Briscoe Offers Highway Solution

AUSTIN (AP) - Gov. Dolph Briscoe says he has a patch for the state highway department's road maintenance program.

By shuffling existing highway taxes around, Briscoe told a news conference Wednesday, the 1977 Legislature can come up with a $825 million solution for the next two years.

"I am convinced that we can resolve

Carter Policy Same

WASHINGTON (AP) - If Jimmy Carter is elected president of the United States it will not mean any major change in American foreign policy, predicts Joseph J. Sisco, political anchorman for six American secretaries of state.

The career diplomat, who quit the State Department's No. 3 post last month to become president of American University said any administration will have to focus swiftly on the Middle East in 1977.

Connally Attacks

WASHINGTON (AP) - John B. Connally says he's not campaigning for the Republican vice-presidential nomination, but the former Texas governor has come out swinging at critics who claim he was too close to the Watergate scandal. Connally on Wednesday lashed out at two Republican congressmen, Reps. William S. Cohen of Maine and Tom Railsback of Illinois, who are trying openly to scuttle his chances of landing a spot on the Republican ticket. Connally was acquitted last year of a bribery charge brought by the Watergate special prosecutor.

Viking's Arm Broken

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) - Viking's soil-scooping arm may be permanently out of commission, leaving scientists with only the dirt already gathered to carry on their search for life on Mars. Scientists ordered Viking's camera to look at the jammed arm today, hoping it might spot the source of trouble. The sampler arm jammed Tuesday while reaching out for more soil destined for the organic chemistry experiment.

Scientists say there is still hope for that crucial organic analysis. They planned to order Viking to go ahead with the experiment on Friday on the assumption that the organic chemistry instrument got its full complement of soil when Viking first went digging last week.

Reagan In Trouble

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) - Ronald Reagan's final pre-convention campaign tour is off to an unsteady start after his liberal running mate, Sen. Richard Schweiker of Pennsylvania, received a cool reception in Mississippi.

While Regan and Schweiker headed for New York and New Jersey today where they hoped to pry loose some uncommitted and wavering Ford delegates, Reagan's Mississippi state campaign leaders conceded that the former California governor may have lost some support from the state's delegation with the selection of Schweiker.

Weather

Partly cloudy through Friday with a slight chance of late afternoon and nighttime thunderstorms. A little warmer today. High today in the low 90's and high Friday about 90. Low tonight in the middle 60's.

Building On The Rise

The office building above was built for the accounting firm of Julian Berry and Joe Shollenbarger on Main Street in Hereford. It was the largest commercial building authorized through city building permits for July. As new building like this one are constructed, Hereford's yearly record continues to rise daily since the previous annual total has already been surpassed.

Sciumbato Appointed County Juvenile Probation Officer

The Deaf Smith County Juvenile Board officially received the resignation of Jim Grimes as county juvenile probation officer and selected a replacement to succeed him at a called meeting Wednesday afternoon at the courthouse.

County Judge Sam Morgan said this morning that Grimes, who has served in the capacity for the last seven months, had accepted a job as supervisor with the Lubbock probation office. He originally came from that office in January to replace Larry Watson, who resigned to take a job in Amarillo.

Phillip Sciumbato, 29, was overwhelmingly accepted by the board members as the new county juvenile probation officer after numerous recommendations had been voiced for his selection from area citizens. He was formerly the juvenile officer with the Hereford Police Department.

The new officer, a 1965 graduate of Hereford High School, has lived in Hereford most of his life. He joined the police department as a detective and then became its juvenile officer working with area youth on drug awareness programs and counseling them.

He was a farmer before joining law enforcement.

His education continued at Amarillo Junior College and West Texas State University. He has attended numerous drug schools and seminars and has taken several courses in law enforcement at the college level.

"My main goal (in the new job) is to establish a good relationship between youth and establishment," Sciumbato said. "I want to teach them their responsibilities early."

Morgan said the board reviewed applications of several persons who had applied for the job back in January. One other person beside Sciumbato was interviewed by the board this week.

"We received a lot of calls from people wanting Phil as the juvenile probation officer," Morgan said. "Everything was worked out fine with the police chief (Don Brush) for Phil to begin work Monday."

The board is composed of representatives of the city, school district and county. They include Morgan, Bruce Coleman, Doug Manning, Charles Bell, Larry Wartes, Paul Abalos, and Mrs. Ruth Word.

Sciumbato said that he has maintained his drug reference library and that it will still be available for students who need it for reports in school.

Expansion Plans Announced

Jones Motor Finds New Location

A move to a new location and expansion plans were announced this week by Noel and Dale Jones, owners and managers of Jones Motor Co. of Hereford, the local Chrysler-Plymouth dealer.

New headquarters for the motor company will be one mile south on US-385 in the building formerly occupied by Oglesby Equipment Co. "With our business continuing to increase, we decided that we needed to improve our facilities in every aspect," said Dale Jones.

The building on US-385 was purchased and will be completely renovated-including redecoration of the showroom area, new lifts and hoist in the service area, and a complete clean-up and paint-up throughout.

Noel Jones engineered and supervised the new design and redecoration of the facility. He pointed out that the move will more than double and triple some of the areas of the present building on East Main.

The showroom and parts department areas are to have more than double the present space, while the service department area will be tripled, and the parking area outside the building will be almost unlimited.

The motor company plans to make the move to the new location Aug. 13-15. "We hope to make the move with as little inconvenience as possible to our customers. We will have a grand opening just in time to introduce the 1977 models," Dale Jones stated.

The brothers also announced that they expect to add four people to the staff. A new service manager, Gary Williams, has already joined the personnel at the motor company. All of the present staff will be retained.

Jerry Gee, district representative for Chrysler Corp., announced this week that "Chrysler Corporation is proud of the move due to the enhancement of both Chrysler and Jones Motors." He added that the corporation is "confident in the growth of both Jones Motors and the Hereford area."

Soweto Patrolled After Widespread Black Riots

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) - Heavily armed police patrolled the tense Soweto township today following widespread rioting in the sprawling black ghetto. The government denied reports that the police killed three blacks during the upheaval Wednesday.

The Johannesburg Star said three persons were killed and 18 injured when the police opened fire to turn back 20,000 blacks trying to march on Johannesburg to protest the imprisonment of black student leaders. The police claimed there were no deaths and only 13 injured.

The disturbances were the worst in Soweto since rioting broke out there June 16 and spread to a dozen other black townships around Johannesburg and Pretoria. The known toll then was 176 dead, all but two of them blacks, and more than 1,100 injured.

Police in armored personnel carriers patrolled Soweto all day Wednesday, dispersing roving crowds of blacks with tear gas. Police roadblocks sealed off the

Construction Rises In July

By BOBBY TEMPLETON
Brand News Editor

Hereford city records showed this week that the total of building permits issued in July amounted to $462,300. It was far below the large amounts recorded in earlier months this year, but higher than the total recorded in June.

Last month's total brought the yearly total to $6,101,070. The lowest monthly total recorded in 1976 was in June when the permits reflected construction of $313,600. The highest amount, the monthly record for the city, was April with $1,295,340.

No matter what the news the last two months, the city is still experiencing the largest growth period according to the construction totals. The May total of $1,145,550 pushed the yearly total to an all time yearly high. The previous yearly record was established in 1965 when Sugarland Mall was built.

This year, the dramatic increases have resulted from commercial structures such as the New Hereford Grain Company's new elevator, a surgical wing on the hospital and Hereford State Bank's new building.

The totals for the other months this year are: $790,230 - January; $958,290 March; and $1,135,850 - February.

So far these totals have surpassed last year's when the permits issued amounted to $4,481,971 for the 12-month period. The total for the month of July in 1975 was $234,250.

The trend in 1975 was for the permits to reach higher levels in the last five months of the year. If the pattern follows true, then only brighter times are ahead this year.

The July, 1976 permits were issued primarily for single family residential housing, valued at $364,000 for the month. The largest was constructed by Joe Reinauer Jr. for $90,000.

The value of other houses and their builders are: $40,000 - George and George Builders Inc.; $42,000 - George and George Builders; $25,000 - Richard Crider (residence moved in); $37,000 - Lester Moffitt; $39,000 - Mike Ferguson; $28,000 - Daniel Higgins; $42,000 - Boggs Construction Co.; and $21,000 - Bill Devers.

Of the 26 permits issued in July, the others are as follows:

--$500 - Sam Valdez, alter and repair residence.

--$1,000 - Mannin Kearns, addition to residence.

--$300 - Hector Solano, addition to residence.

--$10,000 - Lela Gardner, mobile home.

--$500 - Reynaldo Garza, addition to residence.

$1,000 - Antonio Zunego, mobile home.

--$7,000 - Allene Warner, mobile home.

--$30,000 - Julian Berry and Joe Shollenbarger, office building.

--$100 - Aristeo Mato, metal and post construction.

--$900 - Hector Villarreal, garage enclosure.

--$7,000 - Ben - Royes, residence addition.

$18,000 - Hereford Day Care center, building addition.

--$1,500 - T. H. Sossaman, garage enclosure.

--$2,000 - L.V. Mays, church building moved in.

$17,500 - Allen Parsons, addition to residence.

--$750 - J.L. Kerby, alter and repair office building.

--$250 - James A. Gilliam, storage building.

Thieves Make Laundry Day Cleanup

Thieves "cleaned up" on laundry day at a local residence Wednesday morning, making off with items hanging on a clothesline.

Lillie Mae Walker of 725 Ave. H told police that a total of 14 towels were taken from her clothesline in the theft.

A break-in occurred at the A.J. Schroeter residence at 208 Ave. E Wednesday night or early this morning, but apparently nothing was taken.

Big Daddy's Truck Stop and Hereford Cash & Carry reported thefts of gasoline which occurred Wednesday and early Thursday when customers drove away, failing to pay their fuel.

Trustees Still Search Super

The Hereford School Board of Trustees met in executive session Wednesday night to consider applicants for the superintendent's job. No official business resulted.

The trustees met for an extended time in hopes of arriving at a decision as soon as possible on a replacement for Dr. Roy Hartman, who resigned to take a job in Grapevine, near Dallas.

Motor Company Moving

Partner. The dealership will be moving from their East Main location to a new facility on South Hwy 385 Aug 13-15.

More Looking Than Hooking Going On At Dallas Intersection

By TOM DE COLA
Associated Press Writer

EDITORS NOTE: An unlikely residential area on the fringe of Dallas' downtown district has become the new and unwanted scene of prostitution by bold street walkers. The City Council is in a quandry as to how to tell police what area residents call hooker pests. But AP Writer Tom De Cola "buzzed the field" on two recent evenings and found there appeared to be more looking than hooking.

DALLAS (AP) - It could have been New Orleans' French

Quarter. But this neon-blazing intersection was the center of Dallas' recent prostitute controversy.

The guys at the fire station on the corner of Cedar Springs and Throckmorton have the best look at the scene. They sit on chairs in front of the station-house watching the prostitute parade.

They are at the absolute heart of the Dallas prostitution explosion. It has resulted in angry verbal assaults on city council members from residents of the once-elegant area on the northern fringe of downtown. Now the area is a perverse potpourri of porn-shops, bars, parading homosexuals, prostitutes and peep shows.

There is undeniably a parade of prostitutes and gawkers, but a two-night stakeout revealed little action on the scene.

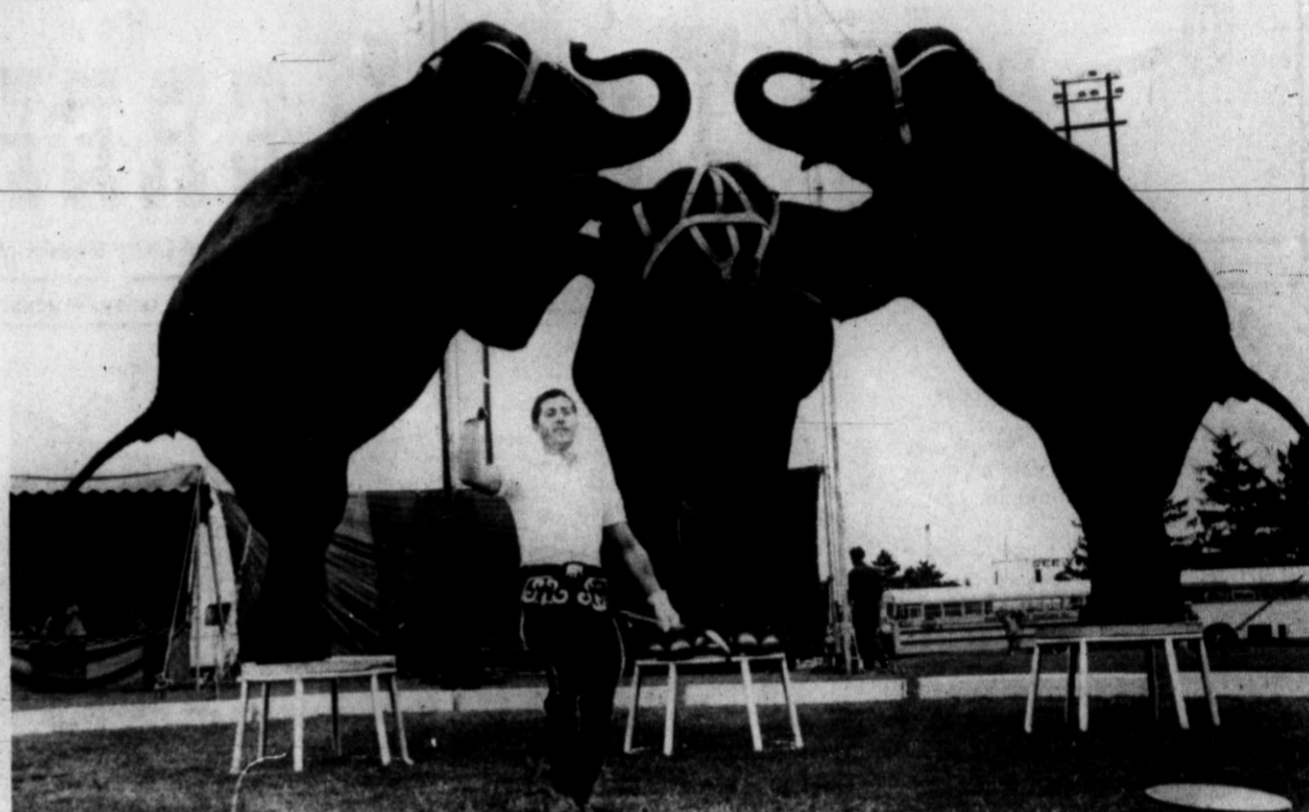

A recent night was hot and muggy. Shortly after midnight, traffic was bumper-to-bumper. Prostitutes were curb-to-curb as they joined crowds of people threading their way through the traffic and strolling along the sidewalks.

Carloads of families joined the procession, as did couples and boisterous teen-agers. Many yelled at the hookers, and received withering glances in return. No one can execute a withering glance like a lady of the evening.

Not a single instance was observed of prostitutes flagging down a vehicle to make an offer.

One striking girl, tawny, with cascades of auburn hair, strolled listlessly, then took up a position at the corner of Cedar Springs and Oak Lawn. She stood there for 1 1/2 hours. "Do you have time to talk?" she was asked. She shook her head. More questions got the same answer. She was bored.

Acting

Elephants are always a big attraction at any circus, and these trained giants, which will perform at the Hereford Jaycees Circus today at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. at the Rider's Club Arena, are no exception.

Trained lions and camels, and specialty acts will also be featured at the circus along with the stars of the ring, the clowns.

Jaycees Circus Performs Today

Area youngsters, and adults who are young at heart, will get the chance to see an example of one of the oldest and most popular forms of entertainment today when the 1976 Hereford Jaycees Circus gets underway.

The Jaycees brought the Carmen-Willison Circus to town today for two performances at the Rider's Club Arena. The circus kicks off with a matinee performance at 2 p.m. this afternoon, and continues to-night with a show at 7 p.m.

Lions, tigers, elephants, camels, specialty acts, and clowns, of course, will greet visitors to the circus at both performances. Admission is $1.50 for children and $3.00 for adults.

Republicans Pry Into Carter's Background for Information

WASHINGTON (AP) - Jimmy Carter said Wednesday the Republicans are looking into his personal background in preparation for the presidential campaign. But the Democratic nominee said he doesn't think there are any skeletons in his family closet.

"They've been doing a lot of research on my background all the way back to 1960 or 1955," Carter told reporters.

He said the Republican National Committee has been sending out "every adverse comment that's been made that's unconfirmed or that's been published in the news." "I think we can withstand it okay," he added.

The former Georgia governor made the comments outside Democratic National Committee headquarters where he met with party financial officials and with his newly formed campaign steering committee.

Asked if there might be any skeletons in the Carter family closet that could be unearthed by Republican researchers, Carter replied, "Not that I know of."

Bruce Hildebrand, a spokesman for the Republican committee, said "the only information we have sent out are items in the public record of the 'nonpartisan' press." "We've gone through newspapers and clippings and speeches prepared by himself.

"There are hundreds of contradictions in them and he may be worried about that," Hildebrand said.

Carter's comments were a continuation of a theme he stressed in an appearance Tuesday in Manchester, N.H., when he told a fund-raising affair that he expected the Republicans to unleash an "almost unprecedented, vicious personal attack" on him during the campaign. President Ford's press secretary, Ron Nessen said Carter's remarks only fueled White House enthusiasm for the fall campaign.

this funding crisis without new or additional taxes," he said.

"Sufficient revenues are in sight to more than replace the potential losses to the General Revenue Fund and to continue adequate funding of other state programs."

Speaker Bill Clayton said he generally agreed with Briscoe's plan but he wanted it understood the State Department of Highways and Transportation would not be re-established in size and power to its pre-inflation days.

"By 1980 all available revenue for the state highway system will be needed for maintenance, with no funds for new construction or for upgrading obsolete roads and bridges," Briscoe told a news conference. "Texas has the lowest highway user taxes of any state in the Union. I want to keep it that way. I am convinced that we can resolve this funding crisis within available revenues, without new or additional taxes."

Briscoe said his proposal to the January session of the legislature would: Increase the highway department operating fund by $23 million in 1978 by allocating three-fourths of the motor vehicle sales tax to the fund. Now, three-fourths of the tax goes to the state's general omnibus tax clearance fund. The one-fourth that goes to public schools would be unchanged.

Increase the highway fund by $45 million in 1978 by dedicating state taxes from the sales of tires, tubes, automobile parts and accessories to highway.

Limit to $20 million a year the Department of Public Safety's share of motor fuel taxes for upkeep of the highway patrol. Briscoe said this support now amounts to about one cent of the state five cent gasoline tax "and that in my opinion is too much." He said if the present trend continued "the DPS would be absorbing more money from the highway fund that the motor fuel tax produces."

Briscoe also recommended that the next legislature set aside Texas' $100 million per year in federal revenue sharing funds as an emergency fund for capital improvements on highway system. He said this could be used for safety programs including the widening of unsafe roads, overlays and replacement of unsafe bridges.

The revenue sharing money now is used almost exclusively for state college and university operating funds, excluding salaries.

"With these emergency funds, this program would provide $398 million in additional highway financing for 1978 and $427 million for 1979," Briscoe said.

He said his commitment to big spending for highways did not mean he was downgrading the need for more funds for public schools.

"I do not think there is any way to say one item is more important than another," he said.

He added that "the budget is getting into a tight situation" but he is sticking to his no new taxes policy.

"It is going to be my policy in the future," Briscoe said.

30 Cents Dividend Declared By Pioneer

AMARILLO...The Board of Directors of Pioneer Corporation (formerly Pioneer Natural Gas Company), at their quarterly meeting this week, declared a regular quarterly dividend of 30 cents per share to be paid September 2, to stockholders of record on August 19.

K.B. "Tex" Watson, Company President, reported to the directors that consolidated net income for the second quarter of 1976 amounted to $10,299,523 or $1.11 per share compared to $5,986,805 or 67 cents per share for the same quarter of 1975. Watson pointed out that 1975 earnings per share are restated to reflect the 20 per cent stock dividend distributed by Pioneer Corporation March 15, 1976.

In the first six months of 1976, the consolidated net income was $21,307,470, or $2.29 per share compared to $12,573,719 or $1.42 per share for the same period in 1975.

In making the announcement of the quarterly results, K.B. Watson, Company President, said that continued improvement in revenues from the production and sale of oil, condensate and other liquid hydrocarbons was a major contributing factor to the expanded earnings.

"Additional factors contributing to the improved earnings was the sale of some stockpiled inventory of uranium concentrate along with the change in uranium prices," Watson said. Uranium revenues for the first six months were $7,728,492 compared to $1,577,862 in 1975. The sale of current production for the six months would have produced approximately $4 million of revenue.

Watson went on to say, "Recorded gas sales volumes for the first six months of 1976 exceeded the previous year's sales by about 12.5 per cent." Watson pointed out, "This included a special sale of 2.2 billion cubic feet of gas to interstate companies, one billion of which occurred in the second quarter. Also, a change in meter reading dates for several classes of customers caused certain volumes of gas to be reported as sales in June and in the first six months which in previous years would have been recorded in the third quarter."

The quarterly report for Pioneer Corporation will be mailed to stockholders about the 16th of August.

POT CROP
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Marijuana plants were found growing in front of the Sacramento County sheriff's department and had to be destroyed.

"They were one-half to one-fourth inch high," Bill Miller, a spokesman for the department said. "The seeds were thrown there some time ago. We don't know if someone planted them intentionally or threw them there to get rid of them before coming into the department."

He said the plants were "in plain sight in front of the department."

Garden Ceremony Unites Couple

In a garden ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, Miss Tamera Kay Shaw became the bride of Glen Drye. Rev. Jack Manley, pastor of Golden West Baptist Church, Amarillo, officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Melvin K. Shaw of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Drye of 119 Bradley.

Floral decorations included a brass archway with greenery and yellow and white daisies centered with a large white bow, also brass stands on either side holding arrangements of yellow daisies.

Miss Vicki Pollard of Amarillo attended the bride as maid of honor while Frank Olguin of Hereford served as best man.

A reception following the ceremony was held in the home of the bride's parents where Mrs. John Gandy of Denton served cake and Mrs. Randy Jones served punch. Miss Deborah Gandy of Denton, a cousin of the bride presided at the guest registry. Mrs. Eddie Gandy, aunt of the bride from Dimmitt also assisted.

For a wedding trip to Santa Fe New Mexico, the bride chose a halter dress with an embroidered ruffle and bodice.

The couple is at home 310 Independence in Amarillo.

Couple To Celebrate Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Eucler of Summerfield will celebrate their 50th anniversary August 9.

Friends and relatives are invited to a reception in their honor from 2-4 p.m. Sunday in the home of their son J.R. Eucler of Summerfield.

No invitations will be mailed and the family requests cards or personal notes be sent instead of gifts.

Also serving as hosts are the couple's daughters and their husbands, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Day of Tucson, Ariz., and Mrs. and Mrs. Robert Tiffany of Questa N.M. Also present at the reception will be their children Darryl, Deanne, and Daureen Day and Bruce and Tom Tiffany. Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Eucler's children Lesley, Mrs. Wayne Barber, and David will be present along with the spouses and great-grandchild, Cheri Eucler. Mr. Eucler's sister, Mrs. Wayne Patterson of El Paso will join the family.

Economics Course To Be Offered

Texas Tech University will offer a course in home economics education this fall in Amarillo. The course number is Home Economics Education 533 Evaluation in Home Economics.

Dr. Valarie Chamberlain will be instructing the course which will be offered from 5:15-7:45 p.m. on Wednesday evenings for 15 weeks beginning September 8.

Anyone interested in this course, please contact Joyce Shipp, county extension agent, at 364-3573 by Wednesday, August 11. A car pool will be formed for anyone interested.

Ice Cream Social Planned

Residents and former residents of the Summerfield community are invited to attend the community's annual ice cream social at 8 p.m. Thursday.

The event will be held at the Summerfield Baptist Church. Each family is requested to bring ice cream or cake.

A Late Bloomer

Mrs. J.D. Love, a resident of King's Manor Retirement Home, is shown displaying her unusual house plant. Mrs. Love explained that she has had the plant about 15 years and has yet to find out the name of it. The most unique characteristic of the plant is the fact that it bloomed for the first time this week.

Auxiliary Installs Officers

Mrs. Ira Ott presided over the opening ritual and Mrs. Tom Draper conducted the installation ceremonies.

Auxiliary officers for the coming year include Mrs. Ira Ott, president; Mrs. Lawrence Carlson, first vice president; Mrs. M.J. Koelzer, second vice president; Mrs. Grant Hanna, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Robert Trowbridge, historian and reporter; Mrs. John H. Johns, chaplain; Mrs. Leon Denton, assistant chaplain; Mrs. G.H. Logan, sergeant at arms, and Mrs. Bill Albright, assistant sergeant at arms. Members discussed plans for the annual Harvest Dinner scheduled for Aug 17 from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Price for the dinner will be $2.75 per plate, and proceeds will go to the auxiliary's scholarship fund.

Mrs. James Jesko reported on a convention which she recently attended and refreshments were served to members by Mrs. J.E. Young and Mrs. H.E. Miller.

Of Guatemala's 42,042 square miles, the lowland of the Peten region makes up about a third. This area is half jungle, half savanna and is rich in timber and wildlife.

At Wit's End ...

By ERMA BOMBECK

The world is bent on saving me time.

My books are condensed, my food is pre-cooked, and even my oven cleans itself as I sleep.

The other morning, I saved three seconds with one-step waxer, five seconds by using a stronger bleach, and 12 seconds by letting my fingers walk through the yellow pages.

By using an aspirin that raced to my blood stream, I picked up another four seconds, and by using the expressway, another six seconds.

I used a suntan lotion that tanned me in half the time, putting six seconds in my time back, used a drive-in cleaner that saved me four seconds, and unclogged a sink with a liquid cleaner that saved me seven seconds.

My new coffee maker saved me four seconds over my old one, my gasoline saved me three seconds at the pump, and my record club saved me a full 13 seconds by picking my records out for me each month.

Around four in the afternoon, I found that I had saved a total of one minute and seven seconds. I decided to blow 'em.

I called the operator and asked her to place a call for me. She replied stiffly, "You can save time and money by dialing the number yourself."

"I know," I said, "but I've got the time and I'd like to spend some of it before it stacks up." She mumbled something and gave me a disconnect.

I dropped off at the grocer and took my place in line. "The express line will save you six items," she said.

"That's okay," I said cheerfully. "I've got time to waste."

"So, it's not fair to the people behind you," he said.

Just before dinner, the Avon lady dropped by and began quickly to show her wares. "Relax," I said. "I have a minute and seven seconds burning a hole in my pocket. How about a cup of tea?"

"You don't understand," she said hurriedly. "The purpose of my visit is to save you time."

That's the trouble with people. They spend all their lives amassing time and then there's no place to spend it.

District I Dress Revue Scheduled In Amarillo

"Bell-Ringing 4-H Fashions" is the theme for the 1976 District 14-H Dress Revue, according to Joyce Shipp, County Extension agent for home economics and chairman of the 1976 District I Dress Revue.

Site of the event is the Fine Arts Building of Amarillo College, and representing Deaf Smith County will be Carla West Smith County, Brenda Straffuss, Intermediate Division; and Kristy Simons, Junior Division. The occasion is scheduled for Thursday August.

Winners of county competitions will model creations they've constructed themselves. Contestants are judged on their sewing and construction skills, overall appearance, modeling abilities, and their 4-H record books.

A luncheon for participants at 12:15 p.m. will precede awards presentations. Revue and awards ceremonies begin at 2 p.m. State Senator Max Sherman will present the awards for juniors and Congressman Jack Hightower will do the honors for seniors.

In addition to the naming of five top seniors, awards will include the recognition of the 4-H'er making the best all-cotton outfit, the best all-wool and the best all-synthetic garment.

Again this year, says Mrs. Shipp, a division has been set up for the best all-western or riding outfit. The dress revue committee explained that because "this mode of dress has become a part of our way of life and heritage, it should be a part of the contest." There will be a special section on recycled garments. This will be an open division for juniors who may wish to enter.

The junior level contest, to be staged at the same time as the senior competition is for younger 4-H'er's ages 9 to 14. They will not compete beyond the district level. For them, the event offers experience and leadership development.

Senior winners will take their designs to the State 4-H Dress Revue in San Antonio Sept. 17-18.

Parents, 4-H leaders, and special guests will be on hand for the occasion. The public is invited to the revue at 2 p.m.

A 3 p.m. tea sponsored by the Texas Home Demonstration Association will climax the event.

Garage Sale To Benefit DSC Library

Members of Deaf Smith County Genealogical Society will sponsor a large garage sale Saturday August 7, from 9 a.m.-6 p.m. at 703 S. 25th Mile Ave.

Ann Landers Vacation Better Therapy

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A word to the man who said he'd been to dozens of counselors, psychologists and psychiatrists and got no help from any of them. Then he decided, that instead of shelling out $40 an hour to a shrink, he might as well take a vacation and have a beautiful and the weather was divine, but my problems were still with me. I couldn't run away from them nor could I leave them behind. Nobody gets help from counseling unless he is ready to accept it. My son went from one therapist to another for 14 years, only because I begged him (or when the judge made a condition on his release to my custody). But he never was able to accept help from anyone because he thought he was smarter than all of us put together. Finally I sought counseling and learned to accept my son the way he was. I also learned how to deal with bad news when the phone rang in the middle of the night -- and it did, often. Our son committed suicide last year. My heart breaks when I think of what he might have been. He was in some ways a genius, but he just wouldn't accept help.

I sought help because my son was tearing my life to pieces. Thank God for my therapist and thank God for you, Ann Landers. Please keep telling people if they can't cope to get counseling. They have nothing to lose and everything to gain -- like a life of sanity instead of madness. -- I Made It
DEAR FRIEND: When a mother whose child has committed suicide can sign her letter "I Made It," there is no greater testimony for counseling. Thank you for writing.
DEAR ANN LANDERS: Today I took my six-year-old son and his friend to the circus. The auditorium was very crowded.

In front of us sat a lady with two pre-school boys. When the circus started she told the kids to stand on their seats so they could see better. Of course, my two kids couldn't see a darned thing with them standing right in front. When the man sitting next to me saw how aggravated I was, he tapped the woman on the shoulder and asked her nicely to please tell her kids to sit down.
She gave him a dirty look and told her sons to keep standing. My little boy began to sob, "Mommy...I can't see the clowns."
I decided to take matters into my own hands. I got the woman's attention, and in a calm voice I said, "Please tell your kids to sit down." She turned around and yelled, "We paid good money for our tickets and my kids are going to see this circus no matter what." I hollered back, "we didn't exactly get in free."

Her two boys kept standing and blocked my kids, almost as if on purpose. I am still burned up. What should I have done? -- Day Ruined.
DEAR RUINED: You should have sought out an usher and asked HIM to settle it. He would have ordered the woman, under threat of eviction, to cooperate -- or found other seats for you and your children. ***

Sorting Out Clothes

A rummage sale, which will be sponsored by members of the Senior Citizens Organization, has been scheduled from 10 a.m.-6 p.m. Saturday, August 14. The sale will be held in the patio area of the old Central School building. Anyone interested in donating items for the sale is requested to bring them to the main office of the building. All proceeds will go toward the organization's expenses. Sorting out clothing articles for the sale are from left, Mmes. Peg Hoff, Helen Watts, Martha Wiltshire and Mary Wulff.

Solving Home Laundry Problems

Although modern washday is a "breeze" compared to frontier days, homemakers still experience problems with home laundry, Beverly Rhoades, a clothing specialist, says.

"Commonly heard complaints relate to energy costs, lack of cleanliness and excessive wrinkling.

"While these problems sometimes can be blamed on the ineffectiveness of laundry products or equipment, often they can be eliminated by changing laundry practices," she added.

Miss Rhoades is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

DETERGENT TYPE

If clothes feel harsh, have a white residue and colors fade or appear gray, the problem may be habitual use of low- or non-phosphate detergents which produce carbonate deposits on clothes and in washing machines.

The residue often can be lifted by soaking clothes in a vinegar, or other acid, solution and then washing thoroughly.

But do not put the clothes in the washing machine to soak because acid solutions may be harmful to the machine. Regular use of water softeners also helps reduce carbonate build up.

Habitual use of too little detergent often causes dirt to build up on clothes, producing a dull or grayed appearance. This is particularly true to fabrics such as synthetic knits that are reluctant to release oils, dirt and stains.

Unless water is unusually soft or mechanical water softeners are used, following the manufacturer's recommended amount of detergent will produce best results.

WATER TEMPERATURE

Excessive wrinkling or lack of cleanliness often relates to water temperature. Because of energy costs, many homemakers are using cold or warm water—rather than hot—for washing. Warm water wash is not only effective, but recommended, for many of today's fabrics. Cold water washing can be effective but may require additional attention.

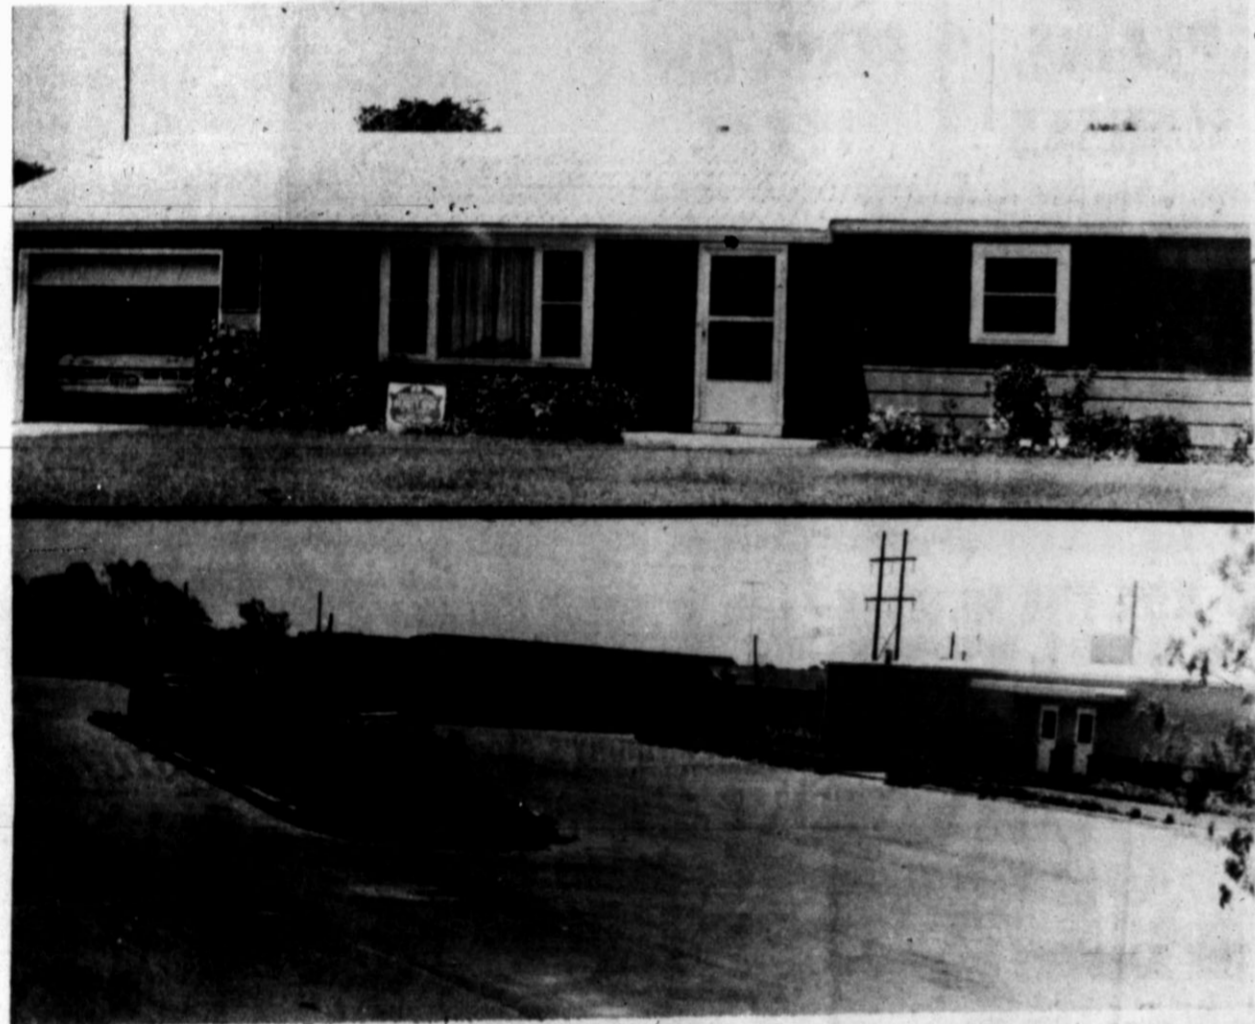

For a cleaner cold water wash, more detergent than normal recommended may be needed, unless the detergent is made especially for cold water.

If you find that powdered detergents do not dissolve properly in cold water, try a liquid detergent. More pre-treating may be necessary for effective spot or heavy soil removal in cold water.

If permanent press items are washed in cold water, machine drying is recommended because a certain amount of heat is needed to remove wear and spin wrinkles.

Cut energy costs with cold water rinsing which is just as effective and less expensive than warm water rinse options offered on some machines.

On Sept. 23, 1935, Huey Long, U.S. senator and one-time governor of Louisiana, was shot and killed by Dr. Austin Weiss, who in turn was killed by Long's bodyguard.

Beauty Points in Hereford

Hundreds of tiny marigolds are featured along with roses and other garden varieties in the landscaping design at the E.V. Carter home, 201 Union. The residence was selected as the Residential Beauty Spot for July by the Beautification Committee of the Women's Division of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. Each month a Non-Residential Beauty Spot is chosen by the Committee and this month is featured the American Legion Post 192, located at the entrance of Veteran's Park.

COMPUTER TALKS
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A talking computer is being used by Civil Service here to aid its blind employees.

The experimental program makes it possible for workers to get information from a Honeywell computer in audible as well as printed form. This is accomplished by transmitting electronic impulses from the computer to a voice synthesizer which constructs words. Past methods for supplying computer information were printouts, video-display and braille for the blind. The six-month test is funded in part by a grant from the U.S. Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare.

Freeze Melons Now For Winter Treats

Freezing melons is easy and simple—and watermelon, cantaloupe and honeydew melons are plentiful with low prices now, Mrs. Sally Coble, foods and nutrition specialist, says.

"Consumers may find this is the best time to buy and freeze some for use the year around," she added.

Mrs. Coble is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Use only to quality fruit. Remove seeds, peel and cut into slices, cubes or balls.

Cover with a cold sugar syrup, using two cups sugar to four cups water—or pack dry in bags using no sugar. Expel as much air as possible from the bag, seal and freeze immediately.

When using frozen melons, serve them partially thawed.

especially those frozen without sugar. Melon slices frozen in a sugar syrup will maintain their texture better and be firmer after thawing," she said.

CRIME FIGHTER
BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — Police here have discovered a new crime-fighting aid — the office copier.

A store owner in the city made copies on her Xerox machine of some hand-made jewelry. A few weeks later, robbers entered her store and stole the pieces.

Browsing through a neighborhood chain store, the lady spotted her jewelry on display. She pointed out to police that the distinctive marking that showed on the copies matched those on the jewelry. Burbank detectives soon arrested three men, who were found guilty of armed robbery and fencing stolen property.

The chain store was found to be innocent and the lady recovered her jewelry.

No Motive Established Yet In Fort Worth Murder Case

FORT WORTH, (AP) — Police say they have yet to establish a motive for Tuesday's shooting spree at the Davis mansion here that left two persons dead and two others wounded.

Armed guards surfaced Wednesday at the lavish estate of millionaire industrialist T. Cullen Davis while others were stationed at a hospital where his estranged wife lay seriously wounded.

Davis reportedly remained in seclusion after posting $80,000 bond on charges he killed his wife's boy friend and her daughter by a previous marriage.

Mid-afternoon funeral services were conducted Wednesday for Andrea Lee Wilborn, the descendant's 12-year-old "step-daughter."

Services are planned here Friday for the other victim, Stan Farr, 30, a 6-foot-9 former Texas Christian University basketball star.

Davis' blonde socialite wife Priscilla, 35, who was critically wounded in the flurry of gunfire at the 181-acre Davis estate early Tuesday, was reported in good condition late Wednesday. Attendants said, Gus Gavrel, 21, a friend of the Davis family, was in fair condition with a bullet wound in his chest.

Gavrel's father meanwhile filed a $3 million lawsuit against Davis, 42, heir to a Fort Worth industrial fortune and a familiar figure on the city's social circuit.

Davis' whereabouts were unknown after he reportedly refused to talk with Dallas psychiatrists following an order from a justice of the peace to undergo mental evaluation.

His legal advisers opposed the order Wednesday.

One of Davis' defense lawyers, Mike Gibson of Dallas, said he believes Davis' trials "are a good way down the road" and counsel may ask for a change of venue.

Gibson is a law partner of Phil Burleson, who helped defend Jack Ruby. Ruby was accused of killing Lee Harvey Oswald, the alleged slayer of President John F. Kennedy.

The shooting at the elegant Davis estate occurred only hours after the latest round of legal debate over Mrs. Davis' divorce petition.

Farr, who was shot to death shortly after entering the foyer of the mansion with Mrs. Davis, had been dating her since her separation from Davis.

Davis and his wife have been locked in a bitter divorce suit since 1974 and reportedly were approaching the climax of a high stakes property dispute involving millions of dollars.

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram quoted informed sources as saying Davis had hoped to settle the divorce case by giving his wife $100,000 and the ultra modern mansion filled with art objects.

They said Davis learned Monday during a court hearing, however, that the price of the settlement was going to be substantially greater.

The court hearing resulted in a delay of the property settlement, along with others that Davis increase this monthly support payments from $3,500 to $5,000 and provide $27,200 to Priscilla for payments of debts.

One source told newsmen that these sums were "peanuts" for a man of Davis' wealth and "certainly should not have been significant enough to push him to the brink of murder."

Davis reportedly left the hearing calm and composed.

Hearing Set For Airline

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Those opposed to Southwest Airlines' attempt to extend its operations into West and Central Texas and the Rio Grande Valley ended Wednesday get a chance to be heard Aug. 16.

The first phase of the hearing before the Texas Aeronautics Commission examiner on the application ended Wednesday after parts of three weeks of presentation of testimony and evidence.

Rebuttal evidence by Braniff Airlines and Texas International will begin when the Texas Aeronautics Commission hearing resumes Aug. 16.

Hearing examiner John Soule said he hopes to have his recommendations to the commission as a whole by the first of September.

The end of a long line of witnesses supporting Southwest's application came Wednesday with the appearance of Allan P. Johnston, president of the Corpus Christi Caller-Times, who said that he and Corpus Christi support Southwest Airlines' efforts to expand service to that city.

Johnston told the hearing that his newspaper had supported the application editorially and in columns "and there has been absolutely no negative response from the community."

NEW YORK (AP) — Beau Brummel caused a tizzy in the society of his time when he showed up at a formal dance dressed in a silk suit of all black, according to the American Formalwear Association. But the idea caught on, and soon black and white was decreed the only proper way for a man to attend a formal event.

Pioneer Says Interstate Gas Price to Have Little Effect

Pioneer Natural Gas Company officials, testifying before the Railroad Commission (RRC) in Austin this week indicated that the new Federal Power Commission (FPC) ruling on the price of natural gas moving in interstate commerce is forecasted to have a minimal effect on the price Pioneer has to pay for new gas supplies.

C. David Culver, a Pioneer vice president, told the commission that Pioneer has made recent purchases at the north end of its system at $1.40 per Mcf (before BTU adjustment). He went on to say, "The new proposed national rate, after allowed adjustments, will amount to slightly more than $1.50 per Mcf (before BTU adjustment) which will cause some increases in Pioneer's gas purchase cost."

Culver emphasized that "We would not evaluate this increase to be notable." "We have projected the average increase in the cost of gas for 1976 and early 1977 in the order of two cents per Mcf per month," he explained. Culver added that "These projections are very sensitive to weather and system operation conditions, but we believe them adequate for customer planning purposes."

M.D. LaGrone, a Pioneer senior vice president, gave the RRC a brief history of Pioneer's "cost-of-gas adjustment" or "gas purchase adjustment clause." He pointed out that the June average cost of gas on the Company's West Texas system was 97.60 cents, one of the lowest, if not the lowest of the larger gas companies in Texas.

He told the Commission that Pioneer would have been considerably hampered, if not foreclosed, in obtaining adequate new gas supplies and

Bullock To Close Sellers

Comptroller Bob Bullock said that agents from his Amarillo District Office have seized a tractor-trailer truck and sealed the pumps at a McLean service station as a first step in an effort to shut down illicit "drip gas" operations in the Panhandle.

Bullock said the truck, valued at $5,000 and its 4,860-gallon load of drip gas, valued at $2,000, will be held pending an audit for motor fuel tax liability.

If the taxes are not paid, the truck and its load will be auctioned off, he said.

The Comptroller explained that Panhandle oil field operators have been plagued by thefts of "drip gas", which is rough fuel that condenses naturally into collection containers in the oil field. Much of the stolen drip gas finds its way into the service station pumps, he said.

"If it's mixed with regular gasoline, you might not notice," Bullock said. "But if it's sold straight, it causes engines to knock badly. All we have to do then is follow the line of complaining motorists."

He said the truck's operator was charged with transporting motor fuel without a manifest and without a motor fuel permit. The service station pumps were sealed after the owner could not prove taxes had been paid on their contents, he added.

Bullock said his office is cooperating with Gray County authorities in connection with any criminal charges that may be filed.

Reserve Presented With Check

The Hereford Lions Club presented a check for $100 to the Deaf Smith Sheriff's Reserve for its assistance with the Lions Club carnival during the organization's noon meeting Wednesday at the Civic Club Center.

Chief Deputy Art Burton accepted the check on behalf of the reserve.

JoAn Dwyer presented the program on Hereford's Big Brother-Big Sister program.

Kathy Close also gave a report on her trip to Sweden.

Airman Demoted

SAN ANTONIO. (AP) - A Lackland Air Force Base military trial panel deliberated about two hours Wednesday before demoting a training instructor who admitted physically mistreating basic recruits.

The seven-officer board set back S. Sgt. Billy L. Drake to airman first class and also sentenced him to 90 days of hard labor without confinement and $100 reduction in his monthly pay for six months.

The decision came at the end of two days of proceedings. Drake, a 12-year Air Force veteran who enlisted at Sedley, Va., was charged with a long list of physical mistreatment of trainees including pushing, shoving, pinching and hair pulling.

The eight trainees who accused him testified during the trial.

Drake pleaded guilty at the opening of the court-martial Tuesday, but said he could not recall committing the specific acts he was accused of.

None of the trainees was seriously hurt.

Three Still At Large

SAN ANGELO, Texas (AP) - Three of four men who escaped from the Tom Green County jail early Wednesday remained at large today.

Sheriff's deputies said one of the escapees, Rick Bowhay, 18, was recaptured without incident at his mother's apartment here several hours after the predawn escape.

Bowhay, who was being held on a theft complaint, and three other men, armed with a pistol, broke out of the jail about 3:45 a.m. Wednesday.

Still at large were Johnny Murray, 20, held after revocation of his parole, and J.W. Nowlin, 28, jailed on a theft complaint, both of San Angelo, and Dan Jackson, 26, of Gallatin, Mo., being held on burglary charges.

Deputies said they believe the three fugitives, who were wearing civilian clothes, had split up. They said authorities also were searching in adjoining counties.

Jailer Gary Bower said he was making his rounds when Murray produced a .38 caliber pistol and the four men used a sheet to tie Bower to bars of a cell. Sheriff Odell Wagoner said Bower soon freed himself and sounded an alarm.

Chief Deputy Ernest Haynes said someone apparently slipped the pistol to the prisoners Tuesday.

The jailbreak occurred only two weeks before the opening of a multi-million-dollar new courts and jail building next door to the old jail here.

Houstonian To Run For VP Of Demo Party

AUSTIN (AP) - Rep. Senfronia Thompson, D-Houston, formally announced Wednesday as a candidate for vice chairman of the Texas Democratic party.

Her announcement to a news conference made three candidates in the race and fourth a probably candidate.

Already announced are Rep. Eddie Bernice Johnson, D-Dallas, and Mrs. Walter Barbour, Fort Worth. Rep. Wilhelmina Delco, D-Austin, has told friends she also is a candidate.

Rep. Thompson noted that she was one of only six Lloyd Bentsen delegates elected in the May 1 primary "as an example of the faith Democrats have in my ability to represent them."

"I might add that I went to the National Democratic Convention determined to use my then-undecided vote carefully. I returned from the convention a Jimmy Carter delegate, convinced that Gov. Carter is a candidate we can support with confidence," she said.

Swine Flu Bill Sought For Fear of Mystery Illness

WASHINGTON (AP) - Fearful that the mysterious Pennsylvania illness may turn out to be a type of flu, health officials are pressing Congress to approve an insurance plan that would open the way for the government's program to vaccinate all Americans against swine flu.

The House Commerce Committee today was to consider the insurance plan put together after vaccine producers indicated their reluctance to continue in the government program because of their inability to obtain private insurance.

David Mathews, secretary of health, education and welfare, was to testify today before a Senate panel to describe the latest findings about the disease that has affected persons connected with an American Legion convention in Philadelphia last month.

Subcommittee Chairman Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., says he hopes to put an immunization bill on the Senate floor before the end of this week. Rep. Paul G. Rogers, D-Fla., chairman of the House health panel, is looking toward next Tuesday or Wednesday for final House approval.

Both chairmen think the legislation should be top priority before Congress adjourns next week for the Republican National Convention.

If the insurance plan is approved and the vaccine makers obtain insurance, it would be late September at the earliest before the first flu shots could be administered. Elderly and other high-risk persons would have priority.

Scientists studying the outbreak of the mysterious Pennsylvania disease haven't identified it.

"Whatever it is, it's one of the most dangerous things in the world," said Pennsylvania virologist Jay Satz.

Dr. David J. Sencer, director of the U.S. Center for Disease

Control, said: "We cannot say it is swine influenza or say that it is not. Each day that goes by without a spread from family to community makes us rest easier that it is not swine flu. But it is still too early to say."

Some officials fear there could be a recurrence of the swine flu epidemic that swept the world in 1918 and 1919, leaving 29 million persons dead, including 548,000 in the United States.

Under the bill proposed by the Ford administration, persons who claimed injury from the immunization program could sue the government for damages. The government, in turn, could sue any vaccine manufacturer or other participant such as a volunteer doctor or nurse if it could prove negligence.

Bill Backs Nuclear Fuel Plants

WASHINGTON (AP) - The House passed legislation Wednesday encouraging private investment in uranium enrichment plants that produce nuclear fuel.

It approved a bill authorizing the Energy Research and Development Administration to enter contracts with potential investors. Up to $8 billion was authorized for such contracts.

The bill also directs that a government-owned enrichment facility at Portsmouth, Ohio, be expanded at a cost of $2.55 billion.

The vote was 222 to 168. The bill now goes to the Senate.

Opponents of major sections in the proposal narrowly lost an attempt to delete all its provisions except the one ordering the Portsmouth expansion.

When the votes on the so-called Bingham amendment were counted, House members had split 192 to 192. Speaker Carl Albert cast the deciding vote against the amendment.

The same amendment had passed the House 178 to 168 last week.

The bill's opponents claimed that by helping private firms compete with the three enrichment facilities the government would cause higher uranium prices and thus higher prices for the nuclear fuel used to produce electricity.

But supporters claimed that ERDA has planned to raise its price for enriched uranium in any case.

Kissinger, English Talk Africa

LONDON (AP) - Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and Prime Minister James Callaghan meet today to explore the chances of a peaceful solution to the racial problem in southern Africa.

Kissinger and Callaghan scheduled a three-hour meeting before the secretary of state leaves for an eight-day tour of Iran, Afghanistan, Pakistan, France and the Netherlands.

Reporters traveling on Kissinger's plane got the impression that he sees little chance of heading off war in Rhodesia, the former British colony where 250,000 whites face a growing rebellion among the nearly 6 million blacks.

The reasons given include the unrelenting opposition to compromise of Prime Minister Ian Smith and most of the whites, a lack of unity among the black leadership and uncertain attitudes among neighboring black governments.

Nevertheless, Kissinger is described as believing there is some possibility of an agreement.

According to British and American sources, Kissinger and Callaghan are considering setting up a fund of up to half a billion dollars to compensate whites in Rhodesia who lose property or have to resettle because of black rule.

Kissinger is leaning toward sending Asst. Secretary of State William E. Schaefele Jr. to talk with Prime Minister John Vorster of South Africa.

Kissinger and Vorster met in West Germany in June, but the secretary does not want to see the South African leader again until there are prospects for progress toward black rule in Rhodesia and Namibia. In addition, the new outbreak of racial violence in South Africa Wednesday would make it politically difficult for Kissinger to see Vorster soon.

Kissinger is described as doubtful also of peace in Namibia. Black nationalist guerrillas have a small war going there against South Africa's control, and South Africa has refused repeated demands from the United Nations that it give up the territory.

Stones Saves Face With World Record

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - John Walker of New Zealand captured the first race in the Dream Mile Triple Wednesday night and Dwight Stones reaffirmed he was the world's greatest high jumper with a world record at the Philadelphia Bicentennial Meet of Champions.

Walker was clocked in 3 minutes, 56.2 seconds as he fought off brisk winds.

Stones soared 7 feet, 7/4 inches to smash his own record, just four days after rain washed away his gold medal hopes in the Montreal Olympic Games.

Walker, gold medalist in the 1,500 at Montreal, was content to let Bryon Dyece of Jamaica set the pace for the first three laps and then when Paul Heinz Wellman of West Germany took the lead on the final backstretch, Walker moved up to challenge.

On the final turn, Walker raced to the front as Wellman held off New Zealander Rod Dixon for second. Wellman ran 3:56.3 and Dixon was timed in 3:56.4.

The race was billed as the first of three races to determine the world's greatest miler, but the same political dispute which rocked the Games rippled in Philadelphia when Tanzania's Filbert Bayi did not run.

The Walker-Bayi matchup has been put off numerous times since their last meeting in January 1974 for essentially the same reason - Tanzania's displeasure over New Zealand's ports ties with segregationist South Africa.

Walker, who has been the dominant middle distance runner for the past two years, had hoped to break his own world mark of 3:49.4, but the winds swirling on the backstretch in Franklin Field prevented that.

"If I was going to lose, today was the time," said Walker. "I've been on antibiotics for three days with the flu, but I had the commitment."

The race was also billed as a comeback for Marty Liquori, the former Villanova miler who was injured and did not qualify for the U.S. team. Liquori was in contention with 300 meters to go, but he and West Germany's Thomas Wessinghage collided and fell with Liquori knocked out of the race. He was not injured.

The amazing Stones electrified the crowd of 13,772 with an incredible leap that topped the record he set in the NCAA championships here.

Heavily favored in the Olympics, Stones looked sharp in Montreal until a rainstorm created puddles on the jumping surface and prevented him from clearing 7 feet, 3/4 inches. He settled for the bronze, behind Jacek Wzlosa of Poland and Canada's Greg Joy.

But, Wednesday night the 22-year-old showed his mastery by clearing 7-7/4 on his first jump. He took only nine jumps and had just one miss.

The elated Stones, wearing a warmup shirt, that said "Stones and Mickey Mouse are No. 1," took a victory lap after his jump but did not attempt a higher height.

The senior at Long Beach State jiggled the bar on his record attempt, which was measured at 2.32 meters, one centimeter over his previous mark. The new mark was one-quarter inch higher than the world mark Stone set at this same Franklin Field location exactly two months ago.

Moments later, the excited Stones told the crowd over the public address system that he had become concerned after placing third in the Olympics.

"I wondered if I ever would be able tonight."

"I can't wait to come back to Philadelphia"

Earlier in the evening, a number of other Olympians withdrew from the meet at the last minute, including 200-meter gold medalist Don Quarrie of Jamaica and 400-meter hurdles gold medal winner Edwin Moses.

Steve Riddick, a member of the United States' winning 400-meter relay team, captured the 100-meter dash in 10-24 as Steve Williams pulled up with a slight injury but placed fourth.

Williams was attempting a comeback after heavily favored sprinter failed to make the U.S. team.

Mike Boit of Kenya, who didn't compete in the Olympics because his nation pulled out in a political dispute, won the 800 in 1:46.1. And Francie Larrieu of Long Beach, Calif., defeated West Germany's Helen Wellman in the women's 800 in 1:04.2.

Redskins, Eagles Announce Trade

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP) - The Washington Redskins have traded defensive tackle Manny Sistrunk and three future draft choices to the Philadelphia Eagles for cornerback Joe Lavender, the National Football League team announced Wednesday.

Lavender, 27, will move into the right cornerback spot vacated by Mike Bass, who retired last week after recurring headaches from a neck injury.

It is 103rd trade of Redskins coach George Allen's six seasons with the Redskins and it could turn out to be very significant. Repairing the cornerback spot was the most vital need for the Redskins.

The Redskins also traded rookie running back Felix Lobdell to Houston for a 1977 draft choice.

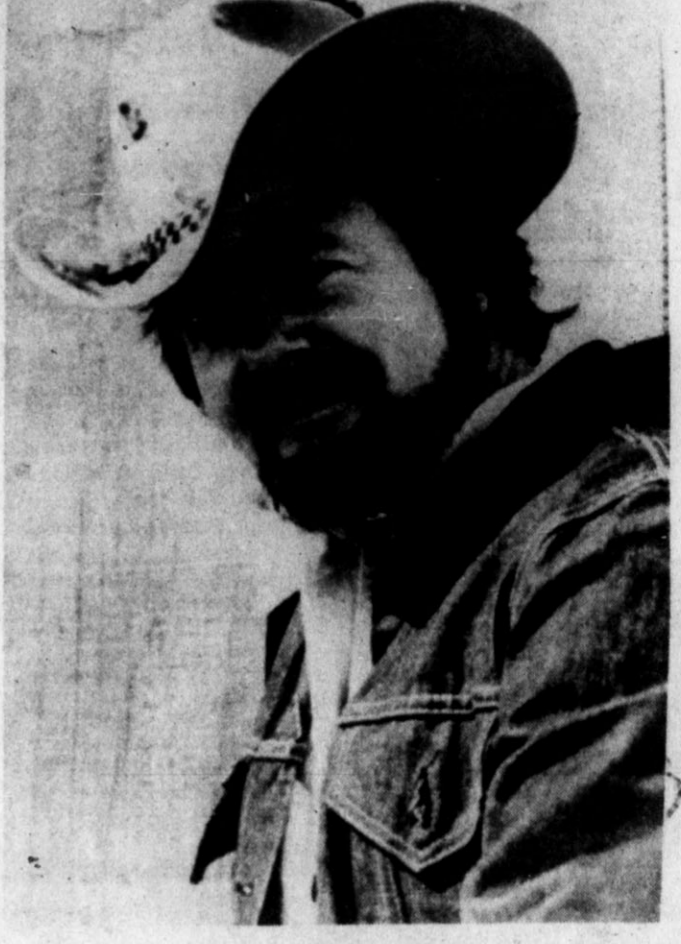

Lavender had an early run-in with new Eagles Coach Dick Vermeil over contract terms. He did not report to training camp, and Vermeil vowed that Lavender would be traded. It appeared unlikely, however, that Vermeil would deal him to the Redskins, a division rival.

Lavender, a 6-foot-4, 190-pounder, enjoyed his best statistical season last year with three interceptions and 16 additional passes broken up. He has scored three touchdowns in his three-year NFL career and has developed a reputation as a defensive gamebreaker.

Sistrunk, frequently rumored as Redskins' trade-bait, has been chiefly a reserve at defensive tackle, although he started in 1971 and played middle guard in the 1972 playoff victory over Green Bay.

The seven-year veteran became expendable when the Redskins signed Dave Butz a year ago as a free agent.

RED STEAGALL ...To play at dance

Red Steagall At XIT Rodeo Dance

In the field of modern country music, probably one performer and writer represents more facets than any other single artist. He is a handsome six-foot redhead; by name Red Steagall. He is in tune with the earthiness of modern country music, yet he is not an "underground" performer.

This "above ground" entertainer will perform for a dance at the XIT Rodeo and Reunion Friday night in Dalhart. The dance will conclude the second of three days of festivities of the rodeo.

The dance will begin at 9 p.m. in the Rita Blanca Coliseum in Dalhart.

Perhaps much of his success revolved around the fact that the rugged star has, in his few short years, been involved with the ecology of American. Born in Gainsville, Texas, and now living on a working farm in Lebanon, Tennessee; his whole life, his songs, his performances reflect his love of the land.

Steagall spent five years in agro-chemical sales before finally deciding to turn full-time to music.

While making the rounds, he was offered a job as contact man with United Artists Music in Hollywood and here he wrote his first big song, which was recorded by a rhythm and blues top artist, Ray Charles. Flushed with success, he left to form his own publishing company and also represented other Nashville firms.

It was in 1968 when Steagall hit again, but this time it was Ray Sanders' version of "Beer Drinking Music" which hit high on the charts. This was followed quickly by "Keep On Keepin'", also a big record by Del Reeves. "Walk All Over Georgia" and "A Dozen Pairs of Boots". He also became a partner with Jimmy Bowen (now head of MGM Music), with his own company. He had another hit single "Alabama Woman" with Dot Records and then left to join Capitol Records where again he hit the top charts with "Party Dolls and Wine," "Somewhere My Love," "True Love," "The Fiddle Man," "I Gave Up Good Morning Darling," just to name a few. His current bell-ringer is "Finer Things In Live."

He has strong feelings about his songs and his way of life. He likes the earth and farming and raises registered beef and quarter horses. In fact, one of his best forms of relaxation is breaking in quarter horses. He doesn't like plastic music or glitter.

Humor Reigns As Coaches Meet

SAN ANTONIO (AP) - Put eight Southwest Conference football coaches at the same table two weeks before fall practice begins and you have the ingredients for humble pie.

Eight of the SWC's nine head coaches sat down Wednesday for the conference's annual kickoff luncheon. Baylor's Grant Teaff had a prior commitment and couldn't attend.

More often can be learned for what the coaches don't say.

Texas Darrell Royal, for example, talked for five minutes and never mentioned workhorse junior fullback Earl Campbell or speedy freshman Johnny Jones, who won a gold medal in the 400 meter relay at the Olympics last week.

Royal's Longhorns were the overwhelming preseason favorite to win the conference in a title, humble told the other coaches and crowd of 650 his problems.

Pointing to the loss of 28 seniors from his Cotton Bowl champions, Broyles said he must develop new team leadership.

Emory Bellard of A&M explained his team has lost five offensive and six defensive starters from last year. A big problem, he said with a straight face, is finding a punter.

Other conference coaches found it hard to pity men like Royal and Bellard and Broyles.

"On our objectives for this year," said second-year Texas Tech Coach Steve Sloan, "is to tackle Earl Campbell once during the game. Last year he fell down twice and we jumped on him."

Ron Meyer, first-year coach at Southern Methodist, recounted that a national football league coach advised him that "you got your plow stuck in some hard ground."

Jim Shofner, who has won only one game in two seasons at THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) - Dallas Cowboy Head Coach Tom Landry said he still sees some of "the same smooth style" in running back Duane Thomas, even though a hamstring pull has hampered Thomas all preseason.

"I don't think he Thomas is slow," Landry said of the running back who is a Cowboy for the second time. "He just hasn't been able to work full speed...he still just glides into those holes when they are there and glides out of them into daylight."

Thomas will see his initial contact work of the preseason Saturday night at Los Angeles against the Rams.

Landry said he plans to start regular fullback Robert Newhouse and Charles Young at halfback. Thomas and newlyacquired Ron Johnson will be the second set of backs.

Landry said Thomas needs to show promise soon because of the slow start caused by the leg injury.

"He is far behind in the basics, such as ball-handling," Landry said. "He must show that he is making progress and then we'll evaluate everything from week to week."

Former World League quarter Danny White, who has apparently become the Cowboys' regular punter with the trade of Mitch Hoopes to San Diego, will get his National Football League initiation at quarterback against the Rams.

Landry said Roger Staubach would start and play first half, with White taking over in the second half. Landry said he plans to play Clint Longley when the opportunity presented itself.

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP) - A statue in honor of springer Don Quarrie will be placed at the National Stadium in Kingston, Deputy Prime Minister David Coore says.

Coore said Wednesday Quarrie earned the honor after he won the gold medal in the 200 meters at the Montreal Olympics. He placed second in the 100 meters.

CINCINNATI (AP) - For Taiwan baseball players, Cincinnati's Riverfront Stadium is a lot farther than just across the ocean - about six year farther.

The Cincinnati Reds last year signed two Taiwanese prospects, but the club has learned the players have at least six years of educational and military obligations facing them before they can honor the contracts.

Undaunted, the Reds signed another Taiwan player recently. When they got the contract, it was entirely in Chinese.

HOUSTON (AP) - Houston Oilers running back Warren McVea has undergone knee surgery and will be lost to the team for the remainder of the season.

Doctors perform the surgery at Methodist Hospital Wednesday to repair ligament and cartilage damage to McVea's right knee.

McVea injured the knee Monday night in the preseason game between the Oilers and the Kansas City Chiefs.

It was the second operation on his knee. McVea, 30, first injured it in 1972 while with Kansas City. He sat out that season following surgery and was waived by the chiefs the following year.

Myth to reality in the Old West

After years of misleading our children, and subjecting ourselves to the usually mindless and inaccurate fairy tales known as TV westerns, it is refreshing to learn at least one studio is as committed to fact as it is to entertainment in its presentation of a posh/horse opera.

The Yale University Media Design Studio, budget willing, plans to produce a series of 10 biographical television dramas based on the history of the American West, examining the years between 1770 to 1930.

The documentary series, titled "The Westering," has one episode in the can — a bio-drama of Old West legend Charles Siringo, onetime cowpuncher, detective, author and Hollywood extra.

The primary obstacle facing the Media Design Studio is a familiar one — bucks, or the lack thereof. Thanks to a grant of $44,000 from the National Endowment for Humanities, the studio and producer-director, Philip Garvin were able to complete this first 90-minute epic but capital necessary to finance the remaining nine documentaries has been difficult to raise.

Garvin, who produced and directed the much-acclaimed "Religious America" series for the Public Broadcasting Service (PBS), hopes this first episode will lasso their enthusiasm for The Westering, too.

The director, along with Yale history professor Howard Lamar and screenwriter John Dunkel, went to impressive lengths to make the series as entertaining as possible without compromising historical fact. Dunkel researched material on Siringo's life for more than 18 months, combing libraries and gathering information throughout six Western states.

Of the first Westering installment, Garvin said, "Siringo's life was so tumultuous, so filled with suspense, that the viewer will forget that he is learning something about American history." Particularly pleased by Yale University's participation in the series, Garvin predicted, "If scholars such as Lamar can do such an amazing job of mixing education with entertainment, the academic community may be increasingly recognized as a potential source of television programming."

The episode on Siringo will span his early years as a cowboy on a Texas ranch immediately following the Civil War. A gunfight between him and Bat Masterson is revealed, as is his initial friendship, then enmity, for outlaw Billy the Kid. Siringo later joined the infamous Pinkerton Detective Agency in 1885 where he remained for 22 years, acting mainly as an undercover agent spying on mine workers.

He eventually sided with the workers after witnessing a compassionate and persuasive defense of organized labor by lawyer Clarence Darrow. He resigned from Pinkerton's, and wrote an expose of the ruthless detective agency.

After the turn of the century, Siringo, in his late 60s and near poverty, began appearing as an extra in silent westerns starring William S. Hart.

The nine following installments of Westering will focus on the lives of Juan Bautista de Anza, Spanish explorer and governor of New Mexico; Stephen Watts Kearny, hero of the Mexican War; Jedidiah Strong Smith, explorer and "Mountain Man"; Wilford Woodruff, president of the Mormon Church; Adolpho Sutro, engineer for the Comstock mines and early developer of San Francisco; Henry Villard, railroad builder and tycoon; Quanah Parker, Indian chief; Nannie Anderson, settler and merchant and William Smythe, irrigation pioneer of the Southwest.

TV Dialogue

SPACE MYSTERY — There used to be a syndicated show on TV called U.F.O. Ed Bishop and Michael Billington were the stars. Could you tell me the names of their characters and the name of the organization they worked for? Also, will the show ever be on again?

— Sarah Josephs, Alexandria, La.

The characters were Straker and Foster, and the U.F.O. spotting agency was dubbed SHADOW. The series is still in syndication and is carried in a number of markets. Perhaps you can convince your local station to pick it up again.

SLITHER — Does my memory serve me well — was Louise Lasser in a movie some years back with James Caan that had every one riding around in mobile homes?

— Jack Newston, Bridgeport, Conn. There's nothing wrong with your memory. Lasser co-starred with Caan, along with Sally Kellerman and Peter Boyle, in a somewhat peculiar comedy called "Slither," made in 1973.

TV WAR — My sister and I have been arguing about a show that was on in the mid '60s about a schooner operating undercover during WW II. Jack Warden and Gary Collins starred. The question is was it The Wackiest Ship in the Army or Navy?

— Marthe Boldis, Santa Barbara, Calif. I don't know which side of the argument you're on, but the Kiwi and its crew worked for Army intelligence.

BIG SISTER — What was the name of the actress who was the oldest daughter on Make Room for Daddy?

— Terry Connors, Clinton, Ohio

Sherry Jackson played the oldest girl on Make Room for Daddy, and also on The Danny Thomas Show, which added Angela Cartwright to the family, and chad mothers from Jean Hagen to Marjorie Lord.

Cattlemen Urge Retailers To Feature Beef

AMARILLO—A beef advertising campaign telling consumers "Now is the time to buy beef" is paying off for cattlemen, according to Jim Peterson of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association.

Sponsored by TCFA, the Beef Industry Council and state beef councils from Iowa, Nebraska, Michigan and South Dakota, the campaign was kicked off by a full-page ad in SUPERMARKET NEWS telling retailers, "Give beef top billing the first three weeks of August... and watch your customers crowd in!" "Several major retailers are responding favorably," adds Peterson. "One food company is planning a 'Beef Surplus Sale' in 900 stores across the country."

Radio commercial on 31 stations in seven of the largest cities in the U.S. started August 2 and will run for three weeks. Also, consumer ads in 17 leading metropolitan newspapers will tell consumers that "This is the week to buy high quality beef...the price of beef is down...really down."

Chain stores and retailers are being urged to take advantage of this advertising campaign and offer special beef features. "This is a real opportunity for consumers to stock up on beef while the price is low," Peterson added.

The national advertising campaign is being expanded on a local level by several states. TCFA is sponsoring radio and newspaper advertising in Amarillo, Lubbock and San Antonio, beginning August 9. Feedyards and meat packers are helping sponsor the campaign.

This advertising campaign is part of a six-point plan to bolster beef markets, recently announced by TCFA. The plan includes: (1) The national and state advertising campaign. (2) An intensive study of "new factors influencing the cattle market". (3) Consultants to help evaluate movement of beef and factors affecting beef prices from producers to consumers. (4) Chain store and retailer beef features to tie in with the industry ad campaign. (5) A step-up in the USDA "Food Alert" program, pointing out that beef is a good buy. (6) Intensified effort to close loopholes in the Meat Import Act.

"Because of the abundant supply of fed cattle at this time, cattle feeders are losing $50 to $100 per head and retail beef prices are down 10c to 20c per pound," concluded Peterson. "Thus, this appears to be the time for cattlemen to launch a self-help advertising campaign and to help consumers take advantage of good beef buys."

Farm Prices Rise 2% In June

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - Farm prices of commodities on the average held steady last month as gains for some items, namely soybeans and cotton, offset declines for meat animals, according to the Agriculture Department.

Officials reported that during the month that ended July 15 cattle prices declined further, leading the drop in the meat animal index. Farm prices over-all had risen 2 per cent in April, 1.5 per cent in May and 2 per cent in June after dropping 1.5 per cent last March.

As of July 15 the farm price index averaged 2.5 per cent above the year earlier. Prices farmers paid to meet expenses, meanwhile, also were unchanged from mid-June, but were up 7 per cent from July 15, 1975.

Corn, at $2.82 a bushel, was up eight cents from June and 10 cents from a year earlier. Hay declined 60-cents to $59 a ton, but that was still $7.80 more than a year ago.

Soybeans rose to $6.73 a bushel, up 57 cents from mid-June and $1.45 from July 15, 1975. Upland cotton set another record at 76.5 cents a pound, up 8.5 cents from June and 35.9 cents from July 15 of last year, officials said.

But the department's mean Animal Price Index dropped 6 per cent from June 15, with substantial declines for cattle, hogs and calves. Beef cattle averaged $33.50 per 100 pounds, down $2.80 from mid-June, while hogs dropped $1.40 to $47.70 per hundred-weight.

The gain in corn prices partly reflected an increased demand from foreign buyers, particularly in Western Europe where drought has reduced this year's grain prospects.

In a related report, USDA said corn exports in the 1976-77 marketing year, which will begin Oct. 1, are now estimated at between 1.35 billion and 1.65 billion bushels, an increase of 50 million from a projection made two weeks ago.

Corn exports in the current season are still estimated at a record $1.70 billion.

The department said the increase in next season's corn exports was due primarily to a rising need for more livestock feed grain in Western Europe.

Currently, USDA is estimating this fall's corn harvest at a record 6.55 billion bushels, which officials say will mean plenty of grain for next season's demands and still add to reserves a year from now. A new corn estimate, along with other crop production figures, will be announced on Aug. 12.

Total red meat output in June was nearly 3.2 billion pounds, up 11 per cent from the reduced levels of a year earlier, according to the Agriculture Department.

Beef production was almost 2.2 billion pounds, a 17 per cent gain from June of last year, officials said Friday. Veal output by the nation's packing plants held about steady at 63 million pounds.

June output of pork was 899 million pounds, a 1 per cent gain from a year earlier. But lamb and mutton production dropped 13 per cent from June 1975 to about 27 million pounds, the department said.

'Harassment' Condemned By Mahon

Congressman George Mahon has called upon the Secretary of Labor to review the performance and take corrective action against officials of the Occupational Safety and Health Administration responsible for "a ridiculous waste of the taxpayers' money" to produce a booklet entitled, "Safety with Beef Cattle", which has been held up to scorn by farm and ranch groups across the nation. At the same time Mahon lashed out in a House speech on July 30 at OSHA officials for proposing field sanitation standards for farms and ranches which "are totally unworkable and ridiculous".

The 19th District Congressman used these examples to complain about harassment of the private citizen by government personnel charged with the administration of laws passed by Congress during a speech presented July 30.

The booklet referred to by Mahon contains numerous admonitions such as, "When floors are wet and slippery with manure, you could have a bad fall"; "you can get too tired when working with cattle".

"We must declare war on such ineptness if respect for government is to be restored and maintained," said Mahon.

The proposed sanitation standards, which among other requirements, would make mandatory toilet and handwashing facilities within a five-minute walk of farm and ranch workers, have also been heavily criticized by farm and ranch groups.

In his speech Mahon pointed out that those responsible for the actions "do not have to answer to the public for the outrages they perpetrate in the name of administering the law. By their actions they bring contempt on the government. If there is to be a free democratic society, the people must support and believe in their government. Without this trust, government breaks down. We must find a way to instill in the Federal worker that he is a servant of the people and that he holds a public trust".

Roth Named Associate Director

COLLEGE STATION—Joe H. Rothe was named associate director of the Extension Service, effective August 1. He has served as Extension assistant director and state agent since May, 1971.

Rothe's appointment was announced July 27 by the Texas A&M University System Board of Regents. The Extension Service is the TAMU System's public service agency which provides educational assistance in agriculture, family living and consumer information, 4-H and youth, and community resource development to thousands of Texans.

Rothe has served with the Extension Service for 29 years in roles ranging from state agricultural agent to district agent, county Extension agent and assistant county agent.

"Rothe is uniquely qualified for the position of associate director of the Extension Service. He is extremely knowledgeable about the overall operations of the organization, and is highly respected both by staff members and the agricultural leadership of Texas," said Dr. Daniel C. Pfannstiel,

Joe H. Rothe
director of the Extension Service.

The new associate director will fill the position vacated by Pfannstiel when he was named Extension director, June 1.

"Rothe has provided dynamic leadership in the development of Extension education programs in Texas, and has repeatedly demonstrated his ability to mobilize Extension resources,

French Buyer Wants Hay

WASHINGTON (AP) - The recent drought in Western Europe not only has caused grain-crops to decline but has meant shortages of hay and other forage for livestock.

A brief trade note published by the Agriculture Department said a buyer in France wants to import "one boat load or about 5,000 metric tons" of hay in September or October. Hay is not normally a significant U.S. export item except to neighboring Canada and Mexico, a spokesman said.

The production of metal cans increased more than two-fold between 1954 and 1974. In those two decades, production jumped from 188 million to over three billion. That's equivalent to 14 cans for every American.

Show Steers Need Tags

Youngsters who plan to enter steers in the Hereford Young Farmers Livestock Show next year must obtain state validation ear tags for their livestock, according to Garland Stewart, assistant county Extension agent.

Stewart explained that exhibitors who have not yet made arrangements for the ear tags should contact either the Extension office or the agriculture department at Hereford High School by August 31.

No segment of the economy has ever changed so fast and so completely as has agriculture, during the past 60 years. When these changes have required capital, your Federal Land Bank has been a primary source of funds. There will be more changes. But we believe that a free agriculture—based on the family-operated farm or ranch—will continue to flourish in any new environment.

By The Garden Gate With Glad

By Gladys Manjeot

He who plants a garden should have patience. A belief in the good brown earth, sun and seed and rain. A garden is a gladsome place to toil. There one sees miracles performed. Bud, leaf and fruit springing into liveliness from the hidden wonders of gardening.

Now that we have had a good rain, all of the vegetation has been washed clean. New growth will be showing along with maturity. It is a time to take stock of that which is maturing and those things we can plant for late summer. Signs of mildew are showing on many of the shrubs, especially on the tender new growth. Make a check of shrubs, roses and new tender plants. Remove the diseased parts and treat with a well recommended spray or dusting powder.

August is the month in which we can plant for late cut flowers. Prepare the soil well. Select seed which are produced by a reputable company. Some of the flowers which can be planted now, are zinnias (all varieties), marigolds, corn-flowers (batchelor buttons), and pansies. The last named will not bloom this year, but will give much satisfaction in the evergreens. They make the winter patterns interesting and beautiful.

These are very valuable in many ways. They add value to the property. Vera Deason, Amarillo Garden Columnist, states in her News letter, that the value has been raised to $10.00 per square inch of trunk cross-section at 4 1/2 feet above the ground. This is now the basic formula used by the International Shade Tree Conference (Urbana, Ill.) This value can be added to the sale of property. I also know of instances when securing a loan on properties, that shade trees have been considered in the evaluation. As the years pass and growth continues, value is increased. Trees are indeed valuable assets. They make a large contribution to our general welfare. They play a large part in our existence.

The past years the petunia has been given much emphasis in plantings. They have become popular in Bicentennial plantings. Their color, and growth pattern have made them very usable. It is important to keep them blooming until frost. To do this feed, and prune carefully. Groom well, removing faded flowers, and seed pods. As the season progresses petunias, are prone to become leggy, this can be controlled if extra care is shown by cutting the long leggy plants, and to pinch some of the buds. There is nothing more beautiful for window boxes and patio planters. Take good care of them so they can add their bit of color and beauty to the fall plantings.

Marigolds, all varieties, have been planted extensively. Hereford gardens and non-residents places have beautiful marigolds. This year new varieties have been added one of which is the perfection and adoption of a large white marigold. The history of this lovely flower is very interesting and informative. Last Saturday I had a very pleasant time going through the grounds at The Summerfield Fort, Co., of Hereford. Rocky Lee has done a wonderful job landscaping the grounds. Early in the morning everything was very beautiful, and all showed good maintenance. Many of the plants and blooms were exceptionally large and colorful. I have never seen larger giant marigolds. Was a joy to cut them for arranging the French marigolds also, and some of the zinnias. Roses, California poppies, chrysanthemums; begonias, fruit trees, and a lush lawn created much beauty. Take time and drive out to see this lovely place, also the adjoining property on which the Vander Zees have done a tremendous job in landscaping the grounds, including a vegetable garden. The tall sunflowers, well grown vegetables, morning glories and lawn were all beautiful. The history of the marigold is very interesting. We have had various varieties brought to the USA from Africa and France. The intricate growth pattern of the flowers of the giant African marigolds (Tagetes) is very intricate and colors are rich and blossoms are full. Single French marigolds are adaptable for many uses, and the rich colors of the double French marigolds are adaptable to all plantings. They are easy to grow. Are almost disease free, and are long lasting plants, with full flowering habits.

They reseed themselves, and in springtime they can be transplanted to other locations and plants shared with others. Be sure and see the Beauty Spots selected for July. They are both very nice, and you will be sorry if you do not see these two selections. If you would like a pleasant odor in the kitchen, pick some of the small branches from the mint plants and place in the disposal. The spicy fragrance is very nice. Also remember delicious tea can be made from mint leaves; they too add attraction to a plate when serving a meal, or preparing a special dish. Dill is also another garden friend, it adds interest to the flower beds and a pungent fragrance. Also makes delightful pickle seasoning, which adds that extra something to the hamburger.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: "Flowers leave their fragrance on the hand that bestows them." Share yours with others.

Just Flip A Coin

America's political parties have drifted together. Never before this year have you heard spokesmen from both parties concede the similarity, if from partisan points of view: "We have all become Democrats," says Illinois' kingmaker Arvey. We have all become Republicans," says Charles Warden of Data Resources.

The party platform modified by Carter challenges the party platform godfathered by Mr. Ford in no significant detail. The polarization--the pulling apart left and right--is less this year than any presidential year in modern memory.

For better or worse? Wall Street's recent optimism reflects confidence in our future whichever way the political wind blows in November.

Most economists vote Democrat yet, by their very training, they become more conservative every year. Most economists figure that a Carter Administration will increase federal spending yet they are divided as to whether the risks of higher inflation are not perhaps outweighed by the pump-priming effect.

Anyway, almost unanimously they are betting their money on at least two years of economic uptrend. As the economic philosophies of the two parties begin more and more to overlap--so the social conscience of Republicans and Democrats is not all that dissimilar anymore. Both parties reflect our national disenchantment with foreign involvements.

Carter says that while he may not prefer a Communist government for France, he's not going to try to tell the French how to run their country. That is a significant departure from the brinkmanship adventurism of our past.

If this suggests that it makes little difference which man or which party wins in November, that is not entirely the case. For Congress includes enough potential holdovers from the violent reaction of 1974 so that these, up to now contained by White House veto power, might tend further to regulate and regiment.

Yet face it--the issues this election year are not the issues which incite flaming passions. We are not voting "war or peace," we are not voting "socialism versus stagnation," we are not asked to choose between a rogue and rabble-rouser.

Except for careful contemplation of the voting records of individual congressmen, the American electorate this time around could vote with its eyes closed and not really get hurt.

Windmills Return In Different Form

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) - An aerospace engineer says windmills, once familiar sight in rural America, may be making a comeback in a slightly different form.

Stan Lowy, professor of aerospace engineering at Texas A&M University, said Tuesday the wind-powered generators could produce 350 billion kilowatt hours of electricity annually by the 2000. That is roughly equal to annual U.S. oil imports in recent years.

Lowy told a seminar of the Soil Conservation Society of America that the technology for harnessing wind power is currently available, at a cost only slightly higher than for conventional generating equipment.

The 14,000-member society, holding its annual convention in Minneapolis, is made up of professionals interested in land-use and natural-resources management.

Lowy said wind-powered generators could have a wide variety of applications, from a single unit supplying electricity for a family farm to clusters of generators producing up to 3,000 megwatts of power.

Northern States Power Company largest generating facility, the two-unit nuclear plant at Prairie Island in the Mississippi River, produces slightly more than 1,000 megwatts of power.

The total cost of a 20-kilowatt capacity generating and storage system for a farm would be about $15,000, Lowy said, but the cost could be sharply reduced, once mass production of wind generators began.

A complete cluster of wind generators to produce electricity in commercial quantities could be constructed in 1 1/2 to 2 years, Lowy said.

The cost of construction per kilowatt of generating capacity would be substantially below the current and projected cost of nuclear generating plants, which in some cases is more than $1,000 per kilowatt, he said.

We newsmen are supposed to be nonpartisan. Of course we're not. Yet, personally, I could flip a coin this next Election Day and it would come up "heads" either way.

"The utility industry is at the present time heavily dependent on fuel oil and natural gas for its primary energy supply," Lowy said. "There are serious political and social problems with the increasing costs of fuel oil, natural gas and atomic reactor construction, and there are environmental concerns about the use of high-sulfur coal and plutonium fuel."

"Wind energy is free and totally nonpolluting," he added.

HAPPY FACE belongs to a dancer in traditional Shinto costume during a festival on Tokyo Bay honoring the Japanese water god.

Trees I recommend are: Honey Locust (all varieties) Chinese Elm, if you want a quick growth and for shade (roots are bad to take substance from other plants) red oak, golden rain tree, upright willows, American Elm (slower in growth than the Chinese) Black Walnut, Pecan (these are beautiful trees and will also bear delicious nuts. Russian Olive, the grey green color is very lovely. (thorns will keep children from climbing them)

There are many others some of which are in the small shade group, most of these named are large trees, all have a lovely growth pattern.
