

TENSION MOUNTING IN KEY INDUSTRIES

By The Associated Press
Tension appeared mounting in labor disputes in some key industries today.

There were strike threats by the nation's CIO steel and electrical workers. All was not peaceful between John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers and southern coal operators.

The possibility of a nationwide steel strike in 10 days arose after an announcement by U. S. Steel that it would not accept a presidential fact-finding board's peace formula without bargaining.

SOLON WARNS CRISIS LOOMING

Rep. Mahon Says Farm People Must Understand Problems

Farm people must understand their problems and any proposed methods of solution of American agriculture is to avert a crisis.

Congressman George Mahon declared this morning. Speaking to over 400 persons attending a bi-district Farm Bureau meeting in the Settles hotel, Mahon said he did not come here merely to "bring a message of good cheer."

However, the 19th district congressman said he favored an amendment to provide 90 percent parity "across the board."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15. (AP)—Funeral services were held yesterday for Supreme Court Justice Wiley Blount Rutledge.

The services, conducted by the Rev. A. Powell Davies, were held at All Souls Unitarian Church, which Rutledge had attended for some years.

Six members of the high court were present—Chief Justice Fred A. Vinson and Associates Hugo Black, Felix Frankfurter, Robert Jackson, Harold Burton and Tom Clark—as were former Justice James F. Byrnes and Atty. Gen. Howard McGrath. Vinson represented President Truman, who was unable to attend.

Rutledge's widow, Mrs. Annabelle Rutledge, attended the services with her three children, Jean, Mary Lou and Neal.

The Justice's body was to be cremated. He died Saturday at York, Me., where he was stricken while vacationing.

COMINFORM GIVEN LIE Yugoslavia Denies Anti-Hungary Pact

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Sept. 15. (AP)—Yugoslavia has denounced as "lies and slanders" Hungarian charges that Premier Marshal Tito's government had plotted against the Communist regime of Hungary.

The Yugoslav blast was the latest shot in the verbal conflict between Yugoslavia and the Russian-led Communist International Information Bureau (Cominform).

Last week Hungary charged that Yugoslav and American agencies had conspired with László Rajk, former Communist foreign minister of Hungary, and seven others to dispose of key Communists and overthrow the Hungarian government.

The Yugoslav reply, in a statement signed by some members of Yugoslavia's politburo, its Communist Party central committee and high army officers, urged "equal rights" for all Communist countries. The statement was issued by the Yugoslav information ministry.

It said Hungary, with Russian consent, had used "base lies and deceptions against Yugoslavia, as in the case of Rajk." The former foreign minister and the seven others are to go on trial in Budapest tomorrow.

Yugoslavia also registered a strong protest against the exclusion of a correspondent of the official news agency, Tanjug, from a meeting of the executive committee of the International Journalists Assn. in Czechoslovakia, a sister Cominform country of Hungary.

The government said the refusal of a visa for the correspondent was dictated by the Cominform bosses as a part of a "monstrous campaign against Yugoslavia."

The government also announced a new trade pact with Finland to continue to the end of 1950. Yugoslavia will send hardwood, tobacco and metals in return for various paper and other goods. The amounts were not disclosed.

78 Killed, Wounded In Seoul Jailbreak

SEOUL, Sept. 15. (AP)—Seventy-eight persons were killed or wounded today in a break by 430 prisoners from the jail at Mokpo, a seaport 200 miles south of here.

Ten guards and 68 prisoners were slain; eight of the prisoners and 10 reported shot in a battle at a village two miles from Mokpo. Twenty-eight of the prisoners and 10 guards were known to be dead and 40 other prisoners were dead or wounded.

The prisoners staged their break yesterday while being returned to prison from work farms. They seized guns and ammunition and fled to the hills.

Police, army and navy units pursued.

A sharp fight was underway between guards and the remaining 356 escaped prisoners.

The 1,200 inmates of the Mokpo Prison were mostly rounded up last spring during a cleanup of Communist led guerrillas on Cheju Island.

The Army may be returning to suits of armor.

Maj. Gen. W. H. Middlewart of the quartermaster general's office disclosed yesterday the development of bullet-resistant body armor for soldiers—made of plastic and nylon.

The general said the cloth-like substance will resist a .45 caliber bullet fired from only 15 feet away. The material is nearly a quarter-inch thick.

Suits Of Armor Back In Style

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Sept. 15. (AP)—The Army may be returning to suits of armor.

Brinkley died last April 22 with his head in the lap of another woman.

Attorneys were to present their final arguments today.

Shivers To Run For Full Term In 1950

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 15. (AP)—Texas Gov. Allan Shivers will run for a full term next year.

Shivers disclosed this yesterday after arriving for a friendship visit to Mexico.

He told a news conference he would run "God willing and the people favorable."

Shivers, elected to a second term as lieutenant governor in 1948, became governor when Gov. Beauford Jester died this summer.

EUROPEAN TRIP OF SIEGEL'S GIRL FRIEND STIRS MUCH SPECULATION

DALLAS, Sept. 15. (AP) — Bugsy Siegel's girl friend, Virginia Hill, is either en route to Europe or already there but why she made the trip is a "matter of speculation." Clinton H. Anderson, Beverly Hills, Calif., police chief said Miss Hill, good friend of the California mobster who was shot to death in 1947, left Mexico City for Europe "about two weeks ago."

"There are reports she is going to see Lucky Luciano in Italy, but that's purely speculation," Anderson said. He plans to fly home late today from the convention of the International Assn. of Chiefs of Police.

Anderson said Miss Hill was "getting money from someone." "I know who the money's coming from but will not say who, now. We're going to try and keep track of Miss Hill in Europe. We think she has a lot of information about the Siegel case which would help us. It's going to be hard to watch her now that there's been publicity about her trip. She'll be careful now."

Asked why anyone would be giving money to Miss Hill, Anderson said "It could be so that she will keep her mouth shut."

LAWYER HAS ONE-VOTE MARGIN

Adenauer Elected Chancellor Of West German Republic

BONN, Germany, Sept. 15. (AP) — Catholic Conservative Dr. Konrad Adenauer skinned through by a one-vote margin today to win the necessary majority to elect him first chancellor of the West German Republic.

The 73-year-old lawyer pulled a bare majority of 202 votes in the 402-member Bundestag (lower house) of parliament after nomination by President Theodor Heuss yesterday.

As first German chancellor since Adolf Hitler, Adenauer will be the strongest man in the new federal government, heading a cabinet of his own choice.

In his new position—equivalent to prime minister—Adenauer will assume the guiding role in western Germany's return to self-rule.

The three-party rightist coalition supporting Adenauer came within one vote of failing to win the necessary majority.

The vote was:
 Yes—202
 No—142
 Invalid—1
 Abstained—44

Although there are 402 deputies, only 389 were present at today's session. The constitution requires a majority of the full house, regardless of whether all 402 members are present.

It appeared obvious that the 15 Communists had joined the Socialists and disgruntled Bavarian rightists in opposing Adenauer for chancellorship.

The Bavarians accused Adenauer of switching promises last week with the result that Dr. Karl Arnold, Christian Democratic minister president of North-Rhine Westphalia, was elected president of the Bundestag (upper house) instead of a Bavarian.

At a session of the lower house next Monday, the chancellor will make a policy statement and announce his new cabinet. It was disclosed. The Bundestag then will debate the policy statement, after which a vote of confidence will be asked.

Completion of the government will cause the replacement of the American, British and French military governments by a civilian high commission, allied control over German affairs, then will be regulated by an occupation statute, a sort of interim peace treaty, in which the Germans are given self-rule in nearly everything except foreign relations and trade.

POLISH CLAIMS
 Adenauer, in his first policy statement, said today that Germany would never give up claims to its Polish occupied eastern territories.

Shortly before he was elected as chancellor by the federal parliament, he gave a statement to the Associated Press on the policies he will pursue. They included:

Work for revision of Germany's eastern frontier.
 Encourage the Western Allies to maintain as many troops as the Russians in Europe.
 Work for peaceful collaboration with the United States, England and France.

Press for Germany's admission to the Council of Europe.
 In a message to the people of the United States, Adenauer said: "We owe the United States an extraordinary amount. Perhaps never in the history of the world has it happened that a victorious power devoted itself to the reconstruction of the vanquished.

"If the United States continues in the way it now is doing, then world history one day will regard this reconstruction as something greater than was the attainment of victory."

Adenauer, a real power behind the year-long preparations for the new federal republic, said in regard to relations between Russia and the Western Allies:

"I do not belong to those who say that peace can be attained only by war. But it is necessary to be cautious in one's attitude toward authoritarian governments."

"Russia more likely will be peaceful if determination to preserve peace is shown on the other side."

Texas' Antimony Smelter May Close

LAREDO, Sept. 15. (AP) — Texas' only antimony smelter—and one of the few in the United States—may have to shut down.

Gen. Man. O. D. Niedermeyer said the plant now is processing its stockpile of ore and no new shipments are being received from Mexico.

Antimony is a hard metal used for bearings, type metal, cable covering, ammunition, solder and in paints and lacquers.

Nurse Admits Posing In Nude For Savant Who Pistol-Whipped Her

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 15. (AP) — A buxom 35-year-old nurse testified in court here that she once posed in the nude for the university professor who beat her with a pistol.

Ann E. Pierce also declared on the stand in general sessions court yesterday that Russell B. Maxey called her his "kept woman" before an attorney friend of his.

Maxey, a 45-year-old engineering professor at the University of South Carolina, is on trial for burglary with intent to murder the attractive brunette nurse and for assault and battery with intent to kill.

Conviction on these charges carries a maximum penalty of life imprisonment.

Miss Pierce also related on the stand yesterday that Maxey pistol-whipped her for almost two hours after she emerged from under her bed where he had hidden in her suburban home here Aug. 3.

When he was arrested Maxey told officers he beat Miss Pierce because he was jealous and wanted to marry her. He recently became reconciled with his wife.

The pretty dark-haired nurse further testified yesterday that Maxey several times asked her to marry him but that she turned him down. She told the jury, however, that she and Maxey had traveled and registered at several hotels as man and wife.

She also said that she allowed Maxey, a professional photographer, to make "figure studies" of her without her bathing suit on when they once visited a South Carolina beach.

GOPs Figure On 80 More House Seats In 1950

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15. (AP) — Republican statisticians figured today that the 1950 congressional elections may well give the GOP 80 additional House seats and a comfortable majority.

They based their figures on returns from the Republican triumph in a special House election in Pennsylvania where GOP Candidate John P. Saylor won a seat formerly filled by a Democrat.

The figures came from the office of Rep. Leonard W. Hall of New York, chairman of the National Republican Congressional Committee.

If the Republican per cent of increase in the Pennsylvania contest were applied nationally, Hall's office said, "the result in 1950 would be to give the Republicans 80 additional seats in the House."

Prior to Saylor's election, the House lineup was: 261 Democrats, 170 Republicans, one American-Labor and three vacancies.

Hall's figures showed that Saylor won by a majority of 8,460 in a race in which 107,358 votes were cast. (These figures differed slightly from other unofficial totals compiled by the Associated Press.)

The Republicans said that percentage-wise, the total vote was one of the largest ever in a special election—95.8 per cent of the number cast in the regular 1948 election in that district.

Smithwick Goes On Trial Oct. 24

BELTON, Sept. 15. (AP)—Sam Smithwick will be tried Oct. 24 for the murder of a crusading Alice radio commentator.

The date of the trial for the 60-year-old former Jim Wells County deputy sheriff was set late yesterday by District Judge Wesley Dice.

Dist. Judge Paul A. Martineau transferred the case here from Alice on his own initiative.

Smithwick is charged with fatally shooting W. H. (Bill) Mason as he sat in his automobile in an industrial section of Alice last July 29.

Mason, 51, who had worked on newspapers from coast to coast, had criticized Smithwick in a broadcast the day before his death. He said the deputy owned property on which an Alice night spot was situated and that loose women plied their trade there.

Smithwick has been transferred from the jail at Alice to the one here.

MYRTLE BACK IN SAILOR SPRINGS

FLORA, Ill., Sept. 15. (AP)—Myrtle the turtle is back in the Sailor Springs area—maybe.

Some residents are wondering if Myrtle has been roaming these parts for more than 62 years, or whether an old shell game is being played.

George A. Baker said he first spotted the turtle in 1928 and the date "1887" and the initials "D. D." were carved on the back of the turtle he nicknamed "Myrtle." Baker said he carved "1928" on Myrtle's back. Baker carved "1943" and "1947" on Myrtle's shell when he found her again in those years, he said.

The other day Baker said he found Myrtle again and brought her into Flora to show her off.

Seawell Is Named Captain Of City High School Band

Rollyn Homer Seawell, senior saxophonist, will head the Big Spring high school band this year. Members of the band Wednesday named him as captain. This is his third year with the band following his transfer to Big Spring from Austin high of El Paso in 1947.

New drum major of the band is Joy Williams, sophomore sax player. Joy was elected from a group, which conducted tryouts during the summer band school events. marching classes, and will lead the band in all parades, football half-time shows and other marching events.

Queen of the band will be Janelle Beene, senior student. She will be crowned queen in the traditional band coronation during the half-time performance of the band at the Big Spring-Brownfield game here Sept. 23.

Majorities in the marching band this year will be Thelma Lou Tucker and Helen Lewallen, both juniors and clarinet players. Four lieutenants named include Omar Fittman, Jr., tympani and bell player, Mary Martin, clarinet; Gary Nichols, cornet; and Betty Ledlow, bells and clarinet. All are seniors.

The lieutenants are student leaders in recreational activities of the

Brennan Explodes At Lonely Hearts Trial

DOVER, Del., Sept. 15. (AP)—The first show of emotion by 16-year-old Robert Brennan punctuated legal moves by prosecution and defense in the third day of Delaware's "lonely hearts" murder trial.

Young Brennan's outburst yesterday came when Lt. Winfield Cochran of the Delaware state police identified a hand saw as one that he said the youth told him belonged to Wade N. Woodruff.

Rising in his seat in the prisoner's dock, Robert shouted: "You're a liar."

Young Brennan is on trial for the Oct. 10 shotgun slaying of Woodruff, 67, in Woodruff County, Va., a carpenter. The boy's mother, Mrs. Inez Brennan, 42, is being tried along with her son as an accomplice.

The state contended Mrs. Brennan met Woodruff through lonely hearts letters.

During most of yesterday's session the state paraded a series of exhibits which it claims mutually identify young Brennan as the slayer of Woodruff.

Cochran was the only witness during the day. His testimony brought repeated objections from Benjamin R. Donolow, of Philadelphia, chief of defense counsel.

After Cochran completed his testimony under direct examination, the jury of 10 men and two women was excused and Cochran was recalled for cross-examination.

Chief Justice Charles S. Richards said his action was taken in order to permit Donolow to prove that the oral confession which the state contends Robert had made and used by Cochran in his testimony had been obtained improperly.

After a recess the court announced all of Cochran's testimony covering the defendant's confession made after 15 would be stricken from the record.

This brought an objection from Atty. Gen. Arthur W. James who explained Robert identified on April 16 three tar pots in which the state contends the youth carried the ashes of Woodruff's body from the Brennan farm to a Dover City dump.

Again the court recessed. Then it announced all of the defendant's statements made on April 16 would stand in the record.

Red Defense Lawyer Will Answer Contempt Charges At Trial's End

NEW YORK, Sept. 15. (AP)—At least one—and maybe more—of the defense lawyers at the Communist conspiracy trial must answer contempt charges when the case ends.

Federal Judge Harold H. Medina slapped a contempt citation on Defense Atty. George W. Crockett Jr. yesterday.

The judge called a second attorney "persistently contemptuous."

The crackdown on Crockett, a Detroit Negro, was the most severe administered by Medina in his many arguments with the defense on trial for almost eight months.

The judge did not sentence Crockett but told him: "You will be brought to justice."

Defendant Carl Winter, Michigan Communist leader, was being cross-examined in a government effort to learn if he had used false names. He repeatedly pleaded that he could not remember places and events brought up by U. S. Atty. John F. X. McGohey.

Finally, Judge Medina permitted introduction of a birth record to try to pin down Winter's whereabouts in June 1942. It was a record of the birth of his only child, a daughter.

The witness brought this on himself by one of his non-responsive answers," Medina said in permitting introduction of the birth record.

Then the judge began to read parts of the birth certificate himself. Apparently he read more than Crockett thought he should. The attorney jumped up and started: "In view of your honor's seemingly unintentional readings—"

Judge Medina cut Crockett short and told him: "That is one of the most contemptuous things that has occurred at this trial, and for that you will be brought to justice. You say I seemingly do something and accuse me of deliberately evil motives here."

"I now adjudge you in contempt for that."

Crockett protested that he meant no reflection on the court.

Another defense attorney, Harry Sacher, asked the judge to vacate the contempt citation.

"I shall certainly not vacate it," Medina replied. "I have had too much of that sort of thing."

A short time later, Sacher fell afoul of the court's wrath. Judge Medina cut short the lawyer's objection to certain evidence and told him he wanted to hear no more arguments.

"Will there come a time when your honor will hear us?" asked Sacher.

Cracked Judge Medina: "Mr. Sacher, I consider that impertinent, but you have been so persistently contemptuous throughout the trial I suppose nothing will make you desist."

The 11 Communist leaders are accused of conspiring to advocate the violent overthrow of the U. S. government.

PENN. SELECTION HAILED

GOP All Set To Give Demos 'Hell'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (AP)—Republicans who have been calling for all-out attacks on the Truman administration grabbed for the GOP campaign reins today on the strength of a Pennsylvania special election victory.

As an example, Sen. Wherry of Nebraska, the GOP floor leader, said his party's success in a trial run in the 26th Pennsylvania district "shows there is no room for me-tooers and compromisers in next year's fight for control of Congress."

"We've got to give the Democrats hell if we expect to win," Wherry told a reporter.

As floor leader, Wherry often finds himself in the minority even among his Republican Senate colleagues in his opposition to President Truman's domestic and foreign policy proposals.

He has contended, along with some other party members, that the Republicans tossed away the presidential election last year because Gov. Thomas E. Dewey put on a sweetness and light campaign in contrast with President Truman's vigorous stumping.

Wherry's hand seems to have been strengthened by the victory of Republican John P. Saylor over Mrs. Robert L. Coffey, Sr., the Democratic candidate in the Pennsylvania congressional race where the President's program was a main issue.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), who has voted for far more of the administration's proposals than Wherry, said the Pennsylvania results prove that Republicans can't win by pussyfooting.

"I think the election demonstrates that when the Republicans meet the issues squarely and vigorously, they can win," he said.

TESCO Employees, Families To Visit Lake Colorado City

Texas Electric Service Company employees and their families in this area will inspect the company's new lake and generating plant near Colorado City on Saturday.

Attendance is expected from a six-county area. In addition to Colorado City employees and their families, delegations are due from Big Spring, Sweetwater, Snyder and Lamesa. Officials from headquarters in Fort Worth and other points will participate.

A. L. McSpadden, TESCO manager at Colorado City, said that preparations are being made for 600 visitors at Lake Colorado City, six miles southwest of the town. TESCO has impounded the lake to furnish water for steam in the 40,000-kilowatt electric generating plant now under construction there.

Visitors will inspect the lake and the plant site. After barbecue dinner has been served, McSpadden will preside at a program to be presented by the company's Quarter-Century club, composed of employees with more than 25 years of continuous service.

TESCO Line To Scurry Oilfields Will Be Built

Construction of a 66,000-volt line from its generating plant on Morgan Creek near Colorado City to Scurry county oil fields was announced Thursday.

J. B. Thomas, Fort Worth president of Texas Electric Service company, said that work would start soon on the project, which is to be completed by Nov. 1.

The line will serve in addition to a 33,000-volt connection with the Sweetwater substation, and the local generating units now in use at Snyder.

Thomas announced that TESCO has purchased site for a 66,000-volt substation south of Snyder. Power from this new station will feed more power into the enlarged Snyder distribution system and into new lines serving the rapidly developing Scurry oil pools.

The large Colorado City pumping station on the Basin Pipeline system will be supplied by the new high-voltage line. This station is nearing completion. TESCO has contracted to supply five large pumping stations on the pipe line, which extends from the Texas New Mexico border to Cushing, Okla. More than 20,000 horsepower in electric motors will operate the pumps and equipment. Only two stations are still under construction.

Source of the power will be the TESCO 40,000 kilowatt steam electric generating station on Morgan Creek, southwest of Colorado City. It will utilize natural gas for fuel and water for condensation will be taken from the company's new lake on Morgan Creek. Colorado City has a contract for taking a major portion of its domestic water supply from the lake. The generating plant is slated for completion in June 1950.

New Officers Of American Legion Are Installed At Colorado City

COLORADO CITY, Sept. 15—Installation of new officers of the Hooker-Pond American Legion post has been accomplished with recitation of the organization's constructive work.

Recently the post was involved in news resulting from non-members attending a public dance in the Legion hut straying the area with refuse and beer cans. The post took prompt action to prevent a recurrence.

T. J. Gross, II was installed this week as commander. Vice-commanders are Bill Cater and Bruce Hart. Other officers include Marvin L. Major, adjutant; W. B. Crockett, Jr., finance officer; Porter Richardson, chaplain; Sherman Hart, historian; John S. Williams, post service officer; Dr. Harry S. Logsdon and Walter B. Grubbs, former commanders, executive committeemen.

When indignation arose over the beer-can episode, which splashed over on the Baptist church property, Legionnaires succeeded in having floodlights installed around the hut and special patrolmen added, at Legion expense, when dances are in progress. These affairs, post officials explained, are means for financing a broad program of service activities.

Typical of these are financing a delegate's trip to Boss' State promotion of sale of flags to merchants; awards to best citizens in eighth grade; providing rehearsal space for the municipal band; presentation of new insignia for high school band uniforms; purchase of a DDT spraying machine.

Other activities include sponsorship of a senior scout unit; fostering scout gatherings; permitting use of the hut for a square dance; organizing an annual Armistice Day parade and feed for Legion members of their families; providing the hut for the annual March of Dimes dance; distribution of safety literature and execution of safety campaigns; providing films for schools.

New Dairymen's Unit Is Set Up At Colorado City

COLORADO CITY, Sept. 15—Dairymen here have completed the organization of the Permian Artificial Breeders association.

Heading the new unit, set up at a meeting here Tuesday night, is Carl Rogers, Colorado's Cretaceous Corley Rogers, Colorado City. Other officers are Hugh Moore, late vice-president; S. O. Latham, Colorado City secretary-treasurer; Earl Hunter and Dick Gregory, Jr., directors.

Membership is open within a 28-mile radius to those interested in artificial breeding programs for dairy cattle.

Charter has been asked on the strength of 19 participants at the first meeting. Joe Cowan, county agent, hailed it as a program adapted to small operators in impositions of the most rapidly development of herds. Dairying is one of the most rapidly developing industries in Mitchell county.

Mitchell Singers To Meet Sunday

COLORADO CITY, Sept. 15—Annual meeting for the Mitchell County Singers Convention will be held here Sunday. It will begin at 10 a. m. at the junior high school auditorium and will continue through the day. W. E. Woods, president, and Georgia Lee, secretary, said a number of out-of-county singers were expected.

Sure You Haven't A "Blind Spot"?

As I was driving down Main Street last Saturday, another car swung out right in front of me. It turned out to be Buck Blake. He wasn't going fast. It was just that he had something else on his mind at that particular moment.

Buck's really one of the nicest fellows I've ever known. But, sometimes he gets to day-dreaming on the road. He sort of gets a "blind spot" to what's going on about him!

Now, lots of normally considerate folks have their "blind spots."

It could be anything from day-dreaming while driving a car to hammering out loud at the movies.

From where I sit, it's mighty important to be on guard against your own "blind spots." The other fellow has a right to his "share of the road," too—whether it's having a taste for a temperate glass of sparkling beer or a desire to listen to some classical music if he wants to.

Models Discover Business Is Specialized As Engineering

NEW YORK, (U) — Modeling is now a business as specialized as engineering.

So before you pack your suitcase and make for the big city, young woman, let's look at some models and decide which doors you want to knock upon.

First, there's the glamorous fashion photographers' model, like Jean Patchett.

Then there's the fashion show model, like Wendy Russell.

There are models in dress houses, like Peggy Porter.

And there are artists' models, like Leona Osborn.

Even-featured and beautiful Jean Patchett, 23, is currently riding the crest of the wave in her own division. Since last year (when her career started) she has been on five magazine covers and has lost count of the number of times she has been on the inside pages. She has taken airplane and boat jaunts to southern and northern climes for photography purposes. Her weekly pay is over $500.

"If it ever drops below $500," she said, "I get worried and think maybe I'm through. Then I rush out and get a new hairdo or something."

She's an Eastern shore Maryland girl whose ambition was to be a singer. But she was infected by the modeling bug, borrowed some money from a disapproving family and hit New York.

She lives in a women's hotel, is careful about money and thinks, maybe, if she's smart and handles herself well, she'll last 10 years in the business.

"It's hard work," she says. "I haven't had a date for a week. You've got to take good care of yourself if you want to look fresh and attractive."

According to Jean, no one can teach you to be a model, it's something you can do or can't do.

"You have to have a feel for clothes, and be able to catch in your face the mood of a dress," she added.

Jean is at the top of her profession—only a handful of girls make that "ind of money. Many hopefuls, who receive occasional jobs, are making coffee-and-cake money as saleswomen or clerical workers.

Pretty, vivacious Wendy Russell, a few years older than Jean, is one of the most popular fashion show models in the business—and it pays off during the fashion show season at a rate of about $400 a week. But the average model take, says Wendy, runs around $125.

When Wendy came to New York from Marshall, Tex., the fashion show model invariably war a coldly beautiful, bored girl who walked out and displayed clothes as though she were conferring a privilege upon the audience.

That wasn't Wendy's dish of tea. She ran out to the audience, look-

FASHION SHOW MODEL—Model Wendy Russell displays a new creation during a fashion show in the Oval Room at New York's Ritz-Carlton Hotel. ing pleased and excited as well as pretty. She sold clothes, and soon was in great demand. She thinks she started a new technique in her line.

"I just gagged it up," she says. "Some times I wear colored wigs." She lives with her mother in a mid-town apartment, and spends her leisure time operating a clothing rental service for models. This also shows a profit.

She likes her job—partly because she can take a two-and-a-half month vacation in the summer and a month off in the winter.

Beauty isn't the main asset when you're modeling for a dress house.

Pretty Model Peggy Porter, one of the liveliest models on the dress house circuit says:

"The secret of modeling for a dress house is that you've got to be able to make a $2.98 dress look like a $100 garment. Poise and graciousness are the requisites, not beauty, although good looks help."

Peggy says her main satisfaction is that she really is a saleslady as well when she models the dresses Jo Copeland designs for Pattullo.

"I've been with Pattullo for eight years. Don't you think the buyers know my every facial expression by now? They can tell whether I like a dress or not. If I like it, often they will buy it on that score alone."

She works a 10 to 5 day, which she considers excellent hours. The work is not tiring. The average dress house model makes $65 a week, tops is about $80. When "on the road" they get traveling expenses and bonuses.

Leona Osborn has been an artists' model for 20 years—and so was her mother until shortly before her death a few months ago.

Leona is probably one of the most painted, sculptured women in America, posing for more than a generation of pupils who have passed through the Art Students' League. She's paid on an hourly rate, and her salary averages around $50. Frequently she poses for professional artists. Then the rate goes up, sometimes as high as $7 an hour.

But she prefers to work in the school. She enjoys talking to and watching the students. Miss Osborn came to her profession by way of the early motion pictures and the stage. She was a show girl in an early "Artists and Models"—posing nude and motionless on the stage.

DOLLAR-POOR EUROPE ANGLES FOR MIDDLE-CLASS AMERICAN TOURISTS

NEW YORK, (U)—In its bid for dollars, Europe is casting provocative glances at the middle-class American tourist. With such lures as "package" tours, elimination of visas and customs-exemption increases, the Old World hopes to entice many thousands of Americans abroad during the usually slack fall and winter seasons.

Sixteen European countries—Austria, Belgium, Denmark, France, Great Britain, Greece, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Sweden, Switzerland and Turkey—have joined forces in an all-out campaign for the purpose. Striking arm of the alliance is the European Travel Commission, which has set up offices in New York.

The Commission, headed by Sweden's Birger Nordholm, points out that the "off season" are fine for travel.

"The traveler who goes to Europe in the fall and winter sees the country in its normal stride," Nordholm says. "Cultural, social and educational activities are in full swing. Institutions of learning and art are open, whereas some may be closed in the summer. And, because accommodations are less crowded, the traveler can have in closer contact with the people of the countries he visits and enjoy European life and culture under normal conditions, unhampered by crowds."

Special arrangements are being made by the Commission to pro-

U. S. Treasury Had Start 160 Years Ago

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—The U. S. Treasury, biggest money handler of all time, got going 160 years ago Sept. 2.

The Treasury story is primarily one of enormous increase in financial transactions. But its history is dramatized also by the operations of the "T-Men" and by a love-triangle slaying in the sedate old Treasury Building itself.

The slaying (on Jan. 30, 1865) was something of a national sensation for two months prior to the assassination of Abraham Lincoln.

Andrew J. Burroughs, a clerk in the office of the comptroller of the currency, was shot and killed by an Iowa girl he had jilted.

Burroughs and Miss Mary Harris of Burlington, Ia., were childhood sweethearts. They were engaged when Burroughs left Iowa for his job in Washington.

Burroughs fell in love with a Washington girl and married her. When word of this reached Miss Harris she came to Washington, waited for him in a third-floor corridor of the Treasury building. As Burroughs left his office at closing time she shot him twice. He died almost instantly. A Treasury guard arrested Miss Harris and turned her over to Washington police.

She was acquitted at her trial on a murder charge. The "unwritten law" was the plea of Defense Attorney Daniel Voorhees, a representative and later a senator from Indiana.

While money handling is the Treasury's main business, its six law-enforcement agencies constitute one of the world's highest networks of crime detection. The "T-Men" wage constant war on counterfeiter, the tax evader, the narcotics peddler, the smuggler, the marihuana smoker and the moonshiner.

Treasury officials describe the intelligence unit of the Internal Revenue Bureau as "a billion-dollar organization." They say that the unit has saved the government more than a billion dollars in taxes and penalties since its organization in 1913.

The Secret Service has been cracking down on counterfeiters since 1865. It began protecting the President of the United States after the assassination of President McKinley in 1901 and it guards billions of dollars in money and securities in the Treasury vault.

U. S. Customs Bureau officers in 1948 seized smuggled diamonds, gold and other merchandise valued at $15 million.

Bureau of narcotics agents arrested 2,598 persons for narcotic violations and 1,297 persons in marihuana cases.

Alcohol tax unit investigators have fleets of fast cars equipped with radios and use airplanes to spot stills in remote wooded areas. The present unit dates back only to 1934, but there were federal "revenooers" as early as 1797 when George Washington put down the whisky rebellion in western Pennsylvania.

When Congress set up the Treasury Department Sept. 2, 1789, it got off to a small start. It had a half-dozen employees including Secretary Alexander Hamilton, a government debt of $75 million and some continental currency which many citizens said wasn't "worth a continental."

The department now has 89,000 employees, more than $27 billion in money and securities in its vaults and about $26 billion in circulation. It also handles a government debt of $255 billion.

Government expenditures in the first three-year period, 1789-1791, totaled $4,209,027. They rose to $1,297,555,000 in the Civil War year 1865 and to $12,696,702,000 in 1918 during the first world war.

Expenditures topped the $100 billion mark in 1945. Last year of world war II fighting the Treasury's outlay for the six-year period 1940-1945 was a record $325 billion, ten times as much as during the comparable World War I period.

The Treasury obtained its first revenue from duties on imports. Congress passed a tariff act July 4, 1789, about two months before establishment of the Treasury Department.

The first internal taxes were levied in 1791 and applied to distilled spirits and carriages. Later a federal tax was levied on refined sugar properly sold at auction, legal instruments and real property.

During the war of 1812 there were federal taxes on household furniture, watches, gold and silver ware, jewelry and manufactured articles.

In the early days the Treasury had charge of many federal activities of little fiscal importance. It supervised the postal service until 1829 and the General Land Office from 1812 to 1849.

Operations associated with business were Treasury activities before the Department of Commerce was instituted in 1903.

The Treasury Department was located first in Federal Hall in New York City site of the present sub-treasury. It moved to Philadelphia when that city became the capital in 1790 and came to Washington with the rest of the government in 1800.

Former German Soldiers Attend Civilian School

By DON DOANE

MEELHAM, Germany.—After years in Russian prisons former German soldiers are going to school here to learn again what life is like for free civilians.

The school is new. It lacks funds. Its courses last only two weeks. But it has made a hopeful beginning.

Its students are German prisoners of war recently freed by Russia. All have been prisoners ever since the war.

"We try to give these fellows a period of readjustment to ease them back to normal life," said Herr Will Winker, one of the school's founders. "We hope to free them from fear and distrust," said Dr. Karl Wittalm, dean of the Munich people's high school, which sponsored the project.

The students can take short refresher courses on trades or professions or they can attend lectures on academic subjects, with some of Germany's best known scholars as volunteer professors.

"The mental hunger of these men is insatiable," said Dr. Winker. "They are like children being told about the outside world. They listened breathlessly when Mrs. Laura L. Gutkind from London lectured recently about daily life in Britain."

Instruction is deliberately informal. Group discussions are often held during a walk through the fields instead of in a class room.

The U. S. military government is sponsoring a one-week leadership training conference in Belham. The Nuremberg high school will take over the whole school for a two-week period. Civic and business organizations are being urged to offer scholarships.

Dr. Winker's big disappointment is that so far no women prisoners have enrolled in the school.

"They are mentally and physically broken after long years in Russian mines and factories," he said. "They are not much interested in anything after their return."

Ex-Paratrooper Heads Shakespeare Theater

STRATFORD, England, Sept. 15.—A rugged ex-paratrooper is the new director of Will Shakespeare's theater here.

He's 35-year-old Anthony Quayle, dapper and red-haired, who succeeded Sir Barry Jackson, 70.

Appointment of Quayle coincided with introduction of a new policy. At the end of this season the company will not, as before, be disbanded but will set out in October for a tour of the United States and Canada. For the first time it will be an all-year-round organization.

Quayle's principal task, he says is getting London's top stars to appear here for the theater's top weekly salary of $200—about one-quarter of what stars draw in London's West End.

"To get the really top-notchers," he says, "we had to sell them on our idea that Stratford should provide the peak of Shakespearean acting in Britain."

Quayle sold it.

An assistant last year to Sir Barry he persuaded Diana Wynyard and Geoffrey Tearle—both internationally known stars—to act at Stratford. Both are back again this year playing most of the main parts. In 1950 John Gielgud, considered one of the worlds to Shakespearean actors, is expected to lead the company.

Quayle sees Stratford, too, as a stable "for the training of thousands for the stage."

He's planning to reconstruct the theater eventually. "We have to do something about the huge orchestra pit which results in a bad lack of intimacy between the actors and the audiences—and Shakespeare's plays depend on intimacy," he says.

And he says the dressing rooms are far too small. "Good acting springs from deep concentration," he says. "If you have to share a mirror and a wash basin with someone else it adds to the mental fatigue. This is not a snobbish point—it's simply a matter of getting the best out of the actor."

This year Quayle's company is putting on "Much Ado About Nothing," "MacBeth," "A Midsummer Night's Dream," "Cymbeline," "Othello" and "Henry VIII."

Quayle was born at Alnsdale, Lancashire, on Sept. 7, 1913. He attended Rugby, one of England's top public schools, then when he was 18 enrolled in the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in London.

He became a stooge or feeder to a vaudeville comedian. Then he joined the Old Vic in 1932, went to New York for a season in 1936 where he played in "The Country Wife." He had just been promoted to leads when the war broke out.

In 1944 as a major he was parachuted into Albania. When the war ended he wrote a novel "Eight Hours from England" about his experiences. He has published one other novel, "On Such a Night."

In 1947 he married Dorothy, his son, who also has achieved some fame on the stage. Their daughter Rosanna, was born last year.

Penquin Continues To Grow After Death

MALVERN, Australia.—Alan Campbell-Drury, radio operator and official photographer with the Australian Antarctic Expedition, after 12 months duty on Heard Island, returned with a stuffed baby penguin, a foot high.

Some time after his return the creature had grown six inches, yet had been dead several months.

It had been stuffed with glass wool—as used by the expedition—stuffed scientist with the expedition island brought it home and it grew 12 inches. An explanation of the change has been made.

Serve This Attractive Casserole Of Ham And Peas For 'Fork Food'

If you want "fork food" for a buffet supper, serve an attractive casserole of creamed diced ham and peas to spoon over golden wedges of Johnny Cake. You can prepare the ham and peas well ahead of time and pop the Johnny Cake into the oven just before your guests arrive. The canned peas called for in the recipe are inexpensive and widely available now. For an easy salad accompaniment wash and dry whole tomatoes, cut out the stem end, and then cut each tomato into six wedges without cutting through at the bottom. Perk a few salad greens in the center of each tomato, as shown in the accompanying photograph, and a little French dressing and presto!

CREAMED HAM AND PEAS... Serve it over Johnny Cake

And so to dessert. After a main course of this sort you might just take the easy way and serve fruit and cookies, or if you want to go to town run up a fresh pear pie, using good rich pastry. With it lots of good hot coffee, of course.

Creamed Ham and Peas
 Ingredients: 1/4 cup butter or margarine, 1/4 cup flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 No. 2 can peas, milk, 2 cups diced cooked ham.

Method: Melt butter or margarine in a medium-size saucepan over low heat; remove from range. Add flour, salt, pepper, and mustard and mix well to blend. Drain the peas, reserve liquid; add enough milk to the liquid to make 2 1/2 cups, pouring it in slowly and stirring until smooth after each addition. Cook over low to moderate heat, stirring constantly, until thickened and bubbly. Add the peas and the ham and heat thoroughly. Serve over the Johnny Cake. Makes 6 servings.

Johnny Cake
 Ingredients: 2-3 cup sifted all-purpose flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon baking soda, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1-1 1/2 cup yellow corn meal, 2 eggs (well beaten), 1-2 3/4 cup sour milk or buttermilk, 1/4 cup shortening (melted).

Method: Mix and sift together the flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt, and sugar; add the corn meal and stir well. Mix the eggs, sour milk or buttermilk and melted fat and add, all at once, to the dry ingredients. Stir only until dry ingredients are moistened. Turn into a buttered deep 8-inch round baking dish or pan and bake in a moderately hot (400 F.) oven for 30 to 35 minutes. Cut in wedges and serve hot with creamed ham and peas.

School Children Need Good Hot Breakfast Dishes

School children need a good hot breakfast to start off the day right. Good hot bread is one of the best liked breakfast dishes.

The following recipe for blueberry muffins will brighten the breakfast table.

Ingredients: 2 cups all purpose flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar (double amount for finer texture), 1 cup blueberries.

Method: Sift flour, measure into sifter with other dry ingredients. Sift into mixing bowl. Add one cup of blueberries.

Combine 1 egg well beaten, 1 cup milk, 1/4 cup melted shortening.

Mix into dry ingredients; stir just enough to moisten flour. Spoon into greased muffin pans, filling 2-3 full. Bake in a hot oven, 425 F., 20 minutes or until browned. Remove from pan immediately.

In this same recipe you may substitute 1/2 cup finely diced, peeled apples, 1/4 cup chopped fresh cranberries, 1/4 cup chopped dates, 1/4 cup diced cooked ham or bacon. Complete Menu For Family Fall Breakfast

'Tree Farming' Reported Going To Town In Michigan Peninsula

By WILLIAM G. GARRY STNS
ESCANABO, Mich. (AP)—"Tree farming" is coming into its own in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. A mechanical contrivance that puts down young trees in precise rows has stirred in Peninsula farmers a new interest in harvesting trees like other crops.
 Owned by a railroad which rents it to farmers at a dollar a day, the planter can put in 18,000 trees daily. In a brief stay here last spring, it planted 60,000 spruce and pine. It will return to action this fall, but will be limited to an additional 50,000 plantings because of the shortage of stock.
 Resembling a stripped-down, unadorned auto chassis, the tractor-drawn planter is simple to operate. Into a furrow plowed by the machine, an operator drops trees at predetermined intervals, usually six feet. As the planter rolls on, it tamps soil firmly around the young trees. With rows spaced six feet apart, plantings average 1200 to 2000 per acre.
 To farmers, a tree crop provides an additional source of revenue by restoring land to use which is not suitable for grains or other crops.

300,000 and 800,000 trees in Minnesota, Wisconsin and Upper Michigan. But the program is dependent on the availability of stock for planting.
 Reforestation and proper forest management are largely a matter of education, both Skog and Klueder agree. They point to school forests operated by some 27 school districts in the Peninsula, as a forward step.
 One such school forest is that operated by the Nadeau Township High School at Carney, Mich. There, under the direction of Fred Vescolani, superintendent of Nadeau township schools, students learn forestry at first-hand in the school's seven 40-acre forest tracts.
 Another development that has given impetus to the reforestation program in the Peninsula is the establishment by Escanaba of a municipal forest. It is patterned after the famed city forests of Europe, like the Sihlwald of Zurich, Switzerland, which is more than 1000 years old.
 With the many uses discovered for forest products in the last decade, the Upper Peninsula hopes with the assistance of mechanical tree planting to recapture its once-mighty lumber industry.

U.S. Threatened By African Snails

By ALTON L. BLAKESEE
NEW YORK (AP)—The ugly, hungry giant African snails still are trying to booby-trap U. S. farms and gardens.
 They've invaded Guam and Saipan and Hawaii in a march that has carried them halfway around the world.
 Now they threaten to enter this country, riding in on jeeps, pipes, tires and other War Surplus equipment or scrap metal shipped from the Pacific Islands. They could be a peacetime booby-trap left over from war years.
 But so far the snails haven't succeeded in getting in. U. S. Department of Agriculture experts report they have been spotted 14 different times in U. S. ports, but each time were robbed out.
 The reason for the close watch is easy to understand.
 For this snail is a giant with a shell five inches long. It can stick its rubbery body out another four inches, for an overall length of nine inches.
 It has 80,000 sharp teeth, arranged in rows along its tongue. One snail can devour a head of lettuce in a single night.
 The snail has both female and male reproductive organs, and it lays 300 eggs at a time.
 It likes fruits, vegetables, sprouts and many other things. Armies of the snails have wrecked tea plants in Ceylon, rubber plants in Malaya, gardens in Singapore, coconut trees, fruits and truck crops in the Pacific Islands.
 Moving across a road, they get crushed beneath the wheels of jeeps or automobiles and their slippery wreckage can send the vehicle skidding off the road.
 No one knows what these snails might do in the United States.
 Since 1947, the snails have been found in 14 shipments of War Surplus materials, most from Saipan, said F. R. Sasser, division of foreign plant quarantine in Washington.
 The snails attempted landings at San Francisco, San Pedro, and Newark N. J. At least 40 live young snails were found in scrap metal coming into Newark.
 When any sign of the snails is found, the carriers are treated with live steam or with a chemical methyl bromide to kill the interlopers.
 There is no evidence that any of these snails have been actually established in this country," Sasser said.

 It's anybody's guess whether the snails would find the U. S. climate to their liking, said R. Tucker Abbott, assistant curator of mollusks, U. S. National Museum in Washington.
 They might do fairly well in the lower third of Florida, maybe along the Gulf Coast and in Lower California. But it's unlikely that they would survive in areas where there are heavy freezes or frosts.
 To help control them in the Pacific Islands, experts are studying the snail's native habitat and natural enemies. Bringing in natural enemies, such as meat-eating snails, might be a good idea. But caution is needed lest the imported fighters took a biological backfire and become a menace to themselves.
 The U. S. Department of Agriculture doesn't actually have legal authority to inspect cargoes for this snail. But it can look for other pests, and spot the snail if it is present. Ship lines and importers have been cooperating in the snail hunt because the potential danger is so great. The law is being amended to take care of this one legal loophole for the snails.
 The snail, starting in Africa, moved on to Madagascar and by 1907 was on Mauritius, some 700 miles to the East. It reached Reunion Island when it was imported to make small soap.
 It got to Calcutta in 1947, when a few specimens were brought to the garden of the Bengal Asiatic Society in 1847. It had moved on to Ceylon by 1900, into Malaya in 1928, and Singapore by 1930. It reached Java in 1925, Sumatra in 1926, and Siam before 1937, Abbott reports.
 The Japanese brought it to Saipan and Tinian before the war to make small stew. The natives there didn't like the stew, or the snails. By 1945, when U. S. troops arrived, the snails were so abundant that driving on island roads was often dangerous.
 Guam was affected in 1946, and then the Palau Islands. The African snails have appeared in Hawaii several times, but authorities there have kept them from reaching really serious epidemic proportions.

QUIN MIGHT BE MICAWBER

Galveston City Manager Tells How To Avoid Money Trouble

By TIM PARKER
Associated Press Staff

There's a man at Galveston named Frank A. Quin—who says it's principally a matter of not spending more money than you take in.

That sounds simple—and would be if Quin weren't city manager of Galveston, and if he weren't talking about the finances of his city government.

In 1949 in Texas, it's mighty unusual for a city to avoid money trouble. Many are in debt, most of them are talking of raising taxes, issuing bonds or getting help from the federal or state government.

But Galveston hasn't had to use red ink on its general fund books—the accounts of annual operating expenses—in a quarter century.

The record applies only to the general fund. Like every major city, Galveston has had to issue bonds to swing its big projects.

Quin says Galveston has stayed in the black by adhering rigidly to carefully planned budgets by maintaining a high percentage of tax collections, and by conservatively estimating future taxes.

Galveston places its tax rate low —and then sees to it that most of the taxes are paid. Throughout the nation city taxes are the ones most often, and most easily dodged. Hunting down these dodgers is expensive. Hauling them into court is expensive.

When Galveston's annual budget is made up, says Quin, "we make generous allowances... for taxes which might not be collected." The 1949-50 budget now being prepared carries a $350,000 cut in expenditures.

The five-man citizen-commissioner administration believes the city's income, due to general conditions, will drop that much.

But Galveston proper isn't faced with one factor which has made it especially rough for some cities. Its growth hasn't been a spectacular one as that of Houston, Odessa, Denison—cities with more money troubles. Fast growth hurts. Miles of sewers, water mains and streets must be put in long before the same areas begin to pay tax money into the city till.

Other cities little bothered by money troubles include Fort Worth, Denton, Midland, Austin, Tyler, Jacksonville and Beaumont.

Fort Worth isn't having money trouble yet, but is looking toward other revenue sources—possibly a share in the taxes now levied by state or federal governments on gasoline, income, payrolls and amusements. This would permit a cut in the tax rate, now at 5.67. Taxation is on the basis of 100 per cent of valuation.

The big cattle center is under pressure for extension of all kinds of services. Lack of time, rather than money, is the principal problem. Many of the demands came from newly annexed areas. More than half of Fort Worth's bonded indebtedness of $36,000,000 has been incurred in recent years.

Denton, site of North Texas State College, got a break. A long controversy with the college over whether it should pay for the water it uses was decided in the city's favor. That means the college must buy from Denton's city-owned water plant. The fact Denton has its own light plant also helps. Of Denton's $2.18 tax rate, only 75 cents is for the general fund—unusually low.

Midland is an example of the unusual—a city that has grown spectacularly but still has stayed clear of serious financial difficulties. The tax rate is down five cents from last year's $1.80, new water and sewer connections average more than 80 a month each. A huge municipal works program now underway is financed by a $12,500,000 city improvements bond issue voted late in 1947.

The smaller city of Jacksonville in East Texas has improved its situation in the last two years. The general fund was down to $1,700,000 in May of 1947. Last May it stood at $17,000. A $950,000 bond issue approved last year will be used to extend and improve water and sewer service.

The capital city of Austin is getting along all right, despite the fact it has spent about $16,000,000 since 1945 to expand water, lights and sewers and other services to care for a population which has grown from 88,000 in 1940 to about 160,000. The city is selling a utility revenue bond issue of $7,150,000 for expansion of water, light and sanitary sewer plants. It will be paid out of the earnings of the municipal system over a 10-year period.

Despite this there are demands on Austin's city government which are hard to meet. The city's careful and economic administration is striving to maintain the "bread and butter" services—sewer, water, lights, streets—before taking on anything more ambitious.

When the new fiscal year begins Oct. 1 Tyler will be nearly $74,000 better off than it was last year. Last year the city had a general fund overdraft of $96,418.23. This year the overdraft will be down to about $25,000. City Manager George Fairtraut credits penny-inching—and luck.

For its size, Beaumont has had one of the state's lowest tax rates. This summer the rate was reduced still lower—from $1.74 to $1.64. Despite a record budget of $2,003,378, there may even be a surplus at the end of the 1949-50 fiscal year. Mayor Otto Plummer believes.

Of the $1.64 tax rate, only $1.12 is for the general fund—for city operating expenses. The rest goes for retirement of bonded indebtedness.

"We're now operating on a strictly cash basis," the Beaumont mayor declares. "This reverses a trend of earlier years. And with the valuation setup we have in Beaumont I believe we have the lowest tax rate in the state."

Storm Causes $52,350,000 Loss In South

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 15 (AP)—The hurricane which swept through Florida and into Georgia and the Carolinas Aug. 26-27 caused crop and property damage estimated at $52,350,000, a report showed today.

Grady Norton, chief storm forecaster at Miami, said in his report to the U. S. Weather Bureau at Washington that the hurricane killed two men, injured 133 persons and caused $45 million damaged in Florida alone.

He said the hurricane also killed 300 hogs, 112 head of cattle and 2,000 chickens. It destroyed 25 dwellings, 524 other buildings and damaged 30,762 buildings, including 27,086 homes.

Both deaths "were the result of failure to heed warnings," Norton reported. One man drowned while trying to save a sailboat and another was fatally injured while trying to operate a pump in high winds.

Florida property damage amounted to $18 million and crop loss totaled $20 million, including 14 million boxes of fruit. Power and communications suffered $4 million damage while loss to highways, bridges and streets amounted to $500,000, the report showed.

The report showed Georgia suffered damage of $4 million. South Carolina $2,100,000 and North Carolina $1,250,000.

Hawkes Accused Of Alimony Arrears

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 15 (AP)—The first wife of Screen Director Howard Hawks has accused him of being $46,612 in arrears on alimony payment.

As a result of the superior court action filed by Mrs. Athlete Hawks, a sheriff's attachment has been levied on the director's palatial desert home near Palm Springs.

The complaint was filed on behalf of Mrs. Hawks by her legal guardian. She is the sister of Norma Shearer, onetime actress. The Hawks were divorced in 1940 after 12 years of marriage. His second wife, Nancy Green (Slim) Hawks, is also divorced from him.

Small Wreck Victim Dies Wednesday

LISBON, O., Sept. 15 (AP)—Blonde, little Donna Marie Saunders is dead. The seven-year-old girl never awakened from the deep sleep she fell into Feb. 9, after being struck by a coal truck.

Donna was running to board a school bus when hit.

Doctors had done all they could. In July, they amputated her left leg to halt infection. But last month they said all hope was gone. X-rays showed the damage to her fractured skull could not be mended.

Neighbors too had done their best. They started a "Dimes for Donna" fund and chipped in more than $5,000.

But all the efforts proved futile. Donna died at her parents' farm home yesterday.

Louise Andrews Gets Life In Slaying

BRECKENRIDGE, Sept. 15 (AP)—Louis (Step) Andrews last night was sentenced to life imprisonment in the slaying of Police Officer J. L. Shaw.

A 24th District Court jury returned a verdict of guilty with malice aforethought after 45 minutes of deliberation.

MARRIAGE IS PROVISIONAL

ENID, Okla., Sept. 15 (AP)—"Will you take this woman?" Justice of the Peace A. C. Moyer asked at a wedding ceremony here.

Joseph N. Grove, 72, Shamrock spoke right up.

"I will—if she treats me all right."

His bride Mrs. Sally B. Chittwood, 65, Garber, Okla., smiled.

She made no provisions in her vow, but later demanded the groom's assurance she could be carried over the threshold.

Rangoon Wants Pay

RANGOON (AP)—Rangoon's first postwar mayor, U Tun Tin, is likely to seek compensation from the British Government through the Government of Burma for damage to municipal property during the war.

LEGION LETTER

By Lynn Jeffcoat

Our post will be well represented in the Centennial opening day parade and on Military Day. In addition to our firing squad and color guard, there will be a float depicting a Miss Democracy. The design for the float is being drawn up by the float committee under the direction of Harold Steck.

The Legion is also planning to participate in the Centurama. Five Legionnaires, Byron Jones, Roy Bruce, Lynn Jeffcoat, O. C. Lewis and O. F. Priest, will re-enact the raising of the flag on Iwo Jima. Tommy Sputh will play the part of Capt. R. B. Marcy. Twenty-six volunteers are urgently needed to depict Capt. Marcy's party and ninety-six others are also needed for other non-speaking parts. Everyone who can take part in the Centurama is urged to contact this department or Commander Hardesty immediately.

The lucky name drawn last Thursday night was that of Avery Faulks, who was not present. Better luck next time, Buddy Faulks!

All members are urged to attend the meeting tonight. Commander Hardesty will appoint committees on membership, house and entertainment, finance, legal, publicity, rehabilitation and service, visiting, Americanism, athletic, disaster relief, Sons of the Legion, child welfare, and defense. Let's have a big turnout and help the commander in filing these committees.

Our post hereby extends a vote of appreciation to the personnel of the U. S. Army and Air Force Recruiting Service of Big Spring for the by-laws which they so generously printed for us. A copy of the by-laws will be given to every member of the post.

Notice to team captains on ticket sales: Commander Hardesty has asked that each one be prepared to report Thursday night and account for each book that was assigned him. Receipts are still not coming in as expected. A program for expediting the sale of these tickets will be discussed.

Johnny Ray Dillard and R. J. McCollough have just returned from a not too successful trip to Raton, New Mexico, where Dillard's horse, Equichell, was entered in the Raton races. Equichell came in third in the last race but was short of first by only three feet. Johnny Ray states that Equichell returned with him, however, and was not sold to a glue factory as was reported.

Unified Fund Raising Planned By Cleveland

By EDWARD LINEHAN

CLEVELAND — The Cleveland Chamber of Commerce has finally come to the rescue of John Q. Public with a plan for a single "in-plant" drive each year for health and welfare contributions. The one drive would replace the 400-odd campaigns now pestering workers annually.

In addition to being asked to contribute to the nationally-known drives, Cleveland's 500,000 workers are being urged continuously by Walter I. Barn, executive vice-president of the chamber, says the fund-raising campaigns average one a day.

The plan on isn't restricted to Cleveland. A survey of 75 major cities shows that most have noted a recent increase in the number of appeals. Reports were almost unanimous that the Community Chest system is being jeopardized in the scramble for dollars.

In outline Cleveland's answer calls for a single, annual campaign for the Community Chest and other selected charities. Workers would be asked to assign roughly one-third of one per cent of monthly base pay to the drive. Management-employee committees would allocate the funds collected to health and welfare agencies of their own choice. And the door would be closed to further solicitations throughout the year.

The plan is already working successfully in several Cleveland plants which adopted it independently. It is reported to have cut down considerably on the time-loss and inconvenience to the companies of frequent appeals and most employees are accepting it as welcome relief.

Some proponents of the unified drive say it could reduce campaign costs, now estimated individually at from 12 to 30 per cent of the take, to about six per cent. And, they argue, much valuable executive time would be saved.

Chief opposition to the plan is expected from agencies which raise funds on a national scale. Most of these, having an established popular appeal, feel they'll fare better by conducting separate drives.

The American Red Cross, for example, threatened to expel its Pittsburgh chapter unless it ceased accepting funds from a joint campaign. Only when it arranged for a separate collection within the unified drive did the prodigal chapter regain the good graces of the parent organization.

The Cleveland chapter of the Red Cross will maintain its annual fund drive next March, and will want to go into plants to conduct its own solicitations. But, says Berket L. Williams, chapter chairman, his organization is willing to time its campaign to the wishes of any industrial.

The unified fund-raising plan is now moving into its second successful year in Michigan. In last year's drive, 34 of the state's 83 counties—representing 80 per cent of the giving potential—participated in the United Health and Wel-

HAILED AS DEMO ALEXANDER Truman Started Whistle-Stop Campaign Just One Year Ago

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON, (AP) — A year ago a fellow named Harry S. Truman started out on what looked like a forlorn and nearly hopeless campaign to win a four-year term in the White House in his own right.

Today Mr. Truman is hailed as a Democratic Alexander who conquered not only the seemingly invincible Republicans but rebelling elements in his own ranks.

Ahead lie more than three years in the White House. Ahead also may lie another presidential nomination by the Democratic convention in 1952 if he wants it—and many think he will when the time rolls around.

It was under a bleak political sky that Mr. Truman embarked last Labor Day on his now-famous whistle stop campaign.

An early morning visit to Grand Rapids, Mich., and subsequent train platform talks brought him to Detroit, where organized labor put on its best show. The crowds were big but seemed apathetic.

Most politicians guessed that outside of certain compelled attendance by labor unions—his listeners generally had come out to see and hear the President of the United States—not Harry S. Truman.

Nov. 2 seemed to prove them wrong.

Whether the homespun magic of that campaign still would be good in 1952 may depend a great deal on whether the Democrats retain party control of Congress next year and whether the President's friends can win the actual control that has remained in the hands of a Republican Dixie Democrat coalition.

Mr. Truman made a lot of promises in that whistle-stop journey up and down the land. But he followed up on them in his messages to the new Democratic Congress.

Many of his requests were old stuff he had asked Congress to approve previously without success, but just about everything he had talked about in the campaign, from civil rights legislation to inflation controls, was there.

Among the new suggestions were those asking authority for the government to build steel and other plants, as well as the "bold new program" for American private investments in backward areas abroad.

Mr. Truman made some wrong guesses.

His inflation control program met with piercing streams of "regimentation" from the Republicans was washed down the drain by a downturn in business activity and employment.

He officially pitched it overboard in July. He had been plugging for a $4 billion increase in taxes but now recommended a cut in the transportation tax on goods and a change in business loss carryover provisions, to be made up by increases in estate and gift taxes.

Mr. Truman gave the Republicans what many of them consider their chief 1950 campaign issue when he okayed red ink spending by the government a situation that soon became a reality.

To supplement the continued high level of government spending Mr. Truman directed that the government buy what it could in areas where jobless lines were growing. He set a team in action to find out where unemployment is most acute.

Thus he was taking the first steps toward a program that may overpave all other issues in next year's campaign if the number of jobless workers rises.

The President pleaded for a Democratic Congress in the 1948 campaign. He got one but has had indifferent luck with it.

Congress has gone along with his foreign policies, although his administration has taken a lot of blasting because of its "let the dust settle" attitude toward China and his foreign investment guarantee proposal is in cold storage.

But on the domestic front the President's batting average is only so-so.

Congress passed a rent control bill. It approved reorganization of the State Department and tightening up the unification of the armed services. It put a minimum wage increase in the mill for expected approval. It passed a low rent housing bill.

But an aid to education bill was stalled in the House by a religious controversy.

And Congress slapped down the President's proposal to repeal the Taft-Hartley Act and scuttled the Brannan plan for farm subsidy payments.

His call for modification of restrictions on the admission of displaced persons faces serious Senate opposition.

His proposals for expansion of social security coverage and for compulsory health insurance apparently must await the next session. Ditto civil rights legislation.

All this gives Mr. Truman and his friends talking points in the 1950 congressional campaign. They can say that he had a good pro-

15 States Forbid TV For Car Driver

CHICAGO — If you want to stay out of trouble don't look at a television show while you drive your car.

It shouldn't be necessary to post this warning along to anybody who can count without using his fingers. But 15 states are taking no chances. They adopted laws this year that either (1) prohibit operation of a motor vehicle equipped with a TV set in view of the driver, or (2) forbid installation of a set in a place where a driver can see it.

The American Public Works Association says the states with such laws are Colorado, Connecticut, Indiana, Illinois, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota, New Hampshire, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Vermont, Washington, and Wisconsin.

Negro College Gets Research Project

NASHVILLE, (AP) — A nutrition research project has been approved to be carried out at Tennessee Agricultural and Industrial College here on funds allotted under the Research and Marketing Act. It is the first such project to be approved for a Negro college.

Approval is a direct outgrowth of work by Dr. J. R. Otis, Alabama colored extension leader, who was appointed last year by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan to survey research personnel and facilities of Negro colleges and to determine how they might be utilized under the BMA Selected Negro children will be studied in this project, which is part of a nation-wide program to determine the nutritional status and food intake of various population groups.

French Fugitive Works As German

RENNES, France (AP) — Robert Hockett, 37-year-old Alaskan wanted by the gendarmette in connection with the alleged theft of a motorcycle and 32,000 francs in 1945, has been found working as a German on a farm in Brittany. He said he managed to get admitted to a camp as a German prisoner, claiming he escaped from England. Later, when German prisoners in France were released he remained as a volunteer worker and was issued an identity card under the name of Karl Luecke.
