An unattended downtown Hereford business was hit by thieves who made off with $50 Thursday afternoon.

Ted Nobriga of Hawaiianos Refreshments reported that he and his wife had stepped out of the store for a few minutes and when they returned, they found that a bank money bag containing $50 in coins and a tool box valued at $45 were gone. Kathy Black of 124 Juniper reported that her billfold, containing $40 in cash, drivers license and pictures was taken sometime between 3 and 7 p.m. at Westgate Nursing Home Thursday.

Potato Harvest Crop Commences Sunday

Harvesting of Deaf Smith County's onion and potato crops will be getting underway about July 6, but with the current market outlook what it is, prices may rival, onions in bringing tears to the eyes of local vegetable growers.

ACCORDING TO a spokesman for a local produce shed, large-scale harves-ting of potatoes will begin July 6, with some onion harvesting already underway.

The spokesman indicated that the current price situation on onions is "terrible", with jumbos selling for only about $3 per 50 pound bag.

"The potato market is uncertain right now, and the early market for red potatoes grown locally will depend a lot on what happens in California," the spokesman said

He explained that California is producing a massive crop of red potatoes, and that if that crop makes it into the marketplace, prices received for locally-grown potatoes will be depressed.

THEY HAVE been experiencing 114 degree temperatures in the California area where potatoes are grown, and if they continue to experience these high temperatures, then the California crop may come up short andthe price for our own potatoes would be better," the spokesman explained.

Local potato harvest could end in mid-August with favorable prices, but a depressed market will cut the flow of spuds to the market and prolong the Local growers enjoyed a fairly good market for their potato and onion crops last year, but the volatile vegetable market is in one of its downswings currently and many growers will probably be chalking up 1976 as one of those "off" years that tend to run with the good ones in the vegetable business.

One of the big gambles which local growers take each year is that their crop can reach the market slightly earlier than that of other states, thus taking advantage of market peaks before a massive flow of produce takes the market.

WITH INCREASING production costs, the acreage planted locally in potatoes has been declining over the past several years, with this year's acreage comparable to the 8,600 acres of potatoes which were planted locally in 1975.

Onion acreage is also comparable to the 2,000 acres planted in 1975. This year's market slump is similar to one which occurred in 1974.

Production expenses on potatoes are high, with per acre costs continuing to rise since 1974, when they were estimated at $400.

This compares with a production cost of only $200 per acre about three years ago.

The resignation of Dr. Roy Hartman, superintendent, was received with regrets during a brief open session of the Hereford School Board of Trustees, who gathered in a called meeting at the school administration building Thursday after-

The trustees also viewed the swearing in of David Hutchins as a board member to replace Alex Schroeter, who resigned to become county auditor, and set qualifications they deemed necessary for Hartman's replacement. No specific individuals were considered in the closed session a board member said. A lengthy closed session was held to set the qualifications.

The board are accepting applications for the superintendent's position according to Jim Conkwright, board president.

HARTMAN SUBMITTED a letter of resignation to Conkwright Thursday stating "With mixed emotions, I tender this letter of resignation...effective July 31, 1976. Having been selected by the Grapevine Board of Trustees as their new chief executive, our family will be leaving Hereford after 20 years of service to this school district."

After it was read by Conkwright, Clark Andrews moved and Lyton Allred, both trustees, seconded a motion to accept the resignation "with regrets." It was unanimously approved by trustees present. Jim Arney and James Gentry, rustees, were absent from that portion of the meeting.

"He (Hartman) is a man who has our praise for the superintendent's tenure in Hereford.

IN THE LETTER, Hartman stated, "Hereford has been the only home we have actually known...and it is with a deep sense of regret that we contemplate leaving Hereford.

"The total staff of school personnel left here are quality people with forward and progressive attitudes. My hope is that the Hereford schools will continue to be blessed with dedicated professional

Shortly after the resignation was accepted, Hartman left with his wife Maxine for a gathering of Grapevine school personnel and trustees. It is a school district of about 3,500 students and a 3-A high school. It is located north of Dallas.

He was awarded a three year contract by the Grapevine trustees in a meeting of that board held Monday night.

THE QUALIFICATIONS established for the new superintendent are as

(1) A Texas certificate valid for a superintendent.
(2) A Master's degree

(3) Ten years of public school

(4) Knowledge of school business procedures such as budgeting and tax methods.

(5) Experience in academic programs.

(6) Experience with minority groups. (7) Capability in creating open communication with staff, students and

(8) Ability to develop a strong working relationship with trustees on the school

SchoolTaxAssessment Set At 60 Per Cent

The Hereford School Board of Trustees tentatively set the assessment ratio for the 1976-77 tax year at the present 60 per cent even though property values are destined to be higher overall due to the current reappraisal program. It occurred during a called meeting of the board Thursday night.

Also, the board heard a report from Superintendent Roy Hartman concerning allegations by the civil rights department of HEW that the district's hair and dress code might be discriminatory.

However, the superintendent said it was nothing for the board to worry about since n.e. district "is in compliance with Title 9", the law under which sex discrimination is forbidden. The coses apparently dealt with dress and hair lengths of both sexes.

Copies of the coses were requested within 20 days by James Littlejohn of the Civil Rights department. Hartman said a call to the federal officials would

The board decided to wait to officially set the assessment percentage.

Trustees needed to establish a tentative figure so that the tax office could proceed in its preparation of the tax

Both Tax Assessor-Collector Orpha Click and Jim McMorries, tax appraiser and consultant, recommended the 60 per cent ratio since some farmers are checking irrigation well production levels. Some farmers are finding that pumping levels are below expected and therefore land values may be cutback in

A total valuation of about $350, million was used to figure the amount of taxes the district will need starting in September based on a 60 per cent ratio. The present tax rate is $1.85 per $100 of assessed valuation.

All school board members were present at the close of the meeting.

Paving Ordinances OK'ed; City Tax Board Appointed

The Hereford City Commission passed three resolutions during a called meeting this morning. They dealt with the city's current paving assessment program.

Also, Neil Cooper, Melvin Jayroe and Wayne Lady were appointed to serve on the joint county, city, school district tax equalization Board. No date has been set for the board to meet to hear tax cases.

The three ordinances were lengthy routine matters connected with the paving. The first ordinance established Jake Diel Dirt and Paving Contractors as the firm to pave the streets, the second set procedures for the paving assessment program, and the third set the public hearing on the program for Aug. 2. It will be held in conjunction with the regular City Commission meeting at 7:30 p.m. that night.

Tom Moore, a Dumas Attorney, represented Diel at the meeting. All commissioners were present.

Workers in a field just south of Hereford gather sacks of onlons as the vegetable harvest gets underway in Deaf Smith County. Prices are probably responsible for more tears in the eyes of growers than the onlone themselves currently, as onion harvest is off to a start in the face of a severly depressed market. Potato harvesting should begin locally Tuesday, and the market for those vegetables will depend on the influx of potatoes from other areas into the marketplace.

Bell Telephone To Ask TUC for Rate Increase

NEW YORK (AP) Karl Thomas steamed safely toward Holland aboard a Russian ship today after a severe thunderstorm aborted his attempt to become the first person to cross the Atlantic Ocean in a balloon.

After not being heard from for almost four days. Thomas radioed Thursday from the 423-foot Soviet freighter Dekabrist to say the ship had plucked him from a raft in the Atlantic.

Thomas reported that he had been forced to ditch his 90-foot, red, white and blue, starstudded balloon about 6 a.m. Sunday, some 33 hours after he had lifted off from Lakehurst, N.J., Naval Air Station on Friday.

He said he cracked three ribs and suffered some bleeding in his right lung when he jumped 200 feet from the open 14 foot gondola of his balloon and hit the water.

"I'm feeling a little bit on the sore side," the 27-year-old adventurer said in a ship-to-shore telephone conversation with radio station CJCH in Halifax, Nova Scotia.

He told the station that after ditching the balloon "I spent the next four days in the raft until I ran across the Dekabrist." Thomas said he had no food or water during the period in the raft and time "was kind of dragging on."

He said that one of the first questions he asked himself as his raft rose and fell on the Atlantic was, "Gee, I wonder what I'm doing here."

The Coast Guard put the site of the Wednesday night rescue at 550 miles southeast of New York and 300 miles northeast of Bermuda. Capt. Charles Juecter, deputy commander of the Coast Guard's Atlantic area, said Thomas was picked up "in the general area" where a Coast Guard airplane had flown a search mission for him on Wednesday.

After talking with the Halifax radio station, Thomas called the Manhartan radio-communications center that had monitored his flight.

He told Wallace Clayton; a member of his ground crew, "Tell my wife I'm in great shape. There are no problems. I hope I have not caused any of you too much concern about me. And I've got a lot to tell you."

Thomas' wife of eight weeks, Michele, said she was relieved and pleased to hear that her husband was safe. She said she would fly to Rotterdam, The Netherlands, to meet the Dekabrist, which is scheduled to dock Thursday, July 8.

Officials Ask Texans To Drive Safely

The director of the Texas Department of Public Safety said today indications are that some 42 persons will be killed in Texas traffic accidents during the Fourth of July weekend, and called upon Texas drivers to "prove our estimate is too high."

Colonel Wilson E. Speir said his department expects "unusually heavy traffic" throughout the state, especially around recreational areas and where Bicentennial celebrations are scheduled.

He said the estimate covers a 78-hour period which starts at 6 p.m. Friday and continues until midnight Monday, July

During a comparable period last year, the department estimated that 54 persons would be killed during the holiday period. At the conclusion of the July 4th holiday last year, statewide statistics indicated 44 lives lost and rose to 49 with late reports.

In a concerted effort to keep deaths down, the DPS and local law enforcement agencies will be cooperating in an all-out effort to make the streets and highways as safe as possible. All available DPS troopers will be on duty, Speir indicated, and they will be especially watchful for drinking drivers, speeders and persons driving in a reckless manner.

Good Kansas Wheat Crop Predicted

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) - Reports of better-than-expected yields lead the president of the Kansas Farm Bureau to forecast a 1976 Kansas wheat crop of 300 million bushels despite drought, disease, freeze and bugs.

"I think now we could have 300 million bushels or more in Kansas," John Junior Armstrong said Thursday. "It's been a pleasant surprise to a lot of farmers. It's still not our best crop but it's better than a lot of people thought it was going to Farmers also are holding tight on sales of the newly harvested grain in a continued push for the "orderly marketing" strategy born two years ago, the farm leader said.

"Our marketing specialist estimates only about 15 per cent of the wheat is being sold by farmers," Armstrong said. "Farmers are holding the rest of the grain and putting it in storage for future sales."

An official of Far-Mar-Co, Inc., the nation's largest regional grain cooperative, said the amount of wheat being sold appears to be much lower than the Farm

Bureau's estimate. "The percentage being sold is extremely low," said Lloyd Spivey, vice president of the cooperative's wheat operations. "I would say less than 5 per cent is being sold at our elevators." With wheat prices hovering in the $3.30-3.40 range at most country elevators, farmers apparently are not ready to sell their grain and are storing most of it.

Harvesting was continuing Thursday over most of the state, though scattered showers had forced some areas to halt operations temporarily, said Jim Jay at the state harvest labor control office.

"Most areas are in full swing," Jay said. "They're trying to wind up in the south central had pretty heavy rain. They'll be shut down a day or two."

In addition to weather problems, Spivey said cooperative elevators have reported numerous difficulties in transporting wheat from the country to major terminals.

"We've had a lot of transportation problems," he said. "Some elevators are full and they can't get boxcars or trucks to move the wheat."

Black Keeps Post Office; Sunday Service May End

Among the communities affected is the small hamlet of Black, located about halfway between Hereford and Friona.

Regional post offices in 11 Southern states last week issued an order to suspend Sunday postal box service to several cities, especially small communities. That order has also been rescinded but persons already notified of the order will lose their Sunday service.

John Billimek, district manager of customer services in the Southwest, said the original order to suspend the Sunday services was a national effort to standardize postal services. Billimek said some communities across Texas were notified that they would not receive their box mail Sunday.

He said those persons not nofitied will continue to receive box mail on Sunday. Billimek said the order affected mostly second and third class post offices, which includes the small communities.

The Postal service in Washington, D.C. said Wednesday it would not close or consolidate any post office while Congress considers legislation to increase postal subsidy.

Other Texas communities affected by this order include: Carey, Frankel City, Glazier, Lowake, Middle Water, Pettit, Rockwood, Stacy, Vineyard and Voss.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - Jerry the 1976-77 general appropriadler has lost the big round in his effort to undo Jon Newton's victory over him for the railroad commission in the June 5

Democratic runoff primary. But State District Court Judge Herman Jones set a further hearing for the former land commissioner on July 9.

Sadler claims that Newton. state representative from Beeville, is inelegible for the November general election ballot.

Master of ceremonies Tom Simons introduced the colorful Gorman, who has been a NL umpire since 1950 and has worked in five World Series and six All-Star contests. Gorman told his audience that "umpiring is a good job, but you have to like it."

Gorman had a number of interesting comments about his profession and career, and outlined some of the memorable events in his job. He thinks Cincinnati has the best team in the majors, but believes the Brooklyn Dodgers once had the best team ever. Johnny Bench was his choice as the best catcher in baseball.

Gorman drew a round of applause when he remarked that he was happy to see the girls at the banquet. "The girls should have a separate league but equal opportunities," stated the speaker.

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Supreme Court ruled today that states cannot require a woman seeking an abortion to get consent from her husband if she is married or from a parent if she is single and under age 18.

Archbishop Joseph L. Ber-nardin of Cincinnati, president of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops, said, "The Supreme Court has compounded the tragic error of its abortion decisions 31/4 years ago and struck a serious blow at parents and families."

Noting that for more than a century "abortion was a socially abhorrent crime," the archbishop added that "today's decision makes abortion more constitutionally significant than the rights of parents to rear their children. It gives abortion precedence over the right of husbands to participate fully in all decision affecting their marriages."

Bill Cox, director of the National Committee for a Right to Life Amendment, said the decision "is very distressing to us." He said it underlines "the need for a human rights amendment to the Constitution" to protect the unborn.

President Ford Appeals For Bigger Tax Cuts

By JIM LUTHER

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Ford is appealing again for bigger tax cuts now that a two-month freeze on payroll tax withholding rates is in place.

But there appears little chance that Congress will go along with Ford's proposals, first offered last October.

A bill preventing a hike in payroll withholding while Congress finishes work on a broad tax revision bill was signed by Ford Wednesday night, just five hours before the rates would Ford's signature means workers will not have to face an immediate increase of $3 to $6 a week in withholding. By the time the freeze expires on Sept. 1, Congress is expected to have passed a bill making the tax reductions permanent or at least extending them through June 30, 1977.

In signing the legislation, Ford noted that he had urged Congress 10 months ago to make permanent the 1975 tax cuts, worth about $15 billion a year, and to reduce taxes by another $10 billion.

"Now, nine months later, the response from the Congress is typical of their failure to face the issues," Ford said. "The Congress, after waiting until the last possible day, has enacted a two-month freeze of withholding rates rather than cutting taxes another $10 billion as I had requested."

Ford's plan called for a $10 billion reduction in federal spending to offset the additional tax cut. But Congress made it clear it would not accept the President's call for domestic spending cuts while he insisted that the defense budget be left

Congress already has gone on record in favor of using the $10 billion for recession-fighting and job-creating programs, rather than cutting taxes further.

And under its new budget procedures, Congress has virtually locked out any chance that taxes will be cut anywhere near the $10 billion Ford

It is expected Congress will agree to extend the tax cuts through all of fiscal 1977, which ends on Sept. 30, 1977. That would be three months longer than the tax-writing Finance Committee recommends.

Because of considerable sentiment for the extra three months of tax cuts, it came as a mild surprise Wednesday when the Senate on a 55 to 35 vote, rejected a proposal that would have raised enough money to pay for the additional extension.

That proposal would have imposed a 15 per cent tax withholding on all interest and dividends, in much the same what that taxes now are withheld from workers' paychecks.

Without the freeze on tax withholding rates, a family of four earning $6,000 would have faced a $445-per-year increase. The increase for a four-member family earning $15,000 or a single person making $25,000 would have been $180. A couple with no children and earning, $10,000 would have faced a $204 increase.

Improving the individual remains the cardinal purpose of life.

Dear Ann Landers: I have partner. In the meantime, I learned a great deal from your column and now I want to contribute something, in the spirit of "replenshing the well." It is the profile of the Fatal Driver as described by the U.S. Department of Transportation.

The cities studied in depth were Baltimore, Boston, Albu-Here's the person who is most likely to kill himself (or someone else) when he gets behind the vheel of a car:

The Fatal Driver is usually a male, 25 to 35 years old, a heavy drinker who often prefers beer to liquor. He probably has a high school education, drives an older car, is single, divorced or separated from his wife.

He displays excessively aggressive drinking habits and is the greatest threat to highway safety during the early morning hours of the weekend, especially on holidays. -- A Friend.

Dear Friend: Thanks for the ip-off. And now a word to those who fit the description:

YOU know who you are. WE don't. Will you do us all a favor and tape this column to the dashboard of your car as a reminder that our lives are in your hands? Please do it today. The Fourth of July weekend is one of the bloodiest. Thank you.

Dear Ann Landers: Sorry, can't go along with your answer to the wife who said sex does nothing for her so she fakes it for her husband's sake. You gave her "an E for Effort and a T for trying."

When a woman doesn't give her 50 per cent the man gets far less enjoyment out of sex. A normal man who is halfway decent derives very little leasure if his bed partner lets him know it's a bore and she is merely accommodating him.

Equal participation and equal enthusiasm is essential or the sexual relationship is a bust. I wonder how many people wrote to complain about your stupid answer, I'll bet I'm not the only one. -- Got One Of My Own Faith proclaimed our Liberty throughout the land!

All men had dreamed of being free—
Until that fourth day of July;
For then, two hundred years ago,
With help from God a tiny band
Of men proclaimed the thing we know
As Liberty throughout the land.
Because of them, we speak our mind;
In government we have a voice.
And then we may, when we're inclined,
Attend the Church that is our choice.
So, climb aboard the Freedom Train
This special Independence Day;
And pray that freedom will remain
Forever, in the U.S.A.!

Six Flags To Celebrate Bicentennial Weekend

celebrate the Bicentennial entertainers. Ray Charles, of the greatest recording artists Chuck Berry and Mel Tillis, who will perform at the Music Mill

The King of soul music, Ray Charles, will perform in two concerts at 8 p.m. and 10 p.m. Friday, July 2. Chuck Berry will appear the next day in two concerts at 8 p.m. and 10 p.m. on Saturday, 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. concerts on Sunday, July 4.

Ray Charles has been called a. legend in his own time, a genius and a man who touches men's souls as he has captured audiences around the world with his inspirational music.

Charles is a man of many talents. He taught himself to play and write for every brass and wind instrument in the orchestra.

In addtion, the singer, who has been blind since he was seven years old, plays a challenging game of chess, has the techincal knowledge to pilot a plane and has ridden a motorscooter.

It was a long, hard climb for Charles, who not only had the disadvantage of being blind, but was an orphan by the time he was 14. At an early age, he developed his love for music and soon decided to make a career of it. He traveled around the country with a number of bands before cutting "I Got a Woman" on Atlantic Records in 1954, Berry is another singing superstar who first gained fame in the 50s. He is credited with being one of the initiators of rock and roll music with his first recording, which was also his first big hit called "Maybellene.

Between 1955 and 1958, at least one of his records was always on the top hit lists. Some of his greatest recordings include "Roll Over Beethoven," "Rock and Roll Music," "Memphis," "Johnny B. Good" and "Nadine."

Berry was born in St. Louis, Missouri in 1931. He begån playing boogie woogie rhythms the piano at seven and bought a second hand Spanish guitar for $4 when he was in high school.

Chamber Urges Course In Free Enterprise

The Board of Directors of the for more government controls, West Texas Chamber of Commerce at the WTCC annual meeting in Del Rio adopted a position urging the Texas State Legislature to pass legislation that would require every student in Texas high schools to complete satisfactorily a course in the fundamentals and benefits of the American Free Enterprise System as a requirement for graduation.

'Individual enterprise, as Thomas Jefferson noted, was the foundation for the pillars of American prosperity two centuries ago," said W.H. (Bill) Collyns of Midland, WTCC president in commenting on the WTCC position. "In fact, it was largely the interprise of individuals and organizations seeking profits, that spurred the founding of the colonies in the century before the break with England. Every school child knows that the Revolution was a struggle for freedom. What is often overlooked is that one of the basic liberties for which the colonies fought was freedom of enterprise - the freedom to develop without the economic constraints imposed by England."

In its position paper West Texas Chamber of Commerce points out that now we hear increasing calls for constraints on our economic freedom. Calls

They do not understand the fact that all our freedoms are woven into the same cloth, and that if economic freedom is lost, then personal freedom will be lost also. C.L. Cooke of Fort Worth, chairman of WTCC's State Affairs Committee that originated the WTCC position, said that "now, at this special time in our history, Americans should remember that our freedoms are inseparable. Freedom of enterprise is essential to our economic growth and well being, to create more and better jobs, more energy, more security, and the capital they demand. Furthermore; this same freedom of enterprise can generate the funds needed to continue the impressive social progress achieved in recent years.

"In America, Free Enterprise has been a success for 200 vears. Free Enterprise gives us the freedom of choice, in the market place, of jobs, of opportunities to succeed or, yes, to fail. "Manned Flight" is one of a series of twelve traveling exhibitions made possible by a grant from the Moody Foundation of Galveston, Texas, to the Humanities Research Center of The University of Texas at Austin.

The Moody Bicentennial Humanities Exhibitions have been created from materials drawn from the extensive collections of books, manuscripts, and art works of the Humanities Research Center collections, and they will travel throughout the State of Texas during 1976 and 1977 in conjunction with the National Bicentennial. The Humanitites Research Center collections constitute one of the world's most significant libraries for research in the humanities, and the Moody Foundation grant "Manned Flight" is an exhibition of photographs which highlights the progress of man's successful attempts to fly from the Wright Brothers at Kitty Hawk to the first walk of man upon the moon. Early photographs of pioneering Texas aviators include the Frances Stinton School of Flying in San Antonio and the first aero-space flight by Pathe News reporters over Dallas.

PAUL HARVEY NEWS

Carter's Politics

I've seen the Jimmy Carter paradox at least once before. In the Forties Americans listened to the play-by-play of World War II on the radio. There was the authoritative voice of Ed Murrow, the staccato urgency of H.V. Kaltenborn, the sonorous enunciation of John Daly. These were articualte men, reared in the early broadcasting tradition which put a premium on mellifluousness. One might even say, pomposity.

Than then along came Elmer Davis.

Elmer Davis, by previous standards, was least likely to succeed as a broadcaster of anything. His thin countrified voice almost whinnied. Yet he held enrapt a larger daily audience than all those other fellows put together.

Elmer. Davis was no accident. He had the academic credentials which he was careful no to advertise. He'd apprenticed diligently as a journalis But where he outshone all of his contemporaries was in an imperturbable casualness which conversationalized the most cute crisis.

The war news, recited with a down-home drawl, was somehow less terrible, at least more listenable.

Elmer Davis seemed to speak from and to the heart of nine-tenths of our country that's still more-or-less provincial. And midst the sometimes too-polished textbook elocution of his contemporaries, Elmer Davis was a refreshing change. Miami to Seattle and San Diego to Massachusetts, I've heard Jimmy Carter referred to as "a refreshing change." In Pocatello, Ida., somebody said, 'He doesn't look or sound like a He is, of course. But as his policies and preferences become known he is losing none of this grassroots appeal:

"Our single most important priority must be a job for every American who wants to work.'

"Our tax system should be vastly simplified, eliminating most all deductions, treating all personal income alike."

"New energy emphasis should be on coal and solar "The death penalty should be retained for specific crimes." "Mandatory busing does not work, should be provided only

On abortion, Carter is personally against it but considers the Supreme Court decision final.

for those who want it."

He would issue a pardon, not amnesty, to all Vietnam draft evaders. Because amnesty says you were "right." A pardon says whether you were right or wrong you are "forgiven,"

Then there is Carter's unabashed acknowledgement of his personal religious commit-

As for the Washington bureaucracy, he would reduce the present 1,900 departments to no more than 200.

You can see why he has the elders of his own party anxious.

being voiced.

"Simple solutions are impossible, but we do know that the ultimate answer has to be the individual driver's personal commitment. Americans are noted for their ability to accomplish, and that ability now needs to be applied toward reduced traffic crashes throughout this country." he concluded. The Traffic Safety Administrator urges motorists to utilize the free rest stops and avoid regulatory agencies is causing Americans and Congress to react against over-zealous actions, according to Rep. B.F. Sisk (D-Calif.)

Speaking to the third annual National Cotton Outlook Conference in Lubbock, Sisk said, Every new rule is just that much added to cost and the recent action by the House to exempt farms and other small businesses with 10 or fewer employees is an example of the changing mood in Washing-

He referred to a Housepassed amendment to the appropriations bill for the Departments of Labor and Health, Education, and Wel-

Assistant Agriculture Secretary Richard E. Bell told the conference developing countries are more important to American agricultural commodity exports than developed countries. He said 35-40 per cent of all U.S. farm exports and more that 55 per cent of cotton exports go to developing countries. Jack H. Barton, vice president of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Houston, said farmers will find credit available in the future but warned that lenders are going to require more and better records on productivity and budget management before they will lend money for farming. J.H. (Tony) Price, executive vice president of Texas Cotton Ginners' Assn., described regulations' impact on cotton as being in "the iceberg state" because there is little on the surface to serve as a warning that the big part is under water and is actually the most dangerous part. He said the cotton dust control standard being proposed by OSHA will have a double-barreled effect because textile mills can't meet the proposed levels and the ginning industry also lacks the engineering control expertise which would be required. Macon Edwards, Washington representative of the National Cotton Council, told conferees sored by The Cotton Foundation, in cooperation with the National Cotton Council. Barbs

West Texas Chamber Opposes Energy Legislation

Commerce is voicing strong opposition to two bills now pending in Congress that would have a detrimental effect upon this nation's energy supplies.

In two position papers, adopted by the Board of Directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at its annual convention in Del Rio. WTCC is opposing the so-called compromise bill on natural gas price controls (S. 3422). In a second position paper WTCC is expressing its opposition to portions of the proposed tax reform act, H.R. 10612.

WTCC is pleased that the Senate recognizes that action needs to be taken to modify present unrealistic natural gas regulations, but believes that S. 3422 will not accomplish the desired result of generating maximum domestic gas supply but will, in fact, do the opposite.

Under the provisions of the proposed legislation, this bill phases out price controls on interstate gas produced from onshore areas over a seven-year period. The bill provides little prospect for improving prices for old flowing gas.

WTCC believes the provision in S. 3422 which permits states to set new gas prices lower than the prescribed national onshore ceiling, is illadvised and would be unnecessary if new onshore interstate gas is deregulated immediately or phased out over a limited period. L.H. Byrd of Midland, WTCC chairman of the Mineral Resources Development Com-mittee, says that "this bill continues price controls on gas produced from the federal offshore areas indefinitely and at prices lower than those proposed onshore. This will accelerate the shortage of natural gas which will directly affect the nation and West Texas. If immediate decontrol of prices offshore is politically infeasible at this time, then as a minimum, price controls should be phased out over a specific limited number of years." In a second position paper, Commerce opposes four sec-nation. Outflow of American tions of the Tax Reform Act, dollars is said to have increased H.R. 10612, which, if passed as by 21 million dollars from 1970 now written, would have a to 1975, and unless the oil and detrimental effect upon this gas industry is encouraged or at nation's energy supplies be-cause they would severly hinder, if not stop, production of old and new energy supplies.

Commenting on this proposed federal legislation, W.A. Grif-firs, Jr., of San Angelo, chairman of WTCC's National Affairs Committee, states that 'this nation will remain heavily dependent upon oil and gas for required energy supplies for many, many years to come. At the present time our nation is importing more petroleum than it is producing, and under the present congressional political climate, this situation can be expected to get worse.

"As a larger percentage of America's petroleum needs are mported from foreign countries, this nation can expect increasing related problems. Dollar drain from this country to

West Texas Chamber of lead to bankruptcy of this least not penalized by Congress, the amount of dollar outflow in the next five years will rise much higher.

Bill Collyns, president of the WTCC, when asked to comment on this bill, stated that "if this nation is ever to achieve energy independence; if this nation is ever to achieve permanently a plus dollar balance of exports over imports and thus stop the bankrupting outflow of American dollars; if this nation's energy producers ever are able to establish enough cash flow to meet the necessary dollar requirements for investments to create necessary and required new jobs...then the Congress of the United States must cease and desist enacting such proposed legislation as Sections 101, 202, 208 and 301 of the proposed Tax Reform Act."

East Texas Historical Drama Presented Nightly

Sunset at the Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation no longer brings with it the familiar ounds of crickets and other night creatures. It is now replaced by booming cannons of the Texas Volunteer Army and the spectacle of assimilated lightning streaking throught the natural background scenery of towering pine trees. It is all a part of Beyond The Sundown, the historical outdoor drama of the East Texas Indians presented nightly except Sundays now through August 21. The Reservation is located between Livingston and Woodville 85 miles north of Houston.

Very little had been written about the history of the Tribes although they were settlers of the Big Thicket while still under the flag of Spain. How events led to the removal of other Indian Tribes in Texas but not the Alabama-Coushattas is the story skillfully presented in the form of modern choreography, sound effects and an original musical score on the permanent stage of the 1,545-seat Sundown amphitheatre. The outdoor drama is part of a tourist development program begun in 1965 by the Tribes to foster the economic growth of the some 500 tribal members living on the Reservation. The tourist program now attracts over 250,000 visitors annually. Managed by the Tribal Council, activities include a daily program by colorfully feathered Indian dancers, a tour through the Living Indian Village, a Big Thicket Reptile Garden Four and other interesting tours. Campers will delight in the modern campgrounds with complete hookups. A curio shop with handmade Indian artifacts and Restaurant opens daily at 9:00 a.m. with tours beginning
