

Carter Replaces Emergency Farm Plan

All Tied Up

Wayne Phillips got his team, also consisting of Victor Cantu and Earl Stagner, off to a flying start in the spoon-on-a-string race this morning during the Chamber of Commerce Fun Breakfast. Emcoe Lynton Alfred, left, seems to be coaching Phillips, who led his team to a victory over Dallas Phillips, Bob Nigh and Rex Easterwood. The race was just one event during the breakfast, which attracted approximately 175 persons and was sponsored by The Hereford Brand. [Brand photos by Paul Sims]

Vander Zee Named Bull Chipper

Harlan Vander Zee, president of Hereford State Bank, received the Bull Chip Award this morning during the bi-monthly Fun Breakfast sponsored by Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

The Hereford Brand co-sponsored today's breakfast, which attracted approximately 175 persons to the high school cafeteria.

Vander Zee has been a staunch supporter of the Fun Breakfast project since its inception, with his bank employees regularly attending and participating in the event. He is an active chamber member and is serving as a director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

A director and past president of National Organization of Raw Materials (NORM), Vander Zee has been involved in seeking fair and reasonable prices for farm products.

His wife, Donna, is a past president of the Women's Division of the chamber.

Vander Zee joins a list of 12 other recipients of the Bull Chip Award, a green cow chip mounted on a plaque with the honoree's name.

Others to receive it include Butch White, Larry Wartes, Jim Conkright, Bud Fades, Joan McPherson, Terry Caviness, Speedy Nicman, Clint Formby, Marie Griffin, Lynton Alfred, James Mays and Jim Sears.

In other highlight of today's breakfast, Guy Ford and Wynelle Robinson missed the opportunity for a $400 prize after their names were drawn by newly-crowned Miss Hereford Stephanie Stringer. Neither person was in attendance, a requirement for claiming the prize.

In other drawings, Andy Shuval won $13 and a year's subscription to The Brand, and Larry Granado claimed $75 cash prize.

Emcoe's Doug Manning and Lynton Alfred handed out several dollars to other lucky persons in attendance while involving others in unusual games.

Announcements of local upcoming events were made during the breakfast. Those events include:

—annual YMCA "Partner and Youth" Campaign Kickoff Banquet 7 p.m., Friday, April 7.

—Paint Up, Clean Up, Fix Up Time,

April 8-22.

—All Sports Banquet, April 24.

—Cowgirl Hall of Fame All-Girls Rodeo, Aug. 25-27.

—Private Property Week, April 16-22.

—Secretary Week, April 24-31.

—Geneological Society workshop at Deaf Smith County Library, registration at 8:30 a.m. April 15, session from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

—Women's Tennis Tournament, April 29-30.

—Tours of Sue Ann and Arrowhead Mills, April 7.

—Boat Safety Week, April 10-15, and Bicycle Safety Week, April 24-29.

Employees of The Brand were hosts and hostesses of today's breakfast. Speedy Nieman is Brand publisher.

Elections Scheduled 7 to 7 Saturday

Deaf Smith County voters will choose four school board members, two city commissioners and three hospital district directors during elections Saturday at the Hereford Community Center.

Polls will open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. for all three elections.

Running unopposed for the Hereford Independent School District board of trustees are James Gentry, Place 1; Jim Arney, Place 2, and Paul Rameriz, Place 7.

Gentry is president of the school board, while Arney is assured of a third term.

Rameriz was appointed to the Place 7 seat to fill the unexpired term of David Pruitt, who resigned after accepting a job in Wellington.

Rameriz will serve two years since he will finish an unexpired term, while Gentry and Arney will be on the board another three years.

Ronald Garcia and board vice-president Clark Andrews are battling for the Place 3 position.

The Hereford Independent School District is conducting a place-system election even though the U.S. Department of Justice has tried to stop Saturday voting. An injunction filed by the Justice Department against the school district was denied in federal district court Tuesday in Dallas.

The Justice Department told the court that the present system of voting dilutes minority voting strength.

Hereford changed from an at-large to place system in 1974 and was told in 1976 that the change might be discriminatory. (See ELECTIONS, Page 2)

Lions Clubs To Begin White Cane Sale

By BOB NIGH
Staff Writer

Members and sweethearts of area Lions Club, including both the Hereford Noon and Evening clubs, will be at the local banks Friday and at Sugarland Mall and other locations around town Saturday in support of the Hi-Plains Eye Bank of District 27-1 Lions Clubs.

The volunteers will be at the banks from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Friday, and at the mall and other locations from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday conducting the Annual White Cane Drive.

The eye bank is sponsored by the 70 clubs in the district, and is a gathering place of donor cards and a central distribution point for donated eyes in the Amarillo area.

"We need all the help we can get," Hereford Noon Lions Club member and eye bank 3rd vice president Mark Andrews said. "We have been in financial straits of late."

The Carter administration announced its own emergency farm plan Wednesday, ignoring an emergency farm bill now before Congress which is widely favored by farmers, and threatening to veto the measure if it reaches President Carter's desk.

The administration program, announced Wednesday by Vice President Walter F. Mondale and Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland, does not require congressional approval, and according to Bergland, instructions on the implementation of the administration program are now going to Agriculture Department field offices.

In announcing the program, both the vice president and ag secretary attacked the emergency farm measure passed by the Senate last week, stating that it faces "a certain veto if passed in its present form."

The Senate-passed bill is now in a House conference committee. The measure contains a "flexible parity" provision, much favored by many area farmers, which would allow farmers to receive parity prices for their commodities if they idle up to 50 percent of their acreage. The measure also contains higher supports for grain and cotton.

"The administration cannot and will not accept legislation which resembles the hastily constructed farm bill recently passed by the Senate. That bill would ruin the structure of our farm programs, subject farmers to excess government regulation and, over the long term, destroy the export markets on which we rely for a major share of our income," Mondale stated in a news conference.

The vice president alleged that the Senate bill would add $2.3 billion to "a budget that is already in deep deficit," and would trigger another spiral of wages and prices similar to those of 1972-73.

The new plan calls for payments to corn, feed grain and cotton farmers for taking land out of production, coupled with higher support payments - in effect, minimum prices for farmers who choose to participate.

Officials estimated that if farmers who grow the crops take full advantage of the revised programs, they can add $3 billion to $4 billion to their gross earnings this year.

Included in the administration package are:

—Payments to corn and other feed grain farmers for idling land beyond the 10 percent they already must set aside to qualify for federal supports.

—Payments to cotton farmers for idling

10 percent of their land. There was no previous acreage-idling requirements for cotton.

—Permission for wheat farmers to take advantage of the land-idling payment while letting livestock graze on 40 percent of their land, to a maximum of 50 acres, instead of growing grain on it. Payments will be made on the basis of grain they otherwise would have harvested.

—Soybean loans of $4.50 a bushel, up from $3.50 last year. This is the amount farmers can borrow from the government by using their crop as collateral. If the market price is below the loan price, the crop is taken by the government at the higher loan price.

Although the administration maintains that its proposed changes could amount to payments of $100 an acre to farmers for idling an additional four million acres of feed grains and one million acres of cotton this year, local farmers dispute those claims and are still clinging to the hope that the "flexible parity" provisions will eventually become law.

"This new administration program sounds good when you read about it, but when you get down to running some figures on it, I don't think it is that good," said Hereford farmer Bill Paetzold.

"We had hoped to be allowed to graze out 40 percent of our wheat acreage, so we nearly knew it was too good to be true when we heard the administration proposal would include some provisions for a 40 percent grazeout. Sure enough, it was. We can graze out 40 percent, but only up to 50 acres, which doesn't do us a lot of good. I don't know how they came up with their $100 per acre payment figure either. Looks to me like we're going to give away the Panama Canal, bail out New York City again and forget to pay for our most vital industry," Paetzold commented.

Grazing Date Announced

John Fuston, Deaf Smith County ASCS executive director informed The Brand Wednesday afternoon that he had received a notice from the state ASCS office concerning final grazing dates on set-aside wheat.

Wilford Hotz, head of the production adjustment division of the state ASCS office in College Station informed Fuston that "set-aside wheat can be grazed until May 31."

The provision will allow local farmers to graze the 20 percent of their wheat acreage they are required to set aside until the date announced.

USDA Projections Show Price Hikes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has come up with some projected figures for 1978 which it claims show that farm commodity prices will continue to edge up gradually at least through late summer.

However, using the same methods, the report also indicated that farm expenses will continue their long-time rise. The "prices paid" by farmers index for all of 1977 averaged 202 percent of the 1967 base.

The price paid index is expected to rise to an average of 211 percent in the first quarter of this year, 214 percent in the second and 217 in the third.

Involved are figures published this week by the department's World Food and Agricultural Outlook Board, which included the group's new estimate that retail food prices now are expected to climb 6 to 8 percent instead of the 4 to 6 percent forecast earlier.

No absolute dollar figures for specific commodities were included in the report. Instead, the forecast was incorporated in index numbers based on a 1967 average of 100 percent.

For example, prices of commodities received by farmers in all of last year averaged 183 percent of what they did in 1967. That included quarterly readings last year of 187, 189, 176 and 179.

Thus the 1977 numbers show that on the average farm prices in the second quarter rose from the first but then dropped sharply in the third and gain slightly in the fourth. Therefore, average for the year was about 183 percent.

Since farm prices of livestock and grain have climbed from their low marks of last summer and fall, this has helped push up the overall USDA farm price index.

According to the report, department analysts expect the "price received" index in the first quarter of this year - January, February and March - to (See FARM, Page 2)

Columbia Supplying Much Grass, Cocaine

WASHINGTON (AP) - Colombia is now the chief supplier of marijuana and cocaine to the United States, in part because of police and court corruption, government auditors say.

The illegal traffic flowing into this country rakes in $6 billion a year on American streets, the General Accounting Office said in a report released Wednesday.

Corruption in Colombia, the report charged, "is present at various levels and places in the government, including the judiciary and the police." The study did not detail alleged corruption in any other South American nation.

It said a drug control program financed chiefly by the United States for the last five years in most of South America "has had a minimal effect on the flow of narcotics."

According to the report, U.S. officials believe "the real key to program success is a stronger commitment by South American governments to control the drug flow."

However, such a possibility is limited by corruption within many South American countries, particularly Colombia, and a lack of host government resources that can be allocated to drug enforcement.

Secretary To Testify Against Funds Use

BROWNSVILLE, Texas (AP) - After spending six hours in jail here, a Harlingen secretary has agreed to testify about her former boss' use of federal manpower funds.

Cruz Z. Castillo, former secretary to Clarence Gray, was jailed early Wednesday when she refused to testify despite promises of immunity.

However, late in the day she told State District Judge Darrell Hester that she would testify by affidavit. Hester released her and ordered her to return to the District Attorney's office Thursday.

Investigators are hoping that Miss Castillo can provide details about Gray's financial dealings. The Harlingen man and his brother Don were named in felony theft indictments returned here Wednesday while Miss Castillo was in jail.

The Gray brothers, central figures in the inquiry, were named in 22 indictments here in January. The charges are based on evidence collected by Hester's court of inquiry. The latest round of indictments includes two charges against Clarence Gray and seven against his brother.

During her first courtroom appearance Wednesday, Miss Castillo said she would not testify until given written guarantees of immunity from state and federal prosecution.

Defense Minister Bound for Egypt

JERUSALEM (AP) - Defense Minister Ezer Weizman flew to Egypt today to try to get Israeli-Egyptian peace negotiations going again. But he appeared to be taking little in the way of concessions to President Anwar Sadat's demands.

Weizman will meet with War Minister Mohammed Abdel Ghani el-Gamassy, Egypt's representative at their previous negotiations on Israeli withdrawal from the Sinai Desert, and possibly with Sadat. It will be the first direct contact between Egypt and Israel since Weizman's last visit Feb. 1.

Israel's emissary was preceded by a letter from Begin to Sadat two days ago urging him to come up with new responses to Israeli peace proposals and calling on him to reactivate the political and military negotiating committees created in December. Those committees have not met for 10 weeks.

Only one significant change has been reported in Israel's peace proposals, however. It is an offer to let the Palestinians living in the occupied West Bank of the Jordan River and the Gaza Strip participate in negotiations on their future with Israel, Egypt and Jordan.

John Wayne Undergoes Respiratory Tests

BOSTON (AP) - Movie star John Wayne flew into Boston Wednesday for a series of tests at Massachusetts General Hospital for respiratory problems.

The 70-year-old "Duke" has been under treatment recently for chest pains and a respiratory condition. During the past few days, he has spent nights in Hogue Hospital in Newport Beach, Calif., and the days at his home a few miles away.

A hospital spokesman said Wayne is staying at the hospital's Phillips House for examinations. He denied that Wayne is being treated for a recurrence of cancer, which cost him most of a lung years ago.

Interviewed by telephone earlier this week by a Boston radio station, Wayne said he was not being treated for cancer. "No, pneumonia," he replied. "Hell, I got rid of that cancer 14 years ago."

Earlier in the week, the movie star had to cancel a planned appearance in San Antonio where he was to attend a convention and take part in a news conference with former Texas Gov. John Connally.

Police Report

Tilford and Theresa Norvall, ages 27 and 20 respectively, were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Glen Nelson Wednesday afternoon on charges of felony possession of marijuana and possession of amphetamines.

Approximately 30 ounces of suspected marijuana and an assortment of pills were found at the Norvell residence, 114 Ave. B, at 4:26 p.m. Wednesday after police received a tip concerning the couple.

Arresting officers include Det. Roger Scott, Joe Brown, Steve Hendrix, O.K. Neal and Deaf Smith County Sheriff Travis McPherson.

Nelson set bond at $15,000 each. C.M. Pena of Hereford was charged Wednesday with unauthorized use of a motor vehicle. The car was covered when the arrest was made.

Pratt Chevrolet Wednesday reported the theft of hubcaps from its parking lot. Mrs. Anne Combs, 109 Kingwood, told police that someone siphoned gasoline from her car sometime Wednesday.

Horse Racing in Texas Exists Minus Parimutuel Wagering

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) - The matronly woman unsnapped her purse and pulled out a roll of cash. She studied her racing program, jotted down a few notes and glanced at the man standing ahead of her at trackside.

"I'll give you 4-to-1 on that one, honey," said the man, his eyes shielded by dark sunglasses.

The woman peeled off several $20 bills and handed them to the man, who quickly rolled them around a larger bundle of greenbacks and jotted down her bet.

There were other customers, as the man hurried to take care of his business alongside the horse racing track just outside a small South Texas city.

Money, lots of it, was exchanged openly during the intermission between that Sunday's quarter horse races. Back and forth. Some rolls of cash shrank, others grew fat with winnings.

"It's pretty wide open. You can make any kind of bet," said one man with a handful of bills as he discussed illegal gambling that horse race followers admit occurs at every race in the state.

"A lot of people think because in Texas we don't have parimutuel betting we don't have horse racing. A lot of people who know there is horse racing just skip it because they don't think there's any gambling," the man said. "They don't know what they're missing."

For the record, there is horse racing in Texas. Lots of it. And there's gambling too, although it is illegal and unofficial and nobody really knows how much is wagered.

By one estimate, there are more than 300 race tracks spread across Texas, including everything from manicured tracks with shaded grandstands to roughly outlined ovals barely visible in pastures.

The tracks can be found in Lubbock, Austin, Del Rio, Goliad, Junction, Boerne, Columbus, San Antonio, Laredo - practically anywhere there are horses to race.

The American Quarter Horse Association, headquartered in Amarillo, sanctions races at a dozen Texas tracks with purses that totaled $3.2 million in 1977, according to Don Essary, director of racing for the AQHA.

All that money was put up by the horse owners, which means the biggest horse players in Texas are the horse owners.

A typical futurity race for 2-year-old quarter horses may require the owner to put up $700, excluding penalties for late entries, before the horse gets to the track. With more than 150 horses entered in some races, the purse will be well over $100,000.

Essary said the AQHA has more than 211,000 quarter horses registered in Texas, the largest number of any state. California, which is second, has about half as many.

"We have a rule prohibiting gambling at Texas tracks," Essary said, "but enforcement is difficult. We will close down a track if we find a Calcutta pool, but as far as one-on-one betting, it's impossible to stop."

In a Calcutta pool, the favorite brings the highest bid and so on until all the horses in a race are "sold." The man who "bought" the winning horses wins the pool, which can be thousands of dollars.

Calcutta pools have reached over $100,000 in some quarter horse races in Texas, said one racing follower from San Antonio. Many of the race tracks are at county fairgrounds and races are run during a season.

A spokesman for the Texas Attorney General's Office said enforcement of gambling laws at race tracks is difficult. "It is just like bingo - it's a matter of local prosecutorial discretion," he said.

The Department of Public Safety said records don't reflect arrests on horserace betting alone. "They're all added together," spokesman Richard Grimmitt said.

However, Grimmitt said there were 34 arrests last year involving all forms of bookmaking, and 3,263 arrests for gambling of all kinds.

At Val Verde Downs track in Del Rio, track manager Billy Bowers runs weekend races year around, except during April and May. In a recent contest, the South Texas Futurity for 2-year-old quarter horses, the winner got $12,000 from a $38,000 purse.

About 700 spectators show up each race day, Bowers estimated.

At La Bahia Downs in Goliad, one of the oldest tracks in Texas, the South Texas Derby, for 3-year-olds, had a purse of $16,400 last weekend with the winner taking almost $6,600. Several hundred spectators sat under a covered grandstand to watch the races.

Races later this month in Del Rio, sponsored by the Alamo Quarter Horse Breeders Association of San Antonio, will draw about 2,500 spectators per day, officials predict.

The sanctioned circuit for the quarter horses in Texas includes tracks at Umberger, Lubbock, Midland, Del Rio, Uvalde, Laredo, Goliad, Columbus, Austin, Colleyville, Graham and Brady.

Thoroughbred horses are far outnumbered in Texas by the quarter horses and there are only a handful of thoroughbred races. A new circuit, the Texas Thoroughbred Championship Series, will be staged from May through August this year at four tracks in New Braunfels, Boerne, Junction and Fredericksburg.

Track officials are hesitant to discuss illegal gambling, but unofficially they all recognize it occurs.

"Just go down under the stands," said one track official, and look around. You'll see the money changing hands. Mostly its the small bets, the $1 and $2 type of stuff. But there's no way for us to really control that.

"Any time there's a contest and people, there's going to be some gambling."

"We've got gambling. You better believe it," says a sportswriter who covers races in his city. "You have the nickel and dime guys down on the grass. The big bets go down in motels and hotels the nights before the races."

While there's plenty of wagering at the sanctioned quarter horse and thoroughbred races, gambling is not restricted to official events.

"Bush tracks" abound in Texas and, says the AQHA's Essary, "anything goes at these tracks. Dog fights. Chicken fights. Match horse races, which is just one-on-one for a set distance. There are no rules in that kind of racing."

Inflation Bred Through Several Economic Factors

WASHINGTON (AP) - Deficits, devaluations, food prices, imported oil and a government that can't say no - all are said at one time or another to be the cause of inflation.

At the moment, food prices are getting most of the heat, after increasing 2.4 percent since the beginning of the year. The decline in the value of the dollar is getting some of the blame, too.

But the fact is that all the other commonly cited causes contribute to the upward price spiral, which is showing signs of getting worse.

Inflation has been a problem for Americans since 1968, when prices increased 4.7 percent. The worst year was 1974, when prices were 12.2 percent.

While there is no single cause of inflation, these factors play a part:

-Labor negotiations. As prices rise, workers ask more money - and that extra cost is passed on in still higher prices.

-Government policy. Inflation is not the only consideration, and some decisions are made in spite of, not because of, their effect on inflation.

-Deficit spending. Higher government spending puts more money into circulation, which increases demand - and prices.

-Devaluation. As the value of U.S. currency drops in comparison with foreign money, imports cost more, whether they are finished goods or the raw material of domestic products.

More specifically:

LABOR NEGOTIATIONS - Labor unions are demanding wage increases averaging 8 percent a year because prices have been increasing 6 percent and the unions feel entitled to another 2 percent for gains in worker productivity. But then businessmen raise prices 6 percent because of the wage hikes.

The administration hopes to unwind the difficult wage-price spiral by convincing business and labor leaders they should hold down future price and wage increases.

At best, the administration thinks 0.5 percent can be trimmed from the inflation rate each year, which would still leave inflation at about 4 percent in 1983.

POLICY - The coal industry contract just ratified provides an example of policy conflicts. The contract provides for pay and benefit increases for coal miners of 39 percent over the next three years and is clearly inflationary, administration officials say privately. But they saw no alternative if the long strike was to be ended.

A dilemma for the government is that it sometimes must, or thinks it must, bow to demands or needs that add to inflationary pressures. Such was the case with the Carter-backed increase in the minimum wage from the present $2.30 to $3.35 by 1981.

Efforts by farmers to get higher government payments for their crops have created another major headache for the administration.

DEFICIT SPENDING - When the government spends more than it takes in, more money goes into circulation - money that eventually gets to the consumer and creates more demand, which in turn pushes up prices.

Charles L. Schultze, chairman of President Carter's Council of Economic Advisers, traces the start of the problem to the Vietnam War era, when the government tried to pay for both the war and expensive social programs by borrowing rather than by raising taxes.

DEVALUATION - While the four-fold increase in oil prices beginning in 1973 shot new venom into the price spiral, the devaluations of the dollar early in this decade preceded higher oil prices as a major cause.

The latest declines in the value of the dollar have added as much as 0.75 percent to the inflation rate this year, Federal Reserve Chairman G. William Miller has estimated.

Even this list is not a complete primer on the causes of inflation. The severe winter weather is a factor in this year's rising food costs while the

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Rep Cullen Looney, D-Edinburg, has been named Texas representative on the Southern Environmental Resources Executive Committee, House Speaker Bill Clayton said Wednesday.

Clayton said he would serve as an alternate member from Texas.

Clayton also named Rep. Melchor Chavez, D-Harlingen, as a member of the joint House committee studying the problems of illegal immigration of aliens into Texas.

Chavez replaces Rep. Billy Hall, D-Laredo, who resigned as a member of the group.

Carter Confident of Begin

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) - President Carter declared today that he is confident the government of Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin "is completely capable" of negotiating a peace settlement in the Middle East.

News reports from the Middle East have claimed that a Carter administration official urged Israeli politicians to replace Begin with a more flexible leader.

At a news conference in the capital of Brazil, Carter flatly denied that any responsible official of his administration had insinuated that Begin should be replaced in favor of a more flexible Israeli leader.

"I think that Prime Minister Begin and his government are able to negotiate in an adequately flexible way to reach an agreement with Egypt and later Jordan and other countries," Carter said. "We have not given up on the possibility of a negotiated settlement in the Middle East."

But Carter acknowledged that he has no clear solution yet on steps to surmount the impasse over the Israeli government's refusal to commit itself to withdraw from the occupied West Bank of the Jordan River.

Carter flatly denied that his administration would like to see Begin replaced.

"I can say unequivocally that no one in any position of responsibility in the United States administration has ever insinuated that Prime Minister Begin is not qualified to be prime minister or that he should be replaced," Carter said.

He said the Middle East issues are sharply drawn and that key differences are clear, chief among them the Begin government's unwillingness to concede that Israel is committed to withdrawal from occupied Arab territory.

In a news conference broadcast and televised in the United States, Carter said that shared concerns and friendship far transcend differences between the United States and Brazil over human rights and nuclear power development.

Carter said that violation of human rights is an international problem, and one on which all countries, including the United States, must look to their own practices.

"Great progress has been made in your country," Carter said of the human rights issue, which has led Brazil to break U.S. military ties.

The president's Brazilian agenda included meetings with two Roman Catholic leaders who have been critical of the military government there. Carter said he wants to meet not only with government leaders abroad, but with people from other walks of life. He said he reserves the right to confer with whomever he chooses.

"In a society as diverse as yours, it is important for me to meet with as many leaders as possible," he said.

"I'm not here to tell you how to form your government," Carter told a Brazilian newsmen who asked his view about Brazil's system of selecting its national leaders.

Discussing differences with Brazil over nuclear power and proliferation, Carter said the United States intends to persist in its effort to discourage the spread of materials that can be converted into weapons.

The Chamber Women's Division is fortunate in having acquired Jean Burchett as their guest speaker for Tuesday night's quarterly general membership meeting at the Country Club. Mrs. Burchett, christened as "the Erma Bombeck of the Panhandle," is rapidly gaining a strong reputation as a humorous writer and after-dinner speaker.

Mrs. Burchett, who resides at Childress, employs her spontaneous wit and love for public speaking as an entertaining orator. Unlike most speakers, she does not prepare her program until she has arrived at the engagement and has the opportunity to judge which topics will be most interesting to that particular audience.

The humorist possesses a "mental library" of all her material, which is based on a "peanut of truth and a walnut of exaggeration." She has the knack of planning her speech for the evening while chatting glibly with her hosts.

Described by a syndicate editor as a threat to Erma Bombeck, Mrs. Burchett has had nine articles published by newspapers and magazines. An excerpt from one of these published works concerned her daughter's wedding, and appears below:

"Our daughter left college in the middle of her first semester to come and marry the boy who had lived down the block from us. They discovered one another (away at school) right after we paid her tuition.

During the ceremony: "I came alive when the ring bearer started playing maypole with the candelabra stand. Twelve lighted candles in their cups swished flames and hot wax in jerky arcs. The flower girl decided to play too. Twenty-four lighted candles.

"Lord," I prayed, "I don't ask for much, but please let there be a bucket by the baptistry."

S&S

Speaking of weddings, we are entering the time of year when hundreds of women will be ambling down the aisle as summer brides. The Brand has certain policies concerning the announcement of weddings and engagements, so we would like to take this opportunity to refresh our readers' memories.

Engagements are published six weeks or more prior to the wedding ceremony. Engagements are

Chamber Women Asked To Attend Meeting

Members of the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division are invited to attend the quarterly general membership meeting Tuesday evening at the Country Club. The meal, costing $5, will be served at 7:30 p.m.

During the business session, new members of the Women's Division will be introduced and welcomed. Other special introductions and announcement will be made by WD president Margaret Formby.

Guest speaker for the evening will be Jean Burchett of Childress, humorous speaker and published writer.

Members are urged to make their reservations early by telephoning the Chamber office, 364-3333.

Memorial Jamboree Slated by Rebekahs

Fifteen members were in attendance when Hereford Rebekah Lodge #228 met Thursday evening at IOOF Temple.

Noble Grand, Edna Mathes, presided over the business meeting as a number of sick people were reported on and 56 visits had been made during the last week. During the past year 1344 visits to the sick were reported.

A letter was read from the newly elected State Rebekah Assembly president, Betty Reid of Amarillo. Mrs. Reid will be making an official visit to District 5, May 9. The Hereford Lodge will be hosts to the president and the other lodges of the district which includes Dimmitt #54, Friona #308 and Muleshoe #144.

The Country-Western Jamboree being sponsored by Hereford Rebekahs, was also discussed. The show scheduled for April 14 will be staged as a memorial for the late Woodie McDermitt.

Representative to the Texas State Rebekah Assembly, Susie Curtsinger, gave a report of the meetings in Dallas. Mrs. Curtsinger reported a good session with business presided over by Peggy McLean of Humble, past president. Meetings were held with little or no discussion and in a dignified manner.

Social events were "fun" with the above average entertainment and memorial services and a program by children from the Odd Fellow Home in Corsicana were "beautiful and impressive," stated Mrs. Curtsinger.

A good year is predicted for the Odd Fellow and Rebekah Lodges of Texas in 1978-79 with a new membership drive being first on the agenda.

Mrs. Curtsinger ended her report thanking the local lodge for letting her represent them at the State meeting.

Refreshments were served to Edna Mathes, Bessie Lawrence, Lydia Hopson, Ada Hollabaugh, Bessie Sauley, Faye Brownlow, Martha Bridges, Francis Parker, Verna Sowell, Blanche Williamson, Peggy Lemons, Guy Lawrence, Mabel Strange, Helen Sowell, and Susie Curtsinger.

written by our staff from standard forms completed by the bride-elect. Engagement announcements are generally published with photographs of the betrothed couple or of the bride-elect. All photographs must be of studio quality; no polaroid pictures will be accepted.

Wedding stories are also written from standard forms provided by The Brand. Wedding information must be submitted, in the final form, on the Monday before the Sunday edition in which the story is to appear. Late information (submitted after the vows are said) will be reduced—the later the story, the smaller the write-up.

Photographs of brides must follow the same quality standards as the engagement. As with late wedding stories, photographs which are submitted after the ceremony will be reduced.

Should you have any questions concerning The Brand's policies involving weddings, or any other news story, we will be happy to assist in any way possible.

C.R. Walser Honored At Family Reunion

C.R. "Charlie" Walser was the honored guest Sunday in Easter community building, where members of the Walser and Lance families gathered for their annual birthday celebration.

Walser was celebrating his 90th birthday.

C.R. Walser and his brother S.L. came to Deaf Smith County in March of 1917, settling in the Summerfield Community. C.R. Walser and his wife, Della Lance, moved into Hereford in 1954. She died in January of 1974.

Helping Walser celebrate his birthday were his brother S.L., a sister, Mrs. O.O. Baker of Sudan, and his four children and their spouses, including Leatrus and Jim Clark, W.H. and Edith Walser, Guy and Glenn Walser of Summerfield and D.C. Walser of Amarillo.

Also present were the following relatives and friends: Wayne Walser, Mr. and Mrs. Cleatis Hays, Debra Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lance and Jerry Don Lance, all of Summerfield; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Waters and Hayden of Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Purcell of Lipscomb.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Lowman of Spearman; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Walser, Mrs. Dorothy Gentry, Mike and Tracie, and Mrs. Charlotte Nightingale, all of Amarillo; Dee Baker of Perryton; Dexter Baker of Sudan; Mr. and Mrs. David Hays, Scott and Dondi, Dimmitt; and Melanie Foster, Lockney.

Attending from Hereford were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Walser, Deann, Brad and Mikel, Kenneth Walser, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Clark, Jason, Dawson, Mitchell and Preston, Mrs. Marie Halford and Kristi, Zella Mae Crump, E.C. Walser, H.L. Walser, Clifton Walser.

Mr. and Mrs. R.E. Lance, Mr. and Mrs. Reese Dawson and Teresa, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Dawson, Reese Dawson Jr., Miss Jenene Herrington, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Lance, Michelle and Shawn and Janice Albracht.

CPR Method Demonstrated For Mothers

Cardio-pulmonary resuscitation (CPR) was demonstrated by John Gilliland Tuesday evening for members of Young Mothers Study Club in the Community Room of First National Bank.

Maureen Self, club president, conducted a brief business session.

Others present were Jan Weishaar, Leota Kelso, Jan Dudley, Darla Stine, Linda Cumpston, Kathy Haney, Donna McGee and Rhon Stewart.

The club's next meeting is scheduled April 11 at the bank.

Simms Cookbook Offered

Containing 422 tried-and-true recipes, the Simms Community Cookbook will be available to the public within the week and orders for copies of the book are now being taken.

Priced at less than $5 each, the cookbook includes a variety of recipes, ranging from casserole main dishes to microwave cooking. In addition to the recipe section of the book, it includes home remedies dating back to the pioneer era.

Being marketed by Simms Study-Craft Club members, who compiled the recipes, the cookbook is a fund-raising project to benefit Simms Volunteer Fire Department. Persons interested in purchasing the cookbook are invited to contact Elsie Lloyd, Route 4, Hereford (578-4560) or Sondra Blankenship, Route 4, Hereford (538-6327).

Merry Mixers Plan Dance Friday Night

Merry Mixers Square Dance Club will meet at 8 p.m. Friday at the Community Center. Ralph Alexander of Lefors will call the squares.

All members are urged to attend.

Ann Landers Reconsider Punishment

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I hope the guilty party reads this and recognizes himself for what he is -- a cheap, two-bit crook.

Last weekend we ran an ad in our local trade paper for some used snow tires. My husband and I were not at home when an interested party phoned. Our nine-year-old son gave the man directions to our home and showed him what he thought were the correct tires. The ones we had advertised were used and on rims. The ones the man took (and left cash for) were a brand new set of radial tires, without rims.

Our son described the man as "older than Daddy" so he must have been in his 50s, old enough to know the difference between a set of used tires and brand new ones.

Our son's allowance has been cut off for a year. All the money he earns from odd jobs will go into the "tire fund."

What do you think of a person who would stoop so low as to rip off a nine-year-old kid? -- Mad in East Sparta

DEAR SPARTA: Sorry about the tires, but I'm more concerned about parents who would run an ad and then leave a nine-year-old alone to give instructions to strangers on how to get to the house.

Discontinuing the lad's allowance for a year because he sold the wrong tires seems awfully unfair to me. Obviously you didn't give him adequate instructions. Please reconsider. DEAR ANN LANDERS: Sometimes I think you're a smart dame and other times I'm not so sure.

I refer to your recent misstatement that animals are more "human" to others of their kind than humans are. How then do you explain:

1. Sows that will perversely lie on and mash their piglets, seemingly unaware of the terrible squeals?

2. The fact that some sows will eat their own (or other sows') pigs as they are being born?

3. How about wild dogs that gang up and viciously rip cornered pigs and calves to shreds for the pure lust of killing?

4. Or, not-so-wild dogs who will kill other male dogs during the frenzied "courtship" of a female in heat?

5. Explain the fact that newly-hatched chickens will systematically peck a "different" chick to death simply because that chick is missing a little down.

6. Did you know that cows will refuse to "claim" their young, particularly if the calf's birth was a difficult one?

If you choose to print this, and I hope you do, just sign me -- A Pig Farmer The Show-Me State

DEAR MISSOURI: Well -- you showed me -- and millions of others.

For every "authority" there's a counter-authority. Mine was Konrad Lorenz -- a world's great, but your letter proves that even the greats can be wrong. Thanks for writing.

Pay all household bills by check--this provides proof of payment, says Linda McCormack, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Being Wife of Mayor Adds New Perspective On City

By DIANNE BANNER
Brand Staff Writer

Being the wife of a man who holds the position of town mayor has brought many different views of Hereford to the eyes of Mrs. W.B. (Bartley) Dowell.

"I have thoroughly enjoyed being the mayor's wife because I have met and made so many friends, and I have found out how really good our town is. Bartley and I both grew up here and the people, they're the best!" she said.

Before her marriage to Dowell, she was Jeanne Williams. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W.A. Dobbins were one of the first residents to reside in King's Manor United Methodist Home.

Mrs. Dowell attended Hereford High School and graduated with the class of '43. She mentioned that during her high school years she served as twirler and drum majorette. She received numerous medals during her youth for her twirling abilities.

After graduating from her alma mater, she married Dowell. The couple will be celebrating their 35th wedding anniversary in June.

The handsome pair are the parents of two sons, Randy, who is 34-years-old and celebrated his birthday Monday, is the credit manager of Sears in San Angelo. He has two children, Kriste, age 8, and three-year-old Chad.

Thirty-two-year-old David is the employee manager of Sears Credit Union in Dallas. He has a daughter, Tracy, who is 10-years-old. The family resides in Hurst.

Mrs. Dowell commented that she enjoys her grandchildren "very much" and "loves keeping them during the summertime."

After her children began school, the friendly and personable resident was employed as a certified dental assistant for 25 years by Dr. H.A. Cavness.

"I liked my job very much. I guess because I met so many people and in a small way, I felt like I was helping them," she said.

During her spare time, Mrs. Dowell enjoys reading and yard work.

"I love working in the yard and I feel guilty when I am inside on a pretty day," she confessed.

The Dowells are members of First United Methodist Church. She is active in the United Methodist Women organization.

Mrs. Dowell likes to spend her time with the King's Manor Auxiliary. She belongs to the Sunshine Cart, which is a segment of the auxiliary.

The women go out to the Manor and sell different items such as cards, stationary, and knick-knacks.

The auxiliary sponsors bingo games, birthday parties for the residents and, in general, entertains the elderly.

The 51-year-'young' woman also plays bridge twice a month and is a member of the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division. She is on the welcoming committee of the Women's Division.

Some of the prize possessions Mrs. Dowell has are the oil paintings and china paintings which were her mother's.

"I would like to take oil painting lessons someday," she said.

When asked what it is like to be the wife of Mayor Bartley Dowell, she commented, "I like it very much. I am very proud of Bartley and so are my children. He loves his town and community very much."

Recipes Mrs. Dowell would like to share are:

QUICK CHEESE STEAKS

2 Tbsp. grated onions
1 Tbsp. shortening
4 cubed beef steaks
1 (10 1/2 oz.) can tomato soup
1 tsp. sugar
1/2 tsp. basil
1 tsp. salt

1/2 C. grated Parmesan cheese
Cook onion in melted shortening; add steaks and cook until brown. Add other ingredients except cheese. Place in 1 1/2 qt. casserole dish and cover tightly. Bake 1 hour at 350 degrees or until steaks are tender. Sprinkle with cheese before serving. Yields 4 servings.

May be frozen before baking in oven, if so, remove from freezer, thaw and bake 1 hr. at 350 degrees as above.

JELLED VEGETABLE SALAD

1 (3 oz.) pkg. lemon Jello
1 C. hot water
2 Tbsp. sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 C. mayonnaise
1/2 C. sour cream

MRS. BARTLEY DOWELL
...with hairloom ching

1 Tbsp. prepared mustard
1 C. finely shredded cabbage
1/2 C. grated carrots
1/2 C. diced celery
2 Tbsp. grated onions
1 Tbsp. chopped parsley
Dissolve Jello in hot water;

add lemon juice, sugar, salt, and chill until syrupy; add mayonnaise, sour cream and mustard. Stir in all vegetables and pour into 1 qt. mold or 6 individual molds.

HD Luncheon Discussed By Chapter

Delegates to the District THDA meeting at Dalhart will report their experiences April 24 during a luncheon meeting. It was announced Tuesday afternoon during a meeting of West Hereford Home Demonstration Club. The extension club members met in the home of Evelyn Bell.

Carrie Mae Doak presided during business and reminded her fellow members that the E.B. Black house is open for club meetings Tuesday-Thursday of each week. Also, members agreed to bake pies for the YMCA fund-raising dinner, scheduled April 7 at the County Bull Barn.

A poem, "Grandpa, God & Me" was read by Myrtle Allmon as the opening exercise. Alice Cox directed the recreation period. Members answered roll call with "How I Have Saved Energy."

It was reported that the club is still selling tickets for a drawing in which Mrs. Doak's oil painting will be given away as the prize. Mrs. Doak presented the HD Council report.

Corrine Gandy gave the program on "Setting Your Household in Order."

The hostess prize was presented to Wilma Nell Pierce.

The club's next meeting is slated April 11 at 2:30 p.m.

Members present Tuesday, other than those mentioned above, were Nettie Boyd, Eldora Boyd and Almeda Penman.

MILDRED SHEFFY
.....with newly-released cartoon book

Autograph Party Scheduled Saturday by Mildred Sheffy

Mildred Sheffy of Canyon, former resident of Hereford and Dimmitt, will be in Sugarland Mall from 2-4 p.m. Saturday autographing copies of her new cartoon book "The Case of the Courthouse Cuties."

Friends of the legal secretary and the general public are invited to the autograph party.

In her book, Mrs. Sheffy takes jibes at overbearing secretaries, inconsiderate bosses and inept typists via cartoon drawings and quips. She depicts law offices, but the situations are typical of any office and will appeal to desk workers.

In the dedication of her book, Mrs. Sheffy said, "Having been a charter member of both, this writer fondly dedicates this effort to all the Courthouse Cuties everywhere and to the members of the Deaf Smith-Castro Counties Legal Secretaries Association."

Mrs. Sheffy has been associated with various area layers and judges for the past 35 years and was employed for several years by Witherspoon, Aikin and Langley Law Firm here. In the introduction to her book, she writes "from my friend John D. Aikin came a definition of energy and love for people."

Her experience in law offices has led her to the following observations: "Lawyers come in various sizes and shapes, but in only two ages—two young and too old. Secretaries, on the other hand, come in all ages, but only two sizes—broad and broader. The great lesson is the ability to laugh at oneself, for without a sense of humor, life, at best, is trying."

The book is published by Dimmitt Publishing Co. and printed by Southwest Amarillo Offset.

The former Mildred Morris, Mrs. Sheffy worked for more than 20 years as a legal secretary in Dimmitt. She and her husband Bob, who is sales manager of Orval Watson Ford Sales here, are the parents of four children, including Cyd of Fort Worth, Robbie of Hereford, Joe of Pearland and Janie Vick of Amarillo.

Mrs. Sheffy holds certification as a Professional Legal Secretary and a Certified Professional Secretary. She was honored by the Texas Association of Legal Secretaries as its first "Secretary of the Year" for 1974-75. Currently, she is editor of the TALS DOCKET, the state association's magazine.

Her first job in a law office came just after her graduation from Booker High School, when she was a freshman at Woodward, Okla. Junior College. She has since worked as a legal secretary in Perryton, Borger, Amarillo, Dimmitt, Texas City and Hereford.

She is now legal assistant to Robert E. McClendon, Amarillo attorney and Randall County treasurer.

Landscaping Termed 'Good Investment'

COLLEGE STATION — "If you can make a profitable long-term investment for your home, would you?"

"With proper landscaping, you can realize a return of five to six times your original investment within 10 years," says Everett Janne.

As a guide, Janne, landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says that at least 10 percent of the total cost of the home and lot should be allowed for landscaping.

"The landscape should be designed to handle each family member's recreational needs. But keeping patterns simple will minimize maintenance while providing the best possible enjoyment for the family," notes Janne.

Landscaping also provides other practical uses. Trees, shrubs or trellised vines can be used to screen work areas from public view. While fences or shrubs give a feeling of privacy, they can also be used to accomplish a family atmosphere of unity when connected or tied in with the den or family room.

"Whether a professional landscape architect lays the plans for your future investment or you do the basics yourself, be sure to obtain the needed information."

Making Dance Plans

Bill Jackson, [L], director of the Panhandle Kidney Foundation, based in Amarillo, discussed plans on the upcoming Kidney Ball and Allen Brockman, supervisor of the local drive and Sylvia Paetzold, president of St. Anthony's Women's Organization.

The dance is scheduled from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Saturday night at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Tickets may be purchased at the door or from James Paetzold for $15 per couple. [Brand Photo by Dianne Banner]

Supporting Foundation

Ronny Pagett, left, buys tickets for Saturday night's Kidney Ball from James Paetzold, who urges all local citizens to support the Kidney Foundation's campaign here. Costing $15 for each couple, tickets to the dance will act as direct donations to the Panhandle Kidney Foundation. The dance is planned from 9 p.m. - 1 a.m. Saturday in the Knights of Columbus Hall, where the music of "The Sound Express" will be presented. [Brand photo by Dianne Banner]

First Kidney Ball Slated Saturday

Hereford residents are invited to enjoy an evening of solid entertainment while supporting the Panhandle Kidney Foundation Saturday night by attending the first Kidney Ball in the Knights of Columbus Hall. Tickets for the dance are priced at $15 per couple and available from James Paetzold and Allen Brockman. Admission will be limited to 90 couples and proceeds of tickets sales will go as a direct contribution to the Kidney Foundation.

Organization while the Knights of Columbus act as hosts for the evening. Dance festivities will begin at 9 p.m. and conclude at 1 a.m. Allen Brockman, supervisor of the Kidney Foundation's fund-raising efforts in Hereford, expressed appreciation to "The Sound Express." The Knights of Columbus and the SAWO for donating their time and talents in the fight against kidney disease.

Providing music for Saturday evening's dance will be "The Sound Express" featuring Tex Rhodes. The band is composed of Tex Rhodes, Chuck Danley, Cecil White, Lewis Poarch and Steve Sanders. Refreshments will be served by St. Anthony's Women's Hereford residents gave a total of $1,650 earlier this month in a door-to-door drive. Proceeds of the upcoming Kidney Ball will be added to that sum. The Panhandle's goal has been set at $13,000 and lacks $3,000 in reaching that figure.

Aggie Mothers Club To Be Recognized

Hereford's Aggie Mother's Club will receive a certificate of merit at the state federation meeting April 15 at Texas A&M University. Mrs. C.R. Walters, state vice president, notified Mrs. Walter Hardin, local president, of this honor to be given to local affiliations with 25 percent or more increase in membership during the past year. Mrs. Hardin, Mrs. David Beavers and Mrs. Hollis Klett will serve as voting delegates at the state meeting.

On Monday, local members discussed those items which will be sent to a bazaar to be held in conjunction with the state federation meeting. Proceeds from the local items sold will be applied to the Hereford's organization's scholarship fund. Mrs. Beavers, Mrs. Hardin and Mrs. Beryl Fish will form a scholarship committee to interview high school seniors planning to enter Texas A&M University next fall. For the first time, seniors at Adrian High School will also be considered eligible for this monetary award since Hereford Aggie Mother Club includes three members from Adrian, Mmes. Billy Don Brown, Grady Skaggs and Robert Lloyd. Mrs. Austin Rose Jr., the club's nominee for a Panhandle Distinguished Service Award, will be accompanied by a club representative at the award luncheon April 22 at West Texas State University, Canyon. Each year, recipients are chosen for their outstanding achievements in business, professional or volunteer service. Mrs. Rose, member of Deaf Smith County Historical Society, invited the club to hold the next meeting, April 24, at the E.B. Black home, with members bringing their own sack lunches. At this time, plans will commence for the Aggie Mothers Area 10 meeting to be hosted by the Hereford club in October. This meeting will take place at the E.B. Black home and will include a tour of Deaf Smith County Museum. Members attending Monday's luncheon meeting were Mmes. J.J. Durham, Mel Holubec, Bud Eades, Frank Ford, Alton Hollingsworth, Thurman Atchley, Werner Koelzer, Rose, Beavers, Fish, Hardin, Brown, Skaggs, and Mrs. Donald Wright of Dimmitt.

Get Fit By Taking Hard Way

COLLEGE STATION — Incorporate more exercise into everyday routine—and get physically fit, says one health education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Such common excuses as "not enough time" and "I don't like sports" are no longer valid, Carla Shearer points out. Try these easy suggestions for physical—as well as mental—health: --Walk. Instead of looking for the parking space closest to the office, seek out one at some distance. Or, walk to the office. --Use a bike for errands such as going to the grocery store, post office or cleaners. --Take a brisk 15-minute walk during work break instead of snacking or smoking. --Use stairs instead of elevators at the office, factory or living facility. --When picking up things around the house, place feet apart and bend slowly from the hips to retrieve it, keeping the knees straight.

Ten Suggestions Can Cut Property Insurance Costs

COLLEGE STATION — Cut property insurance costs—practice ten easy "how-to's," suggests Linda McCormack, a family resource management specialist. Mrs. McCormack is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. She offers these suggestions for cutting property insurance costs:

- (1) Take advantage of higher deductibles—the higher the deductible, the lower the premium.
- (2) Shop around—shop among the different insurance companies.
- (3) Do not over-insure home or possessions.
- (4) Purchase a three or five year policy, if possible.
- (5) Take advantage of various package policies offered by insurance companies.
- (6) Keep coverage up-to-date—under-insuring may be costly.
- (7) Maintain community protection—participate in fire protection services.
- (8) Professional organization policies—such as teacher unions or for retired military—may be cheaper.
- (9) Take precautions to reduce home fire hazards.
- (10) Vow to up-date policies every two to three years.

Most packages of dry food, such as cereals, candies, dessert mixes, and noodle products, are overfilled—that is, they weigh more than the label states, says Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. In a survey of over 11,000 dry foods, the Food and Drug Administration found that the average amount of overfill was four percent more than the label stated, she adds.

Canned Foods Priced Well This Week

COLLEGE STATION — Canned and frozen fruits and vegetables will be among best buys at Texas grocery markets this week, one forecaster says. Special features may include tomato products, corn, potato products and pineapple. Cans and frozen food packages usually offer some of the most economical fruit-and-vegetable buys—rather than fresh produce—at the end of winter, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt explains.

Mrs. Clyatt is a consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. Other economical choices this week include eggs, turkey parts and some fresh vegetables.

CONSUMER WATCHWORDS: In buying canned produce, choose Grade A or "Fancy" when product appearance is important—otherwise, Grade B, Grade C (standard) or substandard choices are still wholesome and nutritious.

Three Local Teams In State Tourney

Another Texas Women's Bowling Association Championship Tournament opens Friday night at Hart Bowl and Don Carter's All Star lanes in Dallas. Representatives from 108 local affiliates of the TWBA have entered the record tournament.

Three teams from Hereford will participate in the state tourney, while four local women will also bowl on an Amarillo-based team. Two teams from Bowling's Bowl will be at the tournament as will one sponsored by Hereford Janitor Supply.

Bowling on Bowling's Bowl #1 team will be Lou Pope, Freda Anderson, Debbie Baum, Joyce McBride, and Sheila Nunnally. Bowling's Bowl #2 will include Rochelle Ruland, Mickey Bronniman, Tracy Jorde, Julie Weaver, and Denise Kelly.

Bowling on the Hereford Janitor Supply team will be Alice Lueb, Pauline McDonald, Claudia Smith, a state WIBC delegate, Wilma Clark, and Cathy Veld.

Dru Potter Photography of Amarillo is sponsoring another team which will include local bowlers. Hereford women on that team include Bertha Arnold, Margaret Collins, Eleanor Hudspeth, and Luella Dool. They will be joined by Louise Hajar of Amarillo.

Hereford has three other bowlers going to the state tourney. Dolores Nichols will bowl with a team from Tulsa, while Bertie Pope is a member of another Amarillo team, and Billie Easley will accompany one of the local teams as a doubles entrant. Easley will also try to join a team at the tournament site.

Hudspeth, Collins, and Arnold will also be traveling to the National Tournament in Miami, Florida next May 5. Hudspeth is the local association's national WIBC delegate.

It's been seven years since Dallas last played hostess to the state's women bowlers and this year another record tournament is on tap with 2,412 five-woman teams competing during the twelve weekends of the tournament.

Miss Lil Poole, Hurst, secretary and tournament director of the Championships, advised that the meet will feature 6,053 sets of doubles, 12,106 singles and 11,447 optional all events entries. "The record-breaking tournament offers the richest prize ever," stated Miss Poole. "The ladies of Texas, more than 12,000 of them, will be competing for $131,055.75 and the glory of the State Championship."

Opening ceremonies will feature a full squad of senior-age citizens (55 and over), with additional teams rolling on Saturday morning.

On hand to participate in the official opening will be the State President, Mrs. Dorothy Cornelison, Houston, vice presidents Mrs. Fay Browning, Dallas, Mrs. Jo Tucker, Houston, Mrs. Millie Wood, Abilene, and treasurer, Mrs. Doris Coffman, sergeant at arms Mrs. Mona Loper, El Paso, as well as Secretary Poole and members of the 12-woman Board of Directors.

Mrs. Susie Humphreys will act as Mistress of Ceremonies with Dallas Councilman Don Hicks scheduled to greet opening guests. The U.S. Marine Corps, 14th Marine Division, will present the colors and Glenn Lightfoot will sing the National Anthem. Mrs.

Cornelison, Councilman Hicks, Miss Poole and Mrs. Humphreys will cut the ceremonial ribbon and Mrs. Clara McGuire will roll the opening ball.

Competition is scheduled for weekends only with the exception of April 22-23 when Texas women bowling officials will attend the Women's International Bowling Congress Convention in Miami, Florida.

Team event play is scheduled for Hart Bowl, Northwest Highway at Webb Chapel Road, and doubles and singles competition will be held at Don Carter's All Star east lanes, Skillman at Northwest Highway.

The ladies have chosen the Royal Coach Inn, 3800 West Northwest Highway as headquarters and will conduct their annual business session there on May 5. During convention weekend TWBA will make their annual awards, including enshrinement of one member into the TWBA Hall of Fame, presentation of the TWBA Service Award, naming of the Bowler of the Year, Miss Texas Youth Bowler, Bowling Writer and Publicity Chairman of the Year, as well as election of officers and directors to guide the association for another year.

Mrs. Bunn Larson is the local Tournament Coordinator and Miss Ruth Peterson is president of the Dallas Women's Bowling Association.

Herd Baseball Team on Road

The Hereford Whitefaces travel to Borger today for a 4 p.m. baseball game with the Bulldogs as they enter the stretch heading toward the opening of District 4-4A action next Tuesday at Plainview.

Hereford, 5-4 on the year, will end the non-district slate Saturday with a make-up game against the Dumas Demons in Dumas.

Coach David Ashby's troops are just one win shy of the number of victories posted by the Herd last season. The Whitefaces won just one game in loop play last season as they defeated Plainview in the district opener before dropping their last 15 games in a row.

The Herd will open the home district slate Saturday, April 8 when the defending loop champion Monterey Plainsmen come to town for a twinbill.

Weight Class Set

The Hereford and vicinity YMCA has plans in the making to form a weight-lifting class to be conducted on Monday nights from 7:30-8:30. Y program director Weldon Knabe has announced.

The class, which will cost $6 for Y members and $12 for non-members, will last six weeks. "Weight-lifting not only develops the body, it also improves stamina, and is a great way to work off stress," Knabe said.

Persons wishing more information about the class may contact the Y office at Sugarland Mall at 364-6990. A minimum enrollment has been established.

Clyde Shows Response

By The Associated Press
"Come on David. Loosen up. You're aiming the ball. Let it out." Manager Jeff Torborg was urging from the Cleveland Indians' dugout - and young David Clyde was responding.

He fired six scoreless innings Wednesday in the Indians' 6-2 exhibition victory over the San Francisco Giants bringing back memories of when he was a teen-age sensation for the Texas Rangers in 1973.

Since then, his career - plagued by an entrapped nerve in his left pitching shoulder that resulted in surgery in 1976 - has gone downhill.

The Rangers gave up on him this spring, trading him to the Indians. The new environment apparently has benefitted the 22-year-old Clyde.

"I've learned how to relax," Clyde said after allowing four hits, walking four and striking out one against the Giants.

While the Indians had to be encouraged by Clyde's performance, the Giants had to be concerned over the condition of Ed Halicki.

Halicki, scheduled to be San Francisco's opening day pitcher, suffered a slight muscle pull in his left side and left the game in the seventh inning.

In addition to Clyde, several other pitchers were standouts in Wednesday's exhibition. California's Frank Tanana went seven scoreless innings in the Angels' 10-4 rout over the San Diego Padres.

Rick Wise tossed seven shutout innings as the Boston Red Sox blanked the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-0, Kansas City's Dennis Leonard allowed only three singles, one a bunt and another a bloop, in eight innings as the Royals dropped a 3-2 decision to the Chicago White Sox.

Montreal's Ross Grimsley and Houston Joe's Nietro each worked six scoreless innings as the Expos edged the Astros 3-2 in 10 innings. Fred Norman of Cincinnati pitched four hitless innings as the Reds nipped the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-2 in 11 innings.

And Don Gullett of the Yankees hurled three scoreless innings in his first appearance of the spring during New York's 4-2, 10-inning loss to the Minnesota Twins.

In other games, the Detroit Tigers raised their record to 15-6 - best during the exhibition season - by defeating the Toronto Blue Jays 4-3 on Mark Wagner's run-scoring single in the ninth. The Seattle Mariners outslugged the Oakland A's 8-6 as Lee Stanton drove in four runs with a double and a homer.

Jay Johnstone's two-run homer helped the Philadelphia Phillies overcome a 4-0 deficit and beat the New York Mets 7-6. The Atlanta Braves scored

History-Making Girl Has Rough First Game

HOUSTON (AP) - Linda Williams said so many members of the news media looking on made her nervous.

Williams, 18, the first girl in the history of the University Interscholastic League to play on a boys baseball team, had a rough time in her first game Wednesday night.

She struck out, grounded out and walked in three plate appearances for the Wheatley Wildcats and was charged with an error that allowed four first inning runs to score for Houston Sterling. Sterling went on to defeat the Wildcats, 7-0, in the District 20-4A contest.

The error occurred when Miss Williams, playing right field, misjudged a line drive which went to the right field fence and allowed the four Sterling runs to score.

"I just missed it," she said. "I guess I wasn't concentrating. I guess I let them (her teammates) down. But I wasn't the only one to commit an error."

She later gloved a routine fly ball and handled a grounder without any trouble.

Williams and her coach, LuGene Jones, agreed that the large amount of newsmen on hand made her nervous.

"She was under incredible pressure," Jones said. "She was so nervous that she couldn't even swing the bat. The whole team was nervous. I hope this is all behind us now. Hopefully, we'll be able to get back to the business of playing baseball again."

At least 22 representatives of the news media were on hand for the game which was witnessed by about 300 spectators.

"With all them media here, it was harder playing baseball," Williams said.

Williams worked out with the boys team until March when the UIL ruled that she was ineligible to play on the boys team because she was a girl. The UIL provides boys and girls programs but there is no girls softball or baseball team at Wheatley.

U.S. District Judge Woodrow

Seals Monday issued an injunction which forced the UIL and Houston Independent School District to reinstate Miss Williams to the team.

Williams practiced with team Tuesday afternoon, she was allowed to start in right field Wednesday night and played the entire game.

Jones said he wasn't sure who he would start in right field the next game.

"I need someone who can hit out there," he said. Ruben Mercado, who started the first 12 games in right field before Williams arrived, said he feels he can beat her out.

"I feel they put her out there because you people the media were here," he said. "I know I'm better than she is."

Ken Wants To Earn Respect

By JACK STEVENSON

AP Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Ken Norton holds the dubious distinction of being the only heavyweight champion to gain his title outside the ring so he says: "In order for the public to respect me as a champion, I must earn that respect in the ring, and I plan on doing it."

The World Boxing Council stripped ex-Olympian Leon Spinks of its version of the crown when the new champion decided to give Muhammad Ali a rematch before meeting Norton.

Jose Sulaiman of Mexico City presented Norton with the WBC championship belt Wednesday and, as president of the organization, Sulaiman said, "We want honesty and integrity in boxing. We will not allow power and business to rule boxing."

Sulaiman referred to agreements signed by both Spinks and Ali before their Feb. 15 title fight in Las Vegas that the winner would first defend against Norton. Such a bout was arranged with Norton to get only $200,000 and Spinks $1 million.

"It is obvious that Ali doesn't want to fight me and neither does Spinks," Sulaiman said the WBC was "treated in bad faith and fooled" when it approved the Ali-Spinks fight even though Ali has promised to meet the winner of a 15-round bout between Jimmy Young and Norton before having another title fight.

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) - Freeman Williams of Portland State, the leading scorer in college basketball this past season, will be among 10 players on the Coaches All-America team who will face the Athletes in Action in an exhibition game at the Anaheim Convention Center Thursday night.

Williams, who averaged 35.9 points per outing, will be joined by marty Byrnes of Syracuse, Dave Corzine of DePaul, Marvin Delp of Arkansas, Jeff Judkins of Utah, Bob Miller of Cincinnati, Roger Phegley of Bradley, Mike Santos of Utah State, Raymond Townsend of UCLA and Duck Williams of Notre Dame on the team.

Digger Phelps of Notre Dame will coach the all-stars.

RICHFIELD, Ohio (AP) - University of Wisconsin All-American Mike Eaves won't be suiting up in a Cleveland Barons uniform this season, but the college hockey star will continue playing hockey.

As a college player at Louisiana State, Pete Maravich scored 50 points or more in a basketball game on 28 occasions.

Sox Tabled to Unseat New York in AL East

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

The New York Yankees, Boston Red Sox and Baltimore Orioles waged an exciting down-to-the-wire race in the American League East last year and all three managers are optimistic heading into 1978.

Billy Martin, Yankees: "I feel good about the 1978 Yankees and once again I see us taking it all."

Don Zimmer, Red Sox: "Last year at this time I said we would be in the pennant race right to the finish, and that's what happened. I feel the same way again this year."

Earl Weaver, Orioles: "We think we will be solid contenders again this year. Even though we did not sign any big names from the re-entry draft, we think we can improve on our 97 wins."

Those 97 wins were enough to tie the Orioles and Red Sox 2 1/2 games behind the Yankees.

Despite losing Mike Torrez to Boston, the Yankees have no shortage of pitchers, a good thing because Catfish Hunter must prove he can still be a consistent winner, injury-prone Don Gullett has been sidelined with a sore shoulder and Andy Messersmith will miss a couple of months with a shoulder separation.

New York probably will open with a rotation of Ron Guidry, Ed Figueroa, Hunter, reliable Dick Tidrow and possibly 6-foot-6 rookie Jim Beattie. Rich Gossage and Rawly Eastwick join Cy Young Award winner Sparky Lyle in what Martin says "might be the best bullpen in the history of baseball."

The rest of the club will be the same as last year.

As usual, the free-swinging, power-laden Red Sox will go as far as the pitching can take them. The starters are Torrez, Luis Tiant, Bill Lee and Mike Paxton, but Tiant will miss the start of the season with a finger injury. Ace fireman Bill Campbell will have help from Jim Willoughby, Dick Drago and Tom Burgmeier. Bob Stanley, Reggie-Cleveland and Rick Wise will be swing men.

The rest of the lineup is impressive. Catcher Carlton Fisk is one of the best, and speedy second baseman Jerry Remy, late of California, has been added to an infield that includes George Scott at first, Rick Burleson at short and Butch Hobson at third. Three outfielders and a DH will come from among Carl Yastrzemski, Jim Rice, Fred Lynn, Dwight Evans and Bernie Carbo.

People laughed a year ago when Weaver insisted the Orioles were contenders. No one's laughing this time. They picked up Don Stanhouse and Joe Kerrigan, who will join Tippy Martinez and Nelson Briles in the bullpen.

Jim Palmer, seven times a 20-game winner, is the pitching ace, but he was hampered by arm trouble during the spring. The rest of the rotation includes Mike Flanagan, Dennis Martinez and Scott McGregor.

Catcher Dave Skaggs hit a surprising .287 after Rick Dempsey was injured last summer. Both are back. Baltimore led the league in fielding and double plays and third baseman Doug DeCinces, shortstop Mark Belanger and second baseman Billy Smith glove and Rick Dauer bat return. However, first baseman

Lee May becomes the DH, with DH Eddie Murray, the 1977 Rookie of the Year, taking over in the field.

The outfield has two fine hitters, Ken Singleton, coming off elbow surgery, in right and Al Bumby in center. The third spot will go to Andres Mora, Pat Kelly or Carlos Lopez, possibly a platoon.

The Detroit Tigers may be a team to keep an eye on. Mark Fidrych, the rookie pitching sensation of 1976, returns from an injury-plagued summer and his spring showing indicated he was all the way back.

First baseman Jason Thompson, left fielder Steve Kemp and pitcher Dave Rozema emerged last year and this season the team is looking to a new double play combination in shortstop Alan Trammell and second baseman Sweet Lou Whitaker. Catcher Lance Parrish promises to be a good one, too, although Milt May still looms as the No. 1 backstop.

Rusty Staub is the DH with Tim Lincecum and Charlie Spikes in right field. The brilliant Ron LeFlore is in center, super glove Aurelio Rodriguez at third.

The Tigers acquired a starting pitcher from Milwaukee in Jim Slaton, but Jack Morris, counted on as the fourth starter, has developed arm problems. The bullpen is manned by Steve Foucault, John Hiller and Jim Crawford.

Jeff Torborg starts his first full season as manager of the Cleveland Indians. He gets outfielders Rick Manning and Johnny Grubb back from the injury list but hard-throwing pitcher Jim Bibby has left via the free agent route.

The third outfield spot probably will go to Paul Dade.

The infield has Andre Thornton at first, Duane Kuiper at second, Buddy Bell at third and either Larvell Blanks or Tom Verzer at short. Willie Horton is the DH.

Fred Kendall and Ron Pruitt are capable catchers. The staff they'll be handling starts with sometimes brilliant Dennis Eckersley and Wayne Garland, again battling arm trouble. Jim Kern is one of the league's top short relievers but the rest of the corps must prove itself.

The Milwaukee Brewers dipped into the free-agent market for Larry Hise, the AL's RBI king, but the real problems were on the mound so they hired Baltimore pitching coach George Bamberger as manager.

With Bill Travers on the disabled list, the starters include youngsters Jerry Augustine, Moose Haas, Larry Sorensen and Gary Beare, with Bill Castro, Ed Rodriguez, Bob McClure and Mike Caldwell in the bullpen.

Experienced catcher Ray Fosse is also disabled. Sixto Lezcano, Ben Oglivie and Von Joshua join Hise in the outfield but the Brewers' strength is an infield of Cecil Cooper at first, Robin Yount at short, Don Money or Lenn Sakata at second and Money or Sal Bando at third. Either Money, Bando or Oglivie will be the DH.

The Toronto Blue Jays, 2 years old, are still very much an expansion club. The top hands are outfielders Bob Bailor, Otto Velez and Al Woods, third baseman Roy Howell, DH Rico Carty, first baseman Doug Ault and pitchers Dave Lemanczyk, Jerry Garvin and Jim Clancy.

Prediction: 1. Boston, 2. New York, 3. Baltimore, 4. Detroit, 5. Milwaukee, 6. Cleveland, 7. Toronto.

Geiberger Just Glad He's Back

By BOB GREEN
AP Golf Writer

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) - Al Geiberger expects no miracles in his return to pro golf tour action.

"I really don't know what to expect. I'm just glad to be playing again," the popular, soft-spoken Geiberger said before teeing off today in the first round of the $240,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament.

"I feel like a rookie out here," the 40-year-old Geiberger said as player after player streamed by his locker to shake his hand and welcome him back to action. He's been out of action all year following major surgery.

"I haven't played much and, really, I haven't practiced all that much. I did do some cross-country skiing, and it's amazing how good that is for getting you in condition."

Geiberger admitted, however, he's dropped some 7-8 pounds from an already-skinny frame and has not regained full strength.

"We'll just have to see what happens," said Geiberger, a former Greensboro champion and the only man to shoot 59 in pro golf tour competition. Despite his health problems and lack of competition, he ranked as one of the key figures in a weak field that was chasing a $48,000 first prize over the 6,984-yard, par-72 Forest Oaks Country Club course.

With most of the game's great names taking a pre-Masters vacation, Lon Hinkle, was the top money-winner in the 144-man field. He's No. 8. Only five - Hinkle, Lou Graham, Howard Twitty, Jay Haas and Andy North - of the top 20 money winners are on hand.

PGA champion Lanny Wadkins, rounding into shape after a mild slump most of the year, ruled as the probable favorite.

Other top contenders included Hinkle, Lou Graham, defending title holder Danny Edwards, South African Gary Player and Australian Graham Marsh.

"Ol' Sarge" Orville Moody, who had one of his best tournaments in years in last week's Heritage Classic, was another likely contender.

Also in the field were Billy Casper, Gene Littler, Dave Stockton, J.C. Snead and Europe's leading player, Severiano Ballesteros of Spain.

Portions of the final two rounds will be televised by NBC-TV.

LA, IOC In Plans Battle

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Los Angeles has been the only bidder for the 1984 Summer Olympics up to now, but the city's desire to stage the Games at no cost to local taxpayers has the International Olympic Committee in a furor.

So much so, in fact, that many IOC members reportedly are ready to throw out Los Angeles' bid and invite applications from other cities.

There appeared to be no problem as far as Los Angeles' bid for the 1984 Games is concerned until the IOC received the city's answers to a questionnaire, the Associated Press learned. IOC members are bristling over the tone of the answers.

IOC members say the answers were arrogant, even insulting. Particularly resented was the city's open avowal that it will be responsible for television rights and will basically receive all television revenue. This is in defiance of IOC rules.

Los Angeles is scheduled to present its bid for the 1984 Summer Games to the IOC at Athens in May. IOC members said at least five cities would be ready to take over the Games if asked. Possibilities mentioned were Montreal, Mexico City, Moscow, Munich and Tokyo.

"We have contingency plans," said Lord Killanin, the president of the IOC.

Killanin is scheduled to meet Los Angeles Olympic planners in Mexico City next month and he is expected to try to smooth over the dispute and persuade them to tone down their approach to the Games and agree to run them the IOC's way.

The IOC has insisted in the past time that it must have the final word on television contracts. It has a regular formula for splitting up the revenue, with a little more than one-third going to the IOC and the rest to the local organizing committee.

Every city applying for the Olympics has to fill out a questionnaire, in which it is required to outline its basic plans for the Games and agree to certain conditions laid down by the IOC.

The 86 members of the IOC have been sent copies of the Los Angeles questionnaire and were surprised to find the city taking a strong independent line.

IOC members, speaking privately, say if Los Angeles persists in its attitudes, it will lose the Games.

No applicant city has never dared to take such a line with the IOC.

In the period leading up to the 1976 Olympics, when doubts were cast on Montreal's ability to be ready in time, the IOC made contingency plans to switch the Games elsewhere in an emergency. Those plans probably could be put into operation again.

In eight world series, Joe McCarthy, as manager of the Yankees, was beaten only once, by the St. Louis Cardinals in 1942. He also lost with the 1929 Cubs.

Doctor Says Visual Skill Also Crucial

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

One of the most compounded fallacies in sports, says a prominent eye specialist, is the admonition, "You gotta keep your eye on the ball."

"That's the reason baseball players get a hit about once every four times they go to bat, golfers blow six-foot putts and tennis players miss shots that ought to be easy putaways," insists Dr. Leon Revien, optometrist of 30 years out of Columbia University and director of the Athletes Visual Skills Training Center in Fresh Meadows, N.Y.

"You don't just keep your eye on the ball. You must keep both eyes on the ball. It's all a matter of improving visual skills. I am positive that, with a little work, I could fix it so that Dave Kingman would hit 60 home runs a year and Rod Carew would bat .400."

Kingman, the rangy ex-Met and Ex-Yankee now with the Chicago Cubs, has one of baseball's classic home run swings yet suffers from "strikeoutitis." He fanned 143 times in 439 times at bat last season. Carew, of the Minnesota Twins, was baseball's leading batter whose .388 average challenged baseball's last .400 hitter - Ted Williams, .406 in 1941.

Revien, who now is making a career of refining the eyesight of some of the leading personalities in sports, said he is amazed at the little attention given to proper vision.

"Go into any dressing room," he added, "and you see millions of dollars' worth of equipment - exercise machines, chest pulls, weights and other gadgets.

Huge sums are spent for special trainers and dieticians.

"Nothing is ever done for the eyes. No other part of the anatomy is as important to the performance in most sports."

The doctor's clients have included the entire New York Islander hockey team, Coach Willis Reed of the New York Knicks, tennis stars Billie Jean King and Virginia Wade, minor league baseball affiliates of the Boston Red Sox and Detroit Tigers as well as golfers and football players.

With the baseball players, he claims to have reduced the strikeout ratio by 50.8 percent and improved the contact ratio - bat meeting ball - 38 percent.

Revien contends 100 percent of the errors made in sports, other than mental mistakes, can be traced to misjudgment through improper vision.

"When you look through a stereoscope during an eye checkup, you usually see two circles, showing your two eyes are not in the same focus," he said.

"I have developed rotors - some call it a hypnotic wheel - to improve visual skills. It takes 4-10ths of a second for a pitched ball to reach home plate. The batter has 2-10ths of a second to get the bat around. We have cut that ratio to 1-10ths of a second."

Revien said apparently only one of Kingman's eyes follows the ball while the other is wandering off into space somewhere, creating a blur.

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP) - Get-well wishes from a former president and everyday fans are pouring in to Capt. Ott Graham, the Coast Guard Academy's director of athletics who is patient at the Bethesda Naval Hospital. He is recuperating from a colostomy.

Graham, a former Washington Redskins coach and quarterback for the Cleveland Browns, says he is averaging 90 get-well cards a day. His visitors at the Maryland hospital include admirals and such distinguished persons as former attorney general Richard Kleindienst.

He's getting telephone calls from all over the country, including one last week from former President Richard M. Nixon.

"We chatted for about 20 minutes," Graham said. "Most of it was over generalities, but he did have some advice for me."

Blazers fell behind 32-16 and was never in the game against the streaking 7ers, who got 25 points from George McGinnis and 24 from Julius Erving.

Randy Smith scored 37 points for the Braves, who lost their seventh straight.

Spurs 106, Pacers 91

Billy Paultz and George Gervin scored 20 points apiece and Larry Kenon had 19 as San Antonio beat Indiana and clinched at least a tie for the Central Division title. It was the fourth loss in a row for Indiana.

Kings 108, Bullets 105

Otis Birdsong scored 25 points, including a 10-foot jumper with 24 seconds left in overtime and a free throw at the buzzer, as Kansas City handed Washington its fourth loss in the last six home games.

Lakers 108, Jazz 103

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar scored 34 points, grabbed 16 rebounds and blocked 9 shots to lead Los Angeles past New Orleans, dropping the Jazz one-half game behind idle Atlanta in the battle for the last Eastern

Blazers Embarrassed

By ALEX SACHARE

Portland and Philadelphia last year's two playoff finalists, are heading in opposite directions as the end of the National Basketball Association's regular season approaches.

The injury-riddled Blazers, who beat Philadelphia 4 games to 2 last spring, suffered their fifth loss in a row Wednesday night, bowing to the Phoenix Suns by the embarrassing score of 127-94.

Philadelphia, meanwhile put on its biggest offensive show of the season in routing the Buffalo Braves 149-118 for the Sixers' 11th victory in the last 12 games and their 24th win in a row at home.

Portland now leads Philadelphia by just one game in the race for the best record in the NBA and the home-court advantage should the two clubs meet again in the playoff finals. Portland is 55-21, Philadelphia 53-21.

76ers 149, Braves 118

Conference playoff spot.

Warriors 112, Rockets 89

Golden State climbed two games above .500 as second-year center Robert Parish scored a season-high 28 points. It was Golden State's fifth triumph in its last six games and put the Warriors 1 1/2 games back of idle Milwaukee for the final playoff spot in the Western Conference.

Pistons 121, Sonics 116

Leon Douglas, starting at center in place of the injured Bob Lanier, scored 23 points to lead Detroit past Seattle.

Of the first dozen players to hit grand slam home runs in world series play, seven were members of the New York Yankees.

Cornering the can market

Last year, Americans opened and consumed the contents of more than 85 billion metal cans. The contents had a market value of some $40 billion, but the cans themselves also represented a business that would be considered big in any league — $6 billion.

It so happens that a struggle is underway over what is to be the basic material of the beverage can market — steel or aluminum. It is a struggle in which steel, an industry which has been seeing leaner times of late, is attempting a comeback.

Not so long ago the familiar tin-plated steel can had the market sewn up. Aluminum began making rapid inroads, however, with the advantages of its lighter weight and a new production technology called drawing and ironing which produced the seamless, slightly bulbous around the edges container which, by 1976, had taken over 61 percent of the beer can market and was moving in strongly on soft drinks.

Poor steel. That industry, however, has now come up with its own version of a seamless, lightweight can and has rejoined the contest. Not the least of the advantages of the new cans, asserts the American Iron and Steel Institute, is that they require less energy to produce.

A number of major producers, including the number one brewer, Anheuser-Busch, have installed or are in the process of installing new steel-can production lines with an average capacity of a quarter of a billion cans per year. By the end of this year it is estimated that there will be more than $120 million invested in such new facilities at St. Louis, Columbus, Ohio, and elsewhere.

From such small ideas are great industries made.

Community Land Trusts Favored

BELCHERTOWN, Mass. (AP) - Members of a "back to land" movement, finding less and less land to move back to, are trying an idea that dates from colonial times - the community land trust.

"I know what it means to work the land, and I love it," said Carl Davies, 24, striding through deep snow in the woods near this western Massachusetts town. "And I think everyone should have the option to be a farmer."

So Davies and about 30 other Hampshire and Franklin County residents, eager to save farms and fight the spread of condominiums and shopping malls, formed the Valley Community Land Trust.

The United States has about 50 community land trusts, and the number is growing. Typically, the nonprofit, tax-exempt trust acquires farm land and then leases it to people who can not afford market prices.

"The idea is to preserve community resources so somebody 20 generations from now doesn't look back in contempt at what we did," said Harold Skelton of the National Community Land Trust Center in Cambridge.

He said most community land trusts in this country are modeled on the trust that owns and leases about two-thirds of the farm land in Israel.

The Valley Land Trust is small - it doesn't even own any land yet - but its goals and problems are instructive.

The trust's members have been unable to agree on whether to accept donations from foundations, even those oriented toward social change, such as flour heir George Pillsbury's Haymarket Foundation in Cambridge.

Since the land trust's policies are made by consensus, anyone can veto acceptance of a grant.

Meanwhile, Davies said, developers and speculators keep buying up land. Although farms once covered western Massachusetts, more than half of the agricultural land in the region's lower Connecticut Valley went out of production between 1950 and 1969.

Throughout the country, land is held by fewer and fewer owners, and values keep rising from development and speculative pressures. As a result, the community land trust - grounded in the tradition of the early New England town common - has sprung up across the nation.

The largest community land trust in America is in Albany, Ga., 5,700 acres on which it has tried to provide farms and towns for landless people, most of them blacks.

Although the concept emphasizes community rights, it also retains some individual property ownership. The farmer has the right to any improvements he makes on the land, and a 99-year renewable lease can be inherited - so land can stay in a farm family.

Since the trust retains development rights, the one who inherits the leased agricultural rights pays fewer estate taxes - which have forced many farm families to sell their land.

900-Pound Man Receives Help

SEATTLE (AP) - Jon Minnoch was so weak from a vegetables-only diet that he could not be moved from bed. It took a dozen firefighters and an improvised plywood stretcher to move the 900-pound man into another bed - in a hospital.

The 36-year-old Minnoch had been lying on his side, practically immobile, for about three weeks, said Louie Marker, a friend living with the Minnoch family. Marker said Minnoch had injured his foot and, after spending a few days in bed, found it impossible to get up.

Minnoch, covered with painful bedsores, finally consented to pleas from his wife that he enter a hospital. He was reported in fair condition Wednesday, undergoing treatment for complications related to obesity, a University Hospital spokeswoman said.

Jean Minnoch said her husband had become so weak from his 600-calorie-a-day diet, prescribed by a doctor, that he had been unable to work at his job as owner of a taxi cab company.

Marker said the 5-foot-10 Minnoch had "always been heavy," weighing more than 300 pounds when the friends first met about 16 years ago and gaining weight over the years.

Firefighters arrived at Minnoch's home on Bainbridge Island at 10:30 p.m. Tuesday and maneuvered him onto a three-quarter-inch sheet of plywood measuring four feet by eight feet. A five-foot window in his first bedroom was removed because the doorways were too narrow, said Hugh Maguire, public relations officer for the Seattle Fire Department.

Planking from the bed was placed under the plywood to lift it to window level and then down to the waiting aid car, Maguire said.

The aid car rolled onto a ferry and arrived at the hospital around midnight, where Seattle firefighters were waiting to help.

It took 90 minutes to get Minnoch into a bed, or rather two beds.

His jerry-rigged stretcher would not fit through the hospital doorways, so it was cut down with a saw, said Maguire. Minnoch then was put onto two beds placed side-by-side.

"My husband has tried to diet before," said Mrs. Minnoch, who weighs 110 pounds.

"He was determined this time to make it work. It got to the point where he just couldn't get out of bed."

Betting Placed On Ballot

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - State District Judge Jim Dear Wednesday dissolved a restraining order that had blocked a referendum on horse betting from being placed on the May 6 Democratic primary ballot.

Dear said the State Democratic Executive Committee had the power to put anything it wanted on the ballot, and the court has no jurisdiction unless there is an allegation of fraud.

The SDEC voted March 13 to put the non-binding referendum on the ballot after racing supporters presented petitions containing more than 96,000 signatures.

SDEC member Harold Hammett of Fort Worth alleged, however, that the petition lacked enough valid signatures, and Dear granted a temporary restraining order March 23.

Hammett's lawyer, Randall Wood, said it appears if Dear's ruling stands "anybody that brings enough signatures" can get anything placed on the ballot whether the signatures are valid or not.

Wood said he would have to get together with Hammett before deciding whether to proceed against the horse race betting referendum.

State District Judge Herman Jones refused Monday to stop a referendum to ask voters if they approve increasing the interest rates on loans under $5,000.

ABC Still Dominates Nielson TV Ratings

NEW YORK (AP) - ABC continued its domination in the ratings war with CBS and NBC during the week ending March 26, claiming seven of the nine most-watched shows - including three reruns. A.C. Nielsen Co. figures show.

For ABC, it was the 26th time in first place in 29 weeks this season, and the 10th week in a row in the top spot.

The network's rating for the week was 20.2, followed by CBS at 18 and NBC at 16.2. The networks say that means in an average prime time minute during the week, 20.2 percent of the homes in the country with television were watching ABC.

A rerun of ABC's "Three's Company" was the week's most watched show, followed by a new installment of "Laverne and Shirley" and reruns of "M-A-S-H" on CBS and "Charlie's Angels" on ABC.

Nielsen says the rating of 30 for "Three's Company" meant that of all the homes in the country with television, 30 percent watched at least part of the show.

NBC's top show of the week was a repeat installment of "Little House on the Prairie," No. 6 in the ratings. And a rerun on CBS of the highly acclaimed Judy Garland film "The Wizard of Oz," was No. 13.

The "Happy Days Fourth Anniversary Show" suffered in the ratings apparently from a shift from its normal time slot. The show, generally near the top in the ratings on Tuesday evenings, was aired Thursday night during the latest week checked. It finished No. 19.

CBS and NBC divided the shows at the lower level of the ratings. CBS' "Shields and Yarnell Show" and "The Return of Captain Nemo" were No. 61 and 62. "Chuck Barris Rah Rah" on NBC was 63rd, a rerun of "Kojak" on CBS No. 64 and an NBC Movie, "All You Need is Cash," No. 65.

Here are the week's Top 11 shows:

"Three's Company," with a 30 rating representing 21.9 million homes, and "Laverne and Shirley," 26.8 or 19.5 million, both ABC; "M-A-S-H," 25.3 or 18.4 million, CBS; "Charlie's Angels," 24.4 or 17.8 million, and "Eight is Enough," 24 or 17.5 million, both ABC; "Little House on the Prairie," 23.6 or 17.2 million, NBC; "Perry Como Easter Special," 23.5 or 17.1 million, "Soap," 23 or 16.7 million, and Sunday Night Movie "SST: Disaster in the Sky," 22.6 or 16.5 million, all ABC; and "Quincy, M.E.," NBC, and "CBS: On the Air," Sunday, both 22.5 or 16.4 million.

The rest of the Top 20: "One Day at a Time" and "The Wizard of Oz," both CBS; "Fantasy Island," "Love Boat" and "Barney Miller," all ABC; "Incredible Hulk" and "The Waltons," both CBS; "Happy Days Fourth Anniversary Show" and "A.E.S. Hudson Street," both ABC.

Hockey League Loses Newspapers

LACONIA, N.H. (AP) - Somewhere on the highways of America a tractor-trailer driver is hauling a load of newspapers belonging to the Laconia Youth Hockey League.

Hockey players relaxed Sunday after loading newspapers they had collected to raise money for their league. But they discovered the next day that they had loaded the wrong trailer. The papers, all nine tons, were gone.

"We hope that the truck driver finds out that the papers belong to the hockey league, drives them to the nearest recycling center, and send us the check," said Jane Thayer, mother of one of the young hockey players.

Whitehorse, in the Yukon, is Canada's largest city in area, covering 162 square miles.

Dorchester To Expand

DALLAS (AP) - Dorchester Gas Corporation announced it has awarded contracts for construction of a new 36 million cubic feet per day cryogenic gas processing plant near Pampa.

The new plant, which includes increased fractionation and storage capacity, will cost approximately $6 million.

A Dorchester spokesman said the new plant, scheduled for completion in December, substantially replaces the company's present plant in the West Panhandle field.

Recoveries of natural gas liquids will increase to about 115,000 gallons per day from present production of approximately 60,000 gallons.

Delta County District To Pay with Taxes

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - A Delta County district judge's ruling, which opponents said would force numerous landowners to sell their land for taxes, was upheld Wednesday by the Texas Supreme Court.

Without writing a new opinion, the high court affirmed a writ of mandamus ordering Delta County Levee Improvement District No. 2 to impose enough taxes to pay $264,394 in judgments by the end of 1982.

The Texarkana Court of Civil Appeals also had upheld the mandamus - which was issued at the supreme court's insistence after the high court found the judgments were valid.

The judgments resulted from the district's default on bonds sold in 1919 for levee construction that never took place, according to court records.

Levee district lawyers contended that the order forcing payment of the entire judgment from tax funds in five years was too severe.

But the appeals court said legal precedent already established "that the severity of the order is within the sound discretion of the trial court and that appellate courts will not sympathize when the debts were voluntarily incurred and allowed to accumulate by neglect."

Attorneys for the district said in their appeals to the Supreme Court that bondholders who won judgments between 1937 and 1951 sold their bonds and judgments to O.P. Leonard for $15,500 in 1954.

They said Leonard gave the bonds and judgments to his four children.

"Each taxpayer will be a stick separately broken by successive and never-ending tax foreclosure sales to enforce tax assessments which can never be satisfied; for a taxpayer's property redeemed from one year's delinquency will be subject to sale again the next year," district lawyer said.

"The respondents the Leonard family will become the owners of $1 million worth of property costing them $15,500 and their attorneys' fees."

FDA Announces Chocolate Recall

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Food and Drug Administration Wednesday announced the recall of more than 11,000 cases of King's brand chocolates that the agency said are contaminated with salmonella and may cause food poisoning.

The FDA said the numerous products, all manufactured by King Candy Co. of Fort Worth, Texas, were distributed nationwide, but no injuries have been reported.

The government identified the candies being recalled by the company as:

Paul Harvey News British Workers Resent Immigrants

Twenty-five years ago Britain was almost all white.

Liberal immigration policies of Labor governments since have increased the percentage of nonwhites in Britain to the alarm of some. The population of Britain now comprises more than 6 percent immigrants.

There is a so-called National Front political party emerging which is militantly racist, run by former British Nazis, demanding the expulsion from Britain of all nonwhites.

But much more significant is the degree to which the British Conservative Party, under the leadership of Margaret Thatcher, is demanding an end to further immigration for Asia and the Caribbean.

Her demand is being applauded by many traditional Laborites who will tell you, "We've let too many outsiders in; that's why unemployment in Britain is the worst since World War II."

Ilford, England, is a community of 65,000 voters—mostly small-home owners. Many live in mock-Tudor semidetached houses trimmed in bright colors. It is a bedroom suburb on the east edge of London. Ilford includes an Asian minority of perhaps 1,600 voters.

In early March there was a significant election in Ilford. The longtime Labor constituency sent a Conservative to Parliament—and by a crushing margin.

Three parties had mounted their big guns for this campaign.

What the outcome demonstrated is significant for them and for us.

The decisive issue was not race hate. Indeed, the National Front candidate who was openly racist in his appeal to voters was all but ignored.

What the upset election did reveal is that British workers are increasingly resentful of immigrants.

It was not a matter of color, but of bread and butter, of jobs!

The Conservative Party literature warned voters that the Labor Party "plans to relax immigration controls."

A 69 percent voter turnout in horrendous weather followed! Longtime Labor voters—who have demonstrated in the past that they have no Fascist feelings—rallied 'round Conservative candidate Mr. Vivian Bendall.

Again—the backlash in Ilford was economic.

Britain's Labor government was so shook up by this election that it decided to postpone a new national election for as long as possible. And Britain's Labor government has also shelved any recommendation for expanded immigration.

The homogeneity of our own country is exemplary. Probably because we are all "mostly something else."

We have taken pride in our country's open door, admitting the "huddled masses yearning to breathe free."

In prosperous times we can afford this generosity, are strengthened by it.

But what British experience is trying to tell us is that, in less prosperous times, immigrants are first to suffer resentment and rebuff. Admitting more now, legal and otherwise, will be doing them no favor.

Houston Mayor Supports Protest

HOUSTON (AP) - Mayor Jim McConn says he supports a scheduled Sunday demonstration to protest one-year prison sentences assessed three former Houston policemen in the Joe Campos Torres case.

McConn said Wednesday he might join the planned silent march. He is currently recuperating from surgery.

The City Council approved the demonstration as a march but issued no parade permit, so participants will be limited to sidewalks and observation of traffic regulations.

Arnold Arevalo, a spokesman for the League of United Latin American Citizens, invited councilmen to participate. He said it will begin near the City Hall and then participants will march to the Buffalo Bayou site where Torres drowned while in custody of police.

"Although I cannot participate in the march, I feel a peaceful demonstration by the Mexican-American community is understandable," McConn said. "Mexican-Americans have a real complaint right now and I can really sympathize with them."

The former patrolman, Terry Denson, Stephen Orlando, and Joseph Janish, received one year sentences last Tuesday in federal court on misdemeanor convictions for beating Torres. They also received 10-year probation sentences for felony convictions for conspiring to deprive Torres of his civil rights.

The three officers were convicted in state court last year on misdemeanor negligent homicide charges.

The body of Torres was found in Buffalo Bayou last May, three days after he had been arrested in a bar disturbance.

Arevalo called Tuesday "a bleak day not just for the Mexican-American community in Houston but for the nation as a whole" when U.S. District Judge Ross Sterling "handed down shocking sentences."

He called the convictions acceptable "but its enforcement was poor and ineffective. This cannot be allowed to set a precedent to future cases of this nature."

Meanwhile, a police patrolman was granted immunity Wednesday in exchange for testimony before a federal grand jury investigating the death of a Louisiana youth who was killed by police.

U.S. District Judge John V. Singleton Jr. ordered John Thomas Olin, 27, to testify and warned the patrolman he would be prosecuted for perjury if he failed to tell the truth.

The grand jury is investigating the death of Randall Webster, 17, of Shreveport, who was shot to death Feb. 8, 1977 after a high speed chase that developed after a van had been reported stolen.

At the time, investigators said Patrolman D.H. Mays, 31, shot Webster when the youth appeared to be reaching for a gun. Mays was later non-billed by a county grand jury and no police disciplinary action was taken against Mays or five other officers involved.

After the federal grand jury investigation began, Police Chief Harry Caldwell said a gun found at the shooting site had been traced to the police property room where it was received during the investigation of a suicide. He also said records indicate the gun was part of a police property room inventory destroyed in 1968.

Steel Prices May Rise

PITTSBURGH (AP) - Steel-makers are checking balance sheets to see if they'll follow two of the industry leaders in boosting prices after the winter-long coal strike, increases the Carter administration says are more than double what could be justified by the miners' walkout.

U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's largest producer, and Wheeling-Pittsburgh Steel Corp., the ninth largest, announced increases of $10.50 a ton Wednesday. The increases are expected to mean higher prices for new appliances and an estimated $9 to $10 increase in the cost of an average American car. Autos are being reduced in size to save gasoline and require a bit less than a ton of steel, industry sources say.

The new prices are to go into effect Saturday. They apply to sheet steels, structural shapes, plates, tin plate and tube products.

"The cost of the new coal contract began immediately.... when the miners returned to work," U.S. Steel argued, noting that workers who went back to the mines Monday received a $100 bonus.

The administration's Council on Wage and Price Stability estimated the coal agreement would increase steel production costs by about $4 a ton over the coal contract's three-year life.

"The council termed the steel price increase inflationary. Such inflationary price increases seriously endanger the continuation" of the industry's recovery from the beating it had been taking recently from foreign competition, the wage and price council said.

The council has no power to order a rollback, but White House opposition presumably could pressure the steel firms to reconsider.

President Carter successfully persuaded steel producers into pulling back on price increases when they announced 6.8 percent to 8.8 percent boosts in flat rolled sheets and bar products last May.

The latest increase, if followed by the rest of the industry, would mean a raise in steel prices of 8 percent since the beginning of the year. U.S. Steel, the nation's largest producer, announced a 5.5 percent increase on some major products just last month.

Austria extends over an area that approximates the size of Scotland. It includes much of the mountainous terrain of the eastern Alps, which occupy about 92 percent of the country.

Florida Chief Has Own 'Angels'

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) - Police Chief Leo Callahan has two "Angels" of his own, but unlike TV's Charlie, Callahan is not likely to send his winsome officers flitting off on perilous adventures.

Carole, a shapely 24-year-old brunette, and Viki, a perky 18-year-old blonde, just happen to be Callahan's daughters.

Carole, a former dispatcher for the Broward County Sheriff's office, is now on regular patrol, and her sister is assigned to the fingerprint lab.

"I catch a lot of ribbing about them being my angels," Callahan says, "particularly that one's a blonde and one's a brunette. And they are good-looking. They say, 'Dad, don't call us your angels.' But it can't be stopped."

Callahan, who has been chief since 1973, has mixed emotions about his daughters following in his gunshoes. "They're adults," he said with a sigh. "I neither encouraged them nor discouraged them. Obviously, I'm proud of them. But having been a police officer for 22 years I know what they really face in the field."

But Callahan can only blame himself for the career aspirations of his only two children.

They grew up in a house stocked with police scanners and radios that blared 24 hours a day; Christmas presents were likely to be fingerprint kits; Carole's cat was dubbed "Signal 20."

"Daddy always saved the best homicide pictures for dinner, and we grew up with gory pictures at the table because that's when we were all together," Carole said.

Carole remembers her first date when she was 15 years old. When the young man arrived, Callahan greeted him with, "Your picture was taken as you entered the door. Now, if you will just step over to the table so I can take your fingerprints..."

"We never saw him again," Vicki, said with a chuckle.

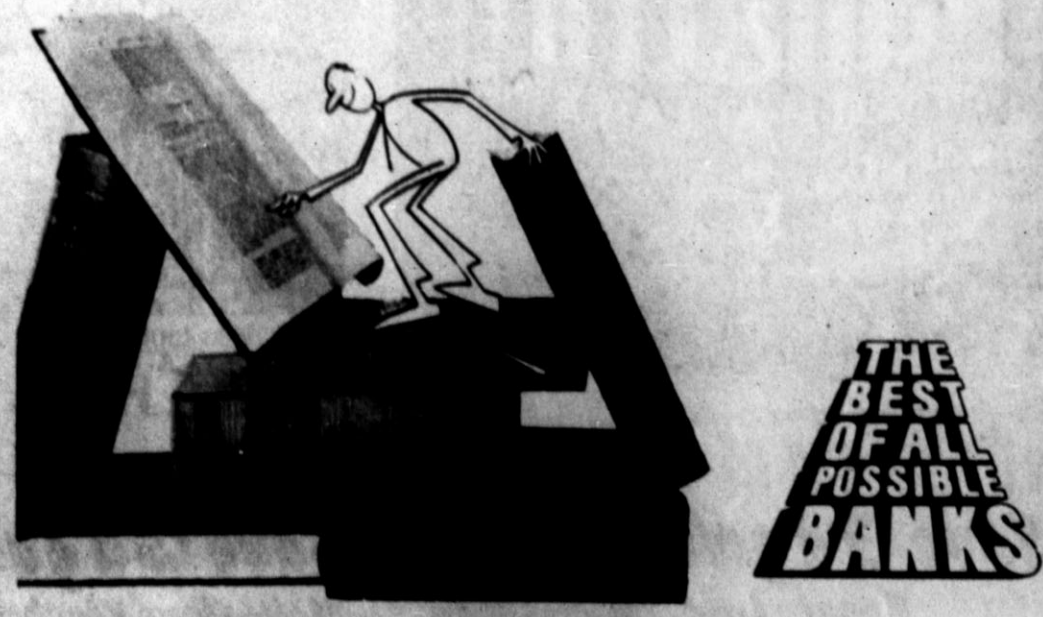

The Callahan sisters were aware of possible drawbacks of police work, especially to their social life. "Adults are looking at you because you are a cop's daughter and the kids think you are the school 'narc' narcotics officer," says Vicki.

"Friends are scarce, and boyfriends are scarcer," she said.

Wind Erosion in Great Plains Down From 77 Damage Figure

WASHINGTON (AP) - Improved moisture conditions have helped reduce wind erosion to land in the Great Plains to only 43 percent of the damage a year ago, according to Agriculture Department surveys.

Through February, some 1,661,535 acres of land in 10 Great Plains states were damaged by wind since the beginning of the current seven-month erosion season which began last Nov. 1, the department's Soil Conservation Service said.

During the same four months of 1976-77, the agency reported 3,833,667 acres were eroded by wind in the massive 10-state area which extends from Texas to the Canadian border.

Soil moisture reserves were in better shape last fall than in the previous year, and much of the area has had generous snow and rain which has helped winter wheat and other vegetation protect the land.

About eight million acres of Great Plains land were damaged by wind in the entire seven-month season which ended to May 31, the most extensive damage in 20 years. Colorado was hardest hit last year with about 2.2 million acres damaged.

In 1956-57, wind damaged 10.3 million acres in the plains. The agency considers land damaged by wind if enough soil is removed or deposited on it to cause a further erosion hazard or impair its capacity to grow crops.

A year ago more than half of the total season damage was done in the final three months of the 1976-77 season, including almost 2.9 million acres in March alone. Thus, USDA officials are reluctant to make firm predictions on this season's final damage.

However, the latest report said that as of Feb. 28 only about 9.7 million acres in the Great Plains were "in condition to blow" and that 73 percent of it was in the southern plains. A year ago more than 16.9 million acres were in condition to blow, with 59 percent in the southern part of the region.

"Due to good snow cover and moisture conditions, especially in the northern plains, the land in condition to blow to date this year is only 57 percent of what it was a year ago," the report said.

The report said emergency tillage by farmers to reduce wind damage was undertaken through February on 950,880 acres, with about 84 percent of the tillage in Texas. In all, the southern Great Plains accounted for 99 percent of the emergency tillage.

The survey by the USDA agency covers about 350 selected counties in the 10-state area. Of the land damaged by wind through February, about 77 percent was in Texas. Wind damage to land since Nov. 1 through February, compared with the acreage a year ago, included:

NORTHERN PLAINS
Montana 68,230 acres through February this year and 134,920 in the same four months of last season. Nebraska 59,935 and 239,170; North Dakota 79,780 and 405,540; South Dakota 159,695 and 664,950; and Wyoming 14,250 and 10,300.

SOUTHERN PLAINS
Colorado 56,880 and 900,545; Kansas 6,850 and 291,780; New Mexico 175,353 and 187,700; Oklahoma 58,280 and 87,940; and Texas 1,279,645 and 2,378,757.

Texas Ag Sales Up During 1977

COLLEGE STATION - Texas farmers and ranchers had an estimated sales volume of $6.87 billion for 1977, up from the 1976 total of $6.55 billion. However, their net income suffered due to low market prices and soaring production costs.

"With the increase in agricultural sales in Texas, the state is continuing to move toward the goal of becoming Number 1 in the nation in total cash receipts from agricultural products," points out Dr. Carl Anderson, marketing economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"And, of course, the total agribusiness industry in Texas continues to grow. Currently, every agricultural dollar turns around about three-and-a-half times, generating more than $25 billion in economic impact within the business community and benefitting the lives of many people. Thus, agricultural growth contributes substantially to the growth of the Texas economy."

Looking at last year's estimated cash receipts, meat animals led the way, contributing $2.48 billion. Cotton was the top crop, with cash receipts of more than $1.45 billion.

Other top contributors in cash receipts were feed crops, $819 million; food grains, $485 million; poultry and eggs, $358 million; dairy products, $336 million; vegetables, $231 million; and oil crops, $197 million. Cash receipts of $286 million are estimated from agricultural related areas such as farm-based timber, horses, fish farming, hunting leases, farm pound leases and recreation.

The largest gain in cash receipts came from cotton, up $416,000 from 1976. Cash receipts from meat animals were up $91,000 from a year ago while oil crop receipts showed an increase of $58,000. Substantial gains were also noted in cash receipts from fruits and nuts, vegetables, and agricultural related income. On the other hand, receipts were down for dairy products, poultry and eggs, food grains and feed crops.

Which agricultural commodities had the most economic impact for Texas in 1977? Anderson lists the top 15 as cotton and cottonseed, beef, feed beef, sorghum, poultry, dairy, other feedgrains, rice, wheat, vegetables, swine, sheep and goats, forestry, recreation and soybeans.

When faced with more than one operation that should be done at the same time, farmers may be able to save on both time and expenses by following some of the suggestions offered by Cecil Parker, an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service:

--Have equipment ready when the time comes to use it. When buying a new machine,

Hints Offered Hurried Farmer

COLLEGE STATION - You've heard the expression--"The harder I work, the farther behind I get!" Well, most farmers and ranchers can relate quickly to this dilemma. However, a little planning and organizing can help keep the situation in hand.

Reduce time lost in the field by having machinery adjusted as much as possible before starting an operation. Save time by planning fields for long rows and few turns. Devise ways to fill seed and fertilizer boxes and sprayer tanks with the least possible amount of lost time.

--Change cropping system to avoid competition between crops. For instance, is the hay ready to cut at the same time grain should be planted? The choice may be between lower grain yields or lower quality hay. Even though weather influences farm operations, a cropping plan should allow farmers to get the job done in time most years.

--Change production systems. Sometimes changes in a basic method can save time. A chisel plow is faster than a moldboard plow. Fall plowing can reduce the spring workload.

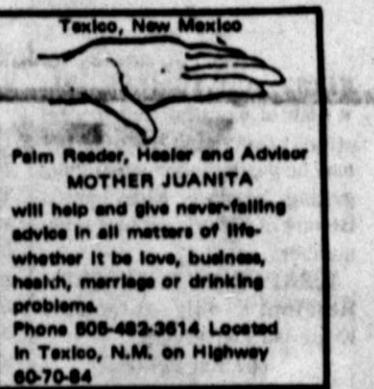

--Increase working hours per day. Farmers may be spending as many hours as possible on the tractor. Reducing the amount of daily chores is a way to gain added field time. Perhaps someone with an 8 to 5 job can be employed several hours each evening. A higher than usual hourly wage could be paid to make the offer attractive and at the same time be a profitable farm expense.

--Use custom operators. Consider hiring a custom operator to help get through a busy season even though a machine is owned that can do the job. Possible increased yields or decreased field losses can more than offset the cost. Also, using a reliable custom operator rather than owning a large expensive machine will release operating capital for other uses.

get it early enough so it can be checked out, tried and adjusted well in advance of use.

well-being of livestock producers. Senators adopted the labeling proposal from the floor of the Senate on March 22. The Conference Committee will have its first meeting Monday, April 3.

Cunningham indicated that he is also encouraged by congressional action on legislation which would limit meat imports. The Senate Committee will begin formulating a proposal on the limiting of meat imports sometime in mid-April. The ICA is supporting import limitation legislation introduced recently by Sen. Lloyd Bentsen and Rep. Jake Pickle, both of Texas.

GSPA Advising Farmers: Ready Two-Thirds of Land

LUBBOCK - Final changes in the 1977 Farm Bill-if there are any-will not be forthcoming for a couple of weeks, and farmers are wondering what to do about planting.

The Grain Sorghum Producers Association headquartered here, recommends that farmers thoroughly prepare two-thirds of their land for planting. None of the programs being considered calls for more than a one-third layout of land. Proposed layouts range from one-fifth to one-third. By leaving one third of his land idle (the maximum that could be required), a farmer is ready for all possible changes in the farm program. If the adopted changes call for less than one-third, the producer will have only a small amount of additional acreage to prepare and plant.

"In the meantime, producers should stay as flexible as possible," advises Elbert Harp, Grain Sorghum Producers Association executive director.

GSPA, a proponent of the flexible parity concept (one of the proposed changes in the farm bill), is concerned not only about the Administration's attitude toward this concept, but its attitude toward any farm bill changes.

Secretary of Agriculture Bergland stated last week that he felt it was necessary to hold large grain stocks to prevent "disaster" in years when yields were low. "GSPA contends that the government needs to make adequate provisions for holding off the market whatever stocks are necessary to prevent "disasters" so that they (the stocks) will not seriously affect grain prices," said Harp.

"The Grain Sorghum Producers Association strongly disagrees with the Administration's continued encouragement of over production based on the fear of inadequate supplies in the case of a crop failure. If it is in the national interest to maintain surplus stocks for the bad years, then it is also in the national interest to carry these stocks at parity price levels.

Otherwise, GSPA feels it is in the farmers' interest to cut production to scarce levels so prices will rise," he added emphatically.

ICA Head Favors Import Labels

AUSTIN - T.A. Cunningham, president of the Independent Cattlemen's Association, has urged congressional conferees considering amendments to the 1977 Farm Bill to include a Senate proposal to label imported meats as an amendment.

"We've been fighting for labelling of imported meat for three years now and the Senate proposal is very encouraging to us," said Cunningham. "Consumers as well as cattlemen will benefit if this amendment is passed."

He encouraged Senators to hold fast to their support of the proposal and informed House conferees that labelling legislation is essential to the Commercial and backyard vegetable growers will have a larger supply of seed by next year if plans of seed producers materialize, according to the Agriculture Department.

A survey of major seed companies and seed growers indicates that the acreage for vegetable seed production in 1978 will be up 18 percent from last year and that seed production may increase 39 percent because of improved yields.

Most of the increase will be in pea seed.

Exports Show 4 Percent Decline

WASHINGTON (AP) - Exports of U.S. farm commodities on the basis of value were up slightly in January compared with the same month a year ago, but the total since the current fiscal year began last Oct. 1 was down 4 percent from the first four months of the previous year, the Agriculture Department says.

This year's exports during the first four months were valued at less than $8.05 billion against $8.36 billion in Oct.-Jan. of the previous year, the department said in a report.

Department experts have predicted that total farm exports this fiscal year, which will end Sept. 30, may be in the range of $22 billion to $24 billion. Last year's exports were valued at a record of more than $24 billion.

Actual quantities of exports, however, are expected to reach a record of about 110 million metric tons, up from 102 million tons last year. Prices of some commodities are less this year, accounting for the value decline.

The report, titled Foreign Agricultural Trade of the United States, (FATUS), said that about 37.2 million tons of commodities were exported this Oct.-Jan. against 38.5 million in the same four-month period of the previous year. Shipments in January, however, were up from a year ago.

Thus, if USDA's record tonnage prediction is met, shipments will have to continue increasing this spring.

FB Will Encourage LMB Contributions

WACO - Texas Farm Bureau will conduct a series of meetings over the eastern two-thirds of the state in April for the purpose of encouraging increased contributions by beef producers to the National Livestock and Meat Board.

The Board coordinates research and promotion for all red meat products. It plans to triple its budget (from $4 million to $12 million) in five years.

The meetings are an outgrowth of a recommendation the TFB Beef Cattle Advisory Committee made to the TFB Board of Directors following a meeting of the organization's Beef and Dairy Division recently.

Need for stepped-up activities in promoting beef is seen from the prospects for substantial price increases over the next few months as the cattle market pulls out of a slump. The promotion campaign would be aimed at emphasizing nutritive values of beef in an effort to discourage consumer reaction to rising prices.

Texas last year contributed over $400,000 to the NLMB from cattle marketings which included collections by auction markets, Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association and Texas Cattle Feeders Association, and packers.

The TFB Beef Cattle Division would like to see the 3 cent per head contribution increased to 10 cents per head of cattle moving through auction barns and commission companies.

"Texas could contribute $1 million annually," says J.D. Jordan, TFB associate director of commodity activities. The TFB Division's goal is to double the present contribution of approximately $400,000 in the next few years.

Jesse Felker of Ft. Worth, Southwestern Representative for the National Livestock and Meat Board, will appear at the meetings to explain operations of the Board. Other speakers will include Jordan, TFB Executive Director Warren Newberry, and Tommy Klemcke, TFB associate director of commodity activities.

PUBLIC NOTICE

CITATION BY PUBLICATION THE STATE OF TEXAS T: Ernest Carl Dandridge, Respondent, Greeting:

YOU (AND EACH OF YOU) ARE HEREBY COMMANDED to appear before the District Court of Deaf Smith County at the Courthouse thereof, in Hereford, Texas, by filing a written answer at or before 10 o'clock A.M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 10 day of May A.D. 1978, to Plaintiff's Petition filed in said court, on the 24 day of February A.D. 1978, in this cause, numbered DC8507 on the docket of said court and styled in the interest of Carl Dandridge, a minor.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit: Petition for Temporary Managing Conservatorship. If this citation is not served within ninety days after the date of its issuance, it shall be returned unserved. The officer executing this writ shall promptly serve the same according to requirements of law, and the mandates hereof, and make due return as the law directs.

Witness, Lola Faye Veazy, Clerk of the District Court of Deaf Smith County, Texas. Issued and given under my hand and the seal of said court at Hereford, Texas, this 29th day of March A.D. 1978. District Court of Deaf Smith County, Texas. 193-1c

The Commissioners Court of Deaf Smith County will open bids for an industrial tractor with front end loader and backhoe on April 10, 1978 at 10 A.M. in the courthouse. Specifications may be picked up at 242 E. 3rd Street in Hereford. The Commissioners reserve the right to reject any and all bids. Bids may be postponed until April 24. 101-8c

Today In History

Today is Thursday, March 30, the 89th day of 1978. There are 276 days left in the year. Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1867, U.S. Secretary of State William Seward and the Russian minister to the United States reached agreement on the American purchase of Alaska for $7.2 million. On this date: In 1822, a territorial government was established in Florida. In 1870, Texas was readmitted into the Union after the Civil War. In 1940, Japan established a puppet government in occupied China. In 1957, the U.S. Navy's second atomic powered submarine, the Seawolf, was commissioned at Groton, Conn. In 1966, France ordered the closing of American military bases on French soil within 12 months. In 1967, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization bowed to French demands and formally closed NATO military headquarters in France. Ten years ago: The United States and eight other nations agreed on steps to try to ease an international money crisis, but France refused to go along. Five years ago: Ellsworth Bunker resigned as U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam and was succeeded by Graham Martin. One year ago: U.S.-Soviet talks in Moscow on limiting offensive missiles and bombers carrying nuclear warheads broke down as Kremlin leaders rejected key American proposals. Today's birthdays: McGeorge Bundy, president of the Ford Foundation, is 59 years old. Former U.S. Ambassador to Iran Richard Helms is 65.

At Wits End BY ERMA BOMBECK

"Heaven has no rage like love to hatred turned, nor hell a fury like a woman who has lost her car keys." How do you like that? My car keys have only been gone two hours, 36 minutes and three seconds and already I'm paraphrasing Cibber. They're gone and there's nothing I can do about it. Oh, I could tear up the entire house, go through coat pockets, empty out handbags, look in doors, the car ignition, or on the countertop in the kitchen where I definitely last put them. But what's the use? I recognize what a lot of women refuse to admit. Car keys are pedestrian. Unlike coat hangers and paperclips, they have no sex life, but they're mobile all right. It's happened before. Once I definitely remember putting them in my beach bag. Several hours later, they were gone. I discovered them in the sand under a beach towel three bodies down. Those little car keys' feet must have started moving before I got my tan line wet. Why do they do it? It must be as obvious to you as it is to me. They're male. They're short. And they're unhappy because they've got a ring in their nose. They think I can't do without them. Well, they're wrong. I didn't always have a car, you know. You want to know something? I got more done when I didn't have a car. And that's the truth! Sometimes when the kids were off at school, I'd straighten up my daughter's paper dolls, making sure the tabs went all one way...or I'd make crackers from scratch...or thin down all my nail polish and wax the TV antenna. I was busy. I didn't need a car. Who needs car keys? Do they think I enjoy dressing up and going into town for lunch? Or cruising around the shopping center shopping? Meeting my friends for tennis and getting rid of the kids at the playground for a couple of hours? It's pressure. I don't need that kind of pressure. One thing I know, I'm going to keep calm and when they're ready to show themselves, I may take them back, but I'm getting pretty sick of their theatrics. I'll try just one thing and if it doesn't work, I'm going to forget it. I threw myself head first into the clothes hamper and shouted hysterically. "I'M PREPARED TO GROVEL!"

Arlington Speed Limit Overruled

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Arlington's speed limit ordinance is unconstitutional because it is too rigid, the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals ruled Wednesday. In voiding the ordinance, the court also dismissed charges against Edward Jay Abrams, who was assessed a $175 fine for driving 49 miles per hour on an Arlington street Oct. 11, 1975. The posted limit was 30 miles per hour. Abrams challenged Arlington ordinance setting a uniform speed limit of 30 miles per hour "unless otherwise posted according to law." The high court noted the Texas Constitution says no local ordinance can conflict with a state law. It cited the state law prohibiting speeds "greater than is reasonable and prudent under the circumstances then existing." Violation of posted limits is only "prima facie evidence that the speed is not reasonable or prudent and that it is unlawful," the court observed. It also cited an Ohio decision, based on a similar law, that said while a speed might exceed that fixed by ordinance it still could be "reasonable and proper." "We conclude that the city of Arlington in its ordinance did not adhere to the basic rule contained in the state law of reasonable and prudent speed, but rather, contrary to the statute, set a rigid speed limit of 30 miles per hour unless otherwise posted. The ordinance being contrary to the statute, it is void," the high court said.
