Beverly Cole had two chances to win the top prize in the Hereford Young Farmers Stock Show this week and she took advantage of both of them.

The teen-age 4-Her from Hereford captured the Grand Champion award with her top Angus steer and then won the Deaf Smith County Reserve award with her cross-bred steer.

In another category, hogs, David Hutchins of the Hereford Future Farmers of America (FFA) also had two main chances to win and carried home the Grand Champion hog award with his top Duroc barrow.

More than 500 animals from 4-H and FFA members in a four-county area were entered in the annual junior livestock show in Hereford's Bull Barn. The show, which actually was two separate shows in one, included participants from the counties of Oldham, Parmer, Castro and Deaf Smith.

One show, the Four-County Show, was for all animals entered. The second show, County Show, was for those participants from Deaf Smith County only.

Total entries in the show indicated 288 hogs, 188 lambs, and 86 steers.

ONLY THREE steers made the final judging contest for the two Grand Champion awards — one for Four County and one for Deaf Smith County. The three were the top breed winners of the preliminary judgments of the Angus, Hereford and Cross Bred steer divisions.

Miss Cole had earlier won the Angus division and also had won the Cross Bred Division and therefore had two of the three being judged for Grand Champion.

The third steer was the winner of the Hereford division and was owned by Mark Cluck of the Dimmitt FFA Chapter, Chapter.

THE AUDIENCE was held in suspense Friday afternoon for several minutes while steer judge Don Beerwinkle of West Texas State University walked around, studied and jabbed on the three division-winning steers. However, the crowd applauded its approval as suddenly Beerwinkle slapped the rump of the 1,292-pound Angus held by Miss Cole.

She was awarded the Four County, Grand Champion award, and because she is from Deaf Smith County, was also automatically awarded the Grand Champion County award.

Steve Anthony, who had the runner-up steer in the Angus Division, then moved in to the vacated spot as the judge again studied three animals for the Reserve Champion.

Beerwinkle this time gave the "slap" to Mark Cluck of the Dimmitt FFA and his top Hereford breed as the Reserve Champion for the Four County Show.

IN THE NEXT round of judging Miss Cole's top Cross Bred steer was chosen as the next top-ranking steer from Deaf Smith County and she was awarded the Reserve Champion County award.

Hutchins took his top award Thursday afternoon during the judging of the hogs by Jim McMannigal, also of West

That feller on Tierra Blanca Creek says the best rule he knows for talking is one that he also uses in his carpenter work: Measure twice and saw once.

Another highly successful Junior Stock Show wound up here Saturday evening, and we join others around the community in extending congratulations to youngsters who participated, and especially to the Hereford Young Farmers organization for sponsorship of the event.

4-H AND FFA youngsters put a lot of time and talent into preparing animals for the show, and the event provides a showplace for their efforts. Few people stop to think of the long hours these youngsters put into their projects, and it's great we have a stock show to recognize their efforts.

WE MADE our first out-of-town trip under the new 55 mph speed limit when we went to the Plainview game Friday night, and it sure seemed a long way to go. Pat Hughes rode over with us, and we discovered that we should have left earlier. Hughes suggested on the way over that we stop in Dimmitt coming back and have breakfast!

It'll be hard to get used to the new speed limit, but I keep telling myself that it is going to be good for us. Besides saving gasoline, a big benefit should be the saving of lives from fewer fatal accidents. This is the fifth time statewide maximum speed limits have been changed since the Highway Department was established in 1917.

THE TOP permissible speed in 1917 was a blazing 25 mph. The limit went to 35 in 1923, to 45 in 1928, to 60 in 1941, and to 70 in 1965.

Speaking of saving fuel, we read an article by someone the other day — and now we can't find it — on how he figured to save his gasoline. He listed the percentages he would save by driving slower, by avoiding "jackrabbit starts", by tuning up his engine, by properly inflating his tires, and several other items.

All the savings, he pointed out, added up to 110 per cent. He figured he could start catching the "overflow" from his gas tank and have the fuel problem licked!

'Faces Fall To Bulldogs, 51-48

The fired-up Plainview Bulldogs, trailing most of the way, caught up with Hereford going into the final quarter and emerged with a close 51-48 victory in an important District 4-AAAA battle Friday night at Plainview.

The triumph gave Plainview sole possession of first place with a 3-0 record in the first round of play. Hereford is 2-1 along with Lubbock Coronado. The Whitefaces have a 17-8 season record, and Plainview is 13-13.

Hereford will host Snyder Tuesday, then complete the first round of Coronado Friday night. Plainview still has Lubbock High and Monterey to play in the first half. The varsity game against Snyder here Tuesday starts at 7:30 p.m., preceded by the soph and JV games at 4 and 5:45.

THE WHITEFACES led most of the way in the game at Plainview Friday night, but the Bulldogs stayed close and seemed to grab the momentum in the third period. Plainview took the lead for the first time at 41-40 just before the end of the third period, and it was tied (41-41) going into the last stanza.

The Herd was erratic in the final period and the home team outscored Hereford by 10-7, the margin of victory. The Bulldogs were charged with only four fouls in the second half, and the Whitefaces were never in the one-and-one situation.

HEREFORD'S Dan VanderZee took scoring honors with 20 points, and the big guy turned in a great job on the boards — pulling down 15 rebounds. Hereford's statistics showed Plainview ahead on rebounds by 34-29, while the home figures had Hereford leading on the boards by 29-27.

Plainview's tight zone defense was apparently devised to keep the ball away from VanderZee and to keep Albiar from getting an open shot out front. Hereford was hitting in the first half, but the shots weren't falling in the second part of the game. Hereford had 11 turnovers in the game, while Plainview had only 9.

DANNY HUFFINE led Plainview with 18 points — all coming on long outside shots — while guard Johnny Davis hit 11 and forward Mark Mangum added 10.

James Harris followed VanderZee in the Herd scoring column with 11 points, and guard Mike Albiar managed only 9.

Both teams were connecting good on their shots early in the contest, but Hereford cooled off in the second half. Plainview hit 23 of 51 shots from the floor for a 45-per cent mark, while Hereford connected on 22 of 55 for a 40 per cent shooting average.

Hereford was charged with 14 personal fouls and Plainview with 11. The Whitefaces got several two-shot calls in the first half, however, and wound up 4 of 9 at the charity line — compared to 5 of 9 for the Bulldogs.

PLAINVIEW pulled out front by 48-43 with 3:53 left in the game, and VanderZee hit one free shot before the Bulldogs took a six-point advantage at 50-44. Albiar hit a driving layup to cut the gap to four points again, 50-46, with 53 seconds left. Lynn Tarr was fouled seconds later, but the Herd wasn't in the bonus situation. VanderZee got a tip-in shot before the final buzzer.

Hereford had taken a 19-15 lead in the first period and held on to a 30-29 advantage at halftime. Both teams concentrated on defense in the second half with Hereford scoring only 18 points and Plainview 22.

PLAINVIEW also won both of the preliminary battles, taking a 64-38 win in the junior varsity tilt and a close 45-43 decision in the sophomore game. The Herd JV played it close in the first half and trailed by only nine, 36-25, at half-time. Plainview ran away in the second half, however. Mike Hull hit 19 for Hereford but the scoring fell off after that, with Craig Nieman next at 6 points.

Plainview put up a shot just before the buzzer in the sophomore game, and it rolled around the rim and fell through for the two-point margin of victory for the home team. Mike Crim led the Hereford scoring with 14 points.

Political Pot Gets Hotter

Two more hats were tossed into the political arena here this week to add more fuel to a simmering political pot that seems sure to be boiling before the May primaries.

Grant Hanna, 55, longtime businessman and farmer, filed Friday as a Democratic candidate for the Precinct 2, county commissioner post. He becomes the fourth Demo candidate for the post to be vacated by Marcus Latham, and there is one Republican candidate.

Frank Barrett, 50, incumbent city commissioner for Place 4, also announced Friday as a candidate for re-election to that post. He is unopposed at present.

Joe Zinser, who previously announced his intentions to seek election in the Precinct 2 county race, formally filed as a candidate this week. Demo candidates for the post are Clinton Jackson, Bill Griffin, Zinser and Hanna. The Republican candidate is LeRoy Williamson.

Glen Nelson, Deaf Smith County Justice of the Peace, who also had already announced his intentions to seek re-election, formally filed for another term to the office. He is presently unopposed.

THE PRECINCT 4 commission post will also have a new commissioner, since Donald Hicks is not seeking re-election. Luther Lesly is the lone candidate to file for that post to date.

Deadline for candidates to file for a county post is Feb. 4. Persons desiring to file for one of the two spots on the city commission have until March 1 to register. Two seats are also open on the Hereford school board, and five candidates have entered that race. Deadline for filing in the school race is March 7.

School trustee candidates are Bill Johnson, Lynton Allred, Jim Conkwright, Jim Clark, and Glenn Watts.

HANNA, THE latest Precinct 2 candidate, has lived here since 1947 and resides three miles north and one mile west of Hereford. He has farming interests and is the former owner of Hanna's Coffee Shop, and was manager of the Civic Club Center for three years. He was also a DeKalb seed dealer here for about 15 years.

Hanna, a World War II veteran, was stationed here in 1942 at the POW camp and returned to marry a local girl — the former Troyce Stambaugh. They have two daughters — Cynthia, who resides in Canton, and Joette of Dallas.

He is an active member of the American Legion and VFW and is a Scottish Rite Mason and Shriner. Hanna has served in the leadership of many local committees — including the ASCS committee and Red Cross. He is a charter member and past president of the Grain Sorghum Producers Assn., and a past director and charter member of High Plains Research Foundation. Hanna was also a charter member of the Jaycees here in 1947. He is a member of the First Methodist Church.

BARRETT WILL be seeking his second full term as a city commissioner. He was elected to his first full term in 1972 after being appointed to fill a vacancy in 1971. A resident of Hereford since 1941, Barrett is co-owner of Barrett Produce, Inc., and also has farming and ranching interests.

Barrett is a past president of Deaf Smith County Farm Bureau, a past president of West Texas State Ex-Students Association, and past president of the Texas Vegetable Growers Council. He graduated from high school in Wendell, Idaho, in 1940 and is a graduate of WTSU. He and his wife, Betty, have three children — Bruce, a student at WTSU, and Nancy and Steve of the home.

Battle Of The Boards

Dennis Nogger (43) and Dan VanderZee battle for a rebound off the boards Friday night at Plainview, but Hereford lost the war by a close 51-48 margin. The contest matched the two teams for undisputed possession of first place in the 4-AAAA race. Hereford is now 2-1 in the first round of play, but still has a chance at earning a share of the first round lead. VanderZee led all scorers in the game with 20 points and grabbed 15 rebounds.

Texas State University.
Hutchins had won both the breed divisions in Duroc and in Hampshire and was thus in the run for the grand champion award along with Brad Sharp of the Hart FFA with his Chester White division winner; Sandra Stallings, Hereford 4-Her with her Poland China and Spot Division winner; Ted Eicke of the Hereford FFA with his Yorkshire Division winner; and Terry Hill of the Hart FFA with his Cross Bred division winner.

AFTER the judge picked Hutchin's 218-pound Duroc as the Grand Champion Four County and County winner, the vacant spot was then filled with the runnerup in the Duroc division which was Robert Pope of the Hereford FFA.

It then turned out to be the day for Duroc hogs as the judge selected Pope's 225-pound hog as Reserve Champion Four County, and because Pope also is from Deaf Smith County he, like Hutchins, was automatically awarded the equal County award — Reserve Champion County.

GRAND CHAMPIONS were awarded in the Steer and Hog Divisions. Only Breed Champions were selected in the four breed divisions of lambs.

The lambs were judged Friday morning with the steers following Friday afternoon. Sale of the top 130 animals in the show was held Saturday afternoon but results were not available by press time and will be carried in Thursday's Brand.

In the lamb contest Levelland Vocational Agricultural instructor Tooter Smith was the judge for the four divisions. Winner of the Four County Fine Wool Lamb division was Mark Bennett, Hart FFA in the Four County Show, and Sam Finley of Hereford FFA was the Champion in the County although he was Reserve Champion in the Four County.

In the Fine Wool Lamb division the Four County Breed Champion went to Kim Dyer of Hart FFA with Jeanine Jobe of Hereford 4-H taking the top spot for Deaf Smith County.

Doug Reinart, Hereford FFA, took both the Four County Breed Champion and the County Champion in the Medium Wool Lamb Division.

Terry Beavers Hart FFA, won the Breed Championship in the Southdown Lamb division with Hereford FFA's Lisa Phillips getting the runnerup Four County award and capturing the Breed Champion for Deaf Smith County.

TROPHIES, awards and ribbons to the division and show winners were passed out by Hereford FFA Sweetheart Pam Kerr.

General superintendents for the show were Layton Sawyer, Don Howard and Joe Schultz, all members of Hereford Young Farmers Club.

Also held Saturday morning was the annual Livestock Judging Contest sponsored by the judging teams of West Texas State University. Different animals were picked from the more than 500 that were entered in the show and contests were held between area FFA and 4-H judging teams.

Lions Host Herd

Members of the Hereford Whiteface varsity basketball team were guests at the Hereford Lions Club regular weekly luncheon meeting Wednesday at Civic Club Center.

Basketball Coach Barry Arnwine introduced each of the players, as well as team managers and assistant coaches Joe Tubb and Dempsey Alexander. Sheldon Alexander served as program chairman.

Arnwine praised the team's effort to date, pointing out that Hereford was picked fourth in the district race and is currently tied for first with Plainview. He invited fans to attend the game at Plainview Friday night.

Lion Robert Thompson presented pens to the students and teachers selected as honorees of the six weeks at Hereford High School. D'Lynn Davison and Gary Landers were recognized as students of the six weeks, and Mrs. Rodney Symons, social sciences, was named teacher of the six weeks. Mrs. Betty Oglesby, faculty sponsor for the National Honor Society, was also recognized. The NHS selects the students and teachers.

Outstanding scholarship and attitude toward the school and community in general were taken into consideration in selecting the students. Mrs. Symons will be leaving soon to join her husband, recently assigned by the U.S. Army to Ft. Leavenworth, Kan.

Lion Lynton Allred reminded members that the Coffee Memorial Blood Bank unit was in Hereford Wednesday, accepting blood donors during the afternoon at the Community Center. He announced that Hereford's bank was 52 pints short.

President Jim Hale asked for some of the members to help clean up the Bull Barn at 6:30 p.m. Saturday.

Service Tonight To Conclude 'Week Of Prayer For Unity'

"The Week of Prayer for Christian Unity" will be concluded by a citywide "Festival of Ecumenical Worship" at 7 p.m. today in St. Anthony's Roman Catholic Church. Clergy and laity from across the city will participate in this unique observance.

The public is invited to attend the ecumenical worship service. Arrangements for the festival were made by a committee of representatives from the Church Women United and the Rev. Roger B. Knapp of the First Presbyterian Church. The special celebration is sponsored by the Hereford Ministerial Alliance.

Father James Comiskey of the Catholic Family Services, and pastor of St. Hyacinth Church in Amarillo is the featured speaker of the evening.

Music for the ecumenical occasion will be provided by the Hereford High School Choir and the High School Girls' Choir under direction of Fred Ratliff. Nancy Jones, organist of First Presbyterian Church, will supply the instrumental music.

Various portions of the worship service will be conducted by the clergy or laity from Church Women United, St. John's Baptist, First Christian, First Baptist, First United Methodist, St. Thomas Episcopal, First Presbyterian, and St. Anthony churches, and the Holy Name Society of St. Joseph's.

An ecumenical luncheon was held at the Methodist Church at noon Wednesday, under auspices of the Church Women United.

The Very Rev. Paul James Francis, S.A., Father General of the Friars of Atonement, organized the eight days of prayer in 1907, and this is reported to be the possible beginning of ecumenism.

The Atonement Friars continue Father Paul's works in many ways. They still operate St. Christopher's Inn, a temporary home for homeless and destitute men. A rehabilitation center, New Hope Manor, for girl drug users was founded there years ago at Graymoor—a monastery founded by Father Paul near New York City.

Fire Auxiliary Holds Elections

New officers of the Hereford Fire Department Auxiliary were elected Tuesday night, Jan. 22 in a meeting at the Fire Department.

Serving as president of the organization for 1974 will be Norma Garner. Assisting her in her duties will be 1st vice-president Kay Ivins and 2nd vice-president Francis Stipe. Other leading officers taking position are Marie Maxwell, treasurer, Joyce Smith, recording secretary, and Wanda Spain, corresponding secretary.

Serving as parliamentarian is Joan Munnerlyn and reporter and scrapbook chairman is Margarette Craig.

THERE IS NO FERTILIZER SHORTAGE!

While the principal business of our feedlot is the production of beef for a hungry world, there are certain byproducts of our operations which are available to help in the operations of other segments of agriculture. One such product is nutrient-rich manure, offering unique fertilization potential.

Through tests conducted at the U.S.D.A. Southwestern Great Plains Research Center at Bushland, Texas, we have learned specific facts relating to the use of our solid wastes as fertilizer. For example, application of only ten tons of solid waste material to an acre of moderately irrigated crop lands has been sufficient to obtain maximum yields. There is a residual effect available through manure fertilization: the process of decomposition continues to provide nutrients, at a reduced level, through the second and even third years after application!

There are definite economic advantages to the crop producer using the manure fertilization system. Initial cost, of course, and also the economies of the methods of application. No special equipment is required: the material is deep plowed into the field and application can be made at the time of working fields prior to planting (the farther in advance of planting the better). Thus, fertilization occurs as a course of normal operation, with standard plowing equipment, resulting in fewer man hours required and, particularly important in light of the energy crisis, less fuel consumption.

The table below lists the nutrient content of manure sampled from 23 feedlots on the Texas High Plains, giving the range, average percentages and average pounds of nutrients present in ten tons.

Boosters Sponsor Ice Cream Supper

The Whiteface Booster Club will hold an ice cream supper as a special feature of its weekly meeting Monday night in the high school cafeteria.

All booster club members and parents of basketball players are urged to attend the meeting beginning at 8 p.m. Admission will be a minimal 25 cents per person. Ice cream and cake will be served.

Virgil Marsh, club president, pointed out that the boosters are meeting each Monday night during basketball season and urged interested fans to join the club. Coach Barry Arnwine discusses the game each week, and portions of some games are shown on film.

Memberships in the club are only $3 each for individuals and $5 for a family card.

Sports Group Plans Track Meet Here

Discussions of track, boxing, basketball and tennis highlighted a meeting of the sports committee of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Friday at the House of Wong.

The committee, with Jake Webb as the new chairman, held its first meeting of 1974 and started making plans for sponsorship of the annual C of C track meet on March 16.

The group also discussed the possibility of sponsoring a State Qualifiers' Track Meet here on April 27, and voted to present the proposal to the Chamber board. Hereford will have its new "all-weather track" ready for the annual meet in March, and the committee thought the qualifiers' meet would be a great addition to the local schedule.

McAndrews On Coe Honor Roll

James Joseph McAndrews, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. McAndrews of 626 Whiting Avenue, Hereford, was one of the 205 Coe College students to be named to the fall term Dean's List.

Each student on the honor roll has carried a full course load during the term and has maintained a 3.5 grade average

The committee presented its first annual "Athlete of the Year" award last year, and voted to make the presentation at the All-Sports Banquet this year. Keith Kitchens was the recipient last year.

Webb said the group also discussed the need for new surfaces on school tennis courts. Additional study was approved. The committee is also making plans for sponsorship of an AAU boxing tourney here this year.

The meeting was attended by 15 members of the committee.

Small Cagers Need Coach

Steve Slagle, president of the Little Dribblers basketball program, invites all prospective coaches to assemble at 8 p.m. Monday in the Southwestern Public Service Reddy Room.

The JayCee-sponsored organization has tentative plans of getting the miniature cagers on the courts by March 1. Boys eligible to participate in the sports program are aged 8-13.

Only adults interested in being coaches should attend tomorrow's meeting.

Convention Drafting Chairman

State Senator Max Sherman of Amarillo is shown here receiving a gavel from Constitutional Convention President Price Daniel, Jr., significant of his position as Chairman of the Committee on Style and Drafting for the Convention. Delegate Sherman was appointed by Daniel during the first week of the Convention to serve in the chairmanship position of the committee. These committee appointments recognize the expertise of individual delegates regardless of legislative seniority. Sherman, a Democrat from Senatorial District 31 said he is "proud to serve the State in the re-write of its basic document, the Constitution, and especially honored to be chosen to fill one of the prime leadership roles of the Convention by serving as chairman of the Style and Drafting Committee.

Santa Fe Industries Announce Dividends

The Board of Directors of Santa Fe Industries, Inc., has declared a dividend of twenty-five cents (.25) per share on its preferred capital stock payable Feb. 1, 1974, to stockholders of record at the close of business Dec. 31, 1973.

The Directors of Santa Fe Industries also declared a quarterly dividend of forty cents (.40) per share, plus an extra dividend of five cents (.05) per share on the common capital stock of the company, both payable March 1, 1974, to stockholders of record at the close of business on Jan. 25, 1974. With this action, total declarations during 1973 amount to $1.65.

New-car sales fell sharply in December. Doubling of Supreme Court case-load seen.

GI Bill Important For Students

More college students have already received educational benefits under the current GI Bill than were trained during the entire World War II GI Bill program, Jack Coker, VA Regional Office Director, reported.

During October, Coker said, nearly 801,000 GI Bill college students were enrolled. This surge pushed the cumulative total during the seven years since the newest GI Bill was enacted to 2,258,158 trainees.

College enrollments during the entire 12 years of the World War II GI Bill numbered, 2,230,000. The total for the seven year program under the Korean GI Bill was 1,158,109.

College trainees under the current GI Bill include 91,312 servicemen and 2,166,846 veterans. Military personnel on active duty were not eligible for training under the two earlier GI Bills.

The number of college trainees in the present GI Bill program is expected to far outstrip the World War II college trainee total in the years to come since Vietnam Era veterans have eligibility for eight years following release from service.

In terms of percentage of all GI Bill trainees who trained at the college level, Coker noted, only 28.6 per cent of the World War II veterans went to college. That percentage jumped to 50.7 per cent for Vietnam Era veterans.

A major reason for the big increase in college level training today, the regional director added, is the higher level of pre-service education attained by present day veterans. During World War II only 38.5 per cent of servicemen had completed high school. Some 85 per cent of the Vietnam Era servicemen were high school graduates, and thousands of others were able to complete high school training under military educational programs while in service.

New Federal Loan Assists Business

A new federal program to finance local businesses or industrial development will help improve the economic climate in rural areas of Texas, according to J. Lynn Futch, state director of the Farmers Home Administration, Temple.

Already letters of pre-application are being received, Futch said, requesting financial assistance to develop businesses under provisions of the 1972 Rural Development Act. The Farmers Home Administration, a rural credit service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, oversees the program.

"Submitting a letter of pre-application is the first step in this program," Futch explained. "Any individual or group that needs financing for industry or business in Texas should summarize his ideas in a proposal and submit it to the FHA county office in the area, or to a private lender. Priority will be given to projects that strengthen rural communities by improving economic and employment conditions as outlined in the Rural Development Act."

If the prospective business meets eligibility requirements, Futch said, the applicant will be requested to submit a formal application. Major projects will be cleared with appropriate local and state officials to assure compliance with development plans for the area. In addition to individuals, eligible applicants may include partnerships, cooperatives, and corporations.

Most borrowers will receive loans advanced by private lenders guaranteed up to 90 per cent by FHA in rural areas and cities not over 50,000 population. Loan funds may be used to purchase machinery and equipment; to buy land, buildings and permanent fixtures, and for working capital.

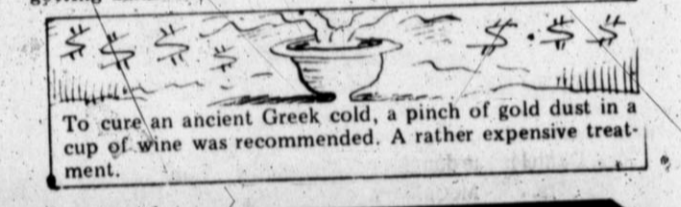

Public bodies also are eligible for grants to finance industrial sites that will result in development of private business enterprises.

GETTING READY

— Nina Engle, Adrian FFA, tends to her Hereford calf to get him ready for the judging in the Young Farmers Livestock Show.

Various adult vocational courses will begin this week with registration taking place during the first scheduled class period.

A new class has been added which will study Commodities. It is scheduled for every Tuesday evening 7:30-9:30, beginning Jan. 29 and ending Feb. 26. The course will be taught by Ed Schroeter in room 117 at Hereford High School. The five-week course will offer 10 clock hours and has a tuition fee of $6.

The dates have been corrected for a Women's Recreation class. Sessions will be held 7:30-9:30 p.m. every Monday, beginning Feb. 4 and ending April 8, in La Plata Gymnasium.

Those classes featuring registration at 7 p.m. tomorrow at the high school are: Beginning Typing in room 202, Beginning Bookkeeping in room 116 and Beginning Bridge in room 102.

Starting Tuesday at 7 p.m. at HHS are: Conversational Spanish in room 116, Conversational English in room 114, Speech in room 118 and Home Interior Decorating in room 120. Commencing at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday will be advanced Bridge in room 102 and Commodities in room 117.

Meeting at 7 p.m. Thursday will be: Business Office Machines in room 120, Auto Engine Tune-Up in room 127, Income Tax Preparation in room 125, Real Estate Appraising in room 124, Advanced Typing in room 202 and Parliamentary Procedure in room 118. Men's Recreation will begin at 7:30 Thursday evening in Stanton's Gym.

Kenny Hagar will attend a Land Surveyors technical course at Lamar University at Beaumont Feb. 4-9. This will make the sixth such course Kenny has taken in the last six years at A&M and Lamar Universities. He will take his examination before the State Board for becoming a Registered Public Land Surveyor this year. It is a statutory requirement that he have six years of apprenticeship under a Registered Surveyor before he can qualify for taking the examination. Kenny has been associated with A.J. (Major) Schroeter, the County Surveyor, since September 1968.

Quickly prepared meals, recommended for unexpected visitors, may be useful also for young wives employed outside their homes, members of Palo Duro Extension Club agreed after seeing a demonstration at their meeting Wednesday evening in Mrs. Dan Gorman's home.

Mrs. Gorman and Mrs. Mike Oberski gave the program titled Pantry Meals With Ease, preparing Baltimore Chicken on Quick Rice which they served to those present. Although this is a dish suitable for a company dinner, the working wives in the club decided it and others for which recipes were given, would be convenient for quick preparation when they came home late from work.

The demonstration also included raised doughnuts and these were sampled by members present.

Mrs. State Norvell presided for a short business session and welcomed Mrs. Colin Corbett as a new member. Others present were Mmes. Ted Coleman, Ralph Warren, and Ed Hammett.

Kiwanis Regard Heart Fund Pulse

The Whiteface Kiwanis Club continues its business drive in connection with the 1974 Heart Fund Drive this week.

Members will be contacting businesses in the Hereford area for contributions for the heart fund. Dick Gerjes, Deaf Smith County Heart Fund Chairman, is working with the Whiteface Kiwanians in this phase of the drive.

Contributions to the Heart Fund will assist in educating the public to the risk factors, proper weight and exercise programs, and the need for regular medical examinations. In community service, it strives to meet the needs of the public through medical heart-screening programs, blood pressure clinics, and rehabilitation clubs.

Funding through the American Heart Association goes to research to increase knowledge of cardiovascular disease.

The Whiteface Kiwanis Club assembled in its regular meeting Friday morning and Rex Easterwood was recognized as Kiwanian of the Month for his efforts with the clubs' weekly newsletter.

Talks On MHMR

J. T. Martin, left, presents to Gene Brock a certificate of appreciation from the Thursday Noon Kiwanis Club after Brock spoke to the club about mental health and mental retardation in connection with the new MHMR-Center which holds its grand opening Sunday. Brock said the center will be aiding not only the retarded persons, but persons with mental health problems including drug addicts, alcoholics and other emotional problems. Brock also showed a film to the club titled "Friends" which concerns mental health and mental retardation.

Seniors To Vie For Scholarships

High School seniors from New Mexico, West Texas and Arizona, may now submit applications to attend the 11th annual Talent Day at Eastern New Mexico University on March 2 in Portales.

As last year, some 80 scholarships will be awarded to high school seniors who score higher than fellow competitors on tests in individually selected areas of university study.

The 80 scholarships, each in the amount of $200, will be awarded to the top participating seniors in liberal arts and sciences, which include some 11 subject areas, business, education and psychology, music, speech and drama and technology. Value of the 80 scholarships will total $16,000.

High School seniors interested in participating in Talent Day activities should contact their high school counselor, for information and applications, or they may contact Whiteside in the Eastern Financial Aids Office or Dr. Richard Slinker, director of admissions at the university. The deadline for filing application for Talent Day is Feb. 21.

increase for fertilizer costs, noted the agronomist, but consider that grain sorghum futures are now well above $4 per hundredweight. "This makes the added cost look like a good investment."

"It all boils down to this," contends Box. "Producers cannot afford to risk anything that might reduce their 1974 yields below their long-term average."

The agronomist urges producers to use fertilizer at the recommended rate and to strive for maximum efficiency. And a good start is to follow a reliable soil test.

Mrs. Daniel Gives Oboe Recital At WT

Joy McCathern Daniel, Hereford senior, will be featured in an oboe recital at 4 p.m. Wednesday in the West Texas State University Branding Iron Theatre.

Mrs. Daniel is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.E. McCathern of (Route 4) Hereford.

Ken Barker, Dallas freshman, will accompany Mrs. Daniel on the piano. Her program will include

Vivaldi's "Concerto in D Minor," Robert J. Krause's "Die Doppelrohre," and Faure's "Piece."

Also, Ravel's "Piece en forme d'habanera," and Malcolm Arnold's "Sonatina for Oboe and Piano."

The recital is being presented in partial fulfillment of graduation requirements for a Bachelor of Music Education Degree in Oboe.

Fertilizer Use Vital Despite High Prices

As sure as the sun comes up in the morning, fertilizer prices are on the way up. How should farmers react to this major addition to an already long list of price increases for agricultural inputs?

"We don't expect farmers to cut back much on fertilizer use," says John Box, agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "It's simply a matter of economics."

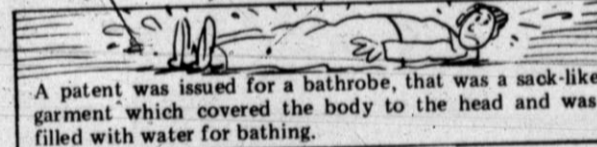

With prices for farm products running well above the long-term average, Box believes that producers cannot afford to cut back on vital production inputs such as fertilizer. At least not if they expect to reach maximum economic yields.

Even though fertilizer prices may increase as much as 25 percent over last season, the Texas

A&M University System specialist contends that it will still be profitable for farmers to use fertilizer.

"Let's look at it this way. Consider a grain sorghum farmer in the Blacklands who had consistently produced 80 bushels of grain per acre (about 4,000 pounds) with a $12 investment in fertilizer. That's a fertilizer cost of 15 cents per bushel. Figuring the same amount of fertilizer at $16 per acre (a 33 and 1-3 per cent increase), the fertilizer cost per bushel at the same yield level would be 20 cents."

JAMAICA and the other West Indies islands seem to be getting more and more popular as vacation spots in winter, except for those who always head to ski resorts. Several country residents have lately been to the tropical isles on trips sponsored by Farmland Industries.

The Bub Sparks, Jimmy Mercers, Herschel Blacks and Tommy Brocks are back from a trip that also included the Bill Cornetts and Leroy Johnsons of Dawn. Earlier, the Joe Arthos, W.J. Albrachts and Tony Hoffmans were another party.

Lush green land and picturesque beaches were welcome contrasts to the drab wintry look of our plains country, the travelers commented, and most of them also mentioned the friendly people who of course welcome tourists heartily.

WITH a grade point average of 4, her mother proudly reports, Shan Banks, a Hereford Student at Texas Tech, has made the honor roll for the past semester.

Shan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Banks, north of Hereford, and a 1971 graduate of Hereford High. She is a junior at Tech majoring in history and government.

ANYBODY want to join me next Saturday in celebrating my favorite holiday? It will be Groundhog Day, you know, the only holiday remaining on the calendar that isn't too commercialized — or at least it wasn't last year, and I hope nobody has put greeting cards on the market for it this year.

IT'S TIME for entries to be made in the Miss Hereford contest and I was thinking of our Miss Herefords of the past two years as I wondered who would succeed to the crown when the pageant is held March 23.

The two girls our town has sent to the Texas pageant since the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division began holding contests here in 1972, have won state honors and recognition for Hereford and I'm sure the 1974 entrant will do the same.

Contrasting the former winners here, Sherry White and Sandy Caison, it's interesting to wonder if the next one will be a still different type of beauty. Sandy and Sherry could hardly be more unlike except that both have appealed to the judges of beauty and talent.

THE FIRST Miss Hereford, Sherry has a classically pretty face, blonde hair and blue eyes, serenely regular features, while dark-eyed Sandy's mobile face changes with every passing emotion.

Song presentation is the talent of both but their singing styles are as different as their appearance, and come to think of it, vocal talents are matched to the faces. Sherry's voice is trained for standard and traditional songs, Sandy's for contemporary pieces.

It's obvious that a Hereford contestant doesn't have to conform to any one taste among judges, so the field is open for pretty girls to display their talents of whatever kind, have the fun of being in the pageant plus the training in poise, stage appearance and meeting interesting people from this and other localities. Nobody is really a loser.

Langford-Reyna Wedding Is Held In Church Here

The marriage of Miss Ella Mae Langford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack R. Langford of Denver, and Ernest James Reyna of Denver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete R. Reyna Sr. of 802 Blevins, was solemnized in a mid-afternoon service Saturday in Central Church of Christ here.

The bridegroom's father conducted the wedding ceremony as the couple stood before an arch of greenery lighted by candles. Delphine Ruiz of Amarillo gave the bride in marriage.

Her sister, Miss Jennifer Langford, was her maid of honor and John L. Pine of Denver best man. Other bridesmaids were the bridegroom's sister, Miss Linda Reyna, and Mrs. Pine, while a brother, Reuben Reyna, and Terry Chandler were groomsmen-ushers.

Stacey and Cassandra Pine, daughters of the John L. Pines, were the flower girls and Ruben John Garcia, son of the Ruben Garcias, carried the rings. Candles were lighted before the ceremony by David Coakley of Stillwater, Okla., and Joe Ruiz of Amarillo.

Composed by the bridegroom, who sang it as a wedding prelude, was Ella's Song.

The bride's gown of Chantilly lace over nylon had been worn by others in her family. It was in Victorian style with fitted bodice, natural waistline, wide scalloped neckline and gathered skirt which spread widely at the hemline.

A lace Dior bow held tiered nylon illusion which formed her veil. Her bouquet was of white pompons, carnations and babybreath. She wore as a good luck piece a string of pearls belonging to the bridegroom's mother.

The maid of honor was dressed in pink and other attendants in lemon yellow. They carried chrysanthemum bouquets with flowers in the two colors.

A reception was held in the church fellowship room, where the lace-covered refreshment table was centered with a doll bride standing beside crystal candle holders.

Mrs. Delphine Ruiz and Mrs. Manuel Ayala served the wedding cake while Mmes. Louis Betancourt, Febrerio Cortez and Tony Marquez poured punch. Mrs. Joe Ruiz was at the guest book.

After a trip, Mr. and Mrs. Reyna will be at home January 30. For travel the bride wore a two-piece suit in burgundy shade with a white corsage.

Wedding guests from other cities, in addition to the bride's family and her grandmother from California, included Mrs. Bill Haye of Denver, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Pena of Elk City, Okla.

Miss Hartley Is Shower Honoree

Belinda Hartley will be complimented with a bridal shower this afternoon in the Medallion Room of REC building. Miss Hartley and Dean Kirby of Dimmitt will exchange wedding vows Feb. 9 in First Baptist Church.

A royal blue and tangerine corsage will be given to Miss Hartley and white carnation corsages will be presented to her mother, Mrs. Edgar Hartley, and Kirby's mother, Mrs. V.L. Kirby of Dimmitt.

Serving sandwiches, mints and punch will be school friends, Lorraine Reinart and Helen Brorman. Miss Hartley's sister, Colette, will invite guests to register at a table decorated with a single tangerine carnation tied with a royal blue bow.

Blue candles will be arranged on either side of the centerpiece consisting of blue, tangerine and gold artificial flowers arranged in a blue fenton glass.

Hostesses will include Mmes. Jerry Roberts, Dean Herring, Eldred Brown, Ernest Brown, N.A. Brown, Fred Boren, Bob Hardin, Mac Tucker.

Also Mmes. Calvin Goodin, George Brakebill and Elmo Hall. Approximately 50 guests are expected to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Bodkin anniversary honorees

Silver Wedding Marked

The silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Bodkin, who live southeast of Hereford, was celebrated with a party Saturday evening when their children were hosts in the REA Medallion Room.

Informal visiting entertained relatives and friends who called during the evening and presented anniversary gifts. The honorees' son, Jimmy, and their daughter and husbands, Judy and Mike Oberski, Jackie and Jimmy Yeager, greeted guests.

Mrs. Oberski and Mrs. Yeager served the anniversary cake with coffee and tea from a table centered with a bouquet of spring flowers. Mrs. Bodkin wore a corsage of similar flowers.

She was Evelyn Miller of Olton before the couple married on Jan. 29, 1949, in that city. The Bodkins have lived in this area 11 years, farming southeast of the city.

Their family now includes two grandchildren.

Paper Drive Underway

Hereford's TAD's, Teens Against Dystrophy, urge residents of Hereford to donate paper to the paper drive currently underway. The money making project will assist the national organization in the fight against muscular dystrophy.

Paper of all shapes and sizes, except that with slick surfaces found in magazines, is being collected by the group. The donor may contact the homes of Grady Swindell, Al Harris or Sam Mazurek for members of the TAD's to pick up the paper or it may be taken to 109 Aspen or 426 Star.

Smaller, odd pieces of paper should be boxed, newspapers and other large pieces tied in bundles. The drive will continue through the last week in March.

Book Is Reviewed At AAUW Lunch

Growing Up Tough by Taylor Caldwell was the book reviewed by Mrs. D.M. Garner at the recent AAUW Branch luncheon.

The autobiography gives an account of earlier American days. A discussion on the Appalachian area completed the topic study.

Nancy Richie and Mrs. Wayne Hodgson preceded the program with comments on Global Interdependence-Budgeting for Earth.

Recognized as guests among the 25 members present were Faye Guagel, Madeline Bell and Mmes. Don Davison, Jim Bookout and G.W. Owens.

Former Resident To Speak At Clubs

Clayton G. Rutter, Director of Engineering in the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, was guest speaker recently at the Rusk Chamber of Commerce's annual banquet.

He is scheduled to speak at the Jacksonville Lions Club and at the Palestine Rotary Club in the near future. He is a graduate of Hereford High School and the University of Texas.

Rutter is the son of Mrs. R.L. Ethridge of 400 Western.

Valentine Ball Is Discussed By XEA

Hosting members of Xi Epsilon Alpha chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority in her home Wednesday evening, Mrs. Archie Dwyer gave a program entitled Entertaining. Stressing forms of etiquette, Mrs. Dwyer listed proper eating habits, planning get-togethers and gourmet cooking.

During the business meeting, plans for the sorority's Valentine Ball to be held Feb. 9 at the KC Hall were dismissed. The ball with breakfast following, will be a dance for members only.

Sunday is the date scheduled for the sweetheart tea honoring Valentine queen candidates from the four Beta Sigma Phi chapters: Mrs. Clyde Russell will host the tea with members and out-of-town judges as guests.

Other business topics included the decision to continue to have a visiting Santa Clause and the participation in the March of Dimes Drive Monday.

It was announced that the state convention will be held in June in San Antonio.

Members present included Mmes. Fred Mulkey Jr., Kenny Ruland, Jim Cramer, Kenneth Wiley and Mmes. Jim Aldridge, C.D. Fitzgerald Jr. and James Horton of Dimmitt.

Tea Honors Pasty Kirby

A shower-tea honoring Pasty Kirby of Vernon, bride-elect of Steven Hoffman, was given recently in the home of Mrs. Leo Witkowski.

Mrs. Donnie Houle and Judy Bezer served punch and cake squares which were decorated with pink rosettes. A lace cloth covered the refreshment table and the centerpiece of white spider mums and pink carnations was arranged with a pair of love birds in silver candelabra holding pink tapers.

Inviting guests to the registry table was Jane Hoffman.

Hostesses serving with Mrs. Witkowski were Miss Bezer and Mmes. Andrew Kershen, Clinton Jackson, George Turrentine, Dick Gholson, Arnold Betzen, F.A. Mamell, Felix Fetsch and Ralph Sears.

ENGAGED — Miss Connie Bartels' engagement to Dennis Goheen, Texas Tech student, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bartels, 700 Ave. F. March 23 has been set as the date of the wedding in St. Anthony's Catholic Church. Both Miss Bartels and her fiance are graduates of Hereford High School and she has attended West Texas State University. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C.T. Goheen, 300 Centre, and a sophomore pre-law student at Tech.

Birdsong Demonstrates Use Of Watercolors

A demonstration in watercolor was given by John Birdsong to members of the Hereford Art Guild Tuesday evening at the Community Center.

Members voted to sponsor Birdsong when he begins teaching watercolor painting in mid-February. Afternoon and evening classes are scheduled.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Joel Newman read a short report on her trip to the Ft. Worth Fine Arts Council meeting. She is one of eight voting members to the Texas Assembly.

Members also noted that Ben Taubes will begin teaching oil painting classes in Amarillo. The spring Art Show and sell is scheduled for March 15-16.

Serving cake and punch to members present were hostesses, Mmes. Earl Holt, W.C. Hromas, Billy Gutson and Ludwig Kovacs.

Furniture Restored To Make Distinctive Home

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

IF HER TIME was counted in the value of her furniture, Mrs. Trent Downing laughs, the amount would be astronomical. Antique pieces lend their gracious beauty to the Downings' home at Easter but their cost was low, "because they were junk," she explains. "I couldn't even guess how many hours we have spent on these things, and I enjoyed every bit of the work I've done. The job of refinishing has been mine," while my husband has done the fixing. And some of the furniture was literally in pieces, had to be glued together and sometimes have new parts put in.

"When we were first married and I'd bring in something to be repaired, he would advise me to go burn that junk," she adds. "Now he is a converted antique lover, so converted that on my last birthday he bought my gift at an antique shop — that old kettle on the hearth."

THE DOWNINGS are not so bemused by the old that they read by kerosene lamps or sit on hard maple benches. Antique pieces, some with historic or personal interest, are placed regardless of period with new furniture; the kitchen is a scene of gleaming modern efficiency; chairs are chosen for comfort rather than age and accessories are useful instead of quaint.

The effect is charming, visitors to the Downing home agree, and amazing, they admit after learning how some furniture was made or restored.

For instance, a large coffee table, its top a slab of gray slate which had to be ordered from a quarry in Pennsylvania, has as its massive legs the tops of two Corinthian columns once on the porch of a house in Franklin, La., Mrs. Downing's home town.

Of 12 white wood columns which once graced the 1841 southern home, only three remained when the place was remodeled a few years ago and they were in poor condition. The owner, a friend of Mrs. Downing's family, gave them to her and she made one into the pedestal of a smaller table she gave back to the friends.

REPAIR of the two on her own table required 21 separate steps, from sandblasting to remove layers of paint to the final polish. Wood on the inside had rotted and braces had to be inserted. The decorations, carved by slave labor, had pulled off and were glued into place.

Turned upside down and fitted on new bases, the antebellum relics make a striking base for the table which holds a velvet-covered Victorian photograph album among other accessories.

The sofa behind this table, with blue velvet upholstery to set off its polished dark wood, was also given to the Downings, along with a round dining table and a buffet.

"They had been stored in a garage for years and were in very bad shape," Mrs. Downing says. "The owner didn't think they could be repaired at all; I'm afraid for her to see them now because she might want them back!"

FRIENDS and families have given the Downings some of their treasures, but most they have found, often in junk shops. Both their mothers are interested in antiques so the couple has not fallen heir to family pieces, but has been helped by maternal advice.

Mrs. Downing absorbed her knowledge of period furniture as she grew up, learning to judge a good find even when it is junk. She is the former Lana Laws, and after school in Franklin she attended Our Lady Of The Lake College at San Antonio, where she and Downing met.

She spent a year in Wisconsin before they married; the first antique article she bought was a small cabinet that she got while she was living there, and her beautiful set of Haviland china also was acquired then.

THE COUPLE came as newlyweds to the farm in Easter community, with their appliances and a bedroom suite as their total stock of furniture. Downing, whose home was in Oklahoma, had already come here to learn farming on land his grandfather bought in the 1920's.

His partner was and still is W.A. Epperson. Lana Downing says she has learned as much about farm housewifery as her husband did about raising crops and stock, with Mrs. Epperson as her teacher in such skills as canning.

Their family includes two daughters now. Laura, 9, is a fourth grade pupil in Dimmitt schools and Amy is 5, looking forward to school next year.

THEIR RANCH style house of red brick and naturally weathered redwood is about twice as large as it was at first. From a small two-bedroom cottage it was expanded five years ago with a large living-family-dining room, a guest bedroom with bath and convenient sewing room.

The former living room is the master bedroom, pleasantly spacious, and the girls have the two original bedrooms. The guest room is needed because their families frequently visit, Mrs. Downing says; just last weekend the last of 11 visitors since New Year left.

Efficiently equipped, the sewing room has some special furnishings, too. Two large wooden desks from the old postoffice at Lawton, Okla., have been attractively painted and lend their capacious drawer space for storage.

FROM a hardware store owned by Downing's grandfather at Marlow, Okla., comes a cabinet that any home seamstress would covet — it has 22 drawers! In octagonal shape, table high, it once held small nails, screws and other hardware items, now is a perfect place to keep thread and sewing equipment.

She may point to its origin as junk, but the furniture in the Downing home is restored to beauty and to sturdiness for family use. Visitors don't have to be warned not to use a chair with a broken leg, and all wood is polished to pristine shine.

FRUITS OF MUCH WORK — Furniture they have made or restored from junk is shown by Mrs. Trent Downing and younger daughter Amy at their attractive home in Easter community. One of the pedestals made from the top of an 1841 porch column is shown on the coffee table, upper left. A modern piece of turned wood makes the lamp base, one of a pair, in the same photo. First piece of antique furniture acquired by Mrs. Downing is the small walnut chest, upper right, holding an old clock and brass bells. Organ, lower left, was refinished twice before its gleaming surface pleased Mrs. Downing. Its lampstand holds a light she concocted from a graceful glass flower piece and frosted shade. Amy holds the modern clock she got for Christmas as she sits on the bed which was her mother's as a child, bought from an old hotel in Louisiana. Its posts support a wooden canopy.

Projects Profits Totaled In Club

Proceeds of La Madre Mia Study Club's holiday homes tour last month totaled $475, members learned at their meeting Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Jimmy Anderson. It will be presented to Deaf Smith General Hospital for needed equipment. The tour and a Christmas gift bazaar is an annual club project; Mrs. Bud Snyder was chairman this year.

Mrs. R.W. Eades was a guest who gave the program Thursday, reviewing the popular book, Fascinating Women. Discussing the book's list of characteristics of the ideal woman and wife, Mrs. Eades asked each member to visualize the woman she would pick as the ideal wife for her own husband.

Continuing the program theme, roll call was answered by each member naming her own ideal woman. Plans were made for a pizza supper Feb. 14 in First National Community Room, the customary Valentine party for members and their husbands. A guest, Bonnie Masten, and a new member, Mrs. Stanley Simmons, were welcomed. Other members present were Mrs. Roger Williams, Charles Watson, G.C. Merritt, Bobby Owen, Dean Herring, Dave Honea, Wayne Lady, Don Lane, Craig Smith, Richard Ward, Herschel Black, Charles Frye, James Gentry, Waldo Baxter, Lynton Alfred, Don Walser, W.E. Sparks, Don Taylor and Dick Gerles.

By The Garden Gate With Glad

GLAD'S GARDEN GATE
JANUARY... John Greenleaf Whittier described the month of January as the month of miracles transforming, the many things of nature into beauty:

What miracles of weird transforming, Is this wild work of frost and light?

We catch glimpses of glory infinite.

Man also turns the pages of time and makes new resolutions, and many make a new life by following through with New Year resolutions; aims, plans, purposes and hopes are renewed and pursued.

For the gardener it is the month in which we plan and work towards gardening for the new year. It is also a time in which we mail requests for seed catalogues and purchase new books on gardening. If you have not received some of the new books, studied about new introductions and renewed acquaintance with old garden friends, do so now.

Almost each day I receive seed catalogues and new magazines. They are beautiful and helpful to look at and to plan with. Incorporate some of the ideas suggested in them into your garden plans.

New Year's Day came in with a snowstorm. When I awakened and looked out I saw that earth was beautiful with snow. A friend came and made the day special for me, by taking me out to the airport where I caught the plane for Wichita, Kan., a trip I had long planned and looked forward to.

I was really going back home, as Spivey, Kan. was where Mr. Manjeot (Art) and I first had our own home. Many of his relatives live there; to visit them was the purpose of my trip.

As always I enjoyed the flight. One of the nice things about traveling is meeting people and making new friends.

I read some but became more interested in the flight and the swiftly passing clouds through which I could catch glimpses of the land, and the snow storm. I kept fitting words together to describe the snow. — White feathers, fluttering flakes, softly, silently, swiftly falling to nestle on earth's warm breast. My train of thinking was broken as we approached Wichita. Beautiful farm lands in their various patterns reminded me of a giant jig-saw puzzle which had been cut out and edged with heavy white lines, where the snow banked and drifted on the property lines.

The pilot made a swift and sure landing. Soon we were deplaning and rushing towards the waiting loved ones. Smiles and open arms welcomed me.

The snow continued to come down for several days, then came rain, sleet and intense freezing. However the wind did not blow, so it was pleasant to go out, to do sightseeing.

All was cheerful, warm, and cozy inside and knitting, relaxing sewing, baking, playing games, entertaining friends at luncheons, teas etc. made the days full and happy. Temperatures were forgotten.

NATURE is wonderful—the period of seasonal rest when the soft white snow covers sleeping seeds and roots in the warmth of the deep earth. It gives gardeners a rest and time to look forward to spring and new life with faith in the tomorrows when we picked up the tools of gardening and turn the soil, for the new season which will follow.

THINGS TO DO: Check

bulbs, tubers and corms. If firm, they are satisfactorily standing the storage. However if signs of rot are showing they are too moist.

Cut off minor blemishes and if too badly decayed throw away, removing them from those which are keeping well. Check sand or other preservatives often and keep down the dampness.

If any seem shriveled, place them in slightly dampened sand, check regularly and keep all in good condition. If storage area is too warm it is difficult to hold these through the winter.

Make an invoice of all garden tools. Check for repairs needed. Clean, oil and store in safe places out of reach of children. Check and mend other tools also engines.

Grease, change oil if needed; make corrections if starters are slow and sluggish. When cleaned and mended, store so they will be ready for the gardening chores which spring will bring.

Also look through leftover seeds or seeds which were collected at harvest time. It is well to keep these stored where they will be safe. If in the refrigerator place in the warmest part.

If you have bulbs for spring flowers which have not been planted, even though it is a bit late, plant them. In so doing you will probably save the bulbs and perhaps have some late blossoms.

When there is snow and ice, use fertilizer to aid in melting, and also make walking safer. Do not use salt; it is detrimental to plants and grass when ice and snow melts and the drainage runs into the lawn or flower beds and around shrubs or trees. Fertilizer will aid.

STORED carrots are good eating these cold winter days; they add flavor to soup, are good grated and made into health salad, extra delicious when made into a casserole, combined with cheese, tiny onions and English peas. Remember...do not peel, just scrub extra well, wash carefully then cook. If peeled the most nutritious part of the carrot is thrown away.

HAVING a birthday in January? If so you are a carnation child. A lovely, sweet flower, the carnation is for those born in January. Also the birthday gem is the beautiful and popular garnet.

Usually we think of the garnet as being red; that is true, but it comes in many other lovely colors, the famous Hessonite Stone of Ceylon is in shades of golden orange and cinnamon brown.

As a birthstone, the garnet stands for constancy, true friendship and fidelity, a fact which makes it an especially appropriate gift for friends or family.

The earth is truly GOOD to all mankind, precious jewels, plants, foods, oil, gas, etc. are all gifts of the winners of nature.

For the new year, ponder this: For good or ill, your conversation is your advertisement. Every time you open your mouth you let men look inside to your mind.

Nature to be commanded, must be obeyed.

Wed Couple Lives In Amarillo

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Purcell, married New Year's Eve in Amarillo, are at home at 1607 South Polk, Apt. 9, in that city. Both are students in West Texas State University at Canyon.

Mrs. Purcell is the former Rosi Rogers of Hereford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rogers, 520 Avenue I. Purcell's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Purcell of Dumas.

The couple was married in the chapel of Paramount Baptist Church in Amarillo with the Rev. C.N. Rue, pastor, officiating. The bride's sister, Mrs. Bill Bookout, was matron of honor and Pat Welch best man.

Shower Honors Linda Sorrels

A miscellaneous bridal shower honored Linda Sorrels, Feb. 16 bride-elect of David Bullock, Saturday afternoon in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas building.

Wearing a long red skirt and white blouse, Miss Sorrels welcomed guests with her mother, Mrs. J.E. Sorrels; her fiancée's mother and grandmother, Mrs. Delma Bullock and Mrs. Edna Blanton of Idalou.

The hostesses presented members of the receiving party with corsages of peppermint carnations.

Serving punch, cake, nuts and mints were Mmes. Rodger Ruland, Gail Cotten, Gerald Nunley and Miss Mary Ruth Weaver. A red satin cloth under net covered the refreshment table which was centered with peppermint carnations.

The Valentine theme was carried out at the register table at which Mrs. Tommy Brown presided.

Bullock's sister, Mrs. Gary Sikes of Lubbock was an out-of-town guest among the 75 in attendance.

Hostesses included Mmes. Carl Kleuskens, Roy Kuper, Wheeler Davis, Phillip Miller, W.W. Thomas, Gerald Nunley, Ruland, Jack Nunley, Cotten, Brown, W.J. Lueb, Harold Bass, Joe Reinauer, Hershel Burrus. Also Mmes. John E. Hill, Jack Weaver, Charlie Burk and Paul Corbett.

Tips To Save

One of the many practical ways of saving energy is to avoid waste. The marketing programs supervisor of a leading power company recommends a few simple measures that can be taken by average residential power company customers to cut energy use — and power bills.

He advises the householder, for instance, to: "Take a look around for that innocent little monster—the leaky hot water faucet. A leaking hot water faucet can waste up to 1,000 gallons of water per month. Let's assume it doesn't leak too badly and only wastes 429 gallons per month. That is equal to 107 kilowatt hours per month. If all of the 2.1 million homes in the Pacific Northwest (the location of the company in question) has just one such leaky faucet and fixed it, the savings in electric power consumption would be more than 713 million kilowatt hours."

The marketing spokesman added that additional energy savings can be accomplished by using a cold water detergent for just one out of eight wash loads per week. "Doing this," he observes, "you save another 335 kilowatt hours per year per household." Again, if every home in the Pacific Northwest saved 335 kilowatt hours with just one cold water rinse out of the average eight wash loads per week, the saving would amount to 535 million kilowatt hours annually.

And then there is the matter of poor insulation. The utility spokesman observes that: "Good insulation can save you money every day of the heating season—as much as 50 per cent of your heating bill..." With the application of this kind of commonsense, energy-waste prevention, the mountain of the energy crisis would dwindle to a mole hill in short order.

Important Message

As irreplaceable as the nation it represents, the American bald eagle is making a comeback from near extinction.

Although the bird has been protected by federal law in recent years, illegal thinning of the eagle population persisted until that species was brought dangerously close to obliteration. However, with public education efforts underway and conservation groups taking steps to protect eagle nesting and roosting areas, the eagle is not only holding his own, but his ranks should fill out in the years to come. As one expert notes, "The status of the bald eagle is far more encouraging today than at anytime in the last decade."

This incident should serve as a reminder that, like the eagle symbol of the United States, it will take more than hard times and predictions of doom to defeat us. Despite what critics may say, this nation can be counted upon to unite and surmount any difficulty to survive and spread the good news of individual opportunity, justice and liberty under law—a message that still holds promise of a life worth living to all who will heed it.

Csonka Speaking

Football is becoming more controversial as a high school and college sport, often criticized as overly brutal by editors and other impartial observers.

Now comes Larry Csonka of the Miami Dolphins with concurrence: "I think boys should be limited to flag football until they are older. Football is a man's game and you need to be secure in your life style before you accept all the problems it presents. For boys there should be less emphasis on winning and more on playing the game for fun."

Csonka adds that too many Little League football coaches mistakenly follow the much-ballyhooed style of the late Vince Lombardi, who once said winning was everything. In trying to boost Lombardi's memory, many have forgotten the truth espoused by the late Grantland Rice and most of the great sportsmen and writers before him—that winning is not necessarily the most important thing in team sport, not a goal to be achieved at any cost.

Csonka admits pro football is a dangerous game. It's only slightly less dangerous in college and sometimes on the high school level, and the tremendous overemphasis on winning among youngsters seeking an education can distort their values. Too many are seriously and permanently injured.

Ironically, as Csonka spoke, the National Collegiate Athletic Association was holding its annual meeting. Many have waited patiently for the NCAA to reform college football for years. This year, again, the brutality and overly violent aspects of the game were ignored. How many more young men will suffer permanent injury, even death, before the NCAA acts?

Urges Swift

Impeachment Decision

By BERT MILLS

IMPEACHMENT is so rare in the United States that many people misunderstand the meaning of the word. To impeach does not mean to convict but only to accuse.

Poll-takers have had difficulty in measuring public sentiment for impeachment of President Nixon because of this misunderstanding. An official can be impeached without being convicted. Indeed, this happened back in 1868, the only time an American President was impeached. Andrew Johnson was acquitted of impeachment charges by a single vote.

Article II, Section 4 of the U.S. Constitution says: "The President... shall be removed from office on impeachment for, and conviction of, treason, bribery, or other high crimes and misdemeanors." The Constitution does not define "high crimes and misdemeanors." The Constitution gives the House of Representatives "the sole power of impeachment." Articles of impeachment must be voted by a majority of the House. If so voted, the Articles are sent to the Senate, which sits as a jury to hear the charges, with the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court presiding.

A vote of two-thirds of the Senators present is necessary for conviction. It is important to note that only a majority is necessary for the House to impeach, but a two-to-one vote for the Senate to convict. In 1868, the Senate voted three times on different Articles of impeachment against Andrew Johnson and each time the vote was 35 guilty and 19 not guilty.

IT SHOULD be noted that some supporters of President Nixon favor impeachment. Their reasoning is that there is no other way to get rid of the Watergate scandal, and that the Senate would never convict the President even if the House voted to impeach him.

There may be a flaw in that reasoning because it is based in part on the belief the impeachment decision would be made quickly, during 1974. That won't necessarily happen, unless public opinion puts such pressure on Congressional leaders that they are forced to reach an impeachment decision this year.

The situation now is that the House Judiciary Committee is investigating whether to proceed with impeachment. The committee has a $1 million budget for this inquiry, and 31 lawyers working on the matter. They have already compiled a book of more than 1,000 pages of relevant material.

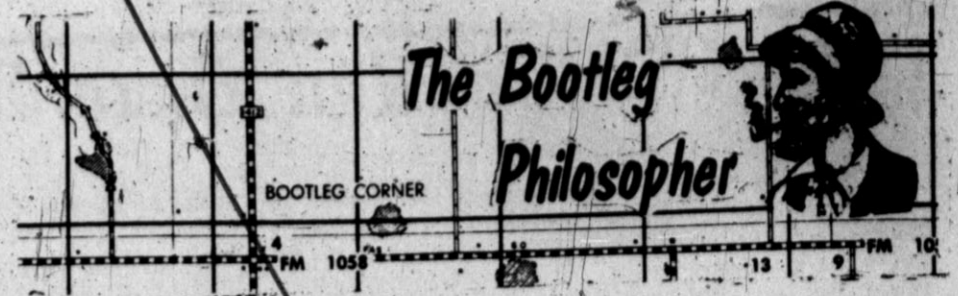

Most observers expect the House Judiciary Committee to favor impeachment. A majority are anti-Nixon liberals. The Chairman, new on the job in 1973, is Rep. Peter W. Rodino (D., N.J.). He was one of the few to oppose the nomination of Gerald Ford as Vice President.

The most active lobby pushing for Nixon's impeachment is organized labor. A conservative group, Americans for Constitutional Action, checked campaign contributions made by labor organizations in 1972 to Judiciary members. Nineteen of 21 Democrats received labor contributions totaling $191,295.95. Two of 16 Republicans received a total of $2,100.00. Chairman Rodino got by far the most from unions, $30,923.03.

CONGRESS CAN move fairly quickly when it wants to but is notorious for stalling when it suits the purposes of the leadership on Capitol Hill. Chairman Rodino has a target date of April for a committee decision on impeachment but the politics of the situation suggest that target will be missed.

The Democrats control Congress by strong majorities. If Watergate remains a live issue by election time next November, the Democrats figure to increase their Congressional majority, thus enhancing their chance of convicting Richard Nixon. Some observers even expect the impeachment issue to be kept dangling until the 1976 Presidential election.

The public should not stand for stalling. Either Nixon is guilty or innocent. He is entitled to a prompt decision. More importantly the nation is entitled to have the issue resolved without undue delay. Voters should tell their elected spokesmen to fish or cut bait, but do it this year.

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Deaf Smith grass farm on Bootleg Corner explores the energy situation this week, more or less.

Dear editor:

While it used to be, say two years ago, the world's main problem was trying to find a new source of tax revenue, everybody knows the problem now is finding a new source of energy. The Arabs may be on top now but some day when their wells run dry they may see the return of the camel and aid from Washington to buy hay.

I contend that man is going to find a new source of energy, but I contend also he's going to get caught with the same flaw present sources have. Somebody will figure out how to meter it.

SOME experts are talking about harnessing the energy of the tides, and as sure as it's accomplished some smart alec will figure out a way to run it through a meter.

Take electricity. Nobody knows for sure exactly what it is, you can't see it except when it shorts out, it travels down a wire which obviously is impossible since the wire isn't hollow, yef they've managed to run it through a meter.

You name it, water, electricity, gas, somebody has figured out how to run it through a meter.

PEOPLE are talking also about harnessing the energy from the sun, heating their homes from its rays, and as sure as you're sitting there somebody is going to figure out how to run the rays through a meter that automatically bills you before the rays hit your roof. Fail to pay your bill and they'll turn off the sun over your house.

The more I think about this, selling energy that doesn't cost anything to produce, the more I'd like to find out who's working on it and if they have any stock to sell. I'd like to get in on the ground floor.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Talk Of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY — Sam Houston made no secret of the fact that he didn't want to turn over the presidency of the Republic of Texas to his successor.

When he delivered his farewell address at Houston on December 1, 1838, he spoke for more than three hours.

Mirabeau B. Lamar, who was taking over the office, was so incensed at Houston's speech that he refused to deliver his own inaugural address. He finally consented, however, to let a secretary read it for him.

WHERE MONEY DOESN'T COUNT — Texas, which boasted at least one millionaire as long ago as 1860, historically has judged a man by his deeds rather than his wealth.

Jesse Jones, the late Houston financier who built a fortune in oil, banking, newspaper publishing and hotels, also served as Secretary of the Interior in President Franklin Roosevelt's cabinet. Once during his stint on the Washington cocktail party circuit, somebody asked him why Texas did not have a Social Register.

"Down there we know who's who without being told," he replied.

TEXAS FIRST — The New Braunfels Schuetzen Verein is the nation's oldest shooting club. Its members have been matching rifle shots each month since 1849.

The ancient sport of competitive shooting originated in Germany in the 14th Century and was brought to Texas by German settlers. Once more than 200 community shooting clubs operated in Central Texas alone.

Today the sport has all but disappeared, except for the Comal County organization and a few other scattered shooting clubs in other communities with a German heritage.

TRAVELING TEXAS — Travelers through La Grange, Fayette County, miss a real adventure if they fail to detour downtown for lunch or dinner.

The Bon Ton Restaurant there has to be one of the best small-town eateries in Texas. Specialty of the house is homemade bread with sweet cream butter and a wide variety of pies and kolaches (all homemade) for dessert. Entrees favor German cuisine, as one would expect in a community settled by immigrants from the Rhine Valley.

TEXAS BRAG? — The new Dallas-Fort Worth Airport, which will be the world's largest when it is finally completed a few years hence, also will have the most expensive telephones in the state.

To dial a local number from the more than 500 pay telephones already installed costs a quarter.

REST IN PEACE — Col. George W. Brackenridge, probably the greatest philanthropist Texas ever produced, directed that he be buried in a plot so inaccessible that it can be reached only by cutting away underbrush and then climbing a ladder.

Brackenridge, who was a bachelor, and his spinster sister, Mary Eleanor, are buried in a family cemetery near Edna, Jackson County. The graveyard is surrounded by a high rock wall which has no gate. And because neither wished to impose the burden of maintaining the burial plots on anyone, they directed that the grounds be allowed to revert to their natural state.

Marking the graves, however, is a huge monument chiseled from one of the largest blocks of granite ever quarried in Texas.

Both Brackenridge and his sister gave away millions of dollars during their lifetimes. Primary beneficiaries were the University of Texas at Austin and the city of San Antonio. Brackenridge Park, in the latter city, is one of the most beautiful, best equipped facilities of its kind anywhere.

YOU MAY WANT TO KNOW — That radio station KMIL in Cameron, Milam County, regularly broadcasts live Czechoslovakian music each Sunday afternoon when it presents the Vrazel Polka Band.

DOWN MEMORY LANE — The closing last summer of the old Majestic Theater in Dallas caused a nostalgic stir among many Texans who remembered the old place when going to a motion picture was a cultural experience.

The Majestic, opened on April 11, 1921, by Texas theater magnate Karl Hohlitzelle, boasted a lobby with a marble fountain surrounded by carved cherubs and mountains of fresh flowers that were changed daily. In the 2,400-seat theater, stars twinkled in the ceiling and hidden etched glass lenses created the effect of clouds floating across the night sky.

State columns were gilded with real gold leaf and the theater floor was imported Italian marble. Music was furnished by one of the largest pipe organs in the state.

The Majestic was a family theater. In the basement was a nursery with a real merry-go-round, a Mother Goose slide and a Sandman's Land where tired tots could sleep away their stay in individual cribs. Parents filled out a card giving their seat location so the registered nurse on duty could have an usher summon them if needed.

When the last movie played the Majestic before its closing, even the title was prophetic. It was a James Bond story called "Live and Let Die."

Farmcast

Compiled From Sources Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

No Shortage Of Food, Fiber... Commercial Vegetables... Not As Much, But Still Sweet... More Lamb Chops On The Way.

The 1973 Texas crop summary shows that Texas agriculture producers did what they love to do—the most—produce, produce, produce. Production in Texas during 1973 exceeded production levels of 1972 for most major crops. Substantial increases in production occurred for cotton, corn, wheat, grain sorghum, soybeans, hay, oats, barley, sugarcane and Irish potatoes. Only rice, flaxseed, peanuts, sugarbets and sweet potatoes failed to reach 1972 production levels.

Record yields were recorded for cotton, corn, grain sorghum, wheat, oats, hay, and Irish potatoes.

Cotton production in Texas during 1973 is now estimated by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service at 4,650,000 bales. This would be the largest upland cotton crop produced in Texas since 1961.

Yield is expected to average 429 pounds of lint per acre compared with 408 pounds in 1972. Harvested acres are set at 5,200,000 acres.

Production of American-Pima cotton in the state is expected to be lower in 1973 than in 1972, however. Production is set at 26,000 bales in 1973 compared with 31,400 bales in 1972.

Grain sorghum production in Texas during 1973 totaled almost 100,000,000 more bushels in 1973 than in 1972. Yield at 60 bushels per acre is also a record yield.

Corn production in Texas for 1973 is more than 20,000,000 bushels above 1972.

Yield averaged a record 95 bushels per acre. This is the largest corn crop in Texas since 1943.

Wheat production in the state is better than twice the 1972 production. Wheat estimate for 1973 is 98,600,000 bushels. It is the largest production of wheat since 1947. Yield average at 29 bushels per acre is also a new record.

VALUE of commercial vegetable production in Texas during 1973 is almost 50 per cent above 1972.

Texas nationally ranks first in the nation in harvested acreage for cabbage, spinach and watermelons. It ranks second in harvested acreage of carrots, onions, cantaloupes, honeydews and cucumbers.

Texas ranks third in the nation in harvest acreage, production, and value of fresh market vegetables.

A 15 PER CENT increase in numbers of sheep and lambs on feed in Texas as of January 1 is reported by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. The 15 per cent increase is compared to that of a year ago.

Compared with November of 1973 it is much more dramatic. The Jan. 1 numbers of sheep and lambs on feed in the state is up 87 per cent from November of 1973.

Use Manure During Fertilizer Deficit

Commercial fertilizer may be in short supply in the coming months, but there's another source of fertilizer that could help relieve that shortage—manure.

"Manure is more cumbersome to handle and its nutrient content varies, but it can get the job done if the situation warrants," believes Dr. John Sweeten, agricultural engineer specializing in waste management for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Manure contains essential plant nutrients such as nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium, iron and zinc and is also valuable in improving the physical properties of some soils, points out the Texas A&M University System specialist. Consequently, manure use is increasing in such areas as the High Plains where large feedlots have an abundance of the material.

"Most feedlots are now selling all the manure they have and are at least covering the cost of handling it," points out Sweeten. "That's a switch from a few years ago when manure disposal was a real problem."

Most feedlot manure is being delivered for about $1-$1.50 per ton plus five cents per ton mile. This covers the cost to the feedlot for pen cleaning, stockpiling, transportation and field spreading. Farmers in sandy areas may be paying higher prices since manure can give maximum improving to soil structure.

Sweeten believes that attempts to place a dollar value upon manure based on its nutrient content are sometimes misleading. Rather, it is better to look at increases in crop or forage production that can be obtained.

Some county Extension agents are cooperating with farmers in conducting demonstrations to determine the true benefit of manure on various crops and soils.

The engineer cites three studies in the Panhandle where corn silage and grain sorghum yield increases from manure were practically nil to as high as 125 per cent compared to plots receiving no fertilizer.

"Physical properties of manure should receive as much attention as nutrient content," points out the engineer. "Manure that undergoes composting in piles may be more desirable than freshly-scraped manure because it spreads more evenly and contains fewer viable weed seeds."

The moisture content can also have a profound influence on the value of manure. For instance, feedlot manure can contain 20 times more nitrogen per pound of material than liquid dairy manure diluted with cleaning water.

What is a generally recommended application rate for most cropland?

Sweeten contends that about 10 tons of feedlot manure can be applied per acre for most cropping situations without problems of soil salinity, forage nitrate accumulations, or water pollution. However, since only about half of the nitrogen in manure will be available to plants the first year, applications can be cut to five tons per acre in succeeding years without decreasing the total available nutrients.

"The best guide to application rates is to match fertilizer requirements for the particular crop and soil with an analysis of the manure, taking into account the limited availability of nutrients the first year," advises Sweeten, County Extension agents can assist with determining fertilizer requirements.

"Manure is a valuable commodity that has not been used efficiently in agricultural production in recent years. With the current energy crisis affecting commercial fertilizer production, manure use may come back into its own," believes the engineer.

Current Food Shortage Windfall For Plains

"We are all concerned with fuel and energy shortages, but this business of food shortages—another form of energy—has been with us always during periods of crop failure and famines," says Dr. Wayne G. McCully.

McCully believes that the Rolling Plains area has a vast potential for producing more of these vital food crops needed at home and abroad.

Miller said McCully is one of the nation's leading researchers in vegetation management and range science.

McCully, is accepting the appointment, said that Texas agriculture faces its sharpest challenge in the years just ahead. "Farmers and ranchers point to the continuing squeeze between production costs and income, while the urban housewife is concerned about rising food costs at the market," he said.

"To meet these challenges in the Rolling Plains, we will continue to utilize the expertise of the present research staff and add other scientists with specialties that fill important links in the overall production chain," McCully said.

Major research concerns in the Rolling Plains area include rangeland improvement, increased livestock efficiency and maximum crop production.

In coordinating research responsibilities in the Rolling Plains agricultural complex, McCully will be assisted by Dr. James Milkey, noted soils scientist, who has served as acting director at the Center since its dedication in September, 1972.

McCully, a Missouri native, has been professor in vegetation management in Texas A&M University's Range Science Department since 1968 and was acting head for one year. He also has headed the vegetation management department for Texas Transportation Institute since 1962. He holds a B.S. degree in range management from Colorado State University and M.S. and Ph.D. degrees in range management and plant physiology, respectively, from Texas A&M.

He has been awarded several grants and has conducted research on improved planting materials for range seeding for the Experiment Station, as well as research on control of undesirable woody plants or brush on Texas rangeland. His major professional interests besides range science have included general agriculture, ecology, plant physiology, herbicides and forages.

McCully organized and has served as chairman for the annual Industrial Weed Control Conference held at Texas A&M University for the past eight years. He was on the university's Committee for the Self-Study Project and is currently chairman of the Committee for Rangeland Roadside for the Society of Range Management.

He is active in a number of scientific societies, including the American Society of Plant Physiologists, American Institute of Biological Sciences, Weed Society of America and Society of Range Management.

McCully has written about 40 technical and professional journal papers and publications and has contributed materials for several books.

Angus Herds Judged At Fat Stock Show

Angus herds from 21 states and one foreign country have entered 240-head of breeding cattle in the $20,000 National Centennial Angus Show scheduled for Fort Worth, Texas Jan. 26-29 reports Lloyd D. Miller, executive secretary of the American Angus Association.

The show, one of the 1st in 1974, is being held in conjunction with the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show and is the first national show sponsored by the Association in recent years.

Classes for the 122 females and 118 bulls will be judged under the Angus Futurity System in which the break for each class is made prior to the show.

No class will have more than 15 head and animals in each class will be close to each other in age. First prize in each class is $175, and the remainder of the prize money will be allocated according to entry numbers. The show will be judged under the standard American Angus Association three-man system.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to take this opportunity to express our sincere appreciation to the staff of the Westgate Unit of Kings Manor and to the doctors and nurses at Deaf Smith General Hospital for their efforts to comfort and sustain the life of Sarah Della Walser. To those who gave us their support in the form of flowers, cards and food goes a special thanks. Words cannot truly express our appreciation to those who gave us their support in prayer, word, thought and deed. May God bless each and everyone of you for your expression of love.

3. Luke 21:16 and Matthew 10:21.
4. On the Mount of Olives.
FRANKFURT-NOODLE CASSEROLE
1 pound Eckrich Fun Franks, sliced
1 cup medium noodles, cooked
1 medium onion, chopped
3 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup dairy sour cream
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup cottage cheese
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup cornflake crumbs
Pepper to taste
Cook noodles according to package directions and drain. Sauté onion in one tablespoon melted butter; combine with Fun Franks, slices (reserving a few for the top), noodles, eggs, sour cream, cottage cheese, salt and pepper. Pour into a 9-inch pie plate. Mix remaining butter with cornflake crumbs and sprinkle over top of casserole. Bake at 350° for 30 minutes. Arrange reserved Fun Franks slices on top and continue baking for 5 minutes. Let pie "set" for 10 minutes, cut and serve. Serves 6.

Frio Baptist Women met Wednesday morning for mission study followed by a covered dish luncheon and concluded with a Bible study and business meeting. Mrs. Frank Robbins is president of the women's group and Mrs. Floyd Cole chairman of the auxiliary.

Mrs. Sam Ogan is program director of the society's mission study. The group plans for a meeting each first Wednesday patterned after the one last Wednesday, a change from weekly meetings of the past several months.

Frio Homemakers Club met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Tony Urbanczyk. The program was a discussion of arthritis given by Argen Draper, County Extension Agent. A question and answer period and discussion brought out points for thought.

A visitor, Mrs. Eldon Fortenberry, attended. Others included Mmes. Weldon Stephan, Annie Springer, T.L. Sparkman, Jr., Eugene Baldwin, Frank Robbins, E.F. Vogler, Sam Ogan, Carlton Dobbins, Owen Andrews, Henry Andrews, Laura Littrell, Harlan Barber, Lloyd Shultz, and Miss Alma Andrews.

Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Warrick visited the Velman-Warricks at Wellington Sunday night and with her brother at Wichita Falls Monday night. Then on Tuesday they were in Ardmore, Okla. for J.E. to keep an appointment at an arthritis clinic. They visited Mrs. Warrick's mother and sister, and returned home Thursday.

Visiting the T.L. Sparkman Jr. home Thursday and Friday were two young Canadian men, friends of the family from former visiting between the two families.

The men, Russell Bott of Eckville, Alberta, and Mark Herron of Bredenburg, Saskatchewan, are touring the U.S. by bus, having already been in California and are on their way as far as Florida.

They were very interested in the livestock sale in progress and commented on the flatness and treelessness of this area.

Ordinary candles are usually a mixture of paraffin (60%), stearic acid (35%) and beeswax (5%).

Mrs. C.R. Caperton, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Messer have returned after attending the funeral of Archie Lynn Burrell at Erick, Okla. He was the brother of Mrs. Caperton and the uncle of Mrs. Messer.

Mr. Burrell, a longtime resident of Erick and a retired railroad employe, died in Sayre, Okla., hospital Jan. 14. The service in an Erick funeral chapel was conducted Jan. 16 by the Rev. Walter Knox.

He is also survived by a brother, I.L. Burrell of Odessa.

HAVE YOU ever felt like you were in the center of a funnel cloud—dearly quiet and still—while all around you things are happening—action on all sides? Quite often a person who is not involved with Chamber activities feels that way.

Present—yes, but active—no! We all have a basic need to accomplish things; we have a need for the recognition and respect that comes from working for the well-being of our neighbor. It's immaterial whether that recognition stems from inside us or the respect is self-generated. The need is there!

Your Chamber of Commerce can help satisfy that need. There is a place for everyone in the Chamber—a job to be done—a goal to be reached—a service to be performed.

And all for the betterment of our community—for each other—for you and I.

There are 16 separate activities which are working for us. Two of these are the Special Action Councils and 14 are mission oriented committees. You can choose your own area of interest. If you know of something in our community that needs improvement—don't just gripe about it—join the Mark your calendar now for the next visit of the Blood Mobile—every fourth Wednesday—Feb. 27. And speaking of calendars—we go to press with our February Calendar on Tuesday, so if you want notice of your activity distributed to all other organizations, please call in your February dates by 5 p.m. Monday.

ONE LAST NOTE: "Our future is our youth"—We have a tremendous future based on the activities of the young people I observed these last few days at the Bull Barn. I just wish that everyone could have visited the Junior Livestock Show. It really does a lot for the maintaining a confidence level in our future citizens. Congratulations to the FFA, the 4-H Clubs and the adults who work with these youngsters. AC Dean's List

Amarillo College students making the Dean's Honor List for the fall semester, 1973, number 122 from recent figures released by Registrar J. Fred Balderston.

Twenty students compiled a perfect grade point average (gpa) of 4.0.

Debra A. Whitson of Hereford compiled a 3.8 gpa in the police science technology program. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Whitson of Hereford.

"In order to be eligible for the Dean's Honor List," said Balderston, "a student must be carrying 15 hours or more in semester-hour subjects and maintain a 3.4 gpa."

The age of man has little relation to his intelligence.

Home Demonstration Agent

WESTWAY Home Demonstration Club has completed plans for making houseshoes. They say, "Come join us and make houseshoes for the folks at the state hospital." It will be at the Flame Room Jan. 29, beginning at 1 p.m.

If you have scraps of double knit, please bring them. Also, scissors will be needed and a few portable machines. The social worker at the state hospital said "any number" of houseshoes can be used.

We're excited about this as it is a very worthwhile community service. We'll see you Tuesday, 1 p.m. at the Flame Room.

HOME Demonstration Council meets Monday, Jan. 28, in the County Courtroom.

RUTH GANDY, Juanita Hershey and I attended training meeting in Panhandle Thursday. This is training on the district work of the Texas Home Demonstration Association. In my opinion, one of the best works of the association is the scholarships given to home economics students.

SOME new babies to come to club: Stan Sifford, son of Wayne and Glenda Sifford is ready to come to club when the weather is warmer. Also, there are twins in the Messenger Club. Eddie and Carrie Riley stayed home last meeting when mama, Mrs. Ernest Riley and big sister, Lori, came to club.

Lori was one of the happiest children we've ever seen when telling about the twins. She thinks it is simply great, having a sister and a brother.

PRIZE-WINNING CHILI RECIPE

- 2 lbs. ground beef
  - 6 onions (chopped)
  - 2 T. shortening
  - Salt to taste
  - 1 large can chili or red beans
  - 1 No. 2 can tomatoes
  - 5 T. chili powder
  - 2 c. water
- Melt shortening in large frying pan and brown onions lightly for five minutes, stirring occasionally. Add hamburger to onions and cook with a lid on until done.
- Place this mixture in a large saucepan, add 2 c. water and

The Rev. Roger B. Knapp, minister at the First Presbyterian Church here, commences studies tomorrow on a two year Doctor of Ministry degree designed by the McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago, Ill. to address the need for revitalization within the local church. All of the studies in the Doctor of Ministry program are tied to parish revitalization and the active practice of the ministry. This includes the wide range of competencies that pastors and laity need to develop: worship, preaching, counseling, teaching, and management skills.

Hereford Youth Gets $500

Richard L. Waters, 13, of Hereford is the winner of the grand award and $500 in the Texas Safety Association-Texas Classroom Teachers Association Railroad-Highway Grade Crossing Safety Contest, it was announced today.

The essay entry written by Waters was judged the best entry among the categories of essay, poetry and poster by representatives of the TSA Railroad Transportation Section. Waters is an eighth grade student at Stanton Junior High School in Hereford.

Tom Norvell, TSA Railroad Transportation Section Vice President, explained that thousands of entries from eighth, ninth and tenth grade students across the state were first judged by local Texas Classroom Teachers Associations. Some 300 local entries were then judged in Austin, he said.

In addition to the grand award winner, three winners were chosen in each category of the contest, with first place winners receiving $250; second place, $100, and third place, $50.

Kenneth Varner, also of Hereford received an honorable mention in the poetry division.

Doc Elliot (series star James Franciscus) studies his sedated patient, miner Dean Henderson (played by country and western music star Merle Haggard), whose arm he was forced to amputate to extricate him from tons of debris after a mine cave-in in "The Gold Mine," on the ABC Television Network's "Doc Elliot," Wednesday, Jan. 30 (9:00-10:00 p.m.).

ON THE MENU WNBC (New York) radio personality Don Imus appears as himself on NBC Television Network's daytime drama series "The Doctors," Jan. 30 and 31 and Feb. 1 (in color, 1:30-2:00 p.m.). Imus, as a ski accident victim with a broken leg, tries to convince nurse and ex-singer Lauri James (Marie Thomas) to resume her show business career.

'In Search of Ancient Mysteries'

The possibility that ancient astronauts from outer space not only visited but colonized the earth will be explored in "In Search of Ancient Mysteries," to be collocated on the NBC Television Network Thursday, Jan. 31 (7:00-8:00 p.m.).

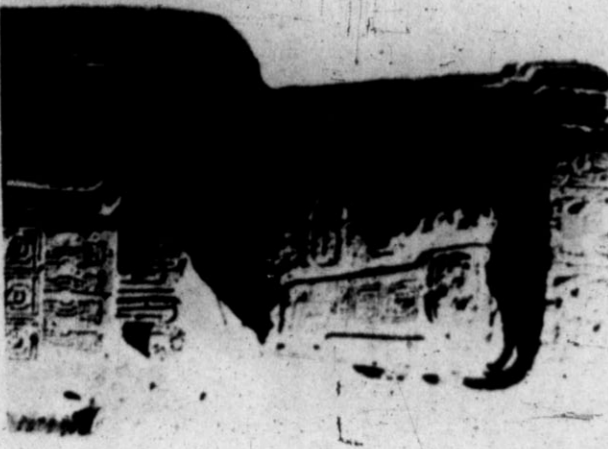

This program follows the highly acclaimed "In Search of Ancient Astronauts," one of the most talked about television specials of the past season, which was originally collocated last January, and repeated again in September.

An Alan Landburg Production, "In Search of Ancient Astronauts" was based on the book "Chariots of the Gods?" the international best-seller written by Erich von Däniken, who advanced the theory that space travelers visited earth ages ago and profoundly altered the life of primitive man.

Alan Landburg Productions also produced "In Search of Ancient Mysteries," which is based on Landburg's book of the same title. The NBC-TV special presents the theory that ancient astronauts from outer space not only visited but colonized the earth. Evidence and artifacts of their presence are put forward.

The special includes interviews with various scientists, including Dr. Sidney Fox, Institute of Molecular Evolution at the University of Miami; Dr. Padmakar Sivaramamurti, Director of the National Museum of India; Joseph Blumrich, aerospace engineer at Marshall's Space Flight Center, NASA; and others.

The special focuses on such places and things as Lake Titicaca in the Peruvian Andes, the ruins of Tiahuanaco and the Gate of the Sun with its mysterious sun god, the Bermuda Triangle, English hillside carvings, and the primitive

This carving of a god is one of the artifacts cited in the NBC Special "In Search of Ancient Mysteries."
