DOE to comply with state water laws

The U.S. Department of Energy has agreed to "comply with all applicable laws" before drilling any test holes in Deaf Smith County for a possible nuclear waste repository, State Sen. Bill Sarpalius announced Monday.

Sarpalius, (D-Amarillo), said he received the news in a letter from the Office of Civilian Radioactive Waste Management. "This is the first positive thing that has happened to Texas in this situation," Sarpalius said.

Sarpalius authored a 1983 bill which requires anyone drilling a shaft to get a permit from the Texas Water Commission. He wrote DOE a letter on June 9 to remind them of the law, and the answer was received Monday.

"Many times these types of applications take years before they ever come to the commission (for decision)," said Texas Water Commissioner Ralph Roming at the news conference.

Earlier this year, the DOE announced that a site northwest of Hereford had been selected as one of three finalists for testing for a nuclear waste repository.

Texas officials have protested that any test shafts would penetrate the Ogallala and Santa Rosa water bearing sands in the Panhandle and might contaminate the only water source for many Texans.

Sarpalius released a letter Monday from DOE saying it would "consult with officials of various state agencies regarding the applicability of state laws and regulations to the development of a nuclear waste repository. In carrying out its site characterization activities, the department will comply with all applicable laws and regulations."

"They would be violating state law if they do any drilling without a state permit," Sarpalius said. "I think we would have excellent grounds for a lawsuit to protect our drinking water."

Roming said he understood the DOE wanted to drill a test shaft about 10-feet in diameter through the Ogallala and Santa Rosa formations into a salt formation.

"We would have to be sure there is no comingling of the salt formation with the water formations," Roming said. "I don't believe a shaft this size has ever been sealed off before."

Roming said if the DOE applies for a drilling permit, it probably would be three months before "extensive hearings" would begin, plus lengthy technical surveys.

County commission raises tax, hears protests about sub-division

The county tax rate was raised and a group of farmers protested a proposed subdivision during Monday's meeting of the Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court.

The farmers came to voice their views of a proposed sub-division to be located three miles northeast of Hereford.

The subdivision is being planned by Sam Nunnally of Hereford. Nunnally has stated that he intends to start the sub-division for trailer houses. The sub-division would be planned to accommodate 80 residents.

Nunnally was not present at Monday's meeting.

Tommy Betzen, spokesman for the farmers, told the commissioners that Nunnally is planning to have no restrictions on housing in the area and does not plan on improving the existing dirt roads. Betzen then showed the commissioners a letter he received from the president of American Dusting. The aerial spraying company suggested that a sub-division not be located in that area because of the surrounding farm area because aerial spraying could be detrimental to the health of people, animals, and plants located around the spraying.

"If they put a sub-division out there you are going to have lots of trouble with the roads, floods, and pesticides," said Betzen. "We have seen as much as 30 to 40 acres get flooded each year in that area. I don't know how many thousands of acres drain through that area."

County Judge Glen Nelson told the farmers that the county had no ordinances against the sub-division if it meets county and state requirements, but, as of Monday, Nunnally had not submitted any proof that the requirements have been met. Commissioners then passed a motion to table the issue until further research could be done.

Commissioners then set the tax rate for 1986-87 at 43.85 per $100 valuation on property. The old tax rate was 40.99. The seven percent increase in the tax rate came after almost seven weeks of deliberation consisting of public hearings and budget workshops. The measure passed by a 4 to 1 vote with Commissioner Austin Rose voting against the tax hike.

"I feel we have got some places where we can cut down," said Rose. "I'm not going to name any departments where we can cut because if I do, I will have some people get pretty upset."

Commissioner Troy Don Moore said he really does not know where the cuts can be made.

"I don't want to raise taxes, but I don't see how we can keep from it and maintain services for the county," Moore said.

Commissioners then voted to postpone the adoption of the 1986-87 county budget until county officials had been notified of salaries and personnel expenses allotted. County officials will then have two weeks to file any grievances. If commissioners decide to agree to any grievance, the budget can then be changed.

In other business the commission: -Approved the minutes of the previous meeting and elected to pay all bills.

-Granted permission to Sheriff Joe Brown to lease a new teletype system for the Sheriff's Department. Brown said the current system is outdated and the Texas Department of Public Safety will soon be changing its system. The new teletype will be able to conform with the state's new system. The cost to lease the new teletype will cost the county an additional $17 per month.

-Elected to advertise for bids for health insurance for county employees.

-Tabled discussion on the inter-governmental contract between the county and the state governments regarding nuclear waste site characterization for Deaf Smith County. Commissioner Moore told commissioners that he has not received word from the governor's office on nuclear waste management concerning the agreement.

-Granted permission to Jimmy Brown to cross a county line in Precinct 4 with a waterline.

Nude subjects called from roof by police

It was not a party, but they were all in their birthday suits. Seven nude patrons of a local club literally turned the other cheek early today when police beckoned them to come down from the rooftop of the establishment.

Police were called at 1:30 a.m. Tuesday with a disturbing the peace call. When officers arrived at the scene, they found several people on a roof. When police asked the subjects to come down, they noticed the people were not wearing any clothes. There were no arrests made in the incident.

Police also arrested three individuals during the past weekend. One juvenile was arrested for carrying a prohibited weapon. One adult was arrested for assault and two counts of child abuse, and another adult was charged with trespassing. One arrest was made Monday for public intoxication.

Police also heard reports of a bike theft, the theft of two dogs, a domestic disturbance, and a prowler.

A report filed by Santa Fe Railway stated that the train was forced to make an unscheduled stop in Hereford Sunday because of an unauthorized passenger. Railway officials were uncertain where the rider got on, but they noticed him outside of Hereford and asked Hereford police to meet them at the local train station.

Local bank deposits at $138 million

Deposits at Hereford's two banks totalled $138.2 million at the close of business June 30, according to financial statements published Sunday.

First National Bank had deposits of $83.2 million, approximately the same as reported at the end of the second quarter last year. Loans were listed at $62.4 million—an increase of about $6 million over the same time a year ago.

Hereford State Bank listed deposits at just over $55 million, an increase of about $1.3 million over the same time a year ago. Loans totalled $35.6 million, an increase of about $3 million over the six-months total in 1985.

Peak deposits almost always occur at the end of the year. The two banks showed deposits of $152 million at the close of business Dec. 31, 1985. Savings and loans and credit unions are required to publish statements only once a year. Deposits at all local financial institutions total well over $200 million.

Budget director expects higher deficit in 1987

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan's budget director, voicing concern over worsening projections of government red ink, says the fiscal 1987 spending plan Congress approved last month fails to meet a mandated $144 billion deficit target.

That means money bills passed by Congress may be vetoed even if they are within the limits of the budget blueprint for the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1, Budget Director James C. Miller III said Monday.

"The deficit situation, frankly, at this point, based on our latest information and calculations, looks worse, not better," Miller told an invited group of reporters.

In 1985, the government ran up a record deficit of $211.9 billion. The administration had been predicting that the deficit for the current fiscal year 1986 would be $202.8 billion.

Now, Miller said, "Unless something happens, I expect the deficit to exceed $212 billion and be in the neighborhood of $220 billion."

Likewise, "the actual deficit we experience for '87 will be a very large number. ... It breaks my heart," Miller added.

Miller cited a sluggish economy, lower-than-expected government revenues and Pentagon spending running about $8 billion more than expected as contributing to the worsening deficit projections.

He also repeatedly emphasized the estimates were preliminary and subject to change when the administration issues a detailed report on the economic situation during the week of Aug. 4.

Sutphen, of Amarillo, cooked with the Hobo Chili team.

Two held on drug charges

Two persons were arrested by sheriff's deputies during the past weekend for aggravated possession of a controlled substance suspected to be amphetamines. Deputies also confiscated chemicals and supplies used in the manufacturing of amphetamines.

Kimberly Gripp, 32, and Kim Freeman, 24, are being held in the Deaf Smith County jail under a $30,000 bond each. The two were arrested in Borger after deputies tried to arrest the two at their home on Austin Road Thursday evening.

Deputy Jimmy Hudgens, working on a tip, arrested the two and confiscated the evidence.

Found in the house was a plastic bag containing white powder, small white pills known as white cross, needles, syringes, a chemical called P2, used to make the amphetamines; cleansing solutions, and ether. Deputies said there was enough material found to make up to eight pounds of amphetamines.

Committee to study textbooks

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas State Textbook Committee was warned to be wary of critics who want to inject "ultrafundamentalist conservative bias" into educational processes.

"Turn a deaf ear to sectarian and religious arguments and make your decisions solely on educational criteria," a spokesman for People for the American Way said Monday during the beginning phase of selecting $114 million in textbooks for Texas public schools.

The final decision on what books will be studied the next six years will be made Nov. 8 by the State Board of Education.

"The new textbooks, adopted for use in Texas schools for the next six years, will be marketed nationwide," Michael Hudson, a spokesman for People of the American Way, told the committee Monday.

"Textbook publishers have confirmed that they have adapted the content of their nationally distributed textbooks to conform to the Texas content requirements," said Hudson, executive director of the self-styled constitutional liberties group.

Hudson said if textbook critics, including religious fundamentalists, "are allowed to influence textbook content in Texas by censoring out ideas they don't agree with, they can affect the quality of public education in every state in the union."

There was no direct reply to Hudson's remarks.

Publishers of books criticized before the committee have 21 days to file rebuttal remarks. Changes in textbooks can be made by publishers on recommendation of the committee.

Mel Gabler of Longview, a longtime critic of many proposed textbooks, complained that beginning readers did not stress "intensive phonetics."

"Nowhere in the beginning books are letters taught as representing sounds," said Gabler. "Now is the time to effect changes. Let's teach Texas children to read instead of memorizing or guessing for the rest of their lives."

Jury deliberates on kidnapping trial

KERRVILLE, Texas (AP) — Baby rapers, con artists, burglars and thieves were the type witnesses the state called against three men accused of conspiring to kidnap drifters and force them into slavery on a Hill Country ranch, a defense lawyer claimed.

Ray Bass made the charge late Monday, just hours before the organized crime case went to the five-man, seven-woman jury.

Jurors deliberated the fate of rancher Walter Wesley Ellebracht Sr., 55, his son Walter Wesley Ellebracht Jr., 33, and ex-ranch worker Carlton Robert Caldwell, 21, a little more than two hours before retiring for the night. They were to resume deliberations this morning.

The three are charged under Texas' organized crime statute with conspiracy to commit aggravated kidnapping and murder in the March 1984 death of Anthony Bates.

The state claims Bates, a one-eyed drifter from Huntsville, Ala., was lured to the Ellebrachts sprawling Hill Country ranch with the promise of work then, like other hitchhikers, was forced into slavery.

Prosecutors also alleged Bates was tortured with a cattle prod, beaten, denied food, and suffered from exposure until he died. Witnesses said his body was doused in gasoline and burned.

Bass was one of six attorneys who gave final arguments Monday after nine weeks of testimony.

Bass, who represents the younger Ellebracht, claimed the state based its case on testimony from witnesses who lied repeatedly and who had shady backgrounds.

Judge says ex-agent lacked gratitude

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Richard W. Miller was a "tormented man" and not to be hated, said the judge who sentenced the only FBI agent ever convicted of spying to the maximum two life sentences plus 50 years in prison.

"I believe you are going to sentence me as if I committed these crimes," Miller told U.S. District Judge David Kenyon Monday. "I did not commit them." "I shall continue to assert my innocence with an appeal that I hope will result in a new and fair trial."

Kenyon, who described Miller as a tormented man ungrateful for the blessings life gave him, said his crime was so severe he should never again know the joys of freedom. In addition to imposing the maximum sentence, Kenyon imposed the maximum fine of $60,000.

Miller, 49, a portly, bumbling FBI agent whose lackluster 20-year career ended with his arrest in 1984, broke the silence he had maintained through his trial as he stepped to a lectern in the packed, hushed courtroom.

"I never intended to injure this country or benefit the Soviet Union," Miller said. "My conduct was of no damage to this country."

Kenyon accepted the argument of U.S. Attorney Robert Bonner, who said Miller had "besmirched the reputation of the FBI" and damaged national security, selling out his country for sex and money.

"It seems to me a person who deliberately, for their own personal gain, betrays their country, should not walk again in this country as a free man," Kenyon said. "It is this court's intention to sentence the guilty with that in mind."

He specified that Miller serve at least one-third of his concurrent sentences. Bonner said the earliest Miller could be eligible for parole would be in 16 years.

Miller was found guilty June 19 of conspiring with his lover, Svetlana Ogorodnikov, 36, and her husband, Nikolay, 53, to pass classified documents to the Soviet Union. The government said he agreed to accept $65,000 in cash and gold.

Labor unrest, boycotts continue

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Scattered labor unrest and school boycotts persisted today following the first mass black protests under a month-old state of emergency, but the large majority of students and workers were reported back at their classes and jobs.

The Labor Monitoring Group, an independent fact-finding body, said significant labor unrest was reported today only in the Port Elizabeth area. General Motors spokesman Mike Kileen said GM's plant in the Cape Province city was closed for the second day.

Kileen said some 2,000 blacks reported for work, but later asked to go home, apparently because they were worried about conditions in their residential townships, where student strikes were continuing.

Other Port Elizabeth employers said workers were trickling back to work as bus service gradually resumed.

Peter Mundell of the Department of Education and Training, the government agency for black education, said attendance among the country's 1.7 million black students appeared "almost identical" to the estimated 80 percent who went back to school when classes resumed Monday.

Opposition vows to stop traffic

CIUDAD JUAREZ, Mexico (AP) — The main opposition party has vowed to stop traffic for five minutes today in this border city and block a major highway Thursday to protest state elections they claim were stolen. Thousands of supporters of the opposition National Action Party Monday night took over two bridges over the Rio Grande linking Juarez with El Paso, Texas, while Mexican army soldiers with riot gear and city police stood ready.

Lorenzo Garcia of Albuquerque, N.M., was caught with his wife on the Juarez side when the takeover started. He said the two were able to walk to El Paso unharmed.

"We pushed our way through, but no one prevented us from coming over," said Garcia.

The conservative National Action Party, or PAN, is seeking annulment of July 6 state elections to choose a governor of Chihuahua, the mayor of 67 cities and 14 state legislative seats. PAN leaders claim the elections were marred by massive, government-instigated fraud.

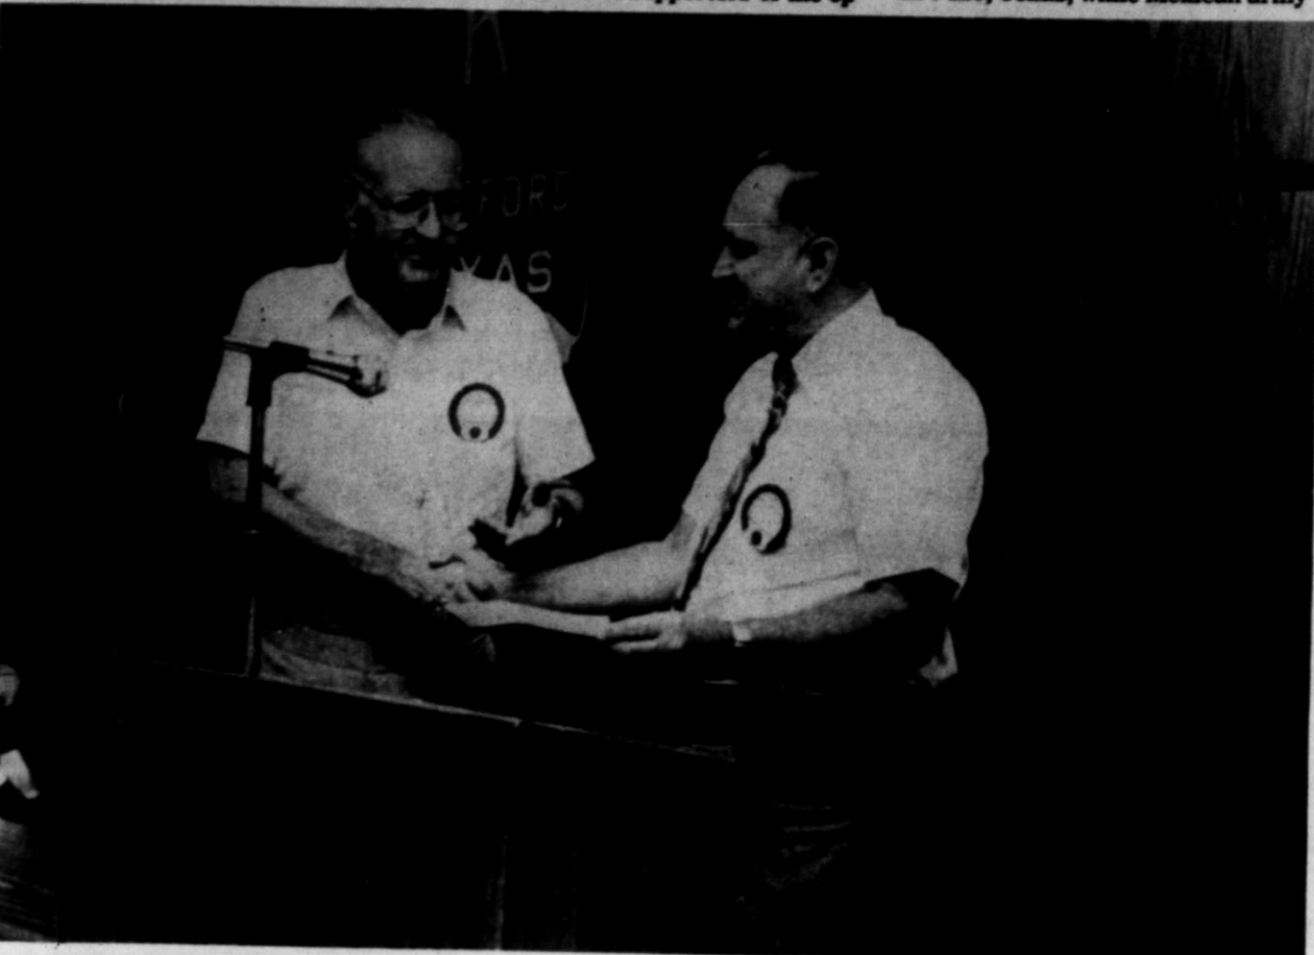

Results released early Monday showed the government Institutional Revolutionary Party, or PRI, nearly swept all the races. PRI, which hasn't lost a presidential or gubernatorial election since its founding in 1929, has rejected allegations of fraud.

The bridges, connecting the downtown areas of each city, were thick with PAN supporters waving party banners, chanting political slogans and singing the Mexican national anthem in an impressive show of solidarity during the two-hour takeover that ended shortly after 10 p.m. MDT.

The U.S. Border Patrol's 30-member riot squad was placed in downtown El Paso streets, out of sight of the bridges, said Gustavo de la Vina, acting agent in charge of the federal agency.

The entire Border Patrol regular staff of about 100 patrolmen was also called out "in anticipation of any possible mass entries," and blocked off all city streets leading to the bridges, de la Vina told the El Paso Times newspaper.

"Needless to say, there were some tense moments," de la Vina said.

Hobo Chili, Rib Cage take honors

Hobo Chili cooked by Joey Sutphen of Amarillo and meat from Sylvia Paetzold's Rib Cage, of Hereford, won the culinary cook-offs held Saturday at the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center.

The fifth annual chili cook-off, sanctioned by the Chili Appreciation Society International (CASI), and the first rib contest drew 51 cooks to the Hall grounds.

Sutphen's four points collected from the first place win qualified him for the international chili cook-off in Terlingua, Texas, which requires 12 points.

Second place chili, worth three CASI points, was cooked by Ida Neomode of Amarillo's Coca-Cola Cookers Chili. The CCCC team had another pot of chili, cooked by Vicki Childers, which placed third for two CASI points.

Cookers earning one point toward the international contest were: Karen Ruland, Hereford, fourth place; Jimmie Boss, Amarillo, fifth; Robert Neomode, Amarillo, sixth; James Stair, Plainview, seventh; Carol Smith, Amarillo, eighth; Peg Christian, Amarillo, ninth; Byron Roark, Hereford, tenth.

Stair, of the Holy Smokers team, also won second place in the rib contest.

Third place ribs were cooked by Billy Childers of Amarillo.

Top showmanship honors went to The Shady Bunch of Lubbock. Mary Hohertz, alias Marybelle the Clown from Amarillo, won second place and Byron and Debe Roark of Hereford's Smelly City Chili Team placed third. Roark's team also won the Humanitarian award for collections benefiting the Hall.

Bob Jackson of Plano received the Traveling Award. People's Choice went to Tomaine Red from Clovis, N.M.

Ann Landers To each his own

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I refer to the letter from "Upset in Richmond." How nice to know that I am not the only person who feels that birthing was not intended to be a spectator sport. I could no more have had an audience to observe those sacred occasions than to have invited family and friends to witness the conception of my children.

I am amazed at some of my acquaintances who have lugged their high-priced video equipment into the operating room and taken pictures of the entire procedure. The father is so busy with his photography that he has no time to give emotional support or help his wife through the difficult times. Suddenly he is a film producer and that is what he is busy with at a time when his wife needs him to squeeze her hand.

Another thing that puzzles me is how mothers can give birth at home and encourage their young children to witness the procedure. They say it makes it seem "natural." Labor pains being what they are, I think the youngsters would be so traumatized by witnessing the pain that they would be frightened off of motherhood forever.

Am I wrong? What is your opinion?—OLD-FASHIONED IN RACINE, WIS.

DEAR RACINE: There are different schools of thought on this subject but I tend to agree that it should be strictly a husband-and-wife affair without cameras recording the procedure for posterity.

To each his own, but I do believe it is best to spare young children from witnessing the excruciating pain and the blood. It can be terribly frightening unless there is a great deal of preparation.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I would like to offer what I think is at least one of the reasons daughters tend to remain closer to their families, before and after marriage, than do sons.

When my husband and I were first married, I asked him to tell me his parents' birthdays, their anniversary, and the birthdays of his brothers and sisters, so I could send cards. Guess what? He didn't know any of the dates. After many years of marriage, he finally knows at least the months.

How many mothers get letters from their married sons? Or are the letters written by the son's wife?

In the past few months, I have learned something I hope I can remember when my son is grown. Mothers-in-law should remain on good terms with their daughters-in-law, or they could find themselves left out a lot.

In talking with friends, I have discovered that most sons, after marriage, drift away from their parents. If there is a warm, close relationship, it's because the daughter-in-law fostered it.—WACO, TEX.

DEAR WACO: There's a great deal of truth in your theory. When the mother-in-law does not get along with her son's wife, she invariably sees very little of him after marriage. So—establish a good relationship with the woman your son chooses, mother, or you may find yourself on the outside looking in when those special occasions come around and you want to be included. Operation Daughter-in-Law should start early; from the minute you suspect she might become one. Almost always she will meet you more than half way.

Planning a wedding? What's right? What's wrong? Ann Landers' "New Bride's Guide" will relieve your anxiety. To receive a copy, send $2.00 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope (39 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11996, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

Visitors total 1,913,300

Visitors to the 36 lake and navigation projects operated by the Tulsa District of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers totaled 1,913,300 for the 4th of July weekend, Col. Franklin T. Tilton, District Engineer, reported today.

Last year the number of visitors to the Corps lakes amounted to 2,038,860. This year's count was taken from Wednesday evening to Sunday evening.

Six lakes recorded more than 100,000 visitors. Texas had 420,500; Eufaula, 233,500; Keystone, 150,500; Fort Gibson, 147,800; Canton, 129,600; and Tenkiller, 117,400.

The Corps continues to urge safety at the lakes during these active summer months. Seventeen drownings have occurred at Tulsa District lakes through the holiday weekend as compared to 12 by this time last year. Eight of the 17 fatalities took place during the last three weeks. Use common sense and personal flotation devices when in and around the water, Tilton said. Your safety is our concern.

Baptist Women meet for supper Thursday

The general meeting of Baptist Women of First Baptist Church met Thursday evening in the fellowship hall for a program and salad supper.

Sona Schultz, vice president, presided at the business meeting. Minutes were read and approved and it was noted that $51 had been donated for girls attending G.A. Camp.

Leatrus Clark, chairman of the leadership committee, made a motion to change the monthly general meeting from the Thursday evening salad supper to a Wednesday luncheon. The motion was seconded and carried.

Ella Oglesby discussed the ice cream supper to be held at 7 p.m. Thursday at King's Manor Retirement Home. She requested that each member bring cake and ice cream.

It was announced that the Association Workers meeting will be at Frio Church.

Schultz listed the nominating committee for next year. They included Francis Crume, chairman, and Leatrus Clark and Sona Schultz.

Donnie Owen presented the program, "The Way We Were Yesterday." She discussed the old-time revival meetings or protracted meetings. She noted that most churches scheduled an annual revival often the same week each year. She said, "An unhurried atmosphere dominated the week and a prayer meeting preceded each service."

The meeting concluded with Clark presenting the calendar of prayer. Marchetta Hutcheson and Mildred Drake were hostesses to 14 members.

In U.S.S.S.A. tournaments in Amarillo

Girls' all-star teams finish in 3rd place

Two girls' softball all-star teams from Hereford Kids Inc. leagues placed third in U.S.S.S.A. sponsored tournaments in Amarillo last Friday and Saturday.

Those teams are the girls' major league all-stars and the girls' minor league all-stars.

On Friday night, the girls' major league all-stars lost to Swenson of Lubbock 15-7. On Saturday, Hereford whipped Slaton 18-0, defeated the Explosions of Amarillo 19-13, and fell to Swenson 20-6.

The Hereford minor league all-stars lost to Texas Thunder 14-2 on Friday. On Saturday, Hereford defeated Bonham 22-6, lost to the Lubbock Cardinals 17-2, and defeated Crockett Lewis 17-1.

Both Hereford all-star teams played three consecutive games on Saturday. The only break for either team was a 30-minute break between two games for the major league all-star team.

In the Hereford major league girls' 15-7 loss to Swenson on Friday, Swenson led 7-2 after two innings of play, 9-5 after three innings and 12-5 after four innings.

Hereford led 2-1 after the first inning. Jamie Victor and Denise Carreon scored in that inning.

In the third inning, Stacy White of Hereford led off with a home run. One Hereford girl had three hits in three at-bats—Rosemary Rios.

Three Hereford players hit home runs in the first inning of the contest against Slaton. They were Cande Robbins, Rios and Victor. Hereford led 13-0 at the end of the inning.

Hereford then scored five runs in the second inning. The game ended after three innings because of the 15-run rule.

Three Hereford girls went three-for-three against Slaton—Carreon, White, and Shantel Cornelius. Each of them scored three runs, as did Robbins, who had two hits in two official at-bats. Victor and Krystal Sims each scored twice.

Victor led off the first inning against the Explosions with a home run. Hereford went on to score seven more runs in that inning for an 8-2 lead.

Hereford then led 11-3 after two innings and 17-6 after three innings in defeating the Explosions 19-13.

Rios scored four runs in the game, and Robbins scored three times. Victor, White, Cornelius and Maricella Ramirez each scored two runs.

Robbins and Rios both went four-for-four in the game.

Hereford fell behind Swenson 12-0 in the first four innings of the Saturday contest between the two teams.

Hereford scored four times in the fifth inning. The first three batters of the inning singled—Blanca Cordova, Munchie Cantu, and Sims.

Then after one out was made, three straight batters again singled for Hereford—Carreon, Victor, and Robbins.

Swenson came back with eight runs in the sixth inning. For Hereford in the sixth, two runs were scored. Ramirez singled, Roxann Torres and Sims both walked, and Victor hit a two-run single.

The most hits by a Hereford player in this game was two by both Victor and Robbins.

The Hereford minor league all-star girls fell behind Texas Thunder 11-0 in the first two innings of the 14-2 defeat. Hereford scored one run in the third inning and one run in the fourth inning.

In the third inning, Keiley Whitaker walked, Michelle Brock singled, and Jeanette Flores sacrificed the runners over one base each. Minerva Salazar walked to load the bases, and Claudia Ramirez batted in the run with a single.

Kathy Hernandez singled in the fourth inning, but Kyann Lindley hit into a forceout and fielder's choice. Singles by Veronoca Casarez and Sally Moreno loaded the bases, and Whitaker drove in the run with an RBI groundout.

The Hereford girls' minor league all-stars scored a 22-6 victory over Bonham in their first game on Saturday.

The score was tied 3-3 after one inning of play, and Bonham held a 6-3 lead after two innings.

In Hereford's first inning, Minerva Salazar and Brandie Webb led off with singles. Kathy Hernandez doubled to drive in both runners, and Veronica Casarez singled to drive home Hernandez.

Hereford gained the lead for good, 7-6, in the third inning. April Roddy and Hernandez both singled, and both later scored on a double by Kyann Lindley. Casarez hit an RBI double, and Sally Moreno hit an RBI single.

The Hereford all-stars then pushed 15 runs across the plate in the fourth inning. Claudia Ramirez hit a two-run homer to get the big inning started.

Roddy, Hernandez, Lindley, and Casarez all hit singles, Moreno hit a two-run double, and Michelle Brock added an RBI double. Then Jeanette Flores, Ramirez, and Roddy each singled, Hernandez hit a two-run double, and Lindley, Casarez, Moreno, and Keiley Whitaker all hit singles.

In the 17-2 loss to the Cardinals, Hereford scored both of its runs in the second inning. Lindley and Casarez each hit singles.

Lindley scored when Moreno hit a double, and Casarez scored on an RBI groundout by Whitaker.

The Cardinals, who limited Hereford to five hits, led 1-0 in the first inning, 4-2 in the second inning, and 15-2 in the third inning.

In the third place game, Hereford scored eight runs in the second inning and nine runs in the third inning to defeat Crockett Lewis 17-1.

With one out in the second inning, four straight Hereford batters hit singles—Lindley, Casarez, Moreno, and Whitaker. Later Webb and Salazar reached base on errors.

The rest of the second inning had this sequence of events—Flores walked, Ramirez singled, Roddy doubled, and Hernandez and Lindley both singled.

For Hereford in the third inning, Moreno and Whitaker opened with singles. The next two batters made outs, but Hereford's next seven batters all reached base and scored. Their runs, plus runs scored by Moreno and Whitaker, gave Hereford its 17-1 lead.

Ramirez and Roddy each batted in two runs with base hits. Hernandez singled, and Lindley drove in a run with a hit. Casarez batted in the final two runs of the contest for Hereford with a home run.

Managers discuss all-star strategy

By BEN WALKER
AP Baseball Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — Managers Dick Howser and Whitey Herzog both have the same goal tonight — to win the All-Star Game. Only their approaches are slightly different.

Herzog of St. Louis, who will handle the National League, said he wants to win. But another major objective for him is to use a lot of pitchers.

"I'll try to get as many in as possible," he said Monday. "It's a showcase for the fans."

Kansas City's Howser, who will handle an American League team that has lost 13 of the last 14 games, talked more about strategy.

"We have the kind of lineup, with guys like Rickey Henderson and Kirby Puckett, that gives us a chance for some running," he said.

"We'll hit-and-run a lot."

Howser and Herzog took different paths in selecting their teams.

Howser, who picked his reserves and pitchers with help from AL President Bobby Brown, chose eight pitchers on his 28-man roster. Herzog and NL President Chub Feeney selected 10 pitchers.

"We only took eight arms because we thought we might need some extra bats off the bench," Howser, managing his first All-Star Game, said.

The AL wants to avoid the embarrassment it suffered in the 1981 All-Star Game when, having run out of hitters, pitcher Dave Stieb was forced to bat in the ninth inning with his team trailing. Stieb made an out as the AL lost 5-4.

Herzog, in his second time as All-Star manager, said he and Feeney picked 10 pitchers because there were that many who belonged on the team.

"When you make up a 24-man roster, you've got 10 pitchers," Herzog said. "So many of my people were deserving."

"I really feel bad for guys like Jesse Orosco and Roger McDowell of the Mets, and my own Scott Worrell," Herzog said. "They all deserved to play, but we didn't have any more room."

Herzog said he would hold back a couple of hitters, in case they were needed. He also said future All-Star Games should employ the designated hitter, so that extra players could get into the game without pitchers having to bat.

"If they're ever going to have it, this is the place," Herzog said of the rule that alternates each year.

Los Angeles Manager Tom Lasorda, who has handled three NL teams and is a coach this season, agreed with Herzog in using a lot of players in the All-Star Game — as long as it doesn't interfere with another objective.

"You want to let your guys play. When you have All-Stars out there, you're not going to bunt," he said.

Then, asked whether he would sacrifice or issue an intentional walk late in a close game, he thought again.

"You have to play to win," he said. "If that gets the victory, it will be done."

Signup deadline nears for co-ed racquetball

Why has N.L. dominated baseball's All-Star Game?

By JOHN NELSON
AP Baseball Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — The reasons for the National League domination of the All-Star game must be obvious. At least to some people, because there is no shortage of theories.

Whitey Herzog thought it might have been booze that started it all. Charlie Hough considered the possibility of skulduggery. Ozzie Smith tends toward determination and Dale Murphy will not rule out coincidence.

American League President Bobby Brown said, "I don't have a theory. I wish I did."

And if he did?

"I'd do something about it."

Going into tonight's 57th All-Star game, the National League had won the last two, 13 of the last 14 and 21 of the last 23. Not since winning 12 of the first 16 All-Star games from 1933 through 1949 has the AL put together any significant string of successes.

Herzog, the manager of the St. Louis Cardinals and the 1986 NL All-Stars, has proposed the theory that the New York Yankees and their raucous ways were at the root of the AL's downslide in the late 1960s and early '70s. Players like Mickey Mantle and Whitey Ford would come to the All-Star game, party for three days and go home.

"I don't know what it's been like before," said Hough of the Texas Rangers, a first-time All-Star. "But I sure don't think the guys come here to lose. I never played a ballgame not to win."

So, why all of the American League losses?

Hough: "We was robbed."

"Asking me this question is like asking me what happened to the Cardinals this year," Smith, the St. Louis shortstop, said. "People have a lot of theories. The only thing I can say is that when you look at it, the talent's pretty even. So, it must have to do with pride, determination and desire."

If the American League did suffer from lack of intensity, the Nationals certainly have not. The NL's most outstanding All-Stars were — and still are in some cases — building careers centered on desire, hustle and attitude.

Consider the likes of Gary Carter, Steve Garvey and Charlie Hustle himself, Pete Rose.

The most impressive exponent of NL intensity, however, may have been Willie Mays. Mays appeared in 24 All-Star games for the NL from 1954 through 1973, sharing the record with Stan Musial and Hank Aaron.

"I don't really have a theory," said Murphy, the two-time NL Most Valuable Player from Atlanta.

"There's no answer except that baseball is a game of streaks and the National League just happens to be on a streak. That's the way it goes sometimes."

Hough is 'rookie' in All-Star Game

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — In keeping with 1986's tradition of the glorious Golden Oldie in sports, some "oldtimers" will make their All-Star Game debuts tonight.

In a year when 46-year-old Jack Nicklaus won the Masters and 54-year-old Willie Shoemaker rode the winner of the Kentucky Derby, 38-year-old Charlie Hough will be the oldest player in the 57th All-Star Game. And, he'll be a rookie.

After 15 years in the major leagues, Hough's appearance tonight will be his first in an All-Star game despite a setback started with a broken finger on his pitching hand.

The Texas Rangers right-hander is scheduled to be the third pitcher in American League Manager Dick Howser's rotation against the National League.

"I'm shocked and thrilled to be here," Hough said. "After 20 years in this game I guess you finally have to do something right."

Joining Hough as "oldtimers" are three other pitchers — Rick Rhoden of Pittsburgh, Don Aase of Baltimore and Mike Krukow of San Francisco.

The 33-year-old Rhoden is 9-5 with a 2.42 earned run average, Aase, 31, is 3-3 with 23 saves and the 34-year-old Krukow is 11-5 with a 3.11 ERA.

Aase and Krukow will be making their All-Star debuts.

The knuckleballing Hough, whose slow, tantalizing pitches will be a big change for the NL after seeing the fastball of AL starter Roger Clemens of Boston, is 9-4 with a 3.38 earned run average, his best start.

And the season started with a broken finger which came on a handshake in spring training. Hough missed almost a month of the season because of it.

"The finger is still broken or it hasn't healed just right," said Hough, showing the bent little finger on his right hand. "However, it doesn't touch the ball on my knuckler."

Hough said it was just now sinking in that he was on the All-Star roster.

"I never really thought much about the All-Star Game," Hough said. "I've always been concerned with just making my team. I never worried much about being in the All-Star game."

Hough said he was anxious to watch the early duel between Clemens and Dwight Gooden of the National League, both hard throwers in the 95 mph range.

Hereford wins Babe Ruth district title

The Hereford Kids Babe Ruth League 14 and 15-year-old all-star team won the district championship Saturday night by walloping Plainview 33-17.

Earlier in the district tournament, Hereford beat Plainview 12-4 on Friday night.

The tournament championship game was played Saturday night because the team from Friona had been disqualified from the tournament.

The Hereford all-stars advance to the West Texas state tournament in Levelland, which starts Friday night.

Plainview held a 3-2 lead after one inning of play, and a 5-2 lead after one and one half innings of play. Hereford scored its runs in the first inning on a walk and three singles, with the singles being hit by Glenn Parker, Roger McCracken and Robby Collier.

Plainview had a two-run single in the first inning, and managed to score its second inning runs without recording a hit.

The rest of the contest was Hereford's, after McCracken gave Hereford the lead for good, 6-5, with a grand slam home run. Hereford had loaded the bases when Fidel Ceballos doubles, Keith Brown reached base on an error, and Parker singled.

After McCracken's blast, Hereford built up its lead to 12-5. Hits the rest of the inning were a single by Robby Collier, an RBI single by Pat Mercer, a two-run homer by Todd Collier, another double by Ceballos, and singles by Brown and Parker.

The Hereford fireworks continued in the third inning with 11 more runs scored, making the lead 23-5.

Robby Collier hit a leadoff home run. An error and two walks loaded the bases for Hereford, and Brown hit a two-run single.

Later in the inning, Jason Scott hit a three-run homer to make Hereford's lead 19-5. The rest of the inning saw McCracken and Robby Collier both hit singles, Todd Collier walk, and Kyle Andrews hit a three-run homer.

Plainview scored a pair of runs in the top of the fourth inning, but Hereford came back with 10 runs for a 33-7 lead.

Brown singled to start Hereford's fourth inning efforts, and was driven home by Parker who doubled. Then four of Hereford's next six batters walked.

With two outs, J.T. Heaton hit a two-run single. After an error was committed by the Plainview shortstop, Parker hit a two-run single, Scott stroked a two-run double, and McCracken recorded an RBI single.

Plainview scored two runs in the fifth inning on two walks and an error. In the sixth inning, Plainview scored eight runs with this sequence of events: walk, double, error, walk, double, two more walks, and a home run.

McCracken tripled in the sixth inning but was left stranded on the base baths.

Linebacker was the most popular position in the 1986 NFL draft. Fifty-five men were chosen at that position.

Plainview managed to score its 17 runs by getting just six hits in the game. Pitching statistics for Hereford pitchers were as follows:

Fidel Ceballos, four innings, three hits, five strikeouts; Robby Collier, one and one-third innings, two hits, four strikeouts; and J.T. Heaton, one and two-thirds innings, one hit, two strikeouts.

Leading hitters for Hereford were Glenn Parker who went five-for-five, Roger McCracken who went five-for-seven, Robby Collier who went four-for-five, and Keith Brown who went three-for-five.

Jason Scott had two hits in five at-bats, but totaled eight runs batted in for the game. Parker and McCracken each had five RBIs, and Kyle Andrews had three RBIs.

Brown scored six runs in the game, and Parker scored five runs. Scott, Robby Collier, Todd Collier, and Kyle Andrews each scored four times, and Pat Mercer scored a pair of runs.

Hereford committed five errors in the game compared to three by Plainview.

For All-Star Game—the Astrodome

It's worst hitter's ball park tonight

By BEN WALKER
AP Baseball Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — The names are new, but the story is the same at the 1986 All-Star Game: American League sluggers against National League pitchers.

And tonight's meeting features a different twist — the Astrodome — the worst hitter's park in the big leagues.

"I had heard it was a tough place for home runs," Oakland's Jose Canseco, a rookie whose 23 homers lead the major leagues, said after batting practice Monday. "And I found out it was true."

"I thought the ball would be a little more lively. I found out it's kind of dead."

That was never more evident than the last time the All-Star Game was at the Astrodome. In 1968, an AL lineup featuring Harmon Killebrew, Carl Yastrzemski and Frank Howard was held to three hits in a 1-0 loss.

Since then, the fences have been moved in. The distances down the lines are now 10 feet closer at 330 feet, and the rest of the perimeter has been pulled in about eight feet, to 400 in straightaway center field.

Even so, fewer home runs are hit in the Astrodome than any other major-league park, even with increased homer totals throughout the majors this season.

"Those 10 feet might help me," California rookie Wally Joyner, who has 20 homers, said.

Joyner, the first rookie elected to start an All-Star Game since fans resumed choosing the team in 1970, joins an AL club that also boasts Jesse Barfield and Lance Parrish, both with 21 homers, and Jim Presley, with 18.

Glenn Davis is the only NL player with 20. Overall, the AL players have outperformed their counterparts 266-192.

The NL, however, has faced such muscle before. The counter has always been pitching, and the result has been a 36-19-1 edge, including 13 victories in the past 14 games.

Fastballing Dwight Gooden of the New York Mets, working with six days rest, will start for the NL.

"I think he's the best pitcher in baseball," NL Manager Whitey Herzog said.

Los Angeles' Fernando Valenzuela and his screwball or Houston's Mike Scott, whose split-fingered fastball has helped him lead the majors in strikeouts, probably will follow.

Gooden threw two scoreless innings in his previous All-Star outing, while Valenzuela has not allowed a run in 4 2-3 innings through four games.

Boston's Roger Clemens, leading the majors with 15 victories and topping the AL in ERA and strikeouts, will oppose Gooden. He will be pitching after going nine innings on Saturday.

"I hope two days' rest is enough for my arm. I don't know if I'll go the full three," he said.

Screwballer Ted Higuera of Milwaukee and knuckleballing Charlie Hough of the Texas Rangers are expected to follow Clemens.

"I know how good the National League team is and what they can do — I pitched against a lot of them when I was in that league," Hough said.

"But following a hard thrower like Clemens doesn't mean I have an advantage. I followed some pretty hard throwers before and I still got hit pretty hard if I didn't pitch well."

Clemens, Higuera and Hough are three of the 15 first-time All-Stars for the AL. The NL has 10 players making their first appearance.

The game, to be televised by ABC, will start at 8:35 p.m. EDT after Vice President George Bush throws out the first ball.

It is a sellout, with more than 45,000 fans expected.

The AL will be trying to win its first game at an NL park since 1962 at Wrigley Field. In the last 14 years, the AL's lone victory came against a team managed by Herzog, in 1983.

The AL lineup was announced as: Kirby Puckett, cf; Rickey Henderson, lf; Wade Boggs, 3b; Lance Parrish, c; Wally Joyner, 1b; Cal Ripken, ss; Dave Winfield, rf; Lou Whitaker, 2b; Roger Clemens, p.

For the NL, it was to be: Tony Gwynn, lf; Ryne Sandberg, 2b; Keith Hernandez, 1b; Gary Carter, c; Darryl Strawberry, rf; Mike Schmidt, 3b; Dale Murphy, cf; Ozzie Smith, ss; Dwight Gooden, p.

HHS graduate honored as state track all-star

A 1986 graduate of Hereford High School, Stephanie Thomas, was honored as a state track and field all-star last Friday in Fort Worth.

Stephanie was selected as the shot put all-star from classifications 5A and 4A for the all-star team.

The Texas Girls' Coaches Association selected the all-star team, choosing one athlete for each event from classifications 5A and 4A, and also one athlete for each event from the other three classifications combined.

Stephanie received an all-star medal during halftime of the North-South Coaches' All-Star Basketball Game. The track and field all-star award presentations, as well as all-star basketball and volleyball games, were held in conjunction with the Texas Girls' Coaches Association summer clinic.

Stephanie placed first in the shot put in the District 3-5A meet, second in the regional meet, and fifth in the state meet. She will be attending Ranger Junior College, where she plans to participate in track and field.

New grocery products surge in first half of year

NEW YORK (AP)—New products ranging from cola-flavored bubble gum and veal hot dogs to a lemon-flavored beer showed up on grocery and drugstore shelves in record numbers in first half of 1986, a study says.

The newsletter New Product News, published monthly by the advertising agency DFS Dorland Worldwide, reports it spotted 1,249 new products on store shelves across the country between January and June. That was up 15.6 percent from the same period a year ago and was the highest six-month total in the 22 years that the newsletter has monitored such activity.

Food manufacturers said they have been responding to the demands of increasingly health-conscious consumers who are willing to pay premium prices for a combination of convenience and high quality at mealtime.

Industry analysts said the surge shows that foodmakers are driven to come up with new products or variations on products they have already successfully introduced in response to real or expected challenges from their competitors.

Martin J. Friedman, editor of New Product News, said major manufacturers generally expect new products to reach annual sales of $30 million to $55 million before counting them a success. While smaller manufacturers may be quite satisfied with lower sales, he said less than 1 percent of the products his newsletter monitors reaches the $30 million sales level.

New products face a daunting task of finding space on store shelves. According to the Food Marketing Institute, a non-profit association for food retailers and wholesalers that is based in Washington, D.C., the average supermarket carried 17,459 items at the end of 1985. Grocers also have obtained access to more sophisticated ways of evaluating which products deserve shelf space. Price scanners not only get shoppers through checkout lines more quickly but can help grocers monitor their inventories. Leading consumer research firms such as A.C. Nielsen Co. of Northbrook, Ill., and National Brand Scanning Inc. of New York, have each recently begun offering product-by-product sales reports on a weekly rather than monthly basis.

But the competitive nature of the industry requires companies to bring out a steady stream of new products. "Even when you are a market leader, you are looking for new niches and new products to fill them," said an official for the Chicago-based Quaker Oats Co., who asked that his name not be used.

Friedman said his latest report showed the most active food introductions in the first half included wine coolers, juice-based soft drinks, fruit-flavored frozen bars and teas and frozen dinners.

In addition to cola-flavored bubble gum, the newsletter said introductions in the gum category included a stick gum to freshen breath and a soft gum which makes bubbles more easily.

The new lemonade-flavored beer is an import which mixes the two flavors in equal measure with only 2 percent alcohol content.

New comedy has Southern setting

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—Writer-producer Linda Bloodworth's idea was to bring together the four funniest women she knew and let them just talk.

She suggested the idea over the telephone to the head of comedy development at CBS. She named the four women: Delta Burke, Dixie Carter, Annie Potts and Jean Smart. He wanted to know how fast she could get to his office.

"I was friends with those four women," said Miss Bloodworth, "and I'd worked with Dixie and Delta on 'Filthy Rich.' We've had a secret plot since then to work together again."

The show is "Designing Women," which advertising agencies consider one of the hottest prospects for the fall season.

In the show, the four women run a fledgling decorating business out of a townhouse in Atlanta. Delta Burke is Suzanne Sugarbaker, a glamorous divorcee and femme fatale who runs the business with her equally glamorous and flamboyant sister, Julia, played by Dixie Carter. Jean Smart plays Charlene Frazier, the acerbic, compulsively organized office manager, and Annie Potts is Mary Jo Shively, shyly making her first venture back into the business world since putting her ex-husband through medical school.

"There'll be a lot of Southern comment," said Miss Bloodworth. It's her second Southern-oriented show. The first was "Filthy Rich," a parody of "Dallas" and "Dynasty." She's from Poplar Bluff, Mo., and her husband and co-executive producer is Harry Thomason, who is from Arkansas.

"We're billing it as the first sophisticated Southern comedy," she said. "It's more like a play than a sitcom, and I don't mean that as a put-down to sitcoms. We discuss a lot of things. It's like eavesdropping on these women. There's a line where Annie Potts asks, 'Why are Southern women always considered oversexed? They never have air conditioning. They're always perspiring and have handkerchiefs tucked down their fronts.'"

It's a celebration of Southern family eccentricities, as Miss Bloodworth sees it.

The actresses are all from the South, except Miss Smart, who's from Seattle but now sounds as though she grew up in the Ozarks. Miss Burke is from Florida, Miss Carter from Tennessee, Miss Potts from Kentucky.

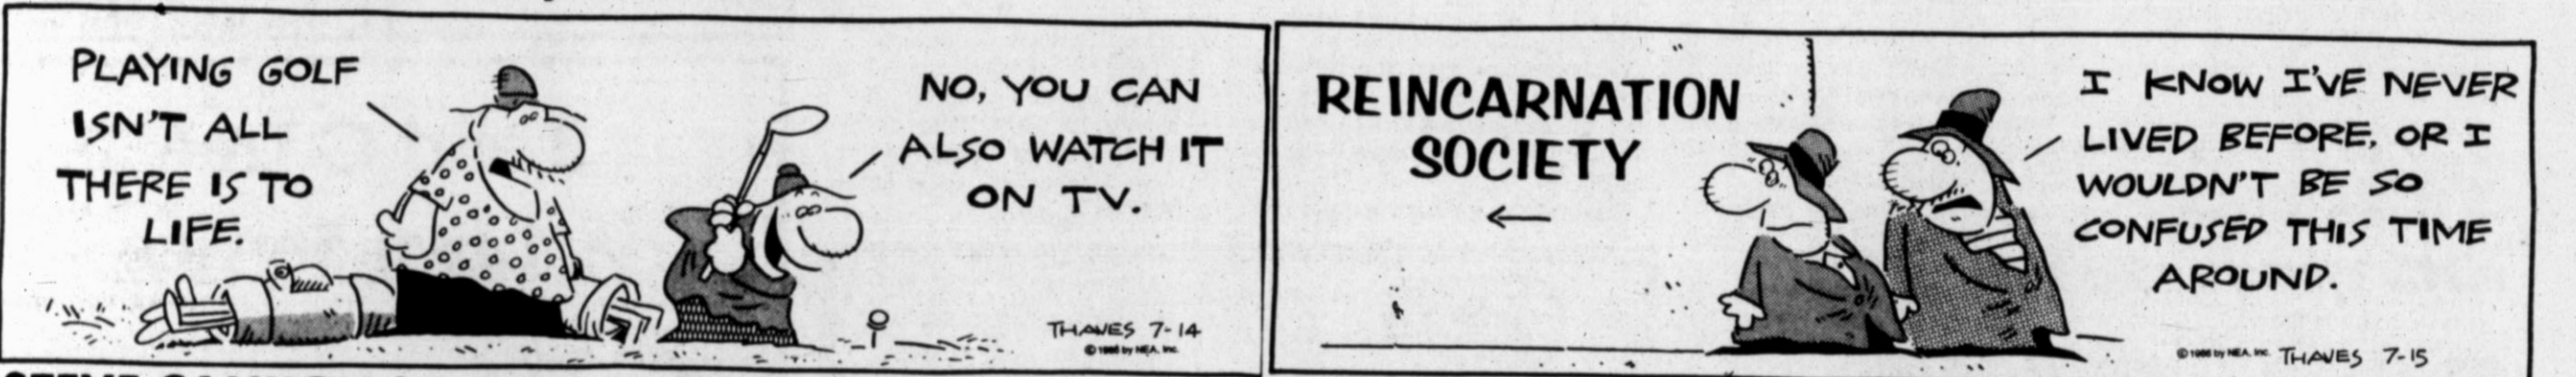

Last year, Miss Bloodworth and Thomason produced ABC's "Lime Street," the short-lived series starring Robert Wagner.

Citizens volunteer to get drunk to test drunken driver screening

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Karen Sanderson, 39, lifted the large Styrofoam cup to her mouth and took a long sip of a carefully calibrated rum and Coke. She was getting ready to have some fun. "Maybe I'll learn something," the Haltom City cocktail waitress said. Sitting directly across the table, Pauline Bloyd, a state highway department worker, her cup filled with bourbon and 7-Up, said as she started to drink, "It's all in the line of duty." volunteers drank. They started out exchanging pleasantries, learning details about one another's jobs. The conversation slowly changed to talking about whether they would drive drunk, to not-so-clean jokes, to who would be the first to dance on the table. Then they were tested by police officers to see if they could determine just how drunk they were. The recent training sessions for police officers from Tarrant County were sponsored in part by the Tarrant County Driving While Intoxicated Task Force. The exercises are part of a new series of roadside sobriety tests designed to detect the borderline drunken driver — the .10. A person is legally drunk in Texas when he or she registers a .10 on a breath test. Three tests make up the new series, and to the driver suspected of being drunk they appear simple. But beware, officials warn. "The tests are fairly foolproof," said Vernon With, National Highway Traffic Safety Administration program director, who conducted the program along with the Texas A&M University Law Enforcement Security Training Division. "There really is no other way for these officers to develop skills," With said, except by using human guinea pigs. "What we now have is a battery of tests, good tests for laboratory use and good tests for roadside use." For the first test, the officer tells the subject to stand with head straight, hands down at his sides and follow the tip of a pen with his eyes. Sounds easy. But, With said, when a person is drunk or on drugs and their eyes are moved to the corners, they twitch. Only a sober person has smooth eye movement, he said. The second test requires the driver to stand on a line, hands at his side, walk heel to toe counting out loud to nine, turn around and walk the line back. For the third test, the driver selects a foot, raises it at least 6 inches from the ground and counts to 30. He's supposed to be able to keep his balance. Police officers who participated in the school said the tests will make it easier to detect those drivers who have been drinking and are at or barely over the legal limit. With older tests, it's estimated that about 80 percent of suspected drunken drivers are undetected. "This is a good step toward training (officers) need. This is something new into the scene," said Watauga police Sgt. Gary Johnson. But, police officer Joe Abouhson said the test will enhance the fight against drunken drivers. He said officers can usually tell who's drunk, but the new tests "make our job more detailed. This is just another tool." "This is knowledge we never had before," said Benbrook officer Jim Greshan. He described the tests as "better weapons" to deal with drunken drivers. The officers who participated in the program will conduct their own tests while on duty this summer, then will discuss their findings and be tested again by instructors. After the schooling is completed, the officers will be qualified to teach others in their departments the new techniques.

A record 19.5 million mothers, or 6 out of 10 women with children under 18 years old, were in the U.S. labor force in 1984. Ten years earlier, not quite 5 out of 10 mothers were employed outside the home, according to "Working Mothers and Their Children" a fact sheet issued by the Women's Bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor.
