reflected in price savings," warned the TCFA official.

THE MARKED increase in the cattle population, combined with the fewer number being fed grain, many farmers and ranchers are sending their cattle directly to packers. This direct "railing" of cattle has been a major concern of feeders.

Ball said the consumer can identify non-fed beef by such retail names as "baby beef", "heavy calf", "mature veal", "economy beef", "grass-fat beef" and others. Grain-fed beef, by far the most popular in recent years, comes from cattle raised primarily on grass for the first year. At a weight of 600 to 700 pounds, the animals are then placed in feedlots on high energy grain rations to a weight of 1,000 to 1,100 pounds. Most of this beef is classified by USDA meat graders as Choice.

The majority of beef this fall will be grain-fed, says Ball. "All beef is an excellent source of protein and other

Aerial Spray Set

The City of Hereford has contracted for an aerial spraying job to combat flies and mosquitoes and the fly-over is scheduled today about 5 p.m., according to City Manager Dudley Bayne.

The city manager said the evening time was slated in order to provide a more effective spraying with warmer temperatures. With the cool front that has hung on for several days, flies have been a problem in seeking warmer places.

Explosion Levels Farmhouse

nearly thirty feet from the house by the force of the explosion. Debris was found up to 225 feet away.

Explosion Destroys Farmhouse

A natural gas leak has been blamed for an explosion and fire that demolished a farm house about seven miles west of Hereford Tuesday morning.

Two units of the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department were called to the Alton Fraser farm six miles west and one mile north at 9:15 a.m. Tuesday. An explosion had already leveled the house, and firemen let the remains burn, keeping the fire from spreading.

THE TWO BEDROOM, wood frame house was vacant at the time of the explosion, but Fraser said a laborer had been cleaning the house, readying it for occupancy.

Fire Marshal Jay Spain says a hot water heater the laborer lit to heat water for cleaning might have caused the explosion. Spain said the house probably filled with lighter-than-air natural gas, and when the gas reached the pilot light of the hot-water heater, the gas ignited.

The force of the explosion knocked walls of the house up to 30 feet away, and wood and glass debris was found up to

City Commission Passes Increases

Two things grew out of the Hereford city council meeting Monday night . . . literally: the land area of the city and the green fees.

After much involved procedure, blocks six and seven in the Ralph Owens addition in the north sector of the city were annexed. This increases land area inside the corporate city limits by 19 acres.

The new green fees approved by the panel will go into effect Oct. 1. For nine holes, weekday golfers will pay $1.50 instead of one dollar while Sunday fees will be $2 instead of $1.50. For 18 holes weekday fees will be $3 instead of $2 while Sunday costs will be $3.50 instead of $3. Annual fee was set at $225 with no pro rata payments and no refunds.

COMMISSIONERS APPROVED the purchase of a new base radio station for the fire department. A Motorola unit was selected even though General Electric had the lower bid. City Manager Dudley Bayne explained that the GE was not solid state construction nor did that firm have any service people immediately available in the area while Motorola was solid state and had service facilities close at hand. He explained, too, that the new statewide network of communications was using Motorola equipment which offered further advantage to city ownership of such units.

Members of the panel tabled a request from the local Chamber of Commerce for $2,000 to be applied to the cost of a new brochure on the city of Hereford and environs. They were told the county would be asked for an equal sum for the project.

THE REMAINDER of the meeting was concerned with routine procedures of administration.

Wheat Growers Must Copy Solidarity of Labor Unions

"The only sure way for the wheat producer to control wheat prices is for all growers to work together with the solidarity of organized labor to control production acreage all across the nation."

This was the word of a man who should know . . . Jerry Rees, executive vice president of the National Association of Wheat Growers and director of that organization's headquarters in the nation's capital. Rees spoke to some 40 area wheat growers at a 7 a.m. breakfast Wednesday in Hereford.

"UNTIL THAT concerted effort is made, the nation's wheat producers are faced with a number of threats to the stability of the price of wheat," the national executive told his audience. He cited the eminent cargo preference bill, inaccurate predictions of shortages and the threat of the "dollar loaf of bread" which is still with us.

He said forces trying to build a U.S. maritime fleet were pushing the cargo preference measure through congress which would make the consumer foot the bill for the vessels. For example, he cited oil imported from other countries. U.S. flagships (yet to be built) must carry 20 per cent of all imported oil in 1975. In 1976 this would go to 25 per cent and to 30 per cent by 1977. This would add at least 13 cents to the price of each barrel of crude oil.

Rees said Texas Sen. John Tower was leading the fight against final passage of the measure or for a presidential veto.

HE TOLD local wheat men to watch the market price every time an estimate of annual production was issued. A pessimistic forecast causes immediate concern over both price and supply. In the past, this has caused producers to plant more. Once there was a surplus in the elevators to hold over their heads, they no longer had a price bargaining position.

"The dollar loaf of bread is the biggest joke of all!" Rees said — without laughing. Picking up a huge loaf from the table in front of him, he continued:

"IT IS AS big a joke as this loaf the folks up at Amarillo made me buy yesterday for a dollar . . . five pounds of bread made with a nickle's worth of wheat. It was a stunt but so was the bakers organization's propaganda about a dollar loaf of bread on local grocers' shelves.

He explained that the bakers' group was critically low on membership and operating funds and the chief executive had resigned. The dollar loaf of bread publicity swelled membership, their treasury and the administrative staff.

"I have yet to have a baker tell me he seriously thought there would be a dollar loaf of bread, ever. But most of them

Jerry Rees, executive vice president, National Association of Wheat Growers, displays the "Dollar loaf of bread" he was forced to buy at a luncheon in Amarillo as a left-handed compliment for his efforts to offset national bakers' propaganda about the threat of dollar bread in the future. Herd Hopes to Stampede Over Bulldogs

The Hereford Whitefaces will be looking for their first win of the season Friday night as they travel to Borger to tangle with the Bulldogs. Kickoff for the game is set for 7:30.

Hereford is a four point favorite in the game (see related story) despite pre-season publicity given the Bulldogs.

Hereford has suffered two losses, while Borger comes into the game with a 1 and 1 record. Defense could be a big factor in the game. Borger has allowed only one touchdown in the two games they have played, while the Herd has given up 62 points.

A MUCH-IMPROVED Hereford team played in a losing effort against the Dons of Palo Duro last week, and Coach Larry Dippel praised the advancement the team made after the season opener in which meretord fell to the Pampa Harvesters 35-8.

Borger, on the other hand, was picked by the Texas Football Magazine to reach the Class AAAA quarterfinals this season. A returning roster of 22 lettermen, including 11 starters gives the Bulldogs the edge as far as experience is concerned.

Borger's play to date has not been indicative of all their talent. The Bulldogs have met two AAA opponents, losing to the Perryton Rangers 8-7 in the closing seconds of the game, and shutting out the Canyon Eagles in the second game of the season 6-0. Coach Bob Keyes, scouting the Bulldogs for the Herd, said the Bulldog defense far outshined their offense.

THE BULLDOG defense holds an average of only 3.5 points a game. Scouting reports say they play their techniques well, they're tall, rangy and move well. Probable Bulldog defensive starters will be Kirk Hayworth at left end; Joe Mercer at left tackle; Dudley Parker at right tackle; Robert Wells at end; linebackers Billy Thomas, David Badeen, and Ronnie Reed; cornerbacks Chuck Kelly and Danny Haynes; with Tracy Hindman and Mike Glover as safeties. The Bulldogs stick with a 4-3 defense.

Mike Glover, a junior halfback, heads up the Bulldog offense. Glover, sophomore of the year in 1973 and player of the week last week, is strong enough to run inside and fast enough to run outside. Glover's speed could give the Herd defense some problems.

The rest of the Bulldog backfield includes quarterback Chuck Kelly, tailback Herman Wells and fullback Billy Thomas.

COACH SONNY LANG feels the offensive line is one of the stronger points of his Bulldogs. Tracy Hindman plays split end; Joe Mercer and Jimmy Demmand are tackles; Dale Florer and Sid Hopkins are guards, and Rusty Haney is center. Most of the line were lettermen or starters last year.

Coach Dippel told the Whiteface Booster Club Tuesday night that the Herd made great strides towards becoming a better football team in their game last Friday against Palo Duro. Defense was the major area of improvement, although overall improvement was seen. Dippel said the team would be working for more offensive consistency.

Starting fullback Doug Charest will probably spend Friday night's game on the sidelines with a sprained ankle. His brother Dave starting tailback, has been out of school with the flu this week and could be hampered by the illness.

STARTING POSITIONS remain relatively the same this week. Offensively, the only changes will be to move Dave Charest to fullback and go with Roy Martinez, a sophomore, at tailback. Ronnie Ohlig will be at split end; Terry Bell at tight end; David Fish at quick tackle; Melvin Betzen at strong tackle; Kevin Fox at quick guard; Danny Collins at strong guard; Dennis Evans at center; Mike Crim at quarterback; and Mike Munnerlyn at wingback.

Defensively, Dippel will move Mike

San Jose Seeking City Annexation

Residents of the San Jose area (formerly the Labor Camp) met again Sunday seeking answer to the water problem that plagues the community. Only two courses of action appeared practical according to a spokesman for the meeting: purchase of the water source or annexation into the city. A duly signed petition was presented to the city Monday. This must remain on file 20 days before it can be considered, according to City Manager Dudley Bayne. This would place it on the agenda of the Oct. 7 meeting of the city commission. Annexation of the area has come up before and according to state statutes, the city cannot take in the community. Bayne said the group presenting the petition told him they had legal means of circumventing the statute restrictions. Bayne said the real obstacle to annexation of the area was the $1-million bond issue that would be required for the city to supply water and sewer services to the area as required by law once it has been annexed. "I can certainly sympathize with their problem," Bayne emphasized. "But the city can do nothing but follow a course of 'due process.' The next development probably will be whatever move their legal advisor comes up with." Following submission of the petition, no further statement was forthcoming from residents of the troubled area who seem to be playing the same waiting game from this point.

Clayton Speaks On Constitution

By RAY BAXTER
News Editor

He did sound one encouraging note when he revealed a plan was under study that could possibly provide enough money over the next four to five years to provide the state with capital building funds for the next 30 years without a single drain on the taxpayer! The plan is highly feasible according to the speaker but very "hush-hush" at this stage.

IN THE OPEN question and answer period at the close of his remarks, Clayton fielded a number of questions besides those pertaining to constitutional revision. In his answers he revealed that he was against amnesty... thought the Nixon pardon was ill-advised (for reasons other than party lines)... and was afraid the 55-mile speed limit (which he voted against when it was considered) would be made permanent by federal lawmakers. This brought the opportunity for a final point on constitutional revision: "We need to have a realistic, workable state constitution on which to make a strong stand against federal encroachment on state government!"

Bill Clayton, area state representative from Springlake and apparent "shoo-in" for Speaker of the House, addressed the luncheon meeting of the Hereford Rotary Club, Monday, on the present status of constitutional revision. "I think the people should have been given something to decide on and I voted to give it to them," Clayton said, "But there was too much pressure from the opposition to various proposed changes." Clayton reminded Rotarians that he made a statement to the press at the close of the constitutional convention to the effect that, if he were installed as Speaker of the House, he would re-institute an old committee on constitutional amendments.

"THIS WOULD provide a medium to present a new constitution to the people article by article. That is the slow way to do it but it did work in Maryland; in fact, it seemed the man in the street understood each issue more clearly that way than as a single, complete document to be ratified at one fell swoop." Presently, Arlington Mayor Tom Vandergriff is heading a study aimed at deletion of those articles of the present constitution that have been struck down by the courts and revising the remainder to be more effective, Clayton revealed. He said he felt this might turn out to be the way the ultimate change in the Texas constitution comes about.

IN THE QUESTION and answer period following the main address, Clayton was asked if he thought a citizen group working on a new document would have had less pressure. He replied that he felt they would have had as much, perhaps more and less legislative background to deal with it. This problem of what we are ultimately going to realize out of the constitutional convention for the time and money spent on it was one of three major issues Clayton felt would face the legislature in January. Public school finance and — believe it or not — a surplus of funds were other problems he named.

"Financing public schools in Texas in the future will require a great deal of expenditure at the state level. This will probably mean a new and different look at ad valorem taxes across the state," the representative noted. "AT FIRST BLUSH, a $1.5-billion surplus doesn't sound like a problem at all," Clayton grinned, "until you realize that everybody will have their hands out and you are faced with the problem of how much to place in which hand. Inflation has played havoc with many of the program costs of just about every agency in state government."

He explained that much of the thinking now was to save some of this surplus against possible further inflation plus greater program needs in the next two to three years. He warned that the alternative could well be corporate and personal income taxes.

CLAYTON was introduced by Rotarian Mike Patrick and noted in his opening remarks that he had 109 publicly committed votes for Speaker of the House. He said he felt, since only 76 were needed to win, that he just might beat the odds that a conservative, rural-oriented legislator could never be Speaker. Some 70 persons heard him.

Annual Crop Tour Plans 12 Stops In County

The annual crop tour of area points of agriculture production is scheduled to begin at 1:15 p.m. Tuesday from the north parking lot of the Deaf Smith County Courthouse.

The tour, jointly sponsored by the Soil Conservation Board of Directors and the Deaf Smith County Crops Committee, offers an excellent opportunity for area businessmen to become acquainted first-hand with the production that is the backbone of area economy. In addition to those businessmen and agriculture producers who will make the crop tour, women are invited to join them this year for the first time.

EIGHT STOPS on the tour will deal with production of sugar beets, grain sorghums, corn, soy beans and grazing for livestock production. There will be demonstrations of irrigation techniques, fertilization and insect and disease control.

On hand to help County Extension Agent Justin McBride and local producers whose places the tour will visit, will be specialists from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. These will include Leon New, Dr. Frank Petr, Dr. Robert Berry, Dr. Bill Clymer, Dr. Cal Parrot and Jim Valentine. "I want to emphasize that everyone is invited," Justin McBride said. "I feel there will be something of interest for everyone"

McBRIDE NOTED there would be school buses for those who do not wish to take their cars. Station KPAN will carry a continuous broadcast of the tour so that those who must join it late will know where to join and will be oriented to that point of interest, too.

Burglars Loot Golf Shop Here

Over $1,000 in golf equipment was reported burglarized from the city golf shop Monday morning. Hereford police are still investigating the incident.

When Mike Horton and Donald Bridges reported for work Monday morning they found the front door of the pro shop at the John Pitman Municipal Golf Course had been broken. A further search of the premises found that several golf clubs and accessories were missing.

Entrance to the building was gained through the north door when a rock wrapped in a red rag was thrown through the window glass. Burglars then reached inside the door and unlocked it. Police investigating the burglary said the outside light above the door had been unscrewed.

Pro Cal Garret inventoried the remaining items in the shop and found several clubs and sets of clubs had been stolen. One set of clubs was valued at $300 alone.

In another weekend burglary, a stereo and speakers valued at $600 was taken from the apartment of Terry Hodges. Hodges, who lives in the Blue Water Garden apartments, found the stereo missing Monday morning after a weekend absence.

Precautions Needed When Canning Food

AUSTIN—Recent reports of botulism in home canned tomatoes, apparently caused by improper canning procedures have prompted Agriculture Commissioner John C. White to warn consumers to take proper care when canning food.

White said low acid vegetables such as corn, peas and green beans are also common botulism sources when home-canned.

According to widely scattered reports, jars and lids made specifically for canning have been difficult to find this year. Nevertheless, Texas Department of Agriculture home economists strongly advised against reusing lids and cracked or chipped odd-sized or shaped jars.

The commissioner said, "Home canning is an inexpensive way to provide high quality fruits and vegetables for the family. But foods should be carefully selected and processed to maintain the highest health standards."

Free copies of "Freezing and Canning Texas Agricultural Products" are available by writing Commissioner John C. White, Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Tex. 78711.

Board Studies Clinic, Retirement

A possible retirement plan for employees and the sense of members regarding a teaching clinic in Hereford were the salient points on the agenda of the Deaf Smith General Hospital board meeting Tuesday morning.

operated as outlined at today's meeting. The panel plans to consider a number of retirement plans and systems available before a decision is made regarding the extension of this benefit to hospital employees. It was for this purpose Brown came from Austin for Tuesday's meeting.

J. Robert Brown, Austin, director of Texas County and District Retirement System detailed the optional plans his firm offers and Dr. J.H. McCrary and A.T. Mims outlined the operation of the clinic project presently under consideration. Ron Welty, hospital administrator explained the way the project would be funded.

At this point, Welty noted that more than 400 patients had gone through the emergency room during the month of August.

HIS FIRM HANDLES the retirement programs for a large number of Texas counties and hospital districts. Before discussion of participation Brown gave a brief history of the firm and its financial responsibility.

The clinic would minister medically to citizens of a certain economic and sociological standing living in the district. It would be directed by a faculty member of the Texas Tech School of Medicine. Local doctors, members of the hospital medical staff, would participate in teaching/consultation periods. Most important of all, the local medical staff would develop procedures governing operation of the clinic.

While most of the funding for the proposed clinic would come from federal sources, there would have to be some matching funds from the hospital district. Welty told the panel they were looking at some $20-thousand dollars a year for a three-year period. Both he and the doctors present felt this would be offset considerably by clinic use of hospital facilities such as X-ray which would be paid for out of the government monies involved in the operation of the clinic.

With his company's plan, the hospital and the employee would pay matching percentages of the employee's salary. Should an employee leave the hospital before retirement age, he or she can get the money the employee has paid in with interest. Should an employee move to another hospital having retirement plans with the firm, current standing can be retained.

ASKED IF this would not create a greater load on them, the two physicians present felt it would actually lighten it in that it should reduce the large number of BOTH DR. McCrary and Dr. Mims felt it would be an excellent opportunity to get a workable indigent clinic started. Board members present were in favor of participating if the project became official and would be structured and

REGARDLESS of the system finally adopted, members of the board agreed with the administrator that a retirement program is essential in competing with other cities for superior hospital personnel.

Other business of the panel was routine administrative matters.

Improved Herd Wants First Win

DAN WELTY
Sports Editor

Hereford head coach Larry Dippel praised the gains made by the Herd during the Palo Duro game at the regular meeting of the Whiteface Booster Club Tuesday night where the football teams from Stanton Junior High were special guests.

At the beginning of the meeting Stanton head coach Coby Kitchens introduced his coaching staff, and each in turn introduced the teams from the seventh-, eighth- and ninth grades.

Later in the program, varsity defensive coach Bob Keys presented a scouting report on the Borger Bulldogs, this week's opponents Keys told the group of about 72 boosters that Borger was more a defensive team than an offensive team. He outlined the four-three defense the Bulldogs use and named Borger's probably starters (see story on page one).

Keys warned that the Bulldogs play their defensive techniques well, that they are tall, rangy, and move well. The Herd defensive coach used an overhead projector to point out stunts and slants the Borger defense will probably use. "On defense, they'll be doing all sorts of stuff. We're going to have our hands full just deciding who to block," said Keys.

The Bulldog defense has been stingy in the two games they have played, allowing only one touchdown. Perryton scored that touchdown in the closing minutes of the game after an interference call gave them extra yardage. Perryton gave the 'dogs an 8-7 defeat the first week of the season.

Last week, Borger shut out the Canyon Eagles 6-0, as Hereford scouts watched. Coach Keys said the defense far outshined the offense. However, the offense packs a powerful punch with plenty of talent.

Quarterback Chuck Kelly throws well and is capable of running with the ball, but the main offensive threat is running back Mike Glover. Glover was named player of the week in their district for his performance against the Eagles last week, and in 1973 was the sophomore of the year. Billy Thomas and Herman Well both add depth to the backfield.

Coach Dippel said that Borger was a good defensive team, with the offense geared to the defense. Dippel said the kicking game was always a strong point of the Bulldogs. Dippel also warned that the Herd would be keying on Glover, who is capable of breaking for long gains with his speed.

Dippel said that the Herd made some improvements and big strides in becoming a much better football team in the game against Palo Duro last week. He said the defense tackled better and appeared stronger, but still gave up yardage on the long runs.

Consistency in offense is one point the Herd will be working for this week. "We had five fumbles against Palo Duro, and although we only lost one, we lost valuable yardage when we fumbled. We'll be looking for more consistency in our offense. Somewhere it's still breaking down. We're not getting out on the first down and making yardage, which leaves us with long yardage to make on the second down and we start out behind."

Dippel said he and the coaching staff were pleased with the improvement the team made, and they felt like they could have won the game. "We had opportunities to win the ball game, but we made mistakes that kept us from winning. We were in situations that gave us a chance to win, but something always happened. We'll be working to take advantage of those opportunities this week."

Dippel said the Herd not only made great strides in their losing effort to Palo Duro, but that they gained self confidence, and that was what the team needed.

Injuries may hamper the Herd some Friday night. Doug Charest suffered an ankle sprain against Palo Duro and has not been responding to therapy. Dippel doubts Doug will be able to play any this week. Luis Marquez may be able to play some this week, but is still suffering from a knee injury.

Throughout the showing of the game film, Dippel pointed out areas of concern to the boosters where the Herd showed their improvements over the first week and areas that need work.

Honored as booster of the week was Art Stoy, who served as secretary-treasurer of the booster club for many years.

Harris Rates Herd Four Point Winner

The Hereford Whitefaces have dropped considerably in the Harris Rating Poll since the beginning of the season, but they are considered a four-point favorite against Borger this Friday night.

In the initial poll, Hereford was ranked 76th with a power rating of 132. The Herd's loss to Pampa the first week dropped them in the poll to 145th with a lower power rating of 125.

Another loss put the Herd even lower on the poll at 158th this week, with a power rating of 123.9. This week's opponent, Borger, has dropped from 130th the first week of the poll to 191st this week. The Bulldog power rating is set at 120.0, making the Herd the favorite by four points.

Herd JV Idle; Sophs Win One

The second week of the underclassman football season saw the Herd Junior varsity with an open spot on their schedule, while most of the other teams down to the seventh grade were busy with games.

The Whiteface junior varsity will meet the Palo Duro junior varsity this afternoon at 4 p.m. in Hereford.

The Hereford sophomores were victorious Saturday, playing against the Dalhart JV after a scheduling problem with their original opponents, Canyon. Russel Harkins scored two touchdowns to lead the sophs to a 14-0 victory over the Dalhart JV. Harkins broke for touchdown runs of 40 and 15 yards. Coach Rick Stewart said the first extra point failed, but that the team scored two points on the second conversion when Jim Lawson connected with Dennis Artho after a fake kick.

The Shorthorns will meet the Lubbock Coronado sophomores in Lubbock Saturday at 10 a.m.

The La Plata freshmen lost a close game to the Pampa freshmen Thursday. Pampa won the game 6-0 when they scored with only 18 seconds left in the game. The La Plata freshmen meet the Dumas ninth grade in Hereford tonight at 7:30.

Stanton's ninth-graders scored a decisive victory over

Dumas 36-8 last Thursday. Stanton's frosh team will play Pampa tonight in Hereford at 6:00.

In eighth-grade games last Thursday, Stanton and La Plata teams split with one victory each. The La Plata Reds down the Stanton Whites 12-8, while the Stanton Blues beat the La Plata Whites 16-8.

This afternoon's games will include the Stanton Whites against the La Plata Whites and the La Plata Reds against the Stanton Blues.

The Stanton Whites downed the La Plata Whites 20-6. The Stanton Blues beat the La Plata Maroons 18-16, while the La Plata Reds beat the Stanton Maroons 14-8.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams

AUSTIN — Gloomy predictions of increasing natural gas shortages during winter months were made to southern governors at their conference here last week.

Federal Power Commissioner Don S. Smith reported major pipeline operators expect natural gas supplies to fall 9.6 per cent below demand.

Smith forecast gas pipeline curtailments this winter will be 81 per cent greater than last year.

To sustain present levels of gas consumption would require discovery of "a new Alaska every year," the federal agency official told the governors.

FPC, according to Smith, has taken these steps to relieve impact of the shortage:

- Entered an order to allow 2,400 of the 3,900 smaller gas producing companies to sell interstate gas at 63 cents per thousand cubic feet, instead of the 42 cent wellhead rate permitted major producers.

- Reinstated emergency provisions to allow utilities to buy gas through pipelines for 60-day periods at market rates rather than lower, regulated interstate rates.

Texas' Gov. Dolph Briscoe said the action would have little effect in Texas, where demands will keep prices far above the 63 cent rate.

INFORMATION SOUGHT—A Cleveland firm hired to survey tax values in 35 school districts sought tax appraisal and computer contracts with all 1,100 districts in the state.

Legislative Property Tax Committee Chairman Sen. H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock said the solicitation seemed "inappropriate" to him.

LPTC staff members expressed some concern that the firm would be reporting to the state on data paid for by the district. The firm is being paid $382,000 by the state for its data on market value of district properties.

Some LPTC members also complained about slowness in getting a redefinition of property tax laws as a guide to legislative improvements.

CRIME FIGHT MAPPED—Atty. Gen. John Hill has called for establishment of a statewide grand jury and a central information bank as weapons in the fight on organized crime.

At a law enforcement conference, Hill said state and local law officers must cooperate to combat the increased threat of major crime.

Governor Briscoe, meanwhile, said he plans to propose to the legislature again in 1975 a law to permit wiretapping where ordered by a court to gather evidence of organized crime.

DEPARTMENT SHAKEN—Texas Department of Labor and Standards got its third assistant commissioner in a week's time.

Commissioner Jackie W. St. Clair named Kirby Suggs of the Houston regional office after (1) firing Tommy W. Smith and (2) temporarily elevating Bob Hubbard, son of AFL-CIO State President Harry Hubbard, to the post. Hubbard resumed his position as administrative assistant.

A total of 10 of the department's 40 employees were discharged at the same time by St. Clair, who pronounced their job performances "unsatisfactory."

AG OPINIONS—The secretary of state may use statistical samplings or other reasonable means of determining adequacy of political party petitions for places on the ballot, Attorney General Hill held.

In other recent opinions, the attorney general concluded:

- Laboratory reports on retail dairy products and ground beef are subject to disclosure.

- An unlicensed person can perform professional nursing acts under direct control or supervision of a physician.

- Child abuse case records revealing the identity of the complainant are excepted from disclosure requirements.

- A Senate sub-committee (consumer affairs) rule permitting executive sessions to get testimony or evidence or confer with counsel conflicts with the open meetings law.

- County commissioners may sell land belonging to the permanent school fund and distribute money to county school districts, but the districts may not pay back to the county funds to

- create a vocational school.

- Counties may contract for minor children's custodial care.

- City councils must call, within 60 days of a valid petition, an election under the firemen's and policemen's civil service act. Actual holding of the election must take place within a reasonable time.

TEXAS AHEAD — Texas leads the nation in the percentage increase of new business corporations.

Secretary of State Mark White Jr. reported the number of business incorporations increased dramatically from 1,569 in May, 1973, to 2,513 in May, 1974. This is a 62 per cent increase for Texas, compared with a five per cent increase for the nation as a whole.

(Coupled with the increase, however, is a rise in bankruptcies and business failures. There were 680 bankruptcy petitions filed during 1973 in the U.S. District Courts for the Western District of Texas —and 768 so far this year. May recorded an all-time peak of business failures—925—nationwide.

APPOINTMENTS—Speaker Price Daniel Jr. named Rep. Herman Lauhoff of Houston to House committees on revenue and taxation, natural resources and elections.

Daniel also named Rep. Chris Semos of Dallas to the House committee on appropriations, Rep. Phil Cates of Pampa to the committee on calendars and Rep. Jon Newton of Beville to the committee on rules.

Susan Longley of Austin will manage Attorney General John Hill's campaign office.

Hill was reappointed chairman of the National Association of Attorneys General Consumer Protection Committee.

CROPS IMPROVE LITTLE—September crop predictions improved slightly over August, Agriculture Commissioner John White reported.

Texas cotton production is estimated at 3,180,000 bales, off almost 1.5 million from 1973. The August predictions were 3,050,000 bales. Sorghum production (off 122 million bushels) and soybeans (off two million bushels) remain little changed.

Corn production also remained largely unchanged at 69,760,000 bushels (a nine million bushel decrease). The rice crop looks good, with producers expected to harvest 24,772,000 hundred-weight bags, a five per cent increase. Sugarbeets and sugarcane will also improve.

SHORT SNORTS

The Texas National Guard has been requested to take additional steps to increase security of federal arms and ammunition.

Rep. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale reaffirmed his request for investigation into cost of each step in cattle raising.

All voters in the November 5 general election must be registered by October 5. Registrations are valid for three years.

Secretary of State White refused to place the Socialist Workers Party candidates on the November ballot, holding its petition inadequate.

Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake has added more support for House Speaker in 1975, claiming well over 100 of the 150 votes.

Attorney General Hill has appealed a federal court order that two major state reform schools be closed.

The State Board of Education meets with legislative committees and governor's office aides to discuss steps needed to strengthen school programs for 700,000 Mexican-American students.

The State Supreme Court, via appeal, will have a chance to rule on whether the Texas Railroad Commission has authority to order natural gas taken away from utilities in North Texas and diverted to Central and South Texas. A district judge here has ruled the commission has that authority, and the Austin Court of Civil Appeals agreed.

CAPTAIN HUGH SMITH

Lieutenant Governor's Report

AUSTIN—Last year in 22 member agencies and the United States more than 700 children were killed by their parents or guardians.

There were another 60,000 reported cases of child abuse, although the actual figure may be as much as three times that number.

One of the major problems in combating this national tragedy has been our inability to help the thousands of families who fall into the "unreported" category.

The last session of the Texas Legislature took a big step toward correcting this situation with passage of a law which requires anyone knowing or suspecting child abuse to report it.

These "nonaccusatory" reports should be made to county welfare units, county agencies responsible for the protection of juveniles, or any law enforcement agency.

Of primary importance is a provision of the law which grants the reporting person immunity from any civil and criminal penalty, assuming, of course, his report is not made in bad faith or with malice.

Hopefully, this new law will do much to encourage reporting of known or suspected cases of child abuse.

Dr. Kenneth Lee Matthews, an assistant professor of child and adolescent psychiatry at the University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio, believes this new protection will do much to encourage doctors, teachers, and day care personnel to report child abuse cases.

Dr. Matthews is active with the San Antonio Child Abuse Center, which currently is seeking a $160,000 grant to combat the problem in Bexar County.

Last year in Bexar County there were more than 2,000 documented cases of child abuse. Twelve of these resulted in death.

Dr. Matthews estimated that many more thousands of cases went unreported.

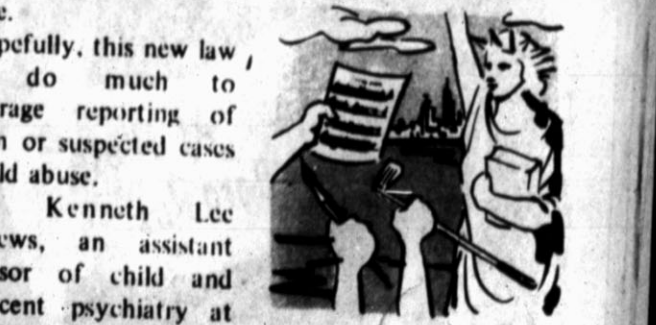

The San Antonio Child Abuse Center is an outgrowth of a concerned citizens group organized to bring to the community's attention the magnitude of the problem. The council is a volunteer association of

Gifted Aliens

Our immigration laws, which set quotas for entry into the United States, also provide loopholes for special situations. One of these loopholes allows preferential visas for aliens who have "exceptional ability in the sciences or the arts."

What does this mean? Take the case of a woman golfer, born in Australia, who applied not long ago for a preferential visa.

Yes, ruled the Immigration Service, because as a professional competitor she had won many major tournaments.

Was golf an "art"? Yes, ruled the Service, because it provided entertainment for millions of spectators.

Result: the visa was granted. By similar reasoning, a preferential visa was granted to a brilliant Japanese puppeteer and a spell-binding Australian lecturer.

But the standards of excellence under this provision are high indeed.

Another case involved a Korean singer who was part of a duet. She was able to point to some favorable reviews by critics, but none that singled her out as an individual performer.

The Immigration Service decided that while she was doubtless capable as a vocalist, she was not "exceptional" enough to qualify for a preferential visa.

Furthermore, the skill itself must be one that is difficult to master. At one time or another, an Italian broommaker, a Philippine auto mechanic, and an Italian hair stylist have all been turned down on the ground that their particular skill was too easily attainable.

As a commissioner explained in the broommaker case, he was not convinced that the services of the applicant "would be substantially beneficial to the national economy, cultural interest, or welfare of the United States."

Turkey Steaks Keep Company With T-Bones

Researchers are out to see that turkey makes good gobbling for consumers the year

Long regarded as classic fare for Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter dinners, the turkey has often been overlooked for non-holiday menus.

Scientists point out that the big bird is one of the better buys for today's consumer. Tailor-made from the standpoint of protein, fat, and calories, the turkey provides one of the best high quality meat proteins on the market.

"All turkey" hot dogs, unheard of a year or so ago, are now becoming fairly commonplace in many supermarkets. And fresh turkey steaks also are cropping up alongside T-bones in some meat markets.

Other products being introduced to the consumer include turkey ham, salami, pastrami, bologna, jerky, and even bacon. Turkey products provide some distinct nutritional and economic advantages to the consumer, according to scientists.

Since turkeys have a more efficient system for converting plants into human food, their meat will always be more economical than other sources. They require fewer pounds of feed per pound of gain.

Nutrient values of turkey meat include higher protein content along with lower fat and cholesterol.

Seminar To Discuss Cotton Gin Energy

A symposium on energy management in cotton gins has been set for Oct. 3 at South Park Inn in Lubbock, according to Billy C. Gunter, district agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Purpose of the symposium is to bring to light some current developments related to the energy crisis which affect current and future operations of cotton gins, says Gunter.

This symposium also is designed to bring to the attention of ginners on the High Plains the newly developed "mono-flow conveying system" and module building and feeding systems.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service in cooperation with the Southwestern Public Service Company is conducting the one day symposium.

Topics to be covered in the event include air pollution, review of the electric power situation, care and maintenance of motors and motor controls, and voltage drop, energy use and motor operation.

The meeting gets underway at 8:30 a.m., Oct. 3, and a lunch will be provided, courtesy of Southwestern Public Service, Gunter explains.

Following the formal presentations a panel discussion will be held consisting of the speakers and Roy Baker, director of South Plains Ginning Research Laboratory.

Diary Products In Good Supply

Cheese still tops the milk-production pyramid, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt reported this week.

Cheese, non-fat milk and butter supplies remain above last year's levels, although milk production continues its seasonal decline, according to the consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Peanuts are in ample supply, too — even though the 1974 crop will be slightly smaller than last year's record crop," she added.

Fresh fruits in good supply at the most economical prices this week included oranges, bananas, nectarines, grapes, prunes and plums.

Economical vegetables are watermelon, cabbage, carrots and squash.

Also dry yellow onions, celery, cushaw, beets, collards, mustard and turnip greens.

At beef counters, Mrs. Clyatt said much of the meat supply is from grass-fed animals.

"This is good news for calorie-counting consumers because it means lean beef has less marbling, and there's less outside fat covering."

Pork values center on hams, picnics, shoulder roasts and steaks, end-cut loin roast and chops.

"Fryer chickens are an excellent protein choice in most markets, and grade A, large-size eggs still offer the most quality and economy."

CONSUMER WATCHWORDS: "real" beef cost is its cost per serving — not cost per pound.

Example: ground beef and chuck roast are both $1.12 per pound. Ground beef makes four servings per pound; chuck roast makes two.

So, ground beef costs 28 cents per serving, while chuck roast costs 56 cents per serving — although both cost the same per pound.

Hay Is Cash Crop

Hay, traditionally fed to cattle on farms where it was produced, is becoming a cash crop for many farmers. In 1970, for example, more than a billion dollars' worth of hay was sold in 18 states. . . .

Veterans Rank Texas Fourth

Latest Veterans Administration veterans population figures show Texas has moved past Illinois into fourth place in national ranking in number of veterans. California, New York and Pennsylvania continue to rank first, second and third, according to Jack Coker, VA Regional Office Director.

Texas with 1.55 million veterans now exceeds Illinois by 1,000. "Veteran Population," published semi-annually in June and December, reveals California now has 3.27 million veterans, compared to 2.51 million for runner-up New York. Third-ranked Pennsylvania has 1.74 million.

States with the fewest veterans, according to the VA publication, are Alaska, 41,000; Wyoming, 49,000; and Vermont, 62,000.

As fiscal year 1974 ended, there were 29.27 million veterans and the largest group, 13.76 million, came from World War II. The second largest group comprises 7.09 million Vietnam Era veterans (service after Aug. 4, 1964). Korean Conflict veterans (June 27, 1950 - Jan. 31, 1955) numbering 5.96 million, are the next largest group. About 460,000 of this group served during both the Korean Conflict and the Vietnam-era, while another 1.25 million Korean Conflict veterans also served during World War II.

Other groups in order of size include 3.10 million veterans who served between the Korean Conflict and the Vietnam-era only; 1.08 million World War I veterans; and 1,000 Spanish-American War veterans, the smallest group.

The VA pamphlet lists the average age for all veterans as 45.5 years, with most, 4.90 million, in the 50 to 54 years age group. The next largest group includes 4.20 million veterans 45 to 49 years old, followed by 3.62 million veterans who are an average 25 to 29 years of age.

Spanish-American War veterans are the oldest group, averaging 94.5 years old, contrasting with 48,000 Vietnam-era veterans under 20 years of age.

SPS Plans Reactor

Southwestern Public Service Company this week announced the first step in a program for the company to take a lead role in the construction of the nation's first power plant to use a gas-cooled breeder reactor.

Roy Tolk, chairman and president of the electric company, said the Gas-Cooled Fast Breeder Reactor (GCFR) plant, would have a generating capability of 300,000 kilowatts and would be located on a site provided by Southwestern, probably at the Harrington Station, northeast of Amarillo.

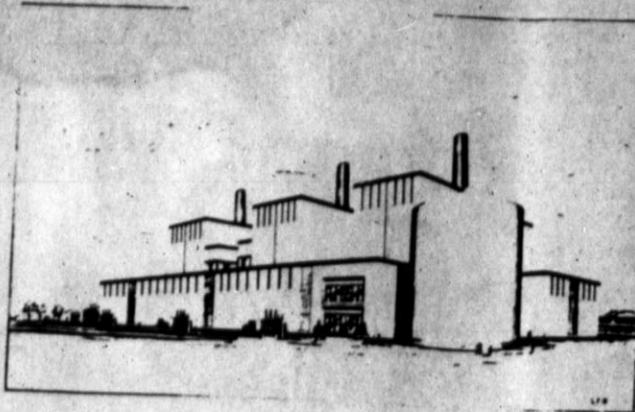

"WE HAVE signed a letter of intent with General Atomic Company of San Diego, in which we would contribute $100 million to the project. Substantial additional financial support will be required from the electric utility industry and the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission," Tolk said.
General Atomic has been working on a Gas-Cooled Breeder Reactor for 13 years.

Breeder reactors have the unique capability of producing more nuclear fuel material than they consume. Because of this potential to stretch nuclear fuel resources, breeders are regarded as an essential component of the long-range success of the nuclear power industry. In operation, the GCFR will produce nearly one and one-half times as much fuel material as it consumes.

SUPPORT FOR the program has come from the Atomic Energy Commission and a GCFR Utility Committee comprised of 57 investor-owned utilities, 55 rural electric cooperatives and three European electric utilities.

Included in the cooperatives participating in the program are the Rita Blanca Electric Cooperative, Dalhart; the Bailey County Electric Cooperative, Muleshoe; and the Tri-County Electric Cooperative, Hooker, Okla.

Nuclear Plant

Artist's rendering of how Southwestern Public Service Company's proposed 300,000 kilowatt GCFR nuclear demonstration plant might look adjacent to a conventional coal or gas-fired generating station. The cylindrical structure on the right houses a prestressed concrete reactor vessel, 84 feet in diameter and 71 feet high, and contains the principal components of the nuclear steam supply system.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

"It was discouraging, even for optimists, when the United States wrote off a few billion dollars 'loaned' to India to feed the starving people, and even more discouraging when Madame Gandhi (the peacemaker) used the money to develop an atomic bomb. People wondered, 'Why can't we have charity begin at home?' Well, in a way we have. Recent dispatches have it that Spiro Agnew has agreed to pay the government $1,100 in settlement for $175,000 in improvements made to his home in Kenwood, Maryland, while he was Vice President. Feel better?" MONTROSE, CALIF., LEDGER

"One of the essential qualities of a good leader, even on the lowest level, is the ability to know when to depart from the normal, when to take risks. On the other hand, the person who always upsets the applecart can be a disruptive influence. The art of leadership is to retain the adventurous spirit without going overboard." AMERICAN FORK, UTAH, CITIZEN

"There's a universe made up of energy that is ours for the using, if—if we can break loose from our myopic obsession that the way to do everything is to have government appropriate another billion or two and create yet another bureau. That way is what has brought us within flinching distance of disaster." AZTEC, N.M., INDEPENDENT-REVIEW

"With 14 million Americans now working for government, their salaries and benefits have doubled in the past 10 years. Economists conclude that the time is not far off when 50 per cent of the budget will go for pensions to retired government employees. Payroll deductions for retirement are about the same as for social security for nongovernment employees; but the retired federal worker draws four or five times as much as the SS recipient. Federal government workers also retire earlier, have more vacations, sick leave, etc. What about the rest of us who don't have an Uncle Sam to back us up?" BARDSTOWN, KY., KENTUCKY STANDARD

"Four steps to achievement: Plan purposefully. Prepare prayerfully. Proceed positively. Pursue persistently." SAINT JO, TEXAS, TRIBUNE

"The period of inflation we are right smack in the middle of, caused largely by spendthrift politicians, is responsible for making the poor poorer and shrinking the fixed incomes of the old. We have been brought to the brink of national bankruptcy. Their, the politicians', concern for the problem brought about by $$$ eroding, deficit spending programs, etc., is touching. Meanwhile as they continue this trend, they continue to pass laws to protect the consumer. All this protection is gonna kill us yet." PICHER, OKLA., TRI-STATE TRIBUNE

After two years of research, the Veterans Administration hospital at Buffalo, NY has fireproofed and prolonged the life of mattresses, bed linens and room draperies, while saving on laundry bills.

"The professions have always been the butt of jokes ... but it is no joke when a group of lawyers decided to become plumbers to stop a leak in the Pentagon, only to find themselves being swept away in the flood which developed when they fooled with the Watergate." OSAGE CITY, KANS., JOURNAL FREE-PRESS

"Sometimes it seems that 'permissiveness' is getting way out of line. In a ... court case of a man charged with kidnapping and molesting young girls, the defending attorney said he wouldn't have done it if they hadn't been walking down the street by themselves. What kind of a defense is this? It is ridiculous that a woman should not be able to walk down the street without being kidnapped or molested. In this case, the victims were accused of wrongdoing instead of the person charged with the crimes." NEW HAVEN, IND., ALLEN COUNTY TIMES

"It was interesting to note some of our ... legislators are complaining about the 'club' the federal government holds over the state—you know, 'if you don't do it, you'll lose federal funds.' If more people all across the nation would get sick of the 'club,' maybe we could reduce the federal debt, pay less federal income tax, and have more freedom to do things 'our way.'" TIMBER LAKE, S.D., TOPIC

"At the turn of the century, government employed less than one million persons and there were approximately 26 persons employed in the private sector for every one employed in the public sector. By 1972 the picture had changed drastically. Government employment had grown approximately five times as fast as employment in the private sector and there were then only 5.1 persons employed in the private sector for every one civilian government employee. If this trend continues unabated by the beginning of the next century, the year 2000, for every worker in the private sector there will be one in the public sector." LAKE PARK, IOWA, NEWS

"The gas shortage (problem) may encourage people to shop closer to home, in fact in their own hometown. The importance of trading at home cannot be overemphasized when it comes to building a strong community. The benefits are tremendous and when viewed as a whole picture far outweigh any real or imagined savings that may be affected." ELK POINT, S.D., LEADER-COURIER

"The answer has been there all the time but I simply failed to apply any logical thinking so the question 'Which came first, the chicken or the egg?' went unanswered these many centuries. Now I've got it! It is completely illogical to think the Good Lord created an egg, fertilized it and set it forth to populate the chicken world. In fact, the Genesis story is quite clear on how the process of the 'chicken and egg' controversy was concluded. The Good Lord created the rooster in all his strut and glory, first. Then came the hen. Both were programmed for their main function of good to mankind. And the Lord said, let the 'fowl multiply in the earth.' Then the egg. So you see, the chauvinist rooster came first." CLAUDE, TEXAS, NEWS

"Faced with problems, statesmen retire to their mountain hideaways to ponder their decisions. About the best the rest of us can do is go down to the laundromat and brood over the tumbling wash." FINDLEY, OHIO, REPUBLICAN-COURIER

White Says '73 Receipts Up $3 Billion

AUSTIN--Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has announced that total cash receipts for 1973 crops and livestock amounted to $6,467,923,000, an increase of nearly $3 billion over 1972.

But figures for 1974 are expected to drop considerably because of the summer drought, White said. "Despite a hectic year for agriculture which included a meat boycott, a price freeze and some bad weather, Texas managed to move ahead in most areas of agricultural production last year."

Texas ranks third in the U. S. in cash receipts. The state more than doubled its cash receipts in cotton, feed crops, food grains and vegetables. Production was off in fruits and nuts and rice, due mainly to a poor pecan and peach season and a hurricane damaged rice crop.

White said total livestock receipts amounted to $3,673,825,000, a jump of more than $1 billion over the previous year. Receipts for cattle and calves only were $2.8 billion, placing Texas first again in this area of production. The state ranked second behind Iowa in total livestock receipts.

Crop receipts jumped from $1.3 billion in 1972 to $2.7 billion, placing the state fourth in the U. S. According to figures from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, the value of other Texas agricultural products ran Dairy products, $261 million; poultry and eggs, $344 million; hogs, $142.1 million; cotton, $434.1 million; feed crops, $926.6 million; food grains, $501.8 million; vegetables, $220.7 million, and fruits and nuts, $46.1 million.

Important Market In U.S. While farmers comprise less than 5 percent of the nation's population, they buy nearly 20 percent of the country's output of steel, petroleum, rubber, and other major products.

Smog Damage To Cotton Is Measured

"Smog" may one day join insects and weeds as major threats to U.S. crop production—at least in some areas of the country.

A recently completed two-year study in California's San Joaquin Valley shows that smog reduced cotton yields between 20 and 30 percent.

Cotton plants were chosen for the study because they develop fiber during the months of July and August when pollution is highest. Growth and yields of cotton plantings in several open fields were compared with those in air-filtered greenhouses.

Plants protected from air pollutants retained their vigor and color during late summer and early fall, continuing to bloom and mature bolts weeks after those in the outdoor plots did. This late-season vigor was responsible for much of the yield difference.

New Clean-Up Role for Cotton

A layer of cotton described as no thicker than "a gnat's eyebrow" may hold the key to speedy and efficient cleanup of ocean oil spills.

Researchers at Texas Tech University, supported by a recent grant from the U.S. Coast Guard, are now moving into the final stages of perfecting the new process.

The method makes use of cotton wasties, short-staple weak fibers with a special talent for picking up and holding oil.

Research already has shown that the cotton can pick up 50 times its own weight in oil and still stay afloat without any apparent loss because of wave action. This is far superior to any other system now being used to pick up oil slicks, scientists report.

Under the system now being perfected, compressed bales of cotton wasties would be flown to a spill area in Coast Guard helicopters.

Blowers mounted on the helicopters would first ring the spill with a hair-thin layer of the cotton and then spread the entire surface with fibers.

The next step would be to sweep up the oil-soaked mass of cotton and either incinerate it or recover the oil from the cotton for possible use.

Tests indicate the cotton wasties will stay afloat in sea water for six weeks or longer. This means oil slicks could be contained as fast as helicopters can reach them, and later be retrieved by surface vessels.

Researchers point out this is especially important since a 1,000-barrel spill can cover 3 million square yards within 24 hours.

An estimated 15 million gallons of oil are discharged annually in the navigable waters of the United States.

FARM FACTS

Migrant Workers Are Few

Growers make up 75 percent of today's farm labor force. Only 7 percent of the remainder are migrant workers.

Farmer's Share Drops

The farmer's share of the consumer's food dollar decreased from 46 cents in June, 1973, to 39.3 cents in the same month this year.

Vegetable Protein Outlook

Agricultural economists say as much as 20 percent of all processed meat items could be made of vegetable protein by 1980.

Unending Battle

Each farmer in the U.S. spends on the average more than $1,000 each year fighting insects, crop diseases, and weeds. Despite this expenditure, these pests cost each farmer an annual average of $2,500 in crop losses.

Crop Production Methods Getting Second Look

With tight supplies of fuel and fertilizer, farmers are taking a second look at traditional practices like plowing and cultivating crops.

New crop production systems that either completely eliminate these steps or use only limited tillage are gaining in popularity.

Farmers using the no-tillage method may make only two trips across their fields during the crop year instead of the usual four to 12. The first trip is made for planting and application of fertilizers and pesticides, and the second for harvesting.

Recent studies show that no-till farming not only reduces fuel needs, but enables plants to make much more efficient use of fertilizer.

COTTON BOOSTS CASH RECEIPTS—Texas ranked third in 1973 cash receipts for crops and livestock, more than doubling its receipts for cotton, feed crops, food grains and vegetables. According to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, cotton production alone amounted to more than $914 million. Current reports indicate that this year's acreage for harvest will be down, mainly because of the High Plains drought. Grades of cotton harvested in the Lower Rio Grande Valley were reportedly higher than last year.

Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., 25-county, Lubbock-based cotton producer organization, is urging the U.S. Department of Agriculture to set the loan level for 1975-crop U.S. upland cotton at "the highest level permissible under the language of current law" and to not sell Commodity Credit Corporation stocks of cotton at less than 115 per cent of the target price for the year plus carrying charges.

In a letter to the USDA on September 12, PCG Executive Vice President Donald A. Johnson pointed out that unless the market price of cotton improves substantially, these two actions will be badly needed to prevent acreage being shifted from cotton to feed grains, soybeans or other more profitable crops in 1975. The 1974 crop loan level is 27.06 cents per pound, basis Strict Low Middling 1-1/16 inch cotton, 3.5 to 4.9 micronaire at average location.

CCC's minimum resale price is now 115 per cent of the loan level, as opposed to PCG's recommended 115 per cent of the 38-cent target price for 1975.

Under the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973, the USDA can set the 1975 loan at 90 per cent of the average market price for American cotton in world markets for the 1971-72 through 1972-73 marketing years. Or, if the Secretary so decrees, the loan can be 90 per cent of the "then current" world market price for American cotton—which would be considerably lower.

Johnson's letter points out that current market prices for cotton offer little or no return on producer investment and that "Unless USDA uses every means at its disposal to encourage cotton production, the acreage needed to meet domestic and export demands for cotton will not be planted."

The 1974 Annual Meeting of the Plains Ginners Association will be held on Saturday, September 21, at the Lubbock Country Club from 9:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m., according to PGA President Bill Weaver of Lamesa. Over 300 High Plains ginners and allied industry people are expected to attend.

The meeting will feature addresses by Donald A. Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock; Tony Price, Executive Officer of the Texas Cotton Ginners Association, Dallas, and Charles Russell, Foreign Trade Economist of the National Cotton Council, Memphis, Tennessee.

Johnson will speak on expanded market opportunities opening up for High Plains cotton as a result of spinning research on the revolutionary open-end spinning system and other new technology.

Price will talk to the ginners about practical solutions to problems arising out of existing and pending government regulations on air pollution and safety.

Russell is expected to give an overview of world cotton trade conditions and possible ways to improve the market position of U.S. cotton in world markets.

Luncheon speaker will be the widely known Dr. Charles Jarvis of San Marcos, Texas, dentist turned motivational speaker and humorist.

PCG members will elect nine directors at the meeting and the new directors will elect officers for the coming year. Current officers, in addition to Weaver, are Bill McCasland, Vice President, and Dixon White, Secretary, both of Lubbock.

Preceding the business meeting on Saturday will be the Association's annual golf tournament, with players teeing off at the Lubbock Country Club from 9:30 to 11:00 a.m. on Friday, September 20.

Make Good Gravy Every Time

Making gravy is an important part of the preparation of any turkey or roast chicken dinner. Conserve all of the flavor of every edible part of the bird for the gravy by cooking a broth with the neck, gizzard, heart and liver. Use as the liquid for the gravy. After the bird has roasted, make the gravy in the roasting pan so that all of the browned bits from the bottom of the pan will be stirred into the gravy. The meat from neck, gizzard and heart are good chopped and mixed with the dressing. Add chopped liver to gravy. To be sure that the gravy will always be smooth and free from lumps, use Argo corn starch as the thickening agent.

- | | |
|-----------------------|--------------------------------|
| 4 cups turkey broth | Turkey Gravy |
| 1/4 cup fat drippings | 1 cooked turkey liver, chopped |
| 1/4 cup corn starch | 1/2 teaspoon salt |
| | 1/4 teaspoon ground thyme |
| | 1/4 teaspoon pepper |

Bring broth to boil. Pour off fat drippings from roasting pan, reserving 1/4 cup. Return this amount to pan. Sprinkle corn starch into pan and cook over medium heat, stirring constantly about 5 minutes or until browned. Gradually add broth and liver, salt, thyme and pepper. Simmer a few minutes. Makes 4 cups. For chicken, recipe may be halved.

don't forget windows

The purpose of most kitchen remodeling jobs is to bring the kitchen up to date by providing more cheerfulness, light and views in addition to convenience and comfort. Ignoring the windows in a kitchen remodeling job is like buying a refrigerator that doesn't have a freezer.

Of all the remodeling projects undertaken each year by homeowners, kitchen remodeling remains the most popular. Too often, though, hard-to-open windows with small panes of glass that are difficult to wash and keep clean are ignored.

Most kitchen windows are located over the sink or countertop. Using traditional double-hung windows in these areas makes them difficult to reach and awkward to open and close.

For hard-to-reach areas above the sink or countertop, casement windows of ponderosa pine that open 90 degrees at the turn of an easily-reached crank handle are ideal. The smoothly operating hardware prevents sticking or binding. And they provide maximum ventilation.

Heady story of short hair takes a swing

Shorter hair is moving in to make heads neat, chic and free. Free because once the weight of long hair is off, it's a very light-headed experience. Neat since there's no toilsome arranging and re-arranging to do. A good short haircut and shaping could require just a quick shake of your head or brief brushing to set your hair in place again.

Chic on top of it all as a perfect balance to the wider shoulders, longer sweaters, full skirts reaching the scene this fall.

For the fun of it, and to dispel the notion of "here we go again," we've collected pictures from American Hairdresser magazine and sketches to show you how the "Bob" went to everyone's head back in the '20's and what's in line now.

Of course, no look returns to popularity exactly as before. Hair styling forms a special part of each historical period's beauty perspective. Rigid waves, stiff edges, the marcel and shingle of the "flapper" are familiar, near enough in time for family photo albums to give us a laugh. And film retrospectives of the silent greats show us how it all looked in action.

1924 seems to have been the biggest year for the bob. There were versions like the Ina Claire, the Dutch Cut or Marcel Bob. Some looked glued in place (pavement wave, indeed) or were frizzed at the front. Women even shaved their napes to achieve that severe line and then wished they'd never started that!

At least, hairpieces resolved the problem of disguising the style for dressy evenings with a great variety of barrettes, beaded bandeaus and jeweled combs around as further distractions.

It was a time, then, of headache bands, wiglets, henna rinses, herbal preparations, air waving. Sounds very up to date, doesn't it?

It's amazing how advanced some of the hair care thinking was in Europe in the '20's even if paper and kid curlers were the norm.

Now American know-how in hair-conditioning products, "wash and wear" perms is recognized the world over.

Emphasis is on nature's own contributions to hair control and the test kitchen is as much the center of activity as the lab.

What we see in today's short cuts is a more graceful proportion, a softer feeling for the face-framing line and the back of the neck. The prime factor is how the hair itself looks—is it gleaming, clean, well-cared for?

Color highlights are expected to reflect a natural and appealing glow.

The actual cutting and shaping of the hair belong in expert hands. A good style flatters without being tricky; it's axiomatic in the designing field that simple schemes test professional training most.

Artificial crimps and geometric cuts won't do. You don't want to fuss a lot with your hair every time you go out or pass a mirror!

Hairdressers who specialize in cutting short hair taper, layer or blunt cut the ends so they flip right back into place when you're doing the shampoo and set on your own at home. Ask them to show you how to handle a styling brush or electric comb for gentle curves and full body.

Though short cuts have to be re-shaped at regular intervals, top stylists work with the way your hair really moves and waves to get the best line.

Many men are now relaxed about having their hair styled and shaped. The results are evident.

Younger males who opted for the long, untended locks are beginning to go for good-grooming techniques. Medium length may work out as the happy meeting ground for just about all ages.

Part of the current beauty image is pure nostalgia. But the restyling has fresh qualities for you to consider along with your own individual attitude toward hair length.

Determination Proves Successful

The Deaf Smith County Library is featuring two books this week. A Horseman Riding By R.F. Deiderfeld and The Kentucky Trace by Harriette Arnow.

A Horseman Riding By tells the story of a farming valley in Devonshire and of one man's lifelong determination to maintain its integrity and the way of life it represents.

The Kentucky Trace is an exciting novel of the Kentucky mountain country and its people.

The library is open to the public on Mondays from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m., weekdays from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. and Saturdays until noon.

A HORSEMAN RIDING BY
By R.F. Deiderfeld

Here is a vast, panoramic novel of English country life from the Boer War to the Battle of Britain. Filled with narrative energy, superbly evocative of place and time, it takes the reader into its vanished world of tradition, of landed gentry and cottagers, feuding tenant farmers, scolding wives, poachers, politicians, aristocrats clinging to a feudal way of life, London men of affairs, Members of Parliament, soldiers on the Western front, Edwardian Dowagers, restless "new women" of the suffragette and flapper generations and, above all, into the world of the seven families whose lives are rooted in the green acres of "Shallowford."

A Horseman Riding By tells the story of a great farming valley in Devonshire and of one man's lifelong determination to maintain its integrity and the way of life it represents against the encroachment of worldwide tides of change and the private turbulences set in motion by his disastrous first marriage.

Paul Craddock is a young soldier invalided out of the Boer War when he becomes the Squire of Shallowford, bringing an immense enthusiasm and a vision of prosperity for the entire countryside.

For Paul, his family, and his tenants and neighbors in the valley, the years are filled with a tumbling succession of events: his marriage to Grace Lovell, who abandons him and their young son to take an active part in the suffragette campaigns convulsing England; a shipwreck and dangerous rescue operation in the Bay; a happy second marriage and a flock of happy children; the Great War of 1914-18 that empties the valley of men whose fortunes we follow in the mud of Flanders Fields, in the East and on the high seas; the challenging values of the twenties and the desperate struggle to wrest a good living from the earth as the country plunges into economic disaster; the drift toward a new war in the thirties as Paul's eldest son goes off to fight in Spain. The novel ends with the men of the valley preparing to resist the threatened invasion of Hitler's paratroopers after the Battle of Dunkirk.

With its nearly 100 characters and its richness of incident and atmosphere, R.F. Deiderfeld's novel summons up the reality, the variety, the quality of forty years of English life.

THE KENTUCKY TRACE
By Harriette Arnow

From the author of the Dollmaker and Hunter's Horn comes this superbly alive novel of the Kentucky mountain country and its people.

The time — during the American Revolution. It is a novel rich in character, color, and incident and imbued with that special feeling for the Cumberland that first won for Harriette Arnow a wide and loving audience.

With a warmth totally devoid of sentimentality, Mrs. Arnow makes us feel what it was like for ordinary people to experience the upheavals of the Revolutionary War — whole families vanishing from sight, or torn asunder by opposing loyalties.

And she gives us, at the center of her novel, a wonderful hero: Leslie Collins, a steadfast man, a brave man, gentry-born but educated by his profession (he is a surveyor) to back country independence and resourcefulness — a man who might almost be taken for Daniel Boone.

Fighting on the rebel side, captured by bandits, rescued by scrappy "overmountain" men, Leslie moves with courage and perseverance confronting the war's confusions — as loyalties are questioned and kin fights kin — until, making his way home, he discovers his farm deserted, his family gone.

Following the only clue he has, he sets out in pursuit, down the Kentucky Trace — on a trail that leads him to a strange and ultimately crucial encounter: he blunders into an encampment of men and women scrambling for survival, all of them as displaced as he is by the turmoils of history.

Among them: an old woodman "gone Cherokee," the slave girl Rachel, the mysterious and mercurial young Indian, Little Brother. And, most important of all, the "yellow-haired woman" and her unwanted baby son, William David, whom she is determined to lose or destroy. Horrified and moved, Leslie galvanizes all his spirit and backwoods savvy, forging an alliance with the others to save the child.

And it is through this concern and this joint effort that he finds in full measure the wholesome strength and humor that help them all work through their despairs and uncertainties — and the adventurous ingenuity that brings his ordeal and theirs, and the fate, of William David, to a surprising and touching conclusion.

Holiday Project Planned By XEA

Dates for the Santa Claus visiting program to be sponsored by Xi Epsilon Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi again this year, will be Dec. 19-23, members decided at their meeting Tuesday evening.

As their major fund-raising project of the year, chapter members arrange visits by Santa Claus at children's parties and other holiday entertainments each year. They will begin now to make appointments for the dates set for 1974.

Announcement was made that Mrs. James Horton was chosen by secret ballot of members as the chapter's Valentine sweetheart this season. She will be considered with sweethearts selected from other Hereford chapters for the title of BSP queen, to be crowned at the annual Valentine ball in February.

Because illness prevented the appearance of a guest speaker, no program was given at this meeting.

Mrs. Dale Hughes of Dimmitt and Mrs. Ken Walser were guests. Members present were Mmes. Jim Cramer, Kenny Ruland, Jim Aldridge, Fred Mulkey Jr., Jerry Shipman, C.D. Fitzgearid Jr., and Ken Wiley.

Mrs. Jimmy Morgan ...with son, Gary

Let's Cook Homemaker Enjoys Cooking But Hates Cleaning Up

BY SANDY INMAN

leafs. Serves 12-15 large squares.

MANY homemakers enjoy cooking but hate having to clean up the pots and pans afterward. Mrs. Jimmy Morgan of 406 Ave. C. is no exception. "I thoroughly enjoy cooking but I would just as soon leave the dishes," smiles Mrs. Morgan.

Two favorite dishes the Morgans like are Strawberry Layer Salad and Bottoms Up casserole. "We are especially fond of the strawberry salad but it's very high in calories and I don't prepare it very often."

BOTTOMS UP CASSEROLE
1 9 inch pie crust
1 Tbs. shortening
1 lb. ground chuck
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1 10 1/2 oz. can tomato soup, (undiluted)
1/2 tsp. garlic salt 1/4 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1/2 tsp. onion salt
1/2 tsp. salt
Dash pepper
3 slices American cheese cut in strips

THE MORGANS were married in Honolulu, Hawaii in 1971. They have a son, 14-month-old Gary. "While Jimmy was serving in the U.S. Marine Corps, he was stationed in Honolulu. I flew over to meet him and we spent two weeks of our honeymoon there before he was transferred to California," says the blonde housewife.

"While in Hawaii we rented a car and drove around the island. It's really lovely. The most unusual sight I saw was the International Market Plaza which featured shops from all over the world."

"As far as the people and customs of the island are concerned, I guess I was most amazed at their dress code. You couldn't go into a restaurant without some sort of shoes on but you could go in a bikini," explains Mrs. Morgan. "That's quite a contrast."

Mrs. Morgan was Ellen Bridges before her marriage and has lived in Hereford all of her life. "My husband has lived in this town for nearly 15 years, so I suppose it was inevitable that we make our home here," says Mrs. Morgan.

STRAWBERRY LAYER SALAD
DISSOLVE 1 large package strawberry Jello in 2 cups boiling water. Add 1 lb. package frozen strawberries and 1 cup crushed pineapple (1 flat can). Pour half of this mixture into oblong pan (9x12) and allow to congeal partially. Spread 1 cup sour cream on mixture and then pour remainder of Jello mixture on top of cream layer. Sprinkle top with 1/2 to 1 cup chopped pecans and press pecans into Jello. Allow to congeal completely. Cut in squares and serve on lettuce PREHEAT oven to 400 degrees. Brown beef and cook celery, onion and green pepper together in shortening. Drain. Stir in remaining ingredients except cheese.

Spread mixture evenly in pie plate. Place pie crust over meat mixture. Slit pie crust in several places, do not seal edge. Bake for 15 minutes.

Place large plate or platter over pie and turn upside down. Top meat mixture with cheese in a lattice pattern. Cut into wedges. Serves 6.

Supper Served To KI

Members of Kappa Iota Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority met Monday evening in Southwestern Public Service Reddy Room for a lasagne supper and business meeting with Mrs. Nelson Kendall and Mrs. Bobby Jones as hostesses.

Mrs. Gary Royal presented an interesting program on Painting The Person in which she spoke on how women should take care of their facial structure and exercises which can be done to build facial muscles.

During the business meeting, members discussed the chapter's benefit bridge which is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. October 15 in Community Center. Bridge partners will remain throughout the evening and tickets may be purchased from any chapter member or at the door for $1.50.

Members also voted on the Chapters' Valentine representative and results will be announced at the chapter's first meeting in October.

Final preparations for a social to be held at 7:30 Tuesday in First National Bank's Community Room were made with husbands and guests welcome to attend.

Members present included Mmes. Temple Abney, Tom Bullard, Don Childers, James Head, George Muse, Les Oesterreich, Royal, Davey Sorrells and Lennon Young.

Survey Of AARP Given

A local organization of retired residents and those approaching retirement age, which is a branch of a national group, the American Association of Retired Persons, was described to La Afflatus Estudio Club on its program Tuesday afternoon at Pioneer Gas Flame Room.

This was the first program of the 1974-75 season in the club, and continues a study of Hereford civic functions and various organizations in the area. Mrs. A.H. Cook was program director.

Speakers were Mrs. John Moore and Mrs. H.J. Wilhelm, members of the Hereford Chapter, AARP, which now has a membership of 40. They explained that any resident 55 years of age and over is eligible to be a member.

The organization's purpose, they said, is to help women and men approach retirement, plan for it and then make the most of it. It offers insurance plans, travel in this country and abroad, educational opportunities and pharmacy service, all tailored to the needs of the older person.

Monthly meetings of the local chapter give its members social life, recreation and opportunities for community service, the speakers told club members.

Mrs. Marlin Gilliland presided for a brief business period. Other members present were Mmes. B.F. Markham, A.N. Hopson, A.B. Higgins, Emmitt Hale, Cecil Braly, Sam Morgan and Ira Ott.

Legometrics

FOR SHAPELIER ANKLES, Scholl suggests these "legometrics," exercises to do with the special beechwood-sole sandal: Left—Sit upright on floor, using arms to steady you, and draw up knees until soles of the sandal are resting firm on the floor. Clench toes of each foot against the "gripper" bar of the sandal until pull is felt in muscles of foot, upper ankle and lower with the left foot, rock forward and grip toes against the "grip-ber" crest of the sandal until pull is felt in muscles of leg and thigh. Hold to the count of six. Relax. Repeat with other leg. Right—With feet apart, grip into sandal and try to bring feet together as though a telephone book was holding them apart. Hold for count of six. Repeat.

Put a tingle in your toes, a swing in your step part of the beauty routine. But feet and legs—those overburdened and often-abused members of the body—deserve their share of care and exercise, too.

After being cooped up in tight shoes and boots all day, toes need a periodic work-out to relax and revive. Here are some "foot gymnastics" to stir circulation and strengthen muscles suggested by the experts at Scholl:

- Shake your toes as you would your fingers.
- Riffle the pages of a telephone book with the toes, or, after the bath, try raking up the towel.
- Pick up a marble or a pencil with your toes and try walking with it.
- Walk alternately on the inner and outer edges of the feet.
- Walk on your heels with toes pointed inward.

For the ankles:
Step forward with the right foot, rock forward and grip toes against the raised crest until pull is felt in muscles of the leg and thigh. Hold to the count of six. Relax. Repeat with other leg.

For the calves:
Sit upright in a straight chair, legs relaxed, hook one foot over the other so that sides of the sandal are touching and then try hard to pull feet apart. Hold for count of six. Relax.

For the thighs:
Lie full-length on the floor, using arms to steady the body, and raise lower trunk until legs are at right angles to body. Cross ankles so that the outer sides of the sandal are touching, and keeping ankles locked, try to force the legs apart until a pull is felt in upper thigh muscles and trunk. Hold for count of six.

If you want less hair

You can blame facial hair on aging, emotional stress, heredity, hormonal disturbance, X-ray treatments. Take your pick.

Actually, the problem of superfluous hair happens to women of all ages though research is still inconclusive as to why. During menopause some women find themselves in a hair-growth cycle that's likely to be pretty distressing.

It's no time for a quick decision to shave or tweeze despite its seeming practical and inexpensive.

Instead, a woman could wind up with daily sessions in front of the mirror finding hairs, plus acquire fears of encountering friends under bright lights!

Proper electrolysis by a trained technician is the only safe, permanent method (home kits can produce scarring).

The treatment may consist of a number of visits if hair is particularly heavy.

Past is now present in beauty ideas

Women have been practicing the art and science of being beautiful for thousands of years.

The ancient Egyptians were well versed in the arts of make-up and hairdressing. Wetting their hair with mud, they would take small strands and wind them around sticks then dry the setting in the sun to create early Egyptian "high style."

The first hair dye was recorded about 1500 B.C. when henna was mixed with mud then applied to the hair giving it a reddish color.

Cleopatra, when she wasn't occupied with charming Julius Caesar or Mark Anthony, compounded her own cosmetics and perfumes and obviously applied all with great skill.

The Greeks became very expert in beauty culture, and it is from their word Kosmetikos which means "skilled in adornment" that we derived the word Cosmetology which refers to the entire field of beauty including hairdressing, facial make-up, skin hair and scalp treatments.

The science of Cosmetology was linked with medicine for a period of time until it became a separate profession in the Middle Ages.

By the 19th century, hydrogen peroxide was adopted for use as a bleaching agent and dyes were formulated that started a new era of hair coloring.

The first professional schools established for the study of Cosmetology were opened in the late 1890's. Early in our 20th Century, methods of permanent waving were developed.

The science and art of hair cutting became extremely important for it was, without a doubt, the basis of any good hair style.

Sweet 'N' Fancy Officers

Defensive Driving Offered

Spanish speaking Texans may now take advantage of the safety and economic benefits of the Defensive Driving Course by taking the course in their native tongue, the Texas Safety Association recently announced.

TSA President Edwin B. Locke and Texas Board of Insurance Chairman Joe Christie introduced the Spanish version DDC to the public at a Capitol press conference in Austin.

DDC is a classroom driver improvement program for which qualified graduates receive a ten percent auto insurance discount. The insurance incentive plan for English version DDC graduates was initiated by the State Board of Insurance in September, 1972.

The lively, eight-hour course is supplemented with color films, visual aids and student workbooks which have been carefully translated into Spanish.

"More than 19 percent of the Texas population — some two million residents — will now have the opportunity to become better drivers through a study course designed to suit their language needs," Christie said.

He also noted that completion of the course will carry the normal three-year discount on automobile liability, collision and medical payment coverages written by insurance companies which are regulated by the State Board of Insurance.

Pointing out that DDC is a joint venture of TSA and the National Safety Council, Locke commented, "We in Texas, with our large Spanish-speaking population, have been instrumental in the decision by NSC to make the course available in Spanish. With the language barriers finally down, thousands more Texas motorists will have the opportunity to improve their driving skills through DDC. And every new defensive driver helps to make Texas a little safer."

Locke said he hoped to see every one of Texas' 569 DDC training agencies offer the Spanish version. These agencies, located across the state, include local safety councils, civic groups, service clubs, churches, schools and businesses. Pointing out that the traffic accident is the country's number one killer of employees, Locke urged more Texas businesses and industries to incorporate DDC into company safety programs.

AAUW Plans Defined By State President

Women, the news media, global interdependence and dynamic learning were stressed by Mrs. Gilbert "Polly" Orcutt as she addressed a workshop for District I of the American Association of University Women Saturday in Amarillo at First Christian Church.

Mrs. Orcutt, president of the Texas Division of AAUW, urged continued interest in legislation and an educational fund which is being directed towards a centennial fund for 1982. Stating that the AAUW "might well be a vanguard of political issues this year," Mrs. Orcutt is a proponent of civic involvement by the international federation. Members of the Amarillo branch of AAUW were hostesses at the biannual gathering. Dr. Enid Bates, district coordinator, presided.

Attending from Hereford were Mmes. L.N. Cox, J.F. Naylor, D.N. Garner, Colby Conkright, Earl Holt and Cawthon Bryant, vice president.

Death Still Forbidden Topic

Americans seldom speak openly of death. It still remains a forbidden topic, one family life education specialist said this week.

"People keep their feelings about death and dying to themselves because of fear, uncertainty and a feeling of helplessness," Ilene Carrington, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said. She pointed out that even when a family member or close friend is critically ill, there is often an attempt to keep the news from the patient.

"Most critically ill patients know they are dying by the change in attitude and actions of those around them. The family avoids discussion of the death in an attempt to protect the individual.

"The patient may not have an opportunity to express feelings or to grieve for what he is losing. At a time when he has a tremendous need to be loved and wanted, the individual may be excluded by his loved ones in their own grief and desire to spare him from knowing he's dying," she noted.

But families need to learn to listen to the patient during this difficult time. The person needs to know he is still important and loved as he is.

Families can never completely understand how the dying person really feels or what he's experiencing. The specialist noted that Dr. Elizabeth Kubler-Ross's study of patient reactions does provide some insight as to how the dying feel, and can help prepare families for this event. "The dying person's first reaction is one of shock and denial. As the individual realizes he is dying, he may express anger, resentment, or bitterness. The anger may be directed at those closest to the patient.

"Family should not be misled by these angry outbursts and withdraw—this is the time when their support and presence is desperately needed."

A third state is a bargaining period. The patient still refuses to accept his illness and seeks to postpone his death. Most bargains are silently made and kept secret. They may be the result of guilt or regrets for past failure or neglect. Listening to the individual is important during this time, she continued. "After the bargaining, the individual may become more depressed and withdrawn. The person may fear the unknown or he may grieve for the loss of health, independence and separation from family.

"The individual also realizes he'll soon suffer greater losses. During this stage love and emotional support from the family are important. The individual needs the opportunity to grieve and to know he is cared for by those he loves."

Finally, most patients accept their impending deaths, if they are able to work through the other stages. There may be an extreme narrowing of interests and friends as the quiet presence of a few becomes sufficient. Here is where the family needs the support of friends and one another.

"When one is dying, the importance of sharing feelings cannot be too strongly stressed. Being open and non-judgmental of ones family can reduce guilt and anger. Sharing this intimate experience can help provide greater acceptance and understanding of the process of dying," she said.

ABOUT YOUR HOME

After using a recipe that calls for the egg white only, yolks can be poached until firm, then cooled and put through a sieve. Use to garnish salads and canapes.

Raisins for cakes and breads will be plump and juicy if you'll soak them in warm water before adding to batter or dough. (Drain raisins thoroughly.)

Thistles

In His parable of the sower and the seed (Mark 4:3-20), Christ presents to us three problems common to all farmers: stony ground, shallow soil, and fields of weeds and thistles. He notes that it takes good and much cultivated soil to bring forth good crops. He then points out that spreaders of the Gospel have similar problems. Though many will begin living productive lives for God, others harden their hearts and refuse to believe. Some will follow for awhile, but will turn away when the going gets rough. Thistles crowd Him out.

These thistles are excessive ambition, lust, greed, and anything and everything that separates man from his God.

As farmers must rid their fields of these noxious subjects, so must Christians free themselves from tempting, sinful acts. Prayer, Bible reading and church attendance are all good tools the Christian should use.

Then make your life fruitful. Weed out the everyday thistles which retard and damage the good.

Today's look that counts

Have you noticed that the new, short haircuts seem to look so right with the clean, crisp look of tailored clothes? It's no accident.

The trend-setting stylists both here and abroad keep a very close watch on what clothing designers are doing. And, as you know, the big look for this year is the Classics. Both for daytime and evening, the styles that count are well cut, well shaped and beautifully coordinated.

The same thing applies to hair. The looks that count in hairstyling are also well cut and beautifully shaped. They seem to fit right in with casually elegant classic clothes.

The shag of last year, or even the loose, flowing mane that has been so popular, just doesn't seem to fit the feeling of classic clothes.

One of the things that's so great about the new, short cuts is their versatility. You are no longer stuck with a single look as was so often the case with short cuts of the past.

Short hair 1973 vintage is most adaptable. Bangs, in particular, are part of most of the new coifs, and they really have a way of flattering! Wear them straight down, brushed to the side, or flipped up for a beautiful new look.

And here's an added bonus: most of the short looks are quite easy to care for, especially when you use pinked "Scotch" hair set tape to do the job.

With hair so short, rollers are out. And clips too often leave tell-tale marks. So the answer for smooth setting and shaping, as well as convenience, is Scotch hair set tape.

Bedroom Decoration Draws Criticism

By Bruce Bennett
CHICAGO — In an ill-advised effort to create an avant garde bedroom style, interior designers occasionally lose sight of the positive advantages of scientifically-developed back support systems.

In recent months, consultants associated with the Sealy Research Center in Chicago have noted that some designers, more interested in style than in the health benefits of orthopedically-approved back support, have suggested elimination of the traditional box springs.

To achieve a stylish look, mattresses have been placed directly on the floor, on wooden or cement blocks, or on hard wood platform bases. "That may be style," state Sealy researchers, "but back support is a medical concern that should not be subject to fads and trends."

Dr. Robert G. Addison, assistant professor of orthopedics for the Northwestern University Medical School and author of the book Living With Your Bad Back, explains that medically sound back support systems begin with a firm mattress, and these come in various grades and a choice of innerspring or latex foam. "The function of the box spring foundation combined with a top-quality mattress," states Addison, "is to provide extra buoyancy and support. The box spring is much like the shock absorbers on the family car. It enables the mattress to conform to shifting body weight during the night's rest."

According to Addison, who is one of the medical authorities consulted by the Sealy Research Center in the development of the Posturepedic line of sleep products, modern mattresses and box springs are scientifically designed to work together. The effectiveness of the back support system is considerably reduced when the correct foundation is missing, he says.

Think young and look it, with special face lifts

Take heart, mature ladies — there's new hope for housewives with sagging

Hairstyles go to lengths you like

Let's face it, what's new today always borrows a bit from the "new" of yesterday and the dreams of tomorrow.

Some like it long, whether it be in hair style or clothes style. The trend in hair styles today is to the smaller head look, which means shorter hair shaped to the head contour.

The professional hairdresser and stylist through sophisticated training and continuous refresher courses know how to create the best possible look for the woman who wants to look her best with the length of hair she prefers.

In clothes fashion, the designer's most important step is in cutting the pattern to achieve the effects that will be attractive on a woman's form. The same is true in hairdressing, where the hair cut is of primary importance as it is the basis for any good hair style.

Today, more than ever, the cut is the thing and with a good haircut, many people find that they don't even have to set their hair to make it look good.

This is the wash and wear age, and the new haircuts have been developed by professionals to let you do just that with your hair.

What is important today is that women have a lot of talented people working for their best interests... chemists, cosmetologists and manufacturers... all devoted to research and the development of products that will enhance, condition and preserve the beauty of woman's crowning glory, her hair.

The record marathon for non-stop barbering was 80 hours (610 heads) set by a Swedish barber in 1970.

"Water is the most healing of all remedies, and the best of all cosmetics," Arabic Proverb

Among women in modern times, the smallest recorded waist size was a reputed 13 inches. The possessor of this famous figure was a 20th century French actress, Mile. Polaire.

faces, bejeweled dowagers, and eye-wrinkled, over-forty career gals, all in the person of one Mark Traynor, magician of cosmetology who developed "instant" face-lifts.

Mark's technique is not nearly as drastic or expensive as a surgical one, instead it is easy, quick, inexpensive and, best of all, can be applied at home by the lady herself.

Mark Traynor, noted beauty authority, has been responsible for saving more than one Hollywood personality's "camera face."

The Traynor face-lifts were developed to offer temporary tightening of sagging areas of the face. They are ideal for "facing-up" to very special occasions.

The face-lifts consist of thin, elastic cords with loops. The ends have small removable plastic, transparent squares. They are applied to the side of the face, the cords are fastened at the top of the head and then the hair is brought around toward the face to cover the tapes.

As Mr. Traynor says, "The mature woman can look self-assured, self-confident and certainly years younger."

He adds, "Indeed, today's mature woman lives in an exciting area where beauty techniques and newly acquired scientific approaches are so amazing as to be almost unbelievable. Today's over forty lady is limited only by the amount of time and energy she is willing to spend on the process of developing her own personal beauty."

BEFORE: This mature, fiftyish career gal's face presented an interesting challenge. While her basic features were good, they certainly had not been put to best advantage. Mark Traynor, together with his chief makeup artist, Douglas Marvaldi, felt they could perform "uplifting" cosmetology, and whisk away the years.

AFTER: This unretouched photograph clearly shows Mark Traynor's talent to literally take years off a lady's face. With the two face-lifts applied and cleverly concealed by wisps of hair brought around the face, the photo shows how proper makeup application can cover defects and enhance basic good features.

Banker Talks On Nation's Economy

Economic conditions in the Texas Panhandle as well as in the nation as a whole, and how the local scene is affected by national conditions, was the subject discussed by Harlan VanderZee, president of Hereford State Bank, as guest speaker to La Plata Study Club Tuesday evening.

Mrs. W.D. Askew was hostess in her home, and after the program club members enjoyed a tour of the rooms to see numerous paintings done by Mrs. Askew and hung on the walls.

VanderZee talked of current national trends, especially the problems posed by inflation, and reviewed briefly the national budget for the coming year.

Speaking of local business conditions, he emphasized the effect of the cattle industry on the area's economy. In the nation as well as in West Texas, he said, raw materials make up the principal economic asset and agriculture is the most important industry.

Mrs. VanderZee was in charge of the program and introduced her husband as speaker. She conducted a short business session and announced that the next meeting, Oct. 1, will be in the home of Mrs. Jay Boston.

Members present included Mmes. Raymond White, Don Taylor, Major Schroeter, Nancy Richie, Frank Prowell, Elmer Patterson, J.D. Neill, Lewis McCuistian, O.G. Nieman, Ansel McDowell, Charles Kelley, Emil Dettman, Jack Brown and Doug Bartlett.

David Wiggins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wiggins of Box 8 in Summerfield, has enrolled in Lubbock Christian College (LCC) for the fall semester as a sophomore corporation finance major.

Wiggins is a 1973 graduate of Hereford High School.

Lubbock Christian College, a fully accredited senior college offering liberal arts and professional programs, has a student body of over 1100. Located on the west side of Lubbock, the college's main campus consists of fourteen modern, permanent buildings and a half-dozen temporary structures.

The average American wants inflation of his income and deflation of everything else.

Watson Marches In State Fair Parade

A Hereford youth was among over one hundred members of New Mexico Military Institute's cadet band, drill team and color guard which marched at the head of the 1974 New Mexico State Fair Parade held last Saturday in Albuquerque.

The local man who participated in the parade was Cadet Raymond O. Watson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Watson of 216 Northwest Drive. NMMI's president, Colonel C. Robert Keimble, USA Ret., accepted the State Fair Parade Committee's third consecutive invitation to lead the parade on behalf of the three cadet organizations early last month. Donations by the NMMI Alumni Association support the Institute contingent's participation.

Dr. Kemble has personally, and officially, expressed NMMI's appreciation for the eighty-piece marching band, a twenty-four man Goss Rifles Precision Marching Drill Team, and five-man color guard to take their places in the parade line of state-wide organizations, institutions, businesses and concerns. Dr. Kemble noted his conviction that, as representatives of both NMMI and Roswell, the three cadet organizations were determined to reflect the proud infantry tradition of marching, which is so much a part of the Institute way of life.

The Goss Rifles Precision Drill Team has built a formidable record in their competitions. For the last five years in a row, NMMI's Goss Rifles Precision Marching Drill Team has earned championship honors competing against senior college drill teams the nation wide. Captain John Fortner's A and B teams performed over thirty times during 1972-73 while on the way to a record number of trophies won in a single year. After appearances in the 1972 State Fair Parade, the 1972 Eastern New Mexico Fair, on the Wool Bowl gridiron, and in honor guard receptions, the teams journeyed to the West Texas State Invitational, and the Governor of Arizona Invitational Drill Meets. In both meets the cadets made a complete sweep of the first-placetrophies in the West Texas State Invitational, and the Governor of Arizona Invitational Drill Meets. In both meets the cadets made a complete sweep of the first-place trophies in the Regulation, Exhibition, Inspection, and, of course, Sweepstakes phases.

At the Governor of Arizona Drill Meet in Tempe, as the defending champions, the Goss Rifles listed their 1971 and 1972 performances as their competition. The result was a near sweep of the meet. At the awards banquet held the evening of the meet, the team received five trophies, including the meet's Sweepstakes Trophy.

In 1971, the cadets won the second-place overall trophy at the Texas State Championship Meet, and then netted an invitation to the National Drill Competition Meet and Cherry Blossom Festival Parade. So flawless was their show in Washington that the team returned to the hill with the National First Place Showmanship Trophy.

Personnel Attend Workshop

Twenty teachers and administrators from Hereford attended a Texas State Teachers Association (TSTA) District XVI workshop in Amarillo last week. Wayne Johnson of Shamrock, district president, called the assembly together and introduced the keynote speaker, Larry Yawn of Austin. Yawn is president elect of TSTA and delivered an address entitled "This Is What We Want The Workshop To Mean To You."

The group fragmented for discussions in several areas after the main program. Among the committees were legislative, membership, public relations, education and professional standards, professional rights and responsibilities, human relations and personal services.

Those attending from here were Ronnie Wood, Nancy Stewart, Bill McDowell, Sue Szydiolki, Louise Witkowski, Carolyn Waters, Kay White, Dr. Roy Hartman, Pat Hughes, Bobby Boyd, Gene Brock, Jim Holmes, Lovelyn Hughes, Eugene Barkowsky, Mary Hale, Orinda Eikman, Janice Galley, Marie Stringer, Sidney Kerr and Mal Manchec.

County Notes Rise In Retirement Incomes

Deaf Smith County's economy is being favorably affected these days by the sizeable amount of money flowing into the area for social security beneficiaries.

The latest figures show that no less than $2,988,000 a year is now coming in, much more than in former years.

The growth is the result of periodic amendments to the law, which have brought more people under coverage and have increased the size of the monthly checks to retirees.

The findings are contained in the annual report of the Social Security Administration. It lists, for every county in the United States, the number of people on the retirement rolls and the payments to them, as of the beginning of this year.

Nationally, the figures show, over 80 million workers, equivalent to about 90 per cent of the labor force, are now in the program.

As for the beneficiaries, approximately 30 million Americans, one out of every seven people, are receiving checks each month. The payout to them is at the rate of $51 billion a year.

IN DEAF SMITH County, pension payments at year end were at the annual rate of $1,464 per beneficiary, in contrast to the 1971 rate of $1,113.

The overall payments to the local area, $2,988,000 in the year, represent a marked increase over the $2,028,000 that was paid previously.

The rise, 47.3 per cent, compares with 41.6 per cent rise in the United States and with 43.7 per cent in the State of Texas.

The escalation of benefits over the years has necessitated frequent increases in payroll taxes to pay for them.

The point has been reached, for millions of workers, where the amount being deducted from their wages for social security purposes comes to more than their Federal income taxes.

Successful living, which few of us acquire, depends upon simple things.

If in doubt, do a favor for the person who refused to do one for you.

Change Suggested For Beef Grading

BY BOB PRICE
U.S. Congressman

A significant portion of the economy of the 13th Congressional District is directly affected by the health of the beef producing industry, and nearly every consumer is interested in quality beef at reasonable prices.

Technological changes in the cattle feeding industry now enable high eating quality at a younger and leaner age. Changes in the grading system could benefit consumers and producers by enabling an increased volume of tender beef to be marketed at reduced feeding costs.

The Department's proposal would enable slightly leaner beef to qualify for the top grades and establish a more restrictive "good" grade. It would also require that beef be graded for yield (percentage of retail cuts) as well as quality, and make the eating quality within each grade more uniform.

(the flecks of fat within, the lean), maturity (the age of the animal when slaughtered) and conformation (the shape of the carcass).

The major purposes change may be summarized as follows: conformation would be eliminated as a determining factor and all carcasses would be graded for yield as well as quality; and in the "good" grade, the minimum marbling requirement will be increased for younger carcasses, narrowing the range by about one-third, while for other grades less marbling would be required for cattle under 30 months of age.

In general, increases in marbling improve the eating quality of beef, but increases in maturity have the opposite effect. Conformation does not affect eating quality but is used to indicate yield.

A recent development affecting this industry is the proposed revision of the beef grading system by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. I suggested earlier that the system be revised to include the upper one-third of beef now graded "good" in the "choice" category by placing less emphasis upon maturity and enabling younger cattle with less fat to receive the higher

GRADES ARE presently based primarily upon marbling

The proposed standards have been published in the Federal Register and USDA is receiving comment until Dec. 10. Comments may be submitted, in duplicate, to the Office of the Hearing Clerk, Room 112 Administration Building, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Hopefully this grade revision will achieve the desired goal of increased beef consumption at less cost. If so, it should benefit the cattle feeding industry and consumers as well.

CANADA AGAIN opened its doors to beef imports although it still demands certification that the cattle have been raised without the use of the growth promotant DES. This action should provide U.S. cattle raisers and feeders with a broadened market.

MEAT IMPORTS into the U.S. were down for July, 44 per cent below July of last year and the lowest point since November, 1969. Most of this decline was due to reduced imports from New Zealand and Australia where USDA negotiators worked for voluntary reductions. The negotiators said pressure from myself and others in the Congress and the industry for a total ban of beef imports proved an effective tool in the negotiations.

Veterans recently separated from military service should check the timetable on certain benefits to make sure they don't lose out through oversight, the Veterans Administration advises. For example, veterans have 120 days to convert, without physical examination, their Servicemen's Group Life Insurance to the new Veterans Group Life Insurance.

Small Talk

By KERRIE WOMBLE
Brand Staff Writer

WE'RE PINCH-HITTING again without Sue and Atha, who have traveled to the region west of Denver to visit the latter's kith and kin.

That part of the world has already seen considerable snows while the southern coasts have been threatened by hurricane conditions. According to Mrs. Arlie Dean, Hurricane Carmen passed directly over the home of her niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Easley of Morgan City, La., while they were visiting her recently.

On their way here, the Easleys' picked up Mrs. Dean's sister, Winnie Leverett of Odessa. Mrs. Leverett remained in Hereford several days after the Easleys departed.

MRS. CORA JOHNSON, who has submitted several pieces of poetry to The Brand over the years, has bound her favorite literature selections into a book, Things That Abide and the Twenty-Third Psalm. The 120-page book is a major accomplishment considering the facts that the author is more than 80 years old and has never had a formal education. Besides poetry and prose, the publication includes a song, "That Beautiful Home," composed by Mrs. Johnson.

An autograph party will honor Mrs. Johnson Sunday afternoon from 2:30-4:30 at Community Center. The public is cordially invited to attend the get-together, which will be held in the lobby near the west entrance.

JUSTON McBRIDE wants the local "fem faction" to know they are welcome to go along on the crops tour which will cover this area Tuesday. Many facets of the agriculture industry will be discussed and should prove interesting to all persons.

Interested women should gather on the Museum's parking lot at 1:15 Tuesday afternoon. Those going on the tour have the option of riding a school bus or traveling in private vehicles. The mapped route should be covered before 5 p.m.

WORD HAS been received that Cynthia Hanna, daughter of the Grant Hannas of Route 4 and product of Hereford, will be transferring from her position in Van Zandt County as assistant county agent. Miss Hanna will be relocated in Upshur County where she will be extension agent in home economics.

Cynthia's new title was earned by her outstanding record in Van Zandt County. During her tenure there, the 4-H program added five clubs and noted a large membership growth. She served as superintendent of the youth division of the county fair. She also assisted in planning the remodeling of a women's building, presenting community programs about housing and foods and with other projects.

The former Hereford girl will be stationed in Gilmer at the Courthouse and will be responsible for 4-H, home demonstration, community improvement, the Yamboree and working with two agriculture extension agents.

Cynthia was an outstanding 4-H member in Deaf Smith County. She graduated from Texas Women's University.

PARDON THE PUN, but, just off the top of my head, the "new" television line-up seems old hat. Despite a bombardment of advertisements promising a "better than ever" season, the samples so far have been humdrum.

Some jewels, like Carl Sandburg's Lincoln portrayed by Hal Holbrook and Fiddler On The Roof, were lost in the shuffle of old super cop shows... and new super cop shows. Of course, the entire roster of TV viewing does not dwell on law enforcement proceedings. The other samplings fall into two categories—social satire and nostalgic longings for those over-rated good old days.

The good old days can include almost any era apparently, as long as it is peopled by strong, clear thinking, honest individuals. Those candy coated "Happy Days" are offset by a dark portrait of the 50's, "Sons And Daughters." Westerns are no longer typified by cowboys and Indians; "Little House On The Prairie" and "The New Land" are incorporating characters who are abundantly overflowing with the milk of human kindness. The Walton clan continue to set their show apart from the others, and they do it superbly.

The social satire comedies, spawned by "All In The Family," are devoted to reflecting those "bad young days," if you catch my drift. Most of these money-grabbing shows are witty and entertaining, but tend to be obsessed with a few select subjects.

Society is lightly (and expertly) razed in current hits such as Mary Tyler Moore's gang, which begot "Rhoda." MTM's professional aptitude for sharing the limelight carries her program into one of the best models for clever comedy. Plus, Miss Moore has made several subtle strides for female roles in the media by presenting a realistic picture of an independent woman earning her own living. And again, she does it without becoming a spectacle.

All in all, last year's best entertainment won't be bettered by copies.

Area Records 12 Accidents

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 12 accidents on rural highways in Deaf Smith County during the month of August, according to Sergeant W.E. Wells, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in one person killed and eight persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first eight months of 1974 shows a total of 60 accidents resulting in six persons killed and 24 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for August shows a total of 542 accidents resulting in 30 persons killed and 34 persons injured as compared to August, 1973, with 586 accidents resulting in 24 persons killed and 328 persons injured. This was 44 less accidents, six more killed, and 14 less injured in 1974 at the same period of time.

The 30 traffic deaths for the month of August occurred in the following counties: seven in Palo Pinto; three each in Potter, Wheeler, Crosby, and Lubbock; and one each in Armstrong, Childress, Deaf Smith, Hardeman, Hemphill, Parmer, Jack, Lamb, Stonewall, Wichita and Wise.

If you can flick a light switch, you can help make the nation a little less dependent on expensive crude oil imports. Lighting consumes more than 16 percent of all the electricity we use in our homes. So let's shed a little light on how we can conserve.

Most homes are overlit. Why not remove one bulb in three and replace the other two with bulbs of the next lower wattage? This simple step won't hurt you back to the dark ages and it might cause your electricity costs to drop by more than 4 percent.

Traditional incandescent bulbs are between 3 and 4 times less energy-efficient than fluorescent bulbs. Did you know that one 40-watt fluorescent tube provides more light than three 60-watt incandescent bulbs and can save you about $10 per year? So go fluorescent, not only in bathrooms and kitchens, but everywhere you want quality lighting at a lower cost.

Where you use fluorescent lighting, remember that a single long tube is more energy-efficient and economical than two shorter tubes. Similarly, one large incandescent bulb will use less energy and cost you less money to burn than several smaller bulbs.

Consider buying solid-state dimming switches for your incandescent lights. These are not too expensive and you don't have to be a Thomas Edison to install them. They save electricity by allowing you to turn lights up only when necessary. The rest of the time you can dial your lighting to a lower, more energy-efficient level.

Long-life incandescent bulbs are fine for hard to reach places, but they are less efficient than ordinary bulbs. And no lamp or lighting fixture is going to be very efficient if it is not kept clean. Dirt absorbs the light you buy to bring yourself out of the darkness. So keep lamps clean.

Finally, Americans can save lots of electricity if everyone would remember the simple lesson parents have taught children ever since the light bulb was invented. That lesson is: "Last Out, Lights Out."

The 100-watt bulb you leave on all night in an empty room burns a kilowatt hour of electricity. That's about the same amount of energy it takes to lift a 150-pound person to the top of Mount McKinley!

Whether the electricity you use comes from petroleum, coal, or nuclear power, it's not going to become any cheaper.

There's no way out. The era of high cost energy is upon us. If we want to keep those costs down in balancing the family budget, if we want to reduce our dangerous dependence on crude oil imports, we'll have to cut down on our daily energy use. The excess lighting in your home is a good place to start. So remember, "Last Out, Lights Out."

Crop Prices Down... 1973 Was Good Year... Rain Slows Harvest... Many Honored Families

TEXAS FARMERS and ranchers don't have to be told that 1973 was a good year, but this year is another matter. The 1973 prices just haven't held up. Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service says that all farm products price index on August 15 was 13 per cent below last year although three per cent above the same time the previous month. Prices on livestock and livestock products were 35 per cent below last year and seven per cent above the previous month. That means that a beef animal that brought 34.90 cents a pound in August would have brought 54.20 at the same time in 1973. Hogs that brought $36.20 a hundred (up $3.80 over July 15 prices) would have brought $55.80 on August 15, 1973. On the other hand, the price index on all field crops was 21 per cent higher than a year ago. Sorghum at $5.03 a hundred was $1.50 higher than a year ago. Upland cotton that brought 44.2 cents a pound was 9.2 cents above last year. But wheat was 19 cents a bushel—at $4.05—below last year, and $9.80 rice was $1.20 below last year. Corn that brought $2.75 a bushel on August 15, 1973 brought $3.16 on August 15 this year. Corn was only $2.74 a bushel a month earlier.

COMMISSIONER JOHN C. WHITE earlier released figures showing that Texas cash receipts for all crops and livestock in 1973 totaled $6,467,923,000 (that's billions), which has to be a record. Production was better than in 1972, except in rice, pecans and fruits, and possibly a few other minor crops. Livestock cash receipts in 1973 in this State amounted to half of the total, $3,673,825,000, which was an increase of a billion over 1972. Texas, as usual, was first of all the states in the production of cotton, grain sorghum, wool, mohair, watermelon, cabbage, spinach.

MORE RAIN over the State delayed harvesting, and Hurricane Carmen threw a scare into Texans and accounted for a part of the rain. Cotton harvest was judged 16 per cent completed, much farther along than the four per cent harvested at the same time in 1973. Fall plowing of cotton land is well along in the Valley and Gulf Coast. Rain across the Northern High Plains delayed wheat planting, but Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service estimated that four per cent of the planting was complete. Oat planting was not that far along. More than half the grain sorghum has been combined in the State, and peanut harvest is about a quarter complete and also delayed by rain. Most of the first 1973 rice crop has gone to market.

BEFORE AUGUST 31, the deadline for entering farms and ranches in Texas Department of Agriculture's Family Land Heritage Program, over 1,200 inquiries had been received. As checking of the mass of mail and applications continues, more than 500 Texas farms and ranches have qualified. Those families who have owned and used their farms and ranches 100 years or longer are qualified for the honor. As has been announced previously, special recognition will be given those families during State Fair ceremonies in October.

TEXAS COMMERCIAL slaughter plants reported 211 million pounds of red meat produced during July, which is an eight per cent increase over June's production and 13 per cent more than in July, 1973. The 1,341,000,000 pounds produced in Texas for the first seven months of the year was five per cent more than for the same seven months in 1973.

More College Students Enroll In Agricultural Courses Now

The number of farms in the U.S. may be dropping, but more and more college students are taking agricultural courses these days.

Enrollment in the nation's agricultural schools has more than doubled in the past decade, rising from 34,952 undergraduates to 73,644 last fall.

In contrast to ag students of yesteryear, today's is apt to have a non-farm background. Last fall's incoming class at Purdue University included 60 percent with urban backgrounds and 40 percent with rural.

Women students in agricultural schools—once a rarity—now make up about 20 percent of the enrollment nationwide.

Why the increased interest in agriculture? Some school officials believe it reflects young people's concern for the environment and natural resources.

To match students' growing interest, many agricultural schools have beefed up their curriculum and added courses that didn't exist 10 or 15 years ago.

Foods Tailored For Elderly Under Research

Foods tailored to meet the special nutritional needs of the elderly may be available in the future if an Oklahoma agricultural research scientist has his way.

Dr. James Mickle of Oklahoma State University's Agricultural Experiment Station has already developed one such product and is working on others.

In a preliminary study of typical supermarket foods, he found that most of them are too high in carbohydrates and too low in protein to fill the nutritional needs of the elderly. Many of the readily available foods contain up to 15 percent sugar and less than 2 1/2 percent protein.

The Oklahoma scientist has come up with a baked custard designed to be sold as a dry mix to which water can be added before cooking. Such a mix is not commercially available now, so tasty recipes that were popular 40 to 80 years ago were collected and used in formulating test foods.

Congress Bites Bullet

By LLOYD BENTSEN
United States Senator

I am convinced that this year Congress will make substantial reductions in Federal spending as part of the effort to ease the threat of rising prices and restore economic stability.

Cutting government spending is always difficult because of the importance of individual programs to different sections of the country and to the nation as a whole. Despite the difficulties, however, Congress has already made some hard decisions on where our resources should best be allocated — and where they could be cut.

Former President Nixon proposed a $305 billion budget at the beginning of this year. To date, the Senate has reduced the appropriations in this budget by $5.5 billion in approving seven of the 12 basic appropriations bills. Budget cuts will also be made in the remaining five appropriations bills, but until we can more closely examine the specific provisions of each measure we can't estimate what or how much will be trimmed.

Besides voting for the $5.5 billion in budget cuts already approved by the Senate, I have personally voted to reduce spending even further, by almost one-half billion dollars more. And I am seeking further reductions.

This week I recommended that the Senate cut appropriations for the Federal Aid Highway Bill by some $185 million, out of a total of $716 million, through fiscal 1976.

As Chairman of the Senate Transportation Subcommittee and author of the measure, I am well aware of the need for completing our nation's Interstate Highway System and adding new highways in urban and rural areas.

However, I am equally aware that restraint must be exercised in all areas of government spending.

In my recommendations, I attempted to defer projects which could be deferred and to scale down others. Among those which would be reduced are the program for access roads to Federal lakes and a special bridge replacement program. One project, to repair bridges leading to the Florida Keys, would be funded at a much slower pace than planned.

Congress is more than willing to bite the bullet in accordance with President Gerald Ford's call for reduced government spending. We have already made some substantial cuts, with more to come.

BUT THIS IS only the first step we must take to curb spiraling inflation. The fight must take place on many other fronts if we are to succeed in restoring our economy to full health so that the lives of wage earners, housewives, small businessmen, farmers and all other Americans can be improved.

We need positive action. And we need action now. The Federal Reserve Board should ease its tight money policy and help bring interest rates back down to earth so we can increase production of items in short supply. We should also channel scarce loan money to such depressed industries as homebuilding and away from such non-productive enterprises as corporate takeovers.

We should promote research and development programs in such areas as food production and we should expand job training programs to boost productivity.

I was pleased that President Ford endorsed my call for a task force to monitor wages and prices. Congress quickly responded by giving him authority to create the agency. It is needed to keep track of price increases and wage settlements and, even more importantly, to advise government when its actions are inflationary.

MOST IMPORTANT in this effort to stabilize the economy, we need leadership. We need guidance from the top to give us the unvarnished facts of our economic dilemma and a clear sense of direction.

Congress has taken steps to cut federal spending as a vital first step in our nation's fight against inflation. Although it is only a first and a single step, without it all the others would be meaningless.

Formby Greet Tech Advisors

The Advisory Committee of Texas Tech Department of Mass Communications was welcomed Friday by Clint Formby, chairman of the Texas Tech Board of Regents and ex-officio member of the committee.

The committee includes professional representatives of the fields in journalism, advertising and telecommunications.

The committee keeps the Tech department in touch with the communications industry.

"Members provide feedback information which helps the department better prepare students for their roles in mass communications, according to Dr. Billy L. Ross, department chairman.

The day's activities, which began at 9 a.m., included a visit to the construction site of the new mass communications building and discussions with its architects.

The advisors heard reports on enrollment in the department,
