

SCS Fears Local Land Slated As 'Dust Bowl III'

Could the High Plains of Texas be entering another Dust Bowl Era?

The conditions are present, says J.C. Brown, District Conservationist with the local U.S. Soil Conservation Service. Brown pointed out that past records show the southern Plains of the United States having a major drought about once every 20 years since the area was settled by farmers in the 1880's.

RECORDS ALSO show and many remember the "Dirty 30's", when a severe drought lasted from 1931 through 1938. Normal rainfall conditions returned generally from 1940 through 1949 and most forgot about the "Dirty 30's" and thought they would never return.

But in the early 1960's severe drought conditions again hit this area and lasted until 1967 when rains came to break the drought. However, the rains did not come before severe erosion occurred from Colorado and Nebraska deep into Texas and New Mexico.

BROWN added that if records mean anything, the area is due for another prolonged drought. Certainly, the current moisture situation indicates a severe drought, he said.

"Monday and Tuesday of this week were painful reminders of what could happen if certain measures are not carried out to prevent wind erosion," Brown said.

HE OUTLINED several procedures that farmers and other landusers should follow in heading off wind erosion. First, if the soil has a cover of litter or crop stubble, keep it on top of the land. This can be done by using equipment such as sweeps or chisels.

"Don't burn the stubble. Stubble is the most valuable resource to help store soil moisture and prevent erosion" he said.

Second, if the land is clean and not protected with crop residue, either get it chiseled or, in irrigated areas, get it listed immediately. Either practice will stop wind erosion hazards if done properly, Brown said.

BROWN ADDED that, "We do not have to have a 'Third Dust Bowl' in Deaf Smith County."

He said that local farmers have the equipment and the know-how to prevent such a situation from developing. Good rains would solve a lot of the problems, he said. "But it doesn't always rain in this area when we need it most."

Wind Erosion Threatens Area

Many areas in the Hereford and Deaf Smith County were heavily damaged by wind erosion during the early parts of the past week. Strong winds are shown here sweeping soil from this unprotected field in Deaf Smith County west of Hereford. Local representatives of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service are presently urging all local land users to carry out emergency measures to prevent wind erosion.

Chamber Pushes For Sugar Beet Acreage

Ready For Rebound

Hereford's big Dan VanderZee, right, pulls down a rebound in front of a Plainview Bulldog as Lynn Tarr (25) backs him up. Hereford bowed out of the District 4-AAAA race Friday night in a playoff loss to the Bulldogs, 44-34. In the back is Mike Albiar (13) and Dennis Noggler (43).

Plans for a membership drive and monthly committee reports highlighted a directors meeting of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Thursday morning.

Directors also adopted a resolution to "actively support immediate, positive and continuing activity to encourage area farmers to plant additional acreage of sugar beets for the 1974 season."

The board approved the resolution after hearing a report from the ag committee which indicated that the area sugar beet crop needed to be increased to a level "to assure the continued operation of the Holly Sugar refinery at Hereford."

The annual membership drive was scheduled for March 1-8, with special prizes to be awarded winners in the campaign, it was announced by Roy Faubion, C of C president.

DIRECTORS heard a lengthy presentation from Mike Harvey of Dallas, representing "Texas Parade", on the possibility of featuring Hereford in a publication of the monthly magazine. A brochure would also be developed from the articles and photographs used in the magazine, with the community receiving 5,000 copies.

Cost of the project was placed at $10,500. After discussing the presentation, directors agreed to consider the proposal. Faubion appointed a committee composed of Tom Burnett, Arthur Gonzales and Terry Caviness to study the possible funding of such a program.

BILL ALBRIGHT, executive vice president, reported on the finances of the annual banquet — announcing that the event came out in the "black" for the first time in several years. When all ticket collections are complete, the income should more than take care of expenses, he reported.

New C of C members approved at the board meeting were All State Insurance (Dan Childers), Jack McCracken, Thriftway, Circle K, Howard Birdwell, Jones Upholstery, La Plata Agency, Property Enterprise, Bill Parkout, and Trevino Bank.

LAVON NIEMAN, Women's Division president, reported the organization had signed 30 new members, and the organization is preparing for the annual Miss Hereford Pageant. The group is also making plans to serve a noon meal for workers at the C of C Invitational Track Meet.

Jim Conkwright, Special Action Council, reported his group of 20 committee members will meet March 5 to study trends in questionnaires, which were distributed to determine the needs for recreation and civic facilities.

THE ENVIRONMENTAL committee submitted two resolutions to the board.

Meeting Planned Wednesday

Sugar Beet Acreage 'Crucial'

By O.G. NIEMAN

At a time when the price of sugar is zooming upward and Hereford should be in a great position with a sugar refinery here, the community is faced with a crucial problem which most people are reluctant to talk about.

The fact is that Hereford could lose Holly Sugar's Shoup Plant if more sugar beets are not produced to supply the refinery here.

HOLLY SUGAR officials apparently don't want to issue an ultimatum, and active beet growers in the area hate to mention the possibility—but there is no doubt that a crucial situation does exist.

Holly has held several meetings to encourage area farmers to plan more acreage in sugar beets, and the Texas-New Mexico

Sugar Beet Growers Association has tried to spread the story of the benefits—and necessity—of growing sugar beets.

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce passed a resolution this week to actively encourage farmers to plant additional acreage, and the C of C ag committee is co-sponsoring a breakfast meeting Wednesday morning to discuss the situation with interested farmers and growers.

THE BREAKFAST meeting is set for 6:30 at Dickie's Restaurant, and the ag committee is striving to contact as many farmers as possible. The free breakfast is open to all interested growers, it was announced by Bill Albright, C of C executive vice president.

Within the last 10 days, the selling price of Holly's sugar has jumped from $16.20 to $20 per hundred. From all indications, it appears that a shortage of sugar looms for next year and the market should remain strong. Local leaders feel that the local growers will be receiving around $25 per ton for the 1974 beet crop.

ALTHOUGH Holly officials were out of town Friday and could not be contacted for a statement, several directors of the growers' association indicate that the present projection is for only 18,000 acres. Informed sources report that the Holly plant needs more than 20,000 acres of beets for a "successful" operation here.

Holly has recently announced some incentives for growers. One of these is to give growers 10 per cent of the pulp if the acreage of harvested beets is increased by 5,000 acres. Last year's total harvested crop was somewhere around the 18,000 to 20,000 mark.

Herd Bows Out, 44-34

By SPEEDY NIEMAN

The Plainview Bulldogs throttled Hereford's running game and shut off the inside scoring of big Dan VanderZee to capture a 44-34 victory in a District 4-AAAA playoff game at the Hutcherson Gym in Plainview Friday night.

Both teams played great defense, but Plainview connected on 50 per cent of its long shots to provide the margin. The Bulldogs hit 19 of 38 shots from the field, while Hereford hit just 37 per cent — 15 of 40.

HEREFORD and Plainview tied in the first round of 4-AAAA play, while Monterey took the second-half title. Plainview was to take on Monterey Saturday night in the second game of the district tourney to determine the champion.

VanderZee and James Harris each scored 10 points Friday night as Plainview held Hereford to its lowest point production of the year. Doug Berry led Plainview with 15, followed by Johnny Davis with 10.

"We were tight at the start and couldn't get things going," Coach Barry Arwine remarked after the game. "We had a chance to move ahead in the second quarter when they had us 14-13, but we missed some shots and didn't grab the momentum," he added.

"I THOUGHT Plainview played a great defensive game against us, and they were hitting the outside shots and ours weren't falling," he explained.

Despite a poor shooting percentage in the first half, along with eight turnovers, the Herd trailed by only three points, 20-17, at halftime. The Bulldogs surged ahead in the latter part of the third period, taking a 33-24 lead going into the final stanza.

Hereford never had a lead in the game, and it was tied only once — at 8-8. Berry hit a long shot at the buzzer to give Plainview a 10-8 lead at the end of the opening quarter. Both teams wound up with 12 turnovers, but Plainview won the battle of the boards — capturing 29

Norton Services Held Here Friday

Funeral services for C. Palmer Norton, 54, of 516 Ave. 1, a lifelong resident of Hereford who was prominent in Panhandle farming and ranching industries, were conducted Friday afternoon in the Presbyterian Church, of which he was a member.

The Rev. Roger Knapp, minister, officiated and a Masonic burial service, followed in West Park Cemetery, directed by Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home.

Mr. Norton operated ranching interests that began when his grandfather, the late R.H. Norton, moved the family here in 1898, and continued under the management of his father, Ezra Norton.

Farming was added to ranch operations as agriculture developed in this area. Mr. Norton was a founder of Irrigation Age magazine.

He was president of Community Grain and of Guymon Chemical and served 16 years as a director of First National Bank. A past president of the Chamber of Commerce here, he also had headed the Oasis Shrine Club.

He had been on the board of directors

Funeral Held Saturday For Mrs. Jesse Stanford

The funeral of Mrs. Jesse Stanford, 81, of Kings Manor, was conducted Saturday afternoon in First United Methodist Church by the Rev. H.L. Thurston, former pastor now retired. Burial was in West Park Cemetery under direction of Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home.

Member of a family which came to Hereford in 1901 from Cleburne, Mrs. Stanford was Nellie Black before her marriage here Dec. 30, 1913. She was born at Cleburne July 17, 1892, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E.B. Black.

Her father was a pioneer businessman of Hereford, founding the furniture business which still bears his name and serving the community as mayor, Chamber of Commerce president and supporter of the school system.

Mrs. Stanford was a longtime member and past president of the Music Study Club which made her an honorary member. She was active in First Methodist Church, where she was organist for many years.

Her husband's death occurred in 1968. She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Richard Barnard of Hereford; a son, Bill, of Plainview; a sister, Mrs. C.E. Birk-meyer of Amarillo; two brothers, Jim Black of Hereford and William of Scottsdale, Ariz., and five grandchildren.

The family requests that memorials be made to Deaf Smith County Historical Foundation.

Sheriff's Department Locates Stolen Calves, Arrests Suspect

A "Secret Witness" telephone call to an Amarillo television station led to the arrest and charging of a 17-year-old Dimmitt man with theft of 20 head of calves valued at $2,000 from a local feed yard.

Art Burton, chief deputy of the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department, said he arrested Robert Evans over the weekend following the telephone call, and charged the man with the theft after an investigation.

Burton said the Amarillo television station contacted him concerning "a man who had been taking baby calves from a local feedyard and selling them in Dimmitt." The television station advertises a "hotline" on which area residents can call (without identifying themselves) to give information about crimes in the area. The station received the call and relayed the message to Burton last week.

The chief deputy said he contacted the local feedyard and upon checking the books did find that 18-20 head of young calves were missing.

Burton said he then contacted Evans, who attends school in Dimmitt mornings and works at the feedyards in the afternoon, and obtained a statement concerning the missing calves. The man was then arrested and placed in Deaf Smith County jail. However, Burton said he was free on bond this week.

The deputy said 17 of the missing cattle were found alive in Dimmitt along with three dead calves.

He also indicated two juveniles were arrested in the incident along with Evans and action on the two youths was pending with local juvenile officials.

In other major action in the Sheriff's department Burton said two persons have been arrested in connection with a stolen overhead gas tank at the Hereford "Labor camp," and that another deputy had recovered a stolen automobile from Dumas. The car was found vacant on Holly Sugar Road.

Burton is heading up the Sheriff's Department in the absence of Sheriff Travis McPherson, who is in Quantico, Va., attending a Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) Academy School.

"Wul, Mr. Poorman, if we're goin' to subdivide this 'un, we'd better move over a couple of counties -- that's where this 'uns blowin'!"

STATE BANK

Blood Bank Scheduled Wednesday

The mobile unit of the blood bank will make its regular monthly visit to Hereford from 4-6 p.m. Wednesday at the Hereford Community Center.

Persons may donate a pint of blood to either the Hereford blood bank or to any specific cause they wish.

Next regular visit of the mobile unit will be in late March.

The Reinart family also has announced that they request other memorials to the death of J.H. Reinart, prominent local citizen, be in the form of donations to the blood bank.

Chosen Basketball Queen

School Slates Sound Study

Imagine blind people "speed hearing" recorded books—at 400 words per minute.

This and other developments in the communications field will be presented by Roy Wickerham, science demonstrator for Southwestern Bell, when he meets with the students of Stanton Jr. High on Tuesday February 26.

The program entitled "The Science of Sound," traces the research by Bell System scientists in their effort to improve the telephone industry.

"Wickerham will discuss a recent Bell invention that allows the blind to hear recorded books at a rate equal to what most sighted people can read," said Mike Patrick, Southwestern Bell manager for Hereford.

"He will also demonstrate some of the principles of sound transmission, using early telephone equipment as well as some of the latest inventions," Patrick added.

Patrick said the program will also outline developments in computer speech and the recording industry.

Wickerham has 15 years of technical experience and periodically visits Bell Laboratories to keep informed of technical advances.

Beeping Baseball For Blind

Roy Wickerham, Southwestern Bell science demonstrator, displays two of the props for his new show, "The Science of Sound." The Gallows phone was one of the earliest telephones. The special softball emits a beeping tone, which allows blind children to play the game.

Local Water District Hosts Meeting Here

The Tierra Blanca Soil & Water Conservation District will host the Panhandle Association of Soil & Water Conservation Districts in Hereford Wednesday at the Bull Barn.

Registration begins at 11:30 a.m. and local feed yards will sponsor a steak lunch for the representatives at noon, according to Carl Straffuss, Tierra Blanca district board chairman.

First Baptist Has Guest Preacher Tonight

Rev. C.W. Allen, pastor of St. John's Baptist of Hereford, will be guest preacher for the regular evening worship service at First Baptist Church today.

The junior choir from St. John's will also present special music for the service, it was announced by Rev. Doug Manning, pastor.

Draw Game Fish

"The Steel Reefs", a film produced by the Diamond Shamrock Company and shown to the Whiteface Kiwanis Club by new member Mel Witte, depicted the phenomenal growth of game fishing in the Louisiana Gulf Coast area resulting from oil platforms built there in the last two decades.

"There are more than 1,400 off-shore oil rigs in the Louisiana area of the Gulf Coast alone," said a fishing guide in the film. "Without them, I wouldn't be in business." The construction of oil rigs in water as deep as 140 feet has had neither a negative nor a positive effect on the coast's multimillion-dollar shrimp industry.

The off-shore rigs attract game fish from the deep waters of the Gulf and as far as Florida because they serve as a man-made reef upon which sea organisms can attach themselves and grow.

Also at the meeting, Melvin L. Witte, printing trades instructor at Hereford High School was inducted into the club. Witte has lived in Hereford six months. He, his wife Alice and four children live at 708 Stanton.

Danny Vermillion, was chosen Kiwanian of the Month for his work in the recent American Heart Association Fund Drive. The Whiteface Kiwanians collected from Deaf Smith area businesses.

$7.1 Million Federal Allocation to Help Conservation Practices

AUSTIN—A $7.1 million federal allocation to Texas farmers for conservation programs is expected to help improve environmental quality in the state, said Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

The United States Department of Agriculture has announced that Texas farmers and forest landowners would receive $7,160,000 of cost-share assistance in 1974 under the new Rural Environmental Conservation Program (RECP). This program, approved by Congress in August 1973, replaces the Rural Environmental Assistance Program (REAP) which was terminated last spring.

RECP will be administered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service and is designed to share with farmers and forest landowners from 50 to 75 per cent of the cost of implementing approved annual and long-range conservation practices. "This program was desperately needed since REAP was eliminated last year," White said. "Since there will be no set-aside requirements this year, Texas will have about 2.7 million more acres available for production which will increase the potential hazard of erosion."

The allocation for Texas represents nearly 10 per cent rebounds to 20 for the Whitefaces.

VANDERZEE was in early foul trouble and was credited with only five rebounds—far below his season average. He went to the bench with 3:45 left, but the official scorer's book showed him with just four fouls, and VanderZee lasted the rest of the game.

HEREFORD pulled to within 7 points, 39-32, when Mike Albiar drove down the middle to lay up a two-pointer midway of the final stanza. However, the Dogs hit a free shot and a long outside shot to move back up by 10, 42-32, with 2:44 left. Each team managed only one basket in the remaining time.

Despite the disappointing playoff defeat, it was a fine season for the Whitefaces, who were rated no better than fourth in the district in pre-season estimates. The Herd had a 22-11 won-lost record in its first year under Arnwine as head coach.

The Whitefaces were 7-3, overall, in district competition, and had the league's top scorer in VanderZee.

WT Faculty Gets "A" Grade

The averaged results of the 1973-1974 West Texas State University faculty evaluation by students reveal an overall satisfaction, and even a rising opinion, of faculty performance.

The second of the university-sponsored evaluations, the first having been completed in 1972, consists of 16 questions ranging from the rating of fairness in assignments and homework to the organizational and communication abilities of the instructor.

Spreading from "strongly agree" (1.0) to "strongly disagree" (5.0), no averaged score on the evaluation is larger than 2.01, which is a strong "yes" for satisfaction with the overall performance of the WT faculty.

The results of the 1972 evaluation offer an interesting comparison. The largest score on the questions is a 2.20, still expressing the overall satisfaction of the 1972 student body. The comparison also shows that in every question the student opinion of the faculty's 1973 performance has increased, one as much as twelve-hundredths of a point.

The most positive scores for 1972 and 1973 both appear on the same question: "The instructor seems to have abundant knowledge of the subject." To this, the students of 1972 reported a 1.51, or 51 away from the superlative "strongly agree" category. The students of 1973 even more strongly agreed with a 1.46 rating.

"The results of the current faculty evaluation prove again that West Texas State University has a superb faculty. There are many important aspects of university life, but none is so important as the interaction which takes place between students and teachers. Our students strongly believe that our faculty members are providing them with quality higher education. A university can receive no higher commendation," Dr. Lloyd I. Watkins, WTSU president, said.

All faculty members are invited to participate in the evaluations, and those who accept are evaluated by all students present in the class. Whether he shares the results with anyone other than his department head is the decision of the faculty member.

While no personnel decision will be made primarily on the basis of the evaluation, Vice President for Academic Affairs Dr. Ray Malzahn stated, decisions on the retention, promotion, tenure and merit salary increases will be made on the basis of demonstrated merit and not on the absence of negative performance. A student evaluation can provide support for the recommendations, he concluded.

Local Growers Honored For Grain Production

The record grain sorghum harvest of 1973 is bringing national recognition to sorghum farmers in the Hereford area. Northrup, King & Co. has honored a number of local growers with membership in the 1973 NK Carload Sorghum Club. Each of them produced at least 200,000 pounds of grain from a single NK Sorghum Hybrid. Among these top growers are:

About 107 acres of the Steve Meiwes farm was planted to NK 280 last spring and in the fall a 1,016,500 round crop was harvested. Meiwes seeded his excellent yield at 8 pounds per acre in 40 inch centers. His NK 280 averaged 9,500 pounds of grain per acre giving him more than a 1,000 for 1 return from his plantings. Over 1,400,000 pounds of NK sorghum was harvested by Charles Schlabs last year. Schlabs seeded 220 acres to NK 280, NK222A. He planted his crop in 40 inch centers at 7.5 pounds per acre. Average pounds of grain per acre from the entire production was 6,730. Connie Urbanczyk harvested 243,950 pounds of grain sorghum from 35 acres planted to NK 275. Seeded in May at 8 pounds per acre, this good crop averaged 6,970 pounds of grain per acre. Ed Dziuk, Jr. seeded 186 acres to NK 280 in May of last year and the crop yielded an average of 3,434 pounds of grain per acre. Dziuk planted at 9 pounds per acre in 40 inch centers. His production totaled 686,900 pounds. "It was good - if it had been better, it would have fallen down," commented Carl Strafuss of his 1973 production of NK sorghums. Strafuss seeded 205 acres to three NK Hybrids: NK 222G, NK 280 and NK 222A in May at 7 1/4 pounds per acre. One 65 acre plot of NK 280 averaged 7,320 pounds of grain per acre for a 1,000 for 1 return. His production totaled 1,336,230 pounds and averaged 6,518 pounds of grain per acre. Well over 4 giant hopper carloads of grain sorghum was harvested on the Ed Rohrback farm last year. Rohrback seeded 196 acres to NK 280, NK 222G, NK 277 and NK 222 in May at 3 to 7 pounds of seed per acre. Harvested in October, the crop averaged 4,544 pounds per acre from the total production. NK 222G was seeded on the Al Hollingsworth farm last year and it yielded a net harvest weight of 807,840 pounds of grain. His good crop was planted in May at 9 pounds per acre in 30 inch centers. The NK 222G averaged 7,920 pounds of grain per acre.

For the nation as a whole, sorghum continued to rank as a major crop with a record high 937 million bushels of grain harvested, a 16 per cent increase over the previous year. Despite unusually wet conditions in many parts of the sorghum belt during both spring and fall, a number of new high yields were reported. Over 550 growers in the nation were selected for membership in the Carload Sorghum Club.

VOE STUDENT OF THE WEEK—Taffy Herr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raynold Herr of 103 Aspen, has been selected as Vocational Office Education Student of the week. Taffy, a senior student at Hereford High School, is the receptionist at Angel Photography Studio and is under the supervision of Carmen Angel. She plans to attend college after graduation.

Humus Clinic Slated Here

An educational forum covering Humus Organic Products of Texas will be conducted 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas. T.L. Fox, who has been involved with humus products for 25 years, will present a detailed picture of the soil conditioner's total impact on ecology. Fox, a New Mexico native, will explain how humus products have a major role in biochemistry, ecology, agriculture and community economics.

Robert Brown, long-time Hereford resident and owner of the local Humus Organic Products, Inc., stresses that Monday's seminar has information equally important to farmers and non-farmers. "This will be an educational exhibit and we want to emphasize that it is directed to the businessman as well as the farmer," Brown said.

Brown stated that several university leaders in agronomy have been invited to attend the forum. There will be no admission charge for tomorrow's clinic and everyone is urged to attend.

Brother Of Hereford Resident Is Dead

Funeral services for Jack Woolery, 56, of Amarillo, brother of two Hereford residents, were conducted Saturday afternoon at St. Paul United Methodist Church at Amarillo and burial was in Llano Cemetery there. Mrs. Tom Sanders of Hereford is his sister and Clayton Woolery his brother. Other survivors are his wife, a daughter and a son of the home. He was born at Silverton and had lived in Amarillo 26 years.

OSH Act Forum Vital To Business

A course designed to help businessmen through the maze of regulations of the Williams-Steiger Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 (OSHAct) will be taught here from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. March 8 at Community Center.

The one-day seminar, Orientation to OSHAct, was developed by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration. It will be conducted here free of charge by the Texas Safety Association in cooperation with the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. Attendees will include employers, employees and their representatives.

"Virtually all businesses, even those with one or more employees, must comply with regulations of the OSHAct," said Bill Albright, Executive Vice President. "Many operators of small and medium size businesses may be in serious violation of the law without even realizing that such laws exist," continued Albright. "The U.S. Department of Labor reports that only 31 per cent of 31,379 establishments checked during the 12 months ending June, 1973 were found to be in compliance with job safety and health standards."

The Vikings believed that the first woman was made from an alder tree. That's really packing a trunk!

Orientation to OSHAct, along with three other seminars, is being taught by TSA under contract with the National Safety Council to provide information needed by every businessman. Topics covered in this first course will include, the scope and general requirements of the law; Federal standards which apply to business and industry operations; the most common violations of the standards that have been cited; proper records-keeping and how to comply with the OSHAct; and employee's and employer's rights and responsibilities.

In addition to instruction from a qualified safety professional, each attendant will receive references and guides to OSHAct and the Occupational Safety and Health Administration.

Businessmen and employers interested in registering for the course should contact the Chamber office, 701 N. Main, 364-3333.

Texas C Of C Surveys Energy

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce released the results of a recent survey of a cross section of its members' feelings about issues of the energy situation in West Texas.

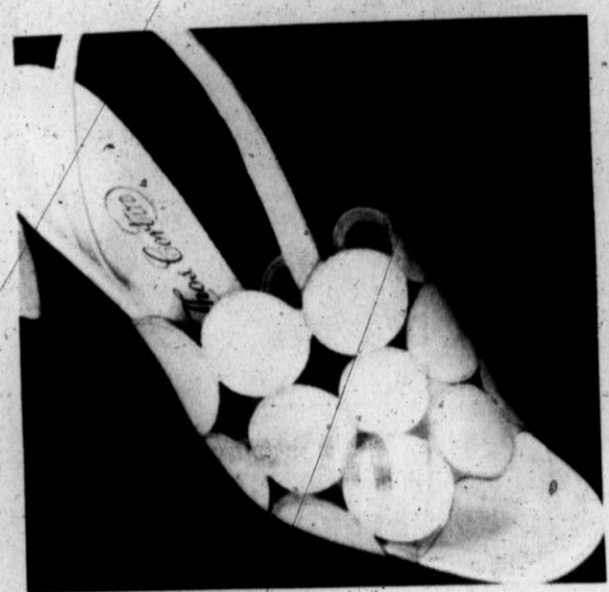

The mail survey, containing 21 questions, was sent to 977 West Texans and 43.3 per cent were returned with less than an average of 9 per cent of those surveyed voicing no opinion on some questions. Survey results showed 90 per cent were in favor of emergency incentives to increase the production of hardware, pipe and other materials necessary to increase the speed with which additional oil and gas production can be completed. Also 91 per cent favored the immediate implementation of emergency incentives to increase exploration for and the production of oil and gas and other energy resources.

Accordingly 91 per cent favored the relaxation of pollution control devices on motor vehicles; 86 per cent favored a graduated schedule aimed at reversing the trend which has seen the fuel consumption of motor vehicles continue to increase; and 89 per cent favored Temporary relaxation of environmental requirements in use of fuels for industry and utilities.

Of the group, 48 per cent favored year-round observance of Daylight Saving Time; only 54 per cent favored the Sunday gasoline sales ban; and 55 per cent favored a ban on display and advertising lighting. Plus, 89 per cent felt the 55 mph speed limit would result in worthwhile fuel savings and 89 per cent favored relaxation of OSHA requirements were actual safety or health is not endangered.

When you abandon the idea that your mission is to regulate other people you're in a position to improve yourself.

Houses Not Guaranteed

By BOB HILL
Lentz, Newton & Co.,
Amarillo

NEW HOUSING construction usually leads the economy and it also signals a turn in the business cycle. Housing starts peaked out in the first quarter of 1973 at an annual rate of 2.4 million. While the economy continued to grow through the fourth quarter of 1973, housing starts had plummeted one-third by the end of the fourth quarter. In the past, interest rates have been the key. Rising short-term interest rates attracts savers who withdraw funds from savings and loan accounts and invest those funds in the short term money markets.

This is called "disintermediation", a massive shifting of funds from one major type of savings institution to another part of the money market. Since the savings and loan associations are limited by regulation as to the maximum interest rate they can pay, they are unable to compete effectively with other forms of short-term investment. The result is a loss of savings funds from the savings and loan associations who then have to cut back on their lending activities to new house buyers. This slows down new house construction because the builder can't afford to tie up his resources in a batch of unsold houses.

balance between the supply of fuel and the cost of fuel can be reached. Meanwhile, more of the construction cost of a house will go to improved insulation and energy saving devices. And that will give you a hint of what type of stocks to buy now if you want to benefit from the next big push in new house construction. The stock market anticipates housing recoveries well in advance. If the forecast of a turnaround in housing by mid-1974 is correct, expenditures for residential construction will begin to pick up in 1975. This means that building company stocks and building materials company stocks will begin to make their moves between now and the end of 1974.

Stanton Spelling Winners

DeWayne Kimbell, right, was declared winner Thursday of the annual Spelling Bee at Stanton Junior High. Runner-up in the contest was Susan Gentry, left. The two students will now represent Stanton at the Deaf Smith County Spelling Bee March 22. Other contestants in the hour long bee were Steve Fortenberry, Vanessa Bishop and Melissa Morgan. Judges were Billy Bayne, last year's Stanton winner, and teachers Mrs. Dick Montgomery and Doug Morris.

Oldham 4-H Says Thanks

The Oldham County 4-H Council wishes to thank many donors, breeders and buyers for helping raise $1,996. Bedford Forrest and Dr. Bill Clymer of the Estacado Auction Service donated their services Tuesday night at the County Barn in Vega to help raise funds for the Oldham County 4-H program and for the State 4-H Center. Special thanks goes to Nancy Binford and John B. MacNaughton for a tremendous amount of help putting the project together. According to information released by Jimmie D. Walker, County Extension Agent of Oldham County some buyers of the stallion services were as follows: T.J. Carter, Vega; John Cleavinger, Wildorado; Bob Hughes, Hereford; Billy Broadbuss, Vega; Mark Hicks, Vega; George Doshier, Vega; Jack Streun, Hereford.

IT IS NOW obvious that interest rates are on the way down and in a hurry. The prime rate, which was 10 per cent a month ago, could hit 6 per cent by late summer. This will have a direct effect on the interest rates savings and loan associations and insurance companies charge on their home mortgage loans and real estate loans. So, by being patient, the prospective new house buyer will get the lowest interest rate on his mortgage in about eight months from now. What has kept a lot of houses from becoming homes is not only high interest rates but higher prices for houses and the higher cost of owning a house. Prices, as every potential house-buyer knows, not only have gone up—they've gone through the roof. The average price of a new house fell 11.5 per cent in 1969 and 1970. But from 1971 to the end of 1973 the average price of a new house rose 48.7 per cent or about 33 per cent more than the Consumer Price Index.

THE COST OF owning a house has also risen drastically. A major factor in the increased cost of home-owning has been rising property taxes. Although the tax increases have moderated in recent years, other costs have kept moving up. The biggest worries now are the cost of gas and electricity and the gasoline used for commuting. These costs will keep rising over the next several years until some kind of

MUSINGS WEATHERWISE need we say why Comings and Goings out here are reduced this week? The weather itself most unseemly. Had any of you readers noticed it? So we submit the following:

In this climate, a calendar of events should have each event with a provision or amendment attached such as: 1. Provided highways are still open, 2. Unless snows continue, 3. Providing weather permits, 4. If one cares nothing for life or limb etc. etc. ad nauseum.

Thus one bows continually to Her Satanic Majesty the weather. In these days an empty tank is "peanuts" compared to the possibility of being completely grounded by snow and ice.

In deference to the Lady Libbers why shouldn't the weather be referred to as His Satanic Majesty? And why pray do all hurricanes bear the names of women? Wouldn't Carol, Brenda, and Charlotte do as well to be Asa, Bruce, and Clarence or, neuter gender such as Alpha, Beta, Chi?

Mark Twain said everyone talks about the weather but no one does anything about it. There are several choices: 1. Keep bowing down 2. Tear up the calendar of events or fall in with the philosophy of J.W. Riley, "Hoosier Poet", who said, and we apologize for paraphrasing: "There ain't no use to grumble an' complain, It's jest as cheap and easy to rejoice. When God sorts out the weather and sends Snow Why snow's my choice."

U.S.-Bonn dispute on Mid-east reported resolved.

CC Sports Committee Outlines Plans For Track Meet, Boxing

The sports committee of Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce outlined plans for the annual C of C Invitational Track Meet, and started preparations for an AAU Boxing Tournament during a monthly luncheon meeting Friday, at Dickie's Restaurant.

Jake Webb, chairman, reported the committee was also studying the possibility of a project to resurface the school's tennis courts.

Don Cumpston, high school track coach, told the group the school's new all-weather track was scheduled to be completed the first week in March. The track has been black-topped and is awaiting final application of the new surface.

The Deaf Smith C of C Invitational is set March 16, and Cumpston asked for volunteer workers and officials to sign a sheet indicating their preference of duties for the day. Due to daylight saving time, the meet will have running events starting an hour later than normal.

The final running events will start at 3 p.m. The meet will be held in three divisions this year, with a junior varsity division being added. The large-school division will have 4A and 3A schools, and the smaller-school group will include AA, A and B.

Cumpston announced that at least three more track meets have been scheduled this year. One will be a girls' invitational meet, and another will be a junior high meet. The C of C will also sponsor a Regional Qualifiers Meet here April 13.

Harold Wheeler discussed plans for the Tri-State AAU Boxing Tourney, scheduled here June 7-8. The sponsors will provide housing for the participants.

Stanton 8th Ties For Crown

Stanton Junior High 8th grade basketball team tied for district championship this past week with two consecutive wins while the 9th grade split wins.

In Canyon Monday the Stanton 8th grade edged out the Canyon White team 63-60. Kelly Kitchens drilled in 24 points and was aided by James McDowell 13, Greg Hennington 8, Joe Barrientes 8, and Randy Marrs 6.

Thursday Stanton 8th beat Perryton 35-29 to jump into the four-way tie for district. Kelly Kitchens nailed in 13 points, Randy Marrs 11, Albert Del Toro 9 and James McDowell 2.

The 8th grade Dogies are now tied for the district crown with South Berger, Perryton, and North Berger. They finished the season with a record of 18-4.

The Stanton 9th fell to a strong Canyon White team Monday 71-55. Ismael Adame had a fine game with 18 points and was trailed closely by Bill Fraser with 15, Scotty Taylor 6, Kenneth Mercer 4 and James Mays 4.

Thursday the 9th grade Dogies rolled over a 9th grade Perryton team 57-39. James Mays led the scorers with 18, Bill Fraser had 14, Ismael Adame 9, Scotty Taylor 8 and Barry Acton 6.

The Stanton 7th grade team played Friday in Boys Ranch against a 7th grade Dumas team for sole possession of the 7th grade district crown.

Scout Pack 51 Holds Blue And Gold Banquet

Supports Grover

Joe B. Curtis, Pampa City Commissioner, has been named Panhandle Campaign Chairman for the Grover for Governor Campaign. Curtis will be responsible for conducting former State Senator Hank Grover's campaign activities in the 32 counties of the Panhandle.

Numerous awards were presented during the annual Blue and Gold banquet of Scout Pack 51 Tuesday night in St. Anthony's Auditorium. The flag ceremony was presented by Webedo Den 1. Each cub and webelo den makes its own table decorations and had displays of their year's work. Den 4 cubs said their names in the sign language. Awards to the webelos were presented by Bobby Byers. Danny Garcia, Kenneth Waters and Dan Ricketts received their cub graduation certificates.

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Deaf Smith grass farm on Bootleg Corner has run across an odd news item.

Dear editor: I wonder sometimes if it pays to read a newspaper too close.

I was going through a copy of the Amarillo Globe News and down in the lower left hand corner at the bottom of the page I found this item:

"Environmentalists of Deerfield Beach, Fla., have persuaded the city council to pass an ordinance requiring owners to tie bells on their cats, claiming the silent cats are killing off too many birds. Owners of un-belled cats will be fined $25."

I have thought this over at great length and have decided it has great possibilities.

For example, it is undoubtedly true that a silent cat with eyes that see in the dark has an unfair advantage over an innocent bird sleeping the night through on a tree branch resting his voice for the next day's singing, but you've got to remember that a silent bird sweeping through the air on motionless wings has an unfair advantage over a grasshopper. Clearly, all birds ought to be belled. If you don't care about grasshoppers, what about butterflies?

The un-belled coyote sweeping down on the fold in the night has an unfair advantage over a resting sheep, as does the un-belled lion over the sleeping antelope, the un-belled fox over the roosting chickens, the un-belled elephant over the nest of baby mice in his path as he plods heavy-footed to the water hole.

The un-belled politician slipping in and out of the office of an unprincipled tycoon has an unfair advantage over Ralph Nader.

In short, all God's creatures need bells and I'm all for it if I can get in on the ground floor of some good, aggressive bell manufacturer.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Your Help Needed

Hereford and Deaf Smith County residents have always been quick to respond with money for worthwhile causes, but only a limited number of citizens have been faithful to the community's blood bank.

The mobile unit of the Coffee Memorial Blood Bank comes to Hereford each fourth Wednesday of the month to take donations to be placed in Hereford's "account" in the bank. The account is short again, and your help is needed.

It's a painless procedure, and it doesn't take much time — two facts that should erase most excuses for not participating in this vital community program. The blood bank will be here Wednesday from 3 to 6 p.m. at the Community Center.

Make it a point to "give of yourself" this week, this Wednesday, at the Community Center!

Find Out All You Can

The first Texas Constitution, in 1845, authorized support for a system of free schools to provide an equal opportunity for all. This provision has always been a part of the great American dream. In Texas, we have provided vast sums of money to support this dream.

The last session of the Texas Legislature took a long look at the Texas Public School system. They wanted to know if some schools were better financed than others. They wanted to know if some schools had better facilities, better and superior scholastic systems.

When was the last time you took a look at the schools your children attend? Texas Public Schools Week, March 4-8 will provide you with the opportunity to see your schools in operation. During that week, all classrooms — kindergarten through high school — will be open to the public for visitation. This is an excellent time for you to find out what kind of school your children attend.

Texas Public Schools are your concern. Your tax dollar goes to support and maintain them. Your children's future rests on the kind of education they are receiving today.

Is your school system providing your child with the values and skills, the means for living productive lives in a complex social environment? Find out all you can. Visit your local schools during Texas Public Schools Week — March 4-8.

TV News

It's estimated fifty million Americans watch the news on television each night. Most of them think the news they see is the big news of the day, impartially selected by trained experts scanning all the day's news events. Unfortunately that's not true.

Rather, television news is part entertainment, part bias and part money-oriented-plus some news. It's not that all newscasters themselves are slanting the news, though many do. It's the system, and the fact that ninety per cent of the working press, especially in New York, where all national television news is edited, is far left.

The system makes it impossible for national television news to be a fair presentation, such as the reader gets in a newspaper. Edward Epstein, writing in February's "Reader's Digest," makes the situation crystal clear. He points out that: (1)-Virtually all national television news is filtered through a close-knit group of men in New York; (2)-most film footage comes from just four metropolitan centers (New York, Washington, Chicago and Los Angeles); (3)-much so-called national news is, instead, staged or created for camera crews; and (4)-events which make good visual watching get preference over other, more significant, news.

In addition to these factors, television news time is very limited (thirty minutes minus commercial interruptions). No one would propose to read a major newspaper in that amount of time—news, editorials, columnists, sports, etc.

There's still another factor—television news must be sold. Newspapers sell advertisements but not news. It makes a difference. Finally, news which is complex or complicated is often skipped by television editors, who must leave out so much.

In summary, television's newscasts shouldn't be taken too seriously. Television news is often slanted, often staged, often biased and often not news at all!

The Rights Of Man

As we celebrate the birthday of George Washington, the greatest patriot that ever lived, known as the Father of our country, the first President of our United States and the only President who was elected unanimously, the greatest hero in the earliest days of this nation, and the Commanding General of the armies that won American Independence, let us all be mindful of the fact that although Texas was not one of the first original 13 colonies, Texas do have a great stake in the Bicentennial Celebration of this nation in 1976.

George Washington, together with Benjamin Franklin and Patrick Henry, were veterans of the Revolutionary War and many of their descendants came to Texas. Therefore, it is our duty as Americans and Texans to revitalize and reawaken the Spirit of '76 in order to keep our country great.

We might adopt a slogan for everyone in our town: "Come Alive in '76 with the Spirit of '76 — Join in the Birthday Celebration of U.S."

We, the Los Ciboleros Chapter of The Daughters of the American Revolution, are proud and happy to be the steering committee or the sponsors of three projects for our town for this great celebration. There are three project categories or themes:

1. Heritage '76, relating to community history. Gift of Las Escarbadas ranch headquarters house to Ranch Headquarters Museum, Texas Tech, Lubbock, should qualify for this category.

2. Festival U.S.A., aimed at involving all citizens and attracting visitors. A fund has been started for a permanent monument, stone with bronze plate, honoring Deaf Smith, for whom the County is named, to be placed on the Court House lawn beneath the Flag pole.

3. Horizons '76 — a project in connection with the new Library — perhaps micro-film machine.

It is most fitting that we should rejoice and be jubilant in America for all the many blessings which we have enjoyed in the past and do now enjoy in this great nation today, among those, our heritage, "The Rights of Man," freedom and the American way of life. God has richly blessed us and our country over the past nearly 200 years, so we must rededicate our lives and fortunes and continue to follow His guidance and direction and keep our nation the greatest in all the world.

Rejoice, then, and be glad that you are an American. Take pride in your heritage, and protect and defend it against all who would seek to destroy it.

Praise God and bless our forefathers and ancestors for constructing our Constitution and form of Democracy in Government so that this land could be preserved for us and for posterity.

Ask God, our Heavenly Father, to continue to watch over U.S. that we may continue to be the Light of the World and preserve "The Rights of Man," our heritage.

Let us all start planning now toward this big celebration in 1976, the birth of our nation 200 years ago, and "Come alive in '76" so that we will have a glorious Birthday Celebration in 1976. The Diamond Jubilee was but a stepping stone toward our Bicentennial Celebration.

Talk Of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE

MISNOMER — John S. Chisum, who gave his name to three great cattle trails, was not a trail driver himself.

Born in Tennessee in 1824, he came to Texas with his parents as a child and settled in Paris, Lamar County. His father, Claiborne C. Chisum, was a contractor who built the county's first courthouse.

Young John turned to ranching, however, and ran herds in Cooke, Denton and Concho Counties. Later he moved to New Mexico. From there, he began sending large herds to market over the trail. Because his herds pioneered the Fort Sumner-Las Animas and Fort Sumner-Tascosa routes, these later became known as "Chisum Trails."

Chisum died in 1884 and was buried in Paris on Christmas Day.

BIG MOVE — In 1852, when Dr. Benjamin Franklin Hammond decided to sell his Alabama plantation and relocate in Texas, it required a train of more than five dozen wagons to do the job.

Dr. Franklin, who owned 500 slaves, decided to bring all of them with him to Texas. To move the slaves and the plantation's household goods required 60 wagons. Two others were reserved for the family gold and other treasures, and one carried nothing but dogs. The caravan also included 150 horses, 150 oxen, 100 cows and 100 mules.

Because the Hammonds wanted their new home in Texas to be as much like the one in Alabama as possible, they also brought along such things as rose cuttings, cape jasmines, hollyhocks and honeysuckle vines.

The Hammonds and their slaves settled in Robertson County on a huge plantation not far from the present town of Hearne. When the Civil War came and the slaves were freed, Dr. Hammond gave each of them 160 acres of land.

An Outside Look

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article was written by H.M. Baggerly, editor of The Tulia Herald. The article appeared recently in Baggerly's weekly column, "The Country Editor.")

LAST WEEK'S HERALD INCLUDED an editorial written by Harold Hudson of the Perryton paper in which Hudson attempted to explain some of the reasons why Hereford is three times the size of Tulia and almost twice the size of Perryton.

The three towns have had similar opportunities for growth, both in quantity and quality.

Editor Hudson cited a number of instances where Hereford merchants and organizations had gone out of their way to perform numerous chores, travel many, many miles often at their own expense, donate of their material resources which all added together spell one thing: "community service."

WHERE WOULD HEREFORD be today if the typical Hereford merchant had moved to town, established his little store on main street, and dedicated himself to the one objective — milking Hereford for his own personal gain with no idea whatsoever of paying his community rent on what others had already provided for him, much less investing in the cost of maintaining and perhaps expanding these elements absolutely necessary for his own success, if not to perpetuate his economic existence?

SOCIETY HAS ALWAYS had that type citizen who followed booms. Perhaps he followed oil booms such as we used to have. Today a section of land was inhabited with nothing more than jackrabbits.

Oil is discovered and over night a community of 25,000 souls springs up! Everybody is represented, from preachers to prostitutes.

But they all have one objective — getting all they can and canning all they make!

Perhaps the oil plays out along with the easy money. As quickly as they came, everybody has gone on to the next boom where they will repeat the experience. Some spent a lifetime simply exploiting boom towns.

In each instance they took much, gave nothing.

EVEN HERE IN Tulia we saw people move in during the lush post-war years and milk the community for all they could get... then when the well began to fail, they moved on to milk some more promising community.

Some of these people opened stores and put out their shingles without even moving here! Not only did they contribute no time, money or talent to the support of those things without which there would have been no oil to milk—those institutions which provide the good life people demand and which must be financed and manned by donated public service — but they didn't even help maintain the town's economy by buying their groceries and gasoline in Tulia!

Hereford was not built by people who follow and milk boom towns. These transients have a function to perform, a place to fill, BUT... they don't build communities like Hereford!

OIL BOOM TOWNS are different from most area agricultural towns in only one way. In the first case, the boom and bust are not too far apart. The milking period is relatively short. The average exploiter "gets his" in a few months or only a year or two at the most... and he is on his way.

It takes much longer, sometimes a lifetime, to milk the agricultural community until it dries up for want or progressive people.

SO LONG AS THERE is a small handful of bedraggled citizens to maintain a token chamber of commerce, a token service club, so long as there is a limping school system, a Baptist church with a conical steeple without a cross and perhaps a Methodist church, a grocery store with a gasoline pump out in front, a post office, and a greasy spoon cafe, a community can exist in an Estelline sort of way.

Add a second grocery store with a gasoline pump out in front, a second greasy spoon and a Church of Christ, and the community is almost bustling enough to support a rider or two — someone who can move in, or perhaps commute, and milk enough business simulated by the existing community to supply his modest wants.

Perhaps these people are less greedy and ambitious than those who milk the boom towns, still the principle is the same.

IF WE HAD A BUSINESS, we would like for it to prosper. And for it to prosper it would have to have customers. And to have customers, there must be people. And to have people in this competitive society, the community must offer the good life.

It must offer all those attractions which people have grown to want for themselves and their children, attractions which have to be offered in part by the donated time, effort and resources of public spirited citizens!

And no one has a moral right to share the fruits produced by public spirited citizens unless he also shared in the production.

THERE ARE MANY aspects to this subject. One of the services people have grown to expect in a modern, complex community, along with paved streets, a park, schools and churches, is a newspaper.

The subscriber no more pays for his newspaper subscription than the state college student pays for his education when he pays his tuition.

It's the advertiser who makes possible the newspaper.

No town would like to get along without a newspaper.

Newspapers, like television and radio stations, are legitimate business institutions. Advertisers who keep the media in business do so for strictly mercenary reasons — to sell their goods and services. Even though they are providing a valuable public service to the people, that is not their primary reason for doing so.

A sponsor does not pay $60,000 for a one minute commercial during an NFL telecast because he wants us to see the game! He pays it because he wants us to buy his product.

He doesn't pay up to $3,000 for a page in the Dallas or Houston paper because he wants to make sure Dallas or Houston has a daily paper.

BUT IT IS ALSO true that if we enjoy the telecast, it is good business to buy the sponsor's product instead of the product of his competitor who charges just as much or perhaps more... and doesn't also give us a bonus in the form of a televised football game.

If we enjoy NFL telecasts, in fact if we enjoy television in general, we would be scared to death not to patronize the sponsor lest he decide to drop the program because his sales didn't increase.

SO IT IS WITH this newspaper. If two Tulia merchants sell a comparable product if not the same product, one helps make possible your newspaper while the other does not, you are maintaining if not improving your paper when you patronize the Herald advertiser.

Advertising in The Herald is one way a merchant has of providing one of the public services people have come to take for granted.

The Herald is no better paper than the advertisers permit it to be.

There are other ways to advertise... billboards along the highway, for example. Would you rather the merchant spend his advertising dollar making possible your newspaper or making possible the lovely billboards which adorn the highways?

Would you rather the advertiser help make possible the newspaper... or expose himself to you via a "Drive Safely" calendar on the walls of a cheap cafe?

Would you rather the advertiser communicate with you by bringing you your local newspaper along with his message... or come to you as junk mail in your mail box or in your yard?

H³ / HUSTLE HUSTLE HUSTLE

By Bill Albright, Executive Vice President Deaf Smith County Chamber Of Commerce

...at was—certainly reassuring to hear that our Ogallala reservoir will last a good deal longer than we were told last spring.

While that's really great news, it could set us up for one of our most dangerous enemies—complacency. So now it looks like we need to get aboard the 'water wagon'; support those organizations which are working to solve the water problem.

The Deaf Smith County Water Association is one, Water, Inc. is another. As I see it, we have a two pronged job. The first one is to encourage wise use of our water. This is a conservation program in which every man, woman and child can participate.

It's so simple and easy. Don't waste water! Or on the positive side; save water.

There are so many ways to do this. A couple of examples are: don't let the water run while shaving (saves energy too); when watering the lawn don't allow water to run down the street; repair leaky faucets and other defective plumbing fixtures; and there are many, many more.

What are some of your ideas? Let us know and we'll share them thru our Water Development Committee, Charles Schlabs, Chairman.

The second part of the job is a longer range project, and that deals with importation of water to the High Plains agricultural area. I believe this will happen sometime in the future if we work toward that goal now! This area, the Panhandle of Texas, plays a vital role in the economic well being of the entire United States. And the food and fiber products produced here are only a part of the potential that we are capable of providing.

The crops and cattle production will have to continue to expand to keep pace with the needs of the country. And to do this we must have abundant water. As the saying goes "There's no substitute for water."

So let's save what we have use it wisely and let's actively work in support of an importation program as advocated by Water, Inc.

Well it looks like the bets are all in and the chips are all down! If I were a gambler I'd want to put my cash on a sure thing. As Amarillo Slim might put it—play the percentages!

And the payoff I'm talking about today is the return on a field of sugar beets. Those farmers I've talked to express their feelings by planting a crop with a high assurance of a high return. What could be more profitable? And what could be wiser?

Grain futures may be off a little. But even at today's prices, the net return on an acre of beets compared with an acre of grain, is from $200 to $300 in favor of the beets.

I'm not saying we need to plant all beets or all grain, but we sure need to consider very carefully both the profit involved and the impact on our area if we don't have enough beets to keep the plant open. That's right, it's that simple—we have to think beyond this year's crop.

What will it mean to all of us in this area if our sugar refinery closes because there isn't enough acreage of beets? You know better than I.

Folks, this is a very serious situation. It requires some fast action by those who can plant or influence the planting of beets—NOW! And to plan the action needed the Agriculture Committee of the Chamber will co-sponsor a breakfast meeting 8:30 a.m. Wednesday, March 27th at Dickie's Restaurant. All interested in this important part of our economy please plan to attend. There will be no charge for the breakfast.

This is really a problem that calls for a good share of that West Texas ingredient called HUSTLE, HUSTLE, HUSTLE!

To Appear In Friona

Miss Nancijane Goodwin, portraying the role of Lupita in the Eastern New Mexico University presentation of "The Tiniest Town in Mexico," joins in the frivolity of "Friendship Day" festivities to the musical accompaniment of Roy Conboy's guitar. Miss Goodwin, from Clovis, and Conboy of Lakewood, Calif., are members of the Eastern theatrical cast that will be making 16 appearances in 11 cities as part of the university's 20th annual Children's Theatre Tour, scheduled Feb. 25-March 6. "The Tiniest Town in Mexico," a play designed for the attraction of elementary school children, will appear in Friona March 5 in matinees, at 9:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. in Friona Junior High Auditorium.

January Lists 7 County Wrecks

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the month of January of 1974 shows a total of seven accidents resulting in no persons killed and four persons injured. The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for January, 1974, shows a total of 583 accidents resulting in 16 persons killed and 302 persons injured as compared to January, 1973, with 572 accidents resulting in 16 persons killed and 207 persons injured. This was 19 less accidents, and 95 more injured in 1974 at the same period of time.

Minister Amuses Baptists

Grady Nutt, nationally-known humorist, will entertain young and old at 7 p.m. Sunday, March 3 at the First Baptist Church here.

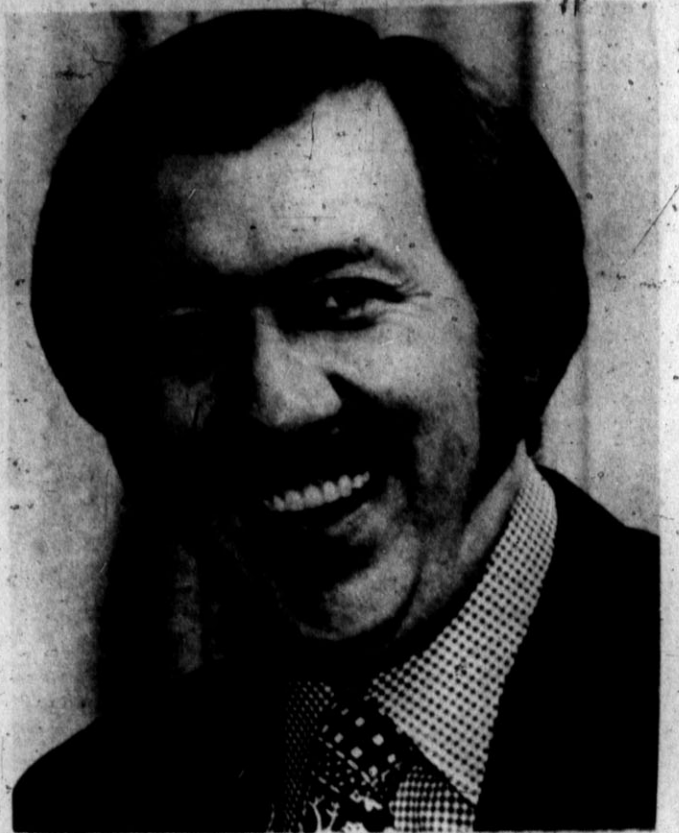

Nutt sings, tells humorous stories, juggles, plays half-dozen musical instruments, and performs before groups across the country — ranging from college concerts and awards presentations to banquets and conventions.

He's perhaps best known for his unique brand of down-home humor, which he skillfully extracts from everyday life around us.

An ordained Baptist minister, most of the time Nutt's "pulpit" is a concert stage or a plate of ham and green beans (he averages more than 100 after-dinner speaking appearances annually). He has been a frequent guest on the nationally syndicated Mike Douglas Show.

A native of Texas who was transplanted to Kentucky, Grady received his bachelor of arts degree from Baylor University, Waco, and a bachelor of divinity degree from the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky.

He and his wife, Eleanor, and their two sons, Perry and Toby, live in Louisville.

Perform For Church

Grady Nutt is a many-faceted Baptist minister credited with being a writer, musician, juggler and professional humorist. The entertainer, who has appeared frequently on the Mike Douglas Show, will highlight a diverse service next Sunday evening at First Baptist Church.

Phone Pioneers Meet Tuesday

Telephone Pioneers will assemble in Hereford at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas. The Amarillo-based chapter, which includes 26 Hereford members, will feature Virgil Belcher of H&R Block. His program will focus on income tax preparation.

The meeting will be a covered dish supper and games will follow Belcher's presentation. Telephone Pioneers are active or retired telephone employees who have recorded at least 21 years of service. Anyone interested in obtaining further information can call Dorothy Hargis at 364-2565.

WARDS TREAD WEAR GUARANTEE
 Montgomery Ward guarantees its passenger car tires to the original purchaser against premature tread wear-out with the exception of tires used commercially—as follows:
 PREMATURE TREAD WEAR-OUT
 If a Montgomery Ward passenger tire wears down to the top of the tread wear indicators (to 1/16" tread depth) within the period of months or number of miles stated for a given quality of tire, Montgomery Ward will replace the tire for a prorated charge determined by the months or miles of use, whichever serves as basis for the guarantee.
 Premature tread wear-out due to malfunction of the suspension system is excluded.
 All prorated charges will be based on actual selling price in effect at the time of adjustment at the retail store to which returned or the catalog price in effect at the store or agency to which returned, in either case, including Federal Excise Tax.
 For adjustments under this guarantee, return tire with the guarantee booklet issued at the time of purchase to any Montgomery Ward branch.
 *Commercial use is defined as use on any vehicle for other than family or personal use.
 Due to the importance of proper vehicle maintenance in delivering stated mileage, Montgomery Ward will rotate tires purchased at retail or catalog stores having installation facilities free of charge, over 5,000 miles. Wheel alignment and wheel balance may be checked at that time.
 Montgomery Ward will repair and purchase free of charge for the full term of the tread wear-out guarantee.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

WAIT A MINUTE! Before you use Mrs. Leon Dothmann's recipe for that yummy-sounding chocolate icing from the Thursday Hereford Brand, please note that there is an error in the list of ingredients.

Instead of 1 to 3 cups of the liquid, which is Coke, it should read one-third cupful. In case that figure could appear 1-3 cup, maybe it would be better to spell it out-one-third cup.

It wouldn't take an experienced icing-maker long to realize that she would have soup instead of icing if she used a cupful of liquid, but some inexperienced cook might decide the recipe sounds so good she must try it, with sad results.

The general rule holds good: Use just enough liquid to moisten the powdered sugar to a creamy stage, thick enough to spread nicely on the cake. And don't blame Mrs. Kothmann for the error; it belongs to the Brand and is probably my own.

WHEN three Hereford boys were given helium-filled balloons at a recent Amarillo event, they decided to attach messages and release them. Wednesday they were much excited when they got a reply.

Bryan and Charlie Kerr, sons of Sidney and Clifford Kerr, and Donnie Lauderback, the Armon Lauderbacks' son, were the aerial experimenters. The Kerr brothers had a note this week from Terry Tipps at Briscoe, who said he found the balloon with their address "while I was just walking around outside."

That's a nice flight for a balloon, no doubt helped along by our recent winds.

INVITED as an observer at a semi-annual assembly of superiors and delegated persons from Catholic religious orders, Dr. Jordan Grooms, pastor of First United Methodist Church, is in Rome and will take part in a study on Ecumenism and Church Renewal. Mrs. Grooms flew to Rome with him.

They plan to be gone until March 5. The Hereford pastor was invited to the Rome meeting after he spoke at the last assembly, held in Washington, D.C.

JOAN GRADY, sophomore at West Texas State University from Hereford, is a new member of the national honorary art fraternity, Kappa Pi, on the Canyon campus.

She is the Nolan Grady's daughter, an art education major and while she was in Hereford High she won several honors in art. Kappa Pi has the aim of promoting interest and variety in art work among college students, and requires a high scholastic average for membership.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Easter pioneers mark anniversary

60th Wedding Anniversary Is Celebrated By Easters

The 60th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Easter, pioneers in this area, was celebrated Feb. 8 and for several days following, with family gatherings and informal neighborhood visiting.

Now living at 228 Ave. D, the couple has resided in this area since their marriage Feb. 8, 1914 in the home of a minister, the Rev. Mr. Johnson, in the Easter community which is named for the bridegroom's family.

Mrs. Easter before her marriage was Maydolin Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Green who came to this county from Navarro County in 1901. She was born at Frost April 2, 1892.

The W.F. Easter family lived in Castro rather than Deaf Smith County, settling 12 miles south of Hereford when they came from Hill County in 1905. Walter Easter and his brother worked at breaking the sod, first with a horse-drawn plow and later with a steam tractor, and planting wheat. He was born April 4, 1892 at Itasca.

Walter moved from their farm in Castro County to Hereford in 1926 so their children could attend high school here. They are the parents of two daughters, Inez, Mrs. J. William Witherspoon of Hereford, and Ruth, Mrs. J.R. Hays of Dimmitt.

Nine grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren are in the family now, and most of them were present with other relatives and a few close friends at the Witherspoon home to celebrate the anniversary with an afternoon gathering.

The next day Mrs. G.P. Owen and Della Stagner, nieces of the Easters, entertained relatives in the Stagner family with lunch. The honorees later invited neighbors to their home for cake, coffee and casual talk.

Committees Formed For Cute Kids Contest

A special meeting of the Newcomers Club in Mrs. Glen Perry's home was held to organize committees for the Cutest Kids Contest which the club will sponsor this spring. Mrs. Perry was named general chairman.

Entries are being received now for the contest and blanks are available from Mrs. Homer Youc at Circle K Food Store and Mrs. Melvin Hoover at Hereford State Bank. Awards will be given in several age divisions of the contest, for girls and boys.

This will be the second annual Cutest Kids Contest and several changes have been made after the sponsors gained experience last year. It will be an afternoon event and preliminary judging will be done before the public program, although all entries will appear in the parade on stage.

Mrs. Dean Baxter and Mrs. Perry acted as hostesses Friday afternoon for the birthday party at the Mental Health Mental Retardation Center which the club sponsors regularly. Four workers at the center were birthday honorees.

A successful bake sale was conducted by members this week to add to funds in the club treasury.

Rebekah Lodge Has Installation

Edna Johnson was installed as left support to the vice-grand by Mrs. P.B. Sowell at the recent meeting of the Rebekah Lodge in the IOOF Hall.

Mrs. Johnson will fill the vacancy left by Frances Parker who moved from Hereford. Mrs. Merle Bridges was initiated into the lodge and it was announced that initiation will be held at the next scheduled meeting.

Members voted to help the IOOF with a pancake supper March 29.

Mrs. J.W. Cawthon was hostess for the social hour.

7 H.D. Clubs Nominate Woman Of Year For '74

Deaf Smith County Home Demonstration Club Woman Of The Year will be introduced at the annual H.D. Appreciation Luncheon in the County Bull Barn Monday, after being chosen from six club nominees.

She will be given an award by The Hereford Brand, as has the yearly custom to climax the luncheon where county officials and others who aid Home Demonstration work here are honored. Mrs. Paul Hoff is holder of the title for the past year.

Nominees, each chosen by members of her own club, are Mrs. Charles Burk, Bippus Club; Mrs. T.E. Brisendine, North Hereford; Mrs. Bill Page, Messenger; Mrs. Lupe Gonzales, Heritage; Mrs. Albert Lamb, Westway; Mrs. Marvin Welty, Young Homemakers, and Mrs. Michael Oberski, Palo Duro Club.

Each has a record of active club participation and community service which is considered by out-of-county judges to decide the winner each year.

Mrs. Welty is president of her club this year; has helped build its membership and presented programs. She is on the H.D. Council yearbook committee and was chairman of floats for the Hereford Diamond Jubilee parade last summer, which received a first and a second place rating.

Mother of three daughters in addition to a baby son, she is leader of a 4-H club with 30 girls as members, serves as secretary-treasurer for the Parent-Leader Association, county chairman of fund raising for Lake Brownwood 4-H Center, secretary-treasurer of the 4-H Livestock Booster Club after a term as chairman.

She teaches in First Christian Sunday School and was Vacation Bible School superintendent last summer, is also on the church's membership committee and a group chairman in the Women's Fellowship. She served as a group captain in the March of Dimes and worked in the Heart Fund drive.

Head of the steering committee for Messenger Club's biggest current project, renovation of Garcia Community Building, Mrs. Page is leading in plans for more repairs to the building which is now used for club meetings.

She became Council delegate in July after two years as secretary-treasurer, and has held all club offices during her eight years as a member. She is on the Council finance committee, has attended workshops and county-wide club events. Involved with other community activities, she is the new 4-H leader at Walcott, bookkeeper for Walcott School and Parent-Teacher Organization vice president. The Page family attends the Church of Christ at Broadview, N.M., just across the state line from Messenger community.

Friends she has made in H.D. Club work are its best reward, Mrs. T.E. Brisendine says. She is president of North Hereford Club this year, was a delegate to the 1973 Texas H.D. Association meeting in Waco and went as a visitor to the district meeting, enjoying on each trip the new friends she has acquired.

She joined the club three years ago, after her children were old enough not to need her constant presence at home. Her youngest has reached his teens now, and the three older ones are married. She has an almost perfect record of club attendance.

Attending workshops for training, she has given several programs in her club. Assistance to 4-H Club projects is also part of her record. She has helped several years in the March of Dimes and has served as secretary of her Sunday School class in First United Methodist Church.

Perfect attendance this year at H.D. Club meetings is the boast of Mrs. Charles Burk, a ranch-farm wife in Bippus community in far northwest Deaf Smith County. She has given at least half a dozen programs in the year.

Serving as vice president now, she has in her years as a club member worked in all offices and on committees. In the Bippus Community Church she is teacher of the teenagers, and works with youth of the neighborhood in various ways.

Making quilt tops for the Seventh Day Adventist Church stock to supply needs in emergencies, Mrs. Burk calls her principal hobby. She also sews for girls in neighbors' families, and in listing benefits from H.D. work she puts "Help in sewing" first, followed by "Learning easier ways of doing things."

One of the young wives and mothers who make up the membership of Palo Duro Club, Mrs. Oberski like some others in the group is the daughter of an active H.D. Club member and grew up with a knowledge of the program.

With a perfect attendance record, she has given four demonstrations to the club the past year, after attending workshops to learn the methods. She is credited with bringing new members, also. In the H.D. Council she was on the recreation committee for the county-wide Christmas party.

She and her husband are members of the Presbyterian Church and active in a young adult study group, the Mariners. They are parents of a nine-month-old son, Jason. Mrs. Oberski helped in the county Heart Fund drive last year.

Judge Furniture For Top Quality

By Argen Draper

Home Demonstration Agent

IF WANTING quality furniture for your home, check the doors, fasteners, finishes and hardware. Doors on furniture should be straight and well-fitted so you can open and close them easily.

Fasteners should be applied with screws rather than with nails or staples. Some pieces of quality furniture may have screws counter sunk and plugged with a piece of wood so they can't be seen.

Finishes on wood furniture are intended to accentuate the grain of the wood. The wood grain should be matched for pattern and appearance throughout the construction of the piece.

For an exceptionally attractive looking wood grain, look for a piece that has a highlighted satin finish accomplished by hand rubbing during the finishing process. If high quality paint or clear finish has been carefully applied, the finish will be smooth on the piece of furniture.

On quality wood furniture, hardware should be suitable in design and scale for the furniture.

ALTERNATE heat sources in the home can help consumers save fuel supplies this winter. Extra heat comes from woodburning, sunlight or adding humidity to the home. For example, burning wood continuously in a fireplace supplements the home's heat supply.

However, leaving the damper open after the fire's out lets heat escape up the chimney. So for maximum energy conservation, keep the fireplace damper tightly shut when not in use.

Also, on bright, sunny days fully utilize solar heat. To do this, keep curtains and blinds open wide on south or west windows to take advantage of the warm winter sun during daylight hours.

Another conservation method involves controlling the amount of fuel used in keeping a home warm. When no one is home, turn the thermostat down to 60 degrees.

Warming the house back up to 68 or 70 degrees just takes a few minutes—and uses less fuel than maintaining the higher temperature all day. In addition, learn to live with a little less heat.

Although most people feel comfortable in a 68-70 degree room, lower temperatures can be tolerated. Slightly increasing humidity while lowering the temperature is one way to add comfort. Dry air always seems colder than air with about 30 percent humidity.

WAXING porcelain enamel surfaces just isn't necessary, although numerous products are available—and ads support the practice. Porcelain has an inherent hardness and gloss that makes it easy to clean. In fact, this is one of porcelain enamel's biggest pluses.

Research indicates that unwaxed porcelain surfaces clean just as easy as waxed ones. In fact, it's easier than in cases where wax has built up with several applications. Waxing porcelain enamel isn't harmful—but why waste the time, energy and money spent on it?

To clean porcelain on appliances such as refrigerators and ranges, simply wash surfaces with soap, detergent or any home-created cleaning product. Then rinse and wipe dry to avoid hard water spots.

MAN-MADE fibers represent about two-thirds of all fibers used by American mills for woven and knitted fabrics, carpets and other fiber products.

REARING a child has been termed an adult's greatest responsibility.

Couple At Home Here
Following Marriage

Married in a mid-afternoon ceremony last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Moses Ramirez are at home at 604 North Schley. The bride was Miss Judy Lanett Hix before wedding vows were exchanged in Trinity Baptist Church.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sheridan of 219 Ave. A, and of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Contreras of 623 South Texas.

The Rev. Ed Warren officiated for the ceremony and Mr. Sheridan gave the bride in marriage. She was attended by her sister, Miss Dora Maxine Hix, as maid of honor, while Alfonso Gamez served as best man.

Ushers were John Hix, brother of the bride, and Noah Valice. Wedding music was by Miss Joan Waters, pianist, and Johnny Prize, soloist who sang Amazing Grace and Twelfth Of Never.

The bride's gown of white satin was styled on slender lines, with wedding ring neckline, long sleeves and slim skirt trimmed with bands of lace forming a front panel effect.

Her bouffant veil fell to fingertip length from a headpiece of satin and lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of white gladiolas and carnations with touches of red.

Red and white colors were repeated in decorations for the reception, held at the Civic Center. Misses Jo Ann Andrews and Shirley Bradley served the wedding cake and punch. Miss Penny Oliver presided at the guest register.

The bride is a 1973 graduate of Hereford High School. The bridegroom also attended HHS and is employed here.

Cookbook Author Is Club Speaker

Speaker for Bay View Study Club Thursday afternoon was Marjorie Winn Ford, and recipes from the Deaf Smith Country Cookbook she wrote were used to prepare refreshments served at the meeting in the county historical museum. Mrs. S. G. Darling was the hostess.

Mrs. Ford spoke of natural foods which are produced and packaged in this area or elsewhere, their value in the diet and their preparation in appetizing forms.

Today's trend toward organic farming to produce foodstuffs without chemical fertilizers or insecticides, and food processing without chemical preservatives, was discussed by the Hereford housewife and cookbook author.

Coffee was served with granola cookies, apricot-nut balls and date treats, confections made from her recipes. Mrs. Howard Gault conducted business and welcomed the guest speaker. Other members at the meeting were Mmes. D.N. Garner, Jack Wilcox, H.L. Benefield, John Gilliland, Bruce Burney, Austin C. Rose Jr., R.W. Eades, Justin McBride, Robert Josseland and Colby Conkright.

REDISCOVER YOUR OLD DIAMONDS

Start a treasure hunt in your own home, and bring to light those lovely old diamond pieces. Perhaps you thought nothing could be done with them — they were hopelessly antiquated. Well, then you'll want to let us show you how to bring these sentimental pieces up to date — merely by having them reset or remounted.

We can give you many ideas on what to do with your own diamonds to turn old into new.

Local Bridge Buffs Invited To Tourney

Amarillo Unit 210 of the American Contract Bridge League will sponsor a bridge tournament March 1, 2, and 3.

The tournament is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 28, at the Villa Inn, E. Interstate 40 and Grand. There will be games scheduled at 1:30 p.m. on Friday the 1st and on Saturday the 2nd with a two session team event on Sunday, March 3.

Alex Duggan, of 1921 Georgia in Amarillo said that all Hereford bridge players, regardless of experience, are invited to participate in this tournament. There will be games for the novice as well as the experienced players.

Those players wishing assistance in finding partners, or those who have never played tournament bridge and wish to do so, are to contact Don Markham, at 373-6019, in Amarillo.

A compliment remains the best way of insuring cooperation.

Numerous Awards Presented At Campfire Supper

Awards to Campfire Girls, their adult leaders and Campfire Council members who have given special service the past year, were presented at the highlight of the annual Father-Daughter Supper in the County Bull Barn Thursday evening. About 800 persons were present for supper, award ceremonies and a program directed by senior Horizon Club girls on the theme, "I Was Born Under A Wandering Star." Nine girls received the highest award which can be earned by those in the organization, the Wo-He-Lo Medallion. They are Debbie Hale, Holly Layman, Cynthia Hairgrove, Bridget Mazurek, Denise Strange, Judy Scott, Glenda Baum, Kathi Bell and Rhea Ann Wesson.

They are members of Horizon Clubs, Campfire organization for high school girls, and have completed a long record of club activity and community service. Ted Panciera, Council president, presented these awards.

Highest award for adults in the program, the Ernest Thompson Seton medal, was presented to A.E. Hodges, whose service to the organization includes three terms as Council president.

Charlie Bell received an appreciation gift.

Mrs. Glenn Watts was cited as a Campfire leader for 10 years. Ten-year membership certificates for girls went to Shyla Thomas, Tara Gaye Wesson, Misses Hairgrove, Layman, Bell and Rhea Ann Wesson.

Candy sales awards were also given; top salesmen were Amy Carnahan, Hope Arellano, Sammie and Tommie Cherry, Campfire Girls who each sold 200 or more boxes of candy in the annual sale; Teresa Carr, Yvonne Condarco, Eva Johnson, Shellie Richie and Cozette Moore, Bluebirds who reached the 100 mark in sales.

A program of songs keyed to the theme was directed by Mrs. Wesley Gulley with Mrs. Charles Jones as pianist. Girls in each age level of the program presented songs as Horizon Club girls acted as narrators.

Box suppers which the girls brought were served to the fathers at tables where each Campfire group was assigned a section to decorate in its interpretation of the theme.

CANDY SALES CHAMPS — Camping fees for next summer have already been paid in part by Hereford Campfire Girls who reached goals in the recent sale of candy. Cited as top salesmen at the annual Campfire Father-Daughter supper this week were these girls. Bluebirds, younger girls in the program, are in the top photo, Eva Johnson, Cozette Moore, Teresa Carr, Yvonne Condarco and Shellie Richie, each of whom sold more than 100 boxes of candy. With sales quotas set higher, the older girls in lower photo are Hope Arellano, Sammie and Tommie Cherry and Amy Carnahan, who sold more than 200 boxes. Many other girls received camperships or certificate for lower sales records.

AC Musicians Offer Talents.

Members of the Amarillo College music department are offering individual or ensemble performances for school civic clubs, or other organizations throughout the area.

Arrangements for the scheduling of performances may be made through the office of Robert Hofman, chairman of the music department. Programs can range in length from 20-30 minutes and may vary from solo recitals to chamber ensembles. All performances are free of charge.

Mrs. Jesko Is Shower Honoree

A courtesy for a bride, Mrs. James Jesko, was a shower in the home of Mrs. Ira Ott Saturday afternoon. The honoree is the former Mary Ann Crouch, who was married here Feb. 1.

She received shower guests with her mother, Mrs. Doug Crouch, her husband's mother; Mrs. Jimmy Jesko, and Mrs. Ott. Each of those in the receiving line wore a corsage of pink carnations with apple green leaves.

A table arrangement in the same colors was placed on the white cutwork cloth that covered the tea table. Miss Sharon Owens served punch and Miss Beverly Willis invited callers to register.

In the hostess party were Mrs. Eddie O'Rand, Billy

Thompson, William H. Willis, J.G. Gandy, Glen Williams, Floyd Eubanks, J.B. Digby, Ralph Warren, Walt Warren, Andrew Kershen, Marcel Fischbacher, Gilbert Yosten, George Turrentine, Charles Berend, Leroy Berend, Ewald Berend and Miss Joan Waters.

Eighth Grade Winning Essay To Be Entry In DAR Contest

The eighth grade student who placed first for his grade in the American history essay contest sponsored by Los Ciboleros Chapter, Daughters of American Revolution, was Richard Waters of Stanton Junior High. This is his essay, to be entered in state competition with those from fifth, sixth and seventh grades.

After school, I filled the wood box and water barrels. There was still light for fishing. But no luck at the pond today.

March 3, 1774

Helped Papa clear the plot south of the house. This will be used for corn and I do not like to think of hoeing. I have a new jack-knife, made a willow whistle and a doll from twigs for Priscilla.

Priscilla started her sampler today. It seems so hard for her to make such tiny stitches. We will be proud of her when we hang the finished piece on the wall.

March 20, 1774

Uncle Ivor and Aunt Martha were here five days. They are moving further west. Aunt Martha's brother was killed by the Red Coats in Boston in '70, and they have been uneasy since. They fear more fighting.

After they were on their way, Mama seemed more worried that war may come. I wonder, too, if we shall have war. I agree with Papa that we should not be controlled by a nation across the sea.

April 18, 1774

We have late copies of Poor Richard's Almanac in school, brought by our new schoolmaster, Mr. Thomas, who studied at William and Mary College. This is only our third schoolmaster this year. We recited poetry today.

I posted a letter in the village for the schoolmaster.

April 30, 1774

We butchered our hog today. I helped Mama make the lye soap from the fat. We made plenty to last till next killing time. Our new neighbors came for supper. We all had an enjoyable time.

May 23, 1774

Today we plucked the geese to make pillows. Later Papa and I met with some other boys and men to go on a wolf hunt. Excitement mounted to a high pitch before the tricky old wolf was finally killed.

Thad is learning to handle a gun now.

July 23, 1774

We went to the village today. Mama traded fresh vegetables, cream and butter for sugar, salt, spices, tea and coffee.

Aug. 16, 1774

Excitement is in the air. Papa is going to Philadelphia with a friend, who is a delegate to the Continental Congress. Papa will visit some of our family there while his friend is at the meeting.

It seems Mama keeps us busier than ever while Papa is away. We have helped with the housework, the fieldwork, and the usual chores. I have little time to read.

Oct. 2, 1774

Papa arrived home today. We were so glad. He brought gifts for each of us. Papa talked about how the British have searched people's homes and arrests have been made. Many people think we should fight.

Nov. 10, 1774

Patriots everywhere have the feeling that we will be at war soon. Companies are forming and drilling regularly. Today I sat at the top of the hill near home and watched a company drill.

Actually, the child of 1774 was not so unlike the child of 1974, except for material things. The child then, as now, worked and played, laughed and cried, had desires and ambitions, fears and skills. Though it seems that the life of the children then may not be very interesting, it is quite possible that they were as happy then as we are today. They did not have so many toys, and not so much was done for them, but they knew how to get pleasures from simple things, and the simple things are often the best.

City's Needs Are Subject In Club

Needs of Hereford for such civic facilities as convention rooms, recreation areas for youth and adults, a large auditorium, meeting rooms for groups of various size and an indoor swimming pool were discussed in Hereford Study Club Thursday evening.

A questionnaire concerning these needs and the priority given them by area residents, circulated by Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce this month, was presented to the club by Mrs. Art Stoy, president, to spark the informal discussion.

The club was meeting in the home of Mrs. Richard Winget with Mrs. Bob Word as co-hostess. Consensus of members on the survey questions will be reported to the Chamber.

Gladys Setliff gave the program, reviewing J.B. West's book, Upstairs At The White House. This is an anecdotal memoir by West, who was chief usher at the White House with service extending through the administration of six presidents.

It has been called "a unique contribution to the social history of our time," Miss Setliff said as she related humorous, dramatic and touching incidents in presidential families as seen by the writer, who had the responsibility of running the households.

They included glimpses of First Ladies from Eleanor Roosevelt to Pat Nixon, not as the public sees them but "before their hair was combed."

Other members present were Mmes. Sam Long, Merlin Kaul, Don Robinson, Labry Ballard, B.F. Cain, J.W. Witherspoon, T.E. Braddy, Homer Garrison, Ed Wilson, Cawthon Bryant and W.H. Gentry.

Wyche Club Hears Joint Programs

Mrs. Wayne Jones and Mrs. Leo Hellman presented programs to members of the Wyche Extension Club Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Jones.

Lessons From Life was given by Mrs. Jones before she listed problems of the teenage-parent generation gap. Parents and Teenagers was the topic of discussion presented by Mrs. Hellman.

Mrs. J.H. Holden presided over the short business meeting. Members present included Mmes. Ira Ott, Frank Dungan, Bob Thuit, Harley Ward, and Carol Newsom.

Mothers Club Welcomes Two Guests

Mrs. P.H. Jayroe and Mrs. Joe Deavenport were recognized as guests by members of the Mothers Needle Club Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Haskell Benson.

After a short business meeting, the afternoon was spent visiting. Members present included Annie Springer and Mmes. Charles Wiseman, C.N. McClure, A.C. Flowers, R. Paul, Ellis Carter, J.J. Shirley and W.T. Gunstenson.

COME ON IN, DON'T BOTHER TO KNOCK — Mr. and Mrs. C.M. Smith of 229 Ave. D. were somewhat surprised when the tree next to their house came crashing down on their roof during the high winds Thursday afternoon. No extensive damage was reported, but their television antenna was bent by the wind.

DAR Delegates Will Attend Conventions

Delegate instructions were given at the Thursday evening meeting of Los Ciboleros Chapter, Daughters Of The American Revolution, in preparation for state and national conventions where the local chapter will be represented.

Mrs. Douglas Bartlett was hostess at the home of her mother, Mrs. J.J. Durham. Mrs. L.W. Norvell, regent, reported on revisions in state and national by-laws and delegates were instructed as to voting.

Mmes. Norvell, Carroll Newsom and T.J. Carter have been elected as Los Ciboleros delegates to the state meeting at Austin next month, while Mrs. Durham and Miss Mildred Elliott were named to attend the Continental Congress this spring in Washington, D.C.

Three schools owned and operated by the DAR supplied the program subject. Slides were shown and work of the schools discussed.

Mrs. Jack Gilliland presented the section on the Indian school, Bacone College at Muskogee, Okla.; Mrs. H.M. Booser on Tamasee School in the Blue Ridge Mountains of northwest South Carolina and the Kate Duncan Smith School on Gunter Mountain, Alabama.

Mrs. Durham reported on the annual DAR essay contest marking February as American History Month, which had 286 entries from fifth to eighth grade pupils in Hereford Schools.

The chapter gives bronze medals to winners from the four grades, certificates of award to second place winners and certificates of appreciation to all entrants.

New And Quick Foods Utilized For Club Lesson

Two guests, Mrs. Edgar Lemons and Mrs. C.J. Mountz, were entertained with members of North Hereford Extension Club Thursday afternoon when Mrs. Iva Saltzman was hostess in her home.

A demonstration on the use of a new egg product which is cholesterol-free was given by Argen Draper, county extension agent. The scrambled eggs made from this product was served to members, with individual pizzas made with canned biscuits which Mrs. Draper also prepared.

Mrs. J.A. Crofford will be hostess for the next meeting, March 7, in SWPS Reddy Room. Members present included Mmes. A.E. Hodges, Paul Hoff, Mac Tucker, Viola Williams and Crofford.

Test your diamond I.Q.

Q. IS A LARGE DIAMOND ALWAYS MORE VALUABLE?

A. Not always. A smaller stone of finer color and more precise cutting—to show the fire—can be considerably more valuable than a larger gem of less quality. Cutting, color, clarity and carat weight are all important factors. As a member of the American Gem Society, we'll help you strike the right balance. AGS affiliation is awarded only to those jewelers who qualify on the basis of gemological knowledge and high ethical standards. Welcome Tiburcio Trevino Conoco To Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Enrolled By Bill Albright

To The Voters of Deaf Smith County

I feel very humble in presenting myself as a candidate for County Judge of Deaf Smith County. It is an extremely responsible job that requires patience, understanding and wisdom. It requires firmness with consideration and dignity. The job needs a good listener who is willing to hear every side of any issue.

I want to give you some background on myself. I was reared on a farm, and have owned or been involved in farming and ranching most of my life. I am 62 years of age. I am a Christian and am a member of the First Baptist Church in Hereford. My wife, Ora, and I have been married 41 wonderful years. We have two daughters and a son and nine grandchildren. Sam Jr. worked for Holly Sugar for several years.

I started to work in a bank as a bookkeeper. Within six years I organized the Citizens State Bank, Roby, Texas. I was head of this organization until I retired and sold out to enter the U.S. Navy during WWII. I worked as a County Administrator for Farmers Home Administration after the war. I taught a G.I. Vocational Agriculture class for five years. In 1951 I started working for a Rural Electric Cooperative. I am presently Executive Assistant of Deaf Smith REC. I welcome any inquiry into my ability to function in any capacity I have ever worked.

I have served in many civic service capacities such as School Board, Hospital Board, Water Authority Board, County Program Building Committee, P.E.P. Red Cross, Lion's Club and I am presently a member of the Whiteface Kiwanis Club and a Director of the Deaf Smith Museum.

My academic education has been spread over a long period of time. I attended two courses at the University of Texas. I had some Agri-Education work at Texas Tech. I attended a Naval Training Program and studied Applied psychology. I have completed a seven year management Seminar course through National Rural Electric Cooperative Association.

I started planning my early retirement from REC more than five years ago. I bought some property on Highway 385 North where my wife has been operating a small shop for four years. My plans was not to retire from work, but to enlarge our business and work for myself. Many of my friends knew about my plans to resign from REC after this year and asked me to announce for County Judge. A great number of people have expressed the desire to have a choice in selecting the next County Judge. I considered the situation and decided to enter the race. I want to be County Judge, and I am offering myself as one of the choices for the voters. I want to express my appreciation for the tremendous response to my candidacy.

My years of experience as a businessman, and work in human relations has matured and prepared me to do a good job as your County Judge. I know how to listen and use good practical common sense. I have learned to cope with the problems and situations that exist in our daily lives.

The future of Deaf Smith County will be as good as we make it. Every day, I see the finest young farmers, ranchers and businessmen I have ever known. The vibrancy, humor and ideas of young people are most refreshing. I see the most intelligent, straightforward school kids ever. The parents, outstanding School systems and Churches of our county are doing a good job of rearing the future citizens of our county. We all need to be more oriented toward human needs than toward things and we need to cooperate in the realm of human relations.

I believe in law and order. I believe justice should be the same for every living person, and that it can be administered with firmness and discipline without hostility.

I am not a part of any conflicting factions that may exist among our county officials. No office holder approached me to enter the race. I am my own man, I will challenge anyone who spreads rumors otherwise. I entered the race unscarred and undaunted with the firm conviction that I can accomplish any task called for in the County Judge's office.

I will be glad to discuss my candidacy further with any group or individual who wishes to do so. I want to renew old acquaintances and make new acquaintances.

If I am elected, I pledge to work with you and for you, and try to treat everybody like I would like to be treated.

Sincerely Yours,
 Sam Morgan

GETTING READY FOR CARNIVAL— From beginning to end, the annual carnival of St. Anthony's Catholic Church, to be held in the parish school and on the grounds the afternoon of March 3, is in the preparatory stage. To begin, planning is in charge of general chairman Edward Schilling, right, and co-chairman Allan Brockman, checking committee lists in photo at upper left, while Gary Kriegshauser, lower right, grabs a big mop and looks forward to the final chore, cleanup, with Arnold Fangman as his co-chairman. Food, a feature of the carnival, is produced by a kitchen committee headed by Mrs. Walt Warren, upper right, taking a pie from the oven for the approval of Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Flippo and Mrs. Andres Pena. At lower left Joe Schumacher, chairman of the county auction scheduled at 3:30 p.m., confers with the publicity chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. John Warren. Ping-pong games and pony rides will be supervised by the youth committee: Reginald Herr and Lawrence Brorman, lower center, and Wayne Schilling, not pictured.

Club Discusses Proposed Project

Aid in the arts and crafts classes at Westgate unit of Kings Manor retirement home was discussed by Cultural Extension Club members Friday afternoon, at a meeting in Mrs. M.W. Sumner's home. A club member, Mrs. J.G. Gandy, is chairman of that project in Kings Manor Auxiliary. She explained the value of the classes to Westgate residents and asked each club member to volunteer two hours of work a month there.

who showed the use of new convenience foods. Mrs. Hap Wiseman was leader of the opening exercise.

A new member, Mrs. Arthur Dettman, who has lately moved here from New Mexico after retirement from a teaching career, was welcomed.

Also present were Mmes. Art Lewis, Mary Ella Cocanougher, P.M. Houser, Ira Scott and Paul Corbett.

Local Artist Paints In Oils And Watercolors

By SANDY INMAN
Brand Staff Writer

BEAUTIFUL oil and watercolor paintings, done by Mrs. W.D. Askew and other artists she admires, add to the originality, charm and elegance of the Askew's recently redecorated home at 804 E. Third.

Mrs. Askew, who produces realistic, semi-abstract and abstract oil paintings, uses a portion of the dining area for her easel and paints. There she takes advantage of a well-lighted room.

Recognized for her artistic talent, many Hereford residents were able to view her paintings in a one-man art show held at the Music Stand during the Christmas holidays.

Other shows scheduled will be held in Tahoka, Quanah and Amarillo.

PREFERRING to paint abstracts rather than semi-abstracts, the charming housewife explains that in order to use abstract techniques, the artist must know the concepts of realism. He also must plan the painting in his mind before starting or the composition will be wrong and the perspective out of proportion.

She received her first art instruction from an elderly woman while she was living with her family on a ranch over 25 years ago. The only time her painting has been interrupted occurred year before last when she broke her leg.

Unable just to lie in a hospital bed, she started small oil paintings. During the next three months of convalescence period, she completed over 30 pictures.

THE ASKEWS bought their present home 15 years ago when they moved here from an Eastern New Mexico ranch where they raised their two daughters and son.

"It has taken this long to add all of the personal touches to our home," comments Mrs. Askew.

Completing their redecorating before Christmas, the total interior face-lifting process took over two months. The Askew's laid down a short shag carpet in a soft shade of frosty lime green and painted the livingroom and dining room walls a citrus yellow which was toned down with white.

THEY HUNG chartreuse-lime drapes to match the walls and added a burnt orange divan, gold and green chairs and a Victorian love seat to complete the warm, comfortable atmosphere.

One painting hanging over the mantel in the living room of which they are particularly proud is a portrait of Askew done by a Spanish artist. Other oil paintings by local artists are hanging throughout the house.

"I try to buy my paintings from local artists. We have many who are extremely good," says Mrs. Askew.

The guest room, which is decorated around a mohair plaid throw blanket, is done in shades of purple, pink, yellow and white. The carpet is a deep shade of royal blue and the fabric covered headboard matches the cornice board and seat cover on an antique chair. Lavender accent furniture is emphasized with white hardware.

TYPICAL of older homes, the spacious bedroom is large enough for a chatting area, two green chairs arranged around a lamp table covered with an orange cloth.

Pink, orange, green and gold floral curtains brighten up the room as does the orange and harvest gold secretary.

The cabinets in the bright, cheery kitchen are painted in pastel shades of orange and green. An unusual collection of spoons from different states where the Askews have traveled hang by the breakfast table.

Besides painting, the bubbly woman's interests include baking yeast breads, sewing for her daughter, crocheting, playing the organ, traveling and helping with VICA program in high school.

WHEN NEEDED she substitute teaches in the cosmetology class at high school and has spent two weeks helping the girls get ready for contests held in Lubbock recently. They won five first places and will go to state according to Mrs. Askew.

She owned and operated a beauty shop in Hereford for 10 years and is a member of the Hereford Art Guild, La Plata Study Club and the First Baptist Church. She is also on the VICA board of directors at high school.

An energetic woman never willing to be idle, she is presently taking watercolor instruction. Everything in her home, from her lovely paintings to Norman Rockwell illustrations on her coffee table, suggests creativity and a great interest in art.

PAINTING IS HER LIFESTYLE — Mrs. W.D. Askew paints for relaxation and enjoyment, and has now for over 25 years. In top photo, she is shown with two of her oil paintings, one using realism techniques and the other using abstract techniques. Her painting paraphanelia is setup in the dining area but she also uses her kitchen table for painting in water colors.

By The Garden Gate With Glad

The following quote by Mary Ellen Gray was on a Valentine greeting I received. "Friends are Flowers in the Garden of Life."

To me it is very, very true, and soon after receiving the card with its beautiful cover I went out into the garden and there, some of my garden friends were showing signs of spring.

The crocus had started blooming, yellow ones were especially beautiful, and there were crinkly new lush green leaves on the rhubarb.

Daffodils are growing fast, and after they had a good drink it seemed that the foliage straightened up and bowed, with a big thank you. Yes my flowers are good friends too.

Good reports are coming in from those who planted amaryllis bulbs which the Pioneer Study Club sold. The bulbs were exceptionally good, and the flowers from them have been beautifully formed, rich colors, true to the variety, and some have really done exceptionally well.

Ordinarily the amaryllis bulb has only two scapes (stems) with three or four trumpet shaped blossoms. Mrs. O.G. Hill

Sr. has one bulb which had three scapes, with four red blossoms each. The last scape was the tallest - 26 inches. It had four well formed blossoms and these were very beautiful. On some of the bulbs the scape and flowers come first, on others the foliage grows with the scape and in some instances the long, strap-like leaves, do not appear until the scape has flowered, and then it grows its full growth pattern.

I thought the one Mrs. Hill grew would be the largest and had the most scapes, but the other day Mrs. Ethel Stengel, my beauty operator, and I were talking about flowers and gardening. Since I had sold her some of the amaryllis bulbs, I inquired as to her success. She had not planted them yet but was hoping to have some blossoms at Easter. We talked about the three-scape plant Mrs. Hill has grown.

Ethel said, "One year I grew one that had five scapes and each of them had four well developed blossoms. The tallest was approximately 30 inches and the flowers measured 6 inches across."

Well, this capped the climax, as I had never heard of one doing so well. The color of the blossoms was red with white stripes.

I have planted five bulbs. One just ready to burst into bloom is 24 inches tall. Am anxiously awaiting the bloom. Hope it is a rose colored one, as I have seen several of the red and the striped. Have held back three to plant to have at Easter time. Anyone who has grown an exceptional one, please call and give me data relative to its growth, etc.

History of the amaryllis is very interesting. Amaryllis is the common name for the genus hippeastrum, a group of bulbous plants that produce lily-like (trumpet shaped) blooms, the flower stalk (scape) produces sword-shaped leaves of a rich full texture and color. The flowers blossom atop the flower stalk, in clusters of three or four blossoms.

It is largely grown in pots for winter bloom and is one of the most popular house plants from the bulbous family. The amaryllis came from South America, Peruvian Andes, and Holland. It has been hybridized in Holland, which is the heart of the horticultural world.

Amaryllis (amaryllidaceae) belladonna, which came from Brazil and later hybridized, is a variety which is grown extensively in California, outdoors. Flowers are lilac in color, and have pointed segments.

Foliage is similar to the potted varieties, only more droopy. The flowers are not as large but more are produced on the scape. When planted in mass they are very lovely, and they make satisfactory cut flowers.

This variety can also be grown here; it was one of my mother's favorite summer flowers. However the bulb must be mulched well for winter keeping.

One of the plant's faults is that often the stalk grows and flowers before the foliage, and make it unattractive.

Whether growing as a potted plant or outside, they like a rich loamy and fibrous soil. Temperature not to exceed 65 degrees is best, especially for the potted plant. When the flower bud starts the pot should be moved to a lighter area and warm water used to keep it moist, this aids the growth pattern.

The bulbs should be allowed to develop the leaves and store up food for another growth. Let the bulb gradually ripen, and when warm weather comes potted bulbs can be carried outside with other growing plants.

When leaves have developed, and the growth cycle completed, the bulbs can be lifted and stored in dry sand through the fall and winter.

The amaryllis does not have many diseases, however black sclerotia is one. If the bulb shows signs of blacking, it should be discarded and burned. They also show leaf scorch, similar to that found on Narcissus. This can be treated and cured, and the bulb replanted.

Both the giant hybrid Dutch amaryllis, and American hybrids mixed are shown in some of the spring catalogues. Some of the named varieties are appleblossom, beautiful lady, bouquet, candy striped, scarlet, pure white (these are lovely, especially nice for Easter), fantastica.

Ludwig collection sounds fantastic, some are Ludwig's dazzler (dazzlingly white), Ludwig's Goliath, brilliant red with dark red throat, and United Nations, pure white petals with vermilion stripes.

HINTS... All of our life we have been admonished to eat our food when hot or warm, that it would make us grow strong and healthy. Well that goes for potted plants too. If you think they are a little sluggish, feed them.

Caution: do not feed if the soil is dry. Mix the food in warm (not hot) water, pour around the base of the plant where the root system derives its food. The warmth carries the food directly to the tender roots thus stimulating them.

Want to try a new potted plant or hanging basket? Grow weeds. Baby tears makes an attractive full plant, (needs much humidity). On a recent visit to a flower shop, I saw many of these pots, pretty and green.

Another suggestion from Jerry Baker, is to grow chickweed in a hanging basket or in a pot for winter. When planting time comes, these can be destroyed, and other plants used.

Chickweed is one of our enemies, they are already growing in the flower beds, and we might like it a little if grown as a hanging basket. The tiny florets are a pretty lavender, and the leaves have an attractive shape.

Had a delightful visit with Mrs. Werner last week, enjoyed seeing her potted plant collection and to note the colorful geranium blooms. Came home with a pretty succulent, a gift of my friend Bess. Think I will start a friendship collection.

THINK ON THIS... Who is wise? He who learns from all people with whom he comes in contact... or from study and reading. How is your I.Q.?

Lions Have Patriotism Theme

Patriotism was the theme for the program at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Hereford Lions Club Wednesday at the Civic Club Center.

"America, Why I Love Her", a record album featuring John Wayne, was played for the club by Benny Womble. Ray Simpson is program chairman for the month and introduced Womble.

Clete Corlis, co-chairman of the club's annual Pancake

Supper, urged members to concentrate on ticket sales. He also announced that L.W. Carlyle was leading the club with more than 200 tickets sold. The supper is scheduled in the Bull Barn Feb. 28.

Lion Dick Geris announced that a special blood bank drive was set Friday for Mrs. Bob Ginn, and that the regular monthly mobile blood bank campaign was set for Feb. 27.

Shari Hughes presented the weekly report from the high school Leo Club. Kathi Bell, president of the school organization, was also recognized for being named Basketball Queen and being selected for the DAR Good Citizenship Award.

The Wizard of Oz returns to NBC

"The Wizard of Oz," the popular screen classic starring Judy Garland, will be colorcast as a two-hour special for the seventh consecutive year on the NBC Television Network Sunday, Feb. 24 (5:30-7:30 p.m.).

Miss Garland stars as Dorothy, one of her most celebrated film roles, in the 1939 MGM classic based on L. Frank Baum's children's book. The Victor Fleming production also stars Frank Morgan, Ray Bolger, Bert Lahr and Jack Halley, Dorothy, the Kansas farm girl, has a series of fantastic adventures after she is whisked away from her home by a tornado.

Among those she meets are a Scarecrow (Bolger) who wants a brain, a Tin Woodman (Halley) who wants a heart and a Cowardly Lion (Lahr) who wants courage.

Gloria Swanson stars in 'Killer Bees'

Gloria Swanson stars in her first made-for-television movie, as an aging matriarch dominating her family and terrorizing the town by her strange power to control a hive of murderous bees in "Killer Bees," a suspenseful drama airing on the ABC Television Network's "Tuesday Movie of the Week" (Feb. 26 (7:30-9:00 p.m.)).

Also starring in the production, filmed entirely on location in California's Napa Valley, are Edward Albert, Kate Jackson (star of "The Rookies" on ABC), Roger Davis, Craig Stevens and Don McGuire. Albert and Davis portray Edward and Helmut Van Bohlen, the dowager's grandsons.

Miss Jackson is Victoria, Edward's fiancée; Stevens is Rudolph, Madame Van Bohlen's son, and McGuire is Mathias, another grandson.

The Van Bohlen family, after whom the town they reside in is named, has brought from Africa a rare bee used in harvesting the grapes for their wine-making.

The Cast

Kate Jackson and Edward Albert star in "Killer Bees."

Dennis Weaver stars in 'American Bag'

"American Bag," a topical comedy special with grass roots humor zeroing in on conditions which affect most Americans today—from the battle of the supermarket to the energy crisis—will be co-located on the NBC Television Network Tuesday, Feb. 28 (9:00-10:00 p.m.). Dennis Weaver, star of NBC TV's "McCloud," will be the on-camera host.

Weaver will be the central figure in the show. He will turn the spotlight on the topics of contemporary America, both social and political, much as Will Rogers did in a bygone era. The comedy will be played against a back drop of recognizable settings—supermarket, gas station, television studio, town hall.

Allan Byer and Chris Beards are the producers of "American Bag." The company of players includes Nina Wayne, Phyllis Davis and Emily Yancy.

"The Mystery Double Feature"

A psychiatrist, the author of a newly published book containing profiles of three anonymous maniacs who have been his patients, is found shot to death, and Mannix tries to discover if it's suicide or murder, in "A Rage to Kill" on "Mannix" (7:30-8:30 p.m.) first half of "The Mystery Double Feature" on Sunday, Feb. 24 (7:30-9:30 p.m.) on the CBS Television Network.

The police rule suicide, but the psychiatrist's mistress thinks one of the book's subjects might be the killer. Don McDougal directed from a script by Bernard Schoenfeld and Shimon Winickberg.

Mike Connors, Gail Fisher, Pat Delaney, Elaine, Flora Plumb, Blindfolded and held at gunpoint, Barnaby is hired by a man he cannot see to find his son. Before beginning the search, however, Barnaby must locate his mysterious new client, in "Ren. devious. With Terror," second half of "The Mystery Double Feature" on February 24 (8:30-9:30 p.m.) of "The Mystery Double Feature" on February 24.

As Barnaby begins to unravel the identities of the two men, he finds himself in the midst of a struggle for control of a Latin American country. Seymour Robbie directed from a script by Calvin Clements.

Special 90 Minute 'Police Story' Drama

Tony Lo Bianco, starring as officer Tony Calabrese and Don Meredith as his partner Bert Jameson, return to the roles they created in "Requiem for an Informer," co-located earlier this season on "Police Story," when they head an all-star cast in "The Night Hunter," a special 90-minute drama on NBC Television Network's "Police Story" Tuesday, Feb. 28 (7:30-9:00 p.m.).

Criminal Johnny Morrison (Jackie Cooper), with his companions Dominic (Alf Mitrano) and Mickey (Mills Watson), rob a liquor store owned by Lou Gold (Milton Selzer), and commit a criminal assault on two women. Officers Calabrese and Jameson are given the assignment to apprehend the felons. They are aided by Bobbie (Sharon Farrell), owner of a dress shop, who has been threatened by Morrison.

Dane Clark portrays Lt. Stohler; Nehemiah Persoff plays Fabrizzio, a prisoner; and Sal Mineo appears as Stippy, an informer. The cast also includes Frank Avalon as David, Joby Baker as Macon and Charles Bateman as Lt. Harmon. The drama was written by Sy Salkowicz and directed by Richard Benedict.

"Requiem for an Informer," in which Meredith made his dramatic debut, was co-located Tuesday, Oct. 9, 1973, on "Police Story."

Andy Williams to host Grammy Awards

Andy Williams, serving as host for the fourth consecutive year, will be joined by top stars of the recording world in presenting golden Grammy trophies when the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences (NARAS) honors outstanding creative achievement in the field of music on the 16th annual Grammy Awards ceremonies, to be broadcast live as a 90-minute special Saturday, March 2 (9:00-10:30 p.m.) on the CBS Television Network.

Celebrities appearing on the broadcast to present the coveted Grammy statuettes will include, in alphabetical order, Glen Campbell, The Carpenters, Roberta Flack, Al Green, Isaac Hayes, Kris Kristofferson, Henry Mancini, Tony Orlando and Dawn, the Pointer Sisters, Helen Reddy, Telly Savalas, star of "Kojak" on the Network, and Lily Tomlin.

Additional presenters and performers and the nominees for this year's Grammys will be announced by NARAS later this month.

The special is a Pierre Cossette Company Production, with Cosette as executive producer. Marty Pasetta will produce and direct, with musical direction by Jack Elliott and Aliyn Ferguson. Marty Farrell wrote the script.
