Smashing Victory Seen As Opening Wedge For A Foothold In Norway

LONDON, April 14 (Sunday)—The admiralty early today announced British-aid minefields in the Kattegat had been extended southward to cut off German sea access to Copenhagen except through Swedish territorial waters.

LONDON, April 13 (AP)—Great Britain threw the overwhirls might of her navy today against the Nazi captors of Norway's one port of Narvik and announced she had sent seven German destroyers to the bottom of the rocky bay and narrow inlet there in the second sea assault of that focal point of northern war within four days.

Even while King George VI and the British government were assuring King Haakon of Norway and his people that allied help against the German invaders is coming and coming soon, the great battleship Warspite, rebuilt veteran of Jutland, was leading a flotilla up narrow Narvik fjord, smashing a German coastal battery and then sinking the Nazi destroyers before and behind the town, killing perhaps a thousand German seamen.

The admiralty confidently predicted this daring victory would "clarify the situation on this part of the Norwegian coast." It did not say whether any British troops were landed, although at least one Stockholm radio report stated this to be a fact.

Fleeing men, "possibly German soldiers," were seen running over the hills behind Narvik. "Further details are awaited," said the admiralty. "The admiralty is not precisely informed of conditions in Narvik town x x operations are still proceeding."

No estimate can be made at present of German losses in personnel but the seven destroyers sunk must have counted over 1,000 men, said the announcement. Three of the attacking destroyers were damaged but not seriously and "British loss of life is believed to have been very small," it continued.

The storming of Narvik was hailed in rejoicing London as a prime achievement in vigorous British sea and air actions to loosen the Nazi hold on Norway prior to a general allied offensive against the invaders.

This daring attack was a sequel to Wednesday's dawn ferocity into Narvik fjord when the British reported the sinking of one out of six German destroyers and the setting afire of three others.

In that battle the British lost two out of five attacking destroyers, the Hunter and the Hardy, and two others were damaged. (The Germans say six British destroyers have been sunk at Narvik.)

REVIEWING THE BIG SPRING WEEK

BY JOE PICKLE. Dates for the 22nd annual West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention to be held here were shoved back three days last week to May 16-18. All things considered, it was a wise move; but three more days won't help a lot when it comes to time. The convention is practically upon us now.

Here we were happy over the prospect of getting one post-office project through on schedule. Everything went just right, even up to the time bids were to be opened in Washington Friday for alterations to the basement in the amount of $12,000. But the minor detail of no bids bobbed up to block the whole deal.

For a lighter commentary on war developments during the past week, we repeat this observation from Grumpy in the composing room: "If they don't stop sinking so many ships, they'll have the ocean out of banks."

It is commendable that new city commissioners—and two hold-over members, too—are making a thorough study of the city before buckling down to the task of seeing that it is properly run. That's the proper procedure for getting things done right.

If you and yours have not yet been counted in the census, don't despair. Census enumerators have instructions to disregard the two weeks deadline (Saturday night) and keep at the job until it's completed. Meanwhile, you still can aid by inviting the census-taker in to have a seat and answer his or her questions quickly and accurately.

Young To Take Over Midland Job Tuesday

Transfer of V. G. Young, Glasscock county agent, to Midland to succeed Steve A. Debnam, resigned, will become effective Tuesday, it was announced Saturday.

Young will be replaced at Garden City, where he has served for the past three years, by Berry N. Duff of Hudspeth county. Duff is formerly of Big Spring.

During the three years he has been in Glasscock county, Young has accomplished much in the way of conservation, game preserve demonstrations, livestock protection and promotion of an annual show.

Much of his work has been with sheep raisers since the county is given over predominantly to this type of ranching. However, he has assisted ranchers in encouraging improvement of herds through breeding and has cooperated in feeding projects through 4-H club boys.

Two years ago he aided ranchers in pasture furrow and ridging demonstrations and during the interim little less than 70 per cent of the county's comparatively small farming acreage has been protected by contouring.

Young is a native of the Laredo sector, graduated from Texas A. & M., served as assistant agent in Surry, Borden, Dawson, Hudspeth and El Paso counties and did special extension work in Rusk county. Mrs. Young is a native of Snyder.

At Garden City he was instrumental in organization of the annual Glasscock County Livestock show which started for club boys and expanded to include ranchers and the past year a class for horses. Young also has cooperated in staging the Big Spring club boy show each of its three years.

Weather Retards Work Projects

Weather is slowing city and county WPA projects.

During the last week relief workers on the county lateral road project to Elbow got in but three days. Thursday was adjudged too blustery and Friday workmen marked time because of low temperatures.

Most of the men have been assigned to the two miles on the west end of the job, hauling and distributing caliche base. A structure on the unopened eastern end of the road is virtually ready for traffic and the section may be opened soon.

Workers on the city's amphitheatre job now are not due to go back to the project until Wednesday. Completion estimates have been revised, due to lost time, and now it is predicted that the structure will be finished sometime about mid-May.

Major-General Leonard Wood Contributed To Valuable Coin Collection Owned By Local Man

The late, great Major-General Leonard Wood had a hand in the development of a collection of coins owned by C. N. (Dock) Williams of Big Spring.

That famed army man, when he was governor-general of the Philippines, accumulated coins from 30 different countries, and passed them on to Williams, whose grandfather, Joe Wood, was the officer's brother.

Williams' interest in rare coins dates back to 1910, when his grandfather passed along a collection that had been handed down to him. Since then, the collection has grown until Williams values his present holdings at $1,100. He has bought and sold, and at one time turned a collection in Dallas for $1,500.

The Williams collection—some of the rarest items are on display in the A. C. Drug show window—includes many treasured pieces. One of interest in a one-cent piece minted during the administration of Andrew Jackson, and bearing the inscription, "Millions For Defense—Not One Cent For Tribute."

Commemorative half-dollars are numerous in Williams' collection. He has 49 of them, representing events in nearly every state in the union. A coin of recent mint, but

Cites Need Of Seasonal Car Checkup

"Every motorist wants his car to operate as efficiently and economically as possible," said George Miller, vice president in charge of marketing for Magnolia Petroleum company, "and that is why Magnolia dealers throughout the Southwest are offering Summerize Service now.

"With summer almost here it is easy to forget that our cars were driven through the most severe winter the Southwest has experienced in many years. Sub-freezing temperatures extended south into the tropical-like valley of Texas and throughout the Gulf coast. More anti-freeze was used in radiators...oil and grease performed their function of lubrication under adverse conditions...batteries operated under greater strain, so, it is very important that all cars receive the semi-annual check-up that Summerize provides.

"Complete Summerize service assures the motorist that his radiator is thoroughly cleaned, the battery checked, and the vital moving parts of his motor, transmission, wheel bearings, differential and chassis inspected and adjusted, operating heat with correct, summer-weight lubricants.

"It is as important to drain thin, winter lubricants as it is to drain anti-freeze from the radiator to safeguard against dangerous overheating.

"Under the blistering operating heat that motors must endure in a southwestern summer, thin, winter oil becomes even thinner. It is quite possible for it to become so thin that the lubricating film will break and allow friction to damage the motor.

"This is particularly true of modern motors, because their smaller clearances and higher speeds naturally generate more heat. When sun temperature is added to motor temperature it is easily understood why vital moving parts need the protection of correct, summer-weight lubricants.

"Motorists can be assured that a completely Summerized car is protected against summer operating heat, and with all moving parts functioning smoothly it is a safer car to drive."

AN ANALYSIS OF THE WAR DEVELOPMENTS

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

Rumors that Germany, involved in a two-front war in the west, is preparing to make it a three-front conflict by touching off the Balkan tinder box are subject to suspicion.

Whatever Berlin's ultimate purposes in southeastern Europe, the German foray into Norway and Denmark seems to forbid any immediate expansion of the war to other fronts. The most astute strategist cannot yet know just how big a chunk Hitler has bitten off for Germany to chew in Scandinavia.

Nobody in the neutral world knows certainly, as yet, what force Germany already has poured into Norway or is holding ready to meet certain Franco-British counter attacks to reinforce Norwegian resistance. Neutral observers in Denmark estimate that from 45,000 to 75,000 Nazi troops were deemed necessary to take over that tiny and unrelenting neighbor.

There can be no doubt that it will take far heavier forces to make the Norwegian invasion good. Should Sweden also become involved and set the whole vast Scandinavian peninsula aflame with war, Germany perhaps will need more troops on that front than she deems necessary to hold the heavily fortified westwall.

Whatever else in major allied strategy underlies the furious air and sea fighting in the battle of Norway, the German invasion has provided a Franco-British opportunity for forcing a dispersion of nazi army and air power over a west front now running from the Franco-Swiss border all the way to Norway's Arctic coast. The defensive patrol job of the Nazi air force has been stepped up enormously overnight. French observers within the last 24 hours reported that German aerial reconnaissance over the Maginot Line seemed diminished, indicating Nazi planes had left for Scandinavian operations.

Unless there is some unsuspected German-Italian-Russian deal whereby either Russia or Italy, or both, stand committed to action in the Balkans to aid Germany, nothing could seem less desired in Berlin than disruption of the status quo in the southeast. For that reason, it appears doubtful that the reported massing of a huge Nazi army in modified Poland is a threat of impending German attack to insure oil and food supply lines from the Balkans.

Bundsmen On Trial Takes His Own Life

NEW YORK, April 13. (AP)—A 24-hour search for Claus Gunther Ernecke, 36, missing defendant in the trial of 17 men accused of plotting to overthrow the United States government, ended today in the basement of a Brooklyn apartment house, two blocks from his home.

Apparently terrified by threats against his life, and fearful of the outcome of the trial in federal court, Ernecke, a German-American bundsman and former trooper in the New York National Guard, had hanged himself.

Medical examiners said he had been dead at least 36 hours. Federal agents and detectives had been hunting him since yesterday when he failed to appear for the trial session and Judge Marcus B. Campbell, forfeiting his $7,500 bail, had issued a bench warrant for his arrest.

Ernecke's last appearance in court was on Wednesday when the government's chief witness, Dennis Healy, who had named Ernecke as one of the ringleaders in the alleged plot, fainted on the witness stand after three days of cross-examination.

The superintendent of the apartment building found Ernecke's body on a routine visit to the basement. A note lay nearby, but detectives withheld the contents.

As soon as he heard Ernecke's body had been found the defendant's attorney Leo Healy, said he was "afraid something like that would happen," because Ernecke had acted like a man in despair when he last talked to him.

George O'Barr, who operates the ranch of Dr. J. T. O'Barr south of Foran, is branding and vaccinating his calves this week. Mr. O'Barr is one of the few ranchmen of this section who runs only cattle on his ranch, having on his range some of the highest grade Herefords.

Mutt Scudday and Sonley Huestis of Hobbs, N. M., visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Scudday and Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Huestis this week.

Mrs. Harry Miller and children spent the weekend with her parents in Blanco.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Russell have moved to Foran. The Russells lived in the home formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lamb who now reside in Big Spring.

TEXAS VISITOR—Keith Morgan, above, representing the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Sunday will lay the cornerstone of the first unit of a new Texas Warm Springs Center for crippled children near Gonzales. He arrived in Texas from New York by plane Saturday and will make a radio address at the cornerstone ceremonies at 2 p. m. Sunday afternoon, April 14. Permian Basin Talk Scheduled Again This Morning

Continuing its weekly series of educational broadcasts which have presented a large number of distinguished speakers to the radio audience of the Permian Basin, the Permian Basin association will present Jerry Debenport, manager of the Odessa chamber of commerce and popular citizen of West Texas, in its broadcast on Monday evening, April 15th, from 6:45 to 7 o'clock. Debenport has chosen as his subject, "A Cottonpickers from the Lower Panhandle Summarizes the Permian Basin's Oil Industry." The broadcast will originate in the station of KREB in Odessa and will be heard over the West Texas network, comprised of stations KFYO, Lubbock, KIST, Big Spring, and KGKL, San Angelo.

Civic Music Artists For Season Named

Selection of three artists for the Civic Music association's second concert season was announced here Saturday.

They will be: Anne Jamison, soprano; Attilio Baglioni, tenor, and Franz Rupp, pianist.

Dates for appearance of the three have not yet been set, but contract has been signed. CMA officials reported. All three are nationally known, and Miss Jamison may be especially familiar to local audiences since she has been in demand as a radio artist.

Meanwhile, the final check on the CMA membership drive which closed two weeks ago was still in progress. Total memberships were not known, but it was estimated that the number would approximate the first year's figure.

Harlowe F. Dean, Civic Concerts representative who aided in both drives here, said in a letter to J. H. Greene, president, that he was encouraged by the showing in "gettings-over the second-year hump" and predicted a steady growth of the association henceforth.

HAMLIN IS FOE OF BARONS IN 3:30 ENCOUNTER TODAY

RAMSDSELL AND LEFTIES DUE TO TAKE HILL

Two rookie lefties and a veteran righthander were scheduled to take the hill this afternoon as the Big Spring Barons play their first home exhibition game of the 1940 baseball season, meeting the powerful Hamlin General Crude Oilers at 3:30 o'clock in the West Fifth and San Antonio street plant.

Will Ramsdell, a Baron holdover who signed his contract Friday, was slated to debut against the semi-pros with the wronghanders, Jack McPartland and Ernie Pelligrini, booked to put in appearances in the fourth and seventh innings, respectively.

Pelligrini should be popular with the local fans. A San Francisco boy, he comes here with a lot of promise.

McPartland won praise in the San Francisco Bears' camp before pulling stumps and may prove to be the best outstap alabaman in the league.

Chester Sprain will probably do a nice lining stretch behind the dish although Manager Rego is available.

The skipper is fairly well set on his infield with Charles Correll at first base, Eddie Laurel at second, Leo Jones at short and Ran Berndt at third but he has his outfield problems. Apparently Louis Feco and Elston Carroll will operate in the outer works with Ford Green as a possibility.

Patrons will be taxed 40 cents for grandstand and a quarter for bleacher seats.

Local Nine And Odessa Tangle This Afternoon

Forced to postpone their game last week due to the stretch of bad weather, Doyle Vaughn's independent baseball team swings into action in Odessa this afternoon, 3 p. m., opposing the strong West-Tex Food team of that city.

Glenn Sylvester is scheduled to toe the slab for the Big Springers.

Among others who will make the trip are Leo Hare, Howard Hart, Chuck Smith, Leonard Morgan and Vaughn.

Garner F'ball Drills To Get Underway

GARNER, April 13—The Garner High Billies will open their two week spring football drills on the Garner gridiron Monday afternoon with Coach T. J. Turner again in charge.

Returning lettermen are Harmon Smith, Sonny Chapman, Donald Allred, Ben Daugherty and Gene Long.

Counted upon to plug a big spot in the Billie lineup is J. E. Motley, who was hampered by injuries most of the 1939 season.

Other youngsters trying for regular posts will be Robert Cline, E. L. Roman, Billie Joe Morris, Heschel Matthis, Dennis Walker, Edward Burehall, Joy Grauke, Clifton Clanton and Elmer Anderson.

REGOMEN LOSE THE OPENER, 6 TO 1

HAMLIN, April 13—Rallies in the fifth and seventh rounds enabled the General Crude Oilers of Hamlin to decision the Big Spring Barons of the WT-NM league here Saturday afternoon, 6-1.

Paced by Weaver, second sacker, who collected four hits in five trips, the Oilers rebelled for two runs in the fifth stanza, then added the other three a couple of heats later.

The Barons collected their only tally in the fifth when Elston Carroll, after gaining free transportation to the initial sack and piffing the middle bag, jaunted home on a soundly spanked drive by Charles Correll.

Jack Ford limited the Big Springers to six base blows and surrendered but three bases on balls. No Baron garnered more than a single blow.

TYLER BEATEN

KILGORE, April 14 (AP)—Kilgore defeated Tyler 4-0 in an East Texas league exhibition game here today when Shortstop Chandler made a double error in the seventh on a high infield fly.

Chandler dropped a fly hit by Catcher Morris of Kilgore and then threw the ball away, permitting Morris to circle the bases.

Branch Rickey, general manager of the St. Louis Cardinal system, saw the game, departing immediately for St. Louis, via Little Rock.

FATAL END OF A DOUBLE PLAY—Cecil Travis, Washington third baseman, is shown trying to get home in the fourth inning of an exhibition game at Washington with the Boston Bees, only to be put out by Bob Andrews, right at the feet of umpire Magner. Senators' Jimmy Bloodworth was out at second on the same play, which started on a short hit by Jimmy Pofahl.

STEER GRIDDERS WIND UP FIRST WEEK OF DRILLS

Pat Murphy's Big Spring high school football hopefuls completed their first week of spring drills with a snappy workout Saturday morning at the Highland Park stadium.

The work is to continue for the next three weeks and will be climaxed by an intra-squad game the final day.

Lettermen practicing under Murphy are Hal Battle, guard, Paul Kasch and Ralph Steward, centers, Jack Graves, end, Clifton Patton, tackle, and Owen Brummett and Tabor Rowe, backs.

In the Bovines' Wednesday afternoon scrimmage, Pete Pressley and Junior Moore, up from John Daniel's Yearling squad, stood out along with Horace Bostick.

Pressley and Bostick are scheduled to be in the starting secondary best ball along with Brummett and Rowe but Moore may earn himself a spot somewhere. He looked particularly good on defense.

The line play may prove to be the best since Murphy has taken over the reins if Patton gives Kasch, Steward and Battle some help. Pat should weigh around 220 pounds next fall. Kasch and Battle will be trying for all-district berths. Steward will be moved from center to tackle or end.

The wing spots can be taken care of by Graves and Peppy Blount, a lanky sophomore. Blount was outstanding for the Yearlings last fall.

Players besides the lettermen working out are guards, Frank Barton, Billy Suggs, J. R. Myers, Derrell Webb, Robert Coffee, C. H. Rose and Vernon Smith, tackles, Billy Shaw, Wofford Hardy, Billy Perry, Gene Rush, Clarence Moore, Grover Cunningham, Wayne

TWO RECORDS SHATTERED IN SWEETWATER TRACK TOURNEY

ASPERMONT IN TEAM VICTORY OVER PONIES

SWEETWATER, April 13—Clayton Henderson, Colorado City, and Tom Hill, Aspermont, set up new records in the District Five interscholastic league track and field meet here Saturday afternoon as Aspermont won the team championship over the favored Sweetwater Mustangs.

Henderson wiped Snagler's half mile record from the books when he whirled around the track in 2:22 minutes, bettering the six-year old mark by three seconds.

Hill leaped six feet, 1 7/8 inches to shatter the six feet 3-4 inch mark held jointly by Porter, Rotan, and Little, Putnam.

The Aspermont representatives tallied a total of 32 points to nose out Sweetwater, which boasted 25. Snyder trailed the Mustangs by a half point while Colorado City finished fourth with 13.

Individual high laurels went to E. C. Condra with 15 points, followed by Bill Shields of Snyder, who had 12. Condra won the century dash in the time, 10:2 seconds, the 220-yard dash in the near record time of 29 seconds, the quarter mile in 52.8 seconds and was second in the high jump.

Rice Clipped By Bears, 10-4

WACO, April 13 (AP)—The Baylor Bears made their hit count today as they handed the Rice Owls their third straight loss in three days 10 to 4.

Sherman Barnes, righthander, went the route for the Bears and was nipped for 11 bingles, but he was tight in pinches and left 10 Owls stranded on bases.

Howard Heigel started for Houston and set the Bruins down in order in the first, but Baylor struck back with five base blows for five runs in the second and then added one more, in the third and two more in the fourth before Russel Vogt came in for Rice. Vogt held the Bruins to four hits and two tallies.

Kemper Kaiser led the hitting with four hits in five trips while Joe Terry had two for three, for the Bruins.

TITLISTS ARE FAVORITES TO WIN AGAIN

Probable pitchers (with won and lost records):

American League
New York at Philadelphia—Ruffing (21-7) vs. Dean (5-8).
Boston at Washington—Grove (15-4) vs. Leonard (20-8).
Cleveland at Chicago—Feller (24-9) vs. Smith (10-11).
St. Louis at Detroit—Kennedy (8-20) vs. Bridges (17-7) or Newsum (20-8).

National League
Chicago at Cincinnati—Lee (19-15) vs. Derringer (22-7).
Pittsburgh at St. Louis—Klinger (18-17) vs. Davis (22-16) or Warnke (13-7).

Brooklyn at Boston—Wyatt (8-3) vs. Fesler (15-13).
Philadelphia at New York—Higbee (12-15) or Mulcahy (9-15) vs. Hubbell (11-9).

NEW YORK, April 13 (AP)—The deck is stacked, with every baseball kibitzer in the country knowing in advance who holds all the aces, but that won't keep everybody from having a lot of fun when the major league clubs start dealing Tuesday.

Since this is a friendly game in which the inclination to hold a royal flush up the sleeve is frowned upon, the New York Yankees are sure to be the big winners when the chips are cashed six months from now.

In the meantime some team is going to have to win the National league pot as a sort of semi-final to the world series and there are signs that the scuffling for the lesser positions in both leagues will be more boisterous than ever.

While the Yankees are overwhelming favorites to take the fifth consecutive American league pennant, it's as much as one's life is worth to try to separate the grain from the grit in the National league.

The Cincinnati Reds look strong enough to repeat, from this perspective, but the St. Louis Cardinals and at least four other clubs have a chance. Putting them all in their proper places is like that party game of pinning the tail on the donkey.

Ramsdell, Ready Once Again, Predicts 20 Wins For Year

Unexpectedly signing his contract with the Big Spring baseball club Friday, Willard Ramsdell, veteran hurler, promised Manager Tony Rego he would chalk up 20 or more victories this season. . . . Will, who won six of seven starts for the locals after a late start last campaign, did not make the trip to Hamilton Saturday, instead dedicated three or four hours conditioning his legs at the park. . . . "Not only will I burn up the league this year," the Kansan promised, "but I can be used as a pinch hitter. You know, I allus could hit." . . . The Chautau cyclone, who is slated to start against Hamilton this afternoon, will try to persuade Rego to use him opening day against Midland. . . . Ramsdell's protegee, Jackie Jordan, a mild sensation in the camp, has moved on to Midland for a try over there. . . . Jordan figured he had a better chance to beat out the rookie short, Heinie Rodriguez, Sammy Hale imported from El Paso than he did Leo Jones, the local boy, who has had one year of professional experience. . . . R. L. "Pat" Patterson, the rookie hurler who quit his job at the state hospital to try out under Rego, decided suddenly Thursday to go to Lamesa to work out with Jodie Tate's Lobos. . . . R. L. follows another Patterson, Lloyd, from Big Spring to Tateville. . . . Gene Brownell, Rego's hurling hopeful, one of the biggest men in baseball, wears a No. 14 shoe. . . .

Gordon Donaldson, who spent his baseball apprenticeship with Hobbs, former WT-NM member, is playing regular right field for the Los Angeles Angels. . . . In his first four games, Don clouted out three home runs, starting in the fourth tilt with a four run first inning circuit smash as the Angels recorded their fourth straight win from the Portland Beavers, 6-5. . . . Speck Williamson, former Big Springer now skipping the El Paso Texans, has in Joe Bovis, a rookie gardener, a youngster destined for big league stardom if he can learn to field. . . . In the Texans' first game of the recent series with Midland, Bovis clouted out five hits in six trips, returned in the second bout with "two for four" . . . In spring exhibition games on the coast against major league teams, Bovis was said to have hit in six consecutive games as a pinch hitter. . . . The Cincinnati Buckeyes, a negro baseball nine quartering in Midland at the present time, is attempting to line up through their advance man, Winfield Welsh, a series of exhibition games in this sector, want to put in one appearance in Big Spring. . . . The Buckeyes are booked to oppose the Chicago All-Stars in Odessa soon. . . .

Rego has pared his squad to about 18 men but is far from satisfied with his lineup. . . . He has about six boys on the way here from the coast, including an outfielder, catcher and a second sacker. . . . Too, Hollywood has promised him a pitcher. . . . Tony is expecting great things of Earnest Pelligrini, who works like Jodie Marek when under fire. . . . The Barons' new uniforms will probably carry the interlocking letters, B and S, instead of the conventional "Barons," employed for the past two years. . . . Rego is haunting the local auto shops for a new bus. . . . The old one, known among the players as "The Blue Goose," has about run its final mile. . . . Pete Pressley, the Steer grid hopeful, is sporting a troublesome charley horse and has been kept out of most of the rough work in the local football camp. . . .

Sizing up the hopefuls in the Big Spring high school football camp:

PETE PRESSLEY—A stocky giant who must take Lefty Bethell's place in the Steer secondary. Pete is faster than he looks and will be the best line runner a local team has had in a dozen years. He must assume Bethell's role as the number one punter, too.

HORACE BOSTICK—The best blocker of the bunch. Horace may have to do plenty of hall totting, too. May be handicapped with inexperience at carrying the mail, though.

TABOR ROWE—Will probably do most of the team's passing. Is learning to carry the pig hide.

OWEN BRUMMETT—Most ambitious youngster in the camp. Wants to do good. Showed flashes of brilliance last year. Excels on defense and blocking.

MILAM "JUNIOR" MOORE—The number one backfield replacement. A future Steer hero. Only a sophomore, Moore does everything well and may earn himself a starting role before the 1930 season is over. Resembles Ollie Cordill. Is a southpaw and the best broken field runner in camp.

LEM NATIONS—Was an end last season. Moved to the secondary because of his speed. Lem may make the supporters forget all about Bethell as a broken field runner. Will be big enough by next season.

HAL BATTLE—Will call the team's signals from his guard slot next fall. Hasn't grown much but looms as certain all-district material.

JACK GRAVES—Should be far better than last season. An end, Jack has the physical equipment to develop into as fine a wing as has ever come out of Big Spring.

PAUL KASCH—A center who was handicapped by injuries most of last season, this rangy youngster is set for his best season. He will bear the brunt in line play with Battle.

CLIFTON PASTON—Pat's got to be in better shape than Coach Pat Murphy at first thought. The giant tackle is proud of the 230 odd pounds he carries, doesn't intend to let it get the best of him.

RALPH STEWARD—Earned a letter at center last fall but will be moved either to tackle or end next fall. Looks like Bob Flowers, former Steer great. Is defensive standout.

FRANK BARTON—Will scrap with Billy Shaw for the other guard slot. Must watch his weight.

Three Lettermen To Return To Joe Colemam Next Fall

He now lives in Sweetwater. . . .

Vote To Adopt 18-Year Rule

REGULATION TO APPLY ONLY TO "A" SCHOOLS

AUSTIN, April 13 (AP)—By a vote of 70 to 21 superintendents of high schools in the class AA division of the intercollegiate league have adopted a new 18-year age limit for football players, effective for the next term.

Schools with 500 or more students enrolled compete in the top bracket of league classifications. The superintendents voted in a referendum in which Class A, Class B, and six-man football schools retained with revisions, the 19-year limit which bases eligibility on eight semesters attendance rather than age.

Class A schools rejected the 18-year proposal by a vote of 137 to 113; Class B schools by a 150 to 54 vote and six-man football schools by a 64 to 30 count.

The poll grew out of a discussion which followed a proposal for the 18-year rule by the league's executive committee.

The new rule for Class AA schools reads as follows: Effective school term 1940-1941, four year rule and semester rule shall be abolished and the age rule shall read: No one shall take part in any football contest who, on the first day of the September preceding the contest has reached or passed his eighteenth birthday.

The revised 18-year-old rule reads: No pupil who has been in attendance in high school for eight semesters or more shall be eligible for participation, semesters to be counted from the eighth grade in 11-grade school semesters and from the ninth grade in 12-grade systems; and age rule shall read: No one shall take part in any football contest who, on the first day of September preceding the contest, has reached or passed his nineteenth birthday.

The rules apply only to football competition.

Majority Of Scribes Again Pick The Yanks To Win American Loop Title

Bossox, Tribe And Chi Gain Following, Tho

NEW YORK, April 13 (AP)—The New York Yankees are a clinch to win their fifth straight American league pennant in the opinion of a majority of the experts but there are still a few die-hards who favor the breaking up of Joe McCarthy's powerful machine.

The 77 baseball writers participating in the Associated Press' annual poll followed last year's order of finish pretty much in making their 1940 predictions. Sixty-six of them placed the Yankees in the No. 1 slot. Nine selected the Boston Red Sox as the new league champions while the Cleveland Indians and Chicago White Sox each received the confidence of one writer.

Receiving no votes for below second and on the basis of eight points for first place, seven for second, etc., the Yanks piled up a total of 605 points. The Red Sox were just as firmly entrenched in second place with 536 points, the majority of which were garnered from the 57 runner-up votes.

The Indiana, polling votes for the first five places, received 438 points, placing them in third place—just where they finished last fall. Then came the 1929's final standings—the placing of Detroit, over Chicago. But the margin between the two teams was small—350 to 346.

Washington, Philadelphia and St. Louis took over the last three positions without much competition. The Senators polled votes for each of the last five places but generally were selected for sixth.

The Athletics moved into seventh, a promotion from the cellar in last year's selections.

Only one writer dared to select the Browns for as high as sixth. Eleven placed them seventh and the remainder saw no hopes for better than eighth.

Most Junior Colleges Destined To Quit Football, Says Cawthon

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT

DALLAS, April 13 (AP)—Demise of junior college football, possibly within the next five years, is the doleful prediction of Peter Willis Cawthon, the sage of the south plains.

Cawthon, coach of Texas Tech's Red Raiders and a man who doesn't let a thing like the advent of spring turn his fancy to anything but football, announced after considerable research that no less than 37 Texas colleges, junior colleges and prep schools have abandoned the game in the last ten years.

"To begin with," argues Cawthon, "the game is far too expensive for junior colleges. It is too much of a problem to get the players. Our highways have been improved greatly. It's easy for the fans to drive to the larger cities for the weekend, desert their own small colleges, and see the big colleges play on Saturday afternoon."

The benediction is being said, Cawthon comments, and it will be only a matter of a few years before fans will see nothing but high school and college football. Junior colleges and prep schools are substituting intra-mural football, touch football and six-man "tag" games.

Cawthon, in compiling his statistics, reveals that some of our better coaches once did junior college stretches—not to mention some of the college stars, Jimmie Kittle, Frank Bridges, Frank Kimbrough, Joel Hunt, Al Baggett, Jack Meagher, Dough Rollins, Sid Sikes, Cecil Grigg, and a host of others once tutored teams now extinct.

Off junior college and other college teams now inactive came such players as Wes Bradshaw, Punt

Wilson, Cecil Grigg, Tris Speaker, Polay Allen, Clyde Littlefield, Ross Young, the old giant outfielder; Bill Cunningham, the scribe; Gene Bedford, Art Shires, Big Hig Higginbotham and many other immortals.

St. Edward's and Sul Ross, state schools, dropped football last season.

Down in Brady, where javelin throwers come a dime-a-dozen, the folks are all put out because the State Intercollegiate league is going to substitute football throwing for the spear hurling act in the annual school boy track and field meet.

Back in 1936 the town of Brady gave the United States its national javelin champion—Alton Terry. This lad, who lost to Doc O'Neil of Yankum in the state meet despite a toss of 190 feet, kept working and finally made the Olympic team. He held the NCAA record at 226 feet, 2 3/4 inches.

Last season Aubrey Shaw won the javelin at the state meet and looks like he'll do it again. Furthermore, there are three youngsters in junior high school who show great promise at hurling the stick and Raymond McKee, already in high school, was just being groomed to replace Shaw—when they decided to start throwing footballs instead of spears!

Wilbur Shaw Is Top Cash Winner At Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, April 13 (AP)—Wilbur Shaw of Indianapolis, the "Dapper Dan" of automobile racing who won last year's 500-mile race here, has become the biggest money winner in the history of the event.

Officials dub back through their records today and figured out that Shaw had pocketed $71,500 in winnings of the Indianapolis speedway since he first raced on the track in 1927.

His $20,000 first prize last year enabled him to pass Louis Meyer of Huntington Park, Calif., in prize money and his standing at the head of the parade apparently is secure because Meyer, who won three races and $60,000, has announced his retirement from the speed game.

"Big News" Now?

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

YOU can figure it out for yourself from what you see in daily traffic and what you hear when the talk turns to automobiles. Buick's pacing the pack. Has been for years. It called this year's style turn a year ago. It set current performance standards in '38 with its Dynaflex engine. It still leads the crowd for riding qualities with its BuicOil Springing, now in its third year. So where's a more logical place to look for next year's "big news" than in this year's big and roomy Buick? You get all of these things now in Buick. Get them with the plus of Buick quality of materials and workmanship—at a price that suggests a six instead of a husky eight. So it's easy to start enjoying future "new features" right now. Go try a Buick. Look it over, inside and out. And get the prices. List figures begin at $895 *delivered at Flint, Mich.; transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices subject to change without notice.

It may be smoother engines. Buick is the only car that now balances power plants after assembly. Coil springs all around may come. Buick's never need lubrication, are practically indestructible, and even cut down skid-risks. Maybe it'll be heavier frames—Buick has the heaviest of any car of its price. Or maybe many of Buick's "extra touches" like safety-latches on rear doors and Two-Way Direction Signals with automatic cut-off.

You get a "Good Deal" Two Ways from Your Buick Dealer. A good "deal" when it comes to old-car allowances—and a whole of a lot of automobiles in your new Buick.

"Best buy's Buick!"

Joan Truman, raised at Lela Long's Longview Farms at Kansas City, has been entered in West Texas shows as well as those at Dallas and Fort Worth. Dr. Bennett's daughter, Louise Ann, is pictured below on "Dixie," a Bennett horse which she will ride in the park-pleasure class of the show.

Stables Filing Entries For Rotary Benefit Horse Show Next Sunday

Broadening of the class list and receipt of entry blanks from several stables last week indicated that West Texans are to be treated to a great display of fine horses in Big Spring next Sunday.

The occasion is the Charity Horse Show, being sponsored by the Rotary club for its crippled children's fund. Two shows will be staged, at 1:30 p. m. and 8 p. m., at the rodeo grounds, with a full program of events ranging from children's pony class to an open championship five-gaited stake, with an award of $500.

In addition to various gaited classes, there will be divisions for Palomino horses, cowboy mounts, cowgirl horses, a children's class, a park-pleasure class, a junior gaited event, a colt class and an exhibition class, in which the crowd will pick its own winner by popular acclaim.

Dr. M. H. Bennett, manager of the show, said Saturday entry blanks had been returned by stables at Amarillo, Plainview, Lubbock, Fort Worth, Colorado City, Snyder and Midland. These will show gaited horses, and in addition to these scores of mounts will be seen in the other divisions.

One of the gaited animals to be seen here will be Anacacho Revel, a horse which appeared in the famed movie, "Gone With The Wind." L. E. Davis of Lubbock will show Anacacho Revel.

As arrangements progressed satisfactorily for the show, work went forward on preparation of a souvenir program, under direction of Elmo Wasson. Other Rotarians were arranging for stable facilities and other construction work at the rodeo grounds.

The show, first event of its scope ever attempted in this immediate section, is attracting wide interest. Box seats for both performances have all but been disposed of, Bennett said, and Rotarians plan to make a concerted ticket sales drive this week. Many out-of-towners, including representatives of the daily press and horse magazines, are expected here for the show.

Paying For Paving

Theories on paving and economy are not unlike in that everyone favors both—at the expense of the other fellow.

However, this truism does not answer the problem; rather it brings it into bold relief. It raises more than ever the question of how is the best means to accomplish and finance paving.

Because of the divergence of conditions in various communities, there appears to be no hard and fast rule which may be applied to foster more paving and yet keep the program on a sound financial footing, but a few pioneering cities are finding the installment plan a beneficial step.

In Dallas an agreement has been worked out with a banking concern a financing plan whereby the property owners may repay their share of the cost in installments. Right here in West Texas a few cities have adopted the installment plan with the city carrying the paper.

So long as the City of Big Spring is as healthy financially as it is now, it is not unreasonable to assume that the latter plan could be adopted here. Many who cannot finance a lump sum payment could retire the obligation in much smaller amounts over a period of months or, if needs be, over a period of one or two years.

There is this much about the idea which needs to be taken into consideration. If the city should undertake the task of carrying paving obligations pending amortization of the indebtedness, obviously it would have more of its money tied up and therefore less to put immediately into paving.

On the other hand, total outstanding paving accounts to the city now aggregate $15,163. Records show that delinquent paving obligations have been difficult to collect, and the crux of the matter lies in the inability of most of the affected property owners to pay their share at the time the work was done.

If the city has over $15,000 tied up under the present plan, could there be any harm in trying the installment system? At least a similar amount carried to finance the latter set-up would not represent a static blockade on funds. There may be other devices such as enticing cost reductions for cash payment, but they will not reach the majority of property owners who want pavement. Until something better comes along, installments seem to offer the best solution.

Robbin Coons Hollywood Sights And Sounds

HOLLYWOOD—So you want a divorce? Not Dick Powell and Joan Blondell. Deliver them. They're playing in "I Want a Divorce" as a stepping-stone to something they want. "I Want a Divorce" is just a title.

Not that they weren't afraid of it. Joan is from the stage, where superstitions come by the 'runkful. Didn't they hear what happened to Bette Davis, that time she was signing a contract?

At that time, studios were very solicitous about the "divorce clause" in contracts. Players had to sign away their right, for a specified time, to take their marital troubles to a judge. Bette Davis looked at her divorce clause, read it, announced she was signing under protest. Because Bette just had married Harmon O. Nelson, Jr., and nothing like that ever, ever would happen to Bette and "Ham." Well, it happened—and it made Joan and Dick feel sort of funny when they looked at a script "I Want a Divorce."

But they took it anyway. In the picture, Dick and Joan get married, but they aren't the ones who want the divorce. It's Joan's sister in the picture, Gloria Dickson, who wants one. (In real life, too, I understand, she wants a divorce from Perc Westmore.) In the picture, she wants a divorce from Sidney Blackmer, who in real life already has one from Lenore Ulrich.

In fact, when you look over the cast, there are mighty few in it who haven't had a divorce. Conrad Nideger has, so has Frank Fay. And Joan and Dick have, too—the divorces they got before they married each other.

But they don't want any more: this "I Want a Divorce," as they see it, is a chance to show the folks what a nice, congenial Mr. and Mrs. team they can make—for future pictures as in life.

There hasn't been a real Mr. and Mrs. comedy team on the screen since Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew, which was "way back in the silents.

There are some mighty potent Mr. and Mrs. teams around, but all working in different movies. Mr. and Mrs. Gable, for instance, who haven't worked together since "No Man of Her Own." Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, who haven't been teamed since they became Mr. and Mrs. Mr. and Mrs. Power—Annabella didn't even win Ty the last movie they made together.

What the producers want is not Mr. and Mrs., but young love. Like Dorothy Lamour and Bob Preston, if that is what is the matter with them. Like Crawford and young Fairbanks, before they became one and before they wanted to be two again. Like Powell and Blondell before they became Mr. and Mrs.

But here those two are, together, in "I Want a Divorce." That is different. Put a happy marriage under a title like that, and it should spell box-office. And it may work out their way—out of their "divorce" title they emphatically could work into a successful Mr. and Mrs. teaming—in comedy.

The Thrill That Comes Once In A Lifetime

HER FIRST LOVE RICHARD HIBBER DAVIS VAN GARDNER

LITTLE SPITEFIRE

By Jean Randall

Chapter Two ISOBEL

Isobel Burke was at the sink, washing lettuce. She was tall and thin, with gray-green eyes and red hair. When she gazed mournfully into her mirror, she saw the freckles on her nose, and not the white skin which set them off so prominently.

Without turning, she said: "Adelaide got back yet?" Mac unwrapped the steak. "No, Nor Grenadine. You know as well as I do that it will be midnight before they call it a day."

"But I heard you talking to somebody upstairs! It was a woman's voice, Mac!" He grinned. "So it was my dear Miss Burke. No concealing anything from you, is there? Miss Brenda Burnham, our distinguished new boarder, has arrived."

Isobel had put the lettuce into a tea towel, caught the edges together to form a bag, and now stood hunting for the contrivance about her head to free it from water. Mac dodged the sudden shower.

"Fretty?" She let the bag fall to her side, regardless of its dismal leakage. "Oh, Mac!" "Nothing to be worried about," he soothed her. "She thinks this place is terrible, and I'm worse. We've already had two rows."

This information, far from cheering Miss Burke, seemed to finish her. She slumped into a chair and regarded Mac deponently. "This is simply frightful! If you're already on rowing terms with her—"

He was busy with the steak, trimming it, fitting it into a broiling pan and lighting the gas oven. "Oh, I am! As a matter of fact, I doubt whether we're even on speaking terms at the present moment. She's a scrapper. He leaned against the kitchen wall while he waited for the broiler to attain sufficient heat.

"The new boarder," Isobel briefly informed him. "Brenda Burnham. She came this afternoon. Mac says she's pretty." "That so?" Eric put a hand to the knot of his cravat. "Blonde or brunette?"

"You'll see for yourself in about two minutes," Mac replied. "This steak is ready to be eaten right now! How about your running up and asking her to come down, Isobel? A woman's gentle touch, you know—that sort of thing! I expect the poor girl has the impression she's got into a madhouse, or something. Adelaide forgot she was coming, the wire her aunt sent is on the hall table unopened, I took her for an agent. How about it, Isobel?"

Isobel moved reluctantly toward the hall. "I call you both to witness that I hate her with a deadly hatred before I've even seen her! Remember that, Eric, when you begin to lecture on feminine proneness to personalities."

Left to themselves the two young men exchanged expressions of glances. Then Eric Mason said, very low: "She's more than half in earnest about being head over heels where you're concerned, Mac! Better watch your step!"

"Rot!" was the careless reply. "Isobel's a good scout and we're friends; that's all." Eric shrugged his shoulders. "Glad she doesn't elect to show her friendship for me like that! But it's your lookout, old man!"

There was time for no more. Down the wide hall which bisected the house, the two girls came. Isobel walked a step ahead, defiantly, as though inviting comparison between her own angular height and Brenda's dainty roundness. The newcomer had run a waltz comb through her silky curls and had changed her rumpled traveling dress for a thin pale pink walk silk. Eric suppressed a low murmur of astonishment as he saw her.

Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON—Representative Martin Dies gave a party the other day—and nobody came. Congress' No. 1 smaller-or-of subversive propagandists had an uncle from Texas in town and was showing him the sights.

On Saturday, when all is ordinary quiet and peaceful here, Mr. Dies spread word among the boys in the house press gallery that he was having a little luncheon at the Mayflower. There would be steaks and liquids, and things. Mr. Dies was not going to make any important announcement, it was said—but who knows what will pop out at a party given by Mr. Dies? And besides there would be Mr. Dies' uncle and just to show Uncle that Mr. Dies had the situation well in hand, there might be a word or two of importance.

Under such circumstances, Mr. Dies no doubt should have gotten a good turnout. Uncle could have told folks back home in Texas just how solidly Mr. Dies was in with the Washington press.

But Howard W. Smith, Virginia—the old meanie—threw a curve to Mr. Dies. Mr. Smith's house labor committee came through just at high noon with a big story on their NLRB recommendations—and if there was a man in the house press gallery that had lunch that day, it was graham crackers and milk about 3 p. m.

Now do you know why Mr. Dies gave a party and nobody came? I'm still wondering what he told Uncle.

Speaking of parties, Representative Foster Stearns of New Hampshire and Mrs. Stearns gave a tea the other day and although you couldn't count the guests, there wasn't a democrat in the whole kaboodle. Which may show which way the republican wind is blowing.

The federal communications commission gets the darndest requests. A New Englander wants it to put a ban on war songs. A Pennsylvanian objects to kiddie serials using the terms "Injune" and "Redskins." (What are you listening to those things for anyway, Mister?) An Okla. says radio shouldn't pay any attention to daylight saving. An Illinois listener wants a ban on cooking recipes that cook up into a mess. A New Yorker says a certain religious program offends him. A woman in Massachusetts says she's been cleaning her teeth with a certain loath paste for weeks and that the radio commercial is all a lie. An Indiana chap says that astrological stuff on the radio gives him a pain in the neck. A Philadelphia brother wants all old jokes put on the blacklist. (Are you comedians listening?)

The FCC couldn't correct any one of these things if it wanted to. If you have radio complaints (and who hasn't?) make them to your local station or to the chains.

While we are on the subject of words and phrases in the ether, can any one give me a catch-phrase for "SSSS"? Those are the marine radio call letters, used since the beginning of the war, to mean just the opposite of "SOS." "SSSS" means stay away from us and generally is used when a ship spots a submarine in the offing and doesn't want to endanger sister ships. But no one yet has been able to figure out a catch phrase that will make the letters as well known as "SOS."

Here's how jittery the silence of President Roosevelt about his third-term plans has made the state politicians: In 21 states, the dates for the democratic state conventions have not been set, although it's nearing the point when you can count the weeks to the national convention on your fingers.

Out of the 37 states in which dates have been set, there are 15 in which the dates are set by law. In other words, in only 12 states have the democrats had courage even to plan their conventions without knowing what the president is going to do. The point is, you can't climb on a bandwagon until you see one. And what state politicians fear most is getting on the wrong cart.

George Tucker Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—For several years now this department has been watching an adolescent if heroic struggle going on in the newspaper world—the Hollywood columns of Ed Sullivan and Sidney Skoloch trying to write Broadway's obituary. Their approach has been to scoff at New York, to plead that all the interesting people now live in Hollywood, and that Broadway is only a place where a man named Ziegfeld used to put on leg shows.

Mr. Sullivan is a part-time vaudeville hooper who used to write a Broadway column, and Mr. Skoloch is the author and for all I know the inventor of the "intype" style of column that digs eeergetically into a subject's antecedents and then tells you whether Lupe Vele has on pants. The lone point of similarity between the two is that recurrently, like vagrant grave-diggers from Hamlet, they bob up with news that Broadway has escaped the cooling board.

Only the other day Mr. Sullivan, who is currently heel-beating through the sticks with an act, paused to note: "Once upon a time, and that not so many years ago, if you passed through the country, the youngsters in the various towns asked you about Florenz Ziegfeld, and Charlie Dillingham or George White. . . . The big idea then was that the country jitters had its eye focused on the lights that glittered electrically along Broadway. . . . To date, we have signed literally thousands of autographs and we have yet to meet a single person who wanted to know anything about Broadway. . . . All of them, young and old, have apparently transferred their interests to Hollywood. . . . This is a trend that should be noted."

To me this is an incredible thing. Knowing Mr. Sullivan is from Hollywood, it doesn't seem possible that the people haven't plagued him with questions about Broadway. When I interview diplomats from Paris I always ask them about Shanghai. And when Col. Bastista came over from Cuba recently the first thing the ship news reporters yelled was "Tell us about Seattle, Uncle." If we had inquired only after Havana the Colonel would have concluded, and rightly, too, that Seattle was dying and that only Young Dr. Kildare could save it.

While we are about this we may as well call the undertakers and tell them to make ready for a newcomer, Washington, D. C., is dead, too. In the old days, when you traveled through the country, the kids used to ask you about Grover Cleveland, and Warren G. Harding, and Woodrow Wilson. But Grover is dead now, and so are Warren and Woodrow, and there hasn't been a spark of life to the place since Frank Capra himself took Mr. Smith to Washington some months ago. This is another trend that should be noted, and I am sure that such an expert trend-noter as Mr. Sullivan won't mind my bringing it up.

LITTLE SPITFIRE

By Jean Randall

the hum of preparation for a new day which resounded through the big house.

After the decorous silence of Aunt Anne's, there was something heartening about the gay voices which sounded from room to room.

"Through with the bathroom, Mason!" she heard Mac call, and soon after there was a rush of water which indicated Eric was having a shower.

Isobel called down: "Adelaide, darling, did the laundry come home last Saturday? I can't find my blue linen anywhere!"

Delightful odors of coffee and scones began to drift upstairs. The telephone rang repeatedly. Finally, half in despair and half in an eager anticipation which was entirely new to her, Brenda arose and dressed.

Breakfast was going forward briskly when she reached the dining room. Mac and Eric both rose and Mrs. Rossetto, a plump motherly looking woman, followed their example—though more slowly.

"Brenda, my dear child!" she said warmly.

She took the girl into her embrace quite simply; kissed her, indeed, as if the life of blood as well as of affection united them.

"I was so sorry about yesterday," she went on, a mist of emotion making her blink. "I got all mixed up about the day of your coming, and Anne's telegram came—Mac said it did!—after I'd left the house. I hope he took good care of you? I hope you found everything you needed in your room? Sit here, dear!"

She resumed her own seat and glanced challengingly about her.

"The last of the Burnhams come home!" she announced. "This child's father and aunt were brought up here—her grandfather built the house itself! I want you all," she went on impressively, "to be thinking of some way we can mark her return to us. The Street will want to celebrate it!"

Fish To Be Placed In Only The Lake On Moss Springs Creek

Either the water or the fish is in the wrong place.

City officials said Saturday that they had learned fish had been placed in the Powell Creek lake which received a surprise supply of water three weeks ago. This, they said, was contrary to city plans for the lake.

Since it will be the shallower of two new city lakes, this open to more loss from evaporation, plans are to pump this lake steadily until the water level is almost depleted, thus, it will not be used for fishing because of the likelihood of drying up during drouthy seasons.

Moss Creek, with a narrow but deep basin, is to be stocked with fish and will be open to the public. So sportsmen were urged to advise with city officials before placing fish in either of the lakes to be sure they are in the right place and that they are the right kind of fish.

Announces Insured Service On Loans

George Tillinghast, manager of the L. A. Eubanks Loan company, has announced an insured loan service now in effect by his company.

"This new insured service takes care of all installments during illness or absence from work due to injury, and cancels any unpaid balance in case of death of permanent disability," Tillinghast said.

"One of the best features of local financing in this manner is the agreeable aspect of doing business with a local concern, which will offer every consideration of the problems of any individual or concern. The new plan will apply to purchasing on the deferred payment plan or personal loans," the manager stated.

Riggs To Try In River Oaks Meet Again

HOUSTON, April 13 (AP) — A faithful believer in "try, try again," Bobby Riggs, cocky champion of world tennis, tightened his game today for the River Oaks tennis tournament—one of the few competitions he hasn't been able to win.

Twice he's entered and twice he's been bounced.

Looking over the field which starts work Monday, Riggs found opposing him will be a group of some of the strongest netters in international play.

Charles Hare, England's No. 2 man; Frank Guernsey, national intercollegiate and defending champion; Bryan (Bitty) Grant, who has won the tournament thrice; Ellwood Cooke of Portland, Ore.; Xavier Fernandez of Lima, Peru, and Wilmer Allison of Austin, Tex.—these are a few who will be out for Riggs' scalp.

A dark horse will be a young gentleman who already has beaten Riggs—Tom Kelley of Portland. Kelley won the western indoor title at Chicago last week, eliminating Riggs.

Allison, old warhorse of international play, first intended to confine his play to the doubles, teaming with his ex-Davis cup partner, Johnny Van Ryn of Austin. But after some test-tube work on his game at home, Allison decided he also would meet the younger bloods man-to-man.

Coahoma oil field production practice group. Having finished with text material, the members now are hearing two talks weekly from men who have made successes of their work in West Texas. This is education with a practical touch.

Should you have any ideas on how Big Spring can reap greater patronage from tourists, or if you have any other suggestion for community betterment—the place to get them off your chest is at the chamber of commerce smoker Tuesday evening in the Settles.

Although the biennial legislative committee meeting of the four railway brotherhoods, meeting here Wednesday and Thursday, is hardly a major convention, it does not lessen the sincerity of Big Spring's welcome to these men and women. This city is always vitally interested in its railway people.

Perhaps this is climbing out on a limb, but we predict that the freeze Friday will be the last of the current season. And we're not a new-comer, either.

At no time in recent history has there existed such a friendly relationship between rural and urban populations of Howard county. The dinner at Garner Friday evening is one of the reasons. Folks just understand one another better when they sit down together and eat.

Indian Blankets, Pumps Have A Connection In Oil Development

Indian blankets and oil well pumps have a very definite connection in the petroleum industry, B. K. Buffington, Odessa, pump expert, told the production practice class at Coahoma Friday evening.

Indeed, the first oil "pump" was a blanket. Interprising his talk with interesting sidelights on petroleum industry history, Buffington recalled that first mention of oil in North America was contained in a report by the commander of Fort Duquesne to General M. Calm. He told of witnessing operations by the Seneca Indians, wherein they dug pits on Oil creek and soaked the fluid in blankets, then freed the oil by wringing the blankets.

However, it was not until Samuel Tyler constructed a refinery in 1850 to make a medical product that petroleum demands began to justify commercial production. This came with Col Gregg's well at 70 feet in 1859 and then boomed with a 300 barrel gusher at 400 feet on the fourth well. This not only ran the oil price to 10 cents a barrel, but it created a demand for pumps.

Buffington paralleled industry progress with that of pumping equipment from crude canvas and later cow-horn affairs to the current insert, liner and fluid pack pumps.

Twenty men heard Buffington's address. Monday evening R. E. O'Donnell, Westex-New Mexico superintendent for the Halliburton

LSU Tracksters Best Texans In Triangular Meet

BATON ROUGE, La., April 13 (AP)—Despite a chill wind four records toppled today as Louisiana State conquered Rice and Texas in a triangular track and field meet that saw some of the south and southwest's finest cinder stars in action.

L. S. U.'s Bengals scored 60 1-2 points to 57 1-2 for Texas and 49 for Rice whose captain, brilliant Freddie Wolcott, won four first places in dashes and hurdles. Wolcott sped to victory in the 100 and 200-yard sprints and annexed both low and high hurdles without extending himself.

Puzzle: Trace All The Missing Sales Tax Discs

DENVER (UP)—What happens to all of the sales tax tokens in America?

State Treasurer Charles Armstrong of Colorado admitted today that he couldn't solve the mystery in his own state, much less in the nation. He said it was giving him the jitters.

In circulation—or elsewhere—in Colorado alone there are 36,691,000 of the little aluminum discs, the treasurer said in a report. He pointed out that was 33.5 tokens for every man, woman and child in the state. They cost the state $69,383 to manufacture at the Colorado penitentiary.

"I know that every man and woman in the state isn't running around with 33 and a half tokens jingling in his or her pockets," Armstrong said. "So what happens to them?"

Some of the missing millions of tokens are in cash registers, Armstrong guessed, and quite a few have been taken into other states by tourists. He said he supposed a few thousand more were in the vest pockets of worn-out suits or the corners of discarded women's purses. Then there was the fad of wearing a bunch of tokens in necklace form. That was almost as much a drain as the new idea of using them for poker chips.

The problem of vanishing tokens is common to states which use the "Chinese money." It was discussed recently at a national meeting of revenue officials and even the nation's leading tax experts were baffled.

Armstrong's report showed that a total of 49,017,365 tokens had been issued to licensed merchants since the sales tax law went into effect as an emergency relief measure on Aug. 1, 1935. The tokens were square for the first couple of years, but the state got too many complaints about ripped trousers pockets and changed to round tokens about the size of a nickel when the tax was made permanent to old-age pensions.

Merchants and individuals have brought 14,325,965 damaged or worn-out tokens in for redemption in the last four years and 482,000 more have been thrown away by the treasurer's office.

The rest of them—$4,691,000 of them, in fact—still are in circulation, or should be.

Meanwhile, tokens keep on vanishing—and aluminum to make new ones still sells for $2 to $3 a pound.

ILLINOIS OIL OUTPUT HITS NEW RECORD DURING MARCH

URBANA, Ill., April 11 (AP)—Illinois oil wells set a new production record during March with a yield estimated today at 13,425,000 barrels in the monthly drilling report of the state geological survey.

The output was 1,319,000 barrels greater than the previous high yield in February.

For the first three months of 1940 the geological survey report estimated the production at 36,531,000 barrels—equal to approximately 40 per cent of the production during 1939.
