Outhouse Impasse Injected Humor In Farm Year

[EDITOR'S NOTE---The following story is a review of the news affecting farmers in Deaf Smith County and the surrounding area during the final six months of 1976. The first six months were reviewed in the Wednesday edition of the Brand.

By JIM STEIERT Brand Farm Editor

It wasn't all dismal during the 1976 farm year, in fact, government agencies provided more than one farmer with a good laugh during the second half of 1976. Agriculturists ridiculed so-called safety and health proposals and took the responsible agencies to task, before turning to their vegetable harvests during mid-summer

GOVERNMENT ACTION on some issues gave farmers slight encouragement later in the year and the campaign promises of the presidential candidates left hope that the farm program would be better in the wake of the fall elections.

As the year moved toward a close, local farmers gained pledges of support for their pet projects from high-ranking state

THE OCCUPATIONAL Safety and Health Administration made a proposal in April that would require farmers to provide toilet and drinking water facilities within a five minute walk of all field workers. Farmers and ranchers, who pointed out how expensive it would be to install dozens of the type facilities called for by OSHA on their large farms, attacked the "privy-on-the-prairie" proposal. One farmer forwarded a letter to OSHA asking, "what else will you idiots in Washington come up with?"

The outhouse impasse soon came to the attention of high ranking officials in Washington. The prairie privy proposal along with booklets on farm safety which virtually ridiculed the intelligence of American farm laborers drew reprimands for the little-loved agency.

LARGE-SCALE harvesting of the potato crop got underway here July 6, while onion harvesting was already underway. Prices for both vegetables were poor throughout the harvest season with many onion growers taking a loss on their crop and potato growers doing well to break even.

TRAGEDY STRUCK in the air over local grainfields for the second straight year on July 29, when an Anahuac, Tex. man, Gail Pierce, 45, was killed when his Cessna Ag Wagon spray plane collided with another spray plane over a corn field one mile north and one mile west of the Easter community. Both aircraft were operating for American Dusting Company of Hereford. The crash came following two deaths involving cropdusters during 1975, and again pointed up the risk cropdusters take in their annual battle against the Southwestern corn borer and other pests wich attack area grain crops virtually every year

AN UMBRELLA organization for farm consumers of natural gas, tentatively named the National Federation of Irrigation Farmers was launched in Amarillo Aug. 20. The effort to unite irrigators was headed by leaders of four regional gas groups including the North Plains Energy Consumers Association, Plains Gas Users, The Southwest Gas Users and Southwest Kansas Gas Users Association. The organization was to be formally chartered in November and hoped to raise some $25,000 in funds.

A HEDGEHOPPING thunderstorm desposited substantial moisture over scattered portions of the county Sept. 15, helping to get recently sown wheat off to a good start and making moisture available for that which had not been planted yet. Good moisture was recorded in the dryland portion of the county, to the west, where it was important in getting the wheat crop off to a good start.

ON SEPT. 21, President Ford raised the import duty on raw sugar from 62.5 cents per 100 pounds to $1.871/2 per hundred pounds, in an effort to protect domestic sugar producers.

Sugar prices went through a backslide in 1976, dropping from a high of $45 per ton in August of 1975 to $21 per ton in August of 1976. Profits for growers of sugarbeets and sugarcane were virtually ruled out with the price slide, but growers were heartened by the President's action.

John Bunker of Holly Sugar Corp. informed local growers that they would do well to break even on their 1976 crop of sugarbeets.

During mid and late September, the area corn crop began falling, and amost before anyone realized it, vast acreages were on the ground. Stalk rot, moisture stress, corn borers and a number of other factors were blamed for the falling corn. Growers found they could efficiently pick up the fallen cornstalks with special attachments on their combine headers, but the markets for corn, mile and sugarbeets were falling almost as rapidly as the cornstalks.

The outlook on the farm wasn't rosy as farmers made ready to begin harvest, What would have normally been a time for optimism over good yields was instead a time of misgivings.

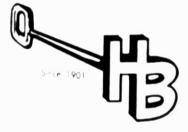

IT WAS ALMOST like kicking a man when he was already down, but that didn't make Mother Nature any difference and on Sept. 26, she unleashed a hailstorm which edged across the county in a southeasterly direction. Grain, cotton and lettuce were savagely beaten by marble-sized hailstones which shattered ripened milo from the plant heads and stripped cotton and lettuce.

Damage was estimated in excess of $1 million, with damage to the lettuce crop alone set at $300,000. Grain sorghum damage was tentatively set at $800,000.

An incoming cold front spawned the turbulent weather, and the fury of the storm was unleashed near Simms, Milo Center and Dawn. In addition to mile, corn and lettuce hurt in the storm, some 500 acreas of rapidly-maturing cotton were hailed out. Cool weather accompanying the front gave the cotton crop a severe setaback across much of the

Wintry Weather Chills Hereford

Raw, wintry weather chilled almost all of Texas today, but gave signs of being ready to relax its grip.

Traces of snow were seen in Hereford Wednesday and Wednesday night. The snow has began earlier in the Panhandle-Plains sector but stopped falling after midnight. Rain or drizzle still fell, however, across the east half of the state--often freezing or mixed with sleet in a good part of North Central Texas. The Associated Press reported the moisture belt generally lay east of a line from Wichita Falls in the north, south to Del Rio on the border.

There was drizzle and occasional light rain also in warmer areas scattered from the middle of the state into the Lower Rio Grande Valley and from the Middle Texas Coast into Louisiana

While roads were wet in many areas, the National Weather Service reported travel was unrestricted and ice appeared only on bridges and overpasses in most Readings at other points ranged through the 20s and 30s across the north half of the state and the 40s farther south except for 53 at Palacios and 55 at Brownsville on the coast.

In comparison, Wednesday's top marks ran from 21 at Dalhart up to 74 at Brownsville in the extreme south, which shared the nation's high with Fort Myers.

Forecasts promised further clearing of the skies from the west to east across the state and anend to moisture in most areas by early tonight. A warmup was in prospect Friday after another cold night.

At Wit's End By Erma Bombeck

We got a call the other day from our tax man, who said he was having problems with some of the figures on our return. "It's your expenditures," he said. "They're way out of line. For example, you spent $15.36 on entertainment last vear.'

"That much?" I observed, peering over his shoulder.

"Taxes on purchases only ran $48.12."

"That sounds right," nodded my husband. "Your bank shows they paid $3.16 interest on your savings. So where did all the money go?"

My husband took a deep breath and said, "We're the sole support of a 16-year-old driver who is insured." "Oh, I am sorry," said our accountant, removing his glasses. "I didn't know."

"It's all right. We don't tell a lot of people. It's awkward when they press money into your hand and offer to help." "A church group even offered to send us a basket."

"How much coverage do you carry?" asked the accountant. "Liability, uninusured motorist, medical payments,"

"Good Lord, man, why didn't you say something? Proverty is one thing, but comprehensive...'

'At first, when we applied for the insurance, I didn't think it was going to be this bad. Then the agent said, 'Does your son make good grades?' The kid only passed one test all year. His eye examination. Then he said, 'Does he smoke? Is he kind to his mother? Does he belong to a book club?' I thought two out of three wasn't bad, but he tacked on another fee.'

"Does he live at home? That helps." "Yes, but he drives a Z-28 Camero."

"Don't say that!" -said the tax man. "I've known presidents of corporations who can't afford the tab on a Z-28 Camero.

"We tried to get him to marry just to lower the rates." I interrupted, "but there was only one girl he was interested in and he ran over her foot in the school parking lot."

"The premium on the tape deck was extra," said my husband sadly. "So was the CB radio."

"I'm going to give you the same advice I've given every other parent," said the accountant. "Get yourself an old. retired teenager who lives at home, has had driver's education, who is happily married, gets good grades, doesn't smoke, drives a station wagon, and hums. That'll be $50."

"Could we work something out?" asked my husband.

George Herbert, 17th century poet, put in a single sentence something which we should write on our hearts," Oh! Lord, Thou hast given me so much, please give me one thing

Now that we have a new year, we should be very thoughtful, and should take inventory of the many blessings that have been ours through out the year of 1976. We should also be thankful for those which will be given to us in the coming year.

One only has to look about to take notice of the beauties of nature and the visual part they play in our lives and the strength of our nation. Among the many blessings received are those that come from the toil of the soil.

Each year, gardeners look forward to new things, one of which are the new introductions from horticulturists. Many will be listed as new things to plant in our garden.

New "flower watching" is one of the popular indoor-outdoor sports of gardeners, who perennially hope for some revolutionary break- through to further exotic beauty and production. The following is a partial list of the new introductions which will be offered this new year.

Let us imagine we hear a great fanfare and the roll of the drums, after which new introductions will be announced. These are the All-American Rose Winners.

First we have the Alf-American Roses. They are: -- DOUBLE DELIGHT promises to be one of the most outstanding roses of recent years is a carmine and white bicolor hybrid tea rose with 5 inch blooms of real distinction. It has the added asset of delightful fragrance.

The color pictures show it to be a stately, gorgeous rose. Predictions are that it will rapidly become a great favorite. Excellent for cutting, arranging, and for the garden a living picture of radiant beauty. It was bred by Herbert C Swim, and declared an All-American selection of 1977.

PROMINENT is a grandiflora, has a brilliant "Hot Orange" color and is listed as a vigorous upright growing plant with an abundance of perfectly formed blooms. Blooms are of moderate size, and are borne on long stems.

A grandiflora is a cross of a hybrid tea and a floribunda. Parentage is not listed. This information will be released later. Description reminds me of another All-American Winner, (A grandiflora) which was 'Queen Elizabeth." This rose seen in gardens, peeping over the top of the yard. The flowers are a pretty pink, buds beautiful, and produces a continuous bloom from early spring until a killing frost.

FIRST EDITION: The third All-American selection in a broad, low growing floribunds. Is a bright landscape rose with glowing coral 2½ inch flowers in small clusters (usually three). Blooms have individual perfection and are well-suited for cutting. This rose was created in France (home of the nationally-PEACE ROSE.) by Georges Delbard.

NEW DAY: his rose is not an All-American selection, but was attached to a well- constructed trellis or fence.

In pruning, be sure that tools are ready and will make a good clean cut. When pruning is completed, mulch around the base, and water thoroughly, letting the water slowly soak the

I am often asked to explain the differences of Daffodils. Jonquils and Narcissus.

Narcissus is the botanically correct name for the entire daffodil group (or family). Daffodil is their common English name. Jonquil refers only to one particular type---the sweetly scented multiflowered Narcissus jonquilla or of its hybrids. Do not call them jonguilla or one of its hybrids. Do not call them "jonquils" unless you really mean this kind. This information also appeared in The Flower and Garden Magazine and Vera Deason's column.

The following are names of daffodils which grow well in our locale: Unsurpassable, (yellow) King Alfred (golden) and Mount Hood (white). More of these were purchased from Pioneer Study Club than all the other varieties together. When planted correctly (6 to 8 inches deep) they will give the gardener a beautiful, exotic planting. They will multiply and soon, enough bulblets will be produced and another planting established.

Flower relationships in flower families is an interesting subject to study. Families of flowers and other growing things is a challenge to gardening. I recommend The Dianthus Family as a interesting study.

Jenner went into the Games with a reputation for performing best on the second day of the decathlong competition. "If I am within 150 points of the leader after five events," he said. "I'll run away with it "

After the first day, Jenner was only 35 points behind Guido Kratschmer of West Germany and 17 back of Avilov. Just as he had predicted, he took charge on the second day, gradually pulling away to his victory.

On the second day, he covered the 110-meter high hurdles in 14,20 seconds, threw the discus 149 feet, 7 inches, set a personal high with 15-9 in the pole vault, threw the javelin 204 feet, 3 inches, and was timed in 4:11.61 for the 1,500 meter run.

Regents To Act On Ovation Spurs WT Football Future

CANYON, Tex. (AP) - The West Texas State University board of regents met today to consider dropping football from the Panhandie school's financially-plagued athletic program.

A special committee met Tuesday and Wednesday at the school to get reaction to the possible elimination of football. Jerry Don George, principal of Hereford High School and a member of the WTSU alumni association, told the committ that young people in the Panhandle area judge colleges 'right or wrong" by the types of thletic programs the schools Football is a way of life to us in the Panhandle," he said.

Blair and Roland Black of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce pledged to underwrite the sale of 1,000 season football tickets years and asked chambers of nmerce in area towns to underwrite another 9,000.

But Hermas Miller, vice president for financial affairs, said that even with a guarantee of 10,000 season tickets there still would be an annual deficit of about $135.885

Regent T.L. Roach Amarillo said the exact number of season tickets required to completely obliterate any projected deficit would be 15,436.

Head Coach Gene Mayfield said Tuesday he would rather see the school compete as a nember of the NAIA than give up football entirely.

Eric Bertram, a WTSU senior. told the committee he is in favor of dropping football and ending the divisiveness the problem has created.

He said persons who seem willing to sacrifice almost anything for the support of an ailing athletic department are not really supporting the school.

"These people who want to support WT only because of football...if they are not our supporters after football is gone, they are not our supporters," he said.

Irish Slump Continues

By KEN RAPPOPORT AP Sports Writer

Will the real Notre Dame basketball team please stand

At the start of the season, the. Fighting Irish couldn't lose. Now they can't win.

After winning their first seven games, including victories on the road over Maryland and UCLA, Notre Dame has lost three straight - including Wednesday night's 64-62 defeat by Villanova.

"We've been turning the ball over too much," said Notre Dame Coach Digger Phelps. who has seen his Irish drop from No. 2 to No. 8 in the national rankings and will no doubt see them drop even more.

Phelps had some solace, at least, in that the Irish were competitive for a change. They were routed by Kentucky and Princeton before Wednesday night's close one.

Vikings Facing Dirty Defense?

LOS ANGELES (AP)- What Minnesota is running into in Super Bowl XI is what the Vikings always run into when National Football League championships are at stake- trouble.

First it was the Chiefs' Multiple Defense. Then it was the Dolphins'

No-Name Defense. Then it was the Steelers'

Steel Curtain Defense. And now, along come the Oakland Raiders and... and what? Their Dirty Defense?

The Raiders have been accused of stepping beyond the bounds of legality, most particularly safety George Atkinson, who gave Pittsburgh's Lynn Swann a concussion and New England's Russ

Francis a broken nose.

The Vikings seem split on just how close Oakland gets to below-the-belt tactics. In fact, even the raiders themselves don't seem to be able to make up their minds.

'We have the reputation for playing dirty, but I don't think it's deserving," said Atkinson. "Sure, we're an aggressive ball club, but you don't get to the Super Bowl, you don't go 15-1, by being a dirty ball club."

Atkinson insists he plays within the rules, but he also seems to lean a bit toward that anything-to-get-the-job-done

By Murray Olderman

PASADENA. Calif. (NEA) — This is going to be the Super Bowl that will prove decisively, once and for all, that either the Oakland Raiders or the Minnesota Vikings deserve to be called winners.

Both have been to pro football's biggest jousting before. Both have lost. The Raiders were beaten by the Green Bay Packers in Super Bowl II back in January, 1968, and though they have sought solace by pointing to the fact that they boast the best record in the game over the last 14 years, there has always been the ! rankling accusation they never win the "big one."

The Vikings have been turned back three times - in Super Bowls IV, VII and IX though they, too, try to assuage critics by noting that Coach Bud Grant has produced eight division titles in a much adversity. This team doesn't say 'uncle.

Only four of the Oakland Raiders bridge the gap between the team's Super Bowl appearances and, uniformly, they feel this is a better equipped group to prove that they are Number One.

"This team wants it more." added Fred Biletnikoff, the wide receiver who has been a regular since 1965. "Green Bay was unbelievable when we played 'em in '68. Now we got the team to beat anybody.

"Then," noted Willie Brown, the 35-year-old corner back, "we were just happy to get into the game. We knew Green Bay was a super team. This time? Hey, there ain't no way we can lose."

Ten Viking regulars are veterans of all three Minnesota losses in the Super Bowl - Carl Eller, Alan Page, Jim Marshall, Wally Hilgenberg, Bobby Bryant and Paul Krause of the defensive unit; Fran Tarkenton, Mick Tingelhoff, Ed White and Ron

They won't need to be jacked up for this game. Bud Grant, the super stoic, even concedes that there's a new dimension to the Vikings' personality this year emotionalism.

So the basic motivation, vindication of self, is there for both teams.

In style, however, they differ.

The Vikings are older, more traditional in playing concept. Their offense is probably better balanced between the run (featuring Chuck Foreman) and the pass (with Frank Tschenton the most-prolific passer in pro fistory). Their defense shuns frills, although it's a little more elastic than it has been with age beginning to slow down its

Lots Of Love, Affection Are Involved With Toys

MEYERSVILLE, N.J. (AP) -Archie Stiles thinks just about everyone is interested in toys.

"There's an awful lot of love and affection involved with toys," said Stiles, 66, who runs a resale shop at his home here.

"They intrigue people."
Stiles began building a big collection of old, valuable toys 20 years ago. Eventually, the toys overwhelmed the house and shop and about 6,000 pieces, including 300 to 400 dolls, were auctioned in New Stiles, a grandfather, and his wife, Emma; started the resale shop - "it's not really an antique store" - 24 years ago.

He had been doing some reselling in the luncheonette he owned when he met his wife over the counter. She suggested he could make a living buying and reselling various items, .. including furniture and collectibles. The rest is history.

"The wife and I, we decided to work together and that's the way we accomplished an awful lot in life," he said.

Stiles said collecting toys became one of his major interests because "I didn't have them as a child.

"A lot of people were better off than us and I could always envy the toys some kids had." he said.

Stiles said he bought some of his collections from people whose children had lost interest in the toys.

"But sometimes a grandmother calls. She's lonely; her kids don't visit her much anymore but she's got their toys. Well, she's heard about Archie so I'll go over and talk to her," he said. "Sometimes she wants to sell the toys and sometimes she'll just want to talk." Visitors stroll throughout the shop for hours just looking. Stiles said. He said it doesn't matter if a person wants to buy browsing is permitted.

Stiles said adults will strike up a conversation after their children start asking about the playthings.

"You can get through to eople through their children." he said, adding that a lot of adults are shy about expressing an interest in toys.

He said he has no favorite toy in the collection. "I loved all my toys. We'd play with them often, the wife and I."

Stiles said he feels a major accomplishment everytime, he sees someone "laughing from ear to ear" over the toys.

Oil Spill Poses Hazard To Gulf Stream Waters

NANTUCKET, Mass. (AP)-Pollution cleanup crews have left Cape Cod, but a marine expert says southern Atlantic beaches could have future problems with the oil that spilled from the Argo Merchant.

Mr. Jerry Galt of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Adstration said if the spill gets caught in the Gulf Stream it probably will head northeast toward Iceland and Great Britain. It then cold be swirled around in the current's clockwise direction and head southwest toward Bermuda, he

A Coast Guard spokesman said cleanup crews that had been in the Chatham-Orleans area of Cape Cod since the tanker ran aground Dec. 15 were released Monday. The crews could be called back within three hours if needed, he

The crews were sent home after weather forecasts and an analysis of the spill's movement indicated it would take two to three days for any oil to reach the Chatham area if winds

The 7.6 million gallon spill covers an area 215 miles along and about 100 miles wide and is about 90 miles off Nantucket Island at its closest, the spokesman said. Most of the oil is contained in a teardrop shape 120 miles long and 40 miles wide at its broadest point.

The Coast Guard said oil still leaked from the tanker's bow section, which was sunk Friday by 12 rounds of 20 mm cannon

Galt said much of the oil was caught in an eddy on the north edge of the warm Gulf Stream, about 150 to 200 miles east-southeast of the wrecked

Survey Reveals 42 Per Cent Of Nurses Have Witnessed Accidental Patient Deaths

NEW YORK (AP)-A survey of 10,000 nurses found that 42 per cent said they had seen deaths among patients which they thought had been caused accidentally by doctors.

The survey, reported in the January issue of the magazine Nursing 77, also found that 15 per cent of the nurses said they had more than once seen deaths caused accidentally by doctors and that 18 per cent knew of deaths accidentally caused by Thirty-eight per cent of the nurses wouldn't like to be patients in their own hospitals, the survey found.

It rated nursing care in the United States and Canada at a "Low B" grade. The smaller the hospital, the survey indicated, the less the responding nurses thought of the care.

As for nursing homes, 55 per ent of responding nurses who worked in such institutions said they would not want to be patients where they work.

Nursing 77 reported that the nurses blamed insufficient staff. the burdens of paper work and other obligations that took time away for attending to patients as reasons why nursing care of patients is less than excellent.

The magazine last May published a "Probe of Quality Care," listing 78 questions and asking its nursing readers to respond to them. Those responses, more than 10,000 of them, formed the basis of the article in the current issue.

HONG KONG (AP) . A top-secret Chinese document says that the Chinese document says that the earthquake last July in northeast China killed 655,237 persons, the second largest quake toll in hisory, a leading Hong Kong newspaper reported today.

The South China Morning Post said the document reported 779,000 persons were injured, 79,000 of them seriously. The paper did not say how it obtained information on the report. It said it was released at an emergency conference on earthquake relief work in August. The quake on July 28 virtually destroyed Tangshan, an industrial city of 1.6 million population 105 miles southeast of Peking. It did considerable damage in Tientsin, China's third largest city, which had a population of 4.3 million.

The Chinese government admitted that there were many casualties and serious damage, but it has never announced any figures. Cuban and Yugoslav news dispatches reported tens of thousands killed. But the Chinese government declined all offers of foreign aid, and since no foreign relief personnel were admitted to the devastated area, there were no estimates from such trained observers available to foreign newsmen.

The greatest recorded loss of life from an earthquake occured in China more than 400 years ago, on Jan. 23, 1556. Ah estimated 830,000 persons were killed then in Shensi province. in central China.

The second highest death toll, according to historical records. was 300,000 in Calcutta, India, on Oct. 11, 1737.

The July quake measured 8.2 on the Richter scale, the highest since the 1965 Alaska quake and slightly less than the estimated magnitude of the San Francisco earthquake of 1906.

Passage of Beef Research Act Termed Top '76 Story By TCF

AMARILLO--Congressional passage of the Beef Research and Information Act took the lead in a just-released ranking of the top 1976 news events in cattle feeding. The traditional overview is issued at the end of each year by the Texas Cattle Feeders Association in Amaril-

The top item took the lead because it reflected the cooperative spirit of agriculture in general and the beef industry in particular. Congressman reported never having seen such unified support of legislation affecting cattlemen. The Act will allow cattlemen to vote in 1977 on a national program to collect funds for beef research. education, promotion and foreign market development.

was the passage and implementation of a national law ensuring livestock producers that they will be paid promptly for all slaughter animals they sell. The law is an outgrowth of a huge bankruptcy in 1975 when thousands of producers were left holding worthless checks from American Beef Producers.

The implementation of new beef grading standards by the USDA took the third spot on the list; while the first reduction, since 1967, in the U.S. cow herd took fourth on the TCFA list.

A special "6-Point Plan" to aid the ailing cattle industry was announced by TCFA early in the Summer of 1976 and it was fifth in the ranking. The invoking of the 1964 Meat Import Act--for passed-and a halt to circumvention of the Act was ranked sixth.

A lawsuit filed against the Packers and Stockyards Administration successfully halted the registration and bonding of feedyards. Feeders felt the restrictions were unnecessary and expensive and the victory was ranked seventh on the news events list.

Passage of the Tax Reform Act of 1976 was rated eighth by the TCFA. This national Act contained several beneficial measures for the cattle industry including inheritance considerations.

During one four-week period in 1976 (March-April) fed cattle prices increased $14, winning that news item a ranking of one month later won a tongue-in-cheek ranking of No.

Other important news events affecting cattlemen in 1976 included: Texas being named No. 1 in cattle slaughter according to 1975 USDA figures; a threatened Federal embargo on all Texas cattle was avoided when the state was forced into the Federal Brucellosis program; 100 million consumers were reached by a joint TCFA and lowa beef promotion effort; and the U.S. Meat Export Federation was formed to encourage the exportation of U.S.-produced meat and meat products. Also in the ranking were: Feedyards receive an exemption

Indian corn culture had already differentiated between regular corn crops and the more succulent sweet corn varieties believed developed by the Iroquois Indians.

Recipes for succotash and hasty pudding, also called ally, were also borrowed from the Indians. One facet of the corn diet the colonists didn't adopt was the addition of dog meat. They preferred the more customary salt beef, salt pork or chicken.

While the borrowing of many of these practices from the Indians are well recognized, lesser known is the belief that even the husking bee originated with the In-dians. This combination of work and frivolity was popular on early farms.

Rain, Cold Blamed For Cattle Losses

HOUSTON (AP) - Rain and cold are being blamed for cattle deaths along Texas coastal

J.D. Sartwelle, president of Port City stockyards, said Wednesday heavy death losses could result if the bad weather continues.

"I can never remember a worse winter than this for cattle because it started out so early and because of the continued wet cold," Sartwelle said.

Sartwelle said the first frost was about 30 days earlier than normal.

The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Serivce in Austin reported rainfall in Souther Central Texas and along the Upper Coast ranged from 44 to 68 per cent above normal during September-November.

'Cattle can stand cold and will they can stand wet, but they and can't stand the two together." Sartwelle said.

"They are getting weaker to every day. This portends a bad in situation later on. If we get an and ice storm in late January or not February, you could see a heck of a dieoff."

Sartwelle said one rancher who grazes cattle on salt grass near Freeport has reported 116 head of dead cattle in the last few weeks.

Decline Supplied To County

The board of directors of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 voted at their December meeting to add Deaf Smith County to the list of counties where annual water table decline information is now provided on an individual land parcel basis.

Other counties provided the service include Parmer, Bailey, Castro, Lamb and Floyd.

The water district's board of directors set the cost of the maps at the same level as previous years--$7.50 for decline maps and $5 per parcel for the computerized decline data.

Landowners in the previously listed counties must contact the water district's office to supply the information needed in order to locate individual land parcels and determine the water decline under those lands.

Data needed to determining the decline includes the name and address of the taxpayer's agent, the account number as assigned by the tax consultant, the landowners name, address and social security number, and the legal description of the land

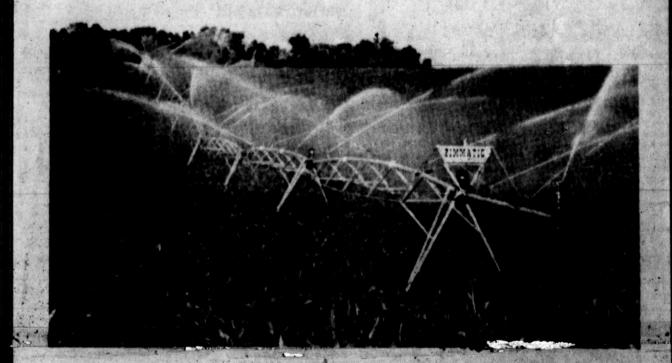

The correct legal description includes the county in which the property is located, block and section, league and labor, township, range and section, numbers, or homestead preemption name and abstract number, or other descriptors as

The necessary information should be supplied to the district prior to Jan. 15.

Program To Reduce Farm Accidents Begins This Month

Accidents on Texas farms and Information concerning the size ranches claim more than 200 lives every year. In 1977, about 700 volunteers across Texas are going to "do something about it." This month they will begin a program designed not only to reduce farm and ranch accidental deaths but to reduce the annual toll of 4,000 disabling injuries, untold equipment and property damage, and the due to accidents.

Here's how it will work. Texas counties will each contact 10 of their neighbor farms and ranches to explain the study and ask for their participation.

of the farm, type of crops or livestock produced, and the size of the family will first be collected for every participating farm. Argusville, N.D.

You may need Tim Matheson and Kurt Russell, but NBC feels it can get along better without them -the show's been cancelled. It will go off the air in February. Sorry.

Could you tell me some things about her, like her age and height and stuff. Thanks. Micki Brounmann. MORE ON FAMILY -- On Family, Willie is supposed to be pretty young, no? I'd like to know how old ex-Kristy McNichol is 14 actly he is supposed to be and how old Gary Frank really is. Mike Murdoch, Amarillo, Tex. years old, having been born on Sept. 9, 1962. She began her professional career at the age of six. Her brother Jimmy McNichol is also an actor. Kristy is set to appear in the soon-to-be-released

On Family, Willie Lawrence is supposed to be around 18 or 19. Gary Frank is, at age 26, somewhat older than that.

REAL LAMARR -- What is Hedy Lamerr's real name and when was she born? Jackie Lamarr, Altoons,

I doubt if you're related since her real name is not Lamarr, but Hedwig Eva Maria Kiesler. She was born in Vienna, Austria on Nov. 9. 1913.

MISSES GRIFFITH -- Is Andy Griffith ever going to get another TV series? I still like the old Andy reruns and I think he ought to be on every week. L.H., Johnstown, Pa.

He'll be playing a former U.S. president, mighty like Lyndon Johnson, in the upcoming miniseries, "Wash-ington," which will be done in 10 hour-long shows.

BIONICS -- I didn't think that having "The Six Million Dollar Man" on TV was very bad, and this women's lib came and they had the "Bionic Woman" and she got her new night. But the "Bionic Boy" is ridiculous. Is he going to get his own show? C.M.,

DOING IT AGAIN -- The

Then Fonzi pulled out a switchblade comb Now every kid in America realizes that carrying a knife is not cool, but carrying a comb is cool.
