Farmers Plan 'More Militant' Phase

David Schumacher, 54, Hereford post, expresses the pain of battle during his team's 62-45 victory over Farmington, N.M., Thursday in the Clovis, N.M., Invitational Basketball Tournament. Schumacher Promising a "more militant" attitude in their efforts as the new year begins, supporters of the American Agriculture farm strike movement have drawn up plans for what they call "Phase III".

Initial plans for the launching of Phase III call for the surrounding of Lubbock with tractors on Tuesday, as part of the efforts of the Lorenzo and Hale Center offices, which are coordinating strike activities south of Hereford.

The local office, which is serving as state headquarters, will be handling activities to the north of Hereford.

Strike leaders from Hale Center and Plainview explained that their latest effort will begin Sunday with a national day of prayer.

South Plains farmers plan to head for Lubbock along every major highway with their tractors on Tuesday hoping to form "bumper-to-bumper" traffic on sprawling Loop 289 until noon.

South Plains strike leaders pointed out that no blockades or shutdowns of Lubbock businesses have been planned in conjunction with Tuesday's activities.

A spokesman for the Hereford strike office reported that activities here will probably remain on a low key for a few more days, although local supporters of the strike movement will be participating in a nationwide wheat plowup to begin Jan. 17.

Under the wheat plowup, strike participants will plow up five percent of their wheat acreage every Tuesday for a period of approximately 10 weeks.

"The USDA is saying we're going to have all of this good old wheat next year, but the plowup which is planned should have a definite effect on the amount of wheat on hand for 1978. The USDA is going to discover there's not as much wheat as they thought," the local strike office spokesman pointed out.

In the meantime, American Ag delegates are preparing for a meeting with Ag Secretary Bob Bergland on Friday, Jan. 6 at Omaha, Neb.

Gerald McCathern of Hereford has been selected as the Texas delegate to the meeting, which will include American Ag delegates from numerous states.

The Hereford office spokesman pointed out that American Ag movement supporters are disappointed with Bergland's actions in inviting delegates from a number of non-striking farm organizations to attend the Omaha conference as well.

"As it was originally set up, this was to be a meeting strictly between farm strike

Carter May Make Amends By Scheduling Egypt on Tour

By The Associated Press

President Carter is considering adding Egypt to his current foreign tour to talk with President Anwar Sadat who has said he is "disappointed" and "embarrassed" by Carter's latest statements on the Middle East.

U.S. presidential spokesman Jody Powell said today in Warsaw that Carter was thinking of going to Cairo and a final decision would be made Saturday morning. The Cairo stopover would come after his meeting with Jordan's King Hussein in Tehran on Sunday and with King Khaled of Saudi Arabia on Tuesday.

There were unconfirmed reports in Warsaw that Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin would fly to Tehran on Sunday to join the Carter-Hussein talks.

Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance, who is traveling with Carter, meanwhile was trying to defuse mounting Arab criticism of Carter's Mideast remarks on the eve of his departure on the six nation trip.

In a television interview Wednesday Carter backed Begin's rejection of Sadat's demand for an independent Palestinian state in the territories captured by Israel in the 1967 Mideast war.

Vance told reporters aboard the president's plane that Carter did not endorse Begin's insistence that Israeli troops garrison the occupied West Bank of the Jordan River.

Vance called the Begin proposal offering civil autonomy to the 1.1 million Arabs in the West Bank and the Gaza Strip "an appropriate starting point for

Hill Announces Hereford Stop

Attorney General John Hill, a candidate for governor, will be in Hereford Wednesday, his office said this week.

Hill said he will spend part of at least two weeks in January meeting with farmers to see if he can "relieve some of the pressure" on them.

If there is nothing the attorney general can do, Hill said "I know that there are things that the next governor can do and I want to be prepared to help."

"By going to the farmers, instead of asking them to come to me, I want to show that someone in state government is concerned about their plight."

Hill said he will be in Amarillo Tuesday and Wednesday; Hereford, Dimmitt, Plainview and Lubbock Wednesday; and Lubbock, Post, Haskell and Wichita Falls Thursday.

Hill, Gov. Dolph Briscoe and former governor Preston Smith are the Democratic candidates for the state's highest office.

discussion."

Carter, talking to television news correspondents Wednesday night, said Begin's stand on troops was a "reasonable negotiating position." The president also backed Begin's rejection of Egyptian President Anwar Sadat's demand for an independent Palestinian state in the territories captured by Israel in the 1967 Mideast war.

The comments sparked angry reaction Thursday in the Arab world.

Sadat said he was "disappointed" and "embarrassed" by Carter's statements. In an interview with ABC News in Cairo, Sadat said the U.S. president's remarks would hamper Israeli-Egyptian peace negotiations, already strained by tough negotiating stands from Cairo and Jerusalem. He cautioned that the signing of a Mideast settlement "might be delayed for some time."

Sadat has rejected the Begin plan, presented when the two leaders met last weekend in Ismailia. Egypt demands full

Carter, Poland Boss Talk, Lay Wreaths

WARSAW, Poland (AP) - President Carter began meeting with Polish leader Edward Gierk today after placing floral wreaths at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, the Nike statue and the Warsaw Ghetto monument under somber, snowy skies in a round of ceremonial visits.

Carter holds an unprecedented news conference later in the day at which the sensitive subject of human rights is expected to come up.

In a surprise development, White House Press Secretary Jody Powell said Carter was considering an unscheduled stop in Cairo Wednesday to discuss Israeli withdrawal from war-torn Arab lands and creation of an independent Palestinian state.

Conservative Saudi Arabia, a key U.S. ally in the Middle East, added its powerful voice to the Arab world rejection of Begin's proposal.

The Saudi state radio served notice that King Khaled and Crown Prince Fahd would try to persuade Carter - due in Saudi Arabia next Tuesday - to squeeze more concessions from Israel.

"There is no doubt the United States is the only country that can pressure Israel to become more lenient," the broadcast said.

Carter is expected to seek Saudi help in bringing more Arab states into the negotiations now underway between Israel and Egypt.

Number of Farms Declines During '77

WASHINGTON (AP) - The United States will begin the New Year with an estimated 2.68 million farms, 26,000 fewer than last Jan. 1 and about the number that existed more than a century ago, according to the Agriculture Department.

But today's farms are much larger, an average of 400 acres each, against about 150 acres in 1870. Last Jan. 1, the average farm size was 397 acres, the department said Thursday in an annual report.

Even so, the amount of land actually in farms continues to shrink because of urban sprawl, highways, recreational facilities and other non-farm uses which gobble up the countryside.

The department said that as of Jan. 1, 1978, there will be an estimated 1,072,341,000 acres in U.S. farms. That represents a decline of almost 2.7 million acres - one quarter of 1 percent - from 1,075,011,000 acres in farms last Jan. 1.

Although department experts say that there is little danger that the United States will run out of farmland, there is serious concern that city sprawl and other encroachment threatens the existence of substantial amounts of prime land, the most productive acres needed to grow crops.

The decline in the number of farms has been going on generally since the mid 1930s. Much of the shrink in the amount of land actually in farms has occurred since 1950.

In 1870 when there were about as many farms as there are today, only 408 million acres were involved in them.

But by 1910, according to department records, the number of farms had grown to nearly 6.4 million. The land they covered also grew to 879 million acres in the 40 years after 1870.

During and following World War I, farm numbers held fairly steady. By 1920, there were 956 million acres in more than 6.4 million farms.

The mid 1920s brought some decline in farm numbers and in the land used by farmers. But by 1935, as the nation's worst economic depression still gripped the country, farm numbers rose to a record peak of 6.8 million and involved nearly 1.06 billion acres.

After 1935, farms continued to grow larger and their numbers gradually declined. In 1940, there were 6.1 million farms involving more than 1.06 billion acres - slightly less than the land used today.

The years following World War II saw another era of expansion in farm size as thousands of rural families left the countryside for cities and towns.

By 1950, the number of farms dropped to 5.4 million, and the amount of land in them had increased to about 1.16 billion acres. Since then, however, the land in farms has generally declined but not as rapidly as the number of farms. In 1964, there were still more than 4.1 million acres in farms but the nation's farm count was down to about 3.2 million.

The report Thursday showed that the number of farms declined since last Jan. 1 in 23 states and held steady in the remainder. Texas continues to lead with 197,000 farms, down from 199,000 last Jan. 1.

Other leaders in numbers of farms included Missouri 133,000 farms unchanged from last Jan. 1; Iowa 128,000 and 131,000; Illinois 117,000 and 118,000; Kentucky 117,000 and 118,000; North Carolina 115,000 and 117,000; and Minnesota 114,000 and 116,000.

Drivers Asked To Burn Headlights on Holidays

There were 31 deaths, seven fewer than had been predicted, on Texas highways over the Christmas weekend, and it partly may be due to the first "Light the Way for a Safe Holiday" program initiated by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

The program, which involves motorists turning on their low-beam headlights during daylight hours, will begin again at 6 p.m. today and last through midnight Monday for the New Year's Day weekend.

"It is our belief that most motorists do not intentionally violate the law and need only to be reminded that holiday periods are dangerous," DPS head Colonel Wilson E. Speir said recently. "We feel the 'Light the Way' program, particularly with widespread participation on the part of drivers, will serve as a very meaningful reminder to others to drive safely."

All DPS troopers, Speir said, will burn their headlights at all times while on the road.

A similar effort called "Drive Lighted and Live" was conducted in Texas 15 years ago.

In the Deaf Smith County area over the Christmas weekend, a good percentage of vehicles were seen participating in the program.

Court Blocks Price Attempt

The Texas Supreme Court Thursday cleared the way for a recount of returns in the Panhandle senatorial race apparently won by U.S. Rep. Bob Price.

The court refused to hear an application for writ of mandamus filed by Price's attorneys to stop the recount.

Price, R-Pampa, beat State Rep. Bob Simpson, D-Amarillo, by 241 votes in the 26-county runoff in District 31 on Dec. 10. Simpson sought the recount in the 25 counties which use paper ballots. Ballots were cast on computer cards in Potter County.

Oaks said the recount will take place on Jan. 26. Once the ballots are counted, Oaks said, he will certify immediately the election of the successful candidate.

Oaks asked both Price and Simpson to submit names to be considered for appointment to recount committees in each county district involved in the recount. Three persons will be selected in each of the counties.

Brand To Deliver Saturday Afternoon

Because of the holiday weekend, the Sunday edition of The Hereford Brand will be published early and delivered Saturday afternoon, it was announced today by publisher O.G. Niseman.

The Sunday Brand normally goes to press late Saturday night and is delivered Sunday morning. "Since New Year's Eve is Saturday, we want our staff and our press crew to have the night off," explained the Brand publisher. He added that newspaper carriers will also be able to deliver the papers Saturday evening and be off on New Year's Day.

The Brand office will be closed Monday, but the paper will resume regular publication on Tuesday. Classified ads may be called in or cancelled from 8 to 9 a.m. Tuesday.

Carter May Announce Pension Body Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter may announce next month his long-delayed commission to study the problems of financially strained pension systems of federal, state and local governments, according to a White House aide.

Tentative plans call for the panel to study, among other things, Social Security pensions for disabled workers under age 65, the financial condition of government pension funds and "double-dipping" retirees who draw two or more pension checks from different units of the government.

Among the items on the panel's agenda will be the Civil Service retirement system for civilian federal workers, which has an annual cost that is growing at the rate of $1 billion a year, according to latest figures.

That system's long-term projected costs have been officially underestimated by several billion dollars per year, according to an unpublished Civil Service Commission report. Contributions by employees and the government cover only 61 percent of the amount needed to pay expert future pensions and to provide for a stable reserve fund, the report said.

DPS Predicts 30 To Die on Highways

AUSTIN (AP) — The Department of Public Safety predicts that 30 persons will lose their lives over the New Year's weekend, but officials said that figure could be greatly reduced if motorists will avoid driving while drinking.

DPS director Col. Wilson E. Speir said he hoped Texans would burn their head lights as a reminder to others to drive carefully during the weekend.

Speir said from 25 to 40 percent of the motorists on Texas roads participated in the headlight campaign during Christmas weekend and the department felt this contributed to fewer fatal accidents than were predicted.

Last year 20 persons lost their lives in road accidents during the New Year weekend.

Judge Awards Nearly $2 Million to Family

HOUSTON (AP) — The family of a 7-year-old boy who claimed the boy was blinded as the result of oxygen administered soon after the child's premature birth at Pasadena's Southmore Hospital has been awarded $1.86 million in damages by a state district court jury.

The jurors decided Thursday the amount was reasonable compensation for the care, past and future suffering and loss of earning capacity because of the blindness of Alan Spears, son of Sherri Spears.

The jury found their was negligence on the part of the hospital administration, the manufacturer of the incubator in which the infant was placed and Dr. Lionel H. Rothenberg, the physician who ordered the oxygen.

The jury found no negligence on the part of M. L. Doncaster, another doctor named as a defendant in damage suit. State District Judge Reagan Cartwright will determine a later judgment hearing how the jury award will be distributed.

Don Hallmark, attorney for Air-Shields, Inc. of Hatboro, Pa., the manufacturer of the incubator, said it is the position of his client that negligence by the medical staff caused the damage to the child.

Brown Lauds Parity Through Marketplace

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Agriculture Commissioner Reagan Brown said today he supports 100 percent parity for farmers only if it "can be achieved in the marketplace through the free enterprise system."

Brown issued a new statement in answer to requests by farmers and ranchers for his position on the current agricultural "strike" movement.

"The call for 100 percent parity by many farmers and ranchers is a position I can support if their goals can be achieved in the marketplace through the free enterprise system," he said.

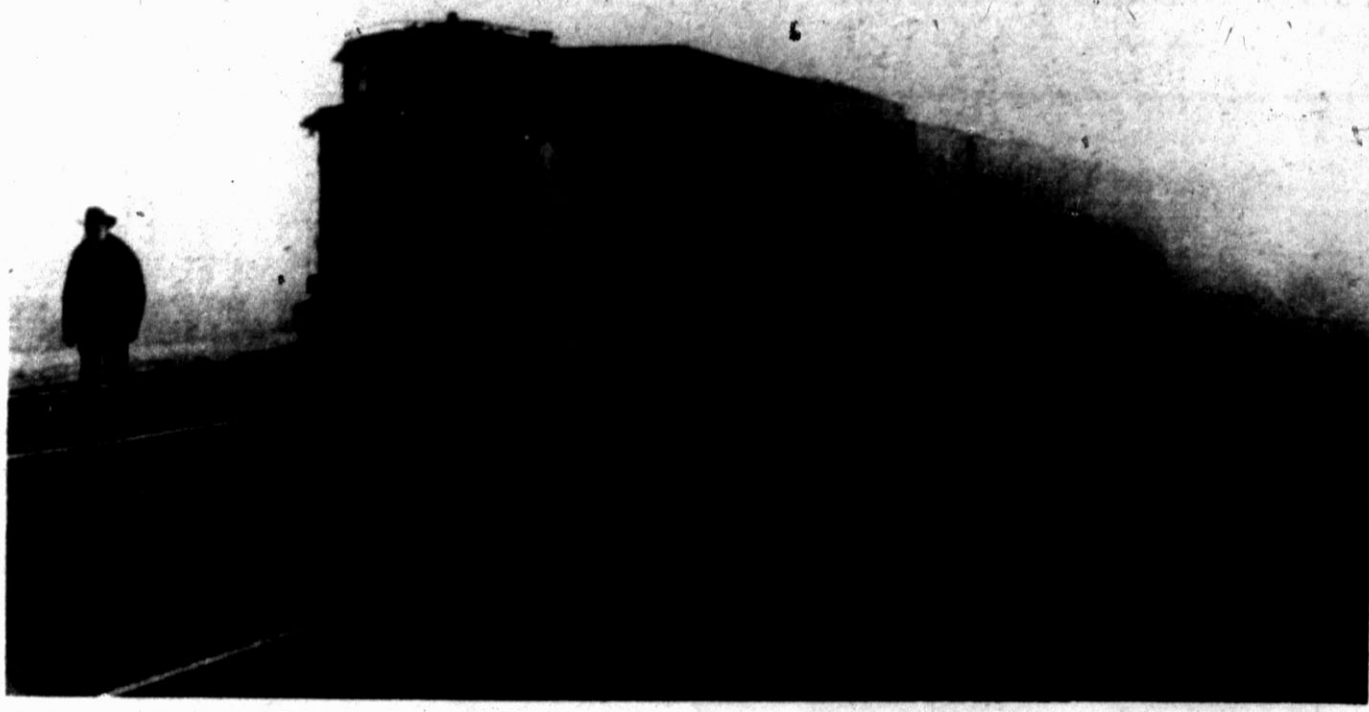

"The farmers and ranchers assure me that is their objective. I support their efforts to receive a fair return on their investment in the marketplace through the free enterprise system."

Historically, parity between the prices farmers receive for their produce and the prices they pay has been pursued mainly through government programs.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe recently called on President Carter for a more aggressive federal promotion of agricultural exports as a means of strengthening farm prices through wider markets and greater demand.

France Building Nuclear Missile

WASHINGTON (AP) — France, which maintains an independent nuclear striking force, is reported moving toward development of its own cruise missile.

U.S. intelligence sources estimate French research probably could produce such a missile in from five to 10 years.

Reports of French interest in developing a cruise missile come while the United States and the Soviet Union are discussing possible formulas for controlling cruise missiles within the framework of an overall U.S.-Russian agreement to curb strategic nuclear weapons.

A number of North Atlantic Alliance member nations have indicated an interest in developing cruise missiles for NATO, but these hopes may hinge on whether a U.S.-Soviet SALT agreement will permit the United States to share such technology with its European allies.

The French formally broke with NATO militarily in the 1960s and have gone their own way in developing and deploying nuclear-armed land-based and submarine-launched missiles and nuclear weapons for bombers.

Following a "secret" meeting in Amarillo earlier this week in which they formulated plans for Phase III of the farm strike, spokesmen for the area American Ag movement reported that more effort will be concentrated on the reduction of beef and sugar imports, which undercut domestically produced commodities.

A strike spokesman from Plainview indicated that attention may be focused on ships bearing imported beef in the Houston Ship Channel, but the local strike office reported no information on such activities.

talks. The Jordan government issued a statement in Amman rejecting the Begin plan, labeling it a scheme to "legalize Israeli occupation."

Syria, a bitter opponent of the Egyptian-Israeli dialogue, denounced the "arrogant" Begin plan in a government radio broadcast. The radio said the plan has brought Egypt's peace initiative to "a humiliating death."

Libya, another staunch critic of Sadat's peace moves, said Carter's statements were a "heavy slap at Sadat."

However, Begin told Israeli radio Carter's comment on a Palestinian state was "a very positive, most serious statement, which the Israeli people receive with gratitude."

Carter said he favored creation of a Palestinian state or entity linked to surrounding nations and said establishment of a "radical" state in the region would not be in the interest of peace.

Carter

responding to a welcoming address by Communist leader Edward Giersek, Carter cited the Polish constitution of 1791 as one of "the great documents in the struggle for human rights."

After visiting three Polish memorials today and conferring with Giersek, Carter was to hold a formal news conference being broadcast live in the United States and to European audiences by the Voice of America. This will be the first full dress news conference ever held by a U.S. president in a Communist country and Carter's first outside the United States.

Before Carter left Washington Thursday on the first leg of a six-nation tour, Polish diplomats there entertained members of his traveling party at a luncheon during which some of them voiced apprehension about human rights becoming the major issue discussed at the news conference.

In a television interview from the White House Wednesday, the president touched on human rights in Poland saying the government here is "relatively willing to give people their religious freedom and other freedoms."

Brzezinski, White House assistant for national security affairs, told reporters no decision has been made on Polish request for $200 million in agricultural credits.

White Drawing Bigger Crowds as DNC Head

WASHINGTON (AP) — John White looked at the crowd of reporters who had come to his press conference Wednesday at the Department of Agriculture. "Last week, when I announced the cotton set-asides for next year, there were only four or five of you," he grinned.

Since last week's cotton announcement, however, White's stature has changed. President Carter tapped him Wednesday to succeed Kenneth Curtis as chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

White, a long-time Texas agriculture commissioner and party stalwart who is now deputy secretary of agriculture, is expected to win quick approval by the full committee at a meeting next month.

Then he will take over a post that Curtis, former governor of Maine, quit after a year's service, saying it was a "lousy job." As chairman serving under an incumbent president, White agreed, his job is to be responsive to the president's political needs.

Asked if it amounted to being an "errand boy," White smiled. "If that's true, then I'll be a high-class errand boy." He did say he has been promised direct access to the president and freedom to hire and fire staff at the DNC, which has become home for a number of ex-Carter campaign aides who did not get jobs within the administration.

Texans who have known White said Wednesday that his major political credentials are an impeccable record of party loyalty and an ability to get along with the disparate groups in the Democratic Party.

White, 53, was elected commissioner of agriculture in 1950 and re-elected 13 times. His first effort at re-election tested his Democratic loyalty.

In that year, 1952, Texas Gov. Allen Shivers led the state's Democrats into Dwight D. Eisenhower's Republican camp. The legislature changed the law to allow Shivers and his cohorts to run as both Democrats and Republicans in the primary.

White was the only statewide official to stick with Adlai Stevenson and the Democratic Party.

He demonstrated his loyalty again in 1972, when he agreed to be Texas co-chairman of the doomed campaign of Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern.

He also managed to maintain good relations with more conservative Texas Democrats, like Sen. Lloyd Bentsen and former DNC chairman Robert Strauss, who recommended him to Carter.

His job as agriculture commissioner never forced him to define himself ideologically, and he claimed the middle ground when asked about his stance Wednesday. "I like to think of myself as sensible, a moderate," he said.

"He's the ideal man. I can work enthusiastically behind him. So can business types," said Rep. Bob Eckhardt, D-Texas, a liberal.

White did not become a Carter loyalist until after the Texas primary in 1976. Prior to that, he supported Bentsen's aborted candidacy. But he left no doubt about where he will stand in 1980.

"I'll support the president if he wishes to ask for another term," he said.

Left, Detective Vernon Hopes examines a door which was kicked open at Big T Pump, allowing burglars to enter offices. Right, the front door at Warren Brothers Motor Co. was smashed in order to gain entrance. Approximately $80 worth of loose change and rolled coins, $30 worth of food stamps, small grocery items and cigarettes were taken from Baker's Grocery; $5 in change from a soft drink machine and a pickup battery from Hereford Butane; approximately $1 in change from Warren Brothers; and an empty billfold from Big T Pump. Police suspect teenagers or younger burglars in the incidents. Entry was gained at Baker's Grocery through a tiny window in the back. Ann Landers

Thrown by Compliment

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have a very unusual problem and I don't know a single person I can talk to about it. I can't accept a compliment.

When anyone says something to me about how nice my hair looks, or my complexion, or if they admire the dress I am wearing, I get flustered and don't know what to say. I usually end up muttering something dumb, disagreeing with them. For example, I'll say, "Oh, this dress is old. I never cared much for it."

People are supposed to like compliments, but they get me nervous. How can I overcome this? — Tongue-Tied In Twin Oaks

DEAR OAKS: Untie your tongue and practice saying, "Thank you." This is the only response required when someone gives you a compliment.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband is significantly older than I but we get along fine. In the years we've been married, he has worked many long hours to pay for the support of his children by a previous marriage.

When his children come here to visit, it is necessary for me to help him entertain them? They come to see him and I should be free to spend my time elsewhere. Right?

Would I be wrong to refuse to pick up the children for him? I do not enjoy seeing his ex-wife when I pick up the kids. I feel this is an unnecessary burden on me.

Also, what should I say when the kids ask why I don't spend more time visiting with their mother? In the past, I've been pleasant toward her, but I'm beginning to think I should avoid the situation because it's getting to be a strain.

Soon the oldest child will be given the choice by law to live with his father. My husband feels obligated to let him because the boy is very unhappy with his mother. Do I have the right to say no to this? I'm not crazy about the idea.

I am willing to sacrifice my time and money for his kids, but not my life. Is he asking too much of me? Any advice you can give would be most helpful. I'm — Going Out To Lunch

DEAR LUNCH: The principal failure for most second marriages is problems created by the ex-wife and children. So — Welcome to The Club.

If you want your marriage to succeed you'd better make up your mind that you're going to do a lot more compromising and putting-up-with than you had planned.

I don't feel you should have to keep company with your husband's ex if it bothers you, but once having established the pattern of a friendly relationship, it's going to be awkward to suddenly chop it off.

Regarding the boy coming to live with you, this is a tough one. If you say no, you will surely build a barrier between you and your husband and that could be the beginning of the end.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I know you said "No more," but I can't resist an attempt to have the last word.

The last gasp of a dying civilization — "The toilet paper is rolling the wrong way." — Alice In Brooksville, Florida

DEAR BROOKSIE: Amen, Sister.

Draft-Dodgers Provide Method To Conserve Household Energy

DRAFT-DODGERS FOR DOORS

House Warming Or House Cooling Idea To Help Save Energy!

Drafty outside doors plague many of us in the winter as well as in the summer. Don't push rugs, old blankets or old newspapers around the door bottoms, use attractive DRAFT-DODGERS to solve the problem.

Draft-dodgers are long flexible sand-filled tubes of fabric about two inches in diameter and long enough to extend across the entire door frame.

With all necessary materials on hand, it takes less than an hour to make. Follow the instructions. It's as easy as 1, 2, 3.

1. What you'll need

Fabric for inner tube. Choose sturdy hard surface, tightly woven denim, gaberdine or twill. Idea: Recycle old torn windbreaker.

Fabric for outer tube. Choose durable tightly woven fabric in deep colors to complement interior color plan. Idea: Left over scrap of heavy attractive upholstery fabric.

Heavy duty thread. Sand. Fine and Clean. Use a collander to sift sand.

2. How much

Measure door and frame width.

Fabric for inner tube. Width 8 inches. Length - use door and frame measurement plus 2 inches for seaming.

Fabric for outer tube. Width - 9 inches (2 inches seam allowance; 1 inch for ease).

Length - same as for inner fabric tube.

Sand. Amount depends on length. (To give you an idea ... For 38 inches, use a one pound coffee can filled three times.)

3. How to

Fold inner tube fabric length wise. Sew 1 inch seam along length and one end. Leave one end open.

Turn tube right side out.

Fill tube with dry, sifted sand. Pack firmly (but no hard) so tube is flexible.

Seam end by folding in one inch of raw edges and top stitching.

Make outer tube as you did inner tube, leaving one end open. Turn right side out.

Work sand tube into finished outer tube. Fit should be snug. Adjust in place.

Fold in ends and top stitch. Reference: Facts for You, Dorothy C. O'Donnell, Extension Specialist, University of New Hampshire.

Services Slated Today For 'Heloise' Columnist

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) - Funeral services were scheduled here today for syndicated newspaper columnist Heloise Bowles, author of the "Hints From Heloise" feature.

The 58-year-old writer died at Baptist Hospital here Wednesday night of heart trouble, a nursing supervisor said.

Mrs. Bowles' daughter, Ponce Cruz, will take over the column, said King Features Executive Editor Allan Prault in New York. She had helped write it under the name of Heloise II.

The daily feature of household tips has been published for 17 years.

More adults die from poisoning than children. The death rate from poisoning is highest in the 24 to 44 age group, and lowest in the 5 to 14 age group, reports the National Safety Council.

Truth in mileage

By Don Oakley

Very few new car buyers have been getting that "35 country, 23 city" or whatever the official gasoline mileage figures are for a particular automobile. Some have been so upset by the discrepancy between advertised and actual performance that they have stormed into dealers asking, "How come?"

Storn no more. The Environmental Protection Agency, which administers the mileage tests, says it is going to change the tests beginning with the 1979 model year so they more accurately reflect the mileage motorists actually get on the road.

The figures were never meant to represent real-life experience, says the EPA. They are a laboratory standard by which the performance of a given car can be rated against that of other cars. In other words, a guide for comparison shopping.

The consuming public, of course, takes the figures quite literally, especially since they are prominently displayed in advertising by the automakers (as required by federal law).

The change can be welcomed not only as a small victory for truth in advertising but as a small step toward restoring public confidence that the people who run the agencies that regulate our lives know what they're doing.

Even when the revised figures come out next year, however, prospective buyers will still be cautioned that their personal driving habits, etc., may give them mileages different from the "official" ones.

Members in good Standing

Between 1960 and 1976, the FBI paid nearly $1.7 million to 301 people to become members of and report on the Socialist Workers Party and its youth affiliate, the Young Socialist Alliance.

The bureau was forced to make the disclosure in "discovery proceedings" arising out of the party's multi-million-dollar damage suit against it.

Since the SWP and YSA have never had a combined membership of more than their present 2,500, these 301 FBI informers represented 12 per cent of the two organizations' total strength and, one can surmise, must have provided a similar percentage of their operating budgets—courtesy of the U.S. taxpayer.

Just to be safe, the FBI also paid 1,000 other people who did not join but who also reported on the party, although it is not revealed what their total payments were.

A lesson unlearned

A Tokyo newspaper reporter has tested anti-hijacking security at a baker's dozen of the world's major airports and found it woefully wanting in most cases.

Hiroshi Sekiguchi carried a pistol-shaped electronic lighter in a shoulder bag during an 18,630-mile trip through Europe and Asia. Guards at six airports detected and confiscated the lighter, but seven others conducted no close examination at all.

That shouldn't surprise. For some inexplicable reason, a number of countries have refused to take the hijacking menace seriously. There is a flurry of concern with each new incident, but it quickly fades.

What's amazing is that one of the airports that permitted Sekiguchi to board a plane with his fake pistol was Frankfurt, West Germany.

More than amazing. For a country which has suffered so much at the hands of terrorists and which is their current favorite target, it is incomprehensible.

Mexico meets a problem

In a welcome development, Mexico is reported thinking of taking its first loan from the World Bank to be used solely to discourage its population growth rate, one of the highest in the world.

Mexico now has 62 million people. At present rates of growth its population will be 175 million by the year 2000, far more than it can feed, clothe, house, educate and employ. The contemplated loan of $40 million would finance family planning projects.

Because Mexico cannot provide employment for its current population, the United States is being subjected to a wave of illegal immigration, causing fiscal, social and unemployment problems.

A serious Mexican attack on its untenable population growth cannot come too soon for the benefit of both countries.

Pity the poor bobcat

The bobcat ordinarily isn't the subject of much sympathy, but it's a different matter when the little predator gets mixed up with the federal government.

It turns out that one agency is trying to protect bobcats and another one wants to wipe them out.

The pro-bobcat fellows work at the Endangered Species Scientific Authority, which banned the export of bobcat pelts, apparently the demand for raw pelts by European fur salons is threatening the bobcat's survival.

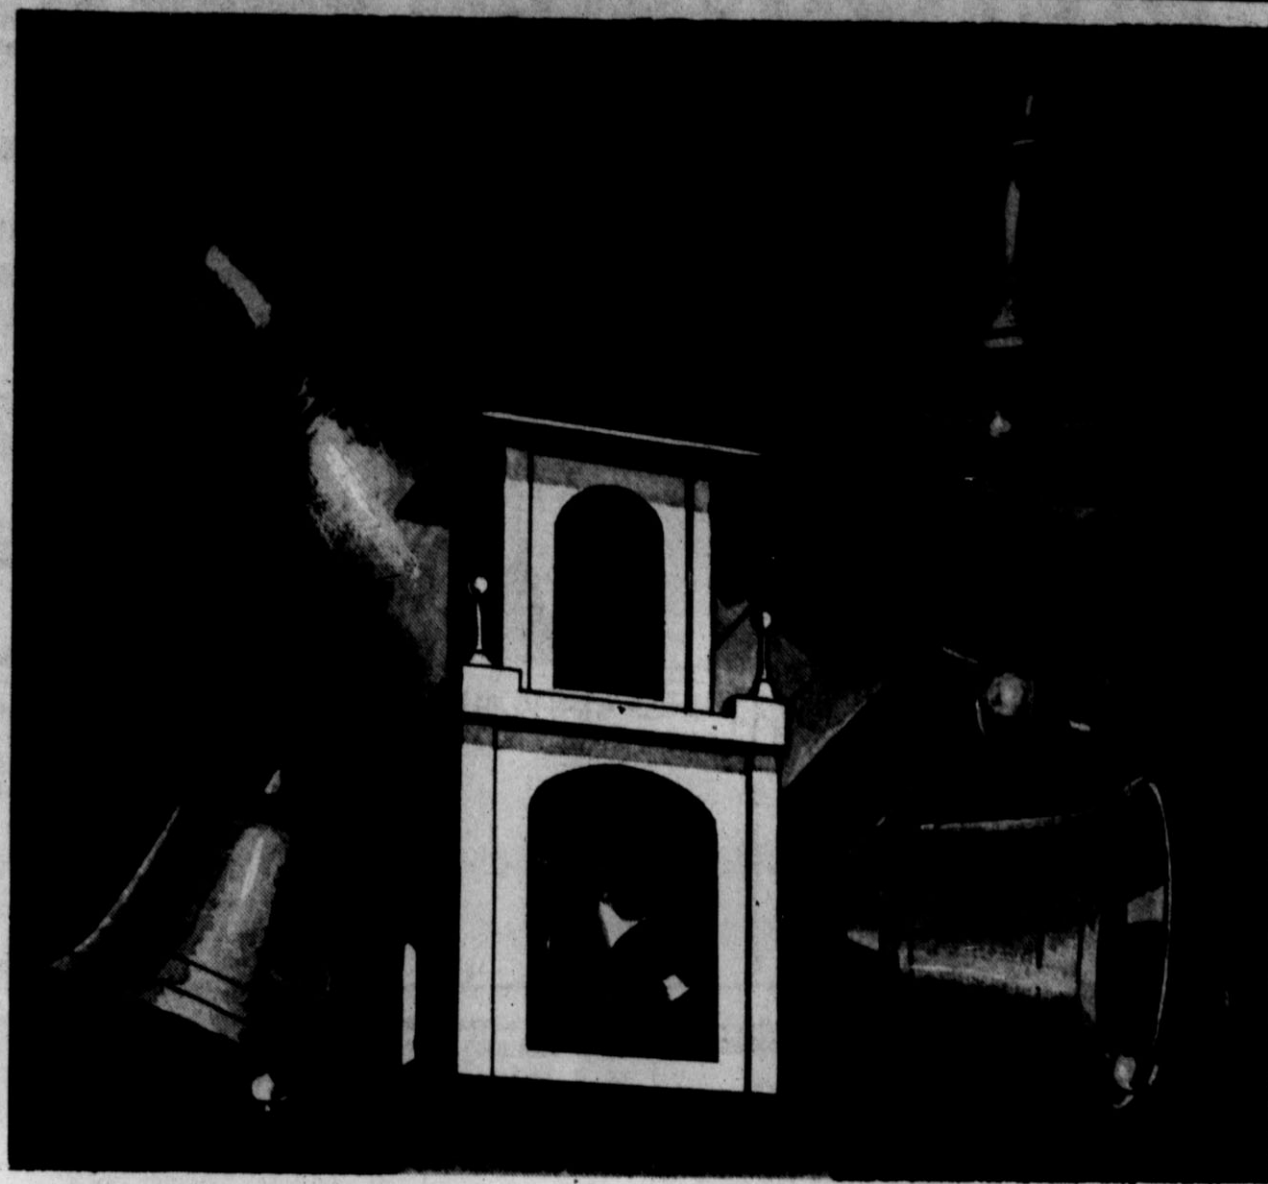

But the ban means nothing at the Interior Department, which is continuing to kill bobcats as part of its predator control program. Government trappers killed 2,559 of the critters in 1975 and 1,500 last year.

For God So Loved The World

RESOLVE TO START THE NEW YEAR WITH FAITH

The New Year for many of us usually brings an occasion of festivity, followed by a well-meaning but generally short-lived list of drastic personal reforms. However, one resolution is all you'll ever need, if you will let faith strengthen your determination to become a better person. Let the first page of the new calendar represent that new leaf you are turning over, and if you will resolve to attend the Church of your choice regularly throughout the coming year, all the other items on your list will undoubtedly take care of themselves.

I see not a step before me as I tread on another year;
But I've left the past in God's keeping, — the Future His mercy shall clear;
And what looks dark in the distance, may brighten as I draw near.
— Mary Gardiner Brainard

"Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me."
— Psalms 51:10

Kelly Kitchens is about to make it a 4-0 ballgame on a fast break against the Farmington Scorpions Thursday afternoon in the Clovis Holiday Tournament. Trying to stop the layup is Farmington's Alan Huslig. Kitchens tallied 16 points in leading the 'Faces' to a 62-45 win over the Scorpions. Beavers, Rams Sweep Into Classic Finals

By BOB BAUM
Associated Press Writer

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) - Two days ago, anyone who said Oregon State would be meeting Colorado State for the championship of the Far West Classic would have gotten a pat on the head, a smile and some heartfelt sympathy.

But the upstart Beavers meet the surprising Rams in the title game tonight at 9:30.

Colorado State eased into the finals shortly before the stroke of midnight Thursday with a 47-46 victory over favored Washington State.

But it was Oregon State that pulled off the real shocker, tripping previously unbeaten Villanova 58-57 in overtime as Steve Smith got out of coach Ralph Miller's doghouse long enough to toss home the winning basket with two seconds remaining.

In consolation games Thursday, Washington dumped Rice 70-57 and Illinois downed Oregon 86-80. Oregon, 7-3, meets Rice, 2-6, for seventh place today at 1 p.m. Washington, 6-4, faces Illinois, 6-2, for fifth spot at 3 p.m., and Villanova, 8-1, takes on Washington State, 6-4, for third at 7:30.

The Beavers followed Miller's controlled game plan perfectly, using a scrappy, ball-hawking defense to keep the bigger Villanova team from running, and showing patience in waiting for the easy shots at the other end of the court.

"I thought we did a pretty damn good job on defense," Miller said. "We always had pressure on the ball, and we closed the gaps on them. Definitely it was the least number of mistakes we made this year."

It has been an up-and-down year for the Beavers, who started with road games against North Carolina and Wake Forest without star center Steve Johnson, who broke his foot in practice. Shortly after Johnson returned, he broke his foot again and now he's out for the season.

Oregon State, now 6-5, led 31-24 at the half and increased that to an 11-point bulge early in the second period.

Then, with the team's lone experienced veteran Rickey Lee on the bench with four fouls, the Beavers began the hot shooting of Keith Herron, shot back into it and eventually tied it at 44-44 on Herron's basket with eight minutes to go.

The lead went back and forth after that, until Lee, who led Oregon State with 15 points and 8 rebounds, sank a 12-footer with 48 seconds to go to give the Beavers, a 46-44 bulge.

But with just three seconds to go, Lee fouled Alex Bradley, and the Villanova center hit both free throws to send the game into overtime.

Lee was lost on foul, and so were two other OSU starters, Mark Radford and Bill McShane, but somehow the Beavers pulled it out.

Villanova grabbed the lead at 57-56 when Reggie Robinson hit one of two free throws with 3:44 left. Nobody could score after that despite several opportunities by both teams.

Brian Hilliard forced a shot that missed, but the ball bounced into the hands of Smith, who had just entered the game. He lofted an eight-foot hook shot that fell through and the Beavers had the victory. Smith had been criticized by his coach for his lack of improvement and had not seen much action this season.

"That team Oregon State played very well and controlled the tempo, even with their two or three best players fouled out," said Villanova Coach Rolie Massimino.

In the midnightcap, which didn't end until 11:45 p.m., Washington State finally fell victim to its own mistakes after leading by as many as 12 points in the opening minutes of the second half.

The Cougars, who had a commanding height advantage, committed 20 turnovers, compared with 11 for Colorado State.

Washington State had a 26-14 lead three minutes into the second half as guard Terry Kelly, who scored 12 of his team-high 14 points in the second period, bombed in three from outside.

But Barry Young and Ron Gold a pair of sophomores, led a CSU rally that finally put the Rams on top 33-32 with eight minutes to go when Young scored inside, then stole an inbound pass and scored again. Young led Ram scorers with 15.

The lead changed hands several times before Alton Brandon sank a pair of free throws to give CSU a four-point edge, 46-42, with 48 seconds left. Kelly added another howitzer, but Gold sank one of two free shots with 11 seconds to go to clinch it.

"The only thing that kept us in the game was defense," said CSU Coach Jim Williams. "The shots that they got were those little guys shooting from 20 feet."

Oregon, a pre-tourney favorite, continued its slide against Illinois. Audie Matthews scored 17 points to pace Illinois. Oregon freshman guard Felton Sealey led all scorers with 21 points.

Washington got strong performances from senior Kim Stewart and junior Mike Neill against Rice. Rice closed the Husky lead to four in the second half, but baskets by Neill helped Washington pull away for the victory.

Stan Walker led Washington with 12 points. Tony DeCello, a 5-10 freshman, scored 14 for Rice.

PARIS (AP) - Jorg Eipel, 20-year-old Berlin boxer who was knocked out Dec. 17 by Alain Marion of France, remains in a coma at the Bejon hospital in Paris and no improvement in his condition has been noted, hospital officials say.

Eipel has been in a deep coma since the knockout in the final minute of the 15-round bout in Creil for the European welterweight championship.

Rader, 33, who was offensive backfield coach for two years, will be replaced by defensive line coach Bob Brown.

Herd Stings Scorpions

By BOB NIGH
Sports Editor

The Hereford Whitefaces overcame a cold second quarter Thursday afternoon and went on to coast to a 62-45 victory over the Farmington Scorpions in the 7th-place game of the Clovis Holiday Tournament.

The win broke a two-game losing streak for the Herd, which now stands at 11-8 on the season. Farmington fell to 5-4 with the loss, the third of the tournament for the Scorpions.

The Whitefaces threatened to make the game a joke in the early going, racing to a 19-5 advantage after one period. Farmington suddenly found the range in the second eight-minute period, however, and the Herd found themselves off the mark.

The Scorpions outscored the 'Faces 13-8 in the stanza to pull to within nine at 27-18 at the half. Tuck Holliman scored seven of his nine-point total for the losers in the period.

Herd stalwart Kelly Kitchens had led the Whitefaces to the big lead in the first period with seven points of his own, but reserve Steve Cerda led the way in the cold second stanza with four points, while Kitchens and David Schumacher added solo buckets.

Schumacher, Hereford's tallest player at 6-3, was coming off an injured ankle, and tallied nine points in the game after a 12-point effort against Albuquerque Sandia Wednesday. The bull-like senior got into foul trouble, however, and got his fourth personal with less than a minute gone in the second half, and left the game at the 7:14 mark of the final stanza.

Schumacher's replacement, Buzzy Abalos, also had trouble getting used to the New Mexico style of officiating and left the contest late in the final stanza with five fouls. Abalos left after adding one basket to the Herd total.

Everyone on the team got to play as coach Bobby Decker substituted frequently.

The Whitefaces came out hot again in the third quarter, scoring nine straight points before the Scorpions broke the ice. Robert Lee Graves hit a couple of buckets and a free toss, while Kitchens added two baskets as the 'Faces romped to a 36-18 lead.

With the subs playing most of the second half Hereford extended to lead to 44-27 heading into the final eight minutes, and the margin grew to 25 points with 3:38 left in the game with the 'Faces on top 57-32.

Both teams had ample opportunity from the charity stripe with Hereford canning 20 of 27 free tosses, a drastic improvement over a 15-31 total against Sandia, and the Scorpions true on 11 of 19 free throws.

A total of 51 fouls were called in the game with Farmington holding a 26-25 edge in that department.

Kitchens led the victorious Herd in the game with 16 points, while Graves chipped in 11 more. Schumacher and Allen hit for nine points in the game, with Cerda adding six, and Jackie Mercer and David Arney four each. Alan Huslig led the Scorpions with 11 points.

The Whitefaces have but three games left before opening District 4-4A action January 17 in Lubbock against Coronado. Remaining on the non-district slate are Caprock (there) January 3, Levelland (here) January 10, and a match against Clovis, a 78-72 winner over the 'Faces in the tourney's opening round, there on January 14.

Broncos, Cowboys Tabbed Winners

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

DENVER (AP) - Having already established the indisputable fact that there is a Santa Claus, the Denver Broncos are about to prove the existence of Father Time, Mother Nature, the Easter Bunny, Tinker Bell and anyone or anything else you ever doubted.

After all, Denver's already the National Football League's Cinderella team, so why leave all those other characters out in the cold?

Yes, Virginia and California, and Louisiana, and Colorado, etc., the Broncos are headed for the Super Bowl, there to take on The Dallas Cowboys in a confrontation of former teammate quarterbacks.

The Oakland Raiders, defending Super Bowl champs, will falter in Sunday's American Conference championship - not because of Denver's awesome offense (it isn't), nor because of its dynamic defense (it isn't either), but because of whatever it is that causes all invaders to suffer High Anxiety in the Mile High City.

Minnesota will do more than falter in the National Conference title game in Texas Stadium. It'll positively crumble. The Cowboys' Domsday Defense II will demolish at the Vikings' passing game, and the Vikings' running game. And there's not much else, is there?

Thus, on Jan. 15 in New Orleans' Louisiana Superdome, it'll be Dallas and current quarterback Roger Staubach vs. Denver and former Cowboy quarterback Craig Morton.

Here's how they'll get there:

Broncos 30, Raiders 24

There are few cities in the NFL where the so-called homefield advantage really exists. But Denver is one of them. In fact, the madness that is Broncomania may pump up the home team and psyche out the visitors more than in any other ball park.

Which leads us to wonder: do three hours of screaming one's lungs out in Denver result in Broncoitis?

Never mind.

The Raiders are field-goal favorites but we like the underdogs based on their ability to stop well, maybe only slow down the Oakland ground game and force Ken Stabler to the air-and into mistakes - the way they did in their first meeting.

Cowboys 38, Vikings 13

Unlike Los Angeles' Memorial Coliseum, Texas Stadium ain't no mud hole.

So much for Minnesota's strategy.

The kind of one-man show Chicago put on last Monday, when Dallas shut down Walter Payton and the rest of the Bears, is the kind of one-man show Minnesota will put on - and the Cowboys will slam the door on Chuck Foreman and the rest of the Vikings just as emphatically.

Roger Staubach, Tony Doretti, Robert Newhouse, Billy Joe DuPree, Drew and Preston Pearson...that's no shotgun offense. That's a howitzer!

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) - Southern Mississippi turned back a last minute rally by West Texas State Thursday night to beat the Buffalos 58-57 in a non-conference college basketball tilt.

With 28 seconds left, Dan Elmer dropped in a 20-foot jump shot to bring time expired.

Elmer led West Texas with 16 points. The Eagles' top shooter was Bill Logan with 13.

The half ended with Southern Mississippi on top, 34-33, but then the Eagles went cold. In the last 11 minutes, they scored only four points.

The Eagles are now 4-6 on the season and the Buffalos stand at 3-6.

Blue-Grey, Gator Bowl Begin Grid Weekend

By The Associated Press
The closest the Pitt Panthers got to repeating as college football national champions was one quarter.

"In spring practice, we weren't a good team," said Jackie Sherrill, in his first season as Pitt's football boss. "But in the first quarter of our opening game, I thought we had a chance to win the national championship again."

That optimism was quickly shattered when star quarterback Matt Cavanaugh suffered a broken bone in his left arm after being knocked to the ground on a touchdown pass in Pitt's opening game against Notre Dame. The scoring pass gave Pitt a 9-0 lead in a game the Panthers eventually lost 19-9.

Cavanaugh missed several games, and never regained full strength. Meanwhile, Florida, capitalizing on three Cavanaugh fumbles, tied Pitt 17-17 and, in the regular season finale, Penn State downed Pitt 15-13, dropping the Panthers' record to 8-2-1.

"We played badly in our last game on national TV, and I don't think people got a good view of what our team is all about," said Cavanaugh of the Penn State loss. "I played poorly in situations that could have decided the game."

A certain measure of redemption and a large dose of pride are at stake tonight when the 10th-ranked Panthers play No. 11 Clemson in the Gator Bowl on national television (ABC). Earlier in the day, the New Year's weekend feast of 10 college football games opens with the Blue-Gray Classic in Montgomery, Ala.

Four games are on tap Saturday - Louisiana State against Stanford in the Sun Bowl; North Carolina State against Iowa State in the Peach Bowl; Texas A&M against Southern Cal in the Bluebonnet Bowl, and the East vs. the West in the East-West Shrine Game.

After a day off Sunday, when the pros settle their conference championships, the amateurs come back Monday with the four major bowl games and the national championship at stake.

Top-ranked and unbeaten Texas plays Notre Dame in the Cotton Bowl. A victory for the Longhorns should allow them to follow the Panthers as national champions. Then the other three games would only clarify the question: Who's No. 2?

Hoopie Picks Include Irish, Tide, Sooners

By Major Amos B. Hoopie
Father of the Bowls

Egad, friends, the Bowl Committees have — kaff-kaff — done themselves proud this year with no less than nine of the nation's Top Ten squads seeing action over the elongated New Year's weekend! And the action promises to be fierce!

Leading off the outstanding bowl parade will be the Gator extravaganza, Friday night, Dec. 30, featuring No. 9 Pittsburgh against No. 10 Clemson. The torrid action will continue right on through the weekend winding up with the Oklahoma-Arkansas meeting under the lights of Miami's venerable Orange Bowl on Monday, January 2.

Jove! 'Twill be enough football to satisfy even the zaniest football nuts among you — um-kumpp!

The 16 participating teams have a combined average of 788, with 139 victories, only 35 losses and two ties. Leading the parade is mighty Texas, the only undefeated major team in the nation, with an 11-0 tally.

Featured in center ring — so to speak — will be the Cotton, Sugar and Orange Bowls where six of the top eight clubs will see action. And from the winners of these three contests will most assuredly come the nation's No. 1 team for 1977.

Here are the matchups in these big games:

Texas (No. 1) vs. Notre Dame (No. 5)
Alabama (No. 3) vs. Ohio State (No. 8)
Oklahoma (No. 2) vs. Arkansas (No. 6)

How does the Hoopie System see these games? Read on!

Friday, Dec. 30
Gator Bowl at Jacksonville
Clemson 22, Pittsburgh 20

This is probably the most evenly matched game on the entire slate. Both teams have identical 8-2-1 records and both suffered one of their defeats at the hands of powerful Notre Dame.

Pittsburgh appears to have the edge in offense.

IF YOU ARE BETWEEN THE AGES OF 55-65 and are not in a Bible study class, we invite you to join us for Bible study at First Baptist Church each Sunday at 9:45 a.m., ground floor ADULT IV DEPARTMENT particularly if Matt Cavanaugh is throwing up to his capabilities, but the Hoopie Hunch is that Charley Pell's Clemson Tigers will outclaw the Panthers in registering a very, very close 22-20 victory.

Clemson is making its first bowl appearance since they lost a cliff-hanger to LSU in the 1969 Sugar Bowl by a 7-0 margin, so the Tigers will go all out in this one.

Saturday, Dec. 31
Sun Bowl at El Paso
Louisiana St. 31, Stanford 20

Another close matchup of teams with identical 6-3-0 records. Both teams have excellent offensive clubs with LSU averaging 304 yards per game on the ground, spearheaded by Charles Alexander, who finished the year with 1,686 yards to break the Southeastern Conference rushing record.

The Stanford Cardinals prefer to go overhead with All-America quarterback Guy Benjamin doing the throwing. Benjamin has tossed 19 touchdown passes out of his 206 completions as Stanford has picked up an average of 260 yards through the air per game.

In the Alexander-Benjamin showdown the Hoopie nod goes to Alexander — kaff-kaff.

Peach Bowl at Atlanta
Iowa St. 27, No. Carolina St. 21

Iowa State is the first Big Eight school to ever appear in the Peach Bowl and the Cyclones will be out to make an impressive showing.

Iowa State has the tools to get the job done as they proved in their sensational 24-21 upset of Nebraska's Cornhuskers. Leading the Cyclones' attack is Dexter Green who averaged 112.7 yards per game as he racked up 15 TDs.

Across the line of scrimmage for North Carolina State will be another runner deluxe, Ted Brown, who goes at a one-yard-per-game average better than Green. Brown tallied 14 TDs as he ground out an average of 113.7 yards per game. The Brown-Green duel will be well worth watching.

Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston
So. California 24, Texas A&M 21

The Trojans of Southern California have been up and down all season just as Texas A&M has experienced some peaks and valleys.

However, both finished the season on high notes with the Trojans overcoming a fine UCLA team in one of college football's greatest games and the Aggies bouncing back from their defeat at the hands of Texas to thump a good Houston club.

Southern California is our choice to win with Rob Hertel and Charles White putting more points on the board than the Aggies' talented duo of runner George Woodward and kicker Tony Franklin. This will be close all the way.

Monday, Jan. 2
Cotton Bowl at Dallas
Notre Dame 31, Texas 24

The biggest game of the bowl season with Notre Dame having a shot at the national title if they can score an impressive victory over the undefeated, high-scoring Longhorns.

The field will be covered with stars of major magnitude starting with Texas' Earl Campbell, winner of the Heisman Trophy and the nation's leading rusher for 1977. Aiding and abetting Campbell will be All-America tackle Brad Shearer, a senior who checks in at 6 feet 4 and 255 pounds.

Notre Dame can counter with such authentic All-Americans as Ken McAfee and Ross Browner, voted the country's outstanding offensive and defensive linemen respectively. Other N.D. All-Americans include Luther Bradley, Willie Fry, Bob Golic and Ernie Huges. Jove, what a celestial display!

Rated a toss-up, the statistics show the reason. Texas has limited 11 opponents to 91.1 yards per game rushing; the Irish have held their 11 foes to only 89.1 yards per game on the ground. On offense, Texas has amassed an average of 436.8 yards per game, while Notre Dame has clicked for 440 yards per contest in running their record for the year to 10-1.

After digesting all pertinent information the Hoopie Computer gives the edge to Notre Dame by a narrow seven-point margin — providing the Irish play four quarters of solid football. Any letdown on their part and Campbell and Company will make the Texas record 12-0 — har-umph! The winner of this contest should merit the No. 1 ranking.

Sugar Bowl at New Orleans
Alabama 28, Ohio State 26

One of the best games of the day featuring two fine football teams and two of the acknowledged coaching geniuses in the history of football. In 32 years as a head coach, Paul "Bear" Bryant of Alabama, has rolled up an amazing record of 272 victories, 76 losses and 16 ties. In his 31 seasons as headman, Woody Hayes has an equally remarkable record of 321 wins, 67 defeats and 9 ties. That's a combined total of 593 victories and this game will mark the first time they've ever met across the field.

Since being shocked early in the season by Nebraska, the Crimson Tide of Alabama rolled over nine opponents to finish the year 10-1. Ohio State has lost a pair of tough ones to No. 3 Oklahoma by one point and to No. 4 Michigan by eight in racking up a 9-2 season.

Alabama and Ohio State both like to do it on the ground and have evenly matched offensive clubs. The Tide has averaged 416.7 yards per contest, while the Bucks are only a shade behind at 413.8 yards per game.

In a squeaker, we look for Alabama's Johnny Davis and Ozzie Newsome to outscore the Bucks' Ron Gerald and Ron Springs.

Rose Bowl at Pasadena
Michigan 35, Washington 20

The Granddaddy of the Bowls finds Michigan loaded for bear and anxious to reverse its recent Rose Bowl record.

Tar Heels Rip Tech In Rainbow Classic

HONOLULU (AP) — Tournament favorite North Carolina behind the court-blazing shooting of All-American Phil Ford, goes against a young Stanford team in today's final matchup in the 14th annual Rainbow Classic basketball tournament.

The No. 2 ranked Tar Heels bounded easily by Texas Tech 88-76 Thursday, while the Cardinals upset 13th-ranked Providence 76-61 to each gain a chance for the tournament trophy.

Providence will play Texas Tech to decide the third and fourth place finishers, while Lafayette meets Rhode Island and host Hawaii plays Brigham Young in the consolation matches.

North Carolina took the tournament in 1972, the only other time they entered the

In the past eight years Bo Schembechler has taken the Wolverines to Pasadena three times and lost 'em all. To Southern Cal, 10-3, in 1970; to Stanford, 13-12 in 1972, and to Southern Cal again last year, 14-6. So this year Washington is going to have to pay the price!

The Wolves are 10-1 for the year and appear to this observer to have too many guns for the Washington Huskies.

Both teams were victimized by Minnesota, who ambushed Michigan 16-0, and took the measure of the Huskies 19-17. Both teams know how to reach the goal line but the feeling here is the Michigan defense will spell the difference as the Wolves win by 15 points.

Orange Bowl at Miami
Oklahoma 37, Arkansas 24

When the lights come on at the Orange Bowl to start the game, the big ones in the Cotton Bowl and the Sugar Bowl will be history. And if Notre whipped Texas and Ohio State upended Alabama, the Sooners and the Razorbacks will be shooting for the national crown.

Going into the game they both are 10-1, with losses to Texas the only blemishes on their records. In two weeks running, Texas took Oklahoma, 13-6, and then Arkansas, 13-9. Since the loss to Texas, Oklahoma has played flawless football in running up 249 points in six straight wins. Arkansas has been only slightly less spectacular amassing 189 points while winning six in a row.

In five years at the helm in Oklahoma, Barry Switzer has a remarkable record of 51 victories, 4 defeats and 2 ties and has probably his best Sooners team ever, piloted by Tommy Lott, whom he calls the best quarterback he's ever coached.

Oklahoma is the leading rushing team in the country, grinding out 329 yards per game and this should be enough to give them the win in a fairly free-scoring contest.

Should the game get really close keep your eyes on premier field goal kickers Steve Little of Arkansas, who has booted 19 three-pointers this year, and Uwe Von Schamann of Oklahoma who has chipped in with 14 field goals in 1977, including the last second effort which whipped Ohio State.

Your correspondent can't think of a more fitting matchup to ring down the curtain on the 1977 season. Happy New Year to you all.

Rainbow Classic. Stanford ended up in seventh place their first and only time in the tournament in 1968.

Ford, a 6-2 senior guard generally regarded as the best backcourt player in the history of the Atlantic Coast Conference, led the Tar Heels to an easy win over the Red Raiders with 25 points. He was followed by Mike O'Koren with 16 and Al Wood with 12.

At one point in the game, North Carolina led by as many as 23 points in coasting to their ninth win in ten starts.

Texas Tech, whose record dropped to 7-2, was paced by Mike Russell with 21 points Tommy Parks with 19, Kent Williams 14 and Joe Baxter 10.

North Carolina head coach Dean Smith observed, "We played one of our better basketball games even though we only won by 12 points."

Looking ahead to today, Smith said, "Whether we win or lose, I think we had an excellent December. I wanted to improve as the season progressed and I feel we are improving."

Head Coach Gerald Myers said his Red Raiders were stymied by North Carolina's man-to-man defense and its pressure.

Celtics Of Old Return

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

It was like old times for the Boston Celtics.

"We played with consistency and we played with pride," said Coach Tom Heinsohn after the Celtics snapped a six-game losing streak with a 124-115 victory over the Milwaukee Bucks Thursday night.

"That's the way the Celtics are supposed to play," added Heinsohn. "We've only played about six games like that all year, and this was one of them. We reminded people how the old Celtics did it."

And one old Celtic who helped was Don Chaney, who spent seven years with Boston before playing out his option in 1975. He was reacquired from Los Angeles in the Charlie Scott deal earlier this week.

"Chaney was a factor, no question," said Heinsohn. "He knows how to run the fast break and he knows our offense. He also played some strong defense for us."

In other National Basketball Association games, the New York Knicks beat the New Jersey Nets 109-101, the Phoenix Suns stopped the Kansas City Kings 110-104 and the Houston Rockets defeated the Cleveland Cavaliers 104-99.

Chaney scored just four points in 14 minutes in his first game back with the Celtics, but his teammates said he contributed far more than that.

"Hey, Duck is a Celtic, that's all," said guard Dave Bing. "I played against him for many years and I was never overly impressed with his basketball skills, but he's always been relegated to the important dirty work. He plays defense, he goes to the lane for a steal, he gets the big rebound and he's unselfish."

"He did a lot of intangible things for us tonight, and we seemed a little more comfortable with him around."

The Celtics hit 56 percent of their shots from the field and had four players with 20 or more points - Dave Cowens 30, John Havlicek 24 and Jo Jo White and Bing 20 each.

It was just the second victory for Boston on the road this season, both wins coming in Milwaukee.

Knicks 109, Nets 101

Bob McAdoo scored 38 points and Ray Williams added 19 as the Knicks pulled away with a 40-point fourth quarter, outscoring New Jersey 47-27 over the final 15 minutes. McAdoo had 15 points and Williams 14 in the final period.

The Nets were without the services of their top scorer, rookie forward Bernard King, who was benched for disciplinary reasons by Coach Kevin Loughery. King arrived at the arena after the deadline.

Loughery has set for the Nets' players.

Suns 110, Kings 104

Paul Westphal and Walter Davis scored 33 points each for Phoenix, which trailed by 15 points early in the third period but dominated the game throughout the second half. It was the third loss in a row for the Kings, while the Suns have won 10 of 13.

Rockets 104, Cava 99

Moses Malone scored 26 points and grabbed 26 rebounds for the Rockets, who also got 26 points from Calvin Murphy as they posted only their third victory in the last nine games.

Ed Ratleff's tip-in with one minute remaining broke a 98-98 tie, spilling a late Cleveland comeback.

NORWALK, Conn. (AP)

Bjorn Borg and Chris Evert have been named as the top tennis players in the world in 1977 by Tennis Magazine's international panel of judges.

Borg, 21, this year's Wimbledon champ who was ranked No. 2 last year, beat out Guillermo Vilas, winner of the U.S. and French Opens. Jimmy Connors, the world's best player in 1976, finished third.

Brian Gottfried, named the Most Improved Player in 1977, ranked fourth as he made the rankings for the first time. The top 10 was rounded out by Vitas Gerulaitis, Manuel Orantes, Raul Ramirez, Dick Stockton, Eddie Dibbs and Ilie Nastase.

Evert retained her first place ranking for the fourth consecutive year, having won 13 of the 16 tournaments she entered.

Brent Scores Two

Hereford's Brent Allen sneaks in for two points despite the efforts of Farmington's Alan Huslig during the two teams' battle in the Clovis Tournament Thursday afternoon. Hereford won the contest 62-45 to claim seventh place in the tourney. Allen scored nine points in the Herd win, while Huslig led the Scorpions in their loss with 11 points. Hog Players Drop Suit

By LEIGH WILSON
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Attorney John W. Waker asked U.S. District Court today to dismiss his suit seeking the reinstatement of three Arkansas Razorback football players to the Orange Bowl.

Judge Terry L. Shell took no immediate action. A spokesman for his office said he would set a date for a hearing on the dismissal motion.

Walker had no comment to reporters as he left the Federal Court Building.

However, running back Ben Cowins said in a statement that he and the two other Razorbacks suspended from the post-season bowl game by Coach Lou Holtz had "instructed our lawyers to discontinue efforts to get us into the Orange Bowl."

"Our team is strong, our replacements are competent and we can still make a good showing in the Orange Bowl. We regret that we aren't there, but our team has our full support."

"We thought about quitting school, but that would be a cop out. We have never said that we didn't do anything that we shouldn't have done. We only said that we are innocent of a crime and have not broken any valid school rule."

"We believe there are other examples of athletes who have conducted some form of misconduct before a bowl game, but they were not as severely punished. They were disciplined, if at all, in other ways after the game."

Since 1970, Johnny Bench of Cincinnati has caught every inning of post-season play for the Reds.

Unusual Clocks

Chinese sundial—For many years, ancient man told time by looking at the shadow cast by the sun. This dial above was read on both sides. The top was read in the summer. The bottom was read during the winter.

Stomach clock—See the clock in the soldier's stomach. The soldier's eyes blinked as the hands moved.

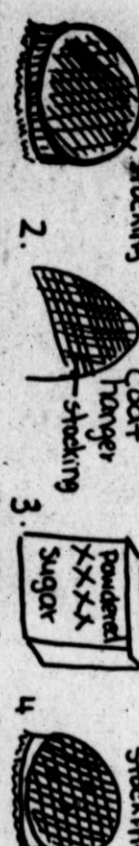

Water clocks—These were used at night and on cloudy days. In the one above, the water is in the can. The can is divided into parts. The water drips through holes from one part to the next. The can inches down the track. Marks on the side tell what time it is.

On page one we gave you an easier way to remember A.M. and P.M. What they really stand for are Ante Meridien and Post Meridien. When the sun is directly over our heads at noon, scientists say that it is on the meridian. Ante means before in Latin. So Ante Meridien means before noon. Post means after. Post Meridien means after noon.

Science Mystery

MYSTERY: How big are raindrops or snowflakes? Can you measure their size?

1. FINDING OUT: 1. Borrow an embroidery hoop from your mother and stretch a piece of nylon stocking over the hoop.
2. A frame made from a piece of coathanger wire will also work.
3. Sprinkle some powdered sugar on the stocking until it is covered by a thin coat.
4. Hold the hoop or loop out in the rain or snow for a few seconds.

The rain drops and snowflakes leave a track when they go through the nylon. Are all drops the same size? How big is the smallest? How big is the largest? CLUE: The water dissolves the sugar where the drops or flakes pass through.

A digital watch is a very up to date way to keep time. All you have to do is push a button. There are many digital watches on sale today. (Digit means numbers or numerals like 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9.)

How Digital Watches Work

How does a digital watch work?

The Mini Page asked a digital watch maker. They told us they work like a light bulb does when hooked up to a battery. When the batteries are put into the watch, a part called a crystal begins to move back and forth very fast.

It moves 32,768 times each second.

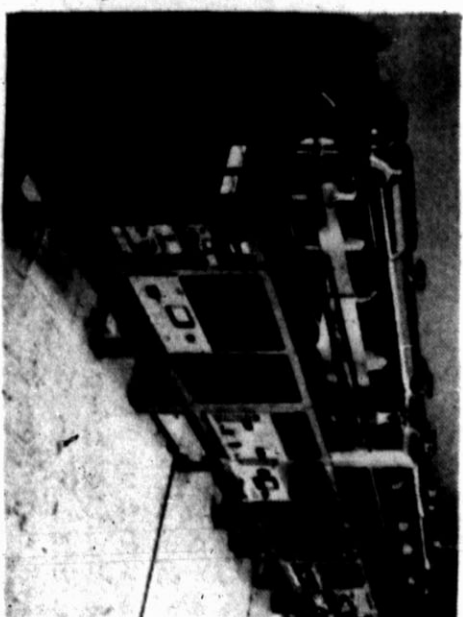

Each time it moves, it gives a signal to the "chip" or brain of the watch.

The "chip" counts the number of times the crystal moves.

When it moves 32,768 times, the brain adds one second to the time stored in its memory.

The Atomic Clock

This clock in Boulder, Colorado, is the most accurate clock in the country.

The atomic clock is called the NBS-6. It is the master time guide for the country. It is one of seven clocks throughout the world that keep the very best time.
