Working Americans Show Drastic Rise

Magistrate Verifies Transfers

HOUSTON (AP) - U.S. Magistrate Ronald G. Blask looked at the 12 prisoners before him and said: "In a sense you are a part of history."

"You might not have realized it, but it's a simple fact," the magistrate said through an interpreter. "This is a solemn occasion and an important occasion."

Blask held the first hearings in the United States Thursday to verify that inmates have voluntarily agreed to the terms of the U.S. Mexico prisoner exchange treaty so that they could be returned to their homeland.

"This is a historic moment for the United States and Mexico," Blask said as a preface to the hearings. "This treaty we are going to proceed under is the first of its kind ever."

Eleven of the 12 prisoners who appeared before Blask will go back to Mexico to serve out their Texas prison sentences. Tomas Ramirez Hernandez not only got a ticket home to Mexico but a passport to freedom. He was pardoned before Blask in a proclamation signed by Texas Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

Briscoe pardoned Hernandez since he was finishing a three-year term and was up for parole. He must appear at an immigration hearing Dec. 14 after which authorities will return him to Mexico. One of the conditions of the out-of-the-country pardon is that he never again come to this country illegally.

Hernandez and nine others were convicted of burglary. One was serving time for armed robbery.

Estevan Mendoza, one of the prisoners, was convicted of murder in San Antonio and sentenced to 100 years in prison. He, like all but Hernandez, will get on a flight to Mexico City Dec. 9. The plane will fly to San Diego where other prisoners will be picked up. They will be taken to Mexico City and the flight will return to this country with American citizens now in Mexican iails.

'Dear Santa' Letters Received By Hereford Brand

The Brand has begun receiving letters to Santa Claus, and children wanting to make their requests known to Saint Nick are reminded to write him in care of the newspaper.

The address is The Hereford Brand, P.O. Box 673, Hereford, 79045. Santa, who is flooded each year with December mail, has taken out a one-month subscription to The Brand and has said he plans to read each letter when it is published.

published.

Here, Mr. Claus, are your first letters:

Dear Santa,

I want a Stretch Armstrong and Stretch Monster and an Elvis Presley record album and a record player and an Adventure Bike.

I will leave some food for you and reindeer.

Have a Merry Christmas.

Have a Merry Christmas.

Love Mark Watson, 332 Centre.

Dear Santa Claus,

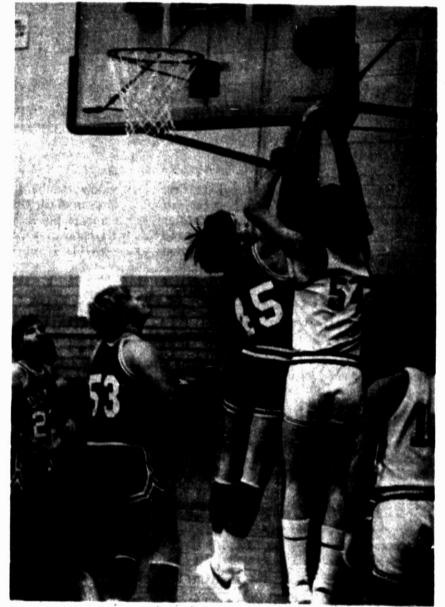

My name is Andy Gonzales. For Christmas I want a green machine, a strong-arm strong, a monster, a Six Million Dollar Man and get a man that you can tear his clothes off.

And then get me a man with a jeep and a boat and camper. I have been a good boy.

I also want an Earth Man and one of these things you push their head down. And then I want a man that has a feetball heimet on his head.

Andy. | Whew! Santa, you better bring a big bag to Hereford.

Rutherford Sentenced To Life Prison Term

Bill Rutherford of Hereford was found guilty of escape and of being an habitual criminal and sentenced to life imprisonment Thursday in Judge Wesley Gulley's 222nd District Courtroom.

A 10-woman, 2-man jury reached the guilty verdict after 40 minutes of deliberation and spent approximately one hour in deciding on the life sentence.

Rutherford will not be eligible for parole until he has served 20 y ears. A life senience is mandatory for persons declared habitual criminals.

Lions Honor Girlstown At X-Mas Party

Girlstown, U.S.A., was in the spotlight when the Hereford Lions Club held its annual Ladies' Night Christmas party Thursday night at the Bull Barn.

Lions President Buildie Evans presented a check for $2,807.56 to Marshall Cooper, executive director of Girlstown, and each of the approximately 80 girls from the Whiteface and Borger campuses received Christmas gifts from the club and individual members.

The club's cash 'gift represented proceeds from the recent Girlstown Auction project, and many of the purchasers donated their items to Girlstown. The Leo Club, the Lions' youth organization at Hereford High School also presented two saddles to Girlstown during the party Thursday night. Sonya Hacker, Leo president, and Sid Shaw, club advisor, made that presentation to Cooper.

Other special guests at the party included about 40 residents of King's manor, presidents of other civic clubs in town, and out-of-town Lions Club officials. Approximately attended the increased by nearly one million last month, the largest monthly rise since April 1960, when it increased by 1.3 million.

After the latest jobless figures were released today. White House Press Secretary Jody Powell said the Carter administration was not going to attain its goal of reducing unemployment to 6.5 percent by the end of the year.

"It's not likely to be there," Powell said, referring to the jobless rate.

The Labor Department said total employment rose by 950,000 to 92.2 million in November and the proportion of the population with jobs rose to an alltime high of 57.8 percent.

Despite the sharp increase in employment, the number of jobless

Hereford Police Hire Canyonite

By PAUL SIMS Managing Editor

James Farren, who quit the Canyon police department under seemingly friendlier circumstances than the six officers who resigned Wednesday, has been hired by the Hereford police experiment.

The announcement was made today by Chief of Police Don Brush.

Farren applied for the Hereford job last week. Six other members of the Canyon police force resigned Wednesday to protest the firing of a sergeant.

I actually hired him before all this took place," Brush said. "He told me he was leaving because of their low pay scale." Farren will make $865 a month in Hereford. He will make $910 a month if he satisfactorily completes a three-month probationary period.

"Their chief gave me a good recommendation. I don't now how good he is — he hasn't gone to work yet. He looks good as far as I can determine through background information I got on him." Brush said.

persons showed little change over the month. In November, 6.9 million Americans were unable to find jobs; about 50,000 fewer in October.

It would seem that a large increase in employment would be accompanied by a sharp drop in unemployment. But last month, the labor force also grew in an unusually sharp pace, increasing by 900,000 to a total of 99 million, the government said.

"The one-month change in employment may be vastly overstated, apparently reflecting growth that we had seen earlier in the year," said a Labor Department analyst.

The analyst said the sharp increase also could be due in part to earlier-than-usual hiring of temporary store employees for the holiday shopping season.

Over the past year, employment expanded by 3.9 million while the labor force grew by 3.2 million. The number of unemployed dropped by 750,000 during that period.

The jobless rate has fluctuated between 6.9 percent and 7.1 percent since last April but is well below the 8 percent high for 1976 recorded last November.

The stubborness in the unemployment rate is expected to be a factor in President Carter's decision to recommend tax cuts next year that will be designed to stimulate the economy.

The job figures are based on a survey of 47,000 households nationwide taken each month by the Census Bureau. A more accurate, but less comprehensive, measure is the Labor Department's monthly survey of business establishments, which showed that non-farm payroll employment rose by 310,000 in November to 83.2 million.

While the jobless rate for adult women rose from 6.8 to 7.1 percent last month, the rate for teen-agers declined slightly from 17.3 to 17.1 percent and the rate for adult men dropped from 5.3 to 4.9 percent.

Joblessness among whites declined from 6.1 to 6 percent, while the unemployment rate for blacks edged down from 13.9 to 13.8 percent. Compared with a year earlier, the rate for whites has declined by more than a percentage point while the rate for blacks has shown no improvement, the government said.

The average work week for production workers slipped by one-tenth of an hour in November to 36.1 hours. Averages hourly earnings last month were unchanged from October's $5.40 and were 40 cents above the level a year ago. Average weekly earnings, however, declined $1.08 from the previous month to $194.40. Weekly earnings have risen by $13.90 over the year.

In October, unemployment edged up from 6.9 percent to 7 percent, the same rate as in April. Nearly 6.9 million Americans were without jobs in October.

The stagnation in the unemployment

Sparse Rally Crowd Not Disappointing Factor

IRVING, Tex. (AP) -Farm leaders say a sparse crowd at a country music rally in cavernous Texas Stadium will help instead of hinder their efforts to bring attention to a nationwide farm strike set for later this month.

Only an estimated 100-200 strike supporters turned out in pickup trucks and tractors to show support for the farm shutdown, sponsored by the Colorado-based American Agriculture movement.

"It provides our point," Dale Schroder of Walsch, Colo., said. "Farmers can't afford the $500 plane ticket to get here. You watch, on Sunday when the Cowboys play they'll be selling tickets black-market for $50. Those people can Texas Stadium, site of the rally, is the home of the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League. The stadium seats about 65,000 and most Cowboys games, including one Sunday against the Philadelphia Eagles, are sold out.

Farmer Jerry Wright found a way to get from his acreage in Springfield. Colo., to Irving. He made the 535-mile trip in his tractor, creeping down the highways at 20 miles per hour on the three-day trip.

As the music began to twang and the tractors were lining up on the sidelines, Bill Schroder of Campo, Colo., spoke about his land. The family's got 2,000 acres now. His grandfather came from Oklahoma and began farming the land in the 1930s when the Dust Bowl blew through the Sooner state.

"Used to be you could grub out a living if you worked 18 hours a day," he said "The only power we have now is the food supply. We can chop it off and we'll do that."

Derral Schroder - Bill's father and Dale's cousin - said he thinks 90 percent of the American farmers will participate in the strike - cutting off the nation's food (See RALLY, Page 2)

Salesman Charged In Wife's Murder

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) - An examining trial has been scheduled Dec. 20 for David S. Schoffeld, a 38-year-old salesman charged with murder in the death of his wife, whose body was found inside a refrigerator here earlier this week.

Schofield was charged Thursday morning before Justice of the Peace Rudy Esquivel, who refused bond and scheduled the examining trial.

At the examining trial, Esquivel will determine whether there is sufficient cause to send the case to a grand jury.

The body of Schofield's wife, Nancy Ferry Schofield, 53, was discovered by police in the refrigerator of her apartment Juesday.

A plastic bag was wrapped around her head, and a medical examination showed she had been shot several times in the head with a small-caliber weapon.

Schofield at one time worked as an announcer for radio station KITY-FM here and had met his wife there, a station spokesman confirmed.

Col. Moammar Khadafy, the Libyan strongman, also is proposing that the other Arab states follow his lead in cutting diplomatic relations with Egypt, the sources said.

Syrian President Hafez Assad's position on the proposals was unknown, but Iraq and the Palestinian delegation are agreed to them, the informants said.

Egypt, although in poor economic health, is not likely to be hurt much if the nations meeting here boycott it. it depends on Saudi Arabia and other conservative Persian Gulf oil states for subsidies that help keep its economy affoat and pay for its military forces. They declined to attend the Tripoli meetings and are unlikely to join any boycott.

Twosome Executed In Bermuda Prison

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP) black convicted murderers, one charged with slaying Bermuda's governor and his aide, were hanged at dawn today after a night of violent rioting by black youths.

The executions of Erskine Burrows, 33, and Larry Tacklyn, 25, were the first since 1946 on the British Island colony 670 miles southeast of New York.

Burrows and Tacklyn, members of a non-defunct terror group known as the Black Beret Cadres, were convicted and sentenced to death two years ago.

Burrows was convicted of the 1973 slaying of Sir Richard Sharples, the British governor of Bermuda, his aide de camp, Capt. Hugh Sayers, and of the 1972 assassination of Police Commissioner George Duckett. Both Burrows and Tacklyn were convicted of killing two supermarket executives in a 1973 holdup.

Police enforced a two-mile no man's land around Casematis Prison, where the two men went to the gallows. The official announcement of the executions was held up for 90 minutes while a coroner's jury convened to certify the deaths in accordance with the law

Social Security

Compromise Studied

WASHINGTON (AP) - House and Senate negotiators under pressure to hold down Social Security tax increases. are taking a second look at benefits passed earlier for the working elderly, the blind and parents of college students.

No major decisions were made Thursday, the first day the conference committee worked to reconcile differenes in bills passed by the two chambers to keep the big retirement system solvent.

But as the session started, President Carter added his voice to those of constituents who are alarmed at the size of the proposed payroll tax increases.

Although the main purpose of the legislation, passed in different form by the House and Senate, was to end Social Security deficits, each chamber also approved changes in the system. Several of these added to the costs, and therefore to the extra taxes needed.

Coal Strike May Be Certain

WASHINGTON (AP) - Coal industry contract talks are getting back on track after a week-long derailment, but the hard bargaining is yet to come and a strike appears only a few Federal mediators succeeded late Thursday in winding winning agreement from the United Mine Workers union and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association to resume the face-to-face talks that broke off last Friday. The first session was set for late morning.

Meanwhile. Labor Secretary Ray Marshall, holding "listening" sessions with the leaders of both sides, arranged to see Joseph P. Brennan, head of the coal association.

WILL-O'-THE WISP BY BOB WEAR JGNIS FATUUS, LITERAL-

LY TRANSLATED, means 'foolish fire''. It is a light that appears at night over the marshy grounds, and is thought to be caused by the combustion of marsh gas (methane). Because of its tendancy to mislead travelers, it is called foolish fire".

THIS PHENOMENON IS POPULARLY KNOWN as been used to mean a mislea influence or deceptive guideline. There are many misleading influences and deceptive guidelines, but we will consider only one. It is one of the most harmful and misleading of all; it is the mistaken view that each person must make his own mistakes

WE WILL MAKE MIS-TAKES, and some people do learn some things from the mistakes made. This, however, is not all there is to the human experience. There is much too much of the faulty personal attitude, "leaving me alone to make my own mistakes and to learn for myself". This is a 'will-o'-the-wisp''. It is more than misleading, it is most often a personal tragedy.

THE "FOOLISH FIRE" OF 'I will do as I please" - "I will make my own mistakes" - "I will not take my lessons from history or from the experiences of others" is forever misleading the travelers along the road of life. In addition to the personal tragedies caused by following this "will-o'-the-wisp", the progress of human society remains at a relative standstill. THE HISTORY OF MAN-KIND IS, generally speaking, characterized by the same mistakes generation after generation. In fact, this is so obviously noticeable that we have a saying: "each generation must make its own mistakes". This "foolish fire" bouncing about in no certain direction is a misleading light, and, will continue to mislead us until we turn to a more dependable

THE YOUNG ONES WHO SAY, "I will make my own mistakes" choose to be misled by the age-old "will-o'-thewisp". For one thing, they for some of their mistakes. Parochial School Cites Outstanding Students

Students of the Six Weeks from St. Anthony's Parochial School were presented trophies following a special Thanksgiving service Nov. 22 in the school

Sister Wendelina, school principal, awarded trophies to four students, including Mary Ann Hund from the fifth grade, Wade Brorman from the first grade, Leann Paetzold from the third grade and Donny Anderson from the sixth grade.

The Thanksgiving service opened with the singing of "America" and the salute to the U.S. flag. Students representing each of the school's six grades spoke petitions expressing thanks to God for famili friends, teachers and "the bountiful fruits of this good earth."

The youth asked God's blessings for those present and for those who were less fortunate at that time of celebration. As they sang the responsorial psalm, "Thank the Lord for He Is Good," each child placed a food offering on a prepared table. The food will be given to needy families.

and he will not depart from it"? We need some counsel. Battered Parents

DEAR PARENTS: Many children "depart" from the way they were "trained up," and there is no pat explanation.

Peer pressure and as overwhelming need to rebel against authority are just two factors that may account for your daughter's behavior.

My advice to parents who are faced with such problems is this: Investigate the availability of counseling and suggest it. (There are many drug abuse clinics and mental health centers that do a fine job.) If she refuses, drop the matter. Stop giving money or gifts. Let her know the door is open but make no effort to repair the rupture in the relationship. If your daughter is angry, let her stay angry. In other words, let her alone to grow up and shape up. if and when she chooses. It then the Tampa Bay Buccaneers' string of futility will end Sunday, compliments of the Chicago Bears.

Bears Hope Repeat Out Against Bucs

The Bucs have played 25 games since entering the National Football League and they have lost all 25. That conjures up memories of the Chicago now St. Louis Cardinals of the early 1940s.

The Cards own, sort of, the NFL's losing-streak record, 29 games starting midway in the 1941 season and ending early in the 1945 campaign with a 16-7

The "sort of" is stuck in there because the Cards weren't strictly the Cards during 1944. That season, because of the wartime crunch, the Chicago and Pittsburgh teams played under a merged franchise.

So, for purists, the Bucs already own the single-team losing streak, having passed the 19-game mark of the early 1960s Oakland Raiders.

They have the "chance" to surpass every mark by finishing this season the way they finished the last one - winless and starting the 1978 season the

Or the Bears could roll into Florida's west coast and help end another run of helplessness.

In Sunday's other NFL games, it will be San Francisco at Minnesota, Oakland at Los Angeles, Denver at Houston. Seattle at Pittsburgh, Philadelphia at Dallas, New England at tlanta, St. Louis at the New York Giants, Washington at Buffalo, Cincinnati at Kansas City, Detroit at Green Bay. Cleveland at San Diego and the New York Jets at New Orleans. Monday night's game is Baltimore at Miami.

The Bears aren't thinking about helping Tampa Bay. They are more concerned with helping themselves gain a play-off berth and helping Walter Payton shatter O.J. Simpson's "other" rushing record.

Chicago is one game behind first-place Minnesota in the National Football Conference's Central Division with three games to play. And Payton, who broke Simpson's 273-yard single-game record two weeks ago with a 275-yard effort, is 94 yards ahead of the 2,003-yard

Bill Yung MVC victory over - you guessed it - Coach of Year the Bears.

TULSA, Okla. (AP) - West Texas State Coach Bill Yung was chosen the Missouri Valley Conference coach-of-the-year today for leading his Buffaloes to the first-ever league title for West Texas State.

Yung saw the Buffs drop their first four games but then regrouped them to make a stretch run which saw six wins and one tie to produce a 6-4-1 record and the league crown with a 5-1 mark.

The Buffs won a share of the title in 1972 with two other teams but this was their first outright title since joining the Valley.

West Texas ranked first in seven of the eight statistical categories in the league. They were first in rushing, total offense, scoring offense, rushing defense, pass defense, total defense, and scoring defense. West Texas State also saw more honors.

Running back Bo Robinson was named offensive player of the year and tackle George Henning took the selection of defensive player-of-the-year.

Henning was the defensive leader on a team that dominated all the defense statistical categories in the league.

Robinson, in addition to being the leading rusher in the valley with 1,399 yards, was the leading scorer with 66 points on 11 touchdowns.

Wichita State running back Mickey Collins won the newcomer-of-the-year award. The freshman speedster finished the year as the fifth leading rusher in the league with 596

FAITH SEES PROMISE IN THE WHITE WORLD OF WINTER

nen Winter's sun with slanting rays of light

Reveals a world arrayed in glistening white. Where barren trees and snow-clad peaks beyond

Are mirrored in an ice-encrusted pond:

Some see it only as the year grown old.

The earth devoid of life, so dead and cold;

A dormant land where nothing seems to grow

And future hopes lie buried in the snow.

But those of faith see beauty in this scene:

Through Church they know that one day it will mean A miracle that God will always bring:

The new rebirth of life that's known as Spring.

Today In History

Today is Friday, Dec. 2, the 336th day of 1977. There are 29 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1942, a nuclear chain reaction was demonstrated for the first time - by scientists working on a secret project at the University of Chicago.

On this date: In 1804, Napoleon Bonaparte crowned himself Emperor of France. In 1823, President James Monroe outlined the Monroe Doctrine against European expansion in the Western Hemisphere. In 1956, Fidel Castro and a band of followers landed in Cuba to try to overthrow the Batista government.

In 1960, the head of the Anglican Church, the Archbishop of Canterbury, broke precedent by visiting Pope John XXIII at the Vatican.

In 1964, former Argentine dictator Juan Peron arrived in Brazil in an attempt to return to Argentina but was sent back to Madrid.

In 1965, the U.S. aircraft carrier Enterprise launched air strikes over Vietnam, becoming the first nuclear-powered ship to enter combat.

Ten years ago: The Roman Catholic Archbishop of New York, Cardinal Francis Spellman, died at the age of 78. Five years ago: Fire raged through a pop music festival in Korea, and at least 55 people

WALDORF, Md.-(NEA)-Every schoolchild knows the story. On April 14, 1865, John Wilkes Booth shot Abraham Lincoln and then fled here to the farm Dr. Samuel Mudd. Wilkes had broken a leg during the assassination. Dr. Mudd repaired it, and, since it was past midnight, he invited the killer to stay the night.

Every schoolchild also knows that Mudd thus became John Booth's second victim of the evening. Mudd did. not recognize his dis-guised patient, and he knew nothing of the just com-pleted murder. Yet he was to be caught up in the emotions of the times; he was wrongly sent to prison and disgraced

Something of that disgrace continues today. Many of Dr. Mudd's 240 surviving descendants say they live with a stigma: their name is not Mudd, it's mud. So it is that some of the heirs are pressing once again for the U.S. government to admit what every schoolchild knows: Sam Mudd was an innocent man.

The descendants have drawn up a petition asking that the U.S. formally exonerate their famed ancestor. The petitioners want President Jimmy Carter to announce that Dr. Mudd was not an assassination conspi-rator, that he treated Booth only for humanitarian rea-sons, and that his conviction was unjustified. The petititon is now in the records of the Justice Department. Twenty six members of the House and Senate are supporting the measure. The White House this time.

There is of course nothing new about the effort to clear Mudd's name. It was begun by the physician's wife after he had been sentenced to life in prison. Mudd himself helped the cause when he heroically battled a Yellow Fever outbreak at his bastille. Andrew Johnson par-doned the prisoner after four years time. But the pardon was not enough for the fami-ly. In 1893, for example, it asked the U.S. Army to pay for the damages soldiers had done to the Mudd farmhouse. Troops occupied the property for nearly two weeks, not with particular delicacy, and the Mudds begged in vain for $2,800 for

Then, in the early 1900s, members of Congress began to agree that Mudd had not been a criminal, that he was merely a country doctor fol-lowing his Hippocratic oath. One congressman lobbied unsuccessfully for a bill that would have allowed the heirs a sum of $200,000 apiece for the "ruination of their good

After that, there was an attempt to name a Washington bridge after Mudd. And, later, descendants teamed with sympathetic officials to suggest the U.S. rename the prison in which Mudd had been kept. Both tries failed. The Washington bridge was named for Fredrick Douglass, and Fort Jefferson re-mains Fort Jefferson.

There have been some successes for the movement. Dr. Richard Mudd, a Saginaw, Mich., grandson of Dr. Sam, says the government has put a Samuel Mudd plaque on a wall at Fort Jefferson. And, too, descendants have at last talked the state of Maryland into research state of Maryland into restoring and preserving the historic farmhouse here in

What's more, says Richard Mudd, the movement has managed to convince historians and ordinary peo-ple that Sam Mudd was mishandled. "In all my life," says Richard Mudd, "I've never heard anyone say that my grandfather was guilty. In fact, seven states have now passed reso-lutions that speak for his Yet the final goal of the movement remains elusive. And Richard Mudd, who has devoted 60 of his 77 years to clearing the family name, says he is not expecting the movement's latest petition attempt to succeed. "In fact," he dejectedly admits, "I am almost positive the Justice Department will turn it down.

Mudd's pessimism is born of experience. Though every has been asked to exonerate Sam Mudd, most have ignored the requests; others have merely sent the petitions on to the Army (which conducted the original trial), and the Army has stubbornly refused to consider conceding error.

The Mudd movement was cheered last decade when they received word that Lyndon Johnson was in sympathy with its aim. But the hope was crushed when Johnson asked for advice from legal advisors. Richard Mudd says Johnson was told that presidents are only allowed to exonerate people who are still alive.

As for Jimmy Carter? One member of the Mudd family recently wrote him a letter asking that he consider the Dr. Mudd case. The note never reached the president. Inexplicably, a White House aide passed it along to the Georgia State Parole Board. Richard Mudd is afraid Carter's people have no sense of history.

Richard Mudd says he's fed up with government bumblers and 112 years of official foot dragging. He notes that others wronged by history are now being rehabilitated (for example: Robert E. Lee's citizenship has been restored); but he wonders if the U.S. will ever admit that the name Mudd is spelled with two D's. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Dr. Samuel Mudd was sentenced to life imprisonment for setting the broken leg of John Wilkes Booth, the assassin of Abraham Lincoln. Although the event occurred 112 years ago, Mudd's descendants are still trying to clear his

More Than 100,000 Bridges Called Unsafe

NEW YORK (AP) - Of about 560,000 roadway bridges in the United States, more than 100,000 are unsafe, if you can believe the official statistics.

A ratio of that sort means there's a good chance you use such spans regularly. For some farmers and other workers and schoolchildren riding in buses, it may be an almost everyday

These ganglis of the nation's transport nervous system, claim critics, are in rough shape, because of the use of bigger vehicles, erosion, poor design and obsolescence. Most were built before 1935.

As of a year ago, 9,003 structures on the federal-aid system were listed as structurally deficient, which means they have been restricted to light vehicles or closed entirely.

The same inventory found 30,917 bridges obsolete, meaning their deck geometry, clearance or approach roadway alignment can no longer safely service the system of which they are an integral part.

The National Association of Counties adds to these figures another 65,600 structures off the federal-aid system, confesses that the number is inexact, but says members believe the total to be much higher.

Actual collapses kill about 8 to 10 people a year, the association estimates, while poor bridge approaches, lack of signs and signals and the like, kill probably another 1,000 a year.

The Department of Transportation estimated in a report to Congress this year that $12.4 billion was needed to fix bridges on the federal-aid system, and another $10:6 billion for those

Federal funds available for the job amount to $180 million

The same report states: "Structurally obsolete bridges necessary to the highway network should be replaced or rehabilitated, but the priority being assigned this problem indicates this will not be accomplished in the near

Perhaps most upset of any group about the situation is the National Association of Counties whose members have jurisdiction over hundreds of thousand of structures that connect them to other geographical areas.

These bridges carry our school children, our produce, our raw and manufactured products. They span our routes to work and to play," says Bernard Hillenbrand, executive director of the association.

But the counties claim they haven't the funds to fix them. "Local jurisdictions which must rely primarily on the property tax for revenues have no realistic source of funds to repair unsafe bridges," Hillenbrand states.

The only solution that some counties have found is to post the spans, thus limiting the tonnage that can legally or safely be accommodated. And then, perhaps, proceed to violate the limitation.

While this would seem to justify a "serve you right" reaction should an accident occur, the violators of such limitations ask what they're supposed to do. Not bring their oduce to market? Not work? Not send their children to

Some commentators suggest that insurance might provide some relief if not physicial protection to users of such structures. But the Journal of Insurance believes that only 25 to 30 percent of the nation's bridges are insured. Understandably, the county executives seek to dramatize the problem in order to squeeze revenue out of the federal government, arousing from time to time a degree of suspicion about their motives.

Carter To Visit France

PARIS (AP) - President Carter will visit France Jan. 4-6 and include a trip to the Normandy landing beaches of World War II, the Elysee Palace presidential office announced Thursday.

Carter's stop in France will be part of a postponed trip to Europe, India and the Middle East. The original trip, scheduled for Nov. 22-Dec. 2. was put off because the president said he had to stay in Washington during debate on his energy legislation. Further details of his plans for the French visit were not released by the Elysee Palace.

An official itinerary for the rescheduled trip was to be announced later today in

The visit to the Normandy beaches will take Carter to the point where Allied forces under the command of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower landed in France on June 6, 1944. That date, known as D-Day, marked the beginning of the successful Allied effort to throw back Nazi forces who had occupied the European contin ent and bring an end to World War II.

In New Delhi the Indian government announced Carter would come there Jan. 1-3.

Accompanied by his wife, the president will leave Washington Dec. 29 and visit in succes Poland, Iran, India, Saudi returning to the United States Jan. 7, a New Delhi spokesman

The spokesman said India understands that Carter will visit Brazil. Venezuela and Nigeria, the three other countries on the original itinerary, around Easter.

The visit to Inida follows steady improvement in relations between the new administrations in both countries. Carter and Prime Minister Morarii Dasai have been carrying on a private exchange of letters. described as extremely warm, since Desai succeeded former Prime Minister Indira Gandhi in Synopsis: Children did not always celebrate Christmas as they do today. This is the story of how Santa Claus came to be. Long ago a mysterious purse was found in the home of a toymaker named Claus. When the purse was opened a strange vapor escaped.

He said Texas has the second lowest per capita tax burden, $273, among the states, surpassed only by New Hampshire.

Moreover, Bullock said, "the evidence indicates that Texas is in a strong position to retain its outstanding business tax climate."

He cited the "pay as you go" provision in the Texas Constitution, which prohibits deficit financing of government and Bullock quoted liberally from spending and taxes low.

PROBLEM: What makes sounds high or low pitched?

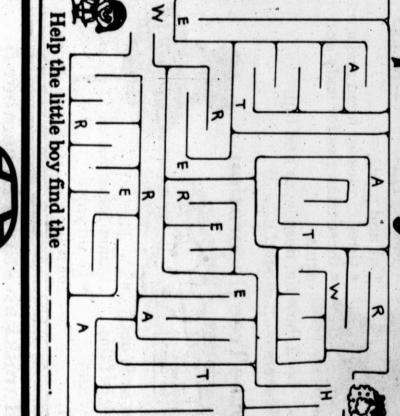

small open box or paper cup. Pluck the rubber band and watch its vibration and the sound it makes. Now make the rubber band tighter and pluck it again.

 Is the sound higher or lower pitched?
 Does it vibrate differently when it makes a high or low pitched note?

CLUE: The faster something vibrates the higher the pitch or sound it makes. Some things vibrate so fast that our ears cannot hear them.
