★★★★★ SharRon to Dance For Rotarians

Hereford Rotary Club officials are expecting a great turnout of members for the regular weekly luncheon meeting Monday. The reasoning is simple—the program will feature a belly dancer!

SharRon, instructor and performer of the dance orientale (belly dance) will present the program, according to program chairman Mike Patrick. Now instructing in the Amarillo area, she has taught and performed in the Lubbock area and in New Mexico. She has studied under Scheherazade of Lubbock, Meena of Dallas, Ibrahim of New York, Dahlana of Chicago, Leona of California, and Phaedra of New York.

Patrick said the Rotary Club will join the Community Center director in co-sponsoring belly dancing lessons here in Hereford, with SharRon as the instructor. The classes will be held one night a week for six weeks, and further information is to be released Monday.

The Rotary Club has announced that the meeting will be open to the public Monday, at the Civic Club Center. However, non-members who plan to attend should contact Patrick or Roger Ruland to make reservations for lunch.

Ford Makes Last Energy Pitch

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Ford is making a final pitch for his energy programs, ranging from removal of price controls on fuels to stepped-up conservation measures.

FORD WAS expected today to spell out what he views as the nation's unfinished energy business in a special message to Congress.

A White House aide said the message would break no new ground, but would substantially be "an update" of Ford administration energy programs and proposals.

Ford's efforts to get his own energy program through the last Congress were unsuccessful. There is little possibility that a Democratic Congress waiting for Democratic President-elect Carter to take office on Jan. 20 will take any action on the proposals of an outgoing Republican President.

One of Ford's most controversial recent proposals is the removal of remaining price controls on gasoline.

ALTHOUGH FORD SEEMS certain to touch on this subject in his energy message, it was unclear whether he would couple the message with formal action to remove the controls.

He had been expected to order removal of controls earlier in the week, but the move was delayed amid growing opposition from congressional Democrats. They contended the step would result in higher prices for consumers at the gasoline pump.

Congress would have 15 days in which to block such a move.

Even if Ford chooses to announce the action today, he will have left office before the 15 days expire, meaning the order could be rescinded by Carter if he so desired.

FORD'S MESSAGE WILL contain many points he raised in his 1976 energy the present football program effective Aug. 31, 1977.

LOVELL'S MOTION was amended by Regent Irby Carruth of Canyon, who wished to set a five day period to raise enough money to keep the athletic program out of the red next year.

Lovell explained that he joined Carruth in the feeling that the money could be raised, and had left the door open for such a project by using the phrase, "or other long term funds become available."

In reply, Osborne asked that the motion be defeated, and stated, "Even if we don't get all of the money, I am against dropping football."

Osborne then made his motion to maintain football at whatever level is possible.

UNDER THE PROPOSAL which was adopted by the regents, a period of 30 days is allowed for enlisting sufficient outside financial support to offset the athletic deficit. If within that period, sufficient support is not received, alternate plans would be made to continue the entire athletic program, including football, so as to operate within a balanced budget for the next ensuing fiscal year.

Some regents opposed the Osborne motion on the grounds that it merely offers the WTSU athletic department "another one year deal," but the Osborne motion was passed with four favoring it and two voting against it. The move effectively postponed any decision on the university's athletic future for at least another 30 days.

Those regents voting for another delay in the decision were Don Curry of Fort Worth, Mrs. B.M. Sims of Wellington, Carruth and Osborne.

T.L. Roach of Amarillo and Lovell were opposed.

During the course of their meeting yesterday, the regents heard testimony from an Amarillo sportscaster who told the regents they were guilty of keeping information from the Panhandle residents who are vital in supporting the university. "Until you are more open, honest, and refrain from embarrassing them, the people of the Panhandle will not support your university," the sportscaster commented.

SHELTON STATED that he would appoint a steering committee comprised of interested citizens to head the fund-raising drive for WTSU, as the session came to an end yesterday.

The regents chairman said that names of the committee members would probably be announced next week.

Decision Delayed Another 30 Days

WTSU Regents Motion Prolongs Agony For Athletic Department

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Editor

"Today is the day we solve the problem. We cannot go through this annual agony," chairman Jack Shelton told the West Texas State University Board of Regents yesterday as they prepared to make a decision on the fate of the WTSU athletic program, and football in particular.

BUT HOURS later, Shelton's statement had proven anticlimactic, and the fate of sports at West Texas State University had once again been left hanging in the air.

The regents board adjourned from three days of meetings yesterday without making any long-term decisions concerning sports at the university.

Houston Regent Dee Osborne presented the motion that WTSU retain the total athletic program on its present level and allow 30 days for underwriting a projected deficit of $308,000.

Under Osborne's motion, if the deficit was not underwritten at the end of 30 days, the sports budget would be scaled down to the available funding level and the entire athletic program would be reduced to a level within the budget.

IN EFFECT, the Houston regent called for maintaining a football program at the Panhandle university, even if it must be maintained on a scaled-down level.

Earlier Thursday, Dumas Regent James Lovell made a motion to suspend football effective Aug. 31, "until the Legislature shall appropriate a sufficient amount of money to fund the West Texas State University Athletic Department budget, or other long-term funds become available."

Osborne's motion was actually a substitute for the one proposed by Lovell.

PRIOR TO MAKING his motion, Lovell pointed out that the appropriations bill prohibits a state university from obligating itself for expenditures for which money has not been allocated, or from unavailable funds.

Lovell explained that he made his motion to "keep as much of the athletic program on a high level as possible, without downgrading everything."

Lovell indicated "it would not be fair to our athletes, coaches or students to postpone a decision on this matter any longer. We feel WTSU and its students will be best served with a strong athletic program of which we can all be proud and at the same time we must live within the amount of money that is available to us."

Lovell then called for the suspension of

...named Western Heritage Woman

Mrs. Hill Recognized For Pioneer Efforts

EDITOR'S NOTE: In an effort to heighten local interest in the Cowgirl Hall of Fame and Western Heritage, recognition will be given regularly to a Deaf Smith County woman who has exemplified true pioneer spirit. Located temporarily in the County Library's basement, the Hall of Fame personnel urge residents to visit the shrine and view new displays there.

In patience, courage and endurance, women proved men's equal. In her ability to cope with strenuous conditions, she was again her recognized peer. In coming to this country through all the perils, privations and hardships of the longest journey ever made by a migratory people in search of homes, she marched side by side with her man.

MRS. O.G. HILL, being a woman like this, we dedicate this tribute to her.

Mrs. O.G. Hill (Bessie Foster) was a school teacher in Summerfield until her marriage to O.G. Hill in 1922. They were the parents of five children: Mrs. J.D. Neill, Mrs. Horace Whisler, O.G. Hill Jr., Mrs. R.A. Daniel Jr. and Foster Hill.

During her childhood days in New Mexico, she recalls with pride her heritage and part of a homesteaders' family, who lived in a part dug-out and kept warm with the traditional fuel of the plains pioneer, cow-chips. Their home had one room above the ground and the remainder in a dugout.

IN WORLD WAR II, when her sons were in military service, she rode horses and helped move cattle like a cowhand.

her main job was vaccinating the cattle. Mrs. Hill accepted bookkeeping as her duty in the family business and has done the bookwork since 1938.

In her experiences as a rancher's wife and as a trustee of the estate, Mrs. Hill says her biggest job was cooking for the cowboys. When they were working near enough to Hereford, the crews would come in for meals at the big house. In later years she often fixed food and took it to the pastures and stockpens where the cowboys worked.

A WORKING MEMBER of the Democratic Party, she has been precinct chairman several times, she was on the United Fund Board and the breadth of her interests are indicated by her memberships in the Pioneer Study Club and Order of Eastern Star, where she is not now so active but has been a past Worthy Matron and a Deputy Grand Matron. She is now a 50 year member.

Mrs. Hill is a member of the First Baptist Church, where she has always taught Sunday School classes. Special emphasis should be made for her work in the Hereford Garden Club. She has been Governor of District One, Texas Garden Club, and more numerous offices in the local and district clubs. She won a special achievement award in 1971 for 12 years of civic and garden club leadership. Her work as a member of the Child Welfare Board is to be highly commended.

Mrs. O.G. Hill has contributed much to our local heritage along with many other women. These are the women we are paying tribute to...true pioneer women.

Hill Terms Televised Executions 'Nonsense'

AUSTIN (AP) - Texas Atty. Gen. John Hill Thursday called proposals to televise executions "utter nonsense" and said he would appeal a federal judge's ruling that would permit executions to be filmed by the news media.

Hill said since U.S. District Court Judge William Taylor had made the decision to open up executions to all news media, only two television stations had indicated they would "afford themselves of this opportunity."

"protect" the public or lend more dignity to the death of a condemned prisoner, Hill said. "Both."

He acknowledged that "we must be careful and tender in our approach on this matter so we don't over-correct."

Comiendan Pre-Filed Bills Deal With Topics Ranging From Children To Metrics

AUSTIN (AP) - Parents could be fined $200 for leaving children under 13 years old unattended in automobiles under a bill filed by Rep. Tony Polumbo, D-Houston.

POLUMBO'S BILL is among about 350 House measures now filed in advance of the legislative session that begins next Tuesday.

It would require a person 15 and older to be in a parked car any time there are children left in it.

Other pre-filed bills include: -HB173, by Rep. Joe Allen, D-Baytown, creating the office of state ombudsman, who would investigate citizen complaints about administrative acts of state agencies.

-HB176, by Rep. Gene Green, D-Houston, enabling school districts to commission peace officers.

-HB180, BY REP. JOHN Whitmire, D-Houston, prohibiting pay toilets.

-HB185, by Rep. Anthony Hall, D-Houston, raising the state minimum wage from $1.25 to $2.30 per hour.

-HB217, by Rep. Dan Kubiak, D-Rockdale, reducing the school year from 180 to 171 days.

-HB218, by Rep. Frank Gaston, R-Dallas, providing a mandatory two-year extension of prison sentences for crimes committed with guns.

-HB229, BY REP. BILL Sullivant, D-Gainesville, prohibiting charges for directory assistance telephone calls.

-HB276, by Rep. Frank Madia, D-San Antonio, providing state compensation for persons injured in violent crimes, with a special fund to be set up from fines assessed persons convicted of committing such crimes.

-HB297, by Rep. Tom Massey, D-San Angelo, authorizing school districts to levy student fees for such things as band uniforms and optional field trips but not for required workbooks and lab supplies that do not become a pupil's property.

-HB300, by Rep. Kenneth Vaughn, D-Garland, setting up a Metric System Advisory Council to help businesses, educators, public agencies and others make the transition to the metric system of measurement.

-HB301, BY REP. SAM Hudson, D-Dallas, requiring all public schools to offer "instruction in racial tolerance."

-HB312, by Rep. Al Brown, D-San Antonio, requiring proof that a public school pupil is proficient in reading, writing and mathematics before advancing to seventh grade and before graduating from high school.

-HB313, by Brown, reducing teacher-pupil ratios from the present standard of one to 25 to 1:15 for kindergarten, 1:19 for grades 1 through 3; and 1:21 for grades 4-6. The current ratio would apply for grades seven and up.

-HB334, BY REP. RON Waters, D-Houston, automatically restoring voting rights for first-time felons after their release from prison.

-HB341, by Rep. Chris Semos, D-Dallas, allowing the use of oral confessions as evidence in criminal trials.

Amarillo News Director Would 'Definitely Show' Execution

HOUSTON (AP) - The Houston Post said Thursday a survey by the newspaper shows managers of television stations around the state would be reluctant to film executions.

The decision was placed before them this week when a federal judge in Dallas ruled that executions could be filmed by the media.

The Post said it determined in its poll of major television markets that only Ben Boyett, news director for KAMR-TV in Amarillo, would definitely broadcast an execution.

"I just hate to look back 10 years from now and say I was too chicken to do it," Boyett was quoted as saying.

Harry Neuhardt of KFDA-TV in Amarillo, called the decision "our toughest in years."

"There is no question," said Neuhardt, "that it would command a huge audience. But there is a question of how far you can go to get an audience."

Boyett said he felt like he would "have to go out on a limb."

"I understand 75 per cent of the people in Texas believe capital punishment a deterrent to crime," Boyett said. "As a news director I am bound to exploit stories people are interested in."

Most of the executives contacted said they would first study the film but said they would not include it in a newscast. Instead, they said they would use it in some sort of documentary fashion where viewers could decide before hand whether to watch.

Walt Hawver of Houston's KTRK-TV, said, "I can't conceive of any circumstances where we would put it into a newscast. The idea repulses me."

Ray Miller of KPRC-TV in Houston said he could not conceive of a televised execution.

"I feel we are still a long way from having an execution," Miller said.

Milt Weiss of Houston's KHOU-TV said it has not been ruled out but no decision has been made.

Jim Logan, news director at KRIS-TV in Corpus Christi, said, "I think people would be nuts to want to watch one."

Goldwater Swears Off Fundraising Efforts

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) - Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., angered over what he termed a ranks discourtesy, said he will never raise funds again for the Republican Party, the Arizona Republic reported in its Thursday editions.

The newspaper said Goldwater was left out of a Republican leadership meeting at the White House Wednesday. President Ford met with former California Gov. Ronald Reagan, former Texas Gov. John Connally and Vice President Nelson Rockefeller to discuss a new party chairman.

The 1964 Republican presidential nominee said he was upset with the discourtesy.

"This has happened before," he said. "And I got word to the President what I thought about it."

Goldwater said his defeat in 1964 triggered the idea of consultation among top party leaders.

"I saw Ford after his defeat and he asked me what I thought about resuming those conferences," Goldwater said. "I told him I thought it was a heck of a good idea, and that was the last word I heard out of him."

Goldwater said it was insulting to a former presidential nominee to be excluded when party leadership is discussed.

He noted that Connally has never been nominated for office since he changed from Democrat to Republican.

"Reagan-well, maybe it was Reagan who objected to my being there. I don't blame him if he did, after all I came out Ford," Goldwater said.

"From now on I'm just going to run my own show. I'm not going to quit the Republican Party because I'm a Republican; but I'm not going to go out and raise any more money," he said.

Goldwater said the failure to show courtesy to a former presidential nominee is "a typical example" of the GOP leaders' failure to do what is necessary to maintain the party.

Goldwater said he has brought more money to the party coffers than Connally, Rockefeller and others combined. He said the party treasurer has told him nobody is as important in raising funds.

"But I'm not going to help them anymore," he said. He extended this to the Senate campaign committee, but indicated he might lend a hand to some individual members "on a very selective basis."

Ann Landers

Dentist Informs Kin

DEAR ANN: I'm a struggling young dentist who needs your help. The problem: Free-loading relatives. Please don't say, "Tell 'em yourself." I don't have the nerve. Just let me say something through your column to these folks.

DEAR RELATIVE: The rent doesn't stop just because you are sitting in my not-yet-paid-for chair, and the dental lab doesn't forget to send a bill for the gold I just put in your mouth. I think of you as a patient when you are in my office, and I wish you would think of me as a dentist—not a nephew, a cousin, brother-in-law or uncle.

I would be happy to give you a discount if you asked for one, but please don't expect me to work for nothing just because we happen to be related. My education cost me thousands of dollars. I had to borrow the money. I'm trying hard to get out of debt and it isn't easy. The only way I'll make it is by collecting for my work.

Right now seven relatives are due for a six-month check-up. If you could print this letter, Ann, sometime early in January, I'd be grateful.—Young Dentist In Your Town, U.S.A.

DEAR DENTIST: Here's your letter. And now, since you don't have the nerve to tell 'em yourself, will you please FIND the nerve to have copies of this column made and send it along with a "discounted" bill to every relative who sits in your not-yet-paid-for chair? It's the only way to go.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I've never written to you before but I couldn't resist commenting on your answer to "Ignored In San Jose."

It will be a deep-freeze day in hell when I put my in-laws ahead of my parents. I respect my wife's mother and father but my own Mom and Dad come first—after my wife, of course. Please don't print that corny poem again that says, "A son is a son till he takes a wife, but a daughter is a daughter all of her life." It's not true.—A.S.

DEAR A.S.: About 400 others wrote to tell me the same thing. Nice to know there are so many loyal sons around. You made a lot of mothers happy today.

DEAR ANN: The other night I did a terrible thing. I stood a guy up. The fellow is nice enough but before he came to get me I suddenly realized I didn't want to go out with him. I wrote a note, tacked it to the door and went to visit a girlfriend.

I'm a college senior and know darned well what I did was rotten. It was also cheap, cowardly and deceitful. I should have said no when he asked me out instead of saying yes and ruining both his evening and mine. But when a fellows says, "Would you like to go out with me?" it seems awfully cruel to say "No, I wouldn't."

Do you have any suggestions on how to politely refuse a date without inventing a phony boyfriend?—Ashamed of Me

DEAR ASHAMED: If you don't want to go out with a fellow, simply say, "I've got to cut back on the social life and bring my grades up—but thanks for asking." ***

Are your parents too strict? Hard to reach? Ann Landers's booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How to Get More Freedom," could help you bridge the generation gap. Send 50 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

Crude Could Move In Four States

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—State Energy Administrator John O'Leary says that presently, New Mexico can see only benefits from a plan to transport Alaskan crude oil by a pipeline through four states.

Sohio Transportation Co. is proposing to move 700,000 barrels of crude oil by tanker from Valdez, Alaska, to Long Beach, Calif., then over a 1,026-mile pipeline from Long Beach to refineries in Midland, Tex.

O'Leary, speaking Wednesday at a Bureau of Land Management hearing, said the plan was the most economically feasible and environmentally safe method, with potential environmental problems confined largely to California.

O'Leary also noted Sohio is offering to divert up to 50,000 barrels of oil a day from the pipeline to New Mexico, when and if an oil refinery is built in the state.

The Energy Resources Board has asked a private firm to conduct a study on a possible refinery.

"But for the moment, we can only see benefits to the state," he said. "And in the best interests of conservation, we feel some use ought to be made of the El Paso Natural Gas Co. pipeline."

He was one of a handful of persons who addressed the hearing, which is part of a series of public hearings being held in the areas involved in the proposal.

The plan would mean building 234 miles of new pipeline in California and Texas, and converting existing pipeline in New Mexico, Arizona, California and Texas.

Only about seven miles of new pipeline would be added in New Mexico, the BLM said, because El Paso Natural Gas Co. is proposing to abandon one of its westbound natural gas pipelines for conversion to an eastbound crude oil pipeline.

The Federal Power Commission would have to agree to that plan.

Let Faith Help You Start The NEW YEAR Right

The holidays are over and life has returned to normal. Now is the time to launch yourself into a momentum of accomplishment that can carry you through the entire year. For example, write that letter you've been postponing. Clean out that closet and give all those good clothes you haven't worn for a long time to some charitable organization. Help someone who is ill or disabled by lending a hand with the household chores. Then, in addition to all the other worthwhile projects that will occur to you, help the Church of your choice in any way that is needed; and begin attending it regularly if you are not already doing so. It will give you the best possible start on the new year.

"This month shall be unto you the beginning of months: it shall be the first month of the year to you."
—Exodus 12:2

He has half the deed done, who has made a beginning.

ALICE RIEVES
...reaches weight goal

Woman Earns KOPS Title

Alice Rieves has qualified as a member of Keeping Off Pounds Sensibly (KOPS) after shedding 46 lbs. through the Taking Off Pounds Sensibly (TOPS) program here.

Mrs. Rieves joined TOPS #576 in February of 1975 and, through the encouragement of fellow members, reached her weight loss goal. On Sept. 14, 1976, she was classified as a member of KOPS In Waiting (KIW). She maintained a stable weight for 13 weeks in order to join KOPS on Dec. 14. Mrs. Rieves is now 6 lbs. away from her ideal weight.

Anyone wishing more information about the TOPS program may contact the program leader, Janelle Davison, 122 Ave. E, telephone 364-0899. TOPS #576 meets at 9 a.m. each Tuesday in the Community Center.

The Wa Ca Tawasl Camp Fire group met Tuesday at Temple Baptist Church Fellowship Hall for their regular meeting.

During the business meeting new officers were elected. Serving as president will be Sandra Rodriguez. Teresa Carr is new vice president and secretary is Tanya Jones.

The girls began working on table decorations for the Father-Daughter Banquet.

Refreshments were served by Lauri High to the following members: Norma Cervantez, Teresa Carr, Rosie Garza, Shirley Morrison, Gloria De La Paz, Karen Johnson, Sandra Rodriguez, Elma Turrubiates and Tanya Jones.

Adult leaders are Betty Jones and Shirley Carr.

Benefitting From Gift

Vincent Carr, a resident of King's Manor, sampled the comfort of a new convalescent chair, donated to Deaf Smith General Hospital by the Hospital Auxiliary. Looking after her patient is Karen Wilcox, R.N., while Grace Covington is present on behalf of the Hospital Auxiliary.

In law an "Act of God" is any occurrence not caused by human negligence or intervention. It is often referred to by the French term "force majeure" or the Latin phrase "via major."

Potluck Meal To Be Served To Association

Legislation concerning women will be the subject of letters to be written by the Association of the W's during a potluck luncheon tomorrow at the Community Center. The meeting will begin at 11:30 a.m.

The Women Who Want to be Women will express their opinions on various issues in letters to their Congressmen. Also, final plans will be made for the Association's next meeting, scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Community Center. Tom Burdett, local attorney, will be the guest speaker then.

The history and implications of the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA) will be analyzed by Burdett. The public is invited to attend Tuesday's forum.

January Christened Blood Donor Month

Jerry Henderson, Administrative Director of Coffee Memorial Blood Center, today has been notified by the American Association of Blood Banks (AABB) in Washington, D.C. that President Gerald R. Ford has declared January "National Blood Donor Month."

The American Association of Blood Banks of which Coffee Memorial Blood Center is a member, initiated this tradition several years ago to publicly thank the volunteer donors who give of themselves for those in need. The observance of the National Volunteer Blood Donor Month comes at a time of the year when, due to the holiday season, blood donations decrease and shortages are possible. "Blood needs go on for 365 days a year, never take a holiday."

According to President Ford: "Blood Donor Month gives all Americans an annual opportunity to honor the fellow citizens who have voluntarily given blood so that others might live. This gift is easy and painless. Yet it represents one of the supreme acts of human compassion and generosity. It has earned them the thanks of many grateful recipients and of a nation whose well-being they have served.

"I urge every American to join in building an all-voluntary system of blood donation. It is in the finest American tradition of humanitarian concern for those in need."

Jerry Henderson of Coffee Memorial Blood Center said: "We are particularly grateful to the citizens of Deaf Smith County for their support of this vital medical service and of our blood bank. However, only 3-5 per cent of the eligible population actually donates and we need to broaden our volunteer donor base both locally and across the country."

"It is our hope that the White House proclamation will illustrate both our gratitude and our continuing need for volunteer donors."

Coffee Memorial Blood Center services Deaf Smith hospital with all their blood and blood components.

The blood mobile will be at the Community Center on January 26 between 4 p.m. and 6 p.m.

Singers To Present Performance Today

The Heritage Singers of Howard Payne University will be arriving in Hereford today to present a concert this evening at First Christian Church here. The public is invited to the performance, which is scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m.

Internationally known, the Singers are on an eight-day tour of three states, including Colorado, Texas and New Mexico. The group's conductor is David Keith, director of choral activities at the university.

Through the sponsorship of the USO, the Heritage Singers have toured Greenland, Iceland and Newfoundland. They were one of five groups to perform last year at Freedom '76, a conference of young adults.

This summer, the Singers will travel to Ottawa, Canada to participate in an international choral festival.

The second largest Baptist University in Texas, Howard Payne University was founded in 1889. The school continues to stress the importance of academic excellence in a Christian setting.

Convalescent Chair Given By Volunteers

Due to the efforts of the local Hospital Auxiliary, a new convalescent reclining chair has been purchased for Deaf Smith General Hospital.

The chair can be placed in three reclining positions and is equipped with a tray for eating, writing and other conveniences of the patient. The recliner is on wheels, providing complete mobility.

The Auxiliary is now made up of 30 volunteer women, who give of their time to make a patient more comfortable during a stay in the hospital. Their services include reading aloud, writing letters, running errands or visiting patients.

The task force also supplies the surgical and intensive care waiting rooms with coffee. They offer a photography session for parents of newborns and plan to provide medical record books for parents to keep a complete history of their child's medications. These record books, to be sold for $2, are the size of a check book and will serve for the lifetime of a youngster.

The Hospital Auxiliary volunteers sponsored the first free blood pressure clinic here and have assisted with later ones. They have stocked a gift cabinet at the hospital with a limited supply of toiletry items, stationary and other small things.

For fund-raising projects, the Auxiliary held a bake and crafts sale this fall and a garage sale is planned during the month of March. The Auxiliary is always open to new members. Membership dues are $3 per year and the next meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Jan. 24.

Be A Friend, Have A Friend

By JoAn Dwyer, Exec. Dir. Big Brothers-Big Sisters of Hereford

COMMUNICATING FEELINGS THROUGH GESTURES

In teaching a child he is lovable and worthwhile, we not only use words, but gestures also. Remember to touch, pat, put an arm around, tickle, and whatever else might be appropriate and feel natural at the time.

Also, be particularly aware of your facial expressions. Anytime you are talking with a child, he is watching you intently. (Children watch even when you're not talking!)

Do this exercise and remember how it feels. Look Directly into a mirror.

(1) Imagine you are talking to a child without saying a word. By using your face, make him know you are proud of him and love him. To help you do this, imagine that he is giving you a present he had made himself.

(2) Using your face only, show him you are annoyed or angry with him. To help you, imagine you have just discovered peanut butter and jelly all over your new couch!

Which one of these was easier for you?

Unfortunately, we all have shown anger and annoyance more often. We assume children know we love them and are proud of them. Because of this assumption, these feelings are more difficult to communicate consciously.

But with practice, we can learn to communicate pride and love with ease and help the children around us feel worthwhile and lovable.

Defending Champs See Other Side Of The Coin

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

After sitting on top of the basketball world last season, Bobby Knight seems to be carrying it on his shoulders this year. "We just aren't getting the job done," said the troubled coach of Indiana University. "We have a lot of areas where we need considerable improvement."

- a dramatic turnabout from last year's 32-0 record. "We are not a great team," says Knight, "and teams that aren't great are going to get hurt some time." There has been internal strife on the defending national champions as well. Some players have walked off the squad and even All-American center Kent Benson has not been spared Knight's acid tongue. Purdue Coach Fred Schaus, had a revenge motive Thursday night. He remembered a 104-71 beating from Indiana two seasons ago. "What a difference in two years!" Schaus exclaimed. "It was a real juicy win for us, especially when we think of the way they rubbed it in two years ago." Elsewhere in college basketball, top-ranked San Francisco blitzed Portland 95-73; No. 5 Michigan routed Northwestern 102-65; No. 11 Arizona edged San Diego State 80-77, and No. 20 Memphis State beat Oklahoma City 82-72. A 16-point scoring burst in the first half, sparked by Walter Jordan and Bruce Parkinson, was the impetus Purdue needed to put away Indiana. The loss snapped a 37-game winning streak in the Big Ten play for the Hoosiers. Winford Boynes scored 20 points, leading San Francisco past Portland. The Dons, opening their West Coast Athletic Conference season, shot 55 per cent from the field and had a 46-38 rebounding edge. Rickey Green scored 20 points and John Robinson 18, leading Michigan over Northwestern. It was a one-sided game throughout as the Wolverines won their 14th straight over Northwestern, dating back to 1969. Herman Harris scored 22 points and Gary Harrison's basket in the last two minutes put Arizona ahead to stay in the Wildcats' victory over San Diego State. Dexter Reed and James Bradley each scored 24 points, pacing Memphis State's triumph over Oklahoma City. Reed Bradley combined for eight points in the first four minutes of the second half as the Tigers moved into a 56-46 lead and Oklahoma City could get no closer. It other games, Audie Matthews scored 28 points as Illinois beat Ohio State 89-72; Greg Kleser's 20 points led Michigan State over Wisconsin 84-61; Mike Schultz scored 21 points as Houston whipped Houston Baptist 111-79.

Bucks Losing Less, Enjoying It More

By The Associated Press

There is a strange, new feeling in the camp of Milwaukee Bucks - optimism. "Basketball has become quite enjoyable lately," says forward Bob Dandridge. The reason, of course, is that Milwaukee now is winning instead of losing. The Bucks, who had a miserable 4-25 record earlier this season, now have won seven of their last nine National Basketball Association games. The latest was a 119-111 decision over the Buffalo Braves Thursday night, and the Bucks attribute their sudden success to an improved defense. "Our centers have been giving excellent help switching off," says Dandridge, "and we have the speed, quickness and basketball knowledge to play this kind of defense. It suits our personnel perfectly." In other NBA games the Cleveland Cavaliers defeated the Golden State Warriors 129-100 and the Indiana Pacers trimmed the Atlanta Hawks 103-95. Dandridge scored 14 of his game-high 27 points in a third-quarter surge. The Braves, led by John Shumate and Adrian Dantley, had whittled a 14-point first quarter deficit to three points early in the second half. However, Dandridge and Quinn Buckner sank field goals around a basket by Buffalo's John Gianelli, the Dandridge fired in Milwaukee's next six baskets as the Bucks recovered to lead 79-68. Four baskets, two on rebounds, by rookie Scott Lloyd, put the Bucks ahead 89-72 going into the final 12 minutes, and they expanded their lead to 18 points with 11 minutes to play. Cavaliers 129, Warriors 100. Austin Carr spearheaded a second-period rally as Cleveland that ended Golden State's four-game winning string. Carr scored 22 of his 28 points in the first half, dropping in 16 in the second period as the Cavaliers took a 63-44 advantage. Pacers 103, Hawks 95. Billy Knight scored a season-high 41 points, 14 in the third period when he matched Atlanta's team total, leading Indiana past the Hawks. Knight got eight of his points when the Pacers outscored the Hawks 16-2 during one stretch of the third quarter and went on to their fourth consecutive victory.

Coach Mayfield Feels Residents Will Respond

CANYON (AP) - West Texas State football coach Gene Mayfield says he believes that Texas Panhandle residents will respond to the financial crisis in the university's athletic program now that they know the seriousness of the problem. "Even though a considerable amount of money needs to be raised, I am encouraged," Mayfield said Thursday night after WTSU regents voted to keep the school's football program alive for 30 days while attempts are made to raise more than $300,000. "We got a strong expression from the people of the Panhandle that they wanted football here," Mayfield said. "Now that the people realize that it's a do or die situation, I think we have a chance to raise the money." The board said that if the projected 1977-78 deficit of $308,000 cannot be raised in 30 days the entire athletic department will be run on a reduced basis, a move that would drop the football team from major college to small college status. WTSU regents, Amarillo businessmen and area towns will attempt to raise the money, some of it through the underwriting of season tickets. Before Thursday's two-hour meeting, a special committee met Tuesday and Wednesday at the school to obtain reaction to the possible elimination of football, with several area businessmen pledging to underwrite season tickets. But regent T.L. Roach of Amarillo said 15,436 tickets would need to be sold to obliterate any projected deficit. Under Mayfield, who also is athletic director, the Buffaloes have compiled only a 24-30-2 record in their last six seasons.

Herd Away Tonight

The Hereford Whitefaces travel to Berger tonight to mix it up with the Bulldogs, one of the Panhandle's best basketball teams. The Herd will be trying to reverse a 91-74 loss to Berger last December 7, a setback which ended a five-game winning streak for the Faces. Kelly Kitchens (16.8), James Mays (16.6), and Kenneth Mercer (10.5) will lead coach Barry Arwine's troops into the fray. On defense the Herd will be hard pressed to put the clamps on Mike Jackson, who had 25 points in the Bulldog win earlier. But, three other Bulldogs hit for double figures in that contest also. Ricky Dickson scored 19, while Tom Perry hit for 17, and Jason Welch had 16. "They might be the best team in the Panhandle," Arwine said earlier this week. "We just want to play well against them." The Hereford junior varsity will also play the Bulldogs tonight as they try to improve their 10-2 mark. One of those two losses came at the hands of the Bulldogs in a 76-64 decision December 7.

Super Bowl Serious Business Off Field

BY KEN PETERS
Associated Press Writer

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) - It may only be a game, but Super Bowl XI is serious business off the field - $105 million worth, promoters say. The trappings of the Minnesota-Oakland pro football championship the banquets, the cocktail parties, the endless string of press conferences, are straight out of Ringling Bros., Barnum and Bailey. The most impressive numbers are neither the passing statistics of Raiders quarterback Ken Stabler nor the rushing totals of Vikings running back Chuck Foreman. The big statistics are people and dollars. "We estimate a total economic impact using a multiplier of five-of-between $85 million and $105 million," said Chris Hills, an official with the Los Angeles Convention and Visitors Bureau. More than 103,000 fans are expected for the game at the Rose Bowl.

About 75 million more from Japan to Turkey will watch on television. "It's Super Bowl fever at its highest pitch," said Hills. The National Football League expects to gross $5.5 million from broadcast revenue and ticket sales, but that is before expenses, which are considerable. The NFL is throwing a $75,000 cocktail party. It is paying $112,000 in rent for the Rose Bowl. The cost of incidentals such as plane tickets and lodging for the teams, and players' shares, run the total to some $2.5 million in expenses. Not to be outdone, the National Broadcasting Co., which will televise the game, is throwing a breakfast for 1,000 featuring 10 varieties of omelettes. The tab may hit $75,000. A Japanese firm is flying in 120 of its executives from Tokyo for the game. An American company, unable to find suitable lodging for its corporate officials in Los Angeles, is billeting them in Las Vegas and flying them in for the game. While corporate budgets are on loose rein for the Super Bowl, there also are plenty of free-lance high rollers in town for the game. A wealthy football fan from the Midwest, spending "Super Week" in a plush Los Angeles hotel, is keeping a limousine on 24-hour call in case he gets word of a lively Super Bowl party still going at 4 a.m. In this case, "Super Week" was kicked off by another game-the Rose Bowl. The super spending is providing the Los Angeles area a veritable bonanza. All major hotels in Los Angeles are booked for the weekend. The luxurious new Bonaventure, 15 miles from the stadium, has been sold out for Super Bowl weekend for a year.

Regalado's 66 Nabs Phoenix Lead

BY BOB GREEN
AP Golf Writer

PHOENIX (AP) - The new clubs didn't work so well. But the old putter did and more than offset the problems caused by a new driver and a new, stronger set of irons as Victor Regalado took a one-stroke lead after the first round of the $200,000 Phoenix Open, the kickoff tournament on the pro golf tour. "It's going to take some time to get used to the new clubs," the 28-year-old bachelor from Tijuana, Mexico said Thursday after he'd one-putted 10 times on his way to a five-under-par 66 that staked him to the lead for only the third time in his four-year tour career. "I hit it all over the place, just everywhere. But my putter saved me." It did indeed. He took the lead with a 45-foot birdie putt on the 17th hole at the 6,726 yard Phoenix Country Club course. He dropped two others of about 25 feet, one of them for par. He one-putted six of the first seven greens. And he made an eight-footer to save bogey on the 15th, after hitting it into the bleachers. Just one stroke back at 67 were U.S. Open champion Jerry Pate, his close friend George Burns and Danny Edwards, who said he's been taking lessons from his brother David, a member of the NCAA champion Oklahoma State team. Larry Nelson had a 68 while Tom Weiskopf and PGA national champ Dave Stockton were in a large group at 69. The scores were unusually high on this desert layout that often yields some of the lowest numbers on the tour. Unusual desert conditions - cold weather and pools of casual water left by some rare rains - were the chief problems. Johnny Miller was one of the casualties. The pre-tourney favorite, winner of five of the last six PGA events in Arizona, twice a 61-shooter on this course, blew to an unhappy 74. "The first round usually is the key to my tournament," Miller said. "All the iron shots were kind of mushy from the rain. But that's nobody's fault. I just played bad. And my putting was awful." Harold Wheeler was elected

Kids Incorporated Holds Elections

Members of Deaf Smith County Kids, Incorporated met in the Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room Wednesday evening January 5, and showed their confidence in president Chuck Cosper by electing him to his fourth term in that office. In addition, the group reelected Mack Tubb to his fourth term as Secretary-treasurer and Rusty Hendricks to his fourth term as vice-president and equipment manager. Jerry Don George, Hereford High School principal, was elected president-elect for 1978 and several others were elected to head various divisions or leagues within the organization. Elected as directors were Sid Killough and Opal Walterseheid, while Kenny Hagar was elected member at large. Harold Wheeler was elected president of the Boxing Club, while Charles Gresham was elected president of the girls' Pony League, Marcie Hughes was elected president of the girls' Bronco League, Terry Russell was elected president of the boys Pony League, and Gene Combs was elected president of the boys Bronco League. The Kids Incorporated Board of Directors meet at 7:30 p.m. the first Wednesday of each month in the Flame Room, with the public invited to attend all meetings.

If you are currently renting, and have opted not to make an investment in a home, consider some of these facts:

- A. Your rent payment is not tax deductible (interest & taxes on a mortgage payment are)
- B. If you were paying for a home at $250.00/mo (1500.00/yr.) your home would increase in value approximately $1200.00 or a 30% annual return.
- C. You would begin accumulating an equity in your home simply through appreciation.

Dr. Lamb Depression is only a symptom

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB - Your column on depression reminded me of my late mother who died in 1950. She had been to many doctors. My father, at a calculated risk, undermined her confidence in the diagnostic ability of her own doctor. Her doctors all prescribed "rest and relaxation." Many months passed while she experienced symptoms of fatigue like the lady you wrote about. In about two weeks Dad's doctor made his diagnosis and a biopsy confirmed Hodgkin's disease.

Based on this I would take issue with your statement that if the lady had already had several examinations, it was unlikely she had a disease but rather a depression. Mom's doctors did not pick up her disease.

DEAR READER - Most people think their doctor is great but are not so sure about those other doctors. Diagnoses are missed. Even with all the best tools of modern medicine at hand the diagnosis is not always easy. Your mother's case of Hodgkin's disease may have finally progressed to the point that swollen glands were large enough to be felt or seen on an X ray, thereby making it easier to make a diagnosis. Time permits a disease to become more evident. A fever of unknown origin may be easily explained after a typical rash develops. Quite frankly, medicine is not as easy in some cases as TV shows might lead one to believe.

You may be interested in how many letters I received similar to yours. Each letter writer was sure I was wrong about the lady having a depression and each made his or her own diagnosis. These included Hodgkin's disease, myasthenia gravis, tuberculosis, kidney disease, disseminated lupus erythematosus (a rare disease), liver disease, emphysema and several others. Now all of these can't be right. What does this mean? It means that chronic fatigue is a symptom, not a diagnosis.

emphysema. I was particularly struck with an Air Force officer who had decreased exercise capacity and had a long history of trouble in physical performance but was not diagnosed. He actually had emphysema and because of his inability to increase oxygen to his body was limited as to how much work he would do.

You can have fatigue from diabetes, particularly if it is advanced and untreated. Heat exhaustion will cause fatigue; so will cancer, tuberculosis and anemia. The advertisers knew what they were doing when they coined the term, "tired blood."

Depression is one of many causes for fatigue. When a fairly complete examination fails to reveal any evidence of disease of any organ system it must be included as one of the possibilities. Often it is the real cause. My point remains that unexplained fatigue is often a manifestation of depression and a complete evaluation of the symptom of fatigue requires consideration of depression as a possible cause. Psychiatrists do not make such a diagnosis just because the other physicians

DEAR DR. LAMB - My husband and I are each 50 years old. He is on a low cholesterol diet which I also use. Now we are both anemic. My question is how can we both get 18 milligrams of iron daily when the greatest sources of iron are in organ foods.

DEAR READER - There are five milligrams of iron in one cup of cooked mature bean seeds and four milligrams in a cup of cooked spinach. Neither contains cholesterol. Cook in iron pots and skillets. You'll get some iron from them.

Finally, I don't see why people with special considerations for their diet, as your husband has, need worry so much about getting all the vitamins and minerals they need from food intake. There is nothing wrong with taking one of the standard daily vitamin tablets with iron that you can get at the grocery store. Check the label and you'll find that those with iron usually contain 18 milligrams of iron. That could certainly make life easier for you.

Incidentally, I think anyone with an anemia should find out what is causing it. Is it really because of an iron deficiency? Is it another form of anemia that requires a different treatment, or is it related to an important blood loss? Your doctor can find out for you.

Plan Ahead When Packing Lunchboxes

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) - A lunch packed to eat away from home can be attractive as well as tasty and nutritious, says an Extension staff assistant in nutrition at Oklahoma State University.

"When packing a lunch be a creative artist so your meal will appeal to your taste and to your eyes," advises Jeannie Sneed. "To do this, cut sandwiches into designs or use garnishes."

Planning ahead and using the freezer can help in the preparation of lunchbox meals, she adds. If you're having roast beef on Tuesday dinner, plan to have roast beef sandwiches Thursday noon from the leftovers. Put the sandwiches into the lunchbox from the freezer and they will be thawed out by lunchtime.

To avoid food poisoning when taking a lunch, keep cold foods cold and hot foods hot, she warns. Freezing food and putting it into the lunchbox just before leaving home is one way to keep food safe. Vacuum containers also keep foods hot or cold.

And for a special surprise, why not add a note, a poem, puzzle or cartoon to make take-along lunches exciting, she suggests.

Lawyers Confident That Execution Will Be Stayed

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) - Lawyers opposed to capital punishment will meet to map strategy for delaying Gary Gilmore's Jan. 17 execution, and one of them says he is sure they will succeed.

"I feel confident that Mr. Gilmore will live beyond the 17th," said Jinks Dabney, an attorney with the American Civil Liberties Union ACLU, who said the meeting would be held Monday.

But the lawyer for the 36-year-old condemned killer said Wednesday his client was pleased that there have been no recent attempts to delay the execution he says he prefers to more time in prison.

Ronald Stanger said Gilmore was "in the best frame of mind I've seen him in since I've represented him. In a way, he's happy."

Gilmore convicted of killing a Provo motel clerk during a robbery last summer, was ordered by District Court Judge J. Robert Bullock to face a firing squad at sunrise one week from next Monday. Two earlier execution dates were stayed. His would be the first execution in the United States since 1967.

The Utah and U.S. Supreme courts have declined to hear appeals to stop the execution. The governor's power was exhausted in a previous stay.

But Dabney said the ACLU and lawyers for other Death Row inmates were "not going to give up, and a lot of us feel there is an excellent chance of getting a stay in this case."

"After all, his execution will affect one heck of a lot of people, especially others on Death Row."

He said some lawyers feel Utah's death penalty law could be found unconstitutional because it lacks a provision for automatic appeal upon conviction.

Dabney said he thought it was still possible Gilmore would "change his mind about dying," because of his love for Nicole Barrett, 20, who has been confined in a mental institution since joining him in an unsuccessful suicide pact on Nov. 16.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Friday, January 7, the seventh day of 1977. There are 358 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1953, President Harry Truman announced in his State of the Union Message that the United States had developed a hydrogen bomb.

On this date:
In 1584, the Gregorian Calendar was adopted by Roman Catholic states of the Holy Roman Empire.
In 1800, the 13th American President, Millard Fillmore, was born in a log cabin in Cayuga County, N.Y.
In 1938, Joseph Kennedy was appointed U.S. Ambassador to Britain.
In 1965, Indonesia withdrew from the United Nations.

In 1966, the government of Lebanon resigned after an Israeli commando raid at the Beirut airport.

In 1971, it was announced that 4,200 Americans had been killed in combat in Vietnam in 1970. It was the smallest number since 1965.

Ten years ago: Bloody fighting was raging between Chinese Red Guards and workers in Nanking, China.

Five years ago: India resisted U.S. pressure and granted full diplomatic recognition to Communist China.

One year ago: The Italian Cabinet led by Prime Minister Aldo Moro resigned after the Socialist Party had withdrawn its parliamentary support.

Today's birthday: Former governor Claude Kirk of Florida is 51.

Rabies Epidemic In Laredo Has Health Officials Worried

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) - An epidemic of rabies in dogs exists in the Laredo area and the long incubation period of the disease indicates it will spread further, a local health department administrator says.

Jose L. Gonzalez of the Laredo-Webb County Health Department said Wednesday, "We have had 20 rabies cases in dogs confirmed since Nov. 24. Certainly 20 cases is an epidemic. Because of the nature of this disease, the incubation period of 20-60 days, the tremendous possibility of secondary infection means we are going to be facing quite a lot more cases before this thing is through."

The federal Center for Disease Control (CDC) in Atlanta says the Mexican border, where Laredo is located, is practically the only area of the United States where rabies in dogs has not been eliminated.

Gonzalez said the 20 rabid dogs all have died. Despite an order by police to "shoot to kill" any dog acting suspiciously, only two of the rabid animals were shot by police.

Rabies in humans mean almost certain death for the victim. The CDC says there are only two documented survivors by humans who have contracted the disease before a painful series of shots could be started.

In Laredo, seven persons, including two children under 10, have been bitten by rabid dogs and 14 other persons have been exposed. All are either finished with treatment or are taking it now.

Most cases in the dogs are "dumb rabies," meaning they usually don't bite, but are drooling all the time. This saliva has the virus in it and since the dogs give the appearance of choking on something, many owners put their hands in the dog's mouth to help it and are exposed to the disease.

"The biggest news here is the fact that we have rabies at all," said Gonzalez. "This is the first case in 29 years. But we are very concerned, since we haven't reached a peak yet."

Gonzalez said a mass vaccination program has covered 5,900 dogs, and pamphlets have been distributed at local schools warning them of the danger.

"We don't know and may never know what started it," said Gonzalez. "We have a strong feeling it came from wildlife. It's very possible it came from a coyote. There is a large population of them in South Texas."

The Texas Fish and Wildlife Service has been setting traps to pick up wildlife to see if any of them are rabid.

Although only about one case of human rabies is reported every year, officials worry because there is almost no chance of survival.

"We treat about 30,000 people a year in the preventive program," said Dr. William Winkler, chief of viral zoonoses at the Center for Disease Control. Persons bitten by rabid animals must be inoculated before the incubation period of the disease expires. This can be from three weeks to one year.

"The border is really our last remaining program in dog rabies," Winkler said.

Dr. Everett Baker, veterinary epidemiologist at the CDC, said the last major outbreak of rabies in dogs in this country was in the El Paso-Ciudad Juarez area from 1972 to 1975.

There have been no human cases of rabies in the current outbreak, but about 15 persons have been vaccinated, said Dr. Paul Musgrave, regional health officer at Harlingen, Tex.

"We're playing it safe," Musgrave said in a telephone interview. "There is some question about some of the people we have treated, but you don't fool around with this."

"The disease is so uncommon in humans that it can be misdiagnosed," Winkler said. "It is a form of encephalitis, which causes an inflammation of the brain."

A persons with rabies must have had contact with a rabid animal. He then develops some kind of nervous reaction and this is followed by hydrophobia - fear of water. By the time the disease reaches that stage, "death is almost certain," Winkler said.

Zoonoses are diseases communicable from animals to man under natural conditions.

Proposed Tax Shelter Curbs Withdrawn By Treasury Head

WASHINGTON (AP) - Proposed curbs on tax shelters extensively used by high-income individuals have been withdrawn by Treasury Secretary William E. Simon.

Simon said the measures had been formalized without his knowledge and he wanted to discuss them with Internal Revenue Commissioner Donald Alexander and Charles Walker, assistant Treasury secretary for tax policy.

Simon acted Wednesday within hours of publication of the proposed regulations in the Federal Register. Such publication is routinely the first step in implementing such proposals.

The proposals would have substantially toughened the tax treatments of limited partnerships. They were designed to make it much more difficult for tax shelters that function like corporations to get the special tax benefits of partnerships.

The regulations were approved Dec. 29 by Alexander and William M. Goldstein, then-deputy assistant Treasury secretary for tax policy. Goldstein now is in private practice as a tax lawyer.

In a telephone interview with the Washington Post, Walker said it never occurred to "Bill Goldstein or me that the secretary would have an interest" in the proposed regulations.

Walker said many protests came from the Department of Housing and Urban Development and other real estate interests. Many HUD low-income projects are financed through limited partnerships.

Under existing regulations, most real estate developers gain special tax advantages by forming a limited corporation. Housing interests maintain this is the only way money can be raised to build low income projects. Critics contend the rules are too generous. Limited partnerships give investors the advantage of taking losses from depreciation, start-up costs or interest as write-offs on income derived from other sources. At the same time, such investors get the advantage of limited liability of a corporation. And owners can change, but the venture remains a partnership.

If the venture was determined to be a corporation, the losses for tax purposes would remain in the corporation itself.

Death Sentences Are Assessed

CARTHAGE (AP) - Two men convicted Monday of the hired murder of a Center grocery store manager last June have been assessed death penalties by a state court jury.

The punishment decision came Wednesday in the cases of Bobby McCormick and Billy McMahon. The two were convicted in the slaying of Earl Hammond.

Hammond's wife, Becky, and his assistant manager at the store, Tony Bohannon, have pleaded guilty to charges that they hired Hammond's killers.

Mrs. Hammond was sentenced to 25 years in prison and Bohannon received a 50-year sentence.

More Spent on Cars, Parts Than On Furniture, Clothes

NEW YORK (AP) - Americans last year spent more for automobiles and parts than they did for furniture and household equipment. If you include the gasoline, they spent more on their cars than on shoes and clothing.

Americans love cars, and last year they bought more than 10 million of them. As the year ended, sales were unexpectedly strong, and now some automakers foresee an even better year in 1977.

A year ago, Thomas Murphy, General Motors chairman, walked out on what some analysts thought was a very long and brittle limb, committing his company's facilities to a level of production they simply could not envision.

Murphy was right. And now the same gentleman is forecasting an even bigger year for the industry, with total sales of 11.25 million cars, or more than a million over 1976's total.

In dollar terms, Merrill Lynch Economics tends to agree. It estimates Americans spent $55.4 billion on automobiles and parts in 1976, and that expenditures this year might rise to $58.4 billion, and to $60.6 billion in 1978.

For comparison, Americans last year spent about $51.8 billion on furniture and household equipment, and $63.7 billion on clothing and shoes.

Which demonstrates that the automobile, like a tank, plows through higher initial costs and fuel prices, through high interest rates, environmental restraints, speed restrictions, soaring insurance rates, vandalism.

Will the power of the automobile someday be reduced? If so, the evidence is hardly observable. Nevertheless, there are a few disturbing groans coming from the machinery:

"We continue to buy big cars in spite of the very real and present problem of insufficient domestic fuel supplies and rising prices. No matter that fuel consumption has been made more efficient, big cars burn more than small cars."

"We are buying a lot of cars on 'easy' credit terms. Bankers assure us that the over-all total is at a reasonable amount, about $60 billion, but some families clearly are strapping themselves."

One of the lures is extended credit, to 48 months and even more. This does, of course, lower the monthly payment, but it raises the amount of interest to be repaid.

The big question for households that utilize the 48-month credit plan is this: Will the old buggy last as long as the note? Or will it have to be turned in for a newer model before the note is repaid?

While the Big Three - General Motors, Ford and Chrysler increased their sales last year, American Motors fell far behind, both in production and in financial stability.

While it is too early to say what fate awaits American Motors, it hardly would help the Big Three if it went under.

PRPC Grants Approved

AUSTIN--Governor Dolph Briscoe has approved four criminal justice grants to the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission in Amarillo.

With $36,314, Panhandle RPC will upgrade the law enforcement radio communication system, serving law enforcement agencies throughout the 25-county region.

The Planning Commission will continue operation of the regional law enforcement teletype system with a $24,249 grant.

Law enforcement technical equipment, such as cameras and fingerprint kits, will be purchased by Panhandle RPC for area law enforcement agencies with a $20,000 grant.

Also, $30,718, will be used to purchase multichannel tape logging equipment to upgrade communications in the Potter County Sheriff's Office and the Pampa Police Department.

The grants were among 116 approved by Governor Briscoe statewide from Law Enforcement Assistance Administration (LEAA) funds under the Crime Control Act of 1976.
