Combest's nuke defunding attempt fails

A House measure by two Panhandle congressmen that would have effectively stopped the Department of Energy's effort to build a nuclear waste repository was voted down Wednesday by a U.S. House rules committee.

Republicans Larry Combest and Beau Boulter offered an amendment to an energy and water appropriations bill that would have pulled all funding away from the energy department's nuclear waste repository program. But the House committee did not accept the amendment, Rep. Combest reported.

Combest, Lubbock congressman from the 19th District, and Boulter, Amarillo, have both expressed a lack of confidence in the DOE's site selection process. Both have also questioned DOE's surprising move which stated that a second site won't be needed as soon as once thought.

Ben Rusche, head of the DOE's civilian waste office, told the Nuclear Regulatory Commission on Tuesday the DOE wants to proceed with a technological development program for a second waste repository, but that it will not go ahead with the selection process for other sites.

Rusche said Tuesday that Con-

1990s whether a second site will be built. But Boulter, in a statement to the Amarillo Globe-News, reiterated his position Wednesday that DOE should go back to square one in locating a national repository.

"This whole selection process is tainted and flawed," the Amarillo congressman said. "They need to start all over. This thing has blown up in their face. Everybody who has been close to it knew that sooner or later it would."

The House Appropriations Committee has approved $541.8 million for DOE's request on first-round sites and approved $45.7 million that would go toward second-site work. The department's budget is expected to be considered by the full House early next week.

National beet group hopes to bolster opinion of sugar

After a Wednesday board meeting in Amarillo to discuss sugar industry problems, innovations and marketing strategy, members of the American Sugar Beet Growers Association were to be in Hereford today to tour beet farmland, visit Arrowhead Mills and have lunch at Hereford Country Club.

The group will also visit Bar G Feedyard, view an antique car collection at the Harland Frye home and attend an afternoon reception at the James Witherspoon home.

Bill Cleavinger, Wildorado, president of the Texas Sugar Beet Growers Association, said the national group hopes to bolster consumer opinion of sugar. "There has been a lot of writing about the health hazards of sugar that are erroneous," he said. "The industry is spending about $4 milliont his year to counteract that bad publicity."

More than 140 farmers from 12 sugar-producing states are visiting Amarillo and Hereford during the 3-day summer conference. Heading up the group are Larry McNamara of Bird Island, Minn., president of ASGA, and Luther Markwart of Washington, executive vice president of the association.

With the advent of consumer advocates and the competition of artificial sweeteners, Markwart said the focus of concern within the ASGA has been the public opinion of sugar. The summer meeting also includes discussions of different methods of raising, harvesting and refining

"You've got 13,000 growers in 12 different states that raise sugarbeets," pointing out Markwart. "I don't think they grow them in the same way in any two states. There are things unique to the Texas area that are different than any other area."

Markwart said he was familiar with the proposed nuclear waste repository issue hovering over Deaf Smith County farmers. "It is a regional issue and from anagricultural standpoint, the biggest factor is the concern over the aquifer."

The group held a board meeting Wednesday and wives were treated to a style show in Amarillo. The group attended TEXAS in Palo Duro Park last night. There was also a tour of Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum in Canyon yesterday.

The Hereford visit started at 9:30 a.m. today with a stop at the Cleavinger home, and then a visit at Arrowhead Mills in Hereford. After lunch a Hereford Country Club, the group was to visit Bar G Feedyard and the Frye home. A reception at the Witherspoon home was set for 4:30 p.m.

Hosting the reception will be James and Elizabeth Witherspoon and a house party composed of Mary Fraser, Helen Langley, Nancy Josserand and Meredith Wilcox. Witherspoon is the longtime secretary of the Texas Sugar Beet Growers and helped found the association.

Jury gives Cantu 30 years for heroin conviction

Eddie "Wallo" Cantu, 30, was found guilty of delivery of heroin Wednesday and received a 30-year sentence for the sale of .02 grams of the narcotic. The judgement was handed Wednesday in 222nd District Court in Hereford.

Cantu was arrested on Jan. 22 as part of a county-wide narcotics raid for allegedly selling herion to undercover agent Raul Sanchez on Aug. 19,

District Attorney Roland Saul said this sentence indicates what the people of Deaf Smith County think of drug dealers.

This is Cantu's second conviction for selling drugs. In 1976, Cantu was convicted of selling marijuana to undercover officers. A Deaf Smith County jury sentenced him to a fiveyear term in the state prison. Saul said that Cantu will be eligible

It's Christmas in July at Kerr home

Staff Writer

It's Christmas in July for Sidney and Cliff Kerr.

"I call it a business and Cliff calls it a hobby," Sidney laughed. She and her husband are working on wooden Christmas items this summer to be sold at the big craft shows they will attend this fall, but it's an odd sight for visitors unaccustomed to seeing reindeer in hot weather.

The Kerr's are working very hard to meet the Christmas season on time. How did the husband-wife team get started in such a hobby.

Sidney smiled as she said that a former wood-working teacher at Stanton Junior High, Leigh Carter, was always telling her a shop smith saw was just what Cliff needed.

"So I convinced Cliff to get this giant saw and we started making little wooden things with it," she said. "My daughter-in-law Kathy asked us to make her some minature wooden ducks for her hostess gifts at her wedding and that's how we got

Sidney said they gradually worked up to making the larger items and now they have a full-time project on

"Last year we got started too late and were only able to make one craft show. So, this year we're starting Christmas stuff in July. I want to get it all done before school starts is why we're starting so early," she explain-

"We decided that this summer we were going to craft shows and spend all summer traveling around," she grinned. They both love to travel.

She recalled a trip to Branson, Mo., to a craft show in the Ozarks at Silver Dollar City, a theme park which emphasizes homemade and craft items instead of wild rides.

Sidney was very impressed with the candle-making, basket weaving, wood working and carving, glass blowing, and all kinds of old lost folk

"They even played old folk music with stages set up and families performing to the folk- hilly-billy music," she said. Spending hot summer days working on patterns, Sidney added "We are better consumers than we are makers," and laughed. In the workshop out back of their

Freddie Savage reported the theft of his stock trailer last Feb. "I never thought I'd see it again," Savage said. "But thanks to Kenneth Chambers, I got my trailer back yesterday.'

Savage's trailer was allegedly stolen by Dale Ray Waller. Waller, who is also accused of forging checks and stealing stock trailers and recreational vehicles from 23 Texas counties, allegedly took the trailer from the grounds of Northwest Grain in the middle of the night. He then sold the trailer to a man in Amarillo.

Chambers, an investigator for the Texas Cattle Feeders Association, tracked down the trailer for Savage and assisted in Waller's arrest in Memphis, Texas.

Savage said that now he will probably put his trailer in the barn or lock it with a chain.

"Chambers is just interested in the well-being of the association's members," Savage said. "The man was really doing his job." Savage said that Chambers is paid

At one point on the woodworking in the shop out back, she felt like she was wasting a bunch of the wood. But now she turns the scrap wood into what she calls "Kritterkerrs" or little animals.

"Cliff really gets mad because I save all those scraps but I intend to make something out of each and every one of them," she grinned.

Sidney finds time for the hobby in the summer, between semesters at Stanton where she teaches. Cliff, who was a Mobile oil distributor for 28 years, recently sold his business and is busy with other projects now.

"I've kept him busier since he sold out," joked his wife. "He's catching up on the things left undone for the last 28 years."

Three convicted of organized crime

KERRVILLE, Texas (AP) - A ranch owner, his son and a former ranch foreman face up to 20 years in prison after they were convicted of a slavery scheme that led to the death of a hitchhiker after a torture session with a cattle prod.

A seven-woman, five-man jury worked more than 19 hours before returning to the courtroom Wednesday and finding the three guilty under Texas' organized crime statute.

The jurors were to return at 1 p.m. today to consider sentencing for Hill Country rancher Walter Wesley Ellebracht Sr., 54, Walter Wesley Ellebracht Jr., 33, and Carlton Robert Caldwell, 21.

Under the organized crime statute, the state had accused the three of conspiring to commit aggravated kidnapping and murder.

But jurors made no specific finding in their verdict concerning the conspiracy to commit murder allegation, although they did address the kidnapping charge. The charges stemmed from March 1984, when three men claimed they were picked up by the Ellebrachts while they were hitchhiking and went to their ranch when they were promised work. The men claimed that when they asked to leave, they were forced to dig ditches in a chain gang and were tortured with a cattle prod. Then they were released on Interstate 10 north of Kerrville. The charges also stemmed from allegations that Anthony Bates, 27, a drifter from Huntsville, Ala., was tortured to death with an electric cattle prod. Prosecutors alleged his body was doused in gasoline and burned at

Campaign waged to adopt a child

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) - A Fort Worth couple desperately wanting to adopt a child but thwarted by long waiting lists at adoption agencies has launched a personal search, putting fliers on cars and notices in store windows.

"Help! We cannot have children and desire to adopt a baby very much. If you can help us to find a baby to adopt, please call us," Larry and Clarene Gullahorn wrote on fliers distributed this week on cars in downtown Fort Worth this week.

The couple tried to adopt through agencies for a year and in February began distributing the fliers and posting printed cards in shopping malls and grocery stores, looking for a woman willing to give her baby up for adoption.

"We're dead serious about trying to adopt a baby," Gullahorn

So far, the only responses to the campaign have been prank phone calls, which have upset Mrs. Gullahorn, said her husband, a 36-year-

"My wife feels real bad about the situation. I can't understand how someone can call and bother a woman who can't have a baby. It hurts very much," he said.

"I've never seen a couple more determined to have a child as they are," said the Rev. Jesse McElreath, the Gullahorn's pastor. "I know it's a crazy way of going about adopting a child, but I pray that it'll work out for them."

Garbage collectors ordered to work

By The Associated Press

Striking Philadelphia garbage collectors were ordered back to work today while 10,000 other workers continued a 2-week-old walkout, and Detroit's mayor planned to seek a court order against 7,000 workers whose leader vowed "to shut the city down."

Philadelphia Common Pleas Judge Edward J. Blake said Wednesday he agreed with city officials that the 35,000 tons of garbage piling up on streets were a "clear and present danger or threat to the health, safety and welfare of the public." He ordered the garbage collectors back to work this morning.

About 12,000 members of District Council 33 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees walked out July 1. Some 2,400 of them are sanitation workers.

AFSCME District Council 47, representing 2,000 white-collar workers, also struck July 1 but reached a settlement with the city over the weekend. The city estimates that roughly half of those have returned to work and the other half are honoring the blue-collar picket lines.

District 33 President Earl Stout had said before Wednesday's hearing that the union would not disobey a court order. But, he said: "I can't control what my people do."

Mayor W. Wilson Goode said workers who fail to heed the order could be cited for contempt of court, and could face dismissal if they continued to stay out. Garbage collectors would work around-the-clock to clear 15 temporary dumps opened during the strike, he said. In Detroit, Mayor Coleman Young vowed to seek a similar court order forcing some of the strikers back to work to maintain vital city

Ten nuns are freed unharmed

MANILA, Philippines (AP) - Moslem militiamen today released unharmed 10 Filipino nuns they had abducted six days ago, and one freed hostage told friends she felt like she had returned from "a picnic," a church official said.

"They were misty-eyed. They were crying out of joy that they have returned," Roman Catholic Bishop Fernando Capalla, who met the nuns upon their release, said in a telephone interview from his office in southern Iligan city.

Capalla and Defense Minister Juan Ponce Enrile, who first broke the news of the nuns' release, said the Carmelite sisters were freed without any ransom being paid.

Enrile's spokesman, Ed Pangilinan, said negotiations continued to obtain the release of Brian Lawrence, a 30-year-old Presbyterian evangelist from Madison, Wis., who was kidnapped by Moslems a day after the nuns' abduction on Friday.

The abductions took place in the Moslem city of Marawi, 15 miles south of Iligan and 510 miles south of Manila on Mindanao island. Capalla, who helped negotiate the release of the hostages, said the kidnappers made three demands. He said they demanded no criminal charges be filed against them and that their leader, Aragasi Pasandalan, be reinstated as supervisor of a government food agency in Marawi from which he was dismissed earlier. The kidnappers also "asked that the hand-held radio carried by the nuns be given to them as a souvenir," Capalla said.

"We readily agreed to the third demand," Capalla said.

The bishop said Lanao del Sur provincial Gov. Saidamen Pangarungan, who was involved in the negotiations, promised to consider the two other demands, but that the final decision was up to government officials in Manila.

Enrile said earlier the kidnappers had sent a note demanding $100,000 — reduced later to $5,000 — and autonomy for Moslems in the Mindanao region as a condition for releasing the nuns and

Industry slower, business sales slump

By VIVIAN MARINO AP Business

The economy continued to show signs of weakness as the government reported industry operated at just 78.3 percent of capacity in June the worst in three years - and business sales slumped a hefty 1.8 percent in May.

Oil and stock prices, meanwhile, rebounded Wednesday.

On the New York Mercantile Exchange, contracts for August delivery of West Texas Intermediate, the benchmark U.S. crude, closed at $12.58 a barrel, up from Tuesday's close of $12.11.

Unleaded gasoline rose to 35.46 cents from Tuesday's 34.11-cent close, and home-heating oil rose to 35.12 cents from 32.92 cents per gallon Tuesday.

On Wall Street, the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks steadied from its steep slide over the past eight sessions, ending with a gain of 5.48 points, at 1,774.18.

Anti-communist group says it will patrol border for aliens

DALLAS (AP) - An anticommunist paramilitary group that has patrolled Arizona's border with Mexico for illegal aliens and drug smugglers says it will soon start patrolling in Texas.

Jim Kent, director of public relations for Civilian Material Assistance, said he could not disclose where along the border or when group members would be positioned. But he said, "We will be there."

"There's a lot of crime coming in by illegal aliens, and it's a big problem in Texas," Kent said in a Wednesday telephone interview with the Dallas Morning News from his office in Memphis, Tenn.

"We understand that the Border Patrol hasn't been authorized the number of people necessary to adequately patrol the border with Mexico."

He said group members will plan the logistics of the Texas operation at a convention next weekend in Memphis.

Kent said the group does not plan to notify authorities when it begins patrolling Texas borders, because "that would only endanger our operation."

Arizona law enforcement officials said Hispanic leaders have strongly criticized the group's presence along that state's border with Mexico.

earnings Bank shows

First Abilene Bankshares, Inc., reported slightly improved earnings per share for the first and second quarters of the year as compared to the same periods a year ago, the company announced this week.

Earnings per share were reported at 53 cents and $1.33 for the three months and six months periods ended June 30, 1986, as compared to 52 cents and $1.27 respectively for the same periods last year.

First Abilene Bankshares is the parent company of Hereford State Bank, as well as First National Bank of Abilene, Bank of Commerce of Abilene, First National Bank of Sweetwater, and Eastland National Bank.

Increased per share earnings were realized due to fewer average shares outstanding in 1986 compared to 1985, reported the company. During the first quarter of this year, the company concluded a stock purchase plan which began in August of last year in which it purchased 223,185 shares of its own stock-leaving 2 million shares outstanding.

Net income for the quarter and six months ending June 30, 1986, were reported to be $1,051,079 and $2,665,239 respectively, representing an 8.8 percent decrease for the quarter and a 5.6 percent decrease for the six months period when compared to the earnings of the same periods last year.

Walter Johnson, chairman, and Kenneth T. Murphy, president, stated that the company's earnings continue to be affected primarily by above-normal provisions for loan losses, reflecting continuing weakness in the petroleum and agricultural sectors of the economy.

New fashions

DEAR ANN LANDERS: What is the fashion industry doing to us women? Why do we stand for it? Who designs these ugly, freakish suits and dresses with shoulder pads that belong on the football field? Tall women look like wrestlers, short women look goofy. Moreover, the shoulder pads are forever slipping and sliding. When they are out of place the woman looks deformed.

The one-piece bathing suit slit from hip to armpit is obscene. I thought the bikini was shocking but what they are showing now is nothing short of indecent. In order to wear these vulgar shockers a woman must have a body wax (under heavy sedation) or take three hours to shave. The whole thing is disgusting and unnatural.

Add the punk haircut, the sixpound earrings and you have a woman who looks certifiable.

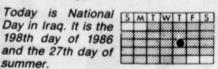

If enough women simply refuse to go along with these kooky trends and keep on wearing our old clothes, the designers will have to quit trying to make us look like damned fools and charge outrageous prices for their monstrosities.

NEW YORK (AP) — Tension headaches, the dull, non-throbbing kind of ache that is often described as a "tight" or "squeezing" sensation, can occur when the neck and scalp muscles have been unconsciously tightened and held taut.

The headache can be cured with aspirin, heat or stretching exercises, but the same symptoms can be caused by long periods of emotional stress and depression. This is a more serious condition and might require prescription drugs, psychotherapy or biofeedback, says Family Circle magazine.

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF VINTAGES Even in the northern vineyards of Frnace and Germany, vintage ratings are of less importance than they were a decade ago. Laboratories in every region check the maturing grapes and the developing wines to stop trouble before it begins. As the technology of grape growing and winemaking gets better, vintages have less significance. The year on a bottle helps us find the very best big vintages. The primary value of a vintage date, though, is to lead us to young wines. Today, however, an

Is there anxiety or disorder?

Psychiatry of golf discussed

By JOHN BARBOUR AP Newsfeatures Writer

Modern psychiatry has not quite identified this common American syndrome. It was only in recent years that the American Psychiatric Association defined "anxiety" as a disease entity, so introspective psychiatrists can be forgiven for not having zeroed in on golf.

Besides, golf defies definition in the pattern of more common mental and emotional disorders. The patient afflicted with this disease entity is doubly stricken. He or she shows definite signs of deep-seated guilt and at times hyper-pleasure, and each of these states is further enhanced by increased dosages of Freud in his wisdom never attempted to treat anyone suffering from golf, probably because it occurred to him that golf spelled backward is flog, and any disease that turns to sadistic behavior so easily is best left alone. Sex is a much more simple an entity. Backward, it has no meaning. Auld Scottish sorcerers and

Fish quotes have surfaced through the years

By The Associated Press

Fishing is either a joy or a joke. Either way, it's been a favored lure for writers over the years. Here's a sample of the catch.

"I would rather fish than eat, particularly eat fish." - American author Corey Ford.

"There are more fish taken out of a stream than were ever in it." -American humorist Oliver Herford.

"A fishing rod is a stick with a hook at one end and a fool at the other." -Dr. Samuel Johnson.

"Fishing is a delusion entirely surrounded by liars in old clothes." -American journalist and humorist Don Marquis.

"There's no use in your walking. five miles to fssh when you can depend on being just as unsuccessful near home." - Mark Twain.

"I never lost a little fish - yes, I am free to say-It always was the biggest fish I caught that got away." -Eugene Field.

And from the most compleat angler, Izaak Walton:

"I have laid aside business, and gone a-fishing."

"Angling may be said to be so like the mathematics that it can never be fully learnt."

"As no man is born an artist, so no man is born an angler."

"Doubt not but angling will prove to be so pleasant that it will prove to be, like virtue, a reward to itself."

"We may say of angling as Dr. Boteler said of strawberries: 'Doubtless God could have made a better berry, but doubtless God never did;' and so, if I might be judge, God never did make a more calm, quiet, innocent recreation than angling."

Two players were listed on every All-Star baseball ballot from 1970 through 1986. They were Pete Rose and Reggie alchemists recognized golf as both a ly of the strictures of gravity, golfer hypnotic and a sedative. Golfers denied reinforcement of their addiction become remote and schizophrenic in behavior. Yet they seldom become violent. No one ever heard of a golfer burglarizing homes and apartments or beating up little old ladies to feed his addiction.

A golfer on the psychiatrist's couch invariably keeps looking at his watch. He knows he has a tee-off time, and is well aware that once this foolish $100 an hour interview is over. he will get down to the nitty gritty at has completed his swing and one a great deal less expense. Therapy at discovers how dangerous a practice such high priced courses as Pebble it is, how quickly and capriciously Beach only comes to $25 an hour of

A golfer learns early in the course of his disease that he cannot blame his mother or father for his backswing, nor any sibling conflict for a slice or a hook. These are internalized forces, the failure of muscle memory, the product of uneven stance, the impatience of the club head to get to the ball, the lack of a clean follow-through.

One can never blame golf for inciting lascivious behavior. Golf can never be accused of being an aphrodisiac. It is, in fact, an antidote to untoward sexual drive. Give a golfer a three wood and he or she seeks another kind of rapture, that sight of the little globe rising with clean velocity toward the cloudembellished sky, relieved temporari-

Golfers are rarely insomniacs. The typical golfer, turning a back to his or her bedmate, plays behind closed lids the favorite holes of a favorite course and a secret smile crosses the golfer's face as the ball goes exactly where he or she wants it to, until sleep comes almost unnoticed. The only value a sheep has for a golfer is to keep the fairway well clipped.

However, wake a golfer before he golf metamorphoses to flog.

Greg Black Memorial 10-K, Two-Mile Fun Run scheduled

The Greg Black Memorial 10-Kilometer Run and Two-Mile Fun Run have been scheduled by the Hereford and Vicinity YMCA for Saturday, Aug. 9.

The runs will start at the Hereford and Vicinity YMCA on Fifteenth Streeet at 8 a.m. that day. Entry fees are $8 per person when paid in advance, or $10 when paid on the day of the race.

Late registration is scheduled between 7 a.m. and 7:45 a.m., before the races start.

Awards in the 10-kilometer run include wall plaques for the first place finishers, and medals for the second and third place finishers.

In the two-mile run, medals will be awarded to the first, second and third place finishers in each of the open divisions, and each participant will receive a T-shirt.

Divisions in the 10-kilometer run are men's 13 and under, men's 14 to 19, men's 20 to 29, men's 30 to 39, men's 40 to 49, men's 50 and over. women's 13 and under, women's 14 to 19, women's 20 to 29, women's 30 to 39, women's 40 to 49, and women's 50 and over. There will be an open men's division and an open women's division in the two-mile run.

Before 1985, the runs were known as the Town & Country Jubilee 10-Kilometer Run and Two-Mile Fun Run.

The record for men in the 10-kilometer is 33:02, set by Jesse Sturgeon of San Antonio in 1984. Sturgeon won last year's race in a time of 34:12.

Donnie Henderson of Hereford won the 1985 women's 10-kilometer run in a time of 51:02. The women's division record is 39:51, set by Beverly Watkins of Amarillo in 1982.

Last year's winners in the two-mile run were Allen Dudding of Hereford in the men's open division in 11:49, and Nena Veazey of Hereford in the women's open division in 14:19.

Records in the two-mile run are 10:15 in the men's division, set by Buddy Hutto of Levelland in 1983, and 12:48 in the women's division, set by Selma Moreno of Hereford in 1983.

Course for the 10-kilometer run is from the YMCA on Fifteenth Street

Long-term use of public lands asked

By DAVID GOELLER

Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) - America's ski areas are schussing icy slopes as they ask Congress to scrap a decades-old policy and guarantee them long-term use of national forest lands many of them now lease annually for an average of $100 an acre.

Among those objecting to the resorts' request for 55-year leases on public lands are U.S. Forest Service Chief Max Peterson and environmental groups like the Wilderness Society and National Wildlife Federation.

"We don't think it's good business for either the ski operators or ourselves to lock it up for more than 30 years," Peterson has told a hearing by the House Interior public lands subcommittee.

that as the subcommittee studies the issue, it should investigate whether the rental rates ski areas pay for using public lands are a good deal for taxpayers.

Engineer reveals data

HOUSTON (AP) - An engineer who helped compile data from hundreds of school districts on Texas' no pass, no play rule says minority and learning-disabled students were afda, fected more by the rule than whites.

Eugene Bruce testified Wednesday that the data showed "obvious disparities" between the numbers of whites and minorities excluded from extracurricular activities because of the rule.

Bruce was one of several witnesses who testified Wednesday in a case challenging the controversial regulation, which prohibits students who fail a course in a grading period from participating in sports or other extracurricular activities for six courses at Parker Elementary School in Houston, she said.

Plaintiffs claim the regulation, part of a statewide school reform package, discriminates against minorities and handicapped students. Proceedings were scheduled to resume at noon today in the court of State District Judge Marsha Anthony.

Although Nolan failed his regular courses this year, he had perfect attendance and the school principal said he could take the trip to the amusement park, Mrs. Arnes said.

"Going to Astroworld this year was a neat experience," she said. "Being with your friends and peers is a great experience."

"Due to the no pass, no play rule, the number of those being able to participate has greatly decreased and that concerns me," said Ms. Rector, who teaches honor students.

Although she stopped short of laying all blame on the rule, Ms. Arnes said it was a factor for many students, including whites.

The resorts and their point man, Rep. Tim Wirth, D-Colo., say the change is needed to ensure private financing for new ski areas and expansion of existing ones in an industry that grossed $1.5 billion in 1985 and is expecting even better times in 1986.

But the Wilderness Society, which questions whether ski resorts are paying enough rent for national forest property, argues that the proposal could undercut what it considers already weak federal environmental oversight of the skiing industry.

About 170 ski areas, most of them in the West, occupy an estimated 90,000 acres of national forests under a permit system tied to an 1897 law. according to Bob Weir, a concession specialist at the U.S. Forest Service.

About 10 percent of the land is leased under 30-year permits, with the rest covered by permits that must be renewed annually by the Forest Service. Weir said the resorts paid the government an estimated $8 million to $9 million in rent last year.

Weir said that while an annual permit can be yanked if a resort operator violates its environmental or financial terms, "we've never terminated any permits. We issue a permit, and it's kind of forever."

Wirth has introduced legislation to give resorts 55-year leases on national forest land. Weir said that while he considers annual permits "cumbersome," he thinks 55 years is too long.

"From one perspective you can say the present system is operating just fine," Weir said. "There's a thriving industry out there."

Scott said Wirth's bill would change "almost 100 years of congressional history."

"Why did Congress put narrow limits on leasing land for long periods?" he asked. "They didn't want to encumber large amounts of federal land without Congress taking a look at what they are doing."

John Beck leaves 'Dallas' as Patrick Duffy returns as Bobby

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Did John Beck star in CBS' 'Dallas' last year and marry Bobby Ewing's widow in the season-ending cliffhanger, or did he only dream he was in the hit nighttime soap opera?

Beck returned to "Dallas" last season as Mark Graison to renew his romance with Pam Ewing, played by Victoria Principal. She was widowed when Bobby (Patrick Duffy) was struck and apparently killed by an automobile at the end of the 1984-85

As the 1985-86 season ended in May, Beck's character married

John Endecott, governor of the Massachusetts Bay Colony, brought the first apple seeds from England. Apples soon became an important American crop. In 1649, Endecott bought 200 acres of land, paying for them with 300 3-year-old apple trees he had raised.

Pam. But when she woke the next morning, Bobby was in the shower. Since the finale, Beck has been dropped from the series.

'When I was told I was being let go I had mixed feelings," Beck said. "It also gave me great freedom. I could do theater or a movie or another series. When you're doing a show you can't do anything else. You don't have time. When you enjoy doing a variety of things, it can get frustrating.'

One burning question now is how the writers will return Bobby to the show. The speculation is that Pam dreamed his death and all that happened last season.

Bringing back the dead is nothing new for "Dallas." Graison supposedly had died in a plane crash. Dusty Farlow, played by Jared Martin, was also thought dead in another plane crash, but he also turned up again.

Beck said Larry Hagman, who stars as J.R. Ewing, wanted Duffy to return. Hagman had also lobbied for a new executive producer and for the show to return to the way it had been in the past.

"Larry believes in the tightness of the family," he said. "The show last season had pulled away from the family. We went off to Colombia in search of emeralds. ...

THE STATE OF TEXAS COUNTY OF DEAF SMITH CITY OF HEREFORD NOTICE TO BIDDERS

TO ALL INTERESTED PERSONS:

The City of Hereford, Texas, a municipal corporation, P.O. Box 512, Hereford, Texas 79045, proposes to lease and let for agricultural purposes certain lands, in accordance to bidders. This notice is the official bid form, and all proposals for the lease of this land should be submitted to the City of Hereford at the above address, for the attention of Darwin McGill, City Manager. Additional copies of this notice and proposal may be obtained from Mr. McGill by any interested per-

A lease contract will be entered into between the City of Hereford and the successful bidder, incorporating therein the terms of this notice to bidders, the bid proposal appended hereto, and any additional covenants or agreements arrived at between the City of Hereford and the successful bidder.

All bid proposals, submitted in sealed envelopes, must be received at the above address at or before 2:00 P.M. local time, on July 21, 1986, at which time the bids will be opened and considered by the governing body of said City.

The City of Hereford reserves the right to reject all bids, and the right to negotiate minor details and variations with the successful bidder. The successful bidder will be that bidder, who, in the opinion of the governing body of said City, submits the most advantageous proposal to the City of Hereford respecting the proposed lease. All bids must remain open for five days from the date of the bid opening, and the successful bidder will be notified within such period. The successful bidder must then enter into contract with the City of Hereford within ten days from date of notification that he is the successful bidder.

The terms and conditions of the proposed lease contract are as follows:

1. The land to be covered by the lease contract is described as follows: All of Sections Nos. 2, 3, 18 and 19, in Block K-3, Deaf Smith County, Texas, and containing 2,574 acres of land, more or less.

2. Except as more particularly set forth in this notice to bidders, the lands must be accepted by the successful bidder in the condition that such lands are now in, and it shall be the responsibility of each bidder to satisfy himself by inspection of the premises as to the condition of the land, fences, improvements, irrigation wells and equipment, and all other appurtenances and fixtures on the land. The City of Hereford makes no representations or warranties with respect to the suitability of the land for agricultural purposes, nor the availability of irrigation or other water supplies on the land, other than as set forth specifically in this notice to bidders. Permission can be obtained by any responsible prospective bidder for the right to go upon and inspect the land prior to the date of the bid opening. 3. The land is being leased for agricultural purposes only, and the successful bidder will be expected to comply with the following specific provisions:

(A) A part of the land has been heretofore placed in cultivation, and all that part of such land will be deemed cultivated land. The balance of the land is still in sod, has not been heretofore placed in cultivation, and will be deemed grass land. For the purpose of computing the annual cash rent, all land heretofore placed in cultivation will be considered cultivated land, and the actual acreage will be determined and the rent to be paid will be based upon such acreage. None of the grass land may be broken out and placed in cultivation during the term of this lease, except with the specific permission of the City of Hereford. If, at any time during the term of the lease, with the permission of the City, any such grass land is broken out or placed in cultivation, then from and after the date of such action. with the terms of this notice the land will be deemed cultivated land, and rent will be due and payable at the cultivated acre price.

(B) All of the land must be farmed, used, cultivated, and otherwise put to proper use in

ing and ranching practices customary in the area, and the lessee will from time to time plant, cultivate and harvest all crops necessary to keep and maintain all of the crop allotments on the premises under the rules and regulations of the United States Department of Agriculture, and it shall be the duty and responsibility of the lessee to determine the nature and extent of such term of this lease. Other than with respect to keeping and maintaining the allotments in force, the lessee shall be entitled to devote the cultivated acres to such crops as the lessee may desire, but it is specifically provided and must be understood that the use of sewer effluent for watering will prevent the growing of underground root crops such as sugar beets, potatoes, and the like. The lessee shall not be entitled to overgraze the grassland, and agrees to use good range management practices in accordance with the customary and accepted procedures in the area. (C) The lessee must agree not to remove from the premises, either for his own use or for sale to third parties, any soil, dirt, coliche, or gravel and sand; and must further agree to use due diligence in maintaining the land free from additional roads and trails other than those already on the premises, the lessee agreeing to use existing roads, paths, trails, turnrows, and other means of ingress and egress, as well as access to crops, improvements, and remote portions of the premises. The City does not guarantee any access to any part of the premises except by public road established on the ground, and the lessee will be responsible for determining to his own satisfaction the availability of ingress, egress and access. 4. It is to be understood between the parties to the lease that one of the purposes for which this land was acquired by the City of Hereford was to provide a place for the discharge on private property, and without discharge into any public stream, lake or other place, the effluent from the sewer treatment plant of the City of Hereford. The City has constructed a pipeline through which such sewer effluent is transported from the sewer treatment plant of the City to the leased premises, where it may be put to beneficial use on the leased premises by the lessee under this proposed lease contract, in accordance with the following covenants and conditions:

(A) The City transports such effluent to the leased premises at its own cost and expense, and the water will be delivered to the premises without cost or charge to the tenant. Such effluent will be made available at one location on each side of the stream bed passing through the leased premises, and may be controlled by gate valves placed in the pipeline at either such location. Eventual and final point of delivery is from the playa lake on the premises, where water not removed from the pipeline by gate valve upstream from the playa lake will be discharged into the playa lake, where such water will become the responsibility of the tenant in accordance with the further provisions hereof.

(B) The total output of the sewer plant of the City of Hereford will be so delivered to the premises, and it is to be understood that such output may vary from day to day and from time to time, and the City will not be responsible for delivering any specific quantity, whether more or less than the amount ordinarily to be expended from time to time. It is to be understood that the amount will be fairly constant in accordance with the ordinary day to day discharge from the plant, and that no reservoir or place of storage will be provided except on the leased premises. The tenant must expect such discharge to arrive on the premises day and night, and from day to day throughout the term of the lease. The City will not be expected to provide any means for terminating such flow at any time.

(C) The tenant shall be fully responsible for the application of the effluent to the land after delivery of such effluent to the points of delivery above specified, and the tenant shall be responsible for preventing any part of the effluent so delivered to the premises from being discharged into the stream bed that flows through the land, or into any other lake, stream, or other public place, or onto any adjoining land. Failure of the tenant to prevent such discharge of the effluent shall be deemed a breach of this contract, shall be subject to restraint or injunction by any court of competent jurisdiction on the petition of the City of Hereford, or any other public body, without the necessity of showing irreparable harm or inadequacy of any remedy at law. Failure of the tenant to prevent such improper discharge of the effluent shall likewise be deemed ground for cancellation of this contract, if such failure persists after due notice to the tenant It is to be understood between the parties that the duty of the City of Hereford is a public duty to prevent any such improper discharge of effluent, and that this duty is assumed by the tenant pursuant to these provisions. (D) The City of Hereford agrees to treat all such effluent in its regularly established sewer treatment plant, as the same now exists. and in accordance with accepted practices available to the City through the use of such existing plant. However, the City will not be responsible for the temporary delivery of effluent not so properly treated if such temporary delivery of improperly treated effluent is made necessary by breakdowns of the sewer treatment plant, or any part thereof, beyond the control of the City. The City's obligation shall extend to exercising due care and diligence to treat such effluent in accordance with practices now in effect at the City sewer plant. It is further understood that the

breakdowns or failures in the pipeline system, or the sewer treatment system, which cause temporary disruption of the delivery of the effluent to the land will not impose any liability on the City for such failure to deliver the effluent to the land, and the City will not be responsible for any loss of crop by reason of water shortage, or any other type of liability to the tenant. (E) The playa lake, all existing surface and subsurface pipes, and other irrigation and water-spreading equipment owned by the City shall be available to the tenant for the spreading of water, but the City shall not be responsible for furnishing any equipment or facilities for spreading the water from the point of delivery other than those owned by the City and located on the premises at this time. All necessary ditches, pipes, sprinklers, and other watering racilities required by the tenant shall be furnished by him at his own cost and expense. All cost and expense of retaining the effluent and preventing improper discharge of the same in accordance with terms hereof shall be furnish-

5. In addition to the sewer effluent to be used for irrigation purposes, as above set forth, the tenant shall be entitled to the use of the irrigation wells now located on the land, in accordance with the following provisions:

ed by the tenant.

(A) The City of Hereford makes no representations with reference to the availability of underground irrigation water from irrigation wells. It shall be the responsibility of the prospective tenant to satisfy himself with reference to the amount of irrigation water that he may expect to receive from such existing wells and equipment.

(B) During the term of this lease, the responsibility for maintenance and repair of the wells and pumps below the ground shall be the responsibility, and done at the expense of the City of Hereford, except that day to day maintenance on such wells and pumps will be the responsibility of the tenant. (C) The tenant shall be entitled to the use of all electric motors, irrigation engines, gearheads, and other irrigation equipment now on the premises, but the City reserves the right to decline to replace any of such items used above ground in the event same shall wear out or become useless during the term of the lease. All maintenance and repair of such above ground equipment shall be the responsibility of, and done at the expense of, the tenant, who shall be obligated to use due care to keep same in a good state of repair, subject to fair wear and tear. If any well has no gearhead or motor, or if any gearhead or motor wears out during the lease term, it shall be the responsibility of the tenant to furnish the same to meet his own needs in accordance with his own best judgment as to the utility of the respective wells. (D) Although two deep irrigation wells have been drilled on the premises in prior years, it is to be understood that neither of these wells has been a serviceable irrigation well, and that neither of the same will be expected to be repaired or placed in service by the City. None of the equipment heretofore used in such wells will be made available to the tenant.

(E) The City of Hereford will not be required or expected to drill any additional irrigation wells, or to furnish any additional irrigation equipment to the tenant, except that which may be on the land at this time.

(F) It is to be clearly understood that the City of Hereford makes no representation with reference to the availability of supply of underground irrigation water, and each prospective tenant shall be expected to satisfy himself with respect to the amount of underground irrigation water available to him pursuant to the terms hereof. 6. the City of Hereford will reserve the right to drill additional water wells on the premises during the term of this lease, for the purpose of furnishing water to the municipal water supply system of said City. All rights and appurtenances, including rights-of-way and easements for water lines, sites and locations for wells, pump stations, and other appurtenances to the water system, shall be freely available to the City as needed for the purpose of such additions to the municipal water supply of the City, without cost or other charge to the City from the tenant on the land. The City will not be responsible or liable to the tenant for any reduction of availability of underground irrigation water caused by the drilling of municipal water wells, if such municipal wells are drilled in accordance with the rules and regulations of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1.

7. The tenant will be expected to accept the houses, barns, sheds, corrals, fences, and other improvements on the land in the condition that such improvements are in at the beginning date of the lease, and will be further expected to return all such improvements to the City at the termination of the lease in the same such condition, subject only to fair wear and tear, and the acts of God and the elements. Insurance of such improvements against casualty losses, such as fire, windstorm and other natural causes, shall be at the discretion and expense of the City of Hereford. All of the existing fences on the premises must be maintained by the tenant in the same condition that ed wire fences will be removed, or replaced by electric fences, during the term of the lease. Day to day maintenance and upkeep of the fences and other improvements shall be at the sole cost and expense of the tenant during the term of the lease. 8. The City of Hereford shall have the right, at any time, during the term of this lease, through any of its officers, agents, or employees, to go upon the land, or any part thereof, for the purpose of inspecting the premises to determine compliance with the lease provisions, or for the purpose of inspecting the premises for any other legitimate purpose, including the right to survey the land for possible future develoment, lease, or sale of the premises, or any part thereof. 9. The land is presently leased and the crops now on the land belong to the tenant. That part of the land now planted to wheat, rye, oats and other winter crops is to be surrendered to the City by the present tenant when such crops have been harvested in the Summer of 1986. The successful bidder hereunder will be entitled to take possession of such lands when these crops have been harvested. and will be entitled to plant his own winter crops for 1987 harvest. Likewise, when the Fall row crops have been harvested in late 1986, the row crops land will be surrendered by the present tenant, and thereafter such possession will be made available to the successful bidder. Possession of the grass lands and pasture will become available to the successful bidder on January 1. 1987. The successful bidder. and new tenant, will surrender the respective areas used as above categorized, to the City, at the same time lease term. 10. The City reserves the right to cancel this lease as to any part of the land in grass. upon giving of six months notice of such proposed cancellation to the tenant and upon prorata reduction or rebate of rent for any such cancellation from the date of such cancellation.

during the last year of his

11. The tenant shall have permission to sub-lease to any responsible person all or any part of the leased premises during the term hereof, provided that no such sub-lease shall relieve the tenant from his responsibilities under the lease contract to the City of Hereford. Such permission to sub-lease shall not include the permission to transfer or assign the lease, in whole or in part, without the permission of the City of

Hereford. 12. The term of the proposed lease shall be five years, and the cash rent to be paid by the successful bidder to the City of Hereford will be on an annual basis for five vears, but the actual term of the lease shall be as follows:

(A) The successful bidder will be entitled to enter upon the premises and take possession thereof in accordance with Paragraph 9 above.

(B) The tenant shall be entitled to possession of the premises through the end of the crop year in the year 1991. and shall deliver possession of the premises back to the City of Hereford as to the wheat, rye, oats or other winter crops when such crops have been harvested in the Summer of 1991, and shall deliver the balance of the premises back to the City of Hereford at the end of the calendar year 1991. The tenant will not be entitled to plant the wheat, rye, oats and other Fall crops on the land at the end of 1991.

(C) The cash lease payable by the successful bidder for 1986 will be payable as follows: One-half of such cash rent will be payable upon the execution of the lease contract, and the other one-half shall be payable on or before September 1, 1987.

(D) The cash rent payable they are now in, and no barb- for the years 1988, 1989, 1990 and 1991, respectively, shallbe payable on or before March 1 of each year and-September 1 of each year, one-half of the rent to bepayable on each such date.

> (E) The cash rent shall be: apportioned between the cultivated land and the other lands on the premises, and the acreage within each category of land will be determined as follows: The total acreage in the tract will bedetermined, by survey or other means of measurement, and the total amount of cultivated land will likewise be determined. The difference between the total: acreage and the cultivated: acreage will be deemed the grass land acreage, for the purpose of computing the per acre cash rent due and payable by the tenant to the

New service offers instant cash for bail

DALLAS (AP) - People accused of misdemeanor crimes in the suburb of Grand Prairie now have the option of making a charge of their own in order to get out of jail.

The Grand Prairie Police Department now allows those arrested on misdemeanors to use their credit cards to post bond by tapping into a new electronic funds transfer system, said Sgt. Doug 11-5-20c Clancey, a city jail supervisor. WAGGONER'S CHEM-DRY.

The system, Cash Call, is offered by a company called FundsNet Inc., which has its principal operations center in 110 N.W. 2nd, Dimmitt,

The program is presently in operation in Morris County. N.J., and officials have received inquiries from cities such as Dallas, Los Angeles and Philadelphia, said Suzanne Wojda, corporate marketing coordinator at the company's office in Englewood, N.J.

Grand Prairie is the first Texas city to offer the electronic funds transfer system, Ms. Wojda said.

"Right now it's a brand new market, but it seems to be taking off," she said.

Cash Call differs from other bail credit card systems because it allows municipalities to get instant cash without having to pay the credit card companies for their services, Ms. Wojda said.

A terminal is set up near the booking desk at the Grand Prairie jail, Clancey said. Cards are run through the machine to check credit line availability and the machine then prints up a check for the correct amount, he said.

"It actually crisscrosses the country in about 30 seconds and a check is printed up. That check is as good as cash," Ms. Wojda FundsNet charges a fee to the user for the service. A $500 bond would cost about $20, she said. Although the pilot program is a free trial run of the system, the regular charge to the city would be about $100 per month, she

About 15 people have used the service during the month it has been available. Most are pleasantly surprised to find that they can use their own card or call a friend with a card, Clancey said.

They thought it was great. They're surprised now they have more or less a fifth option to get out of jail," he said. Previously, bonds were made through cash, local checks, an attorney or bail bondsman, he said.

Most of the people booked on misdemeanor charges are accused of traffic violations such as driving without a license, he said.

Signs advertising the service are posted at the booking area, he said. Clancey said cards are checked for credit line availability and to make sure the card is valid. So far no stolen credit cards have been proffered to jail officials, he said.

BEYOND AND BACK...REALLY!

"Brothers -- you sons of Abraham, and also all of you Gentiles here who reverence God -- this salvation is for all of us!

"The Jews in Jerusalem and their leaders fulfilled prophecy by killing Jesus; for they didn't recognize m, or realize that He is the one the prophets had written about, though they heard the prophets' words read every Sabbath. They found no just cause to execute Him, but asked Pilate to have Him killed anyway. When they had fulfilled all the prophecies concerning His death, He was taken from the cross and placed in a tomb. But God brought Him back to life again! And He was seen many times during the next few days by the men who had accompanied Him to Jerusalem from Galilee -- these men have constantly testified to this public in witness.

"And now Barnabas and I are here to bring you this Good News -- that God's promise to our ancestors has come true in our own time, in that God brought Jesus back to life again. This is what the second Psalm is talking about when it says concerning Jesus, 'Today I have honored You as My Son.' For God had promised to bring Him back to life again, no more to die. This is stated in the Scripture that says, 'I will do for You the wonderful thing I promised David.

"In another Psalm He explained more fully, saying 'God will not let His Holy One decay.' this was not a reference to David, for after David had served his generation according to the will of God. he died and was buried, and his body decayed. No. it was a reference to another -- Someone God brought back to life, whose body was not touched at all by the ravages of death." Acts 13:26-37

William H. Bonney (1859-1881).

Hector García, a Lufkin farrier, does.

He continues ancient traditions by pounding out horse shoes on a battered anvil and shaping them over a 100-yearold forge.

He likes to tell stories about Egyptian experiments with grass sandals for horses about 5,000 years ago and enjoys pointing out that leather hoof socks allowed Genghis Khan to conquer half the world.

But Garcia is also interested in new developments: he is testing a space-age, plastic horseshoe and is investigating the possibility of whirlpool boots for horses with sore feet.

"This job is a combination of the old and the new," he said. "The farrier is just an old blacksmith, basically -'Under the spreading chestnut tree' and all that. We just brought the old into the '80s."

Garcia, who recently opened a two-stall barn behind East Texas Veterinary Clinic, says he frequently works with the veterinarians.

"We do a lot of corrective work on lame horses." he said. "When somebody brings in a horse that has foundered, we will work with the veterinarians." Garcia recently worked on such a case.

'They dragged the horse off the trailer," Garcia said. "The horse couldn't walk when he came in."

Part of the horse's problem was due to histamines, a substance most people associate with allergies and colds.

"When you have a cold, your body produces histamines and you buy antihistamines at the drug store to fight the congestion," Garcongestion too. But when they get it, the problem is in the hoof, not in the nose."

The congestion can cause pressure to build up in the hoof, Garcia said, showing a textbook drawing of a skeleton.

"The pressure builds up and can press the coffin bone into a tendon. It can tear the tendon and rip the ligaments away. It gets to where the horse just can't stand up." In the old days, there wasn't much to do except shoot the horse. "Now you can save them," Garcia said. "In about three hours, we'll have them walking around. You've got to know something about physiology and anatomy in this business."

Garcia also does patchwork, filling in damaged areas in hooves much like a dentist fills in a cavity.

In some cases, he removes the damaged section of the hoof with a tool that is similar to a dentist's drill. He then fills the cavity with dental acrylic or fiberglass and closes the wound with wire stitches.

Depending on the size of the notch, the hoof will grow back over the filling in three to six require a good fit. Garcia puts on his leather apron and goes about that job just as farriers have done for centuries. "We do a lot of things," he said. "But. most of the time, all we do is shoe horses."

Explorers plan to examine damage done to sunken liner

WOODS HOLE, Mass. (AP) - Deep-sea explorers plan to examine the damage done to the Titanic when it rammed an iceberg on its maiden voyage 74 years ago and slipped to the bottom of the Atlantic, taking 1,513 people to their deaths.

Robert Ballard, leader of the return voyage to the remains of the "unsinkable" steamship, told reporters Wednesday night in a ship-toshore news conference that cia said. "Well, horses have he wanted to examine the tear caused when the Titanic hit the sea bottom two miles down, nearly splitting itself in

"We have never really seen whether we can enter at the tear," Ballard said after four days of diving to the site in a tiny submarine from a research vessel above. "We will land there and see if we can see inside."

Ballard said he and his colleagues from the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution were confident they had taken enough pictures of that area of the huge ship to safely land their three-man sub today on debris near the fissure and send their remotecontrolled robot camera inside for a look.

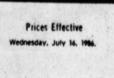

Ballard, who discovered the Titanic's grave in September as head of a French-American team, said he also wanted to examine the bow of the liner to see whether he could find the spot where the ship's front hit the iceberg.

But he added that since some 40 feet of the ship's bow is buried in mud, the tear itself might also be below the soft ocean bottom.

So far, the only evidence found of any of the Titanic's passengers and crew was a sock Ballard said he spotted in debris beside the ship. But he said he's thankful he has not seen any remains of those once aboard the vessel, which was considered unsinkable because of its double-hulled bottom and numerous watertight compartments.

DR. GOTT Have physician check symptoms

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — My present weight is 115 pounds and I am 5 feet 5. I would like to gain a few pounds, since I'm most comfortable at 125-128. I feel nauseated a lot, have no appetite and am exhausted all the time. Is there a medical reason for this (I am not anemic) or is it simply due to bad eating habits?

DEAR READER — Nausea, loss of

DEAR READER — Nausea, loss of appetite and exhaustion raise the possibility of a medical condition. Many different diseases can cause the symptoms you describe. Get checked by a doctor. Even if you simply have an eating problem, a physician may be able to straighten out the situation and help you feel better.

DEAR DR. GOTT — My daughter in the situation and help you feel better.

DEAR DR. GOTT — My daughter is only 7, but when she sweats she gets a terrible perspiration odor. I bathe her every night. Could the soap be causing this problem? What can I do for her?

DEAR READER — Body odor can be a difficult problem. Rather than switching soaps and experimenting on your own, take your daughter for an examination by a pediatrician. That way, you can get some expert professional advice.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am menopausal and have systemic allergies, but am basically a pretty upbeat sort of person. The problem is that I get so exhausted that I have to use a cane. Have you ever heard of someone reacting to the change of life this way? I

DEAR READER — Menopause can cause weakness and loss of energy in some women. These complaints aren't common, but they can occur. The estrogen you are taking should counteract the menopausal symptoms, so I think you need a thorough medical evaluation to make sure there isn't another cause for your problem. Thyroid deficiency, anemia and glandular imbalances can cause exhaustion, as can a host of medical ills. Ask your gynecologist to refer you to an internal-medicine diagnostician — and please let me know the

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am 18, 5 feet tall and weigh 90 pounds. I find that if I eat more than 1,100 calories a day, I gain weight. Do I have a thyroid problem?

DEAR READER — That is a good possibility. Your caloric requirement may simply be lower than normal or you may be burning up calories too slowly.

Ninety pounds seems a little on the light side to me. Would you feel more comfortable at 110? Perhaps your body is telling you to eat more, that you need more weight. I suggest that you check with a doctor who can not only evaluate your thyroid function but also your whole nutritional status.

Research into POW camp continuing

PLAINVIEW (Special) - A history project about a World War II prisoner-of-war camp in West Texas has brought statewide attention to a Wayland Baptist University student.

Plainviewan Lucielle Henegar has captured the fancy of historians and the general public alike with her paper, "Beating Swords Into Plowshares: The Hereford Reservation and Reception Center."

Originally written for Dr. Estelle Owens' Texas History class last fall, the paper reviews the history of the Italian POW camp established at Hereford during the second world war. The effort was made at Dr. Owens' suggestion to fill a long-standing gap in area history.

For her work, Mrs. Henegar took first place honors in the Sesquicentennial writing competition of the West Texas Historical Association. The award carries with it a $250 check as well as publication of the paper by the association.

Earlier in the year, the paper earned second place honors in the statewide writing contest of the Walter Prescott Webb Historical Society. It will also be published in the Webb Society journal, "Touchstone."

The paper has also become a popular topic among area organizations seeking Mrs. Henegar as a speaker.

Mrs. Henegar's efforts were particularly timely, since physical evidence of the camp is rapidly disappearing. Because the camp was located on what is now farm land, remnants of camp facilities are being removed at a regular rate.

About all that remains is the chapel built by the prisoners and the concrete water tower. Beyond the camp site itself are grain elevators in Hereford, Hart and Tulia, also built by POW's.

Some 7,000 Italians were held at the camp during the war, and such great numbers left behind plenty of memories and tales.

Mrs. Henegar's research included visits with farmers who used POW labor to produce wartime crops, and combing letters to area residents from former POW's who have corresponded and even returned to West Texas to visit.

"At first, there was resentment toward the camp because residents felt the presence of enemies," Mrs. Henegar said. "But the working relationships and other close associations quickly dispelled those feelings, and enemies soon became friends."

Despite the fact that the paper has long since been completed, Mrs. Henegar's research continues. She still receives calls from people remembering stories associated with the Hereford camp—stories that help bring World War II to West Texas.

Washing a kid's special teddy bear

DEAR POLLY — My three-year-old has a stuffed animal that he takes everywhere. Needless to say, it is filthy. It is made of all-new materials and cannot be machine-washed. The animal is an eyesore, but I cannot ask him to part with it. Do you have any idea how I can successfully surface-clean this very loved creature? — MARY

DEAR MARY — The safest and simplest method is to simply sponge the animal with a mild detergent and water solution, such as a mild hand-dishwashing liquid. You may have to scrub a bit. Then rinse with clear water and allow to dry.

If this is not successful, you might want to try machine-washing the animal, even though the label recommends against it. I have washed a variety of stuffed animals with generally good results. If the outer covering and stuffing are synthetic materials, it will probably wash fairly well. Putting the animal in a pillow case tied shut while washing can help to protect it during agitation and spinning. I can't guarantee the results, since the label apparently does not recommend machine-washing, but I can report that personally I've had good results with most stuffed animals that I've tried to wash. You may want to try it as a last resort. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY -- When we moved into our new house a few months ago, I put a coat of soft paste wax on all of my new kitchen appliances. I used the same kind of wax that is recommended for fiberglass cars and bathtubs. The results are amazing! The appliances stay so nice and shiny and are so easy to keep clean. I even used the wax on my 20-year-old freezer and it looks like a new one now. The wax will help the looks of your range, refrigerator, dishwasher, clothes washer and dryer and anything else that has an enamel finish. Just apply a thin coat of wax with the applicator that comes with it, let it dry and wipe with a clean, dry cloth. It is just that easy! - MRS. R.A.

DEAR POLLY — Do you have a recipe for making a lower-calorie butter mixture? — BERNICE DEAR BERNICE — I don't have a recipe for making a reduced-calorie butter blend, since any ingredients that can be added to butter at home without thinning it, such as oil or margarine, have essentially the same number of calories as butter. However, you can whip butter to reduce the calories. The increased volume of whipped butter will make the spread go further; you'll be adding fewer cal-ories to each slice of bread so long as you use the same quantity by volume as you would of regular butter (teaspoon for teaspoon, for example). To whip butter, place a stick of soft but-ter in a medium bowl and beat with an electric mixer until the butter is light, fluffy and increased in volume. Store in a tightly covered container in the refrigerator.

Another way to cut calories is to spread a little sour cream instead of butter or mayonnaise on bread. Sour cream has only 30 calories per table-spoon as opposed to 100 calories per tablespoon of butter or mayonnaise. It has a rich flavor and a little goes a long way.

I'm sending you a copy of my newsletter, "Super Diet Tips," which offers additional ways to cut calories without depriving yourself of the foods you love. Others who would like a copy of this issue should send $1.00 for each copy to POLLY'S POINTERS, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1216, Cincinnati, OH 45201. Be sure to include the title. — POLLY
