Dumas Shooting Brings Charges On Father, Son

A Hereford father and his son were turned over to Moore County officials and charged Monday in connection with the death of a Sherman County farm worker and the shooting of his brother during a disturbance at a lounge in Cactus Saturday night. Cactus is located north of Dumas.

PEDRO CASIAS, 37, of Hereford, and his son, Richard, 18, were arrested by local officials as they returned to Hereford a few hours after the incident Saturday, and were held in the Deaf Smith County jail before being transferred to Moore County to face arraignment.

The elder Casias was charged with the murder of Javier Martinez, 26, and in the attempted murder of Raul Martinez, 24, who was stabbed and shot twice during the incident at the El Jacalito Lounge.

His son was charged with attempted murder.

Both men remain in custody in the Moore County jail in lieu of bonds of $40,000 on the murder charge and $20,000 each on the attempted murder charges.

ACCORDING TO police reports, the Martinez brothers were shot while on the lounge dance floor, following an argument with the Hereford men.

A police spokesman reported that Javier Martinez was killed instantly when he was shot in the chest. His brother, Raul, was shot once in the chest and once in the right arm, and was also stabbed in the back.

He remained in Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo in serious condition today.

A .32 caliber pistol was used in the shootings.

Attempted Robbery Foiled This Morning

An attempted robbery by a 30-year-old Mexican male near Hereford State Bank at about 11 a.m. today resulted unsuccessfully for the man.

Brief reports indicated that a robbery occurred with a knife being used as the weapon although no injuries resulted according to a spokesman for the Deaf Smith Sheriff's office. Apparently, a customer of HSB was in the temporary parking area used by the bank when it occurred.

The victim was carrying no money at the time. The Sheriff's Office handled the investigation of the incident. At presstime, the names of the victim, and the person who attempted it were unavailable.

Organic Molecules Mean Life

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) - Scientists say that if Viking 2 finds organic molecules when it sifts Martian soil they will be convinced that life exists on the red planet.

The Viking 1 space probe seems to have been telling about the discovery of life for the past few weeks, Dr. Gerald Soffen, Viking's chief scientist, said Monday.

Victim Is 'Satisfactory'

The Brand was misinformed by a friend of the family Saturday morning concerning the condition of Miss Marilyn Schuette, 23, of Canyon, who was injured in a car-truck collision northeast of Hereford Aug. 31, and as a result, an erroneous story was run in the Sunday edition stating that the Canyon resident had been released from an Amarillo hospital.

The West Texas State University nursing student remained in the intensive care unit of Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo this morning in serious condition.

She suffered head injuries and fractured ribs when her car was struck broadside by a loaded silage truck at the intersection of two county roads. The driver of the truck involved in the accident, Guadalupe Suniga of Hereford, was uninjured.

Texas Records 58 Deaths Over Labor Day

CHICAGO (AP) - The death toll on the nation's highways for the three-day Labor Day weekend was 476, 69 more than died during the same period last year.

Altogether there were 48 violent deaths in Texas during the extended end-of-summer holiday, also including six homicides, two drownings and six from assorted other causes.

The number of fatalities exceeded the predictions of the National Safety Council, which had estimated that from 260 to 460 persons would die in automobile accidents.

The Associated Press count covered the period beginning at 6 p.m. Friday and ending at midnight Monday.

Last year, 407 persons died in Labor Day weekend traffic accidents. The highest number of deaths for a Labor Day weekend came in 1969, when 688 persons were killed on the roads.

raising came from a carnival sponsored by the Hereford Elks Lodge. It resulted in over $3,600 contributed toward the Jerry Lewis Telethon to fight Muscular Dystrophy, which is a leading crippler of young children.

The special event was held Sunday in Dameron Park, where swarms of people gathered to compete in the various contests and activities. The Elks arranged to have local merchants donate prizes for winners so that all the proceeds could go toward the MDA drive.

"I want to extend a special thanks to the Elks and the people who came to the carnival," Metcalf said.

Of course, the prime source of pledged funds came from the telethon drive which raised about $5,400, a little more than last year. Included in that total is about $3,200 obtained from the door-to-door campaign. About $2,800 was raised from it last year.

A fish bowl was set up at Hereford State Bank to receive cash collections from local contributors. Individuals manned it all Sunday night long. Metcalf said it did not take in as much last year, but it did not detract from the total amount.

During the nationally televised telethon, broadcast from about 10 p.m. Sunday through 5:30 p.m. Monday, a total of about $21,700,000 was raised. It was much above last year's effort.

Metcalf said special thanks for the local drive go to the Elk Lodge, The Hereford Brand, KPAN Radio, Hereford State Bank, Kentucky Fried Chicken, the Coca-Cola Bottling Company, the telethon volunteer workers and all the children involved in the house-to-house campaign.

"All the people of Hereford deserve thanks," he said.

'It's Incredible' Jerry Lewis Says Of Telethon

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) - "It's incredible," said entertainer Jerry Lewis of the record $21,723,813 pledged during the annual Labor Day Jerry Lewis Telethon Against Muscular Dystrophy.

"Year after year for the last 11 years, Americans keep proving they have compassion and a lot of heart," he commented after the two-day marathon telecast ended Monday. "The totes keep getting higher and higher and the chances that we'll find a cure for muscular dystrophy soon are getting better as a result."

The figure was $2.9 million more than the total pledged a year ago, and a spokesman for the Muscular Dystrophy Foundation in New York said that about 3 per cent more than pledged was collected as a result of last year's telethon.

On Sunday, Lewis and Dean Martin were reunited on stage for the first time in more than 20 years when Frank Sinatra brought Martin in front of television cameras here.

Martin and Lewis starred together in many movies during the 1950s.

Real Machine It was a bulls eye shot for this contestant in a water dunking event at the Elks Lodge carnival held Sunday in Dameron Park to raise money for the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Telethon. A total of about $3,600 was taken from carnival activities. About $9,000 was taken in during the whole campaign.

MDA Campaign Raises $9,000 Here

"It was a tremendous effort by the people of Hereford and we had a very successful drive," emphasized John Metcalf when asked what response was achieved during the local Muscular Dystrophy Association fund drive held here Sunday and Monday. He is chairman of the drive and headed a campaign which raised a little over $9,000 from local patrons.

It by far outdistances last year's collections which amounted to about $5,600.

Officers Checking Out New Leads In Assault

A spokesman for the Hereford Police Department reported today that local officers are checking out several new leads in the brutal rape and stabbing of a 21-year-old city woman which occurred at her home in northeast Hereford last Thursday. No suspects have been arrested in connection with the incident.

THE WOMAN, who was stabbed numerous times about the head during the assault, was reported to be in satisfactory condition at the Deaf Smith General Hospital this morning.

She was taken to the local hospital shortly before noon last Thursday following the attack, and underwent treatment for most of the afternoon. The attack occurred sometime between 9 and 9:30 a.m. last Thursday when a black male, estimated to be in his 30's, came into the bedroom at the woman's home and threatened her with a knife. The woman's arms and legs were bound with washrags and string and she was raped and stabbed repeatedly about the head.

Officers are continuing their search for the assailant, described as 5 ft. 8 in. to 5 ft. 11 in. tall and weighing 130-140 pounds. The suspect was bearded and wore a yellow shirt with brown pin stripes at the time of the attack.

LOCAL LAW enforcement officials are requesting that anyone seeing an individual fitting the description of the suspect notify city police or the sheriff's office immediately.

Weekend Break-Ins Under Investigation

Break-ins at local businesses and residences were the major items on city policemen's incident report sheets after the long Labor Day weekend as thieves made off with cash and personal belongings.

THE KENNEY GEARN Machine Works office on East Highway 60 was broken into sometime between Friday and Sunday, according to a spokesman for the local PD. A window on the west side of the building was broken to gain entry, but apparently nothing was taken. A coke machine was damaged in the break-in.

Some $90 in cash was taken from the home of Virginia Campos at 910 East Third Saturday. Thieves made their way into the home through a window in the kitchen. Dale Rhoton of 132 Northwest Drive, a student at Hereford High School, reported that 20 stereo tapes were taken from his car while it was parked at the school parking lot last Thursday. The tapes and a tape box which was also taken were valued at $106.

A radio antenna was broken off a vehicle owned by J.C. Simpson while it was parked at the Bull Barn Saturday night.

BURGLARS RANSACKED the home of Jack Nunley at 602 East 4th Monday, breaking in a bedroom window to gain entry and dumping drawers in the floor as they went through the home. A pair of binoculars and a walkie-talkie were the only items discovered missing.

Called School Board Meet Scheduled At 7 Tonight

The school board members will consider participation in the Texans for Equitable Taxation organization. It seeks to establish some other form of tax revenues allocated to education through the state government. Some groups have suggested the sales tax method rather than continue with the present property tax formulas for funding public schools.

Other items listed on the agenda for discussion in a conference in San Antonio and possibly an executive session for personnel matters or other discussions allowed in closed meetings.

School board members include president Jim Conkright, Mrs. Sallie Strain, Lynton Allred, Clark Andrews, Jim Arney, David Hutchins, and James Gentry.

Taxpayers Win Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) - Ordinary taxpayers are winning more benefits than they are losing as a Senate-House panel puts together a compromise tax-revision bill. The final score may be known late this week, when members of the conference committee expect to finish the bill and send it to the House and Senate for one last vote.

Most issues concerning individual taxpayers were settled during the first seven days of the conference. Chief among these is a $15-billion-a-year tax-cut extension through Dec. 31, 1977.

Congress Tries Early End

WASHINGTON (AP) - With election day drawing closer, the 94th Congress is trying to complete work on remaining legislation and get home early for a full month of campaigning. The priority items remaining on the agenda include extension of the federal revenue-sharing program, revisions of the tax laws, and approval of a defense spending bill.

Returning today from a Labor Day recess, the Senate was scheduled to resume debate on an antitrust bill.

Starving Dog Eats Baby

NEW YORK (AP) - A mother who left her five-day-old daughter alone with a starving German Shepherd while she went to get money for food returned to find the baby dead, partially eaten by the 15-pound dog.

The woman was charged with negligent homicide. The dog was destroyed. "I left the baby on the floor with the dog to protect it...The dog ate my baby," Joanne Bashold, 24, told police Monday when they arrived at her barren sixth-floor walkup apartment in Spanish Harlem.

Carter Campaigns In East; Ford Keeps High White House Profile

By The Associated Press

With the presidential election two months away, Democratic presidential nominee Jimmy Carter stumped through the East for votes today while President Ford, emphasizing his incumbency, kept a high profile in the White House.

Carter told a college audience in New York that urban policy in the Nixon and Ford administrations has ruined city neighborhoods. He accused Republicans of paying only lip service to the people who live in those neighborhoods.

Carter began the second day of his fall campaign for the White House by telling Brooklyn College students: "Tight money shrinking paychecks and a stagnant housing industry are some of the saddest products of the Republicans' disastrous economic record."

The Democrat opened his battle Monday with a sharp attack on Ford, labeling him a latter-day Herbert Hoover and blaming the Republican party for a myriad of economic woes that Carter claims the Democrats will cure.

Ford said in an interview with ABC News on Monday that a victory at the polls on Nov. 2 would strengthen his hand in dealing with the nation's problems.

"Being elected, getting a mandate... would give me greater impact with Congress, more ability to move ahead," said Ford, who became president in August 1974 when the Watergate scandals forced Richard M. Nixon to resign.

Dole and Carter shook hands when they crossed paths at a stock car race in Darlington, but Carter spokesman Jody Powell said his candidate almost canceled his appearance when he learned Dole was going to be there.

Powell said Carter kept his commitment to attend the race only after finding out that Sen. Strom Thurmond, R.-S.C., had presided the race organizers to invite Dole.

Powell accused Dole of exhibiting "bad manners and bad taste" for showing up at the race. Carter later declined to adopt Powell's language, but he noted that his own invitation to the race was long-standing.

Dole made appearances two weeks ago on Carter's heels in Seattle and Des Moines, Iowa.

Dole said at a rally in Florence, S.C., that "we take the South seriously. We want the Southern vote."

He also again denied a report that a former Gulf Oil Corp. lobbyist gave a former Dole aide an illegal campaign contribution in 1973.

Dole released a financial statement showing that he and his wife paid $28,000 in federal income taxes last year on combined income of nearly $108,000. Their net worth was listed as more than $760,000.

Elizabeth Dole has taken a leave of absence from her post as a member of the Federal Trade Commission for the campaign.

While Dole and Carter were watching the stock car race, Mondale was riding in an antique car in a Labor Day parade through Barberton, Ohio, a rubber industry town near Akron that is a bastion of the Democratic party.

Mondale ripped into the Ford administration and the GOP, declaring that "when recession loomed in 1974, they proposed a tax increase when a cut was needed. We want leadership that cares about the human cost of economic mismanagement. We want leadership which will plan for steady growth toward full employment."

Independent presidential candidate Eugene McCarthy has denounced plans to include only the presidential candidates of the two major parties in forthcoming televised debates.

In a five-minute speech prepared as a paid political broadcast on NBC-TV tonight, McCarthy charged:

"I can anticipate a time when Democrats and Republicans will be the only ones allowed even to vote in presidential elections, with independents effectively excluded. This is not altogether different from the practice in Communist countries where the members of the party pick the candidates, lay out the platform, and then allow the rest of the people to approve what they have done."

In other developments, primaries are being held today in Arizona, Florida, North Dakota and Connecticut.

WATSON INFANT

Graveside services were held at 10 a.m. today for Christopher Scott Watson, 28-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Phillip Watson.

Officiating at the services in Llano Cemetery in Amarillo was Dr. Leo Gee, pastor of St. Paul United Methodist Church in Amarillo. Hereford arrangements are with Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home. Amarillo arrangements are with Schooler-Gordon Funeral Directors.

The infant died Sunday. He was born Aug. 9 in Hereford.

Surviving are his parents; a brother, Greg of the home; grandparents, the Rev. and Miss Bill Watson of Earth, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Beck of Amarillo, John Clayton of Yakima, Wash., and Mrs. Catherine Clayton of Amarillo, and a great-grandfather, Early Daniel of Lubbock.

WELDON RAY HARRISON

Graveside services for Weldon Ray Harrison of Amarillo were conducted Saturday afternoon in City of Lubbock Cemetery by Ray Robertson, minister of the Church of Christ.

Mr. Harrison, age 40, was killed Thursday in a one-car accident near Dawn community. Funeral arrangements were under direction of Smith & Co. Funeral Home.

He was self-employed as a car salesman.

Survivors include four daughters, Rachel Rae Harrison of Plainview, Rhonda Lee Brotherton of Aikin, and Theresa Diane Harrison and Pamela Wayne Harrison, both of Dallas; three sons, Albert Ervin and Randall David, both of Plainview, and Patrick Weldon of Dallas.

LEVARIO INFANT

Graveside services were held in St. Anthony's Catholic Cemetery this morning for Atilano Leo Levario Jr. by the Rev. George Rideiro of St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

The infant was stillborn Sunday at Plains Memorial Hospital at Dimmitt.

Arrangements were under direction of Smith & Co. Funeral Home.

Survivors include the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Atilano Leo Levario of Hereford; grandparents, Antonio Levario and Jesse Castillo, both of Hereford.

JOE BRORMAN

Joe Brorman, Route 1, died Tuesday morning in Deaf Smith General Hospital. Services are pending with Smith & Co. Funeral Home.

Socialists

Again Rule

In Sweden

By JOHN VINOCCUR
Associated Press Writer

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) - A coalition of moderate parties has moved into position to end 44 years of Socialist rule in Sweden.

With national elections scheduled Sept. 19, 51 per cent of those questioned in an opinion poll regarded as highly accurate favored the three non-Socialist parties - the Center party, the Conservatives and the Liberals.

The Social Democrats and the Communists who have helped them govern for the last six years got 47 per cent. The remaining 2 per cent was undecided.

"The percentages seem correct, and we could lose," said Bernd Carlsson, a Social Democrat spokesman.

The difference in the parties here are basically ones of degree - the Conservatives liken themselves to liberal Democrats in the United States - and no one is challenging the welfare state or Swedish neutrality.

"What we are offering mostly is a change of direction," said Lars Tobisson, secretary-general of the Conservative party.

"Under the Social Democrats we've moved toward bureaucracy, concentration of power and out-and-out socialism.

"We would keep a market economy. We want greater freedom of choice for the individual and a change of atmosphere in the country. We all agree on the contents of our foreign policy, but there would be a change from what became a very abrasive style."

In their campaign, the moderates have stressed their rejection of a Socialist plan that would take most business out of private hands, resistance to the Social Democrats' nuclear program, tax reform and their allegations that the Social Democrats have abused power and narrowed individual freedoms.

The Social Democrats claim they have kept the world recession away from Sweden, holding unemployment down to 1.5 per cent and increasing real income by 14 per cent in 1974-75.

They also contend that their opponents would reduce the health, educational and retirement benefits the Social Democrats have installed in their four decades in power.

U.S. 'Pleased' With List

WASHINGTON (AP) - U.S. officials say they are pleased that the government of Vietnam has identified a dozen U.S. airmen killed in the Vietnam war, but they are demanding a full accounting for the hundreds of other Americans still listed as missing in action.

"We're pleased that they've started to give us some information," said William Hyland, deputy national security affairs director to President Ford, after the Vietnamese government released the fliers' names in Paris on Monday.

"What we want is a full accounting and without any further delay."

A State Department official repeated the call for a full accounting, saying, "We cannot believe that the Vietnamese wish to trade on the misery of American families."

The Vietnamese called their move a good will gesture. They said the 12 Americans had been listed as missing in action.

The Pentagon said one had been listed as killed in action, one as a prisoner of war and the others as missing in action.

The Pentagon still lists 795 Americans as missing in action in the war, including 527 in Vietnam itself. It lists 1,710 others as killed in action whose bodies were not recovered, including 1,347 in Vietnam.

Most of the missing are fliers and it is generally presumed they are dead.

Observers viewed the surprise Vietnamese move as an attempt to ease U.S. opposition to Vietnam's application for membership in the United Nations and to encourage the United States to provide war reparations under the 1973 Paris cease-fire accord.

The Vietnamese listed the names, ranks, birth dates and serial numbers of the 12 men.

The Pentagon refused to release their home towns until it notified all next of kin.

Rep. G.V. "Sonny" Montgomery, D-Miss., chairman of the House Select Committee on Missing Persons in Southeast Asia, said all were shot down between 1965 and 1968. Most, if not all, were shot down over North Vietnam, he said.

The mother of Air Force Capt. Samuel E. Waters, one of those listed, said she expected the bad news.

"We didn't really expect to hear any good news, but of course you always hope," said Virginia Waters of Mocksville, N.C., whose son had been missing since Dec. 13, 1966.

The Pentagon changed Water's status from missing to dead two years ago after North Vietnam made a general release of American prisoners of war. The Waters family held a memorial service for him then.

Experts Look Over Soviet Jet Fighter

TOKYO (AP) - Experts have looked over the Soviet MIG25 fighter plane flown to Japan by a defecting Soviet air force pilot. Japanese officials reported today, but they refused to say whether American intelligence officers were among them.

U.S. authorities refused to comment, referring all queries to Washington. But it was assumed that the Americans would get a thorough examination of the plane before the Japanese government returned it to the Soviet Union.

The plane landed Monday at a small airfield in Hakodate, in northern Japan, and the pilot reportedly said he wanted asylum in the United States. In Washington, the State Department would say only that the matter was under consideration.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said in Paris today that the United States "will probably grant asylum" to the pilot. "If we do not, you can assume I have been overruled," he said. Kissinger has been meeting with various European leaders on the brewing racial confrontation in southern Africa.

One Japanese source with good official connections said he heard that the plane might be moved by ship from Hakodate to the U.S. air base at Misawa, in northern Honshu, the main Japanese island.

Officials of the Japanese Defense Agency said they were primarily interested in the supersonic jet fighter's electronic firing control system. Experts from Tokyo and the Japanese Defense Force base at Chitose, near Hakodate landing site.

Other Western embassies in Tokyo indicated keen desire to examine the plane. The British air attaché was reported to have gone to Hakodate to try to get a close look at the craft.

The MIG25 has been kept largely under wraps by the Soviet Union, but it is believed to be Russia's most advanced jet fighter and capable of flying at 1,600 miles an hour.

The pilot of the plane was identified as Lt. Viktor I. Belenko, 29. Defense Agency officials said he was flown by police helicopter from Hakodate to an airbase at Chitose, near Sapporo, and then was taken by Japanese armed forces jet transport to the Iruma base near Tokyo.

Kyodo, the Japanese news agency said Belenko told police he had been planning to escape to the United States for two years because "there is no freedom of life in the present Soviet society."

The Soviet government demanded the return of both the pilot and the plane, and the Soviet Embassy in Tokyo asked to interview the flier.

Heavy Rains Fall Across Texas Area

By The Associated Press

Rains heavy enough to pose flash flood threats hits the southeast part of West Texas today.

A special watch was posted by the National Weather Service near daybreak in reporting the development of rain-laden thunderstorms along and west of the Pecos River.

Radar spotted severe thunderstorms scattered across a broad stretch of countryside embracing points in or near Alpine, Sonora, Guthrie, Brownfield and back to Alpine. Some of the worst boiled through an area west of Snyder and Sweetwater.

Light rain or thunder-showers popped out in the east half of the Panhandle. Plains sector as far south as Lubbock, farther south near San Angelo and along the coast around Galveston.

Skies were partly cloudy to clear in other sections and light winds fanned the state, mostly from the southeast.

Sunny and warm weather was forecast for most areas along with widely scattered thunder-showers.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 77 degrees at Del Rio on the Mexican border down to 61 at Amarillo in the Panhandle. Top marks Monday it a peak of 97 at Alice and Cotulla in the south.

Kissinger's Help In Africa Asked

HAMBURG, West Germany (AP) - Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger has been asked by Tanzanian President Julius Nyerere to begin a diplomatic shuttle in Africa, a senior African official on Kissinger's plane revealed today.

The official, who talked to reporters during a flight from Paris to this north German port city, said the attempt to resolve the festering racial problem between blacks and whites in southern Africa probably will start no later than Monday.

The message reached Kissinger this morning in Paris as he was preparing to brief French President Valery Giscard d'Estaing on his three-day meeting Zurich with South African Prime Minister John Vorster.

The message from Tanzania was on behalf of Nyerere only and did not speak for the four other black leaders who have just concluded a summit conference on the African situation in Dar Es Salaam.

However, the invitation is considered a positive development because Nyerere, although a moderate, has considerable influence with the more radical black leaders.

Do you really know what happens when business profits go up or down?

If you do, you're unusual—as proven by a recent survey taken throughout the nation.

When Americans were asked about the effect of profits on their personal lives, they gave some surprising and conflicting answers. A number of people said that when business profits go up, the prices of things they buy go up. But some said exactly the opposite—that rising profits cause prices to go down. Still others said profits have no effect on their lives at all.

All of this helps point up a serious problem: if we citizens don't understand the basic functions of our American Economic System, how can we make intelligent decisions about it? How do we know what to keep, what to change?

To help give you a clearer picture of our system, a special booklet has been prepared. It's easy to read, interesting and free. Use the coupon to get your copy now.

Every American ought to know what it says.

Did you know? Over the 10 year period 1965-74, net profits of U.S. manufacturers averaged less than 5¢ on each dollar of sales. In 1975, about 39% of corporate profits went to taxes, 29% to stockholders, 32% to capital improvements. Business investments will be needed for 16 million new jobs by 1985.

Four Of District Members Win

Four of the five District 4-4A members came away winners in the first weekend of grid action, with Plainview the only league team to drop its opener.

Lubbock Estacado blasted the Bulldogs 20-7 last Thursday night in Lubbock. The Matadors overcame some early fumble-itis, which was Plainview grab a quick 7-0 lead, and scored twice in the second period and once in the final quarter to take the win.

In action concerning other district members, Hereford took it to District 3-4A favorite Pampa 20-12, Lubbock High beat Borger 14-6, Monterey swamped Canyon 21-7, and Coronado nipped Wichita Falls 7-0.

The Hereford Whitefaces pulled off what most experts would call an upset in their victory over the Harvesters. Tailback Roy Martinez scored three touchdowns to lead the Herd past the losers.

Lubbock High's Westerners scored 14 points in the second period, and then held on to a thwart a scoring threat by Borger as the final gun sounded with the Bulldogs on the Lubbock one-yard-line. Victor Lugo scored both Westerner touchdowns before the Lubbock offense suddenly went sour. The losers won everywhere but on the scoreboard outgaining Lubbock 271-172, and picking up 19 first downs to LHS's 11.

Monterey used a steady ground attack to race to a 21-7 win over Canyon Saturday night. David Griffith rushed for 130 yards and three touchdowns to lead the way.

Two Canyon miscues led to the first two Plainsmen scores in the second period. Monterey took advantage of an Eagle fumble on the nine to make it 7-0, and the Plainsmen upped the lead after taking over at midfield after a Canyon fourth-down gamble failed.

Sophomore Donnie Atterburn intercepted a Wichita Falls pass and returned it to the Coyote one with just 25 seconds left in the game to spur Coronado to their 7-0 win.

On the next play following the interception tailback Sam Dancy got into the endzone over left guard.

Neither team moved the ball on offense, with the winners managing a mere four first downs in a game that saw a total of 17 punts lofted into the air.

The Whitefaces take on Amarillo Palo Duro this Thursday to kick off the second week of the season. Lubbock also plays on Thursday against Estacado, Plainview meets Tascosa, Monterey travels to Wichita Falls Rider, and Coronado tackles Lubbock Dunbar.

Tech Struck By Injuries

The Texas Tech Red Raiders worked out in the gym Monday as they continued to prepare for the invasion of the Colorado Buffaloes Saturday.

"We had an awful lot of zip and fire out there today," head coach Steve Sloan said. "We had some folks who peaked like they wanted to get things accomplished."

The injury bug struck the club again, however, as offensive tackle Wilbert Cunningham went down with an ankle injury.

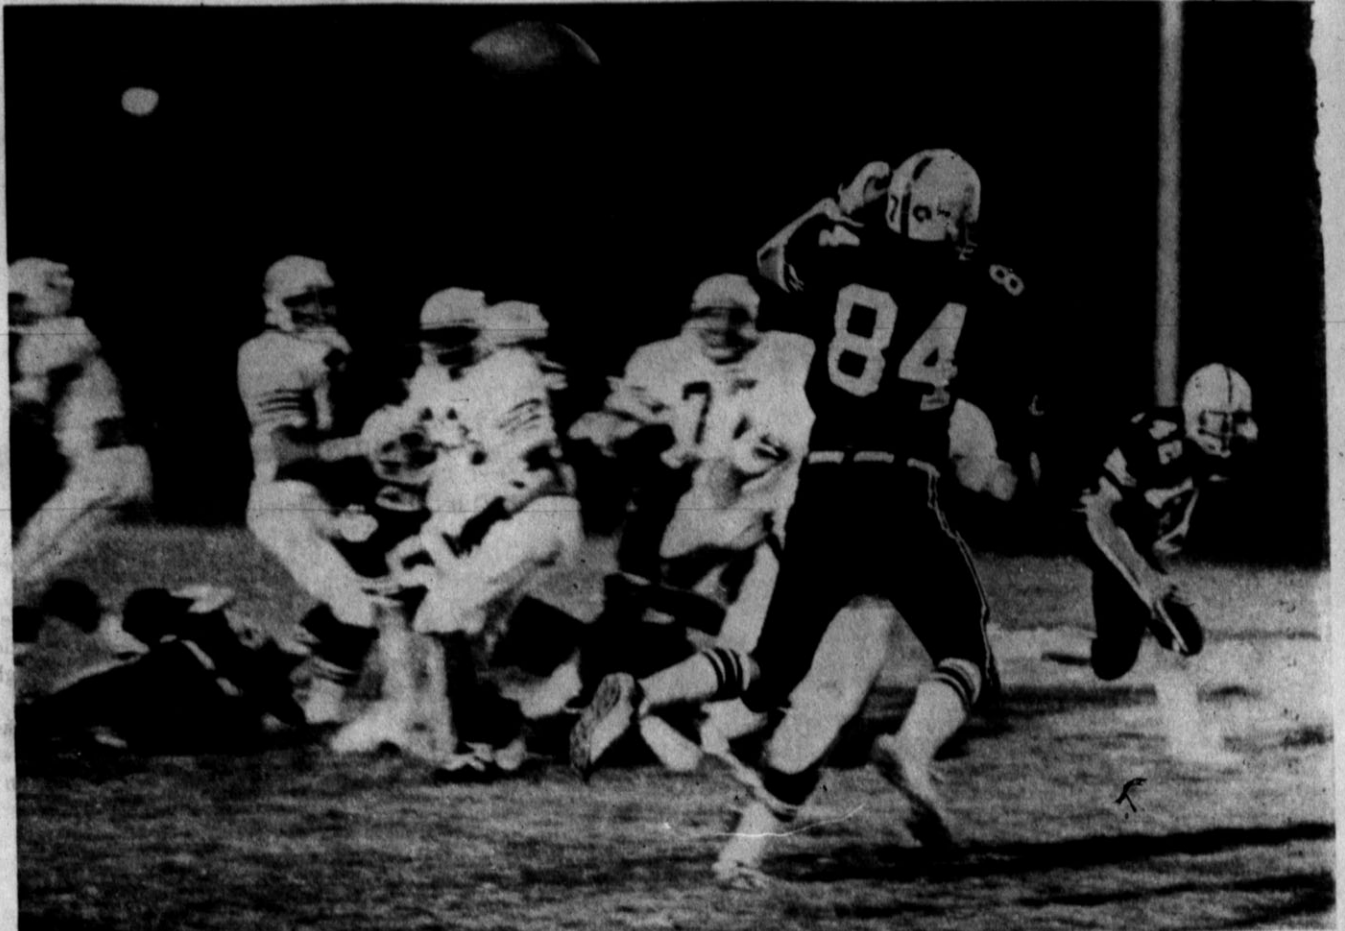

"We don't know how bad the ankle is yet," Sloan said. "I knew one thing, though, we are certainly getting depleted in our big offensive linemen."

Senior center David Dudley quit the team last week.

Sloan reported that Billy Roberson, freshman runningback from Breckenridge, will undergo surgery today for a knee injury he suffered during Saturday's scrimmage.

Sloan also announced that quarterback Tommy Duniven and linebacker Thomas Howard have been selected game captains for the Colorado contest, which is set for a 7:30 p.m. Jones Stadium kickoff Saturday.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Ted Marchbroda, who quit as coach of the Baltimore Colts two days ago because of what he termed front-office interference, has been rehired for the post, the National Football League club announced today.

Almost!

Hereford's Abel Trevizo collides with a Pampa defender after a Kelly Kitchens pass bounces off his shoulder pad during the third quarter of the Hereford-Pampa game last Friday night. The Herd will take on Palo Duro in Amarillo Thursday night as they seek their second straight victory.

Teen Netter Steals Show

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Top-seeded Jimmy Connors, continuing his relentless drive toward the title he surrendered last year, mowed down 12th seeded Vilas Gerulaitis 6-4, 6-2, 6-1 Monday night at the U.S. Open Tennis Championships.

However, leggy Soviet teenager Natasha Chmyreva stole the thunder from the stars as both men and women began plucking off quarter-final spots in the tournament.

The tall, 18-year-old journalism student from Moscow unleashed a slashing serve and volley game for a 3-6, 6-4, 6-3 victory over Kathy Kuykendall of Miami. Kathy had upset Natasha's older and higher-ranked teammate, Olga Morozova, seeded-No. 8, on Sunday.

Now Natasha faces the unsettling prospect of playing top-seeded Chris Evert in the next round, granting that the Wimbledon titleholder can get by Britain's Sue Barker in their fourth round tie tonight.

"Chris has beaten me twice," the Russian miss said. "But the last time, in Houston, the score was 6-4, 7-5. I am looking forward to playing her here."

Chris already has hailed Natasha as a potential future champion, and Chmyreva was asked if she felt she was close to the top on the women's world ladder.

"Sometimes I feel close to it," she replied confidently.

The excitement of Natasha's shotmaking in the grandstand lured fans away from the center court where Guillermo Vilas of Argentina, seeded third, became the first man to gain the quarter-finals by beating the Soviet Union's Teimuras Kakulia 7-5, 6-4, 6-0 and Australia's Evonne Goolagong easily dispatched her longtime rival, Francoise Durr of France, 6-2, 6-0.

Kakulia, said he was bothered by the wind and Vilas' high-bouncing topspin shots.

"They were very hard to handle," he said.

Vilas, recent winner of the Canadian Open, said he was serving better and adjusting his game to the slow clay surface.

"I don't think I have had a bad year," he added.

Goolagong, the blithe spirit who has been runner-up here the last three years, but never a winner, predicted that she might be able to pull off a different scenario this time.

"I am playing much better and am more confident than I have ever been,"

she said. "I find myself having fewer mental lapses — those 'walkabout' as you refer to them — and I feel I have my best chance ever of winning."

"If Chris and I are in the finals again, all the pressure will be on her. She is No. 1 and is expected to win."

The two leading women players have met five times this year, Chris winning three, including the Wimbledon final.

However, Evonne had the better record on the Virginia Slims women's circuit.

Both of them should be looking over their shoulders at the new threat from behind the Iron Curtain.

Chmyreva is the daughter of two sports personalities. Her father is an athletic director and her mother a tennis teacher. She herself has been playing the game since she was just a tyke, joining the world tour at age 15.

MEN'S SINGLES (Fourth Round)

Guillermo Vilas, Argentina, def. Teimuras Kakulia, Russia, 7-5, 6-4, 6-0.

Jan Kodes, Czechoslovakia, def. Fran McMillan, South Africa, 6-4, 7-4, 2-6, 7-6.

Eddie Dibbs, North Miami Beach, def. Colin Dowdewell, Rhodesia, 6-2, 6-4, 6-2.

WOMEN'S SINGLES (Third Round)

Mima Jausovec, Yugoslavia, def. Rusa Gerulaitis, Kings Point, N.Y., 6-4, 6-2.

Zanda Ido, Guyana Beach, Fla., def. Mary Hamr, Mount Pleasant, Ill., 6-4, 6-2.

Boosters Meet Tonight

The Hereford High School Booster Club will meet tonight at 8 p.m. in the high school cafeteria. Hereford coaches will be present to review the Pampa game and to give a scouting report on Palo Duro. New officers of the booster club are Dick Montgomery, president; Gerald Payne, vice president; Mrs. Joy Bunch, treasurer; and R.L. Blakely, secretary.

Hereford head football coach Fred Uphaw announced today that star running back Carlee Graves has been reinstated on the team as of Monday. Graves had been suspended from the team last week for what Uphaw termed "disciplinary reasons."

Nieman Takes Lead Among Forecasters

BRAND publisher Speedy Nieman quickly grabbed the lead after one week of the "Fearless Forecasters" series, hitting on 19 of 26 predictions for .737 percentage correct.

The first female ever to participate in the series, Irene McKinster, showed that she knows a little about football as she out guessed the other three males on the panel to finish second behind Nieman with 18 correct and a .692 average.

BRAND sports editor Bob Nigh, a newcomer to the Panhandle, finished in the middle of the pack with 17-9 mark, or .654 per cent. Nigh was the only panel member to guess the win by Amherst over Springlake-Earth, but on the other end of the scale, was the sole panel member to pick Nazareth, a 40-0 loser to Farwell.

BRAND news editor Bobby Templeton and KPAN's Tom Simons finished fourth and fifth respectively last week. Templeton got 16 correct and a .615 mark, while Simons managed 15 correct picks for a .577 standard.

A couple of upsets proved a stumbling block for the entire panel, along with one game which ended up in a deadlock.

Levelland's 26-12 win over Brownfield and Claude's 13-12 shockover over Groom each gave the entire panel a mark in the wrong column. The 7-7 tie Palo Duro and Dumas played to added another miss to the list, and panel members held their breath Saturday night before the Dallas Cowboys finally beat Houston 26-20 in overtime.

The sixth member of the panel, Concensus, finished even with Nigh with 17 of 26 correct predictions.

Familiar Names Axed

By The AP

The list of National Football League cuts Monday included such familiar stars as: runningbacks Duane Thomas and Ron Johnson of the Dallas Cowboys, quarterback Terry Hanratty of the Pittsburgh Steelers and defensive lineman John Matuszek of the Washington Redskins.

Other familiar names also were sliced. Among the casualties at Los Angeles was veteran wide receiver Jack Snow and Minnesota's cuts included runningback Dave Osborn, who had gained more than 4,000 yards in 11 years with the Vikings.

Besides Snow, the Rams cut nine players including defensive end Al Cowlings and defensive backs Bivian Lee and Al Clark. The Rams also traded rookie defensive end Leroy Jones to San Diego and rookie guard Dan Nugent to Washington for two future draft picks.

Snow gained 6,012 yards in 11 years with Los Angeles, second only to Elroy "Crazylegs" Hirsch, who gained 6,289.

Osborn headed the Viking cuts which included defensive backs Terry Brown and Pete Athas, running back Oscar Reed, wide receiver Tom Gererdine and tight end Doug Kingsriter.

Thomas had hoped to rejoin the Cowboys where he first achieved NFL stardom six years ago. After two stormy seasons with the Cowboys, he drifted around the pro football map with brief but unproductive stops at New England, San Diego and Washington as well as in the World Football League.

After the demise of the WFL, Thomas was signed as a free agent by the Cowboys, for whom he had gained 1,596 yards in two seasons, 1970 and 1971. But he was unable to crack the talented Dallas backfield this summer, gaining just 88 yards in 40 exhibition carries.

Johnson, twice a 1,000-yard man with the New York Giants, suffered the same fate. He had signed with the Cowboys as a free agent after playing out his option with the Giants last year.

In other moves, Dallas waived three players, listed three others as injured reserve and swapped place kicker Tom Fritsch to San Diego for a future draft choice. Fritsch led all NFL kickers with 104 points last season.

After getting Fritsch, the Chargers cut kicker Bruce Gossett as well as wide receiver Dwight McDonald and running back Glen Bonner. The Giants also switched kickers, including George Hunt among six players cut and acquiring placement man Joe Danelo from Green Bay for a future draft pick. Veteran center Bob Hyland was also cut and the Giants made a pair of trades, swapping backup tight end Jim O'Bradovich to San Francisco for a future draft choice and acquiring offensive lineman Ron Mikolajczyk from Oakland for a draft pick.

In other trades, Atlanta sent guard Dennis Havig to Houston for linebacker

Guy Roberts, New Orleans acquired rookie defensive back Clarence Chapman from Oakland, and Tampa Bay picked up running back Charlie Davis from Cincinnati.

Washington's cuts included defensive end John Matuszak, acquired earlier in the pre-season from Kansas City.

Miami dropped nine players, with the best known veteran quarterback Jim Del Galzo.

Another quarterback, J.J. Jones, was among six New York Jets cut.

Pearson Wins 500

DARLINGTON, S.C. (AP) — David Pearson unleashed the full fury of his Mercury Monday and scored his first victory in the 27th annual Southern 500 stock car race to become the second driver in history to win the sport's "triple crown."

Pearson, seemingly with power to spare when he took the lead for good with 56 miles remaining, beat Richard Petty's Dodge to the finish line by 2.85 seconds for his ninth win in 16 starts this season.

Carew Gets Near McRae

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Don't look now or you'll miss him, but Minnesota's Rod Carew is making a last-ditch charge at the American League batting championship.

Carew, who has won the title the last four years, banged out four hits Sunday and two more Monday and climbed to .338, moving into second place in the AL hitting race and to within 12 points of Kansas City's Hal McRae.

"This is different all right," said Carew, who has had the title sewed up by this time of the season in recent years. "If I can get to within 10 points I think I'll win it."

Carew is enjoying his finest season in many ways in 1976. The 30-year-old left-handed hitter moved from second base to first where he has excelled defensively. He needs 26 hits in Minnesota's final 23 games to reach the 200 mark for the third time in four years.

The only other driver to win in one season the Daytona 500, the World 600 and the Southern 500 is Lee Roy Yarbrough, who achieved the feat in 1969.

Darrell Waltrip, driving a Chevrolet, was third closely behind Petty. Dave Marcis' Dodge was fourth in the same lap with the leaders, and Chevrolet driver Lennie Pond was fifth, one lap off the pace.

The 41-year-old grandfather started the 500 mile, 366-lap race from the pole, but only led four times for a total of 93 laps, including the final 45. He successfully held off charges by Waltrip, who was running second when Petty passed him on the fourth turn of the final lap.

The first few minutes of the Labor Day classic over the 1.366-mile Darlington International Raceway was witnessed by Democratic presidential nominee Jimmy Carter and Republican vice presidential nominee Robert Dole.

The drivers got down to serious business in the grueling four-hour and nine minute race that saw 31 lead changes among 10 drivers.

Pearson's average speed was slowed to 120.534 miles per hour because of eight caution flags for 64 laps. The longest caution period of 28 laps came at the halfway point when Joe Frasson's Chevrolet plowed into the side of Skip Manning's Chevrolet, pinning Manning in the car for about 30 minutes.

Manning, leader in the point race for the NASCAR rookie of the year title, had his feet caught in the wreckage. He suffered an ankle injury but a doctor said he had no broken bones. He was hospitalized in nearby Florence for observation.

Frasson suffered bruises and was treated at the field hospital at the track.

At Wit's End ...

By ERMA BOMBECK

For year, you've watched everyone else do it.

The children who sat on the curb eating their lunches waiting for the bus.

The husband you put through school who drank coffee standing up and who slept with his hand on the alarm.

And you envied them and said, "Maybe next year I'll go back to school." And the years went by and this morning you looked into the mirror and said, "You blew it. You're too old to pick it up and start a new career."

This column is for you. Margaret Mitchell won her first Pulitzer Prize for "Gone with the Wind" in 1937. She was 37 years old at the time.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith was elected to the Senate for the first time in 1948 at the age of 49.

Ruth Gordon picked up her first Oscar in 1968 for "Rosemary's Baby." She was 72 years old.

Billie Jean King took the battle of women's worth to a tennis court in Houston's astrodome to outplay Bobby Riggs. She was 31 years of age.

Grandma Moses began a painting career at the age of 76. Anne Morrow Lindbergh followed in the shadow of her husband until she began to question the meaning of existence for individual women.

She published her thoughts in "Gifts from the Sea" in 1955 in her 49th year.

Shirley Temple Black was named Ambassador to Ghana at the age of 47.

Golda Meir in 1969 was elected prime minister of Israel. She has just passed her 71st birthday.

This summer, Barbara Jordan was given official duties as a speaker at the Democratic National Convention. She is 36 years old.

You can tell yourself these people started out as exceptional. You can tell yourself they had influence before they started. You can tell yourself the conditions under which they achieved is different than yours. Or you can be like a woman I knew who sat at her kitchen window year after year and watched everyone else do it and then said to herself, "It's my turn."

I was 37 years old at the time.

Gwen London, manager of Deaf Smith County Library, has announced that there is still time to join either of the two discussion groups that will soon begin their autumn meetings.

Enrollment is free of charge and each group meets in the library every two weeks.

The Great Books group will have its first session at 7:30 p.m. this Thursday and will meet on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month.

The American Issues group convenes on the first and third Thursdays of the month at 7:30 p.m. They will open their season on Sept. 16. Material for this group has been selected by Wayne Darrow of Amarillo, who has served as a moderator for literary discussions in that city.

Mrs. London described the discussion programs of both groups as "very interesting and timely."

Further information can be obtained from the library staff by telephoning 364-1206.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "The second greatest show on earth" was P. T. Barnum's description of the view from Mt. Washington, named as one of America's top 500 sights to see by the Rand McNally "Traveler's Almanac."

According to the almanac, the highest wind speed ever clocked in the U.S. (231 miles per hour) was measured by a private weather research station atop the 6,288-foot-high peak near Pinkham Notch in the White Mountains of New Hampshire.

Concert Crusade Commences Today

By KERRIE STEERT
Women's Editor

Today marks the start of a five-day membership drive being conducted by Hereford Community Concert Association, which will have a kick-off dinner tonight at the Community Center.

CCA membership provides admission to 13 different performances in Hereford, Canyon, Lubbock and Clovis, N.M. during the 1976-77 season. The total cost is $12 for each adult; $5 for a student and a $32 for a family membership, including two adults and two or more children.

Four CCA presentations will be staged in Lubbock, while the three remaining cities will each have three offerings. These professional spectacles limit their audience to association members only and new CCA members will not be enrolled after Saturday, Sept. 11.

THE LOCAL CHAMBER of Commerce office has loaned its facilities to the CCA volunteer workers, who are now accepting new members. That telephone number is 364-3333.

More than 70 volunteers are helping in this year's campaign, which has set a goal of 1,000 association members. Assisting with the current drive here is Ruth Giles, a representative of New York City's CCA.

This group of workers is invited to attend tonight's kick-off dinner at 7 p.m., when a massive buffet of Middle Eastern foods will be served. The meal is being prepared and catered by members of the Episcopal Women's Association.

The evening's entertainment will be provided by the Chamber Singers, under direction of Bill Devers. All reservations must be confirmed by Thursday and CCA workers may invite guests for an additional charge of $4.50.

A SAMPLE OF the fine quality of community concerts is evident in the acts which are scheduled to appear at Hereford High School this season. On Saturday, Jan. 29, 1977, Earl Rose will display his talents as a jazz pianist. Three weeks later, on Feb. 14, the acclaimed Texas Boys Choir of Fort Worth will appear here in concert for CCA members. Concluding the local roster of performances will be the Young Americans, who will present "The Music Man" on May 6.

Association membership purchases admission to ten additional concerts in the cities already mentioned. During the ten-year history of Hereford CCA, there have been numerous high-caliber performances given by artists, including The King Family, Paul Loyal's All-America Band, Ferrante and Teicher and the Oberkirchen Children's Choir.

DIRECTING THIS YEAR'S membership crusade are Mrs. Bill Walden, chairman, and Virginia Holmes, co-chairman. Headquarters secretary is Lee Alston.

Russian casualties in World War I totaled 9,250,000 between 1914 and 1917.

The city of Troy fell to the Greeks after a siege lasting 10 years, in 1200 B.C.

In the oceans there are great "rivers" called ocean currents. The Gulf Stream is the largest and most important of these currents.

The rhinoceros' name comes from the Greek words meaning "nose" and "horn."

Ann Landers

Ask The Obstetrician

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please tell me how a wife who has so much to be thankful for can behave like such a rotten, worthless shrew. I am referring to myself.

I love my husband very much. He is a kind and gentle man with so many good qualities. My problem began last May when I went to the hospital to have our first child. I was 34 years old and we tried for five years to have a family. Our joy was indescribable.

When I awakened from surgery they told me our baby was born dead. I cried for hours. When my husband came to see me I couldn't look at him. I was so filled with anger and hate I ordered him to leave.

Time has not helped. I still have these feelings of hostility toward my husband although I know he is not to blame. Sex is out of the question because of my anger. I realize I'm being unfair to him but I can't control my feelings. I am unable to discuss this problem with anyone because I'm a very private person. I realize I'm destroying my marriage and it's the only thing I have to live for. Please give me some advice...

Cracking Up In Delaware
DEAR FRIEND: You are a sick woman who should be ventilating her anger with a therapist.

I urge you to ask your obstetrician to suggest a psychiatrist who specializes in problems such as yours. Please don't lose another minute. You should have gone into treatment last May.

DEAR ANN: This is in reply to the letter from "Concerned" who was worried that she might get Negro blood when she had a transfusion in the hospital. For two years I was seriously ill with a liver condition. I was in and out of the hospital several times. The last time I went into a coma. Even my wonderful doctor had

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a secretary for a repair shop. The men who are employed here do mostly residential work. Recently several customers have called and complained that after the work was completed, some items were missing from their homes. Four men whom I hold in high regard have confided that the boss's son is the one with the sticky fingers.

The question: Who should tell the boss? Me? The foreman? Everbody? We're all afraid of what might happen. But we can't let this continue. Help!—Steal or Squeal

DEAR S OR S: YOU should tell the kid with the sticky fingers. Let him know if any more complains come in that his dad must be notified.

DEAR GRATE: Dozens of people wrote to express the same sentiments, but you said it best.

And now—how many of your readers out there have donated a pint of blood lately? It's a precious gift make an appointment—today.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a

Anti-ERA Opinions Presented To Club

Negative aspects of the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA) were explained Thursday afternoon in Caison's Steak House of Multiple Miracles chapter of Mothers of Twins Club.

Representing the Association of W's, Patricia Vogler and Sue Deyke were the featured speakers.

Condemning ERA, Mrs. Vogler enumerated upon several laws and acts now in effect, which already insure most of the rights promised through the controversial amendment. She quoted several constitutional lawyers in their belief that the ERA would strip women and men of many freedoms, such as the rights to have separate clubs, athletic events and woman labor protection laws. The women stated that ERA would affect touchy issues, such as abortion and homosexuality, which might otherwise be settled in the court system according to the people's desires. If ERA is passed, they said, such cases would be arbitrarily decided.

In rebuttal, a program supporting ERA will be presented at the club's next meeting on Oct. 7.

During the business session, Mrs. Jay Parks was elected assistant reporter. In attendance were Mmes. Claude DeBord, Bruce Futrell, Jessie Perales, Andy Shuval, Jim Simons, Dee Willard and John Avent.

doubts that I would make it. Thanks to his skill and determination, plus a lot of help from God and BLOOD DONORS, I recovered and am now in excellent health.

During those two long years I received 54 pints of blood from unknown donors. If I could meet them, I would kiss each and every one. I couldn't care less about their color, sex, religion or anything else... Grateful in Ohio

Collision Kills Three Persons Near Amarillo

AMARILLO (AP) — A collision killed three persons in one family and injured 10 other motorists 12 miles north of here late Monday night.

Officers listed the dead as Durwood Pool and his wife Loraine, both 40, and their daughter Jada, 8, from Fritch, in the Texas Panhandle near Lake Meredith. They reported Mrs. Pool was driving the family car.

The Pools' son Todd, 13, was brought to an Amarillo hospital in critical condition.

Nine members of two Amarillo families in the other car suffered injuries described as serious to critical. Officers said Manuel Olivas, 38, was driving the second vehicle, which was towing a boat on a trailer.

Authorities said the Olivas automobile veered across the center of Texas Highway 13, both swerved trying to avoid a collision and they crashed.

'I knew I would have my own show someday' Nancy Walker's six-year-plan for stardom

by DAN LEWIS

HOLLYWOOD — Nancy Walker swapped in two supporting roles for one starring part. There is every temptation to use such euphuisms as she's a tiny gal with a large talent — because she is only 4-10 in stocking feet.

This fall Nancy gets her own television show. Whatever the inspiration, it will be called "The Nancy Walker Show." She'll play a Hollywood actor's agent with a sea-going husband who suddenly retires from the Navy. William Daniels plays the husband. Beverly Archer plays their timid, married daughter. She did so well in the pilot film that she will be given an expanded role when the show premieres on ABC-TV in September, on Tuesday nights from 9-9:30.

Nancy has a difficult assignment ahead. The competition is very tough, particularly CBS' long-running hit, "M*A*S*H." NBC's Tuesday offering at 9 isn't any slouch, either, "Police Woman."

One thing in Nancy's favor, in addition to her own comedic talents, is that her show has the Norman Lear label stamped on it, and Lear's success in TV comedy is outstanding.

When Nancy became ABC's private property a year ago, it meant that she would eventually be plucked from two running roles she has been sustaining for several seasons now on two other networks. Nancy has been Ida Morgenstern — Rhoda's mother — on the CBS series since its inception three seasons ago, and for four seasons now, she also has been the housekeeper in "McMillan and Wife" on NBC. It is just possible she may show up in one or two "Rhoda" episodes this coming season, too.

Stardom is right on schedule for Nancy, who moved to California after years of commuting between films in Hollywood

(and some TV) and theater on Broadway.

"I had a six-year-plan," Nancy reveals. "I knew I would have my own show someday."

Her big scheme was very simple. She did everything that was offered to her on television.

"I was there. I went everywhere. I was dead tired, but I went. I think you can call it my 'Manure at Rodeo' phase," Nancy notes.

She left Broadway because she felt theater had reached its lowest period. Both she and her husband moved to the West Coast. Nancy explained that her husband, dramatic coach David Craig, anticipated no problem resettling in California.

"He was back in business within six months," she reveals. Their daughter continued in college and remained in New York.

She's been a show-business personality almost from birth. Her parents were touring vaudevillians, and early on, she was in films and theater. She acts, sings, dances — and directs.

She's directed on Broadway, and last year directed a couple of "Rhoda" segments. Ultimately, she will direct some segments of her own show, but probably not in the first season.

It's ironic that she should have been available for Silverman to sign her up to a development contract last year.

Despite her strong contributions to the other two series, neither had her under contract. Silverman realized this when he moved over to ABC from CBS, and one of his first moves was to get Nancy to sign a contract.

She is extremely critical of theater in New York. "I haven't seen anything there in the last 10 years that I would have wanted to be in," she declares. "Broadway is a hovel. I can't believe the condition it is in. Theater, for the, has taken an uninteresting turn," says this comedienne who has appeared in more than two dozen shows on Broadway.

She doesn't have any kind words for Clive Barnes, the drama critic for The New York Times, generally regarded the most prestigious of all critics.

"Theater is at the mercy of that insane man, Clive Barnes. I'm not about to work for six weeks (getting a show ready) to be chewed up by him. He was a third-rate critic in London. His pretensions are more than I can bear to read. I think he's an idiot — and please say so."

There was a period in her Hollywood plan when she thought it would have to be extended because of an old hip injury that developed into a painful situation and required surgery. Nancy had taken a spill on stage many years ago — in a play called "Look Ma, I'm Danc-ing." The hip was replaced and she required months to recover. There no longer is any pain, she reports.

It was inevitable that Nancy would have to leave the "Rhoda" show. Her own stature was growing in television and she thought the series producer (Grant Tinker, head of Mary-Tyler Moore Productions — and Mary's husband) would have come forward with an offer to star in her own show for them.

"But they didn't want to take me off the show," she says.

So when Silverman came forward, Nancy was ready and eager. There have been several conferences but nothing developed until Silverman called one day and said he thought Lear had something she might be interested in doing. He did.

Hurricane Roulette: High Stakes, Unlimited Loss

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND, Tex. (AP) - Residents and investors on this popular island resort are playing hurricane roulette—a dangerous annual game where losers lose millions. And the real losers lose their lives.

"It's really a big question mark," muses building inspector John Armeau. "We'll just have to wait until the next big blow comes through."

Although weathermen warn that a major hurricane would cover Padre Island with five feet or more of angry ocean waves, residents are betting their fortunes it'll never happen.

The last "big blow" to move over the island was Hurricane Beulah in September 1967 and it caused no deaths. But since then, the island town has experienced a building boom.

Since 1973, when South Padre Island became an incorporated city, more than $27 million in building permits have been granted.

The town—five miles long and two miles wide—sits approximately two miles off the Texas mainland across from Port Isabel.

Although the island's population is "about 400," the sunsplashed stretch of beach annually attracts thousands of tourists.

Armeau said the town is currently rewriting its building codes trying "to get building designs that compliment mother nature. But we're just playing the odds."

And the odds are formidable according to information supplied by Al Dreumont, the meteorologist in charge of the National Weather Service in Brownsville. Fortunately, hurricanes pose a threat for only three or four months of each year.

There have been 26 tropical storms with 100 miles of Brownsville since 1900," Dreumont said. "Of those 26, three have made landfall in this area. The National Hurricane Center in Miami has predicted the conditions that might accompany a severe hurricane like Camille 1969 whose winds exceeded 200 miles per hour.

"If a Camille-type storm hits this area, the water surge waves that proceed the eye of a hurricane is estimated at 12 feet for Brownsville and Port Isabel," he said.

"When the water rises two feet on the South Padre I've got to get the people off the island. When the water hits five feet, most of the island will be under water. Dreumont said nine of every 10 hurricane deaths are caused by drowning.

"If a 12-foot water surge hits the island," he added, "the lesser structures on the island such as single-story, one-family dwellings will probably be destroyed. The multistory structures should survive."

Dreumont said such a surge is devastating. "You figure one cubic yard of water weighs 1,500 pounds and with 100 to 200 m.p.h. winds destructive force.

"The crucial months of hurricanes in this area is August and September," he noted. "That's not saying we can't have one in July or October but the probability is very slim.

"Nothing will sneak up on us. Our radar covers a 250-mile span. The people will have plenty of warning."

Should Dreumont recommend he does not have the authority or order the evacuation of South Padre Island, the town's officials have a battle plan.

"We have just passed an ordinance that requires every persons to evacuate in case of such a warning," said the island's police chief, Cleo Beauford. "In addition to the reports over radio and TV, we will contact every person at least twice and tell them to get off the island."

"We have designated highway routes to the inland cities for our people and have color-coded passes for residents and businessmen to use returning to the island which should keep out the looters.

"The public utilities—electricity, water and gas—will be turned off," he said. "We'll lock this office and get the hell outta here."

Beauford has an added incentive for quick evacuation.

City Hall and his office sit "a little more than two feet above sea level."

Despite the seasonal threat of hurricanes and tropical storms, long-time residents of the island take the danger in stride.

"Look at the poor people in tornado areas," said Mrs. D.H. Christensen, a 28-year resident and the book keeper for one of the island's resort hotels.

"They have practically no warning at all. We don't get that many hurricanes and the people who live here and visit are perfectly safe.

"Everyone has ample warning before a hurricane strikes," she said. "It's not like the hotel manager knocking on doors at midnight, telling people to leave."

Dreumont said Beulah spawned 115 tornadoes in Texas "and heaven knows how many in Mexico."

The hotel in which Mrs. Christensen works suffered "about a quarter-million dollars" in damage during Beulah.

"But all of that was water and wind damage to the inside of rooms," she said. "We did not have any structural damage."

"Geologists say this island has been here 25,000 to 50,000 years," offered one of South Padre's real estate developers. "I'm sure it's had its share of strong hurricanes during that time."

"But it's still here...and we will be too if another one comes through."

One Third Of States Have Reformed Sex Laws

By VICTORIA GRAHAM
Associated Press Writer.

About a third of the states have repealed or reformed laws dating to Puritan days which prohibit certain types of sexual activity, laws which homosexuals say discriminate against them.

Most of the changes have come in the late 1970s, with most reforms made in the last two years, sometimes in response to pressure from gay activists and civil libertarians.

Most of the laws in question are sodomy laws which prohibit oral and anal sex. Massachusetts, which retains its law, calls it "the abominable and detestable crime against nature," punishable by 20 years in prison.

A few states have repealed their sodomy laws directly. Most legislatures have revamped old state laws as part of general reform of their penal codes. These revamped laws do not prohibit consensual sex acts.

Because of these reforms there are now 19 states scattered across the country which have no laws restricting consensual sexual activity by adults. They still prohibit certain acts if they are forcible or involved minors.

In the last two years these states have changed their laws: Arkansas, California, Indiana, Iowa, Maine, New Hampshire, New Mexico, South Dakota, Washington and West Virginia. Florida had its sodomy law thrown out by a state court five years ago, and the legislature has not rewritten it.

Despite this trend toward liberalization of sex laws, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled last March in a Virginia case that the old laws are constitutional and a state may use them to prohibit private homosexual acts between consenting adults.

Opponents of the laws claim the laws are unconstitutional and discriminatory, especially in the few states where they don't apply to married couples, but do to homosexuals and everyone else.

In most of the states the laws prohibit certain sex acts without regard to sexual inclination or marital status. Thus even married couples are legally barred from engaging in them.

Violation of the law represents a misdemeanor or felony and can be punishable by hundreds of dollars in fines and years in jail.

Critics say laws are unrealistic because the sex acts covered by sodomy laws are very common in the heterosexual population. They cite the Kinsey Report and other surveys that show that well over 50 per cent of heterosexual couples engage in them.

But the decision in the Supreme Court case, which homosexual and civil liberties groups expected to kill what they say are antiquated laws, came as a surprise. The groups say the decision has forced them to go after reform at the state level. They have run up against resistance in some states.

"We have about 18 states that no longer have these laws, even some in the Bible belt where you wouldn't expect it," says Bruce Voeller, executive director of the National Gay Task Force in New York City.

"These laws pertain every bit as much to heterosexual acts as homosexual acts," Voeller says. "Various surveys show that 60 to 85 per cent of the heterosexual population engages in these acts.

"The reality is that they are seldom enforced, but when they are, it's usually against gay men."

"Everyone should see that their privacy and individual rights are at stake in this matter, and we hope that through litigation and legislation the law will change."

But opposition to repeal or reform can be strong and stems from the religious heritage of a country that made sodomy punishable by death in the original colonies.

Asked about repeal, Atty. Gen. Verlon B. Roney of the Mormon State of Utah said: "Of course not. Utah would never go for something like that. Never. There is no possibility. No possibility."

One of the major challenges to the constitutionality of these laws comes from New York where the state appeals court is to hear the case of two men charged with sodomy. They were engaged in sex one night in a car parked out of public view near the Long Island Expressway. They were arrested.

A judge ruled the law unconstitutional on grounds that in New York sodomy is not a crime for a married couple. Her ruling was overturned and an appeal was filed.

The unusual and celebrated case of a married couple in Virginia shows that heterosexuals are not exempt from enforcement of the law.

A Virginia Beach couple was arrested and jailed in 1971 after one of their children came across pictures of them engaged in a prohibited sex act in their bedroom. The child showed the pictures at school, authorities were notified and the parents were arrested.

They were each sentenced to prison for up to two years.

Last May, a federal appeals court upheld their conviction.

Phillips Petroleum Is Charged In Tax Violations

TULSA, Okla. (AP) - The Phillips Petroleum Co., its board chairman and two former board chairmen have been charged with federal tax violations in indictment alleging a global conspiracy that used misleading entries, code names and international couriers.

The indictment accuses the defendants of raising about $3 million in secret transactions and concealing the money in Swiss bank deposits and as cash at company headquarters in Bartlesville, Okla.

The government charged that the money was not reported as income on tax returns filed for 1963 through 1971.

Individuals named in the charges were William F. Martin, Phillips board chairman; W.W. Keeler, the firm's chief executive from 1967 to 1972; and Stanley Learned, chief executive from 1964 to 1967.

Martin succeeded Keeler on Jan. 1, 1973.

Each was charged with conspiracy to defraud the government in reporting an and paying corporate income taxes.

In a statement from his office, Martin said the charges were unfounded.

"The case will be vigorously defended and I am confident that there will be complete vindication," Martin said.

Neither Keeler nor Learned were immediately available for comment.

The indictment said that as part of the alleged conspiracy, Phillips used "international couriers, code names, misleading entries, and false invoices and billings which would conceal from the Internal Revenue Service the true nature of the company's income and expenses."

There was no estimate of the amount of taxes the company allegedly evaded during the eight-year period.

Besides the conspiracy count, Martin was charged with three counts of assisting in the preparation of false tax returns for 1969 through 1971. The company also was charged with three counts of submitting false tax returns for those years, and the indictment to report a total of $581,000 in income during the that time.

The conspiracy count carries a maximum penalty of a $10,000 fine for the corporation and five years in prison and a $10,000 fine for each individual. The charge of aiding the preparation of a false tax return is punishable by as much as a $5,000 fine and three years in prison. The charge of filing false tax returns carries a maximum penalty of $5,000 fine for a corporation.
