Newest Constructions

Hereford's two newest downtown buildings to be open for business are Litho-Graphics Printing and Office Supply, 621 N. Main, and Deaf Smith County Abstract, 304 W. 3rd. Co-owners Mike Patrick and Bob Hillerby opened the printing supply business last month, while employees of Deaf Smith County Abstract moved into their new building over the weekend. New constructions in October totalled $561,300 in building permits, perhaps indicating an upswing after two poor months. Permits in August totalled $303,200, while September building permits amounted to $210,350, the two worst months of the year. This year's 10-month total now is $4,866,980. Details on October's constructions will be included in Thursday's Brand.

Child Faces Accused Threesome

Girl Cries During Busnaping Testimony

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) - A 12-year-old Chowchilla girl wept as she faced her kidnappers in a courtroom and recalled the terror of a mass abduction:

Jodi Heffington, one of 26 children kidnapped with their school bus driver, told of being entombed "in a hole in the ground" where it was dark and hot. The dark-haired girl broke down as she began to describe the bus hijacking of July 15, 1976.

"A man got out with a gun." Jodi began, then burst into tears. Superior Court Judge Leo Deegan called a brief recess while Jodi's father comforted her.

Across the room, the three admitted kidnappers - James Schoenfeld, 26, Richard Schoenfeld, 23, and Fred Woods. 26 - alternately leafed through papers and glanced impassively at the young

Search for Missing Youngster Renewed in SouthPlains Canyon

LUBBOCK (AP) - West Texas authorities say they know six-year-old Johnny Turner Jr. is somewhere in rugged Yellowhouse Canyon - though a numbing search has failed to turn up the missing first-grader.

"He's here somewhere, we know for sure," said one detective at the scene. "It's just a matter of time now."

While authorities regrouped and planned a renewal of the search, Philip Carey Brasfield, already free on bond on a child molesting case, was charged Tuesday with aggravated kidnapping in connection with Johnny's disappearance.

Although no official statement was made, authorities indicated they were not optimistic about finding the child alive.

Johnny was disappeared last Wednesday from a low-income apartment building area in a predominantly black Lubbock neighborhood.

Justice of the Peace Charles Smith set bond at $100,000 for Brasfield, of nearby Slaton. The charges were filed after police questioned Brasfield for several hours following his arrest Monday night the three would be condemned to life imprisonment without possibility of parole. They have chosen a trial by judge rather than jury, fearing jurors would be swayed by sympathy for the children.

Jodi testified she suffered repeated nosebleeds during the 27-hour abduction and also hurt her knee, wet her pants and felt "awful."

"My stomach felt like I was gonna throw up," she said.

Jodi and another kidnap victim, Mike Marshall, 15, remembered the children crying and praying as they lay in a buried

Televised Sports Events Questioned

WASHINGTON (AP) . A House communications subcommittee is beginning two days of hearings to discover whether ABC, CBS and NBC are covering or controlling the sports events they broadcast.

Possible conflicts of interest, sports event scheduling to accommodate television and TV's advertising and promotional policies are subjects being studied by the panel.

Alvin Rush, president of NBC sports, was to testify today, followed by Roone Arledge, president of ABC News and Sports, and sportscaster Howard Cosell. Bob Wussler, president of CBS sports, is scheduled for Thursday morning.

Icy winds from the Colorado Rockies sent a chill surging throughout Texas Tuesday as the first major cold front of the season finally broke the warmth of an Indian Summer which has been lingering over the state for weeks.

Gusty northwesterly winds buffeted the Panhandle throughout the day Tuesday, with windspeeds of up to 60 miles per hour sending the temperature toppling into the 30's in the wake of the Canadian cold front.

Temperatures plummeted to below freezing before daybreak this morning in numerous Panhandle cities.

In Hereford KPAN radio recorded a low of 28 degrees during a period from 3:45 to 4:30 a.m., but the temperature began to rise and had reached 35 degrees by 8 a.m.

The period of sub-freezing temperatures may not have been of sufficient duration to defoliate the area cotton crop. much of which is still in need of a killing frost before stripping operations can begin in earnest.

County Extension Agent Juston McBride reported that he isn't sure this morning's low temperatures were sufficient to kill some of the leaves on cotton plants.

"I checked some of theleaves on plants in my yard this morning and it looks like the cold may have killed them. As for cotton plants, I can't say for sure. Some of the leaves may have been killed in exposed locations in the fields, but we won't be able to tell much for two or three days. I'll only know for sure that we've had a killing frost when all of the 'eaves turn brown and fall off," McBride

Early morning lows at other cities in the Panhandle and on the South Plains included 24 at Dalhart, 28 at Amarillo, 31 at Bushland, 32 at Borger, 26 at Dumas, 31 at Perryton, 30 at Pampa, 39 at Shamrock, and 32 at Lubbock.

The extended weather outlook calls for the arrival of another cold front Thursday night, with the possibility of more cold weather next week.

Some shower activity was noted early today in the extreme eastern portion of the Panhandle near the Canadian River.

Forecasts called for light rain over portions of north central and northeast Texas, with skies expected to be clear over most of the rest of the state.

More cold weather is on tap for tonight with lows in the upper 30's to mid-50's in North Texas and West Texas lows in the 30's to 40's.

Knorpp Request Rejected by Court

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - The Texas Supreme Court today refused Kerry Knorpp's plea to be reinstated as county attorney of Potter County.

Knorpp sought permission to file a petition for a writ of mandamus to set aside and crase special Judge Arthur Tipps' Oct. 7 order suspending Knorpp temporarily and appointing Edward Poole to serve as county attorney.

Knorpp was suspended after Tipps heard allegations that Knorpp had unlawfully taken county property and misapplied funds.

Castro County Sheriff Granville Martin hopes that charges will soon be filed in connection with the shooting death of a 15-year-old Dimmitt girl Monday night northwest of Dimmitt on Easter Road.

Committee Attempts To Work out Compromise

WASHINGTON (AP) - The fate of President Carter's program to conserve energy and reduce U.S. reliance on foreign oil rests with House-Senate conferees following completion of floor

All elements of the energy legislation, first proposed by the president in a nationwide television address last April, are before the negotiating panel. The committee now has the task of working out a compromise on the complex energy conservation and tax legislation. The panel must reconcile House measures endorsing most of what Carter requested with Senate bills that reject many of his major proposals. Senate passage of its tax bill earlier this week opened the way for the committee to begin serious work.

But enroute to the committee, how has the president's energy program fared since he unveiled it last April 20?

Here is a rundown on how each house dealt with the major proposals and what decisions are now facing the conference

-Crude Oil Tax: The House approved the president's proposal to make domestic patroleum as expensive as imported oil by 1980 through a tax that would add about 7 cents a gallon to gasoline and other petroleum products.

The Senate's energy tax bill ignored this tax altogether. Democratic congressional leaders hope it, along with other administration tax proposals, can be revived in the conference committee.

-Rebates to Consumers for Energy Taxes: The House passed the administration plan to rebate revenues from the crude oil tax to consumers, at least for one year. It would give about $22 to each adult in a household.

Because the Senate bill does not contain this tax, it did not formally deal with the rebate issue. But the Senate appears to favor using revenues from such a tax - if one is ultimately adopted to encourage energy conservation and increased production.

Some combination of this proposal, with part of the tax revenues being used as rebates and the rest as energy incentives, appears likely to emerge if the conference committee goes along with the crude-oil tax.

-Natural Gas Pricing: The House approved Carter's plan to raise the price ceiling on natural gas from $1.46 per thousand cubic feet to $1.75 while maintaining price controls and extending regulation to gas produced and used in the same state. The Senate rejected the proposal, voting instead to deregulate gas prices after two years.

This issue poses a major problem for conferees. Carter has vowed to veto any bill that lifts price controls on natural gas. But keeping the controls will likely be resisted by Senate negotiators.

A possible compromise expected to be offered is one which could keep controls at least for the next decade - but which would set a price ceiling for newly discovered natural gas much higher than the $1.75 advocated by Carter possibly in the vicinity of just over $2 per 1,000 cubic

-Tax on Inefficient Cars: The House approved Carter's plan to impose a big tax on cars that get poor gas mileage, although the measure was modified slightly to make it apply to fewer cars. The Senate rejected this approach altogether, voting instead for an outright ban on inefficient cars, starting in 1980 with cars that get less than 16 miles per while taxing others is a possibility. -Standby Gasoline Tax: Carter proposed increasing gasoline taxes by up to 50 cents a gallon if U.S. consumption continues to climb rapidly. The House rejected it and no serious efforts were made in the Senate to revive it.

Conferees have deadlocked over this issue. A possible compromise banning the manufacture of some fuel-thirsty cars

-Tax on Industrial Use of Natural Gas and Oil: This is the only Carfer energy tax passed by both House and Senate, although in slightly different versions. neither is as tough as that proposed by the president. Both bills would rebate the tax to plants that convert to coal.

-Coal Conversion: Both houses passed, and conferees have already tentatively endorsed. Carter's proposal to ban new utilities and industries from burning natural gas and oil. Conferees are now considering what to do about existing plants. The Senate approved a much milder version that would allow all but the biggest plants to continue burning oil.

Electric Utility Rates: The House adopted the President's plan to force utilities to revise their rate structures, a move that would make electricity cheaper at night or during other off-peak times and would bar discount rates to industries that use lots of power.

The Senate rejected this approach, although it voted to reduce the electric bills of persons over 62/years of age by about 40 percent. This is expected to be another difficult issue for the conference panel to resolve.

-Conservation Credits: Homeowners could receive up to $400 in tax credits for installing insulation, storm windows and other energy-saving devicese and even bigger tax breaks for solar energy equipment under Carter's plan. Both the House and the Senate have passed this proposal and the conferees are expected to include it in their final bill.

-Miscellaneous Energy Tax Breaks: The Senate bill includes some $42 billion in a variety of energy tax incentives, most of which would go to businesses. The House bill contains few of these

The conference panel is likely to accept some of the Senate incentives.

The panel already has been meeting for more than two weeks on non-tax parts of the energy legislation and has reached more tentative agreements.

Supreme Court Upholds Ruling Against Bell

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - The Texas Supreme Court today affirmed lower court rulings awarding $60,000, plus a $586 monthly pension, to the family of T.O. Gravitt, a Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. executive who committed suicide.

A five-member committee appointed by the company's board of directors approved the payment but rescinded its action after the Gravitt family filed a wrongful death suit against Southwestern

The trial court ruled in favor of the Gravitt family, and that ruling was upheld by the San Antonio Court of Civil Appeals.

The appeals court said the two paragraphs of the company's pension plan that the committee relied on in withholding benefits were invalid. The provisions, in effect, provide that the Gravitts would get nothing unless they completely relinquished their right to recover on their wrongful death suit.

The supreme court said it could find no reversible error in the lower court rulings.

Sturgis Arrested During Investigation

NEW YORK (AP) - Convicted Watergate burglar Frank Sturgis was held in lieu of $25,000 bail today after allegedly trying to force a change in the tesitimony that ex-spy Marita Lorenz gave to a congressional committee. Miss Lorenz reportedly told federal investigators after Sturgis' arrest that he shot at President Kennedy in Dallas.

Sturgis, a 53-year-old former Marine who once fought at the side of Cuban President Fidel Castro, was held on a charge of harassament and coercoin.

Over the weekend, the woman he allegedly harassed and coerced reportedly told investigators for the House Committee on Assassinations the same story she recently told a newsman - that she, Sturgis, Lee Harvey Oswald and others drove from Miami to Dallas together in November 1963, a few days before the Kennedy assassination. She said she was sent back to Miami before the shooting.

Employers eventually would pay almost double what their workers contribute to the system under the committee's today. A House bill passed last week would retain the equal tax burden.

WASHINGTON (AP) - Thieves appear to be caught in the middle of declining CB prices and rising public awareness of the theft potential of their rigs. The result: fewer stolen radios.

For the second time this year. the FBI has reported the over-all theft rate has declined, this time by 9 percent during the first half of the year compared with the same period of 1976.

The FBI reported a 5 percent increase in theft last year and a spokesman said that, while FBI statistics did not specify types of theft, indications were that CBs stolen from vehicles made up a substantial portion of hat category.

Since then, the FBI reported the theft rate down 11 percent during the first three months of the year and some auto insurance representatives said then that they believed a decline in CB thefts had contributed to the drop. During that period, CB radio prices declined by as much as two-thirds. Some 23-channel sets that sold for $150 two years ago now can be bought for $50.00.

The Electronic Industries Association, a trade group representing CB manufacturers. agrees that the continuing theft decline is due in large part to the drop in CB prices, according to Mark V. Rosenker, public relations director for its communications division.

"There have been fewer CB thefts because the lower prices provide less incentive." Rosenker said in an interview.

But he also said the recent developments permitting disguised antennas and hidden radios often make thefts more difficult.

"We don't know which has contributed most to the drop in thefts, but we think it's because of the lower prices," he said.

Dutch Millionaire Released Unharmed

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands (AP) - Maurits Caransa's kidnappers released the Dutch multimillionaire unharmed early today after payment of $4 million in ransom, police said. They said the gang who held Caransa for five days were common criminals, not political terrorists.

Cutting Automobile Costs Not Impossible

EDITOR'S NOTE: Americans spend more than $41 billion a year on automobiles and other vehicles. They spend more than $5 billion on insurance. Many consumers are spon more than they have to. Here, in the second of a two-part series, is a look at how to cut costs.

By LOUISE COOK Associated Press Writer

Careful shopping, selective buying and special discounts can cut auto insurance premiums sharply. The savings vary from driver to driver, but you may be able to trim your bill by one-third or even more.

The Illinois Department of Insurance noted recently that there were more than 300 companies selling auto insurance in the state and said rates differed sharply "from company to company, driver to driver, car to car and protection to protection.'

The department stressed that an expert insurance agent or broker is a necessity and urged consumers to watch out for:

-Agents or brokers who try to force you to buy another kind of policy such as life or homeowners when you buy auto insurance. The purchase of auto insurance should not be contingent on any other transaction.

-Agents or brokers who sell insurance on a part-time basis only and may not be available to give you service when you need it.

-Agents or brokers who cannot explain the policy in simple terms so you understand it.

-Agents or brokers who do not keep in touch with you about possible changes in your insurance.

The main difference between an agent and a broker is that an agent works for one or more insurance companies; a broker is an independent business person.

You may be able to check the financial stability of any insurance company you are considering by looking it up in Best's Insurance Reports, an annual publication of the A.M. Best Co., a private reporting and rating organization.

The ratings, ranging from excellent to fair, reflect the financial condition and operating performance of a company. The ratings do not include an evaluation of policy provisions. Nor do they cover claims practices. Best does not rate all insurers; do not reject a company just because it is not listed. One of the most common ways for consumers to lower costs is by increasing the deductible on your policy. The deductible is that amount you have to pay before insurance coverage

Increasing your deductible from $50 to $100 can cut the collision portion of your premium package by 10 to 20 percent; going from a $50 to $200 deductible can cut the premium by 30 to 40 percent.

You may want to consider eliminating collision coverage completely on older cars which are already paid for. It does not make much sense to pay $100 a year in premiums on a car that is worth only $300.

Note: if you itemize your income tax deductions, you may be able to subtract losses exceeding $100. Suppose you are in a 32 percent tax bracket. If you have an auto accident and suffer $500 in damages to your car, you could subtract $400 as a casualty loss. Thirty-two percent of $400 is equal to $128 that you would have on your taxes.

State Farm Insurance Cos., the nation's largest auto insurer, said studies showed its customers were shifting toward higher deductibles and, in some cases, eliminating collision coverage.

The company said that as of Dec. 15, 1975, just over 71 percent of State Farm policyholders carried collision coverage. Among new policies sold in June 1977, only 61.2 percent included collision coverage.

Of those who carried the collision coverage in 1975, the company said, 40.7 percent had $50 deductibles, 50.6 percent had $100 deductibles and 8.7 percent had other deductibles,

Of those purchasing collision coverage this June, only 24.8 percent chose $50 deductibles; 60.5 percent chose $100 deductibles; and 14.6 percent selected other deductibles. Other suggestions for savings on auto insurance include:

-Drive safely. Your premiums depend partly on your accident record. If you do have an accident, be sure to report it, both to the police and your broker. The reporting is important even if you are not at fault or are the victim of a hit-and-run accident.

-Try to pay your premium for the full policy period such as six months or a year. It costs extra to pay on the installment plan. If you don't pay on time, your policy will be cancelled.

-Consider a group automobile insurance plan if your employer, union or professional organization offers such a program. The premiums may be less and your insurance won't be cancelled unless you don't pay the premium or the whole group's coverage is cancelled. Investigate insurance plans offered by automobile clubs, but remember that you will have to pay membership dues. If you would not ordinarily join, you will have to add the dues to your premium cost.

-Avoid buying an expensive or high-performance car. It will be expensive to repair or replace and is tempting to thieves. Premiums generaly are higher on more expensive cars. One insurance company said, for example, that policyholder in a midwestern city could save more than $350 a year on a total insurance package by buying a $3,500 subcompact instead of a $7,500 larger model.

-Don't drive to work. And if you must drive, try to join a car pool. The fewer miles you drive, the lower the premium and many companies give special discounts for car pools.

-Ask if you qualify for any other special discounts. Among factors that may help you save are insuring more than one automobile with the same company, completion of an accredited driver-training course, passive restraint systems such as air bags and no accidents or traffic violations for the past three years. Students with a grade average of B or better also may get a reduced rate as may nonsmokers and

On the negative side, factors that could result in your paying higher rates include a frequent change of address, residence in a low-income or deteriorating neighborhood and divorce. Rates also are often higher for drivers over 65, those who have been licensed less than three years and unmarried male drivers less than 30 years old.

The savings can add up. State Farm calculated what the rates would be for an adult married couple - over 25 - with a 1975 Chevrolet Impala on which they carry a given package of

For the purposes of the example, the couple was assumed to have a comprehensive policy with bodily injury coverage of $50,000 per person and $100,000 per accident and property damage liability of $10,000; a policy for personal injury protection or medical payments coverage; a policy for uninsured motorist coverage; and a collision policy with varying deductibles.

If the couple lives in suburban Atlanta and either husband or wife drives 100 miles or more to and from work every week. the six-month premium for the package, assuming no deductible on the comprehensive and a $50 deductibel on the collision policy, would be $125.63. Raising the collision deductible to $100, would cut the premium to $120.50. Raising the collision deductible to $200 and adding a $50 deductible on the comprehensive policy, would cut the bill still further to $107. If the primary driver then joined a carpool and drove less than 30 miles to and from work each week, the premiums would drop to $87.50. The overall saving would be 30 percent.

Young drivers - particularly boys - boost insurance bills sharply. If the Atlanta couple had an 18-year-old son who started driving the family car, their six-month insurance premiums would increase by more than $100.

Rates - and potential savings - vary widely in different parts of the country. If the Atlanta driver lived in Sacramento, for example, his State Farm premiums for the insurance package specified could range from $140.80 to $191.58. A driver in the suburbs north of Chicago could pay from $108.44 to $161.70 and a driver in Rochester, N.Y., would spend from $108.20 to

The plan on which Carter has staked the reputation of his first-year's domestic program has had a hard time from the outset, even in the House.

Those recurring reports that the program sailed through the House nearly intact before being dismantled by the Senate aren't quite accurate.

The House did pass most of the president's proposals, but only after a major reconstruction effort directed by House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill that followed numerous setbacks before House committees and subcommittees.

Major fights still remain for The negotiating panel has conferees. The panel could deadlock over Carter's plan rejected by the Senate - to force electric utilities to revised their gas pricing issue remains one of the biggest potential stumbling blocks to a compromise bill.

Ann Landers Penny Pinching Problem

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My sband is a perfectionist when it comes to money. Hank insists that I give him receipts for every nickel I spend. If my "books" don't balance, I really catch it. My purse was snatched two years ago and I didn't know exactly how much money I had in it. Well-I am still getting

"I gave at the office"

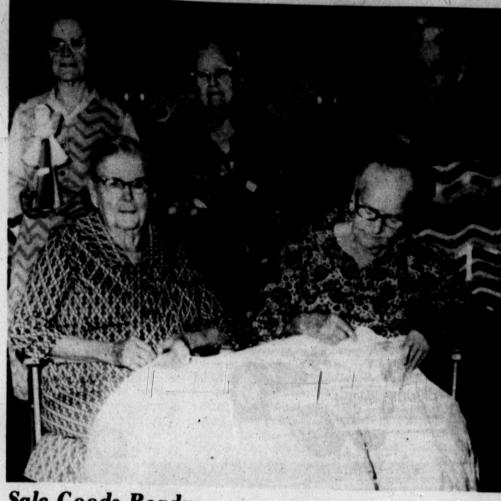

Good for you! When you give to the United Way at the office, it's no cop-out. It's something to be proud of. It stands for something. And it makes a lot of sense. It's the best, and the most economical way to give. United Way means efficiency, accountability, and intelligent allocation of your money, too. When you give at the office, you're helping to ease people's pain and misery. In all it's forms wherever it's found and no matter who it's found in. In one way or another, all 12 agencies of the United Way are set up to do just that.

United Way agencies operate to provide important health and social services to anyone who needs them. Help with problems of family stress and alcoholism. With children's needs and problems and disaster-related needs. The list goes on and on...12 agencies worth. The help United Way agencies give is available to everyone, regardless of race, creed or color. Or income. Say proudly, "I gave at the office."

Board Incorporates Satellite Center

Members of Hereford Satel- Stockstill and Gloria Cortinas. lite Work-Training Center Advisory Board assembled Tuesday at Caison's Steak House with president Majorie Lassiter presiding.

Director Sandy Stockstill reported two cases of vandalism at the center, where two windows were broken out. After replacement of the glass panes, they were again broken by vandals. Damage was also done to a well at that location.

After this report, the building committee was instructed to investigate this vandalism situation and decide on a course of action.

Bill Marquis recommended that the board be incorporated as a non-profit organization. This proposal was approved by the board with JoAn Dwyer, Bill shore, Gene Brock and Marquis being elected as corporate

Democratic comedy act

LOS ANGELES—(NEA)—The Democratic National Committee's $1,000-per-person fund-raising extravaganza here almost became the most recent victim of the inept organization and amateur planning that continues to plague President Carter's staff.

The lavish dinner escaped that fate only because the White House uncharacteristically agreed to go outside the President's "inner circle" of trusted aides and turned over control of virtually the entire operation to a pair of veterance.

control of virtually the entire operation to a pair of veteran party fund-raisers.

Although the dinner appeared superficially to be a roaring success, the behind-the-scenes comedy of errors that almost destroyed it began with a planning trip Carter's son, Chip, made to California months ago.

Before the Presidentms son and the inexperienced White House operatives could provide the customary — and expected — notice of their plans, details of the Oct. 22 dinner began appearing in the press.

Those who should have been notified first but weren't included California Gov. Edmund. G. (Jerry) Brown Jr., California Democratic Chairman Bert Coffey and Assembly Speaker Leo McCarthy.

When the influential McCarthy belatedly learned of the White House plans, he had to hastily abandon a fundraising dinner for state legislative candidates previously scheduled for the same hotel ballroom on Oct. 18, only four days before the Carter affair.

scheduled for the same hotel ballroom on Oct. 18, only rour days before the Carter affair.

To assuage McCarthy, the White House produced Vice President Walter F. Mondale as the guest of honor at an Oct. 7 San Francisco fund-raising party. With guests paying $500 apiece, McCarthy raised an impressive $100,000 for his colleagues in next year's legislative

But a Los Angeles party Mondale attended on the same California trip, designed to stimulate interest and ticket sales in the dinner featuring the President, was such a is ster that the normally mild-mannered vice president sportedly returned to Washington with scathing complaints about the event.

The loudest criticism came from Coffey, who seized every available opportunity to publicly accuse the White House staff of being hit-and-run artists with a take-the-money-and-run approach to the rich lode of Democratic contributors here.

In a futile effort to mollify the intemperate Coffey, the White House offered the California party 7 ½ per cent of the net proceeds from the dinner.

But that move only produced additional grumbling when California party officials realized their share would be computed only after substantial expenses, including the operating costs of Air Force One, were deducted from the gross proceeds. plaints about the event.

The dinner reportedly grossed $650,000 in "new money," but expenses were estimated as high as $150,000, leaving a net of about $500,000. After all the bills are paid, California's share probably will be in the $30,000-$35,000 range, a sum viewed by Coffey and his belligerent allies as range, a sum viewed by Coffey and his belligerent allies as only a token payment.

The potential debacle was salvaged by a pair of longtime Democratic fund-raisers with no particular ties to Carter— Los Angeles entertainment magnate Lew Wasserman, the dinner chairman, and San Francisco businessman Walter Shorenstein, his deputy.

But Wasserman and Shorenstein concentrated their ticket sale efforts on traditional "fat cat" donors because the President's aides initially ignored the wealthy Califor-the President's aides initially ignored the wealthy Californians who contributed to Carter during his 1974-76 campaign for the White House.

Some of those well-heeled Carter backers, who undoubtedly would have purchased tickets if they had been solicited early enough, were called only a few days before the dinner with apologies for the "oversight" and an offer of free tickets to avoid any additional embarrassment.

"The people in charge," said one highly respected veteran politician here, "just dropped the ball."

Mavericks Claim Twin Victories

By BOB NIGH Brand Sports Editor

La Plata Junior High gained a sweep of two football games involving the Maverick 7th and 8th grades against cross-town rivals from Stanton Tuesday afternoon. La Plata won the 7th grade battle 14-0 behind a super performance by Raymond Martinez, Jr. and then took the 8th grade contest 27-16 after shutting down a late Stanton

Phillies' Carlton NL Cy Young Pick

By ALEX SACHARE AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) - Steve Carlton, the left-hander who parlayed power and finesse into 23 victories for the Philadelphia Phillies in 1977, was named winner of the Cy Young Award today as the National League's outstanding pitcher.

It was the second time Carlton has won the honor, awarded annually to the outstanding pitcher in each league after a vote of a committee of members of the Baseball Writers Association of America, two from each league city. He also won it in 1972.

Carlton, the major leagues' winningest pitcher who compiles a 23-10 record in leading the Phillies to the East Division title, was an easy winner in the Cy Young balloting, receiving 17 of 24 first-place votes an 104

Tommy John of the West Division champion Los Angeles Dodgers was second with 54 place votes. Tom Seaver of Cincinnati and Rick Reuschel of Chicago tied for third with 18

Other receiving votes were Pittsburgh's John Candelaria, 17 points and one first-place mention, and Chicago's Bruce Sutter, a relief pitcher, five

Five points are awarded for a first-place vote, three for a second and one for a third.

The American League Cy Young Award winner, announced last week, was relief pitcher Sparky Lyle of the world champion New York Yankees.

The 32-year-old Carlton is the sixth pitcher in baseball history to win the Cy Young Award more than once. Seaver, Sandy Koufax, and Jim Palmer, each have won it three times. Bob Gibson won it twice and Denny McLain won it once and shared it once. The award was instituted in 1956, and in 1967 the baseball writers began making separate awards for each league.

Carlton is currently on a three-week hunting expedition in British Columbia, Canada, a

After winning 27 games in 1972, Carlton tailed off to three mediocre seasons - 13-20, 16-13, 15-14 - in Ozark's first three years as manager of the Phills. But last year he bounced back to 20-7, and he topped that his summer.

Ozark attributes the comeback to the Phills' reacquisition late in 1975 of veteran Tim McCarver, who has become Carlton's designated catcher.

As his designated catcher, McCarver was perhaps more familiar with Carlton's moundwork than anyone else.

"The big guy used to overpower the hitters with that hopping fast ball," he said. "Now he still overpowers them, what he throws. He can get them all over the plants, and that's why he's such a great

Baseball Free Agent

NEW YORK (AP) - "I'm anxious to see what my market value will be," said New York Yankees pitcher Mike Torrez, looking ahead to Friday's re-entry draft of baseball's free agents. "I can't sell myself

The 32-year-old right-hander, who won 17 games for the Yankees during the regular season and two in the World Series, reportedly is seeking a five-year contract for between $1.75 million and $2 million.

He could have pulled out of the draft as late as Monday midnight by signing with the Yankees, with whom he and his agent, Gary Walker, have been holding steady negotiations. The Yankees reportedly have offered between $1.25 million and $1.5 million, and say they will continue to try and sign Torrez.

"We never stopped negotiating and we still won't," says club President Gabe Paul. "You've got to run the ball

That's not the situation in Chicago, where White Sox owner Bill Veeck says he is not going to try and sign suffielders Oscar Gamble and Richie Zisk, both of whom will go through the draft Friday.

"It would cost $1 million a year to sign them for anywhere from three to five years," said Veeck. "That's what their two paychecks would have added up to in 1978."

And Calvin Griffith, owner of Minnesota Twins, says he will make no effort to sign nine of the 11 players from his organization who will become free agents, the exceptions being outfield stars Larry Hisle and Lyman Bostock.

The 65-year-old Griffith is a strong opponent of the free agent system. "It's going to be predicted. "One of these days the owners are going to get hit with a sledgehammer and see what damn fools they are."

There are several wrinkles in this year's draft with new categories added to the option playouts who formed the talent pool a year ago, when Reggie Jackson of the Yankees was the most expensive selection at $2.9 million. Among the new categories is a list of players with major league contracts for 1976 who were outrighted to minor league teams.

Clubs losing players in the six-year veteran category will be compensated with free agent

Football League officiating. His first pounding against the desk followed by a cry of outrage as a yellow flag floated to the tartan turf against his Cowboys has seldom disturbed writers in the Texas Stadium press box who concentrate on A. The game, or B, the latest cheerleader recruit.

Some things don't change and the emotional Tex is Tex.

Schramm has been relatively silent this 7-0 year but certainly not without an opinion in the current furor over the proficiency of the part-time NFL employees in striped shirts.

Asked if he believed the NFL office as lax in finding a solution to the problem, Schramm said Monday, "I don't think sufficient work is being done. I think the referees should be held more accountable."

The influental Schramm said, "I think 80 percent of the referees who are good are taking the rap for 20 percent. Certain people are just more capable of working under stress and making quick decisions with Schramm said, "I don't rule out the possibility of having one fulltime official per game who work the year around for the league. If we had say 10 guys, they could hold seminars for the other part time officials.

Schramm said he was talking about "quality" fulltime peo-

He added, "I just don't think we could find 80 fulltime referees because it would be very difficult and besides we would have a lot of guys sitting around. I don't think that would be "that great a career."

Currently, the NFL scouts the college ranks but Schramm concluded that "there should be a larger turnover based on performance and that there should be MORE scouting of potential officials."

Schramm said, "We have a lot of intelligent, top quality people right now who are referees. For example, Tommy Bell was one of the best. But he had to retire to devote more time to his law practice."

Football is the only major professional sport that does not have fulltime officials. Most are private business such as

NEW YORK (AP) - Four percent unemployment. That is what the Humphrey-Hawkins bill would commit the federal government to seek as an objective. And that is what the President now must consider endorsing or rejecting. Few people quarrel with the objective of the bill, but there is much questioning about whether it is possible and how it is to be achieved - private or public enterprise - and just what the costs might be.__ But in terms of potential future controversies, there is another question that should rank right up there. It is this: How do you precisely measure unemployment? And the answer at the moment is that we do not

Those decimalized statistics we receive each month are hardly the accurate measures we tend to believe they are. Good as they are, relative to other countries, they are little more than estimates, and are based more on formulas than on actual counts.

The man responsible for the monthly reports, Julius Shiskin, commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, has expressed doubts about their accuracy. He maintains at least a half-dozen other measures, in case,

President Jimmy Carter has questioned the accuracy of the figures. So did President Gerald Ford. So have scholars from the Urban Institute- and the Brookings Institution. So have bankers, union It should be noted that only leaders, academics, private economists. Boston has long contested the accuracy of the figures in its New England area. Last Monday, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York said flatly the rate has become an unreliable measure. Some say the official unemployment rate is too high. Others say too low. Municipalities have threatened suits over it because, they say, it gives them a black eye if high and deprive them of revenue sharing funds if too low. Critics maintain that many tens of thousands of discouraged job seekers are arbitrarily erased because they don't fit the formula of having actively sought work during the measurement period. But the critics also say that many tens of thousands of people are termed jobless when a little initiative and personal inconvenience would take them from welfare rolls and put them in jobs, however menial.

Should teenagers seeking part-time work be included? Should women seeking to supplement the family income be counted?

Shepard Case Not Key Coaches Say

HOUSTON (AP) . The "Darrell Shepard Situation," apparently is the least talked about subject on the university of Texas and Houston football teams but is a lively topic with everyone else.

Shepard, one of the most intensely recruited athleties in the state early this year. appeared headed for Texas but suddenly changed his mind and signed with the Cougars.

Houston eventually was placed on one-year's probation by the National Collegiate Athletic Association for recruiting violations related to Shepard amid unproven rumors that it was the Longhorns who turned in the Cougars.

By ALEX SACHARE

AP Sports Writer The first-place New Orleans

The second-place Atlanta Hawks?

There was supposed to be a dogfight for the lead in the National Basketball Association's Central Division, but the combatants were expected to be Houston, Washington and Cleveland - certainly not New Orleans and Atlanta.

The Jazz raised its record to 5-1 and retained its one-half game lead over the 4-1 Hawks with a 99-88 victory over Chicago Tuesday night, its first victory ever over the Bulls in New Orleans.

'The Jazz is a better team this year, with better people," said Chicago Coach Ed Badger. "Robinson and Goodrich make a big difference.

Forward Truck Robinson scored 28 points and grabbed 10 rebounds for the Jazz, which posted its fifth straight victory. Pete Maravich added 27 points and Gail Goodrich, the reserve guard who joined New Orleans a year ago, had 10.

Atlanta stayed close by beating the Seattle SuperSonics 102-99

In other NBA games, the Milwaukee Bucks beat the Kansas City Kings 115-95, the Golden State Warriors stopped the San Antonio Spurs 108-97. the Cleveland Cavaliers defeated the Denver Nuggets 110-93 and the Portland Trail Blazers topped the New York Knicks 113-104

Chicago got 28 points from guard Wilbur Holland, but star center Artis Gilmore was held to eight by jazz pivotmen Rich Kelley and Joe Meriweather. Chicago got within 81-79 midway through the fourth arter but Goodrich helped the Jazz pull away again.

Hawks 102, Sonics 99

Forward Ron Behagen and John Drew hit two baskets apiece in the closing minutes of the Hawks' triumph. Behagen put Atlanta in front 94-93 with a short jumper with 2:13 to play, then Drew clinched the victory by connecting on a 17-footer, then stealing the ball and

Simpson Out For Season

By DAN SEWELL Associated Press Writer

BUFFALO (AP) - A depressed O.J. Simpson said four weeks ago that "it will take a miracle" for him to achieve his greatest goal - to play in a Super Bowl. His Buffalo Bills teammates think that miracle may have come in the form of an injured knee.

After the Bills' humiliating 56-17 loss to the Seattle Seahawks Sunday, Simpson's left knee, ailing for three weeks, was examined by two Los Angeles specialists. Tuesday the Bills announced that Simpson will undergo surgery for cartilage damage early next week and will miss the remainder of the season.

he has played his last game as a Bill, but may turn up in the uniform of a National Football League contender next season.

Luckily the injury wasn't a serious thing. It won't end his career," said Joe DeLamielleure, an All-Pro lineman and a team leader.

DeLamielleure noted that it's no secret Simpson would welcome a trade to a contender and that Simpson might be more excited about coming back next season if he were traued. -

"I see no reason why they should keep him. It's going to be a rebuilding process here that's going to take a few years. He deserves a chance to play in a Super Bowl. We'd all like to see it." he said.

Reggie McKenzie, offensive lineman and a close friend of Simpson, indicated on his morning radio show that Simpson would not return as a Wide receiver Bobby Chandler said, "There is a feeling that he might not be back, but nothing was said as such. But the definite feeling is there." Last season Simpson asked for a trade to the West Coast.

preferably the Los Angeles Rams, but the Bills' asking price was reportedly too high. Simpson signed a three-year contract, then began simmering as the Bills finished 2-12 last year and lost six of their first seven games this season.

Before the Seattle game Simpson said he was more frustrated than at any point in his career and offered another round of criticism aimed at the Bills' management, which he said has not helped the team through trades.

Hoople Favors Elis Over Princeton

By Major Amos B. Hoople Fearless Forecaster

Egad, friends, tempus fug-it! And, indeed, time does fly on the nation's gridirons! Would you believe then the Princeton Tigers and my beloved Yale Elis get together at the Tigers' Palmer Stadium this Saturday, it will mark the l00th renewal of this venerable series?.

Yes, and in this storied rivalry, the Elis have rung up 52 victories against 37 wins for Princeton. There have been 10 ties. But there will be no tie this week as premier running back John Pagliaro and his Yale cohorts prevail 28-14 - harrumph!

Also on tap this week are such long and fabled intra-state rivalries as Kansas vs Kansas State, for the 75th time; Oklahoma vs Oklahoma State and Virginia vs. Virginia Military Institute, each for the 72nd time; Ohio University against Cincin-enati for the 47th repeat per-formance, and Southern California and Stanford, their 55th engagement. And how about these long-time inter-state gems: Neb-71st engagement; Pitt and West Virginia, their 70th replay; Ohio State vs. Illinois, their 66th get together; Kentucky and Vanderbilt, who will collide for the 50th time, and Alabama and Louisiana State, meeting for the 41st time.

In traditional series such as these, records, past per-formances and statistics usually count for naught. So with that in mind, the Hoople experts have given extra thought to doping out the winners. Here is how we see hawks have shown improve-ment of late and will slide past the Wildcats 23-19 on their home field in Law-

The Oklahoma Sooners were upset in '76 by the Cowboys so they will have added incentive as they move to a 35-17 on Oklahoma State's home grounds. VMI's Keydets, who trail in the series, 21-47-3, will make it a sad day for the Cavaliers as they take home a 24-18 victory. Cincinnati's Bearcats will outclaw the Ohio U. Bobcats at the latter's Peden Stadium. We give it to Cincinnati, 28-22.

Southern California. determined to represent the Pac 8 in the Rose Bowl, will host Stanford in the huge L.A. Coliseum. The Trojans have too many guns for the Stanford troops and will tri-

In the inter-state contests mentioned above, watch for Nebraska to level Missouri, 38-21, Pitt to take the West Virginia Mountaineers, 27-14, Kentucky's Wildcats to continue their winning ways with an impressive 35-8 conquest of the Commodores, and Alabama to record an important Southeastern conference win by smothering LSU 30-7 under the lights in

Baton Rouge. The Ohio State Buckeyes, with one eye on their Michigan game two weeks hence, had best pay attention to the Illini this Saturday or they could be serry Illinis has a could be sorry. Illinois has a good ground attack and will give the Bucks an interestng afternoon before falling
