Ag Outlook Has Optimistic Notes

By JANIS LOCKHART
Staff Writer

Despite a lack of moisture and ill effects from high winds and dust, there is still plenty of room for optimism on the area agriculture scene, it was indicated this week by County Agent Justin McBride.

The county agent was contacted this week to assess the current conditions of crops planted and those soon to be put in the soil. The need for rain, of course, is the prime factor at this time since the area has remained below normal on rainfall the past five months.

Irrigated crops are looking good and making fine progress, however, said McBride. Sugar beets, potatoes and onions have been planted, for the most part, and the planting of corn and cotton is well underway.

"For all practical purposes, the dry-land farmer has few good prospects for the year. A very small acreage is left that has not already been plowed up or grazed off. This acreage that is left, is simply being held in hopes that rain will arrive in time. If not, the dry-land farmer still has ample time to prepare his land to grow native grass for livestock. Hopefully, we will have ample rain for this, also.

"THE POTATO and onion crops, for the most part, are planted and in fact some are emerging at this time. As far as I can tell they are in the ground and running close to normal," added McBride.

"Some sugar beets were planted earlier and coming up, but are having some damage from the wind and sand. The rest have been planted, but just have not emerged at this time. If we could just have a few more warm, pretty days without the sand or wind, it would be of great help to these crops.

"The planting of cotton and corn is well underway in most cases. We want to urge the farmers to consider the importance of warm soil temperature, seed bed preparation, and the moisture required in obtaining quick germination. This applies to almost all of these crops, and should be taken into consideration.

"THERE ARE two ways that farmers usually go about in preparing for their crops. One is pre-watering. This is when they continue to water, while the ground is empty of seeds, and water until the ground is wet from four to five feet deep, then plant and re-water.

"This is usually good except at times like the present when high winds and evaporation dry the ground out down to seed level and then re-watering must begin immediately after seeding. Usually this is not too difficult to get the water back down to the seeds with the bottom soil already wet.

"More and more of the farmers are skipping pre-watering, and just going to the second method, which is, planting and watering at the time the seed are put into the ground. It is taking so long to get the water from one end of the furrow to the other that pre-watering does not appear to be doing that much good.

"THERE IS OPTIMISM in the picture also as we hopefully receive spring rains, therefore the dry-land farmer can expect to receive a good production year with grain sorghum."

County Okays More Work On Library

The new county library, fast nearing completion, will have a "finished" basement area, it was decided by Deaf Smith County Commissioners during a regular meeting Monday.

In other business Monday, the court adopted a new policy of closing the Bull Barn on Mondays (effective May 1), and tentative approval to a proposal for an assistant adult probation officer for the judicial district; appointed Lee Umsted as an appraiser for the Veterans Land Board; voted to retain the same car assessments in the tax office as the past year; and approved the employment of a full-time clerk in the tax office in place of a part-time worker.

ORIGINAL plans called for only partial completion of construction in the basement of the library, which is being built with federal revenue sharing funds. Commissioners had allocated some $411,000 for the new facility—including furnishings and equipment.

After a review of available funds Monday, commissioners decided there would be ample money to complete other work in the basement. The additions include acoustical ceiling, vinyl floor covering, duct work, as well as paving of a drive and unloading area. The original work on the basement amounted to $37,673 and the additions push that total to $45,243.

THE BASEMENT will have a meeting room, carpeted and with a small stage, which will be closed off from the remaining area. Heating and air will be provided for the entire basement, and the floor outside the meeting will have vinyl covering. The county will paint the other walls and provide paving in the alley, aside from the construction bid.

J.C. SIMPSON, manager of the Bull Barn, appeared at the meeting to suggest that the county facility be closed on Monday. Simpson explained that he had to work on Sunday to prepare the Barn for Monday events. Commissioners agreed with the suggestion and approved a policy effective May 1, not to schedule Monday activities.

HAROLD WHEELER, adult probation officer for District 69, appeared at the meeting to request consideration of employing an assistant officer to handle the north part of the district. He had discussed the idea with Dist. Judge Archie McDonald and will present the plan to the other five counties.

Wheeler pointed out that Deaf Smith has 129 probationers, while the other five counties have a total of 144. Commissioners agreed that Wheeler probably needed more time to work his cases, and gave tentative approval to the plan—subject to approval by the district judge and other counties involved.

Such a plan would increase Deaf Smith's portion of the office about $6,804 per year to a new total of $12,135. Each county in the district pays a portion of the cost, with Deaf Smith and Moore County bearing the larger percentages. Deaf Smith pays 32 per cent and Moore pays 36 per cent.

JUDGE H.C. Williams informed the court that Bill Gentry had submitted his resignation as one of the three appraisers for the Veterans Land Board. Other members are Virgil Marsh and Jerome Friemel. Lee Umsted, local realtor, was appointed to fill the vacancy.

All members of the court were present for the commissioners' meeting.

Track Stars Meet

Famed Olympian Jesse Owens chats with a couple of upcoming track stars following the All Sports Banquet at the Bull Barn Monday night. Owens was guest speaker for the annual banquet which honors all high school athletes. The famed athlete was presented the coveted Hereford Bull award (note center of photo) by C of C president Roy Faubion during the ceremonies.

Harris Given Top Award At Herd All-Sports Fete

By SPEEDY NIEMAN

Nine athletes received special recognition; famed Olympian Jesse Owens urged youngsters to pursue their dream with desire and dedication, and all Hereford High athletes were recognized as the Whiteface Booster Club held its seventh annual All-Sports Banquet Monday night in the Bull Barn.

Approximately 825 students and adults saw versatile and talented James Harris named as the "Athlete of the Year" and eight others selected for the New Service Awards in each sport.

HARRIS was also honored in football; Dan VanderZee was the recipient in basketball, and Charles High was the track winner. Others named as the outstanding player in a sport: David Loerwald, baseball; Curtis Stoerner, golf; David Zinser, boys' tennis; Leesa Rose, girls' tennis; Renee Payne, girls' track; and Rene Self, volleyball.

OWENS' inspirational message was apparently a big hit with the audience, as he received a standing ovation and then patiently remained long after the conclusion of the event to sign personalized autographs for a long line of students and adults.

"I'm not really interested in your won-lost record," Owens told the athletes. "What really counts is what have you learned from your coaches, teachers, parents and church?"

"TROPHIES will tarnish and erode, but if you gain a sense of values to live by, then you're on the road to success," Owens told the young athletes.

"We talk about juvenile delinquents," he admonished adults, "when we should be talking about the other 97 per cent of our youth." He added that Monday night was a great event—"a night to pat these young athletes on the back for a job well done... they've paid their dues and they deserve recognition."

"I HAD A DREAM when I was 13," the great track star related. "I wanted to be the world's fastest human." The goal was culminated in the 1936 Olympics when Owens did, indeed, become the world's fastest man, winning four gold medals.

Aside from his own desire, dedication to a purpose and "paying the price", Owens emphasized his goal was reached "with much help, love and understanding from many people along the way."

Huge Loan Granted To Electric Co-Op

Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative will hold its annual meeting today at the Bull Barn, and one of the highlights will be the announcement that approval has been granted for a $2.4 million loan to finance system improvements.

Campaign Begins

To Remove 'Death Traps'

A safety project aimed at eliminating the danger of discarded refrigerators and freezers will be conducted Saturday by the Hereford Jaycees and the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department.

The two organizations will pick up old refrigerators that are sitting outside and still have doors on them—a potential death trap for children. Anyone who has one on their property and would like it hauled off can call 364-2124 or 364-5552.

The Jaycees and firemen will pick up the refrigerators and take off the doors before junking them Saturday. Call one of the above numbers to request the removal of such items. The campaign is to eliminate the "death traps", so please do not call on other junk items.

will serve as master of ceremonies.

The co-op's annual business meeting is scheduled at 1 p.m. Two directors are to be elected. A.W. Anthony and Roy M. Miller are the nominees from Parmer County, and Raymond Higginbotham and Dick Fellers are the Deaf Smith candidates.

James Hull, Deaf Smith REC manager, announced Tuesday that Sen. John Tower and Rep. George Mahon had informed the local office that the Rural Electrification Administration had approved a loan of $1,680,000—representing 70 per cent of the total loan application.

The remaining $720,000 loan will come from the Co-Op Finance Corporation. The REA loan is to be repaid over a 35-year period at 5 per cent interest. The CFC loan is for 35 years at 7 per cent interest.

Hull reported that about $1 million of the funds will be used on a 35-mile, 69,000-volt transmission line. The cooperative also plans to build two new sub-stations—both located in Parmer County. One will be in the Rhea community and the other near Bruegel's Gin.

The balance of the loan is estimated for serving 413 new consumers and providing some 95 miles of distribution lines: The co-op serves the counties of Deaf Smith, Castro, Parmer and Oldham.

Hull said the cooperative had been experiencing its biggest growth in years. Some of this is due, he added, to expansion of service to irrigation areas. Energy shortages from other sources has been a primary factor, Hull concluded.

That feller on Tierra Blanca Creek says a compliment remains the best way to insure cooperation.

SEEMS AS though interest is beginning to pick up on the local political level. We're beginning to hear predictions on the county judge and commissioner races, with some speculation on how many voters will turn out. The county has about 7,500 registered voters, and we've heard several predict a voter total of around 2,500.

WE HAD opportunity to visit with Jesse Owens, the former Olympian, when he came to town Monday to speak at the All Sports Banquet. We chatted with Owens for more than an hour Monday afternoon, and found him to be a level-headed, unassuming gentleman of the first rank. It was apparent at the banquet that most of the audience agreed with much of his philosophy on "playing the game of life according to the rules."

We couldn't help but ask Jesse to compare his feats with those of today. He ran the 100-yard dash in 9.3 seconds on some occasions 40 years ago. No one is doing much better these days, and you have to remember that he ran on a cinder track without the advantage of starting blocks. The dash men dug little holes in the dirt to help them get a fast start.

WITH TODAY'S fine, all-weather, resilient track surfaces, you might expect him to say he could have broken the 9-second mark with such facilities. "There's no way to compare, and no need to look back," answered Owens. "I ran on the best facilities at that time; the boys today have the best tracks possible, up to this time."

What does Jesse think about some of the talented athletes who are making demands and holding out for more money and benefits in the pro ranks? "Some of them didn't learn much with the college education they got with their athletic abilities," he responded. "They missed learning a sense of values, a code of ethics, along the way and they may never make a success," he added.

JESSE also feels that a man should be careful of his actions when climbing the ladder of success. Friends help you to make each rung... "if you step on people on the way up, you could be in for a hard fall," he points out.

At the banquet Monday night, Owens told the audience that we must remember these youngsters are our future leaders. "It's like a relay race," he illustrated. "Soon we will finish our lap and pass off the baton of life to these young people... they'll run a lap and pass off to the next generation."

SEN. MAX Sherman will be honored as "Governor for a Day" in ceremonies at Amarillo Saturday and we hope some Hereford citizens are able to join in the observance. Sherman has won wide-spread acclaim in the area for his service as a state senator, and we extend best wishes as he receives gubernatorial honors Saturday.

IF YOU know of an abandoned refrigerator or freezer, be sure to notify Hereford Jaycees today or Friday. The Jaycees and firemen will be picking up these potential "death traps" Saturday, and they need the help and cooperation of all citizens.

athlete cited success stories of several athletes he knew—ones who had big handicaps but overcame them "because they had a dream and wanted it enough to climb the ladder of success."

VIRGIL MARSH, booster club president, was master of ceremonies for the event. Athletic director Larry Dippel presented football awards and assisted other coaches in presentation of varsity awards. Varsity letter winners were presented individually, while the junior varsity and sophomore athletes were introduced by teams.

Jake Webb, sports committee chairman for the C of C, made the presentation for the "Athlete of the Year" award, while Tom Simons and Speedy Niemap presented the News Service Awards sponsored by KPAN and The Hereford Brand. Captains of the various teams presented gifts to their coaches during the event.

IN EARNING the coveted "Athlete of the Year" honor, Harris was cited for all-around performance in football, basketball and track. He was named to the second team All-State in football, and will be in the state track meet in May. He has also been named to play in the Texas High School Coaches' All Star game this summer.

THE WHITEFACE cheerleaders made a special presentation during the ceremonies, providing the school with a beautiful wood-carved plaque to honor all 1973-74 athletes. The girls also presented their sponsor, Clarkie Cooke, with a special gift.

MARSH paid tribute to the officers and volunteer workers of the booster club. Key Crawford and Art Stoy served as secretary and treasurer, respectively, this year. Vice presidents of the various sports included Dick Montgomery, Mel Charest, Jake Webb, Jerry Payne and Donnie Laughlin.

Special dinner music for the banquet was provided by the Hereford High Stage Band under the direction of Nick Nixon. Steve Loerwald worded the invocation, and the cheerleaders led the singing of the school song to close the event. The dinner was catered by Dickie's Restaurant.

Brand Takes Awards

The Hereford Brand won the coveted "General Excellence" award when newspaper winners were named at the Panhandle Press Association convention in Amarillo Saturday. Publisher O.G. Nieman holds the award which indicates top rating in all phases of a publication, as well as a plaque presented for the best "special edition" during 1973. The Brand's 75th Jubilee edition took that honor. A second-place certificate in news photos was also awarded The Brand.

Area Reliant On Fertilizer

Farmer use of fertilizer materials has achieved wide acceptance on the Texas High Plains, particularly under irrigated conditions.

More than 660,000 tons of fertilizer materials were applied to the soils of the High Plains in 1973, compared to 55,000 tons in 1955. Returns per dollar invested in fertilizers is high, ranging from $2 to $10, depending upon the soil, crop and yield obtained.

These facts were listed by Texas Agricultural Experiment Station Scientist, Dr. Art Onken, this week. He said that the use of fertilizer materials is an economic investment and must be considered in the light that too much applied is an unwarranted production cost, whereas too little applied results in lost returns due to less than optimum yields.

"THE SOIL fertility and soil chemistry research programs of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock are directed toward the most efficient use of fertilizer materials for optimum production and quality," he explained.

"To this end, research is designed and conducted to develop soil fertility programs that fit within the various cultural practices used by producers as dictated by soil type, availability of irrigation water and climatic factors."

A major portion of this research, he added, is conducted at off-station locations on major soil types in cooperation with county agricultural agents and producers.

More than 200 off-station tests have been conducted. At one time or another tests have been conducted in every county on the Texas High Plains.

MOST OF THE research, he said, has been concerned with nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium, secondary and micronutrient rate and ration tests, nutrient sources, time of application, some specialty materials and rotations. More recently biotype fertility interactions which also include plant spacing studies have come under the broad research studies.

"Much of our research has been used in soil test correlation where soil samples are taken before fertilizer materials are applied," Onken reported. "They are analyzed in the Texas Agricultural Extension Service Soil Testing Laboratory and then correlated with the yield that we obtain from our research plots."

"In this way we have correlated soil test levels for the major soils and major crops of the area whereby a farmer can bring in a soil sample for testing and have fertilizer recommendations made based on this test and on yield potential."

"Correlation research is being continued in this area," Onken said, "since fertilizer materials change the chemical characteristics of soils, and the effects of these changes on production and fertilizer requirements must be assessed."

8-inch depth. This is for average-to-good-quality seed. Under no condition would poor quality seed be planted until this temperature level is reached.

"Fairly good stands can be obtained from relatively weak seed in late May or early June when germination conditions become more favorable.

"Other points that help us get up weak seed is to prepare a good seed bed, prevent soil crusting and avoid planting too deep. Increasing the planting rate to compensate for poor quality seed also helps, if not carried to extremes.

"WE ARE REALLY at a very slow time concerning agriculture, and it will be a while before we can be for sure as to how the crops are going to do—especially if we are unable to get some moisture," McBride added, "everything is not bad, there is still plenty of room for optimism."

Protein-Rich Foods From Cottonseed

If it were suddenly announced that a new plant had been discovered which could produce food and fiber at the same time, the news would be heralded around the world. Fortunately for the consumer, such a plant has been known and used by mankind for almost 7,000 years. Only recently, however, has a practical way been developed to utilize the protein-rich human food potential of cotton, whose fiber usage dates back to antiquity.

The National Cotton Council reports that Plains Co-operative Oil Mill in Lubbock, Tex., is now finishing construction on the world's first cottonseed flour mill. Expected to be in production by late summer, it will manufacture some 15 million tons annually of a 65-75 per cent protein concentrate from cottonseed.

Its initial output will go to Muscatine, Ia., where Grain Processing Corporation has contracted to merchandise the concentrate for use in baked goods, beverages, and meat extenders. Extensive lab tests on the new concentrate reveal some interesting possibilities. For instance, its use as a partial replacement for wheat flour in baking products resulted in cakes and cookies with a higher protein content than meat.

While cottonseed as a protein source isn't expected to replace beef, pork, or other meats, it does promise to be one of the best and least expensive supplements available. Up until now, cotton farmers haven't thought of themselves as protein producers. But tomorrow's grower probably will. Each bale of cotton he raises from a single acre of land also provides 160 pounds of protein. That's about four times the amount of protein produced by a cow-and-calf operation on two acres.

Cottonseed production in the U.S. runs about 4 million tons annually, while the rest of the world produces about 20 million. With the huge protein deficit in the world expected to become even more critical in the next few years, cottonseed's new potential couldn't have been developed at a better time.

"Morning Star" To Shine Here

An inspirational vocal group, "Morning Star", will heighten Sunday evening's worship service at First United Methodist Church.

"Morning Star" is a new group at McMurry College, which seeks to proclaim the message of Christ and His love through music. The name is scriptural, taken from the reference as Christ being the "Morning Star". It is their hope that they may share God's light and love through music, letting

His spirit illuminate and draw men closer to his love.

"Morning Star" has "outstanding talent," having former finalists in the Southwest Metropolitan Opera Auditions, as well as the National Association of Teachers of Singers Competition.

The group also has the latest equipment to produce sounds compatible for today's popular and Christian folk music.

Dr. David Blackburn, Chairman of Fine Arts and Chairman of the Music Department, is the Director and arranges many of the numbers for the group. His wife, Mrs. Blackburn accompanies the group, plus Derven Rodgers, Lead Guitarist, and Jamie Hargus, Bass Guitarist. This combination of fresh arrangements and instrumentation give "Morning Star" not only a unique witness, but an outstanding sound, which is appealing to all who hear.

They have been hailed as one of the finest religious groups, displaying a great deal of versatility and a magnetic enthusiasm, which is an unforgettable experience for each audience.

To Sing At Methodist Church

"Morning Star", outstanding religious choir, will take part in services Sunday when they give voice to today's Christian sound at First United Methodist Church.

Bumper Sticker Wisdom

This century could go down in history as the time when Americans found a new media for expressing freedom of speech: the bumper sticker.

It turns up on mini-cars as well as maxi-models; on pickups as well as dump trucks. And it conveys messages as varied as the vehicles that display them.

Their abundant variety, in fact, leads one to think that somewhere in the United States there must be a whole army of writers who work like beavers to dream up new material for each season's crop of bumper stickers.

By sorting through them and finding the ones that express his own points of view, Mr. Average American is able to mount a moving soapbox and expound his opinions—far and wide—in succinct terms. The whole phenomenon has ushered in an era of "Every man an editor."

A lot of the messages we read are frivolous—but, at least, they provide welcome comedy relief from the oft-time monotony of super highway driving. Some of them every now and then, however, point up a serious thought that deserves repeating.

One such example was spotted recently on a car in New Mexico. It noted: "If you eat, you're involved in American agriculture."

Letters To The Editor

Appreciates Both Sides

Dear Editor,
I have had several comments in regards to my letters to the brand, headed "Condemning the Democrats." Some were for and some against. I appreciate all of them.
I admire a man that has enough nerve to say, "I disagree with you." He has as much right to his opinion as I have.
If I can't convince him that I am right there isn't any reason to get mad at him because he can't see it my way. Sometimes the other man might be right. (But not in this case.)

He might have some good points to consider. But the man that can't stand criticism and is too smart to listen may be too dumb to understand if he did listen.
A man that can't stand discussing a difference without blowing his top isn't worth wasting time with anyway. A sensible discussion keeping cool can sometimes bring something to light that neither one had thought of.

But to gang up for spite like the Democratic Congress did in Hoover's administration and are doing now are without justice and reason.
I have made many mistakes and would like to have had a chance to do it over. But not these letters.
One man got hurt by a bull. Another man said it was too bad about such accidents. The other man said it was no accident—the bull did it on purpose.
Yours, truly,
Ote T. Larson

Class Visits Stockbrokers

Tuesday, the business law class of Hereford High went to Amarillo to Merrill Lynch Inc.
As a project in the class the students have subscribed to the Wall Street Journal and have each fictitiously spent $1,000 on a particular stock. The students keep a weekly graph of the high and low of the stock.
In the class discussion the students try to see how world and national affairs affect the stock market. The stock market is "the brakehouse of America's free enterprise system" there fore it is important that young Americans know about the stock market.
At the stock market, there is a screen that flashes the results of the day's trading of the most active stock. Stocks are usually brought in blocks of 100 shares, and when a person buys a block of stock he notifies his agents at a company such as Merrill Lynch.

This agent puts the order on teletype where it is relayed to New York. A broker takes the order and goes to the floor where that particular stock is bidding trade. He asks "How is Diamond Shamrock?" for example. He will be quoted the asking price and the bidding price.
He then indicates whether he wants to buy or sell, when the transaction is seen. The broker teletypes the result back to Merrill Lynch, who in turn notifies the customer of the transaction.

Business law is a one semester course which deals with business and business transactions. It is for the students who are interested in the principles of civil law as they apply to the rights and duties of the citizens.
This class is taught for the students on personal value, which will help them in dealing with partnerships, insurance and property agencies.
Don Hooper, instructor of the class, said, "I think business law is one of the most practical courses offered to students at Hereford High School.

"Everyone is involved in business law whether it is the simple purchase of a candy bar or real estate.
"I would encourage every student to enroll in business law."

Delegate Choice Begins On May 4

Texas Democrats will start the selection of 76 national delegates when they gather at more than 5,000 precinct conventions on May 4, primary election day.

And party leaders are urging everyone—especially women, youth, minority groups and senior citizens—to participate.

"When you vote on election day, you automatically elect yourself a delegate to your precinct convention," said John C. White, Commissioner of Agriculture and chairman of the Texas Affirmative Action Committee.

TAAC was formed early this year to inspire more involvement from the traditionally under-represented groups in the Democratic Party. New Rules were adopted to insure broader representation.

A key rule provides that any group, comprising at least 20 per cent of those in attendance, can by written petition caucus separately and elect their share of the convention delegates.

"This rule is a guarantee that everyone can participate, every voice will be heard," said White.

From the precinct level, delegates journey to 254 county conventions on May 11. The county conventions will select a total of 5,463 delegates to the state convention in Austin Sept. 17.

The state convention, in addition to writing a platform and electing party leaders, will choose delegates to a national conference in Kansas City Dec. 6-8 to write a charter for the Democratic Party.

"You start writing a new charter for the Democratic Party when you attend your precinct convention," White pointed out.

"And you take the first step toward nominating the next Democratic presidential candidate," White added.

Students Need To Apply For Social Security

Students planning to get summer jobs should apply soon for a social security number if they don't have one, according to Travis C. Briggs, social security manager in Amarillo.

Applications from people who don't recall having had a social security number before generally are screened against central files in Baltimore to make sure a second number isn't issued to the same person.

Screening takes time, so one should apply for a number several weeks before needed for a job covered by social security. Also, some employers are hesitant to hire a person who doesn't already have a social security number.

Students can get information about applying for a social security number by calling, writing or visiting any social security office. More than nine out of 10 jobs are covered by social security.

A social security number is yours alone and remains the same for life. A worker builds retirement, disability, survivors and Medicare protection by work and earning credited to his to his social security number. So when one gets a job covered by social security, he should be sure his employer copies his name and number correctly from the social security card to his records. People applying for a social security number for the first time may be asked to prove their age, identity, and citizenship according to Briggs.

If one has lost his social security card, he can get a duplicate by contacting any social security office. A duplicate card can be obtained faster if one keeps stub that came with the social security card.

The Amarillo social security office is at 317 East Third Street. The phone number is 806-376-2241.

Gifford-Hill Notes Increase

Gifford-Hill & Company, Inc., reported a 48 per cent increase in earnings on a 34 per cent rise in sales and revenues for the quarter ending March 31. Both earnings and revenues were the highest first quarter figures in history for the diversified construction materials firm.

John R. Hill, Jr., president and chief executive officer, said the firm earned $2,492,000, or $0.59 per share, during 1974's first quarter, up 48 per cent from earnings of $1,683,000, or $0.39 per share, for the first quarter of 1973.

Sales and revenues totaled $49,000,000 for 1974's first quarter, up 34 per cent over the $36,537,000 sales and revenues total for the comparable quarter a year ago.

The average number of common shares outstanding amounted to 4,206,000, compared with 4,222,000 a year ago.

Hill said that while most of the company's operations registered sales increases over the year ago period, particular strength was noted for the Agricultural and Industrial Products Division and the Concrete Products Division which overcame declining profits in ready-mix concrete and aggregates.

"A booming farm economy is causing heavy demand for Gifford-Hill agricultural irrigation products," Hill said. "And a continuing high rate of construction activity and generally favorable weather conditions throughout our marketing area have kept demand for concrete products at a high level."

THE COMPANY'S three million barrel per year cement plant near Harleyville, South Carolina, began production runs in early April with deliveries of cement to customers scheduled to begin on April 22, according to Hill. He noted the first cement produced at the plant was of "excellent quality."

The new Harleyville facility uses the suspension pre-heater process to produce cement, which consumes about 40 per cent less fuel than the conventional methods of cement production. "Gifford-Hill's outlook for the last three quarters of 1974 remains bright for another record year in sales and earnings," according to Hill.

At Grain Meeting

The Texas Grain Sorghum Producers board met here Tuesday in the Bull Barn and hosted an informative session for area grain men. Some of the principals at the meeting included, left to right: Gerald McCathern, Hereford director; Bob Gray, assistant marketing director with the Texas Department of Agriculture; Elbert Harp, executive vice president of TGSP; and A.R. Dillard, another Hereford director.

Grain Producers In Session

Approximately 70 persons attended a directors' meeting of the Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board here Tuesday in the Bull Barn with research reports and a business session highlighting the half-day event.

The morning session, beginning at 10 a.m., was filled with research projects being outlined by representatives from Pan Tech, the Lubbock Experiment Station, and Texas Tech.

Elbert Harp, executive vice president of TGSPB, was principal speaker after lunch, reporting on a tour of Asian nations and leading a business meeting. He also showed a film, "The High Energy Grain", a promotional movie for the producers organization.

Purpose of the meeting, according to Gerald McCathern, local director, was to "inform all producers how their funds are used in research, education, promotion and marketing." The directors also asked for any ideas or suggestions from the producers attending the session.

The research reports included one on green bug resistant plants by Dr. George Tette and Dr. Jerry Johnson of the Experiment Station, grass mite control by Dr. Charles Word of Tech, and stubble used by Dr. Lloyd Sherrod of Pan Tech.

TGSPB is composed of 12 directors who represent some 30,000 members in a 29-county area in the Panhandle and South Plains. C.C. Reed of Kress is president of the board.

Water Is Life Blood Of Panhandle

BY CONGRESSMAN BOB PRICE

The High Plains Research Foundation says up to half of the area's wheat crop, more than half its milo crop and about one-fifth of its cotton, relies upon irrigation.

Irrigation also plays an important role in crop production elsewhere in Northwest Texas. In the High Plains, irrigation water comes primarily from the underground Ogallala aquifer, which everyone agrees is being depleted.

The population of our nation, and indeed the world, is growing at a rapid rate. In not too distant future years, experts say we shall have to produce significantly larger amounts of food.

Northwest Texas can provide a sizeable share of that vital food, IF we can lay the groundwork now to insure a future water supply capable of irrigating greater acreages and capable of supplying the increased municipal and industrial needs which would accompany the greater demand for food and the higher agricultural prices that demand will generate.

THIS MEANS that we must work now toward obtaining additional future water supplies. One method for doing this, is acceleration of programs to reduce the salt content in the Red River and its tributaries, and this program has my full support.

Another method is more costly, but deserves full consideration: That is water importation.

Recently I met with representatives of the Crops of Engineers and the Bureau of Reclamation on the question of water importation to Northwest Texas.

You will recall that these agencies last year conducted an extensive survey of a proposal to import water from the Lower Mississippi River and found the proposal to be "not economically feasible". I pointed out, in the meeting, that the survey used an average of 1965-69 agricultural incomes to help determine benefits, and 1972 construction rates to figure costs.

Recent figures show a 46 per cent increase in agricultural prices, and only a 10 per cent increase in construction costs, since the base periods used in the survey. I asked that these more current figures be used in assessing the feasibility of the project, and the Crops representatives agreed to take a detailed look at those figures and to comment as to how they would effect the earlier survey.

I DO NOT want to raise illusions about this project. It would be very costly—more costly than the Texas Water Plan which was rejected by Texas voters. The import project would cost $16 billion for construction, plus $4 billion to build the six power generating plants which would be required to push the water up hill over that distance. Not only would the cost be significant, but the power generating plants would use large amounts of fuel.

Still, future water for Northwest Texas is an absolute must, and the food which would be produced with extensive irrigation is going to be extremely valuable in the future. For this reason, water information proposals merit careful consideration of the latest possible facts and figures and I will be anxious to have the Corps' comments promised in my meeting.

Dentists Use Strategy

There's something new in dentistry, according to officials of the Texas State Health Department. It's called prevention—and it's the top priority of a "new generation" of dentists.

Most people never think of a dentist in terms of prevention. In fact, according to studies made by the U.S. Public Health Service, about two-thirds of the American population don't think of a dentist at all. Health department authorities think that part of the reason may be the image of dentistry in many people's minds.

When you think of a dentist, do you think of drilling and filling cavities, pulling teeth, root canals, and other forms of pain and suffering? Many people do. Many people don't go to a dentist at all until they have a toothache or their gums begin to hurt more than they can stand. By that time, there may be little that a dentist can do other than to drill-and-fill, or pull the tooth. And that's too bad.

That kind of dentistry, according to the state health department, is the old dentistry. The new dentistry is prevention—preventing disease, preventing pain, and, most of all, preventing the loss of your natural teeth.

OF COURSE, the scientific and technical skills involved in dental treatment are considerable, but today's young dentist cares more about prevention than he does about extraction. In fact, health authorities say that dentistry today has begun to attract a whole new generation of dentists with a completely new attitude toward their science.

The "new generation" in dentistry is civic minded, idealistic, socially conscious, and concerned for the well-being of everyone in his community. Young dentists are quick to join community dentistry programs, or even start them up, to bring the benefits of modern dentistry to the poor, the isolated, and the underprivileged.

These young dentists have been very active in such projects as converting old buses into mobile dental clinics that bring modern, preventive dentistry into the ghettos and barrios of the central city, or into remote rural areas where dental manpower is spread a little too thin.

The new spirit of community involvement is exemplified by the participation of dentists in dental health education programs that have been introduced in the public schools of many Texas communities during the past few years. In many cases, these programs have been initiated by the dentists themselves, working with school teachers and administrators and with public health personnel. It's no longer unusual for a dentist to contribute several days of his time—and sometimes his staff, materials, and facilities—for this purpose.

NOW THERE IS even a statewide Interdisciplinary Committee for Dental Health Education, composed of representatives of local and state dental organizations, dental auxiliaries, public and private school personnel, and public health workers, whose joint purpose is to encourage the inclusion of preventive dental health education in the school curriculum.

All of these efforts are part of the movement in modern dentistry toward preventing disease and the loss of teeth. Today's young dentist feels a strong obligation to alert his fellow man to the possibility of preventing disease, and the dentist knows that he can do more by prevention than he ever could be filling cavities or pulling teeth.

Dental health today is much more than a series of stop-gap measures ending with a mouthful of dentures. Dentists know that disease and the loss of natural teeth can be prevented, that in almost every case a person's natural teeth can last throughout their lifetime.

So, state health department authorities say, when you go to your dentist, don't be surprised if he spends most of his time telling you how to care for your teeth, instead of just filling cavities. And, if you follow his advice carefully, you'll be very pleasantly surprised to find that you can keep your teeth healthy and attractive for the rest of your life.

state winners for the title of MISS NATIONAL TEEN AGER. All 50 states and the District of Columbia will be represented at the National Finals. A total of $20,000 in cash scholarships will be awarded at the Finals.

All Texas girls between the ages of 13 and 17 are eligible to enter, regardless of race, creed or color. Judging is based on scholastic achievements, civic contributions, poise, personality and appearance. There is no talent or swim suit competition.

On the evening of the 20th a local San Antonio pageant will be held in which local San Antonio girls will compete for the title of Miss San Antonio Teen Ager. On hand to crown her successor will be Terry Gallego, 17, the current Miss San Antonio Teen Ager.

The winner of the local pageant will receive a $1,000 scholarship to McConnell School in Minneapolis and the right to compete in the state pageant. First and second runners up will each receive $500 scholarships to McConnell.

The deadline for completed applications to be received is May 15. Application blanks may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the National Teen Ager Pageant, P.O. Box 406, Rockton, Ill. 61072.

Changing Schools Is Traumatic

BY JANIS LOCKHART
Brand Staff Writer

The mother that has to watch her children go into a new school, make all new friends (knowing they are remembering those friends that they left behind) is a traumatic experience.

Schools are one of the most important things in living in a new place.

There is a way that makes it easier for the mother, children and in fact, helps the schools out also.

GO TO THE SCHOOL in the district that the family is planning on living in and talk with the principal and or counselors. Find out what type of program they have in the fields that the children are interested in.

If one of the children has any special problem, explain it to them than-not later.

Changing schools should teach children that they are not more important than anyone else. It makes no difference how popular they might have been in the town before, they must prove themselves as the right kind of students and friends in order to be accepted.

IT MAKES little difference as to how old children are, because they need time to express their feelings about leaving friends, girlfriends or boyfriends, and should not be made to feel that their world is just about to come to an end. They will recover as soon as they move and new friends come upon the scene.

What is wrong with them expressing the same feelings that the parents are hurting over while trying to convince them that everything will work out?

Comment On Sports

BASEBALL

BY PETE FRITCHE

SARASOTA-- Jack McKeon, who has his Kansas City Royals in there in contention (with Oakland and Chicago) says 1974 can be his year.

Pitching is what the Royals lacked in 1973 when they nevertheless made a good run at their western A.L. title. McKeon says he's got a better staff this year.

"Our pitching is very much advanced over last year," he said here recently as the Royals took on the White Sox in an exhibition game.

"We're a shade ahead of last year, otherwise, in an overall conditioning. I'm very much impressed with Steve Busby and Marty Paten," he said. These two newly-acquired hurlers, with Paul Splittorff, Al Fitzmorris and Nelson Briles, will have to come through if the Royals win it.

"Fitzmorris is well ahead of last year," McKeon says.

At The Library

Answers Pursued By Young Lawyer

The Partners by Louis Auchincloss is the book being featured at the Deaf Smith County Library this week. This is the story of lawyers and of the people in whose service they gain riches and prestige.

Beckman Ehninger, a senior partner in a distinguished law firm, tries hard to save his organization from their own relentless heat of competition.

The library is open to the public on weekdays from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. and on Saturdays until noon.

THE PARTNERS

Louis Auchincloss

The Partners is a group portrait of men and women in what is mostly a man's world whose common bond is their work. Within that bond each one pursues different answers to the search for money, power, love, revenge, or a meaning in life.

They occupy the chief seats of influence, but there are always pressures threatening to unsettle them. An ambitious member can upset the balance in a bold bid for power, a young associate can do it by a foolish mistake, and the clients are susceptible to many kinds of discontent or the deft attractions of a rival firm.

The Partners in a masterful characterization of lawyers and of the people in whose service they gain riches and prestige. It is a story of the small but distinguished New York firm of Shepard, Putney and Cox, and particularly of the senior partners, Beckman Ehninger.

When he was younger, Beeky had worked out a reorganization that saved his firm from decline. Son of a rich mother and a socially ambitious father, he succeeded in making a career of his own within the narrow upper levels of the law.

Now he and his colleagues, such as Burrill Hume, the trusts-and-estates lawyer, and brilliant but easygoing Hubert Cox, again face the question of whether they can survive on their own in the relentless heat of competition or must join forces with a different breed-new, tough, but undeniably successful.

Time and change: these are the forces with which the man of morals must strike a bargain in an amoral world. Every day his bargaining position is slightly different. In this sense the story of one profession today becomes timeless.

The Partners is a portrait done with consummate skill, one to rivet the eye and the mind.

W.H. "BILL" GRIFFIN VOTE
AN EXPERIENCED BUSINESSMAN FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER Pct. 2
DEMOCRAT

WHY AM I RUNNING FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER?

At present, I am controlling my workhours, but still active with my own company, Griffin Industries, which includes oil well service, business consulting, and cattle feeding operations.

Now that I have the time, I would like to focus my experience and qualifications on serving the community in which I live. One of the most impressive characteristics of this area is the constant effort by everyone to prevent needless waste. People around here seem to get the most possible use out of everything. I think the county government should operate on the same principles, which are consistent with my experiences in the industrial, and oil industry. I sincerely feel that my professional training can be put to good use in helping the Deaf Smith County government operate as efficiently as possible.

WHAT ARE MY QUALIFICATIONS?

Although I have never been active in a government capacity, I have always felt, like most people, that government at any level is basically a business operation. With this view in mind, I can offer as qualifications my knowledge of finance, cost analysis, projected statements of operation, economic analysis, personnel relations and management. In addition, my extensive experience in maintenance and operation of all kinds of mobile heavy equipment can be applied effectively to the county's road building and maintenance operations.

In private enterprise, I have been able to use my knowledge and experience successfully, and feel certain that both will prove useful in providing sound, efficient government for the citizens of Deaf Smith County.

Residents Maintain Living Standards

What effect has inflation had, during the past five years or so, on Deaf Smith County residents? Did they stop buying luxury items and limit themselves to bare necessities?

Not so you could notice. There is little evidence that the cost of living pinch restrained them to a great degree.

On the contrary, judging by the amount of money they spent in the period for cars, new household equipment and other costly durables, they have been maintaining their normal standard of living.

AN INDICATION of the way families in general have been adjusting to inflation is contained in a nationwide survey made by the Department of Commerce, covering the five years ending January 1973.

It reveals how much was spent in various parts of the country for major durable products. It shows, as would be expected, that such discretionary expenditures were closely related to income.

In Deaf Smith County, where average income, and therefore purchasing power, has been greater than in many areas, the outlay for cars and other durables was about $7,585 per household, based upon the government report and upon local income and spending data.

the five years averaged $3,906 per family, it is estimated.

Another $19 per family went for furniture, $230 for color TV sets, and $181 for refrigerators and freezers.

The remainder was spent for washing machines, clothes dryers, kitchen ranges, hi-fi equipment, air conditioners and other appliances.

The government report notes that Americans spent over $125 billion in the period for the 40 million new cars they bought and $67 billion in the purchase of 68 million used ones.

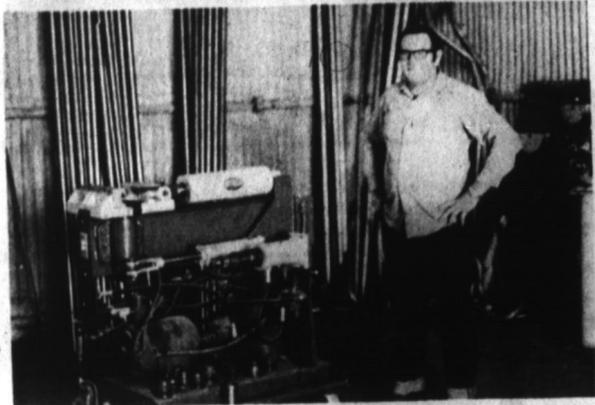

In contrast, for the other 13 durables listed, their outlay was only $83 billion.

Two Advance To State UIL Meet

Ginger Newton and Joel Fuhrmann, Hereford High School seniors, will be competing in state finals in Austin after ranking high in regional UIL Literary contests last weekend in Lubbock.

Miss Newton and Fuhrmann are members of the HHS math team. She qualified for further competition by placing 2nd in number sense tests. Fuhrmann was cited All-Champion in Region for his performance in the slide rule category.

Other local students participating in the Texas Tech meet were Denise Strange, placing 2nd in persuasive speaking; Jim Goheen, earning 5th in number sense and Russ Odom and Donna Stroup, both receiving 3rd in prose reading.

This was the third consecutive year Miss Strange, a senior, advanced to regional competition. She vied for state honors in persuasive speaking during her sophomore year at HHS.

Beef Values Reign

Outdoor "cooks" have a chance to stock freezers with beef now, according to one observer.

"Beef supplies are larger at this time than a year ago, and markets likely will offer more 'specials,'" Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, predicted.

Best beef values will be round steaks and roasts, ground beef, calf and beef liver, arm and blade pot roasts and steaks—while many markets will offer chuck cuts at special prices, Mrs. Clyatt said.

"Pork values include end-cut loin roasts and pork chops, shoulder roasts and steaks and picnics.

"Fryer chicken supplies are about five per cent higher than this time last year, and turkeys are in abundant supply. Both are economically priced."

At dairy sections, attractive prices will appear on cream cheese, yogurt, lowfat milk and cottage cheese, the specialist said.

"Buy cheese in large pieces—then slice and shred it at home," she added.

Fresh fruit and vegetables in good supply at the most economical prices include apples, oranges, grapefruit, pineapples, strawberries and bananas.

Also, collards, mustard, turnips and greens, beets, celery, cabbage, dry yellow onions, carrots, rutabagas, radishes and green onions.

CONSUMER WATCH-WORDS: The first "key" word on federally inspected products tells consumers if there's more meat—or more "something else" in the package.

If the word "beef" is first on the label, usually there is more meat in the product than if another word, such as "vegetables," is first.

Harris, High Earn Berths in State Meet

Hereford High had only five representatives in the Region 4A Track Meet at Lubbock Saturday, but two of them recorded performances that won them berths in the prestigious state track and field meet in Austin May 3-4.

James Harris captured a first-place in the 330-yard intermediate hurdles, and Charis High was second in the 120-yard high hurdles. Harris almost made it in the long jump, too, but finished third in that event. Only the first two places go to the state meet.

The Whitefaces' David Varner placed sixth in the shot to record one point for Hereford and give the team 25 points in the region meet. The mile relay team of High, Harris, Elijo Garcia and Dave Charest failed to qualify. Harris stepped the intermediate hurdles in 38.4 seconds for his best time of the season, while High was clocked at 14.3 in the high hurdles—finishing behind Glen Gray of Borger who had a 14.0 timing.

Harris had a 21-6½ effort in the long jump to finish third. Lane McNamara of Monterey won the jump with a 22-1½ leap, and Borger's David Sargent was second at 21-11.

High, named this week as the Herd's outstanding track performer, will be making a repeat trip to Austin. He qualified in the 330 hurdles last year and placed sixth in the state. Hereford had two in the meet last year, with Luther Mays, now at Texas Tech, placing third in the 880.

Track Coach Don Cumpton was highly pleased that two of his athletes earned the trip to Austin again this year. "There only eight boys in the state to compete in each event, so you're among the best in the state just to be participating," he pointed out.

San Angelo showed the most strength at the regional meet, recording 67 points to 52 for runner-up El Paso Burges. Abilene was next with 37; Monterey tabbed 31, and Borger and Big Spring had 26 each. Hereford came next among the top teams in the region with 25 points.

Talented James Harris, a three-sport letterman, was named Monday night at the All Sports Banquet as the "Athlete of the Year." The award is sponsored by the sports committee of Deaf Smith C of C. Harris was second-team All State in football; has qualified for the state track meet, and was one of the leaders on the basketball team.

NHS Honors Young, Hetzel and Oglesby

Mrs. Betty Oglesby was selected as Teacher of the Six Weeks by the National Honor Society at a meeting held in the HHS Auditorium last Thursday.

Mrs. Oglesby teaches Accounting I and II and Typing II and has been teaching at HHS for four years.

When asked how she felt about being chosen as teacher of the six weeks she replied, "I was very thrilled, especially to be chosen by the group."

Mrs. Oglesby went to college at West Texas State University in Canyon for her Bachelor's degree. She majored in Business Education and English and minored in Secondary Education. She is currently attending school and will receive her Master's degree this summer.

Some of her favorite hobbies include reading, music, water skiing and traveling in her spare time.

Mrs. Oglesby and her husband, J.R., have two children, Mike and Suzanne and they reside two miles north of Hereford.

This six weeks, National Honor Society chose Terry Hetzel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D.D. Hetzel, as the outstanding girl student in HHS.

When asked about being selected, Terry answered, "I couldn't believe it because it's really a great honor to be chosen by National Honor Society. I was very proud to receive that honor."

Terry is a member of the National Honor Society, drill team and the girl's track team. When asked for her favorite food, Terry replied, "broccoli casserole and steak." She "doesn't really like housework but tries to help out anyway."

Terry also commented, "I plan to go to college but don't have a major picked out yet."

She likes to watch football and play basketball and her favorite color is yellow. When asked what the most important thing in high school is, Terry answered, "my friends."

"Homework isn't so bad as long as it's Western Society," says Terry. "I like to watch Robert Redford in movies," she commented when asked about her favorite movie star.

Kim Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Dale Young, was chosen as the outstanding boy student of the six weeks for Hereford High School. When asked how he felt when he was selected he remarked, "I was surprised but glad." Kim is a sophomore and a member of the Thespians and Key Club.

When Mrs. Oglesby, sponsor of National Honor Society, was asked about the qualifications of Kim Young and she replied, "The National Honor Society chose Kim Young because of his sophomore leadership. He is a Thespians and had a part in the one-act play."

And because of his enthusiasm he sets an example for sophomore students."

Two Winners Compete

Ginger Newton and Joel Fuhrmann, members of the HHS Math team, will be advancing to state competition in UIL Literary Contests in Austin. The two qualified for the finals by placing high at the UIL competition in Lubbock last weekend. They are pictured with their sponsor, Don Hooper.

Variety Show Given By HHS

Next Thursday the Hereford High School Choral Music students will perform a Variety Show for the general public of Hereford.

Director Fred Ratliff commented, "The variety show will give more of our singers an opportunity to learn about performing popular and contemporary styles. The purpose is to entertain both our audience and our performers."

Music will be performed from "Oklahoma," "Annie Get Your Gun," "Kiss Me Kate," "How Now Dow Jones," "Brigadoon," "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," "Willie Wonka and the Chocolate Machine," "George M" and "Your A Good Man, Charlie Brown."

The show will be a "light-hearted, fast-paced revue," including many comedy skits, full-stage chorus sequences, individual solos and small ensembles.

A boys barbershop chorus and a girls chorus will perform. The girls chorus will present a sequence of "Children's Songs", Sesame Street, Walt Disney, Shirley Temple and Peanuts are a few of the sources.

The Gospel Singers and show chorus will present some new selections.

Soloists will perform the music of such contemporary artists as Charlie Rich, Elvis Presley, Cher, John Denver, Roberta Flack, Sammy Davis Jr., Maureen McGovern and Donna Fargo.

The choir has been working on the show for almost four weeks.

The show will have a performance time of almost two hours. Admission for the show will be 50c for students and 75c for adults. It will start at 8 p.m. in the HHS auditorium.

This will be the first time the choir has ever provided a variety show and there will be an expanded version next fall.

Armed Forces Talk

Representatives from all branches of the Armed Forces captured the attention of the junior and senior students at Hereford High School during a morning assembly recently in the HHS auditorium.

The assembly was held to acquaint students with the various branches of the military service.

The Army had four representatives Andy Anderson, Brenda Wilson, Jim Atkins and Ray Dawson. The Marine representatives were Al Hickmott and Mike Britton. Representatives for the Navy were Lewie Fletcher and Fred Seybert. The representative for the Air Force was Ronald Carter.

Band Competes For 14th Consecutive Win

The Hereford High School Band competed for their 14th consecutive sweepstakes win Wednesday as they participated in the annual University Interscholastic League Concert and Sight reading contest at the Amarillo Civic Center Coliseum.

Judges for the contest were Orland Butler, Paul Fry and Fred Prentice in the sight reading division and in the concert division was Harry Hanits, Melvin Montgomery and Florence Thompson.

Playing at 9:30 a.m. right after Pampa High School, the band performed three numbers.

The first or "warm-up" march was "España Cani" a Spanish original by P. Marquina, followed by "Sinfonia No Bilisima" and Robert Jager and "Rienzi" and overture by R. Vogner.

All tunes were classified in Class 4-AAAA except the march.

Concert contest was judged on tone, dynamics, style, rhythm, accuracy, posture of the band and difficulty of the piece or tunes.

Sight-reading was judged on how well the band followed the instructor on a new song the band had not played before and judged in dynamics rhythm, accuracy, tone, style when playing and how well they followed the instruction by the director before the tune is played.

Practicing for contest, the band rehearsed for two hours two nights a week since the beginning of March.

Gerald Ford, Vice President: "The time has come for the nation, Congress and the administration to unite to move America forward."

Raising Boys Change In Home Environment

By SANDY INMAN
Brand Staff Writer

TRADING a childhood of sugar, spice and everything nice for a life of snaps, snails and puppy dog tails is quite a contrast as Mrs. Ron Welty can well affirm.

Beth Ballard before her marriage, the blonde housewife was raised in a family of four girls and now has a family of her own with three boys. Her sons, 10-month-old Chad, five-year-old Todd and eight-year-old Labry, keep the household busy as well as keeping their mother and father entertained. "There is always something happening, especially since Labry has become involved with sports," states the brown-eyed homemaker.

BESIDES being very enthusiastic over her eldest son's interests in basketball and baseball, she is also very interested in church work.

She is the leader of the Young Women's Circle at the Methodist Church and has been employed as a secretary at the church. She is also a member of the Women's Division of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

As joint hobbies, she and her husband play bridge and tennis and work in their yard. They are currently in the process of redecorating their home at 117 Kingwood that they moved into over a year ago.

"It's been a continuous project," says Beth. "When we moved to this house most of the interior's color scheme consisted of white and beige tones and we wanted something a bit more cheerful."

ARMED with paint brushes, paint and wallpaper, the Welty's started transforming a room at a time. They papered the kitchen with citrus yellow vinyl wallpaper and covered one bathroom with green, yellow and white striped paper.

The entrance hall is color coordinated with a green print floor and pea green and white flocked wallpaper. Green and gold colors are carried out in the den where the family enjoys spending their leisure hours.

A large white brick fireplace is centered on the south wall in the den beside built-in bookshelves. Throughout the house are potted plants and the front and backyards are edged with rose bushes.

IN BETWEEN spurts of redecorating, the couple likes to entertain, especially large groups of people. "I like cooking for large groups, mainly because it is so much easier than trying to prepare a dinner for a small number of guests," says Beth.

A favorite appetizer that she likes to prepare and which can easily be stored in the refrigerator for several days is Cheese Balls.

CHEESE BALLS

Bring to room temperature and mix by hand:
1 lb. grated sharp American cheese
1 lb. pasturized process cheese spread
1 lb. grated natural cheddar

(mellow)
1 lb. Philadelphia cream cheese
ADD:
1 cup chopped pecans
1/2 cup chopped stuffed olives
1 tsp. Tabasco pepper sauce
1 tsp. garlic salt.

Roll into a ball and roll first in cayenne papper and then chopped pecans. Refrigerate overnight.

A HOBBY the housewife started about three years ago and enjoys doing is tole painting, which is pattern painting on any flat surface.

The steps for this include staining or painting the surface of the object to be used, drawing a pattern on the surface, painting the picture with oils or acrylics, and then sealing it with varathane after it has completely dried.

Beth stresses that before the sealer can be painted on, the picture must be completely dry. "I prefer oil paints when I tole paint but the one disadvantage to using them, is it takes up to two weeks to dry. The acrylics only take several hours to dry."

Both Ron and Beth attended Hereford High School and Ron later attended Amarillo College and West Texas State University. He is Deaf Smith General Hospital Administrator.

Harpists Due For Concert

Last of three concerts presented for Community Concert Association members here this season, a program by duo-harpists John Escosa and Joe Langsireth is scheduled at 3 p.m. Sunday in the high school auditorium.

Reviews of their concerts on tours across the nation the past decade, and also in New York City's Carnegie Hall and Town Hall where they have been invited to play in return engagements, often mention the personal appeal of the two musicians to audiences as well as their artistry as performers.

Their appearance in the Sunday matinee will complete the seventh season for Hereford Community Concert Association, which brings to the city at least three programs by nationally-known artists each year. Previously heard in the current season were the Big Band Cavalcade and vocalist James Fields.

Hereford members have enjoyed reciprocity with Canyon and Clovis CCA groups, with privilege of attending concerts in those cities. One more concert remains on the schedule at Clovis, where Ted Alan Worth, organist, will play Monday evening. Hereford membership cards will admit holders for this program.

Delegates, Nominees In Clubs' Spotlight

Delegates from Deaf Smith County Home Demonstration Clubs to the spring convention of District 1, Texas HD Association, gave their reports at a covered dish luncheon in Pioneer Gas Flame Room Monday preceding the April meeting of the County HD Council.

Mmes. Dan Gorman, Arnold Fangman and Don Daugherty each gave an account of one phase of the convention, held in Borger last week. Other HD members from this county, 20 in all, went as visitors.

At the Council's business session, emphasis was on coming elections. Each club was asked to elect its 1974-75 officers this month and report the list of new officers promptly to Argen Draper, county agent. Council officers will be elected at the May meeting, to be held a week early because of the Memorial Day holiday so the date will fall on May 20. Mmes. Gaylon Bryan, J.H. Holden and Jimmie Bradley were appointed on a committee to present a slate of nominations.

At that meeting each club is to submit its nominee for county delegate to the THDA convention, and also for county THDA chairman.

Members were reminded by Mrs. H.L. Hershey, council president, of the area cancer seminar to be held May 1 in Amarillo, and of the Sew Fair here May 16. Mrs. Draper emphasized that the cancer seminar is open to the public at no charge; a $3 registration fee formerly announced covers the noon luncheon rather than the program sessions.

Registered for the luncheon were Mmes. Frank Duncan, Leo Hellman and E.C. Hewitt of Wyche Club; Mrs. E.C. Hammett, Progressive Club; Mmes. J.G. Gandy and Grady Parsons, Cultural; Mrs. Leroy Johnson, Dawn; Mrs. Wayne Sifford, Bippus. Also Mrs. State Norvell, Palo Duro; Mrs. Marvin Welty, Young Homemakers; Mrs. Bill Page, Messenger; Mmes. Jacob King and Joe Bowers, Heritage; Mrs. Ulys Pierce, West Hereford; Mmes. T.E. Brisenidine and Aubyn Hodges, North Hereford.

Farm-Ranch Lunch Held

Mrs. J.B. Odum gave the program titled Clothing And You at the recent luncheon of Farm And Ranch Club in Mrs. J.E. Sorrells' home on Harrison Highway. She discussed current fashions and the choice by each person of becoming clothes, suited to the occasion.

After the covered dish lunch the group visited Sorrells' workshop where he restores and repairs antiques, and makes items of furniture from old farm implements. Mrs. Wheeler Davis drew the hostess prize. Mrs. John Hill of Fort Lupton, Colo., a former member, was a guest. Also present were Mmes. Paul Rudd, J.C. Price and Jack Weaver.

New Courses Offered At HHS

Class pre-registration for the 1974-75 school year went into process for the current sophomores and juniors.

For the new year there has been two new classes added to the many courses offered. One of these courses will be Business Organization and Management, a one semester study offered to juniors and seniors to teach them how to deal with employment and management of a business.

The other new offering is Home Management or Bachelor Survival offered as an elective to sophomores, juniors and seniors. This class teaches the students how to exist in unmarried life.

... mental note for yourself. Children are great imitators. They act as those around them act. The best way to teach youngsters is not by the sermons we give, but by the life we live. They learn patience, love, understanding and forgiveness by example. Immoral acts that profane His name contributes nothing. We are plainly commanded to "bring up a child in the way he should go." Be not deceived; in everything, our actions speak louder than our words. And it would surprise you just how much longer their impressions last. What are your actions teaching your youngsters? Is your teaching in keeping with your words, your life, the sermon you give? Teach them properly . . . by example . . . God's way. Make sure your words and acts are in tune. Be sure they are consistent. Make a note for yourself so you can be sure that all you say and do counts for God. Be a true christian teacher.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that furnish and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice for a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Dawn Club Hostess At Style Show

A style show of clothing made by Extension Club members for children and adults was sponsored Friday afternoon by Dawn Extension Club, which invited women from other clubs to model garments or to see the showing of home-sewn fashions in Pioneer Gas Flame Room.

Mrs. Fred Boren and her small granddaughter wore pantsuits made of matching material in plaid and solid. Mrs. Craig Hinger's sons had big-and-little-brother outfits in the same style.

Casual outfits, children's clothing, dresses and pantsuits were among the garments modeled. One formal dress was shown, a white gown made by Mrs. J.G. Gandy of cultural Extension Club and modeled by her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Warren of Palo Duro Club.

Tea was served to 32 guests after the style parade in a springtime setting. A business meeting was held later by club members. Mmes. Jerry Stewart, H.D. Fowler, Leroy Johnson, Carl Parnell, Don Ed Middleton, H.V. McCabe, Gary Smith, Gene Meacham and Pat Smith.

PRETTY MODELS — Children who with their mothers modeled garments made by extension club members of this county in a recent style show sponsored by Dawn Extension Club, included these sets of sisters. Kim and Kelley - or perhaps it's Kelley and Kim-identical twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Smith, wear dainty pinafores in top photo. Below are daughters of the Rev. and Mrs. Gene Meacham, Lori, Cheryl and Sharon, in pink-flowered frocks with ruffled sleeves.

Installation Of Officers Held In Club

A Hereford member and a former resident here are among new officers installed by Palo Duro Porcelain Art Club at a recent meeting in Canyon. The club has members from several Panhandle cities.

Mrs. A.G. May is the new treasurer and Mrs. Melvin May of Dumas, formerly of Hereford, first vice president. Mrs. Lewis Morrison of Amarillo took office as president to succeed Mrs. Emzy May of Claude. Mrs. J.M. Justiss of Claude is second vice president. Mrs. Harvey Todd of Amarillo secretary, Mrs. R.S. Francy of Happy auditor.

New committee chairmen for the year include Mrs. B.E. Roberson of Hereford, ways and means. Mmes. Sam Morgan and Joe Kendall also went from Hereford to the meeting.

Mrs. A.G. May was one of those who attended a state convention of porcelain art clubs in Corpus Christi earlier this month, who made reports. Palo Duro Club's history book, compiled by Mrs. Justiss, took second place in the state. Brownsville was chosen for the 1965 convention site.

A workshop followed the installation and business session.

Talent Auditions Slated

Young ladies between the ages of 5 and 17 who are residents of 12 area counties will be interviewed and auditioned for the 1974 State Talent Pageant on Thursday at 6 p.m. at the YMCA, 1006 Jackson in Amarillo.

The audition is set for girls from the following counties: Armstrong, Carson, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Donley, Hall, Hartley, Moore, Oldham, Potter, Randall and Sherman.

A field director from the pageant headquarters will select six girls to represent their community in the state finals.

Girls will be required to perform a talent display of approximately one to three minutes and will be instructed how to model on the runway.

The competition is divided into three age groups: girls 5 to 8 years of age will compete for the titles of "Miss Petite Talent," girls 9 to 12 for the titles of "Little Miss" and

"Little Miss Talent," and 13 to 17 year olds for the titles of "Miss Teen" and "Miss Teen Talent."

At the state level six girls will be selected to represent the state at the international pageant and will receive all expenses for the contestant and chaperone while attending the international finals. $3,000 in cash scholarships will be awarded to the winners to be used for furthering their artistic development.

Ken Malone, the executive director of the pageant, explains, "I have created the international talent pageant to give young ladies a pageant system which would develop incentive to practice and develop their creative and performing arts and also to put the proper emphasis on talent, beauty, poise and personality."

Malone is a former featured dancer on broad-way, television and in night clubs and is currently a dance instructor at ITHACA College in New York State.

"Over 100 communities will be sending delegates to this annual state-wide event. Our girls will not only be gaining incentive, but will be practicing good sportsmanship, experiencing friendships and the talents of their peers as well as, joining girls of all races, colors and creeds on a common ground. This is truly a youth development program."

The age of the contestant on Dec. 31, 1974 will determine which age division she will compete in. A phonograph will be provided at the auditions. All other sources of music must be brought to the audition.

Girls who play large instruments such as pianos or organs and those desiring further information, should contact the International Pageant Headquarters, 169 Lake Street, Elmira, N.Y., 14901.

Yard Beauty For Sale

Plants adapted to the Hereford climate, ready to beautify yards after the citywide cleanup week, will be on sale by Hereford Garden Club members in their annual plant sale beginning at 10 a.m. Saturday in the club's garden center at Main and Park Ave.

A rummage sale will be held in connection with the plant sale, with household items and clothing among the bargains offered. Mrs. O.G. Hill Sr., club president, invites the public to attend the sale.

Plants will be from yards of the garden club members and will include tubers and bulbs as well as bedding plants.

The sale is timed to cooperate with the city cleanup campaign now in progress, in which city residents are urged to beautify their home grounds with plantings in addition to clearing away litter. Proceeds will be used by the club for further beautification of the garden center at the location of the former Campfire Girls hut.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

ARE YOU celebrating Cleanup Week with plenty of enthusiasm? Maybe you're one of those orderly people whose place never needs a cleanup, and I hope you're not one of the very untidy ones who have wrecked car bodies sitting in the backyard and weeds growing up along the fences.

At either extreme there might be something you can do to help the looks of our town; of course most of us are in between and there is plenty we can do even if there is nothing glaringly messed-up around our places.

With neighbors on both sides who are always working on their yards, I'm sort of compelled to keep mjae looking decent, although a green thumb is not part of my natural equipment and the backyard is likely to be littered with sticks, bones and other things the dog thinks are toys.

But for cleanup week, the grass has finally been cut and it certainly is an improvement. Maybe I'll get the flower beds in shape, doing some work that was postponed from last fall—a major improvement. And if you know anyone who wants some iris or daylilies, there are a lot I need to dig out and it hurts me to throw them away.

THE DWIGHT BANKS, who live north of Hereford, have received an invitation from the College of Education at Texas Tech to attend the annual recognition convocation at 2 p.m. Sunday when their daughter, Shan, will be one of the students given special recognition for scholarship and citizenship.

The ceremony will be held in the University Center ballroom, with a reception afterward. Shan is a junior at Tech, majoring in education. She graduated from Hereford High School.

KAREN SCOTT, Hereford student in McMurry College at Abilene, has been elected corresponding secretary for next school year in Gamma Sigma, a women's social club on the campus.

She is the daughter of the Paul R. Scotts, 236 Centre, a 1972 graduate of Hereford High and a sophomore at McMurry majoring in special education.

MR. AND MRS. Harold Shea of Purcell, Okla., former Hereford residents, announce the birth of a son, Samuel Robert, on Good Friday, April 12.

The baby weighed 10 pounds 3 ounces. Relatives in Hereford are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nichols of 423 Western.

El Llano Elects Officers Slate

Guests appeared on El Llano Study Club's program Monday evening, then officers for next season were chosen in a business period at the home of Mrs. Raymond White. Mrs. Bob Word was co-hostess.

Mrs. R.W. Eades was named president to succeed Mrs. Elmer Kimball, who will serve a term as parliamentarian. Mrs. Tom Hamlett was elected vice president, Mrs. Raymond White secretary, Mrs. Joe Putt White treasurer and Mrs. Lloyd Kirkeby reporter. They will be installed at a dinner next month. An original poem telling the Old Testament story of Ruth was read by Mrs. Reuben McGilvray Jr.

The other program guest was Roy Faubion, president of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, who explained the purpose of the chamber's new committee of development of community resources. He urged members of the club to serve in some activity for the betterment of Hereford and its residents.

Members present included Mmes. John Jacobsen Jr., Boyd Foster, Pete Caviness, Fain Cesar, Jim Bookout, Labry Ballard, Ben Childers and the officers-elect.

Fire Safety Is Program Subject

Two guests met with West Hereford Extension Club Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Norman Livesay, 209 West Fifth. A safety program centering on fires in the home was given.

Mmes. E.M. Cox, U.V. Pierce and Blanche Hardin discussed causes and prevention of fires. To open the program, Mrs. Pierce sang a hymn, In Praise Of God. The hostess gift was drawn by Mrs. Hardin.

Mrs. Dock Roberson and Mrs. Barnhill were welcomed as guests. Other members present were Mmes. John Jacobson Sr., A.C. Flowers and D.W. Allmon, and Miss Evelyn Bell.

Reports Are Heard By Heritage Club

Reports from the recent district meeting of Texas Home Demonstration Association, held at Borger, were given in Heritage Extension Club Tuesday, with a summary of activity at the County HD Council meeting Monday. Mrs. Joe Bowers reported the council session where the delegates to Borger told of that convention.

Two visitors, Mrs. Duane Holly and Mrs. Dewayne Black, were present and were informed of the club's work and purposes in a general discussion by members.

The meeting was in the home of Mrs. Jacob King, who served refreshments after the discussion.

Hereford CowBelles Active In State Session

By LAVON NIEMAN
Staff Writer

Fourteen Hereford CowBelles attended the Texas CowBelle Mid-Year Convention held in the Menger Hotel in San Antonio Monday and Tuesday. Approximately 175 CowBelles attended the convention.

Hereford women who represented the local chapter as delegates were Mmes. C.F. Newsom, Elmo Hall and Mary Gibson. Mrs. Robert Josseland, who is chairman of the finance and budget committee, also served as a voting delegate as did Mrs. N.E. Tyler, local president.

Other Hereford CowBelles attending included Mmes. Melvin Cordray, Dick Coupe, Jim Perrin, R.N. Yarbro, James McCarty, Willis Duggan, Melvin Thompson, Rachael Hunter and Henry Emitte. N.E. Tyler was also there for the convention.

During the business session Tuesday morning, Texas CowBelles were commended by the national president, Mrs. Elmo Hoyt, for the excellent work being done to promote beef.

Members elected Mrs. Perrin to the nominating committee and chose Amarillo as the next convention site for the state meeting in October. Mrs. Tyler was appointed as chairman of a committee to work on obtaining beef for Girlstown.

The convention concluded Tuesday with a luncheon. John C. White, who is serving his 12th term as Texas commissioner of agriculture, was the keynote speaker. Four representatives of the Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce were introduced at the luncheon. They were Bill Albright, executive vice president; R.W. Eades, vice president; Burke Inman, chairman of transportation; and Mrs. O.G. Nieman, president of the Women's Division who also represented The Hereford Brand. Their presence was in support of the CowBelles and their promotion of the beef industry.

White, who is known for inaugurating the TAP program, told the group that the CowBelles have brought to life the oldest industry in Texas — cattle. "Cattle and production of cattle is what this state is all about, and I welcome this new statewide involvement of the CowBelles", he said.

"CowBelles have created more enthusiasm about the cattle industry than all my speeches", he continued.

"You're not only doing a great job but have a larger job ahead of you."

He pointed out the fact that profits in the cattle industry last year never reached 7 per cent, even though it was a good year. "A long time ago when ranching was a way of life, people expected you to stay there. But now if you can't make a profit, you find something else to do. We're near that point," he said.

"When government fools around with livestock industry we know what happens, because it happened last year. The consumers must realize the problems. We have a job of education and selling food and fiber in this country. No other nation can feed itself and share with other nations. No nation can long survive unless based on stability, love of country and pride", he said.

Mrs. Josseland was introduced at the luncheon as the National committee chairman for ideas, decisions and actions. Mrs. Carrothers, another Hereford CowBelle, is vice chairman of the national beef education committee.

The River Parade, part of Fiesta Week in San Antonio, was viewed by the Hereford group, along with more than 100,000 spectators.

Schroeters Go To Convention

A.J. Schroeter of A.O. Thompson Abstract Company, and wife Margaret will be participants in the annual Texas Land Title Association Convention being held at the Hyatt Regency in Houston, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The Texas Land Title Association is the largest state land title association in the country and expects an attendance of over 500 at their convention.

The convention will get a strong start with the planned Casino Party to be held on convention opening night Thursday. Highlights of the Convention will be the announcement of the "Titleman of the Year" award. An awards luncheon will be held Saturday afternoon.

The Association plans a reconvened session in Las Vegas, Nevada, April 28-May 1. Representatives of the Nevada Land Title Association will meet with the Texas association at that time.

CowBelles at Convention

Crisis Line Now Open

Hereford and area residents experiencing a crisis situation, or in need of information, can now receive assistance by calling a toll-free telephone number . . . 1-800-692-4458.

The assistance is being provided by the Suicide Prevention—Crisis Intervention/Operation Drug Alert, a service of the Mental Health Retardation Regional board. A local unit has been organized, and members trained, to follow up on calls where personal contact is necessary.

SP-CI/ODA is a 24-hour telephone service staffed by carefully screened, trained volunteers who offer a listening ear to anyone who feels the need of calling. All calls and all personal contacts will be kept in the strictest confidence.

This service will be an extension of the service offered to Amarillo residents since December 1968. SP-CI/ODA has received more than 11,000 since its inception. These calls cover suicide attempts, alcoholism, drug abuse, V.D., pregnancy, loneliness, missing persons, family conflicts, unwed mothers—anything which may create a crisis for another human being.

Approximately one-third of the calls deal with drug-related problems. It may be from a parent concerned about his child; it may be from a young person experiencing problems from drugs; it may be from a student wanting drug abuse information; it may be from a physician seeking sources of drug rehabilitation.

SP-CI/ODA receives firm support from community agencies, physicians, psychiatrists, mental health professionals, law enforcement, personnel, and the media. These people form the back up nuclei for the volunteer when further assistance must be provided for a caller.

By extending the telephone service to Hereford residents, SP-CI/ODA is truly shortening the distance one has to travel to the nearest heart. The toll-free number . . . 1-800-692-4458.

This region's representative on The Potato Board, Howard W. Gault of 208 S. The Potato Board is a nationwide organization of approximately 15,000 potato growers and handlers.

If you can't get PIONEER Brand 8311

here are some excellent alternative hybrids for High Plains farmers.

Pioneer Brand 8311, the "Golden Bronze Yield Leader," has been our most popular hybrid this year — so popular, in fact, that it may be in short supply in some areas. One reason is that the demand has been so great downstate where 8311's disease tolerance is so important. Fortunately, there are several other Pioneer Brand hybrids that are proven top performers on the High Plains. If you can't get 8311, ask your dealer about these.

PIONEER Brand 8417

This versatile yellow endosperm sorghum is a champion yielder in the medium-late maturity class, for irrigated or non-irrigated land. It has large open heads, uniform head height, strong stalks for easy threshing, good tolerance to smut and anthracnose.

PIONEER Brand 820

This top-notch full-season hybrid, is a consistently high yielder. Excellent drought resistance and standability plus good roots and stalks make it a good choice for irrigated or non-irrigated farming on the plains.

PIONEER Brand 828

One of the highest yielding sorghums you can plant, this full-season hybrid responds well to good management on good land with plenty of water. Plains growers like it because it holds its quality and threshes well even after an early freeze. It produces sturdy stalks with semi-compact heads of dark red grain.

PIONEER Brand 846

Famous for its versatility and adaptability, this medium maturity hybrid yields along with the full-season varieties. Resistant to smut, rust and MDM, its outstanding hybrid vigor and excellent drought resistance help it turn in consistently high yields even under stress.

Jeans Are Status Symbol

Ever since Levi Strauss stitched up his first pair in the mid 1800's jeans have been part of our way of life.

"Long associated with work—and considered a utility garment—today's jeans are a symbol of fun and a relaxed lifestyle," Marilyn Brown, fashion authority, notes.

"Worn, faded or patched denim, indicated a lot of good living gone under the bridge," the consumer education, clothing and textiles specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said. Variations of jean fashion are the "status" denims, which gain status with every rip and tear—or "glad rags" ornate with studding, sequins or stichery.

Jeans also announced the wearer's humor and personality, the specialist continued.

"Some feature rivets, various sorts of glitter, embroidery and decorative stitches—and famous places, people or things appear on jean seats, pockets and legs.

"Others reflect the European western idea of adding bright, contrasting piping to pockets, seams and waistbands.

"Whatever the method, the 'message' is more important than the model."

Another big fashion switch involves turning workman's jeans into everyman's jeans—with a fashion touch or two, Miss Brown said.

"It began with carpenter jeans—featuring extra pockets and back belt—and painter jeans, with their own on-the-job extras.

"The newest adaptations include electrician, utility company worker, forester and seaman jeans. They all fit the current mood that makes orange stitching, railroad stripes and polished cotton fashionable," she concluded.
