Garn blasts off

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Space shuttle Discovery thundered into orbit today, carrying Sen. Jake Garn among its seven-member crew on a much-delayed mission that blasted off with just 55 seconds to spare.

The space plane vaulted off its launch pad at 8:59 a.m. EST, spewing an awesome 700-foot tail of fire as it climbed swiftly out over the Atlantic Ocean and then disappeared from view into a heavy cloud layer. Nine minutes later, Mission Control reported Discovery was in a secure orbit, 281 miles up and circling the globe at more than 17,400 mph.

First senator to go

While the shuttle was accelerating toward orbit, the commander reported a caution and warning light on the cabin pressure. Mission Control checked its readings on the ground and told him it was a false alarm.

The mission, the first of two shuttle flights this month, got off the ground after five postponements caused by a number of problems — and after a 55-minute delay caused by cloudiness and by a cargo ship in the area where the booster rockets fall.

If it had not blasted off by 9 a.m., it would have been postponed again. The launch time was based on requirements for putting two communications satellites into precise orbit.

"We did it with 55 seconds to space, which seems like we were playing brinkmanship," said shuttle operations manager Tom Utman. "The only thing we were doing was letting our decision process run as long as time would allow."

The mission, which also includes (See GARN, Page 2)

Unocal sues Pickens' group

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An antitrust suit has been filed by Unocal Corp. against a group led by Oilman T. Boone Pickens that is attempting to takeover Unocal.

The suit alleges that their attempts to restructure the oil industry are decreasing competition in oil and gas exploration.

The suit was filed in U.S. District Court in Lafayette, La., and was announced by Los Angeles-based Unocal, the nation's 13th largest oil company and the parent of Union Oil Co. of California.

The suit was the third stemming from the takeover battle. Two of those have been filed by Unocal, and one by Mesa Petroleum Co. of Amarillo, Texas, of which Pickens is chairman.

The latest suit names Mesa

Petroleum and others in addition to Pickens.

Mesa Petroleum spokesman Warren Vieth in Amarillo, Texas said the company had not seen the suit and had no immediate comment.

A Pickens-led investor group already owns 13.6 percent of Unocal's 173.9 million shares and has offered $54 per share, or $3.46 billion, to boost its stake to 50.1 percent.

The Pickens group has also said that, if successful in the initial offer, it will seek to buy the remainder of Unocal's stock for cash and debt securities worth $54 per share.

In composite New York Stock Exchange trading Thursday, Unocal was up $1 to close at $47.75 a share.

The latest court action alleges that Pickens' efforts to take over or restructure other oil companies actually constitute a conspiracy to restrain trade by so burdening targets with debt that they are less able to compete for oil and gas exploration properties.

The suit cites Pickens' takeover forays in recent years against Cities Service Co., Superior Oil Co., Gulf Corp. and Phillips Petroleum Co.

New hospital board members sworn in Newly-elected board members were sworn in during Thursday's special meeting of the Deaf Smith General Hospital District Board.

Drs. Hap Cavness and Gerald Payne and the Rev. Charles Threewit were administered the oath of office by Deaf Smith County Judge Glen Nelson, after the board canvassed and approved the election results.

Longtime board president Frank Zinser was again elected to that office, with Hap Cavness chosen as vice president and Marjorie Ford named secretary-treasurer.

The board unanimously approved the current method of appointing rather than electing members to board committees, and Zinser said those appointments would be formally announced at a future meeting. The board's finance committee is the only one currently functioning.

Hospital Administrator James Bullard distributed copies of a contract currently being negotiated with Affiliated Pathologists, a corporation that would provide Hereford with a fulltime pathologist. A doctor from California is interested in the position, Bullard said. The board should act on the contract in the near future.

The next regular meeting is Tuesday at noon in the hospital's conference room.

Wholesale prices rise moderately

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale prices rose a moderate 0.2 percent last month, the steepest increase of 1985, the government said today. Over the last year, however, prices have been up 0.3 percent, the smallest 12-month inflation rate in 20 years.

In March, a hedge-podge of increases more than wiped out cheaper prices for gasoline and food, which was down overall despite a 16.7 percent gain in vegetable prices.

The March rise followed a 0.1 percent decline in February. Prices had held steady in January.

For the first three months of the year, prices were up just 0.3 percent, at an annual rate. Indeed, that rate held true for the last year as a whole and was the lowest since a 0.1 percent rate for the 12 months ending in January 1985.

The 0.8 percent gasoline price decline was the product of the Labor Department's seasonal adjustment process, designed to remove predictable, periodic influences from price activity. Without the adjustment, prices at the pump actually rose 1.7 percent.

Analysts, however, expect pump prices to begin falling before long as pressure builds from the worldwide oil glut.

Indeed, many analysts predict inflation for all of 1985 could be as low as 2 percent, only a slight deterioration from the 1.8 percent gain recorded in 1984.

As for March, the department offered these specifics on price activity:

—Food prices overall fell 0.2 percent, the third monthly decline. The drop came despite the big rise in vegetable prices, which was almost four times the 4.6 percent gain of the preceding month.

Prices were also up, but at more modest levels, for eggs and pork while costs fell for fruit, down 8.3 percent, for beef and veal, for fish and for poultry. The drop in fruit prices almost erased the 9.1 percent February gain.

—Energy prices overall fell 0.9 percent, the fourth straight monthly decline. Natural gas prices were off 2.5 percent but home heating oil costs rose 0.6 percent.

Heating oil costs are now 15.9 percent below their levels of a year ago while gasoline prices are off 9 percent.

The energy price calculations reported today were actually for February. That component of the wholesale measure lags a month because energy companies report their prices too late for inclusion in the most recent index.

Local Roundup

Funds established for child

Funds have been established at both Hereford banks to help provide educational expenses for Jason Colston, nine-year-old son of the late Terry Colston who died early Thursday morning in an automobile accident near Dimmitt.

Colston was an investigator with the Deaf Smith County district attorney's office. His son lives in Grady, N.M.

Donations can be taken to either the First National Bank or the Hereford State Bank.

Arrests made in beer theft

Hereford police made three arrests Thursday, charging two juveniles and one adult with the theft of two cases of beer from a delivery truck parked at a local convenience store. The arrests apparently cleared up other similar thefts.

Police also investigated the thefts of car stereo equipment and a flute from Hereford High school.

A suspicious person was reported in the 100 block of Hickory, and a prowler was seen in the 600 block of South Texas.

Heavy coastal rains empty homes

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) — Heavy rains chased hundreds of people from their homes in southeast Texas but also left Corpus Christi the kinder gift of a full reservoir heading into the sizzling Texas summer.

Officials expect the runoff from Wednesday's rain to fill Lake Corpus Christi to the brim by the weekend. In fact, the spring gates will be opened for the first time in three years.

Six months ago, the lake was 35 percent full and communities along the Coastal Bend were forced into water rationing.

National Weather Service meteorologist John Leathers said Sinton received 9.20 inches of rain in the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. Thursday. Odem received 5.50 inches in the same period.

The heaviest rain fell at Padre Island National Seashore, south of Corpus Christi, where rainfall was measured at 11 inches before the rain gauge overflowed, park officials said.

As showers gave way to sunshine Thursday afternoon, homeowners returned to homes flooded by rising waters dumped by the slow-moving storm. Over 500 homes were flooded in Sinton, St. Paul, Odem, Calallen and Edroy, according to Art Roberts, disaster chairman for the Coastal Bend Red Cross.

Officials at Corpus Christi and Alice reported high water, but said there were no evacuations.

Only one shelter remained open Thursday night in Sinton, where about 250 spent Wednesday night after being chased from their homes by high water, officials said.

Justice attorney's intervention delays discrimination suit

Intervention from a U.S. Department of Justice attorney has caused a delay in the final settlement of a discrimination suit against Deaf Smith County.

Attorneys for the county and the Texas Department of Public Safety went before U.S. District Judge Mary Lou Robinson last week, hoping to gain her final approval of their settlement of a lawsuit filed in 1979 by Pedro Cervantez and Juan Lozano. The two claim they were illegally questioned and detained by DPS officers who suspected them of being illegal aliens. Deaf Smith County was named as defendant because Cervantez was held for several days in the county's jail.

Hereford attorney Jerry Smith and attorney Charles White of Plainview, appearing on behalf of the county, learned that Morris H. Deutsch, representing the Justice Department's Civil Division, specifically the Office of Immigration Litigation, had two objections to the proposed settlements.

Deutsch appeared as a "friend of the court", Smith explained, claiming that Deaf Smith County did not have the authority to agree to read a Miranda warning to suspected aliens, and that the county could not refrain from notifying the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) for suspected violations of INS regulations as it agreed to do in the settlement.

Also appearing last week were two lawyers from the State Attorney General's Office, which represents the DPS; a representative of the U.S. Attorney General's Office on behalf of the INS, and Edward Tuddenham of Texas Rural Legal Aid which represents the plaintiffs.

A settlement was first proposed to Judge Robinson last June by attorneys for DPS and the county.

Robinson tentatively approved those terms, but ruled that the proposal should be published by Spanish-language newspapers and radio stations and that members of the class Cervantez represents then be given 90 days to file any objections to the proposal.

The class has been defined as "all persons of Hispanic descent who have been or will be questioned, arrested, detained, incarcerated or charged by DPS personnel for alleged violations of the immigration laws or for investigation of their immigration status."

Under terms of the proposed settlement, Deaf Smith County and former sheriff Travis McPherson would pay up to $11,000 to any member of the class who has been detained in the county since Dec. 12, 1977, for being a suspected illegal alien. Those who qualify as offended class members could receive $500 per day for each day they were held in jail.

Cervantez is to receive $1,500 from the county and $500 from McPherson.

The former sheriff has insurance coverage that will take care of the claims against him. The county was not protected at the time but has since taken out a liability insurance policy.

If the $11,000 set aside for claims is all awarded, McPherson will pay the first $2,750 and the county will be required to come up with the remaining $8,250.

McPherson and the county would also share attorneys fees of $17,000 and attorney's costs and expenses amounting to $2,700.

The injunctive relief agreed to by the county prohibits sheriff's office personnel from stopping, detaining, or incarcerating any person of Hispanic origin for the purpose of investigating his place of birth, nationality, national origin or immigration status.

In short, local law enforcement officers will not be authorized to enforce any civil or misdemeanor violations of INS policies.

The DPS, if its settlement if accepted, would agree to that same injunction. In addition, DPS would pay $8,000 in damages to Cervantez, $2,000 to Lozano and $1,000 to class members who prove they were subjected to improper immigration enforcement by DPS officers. The DPS established a maximum fund of $40,000 for compensating class members with claims.

"Based on the justice department's objection," Smith said, "the court will have to decide if the settlement can be approved." Smith thought that decision would come quickly.

The INS, although listed as a defendant, is immune from civil penalty by the court. Smith said TRLA has appealed the court's decision not to assess TRLA attorneys fees against the INS.

Smith said he believed the county had a good chance of winning the case had it been tried in court, but after five years it was becoming too expensive for the county to continue battling. He said the fact that DPS settled out of court with the plaintiffs made it difficult for the county to continue as the sole defendant.

"If this case were not disposed of on these terms, and instead litigated on the merits," Smith explained, "it would be a minimum $250,000 in expenses."

Tuddenham said today the judge will have the option of either agreeing to the settlement as proposed, or modifying it to satisfy Deutsch's objections. Tuddenham also felt the judge would announce her decision soon.

Gov. Mark White signs bill

AUSTIN (AP) — A law regulating sexually-oriented business locations by cities and counties was signed by Gov. Mark White. Cities and counties have only been able to regulate sexually-oriented businesses that held alcoholic beverage licenses. Current state law prohibits business with such licenses from locating within 300 feet of public schools, churches or hospitals. The bill regulating the businesses was introduced by Sen. Don Henderson, R-Houston. White also signed into law a bill that creates the Silver-Haired Legislature of Texas. The ceremonial body will be composed of Texans over age 60. The members will be elected by their peers and develop legislation pertaining to older citizens. Those ideas will be sent to the regular Legislature for consideration.

Task force leads property seizures

HOUSTON (AP) — Federal drug task forces last year seized more property and cash from drug trafficking in the Gulf Coast area than in any other part of the country, according to a federal report. The Gulf Coast Region Drug Task Force seized $29.2 million worth of cash, real estate and other property that were the proceeds of drug traffickers, the report said. U.S. Attorney Edwin Meese sent the report this week to President Reagan, who in 1982 established the task forces to prosecute large drug-trafficking and organized crime groups. Total task force seizures across the nation totaled $157.6 million in 1984. Charles Lewis, coordinator of the Gulf Coast agency, said the task force concentrated on seizures as part of its drug investigations. "We're directed not just to prosecute the defendants, but to seize their assets," Lewis said. The Gulf Coast task force, which investigates cases in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi, seized $9 million in cash and $20 million in property, the report said. The local agency's total seizures were followed by the Los Angeles-Nevada force, which confiscated $20.9 million in cash and $1.9 million in property. The New York-New Jersey task force netted the second-highest property seizure, valued at $12.8 million, according to the report. The task force's largest seizure was a ranch near Denton valued at almost $11 million. In addition, the agency seized $6.8 million from two Houston bank accounts, a $400,000 Lake Houston home and a 33-acre tract of Montgomery County land used as a drug manufacturing site.

Six golfers break par Thursday

RANCHO SANTA FE, Calif. (AP) — While Beth Daniel and Pat Bradley fired 2-under-par 70s to share the lead, most of those who battled the Fairbanks Ranch Country Club course weren't as fortunate in the Kyocera Inamori golf tournament. Only six of the 139 golfers broke par Thursday in the first round of the Ladies Professional Golf Association tournament on the 6,326-yard course, site of the 1984 Olympic equestrian competition. Meanwhile, the tournament lost one of its top attractions when two-time defending champion Patty Sheehan withdrew because of illness. Sheehan, a top-10 finisher seven times this year, and fellow golfer Lauren Howe, ate dinner together Wednesday night at a nearby restaurant. Both ordered the same menu item and later came down with food poisoning. Howe, who also withdrew from the tournament, last played in fall 1983. Amy Alcott, who won in 1980, carded a 71, along with Pat Meyers, Lynn Stroney and Barbara Barrow.

Space fans can listen in for a fee

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — For a fee, space fans can listen in on the flight of Discovery from before liftoff to touchdown on their telephone. For their investment, listeners will hear conversations between space shuttle and mission control, summaries of mission activities, and upcoming events and possible opportunities around the globe for shuttle sightings. The latter two services are new for the 16th shuttle flight. There is programming to fill the time when there are no space-to-ground conversations, including NASA press briefings and taped interviews with crew members. As on past flights, the service is provided by the National Space Institute, which calls itself a public interest group supporting the space program. Fifteen announcers assist in carrying the program around the clock. The number is 900-410-6272. Listeners in the United States will be charged 50 cents for the first minute and 35 cents for each minute thereafter. Overseas callers will pay international rates.

State health director fired

CHICAGO (AP) — The Illinois public health director has been fired for vacationing in Mexico even as subordinates were telling the governor that he was holding daily staff meetings on a salmonella outbreak that has killed three people, the governor's press aide said. The milk-borne disease has sickened nearly 3,000 people in five states in the second-largest recorded outbreak in U.S. history, and caused the Chicago area's largest grocery chain to close its dairy operation for a thorough inspection in an attempt to find the cause of the outbreak. Thomas Kirkpatrick "saw fit to leave his responsibilities as director of the Department of Public Health at a time when he should have been at his desk," Gov. James Thompson said Thursday in a statement.

Dotson on way back to prison

MARKHAM, Ill. (AP) — Cathleen Crowell Webb screamed "He's innocent ... He's innocent" after a judge, saying he did not believe that she fabricated a 1979 rape charge, refused to free the man who was convicted and spent six years in prison. Gary Dotson, 28, still faces the balance of a 25- to 50-year sentence after Circuit Judge Richard Samuels ruled Thursday that Dotson "failed to sustain his burden (of proof) and I cannot find that perjury was committed." "I've told the truth!" said Mrs. Webb, whose testimony sent Dotson to prison, as she was led from the courthouse Thursday supported by her husband and attorney John McLario. "I lied in 1979 and I'm telling the truth now," she continued, speaking through tears, pale and visibly shaken. Mrs. Webb, 23, testified last week she was never raped on July 9, 1977. She said she made up the story when she was 16 because she feared she was pregnant and wanted to prevent her foster parents from learning she had had sex with a boyfriend.

experiments that could produce life-saving drugs, came on the fourth anniversary of the first shuttle flight, on April 12, 1981.

The space agency hopes the flight will kick off its long-sought goal of launching shuttles at a rate of one a month. The schedule earlier this year was scrambled by this mission's problems, and the last mission lifted off on Jan. 27.

Eight more flights are scheduled this year, with Challenger set to take off in just 17 days, on April 29. There are 15 flights planned in 1986 and 17 in 1987.

Among the thousands viewing Discovery's blazing departure were more than 100 people from Utah, Garn's home state.

Garn's wife, Kathleen, who watched with six of Garn's seven children, said: "It was frightening. Even though I had seen it on TV, I didn't realize there was going to be quite so much fire. And I expected it to go faster. I thought, 'Oh, my gosh, it's going to stall out.' The kids screamed, I cried."

Son Matthew, 5, described the launch as "awesome."

As the shuttle raced into space, Garn's bodily functions were monitored by five sensors on his head, four on his stomach and three on his chest, part of an effort to learn more about how the human body adapts to weightlessness.

The other crew members are commander Karol Bobko; pilot Donald E. Williams; mission specialists Margaret Rhea Seddon, David Griggs and Jeffrey Hoffman; and payload specialist Charles Walker, who almost was bumped from the flight Thursday when his drug-making machine sprang a leak.

Pickens efforts resulted in the companies either restructuring themselves and assuming huge debts or being taken over by other companies that substantially increased their indebtedness.

A court injunction blocking Pickens from continuing efforts to restructure the industry is sought in the suit.

PRICES

—New car prices were up 0.3 percent, the smallest rise this year. Light truck prices rose 1.4 percent. —Capital equipment costs gained 0.4 percent.

The overall rise was also propelled by price gains of 1.1 percent for newspapers, 1 percent for automobile tires, 0.6 percent for furniture and 0.5 percent for women's and children's clothing.

If last month's 0.2 percent increase held steady for 12 straight months, the yearly advance would be 2.5 percent. The annual rate reported by the department is based on a more precise calculation of monthly prices than the March figure made public.

like rivers as displaced families pulled boatloads of possessions.

But the only life lost was a 66-year-old Sinton man, Melvin Lee. He died after suffering a heart attack while trying to move his recreational trailer out of a flooded park, said Sinton Mayor Rosalie Brown.

Mayor Brown said the sun came out Thursday afternoon and the water was gone from most areas by late afternoon. Only one street remained covered with water late Thursday in Sinton, where water was five feet deep on some streets at the height of the flooding, she said.

"We got flooded with about 8 inches inside," Socorro Narvarez of Sinton told the Corpus Christi Caller-Times. "We had to get in the car and spend the night behind the (gas) station."

While some went back to damaged houses, the city of Corpus Christi saw rains dump a two- to three-month supply of water in 24 hours, said Jim Riley, Corpus Christi water supply superintendent.

"If you look at just the last six months, we've stored over two years' worth of water," Riley said.

The storm, triggered by an upper-air disturbance, moved into the Coastal Bend area of South Texas Wednesday afternoon and by 7 a.m. Thursday had dropped more than 11 inches of rain in some areas.

Red Cross official Roberts said about 300 homes in Sinton were flooded and 75 to 80 residences were deluged in Odem. Seven families had to evacuate in Ingleside.

"Things seem so identical to last October," said Jim Tait, chapter manager of the Red Cross in Corpus Christi who was in San Patricio might be looked at again. "There is no active reconsideration of it at present. But that's not to say there won't be," said one White House official, speaking privately. "We may or we may not" review it.

White House deputy press secretary Larry Speakes announced Thursday that Reagan will join West German Chancellor Helmut Kohl on May 5 in visiting the cemetery at Bitburg, a German staging area for the Battle of the Bulge. Plans call for a wreath-laying ceremony, a religious service, and a joint U.S.-German military ceremony.

The visit is planned as part of Reagan's 11-day trip to Europe, beginning May 1.

Jewish groups, already disappointed that Reagan would not visit a concentration camp, protested the president's planned stop at a German cemetery.

"We are saddened," said Phil Baum of the American Jewish Congress, "that the president of the United States should decide against commemorating those European Jewish communities destroyed in concentration camps and decide instead to pay homage to the very soldiers who fought a war in defense of a regime that engineered their destruction and indeed who killed thousands of American young men."

B'nai B'rith International, a Jewish service organization, said it hoped he would reconsider.

"President Reagan was reluctant to visit the site of the Dachau concentration camp for fear of reopening old wounds — a decision we take strong issue with," said Daniel Thursz, executive vice president of the organization.

"His willingness now to visit a German military cemetery shocks us precisely because it reopens old wounds — and in a way that will stir the bitterest resentment not just among Jews, but among former American soldiers, the soldiers of our allies, and the families of all the victims who fell to Nazi Germany's madness," Thursz said.

Announcing Reagan's decision, Speakes said "The rationale is that ... he is there in a spirit of reconciliation, in a spirit of 40 years of peace, in a spirit of economic and military compatibility of the European community together with its specific allies."

In opting not to visit a concentration camp, Reagan said his European visit, on the 40th anniversary of the end of World War II, should not be a time for "reawakening the memories and ... the passions" of those times.

At a news conference last month, Reagan said Germans "should be recognized for the democracy that they've created and the democratic principles they now espouse." He said few Germans alive remember the war and that Germans "have a guilt feeling that's been imposed upon them and I just think it's unnecessary."

Baum, associate executive director of the Jewish group and based in New York, said Reagan should "lead the world in confronting the evil of those days."

Doctor retains membership

Dr. D.E. McBrayer of Hereford has completed continuing education requirements to retain active membership in the American Academy of Family Physicians, the national association of family doctors. The Academy formerly was called the American Academy of General Practice.

The requirements call for members to complete a minimum of 150 hours of accredited continuing medical study every three years. The Academy was the first national medical group to require members to keep up with medical progress through continuing education. Because of their broad training, family physicians have the "know how" to treat approximately 90 percent of all human illnesses.

Bad pitch costs Pirates game, Dodgers beat Astros, Mets win

By The Associated Press

Steve Trout made one bad throw, and it cost him a run, but Jose DeLeon's one bad pitch cost him the game.

With two runners aboard in the fourth inning, DeLeon threw a pitch to Chicago's Ron Cey that wandered across the middle of the plate. Cey deposited the ball into the left-field seats to send the Cubs to a 4-1 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Trout, meanwhile, limited the Pirates to three hits in tossing a complete game. His only bad toss was directed toward first base, and the resulting errant toss set up Pittsburgh's only run.

In other National League action, Mike Marshall's two-run homer capped a three-run Dodger uprising in the eighth inning and Los Angeles held on for a 4-3 victory over the Houston Astros at the Astrodome.

In New York, Danny Heep drew a bases-loaded walk in the bottom of the 11th inning to give the Mets a 2-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

In Philadelphia, Dale Murphy drove in three runs and scored twice to pace the Atlanta Braves to a 6-3 triumph over the Phillies, who have lost 11 consecutive games over two seasons.

Dodgers 4, Astros 3

The Dodgers, who dropped behind 3-0 in the early going, got to Houston starter Bob Knepper for a run in the sixth before erupting in the eighth against reliever Bill Dawley.

Mariano Duncan walked with two outs in the eighth and scored when Ken Landreaux doubled to right. Marshall, who had struck out five times in three games, followed with his first homer of the season.

Carlos Diaz gave up one hit over three innings to pick up the victory in relief of starter Orel Hershiser. Ken Howell pitched the final two innings for the save.

Mets 2, Cardinals 1

New York, forced into extra innings for the second time in as many games, again won at the expense of ex-Met Neil Allen. After Keith Her-andez singled to open the 11th, Allen came on to face Gary Carter, who won Tuesday's 10-inning affair by belting an Allen pitch into the St. Louis bullpen. On Thursday, Carter singled off the glove of third baseman Art Howe and, when the ball skittered into foul territory, Hernandez chugged into third.

George Foster was walked intentionally to load the bases before Heep was walked on a 3-1 pitch.

The New York comeback ruined a fine outing by St. Louis starter John Tudor, who scattered three hits over nine innings. The only run he allowed was tainted by two errors.

Mets starter Ron Darling spaced four St. Louis hits over seven innings, but the victory went to Roger McDowell, who retired three batters in the top of the 11th in his first major league appearance.

Braves 6, Phillies 3

In addition to Murphy's hitting, Atlanta got a boost from rookie reliever Zane Smith. The left-hander pitched out of a bases-loaded, one-out situation in the fourth inning by getting Jeff Stone to ground into a double play and then pitched three more innings in gaining his first victory. Bruce Sutter earned his first save.

Murphy singled in a run in the first, singled and scored in Atlanta's three-run third, and tagged a two-run homer in the ninth.

John Denny took the loss for Philadelphia.

AL Roundup

Seattle belts 7 homers

By BEN WALKER

AP Sports Writer

Seattle's Gorman Thomas knows how it feels to be down. So he wasn't about to show up the Oakland A's, even if it meant passing up a chance to tie a hallowed major-league record.

Thomas, a veteran slugger who hit just one home run in 1984 while missing most of the season with a torn rotator cuff, had already blasted three home runs, including a grand slam, when he came to the plate in the seventh inning Thursday night with the Mariners leading 13-6.

And, in his final at-bat with a chance to tie the major-league record of four homers in a game, Thomas walked on a 3-2 pitch.

"I would have liked to hit four home runs, but there is no way I was going to swing at a 3-0 pitch or even a 3-1 pitch," said Thomas, who also walked in the first. "Then you're showing someone up. In this game you try not to embarrass yourself or anyone else."

Thomas wound up with six runs batted in as Seattle belted seven homers and won 14-6.

Earlier, when Thomas slammed his third home run, the fans at the Kingdome kept standing and applauding hoping for a wave. But Thomas stayed in the dugout.

"It's not that I don't appreciate the fans' cheers, I do," he said. "But if I come out of the dugout, it could be interpreted as rubbing it in someone's face."

In other American League games, Detroit got past Cleveland 11-10 in 10 innings, Toronto nipped Kansas City 4-3 in 10 innings, California stopped Minnesota 4-3 in 10 innings, Boston tripped New York 6-4 and Milwaukee halted Chicago 8-1.

Tigers 11, Indians 10

Detroit, which got off to a 35-5 start last year and went on to win the World Series, completed a season-opening, three-game sweep of Cleveland when reliever Dave Von Ohlen walked three batters in the bottom of the 10th.

Willie Hernandez, last year's Cy Young Award winner, pitched 3 2-3 innings for the victory.

Detroit's Larry Herndon sent the game into extra innings with an RBI single in the ninth.

MADD applauds

by paralyzed player

MONROEVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Gabe Rivera's professional football career was terminated 18 months ago when he was paralyzed in a car wreck after he had been drinking. Now he is speaking out on the evils of drinking and driving.

"People have to be aware of what can happen, what the consequences are," Rivera said Thursday at a luncheon of the Greater Pittsburgh Chapter of the Mothers Against Drunk Drivers.

"Maybe I can be a part of something to make younger people more aware so they won't have to experience what I did," Rivera said from his wheelchair at the head table. "I want to do something positive. It gives me a chance to speak out."

His remarks drew applause from supporters of MADD, an advocacy group dedicated to reducing the number of deaths and injuries caused by drunk drivers. The group has 327 chapters and 600,000 members nationwide.

blasted a mammoth home run on Royal reliever Dan Quisenberry's first pitch of the 10th inning to give Toronto its triumph.

For the second straight night, Blue Jays reliever Bill Caudill got the victory. He pitched 1 2-3 hitless innings before Jim Acker took over in the 10th and got a save.

Red Sox 6, Yankees 4

Dwight Evans clubbed a two-run homer and had a sacrifice fly to help Boston complete a season-opening, three-game sweep of New York.

Roger Clemens pitched six innings for the victory and Bob Stanley finished up for a save. Dennis Rasmussen took the loss.

Brewers 8, White Sox 1

Ray Burris made a successful debut for Milwaukee, holding Chicago to five hits. The right-hander, acquired in a trade that sent Don Sutton to Oakland, was in command the entire way.

Angels 4, Twins 3

In Anaheim, Calif., Darrell Miller scored the winning run from third base in the bottom of the 10th inning when slow Bob Boone beat the relay of a potential inning-ending double play.

Miller led off with an infield single against Minnesota reliever Rick Lysander and moved to second on a single by Bobby Grich and took third on a fielder's choice.

New names on board glaring at Nicklaus in Masters tourney

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus had reached the 15th green in the first round of the Masters golf tournament when he casually glanced up at the leader board.

There, staring back at him from a line of red digits that translated into sub-par holes, were a couple of new names — Inman and Randolph.

John Inman and Sam Randolph are amateurs, rookies who played the prestigious Augusta National layout Thursday as if it were some ordinary public course.

Forget the history and tradition. Forget the lightning fast greens and the foreboding three-hole cluster called Amen Corner. Forget the legions of veterans who have been devoured by this challenging course.

Here were two kids, one barely out of college the other still an undergraduate, shooting 2-under par 70s that left them two shots off the opening round lead.

And Jack Nicklaus, five-time winner of the Masters who finished the first round one stroke behind them, loved it.

"I thought, 'If this isn't a shot in the arm for amateur golf,'" he said. "I'm tickled for them. Maybe this will put some life back into amateur golf."

Nicklaus was aware of Inman, whose brother, Joe, is a tour regular. The youngster went to school at the University of North Carolina with Nicklaus' son before graduating last December.

Randolph, however, was a mystery. "What's his first name?" Nicklaus asked. "Where's he from? How'd he get here?"

Given Randolph's short biography — 20 years old, a junior at the University of Southern California, qualified by reaching the finals of last year's U.S. Amateurs — Nicklaus nodded.

Many years ago, he had played Augusta as an amateur. Did he think a non-pro could really win this demanding event?

"It would have to be a college kid who's been playing constant, competitive golf," he said. "Inman's an outstanding player. I'd be delighted to see him stay up and play well. But for an amateur to win, he's got his work cut out for him."

In the flush of his fancy first round, Inman, 22, could see himself slipping into that green jacket on Sunday. Really.

"I wouldn't rule it out," he said. "If I can control my emotions, my game, sure, I could win it."

Randolph's ambitions are somewhat more modest.

"I came in with the goal of making the cut, playing well. If I do that, I'll gun for the top 24."

Then with a glint in his eye he added, "You never know what will happen in this game."

Indeed.

But if either of them emerge from this gruelling four-day test of golfing skills as the winner, it would be the first Masters title for an amateur. Any amateur.

Augusta National does not treat first-timers kindly. There are lessons to be learned, nerves to be settled. It can fluster the calmest golfer.

Randolph admitted that his knees were quivering on the first tee. Inman thought he wasn't even breathing at that point.

"I wasn't very nervous playing the finals of the U.S. Amateur," Randolph said. "I had felt I belonged there. Here, you're playing with guys you watch on television, guys you idolize. That's a little more pressure."

"I was scared," Inman admitted, "but I figured I could do it."

Boston beats Cleveland for fifteenth straight time

By The Associated Press
The Cleveland Cavaliers, still excited about making the National Basketball Association playoffs, had better settle down soon and figure out how to beat the Boston Celtics.

Larry Bird scored 29 points Thursday night as the Celtics defeated the Cavaliers 121-115. The victory marked the 15th straight time Boston has beaten Cleveland, dating back to January 1983.

More importantly, the outcome ensured the Cavaliers will meet the Celtics in the first round of the playoffs next week. That series will be best-of-five.

Still, Bird says he is wary of his team's opening-round opponent.

"The Cavs are on a hot streak and they have a bunch of scrappy guys," Bird said. "There are other teams I'd probably rather play in the first round."

Boston's victory improved its record to 63-17, clinching the best record in the NBA this season.

In other NBA games, Houston nipped Kansas City 125-123, Utah routed Portland 145-107, the Los Angeles Lakers beat Golden State 137-130 and Dallas clobbered Seattle 124-80.

Rockets 125, Kings 123

Ralph Sampson sank a 10-foot shot with two seconds left to give Houston its victory.

Kansas City had tied it with 10 seconds left when Eddie Johnson made an 18-foot shot. The Rockets called timeout, and Sampson then took the inbounds pass and worked inside.

Sampson and Akeem Olajuwon each scored 31 points. Olajuwon also grabbed 11 rebounds.

Johnson had 26 points and Mike Woodson 24 for the host Kings.

Jazz 145, Trail Blazers 107

Adrian Dantley scored 23 points, Jeff Wilkins 22 and Fred Roberts 20 as Utah won by the biggest margin in its 11-year history.

The victory enabled the Jazz to pull into a tie with Portland and San Antonio for the fifth Western Conference playoff spot.

Utah's previous biggest winning margin was 30 points over San Antonio during the 1979-80 season.

Lakers 137, Warriors 130

Byron Scott and Earvin "Magic" Johnson sank consecutive baskets to help Los Angeles fend off Golden State's furious rally.

The Lakers led by 17 points early in the fourth quarter, but Sleepy Floyd and Purvis Short helped pull the Warriors within 124-121 with 2:18 remaining.

But Scott, who had 22 points, and Johnson, who had 28, made their baskets to give the visiting Lakers their victory.

Floyd scored a season-high 33 points and Short had 20.

Mavericks 124, SuperSonics 80

In Tacoma, Wash., Mark Aguirre scored 30 points, and Rolando Blackman added 20 as Dallas took advantage of Seattle's injured front line.

The victory clinched the home-court advantage for the Mavericks in the first round of the playoffs.

Tom Chambers, normally a forward for Seattle, started for the first time in his career at center. He scored 13 points and grabbed a career-high 18 rebounds.

Business Card Register

Auction Donation

The chairman of the auction committee for St. Anthony's School Carnival and Auction is pictured with the steer which has been donated for the auction by a local business. Many more items have been donated by businesses to help make this event a success. All proceeds will go toward continuing Christian education.

Auction highlights

St. Anthony's carnival

An auction will highlight the St. Anthony's School Carnival Sunday from noon to 5 p.m.

Items which have been donated so far include a steer, pool table, trampoline, antique rocking chair, seed grain, rose bushes, fertilizer, assorted tools, cases of oil, meals from local restaurants, brass coat tree, John Deere toy tractors, sheets, blanket, briefcase and nylon bag.

Also, earrings, gift certificates, Paddington bear, hair cuts, ear piercing and other items donated by local merchants.

The proceeds will go toward continuing Christian education.

Also during the carnival there will be games, booths, bingo, and a meal. CYO members will hold a car wash on the north end of the school parking lot if the weather permits.

Everyone is encouraged to come and join in the fun of the carnival and auction.

Huffaker speaks to Newcomers

Newcomers Club met Tuesday at Savage's for a luncheon meeting.

The Rev. Bob Huffaker, pastor of the Nazarene Church, was the guest speaker. He referred to the season after the first Easter when Jesus stood with his disciples. He used this to remind the members that in the most fearful times of their lives Jesus stands with them. He spoke of the traumatic experience of moving into a new environment and the fear it can create in the minds of children who must adjust to a new school and new friends.

The door prize was received by Karen Barela. Announcements were made of the story hour at the library and the antique show in the area.

Members present were Carol Kelly, Becky Fry, Ruth Evans, Cindy Forrest, Doreatha Dotson, Vernia Elliott, Karen Barela, Kim Lappin, Susan Raney, and Susan Kokjohn. Visitors were Gloria McCutcheon, Petra Sappengton and Mary Stuckey.

The next meeting will be May 14 at the E.B. Black House.

Support program slated Monday

"Respite," a community support program for the elderly, handicapped and bedridden will be given Monday at 7 p.m. at the Community Center. The event is being sponsored by Hereford Pro Family-Pro Life.

Willa Albert of the Panhandle Rural Health Corporation will give training on how to care for the handicapped individuals and also how to organize a group within the community that is available on call to sit with and care for the sick in order to relieve their families for short periods of time.

Those taking part in this program are automatically insured for their own protection while they are caring for an individual. There will be a $1 charge to cover the cost of handout material at the program.

PVA sponsors fund-raising event

The Panhandle Chapter of Paralyzed Veterans Association is sponsoring a fund-raising show featuring Tom T. Hall at the Civic Center in Amarillo on June 8 at 7 p.m.

Advance tickets are $7.50 each and may be purchased by sending a check or money order payable to Panhandle Chapter of Paralyzed Veterans Association and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Cookouts: where burned offerings are made to the gods of the summer season.

Elmer Carlson, Route 2, Box 128, Hereford, Texas, 79045. Tickets may also be purchased at the door but for a slightly higher price.

All proceeds will go toward activities which the chapter sponsors.
