

Shave their own paychecks

Commissioners cut salaries by 5 percent

By SHAWN COCKRUM
Staff Writer

The weather is not the only thing hot in Deaf Smith County.

County politics began sizzling Monday morning during a regular meeting of the Deaf Smith County Commission held at the courthouse.

Commissioners began rehashing the proposed 1986-87 county budget of $3,784,095 which, according to County Judge Glenn Nelson, was scheduled to be passed almost three months ago. After nearly four hours of deliberation, commissioners let a motion to approve the budget die due to a lack of a second.

In the early stages of Monday's meeting commissioners asked County Auditor Alex Schroeter if there was any way the budget could be cut in order to eliminate a seven percent tax increase. Schoeter said it would take an across the board decrease of 10 percent in county salaries.

Following that statement, Commissioner Troy Don Moore made a motion that the commissioners each take a five percent cut in pay. Commissioner Bill Brady seconded the motion and the proposal was passed unanimously.

"Some may say it is just a token gesture, or a political move. Maybe it is, but we have got to start somewhere," said Moore. "If any other elected officials want to follow our lead, they will sure be welcome to climb aboard."

Commissioner James Voyles said that this will be a way to show the people of the county that they are sincere about the budget problems. "To me the pay cut is just a token, but it is not a gesture that will go unnoticed. We have got to start somewhere. How can county employees take us seriously unless we ourselves are willing to tighten our belts?"

Commissioner pay cuts will save the county $3,527 per year. If all county officials decided to follow the lead of the commissioners, the budget would be cut approximately $8,500. That would not be enough to balance a budget that holds a $57,000 increase in projected expenditures.

"I have sincere hope that through attrition, we can take care of these problems," said Commissioner Austin Rose, referring to a reduction of salary expenses due to employee retirement and resignations.

The four commissioners each earn $17,637 annually.

In other business the commissioners granted permission to Schroeter to transfer $200,000 from the road and bridge fund to the general fund in order to pay bills for the month of August.

"We are down to the point that we will be having to make budget transfers to make it through the year," said Schroeter.

Commissioners also denied a request made by County Clerk David Ruland to attend an annual election seminar sponsored by the Secretary of State. Commissioners felt the county did not have the funds to use for the seminar.

Commissioners then granted permission to Lola Faye Veazey of the District Clerk's office to purchase a new typewriter.

Less than an hour after the meeting was adjourned, the courthouse was evacuated by the Hereford Fire Department after a fire was spotted on the roof of the courthouse. The fire caused little damage and kept courthouse employees out of their offices for approximately 10 minutes.

Freed hostage to meet with Pope in Rome today

WIESBADEN, West Germany (AP) — The Rev. Lawrence Jenco, freed after nearly 19 months of captivity in Lebanon, flies to Rome with 10 family members today for a meeting with Pope John Paul II, a relative said.

U.S. Air Force spokesman James Mangum said Jenco and his relatives would travel from the American military hospital in Wiesbaden to the Rhein-Main Air Base outside Frankfurt for the flight to Rome.

"Yes, we're going today," brother-in-law Ed Franceschini told The Associated Press when asked whether the 51-year-old Roman Catholic priest and his family were headed to the Italian capital.

Franceschini, married to Jenco's sister, Sue, was asked whether the meeting with the pontiff had been arranged.

Speaking to a reporter outside the U.S. Air Force hospital, he replied "yes," but did not specify when the meeting would take place.

Jenco, of Joliet, Ill., arrived at the hospital in Wiesbaden on Sunday, a day after he was released by Shiite Moslem zealots following more than 1½ years of captivity in Lebanon. The pope telephoned him in Wiesbaden following his arrival.

A member of the Order of the Servants of Mary, Jenco was kidnapped in Beirut on Jan. 8, 1965. He had been directing Catholic Relief Services operations in Lebanon that served both Christians and Moslems.

Jenco's relatives held a joyful, tearful reunion with the priest on Monday, after flying to West Germany from the United States.

Mangum said Church of England representative Terry Waite would accompany Jenco and his family members to Rome. Waite, the envoy of the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Rev. Robert Runcie, had made numerous trips to Beirut in an attempt to negotiate the release of Jenco and other Americans held hostage there.

Following their Monday reunion, one of the priest's brothers said Jenco had been taken by his captors to the Syrian-controlled Bekaa Valley in eastern Lebanon for release on

New alliance opposes nuke repository

AUSTIN (AP) — Fourteen groups announced Monday the creation of the Texas Energy Alliance, a coalition with a five-point program that includes opposition to locating a high-level nuclear waste dump in the Texas Panhandle.

The alliance also supports congressional efforts to remove the nuclear industry's liability ceiling, wants assurances that the least costly electric power projects will be given first priority, opposes one-step licensing of nuclear power plants and supports safe nuclear transportation laws.

Forming the energy alliance were the Campaign for Affordable Power; Citizens Concerned About Nuclear Power; Comanche Peak Life Force; Committee for Consumer Rate Relief; Mobilization for Survival; Nuclear Safety League; Nuclear Waste Task Force; Nueces Basin Conservation Group; Public Citizen; San Antonio Forum on Energy; South Texas Cancellation Campaign; STAND — Serious Texans Against Nuclear Dumping; STAND of Amarillo; and the Texas Nuclear Freeze Campaign.

Hot Time

Sizzling sunshine reflecting on top of the Deaf Smith County Courthouse made firefighting an even hotter job for fire volunteers and roofers Monday. Roofing work ignited the fire. There was only minor damage reported and evacuation of employees lasted little longer than a coffee break.

Largest 'baleout' arriving to feed cattle in drought

By MARTIN STEINBERG
Associated Press Writer

A train carrying enough hay to feed nearly 70,000 cows for a week was making stops today in seared South Carolina with the largest emergency shipment of fodder since Midwest farmers began donations 1½ weeks ago.

As the mile-long Hoosier Hay Express neared the state Monday, meteorologists predicted renewed hot, dry conditions this week for the Southeast after a week's respite.

"It may be that we could be flirting in the next few days with the upper 90s again, maybe even 100," said forecaster Bill Lerner in Atlanta.

This month's death toll from the heat wave in the South and Midwest has reached 52, and agricultural losses from months of drought have risen to almost $2 billion, with damage reported in southern Pennsylvania just north of the Mason-Dixon Line.

On Monday, the Georgia Crop Reporting Service issued its gloomiest weekly report in 13 years, saying more than two-thirds of the state's corn, soybean and hay crops are either poor or very poor. The state already has estimated drought damage at $200 million.

In addition, Tennessee Valley Authority officials said the utility has spent $100 million this year to offset decreased hydroelectric output.

Rate increases were being considered for TVA's 2.8 million power customers in Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, Virginia, and Kentucky, said Hugh Gardner, manager of power system operations.

Temperatures Monday ranged from the 90s to 110 degrees in the Southeast, across the Southern Plains and lower Mississippi Valley, with records for the date reached in 11 cities, including 106 degrees at Dodge City, Kan., breaking a 76-year-old record by two degrees.

Monday also was the 25th consecutive day of temperatures of at

We criticized Deaf Smith County Commissioners about a week ago for proposing a 7 percent tax increase for the coming budget year. Yesterday, commissioners voted to cut their salaries by 5 percent and we tip our hats to the court for this voluntary action. It doesn't solve their budget crunch, but it shows commissioners are sincere in their efforts to hold the line on spending.

Commissioners say they need to trim the budget by more than $130,000 to keep from making the 7 percent tax hike. When it was mentioned in the commissioners meeting yesterday that it would take a 10 percent cut in county employees salaries to make up the deficit, it went over like a lead balloon in the courthouse today.

The budget still was not approved yesterday. With Austin Rose being the only commissioner to vote against the tax hike, it appears the other commissioners may be waiting for Rose to "put up or shut up" on his statement that other cuts could be made in the budget.

In our own study of the budget, we stated a week ago that it appears the 7 percent tax hike is providing a "cushion" in the budget. We talked with County Treasurer Vesta Mae Nunley this morning, and she explained that the beginning balance is decreasing each year.

In a recap of revenues yesterday, commissioners decreased the projected totals on the ending balance and the amounts of fines and fees by more than $130,000. If those projections are true, the county will face that shortage and will need to make more spending cuts or increase taxes.

As one commissioner pointed out yesterday, public interest in the proposed tax hike has been virtually non-existent. County officials and employees have voiced plenty of opposition to cuts in their departments or their salaries.

With that in mind, I suppose a tax hike is the easiest way out.

Firefighters respond to 5 calls

The Hereford Fire Department responded to five calls during the past weekend.

Saturday afternoon, firefighters were called to a grass fire in a vacant lot at Moreman and Ironwood. Also Saturday, firefighters were dispatched to a car and train collision at the Progressive Road crossing. When firefighters arrived, the police had the situation under control. There were no injuries.

On Monday, firemen responded to three calls within 90 minutes. The first call was a grass fire which engulfed almost three acres near Yucca Hills north of Hereford.

The next call came 20 minutes later at the county courthouse where roofing work caught the attic on fire. There was minor damage to the building and employees were forced to evacuate for about 10 minutes.

A false alarm was then turned in at the Deaf Smith County Hospital. A hospital employee identified a juvenile who pulled the alarm. The subject was turned over to the juvenile authorities.

Curriculum changes proposed

Proposed changes recommended by the Hereford school trustees Curriculum Committee will be presented today in a special meeting today at 6 p.m. in the administration building.

Trustee board vice president Bud Patterson, who also serves on that committee, said the recommendation will be presented completely and there will be a chance for audience discussion.

Patterson said the essential changes at all grade levels are in criteria for reading placement and in the weight testing has on grades. In the proposal, homework will count on part of the passing or failing grade.

The proposal will be up for a vote in the Aug. 12 regular board meeting.

Shirley Wilson and Kathy Moore serve on the committee with Patterson.

Also on the agenda are personnel matters and Margaret Marshall.

22 banks sue Hunt to collect debt

DALLAS (AP) — Twenty-two banks, including four from Texas, filed countersuits seeking $1.28 billion in outstanding debts from three sons of the late oil tycoon H.L. Hunt, other family members and certain Hunt family interests.

The suits were in response to a $3.6 billion suit filed in June by Nelson Bunker Hunt, Lamar Hunt, William Herbert Hunt, three of their sons and companies they control. The Hunt suit charged that lenders used fraud and deception to "dominate and destroy" Hunt-owned Penrod and Placid Drilling Co.

The Texas banks — RepublicBank Dallas, Texas Commerce Bank-Houston, First City in Houston and InterFirst Dallas — claimed the Hunts owe them collectively $243 million.

Monday's filing followed a similar counterclaim filed July 16 by First National Bank of Chicago, which seeks $446 million including $226 million in principal.

Ray Hunt, a half-brother of the three brothers, is not named in the suits.

Others filing countersuits included Manufacturers Hanover, Bankers Trust, Citibank, Wells Fargo, First Interstate Bank of California, Mellon Bank, Security Pacific Bank, and Marine Midland.

Bank of America Corp.'s petition against the Hunt family, their trustees and the Penrod Drilling a.s more than $76 million of outstanding debt.

The Hunts refused to pay the banks an interest payment of about $8.5 million on May 27, although they had available funds, the Bank of America petition contends.

"Instead of using their individual assets to secure the loan, they chose to burden Placid Oil Company and the Hunt Trusts with the obligation to pay their personal debts," the document said.

Trial set for escapee McFadden

QUITMAN, Texas (AP) — The murder suspect and convicted rapist who led several hundred law officers on a two-day manhunt in East Texas after he escaped from jail last month will stand trial in San Antonio, officials said.

Jerry Walter McFadden, nicknamed "Animal," will be tried sometime in August on charges of aggravated robbery and aggravated assault, said Marcus Taylor, Wood County district attorney.

McFadden, 38, was scheduled for trial July 28 on the charges, stemming from the May 4 robbery of a couple at Lake Hawkins in East Texas. But the trial was delayed after he escaped July 9 from jail in neighboring Upshur County.

The publicity surrounding his escape and recapture forced state District Judge Richard Davis to change the location of the trial.

"Judge Davis determined Dallas is not far enough," said Taylor.

Authorities hunted for McFadden and a female Upshur County deputy he took hostage for about two days. After Deputy Rosalie Williams escaped from McFadden in Big Sandy, hundreds of lawmen converged on the small community where McFadden surrendered to authorities July 11. A week later he was transferred to the Texas Department of Corrections on parole violations.

Pretrial hearings on robbery and assault charges will be held in Quitman on Aug. 18, Taylor said.

Quitman attorney Jim Attaway was appointed by the court as McFadden's attorney.

McFadden also is charged in the strangulation death of 18-year-old Suzanne Harrison of Hawkins, one of three Hawkins youths found slain after they went on a Lake Hawkins outing.

Older women boost rate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Women making up for delayed childbearing are helping boost the nation's rate of unwed mothers to record levels, despite a decline in births among teen-agers, government statistics show.

Childbearing by unmarried women in 1984 accounted for more than one baby in five, the highest level since the government began collecting data on the subject in 1940, according to the report from the National Center for Health Statistics.

"There were increases in the nonmarital birth rates for women of all ages under 40 years, except those aged 15-17 years" who marked the first decline since 1978, the study said.

While births and birth rates fell among youngest group, the center noted that increasing birth rates for women in their 30s and 40s continued, as it has over the last decade or so.

This appears to be a result of "making up for delayed childbearing," said the study, noting a sharp rise in first births among women aged 35 and over.

"The growth in the population of unmarried women has outpaced that of all women because of the widespread tendency to delay marriage to increasingly older ages, as well as the increasing number of divorces," the report said.

Administration reacts Soviet pledge

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Reagan administration is reacting cautiously to Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev's pledge to withdraw some troops from Afghanistan.

"Similar withdrawals announced in the past were part of regular rotations of troops without any decrease in the total number of Soviet forces in Afghanistan," State Department spokesman Bernard Kalb said Monday.

Gorbachev announced in a televised speech Monday that six regiments would be withdrawn from Afghanistan. He suggested they would not be replaced, but did not say so specifically.

"There is only one acceptable solution to the Soviet occupation of Afghanistan, prompt and complete withdrawal of the approximately 118,000 Soviet troops in that country," Kalb said. "If the Soviets are seriously interested in a settlement they should present a short withdrawal timetable at the next round of U.N.-sponsored proximity talks."

OPEC resumes search to stop prices

GENEVA (AP) — OPEC ministers opened a second day of discussions today on a production cutback proposal aimed at boosting the sagging price of oil on world markets.

With Iran and Iraq, the two warring Persian Gulf neighbors, also in disagreement at the Geneva talks, chances for unanimous agreement among the 13 member nations of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries appeared slim.

The ministers opened their fourth meeting this year on Monday by presenting their governments' responses to a proposal endorsed by the majority of OPEC nations at the previous conference in June.

Asked if the ministers had made progress on reaching an agreement, Saudi Arabian Oil Minister Ahmed Zaki Yamani replied, "Not yet."

At the June conference in Brioni, Yugoslavia, the majority of ministers agreed to a proposed aggregate average production ceiling for 1986 of 17.6 million barrels a day. Cutting production is believed the only means of restoring higher prices.

The proposal calls for lower national production quotas, and some governments have rejected the quotas allocated by the plan.

Saturday, and was just "told to start walking."

"He did not say how far he walked; to him it seemed an eternity," said John Jenco. He said his brother was then picked up by a Syrian government car.

A nephew, Andrew Mihelich, told reporters Jenco is "a very tired and a very fragile man, but he responded quite well considering the ordeal he went through."

John Jenco said his brother "developed an eye infection from the blindfold" his kidnapers made him wear so they could not be seen, but added that the condition had begun to clear up.

The priest was undergoing tests at the Wiesbaden military hospital for what hospital director Col. Robert W. Gilmore described as "ongoing heart disease."

The priest's relatives told reporters Jenco had been chained and kept in solitary confinement for about the first six months after his abduction.

But "he was never beaten, he was never brainwashed, he was treated with respect," John Jenco said.

His captivity got a bit more bearable after Jenco was grouped in a cell with three other American hostages.

"They prayed a lot, talked about their personal histories and families, their livelihoods, and (made) general conversation just to keep their sanity," John Jenco said.

"They were kept blindfolded when captors were present.... They had no view of the outside world. The cell they were kept in was 13 by 15 feet and they slept on mats," the brother said.

Another American hostage in Lebanon, Terry Anderson, 38, the chief Middle East correspondent for The Associated Press, is unaware that his father and brother have died in the past six months, John Jenco said his brother told him. Anderson was kidnapped in Beirut on March 16, 1985.

The other American hostages are David Jacobsen, 55, director of the American University Hospital in Beirut, and Thomas Sutherland, 55, the university's acting dean of agriculture.

Lugar bill would clamp South Africa

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON, Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard Lugar, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, is asking Congress to ignore appeals from President Reagan and adopt sanctions aimed at pushing South Africa's white minority government toward negotiations with blacks.

Lugar, R-Ind., was to present his proposals at a closed meeting of the committee today. A spokesman, Mark Helmke, said a sanctions bill probably would be drafted and ready for action on the Senate floor by the end of the week.

"The basic theme is that these are all sanctions that hurt the white South African government and infrastructure," Helmke said. "The idea is to convince South Africa that the United States is serious about the need to enact substantive sanctions."

"Lugar is saying this should be the basic thrust of a clear message to the white government that we want them to change," Helmke said.

The Lugar proposal calls for writing into law the five limited sanctions imposed by Reagan last year and adding new ones, including these seven:

—Ban the import of the products of industries controlled in part by the South African government, including steel, uranium, cement and aluminum.

—End U.S. landing rights for South African aircraft.

—Direct the State Department to stop issuing visas for travel to the United States for employees of the South African government and government-controlled industries and to revoke visas previously issued to such persons.

—Give Reagan authority to sell off U.S. gold reserves to depress the world price of gold and wreck the South African gold mining industry, one of the country's most lucrative enterprises.

—Freeze U.S. bank accounts of employees of the South African government and the state-controlled companies and freeze the U.S. investments of such companies.

—Prohibit any new investment in South Africa by any U.S. company which does not adopt the so-called Sullivan principles aimed at giving equal treatment and wages to black employees. Helmke said Lugar might agree to endorse a total ban on new U.S. investment, a step sought by Sen. Nancy Kassebaum, R-Kan.

—Punish foreign companies which move to take competitive advantage of the U.S. sanctions at the expense of U.S. corporations.

The sanctions already in place which the Lugar plan would write into law include the prohibition of the sale in the United States of the South African gold coin, the Krugerrand; a ban on computer sales to the South African government; the ending of bank loans to the South African government; and a ban on the export to South Africa of U.S. nuclear technology.

Reagan hears conflicting arguments on wheat sales

By TERENCE HUNT, Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan, amid conflicting arguments from his Cabinet and complaints from overseas, is weighing a plan championed by farm-state lawmakers to subsidize American wheat sales to the Soviet Union.

Reagan listened to recommendations Monday from leaders of the State, Treasury, Agriculture and Labor departments, the Pentagon, the CIA, the Office of Management and Budget, the U.S. Trade Representative's office and the National Security Council.

"I don't think there's anybody in the room willing to predict what the president's decision will be on it," presidential spokesman Larry Speakes said afterward. He said the meeting aired "conflicting recommendations."

The plan was put forward by Senate Majority Leader Bob Dole, R-Kan., and others to boost America's sagging farm exports, which have tumbled from a peak of $43.8 billion in 1981 to an expected level of $27.5 billion this year.

The proposal has major political overtones in an election year when Republican control of the Senate depends heavily on the outcome of several Midwestern races.

"Certainly, the image is there of whether or not we want to help the farmers," Speakes said. However, he said, "It certainly has more foreign policy impact than one would initially think."

Secretary of State George Shultz has denounced Dole's proposal as ridiculous, arguing it would conflict with a U.S. agreement with Western allies and would anger friendly countries whose grain sales would be hurt by U.S. subsidies.

However, Speakes said Shultz was speaking on his own and that Reagan had not embraced the secretary's position. "You'll have to ask Shultz why he said what he said," Speakes said.

In Sydney, Australian Prime Minister Bob Hawke said he may lead a delegation scheduled to visit

Washington this week to lobby against subsidies because they would hurt Australian exports.

Police hear burglary reports

Sandra Roberts of 216 16th Street reported the burglary of her residence Sunday. Taken from the residence were guns, radar detector, jewelry and various other items. Total value of the stolen property was set at $3,689.

Another burglary was reported Saturday at the home of Cathy Young, 425 North 25 Mile Ave, where $400 worth of merchandise was taken.

Also reported Saturday was an assault stemming from a domestic disturbance, a traffic complaint, criminal mischief, the theft of two bicycles which were later recovered, assault in the 100 block of Sampson, and a harassment in the 100 block of Mimosa.

Reported Sunday was harassment in the 200 block of Ave. A, criminal mischief, harassment in the 300 block of Ave. K., assault in the 100 block of Lawton, criminal mischief, a bike theft, and shoplifting from a local convenience store.

Two arrests were made Saturday for public intoxication and warrants. On Sunday, three arrests were made on warrants, and one arrest was made for driving while license suspended.

Ann Landers Always two sides

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I read with interest the letter in your column from the woman whose husband had stopped talking to her. My wife put it on my dinner plate last night.

As usual there are two sides to every story. Here is my side: Early in our marriage, my wife took an adversarial position every time I opened my mouth. For example, if I said, "It looks like we're going to have a beautiful day," she would reply, "Not really. The forecast says we'll have showers by evening."

My wife has a rare talent for turning the most benign remark into a full-blown fight. I could be talking about a baseball game and suddenly she would attack me for something I said to her 10 years ago. I finally decided the only way to avoid the screaming fights was to simply stop speaking to her. That's exactly what I did. Divorce is out of the question because we work together and have a highly successful business.

So you see, Ann, there are always two sides to every story. You only get one side of it at a time, and of course the person who writes slants the story to favor him (or her) self.

Nevertheless I find your column fascinating.—A DIFFERENT KIND OF MARRIAGE IN NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

DEAR DIFF: You call that a marriage? Sounds like a pair of matched mules to me.

Now that you've told me your side, I'd like to hear from your wife.

Hand her this column. Her reply could be the first step toward a decent life for you both.

I hope you will find the next letter interesting.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My wife passed away recently. While going through some of her old papers I came across this poem that she had clipped from your column. That dear woman was a great admirer of yours. Please print it again someday. It is good!—LONESOME AT 73 IN MISSOURI

DEAR MO: Thanks for asking. Here it is.

Woman was made from the rib of man.

She was not created from his head to top him.

Nor from his feet to be stepped on.

She was made from his side to be protected by him.

From beneath his arm to be protected by him.

Near his heart to be loved by him.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The letter about the clergyman who broke the confidence of a parishioner moved me to write about something that has been on my conscience for several years. Please tell me if you think I was right or wrong.

In 1974 a 15-year-old girl came to me to talk about her troubles. (I am a minister's wife). She had confided in me from time to time but on that particular visit she sounded almost suicidal. I decided to alert her mother to the seriousness of the situation. The woman had no idea things were so bad.

The young girl did not speak to me for a long time. I'm sure she knew I had spilled the beans. Was I justified? I was willing to risk the friendship to possibly save her life.—AN EXCEPTION IN OHIO

DEAR EX: Sorry, dear. You broke a confidence and no amount of rationalization can make it right. You should have urged the girl to seek professional help and arranged for a therapist to see her. She could then have told her mother as much or as little as she wanted to.

Got those wedding bell blues over cost...guest list...what to wear...and other details? Ann Landers' "New Bride's Guide" will help. For a copy, send $2.00 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope (39 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1995, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

Average daily consumption only 2.1 ounces

For years Americans have thought of themselves as big meat eaters, but new ways of measuring meat consumption show that isn't the case.

Until last year, annual per person red meat consumption was figured by the U.S. Department of Agriculture on the basis of carcasses sold, says meat scientist Dr. Dan Hale.

According to the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service specialist, that's like reporting the yearly sweet corn consumption by including the weight of the corn stock, husk, corn silk and cob in the figure.

New figures take into account that meat packers and store butchers remove fat, bone and gristle before meat is placed in the grocery store meat case.

Hale says these figures show that the average daily consumption of red meat is 2.1 ounces per day, which is less than the recommended daily allowance of two 3-ounce servings of cooked lean meats or meat alternates.

Extension nutritionist Mary K. Sweeten points out that red meat, poultry and fish are a major source of protein, niacin, B-vitamins, iron, phosphorus and zinc.

Consumers should choose among these protein foods and protein alternates for variety in their diets, she says. Protein alternates include dried beans and peas, eggs and various nuts and seeds.

"Some people are convinced that the way to reduce the fat intake in their diets is to cut back on these protein foods," Sweeten says, "but foods from this group can be selected and prepared so that the amount of fat is quite modest."

The nutritionist recommends choosing lean cuts of red meat, trimming off visible fat from meat, removing the skin from chicken and preparing by baking or broiling instead of frying.

"Average consumption figures don't tell the whole story," she maintains. "People should monitor their own meat consumption to see if they are getting an appropriate amount, rather than assuming that we all eat too much meat."

POLLY'S POINTERS

Coloring eggs not just for easter

By Polly Fisher

DEAR POLLY — My mom used to dye peeled hard-boiled eggs in beet juice. They were pretty and good to eat. Is there any way to get colors other than pink for colorful edible eggs? — SANDRA

DEAR SANDRA — Using either peeled or in-the-shell hard-cooked eggs, you can produce a rainbow of colorful eggs from dyes that are safe, natural and easy to make from various foods. The basic procedure is to boil the dye material in water until the water takes on a color several shades darker than you want your eggs to be. Then place the cooked eggs in the colored water until they take on the desired color. Here are some suggestions for various colors. Yellow: yellow onion skins; blue: blueberries or red cabbage; brown: tea leaves or coffee; green: spinach or parsley.

You can also dye eggs in unsweetened soft drink powder (although these may contain artificial colors and flavors). Dissolve a package (2-quart size) of unsweetened drink powder of the desired color in a cup of hot water and immerse the egg until it takes on the proper tint.

Dr. Walton

Foul Ups win Y-league title

The Foul Ups, a YMCA co-ed softball team, used two one-run decisions to capture first place honors in the YMCA League that finished up Sunday afternoon at St. Anthony's field.

The Foul Ups defeated Tri-State 13-14 in the first game of the final round, and then squeaked by Tri-State again by a 13-12 score to win the championship.

On the way to the championship, the Foul Ups got by Smith's by a forfeit, then lost to Tri-State 19-11, sending them to the consolation bracket. The Foul Ups then defeated the Death Brokers and Hereford State Bank by lopsided scores. They then got by the YMCA team to earn a rematch with Tri-State in the finals.

Tri-State made it to the finals by routing the Mix-Ups 22-2, and the YMCA 12-8.

The YMCA placed third in the tourney.

In the first round of the championship encounter, the Foul Ups used a nine-run fifth inning to take a 14-9 advantage, but the Tri-State team fell short in their comeback effort in the seventh inning — they could only put four runs across the plate.

The Foul Ups were paced by Mike Culp who belted two homeruns and Erasmo Gonzales who hit one round tripper. Gonzales also hit 4 for 4.

In the championship game, the Foul Ups scored in all but two innings. After the regulation seven innings were completed, the two teams were deadlocked at 12-12. In the eighth inning, Christa Culp of the Foul Ups got on base via an error. With two outs and a runner on second, Mike Culp delivered the game winning double to put the Foul Ups in front. In the bottom of the inning, the Foul Ups faced three batters and retired them in succession to claim the title. Gonzales also hit two homeruns in the final game.

Slugger shy about Astro homer

By DICK BRINSTER
AP Sports Writer

Glenn Davis, an emerging slugger desperately seeking anonymity, was a reluctant hero when it came time to take a curtain call following a game-winning homer.

"I didn't want to go out," the 26-year-old Houston first baseman said Monday night after his three-run eighth-inning homer gave the Astros a 4-2 victory over the Atlanta Braves. "It blew my mind. I did not want to get high on the cheers. I wanted to be low-keyed."

But Davis, whose homer was his 22nd this season, relented as a crowd of 24,597 at the Astrodome roared its approval. It was a touching scene for a man who contemplated suicide as a teen-ager.

"People have been digging up a lot of stuff from my past lately," said Davis, who as a teen-ager put a gun to his head and a knife to his stomach. "Maybe a psychologist could explain it, I don't know how to understand it."

"There's just a lot of things I haven't dealt with before. Your mind starts to feel the pressure."

And pressure was what Davis was feeling against Atlanta's Doyle Alexander. He came to bat mired in an 1-for-20 slump, with the only hit a run-scoring single in the first inning.

Elsewhere in the National League, it was New York 9, Chicago 2; Pittsburgh 7, Montreal 4; St. Louis 3, Philadelphia 1; San Diego 5, Cincinnati 2, and Los Angeles 2, San Francisco 1.

Mets 9, Cubs 2

New York, combining the tight pitching and clutch hitting that has become its trademark, increased its runaway lead to 16½ games over Montreal by mauling Chicago.

Bob Ojeda, 12-2, who leads the major leagues with a 2.28 earned run average, scattered five hits and struckout seven in as many innings. Roger McDowell pitched out of an eighth-inning jam for his 10th save.

Howard Johnson's three-run double keyed a four-run first inning against Chicago's Scott Sanderson. Rookie Kevin Mitchell went 3-for-3, including a solo home run, his ninth. Darryl Strawberry added a two-run homer in eighth, his 16th.

Dodgers 2, Giants 1

The Los Angeles bullpen, which has struggled nearly all season, was badly in need of relief. Enter Orel Hershiser, whose sixth complete game gave them just that against slumping San Francisco.

Hershiser, 10-7, pitched a three-hitter and singled in a run in the fourth inning. He also struck out 10 batters to equal his season high, and walked three in recording his 10th career shutout.

Cardinals 3, Phillies 1

Alan Knicely pitched a nice time to hit his first homer of the season. It broke a 1-1 tie in the ninth inning at Philadelphia, and gave the victory to control artist Danny Cox, who pitched a three-hitter as St. Louis won its seventh straight game.

"I did everything right," Knicely said of the 408-foot drive over the center field fence.

Cox, 5-8, struck out eight, matching his career high, and walked none to extend his walkless streak to 25 innings.

Padres 5, Reds 2

It hadn't rained for so long that it poured — home runs that is — for San Diego at Cincinnati's Riverfront Stadium. Solo shots by Tony Gwynn, Kevin McReynolds and Jerry Royster had Padres circling the bases for the first time in eight games.

Andy Hawkins, 7-7, scattered seven hits over 8 1-3 innings as San Diego broke a three-game losing streak.

Pirates 7, Expos 4

Switch-hitter R.J. Reynolds was happy because the RBI single he hit in a four-run seventh came as a right-handed hitter.

"I've been working hard all year long, trying to hit well from the right side," said Reynolds, who is batting .213 right-handed, but .330 from the left side. An earlier two-run double was hit left-handed.

Montreal's losing streak was extended to four games.

Brain cancer

claims Braxton

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Former Buffalo Bills fullback Jim Braxton, whose lead blocks opened holes for O.J. Simpson in the 1970s, died of brain cancer at Roswell Park Memorial Institute. He was 37.

Braxton, a star running back at the University of West Virginia, played for the Bills from 1971 to mid-season 1978, when he was traded to the Washington Redskins. He finished his career that year with the Miami Dolphins.

In 1989, John L. Sullivan went 75 rounds to win the last heavyweight championship boxing match fought with bare knuckles.

American League

Clancy earns No. 100

By JOHN NELSON
AP Baseball Writer

Victory No. 100 was a long time arriving for Jim Clancy. But when it arrived, it got there in a hurry.

In his 10th season with the Toronto Blue Jays, Clancy took only 1 hour 55 minutes Monday night to throw a four-hitter that beat the Kansas City Royals 6-0. He threw just 81 pitches in becoming the first Toronto pitcher to reach three figures in victories.

"It seems like a long time, and it is," Clancy said. "I usually don't throw very good against Kansas City, but I really felt good all night. Everything just fell into place for me."

Clancy's performance helped the Blue Jays snap a three-game losing streak during which they had gone 33 innings without scoring a run. Tony Fernandez drove in four runs with a triple and a homer for Toronto.

In other American League action, Boston defeated Chicago 3-1, Milwaukee dined New York 5-4, Detroit beat Cleveland 5-1, California defeated Oakland 6-3, Baltimore edged Texas 4-3 and Minnesota beat Seattle 6-5 in 11 innings.

Red Sox 3, White Sox 1

Al Nipper became the first Red Sox pitcher, other than Roger Clemens, to win a game since July 10, benefitting from Don Baylor's two-run homer as Boston extended Chicago's losing streak to eight games.

The Red Sox have won just three of their last 11 games, two by Clemens.

Brewers 5, Yankees 4

Robin Yount drove in three runs with a pair of triples, pacing Milwaukee over New York and dropping the Yankees four games back of Boston in the AL East. Young drove in one run with a triple to the gap in left-center in the first inning, then drove in two more runs in a three-run second with another three-base hit.

Tigers 5, Indians 1

Jack Morris won his fifth straight game, although his string of 44 2-3 innings without allowing an earned run ended in the sixth inning on Andre Thornton's sacrifice fly. Morris hadn't allowed an earned run since July 4. In the interim, he pitched three straight shutouts and saw his ERA fall from 4.23 to 3.21.

Angels 6, A's 3

Doug DeCinces had a double and home run to drive in three runs, and the Angels defeated Oakland to end the A's seven-game winning streak.

Kirk McCaskill worked eight innings for his 12th victory, allowing six hits before Donnie Moore came on to get the final three outs.

Orioles 4, Rangers 3

Larry Sheets singled in the tie-breaking run in the eighth inning to boost Baltimore over Texas. Storm Davis allowed five hits over seven innings, and Don Aase earned his league-leading 27th save with two scoreless innings, giving up another two hits.

Twins 6, Mariners 5

Kirby Puckett drove in his fourth run of the game with an 11th-inning single that boosted Minnesota over Seattle. Puckett ignited a four-run eighth inning with a three-run homer as the Twins came back from a 4-0 deficit. The homer was the 21st for the rookie Puckett.

Attorney claims bond too high for Bias' alleged supplier

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (AP) — An attorney for Brian Lee Tribble, the man who prosecutors say supplied the cocaine that killed Len Bias, says the $250,000 bond set for his client is too high.

Tribble, 24, surrendered to sheriff's deputies Monday and was jailed when he was unable to post bond. He was scheduled for a bond hearing today before a circuit court judge.

His attorney, Thomas C. Morrow, filed a motion for a bond reduction, calling the $250,000 amount "unconscionable, unless bail is reduced substantially," in papers filed with the court.

"It is the equivalent of no bail at all, due to (Tribble's) lack of resources," he wrote.

Tribble, who is scheduled to be arraigned Friday, was charged in a sealed indictment with distributing cocaine, possessing cocaine with intent to distribute, possessing cocaine and possessing PCP, his other attorney, William Cahill said.

Circuit Judge Joseph S. Casula on Monday ordered the indictment against Tribble unsealed.

Two of Bias' basketball teammates at the University of Maryland who were in the College Park dormitory room with the All-American when he died were served notice of their indictment, but were not required to turn themselves in, Prince George's County Sheriff James Aluisi said.

David Gregg, 19, and Terry Long, 22, were indicted by the grand jury and charged with possession of cocaine as well as obstruction of justice for "removing evidence from 1103 Washington Hall ... during and after the commission of a crime," according to the indictment.

They are scheduled to be arraigned Aug. 8 in Prince George's County Circuit Court. Their attorney, Alan J. Goldstein, accepted service of the indictment against them. They will remain free until their arraignment.

In papers filed Monday, Morrow said Tribble needs 18 hours of college credits to earn a bachelor's degree and has lived with his parents in northeast Washington most of his life.

Tribble's mother, Loretta Tribble, interviewed at the courthouse, said she had been subpoenaed to testify before the grand jury investigating Bias' death and believed her testimony would support her son's innocence.

She said she was shocked by her son's alleged involvement with drugs.

Tribble, Long and Gregg were with Bias early in the morning of June 19 when he died of what the state medical examiner said was cocaine intoxication.

Bias had spent the night celebrating with friends the realization of his dream of being drafted to play for the Boston Celtics. He had been the Celtics' first choice, and the second player taken in the NBA draft, just two days before he died.

Arthur A. Marshall Jr., state's attorney for Prince George's County, said before the grand jury handed up the indictments that he believed Tribble supplied the cocaine that killed Bias.

Tribble was identified as the man who placed a 911 emergency call to the Prince George's County rescue squad after Bias was stricken, according to a tape recording of the conversation released a week ago.

Benefit scramble slated for weekend

A Gristown Benefit Golf Scramble will be sponsored in Hereford on Saturday by the Hereford VFW Post.

The entry fee of $75 a person includes green fees, carts, supper on Saturday night and breakfast on Sunday morning. The teams for the scramble will be paired by tournament officials.

The event will be held at Pitman Municipal Golf Course. To enter the scramble, call the golf course at 364-2782 or the Hereford VFW Post at 364-9025.

Physicals needed

Athletes in the seventh grade and the tenth grade must have a physical before they can participate in school athletics.

Athletic Director Don Cumpston reminds athletes in their first year in high school or first year in junior high school that they need to have the physicals.

Cumpston said this is particularly important for teams such as the football and volleyball teams, which will have preseason practices before school starts.

Jury deliberates football suit

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal court jury enters its fourth day of deliberations in the USFL's $1.69 billion antitrust suit against the NFL, and there are few indications what course the panel will take.

The five women and one man met for 10 hours Monday, finally leaving the federal courthouse shortly after 9 p.m. EDT. That brought to 25 hours the amount of time they have devoted to the case since getting it last Thursday.

Deliberations were to resume today at 9:30 a.m. EDT.

The jurors sent only one message to U.S. District Judge Peter K. Leisure on Monday, but it indicated they hadn't progressed past the first two of 60 questions Leisure ordered them to answer before reaching a verdict. The jury asked Leisure to clarify his instructions about determining the relevant markets and submarkets for professional football.

In simplest terms, those questions from Leisure ask:

— Is the market in which the USFL and NFL are playing simply professional football, or does the market encompass professional and college football? That is an important distinction, because if college football is included, the NFL's percentage of the market would be much smaller and its "monopoly" control lessened.

— Is the sub-market of television limited to the three major networks or is cable also included? The NFL argued throughout the 11-week trial that the USFL had access to cable and thus had other outlets even if the three commercial networks were tied up.

In their note to Leisure, the jurors said they wanted clarification of that part of Leisure's charge, which includes several complex legal points that even some lawyers have difficulty understanding. Leisure later told the jurors that they could interpret both market and sub-market as broadly as they saw fit.

Year-round television season being examined

LOS ANGELES (AP) — What NBC's Brandon Tartikoff has in mind is eventually extending the television season to 52 weeks a year.

That may be the reality of the future, considering the networks' tough competition from cable, independent stations, videocassettes, direct satellite broadcasting and Fox Broadcasting's upcoming fourth network.

"We're trying some original summer programming and we want to see how much we'll be supported in our efforts," said Tartikoff, president of NBC Entertainment.

"I've found in part that if you do a summer series the advertisers want a rate comparable to reruns. The rerun rates are lower, but we've already paid for the program so that's where we make our profit. But we feel it's important to experiment. Summer is the time when you can try new producers and new writers because the stakes are smaller.

"It's a time, too, when if you're having trouble with a certain show you can warm up the time period while the competition is at half-mast. And, third, it has to do with the changing landscape of television. We don't do it, somebody else will. Cable or Fox or somebody."

He says he would like to see a 52-week season. The season normally begins in September and runs into April, 30 weeks. But, as Tartikoff points out, the important May sweeps falls outside of the season. And the pay television networks release much original programming in the summer.

Tartikoff, who, in seven years as NBC's chief programmer, engineered the network's rise to first place in prime time last season, said he decided to step up NBC's original summer programming.

Last week, the network ran "C.A.T. Squad," a movie written by Gerald Petievich ("To Live and Die in L.A.") and directed by Oscar winner William Friedkin ("The French Connection").

That's a movie NBC normally would save for the fall. Tartikoff said the on-air promotion for "C.A.T. Squad" was 150 percent higher than normal.

NBC has begun a new summer series called "Dalton's Code of Vengeance," which will have four episodes. Another summer series, "Me and Mrs. C," concluded Saturday.

In August, Phil Donahue will have a five-part series called "Phil Donahue Examines the Human Animal."

NBC also is running "1986," its new news magazine, eight original theatrical movies, eight to 10 rejected pilots, two specials called "Spitting Image," a Tom Brokaw special on cocaine and a movie in September called "Popeye Doyle" (based on the character from "The French Connection" but not made by Friedkin).

"This gives us a chance as a network to use the summer as an experiment," said Tartikoff. "It gives us an opportunity to test our promotion techniques as well as our programs."

At the other networks, ABC is running about 10 rejected pilots, two movie specials in August, original "20-20" segments and a three-hour special Wednesday night called "After the Sexual Revolution." On Sept. 3, ABC will broadcast a documentary called "America's 30 Million Illiterates."

CBS will broadcast a special prime-time edition of "The Price Is Right" for six weeks beginning Thursday, Aug. 14. In addition, the network has about five original movies, including "Sophie's Choice," "Dragonslayer" and "Under the Rainbow" and about seven rejected pilots.

CBS also has broadcast its "West 57th" news magazine show this summer.

Fans uncover 'Dallas' filming site

WYLIE, Texas (AP) — Binoculars in hand, Jean Graham and Carol Ireland scanned the crowd for sight of J.R. Ewing or his brother, Bobby.

"Where's Larry Hagman and Patrick Duffy?" Ms. Graham asked desperately hoping for a look at the two stars of the blockbuster television series, "Dallas."

Neither Hagman nor Duffy, the show's two principal stars, showed up and none of the action or dialogue revealed anything about how Bobby Ewing returns to the show after being killed off last season. The women stayed anyway.

Just about each summer, the cast of "Dallas" return to the show's namesake for some filming. On this particular day, the filming was in this Dallas suburb.

Ms. Graham, Ms. Ireland and a few others dig hung around the parking lot of Steaks Over Texas as technicians and crew members geared up.

Shooting locations like this one along State Highway 78 northeast of Garland are top secret.

So where did these women come from?

"A woman I go to church with knows someone who works for the City of Wylie, and I guess the film company has to file with the city where it is going to shoot," Ms. Graham said.

The action on this day focused on Steve Kanaly, who plays Ewing family member Ray Krebbs. He made a call from a phone along the highway, then went to a bar (in this case, the restaurant), and ordered a beer, sitting down with Steve Forrest for a brief chat. Forrest plays Southfork Ranch foreman Wes Parmalee.

The director, Michael Preece, and his two assistants, set the scenes.

A few hours later and a short distance down the road, the process repeats itself, this time at the Rushin Lumber Co. Bonnie Rushin and her son, Kevin, watch the crew arrive and begin setting up. The lumber company has been turned into a feed store for filming purposes.

Later in the afternoon, as the crew packed to leave, Ms. Rushin emerged from the company hardware store after spending some time checking out Kanaly.

"He's stuck up," she reported to a friend.

"I don't think so," the friend said.

CLASSIFIED ADS
 Classified advertising rates are based on a minimum of 20 words. One day is 13 cents per word or $2.60 minimum. Rates below are for consecutive issues, no copy change, and apply to solid ad lines only.

TIMES	RATES	MIN.
1 day per word:	.13	2.60
2 days per word:	.22	4.40
3 days per word:	.31	6.20
4 days per word:	.40	8.00
5th day FREE

Add 3 cents per word for additional days: 10 days (2 free) is 15.20 minimum; 15 days (3 free) is 22.40; month 27.80.

Classified display rates apply for special captions, paragraphing, bold type or larger type, and ads not set with full lines. $2.60 per column inch. $2 a column inch for additional insertions, or $1.75 a column inch per month.

LEGALIS
 Advertising rates for legal notices are $3.50 per column inch for the first insertion and $3 per column inch for consecutive issues.

Deadlines for classified ads are 3 p.m. daily for the next day's edition; 3 p.m. Friday for Sunday's edition. Cash is required on advertisements under $10.

ERRORS
 Every effort is made to avoid errors in Classified Ads and legal notices. We will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion. Advertisers should call attention to any errors immediately after the first insertion. In case of errors not the fault of the advertiser, an additional insertion will be given.

Summer cartooning class teaches kids about humor

By LINDA BURKE Mid-Cities Daily News

NORTH RICHLAND HILLS, Texas (AP) — Cartoonists may not be just for kids, but artist and cartoonist Richard Hlad thinks today's children could be tomorrow's cartoon and comic strip geniuses.

Hlad, an assistant art professor at Tarrant County Junior College's Northeast Campus, has taught a summer cartooning class for 8- to 11-year-olds for four years.

"Sometimes getting them to think and draw is like extracting teeth," he said.

Hlad attributes the popularity of cartoons to people's appreciation of a good joke and said everyone grows up on cartoons.

"Even some of the children in the class have said they have seen their parents sneak in the living room to watch cartoons on TV," he said.

A good cartoonist has a sense of humor and an ability to see a twisted side and something funny in everything, Hlad said.

"You don't have to be a profound artist to be a good cartoonist," he said. "Sometimes the simpler works better than the more complex."

Many famous cartoon and comic-strip characters, he said, are drawn from simple numbers or shapes like triangles and circles.

Hlad has introduced the children to all types of cartoon drawing including caricatures, editorial cartoons, and single panel and multi-panel comic strips.

"However, today's kids are more visual with all the cartoons and comic strips," he said.

Hlad's background is in painting and printmaking. He refers to cartooning as his "kidside."

"Cartooning is an avenue or a way of expressing oneself," he said.

The summer cartooning class is great for the youngsters, Hlad said, because it gives them some positive exposure to art.

"Since budgetary cutbacks by the Legislature for education, many schools have been forced to scale down or eliminate their fine arts programs," he said.

Colby Collins, 9, of Fort Worth, said he joined the class because he wants to become a professional cartoonist.

"I like it because you can make people uglier, wilder, funnier and bigger than they really are," he said.

Eight-year-old Kristi Kossler of Colleyville signed up for the cartooning class to sharpen her drawing skills.

"I like to draw, and was one of the best drawers in my second-grade class," she said.

If the children can't come up with their own ideas, Hlad provides idea cards of animals, people, places and situations for them to use. The cards are shuffled and one is picked from each category. Hlad said they can provide for some truly comical combinations.

Nine-year-old Jeremiah Johnson, who was working diligently on his comic strip of a hippo climbing up a skyscraper to meet a bus driver at the zoo, said his favorite comic strips are Beetle Bailey and Garfield.

"I like to draw, but cartooning is just a hobby for me," said Johnson, who's from North Richland Hills.

New song salutes cotton farmer

MEMPHIS — Coal miners, lumberjacks, cowboys, and Marines have all been immortalized in song...and now it's the cotton farmer's turn.

Mississippi song writer and recording artist Paul Ott has paid a musical salute to cotton farmers whom he describes as "the ones who put the white in the red, white, and blue."

Ott's song goes on to salute cotton farmers as men who have repeatedly persevered despite lean times and seemingly little hope.

Entitled "Cotton Man," the song is currently being aired by radio stations across the Cotton Belt.

The recording was produced under a grant to The Cotton Foundation by FMC Corporation.

Dr. Arlie Bowling, executive director of The Foundation, said the song is a well-deserved tribute to the cotton farmer.

"We also are gratified that FMC is contributing all the proceeds from the sale of the record to support cotton research," he stated.

The record, which sells for $5 can be ordered from The Cotton Foundation, P.O. Box 12284, Memphis, Tenn. 38182.

We Don't Mind Save'n Gain Shooting at Us ... We Just Wish They'd Shoot Straight!

Each week, Smith's compares everyday prices on dozens of items to the same items at Save 'n Gain. As our ads point out, our prices are always lower. But Save 'n Gain would have you believe differently.

Each week, Save 'n Gain checks prices on our ads. Then they adjust their prices and publish them the following week, making Save 'n Gain appear lower.

PLEASE, Save 'n Gain, SHOOT STRAIGHT!

Our ads always include the date our surveys take place. Until Save 'n Gain has time to adjust their prices, Smith's prices are lower.

Don't be fooled by Save 'n Gain's tricks. Make sure you're getting the lowest overall and everyday prices in Hereford. SHOP SMITH'S!

GARDEN FRESH PRODUCE

PAMPERED PRODUCE LOWER PRICES

Smith's produce is pampered from the moment it leaves the field or orchard. That's why we guarantee it to be the freshest, best quality produce you can buy. And we price it so that no other major supermarket has a lower everyday price on produce of comparable size and quality. If you are ever dissatisfied with anything from our Produce Department, return it to the store for replacement or full refund. We want to be your Produce Store.
