Smith Lauds Majority Rule

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Moderate black nationalists gave qualified support today to Prime Minister Ian Smith's dramatic offer to steer Rhodesia to black majority rule in one-man, one-vote elections.

A spokesman for one moderate black leader, the Rev. Ndabaningi Sithole, called Smith's offer a "decisive move... which paves the way for black and white Rhodesians to sit down together and work out a blueprint for Zimbabwe which will bring peace and prosperity to our land."

Zimbabwe is the African name for Rhodesia. Sithole heads a faction of the African National Council.

Smith did not mention a date for elections. Jeremiah Chirau, leader of the moderate black Zimbabwe United Peoples Organization, said Smith's acceptance of majority rule could mean the end of guerrilla fighting. He appealed to black nationalist guerrillas to "come home peacefully," calling them "misguided young men who think that the path of violence can lead to anything constructive."

The independent Rhodesia Herald, reflecting white middle-of-the-road thinking, called Smith's surprise support for universal adult suffrage "a dramatic start" to bring peace to Rhodesia.

Both moderate black leaders operate from within Rhodesia. There was no immediate word from black nationalist guerrilla leaders operating from Zambia and Mozambique.

Claiming the British-American peace plan has failed, Smith told a news conference Thursday he believed an internal agreement between his white minority government and moderate black leaders would end Rhodesia's bloody five-year-old guerrilla war.

"It is time we got on in Rhodesia and came to some finalities so that we can bring to an end the kind of madness which exists today where Rhodesians are killing Rhodesians at a pretty fair pace," Smith said.

Chirau, who leaves Saturday for a trip to the United States and Britain to boost international support for his organization, told a group of white farmers in the town of Marandellas, about 50 miles south of Salisbury, that whites would not enjoy privileged status in a black majority-ruled Rhodesia.

"Most of Zimbabwe's people are black so you must understand that there can be no question of the continuation of the privileged position which Rhodesia has enjoyed for so long," he said.

However, Chirau said existing Rhodesian security forces should be retained, white-led but including about four-fifths blacks in the lower ranks. The suggestion was an apparent reference to Smith's insistence on a secure future for the white minority.

"With all parties inside the country agreeing to come together to discuss a future constitution based on majority rule, the terrorist war should cease," Chirau said.

Joseph Masangoma, spokesman for Bishop Abel Muzorewa's African National Council, said in a published interview that several "non-negotiable" (See RHODESIA, Page 2)

Getting Untracked

A Santa Fe freight train derailed Wednesday afternoon near the Main Street railroad crossing on Highway 60, tying up traffic for a few minutes as a train pulled the cars which didn't jump the track away from the derailed cars. It took until about 11 p.m. Wednesday to repair the track and pull the remaining cars away. Santa Fe officials today announced that the Main Street crossing will be closed to traffic from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday in order to repair a water leak and renew the crossing, which has become low due to the water. Wednesday's derailment was not caused by the leak, according to a spokesman for Santa Fe. Tuesday, the Progressive Road crossing, also on Highway 60, will be closed for repair. That feller on Tierra Blanca Creek says the federal government is fast becoming a luxury that few of us can afford.

HOPE YOU AND yours had a happy Thanksgiving Day, and there are some out there who continue to be thankful today as their holiday goes on into the weekend. We had plenty to be thankful for as we paused to reflect on the meaning of the day yesterday and, I'm sure the feeling varies with the individual.

Most of us aren't thankful enough, however. We complain about having to work, when there are many who are not physically able to work. We fuss about not having enough money when we are rich by the standards of much of the world.

When we pray, "Give us this day our daily bread," how many of us really mean "Give us this day a new house, a new car, fine clothes, money to travel, and such a variety of good food and drink that we won't have to bother about mere bread."

If you didn't see too many bright spots yesterday, you could still be thankful you weren't a turkey!

HOW DID REPUBLICAN Bob Price make the state senate runoff election? H.M. Baggarly, Tulsa publisher, explains it all in a recent column. He noted that "Swisher County" exuded moderation and common sense when it went to the polls, and that they had the three Democrats in 1-2-3 ranking.

He noted, however, that "other counties place fantasy above reality, get hung up over some emotional but inconsequential issue... consider their own prejudices and pet peeves, and then go off on a tangent when they vote." The reason, he writes, is that some are angry at the Democrats because of the agricultural problem; they are peeved at Carter and even at their Congressmen.

"When people are angry, they sometimes lose their sense of logic. They become spiteful. They want to punish" (See HEREFORD BULL, Page 2)

Tractorcade Invades Plains

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — Farmers demanding higher produce prices ordered an army of tractors escorted by crop-dusting airplanes toward President Carter's hometown today for a rally.

The president was more than 560 miles away. But a shop-keeper who is also a state senator and Carter's cousin announced plans to watch and added: "We're glad to have them."

Thousands of farmers spent Thanksgiving night at meeting points near this southwestern Georgia hamlet, preparing to drive their tractors into Plains for the rally.

The farmers want Congress to set a floor price on agricultural products that would ensure that they will get back their production costs and at least a small profit when they sell their harvest.

Unless Congress takes action on the farmers' demands, farmers across the country have vowed to go on strike starting Dec. 14.

As the farmers prepared their demonstration, Carter was at the presidential retreat in Camp David, Md. His mother, Miss Lillian, was home in Plains, but it was not known whether she or the president's brother, Billy, planned to watch the "tractorcade."

State Sen. Hugh Carter, the president's cousin, said he had not been invited to the rally but he planned to be in his antique store on Plains' main street, a

US Encourages Peace Momentum

The United States urged Mideast protagonists Thursday to maintain the "momentum for peace" generated by Anwar Sadat's journey to Jerusalem. In Cairo, the Egyptian foreign minister said Egypt and Israel now held the key to a Mideast settlement.

"The politics of the region will never be the same as they were before Egyptian President Sadat visited Israel," U.S. Ambassador Andrew Young told the U.N. General Assembly in its Mideast debate in New York.

"President Sadat came in peace, was welcomed in peace by Prime Minister Menachem Begin and the Israeli people. Because of simple yet dramatic act, the prospects for a just and durable peace have been significantly advanced if all concerned have the vision and the will to recognize and build upon the psychological transformation it has made possible.

"My government urges all of the parties to maintain the momentum toward peace."

The statement was the strongest U.S. endorsement of Sadat's trip since the Egyptian president returned from his historic three-day visit to Israel on Monday. Young spoke in a debate marked in past years by a torrent of anti-Israeli speeches and resolutions.

In Cairo, Egypt's acting foreign minister, Butros B. Ghali, told a press conference that Sadat's mission had displaced the United States as the key to a Mideast peace.

"After Sadat's trip to Jerusalem the proportion has changed. Now the two opponents, Egypt and Israel, hold the cards and I will add the Palestinians," he said.

Until last weekend's trip, Sadat often said the United States "holds 99 percent of the cards" in the Middle East because

Traffic Light Around County

Texas Department of Public Safety troopers around Hereford Thursday reported a fairly uneventful Thanksgiving Day.

"I only gave out about 10 citations," said Dave Dodge, DPS trooper. "I don't know what the other trooper gave out. There just wasn't that much traffic."

Dodge said that there was no intensified patrolling of highways and roads around Hereford despite the holiday.

"I anticipate a lot of traffic Sunday but not on Thanksgiving. It's not that busy of a holiday—most people have to work on Friday after Thanksgiving so they probably don't go anywhere."

"For a while Thursday, traffic moved along at an acceptable rate but as the afternoon wore on, it got faster and faster."

Dodge issued 10 citations, eight on Highway 60. The fastest driver cited was clocked at 88 miles per hour. Most of those receiving tickets were traveling in the 70-mile-per-hour vicinity.

"I was busiest from about 12 noon til 3 p.m."

The trooper said December will be the department's busiest month.

"All of December is usually real busy, people going to and from parties and shopping trips."

The DPS annually beefs up patrols around Christmas through Operation Motorcade and Operation Holidays.

Area Men Promote Strike To California Farmers

Gerald McCathern of Hereford and Oran Watson of Tulsa, area representatives of the American Agriculture farm strike movement report they've enlisted the support of some farmers in California for the American Ag cause following a recent trip to the West Coast.

The local men addressed gatherings of farmers in Klamath Falls, Oregon, in addition to Arbuckle and Stockton, California.

McCathern and Watson delivered the farm strike message, asking West Coast farmers to refuse to sell any products or buy farm equipment or supplies after Dec. 14.

That is the date the movement has set for 100 percent parity prices on all farm commodities.

"Farmers need higher prices to cover production costs. Many farmers are already going bankrupt," the area men told their audiences.

"The farm strike movement has good support throughout the Midwest and Southwest, and consumers are going to feel the effects of a farm strike very quickly," Watson stated.

"Many of the California farmers indicated that they realize the need for a stabilization of farm prices and told us they would get out and spread the word on the American Agriculture movement, and do what they can to gain support for the farm strike," McCathern added.

The trip by McCathern and Watson to the West Coast was financed through donations by local merchants.

The area men made their first presentation on the farm strike movement last Friday, and returned home late Wednesday.

Thanksgiving Varies Around Country

By MIKE SILVERMAN
Associated Press Writer

At Camp David, the first family sat down to a turkey dinner with all the trimmings. In Plymouth, Indians who say their ancestors feasted at the first Thanksgiving proclaimed a "day of mourning." In Philadelphia, Santa went through the roof instead of the window.

And for millions of Americans across the nation, Thursday was a day to spend with friends and relatives, a day for watching parades and football games—and a day for overeating.

Some taste of winter with their turkey, as freezing rain or snow fell in parts of Washington, the Great lakes area, and Maine.

Some experienced tragedy. More than 70 persons were reported killed by midafternoon in traffic accidents on the nation's highways.

Jimmy and Rosalynn Carter's menu at the presidential retreat in Maryland's Catoctin Mountains called for turkey, cornbread stuffing, giblet gravy, candied sweet potatoes, green beans, waldorf salad, rolls and butter, cranberries and pumpkin pie with whipped cream.

Back in Washington Vice President

Walter Mondale assigned himself kitchen duties. His Naval stewards had the day off, and Mondale said he always fixes Thanksgiving dinner himself to "let my wife sleep."

Although the White House's main tenant was away, comedian Dick Gregory and a small group of supporters picketed outside the gates in a light rain, protesting against U.S. corporate involvement in South Africa and calling for racial justice there.

In New York, a five-foot-tall Snoopy balloon, outfitted with a space suit and life pick and held in place by a crew of 40, floated above the thousands who gathered to watch Macy's 51st annual Thanksgiving Day parade as it wound from Central Park to Herald Square.

Marching among the 29 colorful floats were 12 championship bands, including the 102-member McDonald's All-American High School band with two musicians from each state and the District of Columbia. Free hamburgers from the sponsor were part of their reward for performing.

In Philadelphia, large crowds turned out under cloudy skies to watch more than 5,000 participants in the annual Gimbels' parade—the 58th since the late Ellis Gimbels put every employee who could play an instrument into cars and escorted Santa Claus into town.

In past year, the fire department boosted Santa through a fourth-floor window into Gimbels' toy department. But there's a new Gimbels building this year that doesn't have any windows, so Santa—actually a firefighter in costume—rode to the roof in a cherry picker and descended to the toy department via an inside fire escape.

of its military and economic aid to Israel. Ghali said the United States, as a superpower and co-chairman with the Soviet Union of the Geneva peace conference, will continue to play "an important and positive role."

There were reports that Egyptian-Israeli contacts were continuing with a view to reviving the Geneva Middle East peace conference soon. Egyptian officials indicated that the U.S. ambassador to Cairo, Hermann Eilts, was continuing to act as a conduit for messages between Cairo and Tel Aviv.

But Ghali denied reports that the United States is drafting actual invitations to Geneva for Dec. 31. The conference has been in recess since a brief opening session in December 1973.

Absentee Voting Set for Nov. 30

Absentee voting for the runoff between State Senate candidates Bob Price and Bob Simpson will begin Nov. 30 in the office of Deaf Smith County Clerk B.F. Cain.

Absentee voting will continue through Dec. 6, with the general election to be Dec. 10.

Simpson, a Democratic state representative, and Price, a Republican who has served in the U.S. House of Representatives, were the top vote getters in the Nov. 8 election to replace Max Sherman for the 31st District seat.

Simpson earned 363 votes in Deaf Smith County and another Republican, Jim Brandon, was second with 351. Price of Pampa, the only non-Amarilloan in the five-man race, was third with 318 votes.

Price will attend a political rally in his behalf at 7 p.m. Monday at Calson's Steak House.

Simpson also is planning at least one campaign trip to Hereford.

Preston Smith Schedules Visit

Former governor Preston Smith, making a bid to regain that office, will campaign in Hereford for 30 minutes Monday beginning at 8:45 a.m. at Hereford State Bank.

The public is invited to attend, according to Smith's area campaign coordinator, Gene Campbell, who said that those interested in hearing Smith should enter the bank through the south door.

Smith, a conservative Democrat, is a resident of Lubbock, where he is in the savings and loans business.

He will stop in Hereford as part of a campaign swing through the Panhandle-South Plains area.

Percy Wants FDA Ban of Liquid Protein

WASHINGTON (AP) - Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., wants the Food and Drug Administration to prohibit the sale of liquid protein, but the agency says it may face lengthy legal problems if it tries to do so.

A spokesman for Percy said the senator's staff has been told by the FDA that the agency plans to propose a regulation on Monday declaring the diet aids unsafe and ordering them off the market.

The FDA has not confirmed such plans. But an agency spokesman said the FDA has not ruled out a ban on the product sometime in the future.

The legal battle would revolve around the question of whether liquid protein, the fast diet food substitute which officials say may be linked to at least 10 deaths, is actually a food, a drug, or food additive.

If it is a food, as claimed by some of its supporters, the Food and Drug Administration would have little control over the liquid protein, as it is accurately labeled and free of contamination.

Phillips Honors Evangelist Graham

MANILA, Philippines (AP) - President Ferdinand Marcos gave evangelist Billy Graham a Thanksgiving night state dinner.

Graham said he has dined five times with Queen Elizabeth II and many times with presidents of the United States and chancellors of West Germany, but he never before had been honored with a state dinner in his more than 30 years as a minister.

"While this hall has celebrated the passing of kings and prime ministers and presidents, it is honored to celebrate with a man like us, a man of common clay," Marcos said in a champagne toast.

The dinner at the presidential palace, which lasted until 1 a.m. Friday, followed the second of five sessions of the "Metro Manila Billy Graham Crusade '77."

An estimated 100,000 persons attended Graham's first evangelical session Wednesday night in this heavily Roman Catholic country. Thursday night's crowd was estimated at 45,000.

Votes Certified In Nov. 8 Election

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - The State Canvassing Board today certified official vote totals in the Nov. 8 election at which voters adopted five new constitutional amendments and rejected two propositions.

Board members are Gov. Dolph Briscoe, Secretary of State Steve Oaks and Mrs. Blake Sparenberg of Austin.

The canvass showed the voters rejected the amendment allowing agricultural organizations, by referendum, to impose mandatory assessments on members, 299,060 to 231,164.

The proposition allowing banks to install electronic fund transfer systems EFTS at such places as shopping centers without violating the constitutional prohibition against branch banking failed, 344,483 to 208,264.

Votes by which the successful constitutional changes passed were:

-Increasing the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals from five to nine judges, 410,170 to 150,862.

-Authorizing another $200 million in veterans land bonds, 329,417 to 225,919.

-Denial of bail to two-time losers, gun-toting criminals and those accused of committing a felony while already free on bond, 472,948 to 92,568.

-Allowing tax relief for historic, culturally significant or natural history sites, 306,102 to 244,477.

-Strengthening the state's power to remove judges and changing the name of the Judicial Qualifications Commission to the State Commission on Judicial Conduct, 354,275 to 180,837.

Accidents Kill 146 With More Expected

Accidents have claimed 146 lives on the nation's streets and highways, with more than half of a four-day Thanksgiving weekend still ahead.

The National Safety Council has estimated 460 to 560 persons could die in traffic over the weekend that began at 6 p.m. Wednesday and ends at midnight Sunday.

The council said an average of 530 highway deaths occur during a non-holiday period of equal length at this time of year.

Thanksgiving auto travel claimed a record number of lives in 1966, when 764 persons died. The toll last year was 467.

Travel this year was aggravated in northern areas by snow that stretched intermittently from the Pacific Northwest to New England. Travel advisories were in effect for a dozen states from Washington to Michigan.

Police Report

Herford police arrested a 39-year-old Pittsburgh, Calif., man Wednesday afternoon and charged him with attempted auto theft and public drunkenness.

Police received a call from Orval Watson Ford, 200 W. 1st, concerning some car keys taken from two of the autos on the lot.

Police found the California man with the keys in his possession. A 14-year-old male from Oklahoma City, Okla., was also arrested and turned over to juvenile authorities.

Irma Ybarra of San Angelo and formerly of Herford reported Thursday that somebody entered a residence at 420 Ave. C. and removed a color television set and other items.

Also missing in the burglary were a tricycle, wallclocks, a toaster, meat grinder, blender, watches, records, a piggy bank full of money and some old coins.

Police reported that the items were taken between April and Thursday.

Police arrested two drunk males and another for simple assault Thursday. A juvenile was also charged with drunkenness.

A minor traffic accident was investigated at 5:34 p.m. Thursday in the 100 block of Brevard.

Longshoreman Leader To Make Voting Slate

NEW YORK (AP) - The leader of the 50,000-member International Longshoremen's Association said he expected to decide today on a schedule for voting on tentative three-year contracts for dock workers in 34 Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico ports.

All goes well in final talks in several key ports, union president Thomas W. "Teddy" Gleason indicated, the voting will probably start at 7 a.m. Monday with the results announced at the ILA's headquarters here.

Gleason expressed confidence that the dock workers would accept a 32 percent package increase which, in the final year would raise hourly pay to $10.40 and hourly benefits to $3.75 while providing income for longshoremen idled by automation.

A vote to accept the contracts would end the eight-week shipping tie-up that has cost the jobs of tens of thousands of workers in many industries and hurt the national economy with several billion dollars in lost production.

Meanwhile, unresolved local contract issues in Baltimore, Philadelphia and Mobile were to be discussed today.

In Gleason's view, inter-port rivalries in which shipping associations are seeking a competitive advantage over one another are the only obstacles to full accords at the two East Coast points and along the eastern portion of the Gulf Coast.

"Some of these ports are looking for an edge," he said Thursday.

The strike remained selective and confined to "automated" shipping except in Baltimore, where a general strike by 4,000 longshoremen against everything began Wednesday morning with Gleason's blessing.

The Baltimore dockworkers, who are members of five ILA locals, called the walkout Tuesday night to put pressure on the Steamship Trade Association of Baltimore, which represents the shippers, to come to terms on local issues and a guaranteed annual income plan.

Negotiators for both sides talked Wednesday, but the bargaining broke off after an hour with local union leaders defying recommendations by ILA leaders to accept a management offer on a GAI.

Garris McFadden, president of Baltimore's Local 333, stormed out of Wednesday's meeting complaining that parts of the management proposal would make it difficult for dock workers to qualify for a GAI plan.

Port officials say the Baltimore strike is costing $5 million a day.

New Orleans, the nation's second largest port, and Philadelphia locals were also authorized by Gleason to expand their strikes but found the step unnecessary.

"We've finished negotiations in New Orleans," Gleason said, although spokesmen for its 4,000 dockworkers and the shippers are expected to add the finishing touches to local contract supplements.

"It's a complete settlement there," he said. "We'll probably do - we'll try to do - the same thing in Philadelphia and Baltimore Friday."

Negotiations were halted everywhere Thursday for Thanksgiving.

More than 100 "automated" ships, most carrying van-size cargo containers that eliminate costly manual handling, were reported strikebound on idle ships as the Baltimore action added up to 60 vessels to the shipping tie-up.

'Strip' Stays Busy

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Robin tugged the denim cap a little lower over his eyes and lit up a cigarette.

"On a good night, you'll find people standing on every corner," Robin said, peering through the windshield of his 1968 Cadillac at the cruising cars splashing through the puddles of Van Nuys Boulevard.

"But on a rainy night like this, most of the people who are out here are the people who just won't die."

On a warm evening, as many as 25,000 young people between the ages of 14 and 30 cruise the boulevard in search of a good time.

One Hollywood screenwriter called it "the heart of the car culture on the planet Earth."

And indeed it is. Cars of every description and color compete for attention, as their drivers relive the 1950s favorite, "cruising the strip."

Tanned teen-agers cluster on corners to watch the passing parade, exchange gossip, share a smoke.

Others prefer to ride. The young, freckle-faced blonde in blue jeans idly popped her Juicy Fruit as she searched for a rock station on the Cadillac's FM radio.

"I come down here because it's a lot better than staying at home," said Shawn, a 17-year-old senior at Van Nuys High School.

"It's the only place you can come totally broke and still have a good time," she added, turning up the volume.

Almost religious in their devotion to the Wednesday night ritual, they rarely miss a chance to cruise the boulevard. It's an opportunity to show off a new car, meet new friends or swap stories with old ones.

Inching along bumper to bumper in everything from battered Volkswagens to customized vans, they somehow seem to personify the California Car Culture of the '70s, where four wheels mean much more than mere transportation.

"It's a great American tradition out here Wednesday nights," said Los Angeles Police Capt. Tom Hayes, commanding officer for the Van Nuys area.

"I guess it's a status thing to be seen on Van Nuys Boulevard, especially if you have a flashy car or van, and of course it's the old boy-meets-girl story," Hayes said.

While there are still plenty of old Chevys, Fords and souped up Plymouths seen on the boulevard, wildly painted vans seem to be a favorite.

Many have interiors that rival apartments for creature comforts. They often include plush carpeting, stereos, CB radios, beds, and even compact refrigerators full of cold drinks.

Sometimes the cars are lowered in front and raised in back, rolling along on oversized tires with raised letters boldly proclaiming they are Super Sports, or Wide Ovals.

Radical To Return To Seattle

SEATTLE (AP) - A reported member of the radical Weather Underground will be returned to Seattle from Moscow to face charges in an 1970 bombing attempt. The FBI said Thursday.

Assistant U.S. Attorney J. Ronald Sim said a federal warrant will be outstanding for July 25, 1977, charged with attempting to destroy government property.

Mrs. Sim said she was arrested Saturday in Moscow by federal agents investigating a purported plot by the Weather Underground to assassinate public figures.

Sim said once any possible charges in other jurisdictions are cleared, federal authorities will seek her return to Seattle.

Mrs. Sim said she had studied Sites from Seattle, who indicated there is a connection with a death placed in the pages of the Air Force Reserve's Flight Training Corps building at the University of Washington campus.

They were charged in King County Superior Court but jumped the $50,000 bail posted by Sim's parents, members of the Sim family newspaper family.

Sim said she was charged in 1974 with bombing a government office in Los Angeles. She has not been arrested since she fled the local charges.

The Abundant Life

THE WORLD WE SEE
BY BOB WEAR

THE WORLD WE SEE is not the same to all of us, because all of us are different; and, in many ways, we see the world as we are. We see what we are prepared to see. This is not necessarily undesirable or the source of difficulties, but we know, that, for many people, it is permitted to be a source of troublesome human relationships. This is uncalled for, because we have the potential for doing better.

FOR INSTANCE-To some people, a tree is an object of beauty; but to others, it is just a tree. This is caused by differences in experiences, in knowledge, and in the sense of values. To another person, the tree may be so many board feet of lumber. To another, the tree is the same tree, but the people differ.

THESE PEOPLE CAN MAKE a horrible situation out of their differences, or they can, with understanding and tolerance, face the reality and accept it graciously. If one of the persons owns the tree, he can let it mean to him whatever he wishes and do with it as he pleases.

THE TRAGEDY IS NOT in the differences, but in the senseless and unprofitable conflict that some people create because of them. We must not dislike the person who doesn't have the same view of the tree that we have. Conversely, the person whose view of the tree differs with our view has no just cause to dislike us.

THE SAME PRINCIPLE APPLIES in all areas of human interactions, and to everything else in our world. We see many things differently, because we are different.

WE CAN IMPROVE our view of the world we see by being constantly busy improving ourselves. This will be of special value in the world of people. Let us remember that prejudices, intellectual dishonesty, and unnecessary limitations in our knowledge will certainly give us a distorted and limited picture of the world we see.

OUR SALVATION is in continuous and careful self-evaluation conducted in the light of the best available guidance. This does not mean that we can always learn to see the world as others see it, but it does mean that we can understand. This is one of the greatest human accomplishments -- learning to understand. We can do this.

OUR SAFETY VALVE is in wholesome and justified tolerance. Of course, some things cannot be tolerated. "Tolerance is a good thing in its place; but you cannot tolerate what will not tolerate you, and is trying to cut your throat."--Froude.

THE WORLD WE SEE can be a better world for all of us if, in addition to the personal view, all of us do our best to see it through the eyes of each other; and try to understand.

A FEW MONTHS after moving to a small town, a woman complained to a neighbor about the poor service at the local drugstore. She hoped the new acquaintance would repeat her complaint to the owner.

Later the woman reported the miraculous change to her friend. "I suppose you told the druggist how poor I thought the service was?" she asked.

Next time she went to the drugstore, the druggist greeted her with a big smile, told her how happy he was to see her again, and said he hoped she liked their town. After filling her order promptly and efficiently, he said to let him know if there was anything he could do to help her and her husband get

A spokesman for the Mozambique general staff in the capital of Maputo said the raid began Wednesday morning near the border town of Chimoio. Stiff fighting was reported in progress Thursday.

Mozambique is used as a launching pad for cross-border raids by Rhodesia's black nationalist guerrillas fighting to topple Smith's minority government. The Rhodesian military command has admitted making several attacks on Mozambique "in hot pursuit" of the guerrillas.

Elsewhere in southern Africa, at least 19 persons were injured when a bomb planted in a flowerpot exploded Thursday in an underground shopping mall in Johannesburg. South African officials said. Justice Minister James T. Kruger claimed urban terrorists were responsible.

The Rhodesian prime minister launched his initiative at a news conference in the city of Bulawayo, 225 miles southwest of Salisbury. It was the first time Smith had expressed support for the concept of national elections in Rhodesia based on universal adult suffrage.

Directors of the Georgia Agriculture Aviation Association voted unanimously late last week to hold a "fly-over" of 25 to 40 crop-dusting planes during the rally to show their support for the farmers' cause.

Tom Kersey, the Unadilla, Ga., farmer who helped organize the farm protest movement in the Southeast, had said he expected 10,000 tractors at the rally.

He said at least 1,000 tractors stayed overnight in Americus on Thursday, 450 in Reynolds, 1,000 in Albany, 1,000 in Smithfield, 500 in Vienna and several hundred in Cordele.

Idiophones are musical instruments which produce notes without the aid of a sounding board or resonator. There are eight general classifications: struck-together, struck, stamped on, stamped against the ground, shaken, scraped, plucked, and rubbed.

Of course elephants never forget. After what one political party has done to 'em, how could they?

Ann Landers Mother Hung Son

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have good reason to believe that my son, age 20, does not have normal sex drives. Worse yet, I'm afraid I am to blame.

His father died two years ago, after nearly ten years of lying around in an alcoholic stupor. Because I was lonely my son and I developed a closer-than-most relationship. I worked hard at trying to be both father and mother.

The questions: What do I do now? Butt out of his life as completely as possible and pray he can work out his own salvation? Would it help him to understand that I damaged him or would it hurt him even more? Should I shut my eyes and hope I am wrong? Sign me — Too Late?

DEAR MOTHER: I'm trying to read between the lines and getting nowhere. Do you suspect your son is a homosexual — or is he just mother-hung?

If it's the first, he took that turn before he was five years of age. (That's when gender-identity is usually established.) Thereapy rarely changes people.

If he's too much of a mama's boy — don't apologize. Remember Henry Ford's motto — "Never complain, never explain." Do your best to cut the umbilical cord and stop feeling guilty. It won't help him and it certainly won't do anything for you.

DEAR ANN: When I was 20 I got pregnant. The baby's father stuck by me but I decided not to marry him. When Lisa was born I gave her my last name.

I married Lisa's father a year after but I didn't change her last name when I changed mine. I am not ashamed of what I did and I don't want Lisa to be ashamed of being born of an unmarried mother. In fact, I want her to be proud of my courage.

If she wants to take her father's name later she can do it. Am I thinking straight? — Proud To Be Me

DEAR YOU: Your thinking isn't as straight as you think it is. My advice is to change Lisa's name NOW. Why complicate your daughter's life by going out of your way to advertise the fact that she was born out of wedlock? You may not realize it but that is what you are doing.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: We are too senior citizens who live in the same apartment building. We have become very good friends but have no intention of getting married. I do a lot for him — like shopping and driving him where he wants to go. Sometimes I do his laundry.

He enjoys playing cards and so do I. When I make a mistake he cusses me out and calls me a dumbbell. Otherwise, he is kind and considerate. He says he loves me and I love him. In spite of his few faults I like the old fool.

Once in a while he treats me to a restaurant dinner or an ice cream cone when we go for a walk. But something is bothering me. When his relatives come to visit and they all go to a restaurant for dinner, he never invites me along. Yes, they know we are close friends. Am I crazy to stick with him? — Augusta, Ga.

DEAR GA.: It sounds as if you're doing a lot more for your friend than he's doing for you. Have a frank talk and spell it out. In the meantime, if you have an opportunity to take a walk and get an ice cream cone with another gentleman — do it.

GIVING THANKS

Thanksgiving is not a duty we perform once a year. It is rather a flicker, then, a flame that grows within every one of us who lives in this fine country.

Unfortunately, giving thanks doesn't come to mind until we travel to another country or meet and know others who live in desperation.

Ask anyone who has traveled to Russia, for example, and he

They started it when Howard Jones was coaching at Southern Cal and Bill Spaulding at UCLA almost a half-century ago.

Southern Cal-UCLA series was resumed, and that year it resulted in a 7-7 tie, proving that the Bruins at last belonged in the same league with their red-hot intractable rivals.

It's been that way since, and one of the nation's most legendary college football rivalries continues tonight with the usual clash of cymbals and the normally-present high stakes.

Jan. 2 for the first time since 1962. Before the Trojans and Bruins meet tonight, two other bowl pictures will be cleared up. The winner of the Oklahoma-Nebraska game earlier in the day claims the Big Eight championship and a trip to the Orange Bowl against Arkansas Jan. 2.

Griese, Dolphins Embarrass Cards

By TOM CANAVAN
AP Sports Writer

Bob Griese missed his Thanksgiving turkey, so he feasted on the next best entree: St. Louis Cardinal.

established a team record. In the other Thanksgiving Day game, Chicago overcame a 7-0 halftime deficit and defeated Detroit 31-14.

Cardinals Coach Don Coryell had a simple analysis after the game: "We just got the holy heck kicked out of us by a team that is far superior to us," Coryell said.

Griese ripped an injury-riddled St. Louis secondary with six touchdown passes, including three to wide receiver Nat Moore, and directed Miami to a 55-14 rout of the Cardinals Thursday to keep the Dolphins' National Football League playoff hopes alive.

He culminated the first drive with a 4-yard pass to Moore and climaxed to second with a 7-yard pitch to Duruel Harris.

Meanwhile, several other traditional rivals will be waiting in the wings for Saturday's competition. Among them will be Pitt and Penn State, both bowl-bound.

Joe Lapchick Tournery Testimony to Legend

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

He wasn't just another guy named Joe. "He taught me a lot about life," St. John's Coach Lou Carnesecca says of Joe Lapchick.

but for St. John's as well. The revered "Big Indian," most successful of all St. John's coaches before his death in 1970, has been remembered by a lot of people for a lot of different reasons - but never officially until the Joe Lapchick Memorial Tournament was started in 1975.

Joseph's, Pa., William & Mary, Virginia Commonwealth and Richmond, V.M.I., Virginia, Roanoke and Madison will be competing in the Virginia Tipoff at Charlottesville, Va.

"I remember that - and I still carry that card in my wallet after all these years." To St. John's Sports Information Director Bill Esposito, Lapchick was the ultimate humanist and the all-time No. 1 public relations man.

The tournament opening tonight at St. John's Alumni Hall, one of several around the country starting the 1977-78 college basketball season with a bang, includes a four-team field of 20th-ranked St. John's, Old Dominion, Niagara and Lafayette.

The Maryland Tipoff at Landover, Md., will begin Sunday with 14th-ranked Maryland, Georgetown, Navy and American U. The Terrapins will be busy this weekend, opening the season with a game tonight against Bucknell.

Hawaii's Aloha Stadium will host the 1980 Pro Bowl Game on Jan. 27. The first prize fight shown on a theater-television hookup in the United States was the bout between Joe Louis and Lee Savold on June 15, 1951.

The opening bout in the current Madison Square Garden in New York on March 4, 1968, saw middleweight Dennis Hefernan score a three-round knockout over Tony Smith.

In other games involving ranked teams that day, No. 2 Kentucky hosts SMU; No. 4 Notre Dame meets Mississippi; No. 5 San Francisco entertains San Francisco State; Brigham Young visits No. 6 UCLA; Akron plays No. 9 Cincinnati; No. 11 Syracuse takes on Cornell; No. 12 Purdue entertains Xavier Ohio; No. 13 Michigan plays Western Kentucky; No. 16 Minnesota meets South Carolina and No. 17 Wake Forest tackles North Carolina-Wilmington. UCLA's busy Bruins will be in action again Sunday, playing Seattle.

For God So Loved The World

FAITH WILL TEACH YOU HOW TO PRAY

Prayer is intended to be a beautiful communion with the Almighty, but we sometimes turn it instead into a request for some material gain: often of doubtful benefit. To do so is to dishonor God by assuming that He is not already aware of your needs. So go to your Church this Sunday and pray for His guidance to help you become a better person. And, instead of attempting to give God information, just thank Him for what you already have and reaffirm your trust in His infinite wisdom in knowing what is really best for you.

Who rises from prayer a better man, his prayer is answered.

— George Meredith

Experiment Provides Home to Family

NOTICE OF ELECTION
[AVISO DE ELECCION]
To the Registered Voters of the County of Deaf Smith, Texas: (A los Votantes Registrados del Condado de Texas): Notice is hereby given that the polling places listed below will be open from 7:00 A.M. until 7:00 P.M., SATURDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1977

HAMPTON, Va. (AP) - Charles and Elaine Swain live the way many of us may be living years from now. What's different about the way they live may not immediately grab your attention: a strange, occasional hum from beneath the floor, a habit they have of closing their shutters in the daytime, an unusual tint to some of their household water. But scientists hope that in a year's time, the Swains will have used as little as half the water and a third the energy that an ordinary American household now consumes. The Swains and their two children, 17-year-old Carol and 12-year-old Charles, are the family in Tech House, a National Aeronautics and Space Administration experiment in saving energy and water.

conservation equipment seems quite normal. "The only thing I'm aware of to any great extent is the shutters on the windows," said Mrs. Swain. The vented shutters are manipulated from inside and can completely seal the windows to save on air conditioning in summer and heating in winter.

The Tech House is a one-story, gray-green wooden structure. It's remarkable at first sight only because of the odd angles to the roof, like two obtuse triangles atop the house. On the south side of each triangle is a flat black plate that gathers solar energy for heat. A computer regulates temperatures in the rooms individually, according to the Swains' weekday and weekend schedules, to avoid heating or cooling rooms that aren't in use. And the Tech House water system chlorinates, filters and recycles waste water from sinks, shower and laundry equipment for use as toilet flush water.

It is this system that makes the strange hum under the floor. It's also because of the system that water in the toilet bowl may be slightly blue after the two young Swains wash their jeans. The major energy savings will show up in the winter, but after more than a month with a family, the Tech House "is doing a pretty good job," said Abbott, who visits the Swains' garage daily to read the monitoring equipment there. Swain, a religion professor from Florida State University, was chosen by NASA from a pool of academics whose services are made available to the government on loan for year-long periods. The family pays $100 a month for rent and utilities. While at the research facility here, Swain is helping to set up an education resource center for NASA employees and is advising agency officials about setting up a career counseling program.

Destruct System May Be Launched

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) - Radio signals of an undetermined source may force NASA officials to install a new destruct system in a Delta rocket scheduled to launch a European weather satellite, a European Space Agency official

Dr. Ernst Trendelenburg, director of scientific and meteorological programs for the ESA, said he was told by NASA officials that if the new system is required, "they will have to defuel the entire rocket."

He said officials believe it would be the first time the defueling of an entire rocket has been performed. The delay could take anywhere from two weeks to two months, he said. Trendelenburg said NASA also would remove the ESA's Meteosat I satellite "because we don't want it on the space vehicle if it should explode during the defueling. We will then take our satellite and place it in a glorified garbage can and mothball it here until NASA is ready to launch for us."

Trendelenburg also said that European officials may go home if the launch of their satellite is delayed much longer. "I have made it clear to NASA that I cannot keep the ESA team here on standby forever," he said.

The signals that caused postponement of the launch were capable of activating the Delta's destruct system. NASA officials said they are studying the possibility of installing a new destruct system on the rocket if the source cannot be found.

All the equipment in the Tech House at NASA's Research Center here is commercially available, or will be within five years. By then, given mass production of the equipment, the house probably could be built for about $50,000, the agency said. The idea behind the experiment, which is costing $150,000, is "to tinker a bit to learn how we can save the most ... to find out what the most efficient way is to run the systems," said NASA technician Ira Abbott. The Swains have lived in the Tech House since Aug. 15 and will be there a year. So far, they say, their life with advanced

Using Coal as Energy Source May Cause Icecaps to Melt

ATLANTA (AP) - A relentless push to use coal as the sole energy source will cause major flooding as the earth's polar icecaps melt and the oceans rise more than 200 feet, according to an Emory University physics professor.

Houston would be under water in 170 years. Dr. Peter Fong said he believes the waste heat and carbon dioxide produced will cause the icecaps to melt, and some major cities will be inundated.

Kleasen Wins Reversal Of Death Conviction

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed and remanded Wednesday the death penalty conviction of Robert Elmer Kleasen in the slaying of a Mormon missionary whose body was allegedly cut up on a taxidermy band saw.

The court's ruling means Kleasen must be retried or let go. However, the state will have much greater difficulty winning a conviction in a new trial because the appeals court said officers used a defective search warrant to seize evidence from Kleasen's trailer.

Exclusion of that evidence, which included the missionary's wrist watch and car keys, will make it hard to prove a circumstantial evidence case. Kleasen was charged with killing two missionaries but tried only in the death of one, Mark Fischer, 19, of Milwaukee, Wis. Fischer and his companion, Gary Darley, 20, of Simi Valley Calif., disappeared after visiting Kleasen's trailer Oct. 28, 1974, in the hills west of Austin.

District Court Judge Tom Blackwell erred when he held with the prosecution that Kleasen had no standing to complain of the search because the trailer was stolen.

The state failed to present any evidence connecting Kleasen with the theft of the trailer, the appeals court said.

Kleasen possessed the trailer for 19 uninterrupted months and had it sitting up on concrete blocks and hooked up to powerlines, the appeal court said.

All Kleasen had to show was a "possessory interest" in the trailer, the court said.

The federal search warrant used on Nov. 5, 1974, to search the trailer had been obtained by an agent of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms.

The affidavit upon which the warrant was based contained a hearsay statement by an unnamed informant, the high court said.

"There is no allegation that he ever gave information previously which turned out to be true. There are no allegations that the affiant investigated the reliability of the informant or why the affiant considers him to be trustworthy.

"The affiant simply asserts in a conclusory manner that the unnamed informant is 'reliable.' A mere statement that the source of the hearsay is reliable or credible offered the magistrate no substantial basis for crediting the hearsay.

"Therefore, we conclude that the affidavit is insufficient to meet constitutional standards," the appeals court said.

The affidavit said Kleasen made a false statement when he purchased a rifle. It also said the informant had seen Kleasen firing a rifle near the trailer.

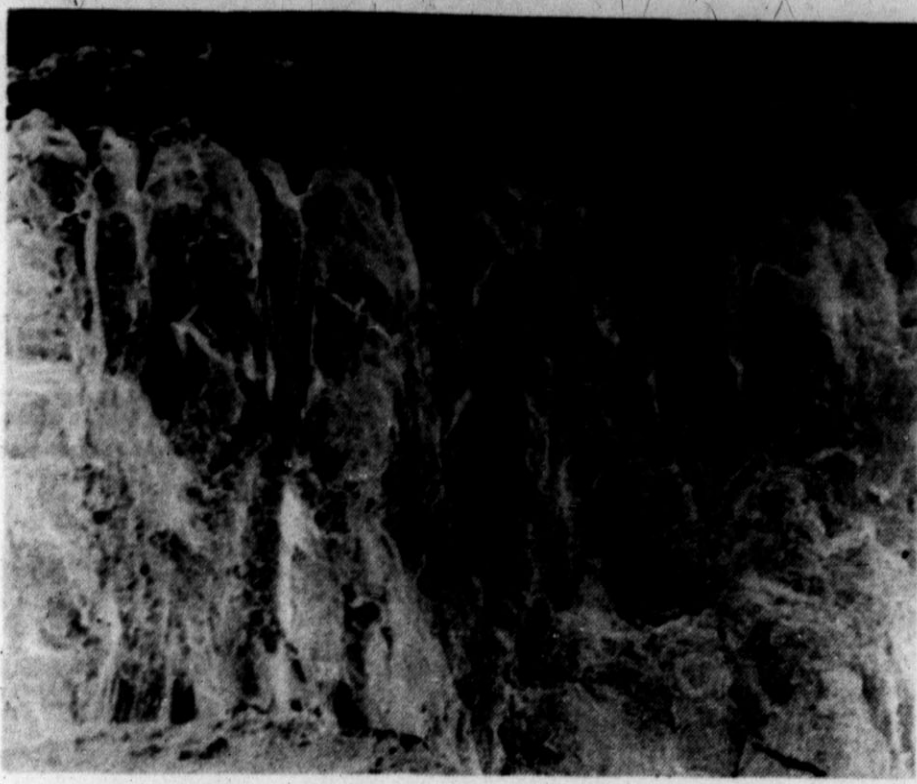

But the high court said the agent gave the magistrate no facts to show Kleasen made a false statement. Nor did he show Kleasen violated any law by firing the rifle in that rural setting.

"Thus, the affidavit and search warrant do not reflect probable cause that the appellant Kleasen committed any crime," the appeals court said.

Among the other items seized in Kleasen's trailer were Darley's name tag, with a bullet hole in it, and an unpublished manuscript by Kleasen, "My One Thousand White Tales: A Poacher's Notebook."

The manuscript describes how Kleasen disposed of deer carcasses so he wouldn't be caught. He cut them up, put pieces in plastic bags and deposited the bags in trash cans around large institutions such as universities.

THE WHITE CLIFFS OF DOVER or the icebound coasts of Antarctica may come to mind, but this "landscape" actually is on nowhere near so grand a scale. It's a micrograph of a fractured chicken egg shell magnified 1,200 times by a scanning electron microscope at the Oregon Regional Primate Research Center in Beaverton. The "cliffs" represent the actual edge of the broken shell topped by shreds of the skin-like layer inside the egg.

Former Battered Wife Grateful For Freedom from Ex-Husband

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—Francine Hughes feels an enormous sense of freedom, a freedom to stand outside and watch stars and cars and her breath "puff up in the air."

Life is different now, says the mother of four, who was catapulted to national attention by her trial for slaying the ex-husband who beat her for 14 years.

"I just enjoy it. I just take it in. I don't have to worry about what's at home," she said.

"What's at home" used to be ex-husband James Hughes.

It is now almost four weeks since she was acquitted of first-degree murder by reason of insanity.

"The other night I went out on the porch. It was dark. I watched the stars, watched the cars go by, my breath puff up in the air," she said.

The 30-year-old Mrs. Hughes said she is giddy and over-whelmed by requests for television appearances and newspaper interviews - and perplexed by the attention to her plight as a "battered woman."

"Before all this happened, I was like in a small world and it sort of overwhelms me. I don't understand still what's going on," she told The Associated Press Tuesday.

"I know that there are certain things that I really do want. I want to be successful at a job. I was headed for a business career," she said.

Mrs. Hughes, who in almost nine months in jail crocheted a bedspread for her mother and three aghans for her children, said she now spends time baking bread and cookies, getting ready for the holidays and re-discovering her children, who are aged 6 to 12.

She and the children have settled temporarily in a modest two-story frame home with her mother in Jackson. It was here that she left high school at the age of 16 to marry Hughes, her sweetheart. She said he began to beat her shortly after they were married in 1963, and continued the abuse even after their divorce in 1971.

Shortly after the divorce, Hughes, a 31-year-old former construction worker, was badly injured in an auto accident. He moved into his ex-wife's Dansville home so she could care for him. The beatings worsened.

In tears during the nearly two-week trial in Ingham County Circuit Court, she relived her life with Hughes. She told of repeated incidents in which Hughes choked her, threatened her with a knife, teased their children to tears and allowed a family pet to freeze to death.

In the argument that precipitated the killing last March 9, she said, Hughes ripped up her books from classes at a nearby business school, then made her burn them. He pushed TV dinners onto the floor and made her pick up the food, then rubbed it into her hair.

Then, before falling asleep, he raped her.

Claiming self-defense and temporary insanity, Mrs. Hughes testified that she splashed gasoline around Hughes' bed, then set the fuel alight. Hughes suffocated in the blaze.

The verdict required a psychiatric examination for Mrs. Hughes. She could have been held 60 days but was released after two psychiatrists spent one hour with her and judged her sane.

Watch those figures! Didn't we hear earlier that the people who sold the existing homes benefited not only from accumulated equity but from "appreciated value?" In other words, existing prices seem to be rising too.

How true. That median figure of $38,100 is a good one for certain purposes, but it does after all include some homes that are in very poor condition and ready to be phased out rather than lived in.

This doesn't mean there aren't bargains in existing homes. Many young couples have found, renovated, and upgraded such houses and now have accommodations superior to those who live in brand new houses.

But existing home prices aren't standing still. That $38,100 median figure has already been bumped up to about $44,000, or just about the price of last year's brand new home.

Quite understandable too. Don't forget, it's that kind of appreciation, the U.S. League economists point out, that provides first-time owners with the equity to apply to a brand new house.

In 1976, the year in which the median price of an existing home was $38,100, more than 39 per cent of all existing home sales were at minimum prices of $50,000.

That percentage is much higher this year, as it has been ever year this decade. In September, 1973, about 13.5 per cent of existing home sales were for $50,000 or more; in September 1975 the percentage was 23.1; last year, 29.1.

Existing home prices clearly are soaring, especially in the quality home category. But, yes, there are bargains. Nearly 14 per cent of existing sales this year were for $25,000 or less.

The question to be asked about the low-priced homes, however, is how many of them represent genuine bargains and how many are accommodations barely fit for habitation and not likely to appreciate?

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Department of Health, Education and Welfare says it will continue to accept public comments on its proposed national health planning guidelines until Dec. 9.

Undersecretary Hale Champion said the 17-day extension of the original 60-day comment period was made to accommodate "the exceptional interest generated by the proposed guidelines."

Many of the 10,000 comments that already have arrived from individuals and institutions have expressed fear that the minimum standards for hospitals proposed by HEW would require numerous institutions, particularly in small rural areas, to shut down.

The HEW proposal, required by a health planning law adopted by Congress in 1974, would require hospitals to perform a minimum number of specific procedures in order to be permitted to offer such treatment.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
 by Lyndell Williams

AUSTIN—Now the Republicans as well as the Democrats have a battle on their hands in their gubernatorial primary. Dallas oil well drilling contractor William P. "Bill" Clements was a surprise entry into the GOP race last week. Former Republican State Chairman Ray Hutchison, who has planned to run all along, is due to enter November 29.

Other possibilities are former State Sen. Henry Grover of Houston, who came closer than any other Republican to winning the governor's office (in 1972), and former Ambassador Albert Bel Fay, also of Houston.

Clements, 60, who is a former U.S. Deputy secretary of defense under Presidents Nixon and Ford, heads a major drilling firm. He said he expects to wage a multi-million-dollar campaign and feels that top Texas Republican leaders are enthusiastic about his candidacy.

Zeroing in on the energy issue, Clements said he thinks he can mobilize the public and industry to protect Texas interests in Washington. He claimed that Gov. Dolph Briscoe has done little to articulate Texas' side of the energy issue, and the state's senators lack expertise in the field.

Democratic gubernatorial candidates, meanwhile, are heating up their campaign. Gov. Briscoe, Atty. Gen. John Hill and former Gov. Preston Smith are out among the voters, beefing up their organizations and trying to get across their messages.

Appointments Announced
 State Sen. Don Adams of Jasper will resign his senate seat to accept appointment as chief legal counsel to Gov. Briscoe effective January 1.

Briscoe appointed G. L. "Lynn" Tate of Corpus Christi as commissioner of the Texas Department of Labor and Standards.

Jackie St. Clair of Round Rock, the man Tate succeeded, was promptly named a member of the Texas Industrial Commission.

Briscoe also reappointed W. Grogan Lord of Georgetown to the State Securities Board and J. C. Dingwall of Austin to the State Depository Board.

Gas Rate Examined
 Texas Railroad Commission turned down Pioneer Natural Gas Company's attempt to limit an inquiry into the Amarillo utility's proposed natural gas rate increase to 41 industrial contract customers in northwest Texas.

The commission's gas utilities division was directed to reschedule a hearing for January 16 on Pioneer's statement of intent to boost gas service rates two cents per thousand cubic feet. The increase has been suspended for 120 days.

Pioneer was directed to produce all facts, evidence, information and data necessary to determine fair rates for the industrial customers.

Meanwhile, the commission ended a hearing before a team of examiners into whether Good Hope Refineries Inc., a major gas operator in South Texas, is overproducing in violation of RRC production allowances. Good Hope denied the allegations. Also at issue is whether the over-production, if it occurred, contributed to an increase in natural gas prices charged South and Central Texas cities by Lovaca Gathering Company.

State Courts Speak
 Contrary to a federal court's ruling, the Third Court of Civil Appeals said the state does not have a constitutional obligation to provide free education to aliens' children.

The same court upheld state regulation of child care facilities operated by religious groups.

The State Supreme Court took under review the question whether Texas judges can give deadlocked juries "dynamite charges" to keep open minds and consider each other's opinions on cases to prevent mistrials.

The same court reversed the conviction of a Dallas man for possession of a tranquilizer, which had been placed on the controlled substances list in 1975, though the man had pleaded guilty.

Attorney General Opinions

The Way The Pilgrims Play At Plimoth Plantation

Knights—The rides or "knights" grab hands and try to pull each other off. The "horses" may push each other with their shoulders. They can't kick or trip with their feet or use hands or elbows.

English country dancing—The Pilgrims weren't serious all the time. To the tune of a drum and fiddle, they danced a dance called "Nonesuch."

Hoop and Barrel Rolling—Many things were shipped in barrels in the 1600s. Kids used to get in a hoop or barrel and race to see how far it would go.

Stick Tag

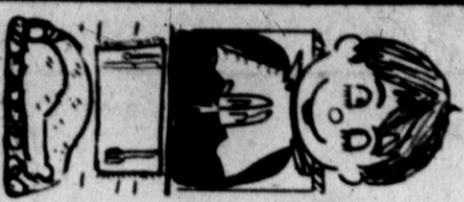

Two persons sit on the ground, feet to feet. They hold a stick between their hands. The winner is the one who can pull the other off the ground.

Cherry Pits
Make a small hole in the ground. Draw a line about 5 feet away. Stand on the other side and try to throw the pits (or small pebbles) into the hole.

The Pilgrim Child...

What would a child's life have been like in the time of the Pilgrims?

Both boys and girls wore long gowns until they were about six years old.

Then they started dressing like adults. They joined the adult world and went to work.

Boys worked at home or were sent to another household to learn a trade.

Girls were "set out," too. They helped the master's wife with the daily chores.

The Pilgrims believed that everyone should be able to read the Bible. Most children were taught in the homes.

Young girls learned to sew.

Reliving the First Thanksgivings

Plymouth, Mass.— They have already eaten Thanksgiving dinner at Plimoth Plantation.

People dressed in costumes relived the first Thanksgiving at a Harvest Feast held in October.

Plimoth Plantation is a copy of the Pilgrims' settlement. It is 2½ miles from the first site.

People in costume eating corn. Indian corn was a life-saver for the Pilgrims. The fact that the settlers could grow it meant they would have something to eat. Now that they could raise their own food, they could stay in the new land. Nearly half the Pilgrims died during the first winter. About 50 were left to celebrate the three day Harvest Feast. It was a very happy and joyful time. Today's celebration at Plimoth plantation lasts for three days, too.

"Our harvest being gotten in, our governor sent four men on fowling (out to shoot birds), that we might gather together after we had gathered the fruits of our labors."

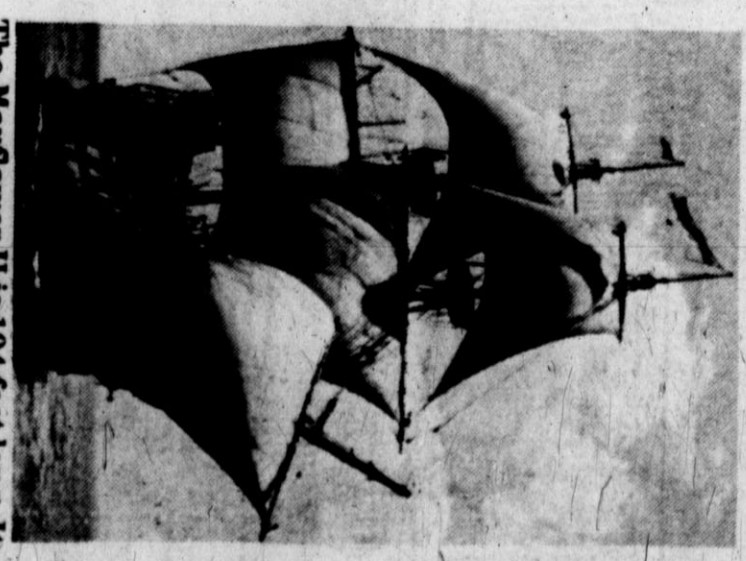

That is what a Pilgrim named Edward Winslow wrote to a friend in England after the first Thanksgiving in 1621.

Indians help build the fires. At the first Thanksgiving, the Chief Massasoit and 90 of his men were the guests. They also brought some of the food! "They went out and killed five deer which they brought to the plantation," wrote Edward Winslow.

Picture Puzzle: Draw a line to where you read about:

The Mayflower II is a copy of what we think the first Mayflower was like. Mayflower II is anchored in Plymouth harbor. The Pilgrim crossing took 66 days. The ship was crowded with 102 passengers and about 25 crewmen. It also carried supplies to keep the colony going until harvest time.

The Mayflower II is 104 feet long. It was built in 1957 in England.

A young girl prepares a dish for the Feast. Plimoth Plantation is a working farm. They raise much of what they serve. The Pilgrims ate turkey, deer, fish, clams, pumpkins, corn, cakes and puddings. They drank ale. Plimoth Plantation is closed from December 1 to March 31.
