Import Duty Should Aid U.S. Sugar

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Editor

President Carter was expected to sign papers today imposing a fee of 3.3 cents per pound on foreign sugar and increasing the import duty by nine-tenths of a cent, to 2.81 cents per pound.

Spokesmen for the Hereford-based Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Association and the Holly Sugar Corporation's Hereford plant were unsure of the specifics on the Carter move when contacted for a comment this morning, hoping the move will be clarified in coming days.

But all agreed that any effort to aid the hard-pressed U.S. sugar industry is a good one.

Moves were launched in Congress in February to shore up the domestic sugar price through a support program in the farm bill.

Farm legislation signed by the President in late September required a program to assure a return of 14.24 cents a pound for refined beet sugar and 13.5 cents per pound for raw cane sugar.

USDA officials said that since the market price could not otherwise be held at those levels without the government buying up sugar supplies, the decision was made to raise the price of the imports.

Deputy Agriculture Secretary John C. White commented, "If the fees fail to keep domestic prices high enough, we'll have to think about import quotas."

President Carter has indicated opposition to export restrictions on other countries because of the damage they do to developing economies.

On first being notified of the pending Carter move, Bill Cleavinger, president of TNMSBGA stated, "It looks like the President's trying to bring import sugar prices to a level comparable with our own domestic break-even price of 13.5 cents per pound."

Cleavinger pointed out that a recent international sugar agreement excludes Cuba and Russia, two major producers, and may be ineffective as a result.

"Things were getting to the point that the government was either going to have to make a payment directly to the farmers or bring the price of import sugar in line with our own. I think this is the basic purpose of this move," he added.

Beet Growers director Don Shipley commented on the Carter move, stating, "Anything that will help the farmer is a good idea. I'm not sure just what the President has in mind on this thing, probably to avoid government purchases of sugar. I feel like the United States can produce enough sugar to meet most of its domestic needs if we get a price sufficient to allow a profit."

Holly Agricultural Manager Bob Ginn stated, "I would assume that this move would be of some help to the domestic sugar industry, although I'm not sure."

Hull Appointed To Study Energy

James Hull, General Manager of Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative, Hereford, recently was appointed to a newly created national rural energy committee.

The Power Supply Study Committee was established by the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association (NRECA), Washington, DC, and the National Rural Utilities Cooperatives Finance Corporation (CFEC), the local cooperative's national association and national private lending institution, respectively.

The committee is composed of five generation and transmission electric cooperative general managers, five electric cooperative directors and five distributive electric cooperative general managers.

Hull was selected from approximately 1000 electric distributive cooperative managers from across the nation.

Robert Patridge, General Manager, NRECA, said, "The recommendations of the prestigious committee can have significant impact on the rural electric program. These recommendations can be used as guidelines for years to come in the planning and implementation of the power supply program of our entire nation."

Braving the Elements

Mary Kay Hagar, who lives in Precinct No. 1, votes Tuesday in the driver's license examiner room at the County Courthouse despite cold temperatures and gusty winds outside. There were 1,455 ballots cast in Deaf Smith County, a light turnout but not that bad considering the weather. Democrat Bob Simpson and Republican Bob Price unofficially will meet in a run-off for state senator. (Brand photo by Bob Nigh)

Hereford Gets Initial Snow With Another Freeze Likely

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Editor

Winter made its debut across much of the nation Tuesday with cold fronts dropping snow over most of the Central Plains and sections of the Midwest, while the East coast was soaked by heavy rainfall.

Hereford received its first snowfall of the season after the day started off under partly cloudy conditions.

Light rain fell through much of the day and had changed to snowfall by late afternoon.

Howling northerly winds accompanied the snow, and at 40-50 m.p.h. were just short of sufficient velocity to qualify Tuesday's storm as a blizzard.

Up to four inches of snow fell in some areas of Amarillo, although snow accumulations were light over most of the Panhandle.

The blustery weather gave Hereford its first hard freeze of the season as the mercury plummeted to an overnight low of 23 degrees.

KPAN radio logged a trace of moisture from the snowfall while the Holly Sugar Corporation's Hereford plant recorded 0.1 inches of precipitation.

Holly Agricultural Manager Bob Ginn reported that the snowfall and low temperatures will result in a slight delay in the conclusion of the sugar beet harvest, which is already 75 percent complete.

The snowfall should also halt the local cotton harvest for a short period of time, but the low temperatures should complete the job of defoliating the cotton crop.

Tuesday's big blow and accompanying snowfall was triggered by a cold front extending from a winter storm area over eastern Colorado southward across eastern Oklahoma and eastern Texas.

Another smaller front was located behind the first, and stretched across the Texas Panhandle into New Mexico.

A low pressure system within that front triggered the majority of the cold damp weather.

Carter Asks For Support Of Energy Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter probably swayed few votes in Congress with his bed for public support for his energy plan, administration supporters and critics agree.

Key lawmakers of both parties said the problems of reconciling the vastly different energy bills passed by the House and Senate remain, despite Carter's statement Tuesday night that he would not sign a final compromise bill failing his tests for fairness and energy conservation.

Carter has threatened before to veto an unacceptable energy bill, and a White House spokesman confirmed after Carter's speech that the president was standing by those threats.

Democratic congressional leaders praised Carter for his address to the nation, but generally doubted his speech would make the battle, now ranging in House-Senate conference committees,

Three tornadoes were also spawned by the front near the Houston area but did only light damage.

The Colorado Rockies, hard-hit by a lack of snowfall, last winter, received six inches of snow in the northern areas of that state, while one inch fell at Denver.

Rains of up to five inches fell along the nation's eastern coast, and flooding occurred on New York's Staten Island.

Early morning temperatures in Texas ranged from the low 20's in the Panhandle to the lower 60's in the Rio Grande Valley.

Forecasts call for another hard freeze tonight over most of West Texas and the northwestern portion of North Texas.

Today's highs in the Panhandle were not expected to rise much higher than freezing, with warmer temperatures expected on Thursday.

Realtor Banquet Tickets on Sale

The Hereford Board of Realtors have scheduled their annual installation banquet for 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 17 at the Hereford Country Club.

The banquet will feature the announcement of the local "Realtor of the Year," whom the board selects from one of the Hereford realty agencies.

Featured speaker at the banquet will be Dan Baker, a motivation specialist. Baker has spoken at conventions for the National and State Association of Realtors.

Tickets for the realtors banquet are on sale at the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce or from any local realtor.

5 Proposed Amendments Pass in State-Wide Election

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

A light turnout of Panhandle voters braved snow and gusty winds long enough Tuesday to establish a run-off between State Rep. Bob Simpson and former congressman Bob Price for state senator from District 31.

The biggest vote went to Simpson, a Democrat, and Jim Brandon, like Price a Republican, in Deaf Smith County, where 1,455 voters cast ballots for the senatorial seat vacated by Max Sherman.

Simpson managed 363 votes in Deaf Smith County, Brandon 351, Price 318, Mel Phillips 269 and Burk Whittenburg 144. Phillips and Whittenburg are Democrats.

Of Deaf Smith County's approximately 8,300 registered voters, 1,455 went to the poll. Of Deaf Smith County's approximately 8,300 registered voters, 1,455 - 17.5 percent went to the poll.

With only Armstrong County's election returns unavailable this morning, Simpson was leading with 8,691 votes, Price had 7,830, Brandon 6,825, Phillips 5,595 and Whittenburg 4,961.

Under state election law, the governor must set the date of the run-off. He must announce it within five days after he receives the official returns and the date must be set between 15 and 25 days after the date of the announcement.

Election results are unofficial until each county's commissioners court meets to canvass the returns. Under state election law, the court must meet no later than the following Monday after the election.

Deaf Smith County commissioners will canvass the returns in their regularly-scheduled Monday meeting beginning at 10 a.m.

Deaf Smith County's biggest voter turnout was in Precinct No. 11, with ballot boxes at Northwest Elementary School. Brandon attracted the most voters - 139 - in that precinct while Simpson had 131, Price 99, Phillips 58 and Whittenburg 45.

Absentee balloting, which ended last Friday, was indicative of the county's overall election trend, with the top three finishers Tuesday getting the most absentee votes. Simpson mustered 9, Brandon 7 and Price 6.

In a statewide vote on proposed constitutional amendments, five were approved and two were defeated.

Rejection of Proposition 6, which would have allowed electronic banking at terminals located where customers could make deposits and withdrawals, pay bills and make other fund transfers, provoked a strong reaction from banking circles.

Returns from the Texas Election Bureau today shortly after 12 midnight showed 237,526 or 45.5 percent for Proposition 6 and 283,833 or 54.5 percent against.

The other defeated proposition was No. 5, which would have permitted the legislature to let producers of poultry, livestock and other raw agricultural commodities to form associations and collect assessments on sales of their products.

Opponents said it would mean higher prices for consumers. The vote was 236,252 or 47.4 percent for and 261,980 or 52.6 percent against the proposal.

Voters gave a smashing nod of approval to Proposition 3 to allow a district court to deny bail to a person accused of a felony while out on bail following a previous indictment. It also would deny bail to a repeat offender who is caught using a deadly weapon in committing another felony.

The vote on the proposition was 441,639 or 83.4 percent for and 87,731 or 16.6 percent against.

Approval of Proposition 1 clears the way to increase the size of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals from five to nine members. It also will permit judges to sit in panels of three to speed review of cases appealed to them from local district courts.

The vote was 383,907 or 72.9 percent for and 142,821 or 27.1 percent against.

Other amendments to gain approval were:

Proposition 2, to provide another $200 million for the veterans land program,

Buddy Poppy Day Set Thursday in Hereford

In observance of Buddy Poppy Day, local citizens are asked to "honor those who died on foreign battlefields" by bringing aid to those who fought beside them.

Thursday is Buddy Poppy Day in Hereford and members of the VFW Auxiliary will be selling the symbolic poppies throughout the city. Contributions of any amount will be accepted in exchange for the poppies, handmade by disabled and needy veterans in hospitals throughout this nation.

Proceeds of the project will be used exclusively for the aid, relief and comfort of disabled and needy veterans, and the orphans and widows of deceased veterans. The VFW Buddy Poppy Sale has been conducted nation-wide since 1922.

Nearly 100,000 men, women and children donate a day of their time and effort each year in conducting the Buddy Poppy Sale. The Buddy Poppy has been symbolic of Memorial Day for 55 years. Assistance in establishing disability claims or gaining other veterans benefits is available without charge to any veteran through a nation-wide system of veterans service officers maintained by the VFW Administration. A portion of the cost is contributed by the public through their purchase of the VFW Buddy Poppies.

Also, the Buddy Poppies contribute to the care of more than 200 orphans of veterans in the VFW National Home in Eaton Rapids, Mich.

"Honor the dead by helping the living" is the slogan of this year's poppy sale. The local campaign is to be headquartered in Sugarland Mall and will involve approximately a dozen auxiliary members.

Mrs. Jim Loving, chairman of the local project, said, "Buy a VFW Buddy Poppy tomorrow. You, too, can feel proud that you are helping someone who cannot help himself."

She continued, saying, "Our nation's disabled veterans are the responsibility of all citizens. Do your part - buy a Buddy Poppy on Thursday."

REV. PRENTICE D. SMITH ...attends international meeting

Greenwood Minister Returns From World Baptist Assembly

Rev. Prentice D. Smith returned Friday from the World Baptist Fellowship Semi-Annual International Missionary Fellowship Meeting held November 1-3 in Vidalia, Georgia.

Last May at the Annual World Baptist Fellowship meeting in Arlington, Rev. Smith received the honor of being elected one of ten Mission Committeemen for the Missions Committee of the World Baptist Fellowship. The Missions Committeemen are responsible for the welfare of designated missionaries on the foreign field and act as a liaison between the missionaries and the World Baptist Fellowship to see that the particular problems of the missionaries on the field are solved. Rev. Smith is the committeeman for the missionaries to Spain and Japan. The World Baptist Fellowship is responsible for the support of 155 Adult missionaries and their families in 22 foreign countries. The missionaries are approved by the Missions Board of the Arlington Baptist College, Arlington, and then supported by the World Baptist Fellowship which includes 712 supporting churches.

Every cent of the mission money that is designated for the missionaries by the individual supporting churches goes directly to the missionary on the field. At the semi-annual Fellowship Meeting from which Rev. Smith just returned, an offering is taken which is used to meet the expenses of the Missions Office which includes salaries of office personnel, supplies, utilities, and incidental expenses for the efficient operation of the Missions Office. The Missions Committeemen are not salaried but perform these duties in addition to their pastoral duties of their individual churches.

Greenwood Baptist Church at Greenwood and Morman has a monthly missions obligation of $1122 which goes toward the monthly support of 107 missionaries on the field. The missions money for the church is acquired by Faith Promise Missions Offerings which are received along with the regular offerings of the church.

Individual church members promise the Lord that they will give a certain amount each week as the Lord provides. This is not a pledge to the church for so much money but is a commitment between the individual and God to give the offering as God blesses the individual and provides that person with the money to give. It is also worthy of note that Greenwood Baptist Church has never failed to receive the needed missions money to provide the designated monthly support to its mission aries.

At the Fellowship Meeting this year, the Missions Committee voted to extend missions support to Rev. Martin Wilkins in Germany who has been in Germany for three years and has primarily ministered to American servicemen near a military base there.

In those three years, 285 American military men have made professions of faith in Christ, 35 of which are either attending or have committed themselves to attend Arlington Baptist College. 12 of which have surrendered to preach the Gospel and 5 of which will return as missionaries to Germany. In addition to working with American servicemen in Germany, Rev. Wilkins is presently working with nine adult German nationals.

Missionary Lonny King who has been a missionary for the past 12 years in Spain and the Canary Islands was approved to become a missionary to El Salvador because the Socialist Government in Spain refused to renew the visas for American missionaries to Spain.

Rev. Smith considers it a privilege to serve as a Committeeman to help serve the missionaries through the World Baptist Fellowship and through the financial support of Greenwood Baptist Church.

Elkettes Schedule Christmas Dinner

Plans for a Christmas dinner on Dec. 21 at K-Bob's Steak House were considered by the Hereford Elkettes, who met last week in BPOE Elk Lodge.

President Joyce Walker called the meeting to order. In discussion of the Christmas party, members agreed that each guest will bring a gift costing $5 or less, with the meal being furnished by the Elkettes.

Also on the Elkette calendar is a stew supper at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 19 at the Elk Lodge. Cost of the meal will $1 per person.

Members voted to sponsor a Camp Fire Girl group due to the number of chapters who have no sponsorship. Also, the Elkettes agreed to order Elkette pins for those members having a 50 percent attendance record for the past year.

German Meal To Be Served At Umbarger

St. Mary's Parish Hall is the location at which the annual Umbarger German Sausage Festival is to take place from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday.

German Sausage, sauerkraut, home made bread and all the trimmings will be featured at the dinner which will cost $3.75 for adults.

Following the wurst dinner, which has become a popular Panhandle-area attraction in recent years, the Tiny Lynn Band will play for a dance at the parish hall.

The dance will be held from 8-12 p.m.

Pending approval by the Elks, the Elkettes decided to sell jewelry among members from a catalogue. Martha Bridges is in charge of the jewelry orders. The elkettes plan to acquire a showcase for display of the jewelry.

Sue Chandler's name was drawn for the cash door prize, but she was not present to claim it, so the money will accumulate until the next meeting.

Others in attendance were Louella Manning, Mrs. Bridges, Pat Stevens, Rosie Tomm, Dora Lee, Howell, Bell Reid and Karrol Rettman.

Mrs. Shipp Addresses HD Women

County Extension Agent Joyce Shipp presented a program on "Making Money at Home" recently for members of Tierra Blanca Home Demonstration Club, who met in the home of Marlene Daugherty.

Carolyn Evers won the door prize and Leona Mazurek was presented the Santa Bag gift.

Members decided to cancel their December meeting in order to attend the HD Council Tasting Bee on Dec. 5.

Also in attendance was Sherry Harder.

Ann Landers Gift Suggestion

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Every year I swear I'm not going to get caught in the last minute crush of Christmas buying. I haven't made it yet but this year I'm going to -- if you will help me.

I have 33 adults on my gift list and I can't spend more than $10 for each person. What can you suggest that will be useful, thoughtful, durable, impressive? -- Chicago

DEAR CHICAGO: A book called "A Time For Being Human" by Eugene Kennedy (published by Thomas More Press, $9.59, 180 N. Wabash, Chicago 60606). It is a beautifully written collection of essays in which everyone will see himself and swear Dr. Kennedy knows him personally. "A Time For Being Human" is frank, sensitive, warm, and insightful. It will give you courage to face life and help you understand that insecurities and weaknesses make you a card-carrying member of the human race. I read every word of the book -- loved it and have put it aside to read again.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The problem I am writing to you about is probably more common than most people will admit.

What can be done about a husband who refuses to write letters to relatives, friends, etc.? Mine won't even acknowledge birthday or Christmas gifts.

If he receives a nice sweater from his mother-in-law for his birthday, I have to write the thank-you note or none will be written. I simply cannot let a gift to him go unacknowledged. Why is it that so many men seem to think writing letters is the wife's responsibility? What about this? -- Writer's Cramp In Rock Island

DEAR WRITER'S CRAMP: I hope you feel better now that you've shared your gripe with the world. That's all you wanted to do actually, because you've answered your own question.

Women whose husband's refuse to write letters, even to acknowledge gifts, have two choices. Either they can sit on their hands and let their husbands look like the slobbs they are -- or they can protect him by writing and explaining that he is "awfully busy" but he certainly did appreciate that beautiful sweater and sends love and thanks.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Hysinger Graduates From UT

Stephen Craig Hysinger, son of the Jim Hysingers, was awarded his bachelor of business administration degree at the close of the summer session by the University of Texas College of Business Administration.

Hysinger, who graduated from Hereford High School in 1973, was among 363 business graduates to receive their degrees from Dean George Kozmetsky.

This letter is to the "healthy 16-year-old girl" who signed herself, "Off The Wall in Washington." Her mother decided all of a sudden to get a high-school diploma and they will be in the same class next semester.

I am a healthy 16-year-old girl, too, and I had my mother in class -- only she was the teacher. I really had a blast! This message is for the daughter:

Please give your mother a chance. Do you honestly think she'd try to be one of "the gang"? Once she sees what goes on in those gangs she'll back off fast and you won't have anything to worry about.

Besides, I think it would be neat to do homework with your mom. Sign me -- Kirksville, Mo.

DEAR MO: You wouldn't believe how many daughters and mothers wrote to say "The old lady should go to another high school and let her daughter enjoy her final year in peace."

And after thinking about it, I'm inclined to agree that they just might have a point. Having a mom for a teacher isn't the same as having her for a classmate.

Water evaporates from lakes, rivers and oceans throughout the world on sunny summer days at the rate of some 16 million tons a second making the air muggy and humid. The moisture eventually returns to the earth as rain, snow or some other form of precipitation.

Corn Loans Available To Farmers

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Agriculture Department said Monday that effective immediately government price support loans will be made to farmers for 1977-crop corn, wheat and other grains on a basis of nine months instead of the 11 months as has been the case.

Officials said the loans will be due nine months after a farmer receives his loan. The procedure of having a loan fall due on its anniversary date was in effect when the loans were made for 11 months.

The department said that "by shortening the length of the loan, a greater number of the loans will mature before the 1978 harvest" and that "this will permit 1977 grain to be moved from the farm and country warehouse to make room for the 1978 crop."

Farmers who already have obtained 1977-crop grain loans will have 30 days to consider an option of continuing the loans for 11 months or reducing them to nine months. Notices will be sent to individual farmers by local federal offices.

The program involves 1977 soybeans in addition to wheat, corn, sorghum, barley, oats and rye, a spokesman said.

Cord Safety Prevents Injury, Death

COLLEGE STATION -- Follow safety rules for appliance cords, urges Dr. Carolyn McKinney, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

For home safety, consumers should make a special effort to protect their families from appliance hazards--through proper use and care of appliance cords.

Always disconnect the appliance cord from the wall outlet before disconnecting the cord from the appliance. To disconnect, grasp the plug instead of the cord, Dr. McKinney says.

Keep oil and grease away from cords and do not run cords under floor coverings.

Store cords in a cool and dry place. To lengthen their lives, roll appliance cords loosely (never wrap tightly). Or hang them over a smooth, broad surface.

Wrap cords around cooled appliances--such as toasters or irons--never still-warm ones, the specialist says.

Little Glamour Seen In Cigarette Smoke

"Many young people still think smoking is sophisticated, so let's get the glamorization of this deadly habit out of advertising." Speaking was Dean Jones of the Hereford unit of the American Cancer Society. Mrs. Jones, a longtime volunteer with the local unit as Service Chairman is one strong backer of the movement "The Great American Smokeout", which is scheduled for Thursday, November 17 across the nation.

Interested persons can sign up for the Great American Smokeout at Sugarland Mall on Saturday, November 12 or at either local bank on Tuesday and Wednesday, November 15-16.

A new American Cancer Society study revealed that a half million more teenage girls are smoking now compared with 1969, virtually catching up with boys of the same age group. Cigarette smoking among teenage boys has remained fairly constant.

According to the study there is a sharp reduction in the number of teenagers who now hear anti-smoking messages on radio or TV.

"We are appealing to local stations to quadruple the number of anti-smoking spots they use," Mrs. Jones said. "We are also supporting efforts to bar the use of models in cigarette advertising which portrays the habit as conducive to physical well-being, glamor and sex."

Both girls and boys mistakenly think that most everyone else smokes, especially their own peers and teachers. We should get across the point that smoking is a minority phenomenon," she said.

"Part of what we are seeing here is the play of new values as witnessed by the growth of on-campus and in-school smoking," Mrs. Jones said. "Many parents, schools, teachers and doctors seem to be taking a hands-off attitude toward youth smoking. This is part of the challenge the anti-smoking forces face today."

"One has to take a stand somewhere, however," she declared, "and I think once you set up smoking lounge in school you're encouraging smoking. It's like the Ten Commandments. You can't always enforce them but that doesn't mean you throw them out."

"Thus there is a broad basis for getting young people to stop smoking. Parents, schools, and non-smoking youth themselves, as well as the entire medical profession, can take a part in curbing and finally eliminating this single biggest environmental cause of cancer," she concluded.

Mexican Airline Continues Strike

MEXICO CITY (AP) - A groundworkers' strike against the nation's largest airline entered its third day Tuesday as the government airline reported losses of $650,000 dollars a day.

An airline spokesman said Tuesday the government airline "is losing 15 million pesos income daily because of the strike" by the ground workers union demanding a 25 percent wage increase and flight attendants asking for a 20 percent hike.

He said that 30,000 passengers have been forced to seek alternative transportation since the airline was struck at mid-night last Saturday.

AereoMexico suspended 15 daily flights that carry 15,000 passengers daily and 4.4 million pounds of cargo a month.

AereoMexico flies to New York, Miami, Los Angeles, Tucson, Ariz., Houston, Madrid, Paris and South American cities.

Out of 42 cities served in Mexico, 15 cities had no air service because of the strike, company officials said.

Two unions representing 5,300 ground personnel and flight attendants walked off the job to back demands for 20-25 percent wage increase over wages ranging from $155 to 331 dollars a month.

The government said air mail service has been affected.

Eastern, Pan American, Nicaraguan and Varig airlines are also on strike.

European exploration of the New World from the 15th to the 18th centuries would not have been possible without the fresh meat provided by the green turtle, according to the American Museum of Natural History.

Not Really Funny

A child pretending to smoke a cigarette like an adult may be humorous to some people, but not to the many volunteers with the American Cancer Society who are supporting the Great American Smokeout November 17. The national movement is intended to show the average smoker that he or she can make it without a cigarette for one day; and that if they can make it for one day they can make it forever. If more people quit smoking, or if all the youngsters like Ryan Caperton (above), son of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Caperton of Hereford, never learn to smoke the incidence of lung cancer can be greatly reduced. Killer Dam Reported 'Solid As A Rock'

TOCCOA, Ga. (AP) - Some college students inspected the Kelly Barnes dam two hours before it broke early Sunday and reported it appeared "as solid as a rock," an aide to Gov. George Busbee said today. Flooding from the collapsed dam took at least 38 lives. Tom Perdue told a news conference that David Fledderjohann and several other students inspected the dam because of the torrential rains and they reported there seemed to be no danger.

The earthen dam burst about 1:30 a.m. Sunday, sending an avalanche of muddy water, boulders and trees to the lowlying campus area of Toccoa Falls Bible College. The greatest destruction occurred at two trailer parks on the banks of Toccoa Creek, a shallow stream that flowed from an 80-acre lake the dam held back.

According to Perdue, Fledderjohann, a volunteer fireman and student at the college, was responsible for checking the dam. He died when the dam burst while trying to warn residents in the trailer park of the possibility of danger.

Perdue did not specify to whom Fledderjohann reported after the inspection. He said the men continued to watch the creek below Toccoa Falls after they returned to the campus area. He said earlier that there was no emphasis in looking for fault. Responsibility for maintaining the dam has not been clearly determined.

"Last year," Perdue said, "the college received $39,500 from the Federal Disaster Assistance Administration for repairs along the creek bank, some roads and some buildings because of flash flooding which occurred Memorial Day last year."

"The FDAA did not include any money for the dam, because it had not been damaged. Part of the money was used to repair the approach road to the dam and F.R. Hanson, vice president of the college, made visual inspection of the dam Nov. 2 to look at road repairs made as a result of that money."

"Hanson and two employees of the highway department walked the road across the dam Nov. 3. Hanson inferred to me that visual inspections of the dam were made at least three times a year and more often when there are heavy rains."

An albatross, according to National Geographic, may live as long as 50 years. Some are 9 years old before they produce their first egg.

Defense Witness Alleges Dealing

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) - An "intimidated" defense witness testified Tuesday two slain figures in the Cullen Davis murder case had "big things going" prior to a murderous 1976 shooting spree.

Brunette barmaid Becky Burns said she did not know what those activities were but that she was aware Horace Copeland was dealing in narcotics at the time.

Miss Burns, 27, said outside the presence of the jury that Copeland and Stan Farr, her boss at the Rhinestone Cowboy, a Fort Worth night club, were frequent companions and business associates.

Farr, 30, was one of two persons killed in the Aug. 2, 1976, shootings at the millionaire murder defendant's lavish Fort Worth mansion.

Copeland was slain a year later when he allegedly broke into a Fort Worth apartment. No charges were filed in that episode.

Davis, 44, is on trial for the shooting death of his stepdaughter, Andrea Wilborn, 12. She and Farr died in the midnight attack and two others, including Davis' estranged wife, Priscilla, 36, were wounded.

The defense contends Farr was the primary target of the black-clad gunman that night and that the shootings evolved from a "society-drug caper" that went awry.

Miss Burns said Farr once told her he and Copeland "had some big things going" and that one project was a "gambling benefit" in spring 1976.

Defense lawyers said outside the courtroom the party was a "Stan Farr ripoff" and that Copeland never got his share of the profits if there were any profits.

"Did you know that in addition to his other activities, Horace Copeland engaged in trafficking in narcotics?" Richard "Racehorse" Haynes asked Miss Burns.

"I have seen him deal in narcotics," she replied. She said he and Farr made weekly trips together to Dallas and that the two men went to Mexico once on vacation ... in 1976.

She said both carried large sums of money on occasions.

The witness contended that representatives of the district attorney's office in Fort Worth, a city policeman, her lawyer and her mother contacted her about her testimony in this case.

With the jury present, Miss Burns, who has a felony drug charge pending against her, said in response to questions, she was "afraid, fearful and intimidated."

"What are you afraid of?" asked prosecutor Tolly Wilson.

"I just don't like any of this. I just didn't want to get involved," she replied.

"Is one of the reasons you were fearful of coming to Amarillo because of a case pending against you in Tarrant County?" Haynes asked.

"Yes, sir," she replied. She said one of the callers told her he had "looked up" the case against her and another said she "shouldn't antagonize anyone at the DA's office."

Miss Burns said she received her defense subpoena Sunday and therefore had no choice but to appear here and testify.

Wilson said, outside the courtroom, no attempt was ever made to intimidate the witness. Wilson said, quoting Shakespeare: "Methinks the lady does protest too much."

Smith Blasts Briscoe Spending

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Preston Smith said Tuesday that Gov. Dolph Briscoe's dipping into general tax money for highways was an example of "the disgraceful manner that he's treated education."

Smith, leaving on his widebrimmed hat while talking with reporters on a visit to the Capitol press room, also handed out releases jumping Briscoe and Attorney General John Hill for not disclosing their wealth in detail.

Had not the Legislature, at Briscoe's urging, shifted $528 million from general revenue to highways this year, the money would have been available for public schools and tax-supported colleges, Smith said.

"Highways and roads ought to be financed out of gasoline taxes. I would have recommended that whatever the financial needs of our roads were to come out of gasoline," said Smith, who is running against Briscoe and Hill for governor.

When Smith was governor, he appointed Allan Shivers to the University of Texas Board of Regents. He said he now would welcome the support of Shivers, another former governor "who has accused Briscoe of making higher education a 'whipping boy.'"

Smith called the present law on financial disclosure by officeholders "a farce," since it requires almost nothing in the way of specific figures on one's holdings and income.

He said Briscoe and Hill should file complete financial statements and federal tax returns - "not the kind required by state law but the kind you would use if you went to a bank for a loan."

Asked to reminisce about Briscoe's eight years as a state representative - the two were colleagues - Smith said the governor was "one of the four most liberal."

"He never said anything. He hasn't changed much," Smith said.

TWO-WAY stretch can't faze a happy bunny. The apparently torturous situation is a routine ear-pulling, body-stretching test employed in consumer product safety procedures at the Kansas City plant of Hallmark Cards.

NOTICE TO ALL PIANO OWNERS!
AN ANSWER TO A MOST IMPORTANT QUESTION-
"HOW LONG SHOULD A PIANO STAY IN TUNE?"
Pianos are very complex and sensitive instruments. Each piano is an individual and re-acts as such. Each piano has its own quirks, failing, etc. inherent in it and no two pianos will respond exactly alike under any given circumstance.
To my knowledge, there are no piano manufacturers that recommend that their pianos [no matter how old they are or un-used they may be], be given only one tuning a year. All recommend at least two or more each year and four tunings the first year in order to settle the new parts that counterbalance the 37,000 plus pound of string tension in the instrument.
If this procedure was followed by the piano owning public, the saving in replacement parts and repairs would be so great as to be incalculable.
Putting off having your piano tuned can cost you a bundle [in replacement parts, repairs and pitch raising], even though it may never be played.
The ideal temperature for a piano is 72 degrees and the ideal humidity is 40 percent [except for player pianos which is 50 percent], this will insure stability in tuning. When the temperature fluctuates 10 degrees one way or the other, the piano is adversely affected. Therefore, no piano tuner-technician, no matter how competent or qualified can say or guarantee how long your piano will stay in tune, but one year is out of the question.
Some pianos will stay in tune no more than a half-hour after tuning by the most exacting and competent of piano tuners. These pianos need to be completely repaired [or restored] or discarded.
Don't neglect your piano any longer. Call Herman Boone today at 1-806-765-6043 or write to him at 3113 Parkway Drive, Lubbock, Texas 79403.
He is a well known tuner-technician in this area and is a current member of the Piano Technicians Guild. Also, he is a registered craftsman. ALL WORK C.O.D.
