

AROUND TOWN

SIGHTS, FACES SEEN

Mark Twain was probably right, because nobody is doing anything about the rain, except talking about it, and this week it has certainly been the number one topic of discussion. To inject a philosophical note, there's one thing we've noticed. Even when the people don't like it, even when they don't want it, and even when it means a heavy financial loss, we haven't seen a single person get right out in the downpour, shaking their fists at Mother nature and shout, "I won't have it!" Its true in practically 100 per cent of the cases that people run for cover, and hope for the best. They know that no matter how much they stew and fuss it's going to rain anyhow, so people just let it rain. Too bad we don't all realize its true in a lot of cases that getting all worked up over some incident isn't going to change them any, and we'd be better off just to run for cover and hope for the best.

Before Wheeler Sears went off to summer camp he promised faithfully that he'd write, so several days ago his father, Henry Sears, got the following letter from his young son: "Dear Dad, I said I'd write. I'd write more, but I can't spell the words. Love, Wheeler."

The post office planned to close on Clean-Up day and so the post office closed. They had juggled their schedules around to provide for the holiday, and last minute un-juggling wasn't possible with their 40 hour week, said Jim Lipscomb. However, the harassed crew was decrying their plight on Friday, and the whole incident served as a good intention that backfired, according to the employees.

Sometimes, of course, Americans are prone to become slightly smug because they do hold life membership in quite a wonderful organization, the United States of America. Because of its natural resources, its technology and its standard of living, it holds an enviable place in the family of nations. However, occasionally we are reminded that not everybody in the world shares a continual, ever-gratified, regard for our nation. Eugenio V. Pesqueira, Mexican consul of Amarillo, reminded Rotarians Friday of the Mexican worker's sorrowful lament, "Poor Mexico, poor Mexico; so far from God and so close to the United States."

Carroll Leland Whiteside, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Whiteside, had heard that eight hours hard labor in the Clean-Up Drive would win him a free-pass to the swimming pool so Carroll manfully tackled the job. As the deadline drew closer and Carroll still had work to do, he determined to win that pass. So Wednesday, during the downpour of rain, Mrs. Whiteside looked out the window and there was her third-grader son, dressed in fur lined cap, sweater, swimming trunks and boots going after the weeds.

Hand in hand with the hail-and-wind-damage worry, comes a new sidelight. The McGee clan had gathered to discuss their crop prospects, when they discovered that Lawrence McGee, alone of the bunch, hadn't received any hail. As they congratulated him, Lawrence replied, "Yes, I haven't been hailed out yet, but it doesn't quit raining, the frogs are going to tromp into the ground just the same."

Workmen at Pittman's Grain elevator are still in the process of repainting the place. Delayed by you-know-what, they've been working on the job off and on for the past month. And in case any of the mathematically minded citizens of town are wondering how many gallons of paint it takes to cover all those surfaces Mac Pittman says about 2,000 gallons.

Mexican Consul Speaks to Club

By PHYLLIS RADOVICH
"Relations between the United States and Mexico have been improving every since the advent of the Good Neighbor policy, and we hope to continue strengthening those ties," said Eugenio V. Pesqueira, consul from Mexico to Amarillo, who spoke at the Rotary luncheon Friday in the Lions-Rotary Hall.

He emphasized that the exchange of students, the international trade, and the reciprocal aid offered each country during the past World War II had all served to tighten the bonds between the two neighboring nations.

The consul, a small, dark man who wore a conservative gray suit with a red-splashed tie, spoke with a marked accent. His talk was clear, though not dynamic, and he spoke with the characteristic subtlety of a trained diplomat, outlining the history and development of his country.

Pesqueira, trained by experience in the field of international relations, has done government work in North America for the past 21 years, coming here from a tour of duty in Canada. He was introduced at the meeting by Bob Brummell, program chairman, and was accompanied to Hereford by his young, teen age son.

Interested in Colleges
"I have been particularly interested in working with your colleges in this part of Texas, for when our Mexican students who attend your Panhandle colleges return to their own country, they carry with them not only their degree, but also a vivid impression of the average American citizen," he said.

He has also been encouraging student tours of his home country, and since he became consul six different groups of students from Texas Tech, four from West Texas and several from Wayland have gone to Mexico.

The consul pointed out that Mexico is depending heavily on trade with the U. S. for it exports more products to her than to any other nation and imported more products from her than from any other nation. The U. S. benefits, also, from this exchange of goods and Texas in particular reaps the rewards as almost all traffic to Mexico goes through Texas sea or border ports.

Industrialization
Discounting the fear of many American capitalists that increased industrialization of Mexico would cut our trade markets there, he pointed out Canada as a good example of a country that actually began to import more goods from the United States as

Twenty-One Countries Will Be Represented Here In Visiting International Farm Group

The International Farm Group scheduling a visit to Hereford two weeks from today will include 92 representatives from 21 countries scattered over the globe, from India to Iceland and from Sweden to South Rhodesia.

Official confirmation of the homecomings of Hereford's expected guests came this week to Faust Collier, president of the Rotary Club which will entertain them at breakfast.

The members of the Rotary Club and the Farm Bureau, the organization that will be official hosts during the breakfast and tour of surrounding farmlands, seem pretty excited about their guests, an enthusiasm that apparently is shared by the citizens of Hereford, as a whole.

"In a way, it's just happen chance that we had this opportunity to meet these visitors, but we are sure feel mighty lucky about it. It's a real compliment to the town that their plans should allow for this stopover in the Panhandle and we do want to entertain them royally," said Collier.

Deaf Smith County Wheat

Here's wheat that will be among the first harvested in Deaf Smith this year. It is 200 acres of early Wichita variety on J. E. McCathern's place 15 miles out on the Harrison Highway and a mile south. He irrigated all of it twice and some of it three times and figures to harvest late this week. From the left, I. A. Burdine, J. P. Cleveland, S. A. McCathern and J. E. survey the situation. S. A. had the first Deaf Smith load in 1948, also early Wichita variety.

Wheat Variety Survey Released By Grain Improvement Program

The 1949 Miller's Buying Guide in the form of a colored map of the Oklahoma and Texas wheat territory was received today by this newspaper. Published by the Texas-Oklahoma Wheat Improvement Program and based on actual field surveys in every wheat county it puts the spotlight on the areas growing desirable varieties for milling and baking and a spotlight on the areas heavy in percentages of undesirable varieties.

Copies of the map will be used by all terminal and mill grain buyers in the Southwest during the present harvest to locate areas from which to purchase their wheat for the coming year's grind, according to Keats E. Soder, director of the improvement organization. The complete survey is held confidential to the flour millers, terminal and country elevator grain buyers, and wheat producers of the two states, at the request of Mr. Soder. However, locally the survey map shows:

Deaf Smith county wheat rates as 85 per cent acceptable, 5 per cent less desirable and 10 per cent undesirable. Oldham county is the same with a section in the Southeast corner of Oldham and the Northeast corner of Deaf Smith having a 16 per cent undesirable rating. An even smaller piece rates 26 per cent undesirable. Randall county rates high with 95 per cent acceptable, 2 per cent less desirable and 3 undesirable. The Southeast corner of Randall is 88-2-10. Castro county and southern Farmer county has a 90-5-5 rating. Northern Farmer rates 85-5-10. Curry county, N. M. is also 85 per cent acceptable but is 10 per cent less desirable and only 5 per cent undesirable.

Comparing the 1949 crop with the 1948 and 1947 crops from the standpoint of increased percentages of acceptable milling and baking varieties, it is noted that marked improvement has occurred. In Texas this harvest there are 447,000 acres more acceptable wheat varieties than last year and 800,000 acres more than in 1947. Oklahoma comparisons show this year we will harvest 1,155,000 additional acres of good milling and baking types as compared to last year and 2,330,000 acres more than in 1947. In round numbers this is an improvement of 28 per cent in Oklahoma and 17 per cent in Texas in the last two years.

Comanche and Triumph are currently the leading varieties in western Oklahoma while Westar and Comanche are leading in the Texas Panhandle and Wichita and Triumph in North Texas. All are popular with growers because of earliness, good test weight and high yields. Comanche and Westar are most in demand by millers and commercial bakers while Triumph and Wichita are mellow in their gluten properties and suitable only for family flour, advises Mr. Soder.

Currently the men are engaged in a hunt for flags from all these nations, for they'd like to display the flag of every citizen and country represented.

Two Swindling Charges Filed In County Court
Two charges of swindling by worthless check have been filed in county court this week, according to the sheriff's office. Ed Hamlin was picked up by police at Big Spring and released under thousand dollar bail until his case can be heard by the Grand Jury here. He had given the check to Ray Kershen of Hereford, according to sheriff J. C. Reese.

Streamliner Smashes Don Holman's New Car

Don Holman's new Oldsmobile 88 was smashed by the Santa Fe streamliner Thursday just east of Bovina but both Holman and W. E. Richardson, his father-in-law escaped injury.

The accident occurred five miles east of Bovina. Holman said they were meeting a car coming down the middle of the road and had turned off to avoid a collision. They skidded over the soft mud at the roadside and straddled the Santa Fe mainline.

Although the men got out of the car and made a hurried attempt to jack it off the tracks, they didn't have time before the streamliner whizzed through. It hit the car and carried it about a mile down the track, completely demolishing it.

Both men were out of the automobile and therefore were not seriously hurt, although Richardson was bruised and Holman had his front teeth knocked out.

American Legion Juniors Outlast Nazareth Nine In 20-18 Slugfest

Hereford American Legion Juniors chalked up another mark in the win column against Nazareth Juniors Friday night 20-18, and they earned it the hard way. Coming from 10 runs behind at one point and using three pitchers to hold off the Nazareth onslaught were the high points.

McRight pitched one and two thirds innings for the local team, leaving the game at that point to Neil Quattlebaum. Quattlebaum pitched through to the six and two thirds point where he relinquished the task to Bill Engman with the scores 18-11, Hereford on the long end.

Nazareth scored 5 runs in the ninth and Engman retired the last two batters with the bases loaded, in other words the potential winning run was on first. E. Gerber cleared the bases with a grand slam home run to highlight the Nazareth rally.

Pat Corbett led Hereford hitters with 4 singles, followed by his brother Tim who ripped out 2 singles and a double. Quattlebaum hit a double and triple to take long ball honors and also put the spark to the big 14 run rally in the fifth inning.

The Legion Juniors will take on the tough Clovis Legion Juniors here Monday night. Box score on page 8.

School District Consolidation To Be Solved By New State Law

Apparently the State of Texas is going to step in and solve the difficulties which have bubbled over in the Sims and Messenger school districts regarding consolidation of the areas, for the new Gilmer-Alken school law requires all dormant school districts to transfer their entire scholastic enrollment to adjoining districts for one year.

County School Superintendent Leonard Foster this week outlined the provisions of the bill insofar as they will effect dormant school districts and pointed out that the County Board of Trustees is now giving them official sanction to consolidate districts in their county without the procedure of an election.

All trustees in those two districts have been notified of the new laws, said Foster, and the County Board will not act until it has received the suggestions of the trustees from both Sims and Messenger, but it must authorize consolidation within 30 days after the effective date of the act, former Senate Bill 116.

Under the Gilmer-Alken provisions, a dormant district is one which falls for any two successive years subsequent to 1946-47 school year, to operate a school in the district. Both Sims and Messenger fall under this classification, Foster declared.

Some to New Mexico
During the past year, Sims sent their pupils to Adrian public schools, and Messenger divided their scholastics, sending some to Friona and some to Rosedale, New Mexico. Even Walcott has sent the students living in the west part of that district to Rosedale, New Mexico to school.

Now the County Board of trustees, who must act within the month, to determine which of the adjoining school districts these groups would like to join, is giving the trustees within the districts a chance to decide which of their contiguous districts they wish to consolidate with.

The scholastic census rolls of both districts shall be combined the per capita apportionment paid direct to the school they join, and the combined average daily attendance shall be used in determining the number of professional units for which the receiving district shall be eligible, according to Article III of the bill. This would tend to eliminate all out-of-state districts under the consolidation, said Foster.

TO THE PEOPLE OF HEREFORD
The heavy rains cancelled the cleanup schedule. But it did not cancel the need for it. The day has come and gone but the problem of clean up remains unsolved. Additional rain has in fact made clean up and a weed cutting campaign more imperative than ever.

However, the continued wet weather together with the nearness of the busy harvest season makes another definite date and close up day inadvisable. Therefore, such a date will not again be set, but in lieu thereof the week of June 13th, and every workable day thereafter, is set as clean up day until every unsightly place and every health hazard has been removed from our city.

The overwhelming majority of our people planned to cooperate in the original clean-up plans. We are asking for that same spirit of unity in the revised plans. You are a great people. So long as we have a majority of folks like you in command Hereford will continue to move on to better things. You do care how Hereford looks. You are deeply concerned about sanitary conditions. You do want to maintain your self respect, and the respect of others, by discharging your full responsibility to

Postal Receipts Increase In May

May postal receipts showed up just as expected and topped the receipts of a year ago by $497.51, following the prediction made by Postmaster Jim Lipscomb, after April receipts had failed to show any increase.

"April lagged behind its last year's record, but May came along and made up for it. We figured it would," said Lipscomb.

May 1949, took in $3,575.42 in stamps, package receipts, money orders, etc., whereas in 1948 the month's revenue was $3,117.91. Except for the short month of February, this is the lowest volume reported for the year. It averages only $115.94 daily, as compared with the $136.44 daily average of January, top month of the year.

Generally a slow month anyway, May hits the season right during preparation for harvest, when there is no particular activity in progress to cause an influx of workers or to render income.

The average receipts for the year are $3,709.43, as compared with $3,361.13 for last year at the end of five months.

A comparison of monthly receipt figures follows:

Month	1949	1948
January	$4229.38	$3668.69
February	$196.73	$241.95
March	$362.01	$392.46
April	$763.63	$725.25
May	$375.42	$117.91

Outline Boy Scout Swimming Classes

Plans for conducting swimming classes for members of the Boy Scout organizations were outlined at the luncheon meeting of the District Council held Thursday noon in a downtown cafe.

"We plan to offer swimming classes for cub and boy scouts this summer, now that your municipal pool is opened, and will announce complete details of the courses as soon as we can work out our plans with pool officials," said W. J. Hiatt, council executive.

Reports from committee chairmen were heard at the meeting. Bob Wear called to the group's attention the formation of troop 54 at Dawn, which received its charter last month, and A. L. Black reported on the reorganization of the troop at Friona, announcing that during the summer they would hold two special meetings a month instead of one each week.

J. C. Reese, activities chairman, announced that three cub packs had taken part in the Cub Pak-lavar in the field day activities last month. Cub Packs 50 and 52 are Hereford organizations and cub pack 56 is the Friona group.

Plans for summer camping trips were discussed. Troop 50 will hold their annual camp at Las Vegas from August 22 to August 27 with scoutmaster Bill Phillips conducting the arrangements. Troop 52 will participate in the council camp beginning August 1 at Camp Ki-O-Wa near Canadian.

The Council will not hold its monthly dinner meeting during July, Hiatt announced, and the group will meet next on the first Thursday during August.

Attending the meeting were Bob Thompson, chairman, who conducted the meeting; J. C. Reese, Bob Wear, Nelson Welch and A. L. Black, both of Friona, Harry Delashmutt, field director and W. J. Hiatt.

L. Baskin accompanied W. H. Cromer and wife to Oklahoma City and returned Tuesday evening. They witnessed the graduation of Gene Lunsford and wife, grand children of Mrs. Cromer, at the state university in Norman, where over 2,000 graduated. NO HOLIDAY, BUT

City Is Cleaning Up

AND THE RAINS came. Just when the combined efforts of the city commissioners, the Chamber of Commerce and volunteer workers had everything in readiness for a mammoth clean-up drive that was going to sweep the town clean of weeds, debris and rubbish in one concentrated effort, Nature stepped in and took over.

That lone force, against which man always seems so infinitesimally small and insignificant, called a sudden halt to holiday plans and "business as usual" was the Thursday theme.

However, just because the holiday was rained out, it failed to squelch clean-up plans. The week had been marked with activity anyhow as home-proud citizens tackled the job of weed clearance and the overgrown tangle in yards and vacant lots began to disappear.

Even without a holiday to spark plug initiative, the town is rapidly getting its ragged edges trimmed away. Clean-Up Week was designed with a two-fold purpose: to wake Herefordites to the need for clearing away weeds because of the health and sanitation problems involved, also to get those weeds removed. Apparently the first purpose was so well accomplished that the second purpose will evolve, holiday or no holiday.

This is certainly another indication of the pride which people of Hereford have in their town; it is another gauge of the merits of the citizenry; it is the tribute they pay to the people who instigated the drive, and exemplifies their willingness to co-operate in any project which makes the town of Hereford a better place in which to live.

We want to acknowledge their efforts and commend them for their interest, for they are the sort of people that you want to work with, to be neighbors with, the sort that really make any town a successful town. —P.R.

A NEEDED SERVICE!

City Welfare Committee

RECENT ANNOUNCEMENT OF the creation of a Community Welfare Committee, along with the committee's recommendations for a public health nurse in this area, deserves more than passing interest.

The committee will fill an ever-widening gap in efficient operation of the community's welfare efforts, which are rapidly getting into the "big business" class. Heretofore, the brunt of this task has been shouldered by Mrs. Dayal-thin Bradley and it was at her request that the governing board, or committee, was organized.

Acting in a directive or advisory capacity, the new board will work without benefit of salary, and will make recommendations on such cases which do not fall into routine categories.

The very first act of the group actually justifies its existence. After studying the situation carefully, they advised employment of a part-time public health nurse. They also pointed out that such a nurse would discover cases before they became acute, especially in the labor camp area, and by turning in such cases would prevent considerable in the form of complications, hospital bills, additional treatment—and spread of contagious diseases.

Similar recommendations have been made by individuals, but coming from a group of interested tax payers and citizens who have studied the situation from the standpoint of community welfare, the question of a public health nurse is immediately transformed into a situation of necessity, rather than desirability.

The City, the County, labor camp officials, and individual citizens will do well to carefully observe and consider recommendations of the group. The Brand feels that the new committee is one needed for several years and, given proper cooperation from all sources, that it will do much toward solving an ever-increasing problem in the community.

Visit The New Homes

A TOUR OF ten of Hereford's new homes has been announced by the Garden Beautiful Club for next Friday. The tour has a commercial aspect in that one dollar/admission will be charged, but to offset the charge is the fact that proceeds will be used to help equip the new hospital.

Several of the homes listed are truly show pieces of which the community can well be proud. Availability of entrance into the homes speaks well for the owners, who are contributing much more than anyone else concerned in the project.

All persons who possibly can should take advantage of the tour. In addition to the ideas offered from modern architecture and arrangement, the tour also offers a means of becoming better acquainted with ones neighbors and fellow citizens and contributes generally to a cause in which every person in the area is interested—better health facilities.

DESPITE HAIL DAMAGE

Wheat Prospects Are Good

FIFTEEN HUNDRED AND forty-nine will go down in history as a big wheat year in this territory.

Hail losses have been heavy. They had to be heavy, due to the tremendous acreage and the good stands. Hail losses are always heavy in good wheat years. Furthermore, it is to be considered that many farmers with considerable hail damage will still cut more wheat than in 1948.

It is more or less an element of news when a fellow gets hailed out, especially if the loss is 100 per cent. There are many, many others who you do not hear about who still have exceptional prospects. Most of these people keep their fingers crossed, and keep quiet.

Despite hail damage, we believe that there should be much more worry about storage, which is going to be the real problem in 1949. ACA officials will likely be much more liberal this year than in the past, but where to put the grain is the area's big problem.

Clippings from Our Exchanges

TAX EQUALIZATION NOTICES

IF ALL THE TAXPAYERS of Floyd county show up on June 23 who get notices to appear before the Board of Equalization to show cause why their tax renditions should not be adjusted, the court house is going to be a busy place. Upward of 1,200 notices, possibly as many as 1,500, notices are going out.

This week members of the court while in special session, said that the fact that many are getting notices is not an indication that a general rise is contemplated, but that adjustments and equalizations between land owners, to cure what appeared to be inequities, is the reason for the large number of notices to go out.

CONSERVATION QUESTION

LAND OWNERS OF Randall county are considering the possibility of forming a conservation district in Randall county in order to come under the provisions of the new law. The legislature has appropriated $5,000,000 to carry on this work.

Randall and Potter counties are the only counties in the Panhandle which do not have conservation districts.

Land owners of Randall county have been asked to confer with land owners in Swisher, Deaf Smith or other adjoining counties as to the advantages of having a conservation district.

Under the provisions of the law 50 land owners must petition.

SECOND ROAD BOND VOTE LOOMS

A SECOND ROAD bond election in Parmer county during the space of only a few short weeks, loomed as a possibility here this week with the filing of a petition with the Commissioners Court, asking that a new road district be created, for the obvious purpose of voting road bonds in the new road district.

This petition sets forth that in the recent bond election—which fell short eight votes of the necessary two-thirds majority—a large majority of the voters in the newly proposed district are in favor of bonds being voted for the purpose of building rural roads.

T. H. LOVE OUTS FIRST SWISHER LOAD

SWISHER COUNTY'S WHEAT harvest began with a 68 bushel cutting this week. T. H. Love, who farms 9 miles east of Tulia, delivered the first load of grain Monday afternoon about 3 o'clock.

"It's the first time I was ever first in anything," said Mr. Love.

The wheat weighed 59 pounds per bushel, a pound less than standard. It tested 13 per cent moisture and was shrivelled with some chaff. The load was Wichita variety which planted about Sept. 15.

U. N. Shuns Spain

INSIDE REASON why the American delegation to the United Nations abstained from voting on Spain was because Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt threatened to denounce the state department publicly if it voted for Franco.

Warren Austin, the U.S. delegate, was all set to vote for sending ambassadors back to Spain when Mrs. Roosevelt found out about it.

Immediately she telephoned secretary of state Acheson and gave him her very blunt views on getting cozy with a dictator who had played ball with Hitler and Mussolini during the war. Any move to embrace him, Mrs. R. told Acheson, would only embarrass the truly democratic nations of western Europe and play into the hands of the Communist propaganda machine at a critical time in world affairs.

Acheson seemed impressed with Mrs. Roosevelt's argument and suggested as a compromise that the American delegation abstain when the vote came up. He further promised to issue a statement blasting Franco as a dictator created with the help of Hitler and Mussolini, which he later did. This satisfied Mrs. Roosevelt and she has said nothing more about the matter.

Senatorial Triangle

The two women who are fighting over Sen. Harry Cain, Republican of Washington actually came face to face the other day.

Mrs. Cain, who was put on notice by her husband in a public press conference that he was divorcing her, nevertheless turned the other cheek and went to the hospital to visit the sick senator.

While there, Miss Mary Hall, a senate secretary who may marry Senator Cain after the divorce, also arrived for a visit.

The sudden meeting was too much for Mrs. Cain and she lashed out at Miss Hall for stealing the senator's affections. "You may have the game," she sizzled, "but you'll never get the name."

Later both women cooled off and walked out of the hospital together.

The Cain divorce is supposed to become final on June 14. The lawyer who is handling the matter for Senator Cain in Tacoma, Wash., is Ed Eisenhower, Ike's brother.

Rent Control Battle

The legislators of Alabama, Texas, Nebraska and Florida now are considering bills introduced by real estate interests to abandon rent control.

One of the public-opinion gimmicks put out by some of the real-estate boys is that a state can temporarily get rid of rent control, then later restore it—under the rent act recently passed by Congress.

However, this is not the case. The rent-control act passed by congress categorically and definitely bars any reinstatement of federal rent control if a state or city once votes to docontrol. In other words, if a state or city once breaks away from the rent-control program it can never come back again.

Atomic Contracts

Palnastaking, persevering Sen. Joe O'Mahoney of Wyoming has been applying the scourge to big monopolies for years. Now he has come up with revealing information on the way big corporations handle big contracts with the government. In 1946 the atomic energy commission signed a contract with General Electric for atomic energy work at Hanford, Wash., and Schenectady, N. Y., under which G. E. was paid all its costs plus a fixed fee of $1. The total amount obligated under this contract was 370 million dollars, of which seven million was paid to General Electric for salaries, training of personnel, etc.

Meanwhile, Senator O'Mahoney points out that it has become a common practice of the atomic energy commission to get around congressional appropriations by authorizing blanket contracts in such a way that Congress cannot judge their validity.

In the current year, for instance, the commission has contract appropriations of 600 million dollars and congress has no way of knowing what it's all about.

British Compromise

American Ambassador Leighton Stuart in China is mad as a hornet at the British for trying to make a deal with the Chinese Communists behind his back.

Without telling Stuart a word, British representatives talked with the Chinese Communists twice. By accident Stuart has discovered that what the British have proposed is his: If the Chinese Communists at the British keep Hong Kong, the British government then will be willing to recognize the Reds.

"America's Heartland" Reviews And Interprets Texas And the Southwest

By MARGARET BARRETT
Pride in their home-land is an attribute particularly characteristic to the people of the Southwest, as any foreigner will testify. This unique attachment to native soil is used by Peyton Green, noted Texas journalist and author, as the basis for his interpretation of the Southwest in his recently published book, "America's Heartland."

Physically encompassing the territory from the Mississippi River, where the South ends, to the Continental Divide, where the West begins, the Southwest is neither a geographical unit nor a political entity, but is rather an attitude of mind—a way of life. The author compares it to a woman, who looks not to material things to find eternity, but contemplates it within herself. As a woman the Southwest is capricious and stubborn, grasping and stern; but her strength lives not in her moods but deep within herself.

In interpreting the Southwest as he sees it today, the author necessarily drew from the past, and looks to the future. His background passages include the influence of the conquistadores, the Spanish and French explorers and traders, the Indians, and the Tennessee hillmen who settled it for their own.

He reviews the cattle industry, the past and probably the future basis of financial security in this region. And he talks about oil—its crude beginning back when the Spindletop field was opened up, and the importance of the industry today.

Working his way up to the present, Author Peyton dwells on the Southwest of today, concurring in the opinion that industrially and socially it is about fifty years behind other regions in the country. Culturally he considers the region very immature, not yet anchored in civilized tradition.

Concerning art, music, and literature, he notes a great lack of the creative instinct, though he sees encouraging development now in this phase of culture.

Education in the Southwest, and especially in Texas, he considers far behind. It is used as a means to material and practical benefits, but the true purpose of education—opening the way to the stored knowledge of the world, and seeking the answer to one question, "What is our purpose here?" is not understood.

But here, the author feels he will find what we seek — for the Southwest is America's Heartland. Communing with the land, looking for our sources of strength in the land, we will find the basic things that matter. In America we have all the mechanized aspects of civilization—highly developed systems of transportation, communication, industrialization—but our civilization does not have a soul. In the Southwest, where the distraction of urban life is dispersed, will the basic culture—the real values—the soul of civilization—be found. That is the author's conclusion.

"America's Heartland" does not claim to be a profound study, statistically and historically complete. It is merely one man's interpretation of the Southwest. It was written as an introductory volume to a whole series on the Southwest which the Oklahoma University Press has been commissioned to publish. Opinions are undoubtedly very interesting. The style is informal—reading it is like conversing with the author.

The book is available to readers at the county library.

HOMER FOX SAYS:

DID YOU KNOW...

It was back about the time that Bob Higgins, Kelly Gray and Walk Bradley finished digging the Tierra Blanco, of course Bob didn't do any of the work, he borrowed an umbrella from George Muse and sat on the bank in the shade and bossed.

Anyway, Friona had a ball game with Farwell and didn't have enough ball players, so they phoned Fat Curtisinger to get another ball player and to come down and help them out. Pack London had played a lot of ball around with the boys at home, but when Fat propositioned him to go play for Friona, it took a lot of persuasion before Pack would agree to go. Anyway we almost lost Pack as a resident on that trip. The first time he came to bat, the bases were loaded and he had a ball game on his shoulders, on the second ball pitched, Pack got hold of it and whammed a long, long fly into left and over the fence, and brother in those days the fence was a three or four wire affair around a section pasture. Four runs and a ball game in one lick. Friona didn't want Pack to even come home that night. They offered him everything but the Court house, and they didn't have a Court House, to stay and play ball with them, but after that Pack wouldn't ever play ball with any one but Hereford.

One afternoon during the week we had a ball game with Vega. We had a ball club at that time that we really were proud of, but Vega was always tough as a boot and we felt mighty proud every time we beat them. The stands were pretty well filled that afternoon and every one settled down to see a real battle. Charlie Bennett came up and slammed one down left field foul line for a home run, one old boy in the stands grabbed a hat and passed it around and poked his collection thru the wire to Charlie for his feat. Fat Curtisinger was next man up and he slammed one down the left field foul line for another home run—this old boy passed the hat again and didn't get so much money, but he poked it through the wire to Fat for his feat. Next man up was Wood Vaughn, and he slammed one far, far over center field for another home run. By the time Wood made it around the bases the old boy that had been passing the hat, was back in his store trying to sell a pair of shoes or something. I never did know how that game came out, but I am sure we won it.

the BOOTLEG philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher must be twisting up his economics, but his letter, is published for what it's worth. All we know it that if the country is depending on him to head off a depression, we're sunk.

Dear editor: It's been too hot to work lately, don't make no difference if my neighbors don't have any thermometers and keep on going, and I was sittin out here in the shade lookin over a copy of The News I'd picked up off my cenes neighbor's tractor seat where he'd put it to keep the seat from getting hot while he went to the house for a drink of water, and read about the general feelin a lot of people have that a depression is comin, and while the thought of a depression don't worry me much, can't say I'm much better off under good times than bad, can't quite make ends meet under either system, I've still been givin the matter some thought, and was happy to read in the same paper a statement by the president of the Texas Bankers' Association that "declines from wartime production and sales peaks are natural and will not develop into a depression or panic so long as we keep our heads and think clearly."

That's what I been sayin all along, what I think is just as important as goin up one row and down another, and I will appreciate you tellin that bank-er that I am uphoidin my part of the load in his efforts to head off a depression. Been doin it for years.

If there's one thing I can do, it's keep my head. Some folks I know are in a turmoil all the time, Ain't over two or three definite times in their entire adult life when things is just right. Rest of the times some-thing is always about to go wrong, just went wrong, Hable to tomorrow, it won't rain, rain- in too much, etc., and life is a constant stew.

But you can tell that Banker things don't bother me. I keep my head, you don't catch me gettin up at the bust of dawn and waitin on the turnrow for it to get light enough to start work. A man can't plow fifteen hours a day and do much clear thinkin, and I personally had rather think and preserve prosper-ity than work and bring on a depression.

If I keepin your head and clear-thinkin will head off a depression, I got the thing headed off in this part of the country.

However, to tell you the truth, I think I know what the real trouble with the country is: (1) too many folks expect a living wage, and (2) ain't enough busi-nesses that can afford to pay it. Outside of this, we're about normal, I guess.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

SUNDAY'S CURRENT QUESTION:

QUESTION OF WEEK—EDITORIAL PAGE

Do you think people should keep livestock in the city limits? Do you think there should be a city ordinance prohibiting it?

Jimmie Alfred: "I am inclined to believe that we shouldn't have livestock in the city limits. It seems to me it adds to the danger of contamination. I believe animals should be kept out of town, and I would favor a city ordinance to that effect."

Mrs. R. G. Blue: "That is a touchy subject. I'd rather not express an opinion this time."

John D. Alken: "If people have enough room—a big enough lot—and keep their animals clean I guess it isn't so bad to keep animals in town, but I think it is really inadvisable if people have any regard for their neighbors. Seeing some livestock in town the other day made we wonder if there was a city ordinance concerning the matter, but I haven't given it enough thought to know whether I would be for or against an ordinance of that nature."

Mrs. Charlie Shipley: "I really have no ideas on the subject at all."

Mrs. Homer Brumley: "No, I don't think horses, cattle or chickens should be kept in town. I brought some chickens in once, but they attracted so many flies I got rid of them in a hurry. Livestock draws so many insects—and the odors can be so disagreeable when the wind is blowing in the right way. I know, because we had a horse lot in this neighborhood. There is a city ordinance to the effect that if animals are kept in town, they must be kept clean. But of course that leaves so many loopholes—who is going to say whether they are clean or not—and are the neighbors going to file a petition saying they are a nuisance? and etc. I believe that we would have a much cleaner town if the horses and cattle, and particularly the hogs would be kept out."

Bill Patton: "I have no opinion and don't want to be quoted."

Miles Roberson: "Whether livestock should be kept in town or not would, I think, depend on the kind of stock, how many, and how much room there is for them. I have kept saddle horses in town off and on always. To date I feel they haven't bothered anybody—I wouldn't keep them in town if I thought they did, and I've never had any complaints. There are fewer animals in town now than there ever have been, I think—very few milk cows. About all you ever see is a few saddle horses. In hot weather when the flies are numerous having livestock close can be pretty unpleasant—and also in rainy weather. But we usually have dry weather anyway. Because there are so few animals kept in town, I don't think it poses much of a problem—and as I said, how great a problem would depend on the kind of stock, how many, and the close quarters."

"I could swear the chief said there was a fire plug somewhere on this corner."

Farmers In Northwest Part Catch More Rain And Hail Than Others

By MRS. MERLIN KAUL

The Willing Workers Class of the Sunday School will meet for a 1 o'clock luncheon Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Merlin Kaul. The regular devotional meeting will be held at 2:30. All women in the community are invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Denges of Hereford were visitors Sunday in the Johnny Townsend home.

Mrs. Inez Thomas of Post, who has been visiting her son Jimmy and family was a guest Tuesday in the J. C. Morrison home.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Combs and boys visited Monday night in the home of her sister, Mrs. Fliss Wright in Amarillo and attended the Furr Food Store Opening.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Roach of Tatum, New Mexico will arrive this week end to spend the summer with her mother, Mrs. Bess Werner. Gene will accompany Maurice Tannahill of Hereford to Plainview to assist him in wheat harvest.

Mrs. Herman Neff, Alan and Barbara, Mrs. Zoe Oswald and Mrs. Elmer Combs drove to Post last Wednesday where they were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Oliver. Ramona, who spent the week visiting Sandra Oliver returned home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shaffer and children have moved here from near Marion, Ohio and are living in the former Elmer Combs home on the B. B. Northcutt farm. They formerly lived where the Finley family now lives before moving to Ohio. Mrs. Shaffer is a sister of Mrs. Joe Waggoner. The family stayed at the Waggoner home several days last week.

R. M. Gunn, Mrs. Guy Lawrence, Melba Gay of Hereford, were visitors Wednesday in the W. B. Nunley home.

David Drager, 7 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Drager, spent 2 days last week in the Deaf Smith hospital. David was riding a bicycle with his sister Lillian and got his foot caught in the bicycle wheel. All the toes on his left foot were cut with a deep gash between his big toe and his second toe. The next morning after the accident David developed an infection in the foot which resulted in his stay at the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Teward of Marion, Ohio, en route on a tour of the west, stopped at the home of Mrs. Bess Werner last week to visit George Turrentine. Mr. Teward and George were buddies in the navy for 4 years.

Mrs. Werner was hostess at a dinner Tuesday night honoring Mr. and Mrs. Teward. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Joe Paetzold, and Jonnie Marie, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Paetzold and Ronnie, George Turrentine, the honor guests and Mrs. Werner.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barrett, Barbara and Beverly and Mrs. Ora Potter were dinner guests Sunday at the C. A. Sauley home.

Bernie Northcutt and several more farmers in the northwest part of the community seem to be getting more than their share of rain and hail. They report 2 more inches the first of the week and 1/4 inch more of rain the last of the week. More hail fell in that area and hailed out some wheat that had been left from a former hail storm. Rain last week amounted to 2 inches or more. Feed has been washed out and it will be some time before the fields are dry enough to replant.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Durstine were callers in the Merlin Kaul home Thursday morning. They were en route to Sabetha, Kansas to attend the funeral of Mr. Durstine's brother.

A. W. Short of Olney is spending the summer here with his brother, Roscoe Short.

Mettie Lee Roots will conduct the devotional followed by a discussion of the work and the interest of foreign students at Wayland College, Plainview, given by Martisha Ramey.

Mary Estelle LeGrand will review "The Religious Life on the campus at Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene," and special music will be furnished by young people of the church.

Clean-Up Plans Are Changed To Coincide With City Campaign

Plans already made by the welfare department of the Deaf Smith County Federation of Women's Clubs to sponsor a clean-up, paint-up, fix-up campaign, were changed to coincide with a cleanup campaign now being sponsored by the city and chamber of commerce, at a meeting of the federation executive board held Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. A. L. Manjeot presented the plan of contacting welfare chairman of clubs and enlisting members by pledge to cooperate individually with the city's overall plan. Reports of activities will be given at regular sessions of the federated group in the fall.

Mrs. Ray Johnson, president, announced that the building fund now stands at $325, and a fact-finding and finance committee will be appointed. A committee to plan the calendar for the year was named to include: Mrs. Frank Terrell, chairman; Mrs. C. C. Ferguson and Mrs. Ed Cox.

Following last year's plan which proved popular, Mrs. Johnson asked department chairmen to be responsible for next year's programs. The department chairmen include: Mrs. Elmer Patterson, education; Mrs. Earl DeHart, American Home; Mrs. Colby Conkright, international relations; Mrs. A. J. Schroeter, Fine Arts; Mrs. A. L. Manjeot, welfare and Mrs. Urlin Streu, youth.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Harlin left Monday for Riddle, Oregon where they plan to spend a month in the home of their daughter, Mrs. George Cameron.

Reburial Rites For S. D. Foster Will Be Held Here This Afternoon

Military funeral services will be held in Hereford this afternoon at 3 p. m. for William S. D. Foster, who was killed in service in 1944.

Last rites will be conducted at the Black Funeral Parlor with the Rev. Don Davidson, pastor of the First Methodist Church, in charge of arrangements. The Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion will conduct the military rites.

S. D. Foster was the son of Otis Foster, former Hereford resident, who now lives at Clovis. Foster grew up in Hereford and attended Hereford schools, graduating from High School here with the Class of 1943.

Immediately after his graduation he joined the services and was sent overseas, where he served approximately two years before his death.

Foster was a private first class in the Infantry, and was killed while participating in an invasion of the coast of Cherbourg, France on Christmas Day, 1944. He is survived by his father, and two brothers, Duane Foster of Portales and LeRoy Foster of Hereford. Interment will be made in West Park Cemetery.

Revised

your family, your neighbors and to your city by being a good citizen—which in this instance is in making Hereford a safe place in which to live by helping clean it up.

Experience has proven results are more satisfactory where all our people unite on a particular day to solve the clean up problem. Since that can not be done now the problem becomes more difficult. Increased effort on the part of all will be required to accomplish the task before us. You good citizens must not only do your part but you must lend a helping hand to those who can not be so classified.

Elsewhere in this issue of the Brand we are making some explanations about the revised clean up plans and also some suggestions, which will, we hope, speed up the accomplishment of the task before us.

Sincerely yours,
W. E. Dameron, Mayor
City of Hereford.

Plans To Alleviate Wheat Storage Problem Temporarily Are Approved

Agriculture specialists have been working out plans for temporary storage to help provide a solution for Deaf Smith County wheat farmers who are faced with a major problem in the shortage of available grain storage space.

Such plans, for temporary bins, have been approved by the Production and Marketing Association, and can now be obtained at the County agent's office. Hugh Clearman has announced.

"These bins are not the complete answer to our storage problem, however this type bin can be built very quickly and at a cost of five and a half or six cents per bushel exclusive of the cost of a tarp which is needed for cover," Clearman said.

Extension service men and PMA officials met Tuesday at the Herring Hotel to discuss the storage problem and to work out the answers on some co-related problems. Knox Parr, district extension head, conducted the meeting and led the discussion. Hereford men, included in the group of 40 attending were Clearman and Jack Kassahn, of the local ACA office.

"The storage problem does not look any better for those who still have wheat," they reported. "In some areas storage at present means as much as 35 cents per bushel in price, so the individual wheat grower must still look to his own provisions for taking care of much of his harvest."

Amateur Ad Writers Vie For $25 Prize

How good an ad writer are you?

The Star theater is currently sponsoring a contest with about $45 worth of prizes at stake for the lucky winners who can combine their artistic talents with their salesmanship abilities and draw up the best looking ads for "Mexican Hayride."

Wednesday is the final day and entries must be in to the Star boxoffice by the close of business on June 15. First prize is $25, and the ad that is awarded first place will be run in the Sunday Brand, June 19. The Hereford Brand will be the judge.

The show is Abbott and Costello's laugh packed on celluloid, and the enterprising advertising amateurs get a newspaper proof sheet of pictures and slogans which they may use in constructing their own ads. Additional copy may be written in, but the advertisement is restricted to those pictures.

Complete details will be found on page eight of section two of this issue of the Sunday Brand.

VFW Smothers Down Thursday Night 20-7

Hereford VFW got a good base running workout and a bit of batting practice Thursday night as they snowed Down under with 20 runs while the red-suited opponents managed to get across 7 tallies.

Stan Barrett pitched the victory with all teammates contributing with hits and runs. Most of the game was spent in stealing bases and calling balks on the Dawn pitcher. The game was called after seven innings by mutual agreement.

CLEANUP WEEK RESET FOR WEEK OF JUNE 13th

To Continue Until Every Health Hazard Is Removed From City

Prolonged Wet Weather and Approach of Harvest Season Rules Out Special Date Effort or Close Up Day

CONTINUED RAINS MAKE CLEAN UP AND WEED CUTTING NEED GREATER THAN EVER

IN LIEU OF A UNITED EFFORT ON A PARTICULAR DAY IT BECOMES INDIVIDUAL RESPONSIBILITY OF EACH PERSON, YOU ARE ON YOUR OWN.

THE REVISED PLAN

TIME: Date reset to week of June 13th and every workable day thereafter until the clean-up objective has been accomplished.

BLOCK CHAIRMEN — All Block Chairmen originally appointed will carry out their assignment as soon as weather conditions will permit.

BLOCK CHAIRMEN — Block Chairmen will solicit and encourage all in their respective areas to clean up their premises, and especially cut the weeds on their property and in their alleys.

INFORMATION FOR PROPERTY OWNERS

1. Cut all weeds on your premises and pile them in the alley, or at curb line if you have no alley.
2. Cut and pile all weeds in your alley. City ordinances makes your alley your responsibility and requires that you keep it clear of weeds and rubbish.
3. All other rubbish, grass clippings, tree limbs etc., should be piled in the alley or at curb line.
4. Do not undertake to burn anything. The city prefers to haul it off,—it is both safer and better, and will not cost you anything.
5. If you own a vacant lot have some one with a power mower cut the weeds for you, and if possible have them raked into piles, or ...
6. Have some one plow the lot for you. These larger weed areas are much more dangerous and breeding places of insects than the more scattered places. City ordinances require you to cut your weeds on these lots.
7. Provide yourself with covered garbage containers, and keep them covered.
8. Encourage, and if necessary insist on your neighbors keeping their premises clean. Explain to them a negligent few can nullify the efforts of many unless they cooperate; then ...
9. Report to the City Clerks office any who maintain neglected unsanitary premises or maintain a health hazard in your area; and finally ...
10. Set an example for all of the rest of your block by going all out in this clean up drive. It will encourage the negligent and unthinking person to do likewise.

May we again remind you this is your town, It will be just the kind of a town you make it. It can be made neat, clean and attractive to all who live here, and to all who come our way. You can make your city sanitary and safe from polio and other diseases. A city is judged by its civic beauty, cleanliness and sanitary conditions. Hereford is the reflection of the type and character of the people who live in it. We are on our way, nothing can stop us now from keeping Hereford at the top,—if you do your part.

Bright The Cherry Orchards Now Hung With Fruit Along The Bough

That very old rhyme heard so very long ago, finds seasonal appeal today for early summer brings cherry time, and housewives are busy preserving and making pies of the tart ones and combining the sweet varieties with melons and other seasonal fruits. Serve sweet cherries off the stem, heaped in a canteloupe shell or in old fashioned cobblers topped with whipped cream.

Mrs. W. E. Dameron likes to serve them in pastry shells with thickened sauce flavored with lemon juice and almond extract. Here is her favorite recipe:

Cherry Shells With Sauce

Make one dozen pastry shells using your favorite recipe for pie crust, bake in moderate oven and set aside ready to be filled.

2 1/2 cups pitted cherries

1 cup water

1 cup sugar

1 level tablespoon cornstarch

1 tablespoon butter

1 tablespoon lemon juice

1/2 teaspoon almond extract

Cook the cherries and water together until fruit is tender.

Mix the sugar (more may be used if desired) and cornstarch in 1/4 cup cold water and add to the boiling mixture, stirring constantly until thickened. Remove from heat, add butter, lemon juice and almond. Set aside to cool. About thirty minutes before serving time fill the shells with one-half cup of the cherry sauce mixture and top with whipped cream.

This recipe may also be used as cherry shortcake, substituting cherries in your favorite strawberry shortcake recipe or using the prepared shortcakes.

Ten of Hereford's Newest Homes Included In Club Tour

Butch McCaslin and his brother Jerry Don are ready to welcome guests to view their new home. They are pictured in the den of the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl McCaslin.

Little Susan Hopson adds a happy touch to an attractive corner shown at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Hopson.

Garden Club Tour Stop

Three year old Ruth Ann Allison explaining the musical score to her dolly in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Allison, starting point of the tour.

The Garden Beautiful Club will sponsor a tour of ten new homes in Hereford on Friday, June 17. Proceeds from the tour will benefit the club's recently adopted project of beautifying the grounds surrounding Deaf Smith County Hospital.

The public is invited to make this tour at any time during the afternoon from 12 o'clock noon, starting time, until 5 p. m. when the tour will close. Visitors may tour individually or in groups and a fee of $1.00 will be charged. Tickets may be obtained at the City Drug Store at any time and may be purchased at the starting point, the J. R. Allison home in the new Allison Addition.

Mrs. Carroll Whiteside, chairman of the tour committee, has announced that members of the Garden Beautiful Club will serve as hostesses in the homes scheduled for the tour, and those who cannot join the 12 o'clock group are urged to visit the homes at an hour convenient to them.

"Visitors are requested, however, to follow the given route to avoid congestion," Mrs. Whiteside said.

From the J. R. Allison home the visitors will go to the George Brumley home and hence to the V. C. Hopson home. To the Carl McCaslin home, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Colby Conkwright, and to the home of Dr. and Mrs. L. B. Barnett. To the Frank Cogdell home and to the homes of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kirby, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Taft McGee.

The tour has been planned to give a cumulative impression of the newer trends in architecture and design, the contrast between modern and period furnishings and all the intangibles that go to make a house an interesting, enduringly pleasing place in which to establish a home.

Added to the interest of the home will be the decorative flower arrangements evidencing the skill of the Garden Beautiful Club members, whose knowing eyes and practiced hands bring just the right shades of tones and hues together for each particular setting. Visitors will see dinner tables set in minute detail, tea tables arranged for afternoon affairs, morning coffee tables and breakfast tables set with fine china and gleaming silver.

Committee members include: Mrs. Carroll Whiteside, chairman of the tour, Mrs. R. N. Larmer, Mrs. Forrest Minton and Mrs. N. D. Bartlett, Jr., president of the club.

Mrs. D. C. Kinsey will have charge of all special flower arrangements and Mrs. R. N. Larmer will direct the placing of hostesses in the homes. Mrs. Forrest Minton will have charge of programs, detailing the route of

SOUTHWESTERN PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY
4 YEARS OF GOOD CITIZENSHIP AND PUBLIC SERVICE

Ever find a four-leaf clover at midnight?

Your chances of stumbling over a four-leaf clover in the dark are -- well... you set the odds!

Which explains why very few four-leaf clover hunts are scheduled after sundown.

YOUR chances of profiting in any manner by cutting your wheat too early are just about as slim.

Despite hail losses, the probability of a storage shortage is likely. As you know, Terminal Storage is not available, which makes it absolutely impossible for your elevators to handle "green" or "wet" wheat, due to the hazards involving the entire storage capacity in this area.

It will be necessary, therefore, to ask all persons bringing in "green" wheat to haul it back home. If you are fortunate enough to cut early, be careful. One or two or three days will not likely make much difference, since the local elevators have been emptied to handle the present crop.

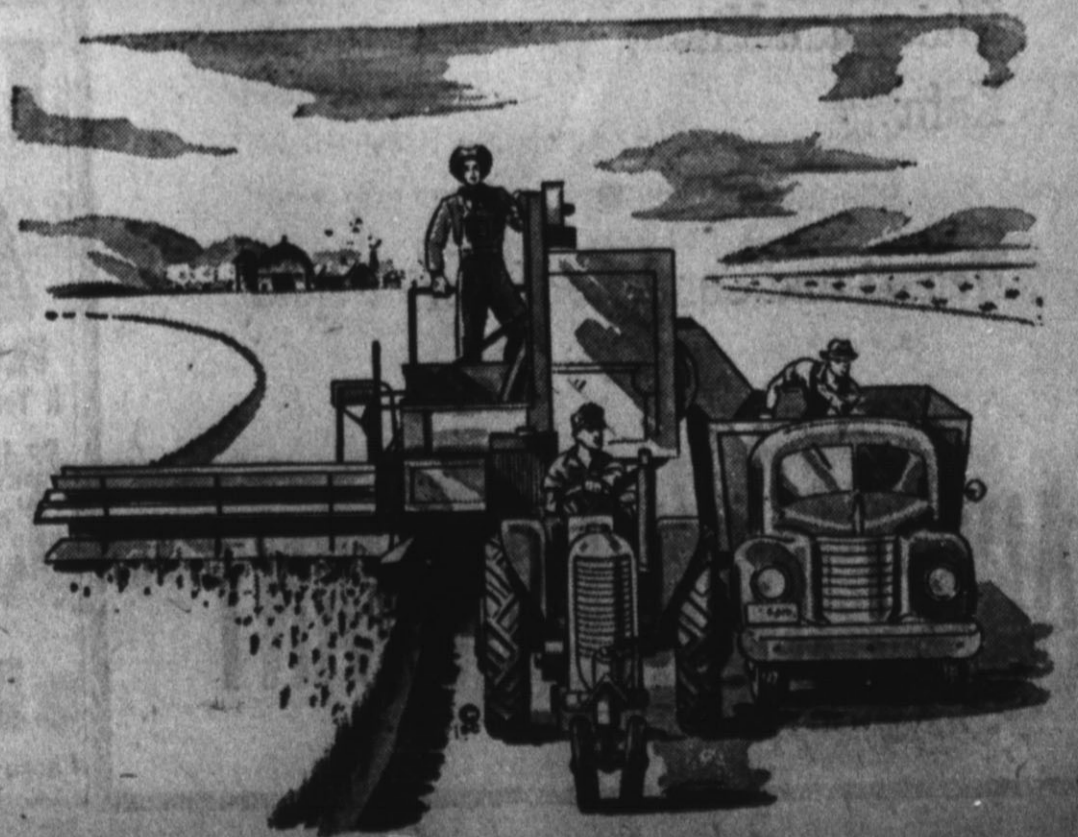

Also be careful to avoid every possibility of "dock-age grain." Your Cooperation will help everyone concerned. We recommend that you bring in your wheat samples before you start cutting. We are equipped to check the samples for Moisture Content--- and will be glad to help you avoid unnecessary expense, or loss of Green Wheat... which we absolutely cannot accept.

Long Time Ago

45 Years Ago
 "Save Your Teeth" warned a headline in the June 17, 1904 Hereford Brand. The story relates: "Dr. A. D. Miller, who is now permanently located at Texico, New Mexico, but is making professional trips through Texas, will be in our city from June 14 through July 1, occupying the front rooms of the Daniel house, and will be prepared to do all kinds of Dental Work and where the party has work to the amount of say, $30 or $40 will take in payment one half cash and balance in good she cattle. Yours for business."

"A happy birthday party" was given for Gertrude Robinson the Brand reports, with fourteen little guests between the ages of four and five years, making "quite a pretty picture around the table when the refreshments were served." "A table just high enough for the little folks had been arranged and the birthday cake, ornamented with lighted candles, fruit, flowers and candies, was very attractive to little Gertrude and her guests" the Brand said.

Another entertainment of interest was that given by Miss Nora Daniel who "entertained a small crowd of Hereford's young people." Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Vanderburgh, Misses Mad-den, from the North Draw, Vanderburgh, Wright, Herron, George, Herron, and Biles; Messrs. Raley, from Amarillo; LeGrand, Barnett, Gass, Daniel, and Russell.

"A Heavy Loss" was reported by Finis Blair in this issue of the Brand. According to the story "Finis Blair, accompanied by two young ladies, was returning from an entertainment at Boom, the buggy struck a telephone post and in Mr. Blair's efforts to take care of the young ladies, the horse got away, leaving the young people about midway between Boom and Hereford. The horse, belonging to Carter Bros. and known as Rose Bud, was found the next morning, loose from the buggy and in dying condition. It is not known just how the horse was killed."

A business report announced that "A Brand representative this week dropped in J. F. Easley's and found everything in apple pie order. Mr. Easley prides himself on keeping a neat, up-to-date confectionary store and the result is that he is doing a nice business. Special provisions have been made for ladies in the way of a neat ice-cream parlor in the rear of the building."

Claude Norton suffered "a painful accident," according to this issue of the Brand, when he got too near one of the untamed horses on the farm. "While the wound (a broken left arm) was somewhat painful, the broken bone was properly reset and will soon be whole again."

Short locals included: "J. B. Collins came in Sunday from his Castro county ranch to visit his parents;" "Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Vanderburgh went up to Amarillo Sunday afternoon to make arrangements for moving to that city;" "J. R. T. Basset of the North Draw was in Hereford Wednesday and was a business visitor at the Brand office. Mr. Basset is negotiating for a lot in Hereford upon which to build a residence. The Brand extends congratulations in advance;" "W. B. Green of Castro county was in the city Monday and Tuesday;" "James Acker, Claude, brother of Mrs. G. A. F. Parker, visited in the city this week;" "Mrs. T. J. Graves, accompanied by Miss Ethel and Lee, left Tuesday afternoon for Waxahachie where they will spend several weeks visiting relatives;" "Mrs. S. R. Lowe returned Tuesday from an extended visit with relatives in East Texas."

Give a child a pad and pencil and he will soon learn to draw on the walls.

HERE'S A SURE WAY TO LOWER HARVESTING EXPENSE
 THE MASSEY-HARRIS
 21-A Self-Propelled COMBINE

Saving your own Massey-Harris Self-propelled is putting your harvest on a production line basis. And just like the modern method for factory production line, you get savings in time, labor—and for a bonus, Savings in grain and fuel.

You go into harvest production the moment your grain is ready. There is no costly or unnecessary delay. You are your own boss. . . Not depending on anyone for help. Mighty important, too, you get all your grain because the self-propelled doesn't trampel down your crop on the opening cut. Or you can bypass a green spot and pick it up later. Fuel costs take a licking too. There is just one economical engine to run the threshing mechanism and to propel the combine.

There's plenty of field experience under tough conditions behind a Model 21-A. The harvest brigades of '44 and '45 show that harvesting conditions were far from ideal in those years. Wet, muddy fields, down tangled grain, weeds, characterized the harvest. Still the Massey Harris 21-A went in and proved the 4-Way savings of self propelled . . . getting grain that was often given up as hopeless.

We think self propelled harvesting can lower harvesting expense. Come in today. . . and place your order for a model 21-A. We can give immediate delivery. . . on a limited few.

David E. Lilienthal, above, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, was subjected to severe criticism by senators for his handling of the situation arising out of the loss of a small amount of Uranium-235. Although most of the material was later recovered, some senators demanded Lilienthal's resignation. Other's called for complete investigation of his atomic stewardship, for not reporting the matter to the FBI as soon as the loss was discovered.

Remarkable Feet

John A. THINGS TO COME

A PLASTIC CEILING, ABOVE WHICH FLUORESCENT LIGHTS ARE INSTALLED, TO GIVE A ROOM AN EVEN GLOW WITHOUT GLARE OR SHADOW.

THE SAME ROOM MAY BE HEATED BY COLD WALLS OF ALUMINUM FOIL THAT REFLECT RADIANT HEAT FROM AN ELECTRICAL RESISTANCE COIL.

JOHN HAS A WARM SPOT IN HIS HEART FOR PICTURES BUT HE CAN'T UNDERSTAND WHY I'M COLD TO SO MANY OF THEM!

JUST A MINUTE, GARBAGE MAN - THAT'S ONLY THE BEGINNING!

"I HAD THE CEILING IN THERE PAINTED TODAY. WHAT DO YOU THINK OF IT, FRANK?"
