READING AND WRITING

"BEHIND THE BALLOTS," by James A. Farley (Harcourt, Brace: $3).

When Jim Farley's "Behind the Ballots" came along this department shivered and said under its breath "here's a book we've got to do something about, most certainly."

The remarkable thing is that what looked like a thundering bore at the outset became shortly an experience of real interest. The book is not what you'd think—it is not a bucket of whitewash either for Farley or for national politics in general.

On the contrary, it really tells how men and issues are manipulated, how delegates are snared, how deals are made, how feuds are begun and ended.

We're not so naive as to suppose that Farley has told everything. There are spots where it seems obvious that a few words were spoken behind a palm which are not in the record. And a great many things would have to be ignored in a book of this sort, however frank, because of libel laws and because of their bearing on other people's affairs. But it seems likely that Farley has told what he has told straight from the shoulder, and that means he has written a unique book.

The two most interesting sections, for this reader, are the first pages, which describe Farley's entrance into politics, and the section which tells of the extraordinarily subtle way in which Franklin D. Roosevelt was brought into the 1932 campaign, and ushered victoriously into the White House. Particularly the section first mentioned.

Farley was an Irish Catholic boy living in a little village a few miles north of New York City. He was so dazzled by politics that he actually served as town clerk several years while commuting daily to New York—and during this whole period he cancelled his fees as clerk in return for good will. Calvin Coolidge followed much the same plan, William Allen White shows in "A Puritan in Babylon." In addition, Farley learned early that to make an ally you first make a participant; people love to think they are in the know. That was the urge behind the barrage of letters Farley has laid down. The air is always white with Farley letters—no wonder he was given the post office department.

Slow Roasting Is Recommended For Best Results With Beef

By MARTHA LOGAN

Roast beef has been a national favorite in England for hundreds of years. The art of roasting dates back to the days when big joints of beef were slowly turned on spits before the roaring fire in the huge fireplace. With the coming of ranges, the method of roasting was modified and something of the finesse of the art was lost. There followed a period when roasts were seared in a hot oven and cooked quickly, with the result that there was a large amount of drippings and a great shrinkage of the meat.

Today, however, modern ranges with accurate temperature control make possible low slow roasting which produces a fine, well-browned, juicy roast of beef, much like those glorified in song and story in the English folk lore.

There has been much research work carried on in various experimental kitchens to compare the quality of beef roasted in a hot as compared to a slow oven. The conclusion from these studies is that roasting beef in a slow oven at 300 degrees to 350 degrees gives the finest result; that is, a juicy well-browned roast with a small quantity of drippings. And, strange to say, the fuel consumed in the long, slow cooking is less than that used at a high temperature for a shorter period. The tests also proved that searing does not hold in more juices and that for larger roasts, at least, the constant low temperature produces an equally browned roast. Another point in favor of the low constant temperature (300 degrees to 350 degrees) is that there is less spluttering of the oven. This means less work for the housewife and less odor and smoke from burned fat.

There are some who still prefer to sear the roast, then reduce the heat, but that means extra care and attention with no appreciable difference in the finish roast. So it is that modern directions for roasting are very sane, sensible, and simple.

The roast may be seasoned first, although the flavor does not penetrate more than half an inch or so into the meat. Place the roast, fat side up on a rack in an open pan. Use no water. Use no cover. No basting is necessary because the fat melts and runs down over the roast. Put into a slow oven 325 degrees F.) and roast until done.

The most accurate method of determining doneness is to use a meat thermometer. There are several makes on the market and any store that sells kitchen equipment can get meat thermometers at a reasonable price. The money invested will be saved many times over in the course of a year. To use, insert the meat thermometer into the roast so that the bulb reaches the center of the thickest muscle. Be sure it does not rest on fat or bone because then the temperature reading would not be accurate for the doneness of the meat. Remember that an oven thermometer, or oven gauge, records the temperature of the inside of the oven. A meat thermometer registers the temperature of the inside of the roast.

The minutes per pound for roasting vary with the size and shape of the roast. The heavier the roast the fewer minutes per pound are required. So, too, a long thin roast requires fewer minutes per pound than a short thick roast of the same weight, because the time of cooking depends on the distance the heat must travel to the center of the roast. For this reason, a six-pound rolled rib roast usually requires a longer cooking period than a six-pound standing rib roast. The meat thermometer is the only accurate way of getting every roast.

The following table shows the temperature readings for the meat thermometer and the approximate minutes per pound required for the inside of the roast to be heated to these temperatures:

Rare beef roast—140 degrees F. in about 18 to 20 minutes per pound.

Medium beef roast—160 degrees F. in about 22 to 25 minutes per pound.

Well-done beef roast—170 degrees F. in about 27 to 30 minutes per pound.

Although three to four pound beef roasts may be quite satisfactory, a roast of five pounds or over is usually more juicy. Rib and sirloin cuts of beef are best for oven roasts, although if one buys first-quality beef, rump, chuck, and top round also make excellent roasts. Tender meat, marbling of fat, a good outer layer of fat, and a small percentage of bone are the prerequisites for a good cut for oven roasting.

The art of roasting is now a science made so understandable and simple that every family may enjoy glorious roast beef.

Utility Firms Are Chazging Line-Ups

Proposals Submitted To Meet SEC's Deadline

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (AP)—The securities commission received today last-minute programs for re-shuffling $14,000,000 worth of utility industry assets.

All but a few companies had submitted proposals for integrating their operations in advance of the deadline fixed by William O. Douglas, SEC chairman.

"We confidently expect to know the intention of every company in the industry by midnight," Douglas said.

The commission announced late yesterday that the $188,000,000 American Gas and Electric company had filed a formal integration plan. The concern is a registered holding company in the Electric Bond and Share company system.

Under the utility holding company act, the holding company must re-arrange their scattered operating properties into closely-woven geographic units. They must also simplify their finances.

There may be a top holding company—referred to by Chairman Douglas as a "grandparent." This company may own a "parent" which, in turn, may have corporate relationships which sprang up from mergers of the 1920's must go.

Rails Won't Reduce Rate On Citrus

Wallace Told Lines In No Condition To Lower Tariff

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (AP)—Railroads rejected today a plea from Secretary Wallace for an emergency reduction in citrus freight rates, explaining the financial condition of rail lines was the most critical in their history.

A. F. Cleveland, vice-president of the Association of American Railroads, told the secretary in a letter existing rates on citrus fruits were much lower than the maximum authorized by the interstate commerce commission.

He said the association's traffic advisory committee had been informed by the agriculture department the season's record crop of oranges and grapefruit was no larger than the normal production which could be anticipated in years to come.

The secretary, Cleveland said, overestimated the increase in shipments that would result from a freight rate reduction.

Writing as the representative of the committee, a group of chief traffic officers, and other rail representatives, Cleveland said citrus rate reductions would cause similar requests from producers of many other commodities. To cut the citrus rates without cutting others, he said, would constitute in reality "a tax upon other traffic."

He said a large part of the crop this year would be purchased by the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation for relief distribution.

STOPOVER RULE ON FOREIGN SHOPPERS IS IN PROSPECT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (AP)—Usually reliable sources said today the customs bureau had recommended a 24-hour stop-over regulation for American shoppers in Mexico.

The recommendation, upon which Secretary Morgenthau has not yet acted, would provide that Americans shopping in Mexico be required to stay there at least 24 hours before they would be entitled to the $100 exemption granted tourists bringing home personal merchandise from a foreign country.

Recently, both the United States and Canada adopted a 48-hour stop-over requirement for the exemption on the northern border of the United States.

WORK WITH CONVICTS TO BE TOLD IN LECTURE TONIGHT

A talk on rehabilitation work among convicts will be given at the First Baptist church tonight by Col. John C. Habbirk, Salvation Army official who was formerly prison secretary for the organization in Chicago, and who has had many years experience in dealing with men in prison.

The program is scheduled for 7:30, and W. C. Blankenship will preside. Music will be under direction of Mrs. Bruce Frazier. Colonel Habbirk will speak on the subject, "Black Sheep," and an interesting message is promised. The public is invited to attend.

BAPTIST DONATIONS TO MISSIONS GAIN

ATLANTA, Dec. 1 (AP)—Southern Baptists increased their contributions to the Baptist home mission board by $18,249 during the first ten months of this year compared with the same period in 1937, Dr. J. B. Lawrence of Atlanta, executive secretary and treasurer, reported today. He said the increase was four per cent of $480,000, an increase from the cent, the total for the period $498,000 budget for 1938, and amounting to $444,004.

State Government Cost Would Jump 25 Pct. If All Over 65 Were Paid Pensions

Auditor Estimates Full $15 Monthly Would Cost $42,000,000 A Year

AUSTIN, Dec. 1 (AP)—State Auditor Tom C. King was on record today as estimating more than $42,000,000 a year additional revenue would be needed to pay $15-a-month state pensions to all persons over 65 years old in Texas.

The amount would jump the cost of state government in excess of 25 per cent. Submitting the estimate yesterday in an audit of the old age assistance administration's books for the fiscal year ending Aug. 31, King said the cost was figured on a social security board estimate of 284,000 people in Texas over the required age.

"That number of people is merely a guess," King said. "It was based on a nationwide average. Personally, I think it is low because more favorable climatic conditions obtain in Texas than in other states and the state's population is growing more rapidly than the average."

Governor-elect W. Lee O'Daniel favors $30-a-month pensions with the federal government matching the state's margin of $15. Present federal laws, however, permit matching of state funds with social security grants only when investigation by qualified case workers reveals a pension applicant in need of the money.

King said abolishment of horse race betting in the state largely accounted for a decrease of $248,000 in one classification of receipts.

He reported that on the present basis of income and outgo, with approximately 113,000 pensioners receiving $13.75 each, the pension set up would be more than $1,500,000 in the red by August, 1941. Disbursements exceeded receipts by nearly $370,000 during the fiscal year and were almost $900,000 when it closed.

Receipts from liquor, cigarette and other taxes during the period were slightly in excess of $18,100,000 while pension payments amounted to more than $18,500,000. The auditor said Texas' 392 pensioners per 1,000 estimated population of more than 65 years of age exceeded only four other states of the union.

anything that breeds hate is repulsive to me."

Ford said "It is my opinion that the German people, as a whole, are not in sympathy with their rulers in their anti-Jewish policies, which are the work of a few war-makers at the top."

"I believe that the United States cannot fail at this time to maintain its traditional role as a haven for the oppressed," Ford stated, "I am convinced not only that this country could absorb many of the victims who must find a refuge outside of their native lands, but that as many of them as could be admitted under our selective quota system would constitute a real asset to our country."

"Because of their special adaptability in the fields of production, distribution and agriculture, they would offer to the business of this country a new impetus at a time like this, when it is badly needed."

"I am confident that the time is near when there will be so many jobs available in this country that the entrance of a few thousand Jews, or other immigrants, will be negligible."

their country and carry on actively in support of Fascist Italy.

"When these requests met with refusal, threats of physical violence were made. When this did not succeed, Ungarelli set into motion an economic boycott against these persons."

At a later point, Martin declared that communists actively are trying to gain control of the labor movement in the United States, through both the CIO and the American Federation of Labor. He added, however, that the number of communist at work in this direction had been "over-emphasized."

"Like the nazis and the fascists," he said, "the communists are seeking control of labor organizations by getting into positions of leadership, by getting elected to office and by caucusing on policies before union meetings."

As to Ungarelli, Martin testified that merchants who obtained supplies from Italy were told they would be cut off from their sources if they did not accede to the vice-consul's demands.

The witness said the vice consul had come to Detroit in 1934 from Brazil, having been brought there "because of his effective methods in forcing Italians living in Brazil to become willing and pliable agents of the Italian Fascist government."

Martin said protests against Ungarelli finally were made to the state department and the latter made representations to the Italian government resulting in Ungarelli's recall.

O'Daniel's Advisory Board To Have A Closed Meeting
FORT WORTH, Dec. 1 (AP)—The meeting of W. Lee O'Daniel with his "citizens advisory board," here Monday will be a closed affair, the governor-elect said today.

"The meeting will not be of a political nature," O'Daniel said, "and will be completely private. The members of the board are not politicians and I have decided against permitting outside visitors."

The governor-elect declined to give any information as to what subjects will be discussed, saying "I don't know now what will come up. I won't know until we get together."

Committees Named For Cotton Vote

Arrangements Made For Referendum On AAA Policy

East and west district committees to conduct the cotton quota referendum on Dec. 10 were named here Wednesday evening by the county committee.

Voting for district A, the eastern half of the county, will be held in the east side of the district courtroom and at Vincent, Albert W. Heckler will be in charge as chairman, and A. Y. Miller and Willis Winters will aid him. Other helpers will be Glenn Cantrell, Louie Hutto and Norvin M. Smith.

District B, the western portion of the county, will vote in the west half of the district courtroom and at Knott, W. D. Lipcomb is chairman, and M. L. Hamlin and J. B. Sample are on the committee. Assisting will be L. H. Thomas, W. T. Bly and Arthur Stallings.

Folls in the four places will be open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. on Dec. 10 and any person who participated in any manner in the production of cotton during 1938 may cast a ballot for or against cotton marketing quotas established at the hands of the secretary of agriculture. If two-thirds of the farmers approve such quotas, they will be invoked.

Daladier To Demand Vote On Policies
Labor Uprising Crushed, He Calls Parliament

PARIS, Dec. 1 (AP)—Premier Daladier, having broken labor's effort to wreck his government by a general strike, announced today that he intended to call parliament into session December 8 and demand from it approval of his policies.

In government circles it was believed the stocky premier would muster sufficient strength to override the opposition of the communists and socialists, who backed yesterday's abortive strike as a protest against his economic decree laws.

Daladier, undisputed master of the situation, has ordered a three-year state of "economic mobilization" for the nation to carry through his program.

For parliamentary support he counted on a majority composed of his own radical-socialist party and groups further to the right.

The premier also considered punitive measures against labor, socialist and communist leaders of the abortive one-day general strike. He planned a cabinet meeting to discuss punishments.

It was considered possible that evidence of Italian territorial ambitions in France's North African possessions had much to do with the premier's decision to seek a new parliamentary mandate.

Shouts of "Tunisia! Tunisia!" by Italian deputies yesterday with Premier Mussolini looking on was taken by French officials to mean that France was facing a determined fascist campaign for control of the North African protectorate.

Foreign office sources reported that France was considering a formal protest against the Italian campaign. Daladier conferred with Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet and high officials met at the foreign ministry throughout the morning.

Many observers considered the development a serious setback to resumption of friendly relations and it was known that some of Daladier's close advisers had recommended recall of Ambassador Andre Francois-Poncet for a "vacation."

Roosevelt Confers On Congressional Program
WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Dec. 1 (AP)—President Roosevelt turned from vacation play today to start laying the foundation for his new congressional program.

Speaker Barkley was due here from his home in Alabama for a general discussion of party strategy and a legislative slate featuring defense proposals expected to call for an outlay of well over $1,000,000,000.

The new relief budget unofficially estimated to involve upwards of another $1,000,000,000 was scheduled for a second conference between the president and Henry L. Hopkins, WPA administrator.

PWA ANNOUNCES LOANS AND GRANTS
WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (AP)—The Public Works administration announced today loans of $1,857,500 and grants of $2,070,536 for 14 projects having a total construction cost of $4,601,781.

Officials said the funds had been made available through relocations of loans and grants for other projects.

The allotments included (grants unless otherwise specified): Grafad, Tex., water works, $1,500 loan and $1,027 grant; Houston, Tex., library, $3,071.

New Minister Is Speaker For Club

Forty-five Kiwanians in regular weekly session today at the Crawford hotel heard Dr. J. O. Haymes, new pastor of First Methodist church here, in the principal address. Since the Christmas season has official opening in Big Spring early next week, Dr. Haymes had for his subject "Christmas—Good Cheer."

"By good will I am not thinking about a mere 'wish you well' or 'Merry Christmas,'" the speaker said, "but rather the kind of good will that is expressed when we do something for some unfortunate person or group of persons... This sort of good will need not be reserved until Christmas time, but practiced every day in the year."

J. C. Allen had as his guest today E. N. Hunter, director of advertising for Southwestern Bell Telephone company, Fort Worth.

RED CROSS NEEDS ONLY $148 MORE

By Thursday noon, Shine Phillips, Red Cross chapter chairman, reported that the disparity between membership receipts and the objective had been worn down to $148.

"That," he said, "is all we need to give everybody in Howard and Glascock county a clear conscience in the matter. And there are a lot of our old Main street who need to clear their own membership business. They are able to subscribe."

Phillips said that the chapter officials were most anxious to secure the needed amount by Saturday evening.

Federal Monopoly Committee Launches Into Long Inquiry

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (AP)—The federal monopoly committee, after weeks of preliminary study, began today a two-year inquiry into the complex workings of the nation's economic system.

Recommendations eventually may be made for extensive changes in the system to promote competition, increase and stabilize employment, get a wider distribution of income, and control if not reverse the trend toward bigger and bigger business organizations.

The committee, composed of six members of congress and six representatives of government agencies, was called together at 9 a. m. (Central Standard Time). Isador Lubin, chief of the bureau of labor statistics, was the first witness to describe how the economic system now works.

Lubin will be followed by Willard Thorpe, commerce department economist, and Leon Henderson, committee secretary and former WPA economist. Thorpe will discuss the structure of the national economy, and Henderson will outline the future trends of the inquiry.

The committee next week will begin examination of business witnesses, studying first the problem of patents. An automobile executive will open this phase of the hearing—possibly Edsel Ford, president of the Ford Motor company; H. T. Keller, Chrysler president, or Alford P. Sloan or William S. Knudsen, president of General Motors.

Members of the committee represent a wide variety of viewpoints and backgrounds. They range from slender, brown-haired Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), a lawyer and former newspaper man, to dapper Richard G. Patterson, a New York business executive who came here several months ago as assistant secretary of commerce. O'Mahoney is chairman.

Other congressional members are Rep. Summers (D-Tex.), vice-chairman; Senator Borah (R-Ida), veteran foe of monopolies; Senator King (D-Utah), Rep. Reece (Tenn.); and Rep. Elcher (D-Iowa), appointed Tuesday to the securities commission by President Roosevelt.

Departmental members, besides Patterson and Lubin, are Thurman W. Arnold, assistant attorney general in charge of anti-trust prosecutions; Chairman William O. Douglas of the securities commission; Chairman Garland S. Ferguson of the federal trade commission, and Herman Oliphant, treasury general counsel.

said FBI agents would be employed if their help was needed.

It is generally expected the first major test of the law will begin when Administrator Andrews goes into court for an order to compel some non-complying employer to meet the requirements.

Government legal authorities said at least three types of test action are possible: 1. A petition by the administrator for an injunction to compel an employer to stop paying wages below the minimum, working hours above the maximum or shipping interstate commerce goods produced under illegal conditions.

2. A criminal action by the government. Attorneys said such action likely would be used only against obviously malicious violators.

3. A civil suit by an employer or group of employees to collect pay either because of an employer's failure to pay the minimum wage of 25 cents an hour or the time and a half rate for hours worked in excess of 44 a week.

Ultimately, all three types of cases probably will be used in enforcing the law, but as far as officials here know, only one legal action has been started to date.

Youth Accused As A Spy

Aircraft Worker Jailed After A Federal Inquiry

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 1 (AP)—The dreaded accusation—spy!—was leveled today at 21-year-old Karl Allen Drummond, aircraft worker, for what federal agents charged was a tawdry attempt to betray his country's military secrets to Japan for $2,000.

Arrested as the climax to a secret inquiry by the naval intelligence and G-men begun six months ago, the blond, blue-eyed square-jawed youth was clapped into jail last night on an espionage charge with his arraignment set for today.

An indictment by the federal grand jury alleged that young Drummond stole 150 photographs and 15 blueprints of a new naval plane from the Northrop plant and tried to peddle these, together with confidential construction papers, to Japanese officials.

The thefts, it was asserted, started last May, a year after the youth was hired in the advertising department of Northrop, a division of Douglas Aircraft Corp.

In turn, a Japanese government dignitary, a member of a Japanese plane-buying commission, and a Los Angeles Japanese attorney, were approached, but suspiciously turned down the overtures.

Drummond also was accused of purloining blueprints of an experimental bomber not yet off the drawing boards, and boarding a Japanese freighter in San Pedro harbor last May 28 in an attempt to sell them.

Govt. Takes Loss On Wheat Exports

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (AP)—Agriculture department officials said today that without a larger subsidy, stiff foreign competition and trade barriers may prevent the United States from achieving its export goal of 100,000,000 bushels of surplus wheat.

In an attempt to move that quantity of the grain into foreign markets before next July, the department inaugurated late in August an export subsidy program to expedite sales abroad. Under this program, the government buys grain at domestic prices and sells it to exporters at reduced rates.

By mid-November, sales to exporters totaled only 19,000,000 bushels. On this amount the government took a loss of about $2,380,000, or 12 1-2 cents a bushel. Exports made before the subsidy program was inaugurated totaled 25,000,000 bushels, bringing the season's total foreign sales to about 44,000,000 bushels.

Officials said, however, that export sales had dwindled to less than 3,000,000 bushels a month, largely because foreign buyers could purchase grain from other countries at lower prices.

New Borrowing To Hike Interest Cost Billion A Year

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (AP)—Treasury experts estimated today that new federal borrowing scheduled for Dec. 15 will increase the interest cost of the public debt to more than $1,000,000,000 a year.

It will be the largest interest cost since 1923, when the high rates on World war obligations pushed to $1,055,000,000 the carrying charges on a total debt of $22,349,000,000.

The anticipated billion dollar interest cost will support a debt of about $39,300,000,000—the total federal indebtedness after the new borrowing—because interest rates on government securities are now much lower.

Before the World war interest amounted to only $25,000,000 a year, but now it is the third largest item in the budget, being surpassed only by relief and national defense. It amounts to nearly a ninth of all federal costs.

Interest rates on the present federal debt range all the way from zero to 4 1-4 per cent, and averages 2.532 per cent.

Annual Campaign To Be Pushed This Month

Plans for a whirlwind membership campaign during December were mapped by the Howard County American Legion post at a banquet meeting at the Settles hotel Tuesday evening. It is the time of year for membership renewals, and each man present at the meeting pledged to be responsible for the addition of one renewal or new membership. All ex-service men in the county will be contacted in an effort to line them up in the Legion organization.

The post also voted to hold regular meetings on the first Monday of every month.

The unit voted a $100 contribution to the Salvation Army, pointing out that the Army in many cases helps ex-service men. Arrangements were made also to assist other organizations in Christmas charity activities.

The post went on record as taking a firm stand to combat the various "isms" which are threatening democratic ideals of this nation, and to pursue the national organization's program in behalf of Americanism.

SUIT IN PROSPECT ON MATANUSKA COOPERATIVE

PALMER, Alaska, Dec. 1 (AP)—Rugged individualism vs. government paternalism will be the issue in the next few days when a successful Matanuska colony farmer goes into United States district court to fight for his agricultural independence.

The farmer is Walter Pippel, Col. O. F. Ohlson, president of the Alaska Rural Rehabilitation corporation, which directs the federally-sponsored colony, said Pippel has made $11,000 in the last two years.

The dispute is over whether Pippel can operate independently of the colony's marketing cooperative. He and three other farmers recently became embroiled with the colony management on this issue as Pippel did his own marketing at Anchorage and other Alaska railroad points.

C. S. BLOMSFIELD, Manager

THE SPORTS PARADE

by HANK HART

The National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, so says Harry Faulkner, the White Sox good will man who paid Big Spring a visit last night, is sending a "surveyor" into this territory early next year to do a bit of campaigning before the 1939 WT-NM league season gets underway.

Incidentally Harry, who is going to the New Orleans baseball meeting six days away, doesn't know exactly where he stands with the Chicago White Sox at the present time.

The Wednesday evening meeting of the baseball directors initiated plans for the 1939 season here and officials are talking with enthusiasm.

From all indications a working agreement with a club of higher affiliation is the immediate objective of the group.

The business manager is the best idea sounded out by the leaders thus far and one that should be carried through.

Most of the club's liabilities have been turned into assets and the organization really has something to start on come 1939.

No new park is being planned at the present time but the West Fifth and San Antonio street plant is in for complete remodeling.

Faulkner suggested and the idea was weighed favorably that the city apply for a WPA grant for a new park within the near future.

Faulkner said he visited with Monte Stratton, the injured Chicago White Sox flinger who is abed in a Dallas hospital, before coming out here and said Monte was in bad shape.

S'west League Again Leader In Scoring

Record Shows A Decrease; Middle West In Second Place

By HERBERT W. BARKER

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (AP)—A decided swing toward the offense was revealed today by the Associated Press' 17th annual survey of nationwide football scoring records.

Thanks mostly to liberalized forward passing rules, the 212 teams included in the 1938 survey compiled the highest scoring average, per game, since 1931.

These teams scored an average of 114.36 points for the season while the 1,792 games they played produced an average of 13.33 points.

These figures compared with last year's average of 107.19 points per game and 12.36 points per game.

The rise in scoring unquestionably could be attributed mainly to the 1938 rules change which made only fourth-down passes into the end zone touchbacks.

Decrease In Ties Also helpful to the offense was the rules change which provided that a ball going out to bounds between the goal lines should be brought in 15 yards instead of 10.

One of the most striking developments of the season was the sharp decrease in ties, the game's chief bugbear.

Although it showed a drop from 1937's dizzy height, the Southwest once more led all sections in the scoring averages with 15.58 points per game with the Middle West a close second at 13.17.

San Jose Leader Individual leadership on the offense went to San Jose (Calif.) State, whose unbeaten array rolled up 310 points.

On defense, Duke's unbeaten Blue Devils stood all alone with an uncrossed goal line, although Mansfield (Pa.) Teachers had only a safety charged against them.

Nova makes an exceptionally fine write home now, whatever happens to him in the coming year.

What's more important, he boxes smoothly, has a good straight left and a powerful right that he likes to deliver under the heart.

From Canadian rugby came the idea conference coaches decided to try. It is the "rouge"—a point scored by the kicking team if its kick into the end zone is not returned to the field of play by the defensive eleven.

Any ball kicked into the end zone, whether a punt or an unsuccessful try for field goal, which is not kicked or run out scores a point for the kicking team under the rule.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (AP)—Report from Pittsburgh says the 19 freshmen in that scholarship-tuition row at Pitt will quit the Panther campus the end of this semester, and transfer to such other schools as Miami, Ohio State, 'Bama, etc.

The Boston Red Sox may not know it, but they'd have had Joe the Flash Gordon if it wasn't for Bill Reinhart, the George Washington U. baseball coach, who was then at Oregon.

Assume no one's overlooked the neat piece of work Clem (Seven Mile) Growe did at Xavier this year—winding up with seven straight wins after dropping two close ones.

TCU Stars Voted Most Valuable HOUSTON, Dec. 1 (AP)—Davey O'Brien and Kl Aldrich, stars of Texas Christian university's undefeated, untied Horned Frogs, were the most valuable players in the Southwest conference in the opinion of sports writers in the seven conference cities.

Definite assurance that the Big Spring club would be represented at the annual minor league meeting of professional baseball leagues, scheduled for New Orleans, Dec. 7, was indicated in Wednesday evening's meeting of officials in Club President R. L. Cook's office.

Mason-Sunset Game To Draw 25,000 Fans

Game To Be Played In Cotton Bowl; Breck Due To Win

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Staff

Sixteen survivors of grueling district campaigns that sent more than 90 teams into football oblivion squared off today for the first round in the Texas schoolboy championship race.

It's the start of the main show in which there are four big acts—the finale coming around Christmas day when the nineteenth annual championship will be decided.

Five games tomorrow and three Saturday will cut the field to eight teams with Tyler's Lions and Lufkin's Panthers holding the top spot on the schedule.

The game that will probably draw the largest attendance will be at Dallas Saturday when Masonic Home's "iron men" battle unbeaten Sunset. Between 25,000 and 30,000 fans are expected to jam the Cotton Bowl.

White Jerseys Will Be Used January 1 Says Tom Stidham, Sooner Mentor, Who Dialikes Jinx

NORMAN, Okla., Dec. 1 (AP)—Big Tom Stidham, Oklahoma university grid coach, admits it was superstition that prompted him to ban red jerseys, but after glancing at his supporting evidence the fans believe he may be on the right track.

The Sooners have blossomed out in red three times the past two seasons and immediately thereafter Big Tom has seen his team (1) lose a Big Six title on a fuke pass completion; (2) lose four backs by injury; and (3) lose a key defender by injury.

Unbeaten From that day on, the Sooners wore their white jerseys in every game. They haven't been beaten since.

But last Saturday Oklahoma Aggie officials notified Stidham the Aggies planned to wear white. So Stidham used red jerseys against his better judgment.

Howard "Red" McCarty, crazy-legged junior halfback, was carried off the field with a broken leg. Then Gene Corralto, senior first-string halfback, was hurt so badly he may miss Saturday's game here with Washington State.

Otis Rogers, another senior, was knocked unconscious and Robert "Chief" West, sophomore back, was injured. The Sooners won, 19 to 0, but that was more injuries than they had suffered all the rest of the season.

Yesterday Stidham put red jerseys on the boys for pictures. A sophomore center will be out this week with a leg injury.

The Sooners meet Tennessee in the Miami, Fla., Orange Bowl game Jan. 2—in white jerseys.

LOOKABAUGH MAY BE RETURNED TO OKLAHOMA A&M

STILLWATER, Okla., Dec. 1 (AP)—The athletic cabinet recommended today that Jim Lookabaugh return to Oklahoma A. and M. college—this time as head football coach.

LOOKABAUGH WAS GRADUATED from the Aggies in 1925. A three-letter man, he turned to high school coaching, first at Jet and is now at Oklahoma City Capitol Hill. In 14 seasons, seven of them were marked by no defeat for his grid-sters.

DIVERSIFICATION THE ANSWER

Victor H. Schoffelmayer, agricultural editor of the Dallas News, paints a gloomy picture of the cotton problem in this state by stating that the industry from farmer to exporter faces the gravest crisis in its history.

The figures that he offers are most useful in supporting the diversification thesis which is far from new. The world supply of 51,000,000 bales, the highest in history, is enough to meet all needs for the next two years the American carryover stands at 13,600,000 bales, an all-time high.

Mr. Schoffelmayer makes a persuasive plea that the traditional Texas cotton farmer must diversify.

The serious situation as described was not arrived at overnight, any more than it will be solved with the same promptness.

The urgent appeal to the farmer to plant crops other than cotton is timely in view of the nearness of the time when the man in the country will begin his annual production cycle.

LAND SEIZED MEXICO CITY, Dec. 1 (AP)—The newspaper Dairio today reported the expropriation of 7,230 acres of farmland from the ranch of Weller Lettlow, an American, near Muzquiz, Coahuila state.

THE PRESIDENT'S OPPORTUNITY AND HIS CHOICE

In this interval between the elections in November and the convening of the new congress in January the president will make a decision which will affect the course of history for many years to come.

Mr. Roosevelt's choice is either to recognize this and to build his policies and his programs upon this general desire for national union or to disrupt it and precipitate a struggle of classes and sections.

It is easy enough to see where these issues lie. They exist in the administration of relief, in the administration of the Labor Relations Board and in the administration of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Were the president willing to recognize the real issues in these three matters, and then to redress the grievances of his most responsible critics, he would strengthen rather than weaken his position.

There is no doubt, I think, that if Mr. Roosevelt would reform his reforms on these three matters, he would liquidate the issues around which the really deep opposition is gathered.

The same reasoning holds for the T.V.A. As long as the private companies who have to come to terms with it have no impartial tribunal to which they can take their grievances, and have them objectively

HOLLYWOOD—Today's definition of an actor: "One who is active."

The definer is Lloyd Bacon, whose record of action hits would qualify him for any amount of defining. His argument: "There's a tendency to forget that motion pictures are pictures of people in action."

He's getting down to fundamentals there. So is the whole crop of outdoor action pictures, newest of them "Stagecoach," with John Ford at the helm.

Chapter 25 COMPANY FOR CHARLIE There were still five or six cars parked in front of the club.

Elizabeth was looking at me expectantly. "I'm going over to bachelor quarters with Adam for a minute to see Charlie," I explained.

"That won't be necessary. We're taking Mrs. Flower—the captain is waiting for her there. You and Annie run along home, and I'll bring Kay shortly."

"I suppose I'll begin to realize it when I get by myself," he said heavily. "Just now I'm numb. She was a beautiful little thing, wasn't she? So light, so delicately made, so—so vital!"

"I'll put it out as long as I can," he said at last, his eyes on the ground. "I'll put it out as long as I can, but I don't know how long it will last."

Adam suggested that, since the orders had come from Captain Flower, that gentleman was the one to explain them.

"A most affable, engaging grin spread over Adam's face. He addressed Charlie.

Adam knocked on a door at the rear of the second floor, announced, "Ladies to see you," and entered. After a preliminary inspection he swung the door wide and invited us in.

Consider New Bowl Lineup

CHICAGO, Dec. 1 (AP)—Western conference football coaches and directors of athletics, in session here today, considered a proposal to confine the annual Rose Bowl game to teams from the Pacific Coast and Big Ten conferences. Where the idea originated, nobody seemed to know, but it was favorably regarded by authorities of both conferences. If the faculty committee of the Western conference approves such an arrangement, the championship team of the Big Ten would be designated to play the team chosen by the Pacific Coast conference. Thus the difficulties and jealousies arising from the present method of choosing the team to go to the Pacific Coast would in a large manner be eliminated.

December, Most Dangerous Traffic Month Of The Year, Brings Plans For Reinforced Highway Patrols

Oil Industry Coasting To Year-End

Fuel Oil Consumption And Demand At Good Level

TULSA, Dec. 1 (AP)—The oil business cruised along smoothly in a moderately favorable business atmosphere today as its executives and employees bent to the task of winding up the year's activities.

The marketing division offered favorable reports which included an increase in heavy fuel oil consumption and demand in eastern industrial centers and a good movement of motor fuel in almost every area.

Cold weather and storms during Thanksgiving holidays, however, cut down considerably on motoring and consequently the gasoline demand.

If the cold weather reduced the demand for gasoline, it was a boon to the market for domestic heating oils.

Conditions were unchanged in the production division. It appeared the crude flow was safely in hand for the rest of the year after Texas proration authorities continued their well shut down policy for December and Oklahoma conservation authorities kept in force for December the same low allowable as November.

Forecasts for the exploratory end of the business were that by the end of the year additional discoveries would place reserves at about the same point as at the end of 1937.

In California a well in the Southeast Coalinga field of Fresno county flowed 15,000 barrels daily through a quarter inch orifice and was estimated good for 60,000 barrels a day if put on open flow.

Oklahoma's prolific, though small Ramsey pool in Payne county had its 17th big producer, with a potential of 7,032 barrels a day.

Texas recorded a number of pool extensions during the week and Kentucky had a number of new operations in progress.

The Central Illinois play showed no sign of abating. Eighty-five wells were completed in the state. The Oil and Gas Journal showed 499 wells completed in the country for the week.

AUSTIN, Dec. 1 (AP)—Death for 184 Texans will be lurking along the highways and by-ways during the final month of this year, state police statisticians warned today.

December's joyous yuletide will be changed to a time of sorrow and anguish for hundreds of families which, besides burying their dead, may grieve over injuries to 1,500 ranging from the simple, painful type to permanent maiming and crippling.

With the most dangerous traffic month of the year facing motorists and pedestrians, state police officials pleaded for close observance of laws, ordinances and regulations.

Homer Garrison, Jr., safety director, recounted that 230 people died in traffic crashes of December last year and ordered the full Texas highway patrolman force of 300 to work double shifts during most of the month in an effort to halt the "carnage of carelessness."

Referring to Texas' record of a 20 per cent decrease in traffic deaths this year so far, Garrison urged drivers and pedestrians to be alert to hazards confronting them with shortened daylight periods, murky and cold weather, heavier traffic and wet pavements.

Police records indicate 67 per cent of pedestrian deaths are the fault of the pedestrian and with December's shopping and crowded downtown streets, this hazard probably will be heightened.

Chairman W. H. Richardson of the public safety department urged motorists to cut their speeds and be alert to impending disaster. He said pedestrians should walk with heads up, eyes toward approaching vehicles, and should cross only at the proper places.

College Group To Sing Here

WTSTC Chorus To Present Program On Dec. 8th

School groups and citizens of Big Spring will hear the men's chorus of West Texas State Teachers college of Canyon in a program to be given at the Big Spring high school auditorium at 8 p. m. on December 8.

The group of nearly 30 persons, headed by Prof. Wallace R. Clark, will make the trip to Post, Lamesa, Big Spring, and Tahoka in the fine arts bus recently purchased by the institution.

The men's chorus, which already has made several short trips this year, has been enthusiastically received. It has a varied program of general appeal, and carries several soloists. One of the soloists is Houston Bright, graduate assistant in music, a baritone.

The program at Big Spring is being arranged by William Dawes. The itinerary of the collegians was arranged by the college's bureau of public service.

The West Texas State college music department has long been famous for its group work. Its madrigal library is the largest in this country. Professor Clark is recognized as an outstanding teacher of singing and is best known for his work with madrigal groups.

According to an announcement from Zenith radio's district office today, a "trip of a life time" awaits the dealer or a representative of a dealership making the greatest number of Zenith sales in this territory. The grand award for this achievement is an expense paid trip to 1939's World's Fair.

A special inducement during this campaign, advertised elsewhere in today's Herald, is the company's allowance of $25 on old radio trade-ins on a 7-tube 1939 cabinet model with radiorgan.

The Carl Strom Home Appliance firm is dealer in Big Spring for this line.

CIVILIAN AVIATION INSTRUCTION MAY BE STARTED SOON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (AP)—Chairman Edward J. Noble of the civil aeronautics said today an early start was possible on the administration's plan to teach civilians to fly at government expense.

No specific authorization is needed from congress, he said, telling of his idea of launching the work experimentally with a few students in schools or colleges which now have aviation courses.

The proposal to set up what Noble described as "a back-log of national defense" has been discussed at conferences attended by himself, Louis Johnson, assistant secretary of war, and Aubrey Williams, director of the National Youth administration. NYA funds would be used at the beginning, at least.
