

Around Town

Most people started Saturday morning with a frown and a groan, thanks to a real old fashion dust storm which blew up Friday afternoon — and got worse Friday night.

Clerks in stores were busy wiping and dusting all over town, many of them were looking forward to "more of the same" when they got home Saturday night.

County Agent Hugh Clearman announced an irrigation demonstration at Bushland for 1:30 o'clock, March 27, sponsored through the agent's office in Amarillo.

Crowe-Guide Cement Company of Hereford this week formally announced their opening of a new plant here. The firm is one of Hereford's newest industries and will specialize in redmix concrete, haydite blocks, lime, cement, aluminum window casings and other building accessories.

Phil Lovejoy, probably entitled to the name, "Mr. Rotary" more than any other man in the world, will be principal speaker at the Hereford Rotary Club on Friday.

C. I. Rudd is this week in Beaumont, where he is attending a Woodmen of the World Convention.

Bad news for rural residents who failed to get in original applications on rural telephones came this week when Congress, by a vote of three, failed to approve additional funds for RTA expansion.

Baptist Chapel Dedication Set

Dedication of the Eastside Baptist chapel, corner of Ave. K and Forrest, will be held Sunday afternoon, March 22, at 3 o'clock.

Presiding will be Rev. Russell Pogue, pastor; Bob Lawrence will lead song services; Rev. H. V. Fields, pastor of the Avenue Baptist Church, will lead prayer; Girl's Sextet will sing, "When I Saw Him," Mary Anne Young, Dixie Young, Wanda Kirksey, Shirley Young, Patsy Jackson, and Joan Filppot.

Four Named For REA Directors

Four names were advanced this week by an REA nominating committee to fill two vacancies which will occur on the Board of Directors this year.

"In addition to these candidates, any person desiring another ticket can post a notice with name of the candidate and 15 member signatures on the bulletin board in the office," said Leo Forrest, manager.

FINGER DEXTERITY of members of the senior class was tested Wednesday afternoon with the above test. This test was part of an aptitude test given by the Texas Employment Commission to help seniors determine the type of job they are best suited to do. Staff Photo.

You Don't Have To Be Crazy On Aptitude Tests, But It Does Help

(Editor's note: Aptitude tests are provided for the Hereford High School Seniors each year in an effort to help them toward selecting a profession and to direct further studies along lines which they are best adapted. The tests are administered to those used on armed service personnel, and are calculated to be approximately 85 per cent perfect.

By Bobbie Drury Did you ever take an aptitude test? Well, we (referring to the Senior Class) took such a thing last Wednesday, and I do mean THING.

We went to the cafeteria with two pencils to take our test, since it's the only thing large enough to hold all of us so we would have tables to write on.

We were given two cards to put our name, address, date and classification on. (I believe these cards were score cards.) After filling in the proper blanks, we turned the cards in and received a booklet (a large one, too.) We couldn't open the booklet until we were told to do so. We all read the general instructions together, then started on the test.

The first part of the test was to match the object on the left with one of four on the right and then check the correct one. There were a number of pages like this to do as rapidly as we could. We were timed on all the exercises to see how fast we could work them. Very few ever completed an exercise.

I'm not certain what part came next, but one of the parts was crossing the bar of the letter H with the dash in the middle of the bar and not touching the sides of the H. Of course the H was a different size but when you are going rather fast it's not big enough.

Very, very few finished this exercise. Another part was tapping. As fast as we could we were to tap three dots in a square and then move on to the next square going as fast as we could. Well, as I said before, very few got finished with this.

I can't remember just what other exercises were in the book, but after we finished it we were given a short break after which we returned to our places to work the more. After everyone was back from the break we settled down and was given a second booklet not as large as the first (but after we finished it, it was just as "crazy" — hard as the first). The first part was matching names. There would be something like this: Fox Co.—Fox, Inc. When there was a difference we circled the letter D. (Continued on Page Two)

"Just Ducky", Title Of Senior Play, Scheduled Here Thursday, Friday

What makes teen-age girls do the things they do? That is the question and what should be done about them is the problem. Trying to answer that question and solve that problem makes up the plot of the 3-act comedy, "Just Ducky," which is being given by the senior class Thursday and Friday, March 26 and 27.

Proceeds from the play will be used for the annual senior trip which will be held later in the spring. Included in the cast are: Mr. Maxwell, Beryl Fish; Mrs. Maxwell, Elna Bishop; Connie Maxwell, Dovie Jane Jones, Betty Lou Maxwell, Janice Craig; Wilbur Maxwell, Dale Winget; Aunt Mary, Marion Jo Wilson; Hercules, Jackie Allmon; Bernadine, Sue Savage; Craig Moore, Charles Whitehead; Mr. Moore, Pat Price; Mr. Marshall, a newspaper man, Shelby Whitfield; and Miss Elane the lady who writes the local love column, Sharon Moore.

Mrs. S. R. Rateliff and Bill Stanford are the sponsors of the senior class.

Additional Rooms Sought To House Women's Club Delegates April 9-10

Can you spare a room April 9, 10, 11? If so, it will be a relief to Housing Committee for the Seventh District of Texas Federated Women's Clubs' convention on that date, and you should call Mrs. Richard Jowell or Mrs. Louise LeGrand.

Committee members reported today that hotel and motel facilities will not accommodate the 50 guests expected here for the gathering. Since many of the guests will be leaving Saturday, the big cry for rooms is Thursday and Friday nights. The call sought rooms for either of the two nights, or both.

Board Approves Football Stands By Advance Sales

Hereford will have some new football bleachers when football season opens next September. Such will be true, at least, if the fans want them enough. The school board discussed new bleachers, decided to move the present West Side bleachers to the east side of the new football field location — and authorized B. R. Rogers and Son of Plainview to start moving the present stands as soon as convenient, probably within the next two weeks.

The old West Side bleachers, which board members said were falling apart and dangerous, were given to the Hereford Riders Club for renovation and to salvage what material possible. No contract was let on the proposed new football bleachers, which would cost $8,200 for a section to handle 1,200 seats, because Board members felt that such football improvements should be financed outside the regular school finances.

The $8,200 bid on the bleachers includes construction in such a manner that additions can be made on each end, said Supt. George Graham. "The Board felt that this would be better than building a 1,800-seat stadium at the present time, since additions could be made at only a small additional cost over building the units now."

The proposed new stadium will be 15 feet wide. It will be of steel construction with wooden seats, exactly like the present West side stadium — and will, incidentally, be constructed by the same company.

One of the differences in stadiums will be in financing, however. Last time the fans purchased reserve seats for a period of two years at a cost of $10 per seat. This time, fans will purchase on a one-year basis, having an option on future years for the same seat. Prices will likely average around $5 and will be determined by the civic clubs which undertake the advance sales. The 50-yard line seats may go at $7.50 or 8 each with others selling at $3 each, or the lot may sell at $5 straight across the board. Much will depend upon recommendations from the sponsoring clubs.

The board was unanimous in agreeing that the school needed the 1,800 bleachers, but felt that it would be much better to add the additional seats at a later date — unless advance sales indicated the immediate need of additional seats. With the present stands moved to the east side for visitors, the new bleachers will provide the only reserve seats on the new Whiteface field. A section will be reserved for the band, another for general sales on game nights, thus leaving approximately 600 to 700 reserve seats for advance sales.

Athletics Lose Money The board discussed issuance of revenue bonds to pay for the bleachers from seat sales, discarded that and turned to possibility of individual notes as a means of financing. Final seats for $3,000, borrowing of money on the stands and future payment of the loan through seat sales. This board members, felt would figure the lowest possible interest on the proposed stadium, and at the same time eliminate using general funds in the construction.

profit in 1952 and said that much depended upon the weather, calibre of the team and other factors. "Most schools," he concluded, "lose money on athletics, even after they have their stadiums cleared and free of debt."

The School Board also temporarily postponed plans to erect rest rooms with the bleachers. They expressed a need for rest rooms on the location, but could not see where the necessary $2,500 for building and equipping the rest rooms would come from.

Cornelia Stabler Sketches To Close Hereford Concert Series On Monday

"Gossip Is A Fine Art," is the apt title for Cornelia Stabler, who will present her original sketches in the high school auditorium here Monday night, March 23, as the final series of the Hereford Concert Association. She describes herself as a professional listener.

Members were also reminded to look on the back of their membership cards to see if they may invite guests, said Mrs. J. W. Witherspoon, publicity chairman for the association. When asked recently, by an inquisitive young newspaper woman, how she finds the material for her solo dramas, Miss Stabler replied, "Life is full of dramatic material if you have the eyes to see it, and the ability to talk about it. Character sketching is just gossiping developed into a fine art. The most important contribution to my dramatic education was not college nor dramatic school nor touring around the country on one night stands. It was the marriage ceremony. A husband, a son and a daughter, a couple of grandmothers, and a succession of maids—what more do you want?"

"Of course, all my characters are not part of my experience," Miss Stabler added, when asked about her portrayal of a European refugee, "but I pursue the same method in gathering my information. I simply observe. I interviewed a modern refugee, just as you are interviewing me. I went back several times, and absorbed not only her story, but her accent and her little mannerisms."

"Do you have a characterization about a newspaper woman?" the interviewer asked. "I do now," replied Miss Stabler.

Easter Seal Campaign Is Underway With Mailing of 3,006 Cards Here

It was announced today that Easter Seals have been mailed to 3,006 residents of Deaf Smith County. "The money received from those who buy these seals will be used to help boys and girls who are unable to help themselves. This money will be used to pay for therapy treatments and the equipment necessary to teach crippled children to walk, and run and play," said Bob Wear, County Chairman of the Crippled Children's Society.

Most of our help will mean much to the future of some crippled child," Wear said. Mr. Wear also expressed appreciation to all who have worked and to all who will work in the campaign this year. "Please mail your contribution today. Place it in the envelope addressed to Bob Lawrence, Box 1562 Hereford, Texas," he concluded. Sixty percent of all money given will remain in the local chapter and will be used to assist crippled boys and girls of Deaf Smith County. The local chapter contributed $100.00 last week to another case.

Miller, Mrs. Plank For School Trustees

Two more names were filed this week in the race for trustee of Hereford Rural High School district. They are H. H. "Herb" Miller of Dawn and Mrs. Earl Plank of Hereford.

The new filing brings the total of candidates to four, and the two winners of the race will fill vacancies created by the expiring terms of Robert Veigel and H. H. Miller, both of whom are candidates for re-election. Also running for trustee is J. R. Allison of Hereford, who was filed March 5 with Veigel.

Two Miller Petitions Mrs. Plank and Mr. Miller were filed late Wednesday afternoon on separate petitions. The Plank petition contained 25 names and the Miller for Miller was also filed Friday, bearing 15 names. "Athletics is generally a money-losing proposition," Supt. Graham told the Board. He added, however, that the Whiteface team showed a

Lower Freight Decision To Improve Produce Marketing

Savings of $35 to $60 per car on potatoes and lettuce from this area were predicted here this week following press releases which announced that the Supreme Court has decided in favor of the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers and Shipper's Association. The decision upheld the freight rate reduction granted by I. C. C. several months ago.

This reduction will mean under the present volume, a saving of approximately three-fourths of a million dollars each year by the Texas vegetable industry, according to Austin Anson, executive secretary of the association. Anson said the court decision came as the result of a five-year-old court battle in gaining reduced freight rates for Texas growers and shippers.

Since most produce is shipped out freight on bill, it was questionable regarding immediate extra profit of the grower as a result of the decision. The situation, however, does place the Hereford area, along with other Texas points in a position to meet a competitive market from other points, thus giving a better selling advantage of Hereford lettuce and potatoes than the area has enjoyed in the past. Actual realization of more net money from car shipments was also possible for the grower, depending upon market conditions at the time of harvest.

You Don't....

Continued from Page One) When the names were alike we circled the letter S. This took a little quick thinking because sometimes there would only be a letter turned around that didn't keep it from looking almost just like the first.

Another part was matching a figure on the left with something (and I do mean "something") on the right. It would contain a certain number of squares, triangles or circles and there would be a figure on the right that wouldn't look like the one on the left but would contain the same number of squares, triangles, or circles as the other, and I repeat, very, very, few finished this.

Enjoys Arithmetic We had some arithmetic, very easy stuff at the first, but graduating in hardness. At first it would be to add three numbers to three more numbers, but got to adding four numbers. However, I thoroughly enjoyed this part of the exercises and finished all but two before the time was up.

We had some thought-problems or the kind written with a problem. These were good and fun except the ones that had to do with feet and inches. (It looks as though I need to take another course in them were quite easy, but I failed to get them).

Another exercise we had was to match words meaning the same or words meaning the opposite. This was easy on words I had heard of before, but half of the words I had never heard of much less know were in Mr. Webster's dictionary. Maybe some of them will prove to be good guessing, but I rather doubt it.

Then the last exercise in the booklet was a large square of different shapes of objects to match to a square full of objects the same shape as objects in the first square. The thing was that the second group were all scattered about.

After we finished the second booklet some of the kids took the manual and finger dexterity test. The man giving the test said "one didn't have to be crazy to take this test, but I certainly did help" and I can understand why.

The manual and finger dexterity part of the test was ten, but one really had to be fast with the hands to do good with it. There were blocks of wood with little holes in them that contained little pegs. We were to transfer the pegs from the top half of the block to the lower half as fast as we could using two hands. Then after doing this several times we had to use one hand and turn the pegs completely over and put it back in the hole it was in. We did this several times then moved to the back of the room to sit at tables and take rivets out of a hole at the top of the block and put a washer on it and put it in a hole at the bottom of the block. After completing the board as fast as we could, we then had to take them apart and put the rivets back in the hole at the top of the board and the washers on a rod at the side of the board. Having finished this, we were told the test was over and the results and grades would be announced next week.

I believe all of the Seniors thoroughly enjoyed the test and I know we will be interested in the results. We will be given a fifteen minute interview each to talk about what we want to do and what the test may prove we are capable to do. I'm sure it will prove to be interesting to see just what some of us are "apt" to be.

I certainly hope all of the Seniors in the future will have an opportunity to take an aptitude test, because it is fun and will prove very helpful in choosing a career.

Annual Camp Fire Banquet Highlights Activities Of Week

Approximately 65 Camp Fire leaders and parents attended the annual Camp Fire banquet Thursday night at Jim Hill Hotel.

Entertainment included skits by the Wakita Camp Fire group and the Blossom Blue Bird group.

Bob Wear, speaker for the evening talked on "Refill the Bucket," emphasizing the importance of planning for the youth of the nation.

A report on the regional Camp month, was given by F. L. Alexander, regional representative from Hereford.

Mrs. Urin Streu gave a brief history of Camp Fire work in Hereford, stating that Camp Fire first started in 1928.

Bob Wilson gave a camping report.

Elmer Patterson, president of the Camp Fire council, was master of ceremonies.

Nancy Patterson provided music during the banquet.

Other Camp Fire Birthday week activities included a tea on Saturday afternoon for anyone connected with Camp Fire. It was held at the Camp Fire hut and each group of Camp Fire girls served as hostesses during the afternoon.

A window display of Camp Fire handcraft was made by the troops and remained on display during the week.

Only the U. S. President and the Governor of Massachusetts have the official legal titles of "Excellent."

Trustees.....

Mr. Miller is a veteran trustee on the local board, having held the position of trustee since the district was organized.

Expect Heavy Vote Controversial questions lead signers of both tickets to expect a heavy vote in the election, which has been officially ordered by the board for Saturday, April 4.

Despite the fact that 1953 is an "off" year for elections, a total of 1,704 poll taxes were paid in the county this year. With over-age voters, around 1,400 eligible voters were possible within the Hereford Rural High School district. Likelihood of such a vote was not probable, however, since only 1,523 votes were cast in the highly contested bond issue here Nov. 22—the amount was slightly under half of the total of 3,484 cast in the general election (Eisenhower and Stevenson) on Nov. 4, and covering the entire county.

Both the bond election and the general election did set new records, with the 1,523 being the highest vote cast in school district history and the 3,484 breaking all previous records in a county-wide vote.

In the 1952 school board elections a total of 573 votes was recorded, and in 1952, the high count among four candidates was 279.

Final date for filing candidates is March 24, according to Fred Baird, tax collector and assessor.

Dixie Neal is new part-time receptionist at the hospital. She will assist Mrs. Travis Caraway, who handles the job on a full time basis.

The First Baptist Church announces the following Pulpit Committee: Wayne Evans, chairman, Owen Stagner, D. C. Kinsey, Frank Watson, A. O. Thompson, Mrs. O. G. Hill and Mrs. J. B. Harlin, Sr. The committee was selected Wednesday night by secret ballot.

Interest Lags In Area School Posts

Coming elections on the County School Board and in Walcott District No. 6 held little apparent interest this week since only three names had been filed in the office of Ex-Officio School Superintendent Horace L. Schloss.

Herschel Burrus had been filed in Walcott, C. S. D. No. 6, to fill the expiring term of Mrs. Herbert H. Hoover.

Elmer Combes had been filed for re-election in Precinct 2, and N. R. Miller had been filed in Precinct 1, for re-election. Both offices are for the County School Board.

No name had been filed in Precinct 4 for the County Board to fill the expiring term of W. W. Blankenship.

Filing for places on the school board will remain open, however, to 10 days prior to the election on Saturday April 24.

Twelfth Daughter Completes School

Whitesboro, Tex., —Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Savage, who never attended even grade school, will see their 12th child graduated from Whitesboro High School this spring.

Mrs. Jo Savage Thomas, 18, the couple's youngest child, is a cinch to be an honor student and may even turn out to be valedictorian. She is the third Savage daughter to be an honor student, following in the footsteps of Ruby and Georgia.

The Savages had 10 girls and two boys. One of the boys, Carroll, was killed in action in World War II when his plane was shot down over Italy.

He was the only one of the Savage children who had wanted to quit school before graduation.

"I told him he could quit if he wanted to," said Savage, "but I told him if he did he'd have to help me chop wood. That cured him of the desire to quit."

CHIP SHOTS

By Bud Posey

Golf really picked up here at the local links last week with around 65 players turning out Sunday, March 15, despite the cool, windy weather that day. Several good scores were turned in, too. F. M. Cogdell had a one-under par 35, as did Wayne Phillips. I also understand that Streu had a neat 37. Last Saturday R. E. Lingenfelter shot a two-under par 34 on the last nine holes he played that day. It sure does look like "ole man par" is going to take a terrible beating this spring, summer and fall.

Several new faces are seen around the club these days and it sure is a pleasure to see so many new folks taking up golf. Among the new faces have been Ed Line, the new county attorney, Bill Decker, of the Hereford State Bank, O. G. Hill, Jr., local rancher, and Don Vaughn of Vaughn's cafe on Highway 60. J. H. Brooks, who has been ill for some time, also dropped in to say "hello," but didn't play. It's nice to see him around, and we'll be seeing him swinging those clubs again soon, we hope.

Bill Waldrip, even though he had his tonsils out last week, has been getting some exercise the past few days and has been shooting some fine golf. Stan Barrett has one of these new type "croquet putters." You know the kind with which you can face the home and swing the putter between your legs like a croquet mallet. After putting a few holes with him late the other afternoon, he made a believer out of me.

On Wednesday, March 18, Dr. Lingenfelter, Bill Howard, Tom Howard, Ray Hardy, Sam Nelson and I went to the first pro-amateur of the season. It was played at the Lubbock Country Club. Although none of us were winners, Tom played in the foursome which wound up in fourth place—just one place out of the prize list and also with Horace Moore, pro at the Brownfield Country Club, who was low pro of the day with a four-under par 67. Several of my golfers said, "How did you do, Bud?" and I told them I shot a "sizzling 8-over-par 79." I was kind of mad when the Amarillo news said I shot an 80, when I really shot a 79. Besides, it should have been lower, as I was keeping score. However, it wasn't too bad what with having three out of bounds penalties, of two strokes each. I'm kind of like the golfer who was talking about his score and said to his partner, "You know I would have had a darn good round if it hadn't been for all those sevens and eights I shot." Doc Lingenfelter had a good round at Lubbock, however, he had a nice 78 which ain't bad shooting. Say, Doc, I'll be expecting a one stroke spot next time I play you.

I also attended the meeting Wednesday night at the Lubbock Country club when pro-amateur dates were awarded for the coming season. We drew Wednesday, Sept. 30, 1953, as our date for the pro-amateur at our club. Also it was voted to change the system of conducting pro-amateurs. Each local club will still have their handicaps, but each golfer will be given a card, signed by his local pro, stating that he is an A, B or C golfer and will present it at all pro-amateur meetings. Then, one A, one B, one C, and one Pro will be drawn from a box and the players will play from scratch without any handicap at all, simply playing the low ball in their foursome. It is hoped by this method to eliminate the ridiculously low scores being shot in these pro-amateur matches. The tournament committee and directors of the West Texas Pro-Amateur Association will work out all the details and give us the final lowdown in the very near future.

Prevent Yellowing
White clothes that are to be packed away can be prevented from turning yellow, if a large sheet is dipped into bluing water (strong enough to make the sheet quite blue), and then this sheet is spread over the top of the chest in which the clothes are being packed.

Vinegar
Add a small amount of garlic to the quart bottle of vinegar and it will give the vinegar a delicious flavor. It will prove excellent for salads.

What are some general hints for care of dry hair?
A. Cleanse and lubricate the hair with a dry-hair lotion. Apply scalp pomade daily, working the scalp with the fingers. Use a cremetype hair dressing for finished grooming. Brush daily!

Is there a way I can help normalize a neck and chin that are rather fleshy?
A. Tuck your hair up off face and neck, then use both hands to apply cream and work from the chest upward to the chin itself. Encircling your neck with your hands, "bracelet" the cream up toward the chin, using gentle but firm pressure. For the back of the neck, use both hands and beginning at center at the hairline, glide down, using firm pressure at base of neck, then swing out on shoulder and complete the circle by gliding up on each side of the neck.

What is a good, simple eye-wrinkle preventive?
A. Massage a little mineral oil around the closed eyes nightly.

How can I bleach superfluous hairs on my legs?
A. Apply periodically a mixture of one-half teaspoon toilet ammonia and three tablespoons of peroxide. Mix fresh for each application.

HHS Seniors Honored At Annual Banquet

Springtime around the world was demonstrated in flowering trees and blossoms against an oriental setting of Japanese cherry trees flowering peach trees and oriental wall scenes at the annual banquet honoring Hereford High School Seniors at the First Baptist Church Friday night. Members of the W.M.U. were hostesses for the banquet which has been a high point of the year for the senior students for many years.

Tables were adorned with miniature trees in full bloom and place cards were little Japanese ladies holding dainty parasols. Programs carried out a Chinese theme with the Chinese menu printed inside. Chop sticks were included in the table service.

GRASS ROOTS

From all indications the seeding of clover as a summer growing legume will exceed last year's acreage. This is all very encouraging to those of us who depend on the productivity of the soil around here for our bread and butter. I have pushed Hubam Clover this year because it seems to fit into the general program a little better. However, Madrid Clover definitely should not be over-looked. Being a biennial this clover will live from the crown for two years. If a man wants a clover for early next Spring grazing, Madrid will do the job. Madrid will live through the winter and come on early in the Spring.

I have tried to list some of the reasons for seeding these fine soil building clovers and have come up with this:

- Hubam and Madrid Clover Attributes:
1. Decrease soil loss and run-off.
  2. Improves tilth of soil (Makes land easier to plow and cultivate.)
  3. Increases yields of crops by improving soil.
  4. Produces good quality, high protein hay.
  5. Provides excellent supplemental grazing crop. (Fits in well on Johnson grass land)
  6. Succeeds well as dual dual crop with small grain.
  7. Grows well-easy crop to plant and get a stand.
  8. Makes large amount of seed (Good possibility for cash crop).
- LAWN CARE: The demon Crabgrass will be sticking up its ears pretty soon in even the best cared for lawns. At last the boys who spend their time thinking about such things as Crab Grass, etc, have come up with a sure killer for the pest. It is hard to believe that such a killer will work without killing the other grasses, but low and behold it does. It is a good idea to get this put out before the Crab-Grass gets too big. Come by and get the dope on the stuff before you use it. A very inexpensive way to get rid of one of the worst lawn pests that exists.

Dell Sherman told me today at noon that I sure didn't get enough grass planted. Seems that the duster we are having kind of up-set her. Truth of the matter is that the dusters have brought some new business to Hereford according to Cecil Massey. Cecil says that he has talked to at least six men from Portales, New Mexico who were in town today looking for their farms. That is all well and good until some of our farmers start moving to Canyon in search of theirs. Will knock this off with a bouquet for the Soil Conservation Service. Am a little partial to this service since I used to work for them. Seems that we always have these dusters on Saturday while the SCS Office is closed. Quite a compliment for them, however I don't know how we can explain the one we had Friday.

Painting Brick
When painting brick, it is recommended that special brick primers containing China wood oil be used. Painting brick will seal up the pores and prevent the penetration of moisture which often causes dampness. If the surface of the brick is stained by white efflorescing salts, it is essential that these spots be brushed off before the priming coat is put on.

FOIBLES

By Kent Snare

This has been a week of surprises, the see showing up distinctly when the returns were all in. First there was the blow-up of blow-off Veeck's Baltimore bubble and then the National League's sanction of the Braves supplanting the Brewers in Milwaukee, this one on a solid affirmative vote.

In the NCAA, Kansas ran right thru the Washington Huskies and ran up against Indiana to lose 68-69, for the flag. Had they made it, the aghead would have been universal over their two national championships in a row, however, just their being there was enough to vault Phog Allen in to the BB coach of the year's spot from this angle. After all he lost the title on the human factor and not by lack of coaching acumen. They awarded the most valuable player award to Kansas U's stringbean center, B. H. Born and he must have put on a great exhibition, but according to the broadcaster, he flubbed enough open shots to have sacked the contest. The Jayhawks played for a last second fielder to preclude the Hoosiers having a chance to retaliate, but the dingy thing clogged when the shot didn't come close. Dr. Allen has a penchant for loose talk but it still behooves one to listen, with all available equipment, when he opines on basketball, for he could write a book on it, in fact, I think he has.

Seriously, this lap, after losing all of his 1952 lineup except one first line reserve, he completely changed his coaching procedure, except for fundamentals, and brought his green-hued club clear to the wire. Stressing condition and ball hawking, he swiped many a game literally, by outspeeding the opposition. He had no size on his team except for the 6-9 Born, but against the outsized clubs, as manifested by Kansas A's and Washington U, who could and did put three men in the scoring line who all exceeded 6-7 in height, his boys made the biggies chase them futilely and fruitfully in a losing way. As an example, Houbregs of Washington fouled out against KU for the one and only time in his collegiate career, according to the scribes.

And finally on the surprise side came the decision to leave the collegiate BB for another year, probably for confusion only, by the NCAA rules committee. For my pitance, there was too much opportunity, pointed from two many angles and with too many panaceas for any hope of agreement. The rules committee did nothing about any uniformity in officiating, either, beyond asking that efforts be made to achieve uniform whistle blowing through clinics and movies. In effect, the idea is for officials to call only those fouls affecting the play of the game and resulting in unfair advantage and overlooking the trivial slow-up ones. This, of course, is nothing novel. The attainment of the ability, to differentiate between the petty and the personal foul, has always separated the apt official from the incompetent one. One of the appalling protuberances of the season just ended was the predominance of "homer" type games, it got so a visiting club could hardly hope to win, in some cases and some climes. Much of the trouble stemmed from calls on moving the ball, one or both of the arbiters, in a lot of contests, particularly on a visiting club from out of that sector, would keep that outfit off balance by their interpretations of dribbling, pivoting and advancing the ball. The hardest call of all, that being on a driving, scoring play, was very much in evidence, too, and uniformity on this one would be a nice thing to have, but it will continue to be called by ear or the wrong angle... Still a dream costs little... except for the rude awakening....

By Mrs. R. C. Childers
Onions and potatoes are being planted in this vicinity this week. However the planting of onions was delayed due to the heavy rains in south Texas where the onion plants are grown stopping the planting of onions for a few days. But onions are being planted on the Jack Renfro, Raymond Higginbotham and R. C. Childers' farms this week. More potatoes are being planted than onions and most farmers will complete their planting in this vicinity this week. C. S. Barclay finished Friday, Pat Ranspot will finish in a few days. Jack Renfro has a large acreage of potatoes and will finish this week. Others planting potatoes are Lyle Rickman, the Barrett brothers and the Hodges brothers.

Claud Higginbotham of Chillicothe, father of Raymond Higginbotham, spent the last two weeks in the Higginbotham home, helping Raymond with the lambing of his sheep. He has 100 ewes and already has over 50 lambs.

Mary Higginbotham also of Chillicothe came for her father, Claud Higginbotham and spent the week end in the home of her brother Raymond Higginbotham and family.

Mrs. Raymond Higginbotham attended the Religious Music Concert at the Presbyterian church Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Jack Renfro has been ill this week.

Mrs. Grady Parsons and Mrs. Ira Scott attended the Art Exhibit at the Westway Community house recently.

Mrs. Leona Packard and Leroy moved to her son's place south of Hereford Saturday. Their house was not completed in time for them to get it moved here and ready to move into by the 15th so they just moved their things to Charles Packard's place for storing until they can get their house ready.

Leroy Packard said that the house was due to arrive in Hereford on Friday. It is to be located on South Main just beyond the Y on land formerly owned by Harry Danforth.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wilson moved into the house vacated by the Packards. They moved in on Sunday, Mar. 10. Mrs. Wilson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Art Lewis of this vicinity. Mr. Wilson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lee Wilson of Westway. Mr. Lewis has leased the land from Packard for a period of five years.

An exchange of plants will be featured at the next regular meeting of the Cultural Home Demonstration club. The place of meeting is Mrs. W. E. Holcomb at 707 Miles Street in Hereford March 26. Argen Draper will give a step by step demonstration on making of Butter cakes.

Leroy Packard and Raymond Higginbotham had coffee in the R. C. Childers home Thursday morning.

TV was exceptionally good in this vicinity Sunday night from Lubbock and Wednesday night from Amarillo after KGNC began televising their regular programs. There are four sets in this vicinity reported to me, they are Lyle Rickman, Louie Olson, C. S. Barclay and R. C. Childers. There are probably others who have recently installed sets not yet reported to your correspondent.

Mrs. A. C. Hershey spent most of the week in Abilene attending to business interests there.

Mr. and Mrs. Cortez McNeill, Jimmy, Dudley and Dave and Mrs. Alle McNeill of Wayside spent Tuesday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Childers.

Callers in the R. C. Childers' home Tuesday night were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Renfro.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Crawford and Mr. and Mrs. Billie M. Phillips were callers at the R. C. Childers home Saturday afternoon. The Crawfords and the Phillips live on the old R. N. Cooke place, recently vacated by the L. C. Richards.

Leaton Clark was an overnight guest in the R. C. Childers' home Wednesday, visiting Raymon, Jr. Patsy Jackson daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Jackson, spent Thursday night in the Childers' home visiting Pat Childers.

Raymond Higginbotham made a business trip to Plainview Friday.

Boy Scouts To Sell "Scotch Lite" In Cooperation With JayCees Here

The Boy Scouts went into the Scotch Lite business here Saturday, cooperating with the JayCees in the sale of reflecting tape as a safety measure.

The tape, as most people already know, sells five feet for $1, and has been sponsored in Hereford by the JayCees as a safety and a money-raising venture. The Scouts appealed to the JayCees for assistance in raising money for their delegates to national jamboree in California next July — and got the assignment as assistant salesmen.

The price to the customer will remain the same: five feet for $1. All tape sold by the Scouts will net the Scout troop 25 cents per installation, however.

Troops 50, 51, and 52, and Explorer unit 52 are cooperating in the program. Persons interested in purchasing tape from the Scouts were urged to call Jack Flowers, Troop 52; Wendell Burdine, Troop 51; Art Stoy, Troop 50; Bill Phillips Explorer Scouts.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I brighten furniture?
A. First wash with a pure soap, using a soft cloth; then rinse and dry. Mix equal parts of linseed oil, turpentine and vinegar. Shake well, put several drops of liquid on a cloth, and apply to the furniture. Finish with a good rubbing with an old piece of soft silk. The furniture will be as bright as if varnished.

Q. How can I make a serviceable laundry bag?
A. Use an ordinary wooden coat hanger for the top of the laundry bag, and sew the goods neatly over this hanger. Then make a slit near the top to insert the soiled clothes.

Q. How can I make a polish for black or tan shoes?
A. A few drops of lemon juice dropped on the shoes followed by a brisk rubbing with a soft cloth will give a splendid polish.

Q. How can I remove scorch from cotton fabric?
A. Try dipping the article into cold water and hanging it dripping wet in the sunshine. When dry, wet it again and repeat the process. It may take about two or three days, but is a cure that will not injure the wearing qualities of the material.

Q. How can I make tempting appetizers?
A. Hard-cooked eggs, the yolks removed and mixed with pickle relish, sardines and dressing, then replaced in the egg white cases, make tempting appetizers to serve with cocktails.

Q. How can I prevent tangling of the clothesline?
A. Soak the new clothesline in boiling water for half an hour before using it. This will prevent its stretching and tangling, and will prolong its life.

Q. How can I clean white furs?
A. First shake the furs free of dust. Then lay on a newspaper and rub thoroughly with plenty of powdered white starch until clean. Or, if desired, use flour and salt, equal parts; then shake well and brush with a soft brush.

Q. How can I make a good pear salad?
A. To 2 cups of sliced ripe pears take 1 cup sliced red plums. Mix lightly together and serve with a sweet boiled dressing lightened with a little whipped cream.

Q. How can I make an economical deodorizer for a sickroom?
A. It can be made out of a pint of vinegar boiled with one quart of myrrh.

Q. How can I treat a burn caused by touching a hot saucepan or iron?
A. Scrape a little flesh from the inside of a potato, apply to the burn, and tie a clean bandage around it.

Music Study Club Sacred Concert Features Easter Songs, Prayers

Easter customs have changed throughout the ages, but the joyous songs of the season remain essentially the same, and thousands of people spend many hours rehearsing special programs of Easter music.

The annual sacred concert held by the Music Study Club Monday afternoon at the Presbyterian church carried out the Easter theme telling in songs and prayers the glorious Easter message of worship and faith.

Mrs. J. D. Neill, president of the club, introduced the program using a quotation from Spencer: "Music must take rank as the highest of fine arts—as the one which more than any other minisfers to human welfare." Her welcome to the guests present included the reason for the open program which has been a feature of the club for the past several years, as sharing the beautiful music celebrating the resurrection of Christ, with others. Mrs. C. C. Ferguson gave the invocation.

Members of the club taking part in the program included Mesdames W. J. Stanford, Glenn Snyder, B. F. Cain, T. W. Carmichael, Earl Phillips; Bill Stanford, S. O. Wilson, T. W. Roberson, A. O. Thompson, J. C. McCracken, H. K. Fox, C. J. Mountz, and Ellis Coombes.

The audience participated in the concluding hymns, "O Mighty Fortresses" and "O Come and Mourn With Me Awhile."

Mrs. Slaton Reviews Book For Bay View Study Group

Mrs. J. P. Slaton reviewed "High Bright Buggy Wheels" by Louella Creighton at the Bay View Club meeting held in the home of Mrs. Howard Gault Thursday afternoon.

In introducing the book Mrs. Slaton stated that it is the story of The Mennonites in Canada, simple peasant people who denounce all church people and all governments. The story deals with a triangle which includes a beautiful girl, a student of ministry and a young business man who cannot accept the Mennonite way of life.

Mrs. Slaton said "Like the other Mennonite girls Billy had grown up solid and strong in the knowledge of a God who was close at hand, and gladly accepted life as she found it until she gave her heart to one out of the faith. How peace between the warring factors in her life came with the help of her devout father, makes a story well worth reading."

Mrs. A. M. Jones conducted the business session when reports were heard. Members answered roll call by repeating favorite quotations on friendship.

Those present were Mesdames: D. H. Alexander, Phillip Barkley, H. L. Benefield, C. J. Crump, Leo Forrest, Francis Hardwick, E. W. Harrison, George Heard, A. M. Jones, J. W. Kirby, Paul Mathers, John McLean, J. P. Slaton, J. W. Spradley, Eugene Naugles, R. B. ### "Cause of War" Is Topic For L'Allegra Study Club

"Basic Cause of War" was the topic for the program presented by Mrs. Floyd Ross at the L'Allegra Study Club meeting held in the home of Mrs. J. W. Barnett Thursday afternoon.

Members answered roll call by answering the question: "What can we do to prepare for peace?"

Mrs. Ross discussed the challenge of a warring civilization and said in part: "In spite of all evidence to the contrary, the things that divide the world are trivial as compared with the things that unite it. The mutualities of human beings everywhere far exceed their divergencies. In all countries one outstanding fact has emerged; the common people are dominated by a passionate hope for peace, security and a better life. Man's kind is becoming conscious of common roots, a recognition of a kinship exists which wars and clashing ideologies can blur, but not eliminate. Slowly there is developing a conception of the intermeshed interests of man, of the universality of human suffering and need, and of the single destiny that awaits life on this planet, whether it be good or evil."

Mrs. Hilton Higgins, directed the business portion of the program when members voted to endorse Mrs. Earl plank as their candidate for the school board in coming elections.

Plans were also discussed for a Children's Style Show which will be held sometime in August. Helen's Youth Shop will assist in presenting the show.

Members present were Mesdames: Bruce Beene, Jack Brown, Bill Dameron, James Edmonson, Hilton Higgins, O. G. Hill, Jr., F. C. Glendenning, Francis Hill, V. C. Hopson, Richard Ireland, Walker London, Jr., Dick Lucas, George McLean, Floyd Ross, Richard Winget, Lee Kent and the hostess.

Chief Warrant officer, Robert Horton, accompanied by Mrs. Horton and daughter Patricia, have been visiting in the home of his mother, Mrs. R. J. Naylor. Officer Horton is stationed at Camp Roberts, California.

Mrs. Bradley Observes 80th Birthday Sunday

Mrs. L. R. Bradley, Deaf Smith County pioneer, observed her 80th birthday anniversary Sunday. Approximately 150 members of the family, long-time friends and neighbors shared in an open house held at her home with daughters and daughters-in-law as hostesses.

Mrs. Bradley was born in North Carolina and moved with her family to Amarillo in 1891. On November 1, 1896 she was married to L. R. Bradley and three days later moved to his ranch 5 miles east of Hereford. He engaged in farming and stock raising and increased his holdings to 10 sections of land. He leased other land and at one time had 21 sections under fence in this area. He and the late Rat Jowell brought the first registered Hereford cattle to this section and Hereford was named for this herd.

When Mr. Bradley died in 1911, Mrs. Bradley took over the management of the ranch and the business. In 1945 she sold the last of the cattle and the land. Since October of last year she has been confined to her home but continues to be fairly active. Her children, who were gathered around her Sunday are: Mrs. Bruce Rose, Mrs. Clara Shore, Mrs. Doyle Rose, Wes Bradley and a daughter-in-law, Dyalitha Bradley. They and their families which include Mrs. Bradley's five grandchildren and nine great grandchildren, make up her immediate family. Her sister, Mrs. Joyce Moeck of Amarillo, was a special guest.

Early day stories which included experiences of many of the old-time friends who called during the open house, were recalled as congratulations and gifts were extended throughout the afternoon.

Attend Funeral

SPORT SHOTS

By Harold V. Ratliff

Associated Press Sports Editor

Are the big open golf tournaments, in which the nation's best participate, worthwhile? Jack Speer, city golf department director at Houston, says it's a sucker deal and he recommends that the Houston Golf Association, which put on a $20,000 tournament this year and plans a $30,000 event next year, not be allowed to use city courses for the 1954 tournament.

Speer points out that the professionals play free and during the time of the tournament—usually a week—the city loses revenue of $112 per day on weekdays and $300 per day on week-ends. The public doesn't get to use the course during the time of the tournament.

Houston private clubs, says a Speer; won't allow tournaments. That's why the Houston Golf Association uses a municipal course. The membership of the El Paso Country Club was divided on whether an open tournament should be held there. A bare majority was for it, so the tournament was held.

I suggested to one of the men opposing the tournament that such an event should be a boost to golf, create interest, make better golfers, bring the country club more members. He answered that he wasn't interested in creating more interest in golf, that the club already had a full quota of members and there was a waiting list.

He was interested only in playing on the course.

There is some justification in Speer's attitude. However, we believe the value of the open tournament overshadows the detriments.

So the public doesn't get to play golf a week during the year. Well, it plays 51 weeks. The big tournament is a good show. It brings the acme of golf within the range of everyone. There is bound to be an upturn in interest in golf and there are bound to be better golfers because the duffers get to see the greats of the links in action, study their style and apply what they see to their own game.

Above all, the open tournament furnishes entertainment. There is no greater sports spectacle. It would appear trading a week of hacking around a golf course for the privilege of witnessing such a good show would be a bargain.

Speer says that after the city has sacrificed its facilities, the citizens given up their golf games and the course is given the most delicate care, the professionals have nothing but criticism of the course.

I don't recall much criticism of a course that is in the proper shape. At San Antonio this year, the players were high in their praise of Brackenridge Park Course. They criticized the El Paso Country Club Course because it was in bad shape. I never heard any criticism of the Houston course. I don't recall ever hearing any criticism of Colonial Country Club Course at Fort Worth during a Colonial National Invitation.

And what if the golfers do criticize? They're paying their own way—even paying a fee for the privilege of participating in the tournament without any assurance they will get anything for playing. Golf is one of the few sports where the participant pays to play—cadillac fees, entry fees, living and traveling expenses. If he doesn't win at least 1250 he loses money. He has a right to expect the proper place on which to apply his trade.

What does San Antonio think about this situation? The Texas Open has been played at Brackenridge Park, a municipal course, for many years. The Texas Open was the first big money event in golf. It was started back in the twenties. It is a major sports feature of the year in San Antonio.

There has been no indication of San Antonio wanting to discontinue the Texas Open. Just try to keep them from having it and see how far you get.

Oklahoman Writes Instruction Book About "Tornadoes"

Norman, Okla. —(AP)—These are tornado days. And this time they come with a book of instructions.

"Tornadoes of the United States" was written by Snowden D. Flora, a retired U. S. Weather Bureau meteorologist to fill "the need for an accurate account of tornadoes written for the general reader." The beautifully-illustrated book is published by the University of Oklahoma Press and sells for $3.50.

Nature's most violent and destructive storms are mostly likely to occur in the late afternoon and evening. In Texas, tornado-hour is between 4 and 5 p.m. But the twisting, funnel-shaped cloud can come any time.

March, April and May are Texas' worst tornado months. October is also dangerous.

Several hours of abnormally warm, humid and oppressive weather usually precede a tornado. Sheet lightning, rain deluges, and hail also may foretell a tornado—and often occur afterward, too.

You can out-race a tornado in a car. Your home can be built in such a way as to reduce danger.

Modern warning systems give you more time to duck in a storm cellar, lie in a ditch, huddle in the southwest corner of a firm structure. Don't look out the window.

Almost all tornadoes move from the Southwest to the Northeast, at speeds ranging from five to 65 miles an hour. Wind speeds up to 500 miles an hour occur as the storm sounding like the noise of a thousand railroad trains, builds up an inner vacuum which literally explodes buildings.

Flora spent nearly half a century in Weather service in Kansas. He often called the world's "cyclone playground." The veteran weather student explains that is a misnomer—and proceeds to define cyclone, dust whirls (and "dust devils"), waterspouts, hurricanes and typhoons.

Awesome pictures of some of the nation's most destructive tornadoes liberally illustrate the 194-page volume, which also contains many graphs and tables showing when, how frequently, and how destructively tornadoes strike in all states.

If you don't like tornadoes, move west of the Rockies. The horror storms are virtually absent there because the mountains hold back the masses of warm, moist Gulf and Atlantic air masses whose collision with cold, polar air produces tornadoes.

The Tape Measure
Sew a piece of strong tape about four inches long to one end of the tape measure. Wrap this end around a small spool and fasten securely with a tack. When the tape measure is not in use it can be wrapped neatly around the spool and placed in the work basket. A loose tape can prove quite an annoyance in a work basket.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

The proposal of Rep. Brady Gentry of Tyler to kill the 20 percent admission tax on tickets to athletic events of junior colleges is gaining a lot of support.

Long active in junior colleges, Gentry contends the federal tax nets the U. S. treasury only a pittance and at the same time retards athletic programs in schools which at best usually have a hard time financially.

Noting that most junior colleges are state or municipally operated, Gentry says they should enjoy the same tax exempt status as high schools. He has the backing of Dr. Jesse Bogue, executive secretary of the American Association of Junior Colleges.

The association is to meet in Dallas March 25-28 and the subject is scheduled for discussion there.

Several members of the House Ways and Means committee privately have told Gentry they think his proposal is sound, and that they will try to make it a part of whatever tax legislation the committee approves.

Gentry, a bachelor, is an ardent sports fan.

Rep. Sam Rayburn of Bonham thought so much of a talk by Oleta Culp Hobby, federal security administrator on Texas Independence Day, that he inserted it in the Congressional Record.

Mrs. Hobby, a native Texan, noted that only two of the 58 delegates who shaped the Texas Declaration of Independence were natives of the land they were creating into a republic.

"If America has been the melting pot," she said, "if America has been the land of opportunity for freedom-loving and vigorous men of many lands, then Texas has epitomized all that America is."

She said the state should take humility in the fact that Texas, yesterday, today and tomorrow, owes so much to older-states and older nations.

"It is a debt which we must never forget, and never cease to honor on such days when we call ourselves Texans. For Texas has continued to grow on the vitality and gifts of her adopted children.

"In many a Texas city and town, the automatic remark on being introduced to someone is to ask pleasantly 'And where are you from?' To the old Texan who somewhat wistfully remembers his State in that temporary lull between two wars, the answer seems too likely to be Boston, Tulsa, Columbus, or Birmingham. But to the Texan who remembers the full range of his State's history, the out-of-state answer is the traditional one—and the one most likely to mean a carrying on of the Texas tradition."

Mrs. Hobby made her address at a dinner of the University of Texas ex-students organization here. Leslie Carpenter of Austin, correspondent for Texas newspapers, is president of the Texas-exes.

Ten Texas Aggies, accompanied by two of their professors, drove up non-stop (except for gas and food) in a special built sedan to attend the North American Wildlife Conference.

The student group, which made the journey from College Station in two days and nights, included Pat Kerr, Brownsville; Victor Hingling, San Antonio; Bob Drawe, Harlingen; Ed Cooper, San Marcos; Carl Bergland, Marshall; Charles Gray, Gainesville; Les Glasgow, Baton Rouge, La.; Will Kucera, Ennis; Tom Grelen, Bryan, and Rex Lord, a former Pennsylvanian now residing at College Station.

With the Aggies were Dr. W. B. Davis, head of the A. and M. Department of Wildlife management, and R. E. Callender, wildlife conservationist. The students are all majors in wild life resource management. Taking turns driving the car on the trip were Drawe, Cooper and Gray.

Only Cooper and Gray were official delegates to the conference which was addressed by Secretary of Interior Douglas McKay and other notables. The group got in a lot of fast sightseeing before heading back to Texas and classrooms. They stayed at the YMCA here.

The M. Eleanor Brackenridge Club of Washington observed "Friendship Day" this year with a program that included making a broadcast for the Voice of America.

The broadcast was an interview of Mrs. Eric W. Schwartz, who founded the local chapter of the Brackenridge club—which, like others, grants educational scholarships to girls in memory of M. Eleanor Brackenridge of San Antonio. The "Friendship Day" service is held each March 7, which marks the birthdate of Miss Brackenridge.

Mrs. Schwartz, who came here many years ago with her physician husband, attended Texas State College for Women at Denton under a Brackenridge scholarship. The local club has been active for years in sponsoring an exchange of students with foreign nations.

Osborn Reports On Activities In Texas House

To: The Hereford Brand FROM: Jesse M. Osborn SUBJECT: Some of the activity of the Legislature during the first sixty days.

Up to this time there have been introduced in the House of Representatives 831 bills. The date for filing new bills expired Friday, March 13, 1953. Any new bills introduced after this date will have to be approved by four-fifths of the members of the House.

The State Comptroller released his figures a short time ago stating that it now looks as though the revenue for the next two years will lack $7,000,000.00 covering the expense.

The Appropriations Committee has completed its work of drawing the annual Appropriations Bill, and it is for approximately $162,000,000.00, being about the same as the last two years. If the State employees and the school teachers are to receive an increase in pay, it will be necessary that some new taxes be added.

I have co-authored House Bill 260, placing a 2 cent tax per thousand cubic feet on natural gas at the well. I fully realize that if this tax bill should be passed that it will place some burden on all the users of natural gas in the State of Texas, but at the same time, approximately 68 per cent of the gas produced in Texas is piped out to other states. You can readily see that the people of Texas will contribute about one-third of the amount of money that we hope to receive under this bill. It should raise about $80,000,000.00; a part of which to be used for the increase of teachers' and State employees' salaries. Some of it would be used by the Highway Department, and we hope to earmark $6,000,000.00 of same for new State office buildings. The State now is paying out about $400,000.00 per year for rent, and I feel we should have our own buildings. It seems foolish to me that the State should pay this rent for space when we have the grounds on which to build the necessary buildings.

We also have numerous other tax bills that have been filed, trying to find the necessary finance. Any tax, whether on State or local level, must be paid by the people of the State, and it is becoming a burden to find some device to finance our rapidly expanding State Government.

Our people are demanding more and more each year of the State and as more services are provided by the State, the expense will continue to rise, and there is just one source from which the money can be derived, and that is an increased tax burden upon all. I will appreciate any sincere suggestions that anyone may have to offer that will help to find this additional revenue without placing too much burden on any one segment of the people of Texas.

Streu's Diary

DEAR DIARY:

Oh, Brothef!!! Are we having fun with our TV? Yes, and no. Wish KGNC would get on the air or get off—the power they are using is just enough to tease the customers and give service men unadulterated — grief. Everybody thinks that everybody else is getting decent reception—but 'tis lots of fun—the first stimulation I've had out of business in several years. When it is all said and done, the good old RCA Victor TV sets are right in there with as good or better performance than any others—which is what I've been telling you right along.

Things have come to a pretty pass when a man cannot write what he wants concerning his merchandise, but Jean has put the foot down regarding certain remarks about merchandise on her side of the store—so—here is the low down on some of the stuff—I mean items! New shipment of that gift that always pleases the ladies and men alike — H!fac — a variety of sizes — also easies and ser-vettes — sizes from 2 cup to 24 cup (whatever those may be). Then we have baskets (yep, baskets again) millions of baskets in umpteen different shapes and several sizes — suitable for bread, flowers, magazines — or just to look at — that's what Jean said.

Now, about some wrought iron items — such as trivets in sizes and colors — candle holders — match holders — hurricane lamps — and sconces (what in thunder is a sconce?) and many other items in wrought iron. That's all Jean mentioned, but we have literally hundreds of other gift items—most all of them either brand new, or old enough to be attractive.

I might just mention that we still gift wrap items priced $1 or more — and there is a certain prestige that comes with a gift from Streu's.

Now is the time for all good men to fertilize the lawn — and at Streu's we have that excellent plant food — VertaGreen—no stink, no flies, no bother at all — prices are nominal. Our stock of hoes and rakes, forks, shovels, wheelbarrows, handcaris, hose, sprinklers, etc., is very good, indeed.

Walter looked around and got in a fishing and camping window this week — and thereby earned considerable animosity from several hen-pecked husbands who had to do yard work instead of going fishing — oh, well, the stuff is pretty to look at, anyway.

Women are creatures of extremes—merchandise to attract the ladies, must be either brand new, or else be old enough to appear antique. But I love 'em just the same.

The marriage ceremony was performed in Clovis, New Mexico Tuesday afternoon, March 17.

The bride was dressed in a blue-gray suit worn with navy accessories and her corsage was of pink carnations.

After a short wedding trip to Carlsbad N. M. the couple will return to Hereford to live. Mr. Bradford is employed by the Higgins Redi-Mix Company.

Both Mrs. Bradford and Mrs. Renville attended the wedding.

Lutheran Ladies Hear Book Review

The Lutheran women of Hereford and their guests met Wednesday on March 18, in fellowship hall of the church for a covered dish luncheon.

In the afternoon the group heard Mrs. Earl Springer review the book, "Sand and Stars" by Ruth Stull. The book deals with the work and life of a missionary and her family in Peru.

A short business meeting followed the program.

The next meeting will be on April 15.

Tuna Casserole, Cheese Swirls Good Lent Dish

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

Tuna at its best may be found in Tuna Casserole with Cheese Swirls, our recipe for today. Right now too, thrifty housewives are including cheese often in their meal planning. One very good reason for this is that the first tastes of spring find many housewives looking ahead to Lent and the many tangy salads that fit in with the season so well.

Mrs. Bill Waldrep gives you today's recipe which harmonizes so well with asparagus, peas, new potatoes and fresh garden peas, spring's own favorites.

Tuna Casserole With Cheese Swirls
 3 tablespoons chopped onion
 1-3 cup chopped green pepper
 3 tablespoons fat
 1 teaspoon salt
 6 tablespoons flour
 1 10½ oz. can condensed chicken soup

1 7 oz. can tuna fish
 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 1½ cups milk

Brown onion and pepper in hot fat, add salt and flour and blend. Add soup and milk and cook until smooth and thick. Add flaked tuna fish and lemon juice and pour into greased baking dish. Cover with cheese swirls and bake in hot oven 450 degrees F for 15 minutes. Reduce heat to 425 degrees F and bake 15 minutes more.

Cheese Swirls
 2 cups flour

½ teaspoon salt
 3 teaspoons baking powder
 1 to 6 tablespoons shortening
 ¾ cup milk
 Sift flour with salt and baking powder, cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add milk all at once and mix until dough follows fork around bowl. Turn on lightly floured surface and knead gently one half minute. Roll dough ¼ inch thick, sprinkle with ½ cup grated American cheese and finely chopped pimento. Roll and cut in ½ inch slices and place cut side down on top of tuna in casserole.

The secret of this dish is that it must be bubbling hot when served. If your time is limited you can prepare the tuna mixture and use the canned biscuits sprinkled with cheese. It may be prepared in the morning, set in the refrigerator until evening, then topped with the swirls and baked and it is ready to serve. Makes six medium servings.

Real Estate Men Facing Possible License Changes

The Texas Real Estate Association is urging the passage of a bill introduced into the legislature by Senator John H. Bell of Cuero, and Representative Joe Burkett of Kerrville. This bill provides for a clarification of the present law, and has provision to strengthen it as outlined on the enclosed brief.

1. Requires that an applicant for a real estate license shall take a written examination to determine his competency to act as a dealer or salesman; except anyone having held a license for three of the preceding five years shall not be required to take such examination.

2. Provides that the Commission shall furnish to each applicant a series of written questions and answers from which the written examination shall be taken.

3. Authorizes the Commission to establish educational programs for the instruction of persons desiring to become real estate dealers or salesmen; such programs to be set up on a self-liquidating basis from fees established for such services.

4. Requires that a bond shall be furnished by every real estate dealer ($3,000) and salesman ($3,000), such bond to be payable to the Commission for the benefit and relief of any party injured in a real estate transaction caused by a violation of the law.

5. Establishes maximum fees which may be charged for real estate licenses; i.e., $25 for dealer's license; $10 for salesman's license; and, $2 for duplicate or branch-office license. Said fees to be determined by the Commission at least three months prior to the effective date of licenses to which they apply; until such fees are fixed, the rates now existing shall prevail.

Other minor changes are made in the wording of the existing law to clarify the meaning of the Act.

The inadequacy of the present law makes it imperative that this legislation be enacted to protect the public from fraud, misrepresentation and imposition by dealers in real estate due to their incompetency and for unreliability.
