SW Bell Ordered To Pay $3 Million

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) - Lawyers for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. prepared today for a legal assault on a jury's verdict that the company slandered two of its former top Texas executives and should pay damages totaling $3 million.

The state court jury made the finding Monday in a complicated 35-part verdict in a suit brought nearly three years ago by fired Bell executive James H. Ashley and the family of T.O. Gravitt.

The jury found that an internal Bell investigation in 1974 slandered Ashley and Gravitt and said the company should be ordered by a judge to pay Ashley $1.5 million and a like amount to Gravitt's widow.

Gravitt was making $80,000 annually as the top Bell executive in Texas when he committed suicide at his Dallas home Oct. 17, 1974, in the midst of the company probe.

The jury found that slander, resulting from the probe, was a "proximate cause" of insanity that led Gravitt to kill himself.

At the same time, however, the jury also found that Gravitt defrauded the telephone company of $1.771 by filing false expense vouchers as alleged by Bell in a counterclaim in the suit.

The plaintiffs originally had sought $29 million in the suit, filed Nov. 15, 1974.

The jury cleared Bell, co-defendant American Telephone and Telegraph Corp. of any wrongdoing in the case.

C. I. Todd, the highest Bell official in San Antonio, said in a statement the company was "disappointed in the jury's decision, simply because we don't feel it was based on any preponderance of evidence."

The verdict came on a 10-2 vote, the minimum margin required by Texas law for a decision in a civil case.

Todd said the company felt the decision "was based more on emotion than anything else." He called the decision "a miscarriage of justice."

He said Bell lawyers will ask District Judge Peter Michael Curry this week to enter a judgment not withstanding the verdict in favor of the telephone company.

The effect of such a judgment if issued, would be to overturn the jury's decision.

"If turned down, we will appeal to the Court of Civil Appeals and if necessary to the Texas Supreme Court and even to the U.S. Supreme Court if a constitutional question is involved," Todd said.

Southwestern Bell is the largest component of the far-flung Bell System, and Texas represents more than half of Southwestern Bell's business.

The jury found that slander occurred when Bell investigators quizzed employees about the sexual conduct and outside financial dealings of Ashley and Gravitt.

Bell officials testified in the trial that the probe began as a result of rumors of sexual misconduct among San Antonio-area Bell employees, including Ashley. The company said Gravitt was not investigated until after his death.

One of the reasons given Ashley for his suspension and subsequent dismissal was alleged sexual misconduct with female subordinate employees.

Jurors had to consider testimony from nearly 100 witnesses and the effect of nearly 200 exhibits which were presented during four weeks of testimony in the trial that began Aug. 8.

It took the 10-man, 2-woman jury two and one-half days to reach its verdict.

Ashley, who has turned to real estate since losing his $55,000 a year telephone company job in San Antonio nearly three years ago, said the verdict "renews my faith in the judicial system."

He said he was "proud to be the Ralph Nader of the telephone company."

Mrs. Oleta Gravitt Dixon, Gravitt's remarried widow, said she may write a book some day about taking on Southwestern Bell in court and winning.

The plaintiffs contended Ashley and Gravitt were targets of the investigation to drive them out of the Bell power structure because they had become management rebels, trying to "reform" the company from the inside.

A suicide note left by Gravitt said in part, "Watergate is a giant compared to the Bell System."

Much of the suit was drawn from allegations made in the suicide note, including that Bell executives were forced to pay $50 monthly to a political "slush fund," to pursue unfairly high rates from utility regulators and to file false expense vouchers to cover political donations.

But Todd, in his post-verdict statement, said those charges were found to be untrue by the jury decision.

Campaigning in Hereford

State Sen. Kent Hance of Lubbock, right, and his wife, Carol, were in Hereford Tuesday morning to formally announce his candidacy for the U.S. Congress from the 19th District. Hance held a press conference here in the office of James Gentry, left, one of his local supporters. Hance will be seeking the office to be vacated by U.S. Rep. George Mahon in 1978. The election is more than a year away.

Hance Makes Hereford Stop For Morning Press Conference

State Sen. Kent Hance, who announced in Lubbock Monday as a candidate for Congress and greeted some 650 persons at a hometown rally in Dimmitt Monday night, was in Hereford this morning to announce his formal entry into the race to succeed George Mahon.

Monday was a busy day for the slim, 34-year-old candidate as he made stops also in Plainview, James, Lovelland, Andrews and Midland and Odessa. He was scheduled to appear in Amarillo today, go back to Lubbock for a meeting, and also appear in Brownfield.

And the election is 14 months away.

"I wish it were today," he told Hereford Brand and KPAN newsmen this morning. Hance pointed out that he has been representing about 67 per cent of the people in the 19th Congressional District while serving in the state senate. He has the same name as the 19th District, and he feels this has given him a strong start in the U.S. House race.

Hance's press conference this morning was held in the office of James Gentry, local real estate businessman who is supporting the candidacy of the Dimmitt native. Accompanying Hance was his wife, the former Carol Hays, who has several relatives residing in Hereford. They have two children, 12-year-old Rona and 8-year-old Susan.

Sen. Hance said he felt "somewhat self-conscious" about the race, "for no one can replace George Mahon." He pointed out that the district "owes Mahon more than we can ever comprehend."

He added, however, that he was offering "the same hard work and determination that I achieved as your State Senator." Hance said he didn't think the people of West Texas expect miracles of those in government, but "they do expect a sincere responsiveness to their personal problems with government, and they expect serious dedication and hard work from their public servants."

A graduate of Texas Tech and the University of Texas law school, Hance was elected to the Texas senate in November, 1974, to become one of the youngest members of the Senate. He has been a practicing attorney with his own law firm in Lubbock since his graduation in 1968 from law school.

Before his election to the senate, he served on the board of regents at West Texas State University from 1972 through 1974, the Texas Citizens Advisory Committee, a study group for solving water problems of the state, and was named one of the five outstanding professors at Texas Tech in 1973. He resigned his teaching position in 1973 after five years of teaching business law.

In the Texas senate, Hance served as chairman of the Water Subcommittee on Natural Resources and is a member of the finance, state affairs, and natural resources committees. He has previously served on the senate education committee.

Hance said he felt the people of this district do not want Congress "to continue further into the roll of 'big brother' they want fewer government agencies hampering the progress of their farms, businesses, factories, natural resources, homes and schools. No one can tell me that we cannot turn this direction of government interference. This is what I'm going to try to do if elected to Congress."

A Democrat, Hance was asked what he thought about some of President Carter's stands on farm issues. "I am

Search Questioned In Heroin Pre-Trial

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

Whether a legal search of an automobile was conducted prior to the arrest of Nicodur Gonzalez of Hereford for possession of heroin Jan. 28, 1976, is the question attorneys are trying to answer today in Judge Wesley Gulley's 22nd District Court.

Jury selection and pre-trial testimony consumed most of the day Monday forcing the heroin possession trial, scheduled to begin Monday afternoon, to start at 8:30 a.m. today in district court.

District Atty. Andy Shoval called two witnesses, both Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Office deputies, for the pre-trial testimony in an attempt to show that consent was given by Gonzalez to search his car and there was also probable cause for the search.

Both Judy Murray and Johnny Moya, deputy sheriffs, testified that around 12:30 a.m. Jan. 28, 1976, they pulled over a west bound vehicle that appeared to be swerving on Farm to Market Road 1412 two to three miles west of Milo Center.

According to testimony, the two were riding in a sheriff's office car with David Ruland, a carpet steam cleaner, and Joan Heun, a dispatcher, now employed by the Potter County Sheriff's Office.

"We were playing volleyball early in the evening and then patrolling the county roads," testified Ms. Murray in response to a question from Shoval.

"We saw the car driven by the defendant. He was weaving on the roadway and we decided to check him out for DWI."

Ms. Murray testified she was driving. She said she pulled the car over, asked for the defendant's driver's license then

Lance Denounces Resignation Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) - Bert Lance today denied that he has any intention of resigning after he defends himself before a Senate committee on Thursday.

"I'm going to keep on doing the job at the Office of Management and Budget," Lance told reporters outside his Georgetown home as he headed for work and a session later in the day with President Carter.

Meanwhile, Democratic Sen. Gary Hart of Colorado joined the list of those advocating that Lance depart his government post. "But it's a decision that should be made by the President and not the Congress," Hart said this morning. "Congress revolves around controversy, but this one is taking some of the impetus away from the energy program."

Lance, under fire by the same panel which recommended his confirmation early this year as the nation's budget director, said his meeting at the White House was to be over routine OMB business and "I don't know" if the subject of his own troubles would even come up.

"I am going to have my regular meeting to talk about the OMB situation," the embattled Lance said. "I'm going to have an interesting day today. I have got to go and make a decision about whether the caribou get to graze in the wilderness of Alaska or whether we get to explore oil there."

Lance is scheduled to appear Thursday before the Senate Government Affairs Committee. One member of that panel, Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., asked on Monday that it explore whether there was a cover up of Lance's financial problems before Carter named him to the budget post.

Percy said he wants to call the president's former ethics adviser, John L. Moore, to testify at the committee's hearings on the Lance affair.

Asked about speculative reports that he would resign after he has a chance to present his case to the committee, Lance declared, "That's absolutely incorrect," during the morning questioning by reporters.

On Monday, his wife told The Associated Press in an interview at the home that her husband had planted azaleas in the backyard and "we plan to be here to see them bloom in the spring."

After testimony from Robert Bloom, who was acting comptroller of the currency at the time Lance was nominated for the budget post, Percy said,

"There are all the elements, it would appear from the testimony, of a cover-up."

The Senate panel, holding hearings on Lance's financial affairs, scheduled testimony today from Donald T. Tarleton, the Atlanta regional administrator for the comptroller of the currency.

Tarleton removed restrictions placed by federal examiners on the Calhoun Ga.

First National Bank, which Lance headed as chairman of the board, two days before Carter announced Lance's selection as budget chief.

But in prepared testimony, Tarleton said Lance did not ask him to lift the restrictions. He said they were lifted "because the bank had returned to sound operating procedures and for no other reasons."

Lance planned a meeting with Carter at the White House today. Press Secretary Jody Powell said it was a normal weekly get-together and he didn't know whether increasing demands for Lance's resignation would be discussed.

Moore, now chairman of the U.S. Export-Import Bank, was special counsel on ethics and conflicts of interest for the transition group that helped set up the Carter administration. Moore took part in a telephone conversation with Lance, Carter and others on Dec. 1 in which problems at one of Lance's banks were discussed.

County OKs Changes In Budget

By PAUL SIMS

Deaf Smith County commissioners met in regular session Monday to adopt budget amendments and to discuss the TV dinner food program for the newly remodeled Deaf Smith County Jail.

Alex Schroeter, county auditor, recommended several budget amendments, actually the transfer of funds from one account to another, to balance the county budget.

Among the money that was transferred was $4,459 to cover unanticipated legal deficits arising from lawyer's fees from the newly-created 222nd Judicial District Court.

"The judge (District Judge Wesley Gulley) decided to pay lawyers almost double what was paid in the past," Schroeter said.

"We've disposed of more cases with this district court. The court-appointed attorneys' fees were increased considerably in district court," County Judge Sam Morgan added.

County Sheriff Travis McPherson gave commissioners a copy of proposed TV dinner menus for prisoners.

McPherson told commissioners that he would continue looking for a freezer and oven to accommodate the dinners, designed to eliminate cooking by a jail trustee.

TV dinners are permitted under state jail guidelines, which have necessitated the remodeling of the Deaf Smith County Jail. Work is almost complete on the jail.

Phil Sciombato, juvenile probation officer, requested that commissioners consider purchasing a car since the 1974 Chevrolet now used to transport youths to the state school in Brownsville and the Bethesda (Okla.) Boys Ranch needs serious repairs.

Commissioners told Sciombato to obtain an estimate on repairing the car now used and determine whether the costs would justify a new vehicle. The matter was tabled until the next meeting Sept. 26.

Nell Miller of the city tax office reported on the proposed remodeling of her office to accommodate what she called "12 big rushes" next year for vehicle registrations.

The state has approved staggered registration, which will allow persons to register their vehicles throughout the year, instead of by the April deadline.

"Instead of one big rush, we'll have 12 big rushes," Ms. Miller said. She plans to have a wall removed from the tax office

Boy Addicted To TV Shows Says Attorney

MIAMI (AP) - A defense attorney hopes to use a defense of "television intoxication" to prove that a 15-year-old boy charged with shooting an elderly woman to death was addicted to television crime shows.

Principals to the case say attorney Ellis Rubin could break new legal ground with such a defense in the Sept. 26 trial of Ronald Zamora.

"Without the influence of television...there would not have been any crime," Rubin argued at a pretrial conference Monday.

He claims Zamora's constant exposure to TV crime shows such as "Kojak" and "Police Woman" and a television film depicting the Charles Manson mass murders was responsible for "diseasing his mind and impairing his behavioral controls."

Rubin has often taken cases that attract publicity. He helped Watergate burglar E. Howard Hunt win parole, and he has filed his own suit claiming Miami's controversial homosexual rights law was unconstitutional.

Zamora and Darrell Agrella, 14, are accused of breaking into the Miami Beach home of Elinor Haggart, 83, on June 4 and shooting her to death with Mrs. Haggart's own gun and stealing $415 and her car. They are to be tried separately as adults. Agrella's trial is set for Nov. 7.

Liddy Likes Freedom, Says He's Happy

WASHINGTON (AP) — G. Gordon Liddy, the silent Watergate conspirator, says he is adapting to freedom as quickly as he adapted to prison. He's spending his time running races with his son, getting to know his wife again and being "very, very happy." Dining with his wife, Frances, at a Washington restaurant Monday on his sixth day as a free man, Liddy, who plotted the Watergate break in that deposed a president, talked about the joys of racing his 13-year-old son, being with his wife once again and trying to lose a cavalcade of reporters on the streets of New York. "Yes, indeed, I am very, very happy these days," said a smiling, relaxed Liddy.

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Two American balloonists who were rescued in good shape after their attempt to float across the Atlantic failed say they won't try again. A U.S. Air Force helicopter rescued Ben I. Garrel Names Davis As His Assailant AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — Gus Garrel Jr. has ended his testimony in the Cullen Davis capital murder trial, denying he ever lied, admitting glaring inconsistencies and naming Davis as his assailant. After perhaps the strangest interlude to date, opposing attorneys turned their attention today to a young Fort Worth doctor caught up in the bloody aftermath of the August 1976 shootings. Dr. Michel Heard returned to the stand today, the state's eighth witness in its attempt to prove Davis killed his 12-year-old stepdaughter in the bloody midnight spree at the lavish $6 million Davis mansion. The pale, dark-haired industrialist is accused also of wounding his estranged wife, Priscilla, 36, and killing her boy friend Stan Farr, 30.

Kent State Parents Win Another Trial

CINCINNATI (AP) — Parents of students killed and wounded in the Kent State antiwar demonstrations won a new trial in their attempt to collect $46 million. At the same time, the way again was cleared for a gymnasium annex near the site of the shootings. It looks like the judicial system really works, said Sarah Scheuer, whose daughter, Sandra, was one of the four students killed in the May 4, 1970, confrontation with the Ohio National Teresa McCarver, 503 S. 25 Mile Ave., reported to Hereford police Monday night that she saw a man inside her pickup. Ms. McCarver told police she heard a noise outside her apartment at 10:10 p.m. Monday and went outside to investigate. She saw a man inside the pickup who then jumped up and ran away. The citizens band radio inside the pickup was loose on one side. The man was described as white with black, curly hair, a white T-shirt and blue jeans. Stacy Hacker told police Monday that somebody stole eight mounted black sidewall tires from the front yard at 903 15th sometime Friday or Saturday. Police also investigated the fatal shooting of Loyd D. Weatherby Jr., 18, of Grand E. Trailer Park, space 22, around 10:45 p.m. Monday. Police found Weatherby shot once in the abdomen with a .22 caliber gun. Weatherby reportedly died at Deaf Smith General Hospital. Details of the shooting will not be released until Justice of the Peace Glen Nelson issues a coroner's report.

to create more room, then hire another employe. Commissioners Bruce Coleman and Austin Rose asked Ms. Miller if the staggered registration would decrease the work load. "It should be one twelfth of the rush," Coleman said. Ms. Miller reiterated that her office would be busier and needs the extra work space. Rose, commissioner of Precinct 2, requested the purchase of a new pickup. The motion was approved.

Alfred Smith, commissioner of Precinct 1, said he was concerned about the city sewage lake east of Hereford. The water in the lake recently flowed over the dike onto a county road, and Smith said it became a traffic hazard. "I'd like to do something to require the city to build the dike up and hold the water," Smith said. Judge Morgan said he and Smith would meet with the city commission later to discuss the problem. Smith also requested that J.M. Hamby Road be declared a county road.

Commissioners approved the request. In other business, commissioners heard a report from Paul Catoe of the Community Action Agency.

Catoe has been instructed to make periodic reports to commissioners concerning the spending of federal money allocated to Deaf Smith County for the Community Action Agency.

The agency is funded under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA).

Rubin disclosed in earlier court briefs that he would show Zamora became intoxicated with the TV dramas and lived them as if they were his own life. "When his parents would come from work they would find him on the floor watching TV," Rubin said recently. "He would even skip school occasionally to go home and watch afternoon television shows. His mother would hear a noise in the middle of the night and find it was her son watching television."

Rubin said that the parents had disciplined the boy for watching so much television but that he had defied them. A week before the killing, they sent him to a psychologist, Rubin said. The attorney quoted a psychiatric report he said was done for the prosecution that found Zamora consumed by television programs, "as though he were to a certain extent living some of those experiences in reality. At times he would almost feel he was the character who played the 'heavy role,'" Rubin quoted the report as saying. "Even when the woman had been struck, there was doubt it happened — it seemed as though Zamora could wake up and find it never happened," said Rubin.

Tom Headley, assistant state attorney, said the issue was not television but whether Zamora was sane and understood the difference between right and wrong. He said the psychiatric report showed Zamora did understand the difference.

told him to have a seat in the patrol car. She reported that he sat in the back seat with Moya and Ruland. Defense attorney Pat McDowell of Dallas at that point asked Ms. Murray if Gonzales had been drinking. She replied, "No sir." "Could you detect anything?" "No sir, I did not smell anything." The witness then said that Moya had asked Gonzales if he had been in trouble before. Gonzales replied he had for burglary. Moya asked if he could check inside the car. "He had no objections," testified Ms. Murray. Ms. Murray said that Gonzales himself removed the keys from the ignition and opened the trunk. "Under the driver's side of the seat, Deputy Moya found a red rag that was tied with a rubber band. Deputy Moya took the rubber band off and looked in."

after Gonzales was taken to the county jail. After the two were questioned in the pre-trial proceedings, Shuval said proper consent was given to search the car. "There are two points here — probable cause for search and then consent. If there was consent, there is no need for probable cause."

Suit

He said the jury cleared Bell of charges of wiretapping and invaded the privacy of Ashley and Gravitt. And, Todd said testimony in the trial indicated there was nothing at all wrong with two sets of financial books which Bell maintained, since they were both required under law for different purposes. He also said witnesses testified that the political contributions by executives were made on an individual basis and were not illegal. Allegations in the suit that Bell libeled Ashley and Gravitt were not included in the final sets of questions which jurors had to answer and reach their verdict. During the trial, Bell presented a number of its female employees to testify of sexual relationships with Ashley and Gravitt. Bell said Ashley and Gravitt "did themselves in" by their own actions and the company had every right and a duty to investigate rumors of wrongdoing by them. Hance concluded that he would be making a number of visits to Hereford during the campaign, and would be happy to discuss his candidacy and the issues facing Congress and the nation.

Double-Dipping

You have heard that there are double-dippers working in our government. Retired military people who are continuing to collect their retirement pensions while earning additional money as government employees. And you've heard some demands that these double-dippers be required to give up one or the other of the incomes. Why? Bud Jones was picking cotton on the leached out Texas bare the day the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor. He wanted to enter immediately but he was only 13. Outraged Americans were everywhere lining up at recruitment centers eager to serve and save their country. Bud Jones had to keep picking cotton. Shortly after he turned 17 he signed up. It was now 1942. With limited schooling and skills, but uncommon aptitude, he began to move up through the ranks. Each re-enlistment time he was reminded that our nation needed trained professional military. Legislators were improving benefits and incentives. Pride, patriotism and honor were emphasized. Bud bet on the principles and the promises, and so he signed up again and again until now, he had 20 years of uniform and was retired at 33. At 37 he still had a child in school. Retirement pension was not enough. So he decided he'd have to have another job. With extensive technical training and experience, which he could still offer his country, he went to work for the government as a civilian for another 10 years. Now he is 49. Bud had served our country for 30 years. He is highly qualified for his present government job. His skills are less adaptable to commercial employment. Understand, his total military pension last year was $3,626. That's less than the acknowledged "poverty level." If he were not working, he would qualify for welfare. If he were not working, his training and skills would be wasted. As is, and hear this, Bud Jones is getting a military pension of $3,626. But he is paying income taxes annually amounting to more than that—$3,737 last year. He is more than paying his own way. And yet there is agitation in Congress to require the dismissal from government employment of all double-dip-

FATHER OF THE TROLLEY CAR

WASHINGTON (AP) — August is the month for honoring the man who drove the horse-car from the streets of America and replaced it with the electric street railway. Charles Joseph Van Depoele, the "father of the trolley car," was a prolific inventor who filed for over 400 patents, 249 in his own name and many jointly with others. On Aug. 11, 1885, Van Depoele was granted a patent for an overhead conductor. Later that year he installed his overhead traction system in South Bend, Ind. It was the first practical street railway in the United States, according to Intellectual Property Owners, Inc. Summer secret gifts were revealed and pairs were exchanged.

Members who attended were Joyce Allred, Bunny Anderson, Mary Bartlett, Carolyn Baxter, Ruth Black, Kyleene Gentry, Mary Herring, Sharon Hodges, Betty Lady, JoAnn Lane, Sandra Martin, Susie McGee, Gladys Merritt, Bettye Owen, Lucy Rogers, Carrell Ann Simmons, Mysedia Smith, Marcia Snyder, Georgia Sparks, Debbie Tardy, Betty Taylor, Marline Watson, Mary Beth White, Judy Williams, Nicki Walser.

Ann Landers Drowning in Grief

DEAR ANN: I am a mother, 44 years of age (divorced), and have four children. My three daughters are wonderful—each one is a joy—but my son is a problem. Yesterday when I was in my bedroom reading I heard him and his closest friend talking and laughing. Suddenly it became clear that they were declaring their love for one another. I couldn't believe it. No

I understand why my son has never dated girls and why he and this young man spend so much time together.

I am completely bewildered and there is no one I can talk to. The boy is a college sophomore and there is no one I can talk to. The boy is a college sophomore, makes good grades, seems well-adjusted and normal in every way. He is not depressed or does he show any of the outward signs of homosexuality. Would therapy help? What should I do?—Beside Myself

DEAR ANN: Until the boy comes to you for help (and this may never happen) there is nothing you should do. Therapy is useless unless a person feels the need for it.

If you are "Beside Yourself" I suggest that you get some counseling so you can learn to accept your son as he is. From your letter I get the impression the boy is perfectly content with his life as it is.

DEAR ANN: Occasionally you run something of value. "Author Unknown." I hope you will print this poem which I have carried in my wallet for years. It made me a better person.—From Idaho

I have never sat on a bus, at a dinner party, by the pool, or in a doctor's office in my entire life that I didn't find myself next to the parent of a college over-achiever.

You know the ones I mean. The parents whose son or daughter was the recipient of a four-year-all-expense-paid scholarship to one of the Big Ten schools that is recognizable by a single letter on a T-shirt.

The kid who turned down 12 other schools because they didn't offer Conversational Arabic, didn't graduate one Secretary of State, and discriminated against accepting 13-year-olds in the Freshman class.

I have the kid who, sometimes during the last two weeks of August, rolls out of bed and announces, "Hey, college starts in another two or three weeks, I'd better get it on."

After polite, but firm refusals from Harvard, Yale, Duke and Dartmouth, they work their way across the country... Ohio State, Missouri, Colorado, Tulane and San Diego.

As the time gets shorter, catalogues start coming in from places I never knew existed: Alpha Frisbee College (a free car tune-up for every 16 credit hours), Eddie's Business School of Massage and Acupuncture of Moline, and Guam School of Technology for Losers.

One day I picked up a catalogue from a school in Hawaii. Under "Location Of Campus," were explicit directions for jumping from a boat in a cork vest and swimming ashore with your luggage.

"The trouble with you," I told my son, "is that you don't plan ahead. You knew you were going to graduate at least three hours before they awarded the diplomas. You should have..."

"Don't worry, Mom. I have found a college. It's accredited, has absolutely no standards whatsoever, and is small enough to give individual attention."

"When do classes begin?"

"Whenever I get there."

"Is it in the free world?"

"Let me just say that it accepts five major credit cards."

I don't mind wearing a T-shirt with a big D on it, but I feel like a fool driving around with a bumper sticker reading, "SEND DOO DAH TO THE ROSE BOWL!"

Garden Club Slates Bric-A-Brac Sale

Members of Hereford Garden Club made plans Friday afternoon for a Bric-a-Brac sale, scheduled from 9 a.m. - 5 p.m. Sept. 16 at the Garden Club Center. During their first business session of the 1977-78 club year, Mrs. D.N. Garner, club president, called the meeting to order in the Garden Center.

Mrs. Keith Simmer and Mrs. P.H. Gilliland were welcomed as new members of the garden club.

Plans for a club bazaar, scheduled Nov. 18, were tentatively discussed.

Mrs. R.L. Ethridge presented the program, "The Mechanics of Arranging Flowers" for her fellow gardeners.

Mrs. Ethridge who is a National Judge, demonstrated the numerous types of floral designs, stating that it is no longer required that an arrangement be symmetrical.

Other members, not yet mentioned, who were present for Friday's meeting were Meses. Ben Childers, H.R. Cocanougher, O.G. Hill, Sr., W.C. Hromas, Aaron Hutto, J.N. Jacobsen, Jr., Edgar Lemons, G.W. Newsom, Alfred Smith, A.M. Stoy, S.S. Williams, Jack Wilcox, R.L. Wilson and Simmer.

Friedrich Engels, who wrote the Communist Manifesto with Karl Marx, died at the age of 75.

Elkettes Elect New President

Joyce Walker advanced to the position of president of the Hereford Elkettes Wednesday following the resignation of president-elect Ruth Hobbs. The group convened at BPOE Lodge.

Rosie Tohm was named vice president, the post held by Mrs. Walker.

During business, the main topic was the Elk's recent carnival for Muscular Dystrophy, which netted a record-breaking total of $5,570.39. The Elkettes expressed appreciation to local merchants and individuals who helped the Elks in their annual benefit carnival. Also, the auxiliary women agreed to pay the carnival's candy bill.

A reminder was issued for all Elks, their wives and Elkettes to travel to the Veteran's Hospital in Amagillo Sept. 24 to present a program and bingo game for the hospital patients.

It was announced that the Elkettes took first place among local bowling leagues recently, receiving a trophy for their winning efforts.

A roast beef supper was planned Saturday, Sept. 17 at the Elk Lodge. The meal will cost $1 per plate.

The Elkettes were reminded to submit ideas for table decorations and corsages during the next meeting. These ideas will be utilized during the State convention to be held in Amarillo.

Debbie Morgan and Lou Huddleston were welcomed as new members.

Refreshments were served by Louella Manning to Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Tohm, Nanah Braly, Martha Bridges, Bonnie Johnson, Karrol Rettman, Pat Stevens and Debbie Morgan.

Latvia was admitted to the U.S.S.R. as the 14th Soviet Republic on Aug. 3, 1940.

Davis Rallies Cougars Over Crippled Bruins

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
AP Sports Writer

HOUSTON (AP) - Houston quarterback Danny Davis, whose midas touch propelled the Cougars to national prominence a year ago, spent the first half of Monday night's nationally televised game against UCLA looking for his magic. Davis found the groove just as the 11th ranked Bruins lost theirs in the second half and the swashbuckling junior quarterback whipped UH to a pair of high-tension touchdown drives to nip the Bruins 17-13.

By game's end, Davis had gone from goat to hero and upstaged Rick Bashore, UCLA's sophomore quarterback, who had engineered the Bruins to a 13-3 halftime lead.

Kenny Hatfield booted a 34-yard field goal for Houston's first half scoring. Davis climaxed a 93-yard drive in the third quarter with a one-yard plunge and Dyral Thomas scored the winning TD with a nine-yard run with 11:03 left in the game.

Bashore and the Bruins unraveled in the second half however when they drove to Houston's seven, six, and nine yard lines but came away pointless each time. After hitting nine of 11 passes in the first half, Bashore missed his first six attempts of the second half.

Despite his decisive turnaround performance, Davis said he was disappointed. "I haven't matured the way I thought I would," said Davis, who completed 11 of 18 passes for 147 yards and rushed another 68 yards on 18 carries. "The team played well, but I didn't play the way I should have."

Bashore, who learned only a few hours before kickoff that he would start ahead of junior Steve Bukich, looked more like the veteran in the first half.

After directing the Bruins to field goals of 36 and 31 yards by Frank Corral, he flipped a 20-yard touchdown shot to flanker Homer Butler with 15 seconds to go in the half. The Bruins, coming off a 9-2-1 season, took a 13-3 lead and plenty of confidence into the dressing room at halftime.

But it was Davis and the big play Cougars who put it together in the second half.

"A lot of people will say we were lucky," Davis said. "We have to improve our defense. The pressure was on our defense but it showed a lot of pride. The entire team showed pride."

The Bruins drove to Houston's nine with the second half kickoff but two rushing losses and a pair of 15-yard penalties forced UCLA to punt from the Houston 45.

Davis then took Houston 93 yards to paydirt. UCLA next reached Houston's six before Bashore missed two passes and sub kicker Mike Coulter missed a 23-yard field goal try.

Moments later, the Bruins got the ball at the Houston 27 when Davis fumbled but Coulter again missed a 27-yard field goal attempt.

This time Davis reeled off an 80-yard drive with Thomas going the final nine yards to complete the comeback.

"We should have scored a lot more points," said Bashore, reliving his missed opportunities inside Houston's 10. "I should have got it up higher on a third down incompleteness into the end zone."

Bashore finished the game with 14 completions in 25 attempts for 245 yards and one touchdown and drew praise from Coach Terry Donahue.

"I really don't know until I look at the film, but Bashore looked pretty well for his first game," Donahue said.

The Bashore to Butler combinations almost proved too much for the Cougars. Butler finished with six catches for 145 yards.

The loss was especially costly injury-wise for the Bruins, who lost Corral with a possible jaw fracture and 1,000-yard rusher Theotis Brown with a dislocated elbow. Donahue said both would miss at least six weeks.

Houston Coach Bill Yeoman said he was happy to have the first game over.

"I don't know if this was our toughest opener ever but if it wasn't I'm glad I don't remember the others," he said.

Yeoman likely will remember this one, however. It was the 100th victory of his coaching career.

Sports Shorts

HOUSTON (AP) - Despite a 2-4 preseason record and five starters on the injury list, Houston Oiler Coach O.A. "Bum" Phillips said Monday he labels the exhibition season a success.

"The scoreboard wasn't always like we wanted it but we feel we've established something that you have to have in the NFL to win a running game," Phillips said. "We'll have 14 or 15 new faces this season and when you have changes that usually means the new players are better."

"That's one-third of our team so you'd have to say we're about one-third better than last year."

Houston's injury list will...

to improve however for Phillips' figures to prove correct.

Five starters, including quarterback Dan Pastorini, were hobbled following Saturday's 20-16 loss to New Orleans in the final preseason game.

Nieman Speeds Up Panel Pace

Brand publisher Speedy Nieman made his move the second week of the "Fearless Forecasters" panel with a 20-6 mark as college football underwent its first full slate of action. Nieman trails panel leader Joyce Shipp by one guess overall and owns a 37-15 record. Mrs. Shipp is on top with a 38-14 mark after registering an 18-8 mark last week.

Sports editor Bob Nigh is third, one guess behind Nieman with a 36-16 record, while Craig Nieman (33-19) and Paul Sims (31-21) bring up the rear.

The entire panel was fooled on four games in the second week. The group as a whole missed the California win over Tennessee in college action and the Littlefield win over Levelland, the Dumas beating of Pampa and Stinnett victory over Dalhart in high school play.

Nieman's other misses included the Memphis upset of Childress and Olton's vanquishing of Abernathy. Mrs. Shipp missed the same games already mentioned and in addition was wrong in picking Palo Duro over Hereford and Purdue over Michigan State.

Nigh was correct in tabbing the Herd to win, the only other panel member besides the elder Nieman to do so, but missed out by picking Gruver over Panhandle and El Paso Andress over Caprock.

Craig Nieman was one up on the panel by picking the shocker win by Memphis over Childress, but lost the advantage in being the only panelist to pick Lubbock High in the Westerner loss to Estacado.

Sims was amiss on two guesses the rest of the panel was correct on. He erred in tabbing UCLA over Houston and in picking Petersburg over Idalou.

The Monterey-Midland game listed on the contest last week was incorrect due to a misprint in a schedule. All picks on that particular game were counted correct in the contest as well as on the panel.

Vets Axed By Allen

By DICK JOYCE
AP Sports Writer

George Allen has determined that some of his Over-the-Hill Gang actually are over the hill.

Tight end Jerry Smith, a 12-year veteran, and 11-year pro Brig Owens, safety, were dropped by the Washington Redskins Monday as National Football League clubs reduced their rosters to 43 in the final cutdown before the regular season starts on Sunday.

Other veterans placed on waivers Monday included running back Jim Bertelsen and placekicker Tom Dempsey of the Los Angeles Rams, wide receiver Larry Walton, quarterback Steve Ramsey of the New York Giants and Alden Roche, a defensive lineman, by the Baltimore Colts.

Meantime, defensive tackle Mike McCoy, a Green Bay Packer mainstay since 1970, was dealt to the Super Bowl champion Oakland Raiders for Herb McMath, a reserve offensive lineman, and two future draft choices.

The departure of the 29-year-old Ramsey left the Giants with three quarterbacks - Jerry Goldsteyn, Joe Pisarcik and Randy Dean. None have played in an NFL regular season game. The Giants had dealt QB Craig Morton to Denver for Ramsey during the off-season, but Ramsey saw little preseason action.

The Colts just acquired Roche, 32, a seven-year veteran, from Green Bay last week, but elected not to keep him, canceling the transfer of a draft choice to the Packers.

In other trades Monday, the Denver Broncos acquired running back Jim Jensen from the Dallas Cowboys and the St. Louis Cardinals obtained middle linebacker Marv Kellem from the Pittsburgh Steelers. Dallas and Pittsburgh will receive future draft choices in exchange.

Green Bay also cut placekicker Mirro Roder, saying that Chester Marcol has recovered from his pulled muscle and is expected to start in Sunday's opener against New Orleans.

Several players were placed on the injury reserve list, which means they cannot play this season.

Orioles Creep Up On Yanks, Bosox

By WILLIAM R. BARNARD
AP Sports Writer

The New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox open a crucial three-game series tonight. And while they try to knock each other off they should also be warned not to forget about the Baltimore Orioles.

Earl Weaver's crew has nowhere near the hitting firepower of the Yanks and Red Sox, but the veteran Oriole skipper has blended good pitching and defense with a scrappy offense to come up with a winner.

The Orioles got a good performance from three-time Cy Young Award winner Jim Palmer Monday night and two RBI singles from part-time catcher Dave Skaggs for a 6-3 victory over the Toronto Blue Jays.

That left the Orioles just 2½ games behind the leading Yanks in the American League East and one game behind the Red Sox.

In other AL games, Cleveland bombed Detroit 8-1. Texas nipped California 3-2 and the Chicago White Sox whipped the Minnesota Twins 7-3. Oakland and runaway West leader Kansas City scheduled a doubleheader tonight when Monday night's game was postponed because of rain after one scoreless inning.

Ironically, the Orioles have stayed close all year although it's been an off season for Palmer - at least for him. He's 16-11.

Palmer had pitched a shutout in his previous outing, and he threw eight scoreless innings Monday night before asking to be taken out because his arm stiffened.

The Blue Jays got all three of their runs in the ninth off relievers Dennis and Tippy Martinez on Steve Stagg's two-run triple and a fielder's choice.

Indians 8, Tigers 1
Paul Dade drove in three runs and Wayne Garland pitched a six-hitter to end a personal five-game losing string and Cleveland's six-game losing streak. It was the first win for Garland, 11-18, since Aug. 14, sending Detroit to its sixth straight loss.

Rangers 3, Angels 2

Dock Ellis and reliever Len Barker combined on an eight-hitter as Texas outlasted California and spoiled Nolan Ryan's bid for his 20th victory.

Barker relieved Ellis in the ninth inning and allowed a two-run single by Dave Chalk. But he held on to pick up his first major league save.

White Sox 7, Minnesota 3

Bob Coluccio and Oscar Gamble both delivered two-run singles in a five-run sixth inning to carry Chicago over Minnesota.

Jorge Orta had two RBI singles for the White Sox, who before the game announced that Manager Bob Lemon and his entire coaching staff had been rehired for the 1978 season. Reliever Dave Hamilton, 4-4, picked up the victory with 3 2-3 innings of shutout pitching.

The White Sox are eight games behind Kansas City in the West.

Yanks Favored In Ryder Cup Match

MANCHESTER, England (AP) - The United States' complete disaster. The Americans, sporting talent-laden team is so heavily favored it is operating under a handicap in the biennial Ryder Cup golf matches.

"We can't win," said Tom Watson, holder of the British Open, Masters and three other American titles.

"If we win," he said and faked a yawn, "it's ho-hum; that's what we are supposed to do. And if we lose, it's a complete disaster. The Americans, sporting perhaps their strongest team ever, hold a 17-3 record with one tie in the matches against the leading professionals from Great Britain and Ireland. Since 1933, the American record is 15-1-1. And, with Watson and other newcomers Hubert Green and Lanny Wadkins expected to play major roles, the Americans are overwhelming favorites again.

Today
In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Tuesday, September 13th, the 256th day of 1977. There are 109 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1788, the U.S. Constitutional Convention authorized the first national elections in the United States.

On this date:
In 1759, during the French and Indian War, the British defeated the French on the Plains of Abraham overlooking Quebec.

In 1814, Francis Scott Key was detained aboard a British warship bombarding Fort McHenry, near Baltimore. The next morning he wrote "The Star Spangled Banner."

In 1943, Chiang Kai-shek became President of China.

In 1954, Maine elected its first Democratic governor in 20 years, Edmund Muskie.

In 1955, West Germany and the Soviet Union established diplomatic relations.

In 1960, Republican presidential nominee Richard Nixon said the American people would accept Democratic nominee John Kennedy's Roman Catholicism without any further questioning.

Ten years ago: A state supreme court judge ordered an end to a three-day teachers' strike in New York City-but the teachers' union said it would defy the order.

Five years ago: Secretary of State Henry Kissinger completed talks with leaders at the Kremlin.

One year ago: The Ford administration decided to cast a veto against Vietnamese membership in the United Nations.

Today's birthday: Actress Claudette Colbert is 72 years old.

Thought for today: A man usually falls in love with the woman who asks the kind of question he is able to answer-actor Ronald Colman.

Hance
Announces
For Office

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - State Sen. Kent Hance, D-Lubbock, announced Monday he will seek the office U.S. Rep. George Mahon, D-Tex., first won 10 years before Hance was born.

Hance, 34, announced his candidacy at news conferences at several points in Mahon's Panhandle district, his Capitol office said.

"As a freshman in Congress, Ken Hance is not going to be a George Mahon. I do not have the 44 years' experience, but neither will anyone else in the race.

"What I offer the voters of this district is the same determination and hard work that I achieved as your state senator," Hance said.

The people in his district "do not want Congress to continue further into the role of 'Big Brother,' and fewer government agencies hampering the progress of their farms, businesses, factories, natural resources, homes and schools.

Realistically, that is what all Americans want, and on one can tell me that we can not turn this direction of government interference," he said.

A U.S. Department of Agriculture survey shows that Delaware farmers intend to increase soybean acreage this year 8 per cent over last year, putting the total at about 200,000 acres.

The nation's farmers this year will plant 56.7 million acres of soybeans - almost 11 per cent more than last year - and 83.9 million acres of corn - about 2 per cent less than last year - according to a U.S. Department of Agriculture projection.

Tip-Credit Provision
Studied by Congress

NEW YORK (AP) - Should Americans help subsidize minimum wages through tips?

Congress seems to be opposing that idea with provisions in both the House and Senate versions of minimum wage law.

Both bills would increase the minimum wage from $2.30 an hour to $2.65 for all workers and set up a formula for cost-of-living adjustments in future years.

But they also take aim at a long-standing provision in minimum wage laws that credit a portion of the tips earned by waiters, bartenders, doormen and others toward meeting the minimum wage.

Under current law, as much as half of an employee's minimum wage may be met through the tip-credit provision.

A waitress may be paid at an hourly rate of $1.14 an hour, and still meet the minimum wage, providing her tips average enough to make her total earnings at least $2.30 an hour.

A Senate version of the minimum-wage bill, approved by the Senate Labor subcommittee this past week, proposed to reduce the tip-credit from a maximum of 50 per cent to 45 per cent initially and gradually phase it out entirely by 1983.

Unions and others critics of the tip credit provision argue that the system is unfair to employees and forces the public to pay wages that should be paid by employers.

But restaurant owners see that view as unrealistic and complain that if fails to take into account full earnings a worker receives - regardless of the source.

The hourly earnings for a waitress in a coffee shop currently averages between $4 and $5 an hour including tips and wages, the National Restaurant Association estimates.

"What Congress is doing is thinking only in terms of wages," says a spokesman for the association, which represents about 125,000 food service establishments.

He estimates that the net effect of eliminating the tip-credit provision will be the loss of jobs for waiters, waitresses, doormen and others who depend partly on tips.

The association has no figures on projected job losses for the 2.4 million food-service employees who work in "tipped jobs." But it estimates the combined effect of increasing the minimum wage and reducing or eliminating the tip credit would be the loss of about 175,000 jobs among the eight million workers in the food-service industry.

In other business developments last week:

-President Carter and Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau announced agreement on a plan to build a trans-Canada pipeline that would transport natural gas from Alaska to the lower 48 states. The 2,700-mile route represented something of a compromise over two other routes and still must be approved by each country's legislative body.

If plans are implemented, the $10 billion pipeline would be privately constructed by a consortium headed by Northwest Pipeline Corp. of Salt Lake City and Foothills Pipe Lines Ltd. of Calgary, Alberta.

-The government's investigation into alleged questionable financial practices by President Carter's budget director Bert Lance widened. The Senate Governmental Affairs Committee opened hearings on financial dealings by the former Georgia banker and planned to call Lance to testify next week.

-The government reported a modest increase in capital-spending plans of U.S. businesses. The Labor Department's quarterly survey showed businesses planned to spend $136.49 billion on new plants and equipment this year. That's an increase of 13.2 per cent from 1976 spending, or about 8.1 per cent when adjusted for inflation.

-Americans owed a total of $198.97 billion through various installment plans and credit card systems at the end of July, an increase of 14.4 per cent from installment credit a year earlier, the Federal Reserve Board said. The board reported a strong $2.32 billion increase in consumer installment credit in July, up from a gain of $2.28 billion the previous month but less than the $2.52 billion increase reported in May.

New lending was down 1.1 per cent, at $18.42 billion, and repayments were off 1.4 per cent at $16.10 billion from record levels in June. But there were increases in home improvement credit, bank credit card debt and in miscellaneous loans from commercial banks and finance companies.

-In a separate report, the Fed announced a surprisingly large rise in the nation's money supply, rekindling worries over inflation and rising interest rates in the investment and business community.

The Fed had been tightening credit-pushing up interest rates through the summer in an effort to keep the too-rapid monetary growth from fueling inflation.

The Fed reported $3 billion increase in the nation's basic money supply to $330.4 billion in the week ended Aug. 31 and a similar rise in its more broadly defined category, which includes time deposits at commercial banks.

ENERGY-SAVING HOMES

NEW YORK (AP) - Builders of energy-conserving homes report their houses are "selling well," according to a recent survey conducted by Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corp.

Seven hundred energy-conserving home builders in 50 states were sampled and responses to a detailed questionnaire were received from 238 builders in 42 states, each of whom built an average of 37 homes a year.

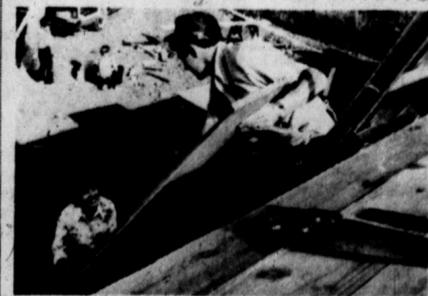

Eighty-nine percent of the respondents, whose energy-con-servicing homes were completed and had been on the market long enough to evaluate market acceptance, said their homes were "selling well."

The survey was initiated to determine the extent of energy-saving construction activity around the country and to compile a profile of the construction techniques and applications used by builders.

The devastating fire that destroyed much of Chicago in 1871 claimed about 250 lives and caused an estimated $196 million in damage.

Price of Video Recorders
Not Expected To Nosedive

NEW YORK (AP) - Don't expect the prices of video cassette recorder-players, the electronic machines that can copy and replay TV programs at your convenience, to nosedive as sales pick up.

That might have been the case with color television, digital watches and hand-held electronic calculators but, it is said, the experience isn't going to be repeated.

That's an opinion, and you might feel justified in challenging it. But the opinion belongs to RCA, and the electronics giant has analyzed its market so precisely it is convinced it knows what to expect.

"Our strategy was not to set a price that would return a normal profit in the introductory stage," said Jack Sauter, a marketing executive. "Our price is based on the assumption we have been in the market one year."

That is, he explains, the $1,000 tag affixed to RCA's video recorder-player, to go on sale Oct. 1, discounts much of the start-up costs and assumes that sales already have reached a substantial volume.

Moreover, he adds, the learning experience is different from that of color TV, watches and calculators. "You don't have the same technological learning curve," he said. "This is not really new. The science was developed 30 years ago and we have been making studio equipment for many years."

Still, if RCA's projections of a billion-dollar sales level within three years is correct, it would seem that those who wait might also save. Perhaps $500? "I don't see it," said Sauter emphatically.

What is certain is that here indeed is a brand-new business just off the pad, and that already the price is $300 less than that of the company that launched it, Sony. Still, RCA dealers are told theirs is "the best profit picture of the year."

Just as certain is the source of supply. Although about 15 brand names soon will be available, every one of them is made in Japan. RCA's is produced for it by Matsushita.

Why Japan? "They have done the pioneering in the mechanical end," said Sauter, vice president-marketing of the consumer electronics division.

"It's nice to do the inventing yourself," he said. "But if you're too late it isn't very rewarding. We felt timing was important; now is the time to market it." RCA, he indicated, had the electronics know-how, but lagged mechanically.

Textbook Committee
Rejects Literature

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - The State Textbook Committee unanimously rejected Monday a junior high school literature series that had been blasted for an essay on "eating babies."

Not a single vote was cast for McCormick-Mathers' eighth grade "New Dimensions in Literature" as the committee began its first day of voting on proposed new textbooks.

The seventh grade "New Dimensions in Literature" also got no votes.

Textbook protester Norma Gabler of Longview complained at hearings in August that both editions of the series were too gory and had a preoccupation with death.

She singled out an essay in the eighth grade texts, Jonathan Swift's "A Modest Proposal" and almost wept as she contended that satire suggested that cannibalism was acceptable. Swift's 1729 essay satirized social theorists and the English gentry by suggesting that Irish over-population could be alleviated by using Irish infants as table delicacies.

The committee defeated, 9-5, a motion to recommend alternate junior high literature selections in addition to the basic five.

Klaus Driessen of Arlington

"Eating babies is not funny!" Mrs. Gabler said at the hearing.

The committee did recommend, with 11 out of 15 possible votes, Ginn's "Introduction to Literature" for seventh graders, despite Mrs. Gabler's contention that some stories - such as Poe's "The Telltale Heart" - were too gory.

"New Dimensions in Literature" also was protested by the National Organization of Women.

NOW also scored with rejection of "Northern Lights," a seventh-grade reader which the feminist group criticized for using the generic "he" for too many stories with male protagonists.

A sample criticism: the book includes a story called "The Big Spring" which is "about a male whale. Female treated only as a mother."

The committee defeated, 9-5, a motion to recommend alternate junior high literature selections in addition to the basic five.

Three Arrested In Presley Vandalism

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) - Police arrested three young Arkansas men early Monday after they allegedly ripped metal musical notes and stone from the gates and wall outside the late Elvis Presley's home.

The three, all from Little Rock, were identified as Nicholas W. Baldwin, 20, Thomas J. Kamphuis, 18, and Marcus Worth Legue, 18.

Officers F.E. Baltz and K.O. McKinnon made the arrests. They said a security guard at Presley's Graceland mansion first spotted the trio about 3 a.m.

"All three ran up at the same time, jerked a piece loose and then jumped into a car and took off before the guard could get out of his guardhouse and stop them," the officers said.

The guard alerted police and provided a description of the men, the car and the license number. A traffic officer spotted the car heading for the Memphis-Arkansas bridge and gave chase.

The officer caught up with the car before it reached the Arkansas side of the bridge and officers Baltz and McKinnon, who were providing backup, made the arrest.

Police said they also found drugs in the car and Metro Narcotics Squad officers were investigating.

State Department Desires Palestinians At Peace Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Carter administration, in a further shift of its Middle East policy, is on the verge of asserting a need for Palestinian representation in Arab-Israeli peace talks.

The State Department will call soon for a Palestinian role at the Geneva conference the administration is trying to set up before the end of the year, sources said.

The move is being made despite the failure of the Palestinian Liberation Organization governing council to approve U.N. Security Council resolutions implicitly recognizing Israel's right to exist.

The assertion that the Palestinians should be at the peace table would be made without specific reference to the PLO. At the same time, though, department officials are expected to again request that Yasir Arafat's organization support the U.N. resolutions, which also call for a peaceful settlement in the Middle East.

The administration move continues the process of cultivating the Palestinians, who President Carter had declared are entitled to a "homeland." This policy has caused anxiety in Israel and among its supporters. Israel considers the PLO, which is recognized by the Arab states as the sole representative of Palestinians, as a terrorist organization.

Earlier this summer, while touring the Middle East, Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance said the PLO no longer needs to change its covenant, which is committed to the dismantling of the Jewish state, provided it approves the U.N.

resolutions 242, adopted in 1967, and 338, in 1973. Even so, the council at a subsequent meeting in Damascus refused to implicitly recognize Israel and accused the United States as being part of a Zionist conspiracy.

Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan is due here within the week with a proposed Israeli peace agreement with the Arab states. Prime Minister Menachem Begin's government repeatedly has barred any talks with the PLO, its offices or members, but said Palestinians from the West Bank of the Jordan River could be at the peace table.

Book Blasts Reactors

WASHINGTON (AP) - Denis Hayes, the man who organized the 1970 "Earth Day" environmental movement, says the United States and the world should abandon nuclear power and turn to solar energy instead, or else face a future of increasing danger and authoritarian government.

In a book published Saturday, entitled "Rays of Hope - The Transition To A Post-Petroleum World," Hayes argues that even peaceful nuclear power reactors will inevitably carry the threat of accidental radiation releases, he spread of nuclear weapons, sabotage and terrorism.

Complete safeguarding of nuclear installations and fuels, Hayes contends, would require serious new limits on personal freedom.

Hayes, now a researcher for the Worldwatch Institute, a private non-profit study group, says solar energy on the other hand, would be safe and decentralized - scattered widely in individual units and not subject to concentrated control by government or huge corporations.

Hayes' views are contradicted to a large extent by most government and industry officials: the nuclear industry claims that nuclear power is safe against major accidents; president Carter wants to halt the spread of nuclear fuel processing abroad, limit the spread of weapons, and go slow on development of the plutonium-producing "breeder reactor," but supports substantial nuclear power increases; and the general view is that solar energy can not substitute for nuclear or fossil-fuel energy in a major way in the foreseeable future.

Hayes disagrees. His 240-page book, based on research and a trip around the world that included interviews with a number of foreign energy officials, charges that conventional energy policies have failed to consider fully their environmental, social and political consequences.

"The range of possible energy options is narrowed," Hayes writes, "by factors other than just the scarcity of certain fuels."

"Long before all the earth's coal has been burned, for example, coal use may be halted by the impact of the rising atmospheric carbon dioxide levels on climate."

"In the developed nations,"

Hayes notes, "a lack of water in the American West, a scarcity of suitable land in the Netherlands, and a lack of healthful air over much of Japan have all acted as brakes on energy growth."

While there is strong disagreement by some energy experts with Hayes' criticisms of nuclear power and coal, there is little criticism of solar energy - if, in fact, it can be harnessed.

As now envisioned, it would create no additional air or water pollution, would add no heat that is not reaching the earth anyway, and would not generate radiation, and would carry few risks of serious accident.

But there is disagreement whether solar energy is as close to practical, economical operation on a large scale as Hayes believes, and whether it can ever provide enough energy to sustain society at a high standard of living.

Kidnap Victim Released Unharmed

MARYVILLE, Tenn. (AP) - A banker's daughter held for a $150,000 ransom says her kidnapers treated her well during her 56 hours and 25 minutes in captivity. They even gave her $25 as they set her free in a North Carolina motel parking lot.

Two suspects arrested, and jailed in Charlotte, N.C., faced a hearing Monday where officials will seek to remove them to Tennessee for trial.

"I was not hurt. I was well treated...They never threatened to hurt me at all," said Annette Adams, 19, who spoke with reporters Sunday in the driveway of her home here, 180 miles from Nashville, hours after she'd been freed.

Miss Adams - whose father,

W.C. Adams, is president of the Bank of Maryville - said she was blindfolded and moved from one motel to another during her captivity.

"I could usually tell where I was by leaks in the blindfold and such. I'd never seen them before but I'd know them if they walked up to me now," she said of her captors.

Police and FBI agents said the news media helped get the woman freed and helped in the recovery of about $148,000 of the ransom money by keeping silent about last Thursday's kidnaping.

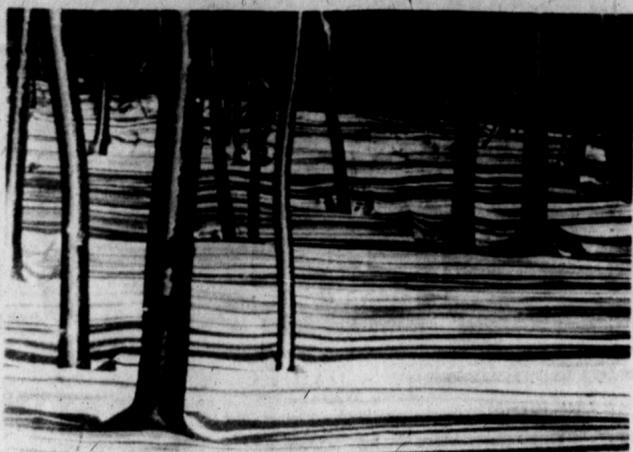

Federal officials has said the kidnapers threatened to kill their hostage if the abduction was publicized.

Police identified the suspects, arrested after a chase, as Shelby Ann Baker, 28, and Wayne Edward Garrity, 29, both of Statesville, N.C. They were arraigned Sunday on kidnaping charges.

As he was being led to jail Sunday, Garrity was heard by reporters to say that Miss Baker also had been kidnaped and was not involved criminally.

The first public television broadcasting service was started on Nov. 2, 1936, at Alexandra Palace in London. There were only about 100 television sets then in existence in England.

Although there are only about 6,000 stars visible to the naked eye, there are an estimated 100 billion in the Milky Way galaxy alone.

Israeli Government Launches Campaign

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) - Israelis Monday observed Rosh Hashana, the Jewish New Year, with prayers and picnics. Police were on stepped-up alert against terrorist attacks.

Armed guards were posted outside some synagogues and at the Wailing Wall in Jerusalem, Judaism's holiest shrine, were thousands gathered at sundown to usher in the Jewish year 5738.

Judaism follows a lunar calendar that according to tradition is calculated from the creation of the world, through all the generations listed in the Old Testament.

The holiday lasts until sundown Wednesday.

About 10,000 synagogues, some only temporary structures, were prepared for an estimated one million worshippers. Rabbinical authorities said the turnout was unusually high, and even included members of several dozen kibbutzim, (collective farms), which are traditional bastions of atheistic Marxism.

The increased price of synagogue seats - $150 in Tel Aviv's major temples - reflected the inflation-ridden economy that will continue to plague Israelis in the coming year. The 1976 inflation rate was 38 per cent.

Groups of Boy Scouts gathered on highways to hand out soft drinks to soldiers hitchhiking home for the holiday.

The Israeli government launched an impassioned "Israeli Come Home" campaign directed at the estimated 300,000 Israelis living overseas.

Immigration Minister David Levi recorded a message to the broadcast on 18 radio stations in the United States, Australia and South Africa saying, "Follow your hearts and leave the Diaspora. Come home. You are not lost and not our stepchildren." The Diaspora is a Jewish term for the world outside Israel.

The project is timed to coincide with Israel's 30th year of independence, whose anniversary is next May.

The government is offering returning Israelis such enticements as cheap housing, customs reductions on their household goods and help in finding jobs. Authorities say emigration stands at 20,000 a year and immigration, the lifeblood of the Jewish state, has dwindled to the same number.

Probe Launched In Use of Aircraft

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Justice Department's criminal fraud division is studying a new report by the comptroller of the currency which reportedly shows that Bert Lance widely used bank-owned aircraft for family and political purposes.

A spokesman for the Justice Department confirmed Sunday that the division had received the study. But he said its referral was routine and did not necessarily indicate there would be any prosecution.

President Carter, meanwhile, was said to be considering the postponement until next week of a news conference which almost certainly would be focused on the financial affairs of his budget director, including the question of whether Lance should resign.

Press Secretary Jody Powell said today no final decision has been made on whether to put off the session, originally scheduled for Wednesday. But he indicated the President may want to wait until Lance completes his testimony scheduled to begin Thursday before the Senate Government Affairs Committee.

In Lance's native Georgia, the president-elect of the American Bankers Association said today that the Lance affair "is casting a poll over the banking industry...it may give banking a black eye if it goes unchallenged."

A.A. Mulligan, in a speech prepared for the National Bank Card Convention in Atlanta, said he doesn't know if Lance actually has done anything wrong, but some of the alleged activities "are clearly not typical of banks in this country."

"I see red whenever I hear anyone dismiss the allegations about overdrafts and improper disclosure about loans as being 'just typical business practices,'" Mulligan said.

While confirming the existence of the comptroller's report, the Justice Department spokesman refused to discuss the contents.

But the Washington Post said in today's editions that the report says Lance, who heads the Office of Management and Budget, used two planes owned by the Georgia banks he headed to take personal vacations, to fly his children to school, to commute and to take part in politics.

The report came amid new suggestions that Lance resign to avoid embarrassment to Carter and as the senate committee prepared for its second week of hearings into the case.

Injection Execution Stayed

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - Kenneth Granviel's execution, set for Friday as the first using Texas' new injection method, was stayed today by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

The court put off the execution pending its review of habeas corpus proceedings filed with the Fort Worth court that sentenced Granviel to die in the murder of three women and two children in 1974.

A hearing was held in Fort Worth on Friday, and the appeals court now awaits a decision by the trial judge and submission of the transcript. The high court routinely reviews all habeas corpus actions.

Granviel's lawyers, Frank W. Sullivan III and Charles Dickens contend the death by injection law, which took effect Aug. 29, is unconstitutionally "vague and indefinite because it does not specify what substance or substances are to be used."

Director W.J. Estelle of the Texas Department of Corrections selected sodium thiopental, a fast-acting general anesthetic that is supposed to cause death within seconds if a large enough dose is administered.
