Blames Journalistic Imagination

Burns Disputes Conflict Reports

NEW YORK (AP) - Reports that he and President Carter in conflict over their interpretation of the economy are products of the journalistic imagination," said Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board.

That imagination, it seems, has been quite active. While they could have been hallucinating, the journalists claim to have heard or read words that semanticists tell us suggest disagree-

Such as the president's office issuing a statement three weeks ago that in effect warned the Federal Reserve to refrain from raising interest rates and thereby, in the administration's view, damaging the

And Burns' speech Oct. 26 in which he suggested the economy was facing a malaise unless the administration got hold of itself and acted decisively on taxes, energy, environment, inflation and governmental regulation.

If it hadn't been for the Fed. he said. "I have little doubt that fears of inflation would be running stronger and interest rates would be higher. He places a lot of blame on the steps of the White House. In that same speech, at Spokane, Wash.. the chairman let it be known that his board intended to exercise its responsibility with regard to monetary affairs, no matter how many presidential bulls are posted on the bulletin board.

Making his quarterly appearance before Congress to explain Federal Reserve policy, Burns on Nov. 9 clearly expressed his disbelief in the Carter goals of substantially lowering inflation and unemployment.

Prices will rise about 6 percent to 6.5 percent over the next year, he said. And unemployment will remain stuck at a relatively high level, falling only to 6.5 percent from the existing 7 percent.

The chairman indicated he also opposed what is widely believed to be an important piece in the tax jigsaw puzzle that Carter is preparing. The elimination of the capital gains tax advantage would be "most unfortunate." he said.

Instead, he indicated, we should be trying to encourage investment rather than removing its attractions, because capital gains are the incentive needed to promote capital investment and get our economy on solid footing.

Afterward, it was reported. Burns told news people that the administration might be trying to do too much too soon. and that its many legislative moves were creating anxiety and confusion in the business world

There is plenty of room for criticism, and neither Carter nor Burns has been reluctant to fill that room. Neither is likely to have the answer to the conomic puzzle, but each has his approach.

Carter, despite his disavowals, appears to believe that few tasks are hard or impossible to the federal governmentinflation, unemployment, reorganization, higher ethical standards, peace,

An administrative procedure will be established to allow people to question possibly controversial issues in school textbooks Tuesday in the Hereford Independent School District's meeting of the board of education.

The action comes in the wake, but not as a result, of protests this week against some textbooks being considered for state-wide adoption.

The HISD will establish a 15-member textbook panel to decide which books will be adopted on a local level for use in the next school year.

A textbook considered last year. 'Ecumene, Story of Humanity," a world history study, prompted reservations from people around the state, including a few Hereford residents who didn't have set administrative guidelines to follow for discussing textbooks.

'We don't want a situation like we had last year," said Mal Manchee, HISD textbook custodian. "We were caught flat-footed. It's the first time we had any controversy come up.

Basically, this thing will be a situation where if someone has a question concerning a textbook, they're more than welcome to contact us and we'll help them get the books to read. If they have a question, the committee will hear what their questions are."

The committee, to be headed by Superintendent Harrell Holder and to include school personnel knowledgeable in the fields covered by the

Bullock Urges Hill To Uphold Taxation Law

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - Attorney General Hill should uphold a new law allowing tax assessment of farm and ranch solely on its productivity, says Comptroller Bol

Bullock sent a brief to Hill Thursday. The brief was unsolicited, but Bullock told Hill - a political enemy and former friend - that he "read in the newspapers" that the attorney general welcomed comments on the issue.

Hill has been asked for a legal opinion on the constitutionality of the new law by Parmer County Attorney Johnny Actkinson of Farwell.

The law was passed to implement a constitutional amendment allowing the legislature to establish a method for taxing farm, ranch and timber land on its productivity. But the amendment failed in the House.

A statute tied to the amendment charges Bullock with issuing a manual for use by tax assessor-collectors in evaluating the productivity of any piece of fand in the state and is now writing it.

The law takes effect Jan. 1, 1978, but since the amendment failed, questions about the statute's constitutionality could void it altogether or at least delay its implementation.

In his brief, Bullock said the law was a valid exercise of the power given the legislature by the Texas Constitution to classify land for taxation.

He also said the law complies with the constitutional requirement that taxation be equal and uniform.

"When measuring any statute on grounds of equity and uniformity, the public policy behind the statute cannot be forgotten," he said.

Bullock said that while property taxes "have drastically increased" over the past several years, average annual farm (See ASSESSMENTS, Page 2)

state-approved textbooks, will be assisted by a second panel of approximately 20 persons

'We're not doing this because of all the controversy lately about textbooks. We're doing this now because we did not have the machinery to handle this last year." Manchee said.

The State Board of Education (SBE) will meet Saturday to approve or reject books recommended by the State Textbook Committee for use in public schools.

The board has the option to accept from two to five of the textbooks in each field of study. The fields, established in a survey last year by superintendents throughout the state, are as follows:

·Elementary Spanish, grades 3-6.

·Literature, grades 7-8. -Texas history and geography, grade 7. Drama, levels I and II.

·Chemistry, level II. -German, levels I and II.

-Spanish, grades 10-12, and levells III -Fundamentals of free enterprise

General Business. -Office procedures. -Driver education and safety.

Superintendents based their recommendations on textbooks are outdated because of their long lives in the state school system. The Texas Education Agency, which received the superintendents' recommendations, contacted textbook companies and outlined exactly what was needed in the books to be submitted for consideration.

The State Textbook Committee reviewed the books submitted in each of the fields then chose between two or five to give to the SBE for final approval.

The HISD and other school districts will choose acceptable textbooks in the

The books will finally go to our local board of education for final adoption,' Manchee said of the spring meeting. "Although we may adopt five of these books in a field, it doesn't mean we'll take all five into the system

"We'll probably just requisition one of those books. Then, if we want the others later, we can get them."

The state-level controversy this week has come up during the meeting of the SBE, which votes Saturday on the $30 million adoption. An SBE member Thursday accused a feminist leader of wanting to indoctrinate high school pupils during final protests against volumes recommended by the State Textbook Committee. Twiss Butler of Nassau Bay. representing the National Organization for Women, objected vehemently to

Canvassing Changes Total On 2 Proposals

Deaf Smith County commissioners canvassed the results of Tuesday's state senator and constitutional amendment and election made only a couple of insignificant changes in the totals. Proposition 2, the proposed amendment which passed statewide to provide another $200 million for the veterans land program, got 772 "for" votes in Deaf Smith County instead of 770 as was first reported Proposition 7, which will change the name of the State Judicial Qualifications Commission to the State Commission on Judicial Conduct and enlarge the body from nine to 11 members, had 617 "for" votes instead of 610.

The senatorial votes did not change in the canvassing. State Rep. Bob Simpson, a Democrat, had 363 votes in the county, Republican Jim Brandon 351, Republican Bob Price 318. Democrat Mel Phillips 269 and Democrat Burk Whittenburg 144.

Simpson and Brandon will be in a run-off for the seat which serves a 27-county area. The governor must announce the run-off within five days after he receives the official results and must set the date of the election between 15 and 25 days after the day of his announcement

The election is expected to be later this. month or in early December.

The company said Crystal City owned $800,000 in back charges for the fuel but city officials said the town's mostly poor, Mexican-American residents just couldn't pay the tab.

The city will sell its propane fuel, when it gets a supplier, to all residents. But federal money will help lower the cost to the poor.

The propane tanks will remain government property.

Most residents who formerly heated with natural gas had purchased small electric space heaters and electric hotplates for cooking. Some have discovered they aren't too efficient.

"It just doesn't help much at all." said Ramona Sotos, 69, pointing at the little electric heater near her bed. By mid-morning, she found it was warmer outside than inside her little frame

School district officials are preparingto install butane heating equipment for the unheated schools, but it may not be ready for several weeks. "We have to stand in line just like everyone else." said Felipe Flores, school district business manager "Hopefully, the weather will be warm a while longer."

Thursday morning's low of 30 degrees sent many of the town's 8,104 inhabitants scurrying for extra blankets for their beds. And, some children at two schools kept their heavy coats and sweaters on in unheated, chilly classrooms

"I didn't want to get out of my bed this morning, it was so cold. I kept the covers pulled over my face, but Mom said I had to go to school." said a first grade pupil at one unheated school.

Police Chief Ramon Garza found frost on the ground and ice crystals on windows when he awoke. After a "very cold shower." Garza warmed up with hot coffee at a cafe heated by butane

He said there were no unusual incidents reported to police in connection with the cold night.

City manager Raul Flores said the city is erecting a large propane storage facility to supply the town's residents with an alternative fuel. But it won't be ready for a few weeks, he said.

Flores said a shipment was expected today of 400 residential-size propane tanks which the town is buying for poor people with part of a $310,000 grant from the federal Community Services Administration

More than 800 households in the city have applied for the relief. The people are just doing whatever they can to protect themselves from the

Terrorists Wounded In Dutch Shootout

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands (AP) Two men badly wounded in a shootout with a police stake-out team in suburban Amsterdam were identified today as West German terrorists sought for various crimes.

The federal Criminal Office in Wiesbaden, West German, said police were sent to Amsterdam and used fingerprints to identify Christoph Wackernagel, 26, a former actor wanted in the kidnapping and murder of industrialist Hanns-Martin Schleyer

They named the second man as Gerd Richart Schneider, 29, sought for an Oct. 31 bombing at a courthouse in Zweibrucken. They did not say how Schneider was identified.

Dutch authorities at first believed the second man was Rolf Clemens Wagner. 33. Amsterdam Prosecutor A.N. Meschaert had said such an identification was "almost certain," but that there was some doubt because the men carried forged papers.

The alleged terrorists were arrested after a Thursday night gun and grenade battle with police.

We've set that day as "The Great American Smokeout to dramatize our commitment to heiping Hereford free themselves from the smoking habit," said Mrs. Schroeter. The statewide goal is to get 420,000 pledges signed.

Women now vie with men in their smoking habits, she pointed out, and this has led to some distrubing statistics. The female death rate from lung cancer has doubled in the last 10 years. And, according to the American Cancer Society. that rate of increase is now higher for women than for men. Women's smoking is also held responsible for more cases of cancer of the oral cavity, larynx, and esophagus.

Several different studies have indicated that women who smoke during pregnancy have smaller babies than those who don't smoke. Teenage girls have now earned a dubious parity with teenage boys in their smoking habits. Roughly 30 percent of high school age boys smoke, a figure that has changed little in recent years. There has been a slight but steady rise in the number of girls who smoke. Of even more

Deadlocked Jury Given 3-Day Rest

- A deadlocked state district court jury has been given a three-day rest before resuming deliberations in the trial of a Brownsville male midwife accused of injuring an infant's head with forceps during delivery. The jury deliberated unsuc-

The jury did not reveal if the 7-5 vote favored conviction or acquittal.

Prosecutors allege Miguel Orihuela, 44, caused brain damage when he "mashed" the with a pair of forceps during delivery on June 18.

The child, the shape of whose head appears normal, was hospitalized for about three weeks and is now at home with his parents.

In final arguments Thursday Assistant District Attorney Joe K. Hendle told the jury:

"He Orihuela is not an ordinary midwife. He is a man who set himself up in the community as a doctor. His attendants. . . all referred to him as doctor. He tried to act like a doctor and in doing so, he marked the child for life.

'Every mistreatment and defoulment he did to the mother and child, he did intentionally,' added Hendley.

Admitting the prosecution's case was built upon circumstantial evidence, Assistant District Attorney James Mardis told the jury," "He Orihuela was a man who rushed mothers along. delivering babies before they were ready to be born." But defense attorney Hector Uribe vigorously attacked the indictment, maintaining there was no proof that Orihuela "had mashed the skull of the child with an instrument." "In fact, their own witness, plight of the American farmer were topics for consideration by the executive committee of Hereford CowBelles Tuesday morning at the Community Center.

Virginia Yandell will serve as chairman of Farm-City Week, to be observed here Dec. 18-24. In conjunction with this, farm representatives and the Cow Belles will be guests on KPAN's Coffee Break show each day of Farm-City Week. Also, the CowBelles, will hold a casserole sale Dec. 19 in Sugarland Mall under the direction of Millie Barrett.

It was announced that four local delegates attended the Texas CowBelle convention Farm-City Week and the recently in San Antonio. They met with other CowBelles from throughout the state, discussing better promotion of beef and ways to help the farmer get a fair price for his products.

Plans for the CowBelle's annual Christmas coffee were discussed. The party will be from 9:30-11:30 a.m. Dec. 13 in the home of Mrs. Barrett.

Familiarity can be a very comforting feeling. One way to reach this is through rehearsal.

I attended a seminar on grief not long ago and the psychiatrist conducting the session said that we all should "rehearse" the death of a loved one, for example, in our minds. This sounds a bit ridiculous at first thought, but when we consider it carefully, it makes a lot of sense. By experiencing the feelings that accompany death, when the actual event occurs it is not quite the shock to our 'psyche."

Thus, I must add to the thought for a day---

What seems difficult today will be a lot easier tomorrow if you prepare yourself.

ore than one nation has undergone the painful necessity of committing its brave men to battle for the purpose of maintaining its freedom whenever it was threatened by enemy forces from without. Whether we honor them in October or November, or call the occasion Armistice Day, Veterans Day or Remembrance Day, the purpose of it remains the same: to give our humble thanks to those who survived the terrible wars and those who did not. And since the list of our freedoms includes the right to worship God in any way we see fit, let us show our gratitude by attending the Church of our choice Tw regularly, and thereby availing ourselves of one of the most vital freedoms for which our courageous heroes risked everything they had.

While curiosity abounds in Austin over whether yet another quarterback can lead the No. 1 ranked Texas Longhorns to victory over Texas Christian, the crucial matchup on the Southwest Conference agenda is Arkansas' first trip to Texas A&M with new Coach Lou Holtz at the helm.

The eight-ranked Razorbacks only have a 13-9 blemish inflicted by the Longhorns and have improved steadily under quarterback Ron Calcagni.

The 11th-ranked Texas Aggies, who have fallen only to Michigan, were idle last week.
"They are only one half of football from being the No. 1 team in the nation, perhaps." says Holtz, who was speaking of the ill-fated second half against Michigan in which the Wolverines piled it on for a 41-3 victory.

"Offensively, they have such great speed and the wishbone is difficult to stop to begin with. David Walker can throw the daylights out of it. They have a great kicker.

"Defensively, they're extremely agressive. They play very good coverage which is very tough to throw against. They make you worry about your ability to protect the passer. They're a complete football team. And, we're playing them down there."

"Down there" is Kyle Field were the Aggies are particularly tough - so much so that, Arkansas is only a one-point

Herd Season Ended On Sour Note

Fumble Recovery

Hereford guard Richard Olson [60] maintains HHS possession with a recovery of a Paul Bell fumble early in the game Thursday night. Olson just beat out a handful of Plainsmen to recover the ball on the Herd 20. Monterey went on to claim a 46-0 victory over the 'Faces, and will contend with District 3-4A champ Tascosa next Friday in Amarillo in the bi-district clash. Hereford players in background include Bell [15] and center Cory Walden [52]. [Brand photo by Paul Sims].

Has to Hurry

Herd quarterback Kelly Kitchens lofts an aerial as a host of Monterey rushers close in. Kitchens faced a tough rush all night long Thursday in Lubbock, but completed seven of 19 passes for 88 yards against the Plainsmen. Putting the pressure on Kitchens are Monterey's Phil Breudigan [37], Brett Dixon [64]. Bo Taylor [78], and Sam Laine [88]. Monterey won the contest 46-0 at Lubbock's Lowery Field. [Brand photo by Paul Sims].

Bucs Have Chance For Win

charity, performed with a hand covering the mouth to keep the smirk from escalating to giggles and thence to guffaws.

Here we stand, in the ninth week of Tampa Bay's second season, the 23rd game in all. And still the Buccaneers are, to use a horse racing expression, maidens, without a victorywithout so much as a tie-to look back upon.

Looking ahead they see, in the final five weeks of the season, Detroit, Atlanta, Chicago, New Orleans and St. Louis-all of them reasonably formidable foes.

Thus, if the Bucs are to avoid a second season of absolute humiliation, a victory must be achieved this Sunday against one of the few National Football league teams with an ineptitude in Tampa Bay's range.

Welcome, New York Giants. It is, to be sure, an Upset Special of mammoth propertions, considering the Bucs have scored touchdowns in only three games this season and have been blanked in three others. And coming on the heels of last week's horrendous 7-7 mark that put the season record at 77-35 for a .688 percentage, it is a selection to be regarded only lightly at best.

Bucs 16, Giants 14

For New York, it is a trip from the sublime to the ridiculous. Having lost to Dallas, and having an offense resembling Abbott & Castello Meet The Keystone Kops, the Giants loom as the team most likely to be remembered as the one that helped Tampa Bay break its maiden.

Cowboys 31, Cardinals 21 It appears Dallas has an

It is, let us say, an act of playoffs with a perfect record. St. Louis won't mar that mark this week, even though it will liven up Monday night with some electrifying moments.

Raiders 24, Ollers 13 Oakland and Houston have beaten each other by one-point margins the past two seasons. It won't be that close this time. The raiders are first in offense in the American Conference.

The Oilers are last. Colts 28, Bills 14

Buffalo would love to see Roland get his Hooks into Baltimore the way he did to the Patroits last week. But the Colts' defense will get its hooks into almost everything the Bills

The Monterey Plainsmen. ranked 7th among the state's Class 4A football teams, proved that fact to the Hereford Whitefaces Thursday night in handing the Herd a smashing 46-0 defeat in the final regular game of the season.

Monterey, now 9-0-1 on the year, will line up against District 3-4A champion Tascosa next week in Amarillo for the bi-district championship. Here-ford closes out the year with a 3-7 mark. The Plainsmen cruised through the district with a 4-0 mark for the second straight year. Hereford finished 1-3 in the loop this season, and owns a 1-7 mark in league play over the past two campaigns.

Plainsmen quarterback Ron Reeves had to share some of the spotlight in the win Thursday night over the 'Faces, Sophomore running back Dwayne Smith showed some speed. something the Plainsmen have not been blessed with of late. and totaled 96 yards on 13 tries. Smith also tallied three touchdowns in the game.

Jeff Harp gave Monterey a 6-0 lead in the first period, scoring from 30 vards out following a 12-yard punt by Hereford's jackie Mercer. Phil Breudigan added the PAT and the Plainsmen were started with a 7-0 lead at the 6:49 mark.

The Plainsmen had to go a little longer for their next touchdown, driving 54 yards in eight plays. Smith got his first TD of the night from the 13 with :34 left in the opening period. The drive was aided by a face-masking penalty against the Herd which moved the ball to the HHS 13.

Breudigan's kick was wide to the right this time, and Monterey led 13-0.

The Plainsmen made it a 19-0 affair just before the half ended. Dudley McMinn got the six points on a nine-yard pass from Reeves. McMinn earned his touchdown with three receptions in a 59-yard drive by Monterey, one of which gave the Plainsmen a first down on the Hereford 15. A pass for two points fell short, and the district champs took a 19-0 bulge into the dressing room.

Stats at halftime weren't all that contrasting, with MHS yards rushing 169-73, and behind in passing yards 58-52.

By BOB GREENE AP Sports Writer

The Oklahoma Sooners get a second chance to impress the armchair quarterbacks who watch their football on the tube. Oklahoma's third-ranked Sooners take on Big Eight foe Colorado in Saturday's nationally televised college game. Earlier this seson, the Sonners edged Ohio State 29-28 before television cameras. That was before they lost to top-ranked Texas 13-6, the only blemish on Oklahoma's record after nine

And the Sooners also remember last year.

"We need to win," Sooner linebacker Obie Moore said. "If we lose, we can still go to the Orange Bowl by beating Nebraska, but we need to win to get momentum and to avenge the loss last year.

"They scored 42 points against us last year and we still remember it."

Colorado Coach Bill Mallory would like a repeat of last year's 42-31 victory but is talking realistically.

"What can you say?" Mallory asked. "They have a great collection of athletes and it's a tremendous football team with more speed than anybody we have played."

Texas takes on Texas Christian in an attempt to increase its record to 9-0 while Miami of Florida is at No. 2 Alabama, which already has OAKLAND (AP) - Former all-star goalkeeper Mirko Stojanovic has been named as coach of the new Oakland Stompers team in the North American Soccer League.

Stojanovic, 38, holds NASL records for fewest career goals-against and for single season goals-against average. He played for the Dallas Tornado, Oakland Clippers and San Jose Earthquakes.

Also Thursday, Stompers' owner Milan Mandaric signed a 10-year lease for the Stompers to play home games in the Oakland Coliseum.

while Tony Garcia had 19 yards four tries. Herd quarterback Kelly Kitchens closed out his high school grid career with a 7 for 19 passing performance, good for 88 yards.

Smith led all rushers in the game with his 96 yards. Harp added 64 yards to the MHS effort, while Reeves had 48% steps on nine tries.

SEDENTARY AMERICANS?
BOSTON (AP) — Many
Americans may be leading such sedentary lives that they are "virtually motionless," moving about little more than if they remained in bed Mours a day, Dr. William Kannere. They will, in fact, stay in a constant environment from a constant environment from the time of leaving Ireland unhere recently.

Kannel said 16 percent of

The most important locality for diamonds in the United States is at Murfreesboro in Pike County, Ark., where diamonds were first recovered shortly after the turn of the present century. The largest diamond found in North America was at the Murfreesboro site - a crys-

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D. 'Little' strokes

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D. DEAR DR. LAMB - I need information and help with a condition called transient cerebral ischemia. I am 61 years of age. I momentarily blacked out and my left leg was paralyzed momentarily. Now I am having muscle spasms in my right leg. These come at any time. My cholesterol count is

225, weight 146. The doctors gave me Quinamm for the muscle spasm; what I want is help for the ischemia. DEAR READER - These episodes are also called transient ischemic attacks abbreviated as TIA, and some like to call them "little strokes."

The hallmark of such episodes is their transient nature - momentary paralysis with recovery or momen-tary loss of speech or other signs we associate with a stroke, but they don't last.

There are several theories as to what causes them. Some think they are caused by small parts of a larger clot in the arteries of the neck breaking off and going with the circulation to the brain. Still others think they are associated with an increased tendency of the small platelet cells in the blood to clump and cause an obstruction in a small artery

I am sure your doctors have evaluated your neck vessels carefully. Regard-less of what is the underlying mechanism of such attacks, many patients seem to do well by taking some anti-clotting medicine, such as Coumadin. There is a national study now in prog-ress on the possible benefits of aspirin, since it has an anti-clotting action too.

DEAR READER - Yes. have a habit of eating it. It and most people do - to prepare food and not eat it. food. A taste here and a taste eats before and after the meal in the kitchen that would be another story. One good adjunct to a diet is an empty refrigerator.

Foreign Travel Nothing New To White House

WASHINGTON (AP) . With Air Force One always ready and a whole world out there waiting. foreign travel has become a trademark . and a tool - of the jet-age White House.

The crisis that have sent presidents aloft and abroad have often been political rather than diplomatic. Somehow, a picture by the Berlin Wall does more for the image than one at the Washington Monument.

Richard M. Nixon, for example, turned foreign tourist in the waning days of his truncated presidency, as if to change the subject. He couldn't.

Now President Carter has discovered a new use for presidential travel; cancellation or, perhaps, creative cancellation. The possibilities are limitless. The secret is staying

He has. Carter told the nation Tuesday night, postponed "a major overseas trip until after Chirstmas because of the paramount importance of developing an effective energy plan this year."

"I have no doubt that this is the right decision, because the other nations of the world allies and adversaries alike await our energy decisions with great interest and concern," Carter said

The White House had announced that Carter would journey to nine nations beginning Nov. 22. Then the president said he'd call off the 25,000-mile mission unless Congress completed action on his energy program before takeoff time. Congress isn't going to make the timetable so Carter isn't going to make the the route, to work on security, communications and the countless details that go with presidential travel. Nations Carter wasn't going to visit, like West Germany, had been placated with assurances that he'd get there later. In some of the capitals he was going to visit there are signs of annoyance at what, in diplomatic terms, was a last-minute cancellation.

So the postponement is not without cost.

But consider the benefits. Simply by staying put, Carter has focused attention on his campaign for energy legislation, now in the hands of House and Senate negotiators. He's had trouble dramatizing the issue. Now he's cast himself as a president willing to sacrifice a major journey to faraway places to stay in Washington and tend to the business of getting energy bills passed.

There isn't much he can do except keep saying that he wants his program approved. But the gesture ought to count for something. And it would, in fact, be politically embarrassing what's left of the Carter energy program went through the final congressional shreder while the president was in

This being his first use of the creative cancellation. Carter may not have used the tactic to its full potential. He could, for example, have gone on with the trip as far as Saudi Arabia, and called off the rest of it to fly home from Riyadh or Jidda to deal with the energy program. That would have drawn higher marks for drama.

Or he could have tried reverse psychology, setting down in India or Nigeria and threatening to stay there until Congress passes the bills.

Those are not ploys for the beginner. Better to start slowly, and work up to more inventive postponements. There are scores of countries to which Carter cancel trips when he needs support for tax reform, or national health insurance mea-

Hope for Peace Exists in Mideast

DALLAS (AP) - Changes in the Mideast political and economic profile since 1967 have created a climate of hope for peace negotiations between the Arabs and Isreal, says Secretary of State Cyrus Vance.

The rise of moderate Arab leadership, adherence to agreements formed after the 1973 war and continuing economic hardships in the Mideast heighten the chance for progress in peace negotiations, he said Thursday

Vance was addressing the Council of Jewish Federations and Welfare Fund Convention

NEW YORK (AP) - Professor John Kouwenhoven gets that rare chance — to step back into time and "live" the history he once taught — thanks to the magic of television make-believe.

Dr. Kouwenhoven, professor emeritus of Barnard College, and an expert on American cul-tural history, was asked to serve as an advisor on the new fall television series of the Public Broadcasting Service, "The Best of Families."

Following the show's progress in person over a period of two years, he helped the pro-ducers at the Children's Television Workshop authenticate vital details of the 1880-1900 era treated in the dramatic series. The producers, in turn, drafted him as an actor. It's not a big role, but he will play a preach-er in a brief but poignant scene chief author of the original "Limits to Growth" study, when he forecast that "there are going to be massive discontinuities ahead."

It was not necessary to argue the "limits" thesis any more, he said. Events would demonstrate it; the 1973 oil crisis was only a foretaste. What were needed now were ideas that could help guide policy makers when the problems arrived.

He was echoed by At Peccei, founder of the Club of Rome and a former director of Fiat, who emphasized how short a time was left for persuading the rest of the world to agree.

These views were strongly challenged by the licensed optimist at the conference, Herman Kahn, who presented his now familiar message - faith and technology will see us through. But it is a measure of how the two sides have moved towards one another that even he admits growth will stop eventually and that a sustainable society will come in 200 years' time.

Those people that do not like the sedate life-style of a sustainable society, he suggested, will have to start exploring space in earnest.

Foreign Travel Nothing New To White House

WASHINGTON (AP) - With Air Force One always ready and a whole world out there waiting, foreign travel has become a trademark and a tool of the jet-age White House.

The crisis that have sent presidents aloft and abroad have often been political rather than diplomatic. Somehow, a picture by the Berlin Wall does more for the image than one at the Washington Monument.

Richard M. Nixon, for example, turned foreign tourist in the waning days of his truncated presidency, as if to change the subject. He couldn't.

Now President Carter has discovered a new use for presidential travel; cancellation or, perhaps, creative cancellation. The possibilities are limitless. The secret is staying

He has, Carter told the nation Tuesday night, postponed "a major overseas trip until after paramount importance of developing an effective energy plan this year.

"I have no doubt that this is the right decision, because the other nations of the world allies and adversaries alike await our energy decisions with great interest and concern." Carter said

The White House had announced that Carter would journey to nine nations its full potential. He could, for beginning Nov. 22. Then the president said he'd call off the trip as far as Saudi Arabia, and 25,000-mile mission unless called off the rest of it to fly Congress completed action on home from Riyadh or Jidda to his energy program before takeoff time. communications and the countless details that go with presidential travel. Nations Carter wasn't going to visit, like West Germany, had been placated with assurances that he'd get there later. In some of the capitals he was going to visit there are signs of annoyance at what, in diplomatic terms, was a last-minute cancellation

But consider the benefits. Simply by staying put, Carter has focused attention on his campaign for energy legislation. now in the hands of House and Senate negotiators. He's had trouble dramatizing the issue. Now he's cast himself as a president willing to sacrifice a major journey to faraway places to stay in Washington and tend to the business of getting energy bills passed.

There isn't much he can do Chirstmas because of the except keep saying that he wants his program approved. But the gesture ought to count for something. And it would, in fact, be politically embarrassing if what's left of the Carter energy program went through the final congressional shreder while the president was in

This being his first use of the creative cancellation. Carter may not have used the tactic to example, have gone on with the deal with the energy program.

Or he could have tried reverse psychology, setting down in India or Nigeria and threatening to stay there until Congress passes the bills.

Those are not ploys for the beginner. Better to start slowly. and work up to more inventive postponements. There are scores of countries to which Carter cancel trips when he needs support for tax reform, or

Farr 'Expressed Fear' Of Davis In Trial's New Development

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) - A Fort Worth saloon owner testified Thursday Stan Farr 'expressed a fear' of Cullen Davis before a savage 1976 shooting spree at the murder

The defense witness also said Farr wanted him to return his pistol because he was "scared of Horace Copeland" who was slain a year after the mansion

The revelations by tavern owner Ronnie Bradshaw preceded a disclosure by trial Judge George Dowlen that the defense was on the verge of resting its case.

"The defense expects to rest its case this week." Dowlen told the jury in a statement from

If indeed it does, that would mean the longest murder trial in Texas history would move into its climactic stages with the prospect of a verdict before Thanksgiving.

Hope for Peace Exists in Mideast

DALLAS (AP) - Changes in the Mideast political and economic profile since 1967 have created a climate of hope for peace negotiations between the Arabs and Isreal, says Secretary of State Cyrus Vance.

The rise of moderate Arab leadership, adherence to agreements formed after the 1973 war and continuing economic hardships in the Mideast heighten the chance for progress in peace negotiations, he said Thursday night.

Vance was addressing the Council of Jewish Federations and Welfare Fund Convention

His appearance was part of a Carter administration campaign to allay anxieties of Israel's supporters about U.S. policy in the Middle East.

Vance said the United States is committed to the process of negotiation and to the security and well-being of Israel but, he said, "We will not impose a settlement.

U.S. aid to Israel, he pointed out, is not about $1.8 billion annually, but "The United States will not do anything which would jeopardize Israeli security, by trying to exercise pressure through the withholding of military or economic assistance.

"With each passing year, our vital interests are more heavily tied to the fate of this area of the world," Vance added. "There can be no doubt that America's commitment to Israel's security is unshakeable."
