Committee Wrangles Over Abortion Funding

WASHINGTON (AP) - A congressional conference committee is continuing its wrangling over federal funding for abortions after failing for a second time to meet a deadline for resolving the constitutional issue.

The congressional leaders said the dispute would not threaten the payments of employees of the Department of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare.

The speakers are involved because the abortion proposal is attached to the $60.2 billion appropriations bill for the two agencies. The dispute was stalled because of the spending measure, so the agencies are working with makeshift financial arrangements which expire at midnight Monday.

The funding Monday to reach an agreement on when the federal government can pay for abortions, the conferes planned another meeting today. Rep. Silvio Conte, R-Mass., said the overnight break would give the conferees time "to regroup."

Meanwhile, Rep. Charles Mathias, R-Md., and Rep. Newton I. Steers, R-Md., introduced a proposed resolution that would permit the two huge federal agencies to pay their 240,000 employees even if the abortion issue remains unresolved.

The agencies lost authority to spend money at midnight Monday, when a similar Oct. 13 resolution expired. The resolution had authorized expenditures by the two departments through the end of the month.

The abortion impasse developed earlier this year when the Senate insisted on legislation that would authorize federal funding of abortions under a variety of circumstances, while the House advocated much stricter limitations. Each

New Assistant Probation Officer

Deaf Smith County voters have cast only 21 ballots in the Nov. 8 election to determine a replacement for Max Sherman in the state Senate.

Seven proposed constitutional amendments also are on the ballot.

Five candidates are running for the 31st District seat in the Senate vacated by Sherman. The candidates are Democrats Bill Simpson, Mel Phillips and Ben Whittington; and Republicans Bill Proctor and Jim Brandon.

Proctor lives in Pampa; the others live in Amarillo.

The amendments, if passed would:

- increase the size of the court of criminal appeals from five to nine judges and permit the court to sit in panels of three;
- provide for an additional $200 million to build or improve highways to the state for the Veterans Land Program and allow widows of veterans to purchase tracts under certain circumstances;
- permit the denial of bail to a person charged with a felony if he has been previously convicted twice of a felony, a person charged with a felony committed while on bail for a prior felony conviction, and a person charged with a crime involving the use of a deadly weapon; and there be evidence that he has been convicted of a prior felony offense;
- authorize tax relief to preserve certain cultural, historical, or natural history resources;
- authorize formation of agricultural or

Hernandez Lands Job With Probation Office

Paul Hernandez, a Texas Department of Public Safety trooper for nearly three years, today was named assistant probation officer in Deaf Smith County.

Hernandez, who has lived in Hereford since June, 1975, will work primarily with misdemeanor cases.

"We had several applicants. His background, educational background and experience made him well-qualified for the job," said Harold Wheeler, adult probation officer.

"He has experience in working with people. We're picking up people that law enforcement has dealt with. And Paul

Energy Tax Package Heads For Conference Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) - A multibillion-dollar Senate package of energy tax breaks is headed for a congressional conference committee that is likely to combine it with some of the heavy new energy taxes passed earlier by the House.

The final compromise bill probably will mean higher prices for just about everything produced in the United States, along with some tax breaks to encourage conservation.

The Senate bill, approved 52-35 Monday night, aims to encourage fuel conservation and increased energy production with dozens of tax breaks. It is

US Prisoner in Mexico Doesn't Like Prospect

BROWNSVILLE, Texas (AP) - Lance English says he'd rather sit in his Mexican jail cell than spend Dec. 25 with his family in Austin if the U.S. government is going to give him two and a half years of federal probation for a Christmas present.

"I only have 11 more months to go over here with the time I get off for good behavior," said English. "It'd be stupid for me to go back to the States if I've got to be on probation for two and a half years and have a record."

English has spent the last four months in the Mexican jail just across the Rio Grande from this border city. He is one of 26 American prisoners serving time in the Matamoros jail awaiting implementation of the prisoner exchange treaty.

The 29-year-old English received a 5-year, 9-month sentence for marijuana possession.

Mexican officials Monday initially refused to allow newsmen to interview an American prisoner. Only after English's physical well-being was questioned did prison officials allow him to come to the telephone for an interview.

"The U.S. officials have told us that we would probably be home for Christmas and that may sound good but there are still a hell of a lot of unanswered questions," said English. "Nobody's told us whether we'd have a record in the States. If that's the case, I'd be better off staying over here."

The U.S. magistrate in Brownsville, William M. Mallet, said Monday, "As I understand it, the prisoner will have no record in the United States unless he already has one. The Mexican convictions will not be added to their record."

Mallet added he has been notified to attend a meeting of magistrates and public defenders scheduled in San Antonio on Nov. 8 "to get the details of the exchange."

He also said he is scheduled to go to the Matamoros jail on Dec. 12 and 13 and preside over hearings at the Monterrey prison on Dec. 14.

The American prisoners must be brought before a magistrate and be given the opportunity of legal counsel and verbally agree with the provisions of the treaty before an exchange can be implemented.

One provision disallows any appeal of a prisoner's sentence in U.S. courts. A prisoner must appeal in the country where he was sentenced under the treaty guidelines.

English, however, said other American prisoners in the Matamoros

Bayne Scoffs at Finding EPA Claims City Water Contaminated

An Environmental Protection Agency notification has enraged Hereford City Manager Dudley Bayne, who must now publicly report that the city's water system is contaminated.

In a letter addressed to Mayor Bartley Dowell, the EPA said that Hereford is in violation of the Federal Safe Drinking Water Act because the water system exceeds the maximum contaminant level for coliform bacteria.

The bacteria was found in a sample sent by the water department to the state Department of Health Resources laboratory in Amarillo.

The notice which Bayne must publish for three consecutive days in The Brand and broadcast on the local radio station is written by the EPA. It reads:

"We have been advised by the Texas Department of Health Resources that our water system failed to meet the microbiological maximum contaminant level of their drinking water standards, as well as those of the Environmental Protection Agency-National Interim Primary Drinking Water Regulations.

"Water samples analyzed by the state laboratory showed that the water from our system had failed the limits set by federal and state regulations for coliform bacteria. The limit is one coliform per 100 ml as the average of all routine monthly samples collected. The coliform organism is an indicator of contamination and is not harmful."

In the announcement which will begin a three-day run Wednesday in The Brand, Bayne adds:

"It should be noted that only this one sample out of the 240 samples collected during the past year was found to contain coliform organisms. Two additional samples were collected at the same source within a week's time and no coliform organisms were found. The bad sample was probably caused by improper sampling techniques."

The city water department collects 20 samples for analysis each month from locations throughout Hereford. According to Bayne, two samples collected from the site of the bad sample had no coliform organisms.

"We have never had anything like this in 21 years since I've been here. In a year we've had one bad sample out of 240. Either we had a contaminated bottle that we got from the state or it was handled improperly."

Bayne said the notification that must be published creates a lot of extra work for his office. It also must be published in Spanish.

"The EPA gets ahold of this sample and look at all we have to do. All they had to do is check with the state. All they wanted to do is put a gold star on their charts."

"It's funny but it's pathetic, too. To think Congress has just let these agencies get away with this kind of stuff."

This is not the first time Bayne has clashed with the EPA. The city was notified last year that its fluoride content exceeded EPA standards and the water department would have to notify customers of that fact.

Bayne had three options for notifying the city's residents that they were drinking too much fluoride according to the EPA regulations. They were:

- run a notice on each monthly water bill;
- send out separate notifications to the public through the mail;
- or run a classified ad in The Brand each week until the situation is corrected.

Bayne wrote the EPA and requested information on how the agency derived its standards.

"We've had so many studies over the years showing it (the fluoride) to be

Vesta Mae Nunley: She Puts Her Home First

By PAUL SIMS, Managing Editor

Motherhood came first in her life when Vesta Mae Nunley quit teaching. Although she's working again, this time as Deaf Smith County's treasurer, she still realizes the importance of the home.

"I don't have the time to really have any hobbies or anything because when I get home, there's always the general activities of housework that have to be taken care of."

That says that Mrs. Nunley, wife of W.B. Nunley, is exceptionally active, working each day as treasurer and taking care of her husband, who is employed at Hereford Fruit Market.

Mrs. Nunley has three children, all married, and three grandchildren.

"I love children and I enjoyed teaching. But my personal conviction at the time was that being a teacher was a full-time job and anytime a woman works and has a family, she has to divide her time."

"I'm speaking to myself. That was my conviction. Other people may be able to handle two jobs."

Mrs. Nunley has been treasurer for Deaf Smith County the last seven years. She will finish her second term in 1978.

"I love the job. I love the association with people. It's a challenge and I definitely enjoy it."

The challenge, she said, is "keeping your books balanced. Isn't that always a challenge?"

Of course, the county's books, because of their magnitude, are harder to keep balanced than the average person's.

"We receive and disperse county monies. The commissioners court are the regulators of the money — it's dispersed as they see fit."

"We take care of the payroll and personnel files. We write all the paychecks and write all the checks for all the claims made against the county. Since we've been receiving revenue-sharing monies, we have to file federal reports to be kept."

Mrs. Nunley's first run for treasurer when W.B. Nunley retired after 30 years in the position, held several bookkeeping positions prior to running.

Integrity would be the first qualification for this job and then a bookkeeping background, an accounting background. And a treasurer has to get along with people."

Mrs. Nunley came to Hereford with her parents when she was a year old. She has been a resident here for a long time.

"I've always been the kind of person that can bounce back. The people the residents of Hereford and especially the old timers have pride in the county and their town."

"When I see old timers, I'm talking about generations, too, people whose parents have lived here for a long time."

Mrs. Nunley is assisted three days a week by Frances Gilpe.

Davis' Girl Friend Continues Testimony

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) - The defense cornerstone for murder defendant Cullen Davis withstood withering cross-examination by prosecutors Monday when Davis' girlfriend testified she did not tell a grand jury he was with her when a gunman shot four persons in 1976 because "it didn't seem relevant."

Karen Master, a striking, 28-year-old blond divorcee, had testified earlier that she awakened at 12:40 a.m. the morning of Aug. 3 and that Davis was undressed and asleep beside her.

Monday, prosecutors produced secret grand jury transcripts that cast doubt on her story.

She said she did not realize that her testimony could "prove innocence or guilt either way."

The 44-year-old Davis, a millionaire industrialist, is accused of killing his 12-year-old stepdaughter Andrea and his estranged wife's lover, Stan Farr, 30, in a shooting spree at the Davis mansion in Fort Worth.

Supreme Court Studies Pornography's Effect

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Supreme Court is studying whether men's effect on children should be considered in determining if material is obscene, even when children are not a factor in the case. The justices agreed Monday to consider that question in a California case, the latest sequel to the court's 1973 landmark decision on what is and isn't obscene.

In its decision four years ago, the court laid down specific tests lower courts were to apply in deciding obscenity cases.

One test was whether "the average person applying contemporary community standards" would find the work patently offensive and appealing to prurient interest.

In reviewing the conviction of Los Angeles distributor William Pinkus, the court is considering whether children and "especially sensitive persons" are to be included in the definition of "community" when jurors try to determine the standards.

Judge Asks Jury To Disregard Testimony

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) - The trial of two men accused in the car bomb slaying of investigative reporter Don Bolles headed for a jury after being told by the trial judge that the word of an alleged accomplice won't be enough to convict the defendants.

The eight-men, four-woman jury was admonished by Maricopa County Superior Court Judge Howard Thompson on Monday night not to return a guilty verdict solely on the basis of testimony given by confessed killer John Harvey Adamson. The jury was to begin deliberations today.

"The testimony of an accomplice should be viewed with caution," he said, adding that other evidence must indicate the defendants committed the crime for a guilty verdict to be returned.

Police Report

Police arrested Curtis Clayton Jr., of 405 Bradley, Saturday night after a complaint advised that a burglar was inside her residence.

Dora Guerrero of 511 Myrtle, told police that somebody was inside her house Saturday night. Upon arrival, police found a man lying face down under the bed.

Furr's Food Store reported at 11:45 a.m. Monday that a man had tried to steal a package of meat. Charges were not filed in the incident.

Warren Barber, of 128 Mimosa, reported Monday that somebody slashed the tires on his pickup Sunday night while it was parked at Bowling's Bowl on N. 385.

Police investigated minor traffic accidents Monday at 2:35 p.m. at Aspen and Moreman, at 8:21 p.m. in the parking lot of Safeway, and at 1:23 p.m. at N. 25 Mile Ave. and Grand.

In the Safeway accident, a car collided with the front of the store. The driver told police that his breaks had failed.

This was a familiar scene Monday evening as local youngsters donned their Halloween disguises and solicited goodies from area neighborhoods. The weather cooperated with panhandle trick-or-treaters by delaying the current cold snap until the goblins were safe in their beds. [Brand photo by Dianne Banner]

Hereford Bull

National Newspaper Association convention we attended in Houston the past weekend. Connally emphasized the many benefits of Texas to the visiting newsmen, then opened the floor to a lively and interesting question-and-answer period.

The question covered a variety of topics, but one that really drew our attention was one pertaining to the ever-increasing federal bureaucracy. Connally said he felt U.S. citizens were becoming more and more alarmed about governmental regulations and he offered a possible solution.

"We need more statesmen and fewer politicians, and I think one way to accomplish this would be to have limited terms of office." He proposed two 4-year terms for representatives, one 8-year term for senators, and a 6-year term for the Presidency. Connally feels that, under the present system, a man goes to Washington and builds his own little dynasty. "You or I would do the same thing if we were in that position," he declared.

He went on to say that our government is in the hands of 17,000 Congressional aides, more than with our Congressmen. Connally feels the limited-term system could overcome some of these problems.

We were particularly interested in this idea, because a group of men here in Hereford have been discussing the same proposition. Although he neither wants or seeks any credit or recognition, Jay Swayze initiated the non-partisan discussions when he decided that many people were not voting because they didn't think it would make any difference if the lawmakers were more responsive to the people, and not "running for office all the time"; the direction government is taking might be turned around, reasons Swayze.

Inviting a small group of interested men to get together and "kick around" the proposal, Swayze now feels even stronger about the proposal. The group discussed the advantages and disadvantages of such a system, and Swayze feels the benefits far outweigh any possible negative factors.

One thing for sure, it would be tough to amend the U.S. Constitution and would take strong grassroots support. Congress is not likely to take the initiative. Connally believes there would have to be a "grandfather clause" which would allow current congressmen to serve as long as they are re-elected. Voters, however, could demand that Congressmen they elect would support this plan.

What's your opinion? Contact Swayze if you are interested in supporting such a plan, or write a letter to the editor expressing your opinion.

Energy

estimated they would cost the federal treasury about $42 billion over the next eight years.

The House measure takes the opposite tack, relying on taxation to raise energy prices and force conservation. President Carter's proposals were similar to the House version.

The conference committee, which could tackle the tax bill next week, faces the problem of deciding which parts of the two versions should be retained.

Most of the tax advantages in the Senate bill would be for business and industry. But there's a tax break of up to $400 for those who make their homes more energy efficient, up to $150 a year for heating with oil or propane and $75 a year for most elderly Americans.

The Senate bill continues the present income tax deduction for state and local gasoline taxes, and extends through Sept. 30, 1985, the current gasoline tax of 4 cents per gallon. The House version would end the tax deduction.

The House bill would raise taxes by about $40 billion over the next eight years, but a big share of that would be rebated to consumers and business. The only new tax in the Senate bill would raise about $5 billion.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., chief sponsor of the Senate measure, said while the Senate opposes new taxes, it probably would accept some of them if coupled with tax incentives.

The Senate's incentives for business, including some new ones for oil and gas producers, would save an estimated two million barrels of imported oil per day by 1985. The House plan would save about the same.

Carter's original plan was built on four major taxes. The House rejected one - a stand-by gasoline tax of 50 cents a gallon - and approved watered-down versions of the others on crude oil, to force conservation; on industrial use of oil and natural gas, to encourage conversion to coal; and on inefficient cars.

The Senate voted a reduced version of the industrial tax, applying it only to plants built in the future and to the estimated 11 percent of existing facilities that can convert to coal. The other taxes were rejected.

Prisoner

English also talked about avoiding the prisoner exchange.

"The guys they brought in here from the Nuevo Laredo prison said you could get a cell that looked like an apartment for $5,000 in that prison," said English. "They would provide you with good meals, a bottle every now and then and allow your wife or girlfriend to stay with you for a weekend or a week. They even had TVs in the cells. You don't get that in the States."

English followed that statement with a request for someone to contact his father in Austin and tell him to send money.

"Tell him the money's already on the way," responded Terrell English, Lance's father, who added: "It's cost the family about $10,000 since Lance was put in jail over there. If he can come home by Christmas, that's fine but if he can stay and not have a record, then that's even better. I'm sure he'll do what he thinks is best.

"I don't have any problem getting in and out of the jail to see him," continued the elder English when told of the Mexican officials' refusal to allow newsmen to interview American prisoners.

"They all know me by now and I drop a couple of bucks on them every now and then and that helps. That's what they understand."

"What makes us really mad is that we know we couldn't have been convicted in the United States on the charges they've got us on," said Lance. "And if we'd had the money to pay the Mexican cops off that arrested us, we'd be free today."

Abortions

chamber has refused to change its basic position.

Senate conferees support abortion payments in cases where a woman's life would be endangered by full-term pregnancy, in cases of rape or incest, or where a woman or fetus would suffer serious health damage.

On Monday, however, the senators offered to soften their stand. They suggested authorization of abortion payments when a woman's life would be jeopardized by a full-term pregnancy, or where serious physical health damage to the woman would result from a full-term pregnancy.

In adopting this proposal, the Senate conferees abandoned their previous demand that exceptions be made for mental health and the health of the fetus.

But the compromise was rejected by House conferees on a 6-3 vote.

"I think we've compromised as far as we can," Sen. Warren Magnuson, D-Wash., told House conferees.

But some House members maintained the Senate proposal did not go far enough. Conte said some House members had "gained doubts about the health section being another loophole."

The Lighter Side

HERMISTON, Ore. (AP) - If a padded bikini for a cow sounds like utter nonsense, consider matching clothes for horse and rider.

Both are productions from the workshop of seamstress Sherrie Goodnight, 36.

Mrs. Goodnight, whose normal work is making alterations at several apparel shops here, says she'll sew anything that interests her.

"I do a lot of things because I've never done them before," she said.

She designed and sewed a pantsuit for her Tennessee walker horse and another for herself and stitched together a bikini with matching hat for Holly, a Holstein cow.

Holly and the horse, Brandy, won first place for comic entries at the 1976 county fair parade.

There was a slight emergency, however.

Other unusual clothes she has created include undershirts for skin divers, costumes for belly dancers and a waterproof hooded coat with matching boots for a dog.

Fed Up Farmers

Sometimes numbers speak louder than words.

In 1914 a farmer could trade two bushels of corn for one pair of shoes; today he'd have to swap more than 10 bushels.

But more punishing than farm prices today is the government snoopervision, the red tape and paperwork.

Earl Butz says the biggest surprise he got during his government service was to discover what he wasn't.

His title was "secretary of agriculture."

He sat on the President's Cabinet.

Presumably, he was there to represent farmers and administer farm programs.

But he discovered that policy is not made in that impressive front office.

Agriculture policy is dictated by a thousand little dictators. An un-named GS-12 buried in the bowels of the department writes the language in paragraph 3, subsection C, and what he writes becomes law; the secretary never even sees it!

Joe Lamberta is a potato farmer in Delaware. Or he was. He operated 300 acres of potatoes south of Smyrna.

In recent years he had been confined more and more to his small office alongside U.S. 13 doing paperwork for the government.

Then the other day "the man from OSHA" showed up on the Lamberta farm. OSHA is the Occupational Safety and Health Administration, originally intended to protect workers against hazards.

What is this OSHA fella photographing but some grass alongside one of the farm buildings?

The grass had been mowed but a mower will cut only so close alongside a building so this fellow is taking pictures.

When farmer Lamberta asked, "Why so many pictures?" the man from OSHA said he wanted to "use up the film" in his camera.

The man from OSHA said he'd let farmer Lamberta know next Wednesday how much the fine will be.

That's not all. Like most potato farmers in the area, Joe depends on migrant workers who live in a labor camp nearby. Admittedly, these labor camps are not a residential paradise, but what the man from OSHA wanted to know was why there was no screen door on the shower room.

Farmer Joe wanted to know, "Who needs a screen door on a shower room?"

The man from OSHA — an inspector out of the Baltimore office — then wanted to know why the toilets were only 95 feet away from the packing house; there's a regulation specifying 100 feet.

The man from OSHA said after Joe had been fined that he can appeal if he wants to, but both he and Joe know that lawyers would cost more than the fines.

Joe's going out of the potato business. "Getting the hell out," he says. The workers he has generously paid more than the minimum wage, plus free lodging, utilities and free vegetables will have to find other work — or welfare.

Other potato farmers in the area, similarly disgusted, can't afford to keep farming and can't afford not to.

As one says, "It's easy to see why the government wants gun control."

Bergland Seeks Comment On Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) - Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland has called for public comment on the 1978 crop feedgrain program by Nov. 10, indicating that the long-delayed decision on whether to try to cut back corn production next year with an acreage set-aside has been pushed back another two weeks or more.

In addition to opinions on whether there should be an acreage set-aside and how much, Bergland is seeking advice on whether plantings on the remaining acres should be specified by crop, whether land-diversion payments should be made and whether barley and oats should continue to be covered along with corn and sorghum, which must be included under the law.

Satellites Planned For Far Reaches

WASHINGTON (AP) - As an encore to a successful Oct. 22 double-satellite launching, U.S. and European scientists are considering a more ambitious cooperative space effort - a mission to a region never before explored.

The goal of the proposed 1983 launch would be to obtain the first view of the solar system and the sun from above and below the plans in which the planets orbit the sun's equator, the so-called plane of the ecliptic.

By dispatching two spacecraft, one going below and the other above the plane, scientists expect to study the sun's radiation, magnetic fields and other features at all latitudes and simultaneously in the two solar hemispheres.

This could provide information about changes in solar conditions that would influence earth's climate. Other objectives would be to observe the solar corona, the sun's outermost atmosphere; cosmic rays, and the evolution of sun spots.

Under the proposal, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration would develop one of the satellites, and other would be built by the 10-nation European Space Agency.

On Oct. 22, two satellites, one built by each of these agencies, were launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla., on another sun-study mission. The pay-loads are called ISEE 1 and 2 - for International Sun Earth Explorer.

The two groups have worked so well together they have been considering several joint missions they can perform when America's space shuttle is ready for operational missions in 1980. The shuttle, a reusable spaceship, is well into its test program.

NASA is expected to request initial funding for the 1983 joint project in its next budget. The U.S. share of the cost would be about $140 million.

CowBelle Round-Up Held at Clayton

Sarah Lawson and Sunny Lemons represented Hereford CowBelles last week at the Five States CowBelle Round-Up in Clayton N.M.

Workshops were conducted on beef education by June Bradley of Colorado Springs, Colo., on beef legislation by Jean Brown of Albuquerque, N.M., and a CowBelle membership by Betty Selman of Woodward, Okla.

Wray Finney, president of the American National Cattlemen's Association, was the guest speaker during the luncheon held in historic Eklund Hotel. Approximately 60 CowBelles in attendance represented all five states.

The National CowBelle Creed is "Believing that the livestock industry is of basic importance to world existence, we the American National CowBelles dedicate ourselves to support it with our labor and finances, to promote it through information and publicity, to encourage its producers with our understanding and love, and to do all in our power to instill in the coming generations the love of the land and of life, the humility and awe before nature, and the hope and faith in the future that is inherent in cattlemen."

At Wits End

BY ERMA BOMBCEK

Everyone has fears. Fear of heights, fear of death, fear of failing, fear of flying (not to be confused with air travel).

I haven't told anyone about this, but my greatest fear is passing a camper on the highway.

The family doesn't even suspect this. Oh, they got a little suspicious once when I followed an Airstream Caravan all the way to Tampa once without passing (we were headed to Ft. Lauderdale at the time), but no one said anything.

Because I have spent most of my time looking up the exhaust of campers, I have become quite an authority on them. To begin with, did you know that the average speed of a camper on a yellow line going uphill is 35 mph? And 65 mph in a passing zone going downhill?

Did you know that many campers have bumper stickers proudly proclaiming, "Campers Are the Most Honest People in the World" and have their gas tank caps chained to the car? And a dog inside with eight-inch teeth?

Did you know that campers never pull over at scenic views? Never get gas? And have bionic kidneys?

I almost passed a camper once. I had been reading the back of their car for several hundred miles and knew them pretty well. Their names were Karl and Rita from Iowa, and they had been to the four western provinces of Canada, the Grand Canyon, Williamsburg, Crater Lake and Knotts Berry Farms.

They were anti gun control, wanted us to keep the Panama Canal, honk if we loved Jesus, and had voted down the school levy. I had followed them so long, at one point, I thought I saw Smokey the Bear's lips move.

"Why don't you try passing them?" suggested my husband gently.

"Are you saying I've been going too slow?"

"With luck, we'll make ten miles today."

My hands gripped the wheel as I eased out to pass their camper which was attached to a trailer carrying two motor bikes... which was attached to a small car being towed... which was attached to a boat which was being pulled by their station wagon.

What the heck. What was my hurry? We were only a few days from our destination.

"No fireplace can compete with the best wood-burning stove," reports Sue Young, housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. Airtight wood-burning stoves are more efficient than either the traditional masonry or the free-standing fireplace, the specialist says.

POTATOES - THE GOLDEN NUGGET OF GOOD EATING

When early Spanish explorers scavenged the mountains of what is now Columbia, they were looking for "El Dorado," a land overburdened with gold and gems. The only "nuggets" they found were potatoes, which made good eating, but didn't satisfy their cravings for wealth.

If the Spaniards had known then how valuable this vegetable would become, they probably would have treasured it. In 1975 U.S. production of potatoes for the year has valued at over one and a half billion dollars, reports the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA).

This fall, USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service expects the second largest potato crop on record. That means about 303 million hundredweight (slightly over 15 million tons) of potatoes to be harvested.

Take advantage of the heavy supplies. Cash-in on the treasury of nutritious meals potatoes hold.

Be creative! Tantalize any basic potato recipe by simply adding a dash, a dab or a lot of some favorite ingredient.

Mashed potatoes, for example, flourish with new flavor when the liquid used for mashing is varied. Whole milk, sour cream, half and half, liquid nonfat dry milk, vegetable juices, meat stock, cream soups and potato cooking water — each impart to the potatoes the ability to be whipped into billows of lofty-lightness. For ease in obtaining extra fluffiness, heat the liquid before adding to the potatoes during mashing.

Treat your family and guest to a baked potato surprise. Scoop out the inner portion of the baked potato, and mash with butter, salt, pepper, and enough hot milk to moisten. Beat until smooth and fluffy. Add a little diced, cooked ham or grated sharp cheese for tangy variety, and pile lightly back into the potato shell. Think of new interesting combinations.

With holidays approaching, you may wish to find new ways to stretch your menu items. Try scalloped potatoes and ham. Alternate layers of thinly sliced potatoes and onions, cooked and cubed ham and grated cheese in a casserole. Sprinkle a little flour, salt and pepper between each layer, dotting with butter. Pour in just enough milk to cover the ingredients, and bake in moderate 350 degree F. oven until the potatoes are tender (about 30 minutes). Serve with buttered Brussel sprouts.

Looking for new ways to prepare leftover turkey? Try Potato Waffles with Turkey and Cheese Sauce. Add diced, cooked potatoes to medium-thick batter, with a little minced onion, if desired. Pour into waffle iron and bake until steaming stops. Place waffles on serving plate, top with several thin slices of cooked turkey and generously add medium-thick, piping hot cheese sauce.

French Fries - The South American Way - pep up meals or snacks. To prepare them melt 1/4 cup butter or margarine in large fry pan. Add 1 cup chopped onion, 1 minced glove garlic, and 2 pounds of French fries. Cook slowly until onions are tender. Sprinkle over all one-eighth cup flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, and one-eighth teaspoon black pepper; stir gently. Add 1/2 quart half-and-half or light cream and 1/2 cup crunchy style peanut butter; stir carefully until flour cooks and mixture thickens slightly. Pour into serving dish and sprinkle chopped hard-cooked egg over top. Serves 8.

If you like potato salad, but the occasion begs for a warm dish, snuggle this Hot Potato Salad recipe into your meal.

HOT POTATO SALAD

- 3 tablespoons fat
- 1/4 cup finely chopped onions
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
- 3 tablespoons vinegar
- 3 tablespoons water
- 2 tablespoons sweet pickle relish
- 1/2 cup diced celery
- 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
- 1 1/2 cups diced cooked potatoes

Heat the fat and brown the onions light in it. Mix flour, salt, sugar, and mustard, and stir in. Add vinegar and water slowly, stirring constantly, and cook until thick. Mix pickle relish, celery, and green pepper with potatoes. Add the hot dressing and mix lightly but thoroughly. Turn into baking dish, cover, and heat in oven at 350 degrees F. (moderate) about 20 minutes. Serves four.

Nazareth Arts Sale Sunday

Area residents are invited to Nazareth Art Club's Holiday Arts and Crafts Festival from 11 a.m.-5 p.m. Sunday in Nazareth School Cafeteria.

The show will include Christmas crafts and gourmet foods for sale. A drawing will be held for a door prize and admission is free.

When a recipe calls for green or red pepper, use the sweet variety of the vegetable.

Ann Landers

"Sour Grapes" Attitude

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My wife and I decided that maybe you can help us. I am writing because she has been crying and her eyes are too swollen to see.

Last year our beautiful, intelligent daughter married a jerk. She had so many great guys running after her we can't figure out why she picked this loser. But that's over and done with. Now the current problem: Her younger sister has become romantically involved with the idiot's brother. He may be an even bigger jerk. At least the other one had four years of college. This clown quit after one year and is still trying to "find himself."

One character out of that family is enough. What can we do to discourage our second daughter from making this awful mistake? — Pittsburgh

DEAR FITTS: If you want to make sure both daughters have the same in-laws, just continue to knock the kid. Nothing makes a fellow quite so attractive to a girl as having to defend him against her parents.

Look hard and try to find something about the young man to admire. Then — dwell on it. You'll be amazed at the change in her attitude when you change yours.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: There was a big discussion at our house last night about drunken behavior — also a lot of divided opinion. Will you please check with the authorities and give me the straight dope?

When people have had too much to drink do their true feelings come out? Or, do they say and do things that are uncharacteristic of the real person?

My uncle, for example, is a rather reserved man who usually keeps to himself. When he has had one too many (like a third martini) he becomes very talkative and even affectionate. (Actually, he is much more likeable when he's loaded.)

My aunt, on the other hand, is a lovely, pleasant, refined lady when she's sober, but when she drinks she becomes belligerent, nasty and downright mean.

What is the story on such behavior, Ann? — Like To Know

DEAR LIKE: Alcohol breaks down the inhibitions. When the booze goes to work the "censoring agent" takes a vacation.

Inebriated people say what is truly on their minds. Buried resentments surface. The language is unguarded. The behavior you see is the real person.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I have been happily married for two years. His son (now age 17) by his former marriage lives with his mother in a city about 40 miles from us. Johnny and I have always gotten along well — no problem. Although I see plenty of room for improvement, I have never once criticized him — either to his father or anyone else. We have let him know he is welcome to spend weekends with us but he has never shown much interest in doing so.

Johnny has a key to our home and this is what I'm writing about. Last week a neighbor told me that when my husband and I were in Wisconsin the boy and a pretty young girl and another couple spent the night at our place. This neighbor is not a gossip. Should I tell my husband? After all, I'm not the boy's mother. —Don't Want Trouble

DEAR D.W.T.: You may not be the boy's mother but the home is half yours and you should not supply a 17-year-old with such a cozy and convenient setup.

Tell your husband. He should ask Johnny to return the key but make it clear that he and his friends are welcome anytime — when you're at home.

Reaching Their Goal

Members of the Hereford Twisters soccer team pose with trophy they won for taking second place in an Amarillo tournament last weekend. The team lost in the finals 2-1 to a team of Chileans. Shown are [front 1 to r] Daniel Castillo, Juan Ruiz, Carlos

Trevino, David Castillo, and Marco Romero. [Back 1 to r] Felipe Galan, Emilio Romero, Jr., Julian Zamora, Jr., Javier Gutierrez, Ruben Gutierrez, and Eloy Marquez. [SPL]

Renfro Misses Two To Win

The Muleshoe Mules lost for the first time this season last week, and two of the three

and Aaron Bourland, first and second in the contest with two and three misses respectively, counted on the Mules winning, but third place winner Jerry Collier didn't see it that way.

Renfro missed only Auburn's 29-14 win over Florida besides the Mules' 13-7 loss to Friona on the contest to claim the first place prize of $25 this week. And, if anyone had tied him in misses, he probably still would have nabbed the top spot with a perfect guess of 38 on the tie-breaker game which Lubbock High won over the Herd 21-17.

Bourland added misses by picking Florida in its loss, and Colorado in its 24-14 loss to Missouri. Collier's errors were TCU's loss to Houston, Florida's loss, and Kansas' loss to Iowa St.

Bourland won second place by virtue of his guess of 34 on the tie-breaker, while Collier was just off of that with a guess of 32.

Howard Ehrnke either led or was tied for the lead six times in hitting American League batters with a pitched ball.

The home team must have 24 footballs ready for testing by the referee before each National Football League game.

Twisters Second At Tourney

The Hereford Twisters, a local soccer team, placed second in the second round of two-weekend tournament in Amarillo Sunday. The team was led by Emilio Romero, Jr., who scored three of the squad's seven goals in their two contests.

Javier Gutierrez and Eloy Marquez each tallied a pair of goals also. The Twisters defeated Laos 6-2 in the semi-finals and then lost a close 2-1 match to Chile in the finals to finish second. Teams in the tournament are named either by town or by the nationality of most of the players.

In 1925, when the National Football League was in its infancy, the player limit per team was a mere 16 men.

National Football League place-kickers can use a tee for kickoffs but not for field goal or extra point attempts.

Alabama Second, Sooners Third 'Horns Solidify Ranking

By BOB GREENE
AP Sports Writer

The Texas Longhorns are stampeding over the rest of the nation's college football teams this week, garnering 57 first-place votes and a near-perfect 1.176 of a possible 1.180 points from a nationwide and broadcasters.

But Alabama's Crimson Tide, Oklahoma's Sooners and Ohio State Buckeyes are awaiting in the wings just in case the Longhorns get hog-tied in their final four games.

Texas travels to Houston Saturday for a date with the Cougars. Houston won last year's encounter 30-0, snapping a 40-game home winning streak for the Longhorns. But the cougars are without first-string quarterback Danny Davis. Then Texas takes on TCU, Baylor and 10th-ranked Texas A&M.

"I don't think we've reached our potential yet," said Oklahoma Coach Barry Switzer. "We're getting there, but we're still not playing as well as we are capable of doing."

The Sooners are 7-1, their only loss a 13-6 defeat by unbeaten Texas.

Oklahoma picked up enough votes in this week's Associated Press poll to move into third spot with 882 points. Holding onto second place is Alabama, which received one first-place vote and 953 points.

Alabama, 7-1, trounced Mississippi State 37-7 last week but faces 18th-ranked Louisiana State this Saturday. The Tide also has upcoming dates with Miami and arch-rival Auburn. Oklahoma still has to play cross-state rival Oklahoma State, Colorado and 11th-ranked Nebraska, the only team to beat Alabama this year.

Ohio State mangled Wisconsin 42-0 but slipped to fourth with 866 points. The Buckeyes, whose only loss was to Oklahoma, still must meet sixth-ranked Michigan.

Notre Dame is fifth in this week's balloting, followed by Michigan, Kentucky, Arkansas, Penn State and Texas A&M.

The Second Ten consists of Nebraska, Pittsburgh, Clemson, Brigham Young, Florida State Southern Cal, California, Louisiana State and a tie for 19th between Arizona State and Iowa

State.

Falling out of the Top Twenty were Texas Tech, Colorado, Florida and Minnesota.

Charest Lauded

Former Hereford High School standout Dave Charest had one of his best games in two years for the Army football team last Saturday. Charest was awarded the defensive game ball following his performance against Holy Cross in which he intercepted two passes and blocked one punt.

Army, now 5-3, won the game by a 48-7 count. Charest is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Charest of 123 Hickory. The Cadets will play the Air Force Academy this weekend, and have a nationally-televised date with Navy November 28.

Former heavyweight champion Eszard Charles fought Joy Maxim five times and won all five bouts.

A fighter named One Round Garrison lasted four rounds with Jack Dempsey in 1919 and was on the floor 17 times.

In 1983 pitcher Carlton Willey of the New York Mets worked 183 innings without allowing a sacrifice bunt.

Rowland Leads Herd CC Girls

Sophomore Phylcia Rowland posted a time of 13:36 in finishing 13th at the Brownfield Invitational Girls' Cross Country Meet Saturday to lead the Hereford High School contingent at the meet. The meet was won by the Amarillo High Sandies by a whopping 40-point margin.

AHS took first place with 31 points to second-place Tascosa's 71. Following in order were Monterey, Caprock, and Palo Duro before the Herd. Rounding out the order were Coronado, Brownfield, Abilene Cooper, Big Spring, and Abilene High.

Other Hereford runners and their times were Velma Arroyos, 15th-13:41; Kerry Hacker, 27th-14:24; Judy Birdwell, 54th-15:26; Joyce Betzen, 55th-15:27; Kelly Cherry, 63rd-16:19.

The girls have the Amarillo Meet November 5 before competing in the District 4-4A Meet two weeks later in Lubbock.

Steelers, Jets Face Showdown

The Steelers and Jets continued their winning ways last Saturday, and the final game of the regular season in the YMCA Boys' Flag Football League at 4 p.m. this Saturday should be an exciting affair as the two teams face each other.

The Steelers, coached by Bud Snyder, clipped the Colts 25-6 Saturday to up their season mark to 6-0, and the Jets of Michael Dodson did likewise in a 19-9 win over the winless Bengals.

The two teams lead the AFL Division of the league, and a race as close exists in the NFL Division, where the Falcons and Cowboys are tied for the lead at 5-1. Those two teams have already met, and close out the regular slate against the Lions and Cardinals respectively this week.

Other results last Saturday had the Cowboys a 12-6 victor over the Saints, the Bears 19-13 winners over the Cardinals, the Lions 26-13 winners over the Packers, and the Falcons winners in a 38-0 sweep of the Rams in NFL play. Other AFL play had the Raiders 8-6 winners over the Oilers, and the Dolphins 20-13 winners over the Chargers.

Bad Company Leads Mens' Flag League

Beacon Bad Company moved to within one victory of cruising to an undefeated season in the YMCA Mens' Flag Football League Sunday with a 19-6 win over Sante Fe, a team which could have forced a tie with a win over the defending champs.

Bad Company has only the Printer's Devils, 33-12 winners over the Giants Sunday, left on the schedule.

Other results Sunday had the Farmers 12-6 winners over the Cowpunchers, and Toters a 16-6 victor over the Midnight Cowboys.

Bad Company's 6-0 mark leads the lood, while Sante Fe is second at 4-2. Toters is third at 4-1-1, while the Printer's Devils stand at 3-2-1. The Midnight Cowboys (3-3) and the Cowpunchers, Giants, and Farmers (all 1-5) round out the league.

Tom Mack, Los Angeles Ram guard, is a son of the late Ray Mack, a former big league baseball player.

Governor Asks For Support

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Gov. Dolph Briscoe asked fellow governors Monday to press their energy views on Washington despite the fact President Carter cancelled a Nov. 3 White House talk with governors.
The White House said a House-Senate conference committee had not reached a decision on energy legislation and the governors' meeting would be premature.
"In my opinion a meeting of this kind would be quite timely and I regret that it was cancelled," Briscoe said in a letter to fellow chief executives.
Briscoe and Oklahoma Gov. David Boren had been selected to act as co-chairmen and spokesmen for other governors on oil and gas issues.
Briscoe's letter said "the energy development requirements assumed by the President's plan are unprecedented in our nation's history" and the plan falls short of its stated goals.
"It is essential that Congress take steps which would encourage the production of those resources such as oil and natural gas which have made our country strong," Briscoe's letter said, "rather than give in to those forces which presume to protect the consumer but instead would leave us vulnerable to another Arab oil embargo or natural gas shortage because of inadequate domestic supplies."
NEW PROGRAM
WASHINGTON (AP) - The National Endowment for the Arts has a new $1-million Livable Cities Program.
It says the objective of the program is "to challenge citizens and community leaders alike to create places where people want to live and work."
Thought for today: Liberty means responsibility. That is why most men dread it - playwright George Bernard Shaw.

Hill To Urge Energy Reps To Unite Against Proposals

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Atty. Gen. John Hill said Monday he will urge top state energy officials Thursday to take a united stand against parts of President Carter's national energy program.
Hill denied, at a news conference, that his presentation of a resolution Thursday to the Texas Energy Advisory Council was any part of his 1978 campaign for Texas governor.
"I want the resolution judged on its merits, not politics," Hill said.
At a previous meeting of the council, Hill and Comptroller Bob Bullock, a supporter of Gov. Dolph Briscoe, tangled at length over Hill's accusations that Briscoe had not done all he should in the energy crisis.
"Our consumers in Texas have suffered more than those in any other state from energy price increases and resulting utility bill increases," Hill said today. "Not only has this suffering gone unrecognized in Washington, but we would be penalized even further by some of the proposals pending before Congress."
Hill's resolution includes 21 proposed policy stands for the advisory council of the 10 high state officials, included:
- "Kill the crude oil equalization tax," which he said would penalize Texas drivers by raising gasoline prices.
- Reject the House version of a proposal to tax businesses and utilities that continue to use natural gas for fuel. He said this would just increase bills of utility consumers.
- Adopt the Senate plan for phased deregulation of natural gas over a 2 to 5-year period.
- Give top priority in natural gas supplies to irrigation pumping and crop drying.
Hill again accused Briscoe of not pushing for repeal of state sales taxes on utility bills, either in the regular 1977 session or the following special session.
"The extra five percent that is going to be paid this winter for utility bills can be attributed to the governor's failure to do anything," he said.
On other matters, Hill said he was going ahead with plans for the scheduled Nov. 14 trial in Houston over the so-called Mormon will of the late Howard Hughes. A Las Vegas judge recently held that the authenticity of the will and whether Texas or Nevada was his domicile for taxing purposes would be settled in Las Vegas.
"I expect the Houston judge to decide both questions," Hill said. "I am not going to respond to any further action by the judge in Las Vegas."
MUSEUM BEQUEST
NEW ORLEANS (AP) - The New Orleans Museum of Art has announced the settlement of the estate of Victor K. Kiam and the acceptance of his bequest of 17 paintings and sculptures by eight European and American artists.
It says the bequest also includes a collection of 180 African and Oceanic sculptures.
E. John Bullard, museum director, said, "The Kiam bequest, added to previous holdings, gives the museum the most important and diverse collection of 20th-century European paintings and African art in the Southeastern United States."

Cardinals Defense Rips Giants, 28-0

By PAUL LeBAR
AP Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) - The explosive St. Louis Cardinals scored four touchdowns in their National Football League game Monday night, but the richest plaudits went to safety Mike Sensibaugh and a band of much-maligned defenders.

Sensibaugh, a sore-shouldered safety, dashed 79 yards in the opening seconds of the final quarter to climax an unexpectedly stingy performance that impressed even Giants Coach John McVay.

"Their defense surprised us a bit," McVay said following his team's 28-0 loss. "They played very strongly against us. We're not a great offensive football team, but we thought we could do certain things."

The NFL's 25th-ranked defensive team ahead of the clash, St. Louis shut down the Giants on drives to the Cardinals' 31 in the opening half and to the 30, 20, and 15 during the final two quarters.

"I'm extremely pleased, especially with the speciality teams," noted Cards Coach Don Coryell, who also labeled Duane Carrell's punts as a factor in keeping the Giants at bay.

"Over all... offense, defense, and speciality teams... this was our best game this season in all aspects. I didn't dream we'd hold them scoreless."

While fashioning their first shutout of the season, the Cards enthralled a Busch Stadium sellout crowd of 50,323 by bending, but not breaking, against a New York offense which totaled 301 yards to St. Louis' 258.

Quarterback Jim Hart's four pass completions steered the Cards 68 yards late in the opening quarter. Reserve back Steve Jones capped the drive with a 5-yard dash into the end zone.

St. Louis then yielded momentarily to the aerials of the Giants' Joe Pisarcik during a New York advance from its own 16 to the Cardinals' 31.

There, however, the Giants' assault stalled and Joe Danelo's field goal try from the 38 sailed wide of the uprights.

Then, after Terry Metcalf's halfback pass was picked off by New York cornerback Bill Bryant, the St. Louis defense held again.

When the Cards got the ball back, Giants' defender Ray Rhodes was ruled to have interfered with Cards' wide receiver Mel Gray on a disputed 47-yard play which advanced the ball to the Giants' 30.

Three plays later, a second interference call, this against safety Clyde Powers, put St. Louis at the 20. And finally, after two more penalties backed New York closer to its goal, offensive guard Conrad Dobler was credited with a touchdown after pouncing on Wayne Morris' fumble from the 1.

A flurry of fisticuffs erupted as Dobler enveloped the ball. The chief antagonists were Cards' all-pro tackle Dan Dierdorf and Giants' linebacker Brian Kelley.

"Connie fell on it, and then I saw somebody kicking him," explained the 288-pound Dierdorf, who grabbed Kelly. "I grabbed whoever it was, and our momentum carried us into the goal post."

Roger Says Cowboys 'Could Be Greatest'

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP) - Roger Staubach, 35, the "old man" of the Dallas Cowboys, believes the National Football League's only unbeaten team "could potentially be the best I have played on."

The Cowboy quarterback, who has been on three Super Bowl teams, underscores "could" and "potentially."

"Teams have really been getting after us but we have found a way to win even when we had an off day like our 16-10 victory over Philadelphia," said Staubach Monday. "However, realistically right now we are no better or no worse than some eight other NFL teams."

Dallas, displaying a sound running game, a bristling defense and Staubach's passing, is off to its best start in the club's 17-year history.

"The young guys on defense like middle linebacker Bob Breunig, linebacker Thomas Henderson, and tackle Randy White are playing great," said Staubach. "Our defense is one I wouldn't want to play against in the league. I work against them every day and they are tough."

Staubach also praised the Cowboy running game particularly with the addition of rookie Tony Dorsett, the Heisman Trophy winner from Pittsburgh who has given Dallas its first legitimate breakout threat.

"Our running game will keep us in the thick of it," said Staubach, who threw three touchdown passes Sunday in a 37-0 rout of Detroit as Dallas remained the only unblemished club in the National Football League.

"Last year we couldn't run the ball and we were doing such things as passing on third down and two against Los Angeles in the playoffs," said Staubach. "We won't have to do that any more."

Staubach said, "Dorsett hits the hole faster than anybody I've ever seen. He hits the crease quick and then he's gone."

"He also is starting to run good routes which really helps

Kansas City Fires 'Nice Guy' Wiggin

By DOUG TUCKER
AP Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY (AP) - "Let's look at the facts, the brutal facts," said a Kansas City Chiefs player, his eyes glistening with tears. "Nice guys can't be winning coaches in the National Football League."

But Paul Wiggin, an acknowledged "nice guy" who was fired Monday, still believes it can be done.

Chiefs owner Lamar Hunt called a news conference Monday to announce that "in the best interests of the Kansas City Chiefs," Wiggin had been fired and Tom Bettis, a veteran Chiefs' defense backfield coach, was named to replace him on an interim basis.

Wiggin indicated earlier he had talked his successor out of resigning in a show of loyalty.

"Tom is a very loyal guy," Wiggin said. "I said, 'Tom, let's talk about a team and a staff and some people we both care for. Let's forget about Paul Wiggin.'"

Both injuries were sustained Sunday in the Steelers' 31-21 loss in Baltimore.

LOS ANGELES (AP) - The Los Angeles Kings have announced that goalie Rogie Vachon, injured Oct. 19 at Cleveland, will rejoin the National Hockey League club this week.

The Kings' said Monday that Vachon, who suffered a concussion when hit with a shot by Cleveland's Bob Murdoch, has been cleared by the team doctor and was to join the team today in St. Louis.

The NHL club also announced that injured defenseman Dave Hutchison, out with a cut finger, would rejoin the team shortly.

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) - Texas A&M baseball Coach Tom Chandler has announced the Aggies will play an exhibition baseball game against the Houston Astros on April 5 in the school's new 5,000 seat stadium.

The Astros of the National League will stop in College Station on the way to their 1978 season opener in Cincinnati April 6.

The Aggies are the defending Southwest Conference champions.

In the National Football League, the penalty for running into the kicker is only five yards but for roughing the kicker the assessment is 15 yards.

Houston Oilers Coach O.A. "Bum" Phillips says an instant replay camera would help on close plays in football but he doesn't give a blanket endorsement to use of the camera.

Phillips, unhappy with recent controversial calls by officials, said Tuesday he would like to see fulltime officials in the National Football League and another official added to current crews.

Phillips still was burning about a ruling on Houston's kickoff with 27 seconds left in Sunday's game with Cincinnati after the Oilers had tied the game at 10-10. Cincinnati won the game 13-10 in overtime.

The Oilers thought they had scored the winning touchdown on the kickoff when Tony Fritsch's kick was allowed to go into the end zone where Houston recovered.

However, an official ruling was that the ball touched Cincinnati's Willie Shelby and Shelby was out of bounds in the end zone, giving the Bengals possession at the 20-yard.

Phillip said films showed that Shelby was in bounds and so was the ball.

In refusing to endorse an instant replay camera, Phillips said, "You have problems delaying the game and sometimes you still can't tell."

"I hate to see a game go into arbitration as settled on a television camera. I'd prefer to see it settled on the field."

In suggesting fulltime officials, Phillips said if the official "can cost me my job, I'd like to be able to cost him his."

"Right now they can go back to their insurance business or whatever they want to but I don't have an insurance business to go back to," he said.

ankle injury, then an arm injury, and now knee problems.

Simpson's left knee, ailing the past three weeks, was described as "more seriously damaged than you might expect" by a well-placed Bills source. Other sources expressed belief that Simpson will retire if the knee is diagnosed as requiring surgery. They said Simpson might make his decision as early as today.

Following the Bills' 56-17 mauling Sunday by the second-year Seattle Seahawks, Simpson flew to his Los Angeles home.

He reportedly was examined in Los Angeles Monday by Dr. Robert Kerlan. However, Kerlan, a prominent specialist who has treated many famous athletes including former Los Angeles Dodgers pitcher Sandy Koufax, refused comment on the examination.

Simpson, unavailable Monday, for comment, was listed as "questionable" because of a knee "derangement" before the Bills' game Sunday in Seattle, but started and carried nine times for 32 yards.

Simpson sat alone on the Bills' bench during the game's second half. Coach Jim Ringo, who removed Simpson with the Bills trailing 42-3 at the half, said, "There's no sense humiliating a great athlete."

Ringo added that he would have no further comment on the Simpson situation.

After the game, Simpson shook hands with club owner Ralph C. Wilson and told him he would telephone Monday. Wilson, a Detroit businessman, could not be reached for comment.

Simpson is in the second year of a reported $2.3 million, three-year contract. He has expressed increasing frustration in recent weeks as it has become obvious that he will end his career with a losing team.

Bills' Simpson May Be Close to Quitting

By DAN SEWELL
Associated Press Writer

BUFFALO (AP) - The Buffalo Bills awaited word today on whether a knee injury would end the spectacular career of star running back O.J. Simpson.

Simpson has been more depressed in recent weeks than at any point in his nine-year pro career, mainly because of his Buffalo Bills' lowly 1-6 start this season, coming off a 2-12 record last year. He also has been hampered this season first by an

SWC Quiet On Shepard Case

HOUSTON (AP) - Southwest Conference Commissioner Cliff Speegle says the SWC took no action following a weekend meeting with the University of Houston to hear a report on the Darrell Shepard case.

"There was no action taken by the conference," Speegle said of the Sunday meeting. Speegle would not confirm if the SWC investigation is continuing.

UH Athletic director Harry Fouke said "The case was discussed but any action was put aside to a later date."

The Cougars were placed on probation by the National Collegiate Athletic Association. NCAA a few weeks ago for recruiting violations.

The action came following an intense recruiting battle with the University of Texas to sign the highly touted Odessa quarterback.

Shepard was expected to sign with the No. 1 ranked Longhorns but came to the Cougars instead.

The two teams meet Saturday in Rice Stadium with a crowd in excess of 70,000 expected.

The Cougars are banned from post-season play this season and can't play on television during the 1978 regular season. They could, however, accept a bowl invitation next season.

Dr. Alan Chapman of Rice is chairman of the SWC committee investigating the Shepard case.
