Holder To Begin Work Sept. 15

South Texan Named New Superintendent

By BOBBY TEMPLETON
Brand News Editor

The search for a new superintendent culminated during a called meeting of the Hereford School of Trustees Wednesday night when Dr. Harrell Holder, 44, was unanimously hired effective Sept. 15. He was offered a three-year contract through June 30, 1979.

Presently superintendent of the Bishop Independent School

District (a AAA high school). Holder is expected to arrive on the job near the beginning date of the contract. He has served the last 12 years as superintendent of the following school districts: Three Way in Maple, Tex.; Southside in San Antonio; and Bishop, located in South Texas.

The only other subject discussed by the trustees was a student nursing program conducted in conjunction with West Texas State University. Bill Phillips, assistant superintendent, said the students come to Hereford to observe school nursing practices and the district provides the facilities.

THE TRUSTEES DECIDED on the replacement Wednesday following interviews with Dr. Holder last weekend according to David Hutchins, trustee. The motion to accept Holder on a three-year contract was made by trustee Jim Arney and seconded by Hutchins. All trustees present cast affirmative votes. Clark Andrews, trustee, confirmed he too was in favor of the selection through a proxy vote delivered by Jim Conkright, board president.

The board has been conducting called sessions to review applications and interview prospects since the announced resignation of Hartman in June. He went to the Grapevine School District, located northwest of Dallas near the Dallas Ft. Worth Regional Airport. He had served as superintendent for the last six years.

The board considered approximately 40 applicants from across Texas and about 735 man-hours searching for a new school administrator.

HARTMAN SERVED through Aug. 1 as superintendent and Larry Wartes, assistant superintendent, was appointed to fill the vacancy as acting superintendent until the arrival of a permanent one.

Conkright said, "We think he is a fine man. He is someone who will work effectively with administrators, students, parents and newsmen. He is a top educator."

The other board members expressed similar praises for the new superintendent including their belief that he is a "personable man whom people will find has both the taxpayer and students at heart."

Conkright said his strong points were in curriculum and basics of education. "He knows the tax problems of the state and can work well on budgets."

He was offered the contract on the basis of state paid grade of 16 or $25,848 a year. The local district is adding another $6,000 to that annual salary for his total compensation. The state pay is based on experience and job classification.

The board was represented by six of its members, who traveled to Bishop, where Holder has been employed since 1970. While there earlier this week, the trustees talked with local officials and citizens concerning Holder's background, thoughts and performance.

HOLDER, A GRADUATE of Stanton, Tex. High School, received degrees from Howard County Junior College, Texas Tech University, and Nova University.

Holder was superintendent in Southside ISD from 1967-70 and Three-Way ISD from 1964-67. He was director of guidance in Denver City, Tex., from 1959-64; elementary school principal in Knott Tex. from 1958-59; and a teacher and coach in Stanton for one year and Lenorah (Grady ISD) from 1953-57.

Plains Gas Users Meet Tonight To Install New Officers Slate

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Editor

Jay Boston and Charles Schlabs of Hereford will be among those installed as officers in a reorganization meeting of the Plains Irrigation Gas Users Association in Plainview tonight.

THE MEETING will be held at 8 o'clock at the Plains Inn in Plainview, as the organization gears up the renewed battles in their fight to insure adequate supplies of gas for irrigation farmers at affordable prices.

Boston will serve as vice president of the revitalized association, while Schlabs has been appointed secretary-treasurer.

Among those to be installed tonight include T.C. Measles of Tulla, president, and executive committee members Clayton Enger of Lubbock, Ray Joe Riley of Hart, Bruce Reiger of Plainview and Carl King of Dimmitt.

The four executive committee members have been added to help distribute the work load more uniformly among the association's leadership personnel.

UTILIZING THE beefed-up staff, the PIGUA hopes to stay on top of developments on the cost pass-through issue and to enlist aid in getting authority over utilities within the state transferred from the Railroad Commission to the Public Utilities Commission.

The association has set the changeover in authority as one of its chief objectives after John Aikin of Hereford, attorney for the PIGUA failed to obtain any satisfaction at Texas Railroad Commission hearings in Austin last week. The hearings had been called to allow the commission to develop information on the controversial pass-throughs that show up as monthly increases in fuel cost adjustments on consumer bills.

With the pass-through policy in effect, local irrigators have seen their gas rates spiral to $1.30 per thousand cubic feet of gas, and there doesn't appear to be any end to the rate climb in sight.

Irrigators in the Trans-Pecos region were forced to shut down their operations when the cost of the gas reached $1.85 per mcf, and Aikin contends that the same thing will happen locally if some relief isn't obtained soon.

A SPOKESMAN for the PIGUA reported that the organization also intends to join the North Plains Energy Consumers Association in efforts to form a national gas users organization.

Amarillo will be the site of a meeting to form such an organization Aug. 21 and 22. The NPECA is sponsoring the meeting.

Gas users hope that formation of a national organization will help focus attention on the need for a priority rating for irrigation gas from the Federal Power Commission and the need to hold irrigation gas prices down.

The Plains Gas Users are hoping to enlist the aid of housewives and other utility bill payers in their efforts to get authority over utilities transferred to the Public Utilities Commission.

Senate Incumbent Here Tonight

Senator Lloyd Bentsen, Democratic candidate for another term as U.S. senator will arrive in Hereford at 5 p.m. today for a public rally in Dameron Park and a invitation only dinner and reception at the Hereford Country Club tonight.

The rally is designed to attract as many interested voters as possible to hear the incumbent speak on issues involved in his re-election. He is opposed by Alan Steelman, a Dallas republican.

Harvest Dinner Is August 17

Hereford American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 192 will hold its annual harvest dinner Tuesday, Aug. 17 from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at the American Legion Hall.

The dinner will feature home cooked meat, vegetables salads breads and desserts, all made from products grown in the local area.

Tickets for the dinner are priced at $2.75 each and proceeds from the project will go to the American Legion Auxiliary scholarship fund. Through the scholarship fund, a number of local girls have obtained assistance in furthering their education.

Food for the dinner will be prepared Monday in the traditional West Texas fashion with Mrs. Ira Ott serving as general chairman of the project.

Mrs. Grant Hanna is in charge of table arrangements.

THE RECEPTION AND BUFFET dinner ate being organized by attorneys Richard Green and Earnest Langley. About 160 invitations were mailed out to Hereford citizens.

Bentsen is making a whirlwind tour of the Texas Panhandle which began this morning with a deplaning in Amarillo and a breakfast in Pampa. It was followed by a downtown tour of that town.

He also made trips to Perryton, Borger, Dumas, Dalhart and Vega. In each of these, a coffee, a reception or luncheon was hosted in honor of the visiting legislator.

The senator is expected to arrive at Hereford Municipal Airport at 4:45 p.m. and travel to Dameron Park for the rally. The activities here will culminate with the Country Club events.

The rally will present an opportunity for any local groups or individuals to question Bentsen on his stands and background. "He likes a lot of feedback," Green said.

The reception also will afford persons attending to discuss issues with him.

BENTSEN WAS A POLITICIAN who rose to fame faster than most when he was elected to his first elective office as Hildalgo County Judge when he was only 25-years-old. After one term, he was elected to three consecutive terms in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Following his first political career, he moved to Houston where he was involved in business including his tenure as president of the Lincoln Consolidated, a financial holding company. He'd served on numerous boards of large corporations.

At 55-years-old, Bentsen is considered one of the most efficient senators. His office is set up in business-like fashion and has been patterned after by other legislators.

HE TRIED THIS YEAR to seek the Democratic nomination for the presidency, but failed after being defeated in the Oklahoma primary.

Bentsen has run a fairly mild campaign even during the early days before the

Javits Aide Killed In Hijack Attempt

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) - A staff aide to Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., was among four persons killed in an apparent Palestinian attempt to hijack an Israeli airliner at the Istanbul airport, the U.S. Consulate reported today.

The attack Wednesday night ended with the surrender of two Palestinian terrorists. The El Al jet flew safely to Tel Aviv.

Officials at the U.S. Embassy in Tel Aviv said the dead American was named Harold Wallace Rosenthal, 29. They said he was a former aide to Sen. Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, and was on his Texas Democratic Primary when Phil Gramm of College Station opposed the incumbent with strong but futile effort. Steelman has been more vocal lately on his criticism of Bentsen.

Shortly before the primary May 1, Lan Bentsen, the senator's son, visited Hereford to campaign for his father.

Since the May 1 primary, Bentsen has been touring Texas visiting friends and supporters and making speaking engagements. He covered approximately 20,000 miles in 57 days this spring, stopping in 85 Texas communities.

The Anatolia agency said 26 persons were wounded or injured in the attack, including two American women in a party of Presbyterian tourists to the Holy Land from Portland, Ore.

The American Hospital said Margaret Shearer, 40, had a bullet wound in the ankle and was "considerably improved." But Miss Shearer's family in Portland said the injured woman was her sister, Nona, who was traveling with her.

Federal Agencies Criticized

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - Railroad commissioner Mack Wallace made this comment Wednesday in criticizing three federal regulatory agencies:

"If we had those three agencies when the Japanese bombed Pearl Harbor with the attitude that they have I would not be standing before you today. It would be a Japanese or German colonel standing here."

The agencies Wallace named in a talk to an offshoot safety seminar were the Federal Energy Office, Environmental Protection Administration and the Occupational Safety and Health Administration.

Bentsen Tells Mailmen PO Subsidy Bill Needed

HOUSTON (AP) - Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, supporting a postal subsidy bill, has told delegates to the National Association of Letter Carriers NACL convention, if the federal government can put a space ship on Mars, it should be able to deliver the mail on time.

Delegates to the NACL convention nominated Joseph Vacca, executive vice president of the union, and Vincent Sombrotto, president of the New York City Branch 36, for president of the 240,000-member organization, in other action Wednesday.

"If they can send the Viking to Mars, they can pick up a letter in Muleshoe, Tex., and deliver it to Houston on time," Bentsen told the 6,000 NACL delegates.

"The postal subsidy bill isn't going to solve the problem but will keep the postal service afloat while we analyze the problem," Bentsen said. "I also oppose any crippling amendments to that bill."

The subsidy would provide $500 million in appropriations for the postal service in 1977 and again in 1978. The measure is sponsored by Senate Post Office Committee Chairman Gale W. McGee of Wyoming.

"I'm with you and will fight for you in the Senate," Bentsen said. "We can bring the American people the kind of postal service they deserve."

Election of the organization's new president will be conducted by mail, beginning this month. Results will be announced in October and the officers installed for a two-year term next January.

Vacca represents the union's current administration in the race against Sombrotto, who claims the union leaders of being too soft with management.

James Rademacher, president of the union for eight years, said he is quitting the $39,000 per year job because the economic problems of the U.S. Postal Service "have brought such hardships on union members that the finger points at me. We must have a strong union and avoid unnecessary dissension."

Sombrotto said Rademacher and his administration, including Vacca, has been "too comfortable with management and has sought to achieve political expedient decisions rather than come to grips with the overriding issue of the survival of the Postal Service."

Frank Conners, a Philadelphia letter carrier, spoke for Vacca.

Economy Growing Slower

WASHINGTON (AP) - The economy is settling into a slower growth phase but Ford administration economists say a continued winding down of inflation is essential to sustaining growth. Economists expect inflationary pressures will show further easing in the report today on July wholesale prices. This slowing has gone on with only slight pauses for a year and a half.

Insurance Up 7.1 Per Cent

AUSTIN (AP) - The State Insurance Board today approved a 7.1 per cent average statewide increase in private passenger automobile insurance rates based on "automatic" deductibles of $200 on collision and $50 on comprehensive coverage.

The new rates will take effect with policies written or renewed Oct. 1.

Prices Held Down

WASHINGTON (AP) - Lower food prices held the climb in wholesale prices to a moderate three-tenths of a per cent during July, the government said today, but there was a signal of possible trouble ahead with inflation.

Miners Expected On The Job

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) - United Mine Workers officials expect rebellious rank-and-file members to obey a back-to-work yoke and end their four-week wildcat strike that has idled most of the nation's 150,000 soft coal miners. Crews were sent into the mines Wednesday night for safety inspections before production resumed. But most of the striking soft coal miners in Virginia, West Virginia, eastern Kentucky, Illinois, Indiana, Alabama, Ohio, and Pennsylvania were not told to report back to work until today.

Mexican Guerrilla Killed

MEXICO CITY (AP) - Police say Mexico's most wanted guerrilla has been killed in an unsuccessful attack on the sister of President-elect Jose Lopez Portillo.

Police spokesman Carlos Santini said the body of David Jimenez Sarmiento, the leader of the 23rd of September Communist League, was identified by fingerprints. Police are searching for two men and woman who with Sarmiento attacked the car of Margarita Lopez Portillo on Wednesday.

bruises on her arms and thighs, a hospital spokesman said.

The other dead were a Japanese, an Israeli and a fourth man believed to have been a Spaniard.

The pilot of the Israeli plane said he was told the attack was made by four terrorists, but accounts of the information given police by the two captured Palestinians indicated they acted alone.

The two men said they smuggled their guns and hand grenades through the Rome airport, which has been the scene of numerous hijackings and terrorist attacks. The newspaper Hurriyet said their plan to hijack the El Al jetliner which was waiting to load passengers, was foiled when police began searching the luggage of transit passengers.

As the two terrorists approached the end of the line before boarding a bus to the plane, they opened their bags, hurled a grenade into the line-up passengers and began spraying the room with submachine guns, police said.

The four died when the grenade blast ripped across the exit gate, breaking windows and causing panic among the crowd.

The terrorists took a Turkish policewoman hostage and exchanged shots with airport security police that rushed to the lounge and kept them from reaching the jetliner on the runway about 100 yards from the terminal.

The two Palestinians surrendered after an hour-long standoff and negotiations with Istanbul Gov. Namik Kemal Sentruk and other officials. Police said the dead Japanese was a teen-ager with a gun in his shirt, leading them to believe he was one of the terrorists. But a Japanese travel agency said the man was a 40-year-old travel agent accompanying 10 Japanese tourists who escaped unhurt. The Japanese Foreign Office said his name was Yutaka Hirano.

Anatolia said the injured included two Turkish bystanders, an Italian, a Spaniard and 16 Israelis.

Lava Diversion Plan Is Studied

ABERDEEN, Md. (AP) — Army scientists here are hoping to use high explosives "like a surgeon uses his knife" to divert hot lava should one of the world's largest and most active volcanoes erupt near the city of Hilo on the island of Hawaii. "It's extremely dangerous. We're not sure it can be done," said Dr. Benjamin E. Cummings, who is coordinating plans with 14 government agencies to prevent the anticipated eruption of Mauna Loa from damaging Hilo, the island's economic and transportation center located 30 miles away.

Survey's Hawaiian Volcano Observatory. Cummings, attached to the Army's Ballistic Research Laboratories at the Aberdeen Proving Ground here, hopes to use small teams of Special Forces soldiers to carry detonating equipment onto the lava fields should the eruption occur. While the research, begun last summer at the request of the Joint Technical Coordinating Group for Munitions Effectiveness, is continuing, Cummings said the plan could be put into effect any time now should an eruption begin.

The researcher said the plan is based on man's understanding of how lava flows. Cummings explained that when the molten mass rolls down the side of a volcano, its outer surface cools and hardens while the interior remains hot.

As a consequence, he continued, a natural pipeline is formed within the lava formation through which the stream continues to flow. Cummings said the plan being developed here is simply to plug that natural pipeline with explosives.

Special Forces soldiers would be carried to the volcano's side by helicopter. There, they would set up special tripods, each with a high-explosive rocket charge on top of a so-called "shaped-charge."

According to Cummings, the soldiers would ignite the shaped charges, which would bore a hole in the hardening lava surface. The rocket would then take its high-explosive charge down the rail of the tripod into the hole, exploding inside the lava's pipeline.

That explosion would close the natural pipeline, forcing the lava to flow off in another direction. Exactly where the lava would go then is not easy to predict, Cummings acknowledged. "But all we want to do is to help nature decide not to destroy the city of Hilo," he added. "If a new tube formed heading in the same direction, we would just repeat the entire process. You don't take chances with such a major economic resource and its people if you can help it."

According to Cummings, the plan was tested recently at the Army's Pohakuloa Ordnance Test Area in Hawaii and found feasible. Research is continuing, however, on such problems as designing protective gear for the soldiers in the event wind-conditions made it impossible to work on the lava flow without breathing volcanic gases.

Yet another problem is finding the best means for insulating the explosives from the 200-degree temperatures which would be encountered at the surface of the solidified lava. The molten lava could be as hot as 1,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

"We even talked to Red Adair, the Houston expert on putting out oil well fires, but he said he didn't want any part of it because it was too risky," Cummings said.

Women Urged To Branch Out

NORTHFIELD, Minn. (AP) — A program designed to help and encourage more women students to train for and apply for positions in traditionally male careers is being undertaken by St. Olaf College here. College officials hope the $100,000 three-year effort, funded by the Mellon Foundation, will convince men and women — students and faculty — that women can and do function effectively in such fields as medicine, law, the ministry and executive-level administration. The heart of the program is a series of seminars, panels and informal conferences to acquaint women students with the problems and rewards of careers that have been considered "for men only." It also deals with the difficulties women face in trying to break into these fields and in working with men once they are in.

The Career Advisory Panel, a group of 11 women now working in areas generally associated with men, have come to the campus frequently during the first year of the program's operation to hold sessions on specific aspects of their career. Included are a lawyer, a pathologist, a pastor, an engineer and several corporate administrators. Their work with students and faculty is coordinated by a woman hired by the college specifically to help women graduates with the problems they face in finding employment.

A research program is being conducted concurrently with the career attitude change program to determine its effectiveness.

Local Home Designer Speaks To Lions Club

Members of the Hereford Lions Club and their guests heard a report by local builder and designer Jay Swayze, who is in the midst of trying to promote underground construction.

Swayze has been in contact with officials in several different departments of government in Washington recently, with discussion centering around his idea for underground structures.

Swayze has built four underground homes to date, one of them at the New York World's Fair, one in Dallas, one in Colorado, and one in Plainview.

Swayze explained that the underground buildings reduce the cost of energy 80 per cent, the cost of insurance 90 per cent, and the cost of maintenance nearly 100 per cent over the conventional above ground homes.

In Swayze's design the houses are entirely underground except for a garage structure which also houses the entrances to the structures.

At the present each house is built within a 3,000 square foot shell. Swayze said that he hoped the cost per structure would be held to less than $60,000.

Roy Faubion, who has been working with Swayze on the idea, told the group that the new idea houses "use less energy, are safer, last longer, and are waterproof."

Both Swayze and Faubion have been attending conferences in Washington which have been organized by Rep. George Mahon, who has shown interest in the idea.

Parents Of Slain Girl Believe 'Kids Push Too Far' With Drugs

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The parents of pretty 18-year-old Lorraine Guerra say their daughter's brutal slaying was the result of "bad companions" and the drug scene at a local high school.

"We lost her to drugs," Yolanda Guerra said in an interview this week. "She got away from us. We tried different angles and different locations, but none of it was any use. And now she's dead."

Miss Guerra's battered, semineude and mutilated body was found last Saturday in a teenage lovers' haunt on the city's far north side.

An 18-year-old man was charged with murder in the case and was placed in the Bexar County jail.

Mrs. Guerra said her daughter "ran around with a bunch of sick kids, hopped up and half-crazed most of the time, and one of them finally killed her."

Two years ago, "Lorri" Guerra was an officer in the Judson High School pep squad and a runnerup for homecoming queen.

"She was a precious child and a great joy to us. Then suddenly she got in with the wrong crowd. They were buying dope at a business place" near the high school, Mrs. Guerra recounted.

"From then on, my little girl ceased to be an angel. She tried marijuana, LSD, all kinds of pills and became a heavy drinker, too. She began traveling with boys of the wrong type."

"And when my husband and I tried to intervene, slow her down she would get snippy and threaten to leave home, saying, 'No one can tell me what to do any more.'"

"Believe me, it was one problem after another with Lorri after she started on drugs," the mother said.

The family moved to another area, in a mobile home park, but almost at once Lorri took up with a new crowd "who, if anything, were worse than her old sidekicks on the other end of town," Mrs. Guerra said.

"They had more money to throw around, for one thing. I could see bad trouble coming but there was nothing I could do."

"Lorri wasn't listening at all. I kept trying to reach her and so did my husband," the mother said.

The husband, Kelly Air Force Base Worker Oscar Guerra, 38, was just as blunt in denouncing the local teen-age drug scene.

"These kids when they get goofed up—which is often—have to be a little nuts and should be considered dangerous," Guerra said.

"What I know is what I see with my own eyes—antisocial behavior by squads of teenagers who contaminate this and other parts of town with no adults as much as asking them questions."

"Sure, I'm all broke up because my little girl is gone, but that doesn't take away from the point I'm making which is this: Kids push it too far with drugs and reckless behavior nowadays, and something much stronger needs to be done about them," Guerra said.

Highway Dept. Criticized For Curtailment Of Mowing

AUSTIN (AP)—The Highways and Public Transportation Department has received more criticism over its curtailment of right-of-way mowing than anything else, Marcus Yancey, assistant director, said Wednesday.

Farmers especially are angry because Johnson grass next to their fences no longer is being cut, Yancey said before a Legislative Budget Board hearing.

Mowing is one of the areas in which the department feels it must economize, Yancey said, to help alleviate the crisis in funding. The fuel shortage has cut revenue while construction costs have jumped 19 per cent each year from 1971 to 1975.

Instead of mowing from fence to fence, as used to be done, the department now cuts a six-foot strip close to the grounds, then another six-foot strip a foot high, he said.

More is mowed in areas where greater visibility is necessary for traffic safety. The cost of mowing has been cut from more than $13 million to half that figure.

The litter-collection program also has been curtailed. Yancey praised motorists for what he called a noticeably diminished litter problem in the past two years.

He said anti billboard activists have said Texas is doing the best job in the nation, but this is mainly in the rural areas. Billboards in urban areas have increased faster than the more than 25,000 that have been taken down in the countryside, he said, because commercial enterprise exercises its right to erect on site billboards.

The department is asking for slightly less than $1.4 billion in 1978 and slightly more than $1.4 billion in 1979. Its current appropriation is $825.1 million, but department representatives said it has much more responsibility now with jurisdiction over public transportation and the intercoastal waterway.

Letter Carriers Make Nominations For Leader

HOUSTON (AP)—A man representing the union's current administration and one who accuses union leaders of being too soft with management have been nominated for President of the 240,000-member National Association of Letter Carriers ALC.

J. Joseph Vacca, executive vice president of the union, and Vincent Sombrotto, president of New York City Branch 36, largest in the NALC, were nominated Wednesday during the organization's convention in Houston.

James Rademacher, president of the union for eight years, said he was stepping down from the $39,000-a-year post because of the economic problems of the U.S. Postal Service "have brought such hardships on union members that the finger points at me. We must have a strong union and avoid unnecessary dissension."

The election of new officers will be conducted by mail starting this month. Results will be announced in October, and the officers will be installed for two-year terms in January.

Sombrotto told the convention the Rademacher administration, including Vacca, has been too "comfortable with management and has sought to achieve political expedient decisions rather than come to grips with the overriding issue of the survival of the Postal Service."

If postal management intends to destroy the Postal Service, "it is the obligation of this union, Congress and the public to stop it," he said.

Speaking for Vacca, Frank Connors, a Philadelphia letter carrier, said the executive vice president would "vigorously enforce the union contract, speed up the process of arbitrating contract violations and would work in Congress to prevent a dissolution of the postal service and take-over by private enterprise."

Connors also said Vacca had put together a congressional liaison network that would help support legislation and seek repeal of the Hatch Act, which prohibits federal employees from engaging in political activities.

The NALC convention ends Friday.

Lorance Hoping For Donations For Write-In Campaign

HOUSTON (AP)—Houston lawyer Tom Lorance says he hopes to receive donations of between $25,000 and $50,000 to finance his write-in campaign for the Texas Supreme Court.

Lorance, who is opposing Democratic nominee Don Yarbrough, said Wednesday, "This is purely a white hat-black hat campaign with Yarbrough wearing the black hat."

Lorance, 53, senior partner in a law firm, said in an interview, "We don't have much time to run a traditional name recognition campaign. We will try to tell people that if they can't remember my name, at least don't vote for Yarbrough."

He said about two-thirds of his contributions would come from members of the state bar who "would be embarrassed" if dropped the idea.

Lorance said, "Judge Houston has made no official announcement, but we talked and we know if we split the write-in vote, it's a lost cause."

The state bar grievance committee is continuing closed-door hearings on the Yarbrough matter.

A spokesman for the committee said the investigation probably would end by Sept. 1.

Insurance Board Ends Coverage In Mexico

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Insurance Board voted Wednesday to do away with automobile coverage in the Mexican interior because it said the coverage is misleading.

The decision was tentative, with final action due after the board staff makes minor editorial changes in the Mexican endorsement that goes on Texas policies.

Coverage will be available only for accidents within 25 miles of the border with Texas.

Board chairman Joe Christie said coverage beyond the 25-mile limit should be abandoned "because in the staff's opinion the endorsement is misleading—it would lead someone to believe they had coverage in the interior of Mexico and that someone would come to their assistance if they had an accident."

The board postponed until Friday action on a plan to bring mobile homes in coastal counties under the state's windstorm catastrophe pool.

Board lawyer Hector DeLeon requested the additional time to finish preparing his recommendation.

DeLeon told reporters he will not go along with the pool's proposal to provide coverage at premiums ranging from 5 to 10 per cent of a mobile home's value.

Nor will he recommend approval of the 10 per cent deductible sought by the pool, he said.

Court Candidate Backs Out of Statewide Race

HOUSTON (AP)—Houston attorney Tom Lorance, a write-in candidate for the Texas Supreme Court, says Dist. Court Judge Sam Houston of Denton apparently has dropped plans to mount a similar write-in campaign against Democratic nominee Don Yarbrough.

"Judge Houston has made no official announcement, but we talked and we know if we split the write-in vote, it's a lost cause," Lorance said Wednesday.

Yarbrough won the Democratic nomination and has no Republican opposition in the November election but this candidacy has been under attack because of 16 civil suits filed against him.

During a trial in June, Yarbrough was found to have engaged in civil fraud and legal malpractice in a 1975 bank deal.

A state bar grievance committee still is holding closed door hearings on the Yarbrough matter. A spokesman for the committee said the investigation probably would end by Sept. 1.

Wealthy Texans Listen To Connally

DALLAS (AP)—With his endorsement of President Ford behind him, former Texas Gov. John Connally has returned to his home state where all 100 Republican national convention delegates are pledged to Ronald Reagan.

But more than 300 Texas Republicans tossed more than $115,000 into Republican coffers Wednesday night for the privilege of hearing Connally, a former Democrat turned Republican.

And Connally told them what they wanted to hear at a reception at an exclusive country club where wealthy Texans from across the state came to listen to the man often mentioned as a potential running mate for President Ford.

Connally, 59, met first privately with about 75 persons who gave $1,000 each to ask questions of the one-time Treasury Secretary under former President Nixon.

Before and after Connally was behind closed doors, the conversation among the $250 guests ranged from business conditions to the three-time Texas governor.

"He's good to his friends," said Maurice Acers, a prominent Texas businessman. "I'd nominate him for anything."

An airlines executive said Connally is a "fine man who would be able to do anything."

Walter Wendlant, a Republican candidate for the Texas Railroad Commission, said Connally has "great support among Republicans—across Texas."

"No one ever mentions his indictment when Republicans get together and talk about Connally," Wendlant said.

Connally's indictment, trial and acquittal of federal charges that he accepted a $10,000 bribe to help raise milk price supports were far from the minds of the 250 persons who gathered to listen to Connally.

Oklahoma Holds Texas Citizen For Murder

MARIETTE, Okla. (AP)—A Gainesville, Tex., man has been charged with second degree murder in the apparent beating death of his wife, Love County authorities said.

Donald Vaughn, 36, turned himself in at the sheriff's office Tuesday afternoon.

He had been sought since Tuesday morning when his car was stopped on a reported traffic violation and officers found the battered body of his wife inside along with the couple's four young children.

Sniper Kills 2, Wounds 7

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—An 11-minute hail of sniper bullets from the top floor of a Holiday Inn raked shoppers and workers in Wichita's downtown area, killing two persons and wounding seven.

The gunfire on Wednesday from the top of the tallest building in Kansas ended when five police officers fired a volley of shots through a wall, wounding a 19-year-old man armed with two rifles.

The man, identified as Michael Soles of San Springs, Okla., was under guard at a hospital. He was reported in fair condition with leg wounds. Charges were expected to be filed today.

Victims of what witnesses said was apparently random firing from the 26th floor of the Holiday Inn Plaza included workmen and office workers, shoppers, teen-agers waiting to buy tickets to a rock concert and a news photographer who had rushed to the scene.

Dead were Joe Goulart, 56, a free-lance photographer killed when a bullet smashed through the windshield of his car less than a block from the hotel; and Elmer W. Hershey, 57, a glass company worker, who died after he was struck in the back by a bullet as he stood on the roof of an adjoining building.

One of the seven persons wounded was in critical condition and two were listed as in serious condition.

Soles was described by relatives in Oklahoma as a "deeply religious boy" who had no history of trouble. A welder by trade, he had gone to Wichita several months ago seeking work, they said.

Friends and neighbors in Wichita described Soles as friendly and personable, a chunky, red-haired young man who helped one man fix his car and was a babysitter for the children for the minister with whom he was staying. The minister, the Rev. Timothy Hutton, would not talk with reporters.

Scores of police converged on the Holiday Inn within minutes of the first shooting report at 2:54 p.m. Wednesday. Shots were already raining down on the street as police opened fire. Bullets spattered buildings and streets during a light drizzle.

"I must have heard 30 or 35 shots," said Dan Bachmann, an attorney in a neighboring building. "Then I saw him the gunman throw down what appeared to be two rifles. The next thing I saw up there was two or three police officers."

Among the seven wounded was Mark Falen, 23, a bank loan officer, who was in critical condition with a neck wound he received while walking to his office.

In serious condition were Arnold Merritt, 51, another glass worker who was hit in the chest and knee, and Denise Guseman, 16, of Derby, Kan., who was hit in the neck.

Penny Guseman, 17, sister of Denise, was treated and released after receiving superficial wounds on her right arm and left leg. Also released were Janice Goodwin, 14, Chris Hoy, 24, and Larry Ade, 25, of Augusta, Kan.

At least two other persons were injured by flying glass during the shooting.

Witnesses said later they had seen a man carrying two weapons, identified as a 30-30 bolt-action rifle and a .22 caliber semiautomatic with a telescopic sight, from a car to the hotel.

FBI Employees Fear Indictment

WASHINGTON (AP)—FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley said Wednesday that many bureau employees fear they will be indicted or disciplined for their role in FBI wrongdoing.

"Right now, there are many people whose morale has been seriously affected by virtue of the possibility of either disciplinary or prosecutive action," Kelley told a news conference.

However, he declined to make any predictions about whether two major Justice Department investigations would actually end in criminal charges against FBI personnel.

The department is investigating FBI burglaries against political activities during the past five years and the case is scheduled to go to a federal grand jury in New York later this month. That proceeding could lead to criminal charges that FBI agents or officials violated the civil rights of Americans.

The other department investigation involves alleged financial improprieties in the bureau's purchasing operations and in the management of insurance and recreation funds. The evidence already has forced Kelley to fire the FBI's second-ranking official, Nicholas P. Callahan.

Kelley said some agents, particularly those who actually carried out the burglaries, "may not be charged" in criminal indictments because they were following orders from their bosses.

Buckley Reserves Option

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Sen. James L. Buckley of New York is reserving the option of a third-man presidential candidacy, leaving Republican National Convention strategists for President Ford and Ronald Reagan to argue over which side would suffer if he ran.

GOP platform draftsmen worked through a sweltering night into early morning hours today, trying to fashion planks that both the Reagan and Ford camps could buy without a fight. Reagan's manager said he wasn't looking for platform trouble, but was ready for contests on the convention floor if necessary.

The close race was reflected in a platform subcommittee vote on the Panama Canal issue. By an 8 to 8 tie vote, a foreign policy panel rejected an attempt by Reagan backers to require that the United States maintain sovereignty over the canal.

Instead, by a 9 to 7 vote today, it adopted language accepted by the Ford administration which said U.S. negotiators should not give up any territory rights needed to protect U.S. security.

The Reagan campaign also readied its forces for a Saturday drive to undo a Ford-backed rule binding delegates from 20 states to vote in accordance with the outcome of presidential primary elections.

And, on a hundred-degree day Wednesday, the Buckley maneuver turned up the political temperature.

A Ford lieutenant tried to talk Buckley into renouncing presidential candidacy. Richard Rosenbaum, the New York GOP chairman, did so with a less-than-subtle suggestion that Buckley might suffer political damage at home, where he is running for re-election to the Senate.

John P. Sears, the Reagan manager, said that the challenger had not tried to encourage or dissuade any potential rival entry into the race for nomination. He disclaimed any involvement in the Buckley move.

Nonetheless, it appeared to mesh with a Reagan convention strategy built around maneuvers designed to keep the Ford organization off balance.

Furthermore, the fact that the move came from the Republican right, from a senator originally elected as a Conservative party candidate, led to speculation that Reagan forces were somehow involved. Buckley said he had been urged to consider candidacy by Republicans aligned with both Reagan and Ford, but he would not identify them.

"I am not a stalking horse," he told a New York news conference. "My only purpose would be a deadlock the convention on the first ballot and thus give all the delegates a chance to later vote the way they want to."

"I am concerned because many delegates feel they are locked in by the rules and must vote for one candidate even though they prefer the other," Buckley said.

That would fit neatly with the Reagan effort to block the rule binding delegates from the primary states. Sears said the Reagan camp has not encouraged any Republican to vote in defiance of legally binding instructions from his state, or to abstain on a first convention ballot so as to avoid voting for Ford if he personally preferred Reagan.

Naval Academy Loses Money On Stock Market

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., wants the Naval Academy Athletic Association to end one of its activities: playing the stock market.

The association, which runs the academy's intercollegiate sports program, has lost $336,449 since 1973 on its investments, Aspin said.

He said he agrees the Annapolis athletic fund should be invested to earn interest, but it should be put into "guaranteed government securities" rather than the stock market.

The association gets its funds from an annual $25 fee paid by each of the 4,400 midshipmen and from profits at football games and other athletic events.

The association's president, retired Capt. J.O. Coppedge, whom Aspin asked for details on the fund, acknowledged that the losses occurred in the $2.5 million portfolio.

But Coppedge said that the stocks "represent about 13 percent of the total portfolio, which is made up of about 53 percent bonds and 47 percent in conservative long-term stocks held over a period of years."

The portfolio is managed by a major trust company, Coppedge said, and showed profits in securities transactions in 1971, 1972 and 1973.

Aspin disclosed last month that the Air Force Academy Athletic Association has lost $549,000 on the stock and bond market since 1970.

Second Mars Ship To Land

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—The second Viking probe has begun its hunt for a safe place to touch down in a region of Mars that appears more hazardous, but more interesting, than Viking 1's landing place.

From its orbit around Mars, Viking 2's cameras are searching for a smooth site in the planet's northern latitudes. Scientists hope the environment there might be more suitable for the existence of Martian life forms.

Ninety-six photographs were taken Wednesday, but they were mainly for calibrating and focusing the twin cameras.

Viking 2 is in an orbit that will bring it over different spots each day for photo-taking. This way it will be able to look at the three widely separated search areas during August.

A heat-sensing instrument is also being used in the site search because the roughness of terrain can be reckoned from a pattern of temperature changes on the surface.

Some of the potential landing areas have been photographed. Generally they appeared cratered and cracked, and even the smoother locations have protrusions that one scientist called "measles."

None of the potential landing areas for Viking 2 look as safe as the Viking 1 landing area. After the Viking 1 lander had safely touched down, the area was found to be strewn with boulders that could have wrecked the craft.

Meanwhile, researchers at Viking mission headquarters here reported Wednesday on some photos taken by Viking 1's mother ship, still in orbit about the planet. They said the photos are considered the first clear evidence of Martian ground fog.

Dr. William Baum said the photos showed that water held in Martian soil, perhaps as permafrost, is give off into the atmosphere in the early morning and hangs as fog.

The importance of this process is biological. Some scientists think Martian organisms could have learned to use the very tiny amounts of water available near the surface for life. They have speculated that the organisms could pump the water vapor from the air or that the melting permafrost might exist temporarily as water in the surface.

In any case, the amount of water would be incredibly slight. At its wettest, Mars is drier than the driest deserts on earth.

Viking 1's life-search experiment had no new findings to report Wednesday, but the mechanical arm that had jammed in the middle of acquiring a soil sample last week was commanded to dump its load into a hopper of the lander's automated laboratory.

An important organic analysis of Martian soil was to be carried out today by the robot laboratory, with results due by Saturday.

Kissinger Wants Talks With France, Pakistan

PARIS (AP) - Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said Wednesday that talks might be started soon among France, Pakistan and the United States in search of a way to prevent a French-Pakistani nuclear plant deal from contributing to the spread of nuclear weapons.

France immediately rejected the proposition, calling it interference in the affairs of two sovereign states.

India set off a nuclear explosion two years ago, and some Washington lawmakers believe nuclear material supplied by the United States many years before may have been used to produce the plutonium necessary for the explosion.

U.S. officials suspect that Pakistanis now want to operate their own reprocessing plant so they can match India's atomic bomb.

Pakistan agreed to discussions but said it was wrong to think of them as formal and that Pakistan in no circumstances would back out of the contract with France.

Kissinger mentioned the possibility of talks to correspondents at the Deauville airport before leaving for a short official visit to the Netherlands. He said there was no urgency for the discussions on safeguards to be applied for use of plutonium produced by the nuclear reprocessing plant.

"There is a problem facing the whole world: how to prevent the proliferation of nuclear arms," Kissinger said. "Three friends can find a way to speak in a civilized way for the benefit of humanity and their own interests."

But French Premier Jacques Chirac told a radio interviewer: "It is a question of an accord signed between France and Pakistan. It isn't up to third parties to interfere in what concerns two sovereign states. It isn't a question of accepting the proposition of Mr. Kissinger of working out with the United States an affair which concerns only France and Pakistan."

23 Blacks Killed In Cape Town

CAPETOWN, South Africa (AP) - Tension mounted again today in Cape Town's black townships, where police said 23 blacks were killed in rioting Wednesday night.

Police Commissioner Gert Prinsloo issued the casualty report, correcting an earlier police report that 33 had been killed. He said 70 persons were seriously injured, but he did not know how many of the dead or wounded were hit by police gunfire.

It was the first serious outbreak of violence in the southern part of South Africa since the black upheaval against the white minority government's apartheid policy of racial separation began in mid-June in the Johannesburg area, 800 miles to the northeast.

The deaths in Cape Town brought to at least 212 the number killed since the first riots in Johannesburg's Soweto township. Thirty-four deaths have been reported in the past week.

The main trouble spot today was Gugulu township, north of Cape Town. Police were called in after several stone-throwing incidents but there were no immediate reports of further casualties.

Police armed with automatic weapons huddled around small fires at roadblocks guarding entrance to the townships. Officials said buses packed with workers were running normally.

Riot police fought pitched battles with mobs that burned buildings, looted liquor stores and attacked cars in the Langa and Gugulu black townships just north of Cape Town. The trouble started in the Cape Town ghettos when schoolchildren left their classes to protest the inequality between the white and black school systems.

The students began marching from school to school, calling for other students to join their protest. The public moved in, and the growing crowds of blacks jeered at them and then began stoning them, officials said.

The police fired tear gas and then bullets, trying to break up the crowds. One mob of about 300 blacks marched on a police station in Gugulu. The police threw up roadblocks around the townships, and rain and a brief hailstorm helped to drive the rioters home.

Police escorted ambulances and fire engines into the townships to collect dead and injured and put out fires.

The South African Press Association reported that two more blacks were killed in disturbances in Johannesburg townships in the past 24 hours.

Reds Down, Rally To Beat Chicago

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson was ready to throw in the towel when his team fell nine runs behind the Cubs, but Reds second baseman Joe Morgan knew better.

When the wind is howling at Chicago's Wrigley Field, as it was Wednesday, no lead is safe. In the second inning, when we trailed 9-0, I told Morgan to mark one in the right-hand column - the loss column - for us," said Anderson. "There was no way we were going to win this game."

"But Joe told me I was out of my mind - when you play in Wrigley Field, you always have a shot."

The Reds, trailing the Cubs 9-0 and 10-1 in the early going, came back with their best shot. Two runs in the sixth on a Tony Perez homer. Four more in the seventh - three on a homer by Johnny Bench. One in the eighth on an RBI single by Bench. The gap was down to 10-8.

Then, in the ninth, Ken Griffey cracked his sixth homer of the year, a dramatic, two-out, two-run shot that brought the Reds even.

By the 10th, though the score was tied, the outcome was virtually assured. Three Reds runs, aided by a pair of Cub errors, capped the comeback.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers blanked the Pittsburgh Pirates 2-0, the Philadelphia Phillies beat the Atlanta Braves 4-1, the Montreal Expos outscored the San Francisco Giants 9-3, the New York Mets edged the San Diego Padres 2-1 and the Houston Astros defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 8-1.

"With the wind blowing out in Wrigley Field, it's such a hitters' paradise that I'd really rather be behind than have a big lead," said Anderson, who got his wish as Steve Swisher drove in four runs with a single and a pair of triples - one in a seven-run second inning that featured eight consecutive hits - as Chicago built a 10-1 lead.

But Cubs starter Bill Bonham couldn't stand the prosperity.

Phils 4, Braves 1

Philadelphia snapped a 1-1 tie with a pair of runs in the fifth, thanks to two throwing errors by Atlanta third baseman Jerry Royster.

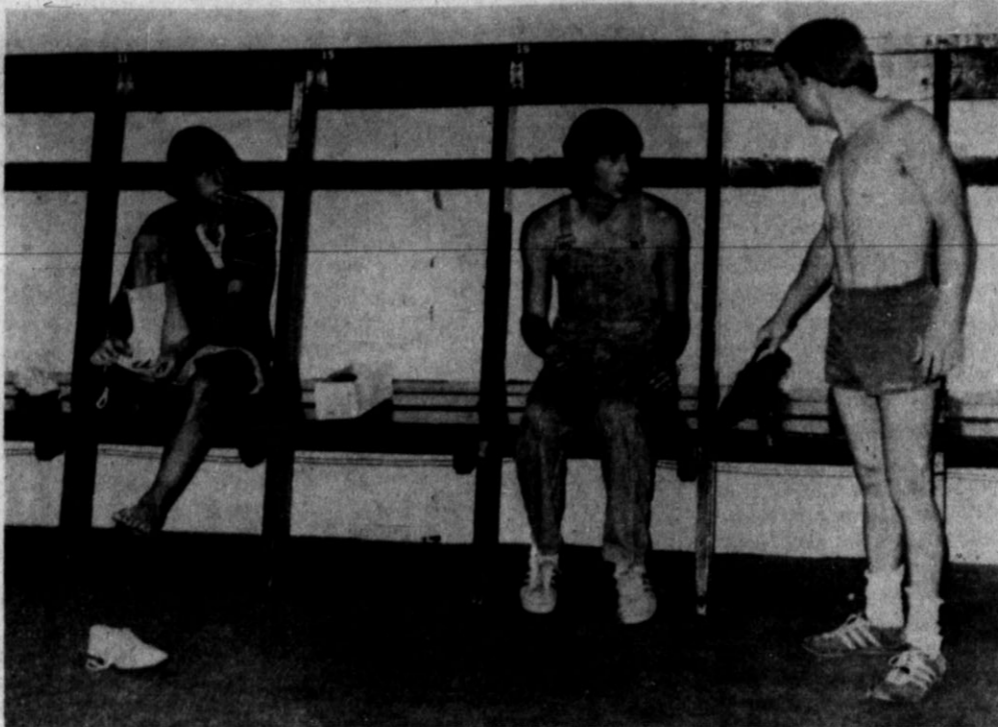

The Phillies now lead the second-place Pittsburgh Pirates in the NL East race by 14 1/2 games - their widest margin of the season.

Dodgers 2, Pirates 0

Ron Cey belted his 18th homer of the year to back the five-hit pitching of Rick Rhoden, who struck out four and walked three in raising his record to 10-1.

Mets 2, Padres 1

Mike Vail drove in both Mets runs with a first-inning double and Jon Matlack and Skip Lockwood made them stand up by combining on a seven-hitter. Matlack got his 12th victory.

Tigers Edge Rangers On Pinch Hit Homer

By LARRY PALADINO
AP Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) - Mark "the Bird" Fidrych wasn't the hero of his own victory, for a change. He still got the "We want Bird! We want Bird!" chants after Detroit's dramatic 4-3 baseball victory Wednesday night over Texas.

"But no sooner did he emerge from the dugout to acknowledge them, then the Tiger Stadium crowd-36,523 began yelling, 'We want Willie! We want Willie!'"

Willie Horton, almost a forgotten Tiger in recent weeks, came out to the top dugout step to receive the rabid crowd.

Horton won the game with a pinch-hit home run in the ninth inning. It gave rookie sensation Fidrych his 13th victory and 15th complete game in 18 starts.

"When he hit that ball I could have kissed him," Tiger Manager Ralph Houk said. "Fidrych almost did, leaping on him after Horton crossed home plate."

Horton nailed a 2-2 Perry slider into the upper deck in left-center field to salvage a split of the four-game series for Detroit, which wound up losing the season series 5-7 to the Rangers.

Perry, 11-9 wasn't exactly effervescent.

"What did you throw Horton?" he was asked.

"A high slider," he said.

"Were you tired?"

"No."

Could you have pitched longer?"

"Yah."

"What do you think of Fidrych?"

"He's good," Perry said as he turned and walked away.

Singles by Mike Hargrove and Tom Grieve, plus Burce Kimm's passed ball gave Texas a run in the second inning. Hargrove hit a two-out homer in the fourth and the final Ranger run came in the seventh to tie the game, 3-3, as Juan Beniquez walked, Jim Sundberg sacrificed and Gene Clines singled.

Rusty Staub singled home Dan Meyer in the Tiger third and homered in the fifth.

Herd Hopefuls Pick Up Shoes

BY BOB NIGH
Brand Sports Editor

The 1976 football season got underway officially for Hereford High School coaches and players Wednesday evening as Whiteface hopefuls went by the field house in a steady stream to pick up shoes.

Practice will kick off Monday, August 16 at 5 p.m. when head coach Fred Upshaw and his staff start a series of four days of conditioning work prior to issuing pads to the players the next Friday.

Upshaw expects about 100 players to report in the overall program, junior high through high school, with some 36 varsity players returning off last year's squad.

Practices Monday through Wednesday next week will begin at 5 p.m. and last about two hours, Upshaw reported. With the start of school Thursday, August 19 the players will begin their workouts at 3 p.m.

Upshaw feels that some of the younger players who begin on the junior varsity will be moved up to the varsity within two weeks of the start of practice.

"We've got five or six sleepers; sophomores and juniors who, if they get on the ball, can make the varsity," the Hereford mentor added.

Upshaw said that participation in the individual workouts most players have been doing just prior to the opening of practice is getting better as more players return from vacations or quit summer jobs.

Two-year lettermen Carlee Graves and Roy Martinez will head the Herd offense this year. Upshaw plans to continue with the Houston split Veer again this year, with Kelly Kitchens and Russell Harkins joining Graves and Martinez in the backfield.

Barry Acton and Greg Brockman return to head the offensive line charge.

Returning to lead the Herd defense are end Rowan Alexander, back Jim Lawson, linebacker Rick Taylor, and lineman Able Trevino. Upshaw said that the Herd will again use the Oklahoma Five formation.

The biggest problems facing the 1976 Herd are the need to improve on a defense that finished last in the district last year, and to find some depth in the offensive back field.

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Talk that the Los Angeles Dodgers' six-game losing streak might lead to the firing of Manager Walter Alton has no substance, says Dodgers Vice President Al Campanis.

Campanis was asked about newspaper stories hinting that Alton might be fired. "We have not even discussed it," said Campanis who added he was aware of some of the stories.

"Newspaper statements have been made before," he said, but added the Alton remains on a one-year contract. Alton has had nothing but one-year contracts dating back to 1954.

The Dodgers broke their losing streak Tuesday night, beating Pittsburgh 5-1.

PITTSBURGH (AP) - The Pittsburgh Penguins have acquired veteran National Hockey League defenseman Don Awrey from the Montreal Canadiens.

Graves Confident Herd Has It Together In '76

BY BOB NIGH
Brand Sports Editor

If you ask Hereford running back Carlee Graves how he thinks his team's chances of having a winning season are this year he'll look you straight in the eye and say, "I think we have a real good chance of going to state." Nuff said.

While Graves has been the object of an abundance of publicity already this fall, he is reluctant to talk about himself preferring to concentrate on the team.

As he indicated Graves is high on the prospect of a good season for the Herd this year.

"We worked hard in spring training. Nobody ever complained and we all just got after it. Everybody's doing their best because we want to go to state," Graves said Wednesday.

Knowing he will be the main object of opponent's defenses Graves is looking forward to having backfield mates Roy Martinez, Russell Harkins, and Kelly Kitchens taking a little of the pressure off him.

He feels that Martinez and Harkins, both seasoned veterans, will help to keep the enemy defenses honest this year. Even so, he is well aware that he will be the main man to stop.

"Last year I'd hear guys on the other team say they were going to get me out of the game," Graves said. "And they're probably going to try to hurt me some way this year," he added.

Graves voiced confidence in Kitchens, a junior signal caller, to lead the team this year.

"He's a pretty good quarterback. He gets the ball to you real quick, can throw pretty good, and has good speed," he said.

Graves, a 6-1 1/2 by 195-pound speedster, lives in town with his mother Hilesta Graves, two younger brothers, and a younger sister. He has been concentrating on keeping in shape this summer.

"I've been working with a bricklayer this summer, shoveling cement and hauling bricks," he said. Graves added that he has been running "every chance I get" this summer, doing most of it at night after he has rested a little from his job.

Graves reported that he'll play for some defense this year as a free safety for the Herd, a first for him.

And although he says he likes defense he feels he's more comfortable carrying the ball rather than trying to tackle it.

"I feel I can do more on offense than defense mainly because I have the distinction of a running back, and am more used to it," he said. "But, I think I can handle both," he added with an air of confidence.

Graves thinks Plainview will offer the biggest challenge to the Herd this year, due mainly to their overall program quality.

"They have quality people, good backs, and they always have a good defense," he said.

Graves feels that Plainview will probably be stronger on defense than Hereford, but that his team has the edge on offense.

For coach Upshaw, who is heading into his second season as Herd head coach, Graves has a lot of respect.

"He's a pretty good coach... a few times I missed practice last year and he'd talk to me and get me to thinking about how wrong it was to miss, and I'd straighten up," Graves said.

He added that while Upshaw is a strict disciplinarian, the coach also has a knack of getting his point across without screaming or shouting at the players.

After football Graves says he wants to play basketball and run track this year. Basketball mainly to keep him in shape he says he "can play basketball pretty good."

Looking to the future he hopes to grab a scholarship to play college football, and someday, hopefully make it to the pros.

Asked what school or schools he was leaning toward, he thought it over and said, "Oklahoma or maybe Texas Tech."

Graves has already received letters from several colleges and universities this summer, including Tech, Texas, and TCU. Oklahoma got an early start last spring when a representative of the Sooners talked to Graves during spring practice.

A quiet, somewhat shy young man, Graves leaves the impression of a figure of determination. "I just want to make something out of myself," he said.

And to quote him, "I think he can handle it."

Crenshaw Tabbed Favorite At PGA

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP)—Leading money winner Ben Crenshaw refused to take seriously the prediction of many observers that he is the man to beat in the 58th PGA Golf Championship, starting today.

"If I won, I would feel like I stole it," the young Texan said bluntly.

As he prepared to tee off against 139 professional rivals, the 24-year-old tour fledgling found himself confronted with all sorts of pressures—topping the year's money list with $213,201, hailed as the future super star and headlined in Washington papers as the pre-tournament favorite.

"A lot of people are itchy for me to go out and win a major tournament," he said. "The way I'm hitting the ball and the way the other guys are hitting the ball, I don't deserve it."

"It's as simple as that. I am not hitting enough fairways. I am not hitting enough greens. When I go out to play, I figure I've got to bale a lot of hay."

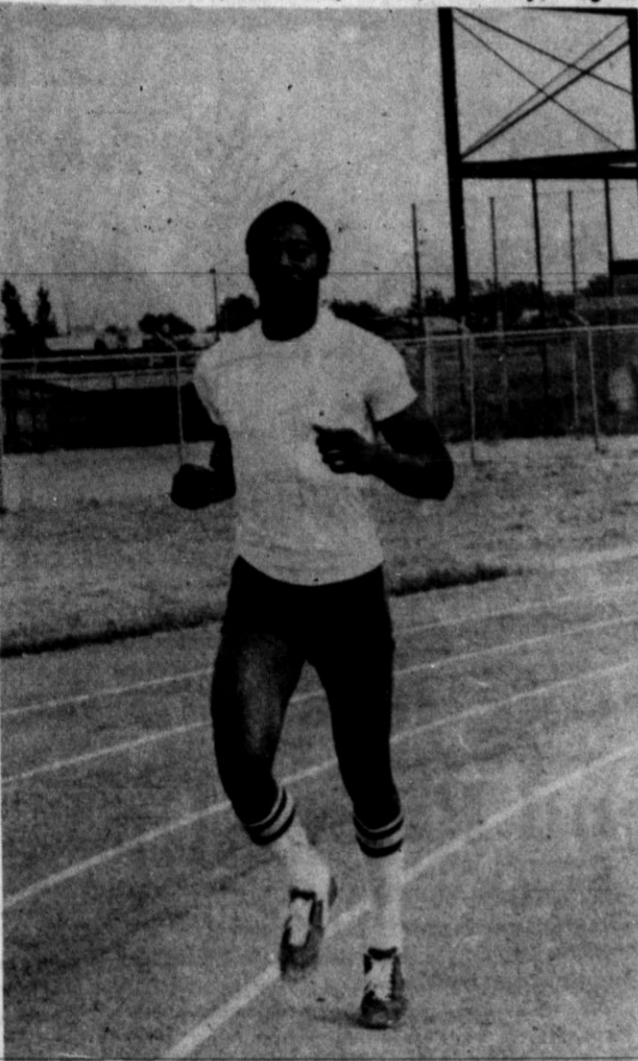

Crenshaw played his final practice round with two other of the most formidable young lions—Jerry Pate and George Burns III—and the recognized king of the game, Jack Nicklaus, winner of 16 major crowns.

Out of the tough Texas proving that produced such fairway greats as Ben Hogan, Byron Nelson, Jimmy Demaret and Lee Trevino and cut from the same bolt of cloth, Crenshaw has measured up to all expectations except one—he has not yet won a major championship.

Off to a strong start, he has turned this into one of his finest years. He won the Crosby and Hawaii tournaments on consecutive weekends, finished second in the Masters as well as Pleasant Valley and Westchester and tied for eighth in the U.S. Open at Atlanta.

He has finished in the top 10 in 12 of 23 starts, his total prize money of $213,201 exceeding that of second place Hubert Green by almost $25,000. Nicklaus, with only one tournament victory, has won $152,019.

In addition to Nicklaus and Crenshaw, advance favorites include Jerry Pate, 22-year-old rookie who won both the U.S. and Canadian Opens this year; hard-luck John Mahaffey, who has seen the last two U.S. Opens slip from his grasp; long-hitting Tom Weiskopf; Tom Watson, and comebacker Lee Trevino.

Field Goal Pushes Giants Past Jets

NEW YORK (AP)—John Mendenhall, the New York Giants' defensive tackle, raced onto the field and jumped high in the air, giving the victory sign over and over, as a salute to George Hunt's third field goal, which had just beaten the New York Jets 16-14 Wednesday night.

Hunt's game winner came from 34 yards out with a mere 16 seconds left on the clock, and it meant nothing in the standings of the National Football League. But to Mendenhall and the Giants, it was bragging rights for the entire season.

"We proved we are better than them," said John. "This team is going to be all right this year and beating the Jets is still a big thing."

"Both teams played well," said Giants Coach Bill Arnsparger. "New York may have two good teams this year."

Hunt, who had missed repeatedly in 1975 on field goal and extra point attempts, redeemed himself, with three for four, hitting on shots from 23, 37 and 34 yards, and missing on a 32-yarder which hit the right upright.

"We timed things tonight. I got my kicks off in 1.3 seconds. When they take as long as 1.4, it means you run a big chance of being blocked. After last year we worked long and hard to tighten up coordination between the line and myself. This is gratifying."

For the Giants, the victory was a morale booster, and they raised their record against the Jets in preseason play since 1969 to 5-2-1. They split two regular-season games, with the Jets winning the last one in 1974, in overtime.

The serious nature of the contest was shown by the fact that Arnsparger and Jets Coach Lou Holtz left their regulars in most of the game. Only Joe Namath 10 to 24 and 616 yards, and Craig Morton, 19 of 32 and 211 yards, worked at quarterback.

After the Jets had seemingly scored the winning TD, with just 2:12 left via a seven-yard Namath pass to rookie running back Lou Giammona, the Giants roared back to win the game.

For Rent

You're doing without a Zimmatic center pivot. Saving your hard-earned capital for other improvements. Don't want to borrow right now.

But it's costing you money every year you wait. Two ways. First, you're losing the extra crop production you get under irrigation. Second, inflation is at work. Boosting prices, dropping the value of your dollars.

Why not rent a Zimmatic under our new lease plan? Let the system pay for itself and put some extra money in the bank for you at the same time.

Our rates are reasonable. You can include freight, installation, and other "above ground" items in one flexible package, tailored to your needs. Why wait to irrigate? It's just costing you money. Call us today for details on our new lease plan.

Federal Screwworm Regulations Now Affect All Stock In Texas

All livestock shipped out of Texas must now meet federal inspection and certification requirements, the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) has announced.

These intensified regulations are the result of action by USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) designating the entire state of Texas as an area of recurring screwworm infestations. Prior to this announcement, only the 29 southern counties of the state were so designated.

APHIS officials said the change will mean that all livestock, including cattle, sheep, swine, goats, horses, mules and burros shipped from Texas must be inspected by state or federal animal health officials or accredited veterinarians and be certified free of screwworms before shipment. Animals found to be infested with the parasite will be treated, and the entire shipment of livestock will be sprayed or dipped with a USDA-approved insecticide.

In addition, all animals shipped from Texas into southeastern states are required to be dipped or sprayed even if found to be screwworm-free. These special requirements have been initiated in order to prevent the spread of screwworms into the Southeast, an area which has been free of the parasite for over 15 years.

Previously, cattle shipped in interstate channels from Texas counties not designated as areas of recurring screwworm infestations were not required to be inspected and treated for the parasite before shipment. Many of these cattle had wounds or disease conditions which could harbor screwworms. When moved without restrictions, these cattle could be the means by which screwworms were spread to uninfested states.

Texas has been placed under stricter federal regulation as the result of an increase in the number of laboratory confirmed screwworm cases in the state in recent months. These cases threaten to facilitate the spread of this parasite of all warmblooded animals. So far this year, over one-half of the 254 counties in Texas have reported screwworm cases. Even a greater number of cases are expected during the traditionally heaviest months, August through November. The already serious number of screwworm cases reported this year has been due to heavy rainfall in the state, producing ideal environmental conditions for the increase in screwworms.

Owners of livestock should constantly check their animals for screwworm infestations and submit specimen larvae (worms) in the prepaid, self-addressed mailing kits available from County Extension Agents offices, suggests Dr. Robert Miller, of USDA's Mission, Tex., screwworm laboratory. Screwworms are the larvae, or worms, of the screwworm fly. Female flies lay their eggs on the edge of an open wound on any warmblooded animal. The eggs hatch, and the tiny larvae burrow into the wound to feed on the living flesh. Odors produced by the feeding larvae attract other female often result in the death of the animal. The USDA's Screwworm Eradication Program, operated by APHIS, is designed to eradicate the wild screwworm fly population by releasing millions of sexually sterile screwworm flies every week to mate with the fertile wild flies. Matings between fertile and sterile flies produce eggs that do not hatch, thus breaking the screwworm life-cycle.

Ranchers Advised To Cooperate

AUSTIN—The Independent Cattlemen's Association is asking ranchers throughout Texas to cooperate fully with new federal guidelines aimed at controlling a screwworm outbreak now gripping the state.

The new guidelines, applied to all counties in Texas by the U.S. Department of Agriculture this week, require spraying of all cattle within 72 hours of any planned movement to Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi or Tennessee.

Those seven southeastern states have climates in which screwworm flies can "overwinter" and set up a disastrous situation for next year. Movement of cattle to states other than those seven is not affected.

ICA President T.A. Cunningham of Goliad pointed out that the spraying requirements now being applied to all Texas counties have previously been in force in 39 South Texas counties in the screwworm belt.

"With more than 7,100 cases in the first seven months of this year, and with confirmed cases as far north as the Panhandle, we have an epidemic situation,"

Cunningham said. "The spraying program is for our good, too."

The spraying requirement will remain in effect until Nov. 30.

Cunningham also called on ranchers to remember these basic steps which are critical to screwworm control: prompt submission of samples from all infested wounds, prompt treatment of all wounds with preventative smear, spraying or dipping regularly to prevent infestation, and use of control programs for ticks, horn flies and other pests.

Crop Production Reports Often Send Prices Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—A limited study of what happened on the commodities futures markets immediately after the Crop Reporting Board announced crop production and stocks reports the last three years shows prices going up more often than down.

Changes in corn and wheat prices following forecasts and grain-stocks reports were charted in the current "Agricultural Situation" a magazine put out by the Agriculture Department's CRB.

The prices in the commodities markets were checked a day and then a week after 13 corn-production forecasts were issued, beginning in the volatile summer of 1973.

A day later, prices were higher eight times, by 5 to 34 cents a bushel, and lower five times, by 2 to 15 cents a bushel.

A week later, corn futures price were up in six cases, down in six and unchanged in August 1973 after an initial 15-cent jump.

Price shifts ranged from 4 to 25 cents on the up days, 3 to 19 cents on the down days.

Following grain-stocks reports, made four times a year—corn prices rose 9 out of 13 times by three cents to a dime per bushel the next trading day.

As with the production forecasts, a week later the prices were up 6, down 6, unchanged once, but the average of the times they rose was 16.5 cents a bushel. For the times they fell, the average was 4.8 cents.

The checks on wheat-price movement showed prices showing twice as often as they fell following similar reports, except for the week after a grain-stocks announcement.

In that case, the magazine said, prices were down a week later in 8 out of 12 occasions by two to 37 cents. When they rose, the range was 3 to 52 cents.

A day after those grain-stocks reports, prices for wheat futures were higher by 2 to 25 cents a bushel on nine days, lower by 4 to 19 cents on four days.

Following crop-production reports, a similar pattern showed up: When futures prices rose the day after 14 of the 22 reports from December 1972 through 1975 and were still higher a week later on 15 occasions.

The article accompanying the charts said, "the point to remember about all Statistical Reporting Service crop and livestock estimates is that they are made to help farmers judge the size and value of their production, not to drive erratically in either direction."

Growers Complain Prices Low

NEW LIBERIA, La. (AP)—T.M. Barker, a Lafourche Parish sugar cane grower-processor, is circulating a petition in the Louisiana sugar belt, seeking federal aid to combat low sugar prices.

Barker, executive vice president of Valentine Sugar Inc. of Lockport, said the petition asks President Ford and Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz to "take whatever action necessary to protect the domestic sugar industry."

Raw sugar dropped as low as 12.35 cents a pound last week, far below the 17-to-20-cent-a-pound other sugar officials say is needed for survival of the sugar industry.

Barker said sugar prices are now below 50 per cent of parity, and the industry deserves the same treatment as other commodities.

Parity is the fair market price for a commodity, as determined by a federal formula. Some commodities receive government support when prices fall below 70 per cent of parity when it 18.5 cents a pound.

Barker said loss of the sugar industry would result in the loss of jobs for 16,000 persons in Lafourche Parish alone.

The Stamp Act, which was one of the most disliked taxes forced on the colonists, was passed by the British Parliament in 1765. Under it all legal papers, such as wills, deeds and contracts, licenses to sell certain goods, mortgages, college diplomas, almanacs and newspapers had to carry a government stamp on each sheet of paper.

Ag Leaders Honored

Seven outstanding agricultural leaders were each honored as a "Man of the Year in Texas Agriculture" by the Texas County Agricultural Agents Association at the organization's annual meeting in Waco Aug. 1-3. They are, from left to right, Leo V. Witkowski, Hereford; State Rep.

W.S. "Bill" Heatly, Paducah; R.B. "Red" Dooley, San Angelo; C.D. Roberts, Trinity; C.L. "Charlie" Schmucker, Beaumont; and Bob Ramsey, Hunt. Also honored was the late Carl P. Harrison of Cooper.

Soil Fertility Research To Be Featured

HALFWAY— Nearly 100 million dollars get buried beneath the soil of the Texas High Plains each year. The money is in the form of fertilizer, some 650,000 tons of nitrogen, phosphorus, and occasionally a touch of potash. Soil research scientists will tell field day viewers at Halfway next month Tuesday, Sept. 14, what happens to the fertilizer under cotton, sorghum, corn, millet and sunflowers and how environmental factors influence fertilizer and crop interaction.

Dr. Ark Onken, soil chemist with The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock, and Kenneth Banks, research associate for the Experiment Station at Halfway, say the chemistry of the High Plains soils is changing "continuously and irreversibly" as fertilizer is applied and used up by crops. The extent of this change and what farmers can do to assure that it continued to be beneficial are the topics of a tour stop near soil fertility research plots at which Onken and Banks will be stationed during the field day. The afternoon event, beginning at 1:00, will be hosted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Stations at Lubbock and Halfway. Beginning this year the field day will alternate between the two stations sites, with Halfway serving as host this year.

Cooperators are the Texas Agricultural Extension Service; Agricultural Research Service, U.S. Dept. of Agriculture; National Weather Service; and the High Plains Research Foundation.

Experiment Station soil research efforts are aimed at fertilizer use efficiency, says Onken. Based on research data accumulated from test sites on farms throughout the High Plains as well as from the Lubbock and Halfway research sites, correlations are made between fertilizer use and plant growth. Recommendations are then made for fertilizer applications under given soil and crop conditions. Other attractions besides tours of research plots at the Halfway Station include farm implement displays and audiovisual programs. Texas Agricultural Extension Service specialists will be on hand for individual conferences about production practices and problems.

The use of postage stamps to publicize new coinage for a country is not a new technique. The latest to use this method is the Falkland Islands in the South Atlantic. Each new stamp in the set of five depicts one face of a new coin and a drawing of the fish, bird or animals appearing on the coin. The 2-pence illustrates the new 1/2-penny coin and a trout, 5/2-pence the one-penny coin and penguins, 8-pence the 2-pence coin and upland geese, 10-pence the 5-pence coin and an albatross, and 16-pence and 10-pence coin and sea lions. The coins themselves all bear the portrait of Queen Elizabeth II.

Agribusiness Seminar Slated

COLLEGE STATION—The Texas Agricultural Extension Service will offer a four-day Financial Management Seminar for Agribusiness Firms at Texas A&M University September 21-24.

Discussions will center around such areas as financial statements, merchandising credit, analyzing business opportunities, time management, capital budgeting, forms of businesses and planning for growth.

General chairman for the seminar is Dr. Wayne Hayenga, agricultural economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

A discussion on "Reviewing Financial Statements" will cover the relationship between an income statement, balance sheet and the source and use funds statement. Then seminar participants will hear about "Analyzing Financial Statements" which will deal with methods of analysis by both borrowers and lenders in interpreting financial performance and how financial controls can be meaningful. These discussions will be led by Hayenga.

Dr. John Hopkin, Stiles professor of agricultural finance and head of A&M's Department of Agricultural Economics, will discuss "Merchandising Your Credit." He will point out how loan needs can best be marketed and how to manage credit once it is established.

"Analyzing New Business Opportunities" will be the topic of Dr. Bill Vastine, an Extension food distribution economist. He will deal with pertinent financial point in analyzing new market potentials and in doing a financial analysis for starting new enterprises or expanding existing enterprises. Topics covered will include, cash flow analysis, working capital management, estimating cost and returns for a break-even analysis.

"Time" is always scarce for any business manager and Kenneth Wolf, Extension economist-agribusiness, will discuss "Managing Your Time." Investing in the most profitable alternatives is a difficult task. Tools to help are capital budgeting techniques such as net present value and payback method. Dr. Richard Trimble, Extension economist-management, will handle this discussion.

Of course, different businesses need different forms of business organizations. Dr. Don Levi, an attorney and professor in the Department of Agricultural Economics, will talk about the two types of corporations, general partnerships and limited partnerships, and explain how each can be used to a businessman's advantage from both a tax and a financial point of view.

"Planning for Growth" will conclude the seminar. Dr. Vernon Schneider, Distinguished Professor of agricultural economics, and Hayenga will lead this discussion.

Past participants in the seminar have included accountants, bankers, farmers and ranchers, machinery dealers, realtors, farm managers, farm equipment salesmen, farm supply salesmen and grain dealers. Five states—Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas and Arkansas—have been represented.

Hayenga invites anyone interested in attending the seminar to contact him for additional information and registration material at the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, College Station, Texas, 77843. Telephone, (713)845-1861.

Screwworms To Be Tracked On Radar

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department has given $58,480 to North Dakota State University at Fargo to design and test radar systems that can track screwworms.

Present trapping techniques collect many other bugs at the same time and do not lure male screwworms, a spokesman explained, so a method is needed to monitor the livestock pests' movements as well as to track the sterile screwworms that the USDA unleashes in efforts to wipe out future generations of the bug.

The first unmanned U.S. spacecraft made a soft landing on the moon, May 30, 1968.

Jim Shaw Initiated
Tuesday

Jim Shaw was initiated by members of the Order of Eastern Star when the group met Tuesday evening in the Masonic Temple.

Also, during the business meeting, it was announced that Friendship Night is scheduled at 6 p.m. Sept. 14 at the Masonic Hall. The group was also invited to participate in the Friendship Night at Tulia planned for 7 p.m. September 11.

The program for the evening concerned Robert Morris, founder of the Order of Eastern Star.

Mrs. Edgar Hartley and Mrs. Bob Thuet served watermelon to the 27 members present.

Childbirth
Classes
Beginning

Classes to instruct expectant parents in the Lamaze method of child birth will begin tonight at 8 p.m. at the First Assembly of God Church, and will continue through Sept. 16.

The free classes are sponsored by the Prepared Childbirth Education League of Amarillo. Individuals wishing to sign up for the classes or obtain additional information should contact Chaille Lockamy at the Deaf Smith General Hospital, 364-2141, Extension 240.

PUBLIC INVITED
"Savage Sam" is the film to be shown at 4 and 7 p.m. today at Deaf Smith County Library. The public is invited to view this film free of charge.

Savage Sam was a lop-eared hound dog who was led by six rugged Texans across the Southern Plains in a relentless pursuit of renegade Apaches who had kidnapped three white children.

Reception To Honor Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Roy F. Calvert of Ingleside, former Hereford residents, will be honored at a golden wedding anniversary reception Sunday.

Friends and relatives of the couple are invited to attend the affair which is scheduled from 3-5 p.m. in the Educational Hall of First Baptist Church at Ingleside.

Mrs. Calvert taught for a number of years at Hereford High School. The family requests that no gifts be sent.

When camping, rub the outside bottom of a pot or pan or skillet with a bar of soap or liquid detergent before cooking over campfire or outdoor grill. This makes wash-up afterward much easier. Mrs. Linda McCormack, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, says.

Underripe fruits should be ripened at room temperature away from sunlight. Refrigerator temperatures retard the ripening process, according to Marilyn Haggard, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

The sun is a huge ball of gases that are so hot they give off light.

Kitchen Organization
Key to Efficiency

Concentrate on convenience and accessibility in placing kitchen appliances for "fastest action," Mrs. Lillian Chenoweth, a family resource management specialist, says.

She is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Consider how often various small appliances are used—some might see more frequent use if they were easier to get out and put away.

"When doing a major kitchen cleaning, reorganizing or remodeling, try to find as convenient a spot as possible for each kitchen aid. Ideally, small appliances should be stored where or near where they are used—especially those frequently in operation, such as toaster, coffeemaker or can opener. The next best storage area is an easily accessible shelf or cabinet," she advised.

Wall hooks or pegboard can be one solution to keeping some small appliances handy, without using counter space. Among those that can be hung on the wall are hand mixers, electric knives and warming trays.

Seldom-used equipment should be stored out of the way but still be easy to retrieve when needed.

"Another angle to this time-motion story in the kitchen is how easily cleanable the appliance is. Anything immovable is helpful. If not immovable, are parts easy to remove for cleaning? The special coatings on many newer appliance models make washing simpler," she noted.

SALE SCHEDULED

A rummage sale, sponsored by members of the Senior Citizens Organization, is planned from 10 a.m.-6 p.m. Saturday in the patio area of the old Central School building.

Anyone wanting to donate clothing or other articles is requested to bring them to the main office of the building.

Times change fast—be ready to move or you'll be left behind.

Members of the American Association of Retired Persons, Chapter 884, will sponsor a defensive driving class September 15-16 beginning at 10 a.m. in the REC Medallion Room. Reservations must be made by calling 364-1954 or 364-6917.

REUNION PLANNED

Descendants of the late Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Fortenberry of Lockney, the Cedar Hill community, will have their 25th annual Fortenberry reunion.

Friends of the families are invited to bring a covered dish to the reunion which will begin at 10:30 a.m. Saturday in the Bull Barn.

During almost every month throughout the past year, the national average retail price of rice has declined. This is in contrast to the gradual rise in prices of most other food products. The cost of a half-cup serving of cooked rice today is just over three cents, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, reports.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Robbins of Route 2 announce the engagement of their daughter, Genie, to Alan Burkhalter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvie Burkhalter of Dalhart. The couple plan to marry September 4 at First Christian Church. The bride-elect is a 1972 graduate of Hereford High School and her fiancé is employed at Burkhalter Chevrolet in Dalhart. The couple attended Texas Tech University and plan to live in Dalhart.

One of the most curious of bird's nests is that made by the tailorbird. This songbird uses its thin sharp bill as a needle and sews large leaves together in the shape of a snug pocket. Bits of grass, vegetable fiber and spider web are used as thread.

children. Pert and freckle-faced Susan Blanchard is the Tina of the title. Her charges are a 12-year-old daughter, played by June Angela, and a 10-year-old son, played by Gene Profanato. It all sounds a bit like The Courtship of Eddie's Father, with the ethnic roles in reverse.

Fall TV Preview

EAST MEETS MIDWEST — Pat Morita plays a Japanese businessman, who has moved from Tokyo to Chicago and hires Susan Blanchard (rear) to care for his children Gene Profanato and June Angela in Mr. T and Tina.

MR. T AND TINA

Veteran comedy actor Pat Morita was so good as Arnold of the famed Arnold's Drive-In on Happy Days that ABC decided to give him a show of his own. It's a half-hour situation comedy called Mr. T and Tina, airing Saturdays (8:30-9 p.m., ET).

Morita plays Taro Takahashi, a representative of a Tokyo electronics firm who moves his family to Chicago. He is struck by a supposedly funny form of culture shock, when he is talked into hiring a hip, though somewhat scatterbrained, young woman from Nebraska as the live-in governess for his

SPENCER'S PILOTS

CBS has come up with an airborne series in Spencer's Pilots, airing Fridays (8-9 p.m., ET). This deals with the everyday happenings at a small, independent aviation company. Burly Gene Evans, who will always have a place in my heart as the father of My Friend Flicka, plays Spencer Parish, the hard-on-the-outside, but soft-on-the-inside owner of the company. Christopher Stone stars as Cass Garrett, a devil-may-care pilot. He has plenty of opportunities here to look dashing and act heroic, as all kinds of large and small disasters occur both on and off the ground.

HIGH FLYING Christopher Stone plays a free-wheeling pilot with a small, independent aviation company in Spencer's Pilots.

Summerfield News

BETTY W. HAYES

The Summerfield Community held their annual ice cream supper Thursday evening at the Summerfield Baptist Church. The event was hosted this year by the Summerfield Study Club, the Mon Amis Study Club, and the Summerfield Baptist Church.

Ice cream and cake were enjoyed by approximately 102 people. Mrs. Patty Atchley welcomed guests. Mr. C.R. Walsler and Mrs. Lee Curry of Hereford were the "oldest" guest present. Both are former residents of our community.

The youngest guest was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Walsler of Hereford, Jill, who is also the great-grand-daughter of Mr. Walsler and Mrs. Curry.

Many Hereford residents along with Summerfield residents visited and enjoyed the ice cream and cake. Special welcome was given to the out-of-town visitors who include Annie Hawkis of Lamesa, Jennifer Higgins of Dallas, Mrs. Alice Riley of Hays, Ks. Mrs. Roy Perry, Chileen, and Phillip of Ellsworth, Neb. Dr. and Mrs. Charles Atchley Scott and Julie of Tulsa, Mrs. Ann Clearman, Keith and Christy of Ovalla, and David Riley of Denver, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. R.B. Baker have returned home from touring the north western states and Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Loeman of Canadian visited with Mrs. Loeman's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Walsler recently. They also visited with the Cleatis Hayes family, Ken Walsers, Don Walsers and Mrs. Lee Curry.

Returning home after spending the summer with their grandmother Mrs. Eva Lookingbill, were Kurt, Kim, and Alison Lookingbill, children of Fred Lookingbill of Minnare, Neb. Mrs. Lookingbill and Mrs. Ann Clearman and children met Fred in Lamar, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. Durven Baker of Peirson visited recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R.B. Baker. Dee Baker returned home with them after visiting with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Walsler and Mrs. Cleatis Hayes.

Jennifer Higgins, Kris, and Cory Higgins, children of Mrs. Linda Higgins of Dallas are here visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Noland and other relatives.

Sunday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lookingbill were her niece, Mrs. Charlie Duree and husband and their daughter, Darcey of Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Beherns, Tammy and Kyleen returned home Thursday evening after a short trip to Carlsbad. They toured the Caverns and also visited with former Hereford residents, Dorothy and Gene Folks. They visited with relatives in Hobbs, N.M. and Morton before returning home.

Mrs. Ann Clearman, Keith, and Christy of Ovalla visited with Mrs. L.B. Lookingbill recently. Keith remained with his grandmother for a couple of weeks. Carley Clearman came Sunday and plans to visit with his grandmother and other relatives.

Kenneth Christie is doing very well at home after his recent knee surgery.

Devra Baker and DeAnn Walsler returned home Sunday after visiting in the Kenneth Loeman home of Canadian. They also visited with their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Purcell. Mrs. Cleatis Hayes and Mr. and Mrs. Don Walsler, Brad and Mikel picked the girls up Sunday and visited with the Purcells and the Loemans.

Mrs. Mary Katherine Silver and Bill Cottles of Fairfax, Va. visited in the home of Mrs. Silvers parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Huckert. Returning home with Mrs. Silver were her children, Kathy, and Douglas, who have been visiting their grandparents this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Noland attended the wedding of David Wiggins in Olton Friday evening. David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wiggins.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Christie and son returned home Thursday after several days in Dallas and Six Flags.

Mrs. Don Larkin visited in Borger with her sister, and her mother, Mrs. Bradstreet of Wheeler.

Visiting in the home of Mr.

and Mrs. Thurman Atchley recently were Dr. and Mrs. Charles Atchley and children of Tulsa, David Riley of Denver Co., nephew of Mrs. Atchley, and Mrs. Ron Perry, Chileen and Phillip of Ellsworth, Neb. and Mrs. Alice Riley, Hays, Kans.

Enjoying an outing at Ute Lake, N.M. recently were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Huckert, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Huckert, Barbara Huckert, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Lance, Elizabeth, and Mikel of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Frank Huckert, Leah and Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sears, Hereford and Mrs. Mary Katherine Silver, Kathy, Douglas, and Bill Cottles of Fairfax, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schultz and boys visited this weekend with Ky Lawrence of Conhas Lake, N.M.

Many farmers in the community started those irrigation wells back Monday. Recent rain reports were in the neighborhood of 3 to 4 inches, but the warm weather and hot winds dried things out much faster. The crops in this area look very good considering the lack of moisture that we have had this summer.

Mrs. Patsy Morgan of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. David Huckert and Bryan of Levelland visited in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Huckert, while their sister, Mrs. Mary Katherine Silver and family of Fairfax, Va., were here last week.

Sauerkraut Preserves Cabbage

Making sauerkraut may be the answer for home gardeners with more cabbage than the family can eat fresh.

Sauerkraut is an economical source of Vitamin C and adds a zesty taste to family meals, Mrs. Sally Coble, a foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, says.

Select firm, sound heads of cabbage. About one pound of cabbage fills one pint of kraut.

Remove the outside green and dirty leaves. Wash well. If worms are present, soak in four tablespoons salt per gallon of water for 30 minutes. Quarter the head then shred the cabbage finely.

Put five pounds cabbage and two ounces (three and one-half tablespoons) of salt into a large pan and mix with the hands. Pack gently into the crock with a potato masher. Repeat until crock is nearly full. Cover with a cloth, plate and weight. During the curing process, kraut requires daily attention. Remove scum as its forms and wash and scald the cloth often to keep it free from scum and mold. Fermentation will be complete in 10-12 days, she said.

As soon as kraut is thoroughly cured, pack into sterilized jars, adding enough of the Kraut juice, or a weak brine made by dissolving two tablespoons salt to a quart of water, to fill jars to within one half inch of top. Put on cap, screw band firmly tight. Process in boiling water bath 15 minutes.

By The Garden Gate With Glad

By Gladys Manjeot

The following Maxim was prefixed to poor Richard's Almanack (1757): "Dost thou love life? Then do not squander Time. For that is the stuff LIFE is made of."

All of the long hours of gardening is paying off. Annual flowers are very beautiful and have stood the hot dry weather in a splendid way. The vegetable garden is producing almost more well grown vegetables that can be consumed by the growers. (Thanks to all who so beautifully have shared their delicious vegetables) Perennials have created beautiful spots through out our home town.

The fruit trees have yielded a great harvest. This year has been a good year for fruit. My neighbors the Mitchells have gathered from their trees peaches (as many as six bushels to a tree) delicious apples, beautiful golden with blushing red accents, purple plums, which is a fruit, which creates a delicious jelly, or jam and it so pretty when put in the jars.

Grapes are coming along real well, and grapejuice, jelly and jam will be some of the goodies made from them. If you have not tried making grape juice from the white grapes, please do. I made several quarts last year, and it was very tasty, either ice cold or heated on winter evenings. Also jelly can be made from it when the surplus begins to wane in your pantry.

Vegetable gardens are really at their peak. Beans, squash (many varieties) carrots, onions, cucumbers (which are good eating whether used fresh or pickles made for winter.) Black-eyed peas are a favorite of many and they have done well this season. They are really delicious with a generous piece of tasty corn-bread (made from the home grown corn) generously buttered, and served with baked potatoes, (sweet or Irish) sliced tomatoes or a crispy salad of fresh green vegetables. It is really great to have all these to nourish and be enjoyed, by the entire family. Food fit for the Gods and fairies.

All of these have been produced through good care and good garden practices Good gardening, deep roots, well prepared soil, maintenance kept up, and careful harvesting, does indeed pay off.

(Mr. Vanderzee) I TRULY HOPE that your gardeners continue to give good maintenance in your vegetable and flower gardens.)

If you garden in the late evening, be sure and use a mosquito repellent. Have just come in from changing the water, and found that Mr. Mosquito is very busy. Is good that he warns before he lights and bites.

Another insect which we must be aware of is the ANT. They are very bad this season, on the fruits, vegetables, and trees. In a horticultural magazine I read this remedy to be used to control them. Ground-up-cucumber peels will keep away unwanted ants. Simply scatter the mixture wherever you want them warded off. If you'd rather use an insecticide, chlordane is your best bet.

Here are some more things that ants don't like, cleaning powder, bone meal, black pepper and white vinegar. Ants can not only cause discomfort to the gardener, but they are also very destructive.

The largest trees in the world are falling victim to one of the smallest creatures on earth.

Over the last three years several giant sequoia trees in Sequoia National Park, Calif. have fallen after standing two or three thousand years.

Ants burrowing into the trees have been blamed as the cause.

They can also harm fruit trees or other vegetation which secretes a sweet fluid. My beautiful summer pears have been harmed by them. If there is the smallest break in the skin, ants will find it and burrow their way to the heart of the fruit. They are also bad on the crabapples.

This month is the time to check all the trees and look for damage of borers. As trees are very susceptible to borers, also they cause a lot of damage to peach trees, especially those which have been bearing fruit for a number of years. I lost a very pretty ash tree last year. When the damaged area is found, treat it at once with a well recommended insecticide.

Another garden enemy we should check on now is the web worm. Look for the webs on trees and when the first one is found start spraying with Sevin (both dust or liquid). Alathon and diazion are good as follow ups. Often it takes more than one application of any treatment, to do a complete kill.

In the very early stages of web-worms often a fast hard spraying of water will give good results. The later suggestion is very good for evergreens, be sure that it is a fast-hard stream and start at the top of the plant or tree and (evergreens) spray well, completely around the plant. Some of these evergreens, euonymus, boxwood, and needled evergreens should be placed on your dormant spraying list.

During hot dry weather all evergreens should be well sprayed with a full hard stream of water, to clean foliage and to aid in controlling insects. Red spiders are an enemy of the evergreen.

When gathering out flowers, check for insect damage. This last week I found that many of the annuals in bloom are infested with tiny spiders almost too small for the human eye.

Cutting insects are damaging foliage of the roses. When they attract a plant, they can be redibly spotted because they leave the leaves well perforated. In some instances the leaves will be scalloped in a very pretty pattern, this is a condition we do not want to find on choice plants.

Roses are coming into their full flowering time. To promote this, use a well selected foliage feeding spray. Use spray generously and be sure that the roots receive some of the liquid treatment. This will stimulate the roots, as well as the foliage. I would suggest that an insecticide be added to the foliage spray.

Confer with your dealer and he will aid you in selecting the best, and how to use it. Such a feeding and protective measure should be used at least twice a month.

Officers Installed At IOOF Hall

New officers were installed when members of Rebekah Lodge met Tuesday evening at IOOF Hall. District deputy president, Pat Fallwell of Friona, and her king were installing officers.

Faye Brownlow served as right support to the Noble Grand and left support was Nami Merrell. Mrs. Clarence Beauford was right support to Vice Grand and left support was Mrs. Clarence Strange. Doris Coffin served as inside guardian and outside guardian was Mrs. P.B. Sowell.

Also, during the business meeting with Mrs. Merle Bridges presiding, it was announced that the state president, Zora Peddycord, will be a guest at the August 18 meeting. Friona and Dimmitt lodges will be represented and all lodge members and friends are urged to attend the meeting at IOOF Hall.

Rules for accessorizing are out—inventiveness and creativity are in, reports Beverly Rhoades, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Turkey Supplies Are Plentiful

Turkey supplies are plentiful with periodic special price features in Texas grocery stores, making this a good choice for variety in summer meals, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, says.

"Fewer red meat specials exist and those available are scattered. Generally, featured items are chuck roasts and steaks, round, sirloin and T-bone steaks.

"A few markets are highlighting corned beef and beef liver for lower cost-per-serving budget menus," she added.

Mrs. Clyatt is consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

At vegetable counters, cabbage carrots, corn, cucumbers dry onions and soft shell squash continue to have reasonable prices. Moderate price tags are purplehull and cream peas, okra, broccoli and eggplant.

Watermelons are offered at attractive prices in some stores. The popular Pecos cantaloupes are available at moderate prices-- quality is good."

Other fruits in season now are peaches, nectarines, cherries, grapes, plums and pears. Also bananas and oranges.

Reports indicate that fresh Bartlett pears will be in heavy supply during August, as a result of much larger crops in the Pacific coast states.

"And grocery counters are offering more features on staple items such as peanut butter, nonfat dry milk and canned fruits," she said.

CONSUMER WATCH: WORD Tests show that frozen bread with the ordinary commercial wrap will keep its freshness up to six months. And for homemade bread, use moisture-vapor proof material as a wrapping.

Today's meat prices seem to find a lot of room at the top.

Be prepared--anticipate your opportunities and be there the moment they arrive.

BICENTENNIAL FACTS

Col. William Tryon led 2,000 British and Loyalists in landing at Westport and marched to Danbury, Conn., April 25-27, 1777, where he destroyed army stores and burned numerous houses before retreating to ships via Ridgefield. During the retreat, The World Almanac notes, he was attacked by Americans under Generals Wooster, Silliman, and Arnold, and suffered 25 killed, 117 wounded, and 29 missing.

At Wit's End ...

By ERMA BOMBECK

According to one of the world's foremost astrologers, this is my year to become President of the United States. This came to my attention when I read that Sen. Edward Kennedy and I were born a day apart and he was given a five-star rating, the highest of any of the other presidential contenders.

There's a catch to it. We both have to get off our cusps and work for it against some odds. It's that the story of my life? I don't know about Sen. Kennedy, but I never get anything for nothing. The sun never rises on my sign. My planets are always conspiring behind my back. And my destiny always reads life it's being out in the natal sun sign too long.

I don't like to sound bitter but other people get all the good signs. Their horoscopes always read, "Popularity and untold wealth will haunt you. There's no getting away from it." Or, "You are irresistible to every sign in the zodiac. Give in and enjoy."

Not mine. They always warn, "There is a chance for companionship around the 15th of the month, but it is a slim one. Your boring image can be lessened. Perhaps writing a check to someone who will sit with you."

Usually the people born under my sign are Martin Bormann and Ann Boleyn.

It's not nice to name names, but if my mother had held on just a little longer -- a good month and a half -- I'd have been a different person. As it is, I am basically weak and insecure and tend to go along with whomever is around me. When I ask someone for the time of day and they give it to me, I always reset my watch. It never occurs to me that I could be right.

Whenever I buy a weekend outfit with the jacket, slacks and skirt, I spill catsup on the jacket. I never buy L'Oreal for my hair. I never figure I'm worth it. Take today. I read through all the other zodiac sign and my body quivered for what I knew was in store for them. Mine? Same old melody. "The potential for a bright day is there, but you will have to work on it. Don't become discouraged by others who take advantage of you."

I don't think I could handle the presidency. Only one other fella on my cusp did it: George Washington -- and then the poor devil had to bite the bullet with wooden teeth.

I'm not sure it's worth it.

Opportunity knocks only once -- temptation knocks for years.

Fresh Peach Cobbler
FRESH PEACH COBBLER
Always a favorite!
1 cup flour, stir to aerate before measuring
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 large egg
3 tablespoons milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
3 cups sliced fresh peaches
Stir together the dry ingredients; cut in butter until combined. Beat egg until thick and ivory color; beat in milk and vanilla; add to flour mixture and stir only until smooth. Arrange peaches in a buttered 1 1/2-quart round glass cake dish (8 1/2 by 1 1/2 inches) or similar utensil; spread batter evenly over peaches. Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean -- 35 to 40 minutes. Serve hot with whipped cream. Makes 6 servings.

DILL BREAD
The best recipe we've found for this popular loaf.

2 cups creamed cottage cheese
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon dill seed
2 tablespoons minced scallion
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon baking soda
2 teaspoons salt
2 eggs
1 package active dry yeast
1/2 cup warm water
5 cups unbleached flour
Slightly warm together the cottage cheese and butter. Add dill seed, onion, sugar, baking soda, salt and eggs. Beat until blended. Dissolve yeast in the water; stir into cottage-cheese mixture. Stir in as much flour as possible, then knead in the rest; continue kneading until dough is smooth. Place in greased bowl; turn to grease top. Cover and let stand until doubled in bulk. Punch down. Shape into 2 loaves and place in greased 8 by 4-inch loaf pans. Cover and let rise until dough reaches tops of pans. Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven for 35 to 40 minutes or until browned and loaves sound hollow when tapped on bottom. Turn out and cool on racks. Makes 2 loaves. From the "Bakery Lane Soup Bowl Cookbook" by Marge Mitchell and Joan Sedgwick.

Apply paste wax, paraffin or ordinary candle wax to drawer bottoms and sides for easy sliding. Glenda Moore, housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, advises.

The first U.S. flag was the Grand Union which Washington carried across the Delaware. The first official flag was the Stars and Stripes in 1777 and the flag design was standardized in 1818.

Paul Harvey News Satisfying Needs And Greeds (Portrait of Paul Harvey)

President Ford tried to curtail food stamp abuses but it is an election year and Congress is disinclined to cut off any free anything for anybody in an election year. So the rest of us remain saddled with a cost of $6 billion a year to subsidize cut-rate food for students and strikers and for some families which have incomes ranging up to $9,000 a year. Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz says it is the proper function of government to look after the "needs" of the people but government cannot be expected to satisfy their "greeds."

Another voice crying in the Washington wilderness expressing anxiety over government spending policies is that of Treasury Secretary William Simon. Simon considers inflation--largely resulting from federal government extravagance--not just a threat to our nation's economic growth but "A threat to the very survival of the West." He calls inflation "the cruelest hoax ever perpetrated for the expedient purposes of a few at the cost of many."

Bullock Gets $118.1 Million In Late Taxes AUSTIN (AP) - Comptroller Bob Bullock said Wednesday his auditors and field men have collected delinquent taxes or detected other taxes not ordinarily collected totaling $118.1 million this year. Bullock said his staff is now predicting it will collect $143 million in such taxes by the end of the state's business year on Aug. 31. The comptroller noted that promised the 1975 legislature that if he received more funding for auditors and enforcement officers, his department could collect an additional $104.6 million. "We have reached the halfway mark on my $100 million commitment two months ahead of schedule," he said.

BICENTENNIAL FACTS (Portrait of George Washington)

On July 17, 1776, Gen. William Howe's adjutant reported he was successful in obtaining a meeting with General Washington. The British aide told Howe it was a fruitless session because Washington is not interested in any pardons for patriots who have done no fault except to gain their freedom from the Crown."
