Monthly Meeting Held

Duckworth Welcomed By Chamber Directors

Bob Duckworth, new executive vice president of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, was formally welcomed to the community when directors met for a regular monthly board meeting Thursday morning.

In other business, the board approved recommendations presented by the health and safety committee, the Hereford Hustler group, and the sports committee. Several other committee reports were made, and the monthly financial statement was reviewed.

Duckworth, formerly of Hobbs, N.M., assumed duties Tuesday as the executive vice president, replacing Bill Albright who recently moved to Big Spring as the chamber executive. A native of Longview, Duckworth attended school in Oklahoma and served two chambers of commerce there before going to Hobbs. His wife, Rena, and three children will be joining him at a later date.

Dr. Milton Adams, chairman of the health and safety committee, presented a proposal for providing a safer and more efficient "drive-up" mail drop near the post office on 4th street. The plan calls for an "island" to be constructed on 4th street near the post office alleyway. To provide two lanes of traffic on each side, it would be necessary to have "no-parking" areas on both sides of the street between the post office and the Star Theater.

Adams said the cost of the project would have to come from community support, since the post office does not have the funds for such a service. Directors approved the plan and asked the committee to submit it to the city commission for its consideration.

Mack Tubb reported that the Hereford Hustlers, who serve as community greeters and goodwill ambassadors, had voted to change the name of the group and had approved a point system for members to retain their membership in the group. The committee voted to change the name to Hereford Ambassadors. He pointed out that women in the group preferred not to be called "Hustlers".

To qualify as a member of the Ambassadors, a chamber member must earn points by signing up new members. The group is currently composed of about 15 to 20 members. The board approved the recommendations of the committee, including the name change. The chamber pays half the cost of the special blazers worn by the Ambassadors.

President Joe Shollenbarger announced that directors had voted to continue sponsorship of the "Super Sports Weekend" in cooperation with the school system. The chamber helps pay for trophies and the sports committee provides manpower to help conduct the track, baseball and golf tournaments which are held. The events are being held this Thursday through Saturday. Shollenbarger said he will soon appoint a new sports committee chairman.

Shollenbarger also announced that Hereford Jaycees will again help with the

Pole Snaps; Two Hurt

Two linemen working on a construction crew north of town were injured Wednesday afternoon in a freak accident when the utility pole they were climbing snapped, causing them to fall about 23 feet to the ground.

The two men, employed by Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative, were taken to St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo for treatment of injuries. They are Jerry Deckard, 29, 714 Stanton, and Jack Coleman, 25, of 714 Irvin.

Each man sustained a broken leg and dislocated wrists, as well as contusions and bruises.

Dick Montgomery, REC official, said the accident occurred about 2:30 p.m. Wednesday. The men were working on a project on the Jerome Friemel farm north of town. Montgomery said all safety precautions had been observed, but the pole snapped about six feet from the top. He said the broken piece of the pole apparently fell between the two men.

"We feel very fortunate that the accident was not more serious," he stated. Montgomery said the two men would probably require a recuperation period of 10 to 12 weeks.

Chamber 'Fun Breakfast' Offers Cash Prizes, Entertainment, News

The bi-monthly Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce "Fun Breakfast" continues with another one planned for 6:30 a.m. Tuesday in the Hereford High School cafeteria.

Unlike past ones, it will feature $500 in prize money built up over the past few months and will be the first public reception for Bob Duckworth, the incoming executive vice president of the C of C. He comes from Hobbs, N.M. where he held a similar position. Incentives are high for attendance as all C of C members present are eligible for a $400 cash drawing. Since such drawings in the past breakfasts went unawarded, funds accumulate until someone present wins it. Separate drawings of $75 and $25 cash will be held for everyone present including members and their guests.

This breakfast is being provided through the cooperation of Hereford, Texas Federal Credit Union. Their contributions help defray overhead expenses.

A highlight of the meal will be the presentation of the "Bull Chip" award to a deserving individual among Hereford's distinguished ranks. It is the counterpart of the Hereford Bull award presented to out-of-town visitors.

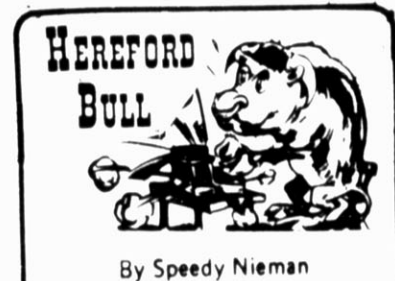

John David Bryant, Fun Breakfast coordinator, said that the usual activities of games, skits, entertainment and prizes will be conducted along with the necessary business of the C of C.

Numerous announcements about upcoming events and items of interest will be discussed.

Entertainment will be provided by "The Fuzz," a local band composed of area law enforcement officers, and Susie McGee, who plays the traditional "breakfast music."

Lynton Allred and Rev. Doug Manning host the early morning gathering in their usual zany way.

Reservations are needed by the C of C office not later than 5 p.m. Monday so that proper arrangements for food and drink can be made. Tickets cost $2.75 each and may be purchased at the door or at the C of C office on Main Street.

A LOT OF FARMERS voted for Jimmy Carter because they figured with a peanut farmer in the White House, the agricultural industry might get some kind of relief—or at least a more sympathetic audience. This may be true, but we're still waiting... and noticing that a news report says the budget of the Ag Department has been whacked considerably for the next two years.

Price supports and related programs are reportedly sliced in half, and about everything else is cut except "consumer protection". Another bright ray of hope was the appointment of Texas John White as deputy ag secretary, but he was quoted as saying he wasn't for changing things much.

Farmers, and those interested in the farm economy, still have a lot of work to do if they are to get a farm program that will actually help the man in the field who is fighting a tough combination of bad weather, high costs and depressed farm prices.

Administration May Aid Sugar Industry

Members of the Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Association believe they have an indication that the administration will be acting soon to bring about an increased price for sugar.

DEPRESSED SUGAR prices in 1976 discouraged many local sugar beet growers and the association is now attempting to maintain farmer interest in the planting of sugar beets.

"The U.S. International Trade Commission has urged President Carter to impose an annual import quota on foreign sugar, not to exceed 4.4 million tons," explained James Witherspoon, executive secretary and legal representative for the association.

Witherspoon pointed out that the directors of the association are recommending that growers keep records with the ASCS and Holly Sugar Corporation concerning their acreage.

"The cane refineries, including Kemper of Houston, have been insisting that the USDA should make subsidy payments to growers as a legislative solution. It might be wise for growers to keep acreage records in the event acreage allotments are imposed in connection with subsidy payments, as is likely on certain other crops now being considered by Congress," Witherspoon advised.

THE ASSOCIATION secretary also urged local growers to visit the Southwestern Great Plains Research Station at Bushland, where Dr. Steve Winter conducts research on sugar beets.

Dr. Winter has already found that beets rank with cotton in their ability to withstand short moisture situations, and sugarbeets may rank as the best dryland crop for the area.

Growers in and around the Umbarger area are in full agreement with Dr. Winter's findings.

Commissioners To Revise By-Laws

Wind Erosion District Activated

The Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court Wednesday afternoon, officially reinstated the Deaf Smith County Wind Erosion District and proceeded to study ways of bringing its by-laws up-to-date to meet demands of farmers now in the business.

The called meeting of the county body concentrated on resurrecting the old legal entity after it remained dormant since 1948 when it was last used. With the advent of high winds and blowing dust this spring, the farmers in the area are facing extreme damage from wind erosion, especially from those fields which have not been plowed up.

County Commissioners are the controlling governmental unit in charge of designating the damaged areas and those which need to be plowed. Since some farmers do not keep plowed fields to prevent wind erosion, several persons protested at a Monday meeting of the Commissioners Court to resurrect the county judge's authority to authorize plowing. However, action is not immediately accessible since the exact procedure to be used in enforcing the statute was not acted upon. Criminal District Attorney Andy Shuval and County Judge Sam Morgan delayed recommending action until all legal aspects of the revised by-laws could be checked.

Originally, a waiting period of up to two weeks existed delaying any fast action. Commissioners agreed to wait until the next regular meeting to consider the changes and then approve them.

Morgan offered to help in anyway possible to keep wind erosion at a minimum during the next few weeks. He said he could most effectively help by calling those hesitating to plow and reminding them of the possible enforcement authority of the county.

"I may be able to persuade someone to plow up their fields in the meantime," Morgan said. "If you tell them there is teeth in the law, they may act."

Each commissioner appoints a three-member team to investigate any area where erosion is occurring. Based upon this recommendation, the Commissioners Court is allowed to hold a hearing and take action.

The proposed revisions are designed to cut down the time needed to take action. Previously, the waiting period was to allow the particular landowner notification and a chance to tell his side of the story.

During the "Dust Bowl" days, financial backing was given the district through the Texas Department of Agriculture and Morgan said the current program is without any funding.

To carry out the necessary work, persons involved in the plowing will have to consider it a voluntary service to the community as a whole, Morgan said. "We don't have any money to operate it (the district) and they (workers) will have to work without pay. It'll have to be like serving on the school board or working with the Chamber of Commerce."

During the called meeting, some 20 persons discussed the law with the court including former County extension agent Hugh Clearman and Justin McBride, current county extension agent. Representatives of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service were present

NO MORE WASTED LAND NOW IRRIGATE THE CORNERS WITH VALLEY.

It's a revolutionary new concept in center pivot irrigation. The new Valley Corner System is the first center pivot that hits the corners. It allows you to irrigate up to 150 acres per quarter and to adapt your system to any shape field. Expansive corner land can be converted into profitable new acreage with a Corner System Pivot. The amazing versatility of this unique system extends all the obvious advantages of center pivot irrigation—dramatic water savings, automatic irrigation the moment you need it, and precise fertilizer application to every farmer. Unusually high yields from land that was previously unproductive will enhance your whole farming enterprise. By irrigating nonproductive farmland, you are upping the overall value of your land as much as $500 per acre. You'll find, as many progressive farmers have already, that the corner catcher will actually pay for itself, and then some.

Three Attractions Being Shown Today

At 7:30 p.m. this evening, the curtain will rise at Dawn Community Center for the annual benefit show sponsored by Dawn Music Club.

The public is urged to be present for an evening of humor and musical entertainment. Admission will cost $1 for adults and 50 cents for children under the age of 12.

This year's presentation will offer three feature attractions. The opening segment will be the story of Hansel and Gretel in "the Gingerbread Castle." Featured characters in their performance will be children of the Dawn community. Dances, songs and dialogue will be used to relate the story of the two lost children and the wicked witch, who will be spotlighted in a "broomstick" dance.

Members of Dawn Music Club and other individual performers will present "Thirty Minutes with Carmen" as arranged by Arthur Johnson and May Van Dyke. Based on the opera by George Bizet, the musical vignette depicts the amorous escapades of a gypsy girl who works in a cigarette factory. The story line follows her fickle romances with soldiers and the flashy treader "Escamillo."

Concluding the evening's program will be a Vaudeville-type melodrama, entitled "The Miner's Daughter" or "Evil Reaps Its Just Rewards" by Schubert Fendrich. The Dawn performers will portray the predicament of miners who are pestered by an avid group of temperance workers. Garnishing the plot is the arrival of Clementine, freshly "educated" at finishing school and determined to take matters into hand.

Each of the three features is expected to be approximately 30 minutes in length.

Among the pallbearers will be Elmer Combs, Elmer Patterson, Houston Roberts and W.P. Axe.
T.L. SPARKMAN SR.
Services for T.L. Sparkman Sr., 86, will be conducted at 2:30 p.m. Friday in Rose Chapel of Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home with the Rev. Johnny Tims, pastor of Frio Baptist Church, officiating. He will be assisted by the Rev. Sam Ogan of Amarillo, formerly of Hereford.

count upon that person as a friend, and yet never know him.
I've enjoyed my stay in Hereford and the people I count as friends. As a newsman I meet people every day, and have really come to depend upon many as sources, and as friends who may tell me something in confidence, not to be broadcast. I hope that I have never betrayed that trust, because although I'm a newsman, I must also be a friend that can be trusted.
I hope that I've been most times fair in my stories that have been aired on KPAN on a daily basis, about life in Hereford. Prejudice in a newsman, in my opinion, is the worst thing for him to harbor. It distorts the true facts, and while it may please one point of my view, it antagonizes the other side. As people have learned of my leaving, many have stated that I have been fair in my treatment, and I certainly appreciate those remarks.

Leaving Hereford, for Ruth and I is one of mixed emotions. We look forward to moving to Amarillo, and the move higher in the world of broadcasting, but we shall also miss the people we have come to know. No person is just like another one, and each is unique in his own right, and we'll remember those.

Should there be a question as to what I will be doing, I'll mention that I'm joining the news staff of KGNC Radio. To say that on KPAN wouldn't be quite ethical, but yet, people are curious where one disappears to in the world of radio. Too often the voice is there one day, then gone the next, never to be heard again.
We won't forget Hereford, and we'll still be down this way on occasion. So, we'll be seeing you.
Mac & Ruth Alpperspach

Letter To The Editor

Allow me, as a former competitor of your paper, to now make use of the Brand so that I can say a few words to the many people I've come to know in my time in Hereford. This week marks my last at KPAN Radio, and I have no way of thanking all the people I've worked with in the last two years, or do I know all the people that may know me. Often people will hear a voice and imagine what the person looks like, and may even

Herd Golfer Eyeing State Championship

By BOB NIGEL
Brand Sports Writer

While most 15 year old high school girls are spending their time worrying about the far reaching implications of acne or trying to figure out how to get that certain boy to ask them out Hereford's Barbara Scott is setting her sights on a state championship.

BARBARA SCOTT
...Fem Linkster

The cute, no-nonsense Hereford slaphopore spends her afternoons chasing a small round white ball around the Pitman Golf Course, hoping that her chase will ultimately end with a trip to Austin and the state tournament.

Barbara got started playing golf when she went out a couple of times with older sister Shelly, a senior at HHS who eventually decided on tennis rather than golf and is a member of the girls varsity team.

Neither of Barbara's parents play the game, so basically she's on her own. But, she does get a lot of practice in hitting the course every day after school.

The only problem is that she is a one-girl team of sorts, and she must make her daily rounds in the company of the boys' team members, a fact ironically which she says helps her.

female companionship on the home course Barbara has put her practice to good use and currently holds the district medalist lead after one league round.

Her 27 over five holes of a dust storm-shortened round in Lubbock last week gave her a two-stroke lead over her nearest competitor.

"I think she's got as good a chance as anybody to win the district title this year, and she's bound to get better each year," Herd golf mentor Terry Russell said of his pupil.

Russell claims that Barbara is easy to coach, calling her a "really hard worker and very dedicated."

That hard work and dedication were necessary last week in Lubbock when 60 mph winds buffeted the course as the district rounds began.

"It was horrible," Barbara said. "It was pretty cold, too, and we had to constantly pick up the flags since they kept blowing out of the holes."

Three district rounds remain with the next one to be played tomorrow in Plainview. Rounds on the next successive Fridays (in Lubbock and again in Plainview) will close out the regular season.

To date Barbara's best 18-hole score has been an 83, which she carded in the Hereford Junior Tourney last summer. Her per round average is somewhere in "the middle 80s."

Barbara considers her short irons the best part of her game, an area which is usually the demise and frustration of many golfers.

"My short game is best, but I need to work on my driving since I just got a new driver and haven't been doing so well," she confessed.

Oddly her favorite female pro golfer is Joann Carner, one of the LPGA's best power hitters, and not a golfer who strokes a good short game like she does.

The emergence on the pro golf tour is in the back of Barbara's mind, but a college career and two more years of high school play must come first.

"I hope to continue with golf if I can get my game going good," she says.

As it is she continues to make tournaments as the lone Hereford representative, accompanied by whichever of her parents is free to make the trip. But, being alone has had some advantages, too! She has been able to strike up some friendships with other girls as a result of being paired with golfers from other schools.

"It's nice being paired with the number on golfers from other schools when playing," she says. "Ad, I've made some good friends like Liz Raymie from Amarillo High and Joyce Ann Hooper from Borger."

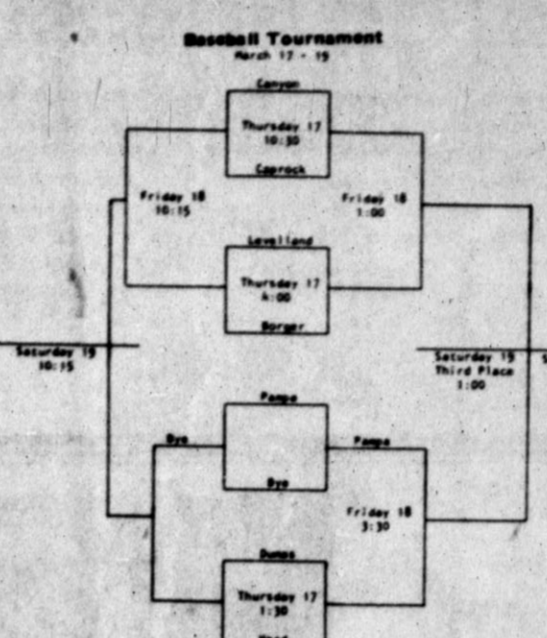

Still, Barbara would like some local girls to come out for the team, and would be glad to talk to anyone interested.

"They can call me at home (364-2049)," she said.

And it's a sure bet that coach Russell would welcome any other Barbara Scotts there may be in town. After all, if the Herd boys don't ever make it to Austin he can almost be assured that his number one girl will be making that trip within the next three years.

LEMON-DOBY TEAM UP
CHICAGO (AP) — Bob Lemon and Larry Doby, teammates for 10 years between 1947 and 1958 with the Cleveland Indians, are being reunited this spring. Lemon, the Hall of Fame pitcher with seven 20-game seasons, is managing the Chicago White Sox for Bill Veech, his former boss in Cleveland. And Doby will be one of Lemon's coaches. Doby, a .283 career hitter, hit .38 in the 1948 World Series when Lemon beat the Boston Braves 4-1 and 4-3. Doby last season coached at first base for the Montreal Expos.

Regional Semifinals On Schedule Tonight

By The Associated Press

"It's like Chuck Wepner fighting Muhammad Ali."

That's the way Detroit Coach Dick Vitale looks at his school's task tonight at the Titans go up against top-ranked Michigan in the Midwest Regional of the NCAA basketball tournament.

"We're the underdog fighting the large national school," Vitale explained. "They have the million-dollar sports program. And we have not had the athletic heritage -- no football program and other program like they have. They know how to win and know what it is."

Michigan Coach Johnny Orr is also looking forward to the matchup with the 12th-ranked Titans, calling it "the greatest game for fan interest in our state's history."

Even though the two schools are just 30 miles apart, they have not met since the 1973-74 season and aren't scheduled to clash again this decade.

The game between Michigan, 25-3, and Detroit, 25-3, will be the nightcap of the Midwest Regional doubleheader at Lexington, Ky. In the opener, No. 6 Syracuse, 26-3, plays No. 17 North Carolina-Charlotte, 24-3.

The other three regional semifinals also will be played tonight. In the East Regional at College Park, Md., No. 20 VMI, 26-3, meets No. 3 Kentucky, 25-3, and No. 10 Notre Dame, 21-6, plays No. 5 North Carolina, 25-4. In the Midwest Regional at Oklahoma City, No. 7 Marquette, 21-7, takes on No.

16 Kansas State, 23-7, and No. 9 Wake Forest, 23-6, plays unranked Southern Illinois, 22-6. In the West Regional at Provo, Utah, No. 14 Utah, 22-6, opposes No. 4 Nevada-Las Vegas, 26-2, and No. 2 UCLA, 24-4, goes against unranked Idaho State, 24-4.

The Wolverines, led by a 6-foot-7 Phil Hubbard and super-quick guard Ricky Green, have won their last seven games. Detroit's key players are John Long averaging 20.5 points a game, and 6-7 Terry Tyler.

Syracuse, which has won seven straight and 18 of the last 19, has a 6-11 freshman center named Roosevelt Bouie who will be severely tested by NC-Charlotte's Cedric "Cornbread" Maxwell, who averages 22 points and 12 rebounds per game.

Tradition-rich Kentucky will have to be on guard when it plays VMI. "It's a mistake if you don't respect a team like VMI," warned Kentucky Coach Joe Hall.

The other game in the East Regional matches two other tradition-rich schools, Atlantic Coast Conference champion North Carolina and Notre Dame, which capped its regular season by ending San Francisco's bid for an unbeaten record.

NEW YORK (AP) - Houston's Cougars face Alabama tonight in the semifinals of the National Invitation basketball tournament. The Cougars edged Illinois State Monday night on a 20-foot field goal at the buzzer by ace Otis Birdsong, who has been averaging 30 points a game all season.

Birdsong says the NIT action has made up for the NCAA's slight of the Cougars, who finished second behind Arkansas in the Southwest Conference. Birdsong, the fourth-best individual scorer in the nation's college basketball ranks, says the Cougars can beat Alabama but they'll have to do better than their last game, when they blew a 14-point lead in the second half.

Regardless of tonight's outcome, Houston will have two more games in the NIT, either for the crown or the consolation.

HOUSTON (AP) - The Houston Rockets took a solid hold on the lead in the National Basketball Association's Central Division Tuesday night with a 100-to-86 defeat of the New York Nets. The Rockets lead Washington by three games.

Rudy Tomjanovich scored 36 points to pace Houston to its eighth straight victory. The Rockets led by only six points at the half and did not put the game away until the last three minutes. Robert Hawkins led the Nets with 25 points and Mike Bantom had 21.

Gunman Shot After Holding Hostages

(AP) - A gunman, fleeing a botched robbery attempt and vowing never to be taken alive, shot himself in the chest early today after holding a man and a woman hostage for 14 hours, police said.

Sheriff John McDonald said the man, Michael Guile, had agreed to surrender but asked for a few minutes alone.

A couple of minutes later, McDonald said, a single gunshot was heard and the woman hostage, Pauline Gomez, came out and said Guile had shot himself in the chest.

Officers found Guile in the kitchen of the second-floor apartment. He was rushed to a local hospital, where he was reported in critical condition.

Authorities had believed that the male hostage, Tony Jojola, had been wounded in the shoulder during an early exchange of gunfire.

McDonald said later that Jojola was unharmed and that the story of his wound "was a lie made up by the gunman."

Mrs. Gomez had not been harmed, police added.

During the siege, Guile had said he would prefer death over a return to prison.

"I'm going to die," he told The Associated Press in a telephone interview. "I don't want to go back to prison for the rest of my life."

Guile's parole officer, Lynne Atkinson, said he was released from San Quentin prison in May, 1976, after serving time for a robbery conviction. "He was stable," she said.

Guile had said he was armed with two guns and a large quantity of ammunition. Several hours earlier, he had released unharmed an 18-month-old infant, Jose Jimenez.

In exchange for the infant's release Police Chief Jim Datzman allowed Guile to talk with his half-brother, Bob Galbraith. Authorities said Galbraith had been arrested earlier when he, Guile, and Larry Jackson fled from a holdup try at a pharmacy in nearby Brisbane.

Sheriff John McDonald said Galbraith tried to persuade Guile to release his hostages and surrender.

Guile reportedly told Galbraith, "I'll think about it."

The gunman grabbed the hostages and holed up in the stucco, three-story apartment building shortly after a car containing the three robbery suspects.

Galbraith was arrested immediately, and Jackson was captured on the roof of the apartment building, police said.

Guile demanded a car and safe passage from the area, but later told reporters he did not expect he would get either.

Guile had indicated from the beginning that he wanted no harm to come to the infant.

Hours later, after negotiating with police, a window was opened and a baby, wrapped in a blanket, was lowered by Guile to an officer. Guile quickly shut the window and drew the curtains.

Army Admits Test

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Army, denying it ever staged a simulated biological attack on the Capital, says it did test the White House ventilation system in 1962 to gauge its vulnerability to germ or chemical warfare.

But Army officials refused to disclose the test on Tuesday to provide additional details. They said White House officials wouldn't permit it.

The Army said the test at the White House was conducted in 1962 "at the request of the White House staff."

Last week the Army made public a censored report

Ann Landers
Bite Your Tongue

DEAR ANN LANDERS: May I say a word to that woman who is ashamed of her mechanic husband's hands because they never look quite clean? Bite your tongue, dear. I was married for 29 years to an attorney whose income in 1973 was $240,000. He defended corporate crooks, got them off, owned pieces of border-line businesses in exchange for his "services," and arranged for bribes and payoffs. "Mr. Fixer" dressed like a million dollars and his hands were immaculate.

Without meeting your husband I know his hands were a lot cleaner than my former husband's. He did an honest honest day's work with those hands. You should adore them!—No Name, City, State or Country.

DEAR ANN: May I comment on the letter from the woman who is embarrassed by her garage-mechanic husband's grime-stained hands?

There were times when I was ashamed of my husband's hands, too, but as I grew older I developed a different outlook.

Now I realize the cars we drive, our lovely home and nice clothes were made possible by those wonderful hands.

I never have to call a plumber, electrician or carpenter because my husband's hands can do almost anything. I consider myself—Lucky In Minnesota

DEAR LUCKY: What an uplifting letter! I should tell you that dozens of women wrote to suggest at least 10 different products guaranteed to remove all grime and grease. Anyone who is interested can check with his druggist.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband is 60 and has been a beer drunk for years. I stayed with him, using the excuse, "It would be better for the children." Well, the children are grown now and they are being treated for spastic colon, colitis and migraine.

My husband's regular routine is four cans before dinner and eight cans after dinner, before the 11 o'clock news. If he stays up later he drinks more.

He has damaged his liver, bladder and kidneys, has high blood pressure and is 50 pounds overweight. I've been humiliated dozens of times because of his drunken behavior. He refuses to go to AA and counseling is out. He won't listen to his doctor—claims beer

Parents. When you call your children to go visit your friends with you, do they hide under the car and refuse to come out? Do they make excuses for not going like they have to stay home and rotate the tires on their tricycle? Do they exude all the enthusiasm of a child invited to a fire drill in December in the middle of showers?

Then these words are for you. Suppose -- just suppose -- the situation was reversed and you were being dragged along to visit their friends. It might go something like this.

"Look, Mom, would you and Dad stop dawdling or we're going to be late at Debbie and Mike's house. And I'm telling you before we go, I don't want you whining around about when are we coming home and running in and out every two minutes to 'tell'. And for crying out loud take something to do -- some of your favorite toys. Mom, why don't you take your needlepoint? That would keep you occupied for awhile. Your home workshop is out of the question, Dad. It's too big. Take something small -- like maybe your keyring to play with."

At the house, the introductions are brief. "This is Mom and Dad, but you'll forget their names anyway. Say hello. And would you look at your parents. I swear they've grown a foot since we last saw them. How are things at work? And where did you get that pretty dress? I want you to meet my parents. Mom is 34 and Dad is 36. You should have a lot in common. Now run along and get acquainted. May be their Mom will show you her new microwave oven and their Dad his new power mower. Keep it down now."

Later, as the children are really having a good time, the four parents approach the children. "Kids, when are we going home? All the parents are sleepy. Besides, Dad has to be in court early tomorrow and he has a brief to write tonight."

The kids look at one another. "Isn't that just like a parent? Putting everything off until Sunday night. How long have you known about the brief?"

"Last Friday," says their father. "A likely story. Don't they drive you crazy? I swear you can't take parents anywhere and have a good time. Why we say we get together sometime soon without the A-D-U-L-T-S?"

In the car on the way home, you hear the kids say, "I love Debbie and Mike, but their parents are really spoiled brats. I hope you two didn't drink a lot of liquids or you'll be up all night. And don't you dare fall asleep on the way home or we'll leave you in the car all night. Tell me, did you have a good time?"

Holder Addresses Lions

Hereford High students Lee Kingsfather and Mark Priest were honored along with teacher Tommy Rosson at the weekly meeting of the Hereford Noon Lions Club Wednesday.

The trio was recognized as the Students and Teacher of the Six Weeks at HHS. Rosson is the chairman of the science department at the school and teaches both biology and chemistry. He was chosen as the outstanding teacher in the school by his colleagues earlier this year.

Kingsfather is secretary of the National Honor Society, and is a member of a high school band. Priest is a member of the NHS, and also is a member of the band, for which he was chosen a member of the All-Region Band. Both students are juniors.

In the program of the day Wednesday Hereford Superintendent of Schools Dr. Harrell Holder spoke to the Lions concerning some recent developments in legal action concerning the school district. "The decisions made by the school board in the past few weeks involve a real important issue... local control," the superintendent told the group.

things to their children. "We are in the process of finding out what the community wants to do in improving the schools," he concluded. "We are very interested in knowing what the people want in this respect." The superintendent added that the administration is interested in improving the academics as well as the physical structure of the school system.

In general announcements after the program the Lions welcomed new member Bill Jack Gililland, and sent a reminder that March is Big Brothers and Big Sisters Month.

A report on the recent pancake supper revealed that over $1,100 was netted from the event with some monies still expected to be turned in.

Profits Keyed To Breakeven Expenses

COLLEGE STATION—Texas farmers don't have a lot of room to waver when it comes to production costs. So determining the breakeven costs of the commodities they plan to produce can be the key for a profitable production program.

"Although cost of production for a particular commodity is often difficult to determine due to the variability of production inputs, it is a starting point for a producer to organize his productive resources to obtain optimum net income," points out Cecil Parker, economist in management with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Parker estimated breakeven variable and total production costs for irrigated and dryland cotton, sorghum, corn and wheat for five resource areas of Texas. He used 1977 projected costs of production inputs and a weighted average yield for 1973-75 for the crops.

For dryland cotton, the economist's breakeven costs for variable expenses were 28 cents per pound of lint in the High Plains, 12 cents in the Rolling Plains, 43 cents in the Blacklands, 23 cents in the Coastal Bend and 25 cents in the Rio Grande Valley. Irrigated costs were 32 cents in the High Plains, 20 cents in the Rolling Plains and 44 cents in the Valley.

Dryland sorghum costs (variable costs per hundred pounds) were $1 in the High Plains, $1.83 in the Rolling Plains, $2.47 in the Blacklands, $2.09 in the Coastal Bend and $1.94 in the Valley. Irrigated costs were $2.66 in the High Plains, $2.08 in the Rolling Plains and $3.04 in the Valley.

Dryland wheat variable costs were estimated at $1.42 per bushel in the High Plains, $1.77 in the Rolling Plains and 99 cents in Blacklands. Irrigated costs were estimated for the High Plains only at $2.46 per bushel.

Parker figured the variable costs on corn production under irrigation in the High Plains at $1.62 per bushel.

Lumping the variable production costs together to obtain a statewide average, Parker came up with these figures: 28 cents a pound for cotton, $2.21 per 100 pounds of sorghum, $1.88 per bushel of wheat and $1.62 per bushel of corn.

When looking at total production costs on a state average, the figures showed the following: 47 cents per pound of cotton, $3.89 per 100 pounds of sorghum, $3.37 per bushel of wheat and $2.62 per bushel of corn.

Parker's production costs were based on weighted average yields of 350 pounds for cotton, 3,932 pounds for sorghum, 25 bushels of wheat and 122 bushels of corn.

"These figures are simply intended to be a planning guide for producers," explains Parker. "Certainly, the estimated breakeven variable and total production costs can be influenced by a change in production input costs and crop yields. Each producer should view these data in relationship to his particular situation.

"By comparing income above variable costs per acre for each crop, a producer can select a combination of crops for optimum income above variable costs, assuming land to be the only limiting production factor. Of course, if other production factors such as labor and capital are limited, determining the optimum crop combination becomes more difficult," points out Parker. "The level of risk a producer is willing to take will determine the level of profit maximization."

Salty Talk

Salt has been valued since ancient times; the word "salary," meaning "pertaining to salt," is derived from the fact that soldiers of the Roman Empire were paid either with lumps of salt or an allowance to buy salt, giving us the expression that people "are not worth their salt."

Committee members include Dave Thompson of Friona, Don Shipley of Hereford, Ed Wick of Canyon and Bill Cleavinger of Wildorado.

Also included on the committee are Paul Scott, John Worrall and Dr. D.D. Dickenson, representing Holly Sugar Corporation.

The committee designates the varieties of seed from Holly Sugar, Great Western Sugar Company and all other seed sellers which may be grown on

The two sugar companies and the local beet growers association also contribute money and work closely with Dr. Steve Winter at the Southwestern Great Plains Research Center at Bushland on experimental work involving new varieties of beet seed.

Producers Schedule Meetings

A series of three regional meetings of Texas' wheat leaders has been jointly announced by Dwight Hamilton, Olney, Chairman of the Texas Wheat Producers Board and Winston Wilson, Quanah, President of the Texas Wheat Producers Association. The officers said that the sessions are designed to give the organizations' local leaders and county directors an opportunity to be briefed by the state leaders who will have just returned to the area from workshops and conferences in Washington, D.C. relative to farm programs, trade policies, and related wheat matters with administrative and legislative leaders.

The meeting scheduled for the North Plains is Tuesday, March 22, 1:30 p.m. at the Kilgore Memorial Library, in Dumas, according to Ed Stallwitz, Moore County TWPA Director.

Frank Zinser, Jr., Deaf Smith County Director said that the South Plains area session will be Tuesday, March 22, at 8:00 p.m. at the Rural Electric Co-Op

Building, Medallion Room, in Hereford.

The Rolling Plains area meeting will be Thursday, March 24, at 8:00 p.m. at the Farmers National Bank Conference Room in Seymour, according to W.H. "Pinky" Arledge, Baylor County TWPA Director.

Beef Stop Planned By Cowbells

Motorists will be treated to a coffee and beef stop courtesy of the Hereford CowBelles Saturday as the local ladies join in observance of American Agriculture Day.

The CowBelles will open their booth, located in front of the Playhouse Skating Rink on West Highway 60 at noon and will be on hand throughout the afternoon, weather permitting.

Free coffee and bits of beef will be given to all those who stop, and the CowBelles will also be handing out literature on beef and beef recipes.

Local Farmers Tour Plant

Six area farmers joined International Harvester dealer Cecil Oglesby of Oglesby Equipment Company, Hereford, on a special "jet-set" tour of farm equipment manufacturing plants in Western Illinois Tuesday.

The two-day trip began in Amarillo with a morning plane departure. Three hours later, farmers and the dealer began their tour of two IH plants.

At East Moline Plant, they saw combine and planter production. At Farmall Plant, Rock Island, the visit featured a walk along one of the world's longest tractor assembly lines where nine different models, ranging from 85 to 160 pto horsepower, are being built.

After the second day, the group jetted home.

International Harvester sponsors these yearly tours to let farmers see first-hand the building of farm equipment. Overall, about 6,000 farmers from throughout the nation will visit the two plants during the first three months of 1977.

WTSU Judging Team In Omaha

WTSU-West Texas State University's livestock judging team will end the season's competitions in Omaha, Nebraska at the annual livestock evaluation contest today (Thursday) through Saturday.

The All-Sar-Ben Meat Animal Evaluation Contest is jointly sponsored by the Knights of All-Sar-Ben, Armour & Co., Omaha Livestock Market, Inc., Safeway Stores, Inc. and the Geo. A. Hormel & Co. of Contestants will evaluate breeding and market animals, carcasses and cuts. The contest requires students to develop total meat animal evaluation skill and stimulates them to study the relationships between breeding stock, market animals and the final meat products sold in supermarkets. Students will also answer questions on placing of beef, swine and lamb classes.

Approximately 208 contestants, including 41 girls, from 22 colleges or universities will be competing in the contest.

The team did well in last week's Houston Intercollegiate Livestock Judging contest against 18 teams from throughout the US, according to Bob Lee, team sponsor and animal science instructor. The team placed third in beef cattle judging at Houston, sixth in swine and in sheep judging, fourth in horse judging and fourth in the overall judging contest.

In individual ratings, Jay Jones took second place in beef cattle and fifth in the overall contest. Jones resides at Route 4, Floydada.

Jay Boren of Route 1, Hereford, earned sixth place individual honors in swine judging, tenth place in horse judging and fifth in the overall contest.

Other team members are Gil Gray, Steve Kennedy, John Schumacher and Tom Troxel.

Michigan, Oklahoma Farmers Look Toward Cloud-Seeding Work

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—Farmers from Michigan, Oklahoma and other states are getting behind a local drive to promote cloud-seeding to solve drought problems.

They spoke Monday at a meeting of a local farmers and businessmen considering a four-state, 96-county rainmaking venture.

Cloud-seeding was successful in Texas, despite opposition from persons favoring "natural weather," claims Ross McKnight of Throckmorton, Tex.

"I don't want natural weather if that's a five-year cycle of drought every 20 years," said McKnight.

A St. Joseph group, the Mid-States Ag Boosters, wants to hire a California firm to seed clouds over northwest Missouri, northeast Kansas, southeast Nebraska and southwest Iowa.

A spokesman said Monday that farmers and businessmen would be contacted to help finance the venture.

Vince Stegner of Hortonville, Minn., told those at the meeting cloud-seeding in his area produced bumper crops in the early 1960s, adding that cloud-seeding should be another cost of production, like seed and fertilizer.

Joe Baker of Gratiot County, Mich., said his county has been the top corn county in the state since a cloud-seeding program got underway three years ago.

The rain-making firm, Irving P. Kric and Associates of Palm Springs, drew praise from Dick Hamilton of Harmon, Okla.

"These old boys, they know their business," he said. "We have some folks who don't think it works. Well, we have some folks who don't use fertilizer either."

If fuel costs are squeezing the profit out of your corn crop, plant

The Cost Cutter

One Less Irrigation • Lower Harvest and Hauling Costs • Less Moisture Dockage • Lower Drying Cost • More Income and Profit per Acre

Pioneer brand 3780 improves corn profits four ways. It is an early hybrid that takes one less watering than the hybrids you've been planting. It also dries faster after maturity than other corns. Since it has good standability and ear retention, you can leave it in the field to dry. This means you harvest less moisture, haul less moisture, and have little or no dockage and drying cost.

SINCE IT DOESN'T COST AS MUCH TO GROW, IT CAN MAKE MORE MONEY

In 1976, farmers found that "Cost Cutter" 3780 produced significantly more net income per acre than competitive corns of much later maturity. Though the green weight yield of later maturity corns was greater, 3780 was usually much lower in moisture and thus higher in dry yield per acre. When the saving in irrigation fuel cost was added to the higher dry yield, it made a difference of $20 to $30 net income per acre.

This hybrid matures 11 to 13 days earlier than our famous 3369A but it doesn't concede yield for its earliness. Under most growing conditions, it will yield pretty close to the full-season varieties and harvest several points drier.

TOUGH ENOUGH TO TAKE IT

3780 is also a tough little hybrid that can take some stress. Head smut didn't bother it in 1976. It has good roots and stalks and holds its ears well. It is sensitive about getting pre-tassel water right on time, however. That critical irrigation time is fairly short since it passes quickly through each stage of growth.

Here are actual examples of 3780's ability to make more profit than later maturing, high yielding competitors:

	Yield wet weight lbs./acre	% Moisture at Harvest	Dry Weight after drying 1	Gross return per acre 2	Harvest and hauling cost 3	Difference in irrigation cost 4	Gross return per acre for each hybrid	Dollar per acre advantage for 3780
PIONEER brand 3780	8,788	14.6	8,788	$ 351.52	$ 43.94	—	$ 307.58	$ 22.47

International Orientation Added With New USDA Appointments

COLLEGE STATION—An analysis of the appointments to high level positions within the U.S. Department of Agriculture leads Dr. Ronald D. Knutson, an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, to conclude that the agency will be more concerned with consumer, international, small farmer and environmental problems than the previous administration.

"One of the most difficult jobs of new agriculture secretary Bob Bergland will be to integrate these new and often conflicting interests in food and fiber policy into a cohesive USDA program," contends Knutson.

"One appointment which clearly has a producer orientation is John C. White, Texas Commissioner of Agriculture, who is designated to be second man in USDA. The appointment of White to this position is highly significant to Texas," says Knutson. "the deputy secretary potentially is in a position to provide input into policy decisions cutting across all USDA agencies. Texas has not been represented in a high level USDA decision position for many years."

According to the Texas A&M University System economist, the third most powerful position in USDA goes to noted agricultural economist Dale Hathaway. Hathaway has been nominated for the position of Assistant Secretary for International and Commodity Programs. As a result, he will play a key role in developing legislation for the 1977 farm bill, international agricultural policy and as head of the International Food Policy Research Institute, a Washington-based research organization supported by U.S. and foreign governments to conduct studies of agricultural trade, aid and development policies throughout the world. He has written extensively on issues surrounding the world food problem, sharply criticizing USDA's lack of concern for problems of food shortages and advocating expanded foreign assistance and food reserves, notes Knutson. Hathaway was previously head of the Department of Agricultural Economics at Michigan State University and was widely recognized for his work in agricultural policy.

Carol Foreman, head of the Consumer Federation of America has been nominated to be assistant secretary in charge of consumer programs. She will have jurisdiction over the food stamp, school lunch, child nutrition and supplemental food programs which currently comprise about 65 per cent of the USDA budget.

"This is the first time a consumer advocate has been appointed to a management position in USDA," points out Knutson. "The man who formerly held this position also had control of controversial marketing order regulations, meat inspection and livestock marketing regulations. However, political pressure from producer and agri-business interests resulted in splitting off a portion of these functions from Foreman."

The individual selected to have supervision over functions such as marketing orders is Bob Meyer, a large farmer in the Imperial Valley of California. "Like White, Meyer can be expected to represent producer and agribusiness interests in USDA," contends Knutson. The chief USDA economist will be Howard Hjort. Hjort will have prime responsibility for interpretation of data collected and analyzed by the economic and statistical agencies of which he has jurisdiction. "The chief economist has also traditionally had substantial influence on policy decisions of the Secretary," emphasizes Knutson.

Hjort was previously a partner in Schmitter Associates a highly regarded Washington consulting firm with primarily agribusiness clients. Schmitter was second man in USDA during the Johnson administration and a key advisor to Carter during the campaign, explains the economist.

The new assistant secretary in charge of agricultural research, extension, forestry and conservation programs is Rupert Cutler. Cutler is a professor of natural resource policy and an Extension economist at Michigan State University. "He brings to USDA a background of concern for this important USDA position," Knutson points out. Alex Mercure, a Spanish-American educator from the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque, will be assistant secretary for rural development. He will have charge of USDA farm credit, electrification and rural development programs.

Patented heavy-duty gearboxes, electric control panel with pivot and tower read-out meters and an external collector ring for dependable operation. Hot-dip galvanizing that adds years to the life of the system.

Under this program you can order a Zimmatic already adapted for the new Zimmatic Corner Pivot™ . . . to be installed now or ordered and installed at a later date. The Zimmatic Corner Pivot allows you to irrigate 150 acres on a quarter-section and is available for immediate shipment in limited quantities.

Potato Inventory Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's inventory of potatoes left over as of March 1 was up 7 per cent from a year ago despite a substantially larger rate of use, according to the Agriculture Department.

Officials said that there were 109.5 million hundredweight on hand March 1, a record for that date. The inventory on March 1, 1976, was 102.5 million hundredweight.

Potato use or "disappearance" from last fall's potato crop was 188 million hundredweight, up 11 per cent from 169.4 million used during the same period in 1975-76, the department said.
