Yung Named WT Head Football Coach

CANYON, Tex. (AP)—Baylor University's offensive coordinator Bill Yung was named today as new head football coach at West Texas State University, which almost gave up its grid program because of financial problems.

West Texas regents Chairman Jack Shelton made the announcement at a morning news conference.

Yung replaces Gene Mayfield, who quit earlier this month as WT coach after regents doubted the school could afford to keep playing football at the NCAA Division I level.

20 Missing In Hotel Fire

BRECKENRIDGE, Minn. (AP)—About 20 persons were unaccounted for today after a pre-dawn fire swept through a three-story hotel in temperatures that plunged to 23 below zero.

Three hours after the blaze began in the Stratford Hotel, firemen reported that only one person was known to have escaped. Authorities said none of the other guests had called in to report they were safe.

3 Police Killed In Spain

MADRID, Spain (AP)—Gunmen and bombers today killed three policemen and wounded three others, police said, in a new outbreak of violence that sorely tried the post-Franco government's attempts to keep law and order.

The killings came only a day after the government adopted emergency measures aimed at ending the violence.

Police said two men using pistols with silencers fatally wounded two police guards at a postal substation in southwestern Madrid.

Freddie Prinze Shot

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Comedian Freddie Prinze, the 22-year-old star of the hit television series "Chico and the Man," was in critical condition today with a bullet wound in the head following an apparent suicide attempt, police said.

It Dan Cook said Prinze had been despondent Thursday night and that several friends and his psychiatrist were in his apartment trying to cheer him up when the shot fired.

"All of the sudden, he reached down into the sofa, pulled out an automatic pistol, and shot himself in the head," Cook said.

Cook said a note was found but he would not reveal the contents.

The shooting occurred about 3:30 a.m. in Prinze's suite at the plush Beverly Comstock Hotel in West Los Angeles. Prinze had been staying there since he and his wife, Katherine, filed for divorce last month. They were married in Las Vegas in October 1975.

Prinze was rushed into surgery at the nearby UCLA Medical Center.

Carter Gets Fast Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Carter is getting fast congressional action on his emergency proposals, but some lawmakers want assurances that the legislation won't delay action on long range plans to end price controls on natural gas.

The House Committee scheduled a hearing today on Carter's emergency energy proposal and the Senate, which waived committee hearings, slated floor debate on the plan.

Competition Continues Today Hart Youth Shows Champ In Swine Show Thursday

BY JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Editor

It was split between the communities of Hart and Hereford for top honors in the massive market swine division of the 12th annual Hereford Young Farmers Junior Livestock Show at the Bull Barn Thursday afternoon.

IN THE FIRST day of stock show events, over 300 market hogs were put through the show ring, and when the long afternoon of competition was over, Kelley Jones of the Hart FFA had taken his 213 pound Duroc barrow to the championship of the market swine division.

Max Middleton's crossbreed barrow won Reserve Grand Champion honors for the Hereford 4-H'er in the four-county division of the show and was named the county's Grand Champion.

The Reserve Grand Champion in the county was shown by Mack Hagar.

The champion Chester White of the show was exhibited by Vivian Martin of Hereford, who copped both the four-county and county honors. Gary Vogel of Hereford followed the same pattern with his Reserve Champion Chester.

JONES' DUROC was named breed champion before capturing the top slot in the market swine competition. The Reserve Champion Duroc for the four-county show was shown by Donny Carpenter of Dimmitt, while David Walterscheid of Hereford had the county's reserve Duroc.

Parmer County made its presence felt in the Hampshire division of the show when Lazbuddie's Joe Dan Tarter took his pig to the breed championship in that class. Sheryl Schulte of Nazareth showed the Reserve Champion Hampshire in the four-county competition while the breed champion in the county competition was shown by Joe Ky Shultz of Hereford. Cary Vanlandingham of Hereford had the Reserve Champion Hampshire for the county.

Hereford made it a clean sweep in the Poland China classes with both the county and four-county titles going to local youngsters.

Joe Bob Brown had the Champion Poland and the Reserve Champion Poland and was shown by Anthony Poteet.

IN A SMALL class of other pure breeds, Cleve Keating of Dimmitt won top honors with his Yorkshire in the four-county division while David Bell of Hereford had the county breed champion. Bell also exhibited the four-county Reserve Breed Champion and Joe Bob Brown of Hereford had the Reserve County Champion.

Max Middleton's heavy cross copped Champion Cross honors before going on to Reserve Grand Champion honors in the show and Marlin Marble had the Reserve Champion Cross in four-county.

Lisa Phillips won the Reserve Cross Honors for the county with her pig.

A full day of competition got underway this morning with lamb judging at the Bull Barn, and James Harkins of Clarendon Junior College is going over the steer classes this afternoon.

ROUNDING OUT THE stock show events will be a livestock judging contest Saturday morning at 8 a.m., and culminating this year's show will be the annual livestock auction beginning tomorrow afternoon at 1 p.m.

The Hereford CowBelles will name the recipients of their First Year Showmanship Awards prior to the start of the auction, and Mary Tyler of the CowBelles will be on hand during the proceedings to accept donations of livestock for Girlstown. Processing of any donated animals will be provided by Palo Duro Meat Packers and TSTI of Amarillo.

A floor price will be set on all livestock at the beginning of the auction and bidders will pay only the difference between the floor price and their winning bid.

The Deaf Smith County 4-H and FFA Booster Club will be on hand to help maintain active bidding during the auction and even out low points in the bidding.

A SPOKESMAN for the Boosters pointed out that the organization "does not attempt to compete with other bidders, but tries to insure that each exhibitor receives a fair price for his animal in the auction."

Local businessmen are encouraged to attend the annual auction and support the efforts of local youth.

Businessmen or individual wishing to donate to the Booster Club may do so today at a booth set up by the group in the Bull Barn.

The Brand will feature a complete rundown on the results in the various classes of the livestock show in the farm pages of the Sunday edition.

Judicial District Court Bill Could Be Headed For Trouble Again

By BOBBY TEMPLETON
Brand News Editor

The proposed district court for Deaf Smith County and Oldham counties may be in for another postponement if State Senator Oscar Mauzy, D-Dallas, has his way again.

He was the legislator last year who led a filibuster in the final moments of the 1975 legislative session that killed an omnibus bill calling for more district courts across the state. The proposed local district was among them and the action sank efforts to create the district for the second time.

THE DECISION THIS YEAR to try for a third time was promoted by the local bar association, which successfully got

Bergland Forms Force To Aid Sugar Growers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland has established a task force on sugar to suggest ways of helping sugarcane and sugarbeet growers and the sweetener industry.

The task force will make an interim report by mid-February.

It will be headed by Robert R. Stansberry Jr. of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. Other members will come from the Foreign Agricultural Service and Economic Research Service.

Growers have requested aid because world sugar prices dropped by almost 50 per cent between July and September as supplies exceeded demand in the U.S.

3 Plead Guilty, 1 Not Guilty In District Court

The 69th Judicial District activity this week has been lighter than usual with one jury finding a man not guilty on Felony Driving While Intoxicated (DWI) charges and three other men pleading guilty to various sentences.

In a trial lasting about half a day, Alan Everett Brooks was found not guilty on a Felony DWI charge. It was filed on July 13, 1976.

Serving on the jury were Mrs. Diana Leal, Mrs. Helen Arntt, Jane Packard, Thomas Frank Sargent, Mrs. Vela Gray McDowell, Dorothy Lundry, Oliver Buster Sumner, Jeri Stallings, Brenda Kemp, Ada Liscano, Mrs. Yolanda Madrigal, and Gerald Wayne Foster.

Judge Mike Metcalf of Dumas set the sentences in the three other cases involving Criminal District Attorney Andy Shulval as prosecutor.

Nieves H. Griego Jr. plead guilty to the Deaf Smith and Oldham County Commissioners Courts to back the proposal. It is based on an almost impossible load of cases which are filed in the existing 69th Judicial District Court.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe submitted emergency legislation Thursday asking for the creation of 23 new district courts in his fight against crime. It is this large package of courts that Mauzy does not want to see created if facts presented last year are the same this year.

Pro-forces hope that by introducing the court bill as emergency legislation early in the session, no last minute objections will kill it. Emergency proclamations as proposed by the governor mean the legislature can ignore rules that force special appropriations measures (like the courts bill) to wait in line behind the general spending bill late in the session.

Criminal District Attorney Andy Shulval and District Court Judge Mike Metcalf of Dumas are the main forces here behind the new court. They and most local lawyers agree that the six-county 69th district is by far too large geographically for one man to handle effectively, especially with the volume of cases filed in recent years.

MAUZY, WHO ADMITS not having seen the request for new courts, said he will be a strong supporter of the measure if it puts courts where they are needed according to an Associated Press story.

"The courts ought to be where the litigants and law suits are," he said, "not where the friends of politicians are."

The governor's proclamation said, "Many problems in judicial administration and in the criminal justice system in Texas today are caused by the clog of the court dockets of our district courts...A critical need for these courts existed in 1975, and hearings were held in both houses of the legislature to consider these. The need remains, and there is now even a more urgent necessity for these courts."

If Oldham and Deaf Smith compose the new court, Moore, Hartley, Sherman and Dallam Counties would compose the remaining court, with Metcalf most likely staying with it. A new judge would no doubt be appointed here.

Metcalf now commutes the 90 miles from Dumas about once a month or more to process Criminal and civil cases here.

The legislation asks for four district courts in Bexar County; four in Harris County; three in Tarrant County; and one each in districts consisting of these counties: Angelina; Atascosa; El Paso; Karnes; LaSalle; and Wilson; Collin; Hamilton; Comanche; Cooke; Gray; Fort Bend; Smith; Lubbock; Midland; Brainerd; and Montgomery. Grimes and Brazos; Grayson and Coryell would be left as single-county districts.

Public Invited To Reception

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Albright, who will soon be moving to Big Spring, will be honored at a farewell reception from 3-5 p.m. today at the Chamber of Commerce office. The public is welcome.

Sponsoring the courtesy will be the Hereford CowBelles and the Chamber Women's Division. Albright, who has served for several years as executive vice president of the local Chamber, will be assuming the same post at the Chamber in Big Spring.

Albright is an honorary member of the CowBelles. His wife, Inez, holds memberships in the CowBelles, the Women's Division, Hereford Garden Club and the American Legion Auxiliary. The couple resides at 139 Pecan and has six children.

Economy Package Showdown May Come

WASHINGTON (AP)—If Congress tries to add too much to President Carter's $31.2 billion economic stimulation package, the President's advisers might recommend that he veto the package, an administration economist warns.

The administration's three top economic officials explained and defended the package before the House Budget Committee on Thursday.

But some Democrats plied them with questions about how firm the administration is on holding the program to $15.5 billion this year and $15.7 billion next year.

The officials avoided commitments, but insisted the totals they cited represented the best judgment of the President and his advisers.

Asked whether he would recommend a veto if more were added, Charles Schultze, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, said "the likelihood of such a recommendation would grow with the size of the addition."

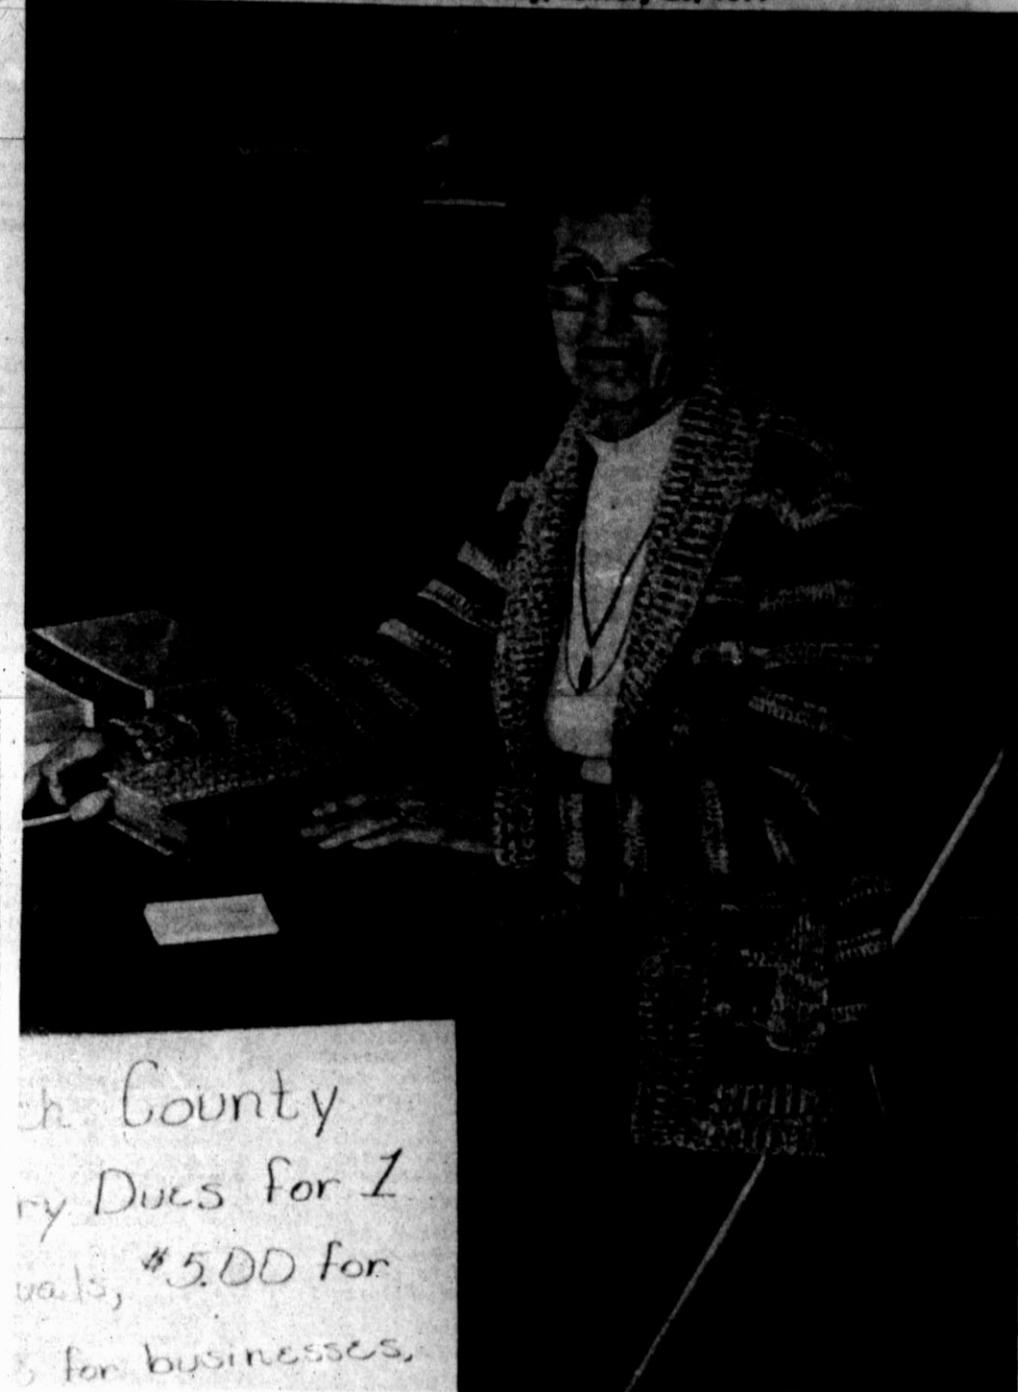

Rep. Barber B. Conable Jr. of New York, the senior Republican member of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, said he doubts the new administration and the Democratic majority in Congress can resist pressures to pump more funds into the public works, jobs and other non-tax parts of the stimulation package. Carter budgeted them at $1.7 billion this year, $7.6 million next year.

"The pressure will come from the constituencies the Carter administration

Fabric For Walls Makes Room Vivid

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a five-part series dealing with fabric on walls.

COLLEGE STATION: Fabric is one way to "gussy-up" walls, according to Jane Berry, a housing and home furnishings specialist.

"After enduring decades of dark mahogany paneling and textured white gypsumboard, many home dwellers are ready to break with monotonous tradition and add vivid colors and patterns to the walls of their home—and they can do the job themselves with a few simple instructions."

Mrs. Berry is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"If you're skeptical about what color and pattern can do for your home, thumb through any monthly shelter magazine to start your imagination soaring," she suggests.

Papers, vinyls, foils and even fabrics are being used extensively throughout homes today as a means of adding "oomph" and individuality.

"Perhaps you question the practicality of fabric on walls. Rest assured that for installation in certain areas of the home, fabric has more to offer than does either paper or vinyl roll goods," she said.

"Fabric tastefully applied to one of more wall areas may exceed the decorative results achieved by using traditional papers and vinyls."

"The depth of design and intermingling of colors and textures create with a woven fabric are almost impossible to duplicate by any other means."

WALL FABRIC HAS 'PLUS' FEATURES

Other "plus" features of fabric wall coverings include these factors:

--Installation is fast, easy and may be either temporary or permanent.

--Depending on the kind of fabric used, you'll likely be working with wider widths than if you were using paper or vinyls.

--Fabric width ranges from 36-inch-wide dress fabric to the 120-inch-wide, king-size sheet. You may have fewer seams to match or maybe even a seamless wall.

--Fabric may cost less than would a paper or vinyl. This isn't always true, but it can work out that way with some careful and persistent shopping.

--Depending on the fabric chosen and the way it is applied, you may discover that the fabric has sound-absorbing acoustical properties that make the area quieter.

--A tough protective finish can be applied in permanent installations that will increase durability and lessen maintenance of the covered wall areas.

CHOOSING A DESIGN

Most retail outlets for wall coverings have one or more lines of fabric wall coverings with an adhesive backing.

To apply, all you have to do is peel off the paper and press the fabric on the wall.

Felt, burlap, grasscloth, and many other textures and weaves are available in this type wall covering. These materials are inexpensive only when applied yourself on one wall or a small area. Obviously, they are easier to apply than an ordinary length of dress or upholstery fabric.

"Luckily there are many sources you can turn to in your search for economical, interesting and attractive wall fabric," Mrs. Berry said.

"Check outlets for dress, upholstery and drapery fabrics. Mail-order catalogues, department stores, 'bargain basements,' mill outlets and other sources of bedsheets offer some of the most attractive, economical and appropriate designs you'll find anywhere. Just think how much wall area you can 'wrap' in a full or king-size sheet."

"Many import shops carry inexpensive lightweight bedspreads in stripes, plaids and interesting designs. Don't overlook the decorating impact that can be made with burlap, muslin and ticking."

Over 200 million passengers flew 160 billion air miles last year — four times the air mileage recorded 15 years ago. The Conference Board finds.

Ann Landers Husband Should Cool It

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have been married 18 years and there's one thing about George that bugs me.

We attend many conventions because of his business. It seems whenever he is introduced to a good-looking woman, he can't just say, "Pleased to meet you." He has to put his arm around her shoulder and rub her back or give her a hug.

I feel all eyes are on me to see how I'm taking it. Of course I'm embarrassed but I try not to show it. I've told George how I feel about his tasteless behavior but he insists he's just being friendly-- that the women really like it and it does no harm.

I say he should cool it before some gal's husband punches him out. Am I wrong?-- Huggy Bear's Wife.

DEAR WIFE: No, but you'll never convince George, so stop trying. One of these days he's going to massage the wrong lady and she'll punch him out. Then maybe he'll cool it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I became depressed when I read that letter in your column from the mother who said, "My son-in-law is a bum and by daughter would be a lot better off without him."

Nine out of ten times the daughter knows her husband isn't what she thought he was when she married him, but she just doesn't see divorce as the answer.

I still love my husband even though he can't seem to get it all together. I'd rather work (this is what bugs my mother) and let my guy try to make a go of something he enjoys doing rather than have him be miserable in a higher-paying job just so it will look good to outsiders.

Please let me use your column to say to my mother, "I love you, Mom, in spite of your faults. I hope you will let me love him in spite of HIS faults-- and stay out of our marriage."

Thank you, Ann, for giving me the opportunity to speak my mind.-- Doing It My Way

DEAR D.L.M.W.: I hope your mother (and other mothers who identify) will get your poignant message. But do try to put yourself in her place. Most daughters are unable to put appreciate their mothers until they have daughters of their own. Then suddenly so many things become clear.

DEAR ANN: I was invited to a dinner party last evening. I always leave a phone number with my children so they can reach me in case of an emergency.

Between the soup and the salad I received a call (big emergency-- the kids were fighting over which channel to watch on the color TV). Suddenly I didn't know what to do with my dinner napkin. It was soiled and I didn't want to leave it on the table-- so I took it with me. I had a feeling this wasn't right.

What SHOULD a person do with a soiled dinner napkin if he or she must leave the table? Also, is it proper to fold the napkin when the meal is over? Some did, others didn't.

I realize yours isn't an etiquette column, but I figured you'd know the answer.-- Okie in Oakland

DEAR OAK: When one must leave the table during a meal, the napkin should be left on the chair. When the meal is over, the napkin should be crumpled and left at the side of the plate.

EARL ROSE
...to appear here in concert Saturday

Nightclub Artist To Perform

Earl Rose, a popular young pianist on the New York nightclub circuit, will perform here in concert Saturday night under the auspices of Hereford Community Concert Association in Hereford High School auditorium. Curtain time is 8 o'clock. Only CCA members will be admitted.

Rose recently made a concert debut at New York's prestigious Town Hall and his performance Saturday night here is part of his first national concert tour. Prior to this season, 26-year-old Rose divided his time between nightclub dates, television work and composing and arranging music.

Rose has appeared in several of New York's popular nightclubs, including the Rainbow Grill at Rockefeller Center, the Maitland of St. Regis Hotel, the Sign of the Dove and Casino Russe.

His television credits include work on the Dick Cavett show and six years as assistant music coordinator on Johnny Carson's "Tonight" Show. He has worked with Peter Nero on a book of that artist's solo piano arrangements. Several of his arrangements and compositions have been recorded and broadcast on the BBC in England. His latest undertakings are planned arrangements for a Broadway musical and movie.

Doc Severinson, musical director of the "Tonight" Show, described Rose as "a great new talent. He does it all." Earl Wilson and the late Ed Sullivan are among several columnists who singled out Earl Rose for "Bravos" in their writings. He has had repeated mention in Jack Brian's "Voice of Broadway" column.

A graduate of the Mannes College of Music, Earl Rose has also studied at Juilliard, U.C.L.A. and the Vienna Academy of Music. Reflecting this background, Rose's concert will venture from Brahms to Broadway both in style and in content and often the transition will be made within the confines of one song.

His extensive background in performing, arranging, composing and conducting lends "a fresh, distinctive quality to his performances and creates a style that is not easily categorized." Forays into the pop-jazz idiom are apt to be followed by music with an almost Mozartean sound. The artist says that he "interprets each song as he feels it and that he uses whatever style best suits his mood and the melody of that particular piece."

There's an old saying. "The man who acts as his own lawyer has no lawyer for a client." Such may also be true if you act as your own realtor. Do you know why? Few folks can get near the price that a skilled realtor can. Rarely does an amateur have a prospect list. Most owners are bombarded with curiosity seekers. There are too many intricate details in today's advertising, financing, & closing. Don't sell yourself short. Call and expert.

Samples of diatomaceous earth, which is used in the final step of rock polishing, were given by Holly Sugar to members of Deaf Smith County Lapidary Club Tuesday night at Community Center.

Jack Nunley, club president, called the meeting to order and director routine business. Members considered the possibility of changing the club's meeting date, but a final decision was tabled for further discussion.

It was announced that Whitey Yoelm of Canyon will give the program on Feb. 22 and the public is welcome to attend. A program on silversmithing is planned for the month of March. Members agreed to take a field trip to Garcia Lake, located west of Hereford, when the weather improves.

Betty Rice brought samples of polished and uncut rocks from her class at Amarillo's Senior Citizens Center for display. The planned program had been cancelled.

Shannon Wilburn of Hereford was welcomed as a guest by club members in attendance, who included Preston Gee, Rudy Boyd and Jeff Mercer. Couple present included Messrs. and Mrs. Clarence Botts, Bud Cawthon, Orland Newell, Jake King, Dale Henson, Nunley, Cecil Lady and Joel Williams.

Young Mothers Discuss Handicapped Children

Mothers of handicapped children were guest speakers of Young Mothers Study Club Tuesday in the Community Room of First National Bank. Beverly Wagner and Karen Solomon were hostesses.

The speakers explained the special help available for handicapped preschoolers through the Early Childhood Development Program, headquartered at Shirley Elementary School. The program was illustrated with slides. The speakers are offering this program to local residents to improve the public's understanding of the problems faced by the handicapped.

Members present for the presentation were Maureen Self, Linda Woodward, Jan Weishaar, Ron Stewart and Janet Daniel.

Kiwanis Governor Praises Local Club

The Hereford Noon Kiwanis Club received high praise from Don Wilson, Texas-Oklahoma District Governor, while he was visiting at the club Thursday.

Wilson complimented the Hereford club saying the group was a good example for other clubs in the division and district to follow. Wilson also cited the entire Kiwanis organization as a hospitable group that not only does a lot for its members, but in addition works hard as a service organization.

Following his introduction by Division Lt. Governor Charles Zeeke, Wilson pointed out that Kiwanis is indeed an international brotherhood with over 287,000 members in 58 countries around the world. In the Texas-Oklahoma District there are 41 divisions which the Governor has to visit. Wilson outlined his schedule for December, naming clubs that he visited during that month and telling the Hereford Kiwanians about these other clubs. The Kiwanis Club in Leonard, Texas is an unusual service club in that it holds its meetings on Saturday morning.

The District governor attended the chartering of a new club in the Houston area which already has 14 clubs. He visited Seguin, Texas, where the local club was working at Texas Lutheran College to start a Circle K Club and also went to Denton, Texas where the club meets on the grounds of North Texas State University. In West, Texas, a small German community, Wilson observed that the club members each served their wives at the banquet.

The Austin club where Wilson visited in December held their banquet at a dinner theatre and the governor was asked to present his speech to the group in between acts of the play. One of the Dallas clubs also earns their funds to support their community work by staging a play every year.

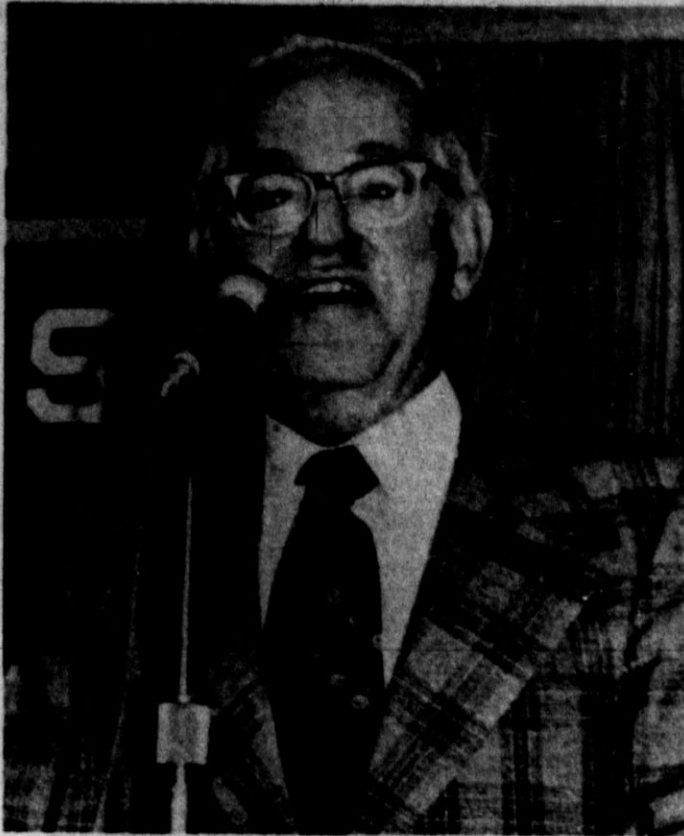

Wilson said he was lucky enough to travel to Salt Lake City recently where he talked and visited with governors from seven other districts in the United States. Most of the seven were concerned with the aspect of rebuilding Kiwanis clubs and keeping the membership rolls high. Wilson said he recently installed 14 members at a club in Plano, Texas, which at one time had fallen down to only six members in the club.

In other business of the day, Kiwanians welcomed Terry Langhennig as a new member to the Noon club.

NEW YORK (AP) — Sulfuric acid — one of the most widely used industrial chemicals — also helps make a vast array of consumer products, from foods to plastics, reports U.S. Industrial Chemicals Co.

Soft drinks, for instance, rely on it. Sulfuric acid is used to make citric acid, the additive that increases the tartness in soft drinks. Citric acid is also used in processed cheese and pharmaceuticals.

Other everyday products to which sulfuric acid contributes include wet cell batteries, gasoline, detergents and paper.

'Ark of Ararat' Author To Speak

John Morris, co-author of the book "Ark of Ararat," will be the featured speaker at a spaghetti dinner at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 29 in the fellowship hall of the First Baptist Church of Hereford.

The speaker is currently working on a Ph.D. degree at the University of Oklahoma. He wrote his book following three trips to Turkey, where it is believed Noah's Ark reached land following the famous 40-day flood.

A movie, produced from the book, is now being shown throughout the United States. It traces the significant finding of the possible landing location of the ark.

Morris has been interviewed on the "Today" show. He is an engineer.

Tickets for the event are available at $1.50 per adult and $1 for children. Contact the church's office for purchases or youth of the church.

A nursery is provided.

Bell Appeals Rate Case to High Court

AUSTIN (AP) — Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. asked the Texas Supreme Court Thursday to order a state district judge to suspend a rate increase less than 20 per cent as big as the one Bell wants.

Bell asked for a writ of mandamus instructing Judge Jim Meyer of Austin to reverse his refusal to suspend the order by the new Public Utilities Commission.

Bell asked for rate increases totaling $296.7 million a year. The PUC granted only $57.8 million. This is so low, Bell contends, as to amount to confiscation of its property.

The law creating the PUC provides for suspension of PUC orders in the confiscation cases.

Bell says it should be allowed to charge the rates it originally asked for, pending appeal. It will post a reasonable bond to insure repayment if it loses the appeal, it says.

"We feel strongly that the commission's rate order must be set aside," said Doyle Rogers, Bell's chief executive in Texas. "The commission and the district court have ignored the company's established need for additional rates and also have ignored the law regulating public utilities in Texas."

Atty. Gen. John Hill argued in Meyer's court that Bell should stop behaving as if it were entitled to special privileges. Bell should follow the normal appeal route and not seek extraordinary judicial remedies, he said. Posting a bond will not guarantee repayment in all cases, Hill said, because customers must file claims.

Congress To Consider Emergency Legislation On Natural Gas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional leaders are rushing to approve President Carter's natural gas program and may have the emergency legislation on his desk by early next week.

The program Carter sent to Capitol Hill on Wednesday as his first legislative initiative seemed assured of quick passage. Members of Congress who once fought bitterly over the natural gas issue were joining forces to help push the measure through Congress.

The emergency legislation would give the President power to divert natural gas to cold-stricken parts of the country.

It would also allow emergency sales at unregulated prices by intrastate pipelines — located within gas-producing Gulf Coast states — to interstate pipelines until July 31.

"This bill will not end the shortages, will not improve the weather and will not solve the unemployment problems," Carter warned. But he said it would bring temporary relief to hard-pressed states by shifting gas from areas without acute shortages.

Carter told reporters that quick action is needed because the gas shortage precipitated by unusually cold weather east of the Rocky Mountains has already closed some 4,000 plants, forced layoffs of an estimated 400,000 persons and is now threatening those who use natural gas to heat their homes.

The move could raise the monthly gas bills of natural gas consumers, but administration officials said the increases probably would be small.

Carter also renewed his appeal for Americans to lower their thermostats to 65 degrees by day and lower at night, although an aide said later that the President did not want people to break any local or state laws that mandate higher temperatures.

The energy legislation was drafted in consultation with key members of Congress. White House energy adviser James R. Schlesinger said it was carefully tailored to maximize congressional support and minimize controversy.

Senate leaders decided to bypass normal committee hearings and bring the legislation directly to the floor for debate on Friday. A Senate vote could come Monday.

In the House, hearings are scheduled for Friday before the subcommittee with jurisdiction over natural gas.

House Speaker Thomas "Tip" O'Neill announced plans to bring the bill to the floor for a vote next Tuesday. If the measure encounters no difficulties, it could go to the White House the same day.

Senate sources said that quick action on the measure was assured by a compromise reached between advocates and opponents of outright deregulation of the natural gas industry.

Those who want decontrol generally agreed not to try to amend the legislation on the floor as a means of turning it into a general decontrol bill. In exchange, Senate leaders promised them that decontrol legislation would be considered in full in the spring.

IRS Info Telephone Lines Open

On Sat., Jan. 29, Internal Revenue Service Taxpayer Service telephone lines will be open to answer questions Texas taxpayers may have while preparing their tax returns. The phones will be in operation between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. CST to provide more help to taxpayers who may be unable to visit or phone IRS during normal working hours Mondays through Fridays.

Toll-free telephone numbers for the IRS are listed in the tax package. To help insure that employees are providing quality service, the IRS periodically monitors its taxpayer assistance telephone lines, the IRS said.

The IRS reminds taxpayers that the answers to most tax questions can probably be found in the instructions section of their tax packages, or in any number of free publications that can be requested by mailing the order blank also included in tax packages. The instructions and publications cover changes in the tax law for tax year 1976 involving child care expenses, income received during retirement, disability pay, business use of the home, and many other subjects.

Because the IRS relies on information the taxpayer gives, and does not ask for proof, the IRS advised that although its employees will try to be as helpful as possible, taxpayers are responsible for the accuracy of their returns and the payment of the correct tax.

GOD'S WISDOM WILL EMERGE FROM THE DEPTHS OF SORROW

At some time in our lives there comes a moment of tragedy that compels us even in the midst of our grief to ask the eternal question, "Why?" Yet what seems so cruel and senseless to us nevertheless happens for a reason that we are unable to comprehend. Somewhere, hidden from our eyes and our understanding, there is a divine purpose in everything. It is all part of the preordained pattern of our lives, the building of our character and the preparation for an ultimate destiny as yet unrevealed to us until the dawn of some bright tomorrow. At the Church of your choice, you will receive the comfort and strength you need, as well as the wisdom to trust God; because He has a master plan for the universe and you are a part of it.

"Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him."

—I Corinthians 2:9

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

By BOB WEAR

No guarantee

WE DO HAVE DEPENDABLE guidelines and standards; we know that some things work and there are some that do not work. There are some absolutes and some specifics; some things are always the same. We are thankful for the stability that these facts provide.

Even so, we must of necessity accept a certain amount of risk. It seems that, for some folk there is a greater risk; at least, some have less success than others in making these standards and fixed elements work for them.

The variables are in the people, not in the fixed standards. Some folk use better judgment than others, some put forth greater effort, and there is always the influences of special individual differences.

"MAKE IT AS SURE as you can" is the desire of most of us, and this is exactly what we try to do. Even with this general desire we know that we will not succeed in everything, because we know that there is "no guarantee."

This, however, is part of being human and is part of the reality in the living experience. Of course, we must be aware of and thankful for the established laws of behavior; and for the many plans we are able to make work. We must not permit ourselves to be crushed, when we fail.

FOR ALL OF US, there are difficulties, and troubles, and disappointments, and other hindrances and setbacks. There are times, when some of these can interfere with and hinder the successful working of the very best plans.

We know this, and can, if we will do so, condition ourselves for failure; even while we expend maximum effort and thought toward success.

We may succeed, or we may fail; but we accept this as part of living, because we know that there is "no guarantee" that we can succeed always.

"ADVERSITY EXASPERATES fools, dejects cowards, draws out the faculties of the wise and industrious, puts the modest to the necessity of trying their skills, awes the opulent, and makes the idle industrious." -Anon.

THERE IS "NO GUARANTEE" about our living, but it is necessary that we plan and work as if we are certain that we will live. This is not to be done with a spirit of arrogance, but with the wisest possible attitude of humility.

This is not a loss to us, but, when we see the true picture, with the fullest possible understanding, we can do our very best with our living.

This means that we must approach many of the challenges of life, with the admission that we may not do very well, and remember that this has to be done without losing any of our enthusiasm or lessening our efforts.

THERE IS "NO GUARANTEE", but this is not justification for discouragement, or skepticism, or pessimism.

Carter Wants Break For Vietnam War Veterans

BY JERRY T. BAULCH
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Carter, who pardoned Vietnam draft evaders as his first act in office, now wants to give a break to the thousands of jobless Vietnam-era veterans.

Carter's new labor secretary, F. Ray Marshall, announced a $1.3 billion program Thursday to find jobs for 200,000 of the nation's 558,000 unemployed Vietnam-era veterans. The government hopes to create 145,000 public service jobs for veterans, and to persuade business and industry to hire 50,000 to 60,000 more.

The jobs program was endorsed by both the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion, which last Friday denounced the President for pardoning draft evaders.

Economy--

jumps to the AFL-CIO the mayors and the others. Each will want his slice made bigger." Conable said in an interview.

Conable said there were hopeful signs that the economy is recovering on its own, with most private economists predicting a bigger growth than the administration projected.

He said he suspected the Democratic White House is maneuvering for position to claim credit for an economic gain that that would occur anyway.

The Carter program's emphasis on tax rebates and reductions disappointed the AFL-CIO and some Democrats who favored the Democrats who favored the labor federation's $30 billion, one-year proposal. The AFL-CIO's approach would rely entirely on job-stimulating programs, housing, and payments to state and local governments, with no tax breaks.

Schultze, Treasury Secretary W. Michael Blumenthal and Budget Director Bert Lance argued that the jolt of a $50 rebate or payment for each taxpayer and each dependent would hit 96 per cent of the population and be the quickest way to galvanize the sluggish economy.

Slower-developing jobs programs could take over later, they said.

"This will immediately add to consumer income and... will shortly begin boosting sales on consumer goods," Schultze predicted.

"A further enlargement of public service employment or accelerated public works would not meet this objective. Neither can be expanded faster than the President has proposed without running into very serious management problems."

A VFW spokesman, asked if the jobs program would blunt that criticism, said: "No. He Carter chose to recognize those who ran and broke the law before he chose to recognize those who served honorably."

The jobs plan was linked with the pardons in a 29-page agenda prepared by Carter aides for the President's first six months in office.

The agenda, made public last week, said the jobs program was a chance for Carter to show "his deep, personal feelings that those who served during the war deserve to be honored."

Marshall said Carter has placed the program among his "highest priorities." The 8.6 per cent unemployment rate among veterans aged 20 to 34 is "a blight on the nation's conscience," Marshall said.

Occasional Cocktail In White House Raises Some Eyebrows

BY GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The new social fare at the White House rules out hard liquor and that pleases anti-whisky forces, including a lot of Jimmy Carter's fellow Southern Baptists. But some of them frown at his occasionally sipping a cocktail.

There's no "foot-stomping campaign" about it, but there is some questioning, generally muted, says Theo Sommerkamp of Columbus, Ohio, editor of the Ohio Baptist Messenger.

At the same time, the newly enunciated policy of only wine and no hard drinks at White House dinners, receptions and other social functions during the Carter tenure reassured many Southern Baptists and other evangelicals.

The country's best-known Southern Baptist, evangelist Billy Graham, says he's glad to note Carter's decision that "no hard drinks will be served at the White House during his administration."

While favoring that, Graham disputed a recent news report saying he feels it's all right for Carter to drink an occasional highball. The story made erroneous deductions, a spokesman for Graham said.

Graham added in a statement that "because of the devastating problem that alcohol has become in America, it is better for Christians to be teetotalers except for medicinal purposes."

However, he cited Scripture, including Romans 14, cautioning Christians not to judge others on the matter. He also repeated that the Bible lays down no explicit demand for total abstinence.

"We must admit in all honesty, that teetotalism as we know it was found only in certain individuals in the Scriptures, especially those who had taken the Nazarite vow, like John the Baptist," Graham said.

Jesus himself was called "a winebibber" and to replenish the wine supply at a marriage feast in Cana, turned water into wine, Graham noted, but he pointed out:

"The alcoholic beverages of the Middle East in that period were very much weaker than modern drink. Biblical scholars such as Alfred Edersheim tell us that the wine of Biblical times was mixed with water."

Moreover, Graham said, the Bible plainly and repeatedly condemns drunkenness. For instance, Isaiah 28:1 says "Woe to... the drunkard;

Jesus, in Luke 21:34, says, "But take heed to yourself lest your hearts be weighed out with dissipation and drunkenness." "Do not get drunk with wine," says Ephesians 5:18, "for that is debauchery."

Citing an array of statistics, Graham said the "creeping paralysis of alcoholism is sapping our morals, wrecking our homes," and because of the

Welfare Hearings Slated

AUSTIN (AP)—The welfare department's 47-member citizens' task force on Medicaid announced hearings Thursday to be held in several Texas cities.

Six subcommittees have been named to study: nursing homes and in-home care; physician services; hospital, laboratory and X-ray services; pharmacy services; special medical services such as health screenings for children, transportation, adult dentures, eyeglasses and hearing aids; and recipient views.

Hearings will be held in: -Austin Feb. 1. -Corpus Christi Feb. 1 and 2. -Dallas Feb. 3 and 4. -Beaumont Jan. 31 and Feb. 1.

-Houston Feb. 2 and 3. -San Antonio Feb. 2. -Amarillo, Lubbock El Paso, Abilene, Arlington, Waco, Paris, Edinburg, San Antonio, Nacogdoches, Houston and Odessa Feb. 8. The subcommittees will meet swelling modern problem, he advises total abstinence.

While Southern Baptist conventions recurrently have denounced the use and sale of alcoholic beverages, and some congregations join in conventions against it, the denomination upholds individual and congregational autonomy and imposes no blanket rule on the matter.

MIAMI (AP)—E. Howard Hunt, described as "embittered" after 31 months in prison for his role in Watergate, will live in Miami after his Feb. 25 parole to paint, write and lecture, his lawyer says.

The U.S. Parole Board in Washington announced Wednesday that Hunt would be paroled if he pays a $10,000 fine that was included with his prison term of 30 months to eight years.

Attorney Ellis Rubin of Miami said, "We will pay the fine, he will have to dip into his life savings."

Rubin described the 58-year-old former CIA agent as "thrilled" by the parole but "embittered... very disillusioned at the U.S. government for doing this prison to him."

Rubin said Hunt was first eligible for parole after serving 16 months and added that Hunt believes it was because of "the magnitude of Watergate and political considerations that he has had to serve 32 months."

Rubin commented on what he called the "coincidence" of the parole being granted within the first week of the Democratic administration of President Carter.

Hunt pleaded guilty on Jan. 11, 1973, to conspiracy in the June 1972 break-in at Democratic National Headquarters in the Watergate building in Washington. He served as a lookout when five burglars entered the Democratic offices.

Rubin said Hunt will live in Miami with two of his four children. Hunt's wife, Dorothy, was killed in a 1973 jetliner crash. Hunt declined to talk to reporters Wednesday, and Rubin said Hunt's first public statements will not be made until he arrives in Miami.

Houston's Whitley Lombardi Winner

BY MICHAEL A. LUTZ
AP Sports Writer

HOUSTON (AP)—As a 6-foot-3, 225-pound eighth grader at Brenham, Tex., Wilson Whitley almost didn't get to play football because his mother was afraid he might hurt someone.

As a 6-3, 268-pound All-American defensive tackle at the University of Houston, Whitley almost didn't get to make his acceptance speech Thursday night as the 1977 winner of the Vince Lombardi Award to the nation's top college lineman.

He broke up, choking back emotion, as he accepted the trophy from former President Gerald Ford and comedian Bob Hope.

Luckily for Whitley, his sisters induced their mother to let Whitley play football. And after the shock of winning the award sank in, Whitley's power of speech returned.

"You set a goal for yourself but you never dream that it will come true," Whitley finally told the capacity crowd of 1,200 at a $100-per-plate dinner. "I've never been in this position before. It's beautiful. That's all I know to say."

Whitley, who anchored a Houston defense that helped the Cougars rally from a 2-8 season in 1975 into the Cotton Bowl in 1976, beat out three other finalists for the award, named in honor of the former Green Bay and Washington coach who died of cancer.

Other finalists were Texas A&M middle linebacker Robert Jackson, Notre Dame defensive end Ross Browner and Pittsburgh nose guard Al Romano. "I was an assistant coach at West Point with Coach Lombardi," beamed Houston Head Coach Bill Yeoman. "I can tell you, Wilson is exactly the type of player that Vince Lombardi would have approved of."

"Last year's record was tough on us and Coach Yeoman," Whitley said. "The coaches asked us to write down our No. 1 goal during pre-season and every player put down the Cotton Bowl."

The Cougars followed through with a 9-2 season record in their first year to compete in the Southwest Conference, finishing with the best turnaround record of any team in the nation. Ford, a former center at the University of Michigan, and Mrs. Ford, who recovered from cancer surgery, both spoke briefly at the dinner, which turns over its profits to the American Cancer Society.

Ford told the audience, "I have a personal appreciation for these players. I know they don't get into the spotlight too often. But I also know, just as Vince Lombardi knew, that nobody else would get into the spotlight without them."

Near the end of the program, a dinner chairman Herschel Maltz presented a check for $115,000 to American Cancer Society president Dr. R. Lee Clark.

"I wouldn't be here if it hadn't been for my sisters talking my mother into letting me play football," Whitley said. "But they did and my mother is the sweetest lady I know. And now winning this makes everything so sweet."

Previous Lombardi winners are Ohio State's Jim Stillwagon, 1971; Walt Patulski, Notre Dame, 1972; Rich Glover, Nebraska, 1973; John Hicks, Ohio State, 1974; Randy White, Maryland, 1975 and LeRoy Selmon, Oklahoma, 1976.

WTSU Telethon Lists Additions

"Pistol" Pete Pedro, a running back who gained national prominence with the West Texas State Buffaloes in the 1960's, is among the latest additions of attractions for the WTSU telethon which begins at 11 p.m. tonight on Amarillo's Channel 10.

Pedro joins Canadian native Randell Carver as the latest persons to join the telethon cast. Carver is a former resident of Hereford, and has made a name in movie and television roles. His latest movie was "Once An Eagle".

Other personalities of national reputation to appear include Don Meredith, former Dallas Cowboys quarterback; Chill Wills, veteran actor; Morgan Fairchild and Candice Aerie, daytime soap opera actresses; Cliff Harris and Scott Laidlaw of the Dallas Cowboys; and Barbara Hunter, sports broadcaster for NBC.

Pedro broke in with the Buffs as a sophomore and tied for the major college scoring title and finished second in the nation in rushing that season. He was named to the third-team All-America squad, but was hampered by injuries the next two seasons. He finished as the fourth all-time leading rusher for WT, and played three pro seasons, one in Canada.

Carver appeared in a number of student productions at WT, and has performed in the cast of "Texas". After his graduation from WT he entered the service and went to Korea.

While in the service he landed a small part in the movie "Midnight Cowboy."

The telethon is scheduled to run 18 hours to raise funds for the West Texas athletic program. In addition to the national celebrities more than 100 local Amarillo area personalities will appear on the show.

New Boston Red Sox pitching coach Al Jackson is in the air freight business during the off season.

Sal Yvars, who ended the 1951 World Series by lining out to Hank Bauer in right field, is a stock broker in White Plains, N.Y.

Tech Edges Houston

BY DENNE H. FREEMAN

when Texas Tech nudged Houston 84-83 on a layup with one second left in over-time in Lubbock.

The Razorbacks, now 8-0 in SWC play and 16-1 for the season, are two games ahead of Houston 5-2 and three games ahead of Texas Tech and SMU, each 5-3.

"We appreciate any help we can get but we're still going to tend to our own business," said an elated Arkansas Coach Eddie Sutton after the rout of the Mustangs. "I've got a lot of respect for every team in the conference but obviously we would rather go to Houston (Feb. 5) with a two-game lead if possible. That takes a little of the pressure off."

At Lubbock, Houston Coach Guy Lewis was in a daze.

"I don't know what to say-- I am shell-shocked," moaned Lewis. "Who would expect Mike Russell to throw an air ball on the last shot and have some guy find it and put it in the basket. We played our guts out and still lost."

Tech freshman Kent Williams flipped in a backhanded crisp shot with one second left in overtime after he fielded Russell's missed 25-footer. Regulation play ended tied 73-73.

Otis Birdsong scored 30 points in a losing cause.

"Heck, I'm not worried about our upcoming game with Arkansas, now," said Lewis. "I just want to win a ball game."

Sutton said "We're not a great team but on just about any given night we could beat any team in the country. We should be awfully good next year when we return everybody. To be a great club you have to have a dominant center, and we don't have one yet."

SMU Coach Sonny Allen concluded "They are a very good team... not awesome, but a very good team."

Marvin Delph scored 21 points to pace the Razorbacks who shot 57 per cent from the field. Arkansas hit 15 of its first

NBA Central A Dead Heat

BY BARRY WILNER
AP Sports Writer

There may not be parity in the National Basketball Association but there certainly is equality in the league's Central Division.

After Thursday night's action, the Washington Bullets, Houston Rockets and Cleveland Cavaliers are separated by just three percentage points at the top of the Central with fourth-place San Antonio not too far behind. The Rockets, who beat Detroit 114-107, are tied with the idle Bullets for first place with a .568 percentage. Cleveland, which squeaked by the New York Knicks 113-111, is at .565. And the Spurs, who dropped a 112-104 decision to Portland, are 2½ games back at .511.

In the only other NBA action Thursday, Phoenix upended Philadelphia 111-95.

Cavaliers 113, Knicks 111
Cleveland's Jim Cleamons

tied the Knicks at 107 with 2:16 left. With the game tied at 109, Nate Thurmond hit a running hook shot but Walt Frazier knotted things up again with a jumper with just 36 seconds left.

Austin Carr's basket with 18 seconds left won the game for the Cavs, who then forced Bob McAdoo to miss from in close in the last five seconds.

Rockets 114, Pistons 107

The Rockets overcame a nine-point halftime deficit to defeat Detroit. Mike Newlin came off the bench to score 27 points and was aided by teammates Moses Malone, who had 25 points and 23 rebounds, Rudy Tomjanovich 24 points and Calvin Murphy 22 as Houston kept pace in the frantic Central.

Trailblazers 112, Spurs 104
Portland handled San Antonio despite losing Bill Walton and Larry Steele on fouls in the fourth quarter. Maurice Lucas scored 23 points and Dave Twardzik added 20 as the Blazers stayed atop the Pacific Division with their 24th victory in 25 home games this season.

Suns 111, 76ers 95
Phoenix stopped Philadelphia's seven-game winning streak as rookie Ron Lee had his best game as a pro.

The Oregon grad scored 28 points, grabbed 15 rebounds, assisted on eight Suns' baskets, stole the ball six times and blocked a shot.

"You bet this was my best game," said Lee. "I felt good. I wanted to take the ball to the hoop just about every time I got it."

Zender, Kite Hold Lead At San Diego

BY BOB GREEN
AP Golf Writer

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Bob Zender and Tom Kite performed some last-hole heroics for the lead in $180,000 Andy Williams-San Diego Open, but they had to be keeping an anxious eye on threatening Tom Watson.

"You'll see the good players, the Millers and the Greens and the Nicklauses and, hopefully, the Watsons, they get on a streak and they ride the momentum until the wave runs out," said Watson, a winner last week and looking for another triumph.

And Watson definitely has the momentum still going.

He scored only the second hole-in-one of his pro career—an eight-iron shot that hit to the left of the hole, ran about three feet past, then sucked back into the hole—on his way to a six-under-par 66 Thursday that left him one shot back of Kite and Zender, each of whom birdied the final hole for 65s.

Watson, a former British Open champion who has finished fourth and first in his last two starts, was tied with Homero Blancas and Lon Hinkle. At 67, five-under-par, were veteran Don January, Leonard Thompson, Bill Rogers, Barry Jaeckel, Rick Acton, Australian Bob Shearer, Dennis Meyer and rookie Jay Haas.

Ben Crenshaw headed a group of more than a dozen at 69. Defending champion J.C. Snead had a 71, while Arnold Palmer, playing with a painful sprain in his right hand, was far back at 74.

In all, 81 of the starting field of 156 bettered par 72. Most of the low scores came on the shorter, easier North course, which Kite, Zender, Blancas and Watson all played. All players switched courses today and the final two rounds will be played on the 7,047-yard South course. Each layout is a par 72.

Zender, a six-year veteran still seeking his first title, used his length off the tee to dominate the par fives. He played those four holes four-under-par and capped off a course record 30 on his front nine with an eagle three. He lashed a two-iron shot to the green and holed a 40-footer. "A birdie four on his final hole gave him a share of the top spot."

Kite, who scored his first tour victory in Philadelphia last year, made his round with a string of four consecutive birdies, beginning on his seventh hole, where he chipped in from about 30 feet. "My best break of the day." He also birdied the last hole, reaching the par five with a four-wood second shot and two-putting.

Improved Rebounding Necessary For Herd

By BOB NICH
Brand Sports Editor

The Hereford Whitefaces travel to Plainview tonight to test the Bulldogs in a contest that sees the Herd in a must-win situation as far as the first half of district play goes.

Plainview is 2-0 in the league after squeaking by Monterey and Lubbock by one and two points respectively. The Herd stands 0-1 after dropping a tense overtime match to Coronado Tuesday evening.

The key to the Hereford loss, according to coach Barry Arnwine, was a deficiency in rebounding by the Faces. "The only way Coronado beat us was on the offensive boards," Arnwine said Thursday afternoon.

"They got 10 more offensive rebounds than we did, and put the ball up 20 more times," he added.

The Mustangs outrebounded The Herd 42-34 overall, the first time this season any team had dominated the boards against Hereford, regardless of size.

In answer to the rebounding problem Arnwine will have the Faces meet the Bulldogs with a man-to-man defense in hopes that the edge in caroms will shift.

"We hope we can block out better in a man and rebound better...this is what we feel we have to do to win," the coach revealed.

Arnwine regards the Bulldogs as a "quick, good shooting" team with perhaps their sole weakness being that they have played inconsistently at times during the year.

"Right now they're winning the close games. A good team has to win those close games, and that's why our loss to Coronado was so disappointing, because we did play badly and still had a lot of opportunities to win," the coach said.

Another area where the Herd must improve is in getting a balanced scoring attack going. Although James Mays and Kelly Kitchens had 25 and 21 points apiece in the Coronado game, no other Whiteface scored more than four.

"Our other people have to score more," Arnwine says. "We have to utilize them more and get better scoring from our other three starters as well as from our bench."

"We're going up there to win...you can't just roll over and play dead because you lost the first one and it was one you felt like you should have won," he added.

Senior guard James Pouch leads the Bulldogs, and Arnwine describes the Plainview sharpshooter as "one of the best if not the best player in the district."

"He's only 6-1, but he plays 6-3," Arnwine said. "He's quick and is a good outside shooter."

Inside the Bulldogs have Lindsey Dye and Greg Hearn, both 6-5. Arnwine calls Dye "the best rebounder in the district", while Hearn contributes greatly to the Bulldog rebounding effort and is "awfully good defensively."

"They're a little quicker and better outside than Coronado, and we'll have to have a good game to beat them, especially in their own gym," the coach said.

The Herd has plenty of motivation to beat the Bulldogs since a Plainview win would virtually wrap up the first half, with only Coronado in the way to prevent a clean sweep by the "Dogs."

"If we don't beat Plainview, then we can start looking at the second half. If we can defeat them then everybody in the league will have a loss," Arnwine concluded.

Even in the Herd beats the "Dogs" in their own back yard they'll still have a hard row to hoe. The Monterey Plainsmen and Lubbock Westerners are next in line.

Ralph Branca, famous for allowing the Bobby Thomson home run that beat the Brooklyn Dodgers out of the 1951 National League pennant, is in the insurance business in White Plains, N.Y.

Richie Hebner, a Boston grave digger in winter months, says he will have no trouble switching from third base to first base with the Phillies, his new team. Hebner played some first base for the 1969 Pirates.

Bob Farnham of Brown University will defend his pass receiving title this season. Last year he caught 56 passes.

Frenzied Comebacks Highlight Cage Play

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN

As Yogi Berra once said, "You're never out of it until you're out of it."

Yogi would have absolutely loved what Maryland and New Mexico State, both of whom were about as out of it as possible, did Thursday night, a night of miracles in college basketball.

Maryland fell behind 19-2 and never led until late in the game but recovered to nip North Carolina State 75-73 in an Atlantic Coast Conference game.

But that rally was mere child's play compared to the one New Mexico State put on against shell-shocked Bradley. The Aggies fell behind 28-0 after seven minutes—count 'em, 28-0—and then stormed back for a 117-109 Valley Conference victory in what must rank as one of the greatest comebacks in sports history.

"Fate, destiny, what can you say?" marveled Aggie Coach Ken Hayes.

Meanwhile, in another one for the book, Centenary scored an incredible eight points in the final three seconds in defeating Northwestern Louisiana 79-71.

Those developments stole the spotlight from the four members of The Associated Press Top Twenty who saw action. Second-ranked Michigan held off Wisconsin 69-64, No. 11 Louisville downed Dayton 76-71, No. 13 Minnesota crushed Indiana 79-60 and No. 15 Arkansas mauled Southern Methodist 77-59.

It looked like a football score as Bradley piled up a 28-0 bulge over New Mexico State. But while the Braves might have been thinking shutout, they should have been thinking win.

Albert Jones scored 28 points to pace New Mexico State's comeback, which overshadowed a 40-point effort by Bradley's Roger Phegley.

By halftime, the Aggies were within 56-50. They took the lead for the first time with 3:20 remaining on Richard Robinson's lay-up and it see-sawed until 1:53, when Robinson's 15-foot jump shot put them ahead for good 105-104.

Steve Sheppard's 20-foot jump shot with two seconds remaining capped Maryland's comeback against North Carolina State. The Terrapins never led until late in the game. N.C.

State's Kenny Carr sank two foul shots with 30 seconds remaining to tie the score and Maryland's Brad Davis dribbled 28 seconds off the clock before Sheppard's winning shot. Carr led all scorers with 26 points and Charles Whitney added 21 for the wolfpack. Sheppard led Maryland with 18. Centenary scored its eight bang-bang points to turn a 71-69 squeaker into a laugh, although there wasn't much time left for chuckling. What made the finish even more unusual was that Northwestern Louisiana also got a basket

Clubs Split Championships

Points toward the team championship were evenly distributed Thursday night as the table tennis and pool events in the YMCA Inter-Service Club Olympics were held at the First Baptist Church.

Four different clubs had representatives come away with titles as both singles and doubles in table tennis and 8-Ball and rotation in pool competition were held.

Joe Bob Perrin of the Simms Lions, scrambled to a win in the table tennis singles, while the team of Butch White-Rick Blaske of the Hereford Lions, emerged the winners in the table tennis doubles.

Danny Martin, representing the Easter Lions, was the winner in the 8-Ball competition, while Joe Ed Vickery of the Hereford Kiwanis Club won the rotation round.

Action in the Olympics continues tonight with the floor hockey competition between the Hereford Lions and Hereford Kiwanis at 7:30 p.m. in the Old Central gym.

The only event on the schedule for Saturday is the Pent, Pass, and Kick competition, which will be held at the Northwest Elementary School field beginning at 3 p.m.
