

Ag Strike Begins

Farmers Picket Grocery Warehouses

No Bread

Bread shelves at local grocery stores were virtually bare Tuesday night as shoppers flocked to the stores in a beat-the-farmer-strike rush. Heavy runs were also reported on sugar and flour. Here, shelves at Furr's Super Market show the after-effects of the bread rush. A spokesman for Furr's reported a steady stream of customers all day Tuesday and admitted he'd like to see such bustling business every day. The run on local groceries set the stage for the beginning of the nationwide farm strike, which got underway shortly after midnight. Supporters of the American Agriculture movement vow they will not plant or harvest any crops, and will make only essential purchases until they receive full parity prices for their commodities. Picketing began at two large grocery warehouses in Amarillo this morning. In the meantime, just like the strike bumper sticker says, "you can't make a peanut butter sandwich without bread." Farmers began doing something totally foreign to their nature shortly after midnight this morning in many sections of the country.

—They formed picket lines — and went on strike, for 100 percent parity prices for all farm commodities.

Local supporters of the American Agriculture farm strike movement joined with fellow farmers from across the Panhandle in Amarillo to form the first picket lines on behalf of the strike in Texas.

And while that activity was going on in the local area, other communities in approximately 30 states began similar strike activities and a 50-tractor caravan moved on Washington, D.C. to express farmer frustration over the current state of affairs in the farm economy.

Over 200 agricultural producers with 100 tractors from Hereford, Dimmit, Friona, Gruver, Memphis Paducah, Canyon, Amarillo and Pampa established picket lines at the Affiliated Foods warehouse, The Safeway warehouse, Tender Crust Bakery and the Bordens Dairy in Amarillo early this morning.

By mid-morning, results from the first few hours of picketing became apparent, as the Bordens Dairy announced plans to shut down for 24 hours and the Affiliated and Safeway warehouses announced plans to close for an indefinite period.

While picketing began in Amarillo today, a number of local businesses closed in support of agriculture.

County Judge Sam Morgan called an emergency session of the county commission Tuesday afternoon to discuss closing the courthouse today.

After a brief period of discussion concerning the rescheduling of district court hearings and other activities, the commissioners voted unanimously to close the courthouse.

County officials will be on call today, however, in case of emergencies, and an entrance through the sheriff's office has been left open at the courthouse.

At the suggestion of Bruce Coleman, the commissioners drafted a telegram to be sent to President Carter, Ag Secretary Bob Bergland, area senators and congressmen, and Governor Dolph Briscoe.

The message read: "We the commissioner's court of Deaf Smith County, Hereford, Texas, call your attention to the desperate plight of our farmers, who are losing money on every acre they plant. Many of our farmers are striking in a desperate effort to protest prices below production costs. We feel agriculture cannot survive unless immediate action is taken. Our farmers must have the opportunity to produce at a profit."

County Judge Sam Morgan and Hereford Mayor Bartley Dowell also placed their signatures on a proclamation designating today as American Agriculture Movement Day in Hereford.

The proclamation urges all business organizations, producers and consumers to voluntarily close their businesses in observance of the movement day.

A spokesman for the Hereford American Ag office estimated that some 42 local businesses were closed today.

Notable among the closings was Taylor & Sons Grocery, which shut down its facilities in Canyon, Hereford and Dimmitt, in addition to warehouses in Amarillo.

While many businesses here did lock their doors, representatives of the Sugarland Mall Merchants Association and the Downtown Merchants Association met last night and decided not to close.

"We are in sympathy with our farmers, but don't feel that closing our doors is going to help them or the economy of Hereford," said a spokesman for the mall merchants.

Evansville Basketball Team Killed in Crash

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — A chartered DC-3 loaded with college basketball players and team supporters was trying to turn back to the airport here with a spluttering engine when it crashed into a muddy hillside in rain and dense fog, witnesses say.

All 29 aboard were killed, including the entire 14-member Evansville University basketball team and their coach.

Searchers slogged through the mud today looking for two bodies still missing.

The twin engine propeller plane, chartered from National Jet Service Inc. of Indianapolis, left Dress Regional Airport here at 7:20 p.m. Tuesday bound for Nashville, Tenn., and "encountered some type of difficulty," said Bill Phipps, deputy coroner for Vanderburgh County.

He said the plane appeared to have turned back to the airport when it crashed into the hillside.

"We saw it go into the clouds. We heard a loud 'pop.' We heard an engine rev up, then we heard the crash and saw an explosion," said Patrick Alvey, a licensed pilot and owner of Metro Beechcraft Corp., a charter service at the airport.

Alvey said he and a companion were among the first people to arrive at the crash scene, near railroad tracks north of a new residential subdivision.

"The fuselage was intact, the left wing was ripped off," he recalled. "Very many bodies were still in their seatbelts and many were strewn around. It was a mess — just a total mess."

"We had four people alive. They were just strewn around. The wreckage was on fire. There was nothing we could do for the people inside of it," said Alvey.

The bodies were taken in a Louisville & Nashville Railroad boxcar to a temporary morgue set up in the city Community Center in downtown Evansville, 10 miles from the crash site. The room where the rows of bodies lay beneath white sheets is sometimes used as a basketball court.

John Ed Washington, one of the dead players, "used to come in here and play ball in the gym," said Walter

Conkwright May Appear On CBS News

A CBS news team from Dallas interviewed Hereford rancher Jim Conkwright Tuesday concerning the effect of the farm strike on the rancher.

The news team—commentator Eric Engberg, a camera man and a sound man—followed Conkwright through the day, even attending a Rotary Club noon luncheon, and interviewed the rancher in a short taping.

The story, if it is used, will be on Walter Cronkite's 5:30 p.m. [CST] news cast today.

The CBS trio flew from Dallas to Amarillo Monday night then drove to Hereford Tuesday morning. The news team attended and filmed a Rotary Club meeting, in which Conkwright presided.

They also filmed Conkwright as he fed cattle.

That teller on Tierra Blanca Creek says there are now so many substitutes on the market, it's difficult to remember what the original was.

If the only tool you have is a hammer, you tend to see every problem as a nail.

WHILE THE STATED purpose of the farm strike, which got underway today, was to achieve 100 percent parity, we feel that one of its major motivations is to get the farmers' message to consumers of the nation.

One of the local supporters of the American Agriculture movement admits that "we are fighting a sociological battle, and the important thing is to get our message to consumers in the metropolitan areas."

We'll agree with that, and will happily add that all citizens in Hereford know the gravity of the situation. In fact, there are many businessmen in this community who have, through the years, made more efforts to secure good farm legislation than some of the farmers themselves.

But, while almost all local citizens are in sympathy with the farmers' message, all do not agree on the strike effort. Just as all farmers are not in accord with the movement, American businessmen have proclaimed this past week a "peaceful revolt," and we hope this is the case.

After all, this is the season of Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Men.

WHILE THE FARM situation has caused much concern in this area, it is not as real a surprise this past week when Comptroller Bob Bullock

School Board May Hire Football Coach Next Week

By PAUL SIMS

Hereford High School may have a new head football coach as early as next week.

The Hereford Independent School District board of trustees Tuesday night decided to meet at 7 a.m. Dec. 22 with the search committee, which is expected to have a recommendation on a coach to replace Fred Upshaw who resigned at the end of last season.

The nine-man search committee, consisting of school administrators, principals and school board members, scrutinized 22 applications last week and selected a group of candidates for personal interviews.

"We'll possibly have a candidate a week from Thursday," HISD Superintendent Dr. Harrell Holder told the board Tuesday during their regular monthly meeting.

Holder heads the search committee. In other business, the board approved the audit report for the school district and heard a curriculum report by Louis Montano, head of the HISD bi-lingual program.

Montano explained that the main objective of the bi-lingual program in Hereford is to help the youngster who has a language barrier to learn subject matter which may be lost by having a mono-lingual teacher.

Students in the program are expected to make a transition from Spanish to English while maintaining their Spanish-cultural background.

Fred Fox, HISD tax assessor-collector, reported that approximately 70 percent of school taxes have been collected through November which constitutes a 3 percent increase over last year's collections through the same period.

Medical, Dental Auxiliary Reminds of Card Deadline

In a concentrated effort to jog the memories of local residents, members of the Medical and Dental Auxiliary have issued a reminder that only two days remain to make contributions to Project Christmas Card.

Canisters are still located at the following sites: Safeway, Ideal, Thriftway, Furr's, Deaf Smith General Hospital, Park Avenue Florist, JJ's Hair Fashions, Harold Close Drug, Armour Foods, First National Bank and Hereford State Bank.

Proceeds of the 21-year-old Project Christmas Card will help the Auxiliary in purchasing a second anesthesia machine for the hospital's surgery unit. Since it was begun in 1956, Project Christmas Card has received more than $60,000 in donations, which have been spent in numerous improvements at the local hospital.

The strategy behind Project Christmas Card is to benefit the health care environment for all local residents. The Auxiliary asks that families (or individuals) contribute that amount of money which would normally be spent in mailing Christmas cards locally. Contributors to Project Christmas Card will have their yuletide greetings expressed in a full-page spread, to appear in the Brand's special Christmas edition.

Republicans Trying To Save Tax Credit

WASHINGTON (AP) - With only one day left until planned congressional adjournment, Republicans are trying to salvage a $250 income tax credit for parents of college students in the final version of the Social Security bill.

All sides in the dispute over the tax credit, which is blocking a vote on Social Security, were talking optimistically as a Senate-house conference committee prepared today to try to settle their differences.

But sheer numbers gave the Democratic leadership the upper hand, and those leaders - especially on the House side - don't want the tuition credit attached to the Social Security bill.

Anticipating an agreement, House leaders scheduled final floor action on Social Security for Thursday, the target adjournment date for this year's congressional session.

Social Security is in deep financial trouble. The pending bill would correct most of the problems with a tax increase that would cost workers and their employers $227 billion over the next decade.

Bayer Asked To Stop Anti-Tylenol Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Food and Drug Administration is calling for a cease fire in a bitter advertising struggle between makers of aspirin and non-aspirin pain relievers.

FDA Commissioner Donald M. Kennedy has asked Sterling Drug Co., makers of Bayer aspirin, to stop a "one-sided" advertising campaign against Tylenol, the top selling aspirin substitute.

Bayer's broadcast and print advertisements quote an FDA news release and an FDA advisory panel that said Tylenol and other acetaminophen products are no safer than aspirin, and large doses of them can cause liver damage.

At the same time, Kennedy faulted Tylenol for taking statements about aspirin's safety out of context from the panel's report and not mentioning the potential liver damage problem from overdoses of Tylenol.

Lamp May Be Cause Of Providence Fire

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) - A goose-neck lamp lighting a Nativity scene may have sparked the fire that turned the top floor of a Providence College dormitory into an inferno, killing seven women officials say.

Mayor Vincent Cianci said late Tuesday that investigators believed the fast-moving flames early that morning began near a small paper and cardboard manger scene set up in the fourth floor corridor of Aquinas Hall, a women's dormitory.

Cianci and Lt. Bernard Gannon of the police department's arson squad said the corridor was adorned with paper Christmas decorations, which helped fuel the flames.

The mayor, asked if the decorations violated fire regulations, said: "There are no violations anyone is being cited for now."

He said the 38-year-old brick dormitory was equipped with a system of fire alarms linked to the city fire department. The structure met all the fire safety requirements in effect at the time of its construction, he said. However, it lacked fire escapes and sprinklers, and officials were unable to determine whether any fire extinguishers were used.

Court Rejects Attempt To Collect $20,000

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - The Texas Supreme Court today rejected a client's attempt to get nearly $20,000 more in fees for her Dallas lawyer, who was described as having made a "career" of her case.

Madelyn Coker won a $3,967 judgment against The Travelers Insurance Co., after her lawyer, John Vorhies, appealed her group insurance policy case to the Dallas Court of Civil Appeals.

The case was sent back to the trial court to determine the attorney's fees, and the woman sought $23,850. The court awarded $3,932.

The trial court found that it was a "routine" case, and that Vorhies had unnecessarily complicated the case by raising a multiplicity of dubious legal theories.

In its findings of fact, the trial court also found that Vorhies had "made this into a career case" and had acted "in bad faith" in seeking such a large fee.

The appeals court said, however, although one witness had testified the case was worth $3,000 to $4,000, another had said $20,000 would be a reasonable fee.

Police Report

Mrs. Allen Brockman, 843 Irving, reported to police that someone smeared cake and orange peelings on her son's car Tuesday night and placed a dead mouse inside.

Christmas lights also were taken from her residence.

Larry Vogel, 305 Stadium, reported the Tuesday theft of 24 tapes from his car at the high school.

Police also investigated the theft of a purse owned by Mrs. Earl Harkins, Route 1. The purse, taken from a beauty shop at 901 N. Miles, contained a billfold, driver's license, gasoline credit cards, a new checkbook and a two-dollar bill.

12 Antitrust Suits Nixed by Judge

DALLAS (AP) - Twelve antitrust suits filed by individuals and companies in the cattle industry from 19 states accusing major supermarket chains of price fixing have been dismissed by U.S. District Court Judge William Taylor.

The suits claimed the supermarkets conspired to depress the price they paid to packers and slaughterhouses for fresh, frozen or processed beef. The cattlemen claimed they had been injured because the alleged action lowered the price they received for beef.

The suits, some of which were filed in Texas, were consolidated last year in Judge Taylor's court.

Included as defendants were 15 supermarket chains, the National Association of Food Chains and the National Provisioner, a commercial wholesale meat reporting service.

In his ruling to dismiss the suits, Judge Taylor said he would "strike the retail price fixing allegations" and dismiss the complaints on the basis of a recent U.S. Supreme Court decision that said an indirect purchaser is not an injured party in antitrust suits.

percent discount on their taxes by paying them before Dec. 31.

Larry Wartes, assistant superintendent, reported that there has been a two percent reduction in the number of free lunches served in the schools, but there has been a correlating two percent increase in the number of reduced price lunches.

The number of students paying full cost of lunches has remained constant from last year through this school year.

Wartes also reported that the district has received all five of its new buses - three '71-set and two 65-seat vehicles.

Rodney Laubhan, principal of Bluebonnet Elementary and chairman of the Texas State Teachers Association (Hereford chapter) Insurance Committee, requested that the board accept recommendations from the committee concerning tax-sheltered annuities and insurance salesmen.

The committee recommended that the HISD open its enrollment for insurance protection plans and tax-sheltered annuities to more than one company. Washington National is now used by the district.

Tax-sheltered annuities are deducted from employees' salaries.

The committee also asked that insurance salesmen not be allowed to solicit business in any school building. Sales brochures, however, could be placed in mailboxes when proper channels are followed.

Insurance representatives, according to the committee, should not service a policy in places where other school employees are disturbed.

The school board decided to consider two proposals for dealing with unemployment compensation claims.

One is to allow the HISD to enter a pool with other school districts in the state by paying $45 for each employee. Claims would be paid through the pool.

The other proposal is for the district to become self-insured and be totally responsible for all claims against the HISD.

The board appointed Montano to the juvenile board in Deaf Smith County. Montano replaced Wartes, who resigned, and is to assume duties after Jan. 1.

Planners To Trust Prognosticators

WASHINGTON (AP) - The nation's energy planners have decided to trust the National Weather Service's long-range forecasts this winter for energy use projections rather than rely on those of private forecasters.

The vote of confidence in the NWS comes less from an outstanding record for distant predictions - which the service admits it doesn't have - than from uncertainty about how good the private forecasters are, says an Energy Department spokesman.

The weather service says that even if its long-range forecasts aren't always perfect, they are at least as good, if not better, than anyone else's.

Long-range forecasting, meaning predictions for periods a week or more into the future, is just one of many areas in which the NWS is being challenged by private, profit-making forecasters.

Federal forecasters supply basic weather reports and private outfits supplement this for special-interest customers such as oil companies, local governments and some broadcast stations who demand more detail.

NWS spokesmen say the nation is getting its money's worth from the relatively small agency. Part of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, the weather service employs only about 5,100 persons and has a yearly budget of less than $200 million.

"We figure we are the second most-used government agency, after the Postal Service," says Earl W. Estelle, chief of the NWS public services branch. "But we are very small in number by comparison."

The NWS Long Range Prediction Group also is small compared with its responsibility of predicting future weather, critically important to agriculture, energy planning and almost every segment of the economy.

Dr. Donald L. Gilman and his staff of six do 30-day temperature and precipitation outlooks and 90-day seasonal temperature forecasts basically by charting upper-level wind patterns.

Gilman's group, and most other forecasters, missed predicting the onset of last winter's severe cold, caused by a surprisingly abnormal shift in upper-wind patterns.

Bell To Host Workshop

Charles Bell of Hereford will host a Southwestern Life Insurance workshop here Thursday morning, with agents from a wide area expected to meet in the community room of Hereford State Bank from 9:30 to noon.

The Specialized Marketing Workshop will deal with pension plans and other special insurance programs, according to Bell. Other Southwestern Life agents host the workshops at various times throughout the year.

Strike

of stores also locked their doors in the Dimmitt community, while about 40 businesses were reported to have closed at Friona, to the west.

A number of grain elevators closed in the Pampa area, while all businesses locked up in the South Plains community of Paducah, Nazareth a small community in Castro County, was also totally locked up this morning.

Consumer awareness of the impending strike was evident Tuesday night as local grocery stores were swamped by shoppers.

Bread disappeared from the shelves of virtually every grocery in the city before an onslaught of heat-the-strike shoppers.

The first hours of the farm strike proved peaceful. Supporters of the strike movement began moving quietly out of Hereford Tuesday afternoon, and formed small tractor caravans en route to Amarillo.

Active picketing began at the Amarillo locations shortly after midnight.

A spokesman for the local strike office reported that one trucker for Affiliated Foods in Amarillo refused to honor the picket line of farmers, and was allowed to proceed to the warehouse without incident.

The warehouse gates were closed shortly afterwards, however.

Hereford Bull

announced that Texas has the best overall business climate in the United States. The comptroller backed up his announcement by releasing a new report from his office, "Texas Means Business."

The only way you can compare economy is to compare taxation, government spending and other basic economic factors.

When you add them all up, Texas is not only Number One in football, but in business climate as well. That speaks well of the Lone Star State!

Texas is the only major state with neither a corporate nor a personal income tax. Most other taxes are either lower than the national average or the lowest.

The four percent state sales tax, which incidentally is the most equitable tax of all, is right on the national average. But, receipts from the sales tax have grown faster in Texas than in any other state - 31 percent, in fact, over the past two years compared to the national average of only 17 percent.

Texas has the second lowest overall tax burden per capita - only $273, far below other major industrial states such as Michigan, where it's $413; Pennsylvania, $432; California at $500; or New York where the total is $541.

The figures further show that while seven other states were losing $65,000 jobs during the last year or two, the Texas economy was still strong and even added 150,000 jobs. Texas has had no new taxes since 1971, while 39 other states laboring under 101 tax increases.

The independence of the state and its citizens have something to do with it, we think. Texas Means Business is about as invigorating as seeing Earl Campbell trudge to the podium Thursday night to pick up the Heisman Trophy as the nation's number one football player.

Assistant coach Mark Sandy, 25, did not accompany the team because he was on a scouting mission at Southern Illinois University in Carbondale, Ill.

"I heard it on the radio coming back," said Sandy as he awaited relatives of the victims in the Community Center gym.

"It felt like it was somebody else that it was a mistake," Sandy said.

Sandy said the Evansville Aces had won one game and lost three this season. The Aces were five-time champions of the National Collegiate Athletic Association's Division II basketball tournament. This year the school had moved up to Division I play.

"We had eight freshmen, all new coaches," he said. "We were just getting started."

Begin To Inform President

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) - Prime Minister Menachem Begin said for Washington today a few hours before the start of the Egyptian-Israeli conference in Cairo. He said he was going to inform President Carter of "problems connected with the real chance of establishing peace in the Middle East."

He said he was taking "suggestions connected directly with the peace-making process" and that Carter "should be informed in detail. He should hear this in direct private talks."

The problems did not appear to be urgent, Begin told Secretary of State Cyrus Vance last Saturday that he wanted to see Carter, the president agreed within four hours, but the two will not meet until Friday.

Accompanied by Atty. Gen.

Aaron Barak, overseas information chief Shmuel Katz and two military advisers, Begin was scheduled to arrive in New York this afternoon, but it could not be learned if he would go on to Washington immediately. Aides said his meeting with Carter was being delayed until Vance's return from his Middle East trip, and the delay would also give the 64-year-old prime minister a chance to rest up from the flight.

There was speculation in Israel that Begin was going to Washington to meet with Egyptian President Anwar Sadat or that he was carrying a new Israeli peace plan and needed U.S. approval of some of its provisions, such as an American guarantee of Israel's security in exchange for the return of captured Arab territories.

Begin discounted the Sadat speculation and refused to comment on the other theory.

Deacons Observe Yuletide

West Gate Nursing Home was the meeting place for Wa Kan Ki Lo Horizon Club, sponsored by Marsh Cattle Company, as they continued Give Service Project "Hand in Hand."

Last week Christmas cards were addressed to each resident of West Gate and this week were delivered personally by the members of the club. As they delivered the cards, each girl visited with the recipient to get better acquainted with them. Later group Christmas carol singing was lead as Kelly Killough, Jill Paschel, and Karen Compton played the piano.

All were wished a "Merry Christmas" and it was "a rewarding experience to share with those at West Gate" commented Paula Eubanks.

Members present were Crista Crawford, Paula Graves, Jill Davis, Jill Paschel, Karen Compton, Susan Brown, Kelly Killough, Willa Lawson, Rhonda Hollowell, Ramona Rhodes, Cindy Gamez, Janet Burdine, Brenda Parson and Tammy McCathern. Leader, Paula Eubanks.

Churchill's Widow To Be Buried

KERRVILLE, Texas (AP)—For 35 hours 3-year-old Shera Sneed was trapped in the wreckage of a small plane with the bodies of her parents and brother while searchers looked for the downed plane in the rugged Texas Hill Country.

Tuesday morning the wrecked plane was spotted from a helicopter and a rescue team headed for the site in four-wheel drive vehicles. The young girl was found strapped in the backseat and taken to a local hospital, where doctors treated a fractured arm and leg.

The rescuers also found the bodies of Shera's father, San Antonio Lawyer Gerald Wayne Sneed, 33, the girl's mother, Susan Parr Sneed, 32, and Shanon, a 5-year-old brother.

"Shera was just mumbling and groaning when we got there," said Dan Waters of First Texas Flying Service, a family friend and the first at the scene.

"It was nothing you could understand. She had a few abrasions but other than that she looked pretty good," Waters said.

Waters said he tried to comfort the girl but she did not recognize him and apparently did not know what had happened.

The plane crashed Sunday night during a persistent drizzle. Air traffic controllers in San Antonio had reported a distress signal from a plane in the Kerrville area. Officials said the 10:15 p.m. distress call stated the plane was low on fuel and was attempting to reach the Kerrville airport.

Spencer Treharne of the First Texas Flying Service said the plane apparently was about 20 feet short of clearing the 1,800-foot hill.

"He knew the Kerrville airport and was trying to get in. When the engine started to sputter he could not get in," Treharne said. "The hill is on the boundary of the airport, you might say."

Sneed apparently was following a beacon guiding him to the Kerrville airport, but he failed to clear the hill.

The wreckage was located three miles northeast of the airport.

Air rescue efforts had been hampered by the rain. The aerial search could not begin until Tuesday morning.

Deacons of Avenue Baptist Church and their wives were guests in the Billy Wall home Friday night for a buffet dinner and Christmas party.

Doug Morris lead the group in singing a carol and the host read a Christmas story. Games were played for entertainment.

In attendance were the Rev. and Mrs. Bill Frazier and Messrs. Gaylon Bryan, Johnie Townsend, Shep Compton, Dickie B. Mason, N.E. Tyler, Morris and Olliver Summers.

3-Year-Old Survives Wreckage

LONDON (AP) - Sir Winston Churchill's "darling Clemmie," his wife for 57 years and his widow for 12, will be buried alongside him Friday in the family plot in an Oxfordshire village, her family announced Tuesday.

Baroness Spencer-Churchill died Monday of a heart attack at the age of 92. She was lunching with her secretary in her London apartment overlooking Hyde Park, in the fashionable Knights bridge section.

"My mother died very peacefully and quietly," said her daughter Mary Soames. "It was all over very quickly."

Her grandson Winston Churchill, a Conservative member of the House of Commons, said the funeral will be private and will be conducted by the Rev. John James, who officiated at Sir Winston's funeral in 1965.

Burial will be in the churchyard at St. Martin's Church in Bladon, near Blenheim Castle, the ancestral home of the Churchills.

Tributes flooded in to Lady Churchill's family.

Queen Elizabeth II's message of condolence was private and its contents were not disclosed. But Prime Minister James Callaghan's message read: "Her character, dignity and charm made her greatly loved."

Ann Landers Help For The Meek

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Recently you told a reader, "Show me a person who is repeatedly taken advantage of, and I will show you someone who allows people to kick him around."

A reader responded by saying, "Yes, Ann, we do allow inconsiderate clods to kick us around, and we know it. We are so concerned with being nice and friendly and polite that we are incapable of protecting ourselves against the heavies. We hate ourselves because of our weakness, but what can we do about it?"

You replied, "The meek may inherit the Earth, but they sure get dumped on a lot." Then you suggested counseling.

Well, dear Ann, I was one of those people who was dumped on a lot and taken advantage of by everybody — until I went in for Assertiveness Training. I learned a great deal in that course and I would like to share some of it with your readers.

CHARACTERISTICS OF THE NON-ASSERTIVE PERSON

He confuses the goal of being liked with being respected.

He has learned to act in inferior ways because he believes he is inferior.

He is conditioned to fears of being disliked or rejected, also fears of anxiety, expressions of anger, or feelings of tenderness.

He is unable to recognize the difference between being selfish in the bad sense and in the good sense.

He constantly aims to please others because he fears he may offend them.

He allows others to maneuver him into situations he doesn't want. He feels the rights of others are more important than his own.

He is self-conscious before superior and authority figures.

He is easily hurt by what others say and do.

He feels pushed around because he never learned to stand up for himself.

He feels inferior because he is inferior. He limits his experiences and doesn't use his potential.

CHARACTERISTICS OF ASSERTIVE PERSON

He feels free to reveal himself — "This is me. This is what I feel, think and want."

He can communicate with people on all levels — with strangers, friends, family. This communication is always open, direct, honest and appropriate.

He has an active orientation to life. He goes after what he wants. In contrast to the passive person who waits for things to happen, he attempts to make things happen.

He acts in a way that shows he respects himself, is aware that he cannot always win, and accepts his limitations. He always strives, in spite of the odds, to make the good try, so win, lose, or draw, he maintains his self-respect.

It took me a long time to get all this through my head, but now that I've absorbed these principles and live by them I am a new person. — J.R.M.

DEAR J.R.M.: I'm sure a great many people saw themselves in the column today. Hopefully they will do something about it. Thank you for sharing.

The first American novel published in America was "The Power of Sympathy or the Triumph of Nature Founded in Truth," which was printed in two volumes and dealt with seduction. The book was signed by "Phileas," a nom de plume for Sarah Wentworth Apthorp Morton of Boston.

Mrs. Phillips Given Award By Gardeners

After a final tally of scores in the recent flower show sponsored by Bud to Blossom Garden Club, it was announced that Jennie Phillips was Sweepstakes winner, rather than Mrs. W.H. Gentry.

As a result, Mrs. Gentry presented the Sweepstakes Award to Mrs. Phillips during a Christmas party Friday evening in Hereford State Bank Friendship Room.

Members brought their husbands as guests and the holiday meal was catered by Caison's Steak House. Games of "42" were played during the social hour.

Couples in attendance were Jennie Phillips and Ed Fowler and Messrs. and Mmes. Robert Betzen, Gentry, Sam Long, Joe Reed, Garth Thomas, G.L. White, L.B. Worthan and Ed Geiger.

Victory Class Holds Party In Wall Home

Victory Sunday School Class of Avenue Baptist Church met for their Christmas party last week in the home of Rosie Wall.

The Christmas story from the Gospel of Luke was read by Fannie Townsend.

Refreshments and games were enjoyed by Mrs. Townsend, Elaine Holly, Janell Davison, Sally Compton, Dorothy Sargent and the hostess.

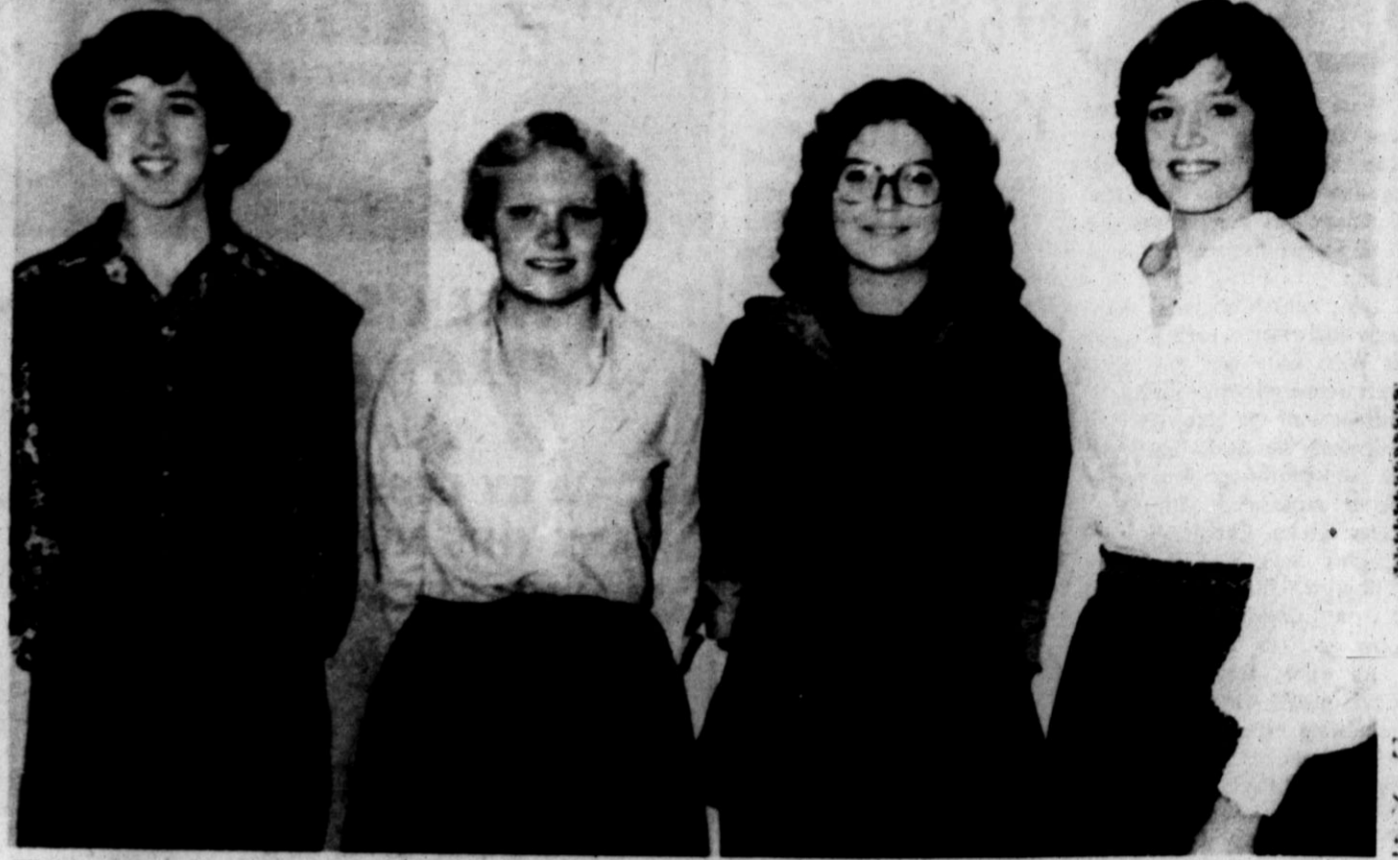

PYRAMIDS PLANNED NEW YORK (AP) —

Pyramid-shaped recording studios will be built in Malibu, Calif., it has been announced here.

The reason is a belief that to achieve the best recorded sound, no two opposite walls should be the same.

The new studio will consist of a giant pyramid with three smaller pyramids inside, each a recording studio measuring 2,500 feet. Interior wall construction will alternate fiberglass squares with flat surfaces, each 16 inches square.

The announcement was made by Roy Cicala, president of the Record Plant here.

Top-Notch Cooks

Phylecia Rowland and Carla West, both at left, demonstrated their culinary expertise Saturday by winning top honors in the District 1 4-H Food Show. Also placing first in district competition were LuAnn Kiser, Dumas, and Sherry Wilson, Dalhart, at right. These four girls will represent this district in state 4-H competition next June at College Station.

Mrs. Doak Hostess To Club

A Christmas luncheon took place Tuesday afternoon in the home of Carrie Mae Doak, 219 Ave. E, where members of West Hereford Home Demonstration Club assembled for a holiday party.

Mary Flowers was awarded the hostess gift. Mrs. C.R. Gandy and Mrs. Robert Boyd teamed to read a Christmas story. In keeping with the yule theme, Mrs. U.V. Pierce sang a Christmas carol.

Argen Draper was welcomed as a guest.

Appreciation was expressed to Evelyn Bell for her service during the past 15 years as club reporter. She is retiring from that position.

Others in attendance at yesterday's party were Myrtle

Local 4-H'ers Excel At District Contest

Two of the four champions at the District 1 4-H Food Show, held Saturday in Amarillo, are from Hereford.

Phylecia Rowland and Carla West, both representing Deaf Smith County's 4-H program, captured first place in senior division competition. They and two area 4-H'ers (Sherry Wilson of Dalhart and LuAnn Kiser, Dumas) will advance to the state contest next June at Texas A&M University, College Station.

Each received a miniature silver bowl from the Morrison Milling Co. of Denton, in addition to their blue ribbons and advancement to state competition.

Carla won the side dish competition with her "Sweet Potato Nuggets" and Phylecia's winning main dish was "Meat Potato Balls."

In the junior division, where competition ends at the district level, local 4-H'ers again proved their skills by receiving "best of show" honors in addition to their ribbons.

Those Deaf Smith County youths who took special honors in the junior division include: Glenna West, snacks and beverages; Missy Merritt, main dish; and Kristi Simons, side dish.

Local girls who were selected as "best of show" in the senior division were LeAnne Hughes, snacks and beverages; Becky Hughes, breads and desserts; Phylecia Rowland and Carla West in their champion-winning categories.

Members of the food show committee for the 19 counties in District 1 included Joyce Shipp, Extension Agent of this county.

District Extension Agent Sue Farris said the annual event is a critical test of the 4-H member's knowledge of nutrition and culinary skills. Judging also was based on meal planning, food buying, and meal service, as well as nutrition and preparation.

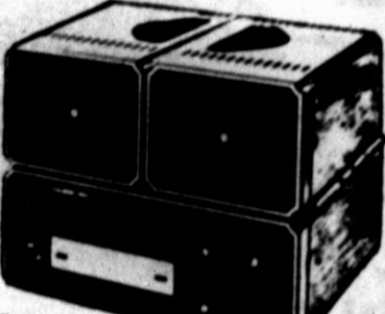

Mrs. Farris said some 23,000 4-H members in Texas compete in the annual food shows. Winners at the county level advance to district contests, and senior division winners then go to the state level.

Holiday Hostesses

Kelly Howell and Mandy Rogers were hostesses to more than 60 La Plata Junior High School students Friday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Kelly who reside west of the city. Games and music were played and Christmas carols were sung for entertainment. The group later had a visit from Santa Claus who distributed candy to those present. Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Ken Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Kelly, parents of the hostess. [Brand Photo by Dianne Banner]

Rock Hounds Stage Yule Dinner Party

Members of Deaf Smith Lapidary Club celebrated the Christmas season Monday evening with a covered dish supper in Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room.

The rock hounds mingled business with pleasure, discussing plans to attend a rock show in March at Deming, N.M. Also, it was tentatively proposed that the local lapidarians merge with members of an Amarillo rock chapter for a joint meeting after the arrival of the new year.

The door prize, a chunk of creed bacon (agate), was won by Delbert Ruland. Traditional yule motifs decorated the supper tables with greenery, candles and Santa Claus figures.

The club will not convene again until after the holidays at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 23 in the Community Center.

Couples in attendance were Messrs. and Mmes. Joe Williams, Ruland, Clarence Botts, Burt Brown, Bud Cawthon, Preston Gee, Dale Henson, Cecil Lady, Bub Newell, Jack Nunley, Jake King, Julian Perrin, Garth Thomas, Sam Morgan and Weldon Roberson.

Other members present were Betty Mercer, Pat and Jeff, Shannon Wilburn and Becky Ruland.

Kitchens, Schumacher Combine for 64 Points

AMARILLO-Kelly Kitchens popped the nets for a game-high 33 points Tuesday night in leading the Hereford White-faces past Palo Duro 84-76 in a non-district basketball matchup here. Kitchens wasn't the only hot player for Hereford, however, as David Schumacher hit 31 points, mostly from short range. The figures were season highs for both players.

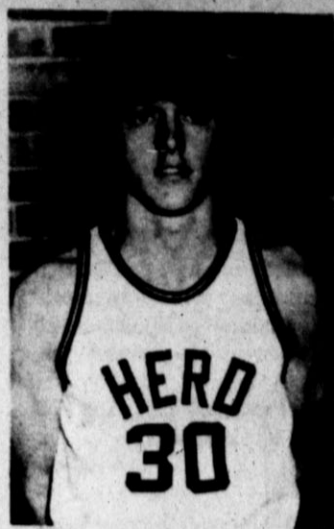

The win ups the Herd's season mark to 7-6, while the Dons fell to 3-8.

Both Kitchens and Schumacher were hot from the field in leading the 'Faces to a 52 percent shooting performance (33-63). Kitchens canned 14 of 21 attempts, mostly from long range, for 75 percent, while Schumacher hit 11 of 16 from the field (68 percent).

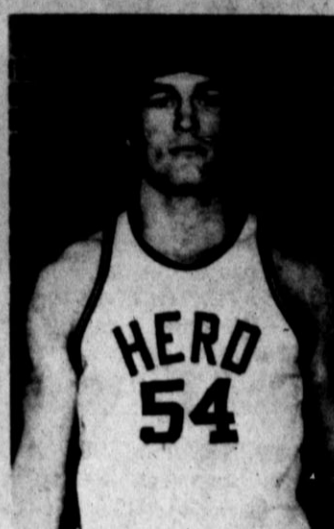

The Dons were never really out of the game, however, leading 20-17 after one period and trailing by five (42-37) at the half. The lead was cut two in the third period with the Herd leading 60-57 as the final stanza began.

Palo Duro wasn't as hot from the field as the Herd, hitting just 34 of 90 shots for 37 percent. Maderia Hardy led the Dons in the losing cause with 18 points, while Tracy McClain had 16 and Victor Wells 14.

Three Jr. High Clubs Unbeaten

By BOB NIGH
Sports Editor

The La Plata 7th and 8th grade Maverick basketball teams kept their unbeaten records intact Monday with wins over Canyon clubs, and cross-town rival Stanton's 9th graders also stayed on even keel with a win in Plainview to up their district mark to 3-0.

Things weren't as good for the rest of the local junior high teams, with the La Plata freshmen losing to Canyon, and the Stanton 7th and 8th grade squads falling to Plainview.

La Plata's 7th graders pulled to a 3-0 mark in district play with a 45-20 win over their Canyon foes as Steve Georger hit a game-high 12 points. Steve Barrett added nine points to help the Mavs, who came off a 9-7 deficit after one period to go ahead 25-11 at the half.

Rounding out the scoring for La Plata were Tim Martin and Alfred Ball with six points apiece, Sammy Velasquez, four, Raymond Martinez and Gary Long, three, and Kerry Beard, two.

In Plainview Stanton's 7th grade bunch just never could get started, falling behind 6-0 after one period, and despite trailing only 8-6 at the half, dropped a 30-13 decision to their Estacado opponents.

Charles McDowell and Victor Soliz led the way in the loss with four points apiece, while Robert Abalos and Jay Hodge scored two points each, and Saul Villarreal one.

The La Plata 8th grade got 18 points from big gun Alan Wartes as they upped their season mark to 6-0 and their loop record to 3-0 with a 47-34 win. Don Delozier and Bruce Clarke added six points each for La Plata, which roared to a 24-7 lead at the half.

Joe Soliz, Aubrey Richburg, and Ken Cosper all added four points to the winning total, while Barry Josserrand tallied three, and John Campuzano, two.

The Stanton 8th graders were as cold as the Dogie 7th grade team, however, and fell behind 3-0 after one period and 10-5 at the half before Coronado finally broke loose for a 31-11 win.

Five players scored a bucket each for Stanton in the contest, including Wayne High, Duane McNaney, Frankie Garcia, Alex Valdez, and Brett Barrick. Noel Garcia closed out the Dogie scoring with one point.

The Maverick freshmen couldn't overcome a 27-point scoring spurge by Canyon's Walling, and had foul trouble to boot as they dropped a 63-56 decision. Four of the five Mav starters fouled out in the game, along with one sub, and the other starter had four fouls on him when the game ended.

Winding up on the bench in the game were John Josserrand, Norman Hill, Jeff Flippo, and Felix Soliz, while fifth starter Chris Schumacher had four fouls.

Josserrand scored 14 points before leaving the game, while Schumacher finished with 13. Hill tallied 10 with Flippo scoring eight, Soliz six, Don Hall three and Russell Clevenger two.

The Mavericks outshot Canyon from the field 23-19, but a 24-10 advantage from the free throw line gave the Eagles the win.

The Dogie frosh got 16 points and 12 rebounds from Burt Wofford as they crept past Coronado 43-35. Eddie Chavaria added 12 points to the win, while Steve Bartels failed to score, but hauled in a total of 11 rebounds.

Rounding out the Dogie scoring were Terry Blackwell, six, Derek Dirks, five, and Gary Gaitan and Gary Parman, two.

All six local clubs will participate in the Hereford Junior High Tournament, which begins at the Stanton and La Plata gyms tomorrow.

Jr. High Tourney Begins Tomorrow

Teams from Stanton and La Plata will be the co-hosts when the Hereford Junior High Boys Basketball Tournament gets underway here tomorrow at the Stanton, and La Plata gymnasiums.

In addition to the two local schools, teams from Canyon (2), Plainview Estacado, Plainview Coronado, Muleshoe, and Dimmitt will be on hand to vie for the trophies.

Play begins at 1 p.m. Thursday with the La Plata 7th grade meeting Muleshoe and the Stanton 7th graders challenging Dimmitt. The rest of the first days' schedule has Stanton 8th against Canyon

Purple and La Plata 8th against Canyon White at 2:15; Canyon 7th Purple against Plainview Coronado and Canyon 7th White against Plainview Estacado at 3:30; Dimmitt 8th against Estacado and Muleshoe 8th against Coronado at 4:45; Estacado 9th against Dimmitt and Coronado 9th against Muleshoe at 6 p.m.; and La Plata 9th against Canyon Purple and Stanton 9th against Canyon White at 7:15 p.m.

Play will begin at 10 a.m. Friday with second round games, while action will continue at 1 p.m. Saturday leading up to the title games beginning at 6 p.m.

Tech, Texas, Hogs All Picked as Bowl Losers

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) - After last season's bowl predictions, the question was what were we going to do for an encore?

Certainly you remember that this corner called the correct winners of all 11 bowl games, exclusive of the Independence Bowl.

This time, we have an additional treat in store for you. Not only are we going to take a crack at all 13 bowl games - including the Independence - but we're going to do it twice - once on a won-lost basis and also against the point spread.

The final week of the regular season, by the way, produced a 27-7-1 mark for a .750 percentage, bringing the season's count to 568-227-16 - .714.

We'll run down the bowl games in order, but to give you a sneak preview and so you don't have to jump to the end to find out our Cotton Bowl pick, it's Notre Dame over Texas.

Independence Bowl - Louisiana Tech, 7-1-2, vs. Louisville, 7-3-1, no line: Maxie Lambright's Louisiana Tech Bulldogs are a perennial power in the Southland Conference and they have a potent aerial game with Keith Thibodeaux pitching and Rod Foppe catching. Vince Gibson's Louisville Cardinals can run the ball, but Tech has one of the nation's top defense, too. Strangely enough, we're picking...Louisville 21-14.

Liberty Bowl - Nebraska, 8-3, favored by 6 over North Carolina, 8-2-1: When Oklahoma polished off Nebraska 38-7, Coach Barry Switzer crowed, "We're going to the beach (Miami), not the river (Mississippi)." Nebraska's at the river when they'd rather be at the beach. This formula's called desire...North Carolina 24-21.

Hall of Fame Classic - Maryland, 7-4, favored by 7 1/2 over Minnesota, 7-4: Minnesota's Gophers must have peaked in that 16-0 upset of Michigan because they haven't been very impressive since. The Terps' injuries should have healed by now...Maryland 24-10.

Tangerine Bowl - Texas Tech, 7-4, favored by 7 over Florida State, 8-2: This one presents a formula known as the lame duck coach. It's Steve Sloan's finale at Tech as he heads for Ole Miss. That's got to hurt the Red Raiders, no matter how fired up they are. Besides, the Tangerine Bowl's in Florida State's neighborhood...Florida State 27-17.

Fiesta Bowl - Penn State, 10-1, favored by 6 1/2 over Arizona State, 9-2: This is one of those formulas where Penn State really has nothing to gain while Arizona State is itching to knock off a big-name team like the Nittany Lions, just as it did to Nebraska two years ago. But Joe Paterno keeps saying this could be his best team ever and Joe usually says what he means. Forget the formula...Penn State 28-14.

Gator Bowl - Pitt, 8-2-1, favored by 7 over Clemson, 8-2-1: Same reason as the Fiesta Bowl. Clemson is striving for big-time recognition, but Pitt has too many guns...Pitt 35-21.

Sun Bowl - Louisiana State, 7-3, favored by 3 1/2 over Stanford, 8-3: A game of contrasts - LSU's Charles Alexander, one of the nation's top runners, against Stanford's Guy Benjamin, one of the top passers. LSU has been here before and the Tigers should know enough to keep their distance from friendly Juarez, Mexico. In a wild one...LSU 38-31.

Bluebonnet Bowl - Southern California, 7-4, favored by 4 over Texas A&M, 7-3: In John McKay's last college game, USC embarrassed A&M 20-0 in the 1975 Liberty Bowl. McKay is gone - but the Aggies haven't forgotten...Texas A&M 28-21.

Rose Bowl - Michigan, 10-1, favored by 13 1/2 over Washington, 7-4: Are you aware that Michigan hasn't won its final game since beating Ohio State 17-3 in 1966? Since then, the Wolverines have dropped three Rose Bowls, one Orange Bowl and are 0-4-1 when they closed out with regular-season wind-ups. Time for a change...Michigan 35-14.

Sugar Bowl - Alabama, 10-1, favored by 1 1/2 over Ohio State, 9-2: In combined victories, no coaching match-up in history - in a bowl or anywhere else - can match Alabama's Bear Bryant 272 vs. Ohio State's Woody Hayes 231. Even Woody has to play second fiddle to the Bear...Alabama 24-14.

Orange Bowl - Oklahoma, 10-1, favored by 13 over Arkansas, 10-1: Why the large spread between a pair of 10-1 teams? While Arkansas was struggling to beat Texas Tech 17-14 in its last game, Oklahoma was drubbing Nebraska 38-7, after bombing Colorado 52-14. After crushing Oklahoma State 61-28. Get the picture? It looks like...Oklahoma 27-17.

Cotton Bowl - Texas, 11-0, favored by 6 1/2 over Notre Dame, 10-1: If Texas wins, the Longhorns are the national champs. That would be too cut-and-dried. If Notre Dame wins, however, imagine all the fun when the final AP poll comes out. The controversy might last forever...Notre Dame 24-23.

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) - Adolph Rupp, eulogized as a man who strove for excellence in all things, was buried Tuesday as many of his former players paid a final tribute to their coach.

Rupp, who in 42 years transformed the University of Kentucky's basketball program into a national power, was buried after a brief funeral service.

Rupp, 76, died Saturday night at the UK Medical Center, where he had been hospitalized since Nov. 9. He suffered more than a year from cancer of the spine, and was also plagued by diabetes and heart and kidney ailments.

SAN DIEGO (AP) - San Diego Padres promotion director Jim Weigel has been promoted to director of minor league operations of the National League baseball club.

Weigel, after five years as promotion director, was succeeded in his old job by season ticket manager Andy Strasburg, the Padres said Tuesday.

CLEMSON, S.C. (AP) - Clemson University booster club officials say they could have sold 50,000 tickets to the Gator Bowl football game if they had been available.

But Clemson, which plays Pittsburgh in the Dec. 30 contest at Jacksonville, Fla., had only 25,000 allotted to it. "There were just not enough tickets to go around," said George Bennett, secretary of the IPTAY I Pay Thirty A Year booster club.

SANTA and the PIGWIDGEN
By LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: Claus charms the snakes with the magic harp and Tweedle-nees escapes. This leaves only the dagger but the elf accidentally sticks himself and is poisoned.

CHAPTER ELEVEN THE DOOR IN THE WALL

CLAUS HELD the dying Tweedlenees in his arms. The elf had said he would live if a stone should weep. But whoever heard of stones weeping? Claus glared around at the rocky boulders jutting out of the snow. "Weep!" shouted Claus wildly. "Weep for Tweedlenees!" But the great stones stood frozen and dry in the wind. Claus carried the elf into a nearby cave. It was cold there, too, but the stone walls cut off the wind. Claus built a fire and tried to warm the elf. He melted snow in a tin cup he carried on his belt. When the water boiled he used it to wash the small puncture in the palm of the elf's hand. Then Claus sat there staring gloomily at nothing. Presently, his eyes widened and his mouth fell open. "They're weeping!" he shouted. "The walls are weeping!" Now it could have been that the warmth of the fire and the steam from the boiling water caused moisture to form on the frozen rocks. Whatever the cause, tiny streams of water ran gently down the walls. There was no denying it; the stones were weeping!

Tweedlenees opened his eyes. He sat up. He stretched. He was well. Claus was so happy to see the elf return to life that he did not scold him for his carelessness with the dagger. But Tweedlenees was gloomy. "All our weapons are gone. How can we fight the Pigwidgen now?"

"We'll have to use our wits," said Claus. "Alas," said Tweedlenees, "that is one thing I have in short supply."

"We shall see when the time comes," said Claus. "Now let us get where we are going or neither magic nor wits will do us any good."

So on they traveled northward. Snow swirled around them. Wind whistled around their ears. Tears froze in their eyelashes. Icicles hung from their chins.

"If the Pigwidgen lives in a land of frost and never-ending snow this surely must be it," said Tweedlenees at last. Claus cried, "Look! Look!" Tweedlenees squinted through his frozen lashes. All he could see was snow, snow, snow.

"It's like a solid wall," he grumbled. "It IS a wall!" exclaimed Claus. "A solid wall 30 feet high!"

"Then we're there!" whooped Tweedlenees. "But how do we get in?" wondered Claus. "Simple," retorted the elf. "We'll climb it!"

But the wall was straight and smooth. They could not get even a finger hold. They heaped up mounds of snow but could not reach

Proxmire Gives Fleece To Treasury Department

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire Tuesday accused the Treasury Department of catering to the whims of jetset Americans living abroad in supporting what he called a $400-million-a-year tax loophole.

The Wisconsin Democrat, who presents an "award" each month to the federal agency that he thinks displays the biggest, most ridiculous or most ironic example of government waste, saved his "Fleece of the Year" prize for Treasury Department officials.

The department supports a move to delay until the 1978 tax year a change Congress originally approved in 1976 to scale down a tax break for Americans who live in foreign countries. Proxmire has stymied Senate action on the delay this year.

The old law allowed an American living abroad to avoid U.S. taxes on the first $20,000 earned each year. People living abroad for three years received a $25,000 annual exemption. About 150,000 Americans benefit from the tax break.

Congress voted in 1976 to reduce the exemption to $15,000 ($20,000 for employees of charitable organizations), but later delayed the date of the change to Jan. 1, 1978. Now the Treasury Department has asked — and the two tax-writing committees of Congress have agreed — to change the effective date to Jan. 1, 1978. That would retroactively restore the higher exemption for the current tax year.

Proxmire says his opposition drew a strong response. "When it was learned I was blocking this end run for the rest of the year, I was besieged by top officials of this and previous administrations, by an intense mail campaign and by expert lobbyists all indicted to continue this gross injustice," Proxmire said. "It was a perfect object lesson in why tax reform gets clobbered."

Treasury officials had no comment on Proxmire's statement.

Proxmire said the tax break makes absolutely no sense because 90 percent of the benefits go to persons earning more than $30,000 a year.

In seeking another one year of life for the full tax break, Treasury officials "have succumbed to the moans from the milk-swathed Americans abroad who now pay no or few taxes but will have to begin paying taxes of course they moan, and to the arguments that the provision both creates jobs and stimulates business abroad," Proxmire said.

The Cheapest Oil We Can Buy...Our Own

Let's get something straight: We are paying $14.60 a barrel for imported oil. We are paying only $5.20 a barrel for much of the oil produced in the United States. Yet the President's wrath and some public resentment has been misdirected at American oil producers. The cheapest oil we can buy is our own!

In an unbecoming tirade against our nation's petroleum industry President Carter alleged "ripoffs" and "profiteering."

To some he sold the notion that the U.S. petroleum industry is comprised mostly of thieves trying to steal from the public. In subsequent statements he has moderated this indictment somewhat. Now he uses the word "windfalls" instead of "ripoffs." Now he says "a few profiteers" seek special favors.

But the inference is inescapable that American oil men are trying to take advantage of Americans.

In the first place, all major American oil companies are owned—not by a handful of mercenaries—but by hundreds of thousands of American stockholders.

In the past 10 years the petroleum industry paid government in taxes five times more than they paid their stockholders in dividends.

Further, one typical oil company, Conoco, has had to borrow more money over the past 10 years than it got back in net income—such are the higher costs of drilling deeper where the next oil supply is.

For 54 years the petroleum industry has been the powerhouse of our nation's economy—and the price you pay for groceries has tripled while the cost of gas has only doubled.

In 10 years the costs of drilling for and processing and transporting oil have increased almost three times as much as the price of a gallon of gas has increased. The oil companies' investors have absorbed that increased cost.

industries must raise prices. A generation ago it was the railroads which were the primary target for tub-thumping politicians. Rail service was un dependable and erratic, they protested. "Ticket prices were too high," they protested. So they succeeded in squeezing the railroads to death between high costs and low fares. And what irony for government to allege "ripoffs" and "profiteering" when the price of a gallon of gas has increased only 90 percent in 17 years. While the price of a postage stamp has increased 330 percent.

Cubans Agree To Free Emick

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cuban government has agreed to release Frank Emick, an American imprisoned since 1963 on charges of being a CIA official, according to two congressmen who visited Cuba last week.

Reps. Frederick W. Richmond, D-N.Y., and Richard Nolan, D-Minn., said they were informed of the decision Tuesday by the State Department and American diplomats in Havana.

The message from the Cuban government also said that two previously released American prisoners, Carmen Ruiz and Gilberto Simon Porrazo, would now be allowed to leave Cuba. Though freed from jail last summer, they had been detained in the country.

The Cubans also will release Ruiz' husband, Haskell Markowsky, a Polish national who had one more year remaining on his unrelated sentence, the congressmen said.

Emick, 63, is in failing health and has suffered two heart attacks while in Cuban jails, the congressmen said. They visited him at the Combinado del Est prison on Dec. 5, and reported he had to take nitroglycerol tablets frequently.

The congressmen appealed to President Fidel Castro to release Emick and all four other American political prisoners in Cuba. Castro, the target of several assassination attempts allegedly linked to the CIA, replied that "it's not easy for promised to consider it. Ruiz and Porrazo were released from jail last summer, and Castro promised the two congressmen that they would be free to leave the country as well. Emick has been in Cuba since 1959, when he went, by his account, to run a seafood import-export business. The Castro government had charged him with espionage and with being the CIA chief in Cuba, which Emick denied.

He was originally sentenced to 30 years in prison, then had another 20 years added on for smuggling a letter out of jail to then-CIA Director Richard Helms in 1973. Emick acknowledged he had sent the letter.

Emick has a wife and two children living in Toledo, Ohio.

...And the Poor Have Children

The population of the less-developed world rose twice as fast as that of the developed countries between 1950 and 1975. The Conference Board notes. Nations with centrally planned economies fell midway between. By 2000, less-developed countries will account for more than 59 percent of the world's people, up from 40 percent in 1950 and 50 percent in 1975. Developed nations' share of population will be 13 percent at the end of the century, compared with 20 percent in 1950 and 17 percent in 1975.

Maravich, Robinson Lead Jazz By Lakers

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Lakers, their ranks thinned by trade and suspension, were no match for the New Orleans Jazz, who let Pete Maravich and Truck Robinson do the things they do best and sent a big Superdome crowd home happy.

Maravich, the defending National Basketball Association scoring champion, tossed in 40 points and Robinson, the league's leading rebounder, grabbed 26 rebounds to lead the Jazz to a 117-94 victory over the Los Angeles Lakers Tuesday night before a crowd of 31,119, the second-largest in NBA history.

When Philadelphia came to New Orleans last month, that game drew 35,077 - but the Jazz lost.

"It's always great to win, but especially so at home with this big crowd," said Jazz Coach Elgin Baylor.

The Lakers had to fly in a sick player, Jamaal Wilkes, to muster the eight-man squad required by the league. Los Angeles was down to seven men after the suspension of Kermit Washington and the trade which sent James Edwards and Earl Tatum to Indiana. The two men obtained in the trade, Adrian Dantley and Dave Robisch, had not yet reported.

Three other Lakers, Kenny Carr, Brad Davis and Don Chaney, are on the injured list. All eight NBA games played Tuesday night were won by the home teams. In addition to New Orleans' victory, the Milwaukee Bucks beat the Philadelphia 76ers 129-117, the New York

Knicks edged the Atlanta Hawks 107-106, the Chicago Bulls defeated the Denver Nuggets 99-96, the Portland Trail Blazers topped the Buffalo Braves 111-108, the Boston Celtics beat the New Jersey Nets 122-108, the Cleveland Cavaliers stopped the Seattle SuperSonics 116-104 and the Washington Bullets trimmed the Golden State Warriors 102-96.

Bucks 129, 76ers 117
Rookie Marques Johnson scored 29 points and Brian Winters added 27 as the Bucks built a 19-point lead in the third period and held on.

Knicks 107, Hawks 106
Lonnie Shelton's jumper from the foul line at the buzzer sent the hawks to their fifth straight loss and capped a wild finish which saw the lead change hands four times in the final 14 seconds.

Blazers 111, Braves 106
Portland posted its 31st consecutive home-court victory - including last season's playoffs

- before its 27th straight sell-out crowd.

Bulls 99, Nuggets 96
Artis Gilmore scored five points in the final 1:47 as Chicago snapped Denver's five-game winning streak and moved within one game of the first-place Nuggets in the Midwest Division.

Celtics 122, Nets 108
Dave Cowens and Charlie Scott scored 23 points each and Jo Jo White added 21 as the Celtics stopped the Nets' two-game winning streak.

Bullets 102, Warriors 96
Phil Chenier took over for the injured Kevin Grevey in the first quarter and scored 25 points to lead the Bullets to their 12th victory in the last 15 games.

Cavaliers 116, Sonics 104
Lenny Wilkes suffered his first loss after six victories since he took over as coach of the Sonics from Bob Hopkins. Campy Russell scored 30 points for Cleveland and Jim Chones had 20 points and 14 assists.

Seattle Still Satisfied Despite Dorsett Success

By TONY BAKER
AP Sports Writer

SEATTLE (AP) - Never mind that Tony Dorsett is a shoo-in to rush for 1,000 yards this season for the playoff-bound Dallas Cowboys.

If the Seattle Seahawks next year could swing a deal similar to the one they pulled off last May - in which they peddled the rights to Dorsett to Dallas for four top draft choices - they would, no questions asked.

In fact, John Thompson, the Seahawks' general manager, said Tuesday, "The trade looks better today than the day we made it."

one of the club's top receivers all season.

Thompson says the trade has enabled Seattle to develop ahead of schedule.

"We feel the same way we did on draft day. We felt we had two drafts in one because of that trade," Thompson said.

"We've had a number of young people play our skill positions, all three quarterbacks, three of our wide receivers and all of our running backs, with the exception of Ed Marinaro, are first- or second year players."

It would be unrealistic, Thompson believes, to predict how Dorsett would have done this season running behind Seattle's line.

"Number one, with all due respect, our line has done a heck of a job this season," Thompson said. "Dallas has far more tools at this stage than the Seahawks do. It would be unreasonable to say he would have as big a year as he is having now with Dallas."

"That doesn't mean he wouldn't look good in a blue and green uniform, because he would. He's quite a football player."

One who is tired of hearing about the Dorsett trade is August.

"It's frustrating because I haven't been able to prove myself," said August, whose playing time has been limited to the special teams.

The tag "the one they got in stead of Tony Dorsett" is wearing thin on him, August says.

"A lot of people look at it like it was just me for him," August said.

Before the season, Thompson said, no one in the Seahawks' front office expected the club to be in a position to win five games in 1977. Seattle could become the first expansion team to win five games in its second season if it beats Cleveland in the Kingdome Sunday.

"We hoped we could do that well, but we didn't expect to win five games, particularly when we lost August and Steve Niehaus and the fact we moved into the very tough AFC this year," Thompson said. "It's a pleasant surprise being where we are right now."

Neihaus, the big defensive tackle, who was Seattle's No. 1 draft pick in 1976, has played only sparingly the latter half of this season following shoulder surgery in the offseason.

Seattle will stick with its philosophy of selecting "the best player available" in future drafts, Thompson said.

"It has not only worked well for ourselves, it has worked for the teams on the top," Thompson said of the draft policy. "Virtually every winning organization has that philosophy."

"Obviously, if we had two players rated close or equal, we know where we need the most help. We're a long ways from being solid. You can't be solid until your deep. Otherwise, you don't have competition at the positions. The good teams always have somebody to step in behind."

Landry Mum On Foe Preference

DALLAS (AP) - Tom Landry is refusing to play the "who-likes-in-the-playoffs-game."

Either Chicago or Minnesota will meet the Dallas Cowboys in the first round of the National Conference playoffs Dec. 26 in Texas Stadium.

A writer slipped Landry - still groggy on only two hours sleep after a wild 42-35 victory over San Francisco Monday night - a sneak question at the Cowboy coach's weekly press conference Tuesday.

"Would you prefer Chicago or Minnesota?" Landry was asked.

Landry laughed off the question and then proceeded to list reasons why either team would provide formidable opposition.

"I do know that Walter Payton is a problem," said Landry of Chicago's record-smashing runner. "He doesn't look like he's doing anything and he's got 100 yards. He lets you know he is in town."

"Minnesota has all that playoff experience and the Vikes can beat you on any given day. Tommy Kramer may be a rookie quarterback but he can get hot."

Landry was amazed at the high-scoring aspects of the 49er-Cowboy national Television just

Pacers' Dantley Traded to Lakers

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - Coach Bobby Leonard, another blockbuster trade under his belt, is rapidly becoming the premier wheeler-dealer in the National Basketball Association.

For the third time since last summer, the Indiana Pacers have shuffled off their proven stars in hopes of winning a few more games. This time, it's high-scoring forward Adrian Dantley.

"Everything in this business a lot of times is a gamble, but we feel like it's a pretty good gamble," said Leonard, whose Pacers finished fifth in the six-team Midwest Division last season. Over the summer, he dealt away All-Star forward Billy Knight, the NBA's No. 2 scorer, and All-Star guard Don Buse, who led the league in assists and steals.

Then on Tuesday, lodged in fourth place seven games behind division-leading Denver, the Pacers sent Dantley, last year's NBA Rookie of the year, to the Los Angeles Lakers. Dantley obtained from Buffalo in the Knight trade, is the third-leading scorer in the league this season with a 26.5-point average.

In return, the Pacers got 7-foot-1 rookie James Edwards, flashy guard Earl Tatum and an undisclosed amount of cash. The Lakers also obtained reserve center Dave Robisch, a six-year veteran, in the deal.

Dantley fills an unexpected void for Los Angeles, which lost forward Kermit Washington for at least 60 days when he was suspended and fined $10,000 for slugging Houston's Rudy Tomjanovich.

Of the four players obtained in the deal, Beeson has developed the quickest.

"Terry has come on strong," Thompson said of the Seahawks' starting middle linebacker. "He's a very serious contender for rookie of the year on defense, and it looks like he's going to be around for a long, long time."

On the other hand, August has spent most of the season on the bench recovering from an ankle injury suffered last summer before the starting of training camp. Lynch, who missed all but the final week of training camp because of a contract dispute, won a starting job in the offensive line two weeks ago. Ferguson has been
