

Businesses to close for holiday, paper deadline upped

Adjustments made in long distance telephone rates

An adjustment of long distance telephone rates within Texas, announced on July 31 but deferred because of the wage-price freeze, has been authorized by the Price Commission in Washington and went to effect at 12:01 a. m. Wednesday. The new telephone rates feature reduced charges for most "one-plus" dialing and increased rates for operator-assisted calls within Texas. Mike Patrick, manager for Southwestern Bell here, said the adjustment should increase the company's intra-state revenue by about 2 percent.

Also being introduced along with the new rate for one-plus dialing are:
—A new one-minute initial period of night (11 p.m. to 8 a.m.) "one-plus" calls which do not require services of an operator;
—New rates for all operator-assisted calls (station-to-station, person-to-person, credit card, coin, third number and collect) during all calling periods;

—New rate periods (day, evening, night, and weekend) "one-plus" calls.
These time periods are the same as now in effect for calls going outside Texas. The telephone manager pointed out that two holidays, Labor Day and July 4, are being added to the list of days on which reduced rates apply, for "one-plus" calls within Texas. The new "one-plus" rate also will be available in cities in which are now equipped for "one-plus" when a station-to-station call is charged to the telephone from which the call is made. But this rate will not apply to station collect calls, credit card calls, calls charged to a third number call or station calls made from coin telephones.

With most of the city's businesses closing this weekend to observe the New Year's holiday the deadline for the Sunday Brand advertising and news has been moved up to allow Brand employees the opportunity to have the holiday off.

The deadline for the classified and display advertising has been moved up to 5 p.m. today and the deadline for the news is 11 a.m. Friday.

The Brand will be closed Saturday as will the majority of other businesses throughout the city.

The post office will close at noon Friday although normal delivery will be provided that day. On Saturday, New Year's Day, the post office will provide special delivery service only.

City Hall will close all day Friday, as will the banking institutions and the court house.

The closing of the court house means Thursday will be the last day on which persons can get their 1 per cent discount on county taxes, according to Neil Miller, county tax assessor-collector. If a person is unable to get to the court house on Thursday, they can send their payment through the mail and it will be accepted for the discount if it is postmarked by Thursday.

Stores and shops in Downtown and at Sugarland Mall will observe the holiday by closing on Saturday.

Beet banquet is postponed 'til February

The annual Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers annual meeting and banquet have been postponed for a month due to the late harvest of this year's crop.

The business meeting will be held Feb. 11 at 2 p.m. in the Community Center and the banquet will be at 7 p.m., Feb. 12 in the Bull Barn.

The business meeting was originally scheduled for Jan. 7 and the banquet for Jan. 8.

Testimony taken in $332,000 suit

Depositions were taken from eight persons Tuesday as pre-trial proceedings got underway in the $332,000 law suit filed against the county in the Sept. 22 drowning death of a Hereford man on a county road.

John Broadfoot, the attorney representing the plaintiff, and Ed Line and Oscar Fields, representing the county, met with the eight prospective witnesses Tuesday in a session that lasted more than four hours.

Depositions were taken from Earl Holt, county commissioner of the precinct in which the accident occurred; Orland Newell, road superintendent; Roy Marion, officer with the Department of Public Safety; Dan Walker of the sheriff's department; Sheriff Travis McPherson and deputies Gai, Gillespie, Leon Gorell and Dean Butcher.

Line said the purpose of taking depositions is to see what certain people know about the circumstances surrounding the case and what a particular person will say in the trial.

A date for the trial has not been set.

The suit, filed in late October, named the county judge and the county commissioners as the defendants in the drowning death of Joe Benavidez.

Benavidez was found drowned on Sept. 22, more than 24 hours after he was last seen on his way to work at a local feed yard. His pickup truck was found in a flooded creek bed and Benavidez' body was found several hundred yards downstream.

Broadfoot, in filing the suit for Benavidez, through his wife, contended the county was negligent in not putting up warning signs at the creek where it crossed the county road.

Signs were put up, but it was apparently done after the accident.

Broadfoot arrived at the $332,000 figure by saying the deceased made about $5,000 per year and had a life expectancy of 46.3 years left in which to earn that amount. Also, he said the wife of the dead man is entitled to $100,000 for loss of companionship in addition to $2,000 in funeral expenses.

Heavy rains during the night of the mishap caused the Tierra Blanca Creek to swell out of its banks and across the county road.

Search teams searched for Benavidez for about 24 hours before his body was found about 9:30 a.m., Sept. 23. He was reported about 9 a.m., Sept. 22 after he failed to show up for work.

A search was started immediately after he was reported missing and a spare tire for his pickup was found that afternoon.

MCMLXXI--looking back on a very good year

Nineteen hundred and seventy-one was a year of many happenings in Deaf Smith County and Hereford, Tex.

It was a year of continued growth, expanding school facilities and programs. It was the first year of a new decade following the 60s when this county and city grew in leaps and bounds.

And, while the city's growth continued, so surfaced its ugly features. But, all-in-all, 1971 was perhaps one of the most memorable years in the history of this county.

The following is a month-by-month summary of the comings and goings of Deaf Smith County during the past 365 days.

The first six months of the year will be carried in this paper and the follow-up in Sunday's paper.

JANUARY

Some $5,137,800 in building permits were issued in 1970, making it the second highest construction producing 12 months in the history of the city of Hereford. The results of the past year were made available following the issuance of the final building permit on the last day of December.

David Baze, 12, 207 Star, was reported to be in satisfactory condition Saturday at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo where he is being treated for injuries received Thursday when he was struck by a car.

The Hereford Volunteer Fire Department broke a 20-year-old record Tuesday, answering eight fire alarms within an eight-hour period.

A 19-year-old Hereford youth remained in the county jail Wednesday on charges of rudely displaying a fire arm. Joe Benavidez of 216 Catalpa was arraigned Tuesday before corporate judge J. D. Neill who set his fine at $50.

Dist. Atty. Jerry Tucker resigned Saturday to return to the fulltime practice of law at Dumas. In a statement released jointly to news media in Hereford and Dumas, Tucker said the pace of his duties had accelerated sharply since he has been in office, without an accompanying rise in compensation.

A 48-hour surveillance by members of the sheriff's office, Department of Public Safety, and Texas Rangers resulted in the arrest of a 33-year-old Amarillo man Friday evening and the seizure of an estimated $40,000 in crude marijuana. Some 650 persons attended the annual Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce banquet and rose to their feet in a standing ovation as Hugh Clearman, a 30-year resident of the city and an active civic leader, was honored as the "Citizen of the Year".

Sheriff's officers arrested two Littlefield men Monday and said it appears the suspects are linked with a group that has victimized grain elevator operators in this area and adjoining states of a million dollars or more in the past eight years.

FEBRUARY

Mexican-American residents, who have turned out in record numbers to register to vote in 1971, will seek to put people of their race in several public offices in the near future, an advisor for the Chicano organization said this week.

The regional director of the Panhandle Regional Planning commission feels that "one of these days Hereford is going to find itself isolated" from the many valuable things it could be a part of, because of its refusal to join the organization.

Hereford was designated this week as one of three delivery points in the country for the milk futures contracts to be traded on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange, it was disclosed by Ed Schroeter, Commodity Futures broker for Rufenacht, Bromagen and Hertz, Inc.

A television monitoring system has been installed at the Hereford Fire Department as a precautionary measure in keeping constant surveillance on the building and the equipment.

Mexican-Americans crowded around the Public Health Clinic

Friday carrying signs protesting the firing of two aides of their nationality.

A false delivery alarm from an expectant mother, straying cattle, stranded motorists and accidents spotted the High Plains Monday as area residents began digging their way out of one of the worst blizzards in more than a decade.

Hereford attorney Wayne Thomas was named by Gov. Preston Smith to head the Coordinating Board for Texas Colleges and Universities.

Estimates on the number of cattle lost as a result of last week's blizzard range from $100,000 to $1 million in deaths and close to $2 million in profit loss from weight the animals lost.

MARCH

The city commission struck a double blow for the pocketbook Monday night by raising salaries of all city employees and slashing city taxes by 14 per cent.

City police officers and members of the sheriff's department this week continue their investigation into a weekend burglary of Gibson's Discount Store in which an estimated $5,000 in merchandise and money was stolen.

The ease with which 20th century cattle rustlers have gone about their evil deeds may well be over. Cattle raisers in a five-county area attended a meeting here and plans were laid to come up with a 15-man committee to look into the problems facing cattle raisers in the Panhandle.

Auto mechanic class ok'd

The Texas Employment Commission and the Texas Education Agency have announced the approval of an automobile mechanic training project under the Manpower Development Act that will be carried out here under the direction of the Hereford school system.

The project is another of several being offered by TEC and TEA in Hereford. Other projects include automobile painting and repair, nurse's aide classes and other automobile-related classes.

The new class will begin Jan. 24, 1972 and will run 39 weeks until Oct. 20, 1972.

Persons interested in applying for the project can make application at the Texas Employment Commission at 403 W. Seventh. Those eligible for the class are those persons who are unemployed or underemployed who are 18 years of age or older and who desire to do automobile mechanic work.

Trainees who are heads of families can receive up to $42 per week plus $5 per week for each dependent up to six dependents during the course of the project. Trainees under 22 years of age may receive $42 per week and travel allowances are paid to trainees who commute to the training facility.

Those who enroll in the class must attend eight hours a day, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and training will be conducted Monday through Friday of each week.

Training will be given in skills and knowledge that will enable trainees to enter the occupation of automobile mechanic at the entry level then progress efficiently.

The Texas Employment Commission will give job placement service to those trainees who complete the course.

Purse returned, benefactor lost

Faith in human honesty was given a big boost for Mrs. Joe Ed Andrews just before Christmas, when a purse she had lost was returned by a stranger who took some pains to find her and then refused a reward.

There is an element of mystery in the story, too; later efforts by the Andrews to find their benefactor have not been successful.

Mrs. Andrews, who lives in the Frio community, had her Christmas spirit dampened

Thursday when she discovered the purse had been stolen from her locked car which was parked on a Hereford street. It contained not only several credit cards, but money from a check she had just cashed, a gift from her father.

So she was happily surprised Friday when the purse was returned by a Spanish-speaking man who told her his children had found it in a ditch beside the road near their home about 20 miles north of Hereford. Its contents were intact.

In her excitement at getting the purse back she failed to get more information than the man's name, Zamarripa, but she did offer him a reward which he and his wife, who accompanied him, refused.

They told her they had come to Hereford a short time ago but he had failed to find work and planned to return to Chihuahua, Mexico. They were living with friends on a farm in this county. Unable to speak English, they had enlisted the help of a neighbor to find the Andrews home.

When Andrews heard his wife's report that the couple had refused a cash reward, he attempted to find them and offer Zamarripa a farm job, but although he speaks Spanish and inquired at a number of places in the general location, he has not been able to locate the honest man.

Little Jeanne Hair, who just 24 hours before the County Spelling Bee didn't know if she was even going to enter, outspelled six other contestants Friday to earn the right to represent Deaf Smith County in the district Spelling Bee in Amarillo.

Gov. Preston Smith signed into law this week the bill to create a criminal district attorney in Deaf Smith County and turned it over to Secretary of State Martin Dies to determine the filing dates for the May 18 election.

The city of Hereford Thursday received its first check from the city sales tax in the amount of $51,109.67, considerably more than what was expected, city manager Dudley Bayne said.

APRIL

Hereford High School won its ninth straight sweepstakes in band Tuesday afternoon in Amarillo, adding a "I" rating in concert and sightreading to their top mark of last fall in marching. The achievement came despite a jump from class AAA to Class AAAA that meant moving up to a considerably harder list of music to play.

Voters in the Hereford Independent School district returned Dr. A. T. Mims and Hilrey Aven to new six-year terms on the School Board Saturday.

A new $40,000 airport terminal, the second major city project this year resulting from the city sales tax, will be in operation in Hereford by this fall, city manager Dudley Bayne disclosed this week.

A local minister told his congregation this week that he fears the national outcry over the conviction of Lt. William Calley has arisen from a high pitch of emotionalism instead of reason. The protest has been carried to such a degree that people have lined up in large numbers for something that is not really a key issue, according to Dr. Gerald Mann, pastor of First Baptist Church.

The Panhandle's first large scale inter-denominational evangelistic crusade, featuring a host of celebrities from the fields of religion, sports and television, will be held June 20-24 at the high school football field here.

A Hereford man and a Summerfield man were released Friday from the county jail on $2,500 bond each after they were arrested Thursday night on charges of possible possession of marijuana.

County Attorney Andy Shuval disagreed in county court Tuesday with a dismissal ruling by County Judge H. C. Williams on a matter of law, touching off an angry exchange of words and an apparent near-brush with a contempt of court charge.

The tornado that sneaked into Hereford Sunday night and ambushed a portion of the city's industrial and residential section wasn't severe enough to qualify as a disaster area, state and federal officials agreed Wednesday. The tornado caused an estimated $2.5 million in damages in its north-to-south trek through the city. It mercifully stayed within a one-block-wide strip and apparently off the ground.

It missed the Deaf Smith County Hospital by only half a block. Twenty-five homes and 22 mobile homes were destroyed. Some 15 homes were damaged and six businesses suffered heavy damage. Twenty persons were injured, none seriously. Only five were admitted to the hospital and all had been dismissed by late Tuesday.

A $220,000 construction program to add a 22-bed wing to the Westgate hospital unit of Kings Manor retirement home here is expected to begin soon, after announcement Monday of a Hill-Burton federal grant for half the amount, according to Dr. John English, executive director. Central Elementary School may well become Hereford's second non-graded school if funds are okayed by the Texas Education Agency.

City Manager Dudley Bayne said this week the tornado sirens that failed in their attempts to alert local residents to the approaching tornado Monday morning, definitely need updating.

The long drought, helped in recent months by a healthy cattle market, has swelled area cattle feeding operations to near-capacity. And no let-up is expected this time, local feedlot managers agree.

MAY

Repair work made necessary by the April 12 tornado did little to hike the month's building permit total. The amount invested in construction work reached only $254,930, city figures show.

For the first time in more than 10 years, students in Hereford schools will attend classes on a Saturday. This is being done because of the day missed because of the tornado.

Radio Station KPAN has captured the plaque for outstanding service in the field of soil conservation by a Texas radio station.

The bill to allow the creation of a juvenile board in Deaf Smith County was still on the desk of Gov. Preston Smith Wednesday—still unsigned. It cleared its final legislative hurdle last Thursday and Smith has 12 days to sign it. If he does not sign it by then, it goes into effect automatically.

The High Plains Association of County Sheriffs and Cattlemen took aim at the state's highest offices Thursday in its campaign for a better and more uniform state livestock branding system.

Bob Holman, assistant superintendent for curriculum in the Hereford schools, was sworn in at Austin Friday as one of 15 members of the new State Textbook Committee of the Texas Education Agency.

Gov. Preston Smith Monday signed into law a bill allowing the Deaf Smith County Commissioners to create a juvenile board in Hereford.

The hopes of using leftover federal funds in the Hereford school budget to modernize the top floor of Central Elementary into a non-graded program were scrapped by the Hereford School Board Tuesday night.

The Hereford Rotary Club won the first annual Civic Club Golf Tournament over the local golf course last weekend, with an average score—after handicaps were subtracted—of 72.41, just over the par of 71.

Bill Thompson, manager of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce for more than 12 years, resigned Wednesday to become executive vice president of the Leavenworth, Kan. Chamber of Commerce.

In addition to deciding on four constitutional amendments and the fate of the hospital district, county voters will name either Rex Easterwood or Andy Shuval to the post of criminal district attorney when they go to the polls Tuesday.

Sharon Readhimer, daughter of James Readhimer, and Kevin Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Young, were revealed Friday as the 1971 valedictorian and salutatorian, respectively, during the annual "H" Awards Assembly at the high school.

The city commission, ired by a letter from Santa Fe Railroad's Amarillo office that said the city is responsible for the uncontrolled crossing at Progressive Road, retaliated Monday by deciding to enforce the speed limits of trains going through the city.

In an election preceded by little hubbub, the people of Deaf Smith County have decided they want Andy Shuval for district attorney and favor the creation of a hospital district. Shuval, county attorney for the past seven months, won 10 of the 11 election precincts in sweeping past Rex Easterwood, 1,226 to 882.

A petition with more than 300 names was presented to city and county officials and representatives of Santa Fe Railroad Thursday, complaining about the need for cross arms and warning system at the Progressive Road crossing of the railroad tracks at the east edge of Hereford.

County commissioners began laying the groundwork this week for a reduction in county taxes, since the creation of a hospital district does away with a sizeable amount of revenue that formerly had to be raised. It appeared the county was leaning toward cutting the percentage used in obtaining the assessed valuation, from 24 per cent to perhaps 22 or 20 per cent of actual valuation.

The school system may put a woman onto the Juvenile Board as one of its two appointees to the newly created body, the School Board indicated Thursday morning.

Ira Ricketts, a Hereford pioneer who came to Deaf Smith County in 1900 at the age of 14, was honored Saturday by Radio Station KPAN and other area pioneers as the "Pioneer of the Year."

JUNE

A memorial service will be held at the First United Methodist Church this afternoon for Henry Sears, a civic giant who is largely credited for giant economic strides the city and Deaf Smith County took during the 1960s.

A local highway patrolman suffered an injury on the head Saturday night when someone in a crowd outside a dance hall threw a rock while the officer and others were arresting two men for drunkenness. Don Samuels was treated at Deaf Smith County Hospital and given six stitches to close the wound, which was above his left ear.

Dist. Judge Archie McDonald Thursday ordered the forfeiture of $3,500 bond for Joe Pat Anders, a 39-year-old Anton man who has been linked with the theft of up to $1 million in chemicals over the Panhandle the past several years. Anders' trial was called for Thursday morning but he did not show up.

The city commission, prompted by a sudden outbreak in the number of persons in this county who have been treated for possible rabid animal bites, Monday adopted an add-on ordinance that will alleviate some of the problems being faced by the out-dated animal control ordinance.

An investigation into the discovery of counterfeit $20 bills in the area turned up two such bills in Hereford this week. Larry Wartes, colorful athletic director and head football coach of the Hereford Whitefaces, stepped down Friday to take on an administrative job in the local school system, Larry Dippel, 29, first assistant to Wartes, was named the new AD-head coach.

A 29-year-old Hereford man remained in the county jail late Saturday facing charges on drunk and assault with intent to commit murder following a fight Friday night at an apartment complex in east Hereford. Bond for the man, Henry Wyrick, was not set.

A 150-unit housing project for the elderly that would be controlled by a local housing authority has been proposed for Hereford by an out-of-town concern. A 30-year-old Oklahoman, one of only seven persons in the state to be named to the "Outstanding Young Men in America" list for 1971, was hired by the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce to become its new executive vice-president. He is Jim Lindsey, who has headed the Durant, Okla. chamber for the past two years.

Hospital board members expressed permission this week about the prospects of combined county and hospital district taxes this year being kept below county taxes of the past year. The rising cost of providing hospital care to those who say they are unable to pay probably will necessitate levying taxes for that purpose and rule out any chances that John Q. Hereford will pay less taxes over the next year.

Dale Evans, western television and movie star, leads the list of five appearances by top name celebrities as the Panhandle's first inter-denominational crusade — "Encounter '71"—gets underway to night at 8:30 at Whiteface Stadium.

Frank Barrett, 48, a resident of Hereford since 1955, was named Monday to fill out the unexpired term of city commissioner Roland Barton who resigned.

Two Hereford men remained in county jail Wednesday in lieu of $10,000 bond each after they were arraigned Monday before Justice of the Peace Glen Nelson on charges of murder with malice aforethought. The two men, 41-year-old Wesley High and 36-year-old Alfred High, brothers, were charged with the shooting death of a Plainview man early Sunday near the end of an Emancipation Proclamation Day celebration of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP).

Girls entertain school comrades

Sherri and Kima Marsh, college-aged daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Marsh, entertained and visited with friends of their Hereford High School graduating classes during the holidays when students were home from school.

Sherri, a 1968 HHS graduate who received her degree in elementary education from the University of Arizona last spring, met with a few friends Tuesday evening for dinner at the Caison House.

Girls in the group represented six different universities.

Kima, along with Sara Bell, daughter of the Charles Bells, Monday entertained approximately 30 friends home from college and some who have remained local residents. They were all graduates of the 1971 HHS class.

Kima, a student at the University of Texas at El Paso, and Sara, a Texas Tech student, served sandwiches, chips and dips and Mexican foods buffet style.

The Marsh home was decorated in holiday motif.

Students were present from West Texas State University, Tech in Lubbock, the University of Arlington, Trinity University and Oklahoma State University.

Funeral services for Mrs. Clark held Wednesday

Funeral services for Mrs. Mabel Dell Clark, 80, longtime resident of Van Horn who has lived more than a year at Westgate unit of Kings Manor retirement home here, were conducted Wednesday afternoon in First United Methodist Church at Van Horn.

The Rev. Doud Wofford, pastor, officiated. Burial was in Van Horn Cemetery. Local arrangements were in charge of Gilliland Funeral Home.

Mrs. Clark died Monday at Westgate after a long illness. She came to this county from Van Horn in September, 1970.

Born in Topeka, Kan., Sept. 25, 1891, she was Mabel Dell Main before her marriage Oct. 9, 1911, in Oklahoma City to Fred W. Clark. His death occurred Aug. 1, 1952.

Mrs. Clark moved to Texas in 1910 from Oklahoma. She was a member of the Methodist Church.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Clint Formby of Hereford and Mary Beth Powell of Dallas; a son, Fred Clark of Del Rio; two sisters and seven grandchildren.

For five nights in a row, more than 5,000 persons attended "Encounter '71", lower right, which featured well known entertainment stars. More than 900 persons came forward during the crusade to express a commitment for Christ.

Coffee honors bride-to-be Preceding her marriage to Clint Coneway, Greta Jacobs of Monterey, Calif., was honored at a coffee and shower Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. Earnest Langley.

Mrs. Melville R. Jacobs of Albuquerque, have been visiting in Hereford a few days before the wedding, which will take place this evening in First United Methodist Church here.

Miss Jacobs and her mother, Numerous friends of the prospective bridegroom and his family called at the Langley home to meet his fiancée.

Coffee hostesses included Mmes. Richard Barnard, Elmer Kimball, Earl Holt, Steve McWhorter, Maurice Tannahill, Ansel McDowell, Alton Fraser, Pete Carmichael, Kenny Gearm, Gaylord Newell, Millard Nobles, E.C. Reinauer Sr., Leslie Combs, Trow Mims, D.C. McWhorter and Joe Reinauer Sr.

Guests were received by Mrs. Langley, the honoree and her mother and Lieutenant Coneway's mother, Mrs. R. Paul Coneway. His grandmother, Mrs. Ray Coneway, was seated nearby in the living room to assist in greeting friends also.

Joan Casselman of Chico, Calif., poured coffee from a table set against a window. A footed silver bowl held a circle of daisies centered with a bow of royal blue ribbon, its streamers extending across the table. A similar arrangement in miniature, with a candle burning in the center, decorated the table where Mrs. Steve Coneway registered callers. Holiday decorations through all the rooms added cheerful color. Mrs. Jim Hudgens at the organ played background music.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Edwin Goodall of Breckenridge, Mrs. Bill Luedke of La Crosse, Wis., and Mrs. Bob Reinauer of Jacksonville, Fla.

The 2-year-old filly Rondeau was known as Table Queen when Calumet Farm bought her for $82,000 last August at Saratoga. She was sired by Round Table.

Ragland-Skelton vows read Tuesday evening

A Tuesday evening marriage ceremony in First United Methodist Church united Miss Jo Diane Ragland and Ray Arzell Skelton.

The Rev. W.A. Appling officiated for the ceremony with the church decorated with arrangements of poinsettias and mums on each side of the altar.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. Esther Ragland of Dallas and Joe B. Ragland of New York. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Skelton, 704 Jackson.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, G. O. Kretzinger of Mesquite, as Mrs. Tony Calkins presented wedding professional music from the Sound of Music and One Hand One Heart.

The bride's gown of candlelight satin, which she designed, was empire style with bell sleeves, trimmed in candlelight Irish lace with seed pearls and matching train.

The full length illusion veil was held with a headdress of lace petals and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias and baby red roses and Stephanotis.

Complimenting her bridal costume was an antique opal ring which belonged to her grandmother.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Don Brooks, maid of honor Mrs. Pat Fielden and Mrs. Berry Grubbs, both sisters of the bride.

They wore floor length empire style red satin dresses and carried white muffs of baby red roses and holly. Headbands were bows of red velvet and tulle.

Terry Watson served as best man with Lonnie Skelton and Donnie Skelton as groomsmen. Ushers were Don Brooks and Jim Hudgens. Glynda Grubbs was flower girl; Gary Grubbs and Mike Fielden as ring bearers.

A reception followed the ceremony in the Church Fellowship Hall with Miss Jan Coffman at the registry.

Silver candleabra with red candles complimented the four-tiered cake with red roses and poinsettias as Mrs. Lonnie Skelton and Mrs. Donnie Skelton served it. Mrs. Jim Hudgens and Miss Patsy Giles served punch and coffee.

For a wedding trip to

New Mexico, the bride wore a green crushed velvet pantsuit with white crushed patent accessories. The couple will be at home Jan. 1, 1972 at 236 Elm.

The bride graduated from North Texas State University at Denton and is employed by Hereford Public Schools.

Her husband is a 1957 graduate of Hereford High School and is employed by Suit's Auto Supply.

Out-of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. B.R. Kretzinger, Dallas and Mrs. G. O. Kretzinger, Mesquite.

Church here has over-norm gains

A trend of growth running counter to that in many churches is shown in Church of the Nazarene reports for 1971, and the Hereford church is growing at a rate even higher than the national average, the Rev. Bill Ray, pastor, reports.

The annual year end review from world offices of the church in Kansas City showed world membership of 505,310, a net gain of 3 per cent over 1970.

Average Sunday school attendance gained 3.5 per cent, spurred by a contest called Touchdown 71 which continued six weeks in the fall. In that contest the Hereford church led all churches in this zone.

Gains in giving were noted, as well as in membership and attendance, through the entire church and also locally. These gains are expected to keep the Nazarene church in first place nationally in per capita giving among all denominations with 200,000 or more members. The national increase was 9.18 per cent, to a record $95,788,676 or $235 per capita.

Numerical and financial gains

In Hereford have been substantial during the past three years, the pastor reports.

Rev. Ray has been elected delegate to represent the West Texas District in church schools next June at the General Assembly, supreme doctrine-formulating and lawmaking authority of the Church of the Nazarene. Mrs. Ray was named delegate to represent the World Missionary Society.

The assembly will be held in Miami Beach, Fla., and will be composed of ministerial and lay delegates in equal numbers.

World membership in the relatively small denomination surpassed the half million mark in 1971 for the first time, the year-end review shows. Membership is based on a profession of faith in Jesus Christ and commitment to the church and stewardship. The church stands for scriptural holiness in the Wesleyan tradition.

A net gain of 17 new churches was reported in 1971 although there were some mergers of churches.

Nazarene colleges continued to grow during the year, with a peak fall enrollment of 9,938 or an increase of 3.5 per cent. Two of three new colleges opened in the late 1960's at Mt. Vernon, Ohio and Olathe, Kan., set the pace for this growth with increase of 22 and 19 per cent, respectively.

Initiation is set at dinner

Initiation of new members in Delta Xi Chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma will be conducted at a dinner Monday evening in Community Center. The formal initiation ceremony will be held for three women who are joining the society of women educators.

Dinner will served at 7 p. m. Listed on the hostess committee are Eleanor Hudspeth, Mmes. Gerald Hale, Reuben McGilvary, Bob Lassiter, Earl Holt and Earl Springer.

Lutheran Church sets New Years services

The Rev. Herman J. Schelter, pastor of Immanuel Lutheran Church, announces worship services at that church on New Years Day.

Services are set to begin at 10 a.m. The public is welcome.

Miami's annual International Boat Show, which drew 279,000 visitors last winter, will be held next Feb. 18-23 in Miami Beach Convention Hall.

Delinquent taxes face $1 penalty

Persons who fail to pay their county taxes before Feb. 1 will face an extra penalty because of a bill passed in the last session of the legislature.

Those who fail to meet the deadline will be assessed a $1 penalty in addition to any other penalty and interest that may be due on each 1971 past due or delinquent tax statement issued after Feb. 1, 1972.

"This does not apply to taxes delinquent before 1971, but starts with the current taxes," Nell Miller, tax assessor-collector, said.

The county tax office sent out letters this week concerning the new penalty.

Persons can save the additional $1 fine by paying their taxes before February 1972.

The letter further states that "this office (the local tax office) is opposed to the additional penalty on past due taxes but we haven't any choice in this matter."

None of the money collected from the additional penalty will remain in the county. It will be given to the Legislative Property Tax Committee that was created by Senate Bill 414, the same that requires the new penalty.

Gus Ganakas is in his third season as Michigan State basketball coach.

COMPLETES BASIC—Edward Lopez of Hereford is at home on leave after completing basic Army training at Fort Polk, La., and will leave next week to attend Ord. School at Aberdeen, Md. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lopez, 610 Blevins, and was graduated from Hereford High School last spring.

Small talk

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

ONE MORE holiday to go; after Saturday maybe we can get back to normal, and by this time every year it seems that normal is the main place we want to be, no matter how dull it is.

After a certain amount of tinsel garlands and red velvet bows and fruit cake with whipped cream and eggnog and holly wreaths and ho-ho-hos and partridges in pear trees, I feel in agreement with my rather crusty grandpa, who on the day after Christmas invariably said, "Let's have turnip greens and corn bread for dinner today!"

With the New Year weekend disposed of, we can settle down until the next holiday. That will be my favorite, so designated because nobody sends cards for it, or gives parties or exchanges presents or marks observances—Groundhog Day.

And there is a large saving factor (saving on sanity, I mean about the Christmas-New Year date this year. At least Monday will come on Monday only one to the week, Midweek holidays mean two Mondays per week to my feeble mind.

TIDINGS OF HOLIDAY visitors are still coming in. Capt. and Mrs. Larry Driskill of Laredo are spending the days with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Driskill of Hereford and the Floyd Wileys of Amarillo.

Also guests Sunday of the Driskills and son James, included Mrs. Driskill's brothers and sisters and their families.

There were Mr. and Mrs. Don chum of Conway, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ketchum of Canyon.

VISITORS WITH MR. and Mrs. G.L. Bumpass and Danny were Mr. and Mrs. Grady McDaniel and children, Lorri Anne and Jim, of Lake Arrowhead, near Wichita Falls. They returned home Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. McDaniel is the former Peggy Bumpass, who formerly lived here and is a graduate of Hereford High School.

Serving the People in Deaf Smith County for 17 years!

Outstanding woman will be presented

Presentation of the outstanding Woman of 1971, selected by the Women's Division of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, will feature the Division first 1972 membership meeting at a dinner Tuesday in the Caisson House.

Nominations have been invited from the public, and the chosen women will be the dinner honoree.

New officers, headed by Mrs. Lynn Kester as president, will be installed and Mrs. Kester will announce her list of committee chairmen for the coming year. The Women's Division president is selected by the Chamber of Commerce Board of directors.

Members of that board and wives will be special guests for the dinner. All Women's Division members are invited, and may invite guests. Advance reservations are not necessary.

Entertainment will include an informal style show with members acting as models of costumes from Jeanie's La Botique.

Holiday recital series presented

Demonstration recitals by music pupils of Mrs. Joe Hacker and a Christmas party for Jack and Jill Music Kinder-garden were events of the Christmas week in Mrs. Hacker's home.

Parents and interested friends were invited for the recitals featuring the Wurlitzer laboratory. Refreshments in the holiday motif were served after each program.

Participating in the series of recitals were 67 pupils of varying ages.

For the kindergarten party, mothers of the pupils were guests as the children demonstrated rhythms, songs, dramatizations, playing at the piano and blackboard work.

Taking part in this program were Quentin Rentro, Heather Barkley, Douglas Owen, Michelle Friemel, Clay and Randy Stribling and Stefan Hacker.

Refreshments were enjoyed by the pupils, their mothers and another guest, Mrs. Taft McGee.

School friends meet at brunch

A day before-Christmas brunch which brought together some 40 former Hereford High schoolmates, was one of the happiest parties of the week here. Mrs. Craig Fuller of Lubbock, the former Deborah Hodges, entertained at the home of her parents, the A.E. Hodges.

Most of the guests were among graduates in the HHS class of 1970, when Mrs. Fuller graduated.

She and Mrs. Hodges assisted by her sister, Kiska Hodges, served refreshments to the guests who enjoyed casual conversation featuring "do you remember?" incidents from schooldays with reports on current happenings from various colleges and homes.

Centering the table was a big red drum holding an arrangement of red carnations and greenery. White net over satin covered the table and reached to the floor.

Two Santa Claus figures gave a hospitable air to the entry, which was decorated with poinsettia blooms. The fireplace in the den was another focal point for gay decorations in the home.

HOLIDAY GET-TOGETHER — All friends in Hereford High School a few years ago, guests at a brunch Friday morning included coeds at home from college, some still in high school and some young marrieds. Mrs. Craig Fuller of Lubbock entertained in the home of her parents, the A. E. Hodges. Standing from left are Cissy Reinauer, Mrs. Fuller and Margaret Ann Wilcox, seated on the floor is Brenda Formby.

What will you make of it? It depends on you. What the New Year will be depends not so much on outward circumstances as on inner ones: on your spirit, your values, and your purpose. In many ways, this New Year will be exactly like the last. It will have about the same number of hours, days and weeks, the same places to go and the same people to see.

If this New Year is to be better than the last, then there must be a better mood within ourselves. We must set higher goals and make more serious, more practical resolutions. We must strive for understanding and for compassionate minds with which to approach people and events. Anytime is a good time to begin again, but New Year's is the traditional best. So let's get hold of ourselves and truly begin again.

Let's truly start anew so that we can partake of all the success, happiness and fulfillment that a God-Given and God-Centered New Year can bring. Let us make ours a Happy New Year!

Pioneer homes—fascinating chapter of history

One of the most fascinating chapters in the saga of the Southwest's ranching industry and how it grew is that dealing with how the early cattlemen went about putting a roof over their heads.

When ranching, in the middle late 1800's, moved onto the arid and semi-arid plains of Texas where neither lumber nor satisfactory building stone was in abundant supply, protection from swirling dusts and vicious blue northerners for many pioneer ranch men often consisted of a roof and little else.

The dugout thus became a prevalent form of housing for that region and period. In most cases, it was basically a hole in the ground with a roof over it, sometimes having low walls of locally available material.

Representative of this building type, a half-dugout from the famed Matador Ranch in Dickens and Motley counties will soon be restored and added to the growing collection of authentic ranch buildings which are creating an outdoor living museum to preserve the ranching history of the Southwest on the Ranch Headquarters site adjacent to The Museum of Texas Tech University.

Scheduled for completion in 1976 for participation in the American Revolution Bicentennial celebration, the Ranch Headquarters will present the true story of America's ranching past by preserving and interpreting its buildings, furnishings and objects.

The Matador half-dugout was built in 1888 by James C. Davis and his stepson Charlie Bird when they homesteaded a section of public school land in northeastern Dickens County while they were working for the Matador Land & Cattle Company. They first built a frame house, then constructed the half-dugout behind it to serve as a bunkhouse for Davis' sons and Jim Burton, a hired hand.

According to Jerry Rogers, associate director of The Museum in charge of the Ranch Headquarters project, the original structure was dug into the side of a gently sloping hill, boxed in with low walls of cottonwood logs and red stone, and covered with a roof of brush and mud over mesquite poles.

The cottonwood logs, Rogers said, were dragged from the nearby South Pease River using the front wheels of a wagon as a cart.

Davis, whose cattle intermingled freely with those from the Matador Ranch in the days of the open range and no fences, sold the section of land in 1916 to L.B. Forbis, who in turn sold it to the Matador Land & Cattle Company in 1920.

The Davis homestead became associated with the Red Lakes Camp of the Matador, and the dugout, known as "the Dive," was used at various times thereafter as a bunkhouse, kitchen and storage area.

In the 1950's, when the Matador Land & Cattle Company was broken up and sold by its Scotch owners, the 54,000-acre Red Lakes pasture was purchased by E.E. Moss and sons of Lubbock who donated the half-dugout to the Ranch Headquarters. Original site of the structure is about eight miles northeast of Afton in Dickens County.

"The half-dugout is in excellent condition due to its continuous use and subsequent upkeep over the years," said Rogers, "and none of the original logs will need replacing."

Rogers pointed out that in partially dismantling the structure to prepare it for moving and restoration on the Ranch Headquarters site, it was found that an interior set of plank walls and ceiling had apparently been added considerably after the dugout's original construction. The shingled roof also was apparently added later.

"When we removed the logs making up the original outside walls," Rogers said, "we found numerous markings on the inside of the logs—some made by branding irons and others obviously made by cowhands wanting to 'enshrine' their own names and initials and those of their sweethearts."

"Finding these priceless markings has presented us with a slight problem in deciding how to restore the structure. Should we replace the interior walls which were added later and cover the original log walls which, with their markings, give us a clearer insight into the personalities of its first occupants? No final decision has yet been made, but I'm hopeful we will decide to preserve the dugout in its most original, and most colorful, state."

The dugout also has a chimney of red and white stone with red sand mud chinking of low lime content indicating that the chimney is older than the high lime mortar used to chink the logs.

Historical evidence indicates that the interior had only logs and rafters until about 1918 when it was celled and lined with planking from the old Red Lakes Camp which was torn down. Wallpaper was applied at a later date. The door frame is original, and two layers of flooring were found, perhaps covering an original dirt floor.

Manny Keiter and Curly Stradley of the Niagra Co., of Lubbock have been contracted to do restoration of the structure's foundation and stone work and to move the chimney from its original site to the Ranch Headquarters.

Rogers pointed out that Keiter did the fine stone masonry restoration in the JA Ranch milk and meat house recently completed at the Ranch Headquarters. He added that Keiter and Stradley have indicated they will move the dugout chimney here completely intact—an extremely delicate operation in itself.

The Ranch Headquarters will, when completed, be comprised of about 20 historically significant buildings which otherwise would not be preserved. The structures, Rogers said, are being carefully selected to portray the types of building used by ranchers over the several decades between the 1830's, when ranching really began to develop into a commercial industry in Texas, and the early 20th century.

At the same time, he added, the building types will reflect the various geographical regions through which the industry passed as it spread northward and westward. Despite the diversity of types, the buildings are being presented as though they comprised a single ranch headquarters that had grown up on the site.

"Once completed, the half-dugout will be encountered by visitors as they enter the Plains environment area," Rogers explained. "It is an excellent example of the earliest Plains ranch structures, and it is representative of similar structures built in the immediate vicinity as early as 1870."

The land form of the Ranch Headquarters site has been designed to accommodate this building with a setting compatible with the original. Vegetation of the region, to be used in landscaping, will include mesquite, sagebrush and buffalo grass. A cottonwood tree also will enhance the setting to illustrate the availability of such timber.

The half-dugout will be refurbished and interpreted as a typical line camp, rather than as sleeping quarters for another house, Rogers said. Although such interpretation does not adhere to the dugout's specific history, it is appropriate to the structure's nature and appearance as a classical type specimen of a half-dugout line camp.

Social security

Q. I have been unable to work for almost a year and a half due to an automobile accident. I thought I was going to be able to return to work. Should I wait to see if I am able to return to work in another 3-4 months before filing for disability?

A. No. Back payments can be made for no more than 1 year; you should file an application immediately to avoid any possible loss of benefits.

Q. My husband has had to take early retirement because of disability. He has had a severe loss of vision. When should he apply for social security benefits?

A. He should apply for disability at once. If he is unable to do any kind of work, medical evidence can be obtained now so that no possible loss of social security benefits could occur.

Q. I have been receiving social security disability benefits and am still just as disabled as ever but a friend has offered to let me try working for his company. Should this be reported to social security?

A. Yes. This may or may not cause your checks to stop depending on all the circumstances—your health, the work, number of hours, etc. However, the work must be reported.

Steve Bogosian, 215 pound defensive end from Messena, N.Y., will captain Army's varsity football team next season.

Let's cook something

Rolls are specialty

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

A PART-TIME resident of Hereford, you might call Mrs. H.E. Houck, who has become well acquainted here during visits in the home of her daughter, Mrs. M.W. Sumner.

The Houcks, who live at Delia, in Eastern Kansas near Topeka, usually time their visits to escape some of the winter weather at their home.

This year they arrived in late November, just in time for the snow and ice storm that was colder than they had yet experienced this fall. However, Mrs. Houck says the springlike Texas Christmas more than made up for the early chill; they always expect a white Christmas at home.

VISITS TO THEIR children in three states occupy a good deal of the Houcks' time. They plan to go next to the home of another daughter in Tacoma, Wash., where they will celebrate their 57th wedding anniversary Jan. 24.

For the anniversary in 1971 they were in California and had their entire family present for the occasion. Four sons reside in that state and one is in military service. The other daughter is Mrs. Raymond Sumner of Tacoma; the sisters married brothers.

The family now comprises 20 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Whichever of their homes the Houcks visit, Mrs. Houck is expected to make some of her special rolls which the whole family regards as real treats. A friend here who has sampled them describes them as "out of this world." And one of her daughters-in-law teasingly begged her not to make rolls "because we eat so many we get too fat!"

HER RECIPE IS no secret, the Kansas housewife says, but adds that "it takes practice to make good rolls; you just have to learn when you've put in enough flour and exactly how to handle the dough."

When she learned to cook it was less by recipe than by hearsay, Mrs. Houck says, and remarks that she surely would not like to go back to the sort of kitchen equipment she used then. She fully appreciates tools and materials that make cooking easier today.

She has kept abreast of new methods, partly by membership in a Home Demonstration Club for more than 30 years. A charter member of the club at Delia, she has served as its president as well as in other offices.

WHEN SHE IS in Hereford she attends Cultural H.D. Club with Mrs. Sumner, an active member. Club events have helped her become acquainted here, and so has attendance at Central Christian Church with the Sumners. She is a member of the Presbyterian Church in her home town, "a small church, but one that has been there a long time," she describes it.

A native of Oklahoma, Mrs. Houck lived there until she went to Kansas as a bride.

She reads as a hobby, and likes to do needlepoint. Taking pictures with her own camera, and collecting snapshots from others in the family to arrange in albums, is another pastime.

Perhaps a hobby as well as a job is her task of writing the news of her neighborhood for a county newspaper. She took over that job about 35 years ago and enjoys the frequent contact it gives her with neighbors.

HER METHOD OF making rolls, which may be baked plain or turned into fancy and sweet rolls, is a simple one, she says, "not an all-day job as some people think." She likes to use a plastic counter-top to work with the dough, easier than getting out the dough-board.

Her secrets, if you want to call them that, are two. First, use just enough flour to make a dough that can be handled; use a soft, not a stiff, dough. Second, cut the rolls off a piece of dough with a string, not a knife, to avoid crushing them; slip a piece of twine under the roll of dough; bring the ends up, loop around and pull, for a clean, smooth cut. Here is her recipe:

BASIC HOT ROLLS
Scald 2 cups milk, add 1/4 stick margarine and 1/4 cup sugar, stir to dissolve and set to cool.

Dissolve 2 pkg. dry yeast with 1 tsp. sugar in 1/4 cup warm water. Put these two mixtures together, add 2 beaten eggs and 1 tsp. salt, then flour to make a soft dough (Mrs. Houck never measures the flour).

Put the dough in a greased bowl and let rise until about doubled in bulk. Punch down. When it rises as much again, divide the dough into three parts and form one part into a roll to slice for plain rolls.

Roll another part out into a

Shelton family holds reunion

Approximately 56 members of the Wallace Shelton family and their friends gathered at the Odd Fellows Temple Thursday night for the annual reunion and Christmas supper.

Children of Mr. and Mrs. Shelton present included Mrs. Nora Ward; Buddy Shelton of Canyon; Floyd Shelton, Mrs. Darrell Franklin and Mrs. Reva Lance, all of Amarillo, Mrs. Lynn Warren; Wallace Shelton Jr. of Dawn; Mrs. David Adams of Dimmitt; and Bobby Shelton of Ft. Worth, and their families.

The Sheltons have 23 grandchildren and 2 great grandchildren. Out-of-town friends of the family came from Dawn and Amarillo.

Each family brought a covered dish to be served buffet style. Following the meal members of the family exchanged gifts, sang Christmas carols and visited.

Wynn Buck was there as Santa Claus for the sixth consecutive year to help celebrate the Shelton family Christmas.

The 1974 Women's Amateur golf championship will be played at the Broadmoor Golf Club in Seattle, Wash.

Highlights and sidelights from your state capital

BY BILL BOYKIN
AUSTIN, Tex.—Gov. Preston Smith is keeping everybody guessing on timing of the important 1972 special legislative session.

The Governor said he will wait "until the last minute" to call the session, primarily for passage of a 1972-73 state appropriations bill, hoping latest revenue estimates will curb the inevitable tax bill.

On the other hand, he said he could not rule out possibility of calling the lawmakers back to Austin smack in the middle of the primary election campaign—between the February 7 filing deadline and the May 6 first primary.

Smith did make clear he is giving little consideration to pleas by some state representatives for an early 1972 session on replacement of Speaker Gus Mutschers. Mutschers bribery trial is set for February 28 in Abilene.

"It is my responsibility to call a special session because of an emergency," said Smith. "(Replacing the speaker) is not an emergency of that importance. The speaker has very little to do between sessions, anyway."

The Governor pointed out that a U.S. Supreme Court ruling may validate political filing fees and create an emergency demanding a special session early in the year. A lawsuit attacking the old filing fee structure is pending in the Supreme Court. A new suit challenged the 1971 filing fee law last week.

"It is entirely possible we will have to call a special session soon after January 1 if the filing fees are held unconstitutional," Smith commented at a news conference.

July 1 (after the second primary) would be about the latest date for summoning a session that could pass a budget bill by September 1, start of a new fiscal year, Smith calculated.

CITY SALES TAXES CLIMB—More than 420 cities levying local option sales and use taxes received over $40.2 million from the source during the quarter which ended September 30.

Comptroller Robert S. Calvert said the take from the one per cent levy actually was more than $41 million from which was deducted the state's service fee before the money was returned to the cities.

Major cities, of course, received the biggest share of the total. Houston alone got $8.1 million, Dallas $5.7 million and San Antonio $2.6 million.

ETHICS CODE CHALLENGED—Secretary of State Bob Bullock has questioned the constitutionality of the new code of ethics for state officials and opinion.

Bullock noted the caption of the controversial law does not properly describe a provision requiring financial statements of income sources and investment by elected and appointed officials and state employees.

The Secretary also raised questions about makeup of the member Ethics Commission, pointing out six members are legislators chosen by the House and Senate, even though the constitution prohibits legislators from voting for other lawmakers for offices.

STATE AID EXTENDED—Dallas received more than $2.3 million and Muleshoe $51,168 in state matching fund loans to help pay for new wastewater treatment facilities construction.

Cities were the second and third to benefit under the new state aid program approved by Texas voters last May which created a bond fund from which up to 25 per cent of a project's cost can be advanced by the state. The federal government will contribute 55 per cent of eligible project costs. Conroe received the first such aid—in the amount of $443,000.

The Dallas project involves construction of a new sludge disposal facility at the White Rock wastewater treatment plant. Muleshoe plans a new treatment plant on Blackwater Draw south of the city, the first facility of its kind in the High Plains area.

MEXICO TIC CURB ADVISED—Texas Industrial Commission has been advised to take a careful look at its new Mexico City office results before it expands foreign trade efforts of the type.

Texas Research League told TIC several other states tried trade offices in other countries during the 1960's but abandoned them as unsuccessful.

TIC inaugurated the Mexico City office October 1 as part of its $150,000 a year international trade effort.

The privately-financed Research League recommended that TIC "carefully evaluate results of the Mexico City office before it becomes a long-term commitment and before any additional foreign offices are opened." First reports from the office indicate prospects for success are bright, TIC indicated.

G. Shandera of Houston was named by Court of Criminal Appeals Presiding Judge John F. Onion Jr. to the Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles, succeeding A.C. Turner.

Governor Smith named these new members of the state Advisory Hospital Council: Dr. Joseph T. Almsworth of Houston; Larry B. Smith of Brady and C. Lincoln Williston of Austin. He reappointed O. Ray Hurst of Austin and Edward S. Rewse of Gonzales.

Jim Hutcheson of Weatherford was named assistant counsel to the Texas Civil Judicial Council.

Marion R. Zetman of Smith's Office of Comprehensive Health Planning has been named to the board of directors of the new American Association of Comprehensive Health Planning.

PENAL CODE STUDY STARTS—A committee of the Texas Criminal Defense Lawyers Association last week began a study of the proposed Texas penal code revision.

The revision is the result of six years of research and drafting by a State Bar committee.

Defense lawyers expect to make recommendations to protect individual rights adequately. Prosecutors began a similar study last September through the Texas District and County County Attorneys Association.

SHORT SNORTS
Some of the nation's top educators will participate in a symposium here marking the opening of education papers in the Lyndon B. Johnson Library.

Three Houston area chemical plants have been called on by Texas Water Quality Board to explain why barrels of industrial waste are turning up in the Gulf of Mexico.

Second State Bank of Clear Lake City and Second LaPorte State Bank have been proposed in Harris County.

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed Grimes County robbery convictions because the trial judge didn't tell defendants the range of their possible punishment before accepting guilty pleas.

Cigarette tax revenues increased $5.4 million last month over the same period in 1970—to $18.85 million during November alone.

Three judge federal courts will hear congressional and consolidated state legislative redistricting suits. A pre-trial conference on the legislative suits was held here December 22.

Former Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr filed a $100 million damage suit against Houston promoter Frank W. Sharp.

Texas Water Quality Board approved an $800 million, 30-year pollution quota plan for Houston Ship Channel industries and cities.

Lawrence Welk's story at library

Entertaining at barn dances and weddings with his accordion, the champagne music maker himself, Lawrence Welk, tells his life story.

In his down-to-earth manner, Mr. Welk tells of the disappointments, despair, and over-night success of his life. Check it out and see if you don't think it's

wonderful. WUNNERFUL, WUNNERFUL! By Lawrence Welk
Born to immigrant parents in a sod farmhouse near Strasburg, North Dakota, young Lawrence Welk was the "dummer-Esel" of the family, the dreamy one who preferred making music to butchering hogs. Today Mr. Welk's "champagne" music has made him one of the richest, most popular ballroom maestros in the world.

Starting with a four-hundred-dollar accordion given to him by his father in return for four years' work on the farm, Lawrence began his career by entertaining at barn dances and weddings. Eventually he worked his way up from an audience of one, in a small town near Enid, Oklahoma, to an audience of more than thirty million, who watch him on television every week.

Along the way there were plenty of disappointments. Lawrence tells, in his own down-to-earth manner, of the tough Depression and nickel-a-dance days during the twenties, the despair which gripped him when his entire band walked out on him during the thirties—"because you'll never get out of these sticks"—the way he fought back to become a big-name band leader in the forties, and his "over-night" success in the fifties.

Throughout this story, Mr. Welk never loses his ability to poke fun at himself. He makes no bones about his naivete as a young fellow off the farm. A thick German accent didn't help especially when he kept telling a girl who appealed to him that she "appalled" him. One girl who definitely "appalled" him was Fern Renner. Fern was training to be a doctor when they met. Their courtship and marriage make a moving love story.

Mr. Welk discusses his television show and many of the people who have appeared on it, delivers some tart opinions on a variety of subjects, and speaks of his own unshakable belief that character is the basis for any lasting achievement. He credits his success to the opportunities still available in this country, his own determination, and his faith in God.

An inspiring account of Lawrence Welk's love of music, his desire to succeed, and his heart-warming family life, this is the fascinating story of one man who can look back over the years and say, "Wunnerful, Wunnerful."

Atlantic Coast Conference football games averaged 27,587 fans a game last season.

The fourth annual fly rod striped bass tournament will be held at Newport, R.I., Oct. 2-3.

Lawrence Welk's story at library

Entertaining at barn dances and weddings with his accordion, the champagne music maker himself, Lawrence Welk, tells his life story.

In his down-to-earth manner, Mr. Welk tells of the disappointments, despair, and over-night success of his life. Check it out and see if you don't think it's

wonderful. WUNNERFUL, WUNNERFUL! By Lawrence Welk
Born to immigrant parents in a sod farmhouse near Strasburg, North Dakota, young Lawrence Welk was the "dummer-Ese!" of the family, the dreamy one who preferred making music to butchering hogs. Today Mr. Welk's "champagne" music has made him one of the richest, most popular ballroom maestros in the world.

Starting with a four-hundred-dollar accordion given to him by his father in return for four years' work on the farm, Lawrence began his career by entertaining at barn dances and weddings. Eventually he worked his way up from an audience of one, in a small town near Enid, Oklahoma, to an audience of more than thirty million, who watch him on television every week.

Along the way there were plenty of disappointments. Lawrence tells, in his own down-to-earth manner, of the tough Depression and nickel-a-dance days during the twenties, the despair which gripped him when his entire band walked out on him during the thirties—"because you'll never get out of these sticks"—the way he fought back to become a big-name band leader in the forties, and his "over-night" success in the fifties.

Throughout this story, Mr. Welk never loses his ability to poke fun at himself. He makes no bones about his naivete as a young fellow off the farm. A thick German accent didn't help especially when he kept telling a girl who appealed to him that she "appalled" him. One girl who definitely "appalled" him was Fern Renner. Fern was training to be a doctor when they met. Their courtship and marriage make a moving love story.

Mr. Welk discusses his television show and many of the people who have appeared on it, delivers some tart opinions on a variety of subjects, and speaks of his own unshakable belief that character is the basis for any lasting achievement. He credits his success to the opportunities still available in this country, his own determination, and his faith in God.

An inspiring account of Lawrence Welk's love of music, his desire to succeed, and his heart-warming family life, this is the fascinating story of one man who can look back over the years and say, "Wunnerful, Wunnerful."

Atlantic Coast Conference football games averaged 27,587 fans a game last season.

The fourth annual fly rod striped bass tournament will be held at Newport, R.I., Oct. 2-3.

Miss Betzen is bride of Bentley Coleman

Married in an early afternoon ceremony Monday, J. Bentley Coleman and his bride, the former Miss Sandy Marie Betzen, left later that day on a trip through southern states which will take them to Camp Lajuene North Carolina, to establish a home.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Betzen, Route 4, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Coleman, Route 1.

St. Anthony's Catholic Church was the scene of the wedding, with Rev. Aeden Davis, associate pastor, and the Rev. Jim Hannaford, minister of music at First Baptist Church, officiating.

Mrs. Ernest Flood Jr. was her sister's matron of honor and John Seiver Jr. of Wichita Falls was best man.

Other bridal attendants were sisters of the bridegroom, Misses Lysa and M'Lee Coleman. Tom Timberlake and Robert Lyons served as groomsmen; Tim Betzen, brother of the bride, and Kevin Betzen, her cousin, were ushers.

Mrs. Allen Evers played organ selections, including the marches, the love theme from the motion picture, Romeo and Juliet, and More.

Christmas decorations in the sanctuary formed a background for a pink and white color note in gowns of the bride and maids.

Mrs. Betzen chose princess satin styled with waistline slightly higher than normal, and skirt with gathered fullness shaping into a chapel train.

The wide pointed cuff of the Camlot sleeves, the wedding-ring neckline and the front of the skirt were splashed with appliques of Chantilly lace embroidered with sequins and seed pearls. A caplet encrusted with pearls held the bouffant illusion veiling that floated over her shoulders.

For an heirloom piece, the bride wore her mother's wedding ring. Her flowers were white carnations in a nosegay.

Silver braids accented the hot pink shade of the bridesmaids' dresses. Their nosegays, miniatures of the bride's bouquet, were of pink and white blossoms.

The wedding reception was held in the cafeteria of St. Anthony's school, where Mrs. Jessie Cash and Miss Rita Betzen served the cake and Miss Sandee Coleman the punch.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Dennis Sargent and Miss Carrie Mazurek. Ray Schlabs and Wayne Betzen lighted candles.

The bride's bouquet was laid at the base of white candelabra

Long-range program announced by SWPC

A five-year construction and improvement program which envisions an investment of more than $144-million between now and the end of 1976 to stay ahead of the electric service needs of this area was announced today by Roy Tolk, president of Southwestern Public Service Company.

"We see nothing but growth—real growth—in the future of our area. It is not a question of 'created demand' for electric power, which is the current battle cry of the uninformed critics of our industry, but it is a true growth based on the development of the area's economic potential and customers' need for more electrical power. There really wouldn't be much sense in planning to invest nearly $150 million if all you were doing was trying to make headlines.

"This region, and the nation as well, needs more electric power not only for growth, but for environmental considerations. Electricity is the cleanest of all energies at the point of consumption, and we will need more and more clean energy for sewage and water treatment, disposal of wastes and the solution of other environmental problems," Tolk said in announcing the construction plans.

Generating station additions scheduled for the five-year period will add more than 600,000 kilowatts to the company's power production capability. At the present time, the 11 major power stations produce a little more than 2,000,000 kilowatts.

The first of these capacity additions is already under construction as the second unit at Jones Station, southeast of Lubbock. A 250,000 kilowatt unit, it is scheduled to be in service for the summer of 1974. The first Jones Station generator, also a 250,000 kilowatt unit, went into service earlier this year.

The generating unit planned for 1976 operation is slated to be the company's first 350,000 kilowatt machine. However, the company has "reserved" three capabilities—250,000, 350,000 and 450,000—with the manufacturer, and the final decision will be made after all growth factors have been weighed.

"We have some interesting options with this 1976 unit. In June of 1972, we will complete an intertie between our company and the Public Service Company of Oklahoma. This is our first major interconnection with another utility. The tie line offers us the opportunity to exchange power; to sell power in to power-deficient areas; to install units with larger capacity; and to locate units where fuel and water resources and load balances are most favorable. These are factors of efficiency and economy which are important to our customers, as these factors will be combined to provide the least costly kilowatt hour for our customers," Tolk said.

Also, in its continuing efforts to conserve the resources of the region, the company plans to install a combined cycle unit at its Riverview Station, near Borger, in 1973.

The combined cycle unit is a gas turbine capable of producing 25,000 kilowatts of electric power.

The heat that remains in the gas turbine exhaust, after the electric power is produced, is used to provide a major part of the steam requirement for a steam turbine unit at the plant.

The result is that more power is generated with less fuel and water as a result of the combination than could be accomplished with the two units operating separately. So there is both fuel and water conservation.

Expanding on the intertie with Public Service Company of Oklahoma, Tolk said that the 230,000 volt transmission line would run from Southwestern's Nichols Station, northeast of Amarillo, to Elk City, Oklahoma.

"We have been responsible for providing our own power resources since this company was formed. I'm happy to say that we have always had an adequate supply and ample reserves. This new tie will make us members of the Southwest Power Pool and will provide a market for any excess power we might have at off-peak times. It is conceivable that, by the process of transformation from one adjacent area to another, our excess off-peak capability will make it possible to help other companies meet their needs as far away as the east coast," Tolk pointed out.

Continuing on the reliability and capability to serve them, Tolk went on to say that the company was projecting a 22 per cent reserve margin of available power for the peak demand expected in the summer of 1972.

This is a relatively high margin, but Tolk pointed out that 1972 will be the first full year of operation of the Jones Station first unit, which was installed to meet three years of normal load growth, and that it is normal for the reserve to be higher at this time.

"We'll be right back down to a normal reserve capability when it is time for the 1974 unit to come on the line. Then, we'll have additional new capacity to assure our reserve position again. Once you get started in the utility business, it's like perpetual motion, you must stay ahead to meet your obligations to your customers," Tolk said.

Southwestern Public Service Company serves 230,000 customers in a 45,000 square-mile service area running from the west corner of Kansas across the Oklahoma and Texas Panhandles, the South Plains of Texas to the Clovis-Portales and Pecos Valley regions of New Mexico.
