Icy Conditions Remain From Snowstorm

Gas Curtailed For Industrial Users; Schools, Homes Heated

By BOBBY TEMPLETON
Brand News Editor

Today's sunrise came up over slippery Hereford as adults weaved their way to work and students bundled up for their walk to school.

It was the third consecutive day of temperatures below 10 degrees after the freezing norther blew into the area Saturday evening bringing drifting snow of up to three inches.

THE BLINDING SNOWSTORM which hit still plagues most of Texas as most areas are experiencing dangerous driving conditions as roads iced over. It was a bit warmer today but still cold enough to warrant heavy clothing. At least one death has been blamed on the storm.

Students here were still in school as travel remained possible and natural gas supplies remained at steady levels. Nicks Fariss, Hereford manager of Pioneer Natural Gas Co. reported this morning that only heavy industrial users were curtailed by 50 per cent and that schools, businesses and domestic users were still adequately being supplied.

It is a contrasting situation though in Wichita Falls, Tex., where Lone Star Natural Gas has curtailed gas to industrial users and schools. Students were naturally allowed an extended holiday from the weekend. Gas became short when the cold temperatures forced extra heavy use of the fuel thereby hampering the company's already overtaxed interstate gas system. Other parts of Texas gain gas from intrastate systems.

Restoration of some gas allowed schools in Dallas to reopen but Wichita Falls and Fort Worth schools remained closed.

THE AFFECT HERE has been a curtailment only of gas to Holly Sugar, Armour Foods meat packing plant, and Caviness Meat Packers. "This does not affect any jobs as the companies are mostly on standby fuel," Fariss said. "This is a real test of our supplies," he said. It's the first time this winter that several firms have been curtailed. Holly has been curtailed four times already.

Bob Mills, public relation director of Pioneer, said that the problem is mainly due to capacity of transmission lines. He confirmed that ample supplies exist but that high demand at one time causes a limit on the amount that can be distributed.

Fariss explained that a restriction is caused on reserves when "everyone hollers" all at once for gas. "Our supplies are in good shape and should be the rest of the winter."

DRIVING CONDITIONS were still dangerous inside the city as hard ice formed and caution was expressed from local law enforcement agencies. On highways' state snowplows cleared most of the roads although spotty ice patches remain.

No major wrecks have been reported although several fender benders did result.

Temperatures reached record lows here as official reading showed a low of minus 1 degree Monday, 1 degree Sunday and 8 degrees today.

While snow still whitened areas from the Texas Panhandle toward the east down the Red River Valley, early morning temperatures were much less severe in most sections than the day before. It was freezing or below, however, in all areas except near the coast.

Overnight readings still dropped to 1 above zero at Amarillo, 7 at Dalhart and 9 at Childress in the Panhandle. Among other chilly spots were Wichita Falls 12, Texarkana 17 and Marfa 18. Readings at other points near dawn ranged up to 41 at Corpus Christi and 42 at Brownsville on the coast.

Monday's top marks went at high as a warm 78 degrees at Presidio in far West Texas.

Winds switched back to the south in the west part of the state, contributing to a warmup which was expected to continue in all sections.

Coffee Smuggling Tried

LONDON (AP) - High coffee prices are tempting racketeers to take the high risks that go with coffee smuggling on a grand scale.

Latin American experts at the International Coffee Organization here estimate that in the past year smuggling of about one million bags of green coffee has cost Colombia up to $200 million in foreign exchange.

One bag weighs 132 pounds.

Water Supplies Normal

WASHINGTON (AP) - The nation's water supply dropped to near normal last year after three of the wettest years on record, the U.S. Geological Survey says.

Record low flows of water in the West and Southwest were offset by sustained high streamflow and ground water levels in the Northeast, officials said Monday.

"Based on a preliminary evaluation of the nation's streamflow and ground water levels, the nation's over-all water supply was within a few percentage points of normal in 1976," said Carroll Saboe of the USGS.

Unions Turn On Carter

WASHINGTON (AP) - Leaders of the AFL-CIO, who supported President-elect Carter's election bid, charge he has retreated from his campaign promises to reduce unemployment.

They said his two-year plan for a $23 billion to $30 billion economic program of economic stimulus "is too small, takes too long and is too ill-advised to give the economy the stimulus it needs."

The labor federation, in a statement Monday, said it would push instead for a $30 billion plan emphasizing direct job creation rather than tax cuts.

Ford Profits Off Home

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Ford is selling his suburban house for $137,000, making a sizeable profit on the house he paid $34,000 for when he bought it in 1955.

The real estate agent who handled the deal, Mr. Barry Goldwater Jr., scheduled a news conference today to announce the name of the buyer of the seven-room brick and clapboard dwelling in suburban Alexandria, Va.

President and Mrs. Ford signed the papers for the sale Monday evening. Word of the deal got out even before the buyer had been notified.

Dealer Financing Costs

WASHINGTON (AP) - If you bought a car from a dealer who arranged the financing, you may have spend several hundred dollars more on finance charges than you had to.

The extra money went as a payment from the lending institution to the dealer in return for steering the business its way.

Chairman Frank Annunzio, D-Ill., of the House consumer affairs subcommittee, said such payments "were under-the-table kickbacks" that "have cost consumers millions in the past few years."

Chamber Banquet Slated Thursday

Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce members and guests will be slipping into their fine apparel as they prepare to attend the annual chamber banquet set for 7 p.m. Thursday at the county Bull Barn.

It also serves as the annual meeting of the organization membership when routine business items are acted upon.

The theme of the event this year is "Staying Free In Century III", which is directed toward maintaining the freedoms this country enjoys as it enters its third century.

The dressy affair begins with a banquet style dinner, and then moves into the program highlighted by a speech from George McKinney of Texas Power and Light Company.

Providing the dinner music for the evening is Susie McGee, who joins with the Hereford Chamber Singers as entertainers for the night.

Bill Albright, executive vice president of the Chamber, will introduce guests Donald Hicks, past president of the chamber, is scheduled to introduce honorees.

Joe Shollenbarger, incoming president, will make the traditional president's remarks following by the presentation of the Citizen of the Year award by Cleo Corlis, a chamber committeeman.

As usual, an elaborate setting of decorations is planned along with the catered meal.

Special thanks for the banquet have been directed toward the Decorations Committee of the Chamber Women's Division, the Horizon Club-Campfire Girls, Holly Sugar and The Hereford Brand.

Tickets are on sale at the chamber office at $7 a piece for the event.

Absentee Voting Ends Today

Tuesday was the deadline for absentee voting in two elections coming up Saturday. One is the referendum on the method of selecting Deaf Smith County Hospital directors, and the other is for the purpose of electing a director and committeemen of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District.

Saturday's hospital district ballot will ask for a "for" or "against" vote on "providing the office of director of the Deaf Smith County Hospital District shall hereafter be an elective office." Directors are presently appointed by county commissioners.

Balloting for the hospital district proposal will be held from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Saturday in the commissioner's meeting room at the courthouse. Only one absentee vote had been cast shortly before noon today.

The water district election will also be held Saturday from 7 to 7, and will be conducted at the Community Center. Ray Gerk of Hereford will be the candidate for director of Precinct 4, replacing Billy W. Sisson of Hereford. Tom Robinson of Hereford is the candidate for committeeman-at-large from Deaf Smith County, while James Higgins and Garland Solomon are candidates for county committeeman from commissioner's precincts 1 and 2, respectively.

A qualified voter in the water district election is any person with a valid voter registration card and residing within the district and within the county where a vote will be taken.

Oldham County Sheriff Resigns

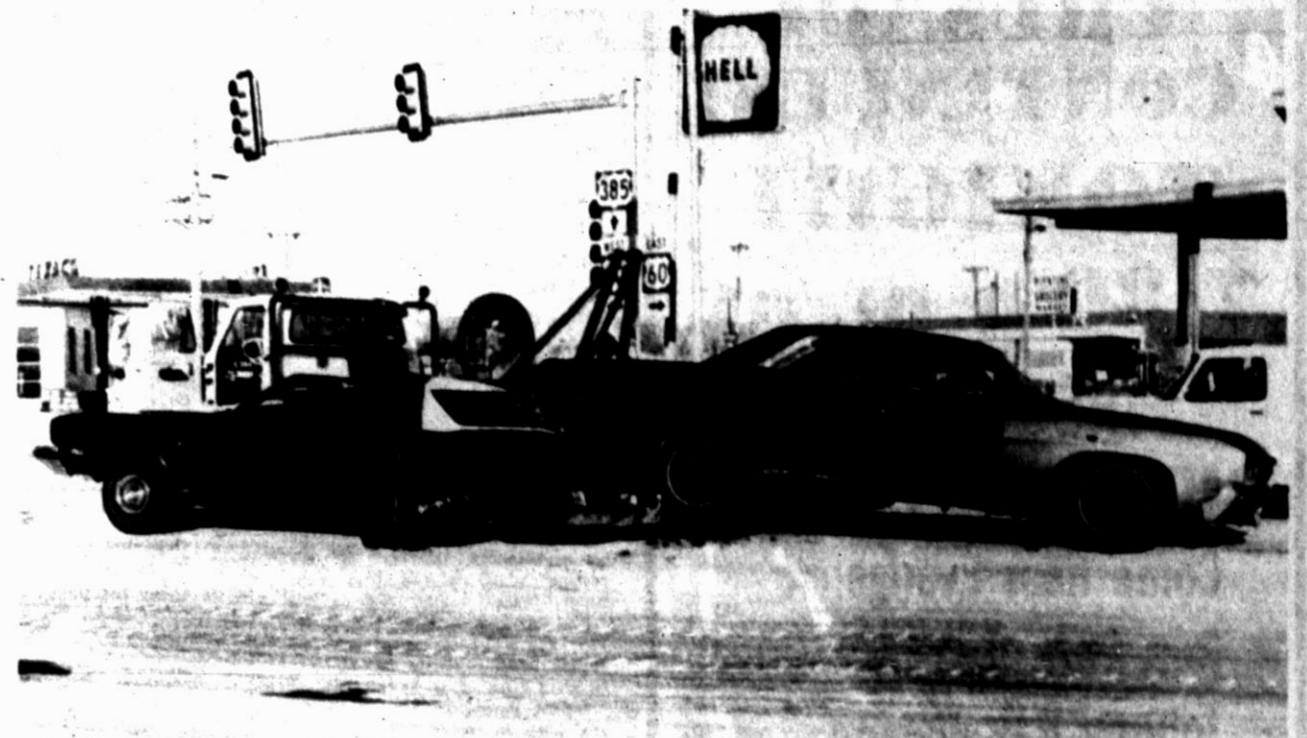

Oldham County Sheriff Bill Olson of Vega has tendered his resignation from that post, effective March 1.

Olson cited "family matters" as his reason for resigning from the office, stating, "I feel it's just time I leave the position for the welfare of my family."

A former Potter County deputy, Olson took office in January of 1973, and was just beginning a new term as the sheriff of Oldham County.

Oldham has recommended Chief Deputy Jack Walker of Vega as his replacement.

Walker has served with Olson for the past three years.

Slippery Crash

A rather unusual mishap of these two cars resulted Monday from a slick ice spot in the road. The 1968 Buick Le Sabre came to rest on top of the 1973 Buick Regal after they slid into each other. The accident occurred at the intersection of Highway

385 and Highway 60. The Regal was driven by Mary Herring and the Le Sabre was driven by Jose Martinez. Both are of Hereford. A Hereford City policeman inspects the scene while a wrecker tows off one of the vehicles. (Photo By Lannie Smith)

Routine Items Face County Commissioners

Deaf Smith County Commissioners faced a lengthy agenda Monday in their first meeting of 1977, but many of the 14 items were routine and the court concluded the session shortly after noon.

Action taken included approval of a contract with delinquent tax collectors, appointment of Alfred Smith to the Community Action Committee, approval of a low bid for installing carpet in the district courthouse, approval of a grant from the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission for paying an assistant juvenile probation officer, re-appointment of a county historical committee, approval to purchase a set of county guide books, and authorizing advertisement of bids for a county depository contract.

The commissioner's court also approved some routine transfer of funds and placement of certificates of deposit, as recommended by Alex Schroeter, county auditor. Judge Sam Morgan commended the commissioners for following budget plans and spending current money. He said fiscal responsibility was one of his goals when he was elected to office.

SCHROETER RECOMMENDED budget amendments in two areas: election expenses and legal fees for indigents. The county will hold an election Saturday to determine the method of selecting directors to the county hospital board, and more funds were needed in that department. Judge Morgan said he expected no more than 200 to 300 voters, but the law requires that 8,000 ballots be printed.

Only one box will be open for the election, and it will be in the commissioners' board room at the courthouse. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. The referendum will determine whether the hospital board members will continue to be appointed, or will be elected by county voters.

The court took no official stand on the proposition. Bruce Coleman, commissioner of Precinct 3, said his only concern was that "people express their wishes." He added that he was concerned that only a small minority would make the decision.

The judge explained that the budget was short on legal services because the district judge has increased the fees for attorneys who are appointed to defend indigent defendants. He said fees on a recent murder case amounted to $3,600. However, Judge Morgan added that the attorney fees are still only about 50 per cent of the standard charges.

Winter Belly Dancing

SharRon, a Belly dancer from Amarillo, swirled her veil for Hereford Rotarians and guests during a club meeting Monday. Kay Morgan, the dancer, an instructor and performer of dance orientales, provided a sampling of what she will teach to area residents during classes to begin Monday, Jan. 17 at the Hereford Community Center. They will be open to the general public at a cost of $20 and continue at 7 p.m. each Monday for six weeks. Registrations will be taken before the first class and no registrations will be taken after the first night. The classes are co-sponsored by the Rotarians and the Hereford CowBelles. Moving Out

Members of the Hereford High School Key Club prepare to load a shelf as they donated their time Saturday morning to help move the Hereford Satellite Work Training Center from 625 East First to the old CAA building. Key Clubbers helping the work included Rowan Alexander, Ricky Matchett, Mitchell George, Reed Herring, Kent Ellis, Jay Mongomery, Chris Hill Jim Fish and Brett Hallows. They were assisted by Kiwanian Dempsey Alexander and faculty advisor Gene Brock. The Key Clubbers have also assisted the center in other ways, including providing an "out on the town" evening meal for all the clients of the center in Amarillo prior to Christmas.

Smith the new commissioner of Precinct 1, was appointed to succeed Earl Holt as the county's representative on the Community Action Agency. Justin McBride, extension agent, presented programs of work to the court and explained the extension service plans for the upcoming year. He also introduced Joyce Shipp, Sherry Harder and Garland Stewart to outline areas of work being done and planned by the extension service.

Commissioners also heard a lengthy presentation from IBM representatives on a copier machine. The county presently uses an Xerox machine. Commissioners took no action on the proposal but asked county clerk B.F. Cain to go to Amarillo and see one of the machines in use.

Re-appointed to the County Historical Committee for 1977-78 were Mrs. George Turrentine, Mrs. Justin McBride, Mrs. Austin Rose, Mrs. Henry Sears, Tom Burdett, Mrs. Lee Newman, A.J. Schroeter, and Clint Formby. Judge Morgan is an ex-officio member.

All four commissioners were present for the meeting along with Judge Morgan.

Hereford School Board Meets This Afternoon

The Hereford School Board of Trustees were scheduled to meet in regular session at 4 p.m. today at the central school district office to consider a routine agenda.

After usual approval of bills and curriculum reports, the trustees were to act on a policy for school suspension, an auditorium use policy, personnel recommendations, and a proposal to computerize the tax roll.

In closed session, the school administrators and trustees discussed with attorneys requests from the U.S. Attorney General's Office concerning the district's method of election as it pertains to the Voting Rights Act, and the Wayne Woodward lawsuit. Also, superintendent Harell Holder's contract of employment was to be discussed in closed session.

Firemen Brave Bitter Cold To Extinguish Three Fires

Hereford volunteer firemen were called out into sub-freezing temperatures three times in a three day period to battle fires in the local area.

SUNDAY EVENING, three fire units responded to a call to a mobile home fire six miles north, three miles west and one mile north of the city.

Icy road conditions hampered firemen in their efforts to reach the scene of the rural fire rapidly.

According to a fire department spokesman, the mobile home was owned by Walter Vogler.

The blaze in the structure apparently started near a heater, but firemen managed to save both bedrooms of the mobile home.

THE WELLHOUSE FIRE kept firemen on the run Monday evening. At 8:52 p.m. fire units traveled to the Fred Turner residence on West James Street. A fire department spokesman reported that the fire was ignited during an attempt to thaw out some water pipes.

As if they hadn't had enough of the cold temperatures, firemen were called out at 12:51 this morning to another rural wellhouse fire.

Emergency units traveled to the Jimmy Perrin farm seven miles west and one and a half miles north of the Simms community, where the wellhouse was still burning when they arrived.

Firemen were not sure of the cause of this morning's fire.

Meeting Held To Promote WT Athletics

Alumni of West Texas State University were to meet at noon today to form a local Ex-Students Association to promote the sale of 250 season tickets for the Buff football program.

Income Tax Estimates Due Jan. 17

Many people who do not have enough taxes withheld are required to pay their final installment of 1976 estimated Federal income tax no later than Monday, Jan. 17. Also due the same day are amended estimates from those whose 1976 income changed substantially during the last quarter.

Many taxpayers first met the requirements for filing a tax declaration during the last three months of 1976, according to the Internal Revenue Service. Taxpayers are generally required to file an estimate if they owe the IRS more than $100 not covered by withholding. The estimates in this case are due January 17.

There is one exception to this rule, the IRS said, and that's when taxpayers file their returns and pay all taxes due by January 31. In that case the final 1976 installment is not required, the amended declaration is not required nor is an original January 17 declaration required.

IRS Publication 505, "Tax Withholding and Declaration of Estimated Tax," provides additional information and may be obtained free from local IRS offices.

Ann Landers Gardener Has Bad Luck

DEAR ANN LANDERS: It seems everybody takes their problems to you sooner or later so I've decided to join The Club. I realize gardening isn't your field but you seem to know experts all over and hopefully you can help me.

You've heard of a green thumb? Well, I have a black thumb. Every flower, plant, shrub or growing vegetable I touch seems to die. My neighbors on both sides have wonderful luck with their auratum lilies, moss roses, pansies and daffodils. Their indoor plants thrive. Their lawns are like velvet. My flowers never make it. My plants are pathetic and my lawn is a disgrace. Even my trees get odd diseases.

I've had two florists come look at my "problems." They just shook their heads and said, "You ought to try another hobby." I love growing things and am not going to give up so easily. Please suggest something. -- Typhoid Mary.

DEAR MARY: Don't despair. Help is on the way. A charming and informative book, "First Garden" by C.Z. Guest, will tell you exactly what you need to know. The publisher is Putnam and the price is $8.95. The book is so beautifully illustrated by Cecil Beaton that people with green thumbs will love it!

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Several weeks ago you described as "revolting" a doll which, when its arm is twisted, swells up in certain places and produces a pair of breasts. Will you please comment on another one of the year's most profitable "toys"?

The ad for this horror says, "Uncle Sherman has something to show you." It is billed as "The Original Flasher Doll" and sells for -- would you believe -- $20?

Uncle Sherman isn't much to look at but a quick lift of his beige trench coat is sure to startle the most sophisticated of viewers. At least 50,000 of the disgusting things have been sold to date and the company can't keep up with the orders. The retailers say the doll is definitely not for children. The biggest customers are women between 30 and 40 -- "the sophisticated segment of society," according to one of the largest sources. Please comment. -- Irked in Texas

DEAR I: If that's sophistication, I'm a left-handed pitcher for the Oakland A's. Sorry to learn there were so many morons loose with $20 bills.

DEAR ANN: Usually parents write and ask what to do with their teenagers. Well, here's a switch. I'm a teenage girl who wants to know what to do about my father.

In his younger days, Dad had a great physique. He was the type who had snapshots of himself taken at the beach with a girl on each shoulder and two at his feet.

I'm afraid Dad doesn't realize how much beer has gone down the hatch since he posed at Santa Monica. When he sits around the house in his swimming trunks and my girl friends come over I get very embarrassed. Mom doesn't like it either. Sometimes she says, "Frank, go put your robe on." He pays no attention.

Dad is a great guy but this one thing bothers me a lot. What can I do about it? -- It's The Pits

DEAR PITS: You can tell your dad (in a sweet way, of course) that you wouldn't sit in the living room in your bikini when HE has guests and you'd appreciate the same consideration. Then ask your mom to buy him a sharp-looking terrycloth robe. And hope for the best.

Is alcoholism ruining your life? Know the danger signals and what to do. Read the booklet, "Alcoholism -- Hope and Help," by Ann Landers. Only 50 cents each, with your request, and a long-stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

Young Artist Series Opens At Art Center

The inauguration of the "Young Texas Artists Series" at the Amarillo Art Center was celebrated with an exhibition of the works of three of Texas' finest working artists opening Wednesday.

The Series will run through the year 1977 and into early 1978. It is made possible by a grant to the Amarillo Art Center from the Texas Commission on Arts and Humanities.

The purpose of the Young Artists Series is to involve the area public in current happenings in Texas art. "It will be a very contemporary year," says Tom Livesay, Curator of Art. "We are trying an artist-to-public approach, getting away from art history for the time being."

If contemporary is the watch word for current Texas art, when the three young Texans being currently exhibited at the Amarillo Art Center certainly fall into the mainstream. Each, in his own way, is doing something totally unique and extremely innovative in art. If being a Texan means the love of large scale, then these artists are perfect representatives, as each incorporates sheer "bigness" into his work.

Ben Woitena, sculptor from San Antonio and Houston, has created designs of enormous proportion and intricacy from steel, using hand made as well as manufactured shapes. Many of his flat surfaces are painted upon with the care of an oil painter, and the element of light is incorporated into his structures so that shadows cast by the sculpture become part of the overall design. Five of Woitena's structures are being exhibited, two so large that they have been placed outside the Art Center building in the Plaza areas. Woitena currently teaches art at the Houston Museum School of Art.

Bruce Cunningham, a painter and teacher at the University of Texas at Arlington, has created what he describes as "drawings" on huge pieces of paper which would cover a wall. These drawings are constructed in several layers, one overlaid upon another, so that the total effect is extremely abstract to the viewer. Surfaces are built up on the paper with color and paper shapes. The work then becomes a design rather than an image, with the absence of symmetry.

Michael Kostiuik of Houston, refuses to classify himself as a photographer, although he has many photographic achievements to his credit.

Michael Kostiuik of Houston, refuses to classify himself as a photographer, although he has many photographic achievements to his credit. Still using photography as an elemental input to his art, however, Kostiuik has become a painter-upon-photographs, which yields a very unique form of art heretofore unknown.

Using pencil, crayon and watercolor, Kostiuik changes the visual effect of excellent photography into a more abstract sensation. The original composition of the picture is never occluded, but rather enhanced by the touch here and there of brush and color. Once again, scale is important.

Most of Kostiuik's finished works are "lifesized," although several smaller first-draft studies are included in the exhibit. Two pages of a current project in the works for a "pop-up" book are also on exhibit. In these, the images of the photograph are cut out and placed in third dimension from the parent photograph.

Being a "young Texas artist" is not synonymous with being unknown. On the contrary, all three of these artists have many exhibition credits to their names, and prizes and honors have been won all over Texas and the United States. In addition to teaching and show credits, Bruce Cunningham has been personally commissioned by the Texas Commission on Arts and Humanities, and his name and credentials appear in Who's Who in American Art.

Michael Kostiuik has worked with The Polaroid Collection of Cambridge, Massachusetts and with the Amon Carter Museum of Western Art, Fort Worth, Texas on "The Big Thicket/A Way of Life," a photographic essay which has toured the country.

Ben Woitena has moved his mammoths all over Texas and the United States at great cost for shows and is 1976 winner of the Public Broadcasting Station KUHT, Houston, Award for a film documentary. That documentary is available for viewing at the Amarillo Art Center on closed circuit television during the exhibition.

The exhibition will run until February 6th. The Amarillo Art Center, located at 2200 S. Van Buren, is open to the public free of charge from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Friday, 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. on Wednesday evenings.

HABERDASHERY is still in for spring '77 as depicted in this white linen weave vest suit from J.H. Collectables, division of Junior House, Milwaukee. Junior House received outstanding Sportswear resource award by buyers shopping the Apparel Mart-Dallas showings. Shirt is black-white gingham.

Directory Assistance Charging

We don't want your 20¢

Directory Assistance charging is now in effect statewide.

Basically, the plan calls for charging 20 cents for every call to Directory Assistance over the first 10 made during a monthly billing period.

Quite frankly, we don't want your 20 cents.

Our objective in charging for Directory Assistance is to reduce the spiraling cost of providing the service -- a cost that has skyrocketed due to misuse rather than wise use.

Studies showed that some customers call Directory Assistance 25, 50 or 100 times a month from their homes. Some businesses called more than 2,000 times a month! And yet, 75 percent of the numbers requested were in the telephone directory.

Yet, the cost of excessive use of Directory Assistance was borne by all telephone rate-payers. Thus, we introduced the charge because it is the only way we can handle the rising costs of Directory Assistance fairly. The people who use Directory Assistance the most will now pay the most.

Here's how the plan works:

Customers with single-line basic service who call Directory Assistance (1411) more than 10 times during a monthly billing period will be charged 20 cents for every call after their tenth. A maximum of two numbers may be requested during each call to Directory Assistance. Multi-line customers will have an additional allowance of one call for each line, up to 25 lines.

The Directory Assistance Charge also applies to calls for numbers in other towns within your home Area Code -- with one important exception. You won't be charged for calling Directory Assistance in another town that has the same Area Code as yours provided you make a corresponding Long Distance call within your home Area Code. That call has to be placed from and billed to your own phone within the same monthly billing cycle.

To request numbers in other towns with the same Area Code as yours, continue to dial 1-555-1212.

There is no charge for requesting numbers that have a different Area Code than yours. Just dial 1, plus the Area Code, then 555-1212. Also, there is no charge for Directory Assistance calls from coin telephones or from hospitals.

Some customers not charged.

Visually and physically handicapped people who are unable to use the directory will be exempt from the charge. If you think you, or someone in your family, or a friend may be entitled to this exemption, please fill out the coupon below for more information.

If you're like most people, you'll never be affected by the Directory Assistance charge. In fact, in cities where Directory Assistance charging was already in effect with a five-call allowance, only 5 percent of customers were overcharged each month.

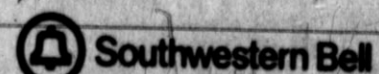

More importantly, 95 percent were not. This certainly indicates that 10 free calls a month will more than meet your needs if you can't find a number in the directory.

So look in the book before you call. It will save you 20 cents that we don't want.

'Meeting of Minds'

Steve Allen brings history to TV

By DAN LEWIS

Steve Allen had an idea for a television series 11 years ago which he persistently tried to sell to the commercial networks.

Now, after all these years of diligence, "Meeting of Minds" is about to premiere, but rather on the Public Broadcasting Service than any of the commercial networks, who have apparently been just as adamant about not wanting it as Allen has been determined to see it on television.

"Meeting of Minds" is a unique concept from the fertile Allen mind. With dramatic license, Allen has taken characters from history, and paired them off into a series of debates, six one-hour shows which will start their run on January 18 on PBS.

Carefully selected so that the protagonists represent different historical periods, but whose attitudes, according to exhaustive research ("I'm a compulsive reader," Allen declares) creates strong adversary situations regarding their philosophies and public pronouncements. It's all based on historical fact.

For instance, in the premiere show the debaters will be Cleopatra, Thomas Aquinas, the 13th Century philosopher, Thomas Payne, the American Revolution author-publisher and President Theodore Roosevelt.

Allen himself will be seen minimally on camera, introducing the characters. Little known, but highly professional actors were selected to play the historical characters according to Allen, so as not to distract from the characters they portray. There will be no credits up front for the same reason.

Allen, a veteran of all areas of commercial as well as public television -- he once ruled late-night TV before giving it up for prime-time -- making way for Johnny Carson's emergence as host of The MEET CLEOPATRA, as played by Jayne Meadows, when she appears with husband Steve Allen in his new and provocative series, Meeting of Minds.

Tonight Show -- wrote all of the scripts. He has the feeling that the show will be extended beyond its six-week run.

In subsequent debates you'll see Sir Thomas Moore, who was beheaded for his opposition to King Henry VIII's defiance of the Catholic Church; Marie Antoinette; Karl Marx and Gen. U.S. Grant; Attila the Hun; Emily Dickinson; Charles Darwin, the English naturalist, and Galileo Galilei, the Italian astronomer and physicist.

"Picking the first character for each segment was no problem," Allen observed. "It was the remaining three that required extensive research. I had to take into account who could have been expected to heatedly differ on important questions. Conflict is always the key to effective drama."

The discussions are heated, but they are not minus the Allen wit.

humorist and TV personality, he was the first host of The Tonight Show (before him, it was the locally televised New York show called Broadway Open House in late-night). Allen hosted The Tonight Show from 1954 to 1957, and gave it up for a four-season run in prime time on NBC with a weekly variety hour.

He has made frequent guest appearances, mostly on variety shows and talk shows. He has also gone into his own syndicated shows with limited acceptance, and possibly was on the verge of a well-accepted success more recently in syndication with "Laugh Back," but ran into a severe union problem that wiped it out.

AFTRA, the show business union representing performers, halted production, Allen claims, because it decreed Allen was using far too much tape and film reruns of his old shows.

"We were paying residuals, and a lot of my old TV cast -- Pat Harrington, Tom Poston, Don Knotts, Bill Dana, Gabe Dell and Audrey Meadows -- were getting paid for live appearances," Allen said. "I wrote two letters to AFTRA asking them to enlighten me on why they were anxious to close the show, and they never offered the slightest enlightenment."

Allen put together 23 "Laugh Back" episodes, all 90 minute shows. They are now seen through syndication, but when that run expires, that's it, much to his regret.

He has a late-night special on ABC coming up in February. "The Fourth Annual Miss Las Vegas Show Girl Beauty Contest," which he considers a comedy special. He likes to do them.

A prolific writer, Allen's also writing a book about mainland China. He visited the country twice last year to research material for the book, which is tentatively titled "Explaining China."

I would like to thank Ann Campbell for drawing the logo for this column.

A menu for you to try sometime this week consists of:

Coeds Invited To Pageant Film

Local coeds still have an opportunity to enter the Miss Hereford Pageant, scheduled March 12, when $900 in scholarships will be awarded to the top three winners.

All Hereford girls including those interested in the Miss Teen Hereford division of the pageant, are invited to a special film presentation at 8:15 a.m. Wednesday at the high school library. Sarah Clark, chairman of the pageant entries, will be present to answer questions and explain the benefits of entering the contest, which is sanctioned by the Miss America Scholarship Corp.

According to Wynelle Robinson, pageant director, there is no obligation to sign a contract as a pageant entrant by attending Wednesday morning's film. However, contracts will be available for signature by interested candidates.

each talent winner in the Miss Hereford and Miss Teen categories. Miss Teen will receive a $100 scholarship.

In addition to the Miss Hereford and Miss Teen crowns, the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division will again sponsor a beauty pageant for a Younger Age Division. This pageant was staged here for the first time last year and gleaned good response from the city. Donna Warwick will again be chairman of this event, to be held on the same day of Miss Hereford Pageant.

Master of ceremonies at the senior pageant this year will be Dean Kelly of Amarillo. Judging will be based on the same values as considered at the Texas Pageant and the Miss America Pageant.

To qualify for the Miss Hereford title, a young woman must be between the ages of 17 and 28, must be a high school graduate as of Labor Day and must have not been married. Personality, poise, beauty and talent are the major points of criteria for judging.

At Wet's End

By Erma Bombeck

You hear a lot of talk these days about the marriages that don't last.

One of my favorite parts of the newspaper is the section devoted to couples celebrating their 50th wedding anniversaries.

Some of the photographs reflect embarrassment over the fuss being made. Some show them standing three feet apart. Some husbands and wives even look alike.

But the part I like best is where they sum up their lives together. The other day I read where one couple said, "We've hauled water by horse and wagon, coped with the cold and the deep snow, raised and educated a family of ten, and lost a daughter, Virginia."

That's 50 years of living--condensed in 27 words. You have to wonder. Were there other moments? Did they hang wallpaper together? Argue about who slept next to the wall? Toast a no-baby month? Become jealous over a guidance counselor?

Did she get sick of his same joke year after year? Did he tire of hearing about her arthritis? Did they wonder about their future together the year he taught her how to drive? The year his mother babysat and cleaned her oven? Was he cheap? Was she boring?

Did he have an annoying habit of picking his teeth with his tongue and making a clicking noise that drove her up the wall? Did she say every night for 30 years when he walked through the front door, "Is that you?"

Did they really love one another through fevers, flu, fatness, nausea, irritability and sarcasm--or did they just hang on?

Did they disappoint one another when the baby died, when she felt neglected?

Did she ever know he hated peppers in his meat loaf and she had put peppers in the meat loaf for 50 years? Did he ever suspect she hated house slippers without heels, but buy them every Christmas?

Ten children... that's a lot of shoes, a lifetime of overbites, an eternity of "Can I's"? ... endless evenings of PTA's an uninterrupted span of "We've got the children to think about."

Golden anniversaries--like the metal--are very precious in this country. Pound for pound, they outclass everything else.

How do they do it? Different ways. As one golden celebrant replied when he was asked how he held on so long, "I have hopes of getting in the last word."

WT Coffee Set Jan. 13 For Women

West Texas State University's Programs for Women Office will open its spring semester activities with an informal orientation coffee Jan. 13 from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. in Education Bldg. Room 104.

Major Schools Vote On NCAA Restructure

BY ED SHEARER
AP Sports Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Smaller schools which carry the voting clout in the National Collegiate Athletic Association only get to watch today when the major colleges vote on a proposal for restructuring Division I.

They will do so with intense interest.

"I've never felt until now the point that the big schools might leave the NCAA," said Stanley J. Marshall, athletic director at South Dakota State University.

"We stand a very good chance of losing several fine institutions if reorganization is not approved. We will suffer. They will not suffer. We will suffer financially and in prestige."

Marshall pleaded with his fellow members of Division II to vocally support the reorganization plan, a package of proposals that sets criteria for membership in Division I. The proposed criteria include one to require the top classification in both football and basketball, plus six other sports.

Division I basketball schools that presently have no football program expressed concern Monday over the loss of voting rights in Division I. Such a school could declare its intent to comply with the criteria and have three years to meet the requirements, but during that period they would be forced to vote in Division II.

There was the possibility an amendment would be offered to allow schools to vote in Division I matters involving the sport in which the school carries Division I status.

"This is basically an attempt to placate the football powers," said the Rev. Phillip Callaghan, NCAA faculty representative from San Francisco. "I've heard a lot of rhetoric about how much we owe them, but we all pay the same dues, don't we?"

San Francisco does not meet the eight-sport criteria and would drop to Division II. The school is ranked No. 1 nationally in The Associated Press college basketball poll.

Division II schools also will watch the Division I vote on athletic scholarships based on need. A straw vote during a roundtable Monday showed the division favors a plan offered by Oregon State to provide only tuition and mandatory fees for athletes, who would then apply for any other aid on a need basis through the channels used by the nonathlete student.

Stanley Galloway, commissioner of the Gulf South Conference, urged the Division II members to make certain Division I approves aid based on the need proposal first, citing a disadvantage to the smaller schools if they are unable to compete for athletes on the same basis as the larger schools by offering athletic grants.

Dons Remain On Top; Kentucky Now Second

By The Associated Press

San Francisco is a solid No. 1 but Kentucky has slipped past Cincinnati into the No. 2 spot in this week's Associated Press college basketball poll.

Six different teams received first-place votes from the panel of 57 sports writers and broadcasters participating in the poll.

San Francisco, 17-0 following victories over Portland and Seattle last week, received 39 first-place votes and a total of 1,084 points. The Dons had succeeded Michigan in the top spot last week.

Kentucky, meanwhile, moved up a notch in the poll, released Monday, on the strength of a pair of tight Southeastern Conference victories over Georgia and Vanderbilt. The Wildcats, 9-1, received eight first-place votes and 847 points. Cincinnati dropped to third place despite trouncing Temple 61-46 in its only game last week to raise its record to 10-0. The Bearcats picked up five first-place votes and 838 points.

Alabama, 12-0 after triumphs over Auburn, Louisiana State and Florida in SEC play last week, held fourth place with 738 points and one first-place ballot.

North Carolina, 10-1, climbed one spot to fifth with 688 points and three No. 1 votes, while Michigan, 9-1, was a distant sixth with 546 points and the remaining first-place ballot.

Wake Forest, 11-1, climbed from 10th to seventh with 484 points, largely on the strength of an 86-85 overtime win over Maryland. Nevada-Las Vegas, 13-1, moved from ninth to eighth with 385 points after winning three games last week.

Completing the Top Ten were Minnesota, 10-0, with 334 points, and Arizona, 11-1, with 288.

Marquette headed the Second Ten, followed by UCLA, Louisville, Maryland, Providence, Arkansas, Clemson, Memphis State, Notre Dame and Oregon.

Notre Dame took the biggest drop, falling from eighth place to 19th after losses to Princeton and Villanova last week. Oregon, which beat UCLA 61-60 Friday, was the only newcomer to the Top Twenty.

Arkansas Tops Tech

BY DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

Arkansas celebrated its brand-spanking new 16th national ranking Monday night with a 60-53 victory over Texas Tech that Razorback Coach Eddie Sutton said could be the "springboard" to a Southwest Conference basketball title.

Both Southern Methodist and Baylor captured victories on the road to stay tied atop the SWC ladder with Arkansas with 3-0 records and Texas Coach Abe Lemons was presented with his first league victory and celebrated by scathing the officials.

Arkansas has now beaten Tech twice and Houston once early in the SWC race and Sutton said "It was a good win for us because Texas Tech probably can't go on after losing two games in the first week and win the conference championship."

"But we know Tech will go on this season and beat the Houston and the Baysors, and we'll be rooting for them. This is a springboard for us. We're off and running, but we're still not in the driver's seat. We have 13 games to go."

Arkansas sophomore guard Sidney Moncrief scored 23 points, including five points in four seconds. After a three-point play he intercepted a Tech pass and put in another basket in the second half to demoralize the Red Raiders, the SWC post-season champions last year.

Pete Lodwick canned 23 points to pace SMU to a 72-61 victory over Rice. Larry Spicer poured home 31 points as Baylor bombed Texas Christian 90-74, and Texas whipped Texas A&M 87-73.

Sutton said "We did well at the free throw line seven of eight. I guess the 100 free throws a day I've been making them shoot helped their confidence."

Lemons fumed after the victory in Austin about the officiating of Arlan Straub and Paul Galvan "I'm trying to think of a break we got and we didn't get any."

"That one guy was just making things up... he has got to be a rookie. And the little guy (Galvan) won't talk to you. I said 'Can I talk?' The guy said 'No!'"

John Moore scored 22 points and Kim Krivacs had 21 as the Aggies dropped to a 1-1 SWC mark. Texas is 1-2.

Baylor Coach Carroll Dawson said "We could have lost this one easy. TCU was a lot more organized than they were last week. They really came after us."

SMU Coach Sonny Allen was delighted with Lodwick's performance, saying "He's played four or five great games for me in the last two years but tonight was his best."

Arkansas rests Wednesday night while A&M is at Baylor. Rice is at Houston, Texas is at SMU, and TCU is at Texas Tech.

Hawks Lose

ATLANTA (AP)—"In Montana, they don't know anything about comebacks," said Atlanta Coach Hubie Brown after his Hawks erased a 20-point third-period deficit before losing 93-92 to the Phoenix Suns.

"All they know is who won or lost the game," said Brown, whose Hawks dropped their ninth National Basketball Association game in 10 starts. "You have to shake your head over the number of heart-breaking losses we have had."

"It was a great second half. The fans who did come out got something to cheer about. But even when you keep them close, it's still an 'L' (loss)," said Brown of the only NBA game played Monday night.

Only 2,408 fans braved chilly, windy weather. They also were treated to a shooting display by Atlanta's John Drew, who scored 29 points in his first action since injuring a knee three weeks ago.

Phoenix led by 20 points early in the third period before the Hawks narrowed the margin to 76-63 entering the final quarter.

Atlanta went ahead 88-87 on a Joe Meriweather basket with 1:07 left before Awan Adam's regained the lead for the Suns with a 15-foot jumper with 51 seconds left.

Paul Westphal, who led the Suns with 20 points, then dropped in four consecutive free throws in the final seven seconds, clinching the victory.

In between Westphal's free throws, Lou Hudson, who had 24 points, and Drew scored baskets for the Hawks.

"Those were some big free throws Westphal made for us at the end," said Phoenix Coach John MacLeod, after the Suns snapped a five-game losing streak. It also was the Suns' first road triumph since beating Atlanta Dec. 12. They had lost nine in a row away from home.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Chapter of the Baseball Writers Association has voted versatile Pirates infielder-outfielder Bill Robinson the Roberto Clemente Award.

Robinson, the fourth winner of the award, finished ahead of pitcher John Candelaria and shortstop Frank Taveras in balloting for the award.

He played all three outfield positions plus first and third base for the Pirates last season while batting .303 and tying Richie Zisk for the club's home run lead with 21.

Dr. Lamb

Potential help for impotence

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am sending you a copy of Ann Landers' column about unfortunate males like me. I have been unable to achieve an erection for the past eight years. As a physician will you tell me what I can do?

The root of the problem has been diagnosed as arterial insufficiency, left leg, with a partial block of the main artery to the lower part of the body where the artery bifurcates.

I am 52 years old and have had a sympathectomy to help my circulation but it has done nothing to help with my impotence, or to relieve the pain when walking. Will you please comment on the surgical procedure that corrects impotence?

DEAR READER — The procedure that caused the big stir originated with the urology department at St. Luke's Hospital in Houston, Texas. I have published this before.

The procedure is simply to insert two collapsible cylinders into the shaft of the organ. These are connected to a pump and a reservoir for fluid. When the pump is activated the fluid is pumped from the reservoir into the collapsible cylinders in the shaft of the organ. Another activator pumps the fluid out of the collapsible cylinders back to the reservoir.

It is much like the normal mechanism. The way nature designed things, upon reflex stimulation nerves cause an increase in the blood flow to the organ and diminish the blood drainage, resulting in distention with blood or an erection.

You do not have to contact St. Luke's Hospital. You can contact any urologist and he should be familiar with the procedure by now. Certainly

Bleach nylon dress at your own peril

By Polly Cramer

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY — We are expecting a new baby in the family and want to have the baby christened in a dress that the family has used for this purpose for many years. It has yellowed with age, so I wonder how I could safely brighten it. The dress is nylon but embroidered with real silk. — MRS. J.C.

DEAR MRS. J.C. — I wonder if your white nylon baby dress was packed alone or with other colored things. Nylon will pick up color from other garments, even the palest pastels. When that is the case I know of nothing that will help. A weak bleach solution could be tried if testing proves that your material will take it, or a commercial dye remover does this sometimes. Follow directions on the box explicitly. Good luck to you, but yours is a precarious job. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — I eat a lot of my meals in restaurants and hate to see waitresses carrying food to the tables with their hair flying around. I think they should all be required to wear hair nets. — G.J.W.

DEAR POLLY — Mrs. B. wanted to whiten her nylon underclothing. I want to tell her that when I had that problem a saleslady told me to keep bluing handy when washing such things. Nylon takes a lot of bluing in the rinse water. This has really worked well for me. — DOROTHY.

DEAR POLLY — This time of year many of us like to bring beautiful colored leaves into the house for effective decorations. We all know they will in a few hours and turn brown, but I spray mine with hair spray.

Spread papers on the kitchen floor, put leaves on the paper, spray, turn over and spray on the other side. I do the same with natural greens I bring into the house for Christmas decorations. They stay green and do not shed their needles for weeks. — GOLDIE.

DEAR POLLY — If your curtains do not have tie-backs, but there are times when you would like to have the window clear, use a spring type clothespin. Spray to blend with or match the curtains, or you might buy plastic ones the right color. These are easy to put on and take off and place on the curtain wherever you like.

My kitchen cabinet is old-fashioned with a roll down section with a door that has failed to work properly for years. I coated the outside of the track with petroleum jelly and rolled the door high enough so I could put the jelly on the curved section of the track inside the cabinet. Now it rolls like new. — MRS. W.A.

Tailor helps confused find the way

By Murray Olderman

SAN FRANCISCO — (NEA) — It strains credulity to hear Bob Hoffman relate how he got into the role of spiritual advisor and patient teacher to the world of people out there — 98 per cent of them, he says — who don't know how to love themselves.

Bob was, after all, merely a custom tailor in Oakland, Calif., with a troubled marriage before he decided dramatically to devote his life to saving souls.

Hoffman received his calling, by his own word, when he was awakened one midnight out of an uneasy sleep. His old friend, Dr. Siegfried Fischer, dead for six months, had come back to him clairvoyantly on this January night in 1967. And for the next five hours, claims Hoffman, Siegfried, who had been a Vienna-trained psychiatrist while on earth, outlined to him the resolution to most peoples' emotional problems.

Now this might be a little hard for you and me to take, but Bob Hoffman, whose education never got past high school, looks at you earnestly and insists there is no other way he could have acquired the foundation of what is now the Fischer-Hoffman process, which is administered to questing patients at a place called the Quadrinity Center in a warehouse type of building a few blocks from the San Francisco waterfront.

He claims that in the last decade more than 1,000 people have gone through his program, shedding what he calls "negative love" and finding "natural beauty in themselves."

This is all outlined for the inquisitive in a book he wrote recently, "Getting Divorced from Mother & Dad."

California — especially this little niche centered around San Francisco bay — has been peculiarly receptive to the vibrations of the occult, the mystic, the psychic, to messages that will heal or put persons at peace with themselves. Everyone's a seeker.

The consciousness revolution which has suffused America has found vivid expression in northern California. Here is where Esalen was founded by Michael Murphy, who had gone to India in search of self, and ended up starting a center for group psychotherapy and gentle disciplines, a forerunner of many others to come. Here is where Jack Rosenberg, a former used car salesman out of Philadelphia, received enlightenment while driving a freeway, changed his name to Werner Erhard and started "est," refining it to mass production which has pulled in more than $20 million.

Here, also thrive such other self-awareness movements as Transcendental Meditation (T.M.), Bio-Energetics, Humanistic Psychology, Tai Chi, Yogi centers, Transactional Analysis, Scientology, the Arica Institute and the Laughing Man Institute.

MEDITERRANEAN SPLIT LEVEL PLAN FOR LARGE FAMILY

EXCEPTIONAL PLAN FOR NARROW LOT

By W. D. FARMER

There are four bedrooms in this plan, all on the upper level, just nine steps from the main level. All bedrooms are large and include surplus closet space and access to one of two full baths. The impressive main level boasts a full foyer, large rooms, well-planned kitchen and very adequate breakfast room.

Notice the open rail view to family room from breakfast and kitchen area. The family room is only four steps down from this area, leaving an open spacious look.

The family room is a full 23'3" by 14'0", larger than average to be sure. A fireplace is included, plus access to rear. A convenience half bath is adjacent, plus extra storage area and laundry area. All of these features are convenient to the kitchen family area.

The attractive Spanish exterior style is enhanced by iron grills. The upper exterior walls and eable ends are of board and batten. A wrought iron rail is added under window with arched glass above.

The plan is Number 7478L A. It includes 1,772 square feet on upper level and 504 square feet of finished lower level. For further information write W. D. Farmer, P.O. Box 40463, Atlanta, Ga. 30359.

orientation. I have spent 20 years trying to become de-skeptical.

Hoffman calls his methods "a spiritual alternative to psychotherapy."

It doesn't come cheap. The intensive three-month course covers 105 hours of sessions at a fee of $1,500. A group numbers 30. "They range from low-end hippie to executive," says Hoffman. He claims he leads a frugal life of self-denial and takes only $1,000 a month out of the program. He calls it the Quadrinity Clinic because it reveals "four aspects of self — the physical, emotional, intellectual and spiritual."

And if he needs any refresher knowledge, well — there's always the option of getting in touch again with Siegfried Fischer, clairvoyantly, to fill him in. "It's not unusual," he scoffs. "Everybody has natural psychic ability."

Welfare A Way Of Life

Nationally, welfare rolls continue to increase twice as fast as our population is increasing.

Nationally, an increasing percentage of Americans are making welfare "a way of life" after having been three or more generations living on government handouts.

New York is trying to supply some kind of financial assistance to 80 per cent of its "poor people."

But in one state welfare rolls are shrinking.

Let's see how they're doing it in Texas.

Texas has approximately the same number of "poor people" as New York yet only 18 per cent of them are getting welfare aid--and even these are averaging only about $1 per person per day.

Where other states try to help every family with less than an income of $5,500 a year, Texas offers no help until the family income is about half that.

And using this though approach, the welfare program in Texas is on such a sound financial footing that it will spend this year $40 million less than its legislative allowance for food stamps and aid to dependent children.

The Texas Constitution limits state cash assistance to $80 million but this year Texas won't spend half that much.

In the past five years, welfare's share of the Texas state budget has declined from 20 cents of every dollar--to 16 cents.

So Texas taxpayers carry a lesser burden.

In New York City last year the average taxpayer had to kick in $159 to the welfare kitty; the average Chicagoan was taxed $170 for that purpose, while a Detroit taxpayer paid $222 to support welfare recipients.

But in Houston, the average taxpayer was taxed for that same purpose only $15.93. And Texas' Welfare Department operates a tight ship, sends less than 2 1/2 per cent mistakenly to persons who are ineligible.

In Massachusetts more than 12 per cent; in Ohio more than 13 per cent of all welfare checks go to "ineligibles."

In many states welfare pays better than working. Not in Texas. A Texas family of four with no other income can expect at most $140 a month.

That means that in Texas poor people are poor people, eager to accept jobs. So "unemployment" in Texas--even in border areas--is consistently less than the national average.

Bill Clayton, speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, says, "High support payments discourage incentive. And incentive is the only way we have to break the poverty cycle."

And Texas has broken the cycle. Texans stay on welfare an average 11 months; New Yorkers 34 months.

And 40 per cent of the Texans who leave welfare do so to take a job.

Longet Described As 'Ringy' Woman During Murder Trial

ASPEN, Colo. (AP) - Weeping with her head in her hands as prosecutors breezed into their case against her, Claudine Longet heard herself described as a confused, "ringy" woman, driven to talk about her lover's death almost from the instant she shot him.

"She repeated, 'I shot him. I didn't mean to. It was an accident,'" said former sheriff's deputy George Ackerman as testimony got under way in this Rocky Mountain ski village Monday. "She was talking to herself. She was upset."

Prosecutors said they hoped to close their case against the ex-showgirl and former wife of singer Andy Williams with a handful of witnesses today after calling 11 persons to the stand Monday.

In his opening statement, Deputy Dist. Atty. Ashley Anderson said Miss Longet "raised the gun, pointed it at professional skier Vladimir Spider Sabich, jokingly said 'bang-bang', at which point Spider Sabich fell to the floor, dying."

35, broke down twice. Once, she buried her face in her hands and cried several minutes before becoming composed again.

The first day's only surprise was provided by the security chief for the exclusive subdivision where Miss Longet lived for two years with Sabich, a 31-year-old professional skier.

Roy Griffith said that as he arrived at Sabich's $250,000 mountainside home, he warned a Pitkin County sheriff's officer about Miss Longet: "Now watch it, this gal is ringy today."

Neither the defense nor the prosecution asked Griffith to define "ringy." Anderson told reporters. "Let the jurors decide."

Griffith described his entry into the home. "All at once, Miss Longet appeared in the hallway," he said. "She was holding her hand to her chest, and for an instant, I thought she had been shot...I said, 'Claudine, who shot who?' and she said, 'I shot Spider.'"

If convicted of the reckless manslaughter charge, Miss Longet could receive a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison and a $30,000 fine. She contends Sabich was teaching her to use the pistol before going out of town when the gun fired accidentally.

Lt. Robert Nicoletti, ballistics expert for the Denver police, underwent the longest cross-examination, especially on his estimate that Miss Longet was "between four and six feet" from Sabich when he was shot.

Nicoletti also said Sabich was wearing a short and long set of underwear when he died, and both undershirts had gunpowder on them.

He repeated testimony given at a preliminary hearing that the safety on the .22 caliber pistol that killed Sabich didn't work.

"Whether the safety is on or whether safety is off, if you pull the trigger, the weapon will fire," Nicoletti said.

Rabies Outbreak Puzzles Border Town Health Officers

LAREDO (AP) - Health officials in this border city aren't sure what caused a massive outbreak of rabies among dogs, but they say it may take "a long time to control" in spite of a massive vaccination campaign.

Joe L. Gonzales, director of the Laredo-Webb County Health Department, said Monday there have been 22 confirmed cases of rabies in dogs since late November.

He added that 22 persons have undergone treatment after being exposed to the disease in an extensive antirabies campaign that includes the use of a relatively new serum that eliminates most of the risk associated with an older serum.

"The problem is that with the long incubation period, it will be a long time before we have this thing completely under control," said Gonzales. "We are sure there are still some rabid dogs out there."

Gonzales said officials believe the rabies outbreak might have been caused by an infected coyote, skunk or racoon, but added, "We may never know what caused it."

Gonzales said the problem is compounded by the variation of rabies that is affecting most of the infected dogs in the area and the disease's long incubation period, which ranges from 20 to 60 days.

"The variety is called 'dumb rabies' Gonzales said. "The animal appears to be choking or have something stuck in its throat and owners become exposed when they try to pull it out."

Seven persons, including two children, have been bitten, he said. All have started or completed the series of anti-rabies shots.

Gonzales said 300 stray dogs have been picked up, while nearly 7,000 of an estimated dog population of 22,000 have been vaccinated by Laredo and Webb County health authorities since the first case was reported Nov. 24.

He said private veterinarians have vaccinated about 2,250 other dogs and about 200 canines have been destroyed.

An antirabies gamma globulin made from human instead of horse blood is being used exclusively in Laredo to combat the disease, Gonzales said.

Dr. William Winkler, an official of the Center of Disease Control in Atlanta, Ga., said of those who take the serum made from horse blood, about 45 per cent have some reaction, ranging from minor itching to serious illness requiring hospitalization.

"The advantage of the antirabies gamma globulin RIG is that it is practically free of side effects," Winkler said.

The new serum, however, costs an estimated $170 per patient, while the equine serum costs between $15 and $25.

Legislators Faced With 112 Economy-In-Government Bills

AUSTIN (AP) - Legislators who returned to work today had no less than 112 economy-in-government proposals to mull over, ranging from admission fees at state museums to merger of the three state water agencies.

The "Hobby Commission" on government expenditures submitted its final report Monday.

"Implementation of these recommendations will not necessarily provide a less expensive state government, but will provide the means for controlling future growth and the opportunity for major changes," the commission said.

The 1975 legislature created the Joint Advisory Committee on Government Operations and instructed it to seek ways of cutting costs of state government.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby chaired the 18-member panel, and House Speaker Bill Clayton was vice-chairman.

The 112 recommendations included merger of the Texas Water Rights Commission, Texas Water Quality Board and Texas Water Development Board into a single water agency.

The commission said the cost of the three agencies had grown from $7.8 million in 1965 to $20.7 million because of new state programs, federal requirements and the growth of administrative and technical expenses.

Also recommended was creation of a new Texas Department of Aging and Special Assistance and a Texas Department of Child and Family Resources.

The department on aging would consolidate services for the elderly now performed by the Governor's Committee on Aging and the Welfare Department.

Services performed for children and young people by the welfare department, the Texas Youth Council and two divisions of the Texas Department of Community Affairs would be combined in the department of child and family resources.

Ceilings were recommended on expenditures for medical care of the needy and on state agency employment.

The commission recommended that the legislature petition Congress to remove from each state employee's taxable income base his or her contributions to the state retirement system.

If this were done, the commission said, "state employees' take home pay could be increased with no cost to the state."

Another recommendation would halt the creation of new state colleges and expansion of "upper level" institutions to full four-year college status.

Other proposals would:

- Increase the amount of idle state funds that are invested.
- Require state mental hospitals and community mental health and mental retardation centers to design joint follow-up plans before a patient is released.
- Halt the construction of new state schools for the retarded until "excess capacity has been exhausted."
- Legislation that would allow pharmacists to substitute, with the customer's consent, "a lower cost biologically equivalent drug for the drug prescribed."
- Limit the number of medical schools to those now operating, but with full expansion of the existing schools.
- Require state-supported museums to charge admission fees.

Ma Bell Dismayed At Ruling

SAN ANTONIO (AP) - Southwestern Bell executives say they are "dismayed and disappointed" over State District Court Judge Franklin Spears' upholding of a $1 million judgment against the firm for tapping the home telephone of a former Bell executive.

"As we've said before, we've been wrongfully branded as wiretappers," said C.L. Todd, head of Bell operations in San Antonio.

A jury last month awarded the $1 million to James Ashley and his wife. Ashley had filed a $4 million suit, also charging that Bell executives conspired to invade his privacy and that the firm improperly used his long distance telephone records.

Spears dismissed all counts except the one dealing with wiretapping.

Bell attorneys had filed a motion that the jury verdict be set aside. Lawyer Hubert Green contended before Spears that the verdict was reached by "piling inference upon inference."

In his ruling Monday, Spears said Ashley's evidence was slim, but Green failed to prove his contention of "inference upon inference."

Ashley and his wife contended that Bell invaded their privacy after they joined the family of the late T.O. Gravitt in a $29 million suit against Bell.

Gravitt was a former head of Bell operations in Texas.

The Gravitt-Ashley suit is still pending in federal court in San Antonio. It charges that the firm libeled and slandered both Ashley and Gravitt during an in-house investigation of higher-echelon executives.

Ashley was fired and Gravitt committed suicide after the investigation.
