Good Old Yogurt Gets In The Hair

By VIVIAN BROWN
 "THE NEWEST CULTURE to go to the head is yogurt. At least one hair dresser prefers it to home permanent wave lotion to control the hair, especially fine locks."
 "I've been experimenting with yogurt for a long time now," explains V. George of New York, "and I have seen tremendous improvement in the hair of people who have had several permanent waves with this method instead of the regular lotion."
 George uses it when he winds the hair for the permanent wave.

"The yogurt slows up the entire action of the permanent wave. It takes longer, but it doesn't shock the hair as regular lotion does," he explains.

"Many hairdressers use milk instead of lotion," he says, "and it isn't because I'm on Fifth Avenue that I've switched to yogurt. It just seems to give the hair more body than anything else."

George believes that he gets a more uniform wave with his method because the action of the permanent wave lotion begins when it is applied. He says: "There is a difference in winding time of about 15 minutes from bottom to top winding, and there is bound to be that much difference in the wave when it is completed — tighter and looser spots.

YOGURT COIF . . . This chic hairdo is the result of a permanent wave that uses yogurt instead of permanent waving lotion. Designed by V. George of Fifth Avenue, it is ideal for fine hair.

"Yogurt on the other hand has a more uniform action. It seems to revitalize the hair follicle, rectifying hair dryness, hair bruises or damage. The hair seems to have far more gloss after the use of yogurt, is more pliable to work with after the yogurt treatment."

Yogurt, a milk to which a culture has been added to create its special properties, is not difficult to find. George gives a blunt haircut to those with fine hair.

"It gives the hair more body," he says, "than a hairdo that is tapered, which is likely to create flying ends."

By MRS. CARL WIMBERLEY
Between seven and eight inches of snow fell in the community Monday night and Tuesday. Very little wind accompanied the snow so there was only slight drifting. Seventy hundredths of an inch of moisture was recorded. The Country roads which were bad from the rain are slick again but not impassable. Most of the pupils at the Dawn School were present for classes Thursday although the school buses did not run except on the pavement. The Rev. and Mrs. Charles Davenport are the parents of a baby son born Tuesday in the Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. The baby weighed eight pounds. Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Miller of Austin spent the last week of the holidays in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Miller. The H. H. Miller family held their annual Christmas dinner in the home of Mrs. Inez Wedel in Amarillo. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Axtell and daughters spent New Year's Eve in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Wimberley. The Axtells left New Year's Day for their home in Durango, Colo., after spending the holidays with relatives in the Panhandle area. Jerry Beard recently visited Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Thixton at Big Spring. H. V. McCabe is in the hospital in Canyon with pneumonia. He was hospitalized Wednesday. Mrs. W. W. Wimberley Sr. spent part of the Christmas holidays in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wimberley in Amarillo. Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Stewart and children, Linda and Jerry, recently made a trip to Big Spring, Forsan and Nocina. In Big Spring they visited Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Porter and at Forsan, A. F. Oglesby. At Nocena, the Stewarts visited her aunt, Mrs. Lucy Boutwell and visited the boot factory in that town. Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Sparkman Jr. were dinner guests New Year's Day in the Stewart home. The two families have spent New Year's Day together for 12 of the past 13 years. The Sparkman family formerly lived for several years where Mr. and Mrs. Reece Stewart live.

Lucy Beth Miller returned Sunday to Abilene after spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. K. Miller. Mr. Miller and his son took Lucy Beth to Abilene. The annual school census is being taken this month in the Dawn area by Mrs. Carl Wimberley. Mrs. T. J. Parsons is enumerating the pupils in the Daniel Community. Pre-school age census is not being made this year. Mrs. Lester English has been teaching a study course book this week at the First Baptist Church in Hereford. Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lemons, their children, Beverly and Gary and his father, Claude Lemons,

They visited Knott's Berry Farm and saw the large snips from Pier Point. They spent two days seeing Disneyland, where there is a parking lot covering one hundred acres. ANOTHER MILESTONE. A bright press agent got the idea of using saddle cloths to mark up Willie Shoemaker's score (3,500 winners) for 11 years of riding. He is the world's highest paid athlete.

Shoemaker Picks Tomy Lee Win As Most Satisfying Among 3,500

By FRANK ECK
In his 11 years as a jockey, Willie Shoemaker has ridden the winners of more than 3,500 races. Of all these victories there must be one that has given him the most satisfaction. "There is," says the 28-year-old native of Fabens, Tex., without hesitation. "It was Tomy Lee's victory in the Kentucky Derby."

before the Derby I had made a commitment to ride Tomy Lee, and I couldn't back out. "Tomy Lee had a habit of bearing out and I figured he might do the same thing in the Derby." "Tomy Lee beat Sword Dancer by a nose in the Churchill Downs test. Looking back, the satisfaction goes deeper because Bill Hartack had replaced Shoemaker on Tomy Lee previous to the Derby. But Hartack couldn't prevent the horse from bearing out on turns and Tomy Lee's owner and trainer asked Shoemaker to abide by his previous agreement.

Later in the spring, Shoemaker got his chance to ride Sword Dancer and the pair scored in three $100,000 races. In order, they were the Metropolitan against older horses, the Belmont Stakes and the Monmouth Handicap, also against older horses. Another reason that made Willie's second Derby win all the sweeter was the fact that he had the unpredictable Californian, Silky Sullivan, as a co-favorite in the 1958 Derby. The horse who ran with green ribbon on a braided mane finished a dismal 12th. And the year before that, Shoemaker drew a suspension when the misjudged the finish line with Gallant Man. That game little colt got beaten by a nose by 8 to 1 Iron Liege (Hartack up). Although Shoemaker has had two five-winner days at Aqueduct this fall there were times when he limited his day's activity to only a few mounts. No longer is he anxious to ride eight or nine races a day. In some quarters it was felt he had lost his desire because of his high income tax bracket. "I still have the desire to ride and to win," says Shoemaker. "But I no longer have the desire to break records, I'm satisfied just to stay ahead of the next fellow, and lead the riders each year. "I'll ride out the New York season, unless it gets too cold." In the last 10 years, Willie has led the riders five times and in seven years he has ridden 300 winners or more annually. In 1953 he rode 485 winners, a feat that may never be matched. Shoemaker is much in demand and is proud of the fact that he

'Poker Ruby' Not A 'Bluff'

YELLOWKNIFE, N.W.T. (P) — Ruby Young, a tall, slim and attractive cocktail waitress, is just "one of the boys" to the hard-core poker players in these parts.

Ruby plays a mean hand of poker, notwithstanding the fact that she once lost $3,500 in three games.

Ruby's reputation as a poker player of note extends far past the borders of this town 660 air miles north of Edmonton, Alberta.

Miners and trappers coming in from the bush are always anxious to see if she is as good as her reputation. They usually leave town knowing she is—and carrying a light wallet.

Ruby, 37, started playing poker 14 years ago when she left a waitress-checkroom job in Calgary to move north and get in on "some of the big money."

For a time after she arrived she worked as night cook in a mining camp near here.

That's where her poker education started. "For a while I did nothing but lose my wages. They play 'wild' games all the time up here and it's a little confusing for a beginner."

"I remember once when we were playing a wild game the guy across from me kept betting the pot up. I followed him all the way and threw in my last $70 because I thought I had it. He uncovered five aces. I smiled and 'Sorry, I've got six sixes.' That was when I found out you don't get six of anything in that game."

Since that time Ruby has learned more about poker playing than most men will ever know.

"My husband says I'm just starting to be a good poker player. It hasn't been easy. I had one stretch there where I lost $3,500 in three games. I was always second-best hand."

Over a distance she is winning. "I kept track for a while and in 2½ months I came out $1,500 to the good. But there have been times when I've made—or lost—more than that in one game. Last November I picked up $1,650 in one game."

Ruby and several men—including her husband—meet every Saturday night for their poker sessions.

"Boy, you should sit in some of those games," she says. "They're wicked. My husband is the worst of the lot. Ray bulldozes me as if I was an enemy of his. I don't like it too much when we're both going for the bundle. Fortunately we both have our own money."

Ruby and her husband, who owns a taxi company here, do not like other card games—just poker.

Community Center To House Social Activity

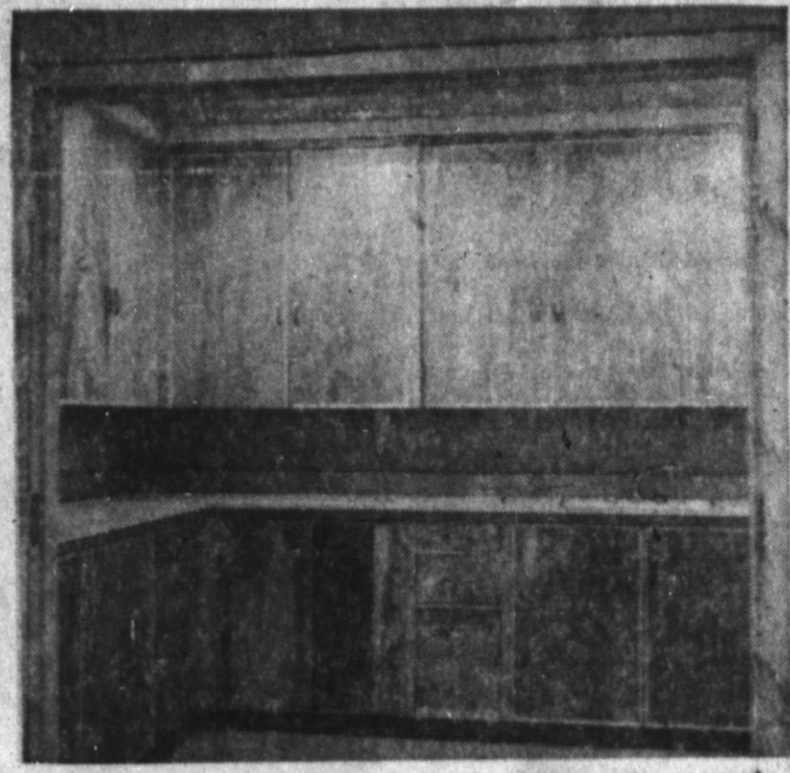

The lounge area is spacious, well lighted and denotes to the patio is a highlighting feature. The room is perfect for informal or formal gatherings of groups.

As completion of Hereford Community Center nears, various clubs and organizations in Hereford and Deaf Smith County are getting anxious to start scheduling events in the building.

The new building should provide a social center to all groups in Hereford. Club members have long expressed a desire for such a community building.

The building will house many art exhibits, formal and informal meetings and receptions in the years to come. City officials are urging all groups to make full use of the Center as it belongs to residents and was built for their use.

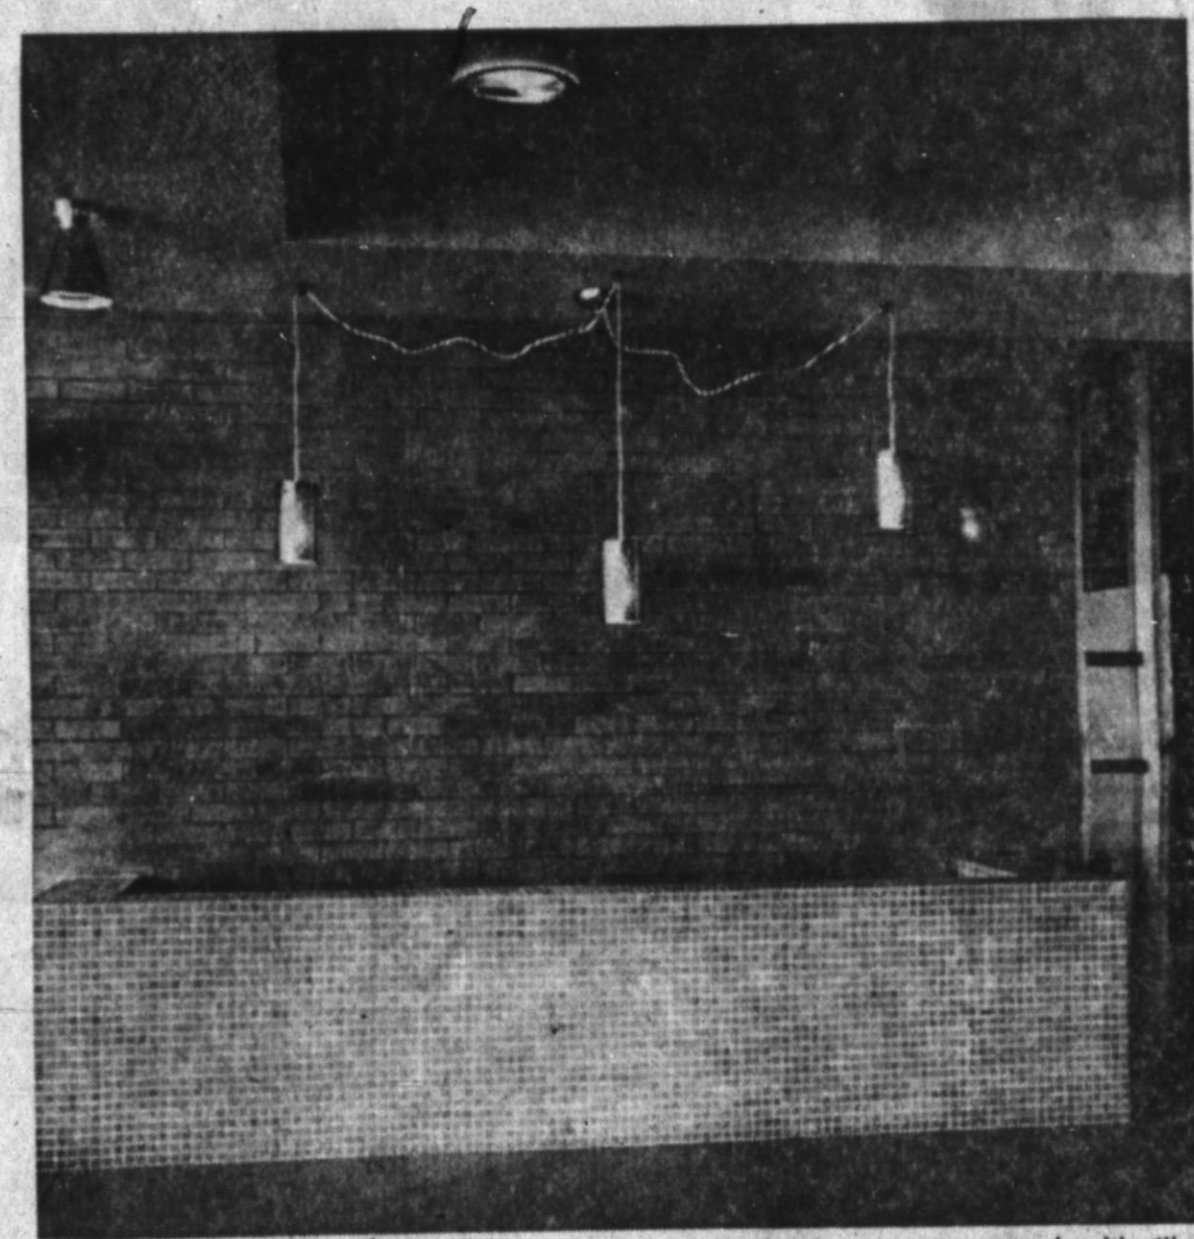

A crafts room will be popular with various art groups in the area. Drawers and shelves provide plenty of storage space for equipment. A sink with hot and cold running water was included in the room.

Two planter boxes should provide projects for garden club groups in the county. Located at the north and south walls of the lounge, the boxes are covered with tile. Three overhead lights should make the boxes a highlight of beauty in the room.

A kitchenette is adjacent to the lounge room in the building. There, snacks and refreshments may be prepared by groups. Included in the small kitchen is an electric stove, sink and storage space for dinnerware. Younger groups of girls will have a chance to try their hand at making cookies in the kitchenette.

The recreation room will provide thousands of hours of enjoyment to all residents in the county. The largest single room in the Center, Danish-modern furniture and a corner piece line the walls. Thirty-two overhead lights illuminate the spacious room.

Hereford Shows Strong Team At Golden Gloves Tournament

Hereford Athletic Club boxers indicated strength for regional competition by winning six high school division trophies on the final night of the third annual Hereford Golden Gloves District Tournament Thursday night in Deaf Smith County Bull Barn.

A huge crowd turned out to see the final matches held in Hereford this year and watched four local boxers win district high school championships matches. The Hereford team already had two trophies in the bag before the final matches began.

Two Hereford boxers, Donny Lesly and R. C. Welty, staged one of the best fights of the evening, with Lesly winning the 135-pound championship by decision.

The long-awaited bout between Manny Perez of Amarillo and Gary Watt of Levelland was as much or more of a fight than fans had expected. Judges gave the nod to Watt after three hard-fought rounds.

Other local boxers winning their fights were Johnny Welty, Robert Welty and Ronny Welty. Wayne Bomar and Roy Rogers won light-heavy and heavy-weight championships unopposed. R. C. Welty won over Freddy Rodriguez of Hereford in a 135-pound high school elimination match.

Gary Watt of Levelland won the Hereford Brand competitors trophy. Henry Aycock of Hereford made presentation of the annual award.

The first night fights were held Monday but the finals were called off from Tuesday and moved to Thursday after the heavy snow made it impossible for visiting fighters to return.

Boxing fans got a chance to see 245-pound Pete Peterson of Levelland in action, when he won the open heavy weight championship by scoring a knockout win over Bill Lunsford of Plainview. Peterson was a crowd-pleaser with his slow, determined style and sledge-hammer power.

Another of the better fights of the evening was between Norman Rexroat of Pampa against Charles Spear of Levelland for the 155-pound high school championship. Rexroat won Pampa's only trophy by decision.

Manuel Gonzales of Plainview and Pampa's Gary Willis staged a spectacular bout for the 160-pound open championship. Willis seemed to outpoint Gonzales, but Gonzales knocked Willis to the canvas in the first and second rounds to win the championship. Robert Welty of Hereford knocked out Euel Perry of Hereford, and Johnny Welty of Hereford won a split decision over Ronny Morton of Levelland to win 160-pound and 145-pound high school championships, respectively. Ronny Welty of Hereford won the 118-pound high school championship over Plainview's Rodney Keeling by default.

The bouts here were the first of four district invitational tournaments to be held in the region this year. The Amarillo Regional Golden Gloves Tournament will be held Feb. 1, 2, 4 and 5. Thursday night results included:

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

By ANNE ASHLEY
Q. How can I remedy some warped phonograph records?

A. These records can be flattened out under the even heat of an infra-red lamp. Place the dish either on a turntable or on a felt-covered surface, and let the beam from the lamp play over it for about five minutes. The record, when warm, will usually straighten out itself, but you may help the leveling out process with a little gentle pressure. Be sure to guard against uneven or excessive heating, which could damage your records.

Q. How can I purify the air in a room?
A. Pour a small quantity of carbolic acid into a very hot vessel, and it will purify the air in a room.

Q. How can I keep a supply of cigars fresh?

A. A few fresh apple peelings, enclosed in the cigar container, will keep them moist and fresh. Replace the peelings as they wither.

Q. Is there a "homemade" way of removing old wallpaper from a wall without the usual mess caused by dripping water?

A. You can try this: Tack a wet sheet or a wet heavy cloth over the paper, and then steam the paper loose by pressing over the cloth with a hot iron. Then a little scraping with a putty knife should finish the job for you.

Q. How can I remove smoke from a room easily and quickly?

A. Dip a towel in equal parts of vinegar and hot water, wring it, and then wave it overhead and around the room.

Q. How can I remove water rings or stains from fabrics?

A. Often effective for this is a gentle rubbing with a silver spoon or coin.

Q. How can I improvise a fancy-looking sealing wax for use on the envelopes of my letters?

A. For an attractive effect, a dab of thick red fingernail polish makes a fine substitute sealing wax. It doesn't need warming in a flame, is quite flexible when it dries, and it sticks just as well as wax.

Q. How can I save time when mashing potatoes, and also make them lighter?

A. By putting the potatoes through the ricer before mashing them.

Q. How can I remove grease spots from suede shoes?

A. These will usually yield to vinegar, applied with an old toothbrush.

Q. How can I deodorize gasoline?

A. By adding five or six drops of oil of sassafras to each quart of gasoline used.

Very light burn marks on your furniture will sometimes disappear by use of your regular polish. If not, use rottenstone or finely powdered pumice, mixed to a thin paste with raw or boiled linseed oil. Rub in the direction of the grain. Wipe with another cloth moistened with plain linseed oil. Repeat as often as necessary. If the burn is too deep, you'll probably need a professional.

Beauty At Home

By LYNN CARTER
 Q. How can I make my fingernails appear bigger than they are?

A. If your nails are smaller than the width of the knuckles, dark polish will make the nails look larger, and thus minimize your knuckles. This is good if you have thick, knotted joints. On the other hand, if your nails are too big for your fingertips, so they look thick and heavy, a light or natural polish will seem to reduce this thick, heavy look.

Q. My ears are somewhat on the "conspicuous" side. How can I subdue them?

lobes, and a bit of powder, will make them blend in with your face, rather than stand out. Use only small earrings. Choose a hairdo that covers the tops of your ears.

Q. Do you sanction the use of the type of hair - coloring rinse which is simply poured over the head?

A. Only if your hair is very even in color and in good condition. For streaked or sun-bleached hair, and for ends made porous by a permanent wave, it is better to apply the rinse strand by strand. The porous hair will absorb more of the color than the normal kind of hair - so watch this carefully!

The snow was really enjoyed by all the small children in the community this week. Many of them were out trying their sleighs in the snow. The moisture was HONOLULU — Beautiful Chinese, Samoan, Japanese, Philippine and Australian style buildings on an island designed by the greatest architects of America, Australia and the Far East.

That's the picture painted by U. S. Representative Daniel K. Inouye of the proposed International Trade Center here. Inouye urged participation by Hawaii with the federal government in the center. He says it was imperative that the 50th state should at the same time work with our friends and neighbors of the Far East.

Holiday Travelers Return Home To Routine Living

By MRS. OWEN ANDREWS

Holiday travelers from the community were returning to their homes and to routine living after their visits.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dobbs and Larry returned home Sunday from a twelve-day visit in Tennessee. They spent most of the time at Sparta visiting both their fathers and also with other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. George Zetzsche and Ann spent the first week end after Christmas at Bowie with Zetzsche's parents Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Zetzsche and other members of the family. They went to Las Vegas, Nev. the first of the next week, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Leon Martin and Stephanie and also visited points of interest along the way.

Mr. and Mrs. Harland Frye, Kenneth and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Frye spent several days visiting their relatives at Davenport, Ia. during the holiday period. They visited relatives of both Mr. and Mrs. Frye.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Warrick and sons spent the holidays visiting their relatives in Central Texas and at Idabel, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Brooks and Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Benson of Hereford were visiting their relatives at Comanche, Okla., last week. Also, they attended funeral services for an uncle, Frank Driskill, at Waurika. A brother of Brooks, Earnest Brooks, of Comanche, had been visiting the Brooks for a few days and they took him home as they went for the visit. Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Barber, Jimmy and Virgil spent the holidays visiting relatives in Calif., in the Los Angeles area. They visited points of interest, including Catalina Island. They were especially interested in cotton picking machines operating in Arizona on the way out. As they returned the northern route, they became snowbound for two days in the Grand Canyon area, and didn't get to see the Canyons as planned.

Mr. and Mrs. George Springer and daughters of Hereford, visited the T. L. Sparkman Jr. home Wednesday night.

The G. W. Parkers and Olin Parrises ate New Years dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Doughman and Kathy.

Enjoying New Years dinner with Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Sparkman Jr., and family were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stewart and family, and La June Burris. Miss Burris and her sister, Zadine, both of Texico, spent last week visiting the W. H. Andrews' and other relatives in this area.

Eating Christmas dinner with the J. L. Brooks were Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Taylor and Peggy of Friona, Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor and children of Bovina, Mr. and Mrs. John Burkett and family of Canyon, Mr. and Mrs. Deeward Taylor and children of Friona, Mrs. Maggie Cook of Friona and Pat Brooks of Hereford.

Mrs. Allie Burris, and family spent the week end, visiting the homes of Mrs. Burris' brothers, W. H. and J. E. Andrews.

Visiting the Glen Andrews on Saturday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Springer and David of Amarillo, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Springer and Kristi.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Dobbs, Dusty and Cindy have moved to 504 West Third in Hereford. Mr. and Mrs. James Dobbs are moving this week to the farm home, formerly occupied by the Clark Dobbs. It is the Sid Barclay place, located on the Clovis highway a few miles from Hereford.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Sparkman visited Thursday with Mrs. Fannie Warrick and J. E.

The Olin Parrises were hosts at a New Years Eve party. Table games were played by nine couples. They were Mr. and Mrs. David Yandell, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Robinson,

To me there is only one solution to the problem. The existing laws need to be repealed at once. The insurance commission in Austin sent home, and let the insurance companies gain the public's patronage through honest price competition, not law enforcement. Rates will go down where they should be, and a lot of insurance companies shocked to find out that it's still possible to stay in business and make a success of it, without any help from Austin.

My apologies to any of our local companies or their personnel who may feel that this is leveled at them. I know that the present and, also proposed policies being adopted by the Commission is not altogether to their choosing. For them I have the deepest sympathy.

May we all pray for a better day in automobile policies, and if our prayers are not answered, may we be fortunate enough to find a few leftover, burnt-out mules that we may use in transportation until the time comes when a policy costs less than an automobile.

Yours thinking out loud,

coffee? Could you afford the purchase of a ten-pound bag of sugar? How about a slab of steak? You know the answer. The only thing that has kept the price range down on these commodities is the fact that our merchants have been operating under our free system of enterprise and must meet competition. This keeps prices down and benefits the public.

Now, why not require insurance companies to operate in the same manner? Why pass laws that require Texans to buy their policies at prices they themselves ask? I believe that if insurance was made to operate under the same competitive system that other businesses do, that competition alone would reduce rates by at least one-third in most cities. A number of insurance agencies would make the reduction now were it not for the rate setting laws coming out of Austin.

I think a little more feeling of patriotism toward the youth of our state would effect the thinking of some of those involved in the present unjust methods being used in fixing rates on "underage male drivers". Before we determine that because the applicant for liability insurance had the misfortune of being a male, we should remember that he is a trusted driver when in the service of Uncle Sam. He is trusted with the handling of a plane that cost millions of dollars. He is the chauffeur of an automobile in which is important military personnel. He is a hero until he asks for the privilege of driving an automobile on the highways of the state he has risked his life to defend. He is now told that he is a dangerous risk. That he must pay double for his insurance. Just doesn't make sense to me.

SOUTHWESTERN PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

By Charlie Seeds

This was the year when two dictators, who had brought death and destruction to millions, came themselves to a violent end. By a strange twist of fate, both Adolph Hitler and Benito Mussolini died within five days of each other.

There was no mystery about Mussolini's death. His own people had turned against him. Captured on April 25th, with his mistress, Carla Petacci, he was tried summarily and executed by Italian partisans... and left to hang in the street.

Mystery shrouded Hitler's final days, but months of investigation put the threads of the story together: At just about the time Mussolini was dying, Hitler and his mistress, Eva Braun, were married in a secret ceremony. They locked themselves in a room for five days... and on April 30th completed a suicide pact. Gasoline had been ordered... and the bodies were burned to prevent identification.

Remember the year? This year marked the end of an era... and we could turn back to living normal lives again. A lot of returning veterans got a real kick out of getting behind the wheel of the family car once again!

The year was 1945. You'll get a real driving thrill when you take the wheel of a new 1960 FORD. You'll be excited, too, about the kind of deal we can make you right now. Trades were never higher than the one you'll get when you step up to a 1960 FORD at CHARLIE SEEDS MOTOR, INC., 146 E. 2nd, Phone EM4-2727.

Is it any wonder that boys and girls of 16 and 17 studying fourth and fifth grade work gave the teachers trouble or thought it great fun to "chase the teacher off?" Perhaps this had a lot to do with citizens working so hard for longer school terms and better facilities, better teachers and properly lighted and heated buildings. The old cow-chip, coal or wood fire was alright for toasting one side while the other froze, but not very conducive to study.

Very is to the teachers of long ago and the citizens who made our present educational system possible. I would only wish that some of them could see the wonderful buildings, books and other equipment that our teachers and students take for granted and without giving proper thought to the appreciation of it all.

That does not mean that we should not appreciate our teachers today. Some of them are rewarded for taking special interest

WALCOTT NEWS

Area School Opened In Regular Session Monday

By MRS. T. L. COLLINS
Walcott School opened on Monday, Jan. 4, with an almost perfect attendance.

Early Tuesday morning snow started falling. By 6 a. m., (when the buses start their route), the ground was covered with approximately three inches of snow. Moderate wind caused some drifting. Not having telephone service to "check up" or contact radio stations, each bus driver was on his own.

Principal T. L. Collins and bus drivers decided to take them back home. The continuing fall of snow and winds causing possibility of roads being drifted deep in places were factors of weather involved.

Boys' and Girls' 4-H clubs scheduled meetings for the afternoon were cancelled, also.

Walcott School Board held their regular monthly meeting on Monday night to transact usual business. Present were Jack Weaver, G. V. Hall and Glenn Burrus and Principal Thomas L. Collins.

Harold A. Bass had a tonsillectomy at the Deaf Smith County Hospital during the Christmas holidays.

Walcott's regular PTO meeting will be held Friday, Jan. 15, at 8 p. m. Hereford High School's exchange students are scheduled to bring the program. President, Mrs. Jack Weaver, extends to all an invitation to be present, and bring cake for the refreshment hour.

Mrs. Lee Tice was taken to the Deaf Smith County Hospital in Hereford on Christmas Eve, where she remained for three days. Mrs. Tice had a cold and flu, which resulted in a nervous condition. She is reported to be in good condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Bick Hooser and Gregory Lee and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hammersley of Lubbock came for Christmas Day to be in the home of Lee Tice and family.

The J. V. Perrin family drove to Haskell on Christmas Day, they visited their parents, Mrs. Julia Perrin and Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Stone. They ran into heavy fog at Dickens, which made driving dangerous. On Monday, the family returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Burns, Vicki, Marsha and Chris went to Adrian for Christmas Day. They were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chock Garrison, Kathy, Kirk, Kriss and Kimberlie.

From Sunday until Tuesday morning Vicki Burns visited with Doris Horton in Adrian.

Kay Kirby spent a week of her vacation visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Watkins in Plainview.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Myers and family and her mother, Mrs. Bessie Petticoat of Amarillo visited relatives in Dumas, and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Atkins and G. M. in Dalhart during the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Collins and Bruce spent New Year's Day in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Alston of Westway. They watched the annual Tournament of Roses parade and the Cotton Bowl game on television. Dinner was enjoyed together also.

ABOUT A BOOK

NEW YORK (AP)—In an editorial in the Christian Herald, Editor Dr. Daniel A. Poling says he "opposes political censorship," but approves the post-office ban against the novel "Lady Chatterley's Lover."

Although it is brilliantly written he said that it's filled with nasty words used "only on the walls of ill-kept outhouses... I nominate Lady Chatterley's Lover to the number-one spot in any bawdy house library."

Mark Twain's "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer" was excluded from the children's room of the Brooklyn Public Library in 1876 and banned altogether by the Denver Public Library.

Burglars Strike Two Businesses

By MRS. R. L. PINNELL

Two local businesses suffered loss at the hands of burglars Monday night with the Pridmore Service Station being the heaviest loser.

Sometime after 12:30 a. m. and when the snow began to fall, the offenders broke a 22" by 56" glass door at Clara's Cafe, where they took loose change from the cash register, candy, gum and several combs which were for sale.

From there they went next door to the service station and broke a 5' by 5' plate glass window to enter. They took eight or 10 cartons of cigarettes and a tool box owned by Grady Pridmore, operator, containing an estimated $125 in tools.

The same night a Vega cafe was entered and a filling station in Wildorado showed burglars had attempted to break in. It is thought they were frightened away. Somewhere in these high plains there is bound to be a well-stuffed, neatly combed robber with small change in his pocket.

Mrs. Patsy Kingstons and son Donnie returned Sunday to her home in Los Angeles after a lengthy visit with relatives here.

Darrell Collins left the Wednesday before Christmas for Hartshorne, Okla., to visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Collins and other relatives.

On Friday his brother, Dwane, and Walt Loveless went down and all returned home on Sunday after Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Thomas of Olton visited recently in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Joe Brownlee and family.

Patricia Arnold of Bushland was an overnight guest of Donna Brownlee Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Loveless and Kenny of Canyon visited Christmas Eve with his father, M. F. Loveless and family, and grandparents, the Vic Lemkes.

The cold weather and snow caused the postponement of the Bovina-Adrian basketball game Tuesday night. An estimated four to five inches fell Monday night and Tuesday, snarling traffic on Highway 66. Many were thankful for the low degrees of temperature which went with this storm instead of the previous storm. School was turned out early on Tuesday but this was due to the icy road conditions the buses would face.

The first and second grades, the English and math classes, were forced to "consolidate and re-group" after the holidays due to the building program. Mrs. Kromers' little folks have been "carted off - bag and baggage" to the high school library while tile is being laid on the floor. The high school English classes are meeting on the ground floor of the auditorium this week.

Coach and Mrs. Max Kennedy and Randy spent the holidays among relatives. In Happy they visited Mrs. Kennedy's parents, the B. R. McCaslands. In Vega Park they visited his parents, the Elzie Kennedys, in Hereford; they saw his grandparents, the B. R. Flowers and in Lamesa they saw her grandparents, the F.L. McCaslands and Mrs. E. L. Fyra.

Christmas day guests of the George Gruhlkeys were her parents, the W. H. Woods of Amarillo, and her sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Drew of Lawton, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Chapman and daughters of Amarillo visited Christmas day in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joe Brownlee and family. In the evening the Brownlees drove to Glenrio, N. M., for Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brownlee and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brownlee and family of Borger.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Gruhlkey and family were her cousin, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Deligans, Dennis, Janet and Nina of Livermore, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Morgan and Kippy took Don to Ralls Sunday morning where he joined a classmate, Dick Terrell, to return to school at Kerrville. They returned by way of Turkey, where they attended church at the Rev. Johnnie Williams' new pastorate.

The Ray Browns were hosts to the family Christmas this year. Attending were the mother, Mrs. Bessie Spande, Mr. and Mrs. Bill James and boys and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Love of Albuquerque, N. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hall of Alanreed visited Sunday in the Joe Brownlee home. They are aunt and uncle of Mrs. Brownlee.

Mrs. Ralph Perry left Tuesday before Christmas to visit her daughter, Mrs. Elmer Faris and family of Ft. Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Sisk purchased the C. V. Griggs home this week.

Melanie Weidner joined the H. P. Sewells of San Jon, N. M., for Christmas in Blixie, Miss., with her fiancé, Darrell Sewell, who is in the Air Force stationed there.

PRINCESS ON THE PRAIRIE:

Chapter Two Of A Storybook Romance

AMARILLO, - (SP) - After her husband dies, a royal princess goes about rearranging her personal life in much the same fashion as thousands of other widows.

The neighbors of Cecilia Hohenzollern Harris, the Prussian princess who came to Texas as a bride 10 years ago, believe she's here to stay.

Her Oklahoma - born husband, Clyde K. Harris, died unexpectedly last year. Many assumed his wife would dispose of his interior decorator business and go back with their small daughter to live in Germany.

Last summer Princess Cecilia and her daughter Kira Alexandrine, 5, spent three months with relatives in Germany and England.

On their return to Amarillo, the princess told friends: "It was a fine trip, and of course I enjoyed seeing my family - but I'm glad to be home."

Blonde, hazel-eyed Mrs. Harris then busied herself with reopening her comfortable home and getting pig-tailed Kira started in kindergarten.

While she had said before that she full expected to remain here, friends thought they detected a note of uncertainty. They say any such doubt has vanished.

It was 10 years ago this fall that Clyde Harris, a former Army lieutenant, brought his bride to start a new life on the Texas plains. She vowed at the time, with quiet determination, that she would learn to like it here. Their wedding capped a storybook courtship.

Harris, who grew up at Maud, Okla., and was a soda fountain clerk as a boy, had entered the Army as a private. By the end of World War II he was a lieutenant. With U. S. occupation forces in Germany he was detailed to search out a stolen treasure in paintings and gems.

Princess Cecilia and Harris met at Darmstadt, where she had been staying. She is a daughter of Crown Prince Wilhelm, a granddaughter of Kaiser Wilhelm II and a great, great granddaughter of Britain's Queen Victoria.

In a setting spiced with intrigue, the young lieutenant found time to woo his princess while tracking a 40-million-dollar collection taken from the Duke of Hesse during the war.

Until Harris could build the handsome French provincial home he planned, they lived in a four-room apartment here. Cecilia, born to family eminence, but - as her new friends were to discover - essentially shy and reserved, embarked on a vast readjustment.

As a housewife she was untrained to cook or sew. She couldn't even drive a car, and still can't.

Gradually she made her place in this new and strange community. Clyde, with a talent for friendship, helped his bride get to know a number of people. A few came to be close friends.

As his business flourished, Harris built the home he had designed. Into it went many reminders of his wife's former life - busts of Queen Victoria and the Kaiser, her family coat of arms, china commemorating special events in Hohenzollern history. Mingled with these were art objects Harris had collected.

In October of 1954 their daughter arrived. They named her for former Grand Duchess Kira, who is the wife of Cecilia's brother Louis Ferdinand.

Mrs. Harris long since had learned to cook and to sew. She is a United States citizen. Nowadays her activities center about her daughter, the business inherited from her husband and the management of her household.

Mrs. Harris looks in regularly at her business establishment and makes any major decisions. Otherwise she leaves operations to a manager and staff.

At home she has a nurse to care for Kira, a maid who comes in every day and a man to do the yard work.

She entertains once a week on average. Her preference is for small dinner parties affording quiet chats with guests. Mrs. Harris prepares the meals herself.

Once ignorant of sewing, she has grown skillful at the art of needlepoint. Her latest project, designed by Harris and carried out since his death, is a handsome rug with intertwined C's - the first initial of each - in the center.

NEEDLE ART. Mrs. Harris and daughter Kira examine the needlepoint rug which Mrs. Harris completed recently. Her late husband designed the rug before his death.

EARLY START. Mrs. Cecilia Hohenzollern Harris, who as a Prussian princess grew up with a love for good music, plays one of the classics for her 5-year-old daughter, Kira.

Beauty at Home

By Lynn Carter

Q. Does one's hairstyle really play a big part in the shaping of one's face?

A. This is vitally important to the shaping of the face, the contour of the head, the outline of the figure. Consider the arrangement of your hair first in a hand mirror, to see the effect on the features. Second, in a hand mirror and wall mirror together, see the effect on the shape of your head from every angle. And finally, in a full-length mirror, see how your height and the proportions and silhouette of your body. Only in this way can you tell whether you're right in wearing bangs or a bob, long or short hair, etc.

Q. Please suggest a good bleaching lotion for the hair on the legs.

A. One part of ammonia mixed with six parts of peroxide.

Q. How can I remove a light scorch stain from a heavy woolen garment?

A. Try wetting the stained area with water, sprinkling cornstarch over it, and rubbing this well in. When absolutely dry, brush the powder off.

Q. What makeup technique will add the illusion of greater length to my very small face?

A. Parting the hair in the center, or very high, will help. Wear it short in a brushed up-sweep. Shade the eyebrows in a narrow arch. Color the upper lashes and place shadow high on the lids. Wear your rouge high on the cheeks toward the outer corners of the eyes.

Q. What can I do to help reduce enlarged pores in my skin?

A. More frequent cleansings of the face tend to shrink these pores. Large-pored skin usually accompanies oiliness. So use lots of soap and water. Next, apply skin lotion to do an extra-careful rinsing job. Finish with vigorous patting with an astringent. For social times, camouflage these pores with a

Circuit Meeting Set Jan. 29-31

The Hereford Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses received information at their weekly Watchtower Bible Study Class that their semi-annual circuit conference will be held soon at Lubbock.

Presiding minister of the Hereford congregation, Lloyd Reddoch said, "We look forward to these conferences to give us the needed stimulus to 'Do the Divine Will' which is the theme of the conference."

"We often convene in congregational, circuit, district, national and international conferences," Reddoch said, "to meet the challenge of the day and to stem the tide of delinquency by 'Doing the Divine Will.'"

heavy makeup base or skin paste.

Q. How wide should the mouth be lipstick?

A. Your face will look well balanced, with good proportions, if the ends of your mouth are just below the iris of each eye. This makes your mouth the same length as the distance between the centers of your eyes.

Q. What is a good treatment for whiteheads on my skin?

A. Apply a paste made with almond meal and warm water to the infected areas, and allow to dry. Then scrub with circular motions, using a clean cloth. Rinse the skin with warm water, then splash with cold water.

Q. How can I mix my own hair-curling fluid?

A. One formula consists of the white of an egg beaten with an equal quantity of water.

Q. What is a safe and easy way to bleach some fine, dark hair on my upper lip?

A. Applications of lemon juice are often effective for this.

The North Dakota-North Dakota Aggies basketball series began in 1904.

Reddoch stated, "Skilled workmen require advanced training, so the Christian worker needs a firm foundation in Bible education. The training at these assemblies is designed to improve the quality of our preaching activity. We sincerely hope that the advanced training planned for us there will enable us to live closer to the Bible and its teachings," Reddoch said. The program is scheduled for Jan. 29-31.

OFF THE Shelf

By H. A. TUCK

The Longest Day by Cornelius Ryan currently stands among the top ten books in non-fiction.

It is the story of individuals and units on D-Day, when the Allies invaded Normandy.

Books and stories have been written about D-Day before, but never in so much detail. Despite the facts and research which went into the book, Ryan has made his subject easily readable and, in some places, very entertaining.

The events of June 6, 1944, stand as a tribute to the men and nations which opposed the little Bravarian Corporal who nearly conquered the world.

British and American paratroopers landed early to secure glider landing areas, and to silence deadly coastal guns. Poor visibility and other factors scattered them all over the coast. As General Maxwell Taylor, commander of the 101st Airborne Division, commented as he surveyed the large group of officers and small group of enlisted men who managed to get together, "Never have so few been commanded by so many."

The largest armada ever assembled in the world, more than 5000 invasion craft dotted the English Channel, bringing in troops and supplies, duelling with huge gun emplacements along the coast.

The Longest Day includes more than the Allied activities. It also has detailed activities of the German Army and of many of the French civilians.

First reaction by the reader is wonder of how the invasion ever succeeded in the face of such unfavorable landings, strong opposition and rugged terrain.

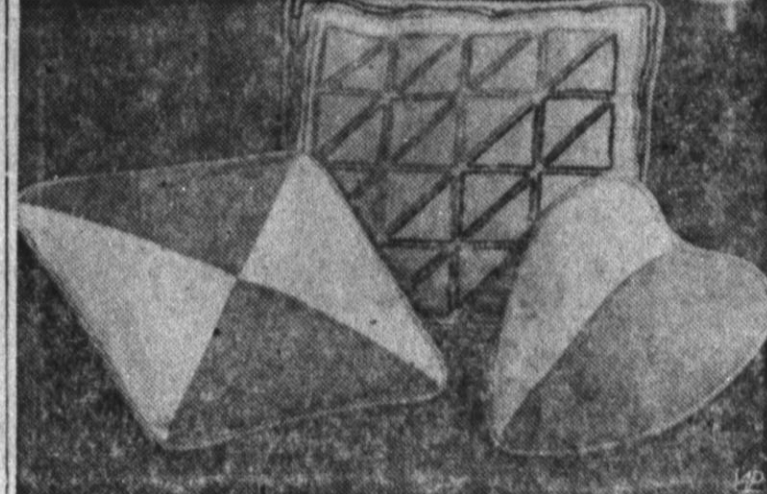

But Field Marshal Rommel happened to be gone, the only fighter planes in the area had been moved back, the Germans expected the main invasion to hit around Calais and Hitler failed to release the two tank divisions he held in reserve in time to aid the beleaguered German troops.

With more than 200,000 soldiers, sailors and coastguardsmen were in the vast armada, but only about 3,000 went ashore in the first wave. Their courage and daring salvaged a bad situation and insured "the beginning of the end" for the Third Reich.

At the close of his book, Ryan even lists the survivors of D-Day, both Allied and German, with their present occupations. His thorough research and fine narrative skill has resulted in a book that will long be remembered as a chronicle of the world's largest invasion from the sea. As Rommel said when informed of the attack, it was to be The Longest Day.

TEXTURED PILLOWS — Rich textured effects and unusual geometric designs are easy to achieve by stitching rows of cotton rug yarn with underbraider attachment of machine.

Decorate With Fancy Pillows

By DOROTHY ROE

DECORATOR TOUCHES, adding fresh color and charm to the living room, are easy to achieve with the aid of your sewing machine. A batch of gay new pillows, for instance, will brighten up the whole decor.

You may make either new covers for old pillows, or buy foam rubber shapes for covering. Some of the newest pillows, in diamond, square and heart shapes, are simple to make, with these tips from local sewing center experts.

One group of pillow covers, in three different shapes, uses the quick and easy underbraider method of stitching rows of cotton rug yarn on linen, bur-lap or a similar sturdy fabric. Both neat geometric patterns and solid textured effects are popular and easy to do.

All stitching is done on the wrong side of the fabric, following design lines traced on the fabric where a decorative motif is to be used and merely following the outlines of the section to be covered, where a solid textured effect is desired.

The pattern in the textured effect is achieved by changing the color of yarn used in each section; for the diamond-shaped cover, triangles of white yarn alternate with triangles of pastel. Stitching is begun from the outside edge and continued in parallel rows toward the center until the section is completely filled in with stitching. Each row should be stitched very close to the previous one so that none of the cover's fabric shows through, and thread and yarn ends should be pulled through to the wrong side and fastened.

After the underbraider decoration is completed, the cording and zipper foot make fast work of inserting the cording and sewing the zipper into the back of the cover.

A trio of square pillows in vivid colors of velveteen also are effective and easy to make, with "bottoms up" trim. Here the buttoned closure flap offers a surprise by appearing on the front instead of the back of the pillow, placed off-center for decorative effect and eliminating the need of a zipper closing.

Buttons are covered in matching velveteen, and the neat row of three buttonholes is made in jig-time with your automatic buttonholer attachment. An easy finishing touch is the tailored edge - and a half edging of the cover, made by straight stitching all around each side after the back and front pieces have been joined.
