

Canyon Woman Remains Critical Following Wreck

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Editor

A 23-year-old Canyon woman remained in critical condition in the intensive care unit of Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo this morning after she was injured in the collision of her economy car with a loaded ensilage truck northeast of Hereford about 11:30 a.m. Tuesday.

MARILYN SCHUETTE was taken to Deaf Smith General Hospital for emergency treatment before being transferred to the Amarillo hospital following the accident.

The driver of the truck, Guadalupe Suniga, of 329 Ave. G, Hereford, was uninjured.

According to investigating DPS officers, Ms. Schuette was eastbound on a county road in her Ford Pinto and Suniga was northbound.

A farmhouse and a small brick building partially blocked the view at the intersection, and the drivers apparently failed to see one another.

THE VEHICLES collided in the intersection with the truck striking the right side of the car and pushing it into a power pole on the northeast side of the intersection. The pole was snapped off and the car came to rest in a plowed field, with the truck overturning and spilling a load of ensilage on the roadway after hitting the bar ditch.

Ms. Schuette was pinned in the wreckage of her vehicle for a short time. The scene of the accident was six miles east and three miles north of Hereford.

Units of Hereford Fire Department were called to the accident scene to wash down fuel which spilled from a ruptured tank on the truck.

No citations were issued following the accident.

Welcome Rain Dampens Area

A light shower concentrated on Hereford Tuesday afternoon, with rainfall coming hard and fast for a short period, and cloudy conditions hanging on throughout the afternoon and into the evening.

RAIN BEGAN falling around 2:45 Tuesday and when the showers stopped, Hereford had received a total of .76 inches of moisture, as logged by KPAN radio.

The Holly Sugar plant here recorded .71 inches of rainfall.

At the Easter community south of Hereford, only .25 inches of rainfall came down, and the Dawn community to the east of Hereford received only a sprinkle, according to a spokesman for Dawn Co-Op.

The moisture picked up again going in the other direction, with .55 inches of moisture reported at the Walcott school.

THE CLINT HOMFELD farm 47 miles northwest of Hereford, received only a light sprinkle.

Cool conditions accompanied the arrival of the moisture here, and the overcast skies were a reminder that fall isn't far away.

Torrential downpours posed flash flood threats in parts of Texas for a time Tuesday night and again this morning. Lighter rains fell in most other sections.

Still more thunderstorms were expected at scattered points.

A 4.05 INCH deluge at the Dallas-Fort Worth Airport Tuesday night sent some creeks out of banks and prompted a flash flood warning for a time in the north half of Dallas and Tarrant counties. Water filled many streets and underpasses.

During the turbulent evening the National Weather Service relayed reports of tornadoes being sighted in the east part of Travis County and in Rusk County. There was no word of damage.

By this morning a mixture of light rain, showers and thunderstorms dotted all of the state except for patches of clear skies west of the Pecos River in West Texas and along the coast.

Radar detected heavy rainfall around Junction, Sonora, Brady and Mason in West Texas. Residents of those areas were cautioned to watch for rising water, particularly at road crossings along usually dry ravines.

MOST OF THE heavier storms today failed the West Texas countryside east of the Pecos and gradually spread toward the east. There also were occasional storms near the northeast corner of the state.

Early morning fog hung low in places around Wichita Falls, Dallas, Fort Worth and Texarkana.

Temperatures near dawn ranged from 80 degrees at Galveston on the coast down to 58 at Amarillo and Dalhart in the Panhandle. Tuesday's top marks went as high as 95 at Cotulla in Southwest Texas.

Reagan On Radio

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Ronald Reagan, the former Wheaties sports-caster who also starred in movies, got elected governor and ran for president, is returning to his first career radio.

Reagan, who narrowly lost to President Ford at the Republican National Convention last month, had a date in a Hollywood sound studio today to start recording a new nationwide commentary program.

Pay Raise

WASHINGTON (AP) - House of Representatives faces a ticklish decision on whether to accept a pay raise this election year.

There is a strong sentiment in both parties in favor of amending the legislative appropriation bill today to deny funds for the pay raise that otherwise will come automatically Oct. 1.

Compromise On B1

WASHINGTON (AP) - The congressional compromise on the B1 bomber leaves the plane's ultimate fate in the hands of the man occupying the White House next Feb. 1.

Supporters of the plane hailed the decision Tuesday by Senate and House members to work to proceed on the bomber. Opponents also were happy, and they pointed to the spending limit of $87 million a month until Feb. 1, after the next president is inaugurated.

Building Permits Hit Low In August; Year's Total High

By BOBBY TEMPLETON
Brand News Editor

Construction in Hereford reached its lowest monthly total in August as it totaled only $282,080 according to city building permit records.

HOWEVER IT DOESN'T hurt the record yearly total established earlier this year. That figure is $6,383,150 counting the first eight months in 1976. This compares with a total at this time last year of $2,403,952.

The May total of $1,145,550 pushed the yearly total into the record categories as it topped $5 million in construction. The previous annual total was in 1965 when the Sugarland Mall building helped provide for a record.

The other monthly totals this year are January, $790,230; February, $1,135,850; March, $958,290; April $1,295,340; June, $313,600; and July $462,300.

The total set in August of 1975 was $567,834. That is almost twice as much as last month's total. In 1975, the monthly totals for the months after July each were significantly higher than the beginning of the year. This made up for a slow start and set the yearly total of $4,481,971 in 1975.

THE LARGE BUILDING figure this year is mostly attributed to commercial ventures. For instance, a new grain elevator was built for Hereford Grain Company, a large building is being erected for Hereford State Bank and a new surgical wing was added to the Deaf Smith General Hospital.

Of course, single-family residential dwellings added to the total. During August, this was the single largest investment.

Four new houses were permitted in August. They are as follows: $50,000 - Johnny Brownlow; $49,000 - Mike Ferguson; $47,000 - Boggs Construction Co.; and $39,000 - Lester Moffett.

The total housing construction amounted to $185,000.

The largest commercial structure and single highest building permit was for a $60,000 addition to Brandon and Clark Electrical Co.'s store.

THE CITY ISSUED 22 permits. Of these, one had no value since it involved the move-off of a residence.

The other permits are as follows: $1,500 - Oralia Vargas, alter and repair garage;

$150 - Terry Russell, construct garage.

- $600 - Clarence Calvit, construct storage facility.
- $300 - Jol Valdez, construct patio.
- $1,000 - Hubert Douglas Caperton, construct car port and patio.
- $550 - Jessie Martinez, addition to residence.
- $500 - Gary Cook Oil Co., change tank at service station.
- $500 - Perry Ray, construct storage building.
- $200 - Ray Vaughn, construct storage building.
- $7,500 - Mrs. James Drerup, move-in mobile home.
- $650 - Gregory Garcia, move-in mobile home.
- $400 - Cleo M. Wade, move-in storage building.
- $2,150 - Billy Ott, addition.
- $1,000 - Pauline Lovan, construct storage facility.
- $10,000 - Temple Baptist Church, residence addition.
- $10,080 - W.J. Albracht, residence addition.

Fledgling PUC Faces Phone Hike Request

AUSTIN (AP) - Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. asked the infant Public Utility Commission today to approve a package of rate increases that would boost company revenues by $298.3 million a year.

It also said that its proposal to charge customers for "411" information calls in excess of three a month would yield $26.5 million in payroll expense savings.

The request came on the commission's first official day of operation.

Doyle Rogers, on his first day as Bell's vice president for Texas operations, summarized the rate requests for reporters shortly after the voluminous application and supporting documents were submitted to the commission in a rented truck.

Rogers said the increases would raise Bell's rate of return on "fair value" of its Texas investment from 6.16 per cent to 9.5 per cent after taxes.

Increases in ordinary local telephone service would add $110.6 million to Bell's revenues. A one-party residential telephone would cost $11.50 a month in Houston, for example, compared with $9.20 now. Dallas residents would have an increase from $8.20 to $10, and those in Fort Worth would pay $9.45 compared with $8 now.

The dime-telephone call from a pay booth would give way to a 20-cent call, increasing Bell revenues by $8.1 million a year.

After making three "information" calls a month, customers would pay 20 cents a call, generating $2.4 million in revenue and enabling Bell to lay off temporary employees who earn $26.5 million in a year.

Bell also requested a mix of intrastate long distance rate reductions and increases that would produce $43.7 million in added income. A one-minute direct dialed station-to-station call from Dallas to San Antonio on a weekday morning would drop from 43 cents to 38 cents. But a 10-minute call that now costs $3.49 would cost $3.80 under the proposed new rates.

A direct-dialed person-to-person call, requiring operator assistance, from Houston to Austin on a Saturday night would jump from $2 to $2.90 for three minutes.

Increases in installation charges would produce $26.5 million.

Bell also seeks increases in rates for key telephones, private branch exchanges, Centrex service, private lines, WATS service, miscellaneous equipment, Touchtone telephone and "other" items.

If the commission does not act within 125 days, Bell can post bond and put the new rates into effect. The commission still would have another 60 days. Rates would become final if the commission failed to meet that deadline.

Deaf Smith County Market Proved Above Average By Business Survey

Deaf Smith County proved to be a better-than-average market in the past year, according to a nationwide business survey, just released.
 Economic activity in the area was at a relatively high level as local families, with rising incomes, increased their spending for goods and services.
 The details are presented in the new, copyrighted "Survey of Buying Power," compiled by Sales and Marketing Management. It indicates just how much was earned and spent in the year by people in each section of the country.
 In Deaf Smith County, the amount of money available for discretionary spending was relatively large, the figures show.

 Local residents had net earnings, after payment of personal taxes, totaling $85,684,000, as compared with the previous year's $71,552,000.
 What this broke down to, on a per-family basis, is indicated by the median income locally, which came to $12,050 per household.
 Half the families earned more than this and half earned less. It was higher than the median reported for many parts of the country.

Elsewhere in the State of Texas, the median was $11,753 and, in the West South Central States, $11,053.
 With inflation under somewhat better control than before and with more cash available for discretionary spending, most local families loosened their purse strings and returned to the marketplace to buy the cars, washing machines, refrigerators and other big-ticket items that they had been holding back on for some time.
 The net result was that business was good for retail merchants in Deaf Smith County. Their sales volume in the year came to $49,038,000, topping the prior year's $48,067,000.

 According to forecasts by government agencies and others, the general expectation is for economic progress during the rest of 1976 and most of 1977.
 The rate and the extent of improvement will depend chiefly, however, on public confidence, according to The Conference Board. Although most consumers are in a spending mood again, there are many who are holding back, waiting for further evidence of stability.

Officials Find No Record Of Allegedly Beaten Bracero

LOS FRESNOS, Tex. (AP) — An investigation by Mexican and U.S. officials has revealed no records of an illegal alien who died shortly after he allegedly was beaten by federal officials while being transported out of Texas.
 U.S. Immigration and Mexican consular officials said Tuesday they have found nothing about the alien identified by the Mexican Foreign Ministry as Cornelio Balderas Loredo of San Luis Potosi, Mex.

Officials in Mexico City said they had requested a U.S. investigation after it was learned the man died two days after reaching his hometown. A Mexico City newspaper said Balderas Loredo was beaten by U.S. Immigration officials while being taken by bus from Austin to the border.
 The incident allegedly occurred the weekend of Aug. 22.
 Walter Edwards, associate regional commissioner of immigration in Dallas, said his office had checked records for the past several weeks of persons taken to the deportation center at Los Fresnos and had not found anyone by the name of Balderas Loredo.
 "We also checked under the name Cornelio Gonzalez Lore-do," Edwards said, "after we were told that his name and we still could not find any records."

 Leo Soto, supervisor of the detention center here, said illegal aliens arrested in Austin would be taken first to San Antonio and then moved by bus to the Los Fresnos center before they are deported.
 "We handle an average of 1,000 a week," he said. "We checked all the records for the past month and showed them to Consul Ester Fernandez Brownsville, and we could not find anyone under Balderas Loredo or Gonzalez Loredo."
 Soto said that a list of all illegal aliens arriving at the center is given to Mexican consular officials at Brownsville. Consul Fernandez said she had conducted the investigation going through records at the detention center.
 "We have not been able to locate anyone under those names," she said. "We have gone back as far as June."
 Mrs. Fernandez said it was possible that the San Luis man used an alias while in the detention center.
 She said records in San Antonio and Austin also were checked.
 "We even checked with police in Austin to see if they had arrested someone by that name that might have been turned over to immigration officials," she said.

Protest Precedes School Opening

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The second year of court-ordered school busing began here today with no apparent trouble.
 Hours earlier, police had used tear gas to break up a protest by more than 1,000 busing opponents on the eve of the school openings.
 Six persons were arrested in Tuesday night's rock-and-bottle-throwing protest, authorities said. No injuries were reported.
 Newsmen at two schools that were the scene of demonstrations a year ago reported buses arrived this morning without incident. The countywide busing program involved about 130 schools, including elementary, middle and high schools.
 Officials said attendance figures would not be available until later in the day.
 Both sides in the busing controversy, which began last year after a federal judge ordered city-county busing to achieve racial balance, had forecast calm for the new school year.

 But a march and rally of about 300 to 500 busing foes grew into an unruly crowd or more than 1,000 protesters who blocked a highway, tossed rocks and bottles at police and chanted defiance of school desegregation, according to police.
 School leaders predicted that attendance today would be down, partly because many pupils aren't expected to attend classes until after the Labor Day weekend. This year's projected enrollment is 116,800, down from 122,000 last year.
 Louisville Police Chief John Nevin said after Tuesday night's incident that he was no longer as optimistic as he has been.

USOE wants the Hinson-Hazlewood loans limited to students at Texas institutions where default rates are confined to 10 per cent. Unless the agreement is reached with federal authorities, the program's lending capacity may be cut back from $21.1 million last year to $15 million. Many institutions have raised strong objections. Some default rates run as high as 41.8 per cent.

The July work force was 5,469,500, with 5,156,500 employed. Total employment for June was 5,149,000.
 National unadjusted jobless rate for July was 7.8 per cent.
 Texas rates vary regionally from a low of 3.5 per cent in the Amarillo area to 12.1 per cent in the Laredo area. The Dallas-Fort Worth rate was 5.1 per cent and the Houston rate 5.9 per cent.

AG Opinions
 State law prohibits public disclosure of city inspection reports on nursing homes, but federal law allows access to the information, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.
 In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:
 The Animal Health Commission has authority to require inspection for ticks on herds located on premises in a free area suspected of infestation and to require stock yards to construct scratching chute facilities at private expense for tick-inspection.
 Austin State School may not use appropriated funds to lease or otherwise acquire facilities in San Antonio for residential services programs for mentally retarded persons in Bexar County.
 Facade easements to a building exterior without disturbing private control of the interior are valid in Texas and may be granted to Texas Historical Commission.

Unemployment Down
 State unemployment rates dropped to 5.7 per cent in July — four-tenths of one per cent below the June figure.
 Texas Employment Commission Chairman Harold K. Dudley said the decline follows a seasonal pattern, since many remove themselves from the labor force if unable to find employment by midsummer.
 Last year's July rate of joblessness was six per cent.

Capitol "Historic"
 Texas State Capitol at last is "historic."
 A marker proclaiming it as such was dedicated in the rotunda last week.
 Clayton's motion to order the Legislative Budget Board staff to cut agency budgets 10 per cent was toned down to recommend the reduction where there would be "no significant loss of services."
 Few agencies so far have indicated they could operate without "significant loss of services" with a reduced budget.
 LBB Assistant Director Jim Oliver said selected agency requests would boost spending above the projected surplus (not including increases for prisons, youth correctional facilities and welfare).
 Meanwhile, LBB approved for inclusion in the proposed budget draft a pay raise of about six per cent for state employees.
 The speaker is aiming at House reorganization to save a quarter of a million dollars. Some jobs will be eliminated.
 Gov. Dolph Briscoe has recommended creation of a $1 billion capital reserve fund for investment in the era of surplus and Clayton has come up with a similar idea. The speaker concedes, however, passing a temporary one per cent reduction in the sales tax might be easier. Demands for increased budget demonstrate neither will be very easy.

Aid Plan Developing
 Public meetings by the State Bar this fall will attempt to determine needs and develop a plan to meet needs of the developmentally disabled.
 Plans will attempt to aid those suffering from autism, cerebral palsy, epilepsy and mental retardation. Hearings will be held September 13 in El Paso, September 14 in Midland and September 16 in Amarillo.

Loan Hearing Held
 A key state loan program for Texas college and university students may be in danger of a $6 million a year cutback.
 A Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System committee held a hearing this week to discuss a proposed U.S. Office of Education restriction on the Hinson-Hazlewood program.
 The program could face a substantial cutback in its line of credit for federal insurance in 1976-77 unless the Board and USOE can agree on a plan to reduce the overall default rate of 15.56 per cent.

Son's Visit Makes Birthday Special

The arrival of Lt. Comm. James R. Reinauer recently turned a birthday into a special occasion for his father, Joe Reinauer Sr., who resides five miles west of the city.

A pilot with the U.S. Navy, Lt. Reinauer arrived for an extended visit, accompanied by his wife, Margie, and their three children, Lara Annette, 7, James Richard II, 4, and Alvin Joseph, 2. The family lives in Falls Church, Va., near Washington, D.C.

While here, Lt. Reinauer was reunited with his three brothers, Joe Jr., Bob and Art, all who are former pilots and are Hereford residents. The visitors also got reacquainted with various Hereford High School alumni, who were fellow classmates.

The Virginia family also made an excursion to Austin for a family reunion, patronized a circus and toured Palo Duro State Park. Leaving the two older children with their grandparents, the visiting Reinauers vacationed in Colorado, returning in time to celebrate Joe Sr.'s birthday.

Following graduation from Hereford High School, Lt. Reinauer attended the University of Texas at Austin, where he was commissioned as a Navy officer. Following flight training, he was acknowledged as a U.S. Navy pilot.

His military career has taken him around the globe, with assignments in Japan, off the coast of China, on several Pacific islands and the western seaboard.

The lieutenant's mother, "Peaches" Reinauer, commented, "It was a great celebration for my husband to have our four sons home for his birthday once again—just like Christmas in August."

She explained that their visit was particularly interesting because each of her sons has traveled widely while serving in the military.

Seek Participation

Enrollment in either of two literary discussion groups offered by Deaf Smith County Library is now open, announces Gwen London, managing librarian.

The American Issues group, which convenes on the first and third Thursdays of each month, will have its first meeting on September 16. Meeting on the second and fourth Thursday's of the month, the Great Books group will start their sessions on September 9.

Both factions commence discussion at 7:30 p.m. in the library.

The two groups are open for additional membership at the present time free of charge.

However, Mrs. London requests that interested persons contact her as soon as possible by telephoning 364-1206. Also, persons can register at the library.

Mrs. London termed the discussion programs as "interesting and timely." She explained that material for the American Issues group was selected by Wayne Darrow of Amarillo, who has served as moderator for a discussion chapter in that city.

Further information can be obtained from members of the library staff.

IT WAS the strangest of summers. When I think back on the past four months, the memories have something of a surrealistic fog about them, as if they belonged to someone else. But they're mine -- some are painful and others priceless.

It's so easy to plan out your life with every event neatly slotted into some sort of regimen and, in essence, one takes for granted that nothing will happen to interrupt the natural order of things.

I left this job one afternoon, expecting to return in a few days, when I was caught up in a macabre carousel that stretched out over four months. It seems strange to be back at this same typewriter, as if I'd never been absent.

AS MANY OF you know, this season has not only meant upheaval, but has blessed me with a devoted, sensitive man for my husband. He has a special talent for writing about people sincerely without appearing melodramatic or 'mushy.' I wish that I had that bare ability for Jim deserves a special tribute for his strength and those in Congress who have long advocated balanced budgets, reduced government spending, payments on the national debt, and a tough attitude toward social programs. Also, our Social Security system is foundering and something must be done about it.

We have one great advantage. The founding fathers constructed our Constitution in such a way as to prevent the excessive concentration of power that caused the undoing of other civilizations. We did very well under the Constitution for our first 153 years until the Great Depression, followed by the New Deal and a succession of social welfare programs, undermined the freedom of the individual.

Compounding our other problems is the state of our economy, which is desperate trouble and needs help from kindness during my convalescence.

We have had an odd romance, with much of it chronicled in the pages of this newspaper, culminating with our wedding story: Through Jim's beautiful style of writing, our love was laid bare for many strangers, who became steadfast friends after reading their local daily paper.

HOPEFULLY, OUR story has not become maudlin or overwritten, for we never planned to expose our private lives through the media. Often, when an intimate relationship is published, the original emotions can be cheapened. I believe that this did not happen in our case.

Little did we know that The Hereford Brand would have such a strong role in uniting us and serving as an instrument for our love. I suppose this exemplifies the subtle components which define one's destiny.

Well, before I get kicked off for getting tarnish on some sterling philosophy, I just wanted to know that I'm back for good, barring flood and famine.

"Nuff said." (P.S. We lived happily ever after.)

It is not too late to restore the principles set forth in the Constitution. As we celebrate our Bicentennial, an alert and enlightened citizenry can reclaim their liberties and exercise their constitutional rights.

THE VESEY INHERITANCE
by Gwendolyn Butler

A mysterious legacy, a blood brother bent on revenge, a perilous labyrinth running from Windsor Court to the noisome alleys of London's underworld--here is a rich re-creation of the paradoxes of Victorian life.

When lovely young Errol Vesey comes up from a country parsonage to the elegant establishment in Masham Square, she is quickly caught up in the court intrigue that surrounds it. Errol is dowdy and heart-free and has been bid to London by her flamboyant aunt, Lady Geraldine Maurice, courtesiers, to be offered the post of Maid of Honour to Queen Victoria.

From the sheltered, ordered rectory world, Errol is cast adrift in a world of snares and troubling uncertainties: Who is the mysterious half brother who so clearly means to destroy her? Who was the titled father of that bastard brother who captured the reckless heart of Errol's surpassingly beautiful mother? And is it simply her uncanny resemblance to that dead mother that singles such obvious concern on the part of ambitious mothers with eligible sons?

Errol Vesey must put girlhood behind her, brave kidnapping and prison, must hazard life itself to solve these tantalizing mysteries within mysteries before she can claim--or even know--the nature of the Vesey inheritance. Gwendolyn Butler's new novel reveals her writing at very top form with the same combination of sheer storytelling artistry and unparalleled ability to evoke both the upstairs and the downstairs, the light and the dark side of Victorian life that distinguished her previous novel Sarsen Place, and made critics on both sides of the Atlantic acclaim it as splendid.

In 1972, the U.S. achieved zero population growth. Since then, the fertility rate has gotten lower each year, The Conference Board observes.

"PLAYING TOGETHER and working together is what a family is all about," stated Mrs. John Drake of 712 Irving. The Drakes have three children who all participate with household chores and family outings.

"I think that it is extremely important that each member of the family has his share of responsibility and I try to divide the workload at home among them," explained the attractive housewife.

Mrs. Drake, Diedra Thomas before her marriage in 1964, and her husband were both born and raised in Hereford in 1962. He attended West Texas State University where he majored in architecture and is employed as a plant manager at Summerfield Fertilizer.

Their children are 21 month-old Stephen, nine-year-old Michael, and eight-year-old Whitney. HOBBIES MRS. DRAKE enjoys include working in her yard, cooking, riding cycles with her husband and making Doodle Art pictures.

Being a night owl, Mrs. Drake suggested that people who have trouble sleeping work on art projects. The doodle art picture that she is currently working on is 30" x 20" in size and has butterfly designs.

"The colors of the butterflies are authentic. I did quite a lot of research on them and each butterfly depicts a particular species," said Mrs. Drake. Two recipes she likes to prepare for her family are Chicken Casserole and Fried Pies.

Ann Landers
Hairy Legs and Armpits!

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I was disturbed by your regressive and insipid advice to the hairy lady whose husband insisted she shave her legs and armpits before donning her swimsuit. Our culture is screwed up, not the lady. Hair removal is NOT the answer. Education is.

You have done a disservice to your readers by not pointing out that this practice of self-mutilation is not only demeaning but downright anti-erotic.

I'm a middle-aged man, happily married, and unashamedly confess I am turned on by the unshaven good-looks of women. The females must be perpetuating this silly practice of hair removal because I have yet to meet a man who doesn't think a woman's hairy legs and armpits are sexy.

Shaving is a nuisance. It's up to each and every woman to decide for herself whether or not she wants to do it. For those who don't I hope this letter will give them the courage to combat criticism. I Like Hair.

DEAR L.L.H.: American women with hairy armpits and legs will need more than courage. I can't imagine a less appetizing sight.

Granted, shaving is a nuisance, but it's one of the more rewarding things a woman can do to help herself look feminine and attractive. You've stated your opinion. This is mine.

DEAR ANN: May I comment on the letter from the 62-year-old man who kept up the lawn, shoveled the snow and did errands for an 80-year-old neighbor lady? (She happened to be his mother-in-law.) Her own son lived right next door, but he never lifted a finger to help. It figures.

Sons help their mothers-in-laws while sons-in-law help their wives' mothers.

This works out just dandy, except for those of us who didn't happen to give birth to daughters--like me.

I raised five boys and every single one has turned his back on me and taken up with his in-laws. Count me among the 70 per cent who, if they had it to do over again, would NOT have had children--I ignored in San Jose

DEAR IGNORED: The situation you describe is not uncommon, although it sometimes works in reverse.

Here's a poem I learned from my mother many years ago (She had four daughters):

A son is a son until he takes a wife.

A daughter is a daughter all of her life.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This isn't a problem. It's a statement to all you dieters out there:

When I entertain I will gladly provide for people who are serious about following diabetic, low-sodium, low-cal, high-fiber, low-cholesterol or high-protein diets. But for you chronic weight-watchers who have been yo-yoing up and down for 20 years--lost and put back hundreds of pounds-- please don't accept an invitation to my home for dinner and tell me the reason you aren't hungry is because you gorge yourself the day before on a lot of junk. Cater Hater.

DEAR CATER: I don't know about your friends, but I pace myself. When I know I'm going to an elegant dinner party on Saturday, I go easy on Friday. The greatest compliment you can pay a hostess is to eat, eat, eat.

It's not always easy to recognize love, especially the first time around. Acquaint yourself with the guidelines. Read Ann Landers' booklet,

YMCA Membership Roundup Scheduled

The Herford area YMCA has scheduled a Membership Roundup Saturday, September 11 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Herford Community Center.

"We will be offering participating YMCA memberships for youths, adults, and families," Robert Mayfield, vice president of the Y Board of Directors said in making the announcement.

Costs of membership run from $12 a year for youths 8-18, and $24 for adults, to $50 for a family membership, which includes parents and all children in the family.

"With this membership there are a variety of activities available," Mayfield said.

Included for the youth membership are basketball, volleyball, tumbling, girl's gym, boy's gym, and use of the First Baptist Church game room.

"We want everyone to understand that all these activities will be supervised by YMCA personnel," Mayfield emphasized.

In addition to the activities covered by the membership, participation in leagues for flag football, floor hockey, basketball, and volleyball will be available at a reduced cost to those buying a membership.

Scheduled activities for adults include volleyball, basketball, couples gym night, lad and dad gym night, and a family gym night. Leagues for adults include volleyball, basketball, and co-ed badminton.

"Since we are very fortunate to be using community facilities, we ask that everyone respect this privilege and realize that our program is subject to change at any time due to their requirements," Mayfield added.

The Y will also be offering instructional classes in addition to the physical activities. Classes are designed to appeal to both the youth and the adult.

On a tentative schedule at the present are classes in wrestling, floral designing, trimmastics, lapidary art, holiday decoration, furniture refinishing, emergency care, cake decorating, archery, law for the layman, stamp collecting, photography, and interior decorating.

Each class will have a designated cost for non-members. Y members will get a discount on the cost for the classes.

"According to my figures, if an adult takes advantage of all the activities offered in one year, the cost per hour would run just nine cents, Mayfield revealed.

"And this includes just those regularly scheduled activities, not counting the discounts on classes and league participation," he added.

"We want everyone to be sure to know that buying a membership is not required for participation in the leagues, but that members do get a reduced rate for those activities. In the long run it is more than worth the cost of membership," Mayfield concluded.

Players Reject Owner Proposal

By JOE TYBOR
Associated Press Writer

CHICAGO (AP) - National Football League player representatives have rejected the contract offer by team owners that sparked a fierce internal battle between their off-controversial executive director and their union president.

The action Tuesday, after 11 hours of secret meetings, continues the rift between owners and players which in the last 2½ years has triggered one preseason walk-out, one wildcat strike and harsh feelings on both sides.

"I honestly don't know where we go from here," said a disconsolate Dick Anderson, the injured safety for the Miami Dolphins who as president of the NFL Players Association had worked out the proposal with owners last week.

"Sometimes you win, sometimes you lose, sometimes you get rained out. The game will go on," Anderson said.

He and three other members of the seven-man NFLPA Executive Committee supported acceptance of the offer. They were opposed by Ed Garvey, executive director of the players' union who some members would like to see ousted.

"It was a plan I felt was good and tried to sell," said Anderson. "Yeah, I'm disappointed. I feel at this point it's the best offer we're going to get."

Garvey has withheld public comment regarding his personal feeling on the offer, but a source close to him said he feared acceptance would negate players' rights already won in the courts.

Nevertheless, at a brief news conference following the marathon session, Garvey said no single point of the 70-page offer was the decisive factor in rejection. Rather, he said, it was the package as a whole.

By a majority vote, the Executive Committee summoned each of the 28 NFL teams' representatives to grapple with the proposal and decide whether to submit it to a vote of all the NFLPA players.

But the question never got that far.

After procedural haggling and a point-by-point debate, the representatives instead approved a motion "to table discussion" of the offer "pending further negotiations and clarifications."

In effect, Garvey said later, the vote meant rejection.

A spokesman for the NFL Management Council, bargaining arm of the NFL owners, said his group reserved comment on the development until further information could be obtained as to what transpired at the meeting.

Details of the offer were not made public. The Associated Press learned, however, that among the 30 provisions the owners proposed:

- A 43-man squad limit with a four-man taxi squad, each member of which would be paid $500 a week.

- A raise in salaries for pre-season and postseason play as well as minimum salary limits.

A source close to Garvey said he feared approval of the measure would, in effect, reinstate the Rozelle Rule though it already has been knocked down by the courts.

Garvey thought the proposal placed an "unreasonable restraint" on player movement, the source said.

Cowboy Backs Under Pressure

DALLAS (AP) - The Dallas Cowboys' final cut will fall like a guillotine on one of the seven remaining running backs on the team next week.

Coach Tom Landry said Tuesday that Saturday night's final preseason game against the Houston Oilers will be vital in determining some kicking and running back jobs with the Cowboys.

At running back, Landry said Preston Pearson, Charles Young and Robert Newhouse have clinched spots on the team. But the Cowboys must cut or trade one man from the list of Duane Thomas, Doug Dennison, Ron Johnson and Scott Laidlaw.

The Thomas situation had drawn the most interest because he is a former Super Bowl hero for the Cowboys who left the team in a massive personality conflict four years ago but has returned with a reformed outlook.

"Duane has to come on this week," said Landry. "He knows his situation, where he stands. He has to show up pretty strong against Houston because he hasn't had a real good game yet."

"The lower echelon of backs are competing and my final decision will be based on their performance, not what they might eventually do."

The coach said he would make final decisions on the running back positions based on performances this summer, "not on what I think a player might do in the future."

Two veteran kickers also will be having their final chances to impress Landry. He said Tony Fritsch and Efen Herrera are going into the Oiler game about even.

Fritsch has led the Cowboys in scoring three of the last four years. He was injured in 1974 and Herrera led the team in scoring that season.

Landry also said at his weekly press luncheon that rookie wide receiver Duke Ferguson may be out for the season. Ferguson injured his right hand against Pittsburgh Saturday and underwent surgery Sunday.

Landry said he did not expect injured fullback Robert Newhouse and safety Cliff Harris to play against the Oilers, but one or both might see action in the first regular season game against Philadelphia Sept. 12.

SEATTLE (AP) - Drugs are being investigated as the possible cause of death of 35-year-old boxer Ed Bytheway, an investigator for the King County Medical Examiner's office said Tuesday.

The investigator said Bytheway's body was found Monday night at a Seattle apartment house by a friend.

Bytheway, a Utah native, had spent much of his life in prison. His last fight was two weeks ago, against Irish Pat Duncan of northern Idaho. That battle ended up with an unrehearsed melee following the fight. The two were scheduled for a rematch Oct. 12.

Bytheway's short-lived professional record was four victories, one loss and two draws.

HOUSTON (AP) - Sickle cell crisis has been diagnosed as the cause of death of Mark Brown, 19, a Prairie View A&M University freshman football player who died Aug. 19.

Harris System Rates Pampa Over Hereford

Pampa is favored by eight points over the Whitefaces in the opening football game here Friday night--or at least that's how the Harris Rating System sees the contest. The first rating release of the season starts Hereford in 108th place among state teams in Class AAAA. Pampa is ranked way up the line in 53rd place, even though only eight "power points" separate the two teams.

13. Midland to whip Tascosa by 21.

Top-rated team in Class AAAA is Brazoswood--24 power points above the Whitefaces. Wichita Falls Rider is ranked second, followed by Tyler John Tyler and Sherman. Odessa Permian is 5th, while San Angelo and Abilene Cooper are also in the top 10.

Perennial power Brownwood tops the Class AAA list. A Panhandle team, the Perryton Rangers, are ranked 8th and Lubbock Estacado is in 13th place. Borger, which dropped to AAA this season, is ranked 33rd.

Rockdale is picked as the cream of the crop in Class AA, and no area teams are in top 10. Slaton is ranked 14th and Kermit 16th. Spearman, in 34th place, is the first Panhandle team to show up on the list.

Aledo is picked first in Class A, while Wellington is rated No. 3 in the state. Hart and Stratford are in the 27th and 28th positions, while Vega is way down the line in 73rd place. Rochester tops the list in Class B, while two area teams--Groom and Sudan--are rated 2nd and 4th.

DENVER (AP)-The Colorado Rockies have acquired center Nelson Pyatt from the Washington Capitals, the National Hockey League team announced Tuesday.

The Rockies traded center Guy Charron to the Capitals in exchange for Pyatt, 22, on of the top 10 scoring rookies in the NHL in 1976.

A native of Thunder Bay, Ontario, the 6-foot, 175-pound Pyatt led the Capitals in scoring during the past season with 26 goals.

Wild Season Expected In NFC East Division

By DENNE H. FREEMAN AP Sports Writer

It's going to be wild, wild, wild in the National Conference East Division this year.

And you can take that as gospel from a man who ought to know, Dallas Coach Tom Landry, active dean of National Football League coaches.

The 16-year coaching veteran says, "I can't think of a team that shouldn't be improved. Again, the race probably won't be decided until the final Sunday and the division should produce a wild card team."

In 1975, St. Louis captured the conference crown for the second consecutive year but Dallas dealt its wild card 10-4 record right into the Super Bowl, bowing 21-17 to Pittsburgh.

For years, the NFC East has been dominated by either Dallas, St. Louis or Washington. But Landry sees a revival at Philadelphia and particularly for the New York Giants - two teams usually out of the race by October.

"The Giants helped themselves tremendously when they got Larry Csonka," says Landry. "He gives them a running threat to go with Craig Morton's passing."

The Giants stunned Pittsburgh 17-0 in preseason without receiver Mel Gray. Coryell obtained huge tackle Walt Patulski from Buffalo and tackle Marvin Upshaw and safety Mike Sensibaugh from Kansas city in off-season trades.

The Cardinals also are hoping first-round draft pick Mike Dawson of Arizona, a defensive tackle, will make some immediate waves.

St. Louis has a tough late season stretch when the Cardinals face Los Angeles, Washington, Dallas and Baltimore in succession.

Dallas pulled off the NFL shocker of the year in 1975 with a club that included a dozen rookies. The Cowboys will be younger defensively now that 14-year veteran strongside linebacker Dave Edwards has retired.

"Our defense won't be as strong as early as it was last year," says Landry.

Middle linebacker Lee Roy Jordan is back for his last hurrah with Randy White and Bob Breunig, both second-year players, filling in where needed.

A preseason injury to free safety Cliff Harris has put second-year man Randy Hughes on the spot.

Offensively, Dallas could be better with the addition of Ron Johnson, formerly of the Giants; Duane Thomas, the once-moody prodigal son; and Jim Jensen, a Iowa, to a backfield that includes Preston Pearson and Robert Newhouse.

Landry plans continued use of his shotgun formation on obvious passing downs with Roger Staubach at quarterback.

Danny White, A refugee from the World Football League, will be the backup with the departure of Clint Longley.

"We know more of what kind of defense to expect against us now when we go into the shotgun," says Landry.

The Redskins tumbled to an 8-6 record and out of the playoffs last year for the first time in George Allen's five seasons as Washington coach.

Allen, with money as no object, obtained running back John Riggins from the New York Jets, and signed Calvin Hill, who once played for the Dallas Cowboys. Hill is a World Football League refugee.

"We have a chance to have the best balanced squad in the five years I've been here if this new talent comes through," says Allen, who also wooed free agent tight end Jean Fugett from the Cowboys.

Allen, who needs only three victories to join the NFL's 100-victory coach club, says, "I am confident that 1976 will find us back in the playoffs."

The Redskin defense faltered badly in the stretch last year but there is still quality and skill at all positions.

ATLANTA (AP)-Reliever Mike Marshall has been placed on the disabled list because of a knee injury and right-hander Buzz Capra was activated in his place, the Atlanta Braves announced Tuesday.

Marshall, who came to Atlanta on waivers from the Los Angeles Dodgers in June, had a 6-4 record with 14 saves. He was 2-1 with the Braves.

Capra, plagued by a sore arm, has not pitched in a National League game since July 1975. He underwent surgery last winter.

Marshall injured his knee covering first base in a game against Houston six weeks ago.

ST LOUIS (AP)-Right-handed pitchers Lerrin LaGrow and Tom Walker were to join the St. Louis Cardinals today as the first two of seven Tulsa players being called up by the National League club.

Texas Unions Asked To Back Guest For Ticket Aid

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas AFL-CIO executives asked local labor leaders Monday not to hurt the Jimmy Carter-Walter Mondale campaign by opposing State Democratic Chairman Calvin Guest for re-election at the Sept. 17-18 state party convention.

Guest is opposed by Lufkin lawyer John Henry Tatum, an original Carter campaigner in East Texas who has been supported by Comptroller Bob Bullock and liberal Democrat leader Billie Carr among others. "We cannot stand idly by and allow a politician or politicians outside of the labor movement to undermine our unity for their own selfish political plans," said a memo signed by Texas AFL-CIO President Harry Hubbard and Secretary-Treasurer Sherman Fricks. The memo was sent to all members of the Texas AFL-CIO executive board and to all central labor council officers.

The memo said the executive board would be asked to take a statewide stand on the race at the Sept. 13 meeting of the board and the Texas Committee on Political Education COPE, the political arm of the Texas AFL-CIO.

Hubbard and Fricks said the first consideration in the intraparty controversy was the election of the Carter-Mondale ticket. They said Gov. Dolph Briscoe "can exert considerable influence among his supporters to vote for the Democratic ticket providing he has the mechanical means of going so. The state Democratic party remains the most appropriate mechanism."

"The election of a chairman who is openly hostile to the governor will reduce the governor's ability to influence his supporters to vote for the ticket. This is a luxury we cannot afford."

Hubbard and Fricks pointed out that for the first time there is a labor representative, Leo Riedel, on the National Democratic Committee, which they said resulted from help given by Guest at the June state convention.

They also said that "for the first time in the history of Texas, labor union officers serve on the most important boards and commissions in the state government. We have demonstrated to Gov. Briscoe that there are competent and qualified people in the labor movement who have a philosophy and ideas to contribute in determining the direction of our state government."

Dallas Council Votes Against Pass-Through Of Gas Charges

DALLAS (AP)—The Dallas City Council has voted unanimously to prohibit Lone Star Gas from passing on nearly $1 million in additional Lo-Vaca Gathering Co. charges to its industrial customers here.

The council took the action Monday after Public Utilities Director Tom Taylor said it was time to "deal with the Lo-Vaca mess."

In his presentation to the council, Taylor said the Texas Railroad Commission had no right to impose the surcharge on Dallas customers by ordering Lone Star Gas to implement another fuel adjustment charge of one cent per thousand cubic feet of gas.

Taylor recommended that the flowthrough be suspended, and that the council urge Lone Star fight the funding issue in court.

Doug Williams, vice president of Lone Star, said the council's action virtually assured a costly lawsuit for his company.

Williams said Lone Star fought so hard against the $1 million retractive payment to Lo-Vaca "that the Railroad Commission almost threw us out."

The commission ruled Lone Star must make a retroactive payment to Lo-Vaca for gas obtained before price increases.

Taylor argued it would be wrong for Dallas customers to be involved in the reimbursement since there was no evidence the gas they obtained from Lo-Vaca was distributed here.

"It's not a problem of Dallas and we shouldn't have to suffer the consequences. We must act to protect the Dallas customers and let the chips fall where they may," Taylor said.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Texas has the greatest mileage of railroad line in the United States.

The Association of American Railroads says Texas has 13,306 miles of railroad tracks, followed by Illinois with 10,572 miles, Pennsylvania with 8,020 miles, Ohio with 7,727 miles, Kansas with 7,616 miles and Iowa with 7,587.

Texas First Program Helps Workers Get Needed Skills

More than 2,200 Texans are on the job today because they have the skills required by burgeoning industries across the state, according to Jim Harwell, executive director of the Texas Industrial Commission.

These workers are graduates of Industrial Start-Up Training programs offered through Governor Dolph Briscoe's Job Creation Campaign to make Texas First in economic development.

The local Texas First program director is David Pruitt.

Training programs are designed to bring underemployed and unemployed Texans up to minimum skill standards for job slots with new and expanding industries. The Industrial Commission and Texas Education Agency work with the industry to outline skills required, and with a local learning institution to design the curriculum. Courses are taught through one of the state's 51 junior colleges, one of the four Texas State Technical Institute campuses or one of the independent school districts.

"The instruction is in fields not covered by the usual industrial arts programs in our schools," Harwell said. "The instructors are often company supervisors with long experience in the field."

Industrial Start-Up Training is funded with appropriations first set aside by the 64th Texas Legislature which gave the Industrial Commission and the Texas Education Agency the joint mandate to provide such training as was necessary to upgrade Texas workers.

State funds are used to pay instructors, maintain special equipment loaned for the training program and for consumable supplies used by students. The industry pays any wages to the trainee, and may also provide special transportation for employe trainees.

The Texas Employment Commission works with the industry to locate persons interested in the training program. These students begin training with the understanding that they must satisfactorily complete the program, and that the company is not required to hire those who do not qualify for the job. At the end of the training, companies interview, screen and hire or reject trainees as they would any other job applicant.

"Those persons hired by the company are at an entry-level of skill," Harwell said. "The company continues to train them, often for up to two years or more before the trainee can be considered fully productive. The cost to the state is an infinitesimal part of the total cost to the company."

The average training period is five weeks and involves about 30 hours of training. No salary is paid the trainee by the state, so the cost per trainee is approximately $152.

"The return to the state's economy through Industrial Start-Up Training is two for one," Harwell said. "By the time all 50 of the training programs currently on the books are completed, the cost to the state will have been a one-time expenditure of approximately $1.05 million, but the benefit to the state in new taxes generated will exceed $1.650 million...and that's per year."

Sewing machine operators are among the most sought-after employes, and seven training programs have been conducted for them. Other skills taught have included machine operators, food processing, pottery making, aluminum production and electric motor manufacturing.

Many industries are enticed to Texas by the productivity of Texas workers, and the availability of a trained work force, Harwell said.

Marines Resume Training For Mountain Warfare

By BRENDAN RILEY
Associated Press Writer

PICKLE MEADOWS, Calif. (AP) - Thousands of Marines have been prowling through the High Sierra this summer as part of a recently resurrected mountain warfare training program.

But summer's end the Marine Corps expects to have trained about 6,000 Marines and Marine reservists in "mountain man" skills such as scaling sheer granite cliffs and crossing river gorges by rope.

Base for the activity is the Marine Corps' Mountain Warfare Training Center, located in this 7,000-foot-high meadow just north of Yosemite National Park.

The austere base, first built in 1951 after U.S. military setbacks in rugged sections of Korea, resumed full-time training last May after a nine-year break.

It is the only facility of its sort in the Marine Corps, and one of only two run by the U.S. military services in this country. The Army has a similar base in Alaska.

Lt. Col. George Knudson, commanding officer, says the training isn't designed to build up an elite fighting group within the Marines, or to deal with some impending conflict in mountain regions elsewhere in the world.

"We just want to build up the all-around capability of the Marine Corps," says Knudson, 42, who runs the base from a spruced-up quonset hut.

"Marines should be able to go anywhere. We have never been able to pick where we go to war. Somebody else picks that for us."

What Marines get here is a crash course in mountain fighting. Training runs year round, from two to four weeks for each group sent here.

The Marines scale cliffs, both by rope and with bare hands, make rope bridges so they can crawl across ravines, and learn land navigation so they can find their way across trackless mountain stretches seldom seen

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Emiley and William Harris, sentenced to 11 years to life in prison, now face a trial in Northern California for the kidnaping of newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst.

The two Symbionese Liberation Army members remained at the Hall of Justice jail here following their sentencing Tuesday for kidnaping, robbery and car theft. Authorities said they would be moved to Alameda County later this week for trial on a 19-count complaint stemming from the Feb. 4, 1974, Hearst kidnaping.

The Harrisesses showed no reaction when Superior Court Judge Mark Brandler urged that they spend a long time in prison. Under California law, he was not permitted to set exact limits on the sentences, and the couple could be released after as short a time as six years and eight months.

"It is this court's recommendation to the Adult Authority ... that the defendants serve an additional and lengthy period of confinement in the state prison," Brandler said.

Harris, 31, and Mrs. Harris, 29, who already had been jailed for nearly one year, delivered impassioned speeches before their sentences were announced. But neither asked for leniency as they took turns speaking from a lectern turned toward spectators and reporters seated behind bulletproof glass.

"I am a revolutionary, and I do not lose hope for the future," said Emiley Harris.

"I'm not too impressed by the system of justice," said William Harris.

The charges stemmed from a May 16, 1974, robbery and shooting at an Ingleswood sporting goods store and the commandeering of two automobiles for an escape. Miss Hearst has admitted spraying the store with gunfire to help the Harrisesses flee.

Miss Hearst, an absent codefendant in the Los Angeles trial, will be tried next January on the same charges that were lodged here against the Harrisesses. She also awaits sentencing later this month on a San Francisco bank robbery conviction.

Mexican Currency Devalued To Aid Ailing Tourism

MEXICO CITY (AP) - After 22 years of getting 12½ pesos for a dollar, Americans should soon get about 20, or 60 per cent more, foreign bankers predicted today following the devaluation of the Mexican currency.

Treasury Secretary Ramon Beteta announced Tuesday night that the government was abandoning the fixed rate of exchange it had maintained since 1954 in an attempt to hold down the ballooning foreign trade deficit. Beteta said the peso would be allowed to "float" with its value determined by supply and demand.

Officials of foreign banks said the peso probably would stabilize at about 20 to the dollar.

The immediate effects will be to enhance Mexico as a tourist playground, if local hotels, restaurants and shops don't raise their prices accordingly, and to make Mexican products cheaper for foreign buyers. This should improve the balance of payments deficit, which has grown more than 400 per cent since 1970 to about $4 billion.

Tourism, Mexico's biggest industry, needed the boost. The Bank of Mexico reported earlier this year that the country was pricing itself out of competition with Europe and the Caribbean.

The devaluation will also probably increase the inflation rate, reduced last year from 24 per cent to 16 per cent, by making imported products more expensive for Mexicans. To absorb some of the surplus money, Beteta said the government would impose a new tax on exports and on "excessive profits."

He said monetary controls would also be established to prevent currency speculators from capitalizing on the devaluation.

The devaluation may also have an adverse effect on business in the southernmost counties of Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California, along the Mexican border.

"This will make Mexican citizens more tempted to buy in their own country," said a Chamber of Commerce spokesman in McAllen, Tex., where an estimated 38 per cent of all retail sales are made to Mexicans who cross the border to shop.

Austin City Council Gives Bell Increase

AUSTIN (AP) - Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. has been awarded a $2 million rate increase by the Austin city council, but what the public will be paying for phone service in the future is now in the hands of the state Public Utilities Commission.

Months of hearings brought Bell's rate request $7 million. But approval of the $2 million figure by the council came only hours before its rate-making authority passed today to the new state utilities commission.

"Thank goodness we got it," said Bell Division Manager Gray Bryant, who has asked for a $9 million increase, then had lobbied for $3.8 million and finally pleaded for $2 million.

"That's my last telephone rate case before a city council," said Don Butler, former city attorney here who recommended the $2 million figure as the city's utility rate lawyer.

Other line charges will go up about five per cent, including the monthly rate for one-party business phones, which will rise from $19 to $19.95.

The rates will remain in effect until the state utilities commission acts on a statewide rate proposal which Bell planned to file today.

THIS IS NO ACCIDENT, it's all part of the show. A water skier goes up and over during a hotdogging exhibition at Cypress Gardens, Fla.

TV Dialogue

DOWNHILL DRAMA -- At the opening of the Wide World of Sports a downhill skier has an incredible accident. Was he killed? -- F.S. Dublin, Va.

No. Although he was hospitalized for some time, the skier returned to the slopes eventually.

SON OF SQUARE -- Is Pete La Cock of the Chicago Cubs the son of Peter Marshall of the Hollywood Squares? If so, why the different names? -- Janet Crimsy, Chicago, Ill.

SAME CURTIS -- There was a TV show when I was younger, maybe in the early '60s, called Ripcord. Was one of the stars Ken Curtis, who played Festus on Gunsmoke? -- Iris Jackson, Baton Rouge, La.

Ken Curtis did indeed star in the 1961 syndicated series about skydiving. He later went on to create the character of Festus, altering his appearance somewhat to get that grizzled look.

REDFORD FLASHBACK -- I recently saw an old rerun of Alfred Hitchcock Presents. I could swear Robert Redford was in it, playing a killer/thief. He gets poisoned in the end. Do you recall it? -- Tom Gorman, Quincy, Mass.

Redford did indeed do a Hitchcock episode like the one you've described. He kills a drugstore delivery boy, played by Joby Baker, before the young man can tell Redford his prescription is poisonous. Thus, in the Hitchcock tradition, Redford gets his in the end. Redford did quite a bit of television before making it in the "big time," appearing in such shows as The Untouchables and The Virginian, as well.

STILL A TEAM -- I've heard that next year David Soul won't be in Starsky and Hutch, that he's only going to work by himself. Is this true? -- Karen Schiewel, Logan, Kan.

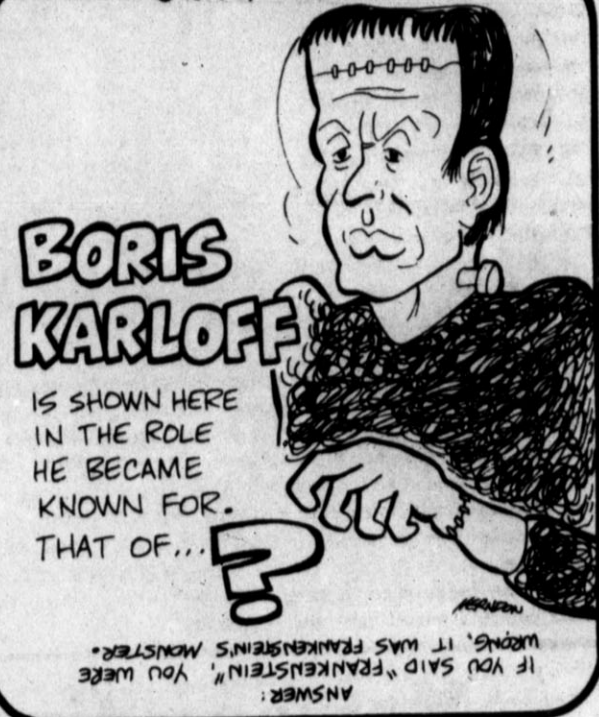

Not so. It's true that both Soul and Paul Michael Glaser are involved in separate acting duties, but the intrepid duo will remain a team on the highly successful Starsky & Hutch series. This way, you'll get to see more of them, both together and apart.

Middlemen Accused Of Failing To Pass On Savings On Beef

WASHINGTON (AP) - Middlemen who process and sell meat have not been passing to consumers all of the potential savings caused by a decline in the farm price of livestock, the Agriculture Department says.

Don Paalberg, the department's director of economics, said Monday the price of cattle fell 26 per cent in the last year, but the beef prices paid by consumers dropped only 14 per cent during that period.

But Clarence G. Adamy, president of the National Association of Food Chains, challenged Paalberg's claims. He said higher middleman costs, including labor, have prevented processors from passing further retail price reductions on to the consumer.

The price situation has been most serious for cattlemen, particularly feedlot operators, who are losing about $65 a head, Paalberg said. Although hog producers have been making money, a prospective larger hog supply this fall and in 1977 points to comparable losses unless middlemen reduce their profit margins, he said.

Preliminary Agriculture Department figures for August show the retail price of beef on an all-cut basis averaged slightly more than $1.35 a pound, down more than three cents from July. In July year ago beef prices were a record $1.61 a pound.

The August figures show the "farm value" of a pound of retail beef was 71.8 cents, down from July's 74.2 cents. In July of last year the farm value was nearly $1.06 a pound.

The middleman share in August was 63.3 cents a pound, compared with 64 cents in July. In July 1975 the middleman got 55.2 cents.

Farm value is not what producers get for live animals since it takes nearly 2.3 pounds of steer on the hoof to make one pound of store beef. It is a farmer's share of what a shopper pays for beef.

Cattle prices have declined generally the last year because sales to packing plants have been larger. Feedlot output has increased and there has been a further cutback in herd inventories with a result that meat production has been huge this summer.

Soviets Make Additional Purchase Of U. S. Wheat

DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Soviet Union has bought an additional 275,000 metric tons of U.S. wheat worth an estimated $34.6 million for delivery under a long-term agreement which takes effect this fall, the Agriculture Department said Tuesday.

Officials did not disclose the seller of the grain or other details. Grain sales to foreign countries, including Russia, are handled by private firms. No government credit has been involved in recent sales to the Soviets.

Department officials say that grain sales to Russia and other countries will not cause American food prices to jump and that prospective 1976 harvests will be large enough to take care of all domestic and foreign needs.

The new sale raised to more than 4.6 million tons the amount of wheat and corn now sold to Russia under a five-year agreement signed last fall. It calls for Russia to buy at least 6 million tons of wheat and corn annually, beginning with deliveries Oct. 1, and as much as 8 million tons if Moscow chooses. A metric ton is 2,205 pounds.

Russia can have more than 8 million tons of the two grains a year if U.S. officials agree. Because of improved Soviet crop prospects this year, department experts say Russia probably will not buy more than 8 million tons for 1976-77.

Sales so far under the first-year terms of the agreement include 1,971,000 tons of wheat worth an estimated $248.3 million at current export prices and 2,653 tons of corn worth an estimated $307.7 million.

The Soviets also have bought about 1.5 million tons of soybeans worth an estimated $360 million from this year's crop. Soybeans are not included in the long-term agreement.

Corn exports to all foreign countries, including Russia, in the coming year are expected to total around 45.2 million tons, and wheat exports may be about 28.6 million tons.

UAW Authorizes Negotiators To Strike

DETROIT (AP) - With Ford Motor Co. unveiling its salary proposal to the United Auto Workers Tuesday, the union says its members are giving negotiators overwhelming authorization to call a strike if necessary.

The Ford proposal for a new labor contract comes just two weeks before its current three-year contract expires.

The UAW said Monday that strike authorization votes were running about 94 per cent in favor of granting union leaders authority to call a walkout if no settlement is reached by Sept. 14.

A union spokesman said results from 13 of 99 UAW-Ford locals granted strike authorization by markings ranging from 88 to 98 per cent. The spokesman said the vote, to be completed by Sept. 7, is running about the same as in past contract years.

The UAW has chosen Ford, the nation's No. 2 auto makers, as this year's target for setting the industry pattern on three-year contracts.

Current agreements covering nearly 700,000 auto workers including 167,000 at Ford expire Sept. 14.

Under the union's target strategy, if a settlement is not reached by the contract deadline, the UAW would strike Ford while allowing the other companies to continue operations.

The last time Ford was the target-in 1967-the union called a strike that lasted 66 days before a settlement was reached.

The UAW, which has made improved job and income security its top contract goal this year, has demanded reduced work time, creation of a new job opportunities, preservation of present jobs and bolstered unemployment benefits for laid-off workers.

In addition, the union is seeking improved wages, pensions and other fringe benefits.

Cleveland School Board Is Found Guilty Of Segregation

By SERGIO LALLI
Associated Press Writer

CLEVELAND (AP) - A federal judge found the Cleveland school board guilty Tuesday of fostering racial segregation in the city's schools.

U.S. District Court Judge Frank J. Battisti also found the Ohio Board of Education guilty of "intentionally fostering and maintaining a segregated school system within the Cleveland public schools" by failing to use its full authority to pursue integration.

The 200-page decision came in a class action suit brought by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People on behalf of the system's 127,000 pupils, of which about 75 per cent are black.

Battisti agreed with the NAACP contention that the Cleveland school board, through action or inaction, had violated the constitutional guarantee of equal protection by maintaining a segregated system.

The judge ordered both boards to submit a plan within 90 days for desegregation of the system.

The NAACP maintained

throughout the trial that only cross-town busing would achieve integration.

Battisti also said he intends to appoint "a special master" to assist the court in the next stage, that of finding a remedy.

He also barred the school board from beginning any construction pending court review of the integration plan.

Battisti said that in 1975, nearly 92 per cent of Cleveland's pupils attended schools in which enrollment was 90 per cent or more of one race. That amounted to 150 of the system's 180 schools. In 1940, the percentage attending such "one-race" schools was 51, he said.

"The proportion of black students in the Cleveland public schools who have been regularly receiving their education in an integrated setting has steadily diminished in the past 35 years," Battisti said.

Name A Mountain

RESTON, Va. (AP) - Maybe you can't move a mountain, but did you know you can name one? You can do it by making a proper application to a federal agency here.

At the Board of Geographic Names, about the only names strictly out of bounds are those that are obscene, and you cannot name a mountain, creek or other geographic feature for anyone who's still alive.

Lately, the board says it has received an unusually large number of requests to put names on the map.

If you'd like to give a name to an unnamed geographic feature, you must tell the board where it is, what it's like, the reason it needs a name, what or whom you'd like to name it for, and exactly why.

It helps if the persons was in some way associated with the geographic feature. And Ernest Berringer, the board's staff chief, says you'd be well-advised to check the neighbors before writing.

The board won't accept any proposed name unless the people who live in the area agree it's acceptable and appropriate.

schools in which enrollment was 90 per cent or more of one race. That amounted to 150 of the system's 180 schools. In 1940, the percentage attending such "one-race" schools was 51, he said.

Reagan Supporter To Run For Office

AUSTIN (AP) - Ray Barnhart, one of Ronald Reagan's top supporters in Texas, announced Tuesday he is a candidate for state chairman of the Texas Republican party.

The long expected announcement put the Pasadena former state legislator in a head-to-head battle with present state chairman Ray Hutchison, a former legislator from Dallas.

The decision will be made by about 2,000 delegates to the state GOP convention in Austin Sept. 11.

Shortly after the national convention, where Barnhart and the 99 other Texas delegates remained solid for Reagan, Barnhart said he supported the GOP platform but was not sure he could campaign for the President Ford-Robert Dole ticket.

However, Barnhart said Tuesday, after visiting top GOP officials in Washington Monday, that he was supporting Ford.

"I am firmly convinced that President Ford's election must be a major goal of our party," Barnhart told a news conference, "and just as firmly convinced that we must continue to apply all pressures possible to assure that our Texas philosophy is strongly felt in the Ford administration policies."

He said he would urge all former Reagan supporters to help elect the Ford-Dole ticket.

"This campaign will not be based on personalities nor should the race for the chairmanship have anything to do with who supported which presidential candidate," he said. "My candidacy should in no way be construed as personal criticism of our present chairman, for I consider Ray Hutchison a friend."

Barnhart said that for too many years the Texas Republican party "has been severely limited because of its narrow base of support and its apparent concentration on national concerns, rather than courthouse and statehouse concerns."

"I believe that our state party should not be used to promote the political aspirations of only a few but rather should be a vehicle through which the rank and file grass roots voters can express their will and determine the direction of the party." Hutchison remained neutral during the hot May presidential primary but because he did not support Reagan he was not named a delegate to the national convention.

Rules Being Drafted For Campaign Debates

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Ford and Jimmy Carter are sending their rival negotiators back to work to draft ground rules for the presidential campaign debates both candidates seek.

The major issue to be settled as negotiators return to work today apparently is the question of what the candidates will debate.

Republican Ford and Democrat Carter both have proposed that their personal campaign specialties be staked out as topics for the first debate, likely to be conducted during the third week of September.

Those proposals, like the issues of the number, duration and timing of the debates, may yield to compromise in order to get the show on before the national television audience.

Ford summoned his two chief negotiators on debate arrangements to a Tuesday night White House meeting to give them final instructions. He met with Dean Burch, a Washington lawyer and former White House aide, and former Deputy Atty. Gen. William Ruckelshaus, on the debate situation, but his spokesman would not discuss their plans.

Carter already has said that the initial negotiating session last Thursday produced a tentative plan for a series of three debates, each 75 minutes long, beginning the third week in this month.

Each candidate has three representatives in the debate talks, being conducted by officials of the League of Women Voters, the groups that has offered to sponsor the joint appearances.

All sides agreed after the first meeting that they would not disclose the terms under discussion until there was a final agreement on debates and the rules to be followed.

Ford Defends Defense Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Ford today praised his administration's increases in the nation's defense budget and said he will firmly oppose effort to cut U.S. troop strength abroad.

In remarks prepared for the annual conference of the National Guard Association today, Ford said, "We cannot retreat from the front-lines of freedom if we are to preserve our freedom here at home."

He did not mention Democratic presidential nominee Jimmy Carter by name, but he was critical of those who urge cuts in the defense budget. Carter has said "improved management techniques" could bring about a cut of from $5 billion to $8 billion in the record defense budget of more than $100 billion.

Ford also said: "There are those in this political year who want to withdraw our troops from their positions overseas. The voices of retreat talk about a phased withdrawal. They talk as if our defenses won't be weakened if we only dismantle them one brick at a time. They are wrong. Preparedness preserved peace - weakness invites war."

"The world is still a dangerous place; we cannot lay down our arms in the simple hope that others will follow our lead."

White House officials said Ford was referring to a Carter statement about withdrawing U.S. troops from South Korea.

In a number of interviews, Carter has maintained that NATO member nations should take more responsibility for the defense of Europe and has suggested that most U.S. troops now in Korea, Thailand and the Philippines could be withdrawn.

On cutting the defense budget, Ford said that "cutting the muscle out of America's defenses is not the best way to ensure peace. It is the best way to destroy it."

Carter has not proposed absolute reductions in defense spending, but he has said that "the most wasteful bureaucracy in Washington is probably at the Pentagon." In advocating cuts in the defense budget, Carter has said there are "too many bases overseas, too many troops overseas and too many admirals and generals."

Brown Uncommitted On Bill Allowing 'Death With Dignity'

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) - California Gov. Edmund Brown Jr. has refused to say what action he'll take on a bill that would allow terminally ill patients to refuse life-sustaining medical care and "die with dignity."

The so-called "right-to-death" bill was passed by the legislature Monday. The measure was prompted, in part, by the case of Karen Ann Quinlan, the young, comatose

New Jersey woman whose parents won a prolonged court fight for the right to remove her from artificial life support.

Brown has 30 days to either sign the bill or veto it. If he takes no action by the end of that time, it becomes law. California would be the first state to have such a law.

Assemblyman Barry Keene, D-Eureka, the bill's author, said that under the measure a person could "die with dignity" by signing a "living will" authorizing the doctor to stop life-supporting procedures if death is imminent.

Before a 43 to 25 vote in the Assembly, Keene admitted that a yes vote would take courage and "your courage will be noted now and into the future."

One opponent, Assemblyman Vincent Thomas, D-San Pedro, questioned whether this was just a "foot in the door" for state-sanctioned killings.

Kissinger Terms Africa's Segregation 'Incompatible With Human Dignity'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger Tuesday scored South Africa's policy of racial segregation as "incompatible with any concept of human dignity."

Kissinger said that when he meets in Switzerland this week-end with South African Prime Minister John Vorster, he will press Vorster to move toward equality.

At the same time, Kissinger credited South Africa with "positive steps" regarding Rhodesia and Namibia and that unlike those two areas, South Africa cannot be regarded as an illegitimate government or "an outside colonial intrusion."

In a prepared speech before a mostly black audience, Kissinger pledged a continued U.S. commitment to "a new birth of independence and racial peace" in Southern Africa. He said that with thousands of Cuban troops north of the Namibian border and with intensifying guerrilla warfare in Rhodesia "a volatile situation is emerging."

Based on the outcome of his meeting with Vorster, Kissinger may go on to Africa to promote majority rule in Namibia and Rhodesia and an end to apartheid in South Africa.

His speech to the Opportunities Industrialization Centers in Convention Hall here is part of a campaign for American black support for the Ford administration's African policy.

Sources in Washington said Kissinger will try to persuade Vorster that "time is running out" for avoiding the escalation of guerrilla warfare in Namibia.

Test Section Of New B-1 Cracks Under Stress Trial

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Air Force said Tuesday a B-1 bomber body test section cracked while being subjected to greater-than-normal stresses.

The affected part was in a section of a B1 fuselage being tested in a pressure chamber, not in one of the three prototype bombers being test flown, an Air Force spokesman said.

The spokesman added: "That piece of hardware would never fly in an airplane."

Various sections designed for the costly and controversial bomber are placed under "higher concentrated loads than what we would see in the air," the spokesman said.

Nonetheless, the crack in a strengthening member called a "longeron" is bound to draw attention in the light of a growing controversy over whether the United States should build the B1 bomber.

At an estimated cost of $2.6 billion, the 244 proposed B1s would be the most expensive bombers in U.S. history.

Announcement of the crack during the test came as a Senate House conference committee sought to resolve differences over whether the Ford administration should be required to delay a decision on whether to produce the B1.

Some members of Congress say the decision should be delayed until after the January inauguration. If a new president is elected, that would give him the opportunity to make the decision.

The new crack was the second to be announced this year in testing of separate sections of the bomber at the Rockwell International Plant in Los Angeles.

Last May, the Air Force discovered a five-inch crack in a test model of a tail section which was undergoing "fatigue" testing. A similar test produced the new crack.

In announcing the development, the Air Force spokesman said it occurred last Thursday, and flight testing of the three prototype aircraft was suspended while experts examined the part.

That flight testing has now resumed, the spokesman said.

NEW MUSEUM
OMAHA, Neb. (AP) - A new museum which focuses on the contributions of black people who have lived in Nebraska, Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota, Missouri and Colorado since the time of the Emancipation Proclamation opened here recently.

Museum director Bertha Calloway said the Great Plains Black Museum is the only one of its kind west of the Mississippi.

It was established by the Negro Historical Society of Nebraska with a $101,000 grant from the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration.

Water Shortage Remains Despite Heavy Rains

LONDON (AP) - Government officials say Britain's serious water shortage will remain for many months despite weekend flooding and strong rains in much of England and Wales.

Water officials in drought-stricken Belgium and France said rain there over the weekend brought them little relief.

French officials noted most of the rain fell along the Riviera, not in the drought area. Only light showers fell in Normandy and Brittany, center of the drought in Northwest France.

"The rain will have virtually no effect on the drought position," the National Water Council said here.

"It has to rain from now until Christmas to make sure we are all right next year," said Denis Howell, the government minister charged with dealing with the drought.

London residents were dismayed Monday to find the rain had soaked less than an inch of topsoil. They went back to lugging their soapy bath water out to keep alive what plans they could.

"We are very worried that the rain may make people think that the drought is over and that they can give up their water-saving efforts," a spokesman for the water council said.

The council said close to 10 inches of rain will be needed over most of England before the topsoil will be soaked enough to replenish the country's reservoirs.

Water is being rationed in Britain in the Channel Islands and South Wales. The use of garden hoses and sprinklers is forbidden everywhere except in Scotland.

The weather bureau said the rain along the coast of southern England-there was as much as two inches and in South Wales one inch.

The rain cut the main London-to-Bristol railroad near Bath early Monday and service was out for four hours.

VIA MOON

COLLIERVILLE, Tenn. (AP) - In the multitude of communication media, Paul Wilson has utilized one of the most unusual forms.

From his home here, Wilson manipulates a homemade, 18-foot metal "dish" atop a 35-foot platform in his back yard and bounces radio signals off the moon.

Wilson, a TV technician, constructed the radio device from surplus U.S. Army communication parts in a span of three years.

After completion of the transmitter in 1964, Wilson said, he was able to bounce his microwave signals off the moon and another amateur radio hobbyist in Maryland picked them up.

FBI Chief Admits Gifts Accepted

WASHINGTON (AP) - A Justice Department investigator probing charges against FBI officials says FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley should be fired for accepting gifts from his subordinates, according to an informed source.

The source said the recommendation that Kelley be fired as FBI director was one of two suggestions placed before Atty. Gen. Edward Levi three weeks ago. Levi, who has been on vacation, has taken no action on the recommendations.

The second Justice Department recommendation disagrees with the first recommendation and proposes a public reprimand for Kelley instead of dismissal, the source said.

Both recommendations came after Kelley admitted to a Justice Department task force investigating allegations against bureau officials that he accepted gifts from subordinates. Among the gifts listed were a $200 walnut table, a $250 clock, a $250 easy chair and a handmade teak and mahogany jewelry box, the source said.

John M. Dowd, who heads the Justice Department probe into charges of misconduct by FBI officials, was the official who called for firing Kelley, according to the source.

The Washington Post reported today that Dowd's reasoning was that Kelley could not properly control subordinates after they had given him expensive presents. The story could not be immediately confirmed.

Michael E. Shaheen Jr., who heads the department's Office of Professional Responsibility, disagreed with Dowd's recommendation and suggested the public reprimand, the source said.
