Philip Murray, chairman of the C. I. O. committee, stood at Harrison's side while he talked to reporters and nodded assent.

Persons holding this opinion predicted only strong administrative pressure could forestall a stalemate. There was no indication, however, that President Roosevelt would enter the controversy.

Miss Hogue Is Given Warm Reception

Lectures Slated Again Tuesday, Wednesday At Auditorium

That The Herald's Happy Kitchen Cooking school is as big an affair of its kind ever to be held in Big Spring was evidenced at the opening session Monday afternoon as women by the hundreds gathered at the municipal auditorium to hear Miss Jessie Hogue, famed kitchen economist, give the first in a series of three lecture-demonstration classes.

The auditorium was well filled when the program started at 2 o'clock. A handsomely-decorated stage, equipped as a model kitchen with all the latest in equipment, provided the background for Miss Hogue as she went into her instruction, describing in detail the preparation of various dishes, and mixing and cooking these items as she talked.

The school lasts through Wednesday, with sessions starting at 2 p. m. tomorrow and Wednesday at the city auditorium. Valuable prizes were to be given away at the conclusion of the initial program, and similar lists were to be awarded Tuesday. Grand prizes will be awarded Wednesday.

So warmly did the first afternoon's crowd greet Miss Hogue that it appeared a certainty that crowds of the next two days will be larger. Women who attended were anticipated, will spread the preparation of the cooking school is something not to miss.

The reception Monday afternoon caused Miss Hogue to remark, "The women of Big Spring and the territory are certainly interested in their housekeeping, and I just want to say that I have never faced a more appreciative audience and interested audience."

Efficiency, Economy
The main points stressed by Miss Hogue are efficiency and economy. The school is not intended merely as the means of demonstrating a few expensive recipes for unusual dishes, but as the means of showing in a practical way how the busy home manager can lighten her kitchen work, have more fun and more leisure, and yet at the same time feed her family better and save money while doing so.

The musician would not think of starting his career without instruction from the masters. The art of maintaining the home is an important one, which is attested by the stress laid on home economics in our schools and colleges. Many women have not had these opportunities in their youth, and now they may have this knowledge imparted in a clear, concise manner by a woman who has devoted her life to this particular phase of the arts.

Recipes as used and explained by Miss Hogue Monday afternoon appear in another column on this page. It is suggested that the recipes be clipped and placed on file for future use.

HOLLYWOOD

Sights And Sounds ROBBIN COONS

JOAN BLONDELL Rough on hose.

HOLLYWOOD — Glamor-on-the-hoof runs into money in Hollywood. The sheer silk stockings that sheathes a shapely calf is the most expensive single item in a screen star's wardrobe.

The girls figure they spend from $50 to $65 on shin draperies for each pair of shoes—and shoes don't last very long either. A glamor girl of the film would as soon do a Lady Godiva on the Boulevard as appear in public with a run in her stocking.

The scandal season brings great hosiery worries. Bette Davis, during this time, never wears a pair of sheers more than twice because she's afraid of runs.

When she steps out formally in lace-toed chiffon hose, she carries a set of spares in her evening bag—and she's not the only one.

Kay Francis is particular about hosiery color, selecting stockings

Rough-on-hose Joan Blondell, a lively tomboy as a kid, snags, pulls or tears an average of three pairs a week.

Olivia de Havilland counts hosiery her "big extravagance, like the lady kid for evening and tissue-sheer chiffons for daytime.

OPERATOR OF NIGHT CLUB IS SLAIN

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25 (AP)—Three gunmen invaded a West Temple beer parlor today and killed Lea Bruneman, night club operator, and another man, and wounded Bruneman's woman companion.

Bruneman, who survived an attempted assassination at Redondo Beach last July, was struck by 14 bullets. The other dead man was identified by police as Frankie Grezzard, 24.

Bruneman was put "on the spot" with dramatic suddenness. A large sedan rolled up to the shanty-like drinkery. Three of the five occupants got out.

One gunman went to the table at which Bruneman and the woman sat. The others took up stations nearby. Then pistols blazed.

READING AND WRITING

By JOHN SELBY

"AN ARTIST IN AMERICA," by Thomas Hart Benton (McBride: $3.75).

The (at times) distressing honesty of Thomas Hart Benton's "An Artist in America" makes it the most refreshing literary venture of the week. We suspect, although we can't prove it, that this story of one painter's life in terms of his fellow man is the best book of his recent years—Henrick Willem van Loon's magnificent history of art not excepted.

Mr. Benton was born in Neosho, Mo., site of a fish hatchery, a court house and the representatives of several fine old families. His father was a lawyer-politician and he was named for his great-uncle, the Jacksonian worthy who fought a duel of 80 and made a few memorable remarks.

Young Thomas Hart Benton could not be forced into the law, even by his father. Accidentally, as a kind of defense of his budding manhood, the boy was tricked into a newspaper art job in Joplin. He felt the urge to consort with his like, and made a fool of himself in Chicago for a time. He went to Paris, and found the schools there quite as bad as in Chicago. He returned to New York, trailing mistresses, debts and conversational tags behind him. He lived in New York, deviously, and although living was not as easy as it might have been, some important lessons crept out of life into the Bentonian skull.

In New York, also, Benton married. There he did his first murals—for the New School. There, likewise he did the Whitney Museum murals, and you should certainly read his version of that transaction in "An Artist in America." Then he was invited to Indiana, and there created that monster "History of Indiana," 15 feet high and 250 feet long, which was the chief glory of the Indiana building at the Chicago fair.

It was after this experience that two things combined to return Benton to Missouri—the commission for the Jefferson City murals, and a teaching berth in the Kansas City Art Institute. It is evident that Benton feels that at last he belongs to his home state, and his home state to him. He has left the stale and sterile chit-chat of "the Village" and the western air is good.

Law Dismisses School

ELYRIA, O. (UP)—Classes were suspended at Grafton school on a recent chilly day because the junior wasn't allowed by law to fire the furnace. State authorities had ruled that Charles Mole, who had served as janitor and fireman for 16 years, could no longer legally fire the boiler because he had no license.

Services Held For Lancaster Baby

Funeral services were held from the Church of Christ Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock for Freddie Lee Lancaster, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lancaster. The baby, three months and 21 days old, died Saturday in a local hospital after an illness of several weeks.

Burial was made in a local cemetery, following rites conducted by Minister Melvin Wiese. Besides the parents, the child is survived by a brother and sister, the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Lancaster of near Big Spring, and the maternal grandmother, Mrs. Wheeler of Houston. Alfred Lancaster is employed at the Galtair gin here.

Arrangements were under direction of the Kinney Funeral home.

PUBLISHER DEAD

RICHMOND, Ind., Oct. 25 (AP)—Coordination of newspaper and radio dissemination of news had lost an ardent supporter with the death of Edward H. Harris, 57, veteran Indiana publisher and prominent newspaper leader.

Harris, president and publisher of the Palladium Publishing corporation here, died in his home last night. He had been ill since July with a nose and throat infection.

On the subject of news coordination Harris had written many articles. Along with his fight to preserve the freedom of the press, he carried his support before nearly all the influential groups of publishers in the United States. He had been secretary of the American Newspaper Publishers' association since 1934 and a director since 1927.

The survivors included all five Europeans aboard the Kaitangata, the Nanping reported, but 19 Chinese were missing.

MATERNITY WARD PATIENT WOUNDED

SPRINGFIELD, O., Oct. 25 (AP)—Mrs. Leonard Compton, 20, went home today with her eight-day-old son despite protests of physicians at the hospital where she was wounded slightly in a maternity ward shooting.

Meanwhile Police Lieut. Harry Shuman said a charge of shooting with intent to kill would be lodged against her husband, Leonard Compton, 23-year-old factory worker, who sullenly asserted "I'm only sorry I didn't kill her."

Shuman said Compton fired five shots, one striking his wife's wrist and four hitting the bed and walls.

The Kaitangata, chartered to the Standard Oil company, was entering the Hainan straits in the South China sea bound from Hongkong to Haiphong, China, when the fire broke out last night.

Interne M. K. Marshall said he disarmed Compton and held him.

Shuman quoted Compton as saying he asked his wife who was the father of the baby and she failed to reply.

Mrs. Compton said he was the baby's father.

Former Big Spring Girl Illustrator For New Book

Many Big Spring folks are being interested in the new book of Dena E. V. White of Texas Women's College (C.T.A.) for two reasons: Many local people, mostly former students of the school, well know Dena White and his capacity for epigrams; and a frontispiece and 25 other illustrations in the book are done by Yette Seden, Big Spring girl who attended the school.

Miss Seden graduated from the school with her B.A. in 1937 and is now studying in New York. Several of her paintings have attracted attention. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Seden.

Dean White's book contains 100 pages of his homespun philosophy, some 750 pithy sayings in all. Among them are such quips as "the milk of human kindness never sours," "God's hearing is perfect, don't holler when you pray," and "the person you kick may some day be able to return the compliment."

BIVINGS HOSPITAL AGAIN ON COLLEGE'S APPROVED LIST

For the fifth consecutive year, the Bivings hospital of Big Spring has been included in the list of such institutions bearing official approval of the American College of Surgeons. Announcement of the list was made Monday from Chicago, at the annual Hospital Standardization conference, by George Crile, chairman of the college board of regents.

There are 2,621 hospitals on the college's approved list, 76 of them Texas institutions. The Bivings hospital, opened in 1929, has been on the list since 1933.

Ten main criteria observed in determining the rating of each hospital were summarized in Chicago by Dr. Malcolm T. MacEachern, associate director of the College who directs the work of hospital standardization, as follows:

1. A modern physical plant, assuring the patient's comfort and proper care.
2. Clear definition of organization, duties, responsibilities and relations in the hospital's constitution, by-laws, rules and regulations.
3. A carefully selected governing board with complete supervisory authority.
4. A competent, trained superintendent responsible to the board for carrying out its policies.
5. Adequate and efficient personnel, properly organized and competently supervised.
6. Organized medical staff of ethical, competent physicians.
7. Adequate diagnostic and therapeutic facilities under competent medical supervision.
8. Accurate and complete medical records, readily accessible, for research and follow-up.
9. Regular group conferences of the administrative staff and of the medical staff for reviewing activities and results so as to maintain a high plane of scientific efficiency.
10. Humanitarian spirit—the primary consideration is the best care of the patient.

CALVES FROM M'DOWELL HERD WIN AWARDS

HOSPITAL INSURANCE PROGRAM SPREADING IN EASTERN AREA

CHICAGO, Oct. 25 (AP)—Ten million Americans will have hospital insurance by 1942 at the present rate of growth of this new adjunct to medical care.

This report was made today, at the opening of the American College of Surgeons' annual meeting, by C. Rufus Borem of Chicago, director of the committee on hospitals of the American Hospital association.

But, he said, on present trends, the 10 million will be mostly in eastern seaboard cities and in the industrial population as far west as Ohio. Extension of hospital insurance to rural communities, he said, "must wait on some effective way of enrolling subscribers and collecting fees."

At present he said there are a million and a quarter Americans who pay monthly from 50 to 80 cents each for hospital insurance, which ranges from free services of various sorts to reductions in private room rents in hospitals.

Most of these are in 35 non-profit making associations which allow the patient choice of the hospital he wishes to enter. None of these associations, he added, has yet failed. There are in addition 35 single hospital associations, and some of these he reported have failed.

Calves from the herd of L. S. McDowell and son, Loren, have won two prizes in two outstanding livestock shows in the mid-west. Don C. Martin, manager of the Benjamin Hereford association of Seymour, said here Monday.

Martin disclosed that the calves had taken reserve grand championship at the Akarsien livestock show at Omaha, Neb., Oct. 10-16, and took first prize at the American Royal Livestock show at Kansas City, Mo., last week.

"I purchased these calves last December for L. G. Scudder of Dawson county, Nebraska," said Martin. "He was the feeder and exhibitor of these cattle. Mr. Scudder is a veteran and one of the leading cattle feeders of Nebraska."

Martin was of the opinion that the competition at the shows was the keenest in their history, making the win all the more impressive. He ventured that it was the first time that he had taken on the reserve grand championship at these major shows.

High praise was voiced of the McDowell cattle and of the feeding by Scudder here Monday by Martin. Impressed by the showing, Martin was here making purchase of more steers from the McDowell herd for Scudder. According to him, Scudder will again feed out the calves with the purpose of exhibiting them in the same shows next year.

Christian Pastors To Make Plans For Convention

Program for the forthcoming convention, set tentatively for Nov. 9, will be planned by Christian pastors of this district Tuesday at 10 a. m. in a meeting at the First Christian church here.

Rev. G. C. Schurman, pastor of the local church, said that a definite date for the district conference likely would be set at the meeting. Wives of the visiting pastors will be guests of Mrs. Schurman during the day.

FRENCH VESSEL IS BOMBED

PARIS, Oct. 25 (AP)—The Havas (French) news agency reported today a seaplane of unidentified nationality had bombed a French submarine chaser off the island of Minorca, setting the vessel on fire.

First reports said all members of the crew were safe although the vessel, known as number 91, was struck squarely by a bomb.

The submarine chase had been put at the disposal of Air France, a commercial aviation concern, by the navy ministry.

The attack occurred this morning, the dispatch said, in the port of Formentor on the northern coast of the island.

Voting Trend May Be Shown Next Week

Governors, Congressmen, Legislators To Be Chosen

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (AP)—Scattered off-year elections a week from tomorrow may provide a hint of the way national political tides are running.

Two governors, four members of congress, half a dozen state legislators, and mayors of several large cities will be chosen in 15 states on Nov. 2.

Many of the contests are of purely local interest, but national attention has been attracted by the mayoral elections in New York and Detroit and the race for governor in New Jersey.

In New York Mayor Fiorella H. La Guardia, a Roosevelt supporter, is seeking re-election as the republican candidate against Jeremiah T. Mahoney, former New York supreme court justice, a new deal democrat who has the backing of Democratic National Chairman Parley.

La Guardia is backed also by the American labor and city fusion parties.

The battle for New York county district attorney also is attracting widespread attention. Tammany still is running Harold Hastings, assistant district attorney, against Thomas E. Dewey, special prosecutor of racketeers.

In Detroit's mayoral campaign the C. I. O. is making its major bid for political office. In a non-partisan election, Patrick H. O'Brien has C. I. O. support against Richard W. Reading, who ran first in the recent primary without any organized labor backing.

The American Federation of Labor has since thrown its strength to Reading.

New Jersey provides the nation's chief gubernatorial race this fall. Senator A. Harry Moore, twice governor, running as a democrat against State Senator Lester H. Cross, republican.

Moore opposed the Roosevelt court bills and came other administration messages in the senate, but is backed in this race by his colleague, Senator Smathers, an avowed Roosevelt supporter.

Virginia also elects a governor. James H. Price is the democratic nominee against J. Powell Royall, republican. Normally the democrat is elected.

Among the congressional races to fill vacancies, a three-way contest in New York City's "silk-stocking" Seventeenth district has attracted most interest. Bruce Barton, advertising executive and writer, is the republican candidate against Stanley N. Osserman, democrat, and George Backer, national labor party.

Two other congressional races are in upstate New York, and one is in Virginia.

U. S. Nine Power Parley Delegate Pal Of Potentates, Plain Folk

Simplicity Of Manner A Mark Of Distinction In Norman Davis

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—Tennessee's homespun Norman H. Davis hobnobs with potentates, premiers and gold-braided diplomats but he wouldn't look out of character at a gathering of cracker-box philosophers in a crossroads' country store.

An engaging simplicity of speech and manner, a soothing southern drawl and a patient toleration for the other fellow's viewpoint has won for Uncle Sam's ambassador-at-large the good will of statesmen in other countries, politicians at home and plain folk wherever he has gone.

The deliberate, pipe-puffing banker-business man, who enjoys his job as the government's roving envoy, will represent the United States at the Nine-Power conference on Sino-Japanese hostilities in Brussels, October 30.

The unaffected candor of this plain, little man, with whitened hair and quizzical blue eyes, masks what his associates in the foreign service describe as a "photographic knowledge" of the intricate interrelations of all the principal countries.

Wilson's Adviser Patient and conciliatory, he has been rated highly effective in preventing international friction at parleys from reaching the explosive stage. But back of his easy-going manner is a stubborn perseverance and a zest for work which keeps him plodding toward an objective when others have long since abandoned hope of its attainment.

During the peace negotiations, Davis was financial adviser to President Wilson. He vigorously opposed the heavy reparations which were being imposed upon Germany and predicted they would sow the seeds of future discord in Europe.

Two years ago while Italo-Ethiopian warfare was raging, Ambassador Davis said: "We cannot remain at peace just by hoping to do so."

This statement, scarcely noticed then, becomes significant now in view of President Roosevelt's recent declaration that peace "cannot just be wished for or waited for. It must affirmatively be reached. Therefore, America actively engages in the search for peace."

President Roosevelt who also made

"CANDID AMERICAN" That is the title Norman H. Davis, President Roosevelt's ambassador-at-large, has won in the world's conference chamber.

The ambassador-at-large title which so well describes his activities is unofficial. His real title is chairman of the American delegation to the disarmament conference, a permanent organization.

He has an ambassador's commission, however, being appointed by President Roosevelt who also made him head of the disarmament delegation.

During the World war he visited Spain, France and England as a special adviser on financial affairs and at the end of the war became United States finance commissioner in Europe. This supreme council of the Allies named the "candid American" chairman of its financial section. President Wilson successively appointed him assistant secretary of the treasury and under-secretary of state.

At the conclusion of the Wilson administration he returned to private business but in 1927 was appointed a member of the American delegation to the International Economic conference. His appointment to the disarmament delegation and other economic missions followed.

Ambassador Davis is a golf enthusiast and a topnotch bridge player.

Likes Family Reunions He is no linguist but he has a good working knowledge of French. His headquarters usually are where he hangs his hat. He has, however, a small private office as well as a residence in New York.

Mrs. Davis, well-informed and a talented conversationalist, accompanies him on his trips. She helps him when she feels that she can but fades graciously into the background when she thinks such a course is expedient.

They have eight children, all married. Irving Enzow and Mrs. Davis are in their best form when these children and a flock of grandchildren join them in family reunion at the big country home at Stockbridge, in the Berkshire hills of Massachusetts.

BURGESS DIXON IN 'WHO'S WHO' LIST AMONG STUDENTS

LUBBOCK, Oct. 25—Burgess Dixon, nephew of Mrs. J. C. Douglass, Douglass hotel, Big Spring, is one of 19 senior and junior students of Texas Technological college whose names will appear in the February issue of 'Who's Who Among American Universities and Colleges.'

Dixon is editor of the Toreador, semi-weekly school newspaper, and was president of the Tech Press club last year.

Students were selected by deans of the four divisions of the college on the basis of character, scholarship, possibility of future usefulness to business and society, and leadership in extra-curricular activities such as politics, athletics, society and religion.

The book, containing biographical sketches of students, and information on colleges represented, will be published by the University of Alabama.

500 Claimants Per Day Foreseen For Security Benefits

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (AP)—Orville S. Carpenter, executive director of the Texas unemployment compensation commission, predicted about 500 eligible claimants would file applications daily for benefit payments when the new social security law goes into effect January 1.

He said probably twice that number would seek payments but only about half would meet all requirements, including the earning of a minimum amount of wages in 1937 through employers covered by the unemployment insurance.

"The estimate is a rough one," he said, "this scheme is new and of course all we can do is study unemployment statistics and guess an approximation. We believe the 500 figure for Texas is about right and it is on that number we seek our quota of funds to carry out the plan."

He said very few of the January claimants are expected to have been previously employed long enough to share the full 16 weeks of benefit payments possible under the program.

Carpenter, with Joe K. Wells, state field supervisor of the commission, and Herbert Frenley, chief accountant, have been attending a national meeting here of state directors of the unemployment compensation commission.

FARM HEARING IS ON AT HOUSTON

HOUSTON, Oct. 25 (AP)—South Texas farmers planned to sketch their ideas on national agricultural legislation for a touring senate subcommittee here today in the first of two hearings the group had scheduled in Texas.

The hearing, opening at 10 a. m. in the Rice hotel, was to be another in a series held in agricultural states to get first hand views from "one-galled farmers."

Itinerary of the group included a similar hearing to be held at Dallas tomorrow.

Sen. Ellison Smith of South Carolina is chairman, Senators Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma, J. H. Bankhead of Alabama, A. H. Moore of New Jersey, and A. J. Ellender of Louisiana, are members.

Tonight in Dallas Senator Thomas was listed as the principal speaker at a Texas-Oklahoma farm dinner.

TODAY AND TOMORROW

By Walter Lippmann

(Mr. Lippmann's column is published as an informational and news feature. His views are personal and are not to be construed as necessarily reflecting the editorial opinion of The Herald—Editor's Note.)

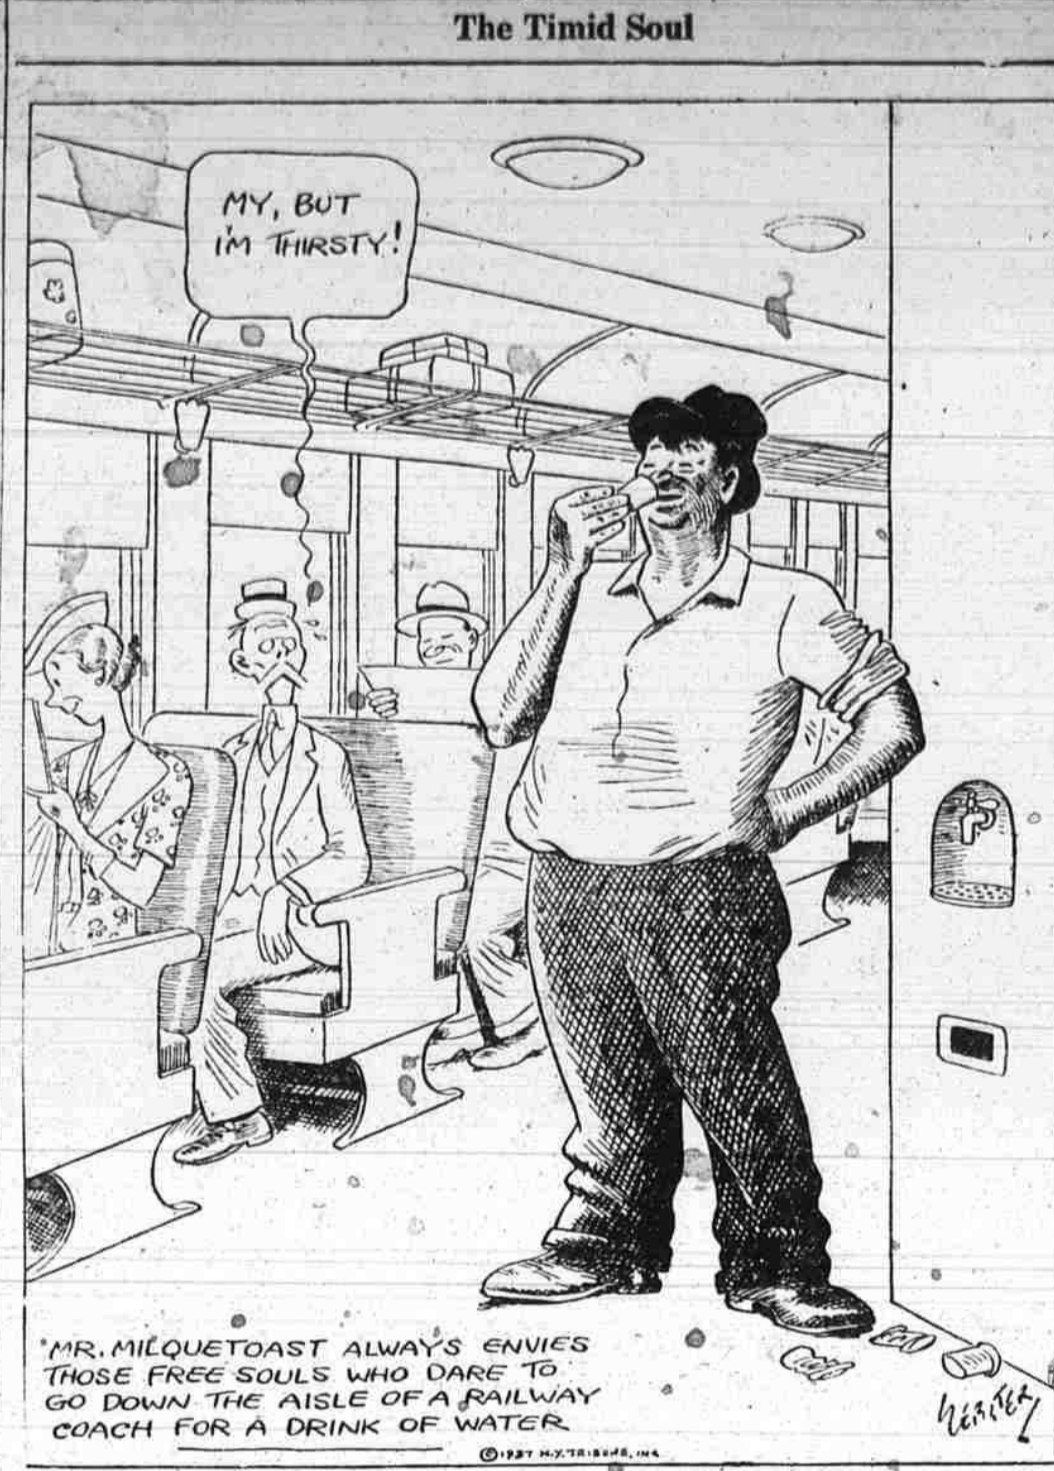

THE NEW YORK CITY ELECTION

Only too often the independent voter goes to the polls feeling that he has had to choose between six of one and a half dozen of the other. But if I were a voter in New York City this year...

LIPPMAN — It has had in this generation, and on the other hand, that there is no reason to think the Tammany democratic opposition has any clear or coherent notion of how to govern a great metropolis.

It is true, of course, that Mayor LaGuardia is not above resorting to the tricks of the demagogue, that he is not very scrupulous about appealing to the passions of the crowd. It may be true, too, that he has large ambitions for the future. Nevertheless, he has succeeded thus far in separating the demagogues from the voters from the city's affairs. His administration has not only been honest, very honest by New York municipal standards, but to a high degree, disinterested, and far-sighted.

A Little Less Playing

During a parliamentary squabble in the Texas senate Friday, Senator Frank Rawlings of Fort Worth remarked, in objecting to suspension of a rule, that "The rules were made in order to see that the game is played fairly."

Man About Manhattan

Two's Company

By MARGARET GILSON HERZOG

Chapter 22 CORDELLA'S BLACK-TIE PARTY: Throughout dinner, and later, Nina talked—said things—but she couldn't remember what, afterwards...

Two of David's friends—Gracie Nolan, and Jack Knight—had arranged a little dinner in their honor. Knight was another salesman who worked in the same showroom as David; and Gracie had worked there in the past, as a private secretary.

David spoke with engaging frankness of his turning Nina into a "home body."

gaily and intimately about her own travesty of a marriage, with Honey—who was so wildly happy, in hers.

Nina thought: This is sort of the end, I guess. She could never feel quite the same with her mother or now.

Nothing could be gained by it; it was wicked, and didn't "make sense" as she told herself over and over, but there it was. He must love her—or she simply couldn't live.

In the days that followed, Nina was able to overcome her aversion to being alone with Honey, somewhat, but her mind fidgeted about Richard, went right on. She made no excuses for herself, and she fought, it, and she doubled up on her efforts to make David happy.

VAN ZEELAND GOVT. IN BELGIUM RESIGNS

BRUSSELS, Oct. 25 (AP)—The government of Premier Paul Van Zeeland resigned tonight.

Van Zeeland went before parliament last month, explained that funds he received were a bonus to which he was fully entitled and won a vote of confidence in his government.
