7 Million Have No Reason for Celebration

NEW YORK (AP) - For nearly seven million Americans, many of them black and young, there is little to celebrate this. Labor Day holiday

They are the workers without jobs. according to the latest government unemployment report.

The Labor Department, in two separate reports this past week, pointed up particular problems of employment for blacks and amid increasing criticism from labor and civil rights groups that not enough is being done to deal with the

AFL-CIO union chief George Meany, accusing the Carter administration of

The goal of criticism is to leave the person with the feeling that he or she has been helped.

THE HEREFORD ROTARY ( lub will hold an Antique & Special Interest Car Show here Sept. 24-25 in the Bull Barn. and Rotarians are planning to make the show an annual event. Car shows have drawn a lot of interest in area cities, and this could become a popular event in our community.

SEPTEMBER'S CALENDAR is already getting well marked on my desk. Aside from football season, we have the New Teacher Appreciation Banquet on Sept. 8; the Deaf Smith County Fair on Sept. 10; the Health Fair on Sept. 13, and the car show. The Community Concert Association launches its two-week membership campaign Sunday, and there are probably some more events we haven't recorded.

HOW ABOUT THOSE Hereford Whitefaces? The Herd surprised some folks with their 31-20 victors at Pampa Friday night. As usual, the team got good support from its fans as a large number of Hereford people saw the exciting contest.

One game does not make a season, but the Whitefaces really had a fine effort Friday night in starting off the season on a winning note. We were impressed with the running of Paul Bell and the passing of Kells Kitchens for the Whiteface offense. Chris Hill and Greg Brockman made some great catches of Kitchen's tosses. Linebacker Charles Reyna was a defensive standout and kicked a long field goal for the Herd. The Whitefaces play Palo Duro in the first home game Friday

OUT OF THE 500 new laws that went into effect this past week, one of them actually repealed a state tax. It exempts newspapers from the state sales tax, and you can buy your newspaper off the counter without paying an extra penny

We'd like to point out that exemption of newspapers was advocated by Comptroller Bob Lubbock, not by the newspaper industry. Bullock asked that the tax on newapaper sales be dropped for the logical reason that it was causing bookkeeping problems for the state and the collections did not justify the expense

We newspaper types, who are often critical of the Legislature for enacting special interest laws for other folks, have been careful not to ask any special favors for ourselves. As a director of the Texas Press Assocation, I know our board voted not to request such an exemption. We're happy about it, however, and so are our customers

THE MEDIA HAS been criticized around New York City for too much 'sensationalism' in the "Son of Sam' murder case. There wa a vast amount of coverage of the arrest of the accused killer, even without some sensationalism. It was inevident that the defense counsel would protest the inability of their clientto obtain a "fair trail", which is standard operating procedure in every large criminal case. There has been an endless conflict between the press and the bar about how much and what information should be published concerning criminal cases. Out of innumerable conferences over the years between concerned journalists and

Carter, through his spokesman Jody Powell, said he was deeply concerned about a jump in minority unemployment in the August report

The Labor Department reported that overall unemployment in August increased to "I per cent from 5-9 per cent in July but nearly all of the jump was among minority workers.

Unemployment among black men rose from 10.1 per cent to 11" per cent. compared with an unchanged rate of 4 o per cent for white adult males. Black women experienced an increase in unemployment from 10.9 per cent to 12.2 per cent, while the rate for white women was little changed at 6.2 per cent Among the 6.9 million Americans without jobs, there are now about 2.4 jobless blacks for each white, the government said.

But the labor report was not all negative. While the number of unemployed jobs seekers increased about 180,000 from July to August, the number of persons who found jobs also was up by 390,000 bringing the U.S. work force to 97 7 million.

The number of unemployed and employed both increased because of a jump in the number of people seeking

In a separate report, on summer jobs for youths, the government reported that unemployment among blacks, aged 16 to 21, increased to 34.8 per cent, up almost 4 per cent from a year earlier to its highest recorded level

At the same time, the unemployment rate among white youths declined from 13 8 per cent last summer to 12.6 per cent in July Total unemployment among all youths was 15.3 per cent, compared with 15.9 per cent last summer, the government said

Labor Secretary Marshall announced, at the same time, the signing of a interagency agreement designed to put 200,000 young people to work in public service jobs and park and forestry projects. The program is part of a $1 billion program recently signed by President Carter

Briscoe Names Yantis to SBI

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - Gov. Dolph Briscoe - courting a sure fight in the Senate over confirmation - has appointed Hugh Yantis as chairman of the State Board of Insurance.

Yantis, 63, has been executive director of the Texas Water Quality Board for 10 years and says he know nothing about insurance.

The water quality board was absorbed into the new Texas Department of Water Resources last week, and Yantis was turned down for chief of the new agency.

Yantis said he was passed over because he is outspoken and and lacks pliability when it comes to questions of principle.

He said Briscoe told him he wanted an insurance board chairman with "honesty. integrity and enough strength of character to make the chairmanship have some meaning.

Briscoe appointed Yantis to a term expiring Jan. 31, 1981, in the $38.600-a-year job, but Yantis must be confirmed by the Senate to stay in the nost beyond early 1979

Government Offices To Close on Monday

An estimated 500 persons will die on the nation's highways, most Hereford residents will enjoy a long weekend and government offices and schools will be closed as America honors Labor Day Monday

County and city offices in Hereford will be, closed, along with The Hereford Brand, city banks and most businesses. Students in Hereford's nine schools also will enjoy a three-day weekend.

Postal service will be interrupted until Tuesday

City commissioners will not meet in regular session Monday night as part of their first and third Monday of each month schedule. Their next meeting is scheduled for Sept. 19.

County commissioners, however, will meet in special session at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the county courthouse to consider bids for two pickup trucks for Precinct 4 and discuss extension service

The county's next regular meeting will be Sept. 12.

The Labor Day weekend actually got underway Friday night with the National Safety Council estimating that 470 to 570 persons would die in traffic accidents.

The council said about 400 persons die in traffic mishaps during a comparable non holiday period.

Americans are expected to travel 13.5 billion miles during the holiday weekend. which began at 6 p.m. local time Friday and ends at midnight Monday.

During last year's Labor Day weekend, there were 501 traffic fatalities. A record 688 deaths were reported during the 1968 holiday period.

Veterans of past killer storms watched Anita's approach Wednesday and Thursday, ever mindful that the six-year cycle between Carla and Beulah was about to be completed again this time between Fern and Anita.

residents holed up in emergency shelters scattered throughout the lower Rio Grande Valley. The resort town of Port Isabel was evacuated along with all residents of nearby South Padre Island.

Brownsville Mayor Ruben Edelstein estimated 4,000 people spent the night in the town's shelters. Another 35,000 were evacuated from the Mexican coast into shelters in Matamoros, Mexico, across the border from Brownsville.

Edelstein, along with U.S. Coast Guard officials and police, reported only minimal damage from the storm and no injuries. Government spokesmen in Matamoros issued similar announce-

WASHINGTON (AP) - The American labor movement is undergoing a managerial revolution that has produced the most sweeping leadership changes since the 1940s, with power passing to a new breed of union official.

AFL-CIO President George Meany still dominates the giant labor federation, but for the first time his legislative lobbying and political tactics are being challenged. Some of the new, younger union presidents have even urged him publicly to

"He's 83 and he should get out and let somebody a little younger and a little closer to us get on with it," says the outspoken William W. Winpisinger, newly elected president of the International Association of Machinists. At 53, he is 30 years younger than Meany.

Death and retirement in the last three years have brought to tough economic issues that power a new generation of trades, the clothing unions and industrial unions.

This year alone, the nation's three largest industrial unions the machinists, the auto and Journal. steelworkers - elected new leaders. By year's end, only two of the 33 union presidents who make up the AFL-CIO's policy-making executive council will have served on the concil longer than eight years.

The new leaders generally are younger and better educated than the old-timers of labor's rough and tumble days. Several have law degrees. They are also, for the most part, more liberal politically and more militant in their attitude toward organizing new members.

Today's labor leader is far better equipped to handle the come up at the bargaining leaders in the construction table, and they know how to read a profit and loss statement more that a dozen major or a computer printout," says Al Zack, the AFL-CIO's long-time spokesman. And, he adds, "They all read the Wall Street

> But Zack and other observers think the new group of leaders will have more impact on style than on substance.

> "The changes are not as apt to be as dramatic as some people think because the basic fundamentals of wages, hours and working conditions will still be the fundamentals." says another labor veteran.

> The building trades unions, traditionally the labor movement's most conservative element, are beginning to show change under new leaders.

Long criticized for their exclusionary policies, the craft unions are actively recruiting minorities and women. They also have begun easing restrictive work practice rules to become more competitive with taking a larger share of building old Fraser.

New leadership in the needle trades has given new life to these unions, now campaingning to organize Southern textile factories and restrict clothing imports that have caused the loss of American jobs.

The emergence of Winpisinger, Douglas Fraser of the auto workers, Glenn Watts of the communications workers and Lloyd McBride of the steelworkers is likely to give new strength to labor's liberal wing.

They believe organized labor should shed its "middle-class image" and focus attention once again on broad economic and social policy issues.

"If you're going to rally support behind your programs you're going to have to show concern not only about your members but all the people in nonunion contractors who are our society," says the 60-year-

> "You've got to prove to the people of this country that the labor movement is concerned about all the people, not just those who happen to be paying dues into the labor organizations."

But until and unless Fraser can bring his union back into the AFL-CIO, he will have no say on federation policy. The UAW left the AFL-CIO in 1968 in a policy and personality dispute between Meany and Walter Reuther, who was then UAW

Fraser, a political liberal who rose through his union's ranks after going to work as a metal polisher in a Chrysler Corp. plant, favors reaffiliation on the grounds that a united labor movement is in the best interest of workers. But there is strong opposition within the UAW, in part because of rank-and-file objection to Meany's continued leadership.

The AFL-CIO's Zack rejects the criticism from the new leaders and young union members. He contends that, under Meany, the labor federation is already "liberal and leftist" and notes that it led the fight in Congress for Civil Rights Act. And now, Zack adds, the AFL-CIO is in the forefront of the battle for a higher minimum wage and the establishment of a national health insurance program.

Within the past year, perhaps in response to pressure from the new union presidents, the AFL-CIO has become more aggressible toward organizing reform of federal labor law to ease organizing its No. 1 legislative priority. As for Meany, there had been speculation that he would retire improved after recent ailments. he now says he will seek another two-year term at the AFL-CIO convention in December. He is not likely to be opposed.

Herd Sinks Pampa, 31-20

By BOB NIGH Brand Sports Editor

The Hereford Whitefaces. slight underdogs to the Pampa Harvesters going into Friday night's season opener for both clubs, showed an even keel offense as they cruised to a 31-20 win over Pampa at Harvester Field.

The 'Faces gained 380 yards in the contest, 229 on the ground behind a stellar performance by junior running back Paul Bell, and 151 more via the airways as quarterback Kelly Kitchens connected on nine of 12 passes.

On the receiving end of all but one of those passes were seniors tireless as the game progressed. who picked up 58 and 82 yards respectively. "Chris and Greg were a pleasant surprise in the way they caught the ball," Herd mentor Fred Upshaw said following the game, "They have the ability, but hadn't been really sharp in practice."

The two receivers took turns dominating the halves with Hill getting his three total catches in the first 24 minutes and Brockman hauling in his five in the final two periods.

But the big story of the game was the running of Bell, a small, no way resembled what a team's solid, speedster, who seemed first offensive possession of the

to keep several drives going."

Still, after that quick start the Faces were soon numbed back into reality as Pampa tallied two quick touchdowns to take a 12-6 lead. A 12-play, 68-yard drive ended with quarterback Steve Long going in from the three. Tommy Albus muffed the PAT to make it a 6-6 ballgame, and the Harvesters got a break on the ensuing kickoff when Bell fumbled the ball away after a 23-yard return to the Hereford

Three plays later Rick Dougherty gave Pampa a 12-6 bulge, going in from the four. A 23-yard pass play to David Green set up the score. The Herd defense stiffened on the PAT try, sacking Dougherty on an attempted pass.

'Our kids never quit. however," Upshaw said. "That was probably the big factor in the game, that we kept coming back and got after them.

Coming back was helped by a fumble by Pampa this time as the Faces found the loose ball on the Hei! 36. Two passes worth 39 yards from Kitchens to Hill moved the Herd to the Pampa 32, and two plays later Kitchens found Balen Ramirez alone for an 11-yard gain to the Surprise was the name of the game at that point as Hereford took advantage of a Pampa lapse to recover an onside kick. Ramirez found the ball on the Pampa 43

Hill made a tough catch over the middle for 19 more markers. and Kitchens bootlegged it for loss and an illegal receiver downfield penalty moved the ball back to the 32, however.

Ramirez got back 12 of those yards on a reverse to the right with just 35 ticks left, but Kitchens couldn't find an open man on the next play and took a two-yard loss.

Reyna then upped the Herd lead on a perfect 38-yard field goal from the right hashmark. The three-pointer came with 28 seconds left and gave the 'Faces a 16-12 advantage.

Only seven points went on the board in the third stanza, with the 'Faces moving their lead to 11 points. After an exchange of punts the Herd took over on the Brockman wasted no time in weighing anchor, taking a pass from Kitchens for 33 yards to the 48. Bell tacked on six yards in two tries, and Kitchens again found Brockman this time for 10 yards to the Pampa 36.

Bell showed his finest moves of the night on the next play as he broke free over the right side and scampered all the way to the end zone. Reyna's PAT made it 23-12 Hereford with 4:32 left in the period.

Pampa made it close early in the final stanza, scoring on a nine-play drive that covered 55 vards. Dougherty hit Green for 14 yards to cap the drive, and the same duo combined for two points on the PAT to make it

But. Hereford got another big break when Ramirez pounced onanother fumble as Pampa's Kerry Adair misplayed a 44-yard Kitchens punt at the Harvester 32.

Bell added the final score with 5:11 left on a nine-yard scamper, and Brockman got two points on a pass from Kitchens to make it 31-20

Defense took over at that point, and the 'Faces thwarted two Pampa drives with interceptions. Reyna picked off one aerial and Jackie Mercer

Revive Pass

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - New Coach Fred Akers of Texas indicated Saturday his first Longhorn team would shed the non-passing image of Texas teams of the past 15 years.

Akers told writers on the Southwest Conference football tour his young squad has "some questions to answer but they are eager to get out there on the field and answer them."

He had the highest praise for seniors Earl Campbell and Brad Shearer and junior Russel Erxleben.

"We've scattered some talent's throughout the lineup. Akers said, but "overall depth is an area of concern.

Asked if he planned to pass more than a Texas team has in 15 years, Akers said, "Yes, we will be doing more passing." He described the ideally balanced offense as one running 65 per cent of the time and passing 35 per cent.

Under Akers' predecessor Darrell Royal, the winningest coach in SWC history, Texas was known as a grind-it-out running team.

Akers, a former aide to Royal has scrapped Royal's Wishbone-T offense for the veer and Royal-resigned last year after 20 years.

Akers said Campbell, 6-1 and 220, "in my opinion is the best running back in the country" and has caught'on to his new role as a pass receiver so well that he has not dropped a single pass in practice.

Shearer, 6-4 and 250, "is a premier defensive tackle." Akers said. "He is capable of being one of the top linemen in the country.'

Shearer is one of the only two seniors on the Texas defensive team. "We're not going to have a great deal of size, but we do have quickness. That is one of our strong points." Akers said.

Erxleben, the nation's leading college punter last year as a sophomore with 46.6-yard average, "is the best all-around kicker in the country," Akers

Erxleben also kicked 12 of 22 field goal attempts - most of booted 20 of 21 extra points last

He has a strained back, however, and has not kicked this

Asked about other possible all-star players. Akers mentioned sophomore flanker Johnny "Lam" Jones, an Olympic sprinter and "super athlete" senior receiver Alfred Jackson; sophomore linebacker Lance Taylor; and junior defensive end them from long range - and Tim Campbell, Earl's brother.

Isn't it funny how loyalties change?

I'm not talking about reneging, the verb President Carter made famous with his $50 rebate proposal - the now-you-see-it, now-you-don't proposal which disappointed everyone.

That wasn't loyalty. Just plain and simple, old fashioned reneging. It made me think of a buddy I had in college who never would pay off a bet. Come to think of it, he owes me 50 bucks.

Loyalty is dedication to a job, a boss, a wife, the things that lives are centered around. A community. A community's football team.

For Hereford folks, the Hereford Whitefaces. I'm a Hereford folk. After all, I've been here going on five months, I am loyal to a job, a boss, a wife-those things my life is centered around. A community.

And the Hereford High School football team. Changing loyalty from the Pampa Harvesters to the Whitefaces was the most difficult in making the transition from Pampa to Hereford.

After all, my last four years have been as a Pampan. As a Pampa sports editor, no less. It doesn't sound like a lot of years but it's long enough to develop a bunch of loyalty for a group of kids you've watched and gotten to know ever since they played Tiger League football.

I still had not changed my loyalty one minute before Friday night's kickoff in Harvester Stadium. It seemed like I had been away five minutes, certainly not five months.

But it happened, and, to my surprise, it happened quickly and easily.

To stand there on the sideline taking pictures of the Whitefaces, the kids I probably would be privileged to see grow into adults in a few years, and feeling the emotion of a team which wanted to win so desperately--well, I became a fan.

'We're ready this year. Last year we weren't ready. But we're ready this year," a player (I remember his face but I don't know the kid) said to a teammate as Hereford took an early lead.

He wanted to win so badly. And I wanted him to win. And he did--by 11 points against a team that was picked to win by as many as 13 points.

The clincher, the thing that severed my last fle with that other city, I think, was attitude. I respect a good attitude, whether it belongs to a high schooler or a businessman, more than anything.

If they maintain that attitude, Hereford might win the 4-AAAA championship. The prognosticators, those guys who get their cookies every fall by seeing how many teams they pick right, say Hereford can't do it.

it's true. On paper, they can't do it. But those football pickers can't rank emotion. And emotional high school football players usually compensate for a lack of size or experience.

See, I sound like a fan. I know I also sound like a Pollyanna sports writer, which I was taught by a Pampa editor never to sound like.

That was his opinion. He was the editor. But. now I'm the editor, this is my column, and I can write like I please.

And I can change my loyalty if I please. Go get 'em, Herd.

A Letter to Jimmy

Sue Cannon, publisher of the Olton Enterprise, penned a letter to President Carter recently and printed the letter in her weekly newspaper. We think it's worth passing along:

Dear Mr. President,

While you are considering the "welfare" of everyone in the U.S.A., would you please consider the welfare of the working person.

As I leave for work, usually in the mornings between 8 and 9 o'clock, I can't help but notice there are no signs of life around the homes where people live that are "on welfare" and believe me, in a little town like Olton...we know pretty well who's getting the "handouts."

. As I consider it a "handout" is when perfectly healthy people (and not as old as I am) ... are on "welfare." There is something considerably wrong when the welfare recipients can buy better cuts of meat, have better cars and live in newer, better homes and have beautiful stereos. televisions and their kids each have motorcycles or cars...while the ones who are working and paying the taxes for these lazy people...are having a hard time making ends meet.

Probably out of all the people who had to dig up tax money this year, to pay for this outrageous set up, a big percentage of them had to borrow the money in order to pay Uncle Sam, so he could give it to those who don't want to work!

am all for helping those who NEED help and I know there are a FEW in our area that really fall in that category but what's fair about working your heart out day after day, up to 14 or 16 hours a day trying to "get ahead" and then at the end of the year, find that all the extra you thought you were going to come out with, goes to pay taxes to keep up freeloaders!

You profess to be a reader of the Bible. It teaches that those who do not work should not eat. (2nd Thess. 3:10) If you really believe in the work of God, then why can't something be done to put these people to work and give them some initiative to earn something for themselves!

We are catering a generation of people who are

"An airplane? That'll be extra."

Bootleg Philosopher:

Educational TV?

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Deaf Smith County grass farm explains the effect television has on children this week, we think.

Dear Editor:

According to a national study group, television is mainly to blame for so many high school graduates making such low scores on their college entrance exams. Scores on the Standard Aptitude Test have been declining steadily over the last 14

"By age 16," the group reported, "most children have spent between 10,000 and 15,000 hours watching television which detracts from their school work."

I got to thinking about this. What, I asked myself, did school kids do before television was invented?

Just look around. You can tell practically every grown-up you know was bound to have spent the first 16 year of his life with his head buried in a library book when he wasn't memorizing the multiplication tables. They must have driven their parents half crazy sitting around the house saying over and over for hours on end, six times six is thirty-six, six times seven is forty-two and whatever it is that comes next. I don't have a calculator. If they were told to stop that, they'd start giving you the names of the capitals of all the states, plus the date of the Battle of Bull Run. You'd have to call them three times before they'd look up from reading Pilgrim's Progress. Kids in those days never wasted a minute.

Before television, kids were smart. Ask any grown-up who grew up without it. Why some of them grew up thiking all U.S. Senators were giants among men. Television has ruined that. You can't hear some of them on your screen sputtering about something they don't know any more about than you, without wondering how they got to be Senators. TV is the. worst thing that ever happened to politicians.

Futhermore, before television we had no violence to speak of. Oh, what happened to Little Red Riding Hood's grandmother was rather gruesome, but kids in those days knew one wolf could hardly swallow a whole grandmother, whereas today Kojack fools all of them. They have no idea he's shooting blanks.

Yours faithfully, J.A.

Just Med-AD-tating

. Seems like everyone I know is trying meditation.

To hear some folks talk, it is the only way to understand the meaning of life. It seems to me the meanings of life that are arrived at need a Gheru to meditate an explanation. Some of them sound as profound as, "a wet bird never flies north"

After all of the recommendations I decided to give it a try.

The first step was to get into the lotus position. I do not know why anyone would think I could meditate better sitting on the floor with both hips thrown out of joint and one foot asleep. But like I said, I was going to give it the old try:

An hour later I had finally got my legs tangled up to a semi-lotus. I closed my eyes and tried to see beautiful scenes. My problem is that I can get the scene I just can't hold it. I do not have a vertical hold button in my mind

I conjured up a pastoral vision. A rugged mountain and a lovely plain. Just as I was beginning to put myself there mentally a herd of bulls came rushing over the ridge and a voice in my head said, "Merril Lynch is bullish on America.

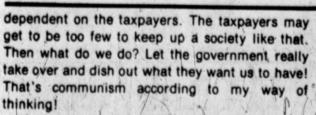

So I tried agian. This time, I tried water. A rushing mountain stream with a small waterfall surrounded by lush foliage. Again, the voice said. "Coors is brewed with pure Rocky Mountain spring water."

Then I used the sky and the clouds. I begin to see white fluffy ones floating by against a sky of azure blue. The vision was pierced by a jet airplane and someone singing, "Fly the friendly skies of United"

The only thing I could make work at all was to visualize me in church listening to one of my sermons. I promply went to sleep.

So I am a flop at meditating. Now can someone tell me how you get out of the lotus position? after 10 minutes of this, all I can visualize is the hospital emergency room and a voice saying, "Surprise, the equipment here is designed by Phillips 66 and Firestone Rubber Co.

It's time for the "worker" to have his say! And I for one am tired of this set up.

Beating the Space Rush

WASHINGTON--Imagine that the year is 1492 and only one country in Europe has an ocean-going ship capable of making round trips to the New World. Consider what such a monopoly would have meant to that country.

Now consider this: The year is 1977, and only one country has a spacecraft capable of making cargo-carrying trips into space and back. The county is the U.S., the spacecraft is our new "space shuttle," and the significance of our position is fully comparable to my hypothetical European country on the eve of Columbus' famous voyage.

We are not attempting to exploit our monopoly position for our own commercial advantage, nor would it be wise to do so. Indeed, we have invited other countries to participate in the shuttle's work. They can contribute significantly by helping to "develop the market." But our monopoly does give us the names to insure our military security in space, if necessary.

What are the commercial possibilities? Obviously we don't know them all yet, any more than the Europeans of 1492 knew what to do with the New World. But some of the specularity

Because of two conditions that exist in space--zero gravity and near-perfect vaccums certain things can be accomplished there that would be impossible or at least extremely difficult on earth. A common example is the perfect ball-bearing. Metal melted in space would form a perfect sphere.

I doubt, however, that the demand for perfect ball-bearings would justify the cost of ferrying commercial quantities of steel up and down. Other possibilities are much more exciting. Some metals that refuse to mix on earth can be alloyed in space. And extremely pure crystals can be grown there with comparative ease. Such experimentation could lead to dramatic new developments in solid-state electronics, including improvements in the direct conversion of sunlight to electricity.

This last point is especially important, because the shuttle brings us closer to pratical solar power in another May. Engineers say it is technically feasible to construct a satellite which would convert sunlight into electricity, then send the power to earth in a microwave beam, where it would be converted for conventional commercial distribution.

The advantages of such a system are numerous: First, sunlight is much stronger in space than it is after passing through our atmosphere. Second, there are no clouds, storms, etc., to interfere with the satellite's reception (and microwaves will penetrate bad weather). Third, a satellite can be positioned to remain always in sunlight, something no point on the earth's surface is able to

Obviously, the feasibility of such a power system would be enhanced by (a) having the means to put the satellite in orbit and keep it in repair, and (b) making improvements in the direct conversion of light to electricity. And the shuttle promises

The biologists, too, will have their opportunities. The unique conditions in space may permit cheaper production of certain costly medicines. Also, there is the promise of research breakthroughs here, just as in chemistry, physics, and metall-

On a more mundane but equally important level, the shuttle will enable us to do better what we are already doing in space: Vastly improved communications satellites, more detailed geological and crop surveys of the earth's surface, better weather forecasting, etc. All of this will be possible because the shuttle can lift heavier, larger, and more delicate equipment into orbit than the "disposable" rockets of the past.

What's it worth to us? Probably a lot more than we think right now. Remember, Manhattan Island was once reckoned worth $24 in beads.

Paul Harvey:

You Understand. . .

You and I understand.

There is no way President Carter could live up to his campaign promises. It was ever thus.

On the campaign trail, he vigorously criticized the foreign policy of his predecessors.

Now he admits that his own foreign policy in the Middle East, Africa and Panama is an extension of the foreign policies of Richard Nixon, Gerald Ford and Henry Kissinger.

You and I understand.

But it is understandable, also, if our political system makes cynics of our sons.

The regurgitation of the 1970s has sent political giants into exile or into prison. Malfeasance and bribery in high places are no longer tolerable.

It might be well if this wave or righteousness should extend to the "fraudulent" practice of soliciting votes with unkeepable promises.

You and I understand that pre-election rhetoric is only distantly related to reality.

So it is no immense letdown for us to learn that the President is powerless to fulfill his promises of welfare reform; we knew any Congress would be intimidated by those voters.

And that the President would have to learn, as Dwight Eisenhower once complained, "You pick up the phone and order something done--and nothing happens!"

In addition to all of "our problems," the President, who is a husband and father, has his own. It is just as much a throat-scalding preoccupation for him as for anyone when his wife requires gynecological surgery, when his son's marriage is falling apart, when his daughter hates Washington.

But where reversals in a President's private life might tend more to humanize him than otherwise, it is the inconsistency of his public promises and public performance which tend to make of the once-proud designation "politician' a kind of slur.

Now President Carter is told by his own economics advisers that he cannot keep his campaign promises to balance the budget, to reverse inflation, to reduce unemployment.

After all his pontificating about previous administration scandals, his own budget director falls under a cloud.

You and I understand how difficultit is for any administrator to surround himself with saints. And that our political system for all its fault, judged by its fruits, is still the best available.

But it is nonetheless disillusioning to an oncoming generation when what our elected leaders do is so much less than what they promised to do.

-- The Carter promise to create an independent Department of Educat-

-- The Pentagon is unhappy because he deep-sixed the B-1.

-- The minimum wage he promised labor and common situs and right-to-work--all stillborn.

The President says people are mistaking what he had hoped to do for what he promised to do, and you and I understand that.

Don't we?

An important message to our customers.

The House of Representatives has just voted to raise the price of your electricost you plenty - nearly $50,000,000 a year for the next ten years. That's almost half a billion dollars!

Who cares? Of course you care. And we care. That's the reason we want you to know what's happening in Washington

Not only did the House vote to raise your electric bill, there's a strong chance you'll get less reliable service, too. The Government is trying to take over regulation of your electric company. That's right! A Washington bureaucrat will decide who gets electric power and how much instead of your state and local officials.

That means your electric company will lose control over how we operate our own power transmission lines and facilities. We might not be able to give you our customers - first priority. The Federal Government could use some of the money you pay for your electric service to make your electric company build a transmission line for a government-subsidized utility. You pay twice that way in your electric bill and in your taxes. And you don't even get to use the line.

Let's not beat around the bush. The cost of doing business is going up. It. costs you more for your electric service than it used to. But now when you pay your electric bill, you pay only what it costs to serve you, plus a controlled profit, so that we can keep updating our generation facilities and our technology to keep serving you better.

Well, if some Congressmen have their way, some people will pay less than their fair share of the electricity cost. Who will decide who gets the special rates?

You can bet it won't be you . . . or us . . . or our state and local government who know our needs best

It will be some government official in Washington!

There's a whole lot more bad news in this legislation that has passed the House and is now being considered in the Senate. It's all part of Senate Bill 1469, Part E . . . and . . . Now for more bad news . . . Senate Bill 1472!

That's a dandy. It's the one that taxes you because some of your electricity is generated with natural gas. The gas users' tax is a case of the Government telling us to build coal-fired power plants faster than you can afford them.

It's as though the folks in Washington just woke up or there was an energy crisis and decided to try to right all the wrongs over night. The facts are that your electric company has been doing something about our diminishing natural gas reserves for more than six years. We haven't planned or constructed a gas-fired generation facility since 1971. And since that same time we've been planning to use coal as our primary generation fuel. We've just completed and put into operation Harrington Station - a coal-fired Generation plant

But we need the opportunity to phase out the gas-fired facilities at a savings economical to you, our customers. New power plants cost money . . cost you money, because you are our only source of money. We have a program that makes it possible for us to stop using natural gas to make electricity by 1995 at

It's a program you can afford. It's a program that will help alleviate rising costs. Sure, you'll pay more for electricity in the future. You'll be paying more for everything, but under our plan you'll pay a lot less than you'll have to pay if Senate Bill 1472 passes. $423,000,000 less between 1983 and 1990.

Why? Because Senate Bill 1472 says that even though we are building coal-fired power plants as fast as you can afford them, you're still going to be penalized, by almost a half billion dollars. Just because some staff member in Congress thinks you should build them faster. And remember it is your money that builds these new plants.

The Good News in all this is that your Congressman voted against raising your electric bill, voted against giving you poor service . . . but he was outvoted. Now what you can do is write your United States Senator (His name and address are printed below for your convenience) and tell him to vote against Part E in Senate Bill 1469 and against the gas users' tax in Senate Bill 1472. Why? BECAUSE YOU CAN'T AFFORD THESE BILLS. And that's a darn good reason. Let the people in Washington know that YOU CARE what they're doing with YOUR MONEY!

Thank you

U.S. Cindermen Set New World Record

many (AP) - The United States 400-meter men's relay team overcame a wet track and shaky last baton handover to set a world record of 38.03 seconds in the World Cup track and field meet Saturday Night.

It was the first world record of the star-studded world team competition and came after a day of rain, on a chilling evening which made records seem unlikely.

The American quartet-Bill Collins of Houston, Steve Riddick of Philadelphia, Cliff Wiley of Baltimore and Steve Williams of San Diego - knocked 16 of a second off the mark of 38.19 that had stood since the triumph of another U.S. team at the Munich Olympics in 1972.

Williams, the anchorman. said he was startled to find himself all alone when he took the baton for the last leg.

"I didn't run as fast as I could because I was looking at the clock." Williams said. "If we ran it again, I think we might do it in 37 seconds flat."

The United States almost claimed another world record when Mike Tully, 20-year-old UCLA student from Long Beach, Calif., won the pole vault at 18 feet, 41/2 inches, then narrowly failed in a spectacular

Earlier, Reinhard Kokot of East Germany upset Olympic champion Alberto Juantorena of Cuba in the men's 400-meter race, but after a long delay, officials ruled the race a false start. It will be rerun Sunday.

Juantorena stopped two steps after the starting gun went off, and looked back before resuming running. He was able to salvage third place, but was booed and jeered by the near-capacity crowd of 50,000 in Rhine stadium.

The Cuban, a gold medalist in both the 400 and 500 meters at Montreal, started arguing with officials as soon as the race ended.

Kokot and Ryszard Podlas of Poland battled down the final stretch, with the East German winning in 45.78 Sconds.

Juanatorena said he did not hear the gun, claiming he was distracted by an airplane or some other noise outside the stadium.

Finally after a long delay and two separate appeals, the appeals jury upheld Juantorena'

Miss Caulkins Sets Swim Record

LENINGRAD (AP) : Fourteen-year-old Tracy Caulkins won the 400-meter medley and set an American record in the 200-meter breaststroke despite finishing second Saturday as the American swimming team took

'a 102-62 lead over the Soviet Union after the first day of a two-day meet.

Miss Caulkins captured the medley in 4:54.12, then established the American record in the 200 breastroke while finishing behind the Soviets' Yulia Bogdanova. Miss Caulkins was timed in 2:37.28, breaking the American record of 2:37.82. The Americans won 11 of the 14 events. In addition to Miss Bogdanova's victory, the Soviets took the men's 100-meter breastroke and the men's 400 meter medley.

The six American women's victories were scored by Cynthia Woodhead in the 200-meter freestyle, Nancy Hogshead in the 200 butterfly. Linda Jezek in the 200 backstroke, Jennifer Hooker in the 800 freestyle. Miss Caulkins and the U.S. 400 freestyle relay team of Wendy Boglioli, Stephanie Elkins, Miss Woodhead and Jill Sterkel.

The five victorious American men were Jim Montgomery in the 100-meter freestyle, Joe Bottom in the 100 butterfly. Dan Harrigan in the 200 backstroke. Brian Goodell in the 400 freestyle and the American 800 freestyle relay squad of Goodell. Rick Demont, Harrigan and

Community Concert Campaign To Be Launched Here Monday

Tomorrow will mark the beginning of the Community Concert Association's two-week drive to sell season memberships to area residents.

The campaign will again be headquartered at the local Chamber of Commerce office. 701 N. Main St., 364-3333. Office hours will be from 9:30 a.m. - 5 p.m. weekdays.

CCA officials emphasize that memberships will not be sold after Sept. 17 for the upcoming concert season, which will encompass ten performances. Persons with membership will be eligible to attend CCA-sanctioned attractions in Hereford. Lubbock, and Clovis, N.M. All association performances are exclusively presented for Community Concert members only.

Memberships are priced at $12 for adults. $6 for students and a new lower rate of $30 for a family (including all members of a household.) Mr. and Mrs. Bill Walden and Virginia Holmes are directing the membership drive, in cooperation with Mr. and Mrs. Ted Panciera. Association president.

The three presentations to be performed in Hereford for CCA

Members will include duo pianists Rostel and Schaefer from Britain. The New Christy Minstrels and the Hungarian Folk Ballet and Gypsy Orchestra. (These groups are featured on page one of this section.)

Rostel and Schaefer have been compared to the virtuoso pianists Ferrante and Teicher. The pair will be performing a variety of selections, ranging from Bach to Bacharach. They are scheduled to perform here in November.

In January, the New Christy Minstrels, described as "one of the most exciting and versatile groups performing today." will entertain the CCA crowd.

Completing the list of local concerts will be the Hungarian Folk Ballet of Budapest and Gypsy Orchestra. This "brilliant' company of dancers. singers and musicians "present a multi-colored mural of an exotic land."

Local CCA members will also be admitted to seven different performances at Lubbock and Clovis. These attractions will be announced later this week.

Although the local CCA campaign commences tomor-

Jerry's Labor Day Telethon To Reach 200 U.S. Stations

America's greatest entertainment spectacular, the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon, will debut in the Hereford area over KFDA, Channel 10, starting at 8 mm, today and ending at 6:30 p.m., Monday.

The Annual Supershow, in it's 12th year, will feature comedy, music, dance, and reports on the progress being made by the Muscular Dystropity Association. The show will be broadcast live from Del Wents Hotel Sahara in Las Vegas. Ed McMahon will again back up Jerry as anchorman. The Telethon, held to benefit the research and patient service will be beamed to nearly 200 stations in the continental U.S.. and will be seen in Alaska and live via satellite in Hawaii and Paerto Rico.

Arthur Forrest, producerdirector of Telethon '77, is helping Jerry line up some of the biggest names in show business for the 12th annual broadcast of the Telethon.

The local number to call in a donation is 364-7560, 364-7561 or 364-7562. Volunteers are still needed to report to Knights of Columbus Hall at 9 a.m. Monday to help collect contributions from local residRobert Diller is local drive Greenery trimmed the bittersweet tapers of an arched brass candelabrum, behind the altar. where a Unity candle was lighted by the couple. Small cascades of fall flowrs combined with pheasant feathers and wheat, marked the family pews.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Wayne Keeter, 501 Ave. H, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F.R. Stow of Casa Grande, Ariz.

Bob Wear, minister of the church, officiated during the candlelight ceremony.

Miss Karen Fox served as the bride's honor attendant while Michael Stow of Casa Grande was his brother's best man.

Also appearing in the processional as bridal attendants were Miss Becky Veazey and Mrs. James Stout. Groomsmen were James Stout and Gary Bolinger.

Guests were ushered to their seats in the sanctuary by Jimmy Hetzel and the bridegroom's cousin, Tim McGee of Bristol.

Carrying lace baskets of autumn-colored flower petals were Brandy Swanner, cousin of the bride, and Heather Dill. niece of the bridegroom. The two flower girls are the respective daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Swanner of Petersburg and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Dill, Colorado Springs,

Miss Michelle Boone of Springlake and Miss LeeAnn Schwartz of Clovis, N.M., cousins of the bride, lighted the with self-ties which crossed at Sixteen members of the church joined voices during the nuptial service to render "Walk Hand in Hand," "Faithful and True," "Be With Us, Lord" and The Lord Bless You and Keep You." The solo vocalist was Miss Donna Kendall, who sang "Evergreen."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white silk organza over bridal taffeta desigend with a victorian neckline of lace and a sheer yoke trimmed in lace. Her empire bodice was complemented by double rows of ruffled lace, meeting in a V-shape at center front and a satin bown at

Her long, sherr bishop sleeves were trimmed with lace and caught at the wrists by lace cuffs. The slightly-gathered A-line skirt was scattered with lace motifs and fell to a lace-trimmed flounce wich swept to back fullness and a Chapel train.

A matching coif of lace and seed pearls held over her Chapel veil of bridal illusion edged in lace and satin bows. The brunette bride wore an opal necklace, gift from the bridegroom, and diamong earrings given to her by her parents.

She carried a cascade of gold cushion pompons, bronze poms, babybreath, wheat and pheasant feathers. In her walk down the aisle, the bride presented a long-stemmed white rose to her mother and to the bridegroom's

All distaff members of the wedding party were gowned in metallic copper crepe de chine. The bridesmaids dresses were floor-length with rounded necklines, fitted bodices and cape sleeves. Each was fashioned the midriff and tied at back. The skirts were full. Completing the look were nosegays of bittersweet, brown and gold cushion poms, pheasant feathers and wheat, plus matching headpieces.

With fall-hued flowers encircing their wrists, the candelighters wore slipper-length dresses of matching copper fabric, fashioned with square necklines, brief sleeves, A-line skirts and natural waistlines. They also wore autumn wreaths in their hair.

A-line dresses with empire bodices and flared sleeves were worn by the two flower girls.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Keeter chose a formal dress of apricot chiffon styled with fitted waistline, long sheer sleeves and full skirt. The bridegroom's mother wore a brown knit pantsuit with rust and bone-colored trim with matching accessories. Each wore a corsage of ivory roses.

A reception was held immediately afterwards in the church Fellowship Hall. Miss Dianne Banner and the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Curtis Dill of Colorado Springs, served refreshments. Another sister of the bridegroom, Miss Tammy Stow of Casa Grande, registered guests.

Four heart-shaped cakes formed the foundation of the three-tiered wedding cake. which sheltered a flowing fountain. Handy-molded confectionate chrysanthemums in the fall shades of yellow, orange and bronze trimmed the cake. which was topped with a miniature wicker basket of confectionare chrysanthemums, pheasant feathers and cattails.

Fruit punch was served from argold punch bowl, matching the five-tapered gold candelabrum, serving as centerpiece. Autumn leaves encircled the cake and punch bowl. Draping the large oval serving table was a skirt of white silk organza with overlapping swags.

BY ERMA BOMBECK

When they talk about gut courage in the years to come, the heroes will emerge from the survivors of the 1899 Johnstown Flood, the 1912 sinking of the Titanic, the 1933 California " earthquake, and the 1977 lines for "Star Wars," I know that moments of stress bring out the best and the worst in people.

The young people who brought food and drink to the aged to stave of unconsciousness. The warmth of the line to the little girl who bought a child's ticket and stood there so long she passed puberty and needed more money to go in as an adult. The woman who gave up her place in line to a man in a wheelchair and only charged him $5.

Of course, there were the uglies. The man who dressed up as a fire marshal and charged into the theatre ahead of everyone else until someone noticed he was wearing Adidas tennis shoes and a handband.

The curelty the man who came out of the theatre and said in a loud voice. "You've just paid $3.50 for a two-hour sleeping

A line at best is a dangerous place to be. Perhaps the greatest hazard is being recognized by a friend. I had been waiting for 45 minutes when a voice said, "Well, look who's here. How have you been?" I could feel the line behind me stir and grow uneasy.

I looked at the face blankly, "Who, me? Do I look like someone you know?"

"Are you crazy? I'm your mother. I didn't know you were coming tonight.

By this time the line has become a mob. Out of the corner of my eye I see someone reach down for a rock.

I had only felt fear like that on one other occasion. It was in a laundromat in Maine where there was a waiting line for the dryers and someone discovered I was using two. I won't forget their fingernails digging into my skin if I lived to be a

"Give me a break, Mom," I whispered, "and move on, If I gave you a place in line they'd tear me apart.

Inside the theatre, the main event begins with brother trampling brother, wife edging out her husband, and entire familie splintered apart. It's every man for himself--only the strong get a seat.

In the seat next to mine, a woman leaned over and said, Dear, could you save my seat for me while I go for

I closed my eyes praying for divine guidance on what to do. Finally, I relented. "Okay Mom, but if you're not back when the feature begins. I'll have to pretend I've never seen you before in my life."

Senators and House members tend to do more talking on such issues when they are together that when they are apart. It's contagious.

What one member says, on or off the floor, another seconds and a third disputes. As that process unfolds, the full impact of the controversy over Lance, and the political cost to President Carter, may become

Not that the side with the most voices, or the loudest ones, will necessarily get its way. But the depth and duration of the debate cannot go unnoticed at the White House.

For as determined as Carter has been to keep the aide he says has done nothing illegal or even improper, there is a limit to the political capital he can wisely spend defending Lance, whose financial transactions were hardly tidy.

On Wednesday, while Carter signs the new Panama Canal treaty with a burst of diplomatic pomp, the government's chief banking overseer will go before a Senate committee to testify on the Lance case. Lance himselft is due before the panel on NASHVILLE. Tenn: (AP) The country music capital of the world - the domain of the rhinestone rebels and the Mary Sues and the honkytonk heroes is vibrating to the falsetto sounds of an intruder.

Tiny Tim has gone country. With his ukelele, his stringy black hair and effeminate manner, he has recorded four country songs where fiddles and steel guitars predominate and where anyone who blows kisses is regarded suspiciously They asked me to take a challenge and see what happens," he said as he sat in a Music Row office just before a three-hour recording session. "Everybody wonders where I am, and I pop up in Nashville." he marveled. He has kept busy recording and making club appearances. He and his wife. Vicki, who were married on the Tonight Show in 1969, are separated. "I've decided not to get friendly," he said about their relationship. "I don't believe in in betweens. Either you're hot or cold." His career has fallen off since he became famous for his version of "Tiptoe Through The Tulips" 10 years ago. 'It was my own fault and bad management," he said. "I had to break away from my manager and haven't had one as great since. Good managers are vital. He's also had problems getting the right sound on his recordings.

"A lot of the songs I've done were like an orange - half squeezed. Something was missing. I have many different sounds and styles. Every song and style I do is like a sculpture it has to be just right.

"They say it's impossible to record me because no one knows what a song will do or how to handle me or what I can do.

"I've recorded a lot of things: you never know what will happen. If these country records click, we'll see what happens." He listed Hank Snow, Molly

Bee, Porter Wagoner, Kitty Wells and Waylon Jennings as his favorite country performers. but said: "All country singers sing well. I never want to play He said his nightclub act

Biblical Words Carry Weight on West Bank Area

By MARCUS ELIASON Associated Press Writer

OPHRAH, Occupied West Bank (AP) - For the 200 men and women of this controversial Jewish settlement, the words of Biblical Joshua carry far more weight than a critical White House statement.

Washington says that what these deeply religious Jews are doing is "an obstacle to peace" in the Middle East. Arab politicians call the settlers colonialist land robbers. Many Israelis admire them as the last of the pioneer breed that Ophrah is one of three Jewish settlements in the West Bank of the Jordan River, which has been under Israeli control since the 1967 Middle East war. They received official recognition from the right wing government of Prime Minister Menahem Begin in July. The United States said it considered that a violation of international law.

Once Gush Emunim has established West Bank settle-

Under the previous Israeli government, which allowed settlements only in limited areas of the West Bank, Gush Emunim made little headway. So it often resorted to trying to force the government's hand by moving groups into the West Bank without authorization.

With Begin's election last May, all that has changed and Gush Emunim suddenly enjoys government support. Instead of treating settlements like Ophrah as temporary and illegal, the government is sending surveyors to prepare the ground for expanding it.

Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan has said the settlements are conducive to peace, since they enable Jews and Arabs to coexist side by side. Do the people of Ophrah coexist with nearby Ein Yabroud, Taibeh and Ramallah?

"We don't mix socially or send our kids to the same school," says Debbie Hirsch, 17, an immigrant from Beverly Hills, Calif. "We speak different languages. We have different backgrounds."

Consumers fighting the battle of the grocery budget advanced slightly on some fronts during August, but lost ground elsewhere to wind up just about where they were a month earlier, an Associated Press

While Indicators Decline, Wall Street Nervousness Sets In

By JOHN CUNIFF AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) - While the Carter administration continues to publicly stand behind a set of economic goals that many economists feel are unrealistic. a nervousness, even foreboding. seems to be settling into place.

Wall Streeters, timid all year long and decidedly more so of late, are in the forefront, with some analysts ready to run up the white flag and surrender to recession. But there are other indicators, too.

There's the official index of leading economic indicators, which has been in declinet for three straight months, signaling to some interpreters that a decided worsening of conditions is upcoming.

The White House itself is responsible for some of the unsettling news, letting float the reports that voluntary wage price standards are being discussed as a way to keep some degree of economic equilibrium.

Silage Harvest Proceeds; Grain, Beets Maturing

Brand Farm Editor

Forage harvesters are currently focusing their seemingly insatiable appetites on Deaf Smith County corn fields as another harvest moves ahead on the local farm scene.

And while ensilage harvesting is denuding a portion of the local countryside, grain and sugar beet crops are moving closer to their eventual harvest.

Numerous forage harvesting rigs and truck crews have been working in the local cornfields over the past two weeks, taking all but a small portion of the stalk from each plant as the lush forage is harvested. Slage Goes To Foodlets

Ensilage is an important product in the local cattle feeding industry, being heavily utilized in cattle rations

Joe Flood, who farms west and north of the city paused from his work of pulling heavily-laden trucks through a damp field Friday morning to report that his corn acreage was yielding from 20-22 tons of ensilage per acre.

Flood is receiving $14.50 per ton for his ensilage from a local feedlot, and figures his harvest cost is about $3 per acre.

Brown Will Speak At Dimmitt Meet

(DIMMITT) Reagan V. Brown, Texas Commissioner of Agriculture, will be the featured speaker at the 43rd Annual Meeting of Dimmitt Agri Industries, Tuesday. Brown was appointed by Governor Dolph Briscoe to fulfill the two-year unexpired term of John C. White who resigned the position to become Deputy Secretary of Agriculture in the Carter Administration.

Before his appointment to the Agriculture Commissioner's post. Brown was a special assistant to the Governor, responsible for rural development and agricultural programs. A popular public speaker, Commissioner Brown represented The Governor's office on more than 400 occasions. He has a Master's degree from Texas A&M University and has worked as an Extension Agent, a Sociologist, and a teacher. As Commissioner of Agriculture in Texas, he is now involved in a wide variety of programs in promotion, marketing, consumer services, research and environmental protection.

The Annual Meeting of Dimmitt Agri Industries will begin at 6:30 p.m. with dinner served at the Castro County Exposition Building in Dimmitt to be followed by the program and businesss session at 8 p.m. In addition to the address by Commissioner Brown, the Stockholders will elect 3 new Directors to serve on the Senior Board and 1 Director to serve on the Associate Board.

Dimmitt Agri Industries is a farmer owned cooperative first chartered 43 years ago and is involved in grain handling.

The Agriculture Department said that lower farm prices for soybeans, corn, hogs, broilers and potatoes contributed most to the decline. Overall, commodity prices were down 6 per cent from Aug. 15, 1976.

Farm expenses, meanwhile, declined an average of one-half of 1 per cent last month, due to lower feed costs, the department's Crop Reporting Board

The index of feed grain and hay prices dropped 10 per cent from mid-July. Corn, at $1.64 a bushel, was down 24 cents, and oats dropped 11.4 cents to 90.6 cents a bushel. Barley, at $1.50, declined 3 cents a bushel from July 15.

After USDA issued its price report, officials announced they are putting into effect a price support loan increase for 1977-crop feed grains. The increase was indicated Aug. 29 by Deputy Secretary John White when he announced plans for a July 15. wheat acreage set-aside program to trim production next year.

The corn loan rate for 1977. effective immediately, is now $2 a bushel, up from the $1.75 previously set. Other feed grain increases include: barley, $1.63 a bushel and $1.50 previously; March 1933.

The sorghum rate is equal to year, declining another 3 per $3.39 per 100 pounds, up from

Officials noted that the higher feed grain loan rates - the amount farmers can borrow from USDA by using their crops as collateral - are the same as called for in 1977 by the new farm bill waiting final action by Congress.

The department said farmers who have already put 1977 feed grain under loan can obtain an additional disbursement based on the new rates by contacting offices of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation

The monthly price report showed that beef cattle averaged $37.40 per 100 pounds on Aug. 15, down 20 cents from July. Hogs, at $42.80 per 100 pounds, dropped during the Wheat averaged $2.02 as of Aug. 15, compared with $2 on July 15. Soybeans were $5.34 a bushel against $6.30 in July.

Upland cotton averaged 64.5 cents a pound against 60.4 on

The Aug. 15 parity ratio declined again to 64 per cent from 65 on July 15 and 71 per cent on Aug. 15 of last year.

better on my ensilage corn than on my grain corn this year," Flood opined. "I think I've already lost a little tonnage on some of my corn because the rain delayed us a little in getting into the crop, but I can't afford to do anything but keep plugging away and hope for the best right now," he added, referring to the current market situation in agriculture.

Spreading Out Options

Flood, like a number of other farmers in the Panhandle area. is escaping concerns about crop lodging due to insects and disease by putting his corn through the forage harvester and into the silo.

-And, he's also dodging the glutted grain market by putting up a portion fo his crop in this manner, although the market for ensilage isn't outstanding this year either.

"I'm mainly just trying to keep my options spread out right now by chopping a portion of my crop and harvesting another part of it for grain. Hopefully, if I keep things spread out enough, I won't be hurt quite so badly in any one area," Flood explained.

Flood pointed out that he had encountered some difficulty in obtaining enough trucks to haul his ensilage, apparently because some local drivers were reluctant to make the 14 mile round trip from the field to the feedlot and back again.

Grain Crop Maturing

The county's first load of corn for the 1977 harvest season was delivered to a local elevator Wednesday afternoon, but it will probably be at least another week before corn harvest gets underway here on anything resembling a large scale.

The story of the 1977 corn crop hasn't been an outstanding one from the point of view of many local farmers.

The corn crop in the Magic Triangle area has gotten off light in regard to moisture stress over the past few years, but Old Man Weather served notice it was time to pay the piper this summer.

Weather Ravages Corn Corn is a humid weather crop and fared well here during recent summers when temperatures remained relatively cool. But the mercury soared in July and much-needed rains didn't fall. Farmers who had overextended themselves on the amount of corn acreage they could irrigate watched helplessly as their corn crop suffered moisture stress, despite the fact that irrigation wells were pumping as hard as they could

There simply was not enough irrigation water available to get moisture to the thirsty corn in time, and a large acreage of Deaf Smith County's corn suffered stress as a result.

Farmers have already learned that a stressed plant is open to attack from other pests, and a horde of banks grass mites descended on area fields.

County Extension Agent Juston McBride pointed out that corn yields here will not be measuring up to the standards of past years due to the ravages

Butler described the ongoing protest movement among producers by noting that "the waters are only now being tested locally." He said that the recent mass mail-in of commodities which originated in Pampa and the tractor demonstration in Temple are only the beginning. He revealed that plans are in the making for a statewide rally and demonstration, probably to occur in Austin this winter. Butler also reported that the states of Colorado and Wyoming are formally committed within their Farmers Union to join the protest. Leadership in those states have plans for a demonstration in Washington, D.C. "which might not be the cool and calm event you'd expect from normally-conservative farmers."

The current protest story will be timely in that Congress will be considering a conference report on new four-year general farm legislation when it reconvenes after the Labor Day holiday. "Government's policies and practices have been tragically insufficient and damaging to agriculture for the past decade," said Pitts. "The new Administration and this new farm bill will do nothing to change that trend. #### Thornton Named To FmHA Post

WASHINGTON (AP) - James E. Thornton, a native of lowa, has been named associate administrator of the Farmers Home Administration, an agency of the Agriculture Department.

Thornton, 44, will share responsibility for FmHA programs that provide financing for rural development in four major areas: farmer programs, rural housing, community facilities and businesses and industry employing rural residents. A spokesman said Thursday his salary is $47,500 a year.

Born and raised in Westfield and Sioux City, Iowa, Thornton most recently was executive director of the Federal Advisory Committee on National Growth Policy Processes. For four years prior to that, he was a professional staff member of the Senate Agriculture Committee.

Thornton's experience also includes five years in the 1960s as an assistant to then-Agriculture Secretary Orville L.

Soviet Harvest Ahead

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Soviet Union had almost 50 per cent of this year's grain harvest in by Aug. 15, according to the Agriculture Department.

Officials say mid-month progress was ahead of the normal pace and that recent rains have helped improve prospects for planting fall crops n several major areas of the Soviet Union.

Russia is expected to harvest a near-record grain crop of 229 nillion metric tons this year. Its biggest harvest was last year, when 223.8 million tons were produced. The second largest was in 1973, when 222.5 million were turned out. A metric ton is 2,205 pounds.

Meat Packing Shows Decline

WASHINGTON (AP) - Meat production by commercial packing plants in July totaled about 2.9 billion pounds, a 4 per cent decline from July of 1976.

The Agriculture Department said that beef production, at slightly less than 2 billion pounds, was 8 per cent below a year ago. Veal output was unchanged at 62 million pounds.

Pork production, however rose to 869 million pounds in July, up 3 per cent from a year earlier. Lamb and mutton out-put declined 11 per cent to 25 million pounds in July.

FmHA County Supervisor, Melvin Hoover issued this reminder that terms of the special Drought Impact emerggency loan program, for which Congress appropriated extra loan funds this year, carry the Sept. 30 deadline for loan application.

The rule applies in counties where farmers' eligibility for loans is based on Drought Impact designations made by the federal Interagency Drought Emergency Coordinating Committee. Deaf Smith and Oldham County (are) under that type of designation.

Hoover said estimates of loan amounts needed under applications filed by Sept. 30 can be revised if necessary in the course of loan processing. In some cases, production loss this year may not be finally determined until later than Sept. 30.

FmHA, the credit agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, makes farm emergency loans to cover losses resulting from designated natural disasters and help farmers restore production to

Under new legislation signed into law by President Carter Aug. 4, loans not exceeding $250,000 to offset production loss from disasters occurring since last July 1 are made at an interest rate of 3 percent. Loss to offset that portion of actual loss exceeding $250,000 are n interest rate of 5 percent. Additional financing for production purposes, or for making major adjustments in farming operations, is at a higher rate. Applicants must show that necessary credit is not available to them from commercial lenders serving their localities.

Farmers may obtain further information or file applications at the FmHA office serving Deaf Smith and Oldham County, located at 313 W. 3rd, Hereford.

A memorandum of understanding between the Farmers Home Administration has been signed with that in mind. officials said.

The FHA is part of the Agriculture Department and the SBA is an independent agency. Both have been engaged in making emergency disaster loans to farmers. The agreement was signed by Gordon Cavanaugh, administrator of FmHA, and Vernon Weaver, head of SBA. Officials said that the agreement pledged the two agencies "to cooperate in the use of their respective loanmaking authorities to complement each other" and to improve and expand financial assistance to farmers "with the least possible degree of overlapping confusing or duplicating activities."

Loan Program Designed To Aid Farm Storage

COLLEGE STATION -- With the Texas grain harvest in full swing, farmers might be interested in an easier farm loan program for grain storage facilities that has been established by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The loan program is designed to help farmers buy and construct on-farm storage units. One of the first considerations in the loan program was the need for grain storage facilities on the farm," says Wayne Hayenga and Roland Smith, economists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The new program provides for a two-year production level as the base to determine storage needs. Previously, the base was

Butter Production Up

WASHINGTON (AP)-The nation's production of butter has declined seasonally from last spring but is still running well ahead of a year ago, according to the Agriculture Department.

Butter output in July was estimated a 84.2 million pounds, down 11 per cent from 95 million in June. However, production was 18 per cent above the 71.5 million pounds in July 1976, officials said Wednesday.

Total cheese production, at 283 million pounds, declined 10 per cent from June's 314 million pounds. But July output was down 5 per cent from more than 296 million pounds of cheese produced a year earlier, they

Great Plains Wants Subsidy

WASHINGTON (AP) - Great Plains Wheat, Inc. wants the government to provide subsidies to help U.S. wheat meet competition from other grainshipping countries.

Harlan Weber, chairman of the Great Plains board of directors, asked for the subsidies in a letter to Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland.

Weber said that subsidies provided by the European Common Market are threatening to close off U.S. sales prospects in the Mediterranean and Caribbean areas and others. Wheat export subsidies were used to help make U.S. grain more competitive on world markets in past years but were discontinued in 1972. Bergland has said that he does not favor putting them back into effect.

The new group is based in Denver, formerly ANCA headquarters, with satellite offices in Washington and Omaha.

"Our main purpose will remain lobbying in Washington," Monier said. "Only now we will have a single, recognized voice of the cattle feeder industry."

The two cattlemen's groups occasionally found themselves on opposite sides of court cases, as in a dispute last year over the new federal yield grading system for beef. Monier said

Where there were differences in policy. Monier said, no decisions are going to be made by the NCA until after its first national convention, Jan. 24-27 in New Orleans. "There really aren't that many areas of disagreement," he said. "Over the years we seemed to get closer together in our policies." One main goal of both groups has been to insure the federal government does not adopt price ceilings and floors for the cattle industry.

national beef checkoff hurt the new organization, Monier admitted at a cattlemen's meeting

Most market development work would have been assumed by an organization funded by the checkoff, which would have raised an estimated $30 million the first year with a levy of three-tenths of one per cent on cattle sales.

The NCA "will have a budget of $1.7 million-plus for the first year," Monier said. "We've cut it $60,000-every bit of fat we thought we could get by without. But we'll still wind up with a $108,000 deficit next checkoff would have been earmarked for promotion, 30 per cent on research and 10 percent on foreign market development.

"There are many associations saying, 'Let's vote again'." Monier noted. "But we feel it will be at least two years before we can...bring it to a vote again.

"The only thing we can do at this time is hope for more contributions," he said. "If we could get all states that have a checkoff to raise it to 25 cents per hundredweight, we could raise $2 million a year. That's a far cry short of the $30 million we were trying to get with the program that was defeated."

Diking Equipment To be Shownat Lubbock

Farm News

LUBBOCK--An experimental furrow-diking device will be demonstrated during the 68th annual field day of the Texas Agriculture experiment Station Tuesday, Sept. 13.

Agricultural researchers claim the use of dikes in furrows. has resulted in substantial increases in crop yields and is inexpensive. While furrow diking was attempted as far back as the 1930's and 1940's on Texas High Plains farms, machinery and planting techniques were never perfected to the point that the system was economical and beneficial.

In recent years, Agricultural Research Service scientists, Elmer Hudspeth and Dr. J.D. Bilbro, and Texas Agricultural Experiment Station researcher Dr. Bill Lyle, have been developing and testing diking machinery for today's farming. The latest device developed by Dr. Lyle will be demonstrated during afternoon field day activities. An estimated 1200 or more ersons are expected, says Dr. Lyle, who is field day chairman. The Experiment Station, ARS-USDA, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University, National Weather Service and the High Plains Research Foundation are all cooperating in the event.

Activities get underway at 1 ch and Extension Center which is just north of the Lubbock Regional Airport, off Highway Hudspeth, Lyle, and Bilbro list a number of advantages in the diking system over other soil and water conservation methods. It is inexpensive, does not require movement of top soil, benefits both small and large farming operations, provides an ideal reservoir for rainfall, and the diking operation can be done simultaneously with other operations such as cultivation.

'The device," says Lyle, "can be attached to the tool bars of various pieces of equipment used in field operations. It is designed to operate at high speeds and has simple adjustments for changing the spacing between the dikes, and their

Wheat Sowing Getting Underway

Compiled By JIM STEIERT, Brand Farm Editor

WASHINGTON (AP) - Farmers have made good progress in preparing fields for planting winter wheat for the 1978 harvest and in some areas have made a good start in sowing the crop, according to the Agriculture Department.

During the week of Aug. 22-28, the department said in a weekly weather report, Texas farmers had planted about 2 per cent of their winter wheat and Oklahoma producers were sowing fields in the Panhandle.

In South Dakota, winter wheat planting was ahead of a year ago with 5 per cent of the acreage sown against 2 per cent a year ago, the report said. But p.m. at the Texas A&M in Minnesota dry soils were holding up further wheat

The administration on Monday announced plans to require farmers to curb 1978 wheat plantings to qualify for federal price supports and other benefits on the crop.

Meanwhile, USDA officials are working on details of the plan aimed at reducing 1978 wheat plantings by 20 per cent to help offset further massive buildups in grain surpluses.

But fall details of the plan probably will have to wait until Congress takes final action on new farm legislation, which includes authority for the USDA to implement the 1978 wheat set-aside program.

The weekly report said that the corn crop "continued developing rapidly" in the last week and that more rain and near normal temperatures helped in the Midwest Corn Belt. The harvest extended throughout the South and into Missouri and eastward into irginia, officials said Soybeans were rated "fair to good" in most areas and 'excellent' in Kansas, the report said. The cotton crop was said to be in "fair to good" shape in most areas although prospects were less in some southeast Atlantic coast states.

Cattle Roundup For Kids Underway

Crippled Children is now

Southwest ranchers and farmers have been challenged by Chairman C.A. "Charlie" Morris to donate enough nvestock to raise $150,000 through the event--with all proceeds going to the West Texas Rehabilitation Center facilities in Abilene, San Angelo, and Snyder.

Entertainer Rex Allen, longtime friend of the Center, and ABILENE-The 18th annual wife Bonnie met with a Cattlemen's Round-Up for gathering of 300 persons including area chairmen for CRCC Rehab Board members special quests and their wives at the kickoff event in Abilene. A new promotional firm abut the Rehab Center was premiered at the kickoff dinner. Allen praised the work of the Center in his brief talk to the crowd: "It has been my pleasure to see this institution grow from treating 20 patients to the almost 5,000 who will be served this year alone. It's the purest charity that I know anything about. It's people taking care of people. It's a shrine to humanity more than a rehabilitation center."

The Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children raises a major portion of the funds required annually to provide, without charge, care for those handicapped from birth, or from accidents and strokes, as well as those with hearing and sight disabilities.

Very simply, the Center asks cattlemen from all over the Southwest to donate livestock or cash. The livestock will be sold in special auctions with the money used to run the Center. The cattle sale is set for September 26, in Abilene, with additional sales for horses and other livestock to follow in Pledges may be made by contacting the West Texas Rehabilitation Center at (915) 692-1633. WTRC field representatives Danny Isbell and Sonny Dillard will make arrangements to pick up the livestock and haul it to the sales.

Additional Financing Urged For Export Credit Program

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Carter administration is being urged to seek more money to finance an export credit program aimed at boosting sales of farm commodities overseas despite figures by the Agriculture Department which show that not all of the credtit already available is being used.

Sen. Bob Dole, R-Kan., has told Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland that the export credit program is "grossly inadequate" and urged him to ask Congress for a 100 per cent increase in 1977-78 fiscal year funds, from $750 million currently appropriated to $1.5

"In view of the fact that the competition will likely be keener next fiscal year (which begins Oct. 1) for a broader range of commodities which are now beginning to experience slack demand and falling prices, it seems to me that at least $1.5 billion is needed in CCC credits to stimulate farm exports.' Dole said in a letter to Bergland.

The current authorization is $1 billion for the 1976-77 fiscal year. The program is operated by USDA's Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) and involves setting up lines of credit to qualified foreign countries. Unlike aid programs such as Food for Peace, the CCC Export Credit Program involves loans at commercial bank interest rates that must be repaid over periods ranging from six months to three years. A country's credit record is taken into account before the loans are

According to USDA, about $946 million of the $1 billion available for the export credit program had been used by foreign countries.

One official said that more of the available credit committed over $300 million probably will be used this fiscal year but that "there's no way that it can all be used" by Sept. 30. The CCC Export Credit

Program was started in the 1950s to help bridge a gap between cash sales of U.S. farm products overseas and concessional shipments made under Food for Peace, which are for 20 years to 40 years at low interest

Wheat, corn, rice, cotton, obacco, soybean oil, edible dry beans and other commodities currently are eligible for export

As of Aug. 1, as an example, nillions of dollars were still available to a number of countries to buy U.S. wheat and flour, including: Cypurs, $1 million; Portugal, $11.7 million; Honduras, $25,000; Peru, $1.3 million; Syria $11.8 million; and Jamaica, $5 million.

Good Rainfall Predicted

COLLEGE STATION--Texas farmers and ranchers can look forward to some improvement in the rainfall situation during the next 30 days, if the National Weather Service is right in its predictions.

Most of the state should get some reprieve from the extended dry weather, say NWS officials. They are calling for above average rainfall in all regions through the middle of September. At the same time, tempteratures should remain normal, which means a continuation of generally warm weather. Of course, some relief from the summer heat wave that has plagued much of the state should begin to show up by the first of September as cold fronts start winding their way down from the northern part of the

The possibility of increased precipitation during the next 30 days should brighten the ranching picture considerably, according to the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Most pastures and ranges are brown and the grass is dry and of poor quality. Supplemental feeding has begun in many counties due to the lack of grazing.

Teal to Usher in Waterfowl Season

By JIM STEIERT Brand Outdoors Writer

Avid Panhandle-area waterfowlers wil have an opportunity to pit their skills against a speedy and elusive quarry beginning Saturday, Sept. 10 as the highly-popular early teal season ushers in another duck and goose season.

The nine day season, which

DA

Sunday, Sept. 18, will set the stage for the beginning of the regular duck and goose season in November.

The early teal season, which has been in effect in Texas for a number of years, allows sportsmen an opportunity to harvest birds from the early-arriving flights of teal which wing their way into Texas each

Teal are among the first waterfowl to leave their nesting ground far to the north and begin the traditional fall migration synonomous with many species of ducks and

The early season was established to allow sportsmen to take advantage of an under-utilized wildlife resource.

Sportsmen in the Magic Triangle area of Deaf Smith, Castro and Parmer counties can expect good hunting wherever ample water is available. according to Max Traweek, a Canyon-based waterfowl biolo-

Bluewings make up the majority of teal available for this early season, although hunters may legally bag green-winged. and cinnamon teal as well.

Commenting on the outlook for the upcoming season, Traweek stated, "I have surveyed several areas and places I checked south of Hereford and north of the Canadian River were holding quite a few birds. Although the majority of the birds are bluewings, we have quite a few greenwinged teal this year too. We are in a lot better shape this year than we were in 1976 where availability of surface water is concerned, and I think this will help hold a bigger teal population for the season."

Traweek reported that he will be conducting another waterfowl survey in Castro and Parmer counties just prior to the opening of the teal season, and expects to find good numbers of ducks in all areas where water is sufficient to hold them.

Watch For Other Species Hunters may legally bag only teal during the upcoming early season, and Traweek warned sportsmen that there are numerous pintails and spoonbills located on playa lakes in the area as well.

Shooting hours for the early teal season are sunrise to sunset, with the later starting time designated to allow for sufficient light to properly identify duck species.

Teal hunters 16 years of age and over are required to carry a signed Migratory Bird Hunting Stamp in addition to a valid hunting license if they are hunting outside of the county of their residence.

Duck stamps are available at area post offices.

Waterfowlers also must have their guns plugged to a three-shell capacity, including one shell in the chamber and two in the magazine. Shotguns may be no larger than 10 gauge. and only shotguns are legal for hunting waterfowl.

Nesting Areas Compensate While conditions appear good for a successful early teal hunt, Traweek is also optimistic about the outlook for the regular waterfowl season. "I understand that it was very dry in the prairie pothole regions of the Dakotas and southern Canada this year, and this could reduce the flights of some species," the biologist reported.

"On the other hand, nesting conditions were good in portions of Alaska, so this should compensate for the reduced production in the prairie regions," he added.

Regular Season Set The Texas Parks & Wildlife Commission took the regular duck and goose season under consideration in a session in Austin during the past week and established a Nov. 1 - Jan. 22 season for the area west of U.S.

Highway 81. The points-system bag limit was retained. The system allows hunters to bag from one to ten ducks, depending on the species.

Duck season for the eastern portion of the state was set to run Nov. 5-27 and Dec. 22-Jan.

Separate seasons were set for light and dark geese in the eastern section.

The season for the more abundant light geese was set for Nov. 5 through Jan. 22 and the season for dark geese was set up on a split basis, to run Nov.

5-Dec. 14, and Dec. 22-Jan. 22. Commission Protests Ruling During their meeting in Austin, the commissioners protested the federal government's closing of a portion of the Trans-Pecos region to duck hunting to protect the endangered Mexican Duck.

The area closed to duck hunting lies south of Interstate 10 from El Paso to Fort Stockton. The boundary extends from Fort Stockton along U.S. 385 to the Big Bend National Park and along the western boundary of the park to the Rio Grande.

The paved roads in the United States, if connected endo-end, would make a belt that could wind more than 100 times around the Equator.

On Jan. 22, 1943, the temperature in Spearfish, S.D., rose 49 degrees in two minutes. At 7:30 a.m. that day it was four degrees below zero and at 7:32 it was 45 degrees above zero.

An astronomical unit, used to measure celestial distance, is defined as the mean distance from the earth to the sun, or about 93 million miles.

Speedy And Sporty

Bluewinged teal are a challenging target for any waterfowler, and will present Panhandle gunners with plenty of opportunity for exciting action during the upcoming season. Rains have kept the weekend action wet during the past two seasons, but that doesn't put a damper on the blue wings willingness to fly. This illustration, by Brand Outdoors Writer Jim Stelert, depicts a bluewing drake and hen settling among a cluster of cattails during a cloudburst.

Hybrid Vigor Yields 'Superbass' for Anglers

The "superbass" that has excited Texas fishermen in recent years is the result of the Florida strain of largemouth bass crossing with the hardy native strain.

Both the resultant vigorous hybrid and the Florida bass are faster growing and tougher to land, according to Dr. Richard L. Noble, asso-ciate professor of wildlife and fisheries sciences with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Texas A&M University.

Fish populations and production in freshwater impoundments are being studied by a group of scientists under the direction of No-

One of the things they're seeking to determine is the factors which control production of game fish in inland waters of Texas.

Establishment of Florida bass in Trinidad Lake was a project started by this group in 1972 in cooperation with Texas Parks and Wildlife and Texas Power and Light Company.

The lake is a TP&L cooling lake in Henderson County. Annual plantings of Florida bass fingerlings from 1972-1975 resulted in the establishment of rapid growing bass, some weighing 71/2 pounds after four years.

Such rapid growth, Noble says, is caused by a combination of warm water temperatures created by the power plant and an abundance of natural fish food.

. The bass preved heavily on blue tilapia: a tropical brim-like fish native to northeast Africa and the Middle East. The tilapia got into Trinidad Lake in the late 1960's and rapidly increased until they reached densities of over 2.000 pounds per acre.

Further studies of the interactions of Florida and native bass are being conducted in smaller lakes and ponds to determine the extent of hybridization under more carefully controlled conditions.

Although bass reproduction was allowed to occur in the absence of tilapia, not all responses of the lake fish populations were desirable. In particular, carp and buffalo also spawned suc-cessfully for the first time in five years.

The long-term effect of the proliferation of rough fish is not yet known.

Hopefully, that negative response will be overshadowed by the beneficial effects of bass spawnings and hybridizing as well as other desirable results such as the successful reproduction of white crappies and increased growth of sunfishes.

STINNETT-Starkey Whitehorn, Texas game warden at Stinnett, is retiring from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department after 27 years of service with the state agency.

Whitehorn was born in Atlanta, Texas and attended Lubbock High School from 1931-34.

He started to work for what was then the Texas Game and Rish Commission on Nov. 1, 1949. Upon completion of the warden school at Texas A&M. Whitehorn was assigned to Canadian working four counties in June. 1950. In July, 1952, he was transferred to Stinnett with five counties assigned to his

"I have watched the hunting picture change in the Texas Panhandle during these 27 years with deer ingreasing and wild turkey decreasing," Whitehorn stated.

'Pheasants have increased over the years as they spread down from the north and landowners stocked birds in new areas," Whitehorn continued.

Hunters have changed too. according to Whitehorn with many sportsmen blaming the P&WD for the lack of game or no place to hunt. Also, more emphasis has been placed on the issuance of citations by the

TEAL SEASON SET

LUBBOCK--A nine-day teal season has been set for Sept. 10-18, 1977, and lakes with ample water are scattered across the Panhandle and South Plains. According to waterfowl biologist Max Traweek the rains have been spotty this summer with some areas of the eastern Panhandle receiving record amounts of water.

Traweek is reporting more green-winged teal than normal this year in his surveys of the area. Normally, the blue-winged teal is the most abundant species during the early duck

The daily bag limit of four with possession limit of eight teal can be bagged from sunrise to sunset. The later shooting hours should help hunters identify the small, fast teal from the other larger ducks such as mallards, gadwall, and pintails that might be in the same area during the September hunt.

Ancient Rhinos Are Unearthed

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - Animals resembling rhinoceroses roamed the Texas Big Bend 40 million years ago, University of Texas scientists have learned from a fossil discovery uncovered by a New Mexico science teacher.

The remains of titanotheres found there are important because it gives the most complete picture of the animal's body structure and habits.

Titanotheres had short horns on either side of their snouts. the scientists say.

James Baldwin Jr. of Silver City, N.M., discovered the fossils on a visit to the Big Bend National Park in December. He reported the find to Dr. James Wolleben of Sul Ross State University in Alpine, and Wolleben contacted his former colleages at UT-Austin, Dr. John Wilson and Dr. Wann Langston.

The UT scientists found skull

Langston and Wilson later brought back 1,000 pounds of material, including three skulls. several lower jaws and complete limbs.

Langston said it was possible that the site was a catch basin in a gully, and animals which died on the surrounding plains could have been washed into the basin and covered by deposits of rock. ## Briscoe Disapproves Purchase

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)-Gov. Dolph Briscoe has disapproved the proposed purchase of marshland in Jefferson and Matagorda counties by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

He vetoed the service's request to purchase the McFaddin and Sea Rim marshes in Jefferson County and Smith Marsh in Matagorda County.

Conservationists had urged the governor to approve the purchase as the best means to guarantee protection of the valuable wetlands.

In letters sent to the service's regional director, W.O. Nelson Jr. of Alburquerque, N.M., Briscoe said he favored state or local ownership and management of the marshes.

BECAUSE THE PEOPLE MUST KNOW,

'What is also needed is a sense of urgency about phasing into the forthcoming era of petroleum inadequacy. Given for the long lead times necessary for developing any energy source, this nation must get on with the job now. Timing is critical."

Dawn Baur in Laverne. Ca. sends us a real fish story. She says her dozzy LADY a German Shepherd. eat her fishes food and her 20 pet fish eat LADY'S doz food! WATCH OUT, DAWN!... strange things might happen!

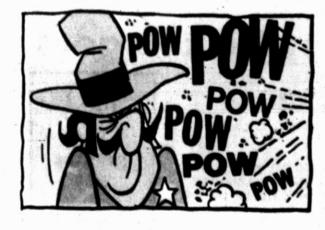

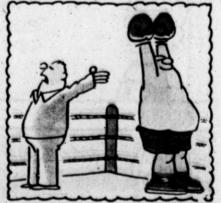

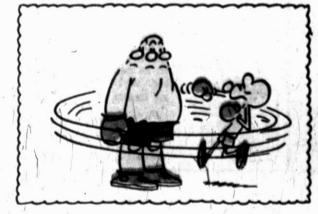

DEAR POLLY — I find a spray product for treating stains on clothes to be laundered is excellent for removing stains on my hands after using oil-base paints or varnish. Simply spray this on the hands, work it in and rinse with water. This does not leave an odor as does gasoline or paint thinner. — GERTRUDE.

DEAR POLLY — When wrapping or waxed paper sticks to the frosting on a cake, I put the cake in the refrigerator and then the wrapping can be easily lifted from the loing. — GERTRUDE.

Send your helpful hints to Polly's

DEAR POLLY — Storing blankets can be a problem. I wash and dry mine, fold them in half and put them back on the proper beds but between the mattress and box springs. They are clean and handy and no shelf space is required. — BECKY.

DEAR POLLY — We have a water shortage but have been getting a little rain lately, so I brough home a 55-gailon drum that is being filled with water caught in small pots placed under the drainpipe or rain gutter. This water will be used to water the garden. — GARY.

DEAR POLLY — When we go on vacation we need no dufflebags for soiled clothes, as our mother ties knots in the bottom of her slacks and the dirty things are stuffed in the legs. — SHELLY.

DEAR POLLY — When you get a mustard stain on your kitchen counter, rub a bit of baking soda on it with a damp cloth and it will come right off. — B.K.T.

DEAR POLLY — To keep a ballpoint pen handy in your purse, hook it on a silm edge and then be saved rummaging through your purse when you need a pen. — MARY B.

DEAR POLLY — I think a good way to cut down substantially on the amount of coffee used is to pour small leftover bits into a small glass jar, cover and freeze. When enough is accumulated thaw and heat not quite to boiling. This has cut the coffee bought at our house by some 20 per cent. If a substantial number of people did this, it would cut down vastly on coffee consumption and perhaps the prices as well. — MRS. T.S.K.

DEAR POLLY — I wear two shower caps while under the shower and when I turn the water off I remove one so there is no water running down my back that has to be dried a time or two. I have been doing this for a long time and find it great. — MRS. N.B.
