Good Rains Visit Our Section State

One of the Heaviest Rains of Year Visits Greater Portion of County Will Be of Great Benefit

What was hailed as one of the best rains of the year covered the greater portion of our county last Friday, Saturday and Sunday. From one-half to five inches of rain are reported, but the general average was around two and one-half inches; this being the amount the government gauge registered at the experiment station here.

While this rain is going to be worth much to the feed crop and young cotton, there was quite a bit of damage due to a destructive hail storm in the Knott and Coahoma sections. It is stated that Lester Fisher had 600 acres of fine cotton badly damaged by hail, some of the cotton literally stripped by the hail stones.

Others in that vicinity who suffered loss by hail were D. M. Senter, J. B. Walker, L. M. McCormick and R. A. Brown. In the Coahoma section some 600 or 700 acres of cotton were damaged by hail. The heaviest losses in that section were B. T. Birkhead, Norman Read, Ellis Lay and Melvin Waters. In the Highway section the hail beat the leaves off the cotton but did not seriously damage the stalk and fruitage thereon.

Cotton on farms of I. N. McNew, H. P. Long and M. L. Musgrove in the Center Point section also suffered damage from hail.

Aside from the sections where the serious hail damage was in evidence, crops have shown a wonderful improvement since the rain. And if the insect pests can be controlled the outlook for a fair crop is good.

A strip almost entirely across the southern part of the county failed to get any of the rain. In fact this same territory has gone the entire year with only very light showers, and in consequence crops and pasturage are just about missing entirely.

While a little cotton is now coming in it will be about the last of the month before the gins are kept going at full capacity.

Luncheon Club Has Big Meeting

A Number of Good Speakers Present A Peppy Meeting Was in Order and a Real Feast Enjoyed

The word must have been getting about that the ladies of the three Circles of the Methodist Church have been serving extra fine feeds here of late for more than forty were present at this week's meeting and a number of fine talks were enjoyed.

E. A. Kelley, vice president, announced that J. F. Wolcott was the director general on this occasion and anyone desiring an opportunity to make a speech would have to bribe Mr. Wolcott.

District Judge Fritz Smith of Snyder was first called upon by Mr. Wolcott and given permission to discuss any topic he desired. Judge Smith said he was tempted to talk about Latin Flat since it took him four hours to drive thru from Westbrook to Big Spring last Sunday afternoon but would talk about a worse sore spot in America.

He said the Sacco and Vanzetti case was an attendant demonstration should arouse Americans to the seriousness of the situation. He said it was estimated that 100,000,000 people in America took part in the protest meetings, parades or criticized America because these two men were executed after being fairly tried and found guilty of a cold blooded murder. It is astounding that this vast number of people would side with the anarchists, and there was danger ahead if our country permitted the growth undecked of this un-American spirit.

He said it was a pity this ten million could not be turned to donating a day's service to the good of mankind instead of trying to destroy the nation which offered them a refuge. He said it was a problem of the church, the school and every good citizen to fight this growing spirit of anarchy.

Rev. D. H. Heard was next called on and he seconded every statement made by Judge Smith and added that people must realize the situation. He said the fight could best be started by every citizen faithfully obeying the laws and aiding in their enforcement.

J. M. Manuel said he wanted to back up the statements of Rev. Heard and urge our citizenship to set an example for the young people. Mr. Manuel made the announcement that acting under instructions of the Regional Y. M. C. A. secretary and at the request of J. A. Somerville, assistant general manager of the Texas & Pacific Railway the Y. M. C. A. at Big Spring would be closed next Saturday.

Mr. Manuel stated that some plan might be formulated to keep the "Y" going but that he would sever his connections on next Saturday. He stated that he had accepted another position, and he expected to continue to make his home in Big Spring.

Shine Phillips, Walter Barrett of Los Angeles, S. H. Parsons of Omaha, Nebr., Mr. Robbins of the Texas Power and Light Co. made short talks in which Big Spring was handed many compliments for its wide streets, its splendid improvements, its steady growth and the spirit of optimism which is encountered on every hand.

Mr. Humberger, superintendent of construction on the new Crawford Hotel, when asked the question as to when the hotel would be completed, stated that they hoped to turn it over to Mr. Crawford by the time the Hardware convention was to be held in Big Spring on October 15. He also stated that Trost and Trost, architects of El Paso were opening a temporary office in Big Spring and might maintain same permanently if business justified.

City Manager Montin when asked about the paving program stated that it was quite likely the contract for additional paving would be awarded in October. He stated it was practically decided to have the paving the same as in the downtown section. A discussion as to the width, etc., of paving was started, but not carried far as time would not permit. Going back to the Y. M. C. A. problem a motion prevailed that Vice President Kelley appoint a

ADDITIONAL EQUIPMENT IN LOCAL TELEPHONE OFFICE

Highway Meeting Here September 14

An Important Meeting to Consider Paving of State Highway No. 9 thru Texas to be Held Wed.

Judge Matthews of San Angelo has called a meeting of delegates from counties along State Highway No. 9 to be held in Big Spring, Wednesday, Sept. 14. This meeting is for the purpose of formulating plans to have State Highway paved from Amarillo to Corpus Christi.

At meetings recently held at Egan and Tahoka the proposition of paving this highway was given a big impetus and a campaign of education is to be carried out in every county along this important highway.

State Highway No. 9 is one of the most important highways of Texas and if it could be paved from Corpus Christi to Amarillo it would get five times as much traffic as at present.

Many delegates are expected to attend this meeting. The visitors will be guests of the Wednesday Luncheon Club at the noon hour.

COTTON RECEIPTS 300 BALES

About 300 bales of cotton have been weighed in this city by Public Weigher J. W. Carpenter. A number of round bales ginned in this city are not included in the receipts listed above.

Mr. Kelley said it would not be fitting for the members of the club to adjourn without recognizing the wonderful service J. M. Manuel had rendered our city and citizens during the five years he had so loyally and efficiently fulfilled the position as secretary of the Y. M. C. A. On motion and passed by a rising vote, the love of the entire citizenship and the good will was pledged Mr. Manuel. The fact that he was to continue to make his home in Big Spring was good news indeed to everyone present.

Another Modern Hotel Assured

The Douglass Hotel a Modern 100-room Structure is Assured, Work Started on Same This Week

Big Spring is assured another fine hotel. The Douglass Hotel which is to be erected on the site of the old Hotel Cole is to be a modern hotel of fire-proof construction and equipped with steam heat and every modern convenience.

It will front 140 feet along the Bankhead Highway and extend 100 feet along Rannels street. A foundation for a five story building will be built. For the present only one unit of the building will be erected in order that the hotel may be opened within the next ninety days, if possible. The first unit will be a two-story structure containing nine store buildings, lobby, dining room and coffee shop on the ground floor, and fifty guest rooms on the second floor. A little later fifty more rooms will be added, and the building continued on up to five stories if the growth of Big Spring justifies this addition.

Aside from some of the rock in the walls of the old Cole which may be used in the extra heavy foundation and partitions none of the material in the old building will be used in the new structure. A handsome face brick of brown and tan will be used, and will give the building a most attractive appearance.

Blount and Miller, general contractors of San Antonio, have been awarded the general contract on this structure. A. P. Kaach of this city was awarded the contract for the plumbing and heating and an Abilene firm was awarded the electrical contract. Campbell and Nichols are architects for this fine structure.

The work of razing the walls of the old Hotel Cole was started Tuesday. Work will be rushed to complete the new hotel within ninety days.

The citizens of Big Spring and Mr. Douglass' many friends among the traveling public will be delighted to learn that work has been started on the hotel. The Douglass Hotel is going to be a credit to a city many times the size of Big Spring and it will be an asset to our city.

Johnny, a Cat, and Cupid

By DOROTHY DOUGLAS

(Copyright.)

JOHN RAYMOND listened to the most blood-curdling sharpening of a knife that he had ever heard. Was there to be a tremendous slaughtering in the flat next door or was it merely that some one was about to carve something?

Certainly whoever was sharpening that knife intended to get a keen edge on it and no mistake.

No wonder the gorgeous blue Persian cat, who occupied a sunny portion of the fence dividing the garden one flight below, bounded frantically up the fire escape to see what it was all about.

John Raymond would like to have known, too, as his curiosity was aroused. Every morning, since the windows had been opened to welcome the new spring, he had listened to that knife-sharpening process and tried to picture what breakfast dainties could possibly necessitate so keen a knife.

And each morning as the lovely cat heard it, he dashed like a streak of silver lightning into the open window.

Raymond had used every cat call in his vocabulary to lure the hand some pet into his own flat, but Johnny, as he had heard the cat called, simply stared at him with those wonderful topaz eyes and kept his distance.

And the more aloof Johnny kept himself, the more eager was Raymond to induce him inside. Raymond was not only a cat lover but he pateted animals in so successful a manner as to have a considerable fame to his credit as an artist.

Then, like a flash the truth dawned on Raymond.

The sharpening of the knife was some secret code between cat and master or mistress, whichever the case might be. No doubt Johnny knew that a bit of meat was to be cut for him when that sound reached his ears, and he lost no time in demanding it.

Consequently, next day, when Raymond felt that the flat next door was empty of its human inhabitants, he got out his own carving knife and a tempting bit of fresh liver and sharpened away with all his might.

A flash, and Johnny had whirled himself into Raymond's open window. There was no more aloofness. Johnny was purring and rubbing most affectionately against Raymond's legs and gazing up with his great topaz eyes. In fact, Johnny put his two silky paws on the edge of Raymond's breakfast table and left two smutty paw marks thereon.

That was the beginning of a new friendship. Johnny, being left for several hours a day all by himself, he made himself comfortable in Raymond's sunny flat.

And Raymond set to work on a painting that was later to dazzle the eyes of the animal lover's world. Raymond had wisely left a bit of Chinese blue velvet carelessly on the sunny window ledge, knowing full well that Johnny would easily ensconce himself thereon.

And the painting progressed wonderfully until one evening toward sunset when Raymond had closed the window with Johnny on the inside.

Suddenly into his artist's dream burst the sound of a frantic feminine voice.

"Kitty, kitty, KITTY! Come Johnny—COME JOHNNY!" and later the loud sharpening of a knife.

Raymond jumped to his feet and opened the window, but as a matter of fact Johnny never moved—he was well fed and most cozy on his Chinese blue velvet cushion.

"Are you calling a blue Persian cat?" asked Raymond with a guilty look on his face, "because if you are he's in here with me."

"Well, I like that! Enticing my beautiful cat into your flat and locking him in. I think I will report you to—"

"My dear young lady," expostulated Raymond while he definitely admired the speaker—or at least the little glimpse he had of her, "I merely wanted to make a portrait of your cat—he's the most beautiful animal I've ever seen."

"Oh!" exclaimed Miss Jarvis, hanging so far out of the window now that Raymond was fearful of her toppling out, "could I just have a peep at it?"

Raymond beamed and Miss Jarvis discovered what she had felt for a long time, unbeknown to Raymond, that she should like her masculine neighbor—she had often watched him going in and out of the flat but he seemed always so preoccupied that she had despaired of ever knowing him.

"Only upon the condition that you refrain from reporting me to the police as a cat thief—I haven't any desire to figure in the papers."

Johnny in the meantime had arisen from his velvet cushion, stretched himself and yawned comfortably. His sitting for the day seemed to be over and he approached Miss Jarvis.

She took him fondly in her arms and he rubbed his soft head against her hands in perfectly happy cat love. He purred and was perhaps telling her all about the portrait.

"And when am I to see Johnny's picture?" asked Miss Jarvis.

"I'll bring it round to your flat door—if I may—right away, if you'll let me," said Raymond, and while the silvery Johnny and his golden mistress disappeared from the window, Cupid got out his bow and arrow.

Shine Phillips in his talk at the Luncheon Club Wednesday stated that every clerk in every business house in Big Spring should be schooled to tell every tourist or visitor that business was good and ours was the best store in the best city in the best state in the union. If everyone will talk this we will soon believe it ourselves. He said any man or any firm which makes a practice of crying hard times should be knocked in the head. He said he thought twice as much of Big Spring since his visit to points in West Texas and New Mexico.

WORMS IN THE COTTON

R. G. Cook was in from his farm north of town last Friday and stated that there are plenty of worms in the cotton just now and all of them are at work destroying the plants and bolls. Most of the farmers are spraying the cotton and trying to save it from these pests—but it is some job.

A big, bonded warehouse to store cotton seed would be worth its weight in gold...almost. Some fine cotton seed, suitable for planting, is going to be raised in Howard County this fall, and these seed would bring a premium if they could be saved until planting time next year.

You can see the hand writing on the wall...Big Spring is going on a cash basis. The competition of cash stores is going to force many business houses to discontinue the credit system and adopt a strictly cash basis. Since this means lower prices it will be better for firm and patron.

Many citizens have noted the manner in which the builders of the new Crawford Hotel have kept the streets in the vicinity of the hotel from being blockaded and complemented them for this thoughtfulness. All rubbish is cleaned up and hauled away promptly, and this certainly does help. Many have remarked that it is wonderful the way they keep things so neat and tidy around this big building project.

DOVE SEASON NOW ON

The annual season during which doves may be killed opened Thursday, Sept. 1, continuing until November 1.

Under the Texas game laws fifteen doves in one day is the maximum allowed to one hunter. Game wardens are preparing to strictly enforce the law. Remember, too, you need a hunting license.

Every day we find that you can not believe everything you hear. Salesmen eager to make a sale, will oftentimes misrepresent their wares. You had better be careful about signing sales orders unless you know the salesman and know his is a reliable firm.

Light Showing in Sterling

Another well in southeastern Sterling County on the ranch of L. T. Clark & Son has obtained a shallow oil showing.

J. P. Williams' No. 3 Clark, topping a pay at 1050 feet and drilling to 1065, in blue shale, balled a half barrel of oil in nine hours. It is 1600 feet north and west of Williams' No. 2 Clark, which had a slightly better showing at about the same depth.

No. 3 Clark is 1583 feet from the north line and 2000 feet from the west line of section 7, block A, G. C. & S. F. Ry. Co. survey. It is only about a half mile west of the Tom Green County line.

The Marland is giving the southern end of Howard County a thorough test. The success of the Texon-Marland Settles No. 2, just over the line in Glasscock County, apparently has encouraged this company to test out the whole area north of the Settles.—San Angelo Standard.

More Oil Companies Seek Acreage

Several large oil corporations are now seeking drilling blocks in Howard County. The Texas and Pacific Coal & Oil Co. and the Redbank Oil Co. are mentioned as among the companies that now seek to do development in this county.

"Third notice." Every editor has received them. The postmaster sends them to the editor. The postmaster is not to blame. For instance, there is a man by the name of... well, say Tim Short—who sent three notices to stop his paper. He did not want it any longer; we wondered what was the matter. Upon investigating our subscription list we found that Tim was short $5.70. He had never paid a cent and yet he stopped his paper as a matter of economy—to us. A few evenings ago we stopped in a church and Tim's melodious voice rang out clear in the song, "Jesus Paid It All." We may have been mistaken, but his earnestness impressed us. The next day we sent him a receipt in full, begging his pardon for not knowing that he had made an assignment of his liabilities unto the Lord.—Altoona (Kan.) Tribune.

The driver of an automobile truck came near causing a costly fire last Saturday morning when he carelessly struck a match near the truck when gasoline was being put in the tank of the car at the Slaughter filling station on Main street. The gas ignited, and as the employe jerked the hose from the reservoir the gasoline became ignited. The truck was pushed away from the blazing gasoline and the flames extinguished before the fire department services were required. One of the men at the station was slightly burned.

MATSUDA, PEERLESS JAP, TO WRESTLE TWO CHAMPIONS

Promoter Clyde Miller has certainly stepped on the gas when he arranged his wrestling card for Monday night, Sept. 12, and he is giving the wrestling fans of Big Spring the three leading welter weights in action when he secured the services of the Peerless Jap, Matty Matsuda, to defeat any two welter weights in ninety minutes. He is bringing to this city an attraction that would be a credit to any of the larger cities and to give the fans a real surprise he has selected the two leading welter weight contenders in this section as the welter weight champions, Silvio Checchio who has recently defeated several of the top notchers in the welter weight class on the local mat and Nick Karavas the Boston strong boy. Matsuda, the welter weight champion must pin both of his opponents shoulders to the mat within ninety minutes or lose the match. Matsuda the welter weight king has recently met and defeated the leading welter throughout the country and the fans of Big Spring will see him in the toughest match that he has had in some time as he is attempting something that seems impossible, as his two opponents are the toughest of the real rough boys and will make the champion step to defeat them both in the specified time. Clyde has arranged a series of good preliminaries and the fans are assured a real treat. The match was made by Sam Faust. Tickets are on sale at the Chocolate Shoppe. T. B. Reeves and Jack Hendrix who have been working as crewmen with chautauqua this summer, have returned home. L. V. Thompson and family returned Wednesday night from a ten day visit with relatives at De Kalb, Texas. They made the trip via auto. Mr. Thompson reports crops very spotted until you reach Bowie County. He also stated it was necessary to make such a trip in order to appreciate your home town. Big Spring is all to the good compared to most of the cities and towns he visited. Miss Sallie Buchanan left Thursday night for Sulphur Springs where she will teach school the coming year. Max Merrick left Thursday morning for Austin, where he will attend State University the coming term.

IS YOUR BOY IN THE BUNCH?

Folks living north of town are going to ask officers to watch for a crowd of "young bucks" who make a practice of "bumming gasoline" and "raising Cain generally" on our highways. This crew played the Gall road from about 7:30 p. m. on past 10:30 stopping every car that came along to bum gasoline—and were brazen enough to stop the same car twice. You may not know you are raising your son to be a bum but if parents would take as much interest in their children as they should—or be interested in the kind of company they keep this sort of thing would not be taking place. You are going to feel mighty bad if you are going to find it necessary to get your young hopeful released from jail some of these mornings. Folks living along the highway say they do not propose to be deviled by these young fellows and are going to file complaints. Better warn your boy so he will not be among the number arrested.

OCEAN CLAIMS OLD GLORY

There is every reason to believe that Old Glory enroute from America to Rome, and her three passengers have been lost at sea. An S. O. S. have been unable to find a trace of the airplane or its occupants.

The fire department was called out last Saturday evening in response to an alarm sent in from 212 West First Street. The flames were extinguished in quick time and damage to the residence was slight.

The old sheetiron warehouse at the rear of the Currie building at 110 Main street was torn down Wednesday. Because of being in bad repair this building could not be used, and being within the fire limit could not be repaired.

Mrs. W. C. Hinds and children are in Snyder this week, visiting Mrs. Hinds mother.

MEETING AT FAIRVIEW

Good attendance and good interest is being shown at the meeting being held at the Baptist Church in the Fairview community, seven miles north of Big Spring by Rev. J. M. Cochran, pastor of the Methodist Church at Coahoma. The meeting will continue through this week and much spiritual good will be derived from the sermons and song services of the meeting. A cordial invitation is extended everyone to attend these revival services.

We can't understand the City Commission's attitude about placing street lights along First street. According to the promises provision for lighting this street was made when the plans and specifications for the paving program were approved. A portion of this street is a link in a state and national highway. City officials should endeavor to carry out the promises made to the citizens—and there is not a doubt but that First street deserves and is entitled to street lights.

Sensational Advance Seat Sale to "Countess Maritza" at State Fair of Texas, Oct. 8-23

Roy Rupard, secretary of the State Fair of Texas, says that never before have there been so many advance applications for reserved seat tickets to an attraction in the Auditorium as have already come in for "Countess Maritza," which is the name of the Broadway comedy musical show "slated" to be presented at the Auditorium during the State Fair period, Oct. 8 to 23.

"The great majority of these applications are from out of the city and a surprising number are coming from the smaller cities and towns," says Mr. Rupard. "It seems to have become known that 'Countess Maritza' is the kind of a show that will please everybody, because it is full of good, lively music, beautiful melodies, song hits, plenty of comedy all through it, lots of good dancing and all that goes to make up a bright, keen entertainment."

"And, furthermore, it is becoming known that the company that will play 'Countess Maritza' here is the very same, absolutely, that played it for the many months of its long run in New York—the same talented prima donna, the same handsome leading man, the same fiery gypsy girl, the same four comedians, the same clever dancers and the complete

Hungarian Gypsy orchestra. There are eighty people in the show, counting the orchestra, and every one that played in New York will be seen in Dallas.

THE ALL-TEXAS DINNER WILL BE GREAT FEATURE OF PRESS DAY AT TEXAS STATE FAIR

Other "Special Days" will be announced later. The All-Texas dinner, which is to be one of the features of Press Day, Monday, October 10, will be a banquet at which everything served at the tables—and there will be an astonishing variety of foods—will be a Texas product. Each article of food served will be of the very best prize-winning products, in fact, gathered for this purpose from every part of the state.

This will include every variety of fine meats, chickens, fruits, vegetables, preserves, jellies, pastry, ice creams, sherbets and so on down the line—the best that Texas raises—the whole making a bill of fare that to print which would take about two columns in an average newspaper. The guests at this dinner will be the newspaper men and their wives and families, exhibitors in the Agricultural and Livestock Departments and county agents. It is to be an annual affair hereafter.

CALLIN' THE HOGS

Texas has just a talented hog-caller as there are in the world. Perhaps if we were to have an opportunity to put on champion up against the champions of the states in the effort we would win hands down.

Trouble is we don't know just who is the champion of Texas.

That difficulty will disappear, however, because a hog-calling contest is "on the slate" of the State Fair of Texas this fall. Besides the money prize for the winners, there will be a gold medal for the champion.

Applications to enter this contest which will be the first to be held in Texas, are coming in already and strange to say, the very first entry was a "city fellow," Bob Pool, one of the assistant managers of the Adolphus Hotel at Dallas. But Bob is nationally proud of the fact that he was brought up on a farm in Milan County, where, as he says in his application, "the hogs roamed about in perfect freedom and had to be called at feeding time."

Pool says he may need to "rehearse" a little, but that by the time the fair opens he will be in shape to offer competition to any and all comers from the state of Texas.

The "points" which the judges will take into consideration in determining the winner will be: Individuality, expression of caller, volume, distance, tone, persuasiveness and effectiveness. Entry blanks and prize list for this contest may be had by addressing Roy Rupard, Secretary of the State Fair of Texas, Dallas, Texas.

WALTER BURTON SAYS

Walter Burton, known to every poultry man in America as the superintendent of the Poultry Department of the State Fair of Texas, has a message for his Texas friends. He asks us to say this:

"Boys, take my word for it, the State Fair this fall will be so much better in every way than ever before that I am urging you, with all the earnestness that I can command, to begin right now to get your birds in condition for the greatest poultry show you ever saw!

No matter what your past experience has been, be sure to show this fall. If you have been winning, don't be content to rest upon your laurels. A win this fall will mean more than ever before.

If you have not been entirely successful, try again next October. Begin to look your flock over at once. Pick out the likeliest birds and get them in shape. You may win a higher prize than last year.

And if you never have shown, don't miss this chance. Get into the game when it will mean the most to you."

DO WE WANT A Y. M. C. A.?

The Citizens of Big Spring can keep the Y. M. C. A. going if they so desire. They own an interest in the building as long as it is being used as a "Y"; but the railroad company falls heir to this structure if the folks fall down on the job.

Our city needs such an institution and we would be a bunch of numbskulls if we handed over a building worth $20,000 or $30,000. We can eliminate a number of trimmings, operate the Y on a wartime basis until a membership sufficient to maintain it in A-1 style can be secured. If necessary we can secure 150 citizens to kick in one dollar or so a month to keep this institution a going concern. It all depends on you. Do you want the Y here or do you want to hand the building over to the railroad company to be used as a switch shanty?

Mexican families are going thru here in swarms bound for the plains country to "pick-a-da-cot." They will return this winter with new cars and more dogs—Christoval Observer.

DRAWS THIRTY DAYS FOR COLD CHECK

"Cold checking" the merchants of Texico will no longer be pleasant if heretofore offenders are to draw a profitable lesson from the sentence imposed last Saturday on a Farmer County farmer in Justice Williams court in Texico.

The farmer being arraigned in court pleaded guilty to the charge of issuing a worthless check in the amount of two bucks. Whereupon the court sentenced him to serve 30 days in the county jail at Clovis.

In sentencing the farmer the court stated that a stop must be put to the practice of giving worthless checks and in order to make an example of the man before the bar of justice the severe penalty was announced.—State Line Tribune.

According to rumor the Texas & Pacific Railway has, or is to soon let the contract for a one story brick building 50x140 feet for use as a machine shop in Big Spring. This to replace the frame building destroyed by fire about one month ago.

ALL PLAY AND NO WORK MADE CLARA BOW COMEDY

Everyone played and nobody worked while "Rough House Rosie" the Clara Bow starring picture coming to the R. and R. Lyric theater Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 12 and 13 was in production at Paramount's West Coast studio. Every member of the company found it one continuous round of pleasure and expressed regret when the final scene had been taken.

This little girl who took up where Cleopatra left off as a possessor of "IT" led her supporting cast from beach amusement resort to night club, from night club to ball room, from ball room to theater and from the theater to a boxing ring. "Rough House Rosie" set herself out to have a good time and a good time she had.

The picture opens at an amusement pier with Clara, Reed Howes, her leading man, and Doris Hill, her demure little friend, patronizing all the rides, stands and games. They spend a day at the beach, mixing with the happy crowds, having the time of their lives.

The next sequence moves to a cabaret, with the vivacious little star leading a group of pulchritudinous chorus girls, her "Six Rough-necks" in an intriguing dance. The number was staged by the dancing master of the Hollywood Music Box Revue and is declared one of the most entrancing numbers ever transferred to the screen.

During the latter part of the film the action shifts to a country club, where the gayest of gay parties is being held by a crowd of fashionably clad men and women. The party lasts throughout the night, the arrival of dawn finding it at its height.

The closing sequence takes place in a boxing stadium, with Reed Howes, as Joe Hennessey, fighting for the middleweight championship. One of the largest stadiums of Los Angeles was used in this scene and the fight staged by Howes and his professional opponent is said to be both lightning-fast and thrilling.

"Rough House Rosie" the picture made immediately following "IT" finds fiery-haired Clara Bow riding at the peak of her popularity. Reed Howes and Arthur Housman head the strong supporting cast, which is made up of Douglas Gilmore, John Mijan and Henry Kolker.

Frank Strayer directed this adaptation by Max Marcin of Nunnally Johnson's Saturday Evening Post story. Ethel Doherty and Louise Long prepared the screen play.

Social Notes

ASSEMBLES IN STRAIN FOR HOSPITALITIES

Summer has a stimulating effect on social activities. With the cooler weather comes interesting events for the calendar of early fall. Clubs and organizations that have held their meetings during the summer time will begin to hold their meetings this month.

Among the social affairs of the past week and outstanding of the other delightful events of the early fall were the two interesting bridge parties given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Strain in Fairview Heights last Friday and Friday afternoons.

Miss Emily Broughton and Mrs. R. C. Strain and Mrs. H. Hillard cohostesses to friends at the beautiful rooms of the Strain home provided a setting of rare entertainment with their artistic furnishings and artistic decorations. Lovely cut glass vases and bowls gave adornment to the entertainment. Upon entering guests were introduced to Mrs. Phillip and Mrs. D. Burns of Lamesa and Mrs. Service, and after the punch, found their seats around attractively appointed tables.

The afternoon play on Thursday was made top notch and was beautifully favored by a novelty bridge pad. Mrs. Strain won in the cut and she received a pair of silk hose. On Friday afternoon Mrs. D. Burns of Lamesa won high award and Mrs. Wm. Hillard won in the cut.

Delicious luncheon covers were spread at the refreshment hour and an attractive ice course served. Ices molded as sunshiners and ornamented individual food squares and salted almonds were served by the hostesses.

Miss Essie Duvall. Out of town guests enjoying Mrs. Strain and Mrs. Hillard's hospitality were: Mrs. Phillip Yonge, Mrs. D. Burns, Lamesa, Mrs. Lee Hanson, Lamesa, Mrs. Fort Worth, Mrs. Harvey Llamson, Laredo and Mrs. R. L. San Antonio.

MISS EMILY BROUGHTON HONOREE AT SEATED TEA

The hospitable home of Mrs. J. I. McDowell on Scurry street was the scene of a gay hospitality on last Thursday, when Mrs. J. I. McDowell, Mrs. T. S. Currie and Miss Agnes Currie entertained with a seated tea in honor of Miss Emily Broughton of Tyler, who is visiting friends in this city.

The entertaining rooms were made radiant with beautiful cut flowers and fern, and the soft glow from floor and table lamps cast a pretty reflection upon the scene of gaiety as the guests called during the later afternoon hours. Guests were greeted by Miss Jena Jordan and Mrs. J. I. McDowell and were invited into the living room where Miss Currie, heading the receiving line, introduced her visitor. Punch was served from a handsomely lace laid table by Mrs. Robert Currie and Miss Lillian Jordan. Colorful clusters of late summer blossoms and sprays of fern and other greenery embedded the punch bowl and gave pretty adornment to the service table.

The spirit of friendliness and open house prevailed as the young ladies sat in groups exchanging bits of friendly conversation. A brief program of readings and music by Misses Jeanette Pickle and Dorothy Jordan and Miss Alice Dawes was enjoyed. At the Tea Hour an unusually attractive refreshment plate holding ice-cream delicately tinted pink and molded as rosebuds, individual angel food squares and mints was passed to the forty-two guests. Plate favors were beautiful pink rosebuds.

The guest list to this complimentary hospitality included: Misses Louise and Lillian Shive, Aline Crowley of Yoakum, Alice Dawes, Dorothy Homan, Winnie Fay Freeman, Jeanette and Janice Pickle, Clara Jones, Dorothy Ellington, Juanita Ralph, Frances Melton, Helen Wolcott, Elza Jeanette Barnett, Frances Sullivan, Billie Nell Pirtle of Amarillo, Mary Lou and Constance Cushing, Margaret and Mary Happel, the Jordan girls, Irene Knaus, Wanda and Valilia True, Ruth Miller, Alma Rueckart, Naomi Lee, Anna Mae Freeman, and Mrs. Lee Rogers, Mrs. Everett Lomax, Mrs. Robert Currie, Mrs. Royce Satterwhite, Mrs. Owney Queen, Florence McNew, Mrs. Herbert Stanley, Mrs. Raymond Dunnagan.

SUNSHINE GIRLS GIVE SHOWER FOR RECENT BRIDE

The Sunshine Girls of the First Presbyterian Church entertained with a miscellaneous shower on Tuesday evening at the lovely home of their teacher, Mrs. J. I. McDowell on Scurry street honoring two members of their class, Mrs. Lee Rogers and Mrs. Raymond Dunnagan, recent brides. Mrs. C. W. Cunningham, assistant teacher of the classes, assisted in the entertainment of the guests.

After a delightful social hour, the guests centered around a table which held the wedding cake, and each one cut for the prizes. Miss Ruth Miller was successful in getting the ring, which means that she will be the next bride. Miss Naomi Lee, cut the dime, which means riches for her. There was a thimble in the cake but no one cut it, hence there will be no old maids in the Sunshine Girls class.

The two brides were seated side by side and Miss Doris Cunningham pushing her doll buggy, prettily decorated in pink and white, halted it in front of them. They were presented with some packages, each one daintily wrapped and tied. These were dainty and useful gifts from their friends and they were unwrapped and passed around for all to admire.

Dainty refreshments were enjoyed at the close of the evening.

COTTON UP $10 PER BALE

The price of cotton went up $10 the limit permitted in one day Thursday when the government estimate of this year's production was given out.

The government's estimate is 12,600,000 a drop of nearly 900,000 bales from their previous estimate. There is no doubt but that twenty-five cent cotton has now arrived. This means real prosperity for Texas.

Love on a Ladder

By JANE OSBORN

(Copyright.)

IN CASES of serious illness Doctor Lanning did not attend members of his own family, but when Martha had hysterics that night in midsummer when Lanning accidentally encountered her in the act of eloping with Peter Letson, he did not consider her condition serious enough to require the services of an outside physician. Having hysterics, under the circumstances, was entirely normal. But even normal symptoms needed treatment, so after Peter had been dismissed with a curt good night from Doctor Lanning and a look of mute and tearful entreaty from Martha, Doctor Lanning escorted his sobbing daughter to her room, gave her a drink of cold water and told her to go to bed and to stay in her room for two or three days.

The interruption of Martha's elopement had been quite accidental as far as Doctor Lanning was concerned. He had been roused at midnight by the ringing of his bedside telephone. A country patient wanted him to come at once and rather drowsily, but with all speed, the doctor had put on his clothes and had gone downstairs and out to the garage to get his car when he heard whispers in the driveway ahead of him. Before he even realized that the young couple standing there were his daughter, Martha, and Peter Letson, he heard a shrill shriek of alarm. He knew the voice was Martha's, and Martha was standing there in hat and light coat with a little traveling bag.

The really surprising thing about it all, as Doctor Lanning thought after he got his daughter to promise that she would not make another attempt to elope during his absence, and had finally started off in his car, was that there was no sane reason why Martha and Peter should have planned an elopement.

Doctor Lanning didn't realize then that the elopement had come as the result of Martha's desire to have what she considered a romantic marriage. And now for the first time Doctor Lanning felt decided disapproval of Peter, and when the next morning Peter telephoned to ask permission to speak with him and Martha, the doctor curtly refused. He also warned the young man that any letters or messages he might send to his daughter would not be delivered. She was at present confined to her room in a state of nervous excitement.

From a distance Peter watched the Lanning house, and when he saw the doctor's car start out on his morning round of calls he cautiously drew near. Painters were at work on the house—looking at them Peter had a bright idea. And when Doctor Lanning returned an hour or so later he might have observed that whereas three men had been working on ladders and scaffolds when he left there were now four men in paint-spattered white overalls and regulation white canvas caps.

About ten o'clock the next morning Doctor Lanning backed his car out of the garage and down the driveway that ran close to the house and then to the road. Martha's room was on that side of the house just above the driveway—Doctor Lanning had gone to the garage from a back door of the house and had not noticed a painter's long ladder braced against the side of the house with base planted in the gravel driveway. Doctor Lanning reversed his car. He backed and then above the sound of his engine he heard a shout, a rattling of wood and a splash of something limp and liquid on the top of his car. This was the pall of paint that had been held by the painter on the ladder which the car hit as the doctor backed from the garage. The ladder lay flat on the ground—Doctor Lanning saw it as he quickly got out of his car to investigate.

He looked anxiously to see if he had extinguished some poor painter when he knocked the ladder down. He looked up and there he saw a tall young man in white overalls clinging desperately to the window sill—and then he saw two fair arms stretch out the open window and, after a few seconds when it seemed as if the young man might lose his hold on the window sill entirely, his tall, tank figure was drawn into the house.

Doctor Lanning hurried upstairs and into his daughter's room. He opened the door and saw Martha standing there with the painter's arms about her—and the painter was Peter Letson.

Doctor Lanning began to laugh, so, too, did Peter, and finally Martha.

"I had to see Martha—to see what she wanted me to do about the elopement," stammered Peter, "and since you wouldn't let me even write, I got the painter to give me a job. I bribed him for the privilege of working on this side of the house. I have spent most of my time for two days painting the frames of Martha's windows. The paint is so thick there I dare say it will have to be scraped or chipped off—"

"And then I came along and knocked the ladder out from under you," laughed the doctor. "It was very inconsiderate of you to let the paint drop on the top of my car—that will have to be scraped off, too." He paused and looked whimsically at Martha and Peter. "You're not going to try another elopement, are you? No objections to a regular wedding—any time you and Martha want it?"

ADVISING THE FARMER

A Dallas banker, Mr. Nathan Adams, warns Texas against thirty-cent cotton.

His argument is ingenious not to say ingenious. A higher price than twenty cents, says Mr. Adams (and we assume he was correctly quoted) "would cause a false wave of prosperity and end in a spending spree that would offset the profits made."

In other words the way to keep the irresponsible farmer from going on the spending spree and wallowing in prosperity is to make him sell his cotton for twenty cents or less. The old boy is apt to become frisky if the staple goes beyond twenty cents; why, he's likely to buy a piano for the parlor, or lay in a new linoleum rug for the kitchen!

"The 1927 crop of cotton in Texas will reach nearly 4,000,000 bales and to sell at 20 cents the farmer would make a nice profit and be enabled to pay off outstanding debts," continued Mr. Adams.

That's the idea, now; let us sell at twenty cents. If we begin to get too restive and demand 25 or thirty cents, we're apt to throw a monkey wrench into the machinery of business. As long as we can get twenty cents, or just enough to pay our debts, that'll be fine, won't it? Ask Mr. Adams.

Really, though, the Dallas banker should carry his argument to New York and try it out on the cotton speculators. They are quite as unreasonable as the farmer. They have put the price of cotton well above twenty cents, and that is a dangerous thing to do, according to Mr. Adams; it means too much prosperity for the farmer, and the idea is to keep the farmer from becoming prosperous. He's liable to spend all his money for automobiles and blooded heifers and parlor knick-knacks, when he ought to content himself with barely enough to pay his debts and get another twenty-cent crop started.

Perhaps Mr. Adams merely meant to warn against a holding movement, however. He says the farmer will be making a big mistake if he holds his cotton for thirty cents. Well, that is very likely true; it is generally not wise to hold cotton for too high a price; but after all it's the farmer's lookout.

But the idea that the farmer is in danger of becoming drunk on prosperity is really too ridiculous.

ALONG THE HIGHWAY

A man is laboring by the side of the road with the task of fixing a tire.

"Need help?" calls a passing motorist.

"No, thanks," he replies, with pleased surprise. Pleased because someone is thoughtful; surprised because anyone offers help.

The spirit of helpfulness is gone from the highways.

Is a man walking, evidently wanting a ride? Let him walk. Step on it and let's get by.

Shall we stop? No. Let him fix it as best he can.

Man in the road waving his arms to flag us down. Wonder what he wants. Hold-up maybe. Don't look at him. Jam down on the accelerator and pass him at 50.

The reason for this is fear, not meanness. Pick up the man wanting a ride and he may knock you on the head, toss your lady out of the car and drive on. You are helpless to defend yourself when your hands must be on the steering wheel, your eyes on the road.

The break-down may be a stall to stop you and confront you with a gun and a demand for your money. Same with the flagging person.

These rules are practiced occasionally by criminals on the highways. The motorist reads of them or hears of them. That is why he has ceased to be friendly and helpful.

But if there are women or children in a car halted for repair, he is apt to stop and offer aid. Women and children are reassuring.

WHAT A DOLLAR CAN DO

Not two men in a hundred have given any thought to the material welfare of those who will be their heirs 500 years hence. One out of that many has made some provision for the descendants who will people the earth a millennium hence. There should be more than one such example that this forward-looking American has just set.

Stellene deposited one dollar in his home banks, to be drawn in five hundred years. At the end of that period the accumulated fund will be distributed to the male heirs of the testator.

From the boys who calculate things, the inheritors of the dollar will be lucky dogs. For the dollar will have grown by accretion into $2,900,000 by and on a mere 3 per cent basis at that, compounded annually.

This is the most impressive result for development of the habit that has yet been made. Investment of live money in form of savings will make American independent in his lifetime. What one dollar could do in five centuries is of slight consequence to any average American. But $10, $100, or $1,000 could do many things that should concern the average Americans.

PURPOSE OF FAIRS

Exhibition of the products of the soil and fields is an outstanding feature to better farming and prosperity. Competition for higher merit and better production, and is rewarded by additional profit. In Genesis we learn Cain brought of the fruit of the ground an offering unto the Lord. And Able also brought the firstlings of his flock and the first of the fat of the sheep, so in Cain and Abel developed the original rivalry that has existed down through the ages.

Properly conducted county or city fair is an educational endeavor where diversified and valuable information is disseminated. An investment by the people of the community for a specific purpose serves to bring together the people of the county or community where everyone has a common interest, where new friends are made and old friends are met, and where everyone has a good time. People of adjoining communities will be fair to learn what is being done just along agricultural lines. There one can tell pretty well the progress of other activities.

Keynote of county and city fairs should be "standardization and co-operation." Farm & Ranch.

PAYS $65 FOR STEERS

Stewart recently purchased T. G. Brennan of Sterling 200 three year old steers, which weighed around $66 and brought an average of $100. The herd was shipped to be placed on feed.

GETTING READY FOR SCHOOL

Getting ready for the next term is included on the list of things at this season of the year. Farmers have been filling their silos and pantries, their silos and racks, and no progressive forward-looking community will be getting the school ready for the children and the children ready for school. School officials are giving consideration to the renovation of school buildings, and parents are giving consideration to the physical condition of their children in preparation for the commencement of the school year.

Conservation of health has become one of the main features of the school program, therefore such requirements as school sanitation as safe drinking water, sanitary closets, clean proper ventilation, and light are being provided in our outstanding schools. Boys and girls are the most valuable crop of the future, and schools are the seed which children are planted into men and women of the future. We should be prepared and the crop should be a good harvest in to the Farm and Ranch.

ELBERT HUBBARD SAYS:

The pathway to success is in serving humanity. By no other means is it possible, and this truth is so plain and potent that even very simple folk recognize it.

We need an education which fits a boy to get a living, creates a desire for more education, implants ideals of service, and lastly, teaches him how to spend leisure in a rational manner. Then we can get along with less government.

Life is a gradual death. There are animals and insects that die on the instant of the culmination of the act for which they were created. Success is death, and death, if you have bargained wisely with Fate, is victory.

Don't sit down in the meadow and wait for the cow to back up and be milked—go after the cow. Be moderate in the use of all things—save fresh air and sunshine. The best preparation for good work tomorrow is to do good work to-day; the best preparation for life in the hereafter is to live now.

CLEAN COTTON BRINGS MUCH BETTER PRICE

Those who have worked so hard to raise a cotton crop this year should endeavor to secure a better price by picking the cotton clean. Do not mix dirty looking cotton with that which has been picked clean if you want to secure the best price. The growers deserve every penny that cotton will bring and a little care in picking often means quite an advance in price.

CACTUS TO YIELD RUBBER SUBSTITUTE

According to Dr. John C. Wichmann, America need worry no longer about its rubber supply. He says he has patented a process of turning the gummy sap of cactus lobes into a rubber substitute.

If this is true West Texas is in the swim for cactus can be grown by the wholesale throughout this section. Tons of cactus can be found on an acre in some localities right now.

Expert Lauds Blends Of Western Coffee

The great West, which used to be known for its life in the raw, today has to content itself with coffee as the best available stimulant. But the West makes the best of it. It accepts coffee with complete resignation; in fact, guzzles it quite enjoyably; requiring only that it be coffee "with a kick."

Such is the observation of Bernhard von Anderten, Guatemala coffee exporter, now in the United States on a business trip. "The West wants the best coffee," von Anderten said yesterday, "coffee with a kick. And it demands the best. I have studied the blends popular in many parts of the country and I find that blends canned in the West are the best in the world."

GETTING OUT THE OIL

Announcement of the discovery of a process for increasing the efficiency of petroleum production should interest not only those who own oil wells but those who have been alarmed at the prospect of an early exhaustion of our oil resources. It is a known fact that ordinary methods of oil production, either by natural flow or by pumping, raise only about 15 per cent of the oil content of the ground to the surface. Dr. P. G. Nutting, a scientist on the staff of the United States Geological Laboratory at Washington, has developed a simple process which it is claimed will greatly increase the ratio of production to the total amount of oil in the ground. Ordinary washing soda is injected into the oil sands. The soda "cuts" the oil from the sands. It is utterly simple. "It costs $130 to 'shoot' a new well," says Dr. Nutting. "With $25 worth of soda we ought to get two or three times as much oil."

Dr. Nutting did his experimental work for the Government. He seeks no reward for his discovery, which, if actual tests in the field are one-tenth as successful as laboratory tests, will add billions of barrels to the potentialities of American oil production.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

No place seems to get so much kick from a fire as does Big Spring. Just let the fire screen break loose and most every automobile owner "hooks her up" and tears out. You would think to watch the ginks, that it was essential that they beat the fire engine to the fire. They manage to get their cars in a jam and cause the members of the fire department plenty of trouble. If one-tenth of them offered to render any assistance fighting, a fire would be less difficult. Most of them are attracted solely through curiosity and, too, they like to criticize those who are doing the work wise cracks.

AUGUST ATTENDANCE AT CAVERN GREATEST IN HISTORY

According to Custodian Thomas Boles at the Carlsbad Cavern, 7,350 people visited the big cave during the month of August. The report was given in The Carlsbad Current of August 30.

This is the record for the number of visitors during any one month. July, which set a record, saw approximately 6600 visitors to the cave.

Last Sunday's crowd at the Cavern numbered 416 people, among which were a group of Boy Scouts from Borger, Texas. The Cavern and the region has grown increasingly popular with Scout troops this summer, and the Borger troupe is only one of the number who have camped near there and gone through the Cavern.

A PIE-CRUST PROMISE

It isn't often a newspaper editor is caught in a trap of his own making, but that seems to have happened to Ed Howe, of the Atchison, Kansas, Globe, and known from one end of the country to the other. Seventeen years ago Ed ran an editorial in his paper in which he said that whenever anyone made an airplane flight across the Atlantic ocean he could come to the Globe office and collect $1,000,000. And now he finds himself indebted to Lindbergh in that sum, while if he meant that everyone who flew across could have a million he owes the same amount to Chamberlain and Byrd. Of course there isn't much danger of editor Howe being forced to quit work long enough to go around to the bank and draw out a million dollars to make his promise good. That is one nice thing about being a newspaper editor.

WANDERING PESTS

Depredations by bands of gypsies are being reported in several parts of the state. Instead of traveling in the old fashioned way, they now use high powered autos, thus making it not only possible to cover more territory in a single season but enabling them to escape to distant points more easily after they have rifled houses in the smaller towns and rural sections of the country. Our people would do well to keep a sharp eye on these pests, for pests they have proven themselves to be over a long period of years. Nothing is safe when they are around and since horse-trading—once their excuse for earning a living—is on the down-grade, they now resort to theft, either openly or secretly, to get what they want. Don't entertain them in your home and be prepared to protect your property as long as they are in sight. If you feel that you must have your fortune told you'll find it far cheaper to get a neighbor to read your palm for you.

Big Spring people were more hospitable in the old days because they grew most of the hospitality at home. Now they order it from the grocery.

Mother is surprised that Dad isn't worth more considering the enormous value of every little paper of his that she misplaces.

We know some fellows around Big Spring who wouldn't mind dying if they knew their children wouldn't jump right in and spend all the money they've saved up.

It's a good idea to tell the truth once in a while. The more powder a woman puts on her nose the more she looks like she needs a bath.

RAILROAD WORKERS SAVED LAYOFF BY AUTO CAR RUSH

The new Ford car, production of which was scheduled to open at the Detroit factory Thursday, may prevent the laying off of several scores of workers at the S. P. and G. H. & S. A. shops here. It was learned today.

A bulletin stating that approximately 100 shop employees would be "laid off" for an indefinite period the latter part of the week is said to have been posted at both shops.

The bulletin later was changed, it is said, ordering part or full time work, so that automobile box cars could be repaired for expected heavy shipments of new Fords to all sections of the country.

Railroads of the country will not have sufficient box cars to handle Ford shipments, it is said, and all available men in shops on the larger roads have been instructed to repair auto cars as fast as possible railroad men say.—El Paso Herald.

HOW TIMES CHANGE

Come to think of it, what offers better evidence of how rapidly times have changed than our grocery stores? Most Big Spring people can remember when canned goods were far from plentiful, groceries being sold in bulk. Most of the sugar was a somewhat soft, white brand, called "coffee crush." The codfish bucket, the kerosene barrel and the molasses barrel lay down together, so to speak, and their combined odors proclaimed the place as a grocery store. The only herring was smoked and strung on sticks running through the fishes' gills. And a slogan along about that time was "Drain your measure," especially referring to the cold season when molasses ran slowly from the measure into the customer's jug. Now look at the grocery store, with its mechanical contrivances, and almost everything—sugar, molasses and all—either in pasteboard cartons or cans and glasses. Anyone who seeks to find how rapidly times have changed need go no farther than a grocery store.

WHAT'S DOING IN WEST TEXAS
By
West Texas Chamber Commerce

Junction — The "chuck wagon" idea will feature the second annual motorcade planned by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. It has been announced that the 1928 event, which will start at the world-famed Carlsbad Cavern, will be carried out on the plan of a big camping party, and will visit southwest Texas resort points as far as this place, and including probably Menard, Fredericksburg, and Kerrville. Tentative plans for the motor caravan are to be worked out early in the year.

Snyder — More than 3000 acres of peanuts will be harvested in Scurry County this year, and a good harvest is indicated. This diversified product comes as result of a campaign put on by the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce, which is a comparatively new but extremely active organization in civic life of the section.

Wellington — The North Plains-Panhandle area of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is to be organized into a new division, according to plans made at the Wellington Convention held recently. The record meeting took other momentous action, signifying among other things that they wanted a full dollars worth for every dollar now being spent in highway construction and asking that fair treatment be given throughout in development and exploitation of the oil and gas industries of the West.

Electra — Calcium arsenate to the amount of 1700 pounds has been distributed among farmers of Electra's trade area during the past week in a campaign to control the cotton leaf worm. The infestation has been spotted, but preventative efforts are being made to insure a large return from this year's crop. The poison is being distributed at cost by the local chamber of commerce.

Coleman — Every commissioner precinct in Coleman County is now in possession of road building machinery which will be used to maintain highways as result of a deal recently made by the commissioners' court. County roads are expected to be kept in first class condition at small expense with the addition of this equipment.

Palo Pinto — Palo Pinto County has made an appropriation of $3600 to which the Federal Government and the State have added $1800 and three trappers will work after wolves in this section for twelve months. Movement is underway in many other counties also to rid the State of predatory animals.

Cleburne — A Poultry and Marketing Association is being boosted in the Cleburne trade territory and is receiving favorable comment among farmers and business men here. In connection with the work, a number of boosting trips have been made by the Cleburne Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, in which speeches and music programs are offered at various points in the county.

Brady — Though Cuero has abandoned plans for its annual "Turkey Trot" celebration, Brady is going ahead with elaborate preparation for the annual turkey show there, and has been assured that the event will be filmed by national picture concerns.

Ranger — State and out-of-state visitors will be well entertained here Oct. 21 and 22 when Ranger is host at a Homecoming Oil Jubilee, celebrating the tenth anniversary of the discovery of oil in Eastland County. Many diversion and entertainment features are planned, in addition to informational and educational numbers.

Wichita Falls — President J. A. Kemp of the Texas Conservation Association and President R. W. Haynie of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce have given their approval to the names submitted for the committee of 25 Texas people who are to study Texas water rights as provided in the Abilene mass meeting. As soon as the appointees are heard from, announcement of the committee personnel will be made.

Stamford — Personnel of the new Poultry and Dairy Bureau of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has been given out: Col. H. L. Penick, pioneer poultry advocate of the West, and father of Stamford, is chairman of the committee. Other members are: Col. R. Q. Lee of Cisco, Gaylord Stone, Fort Worth, J. A. Kemp, Wichita Falls; Wilson D. Jordan, Brady; W. P. Hallmark, Dublin; Herbert Jones, Post, and R. C. Nicholl, Tulla.

San Saba — President R. W. Haynie of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and Hon. Lon A. Smith, Railroad Commissioner, will be two feature speakers on the Hills Country and Pecan Belt District program here September 22 when that convention meets. A conference of goat and sheep men of the section will be held in connection with the gathering. It is announced, and Col. C. C. French of the Fort Worth Stockyards will preside.

Abilene — Nearly one-half of the record expansion made in the area served by telephones during the past year was made in the territory of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, especially in those sections in which oil play has developed.

Sweetwater — Goat and sheep raising on a large scale may begin in the Sweetwater country. A deal has just been consummated in which a Mertzon livestock man has leased six sections of land near here on which he will run sheep and goats. The stockman announced that a number of sheepmen of southwest Texas are anxious to move into the Sweetwater country as it is very suited for their business.

FLOWERS WIRED ANYWHERE

When you want flowers wired to other towns in your state or out of it, why not do this as other towns do — through your home florist? Not through agents who have a salary or good paying business. Your home florist is the only one in your town who does or can honestly hold a fixed florist directory, consequently the one through whom to get your flowers.

The Couch Floral Company is trying through this hot weather to keep flowers in season which is a very heavy loss. When out of flowers I can get them as quickly, a better grade, and cheaper than anyone.

big hearted citizens of Big

UNCLE SAM AFTER POTASH

Secrecy of Potash induced the United States government to undertake a country-wide search for potash deposits, and it is gratifying to learn that the labors of the exploration parties have been rewarded with noteworthy success.
By watching the logs of many oil fields that were being drilled in what are known as the Saline Red-beds, geologists following the lead of Dr. J. A. Udden, director of the Texas bureau of economic geology discovered that a great area in Western Texas and Southeastern
New Mexico is underlain with beds of potash salts. Likewise, in analyzing a core from a diamond drill, employed in drilling an oil well,
the geological survey learned that the drill had penetrated thirty-six feet of high-grade potash salts lying at different points between the 900 and the 1000-foot levels.

A number of these beds are considered commercially workable; and a single bed, at a depth of only 990 feet, contains 5 feet 3 inches of potash salts analyzing 14.6 per cent of pure potash. This bed, it is believed, extends for miles in all directions from the well; but even if it lay within a radius of only a mile from the drill hole, still it would contain, so it has been estimated, more than 40 million tons of potash.
Representatives of the American Potash Company have announced that the company, in cooperation with the geological survey, is going ahead with other wells and will begin the mining of potash as soon as sufficient ground is proved. At the same time, the government is pushing its own potash program in that region under the Sheppard law, which provides a sum of $100,000 a year for the next five years for exploratory drilling.

George Steiger, chief chemist of the geological survey, has made the unqualified statement that "it is not unreasonable to suppose that the Texas-New Mexico deposits contain enough potash to supply the United States for thousands of years." Should this prove true, and should our deposits turn out to be as extensive as those under German control, then according to George Otis Smith, director of the United geological survey, they will have a value far in excess of all the gold mines in this country.

A half crop is better than no crop and a half crop of cotton this year is going to be worth more than the bumper crop of 1926. If the price of cotton goes above the 25 cent mark, the growers will make far more than they did last season.

Really it is queer how many suckers there are among our business men. Most any smooth talking stranger can hang them on most any kind of a wild scheme;
but no matter how many times they are stung the next "slicker" finds them ready for his "bait." They can say "no" when a home man tries to interest them in a worthy proposition but they can't say "no" to the well dressed city slicker who has the "gift of gab." If one or two fall for the scheme others fall in line like a bunch of sheep.

A gentleman who had not yet passed the age of fifty was giving a young man some worthwhile advice in our hearing the other day.
He said if he had it to do over again
he would invest in a resident lot and build a home when he was a young man. The property would increase in value as the years went by and in a growing city such as Big Spring the rent would more than pay out the place in five or six years. Here's where a home building and loan association would enable a fellow to build a home or invest in the association and get good interest on his savings.

To the radical every government except the anarchist form is rotten. The radicals in France are planning to make it unpleasant for members of the American Legion
when they visit Paris next month, because Sacco and Vanzetti, two anarchists, were executed after being duly tried and found guilty.
Our government ought to retaliate by rounding up every loud mouthed radical and deport him to the nation in which he was bred. The United States can get along without the alien who knows no law or no
God. There is plenty of room in Russia where they have their kind of government.

THE STORY OF ANIMATED CAR-TOONS—HOW THEY ARE MADE

"Isn't it marvelous how they make those wonderful animated cartoons? I wonder how they do it?"

How many times have you asked that question of yourself or your companion when the funny Aesop's Fables are shown on the screen at the R. and R. Lyric Theater.

A visit to the studios of this enterprising movie concern is a most novel and educational trip behind the scenes. At least twenty artists leaning over drawing boards and busily sketching, as their nimble fingers make the needle-pointed pencils fly, is the first thing that meets the spectator's eye. So as not to get ahead of our outline, let us start with the birth of the idea that forms the scenario for our Aesop's Film Fables.

A conference is held and each artist has the chance to express his views and suggestions as to the theme and characters in the proposed scenario. All suggestions are taken down by the stenographer and typed, and a scenario is thus formed by the head of the department who practically boils down
the score or more of suggestions, into a short story that is filled with humorous situations and screamingly funny gags. With the characters decided upon, the scenario is developed in detail. Scenes, actions and titles are put into proper continuity in the same manner as a scenario for an eight reel extravaganza.

Backgrounds are the first pictures to be drawn. These are sometimes exterior scenes showing woodland country or mountains, or if it is a picture of the Far North, the background is of the icy hills of the Arctic regions. Interiors of rooms are drawn or closeups of windows or doors, as the case may be. After the backgrounds have been made, the artists immediately set to work animating the various scenes. This means that thousands of drawings must be made for each release so that a life-like effect is the optical illusion when the various drawings are shown on the screen consecutively and in rapid succession.

Each animator is assigned a series of scenes and his drawings are made on translucent tissue paper. Thus, the animator may see the lines of the preceding drawing as he places a new paper over each completed sketch. On the new paper he traces the previous drawing,
but moves the arm or leg or head, as the case may be, up to give the started or completed action of the character. This means that each drawing of the character is made in an entirely different position and the mere action of Farmer Al Falfa taking his pipe from his mouth may mean a series of forty to fifty separate drawings. After the picture has been completed by the total number of drawings being made on the tissue paper, these pictures are handed to the "tracers" who transfer the drawings from the tissue to celluloid sheets, which are of the same size as the paper. Both the papers and the celluloids, or 'cells' as they are more commonly known, have been perforated at the top with two holes. These holes on all papers and cells are of the exact distance apart and fit snugly on two pegs that are at the top of the animators', as well as the tracers' drawing boards.

Tracers then fill in the "blacks," or bodies. As we know, Henry Cat is a black cat and Milton Mouse is also of a very dark hue. Water colors, black and white, are always used so that after the cells have been photographed, they may be washed and used again. The completed drawings are numbered by the supervising artist and the number of photographic exposures necessary to register the desired action is made.

The ordinary motion picture camera takes sixteen pictures or "frames" per second, but the cameras used in photographing Aesop's Film Fables are so arranged that only one "frame" or picture is taken with each turn of the camera handle, which is so arranged that the photographer merely pushes a foot pedal to make the exposure.
The entire cartoon release is handed over to the photographers. It is usually between ten and twenty thousand sheets of celluloid. Then the photographer sets to work. He first places the background under the camera eye and fits the cellu-loid over two pegs that protrude from the camera table. These pegs are, of course, exact distance apart as are the pegs on the animators' and tracers' drawing boards. The first action picture is placed over the background and as all pictures of action are made on "cells," the background shows through to give

Upon the completion of the photographing process, the exposed negative is sent to the laboratory for developing. The negative is then developed and a master print made, and after the cutter rear-ranges this into its proper continuity, the picture is ready for projection.

To present an idea how the photographer or cameraman does his part in the making of animated cartoons, let us suppose the scene is to show Henry Cat emulating Robin Hood sending an arrow into the air. Sherwood Forrest is pictured on the "setting sheet" or painted background. This drawing is placed under a frame directly beneath the camera which is focused from overhead. A celluloid sheet bearing a drawing of Henry's body in standing position is superimposed over the Sherwood Forest background. This shows Henry in a natural position for archery—with these exceptions, his arms, bow and arrow are missing. These members are on a second or a third sheet of celluloid, which when superimposed over the first, complete the cat, Robin Hood, or if you prefer, William Tell. Then, the superimposed sheets and background are photographed. To show the cat shooting the arrow the arms are made to draw back the arrow on the string by substituting various sheets with drawings of the arms and bow and arrow in progressive stages of movement.
Just the required number of exposures of each combination of drawings and background are photographed to make the action natural and life-like.

The next time you see an Aesop's Film Fable at the R. and R. Lyric, try to estimate the number of drawings for each action and see if visualizing the technicalities of the process of production will add enjoyment to the already laugh-producing entertainment.

SOLOMON DEDICATES THE TEMPLE

LESSON TEXT—1 Kings, chapter 8.
GOLDEN TEXT—I was kind when they said unto me, let us go into the house of the Lord.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Worshiping in God's House.
JUNIOR TOPIC—A Young Man's Love for God's House.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOP-IC—Love for God's House.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOP-IC—The Value of God's House to a Community.

The first task of Solomon after his coronation was the building of the temple, a privilege which was denied to his father, David. In his preparation for this task he secured wood from King Hiram of Tyre, stones for the foundations from the Phoenicians, skilled workmen also from King Hiram. It was located on Mount Moriah (II Chron. 3:1). The suitability of this place was due to the fact that the Lord had appeared here to Abraham. Its dimensions were 90 feet long, 30 feet wide, and 45 feet high. It contained the brazen altar, the laver, the golden candlesticks and cherubim. The dedication of the temple was arranged to take place at an auspicious time. The dedicatory services consisted of:

I. Bringing Up the Ark (vv. 1-11).
The ark of the covenant was typical of Jesus Christ. God dwells among men through Jesus Christ (John 1:14). The ark was God's holy dwelling place. This, therefore, must be brought up first and placed in the temple. For the manifestation of the divine presence was the real dedication. When the house of God was to be dedicated the king arranged for a representative gathering of the people, consisting of the elders, princes and heads of the tribes. There were many great men present, but only the priests, God's appointed ministers, moved the ark. The fatal experience of Uzzah in David's time was doubtless clear in their minds. Solomon profited by the blunder of his father. Connected with this service was a very great sacrifice one in keeping with the occasion. The ark with the two tablets of stone under the mercy seat shows God manifesting Himself to His people on the ground of a law perfectly kept and since atoned for by the shedding of blood. At the completion of the sacrifice, the temple was filled with the glory of the Lord.

II. Solomon's Address to the People (vv. 12-21).
He points out to the people that God had chosen David to be king, yet for certain reasons He would not allow him to build the temple, promising that his son should do the work. Now that the work was done, the temple was built and the ark of the covenant was in its place, they could be assured that God had raised him up in the room of his father.

III. Solomon's Dedicatory Prayer (vv. 22-53).
The ark having now been placed in the most holy place, and the address to the people being ended, the king pours out his soul to God in prayer. In this prayer Solomon gratefully acknowledges God's goodness in the past, giving glory to Him, and pleads that His promise to his father be verified (vv. 22-26); he prays that God's eyes might be continually open toward the temple which He had now taken possession of (vv. 27-33); so that (1) in case of contention between parties He would judge between them (vv. 31, 32); (2) in case of being smitten by the enemy, even though they had sinned, upon confession of the same, God would forgive and restore (vv. 33, 34); (3) in case of famine as chastisement for sin, upon confession and prayer before the temple, God would forgive and send rain (vv. 35, 36); (4) in case of pestilence and sickness, if they pray to God toward the temple, God should hear and forgive (vv. 37-40); (5) in case of the coming of the foreigner who comes at the news of God's greatness, and prays toward Jerusalem, his prayers should be heard (vv. 41-43); (6) in case of going out to battle, their cause should be maintained (vv. 44, 45); (7) in case of being in captivity because of sin, God should hear their prayers and restore (vv. 46-53).

IV. Solomon Blesses the People (vv. 54-61).
On the strength of the covenant promises, he invokes His presence always with them to keep them faithful, and exhorts the people to have their hearts perfect before God, walking in His commandments and statutes.

V. Solomon and the People Offer Sacrifices of Thanksgiving (vv. 62-66).

Was In Misery All Over

"I was in a dreadfully run-down condition," says Mrs. Chas. L. Lacroix, of Montgomery, La. "I suffered a great deal of pain. I was in misery all over. I could not sit up and I could not lie down. I couldn't sleep and at times I would have dreadful vomiting spells. The aches and pains seemed to cover my whole body.
"One night my husband brought me home six bottles of Cardui and I began to take it. I could tell that I was improving from the first bottle, but I kept on taking the medicine, for I knew that I needed a tonic that would build me up and strengthen me where I was weak and run-down. That is exactly what Cardui did for me. After I had finished the six bottles I felt fine.
"I feel truly thankful for what Cardui has done for me, for I could not have gone on living in the desperate condition I was in."

AN ATTRACTIVE KITCHEN INSPIRES THE COOK!

(Editor's Note: This is one of our unusual series of cooking articles by 6 famous cooks, running exclusively in this paper.)

What fascinating places some kitchens are! Bright and attractive, they literally inspire their owners to better cooking deeds. Every housewife owes herself a well-lighted, cheery kitchen. For she spends more time in the kitchen than any other place.

Gray Kitchens

Gray kitchens are very popular these days. In fact, they are more in favor than white ones. That's because they are almost as light as white kitchens, and so very much easier to keep clean. White shows every fingermark.
One of the most attractive kitchens has gray walls, woodwork, kitchen cabinet, cupboards and shelves. All are painted a glossy gray which can be quickly washed with a damp cloth. Fresh white curtains bordered in pink are at the side windows. And a neat linoleum, black and gray squared, covers the floor.

A Rest Corner

Stove, table, high work stool and cabinet are grouped for easy work—to save steps. And in one part of the kitchen is the housewife's rest corner—a rocking chair and table with reading matter. Many a "rest minute" can be snatched while meals are cooking.
Truly, such a kitchen is a happy place in which to work. And isn't it true that the housewife's happiness is reflected in better meals?

In such a kitchen as the one just described, the work is so much easier that the housewife is often inspired to make new dishes—a change from the regular round of meat and potatoes.

Miss Rosa Michaelis, New Orleans cooking expert, today gives several delightful recipes of the "inspirational" type.

Vanilla Wafer Pudding

1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons butter
2 bananas
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
vanilla wafers
Make a custard of all the ingredients but the wafers, in a double boiler. Line bottom of baking dish with wafers. Add a layer of sliced bananas. Pour half the custard over them. Add bananas and rest of custard. Beat egg whites stiff and place on top. Put in oven and brown.

You will find many advantages in the latest development in oil stove cabinets. One of the best has the ends cut away to allow the oven to rest on a single burner when desired. It also has a perforated top shelf. Warm air from the stove comes up through the holes and keeps warm any food which is placed there.

Consistent Dainties

These are nice to serve at parties.

One Sour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 cup flour
1 cup dry coconut
1 teaspoon vanilla
Beat the whites stiff, gradually add the corn syrup, then add in the sifted flour, coconut, salt and vanilla. Drop by tablespoons on greased baking sheet and bake in moderate oven twenty minutes.

Skyline Walnut Wafers

You can make these at the same time as the coconut dainties, for they require the same baking time. Mrs. Belle DeGraf, famous San Francisco cooking authority, gives the following recipe:
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup broken walnut meats
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons flour
1 egg, beaten
Mix ingredients in order given. Drop from teaspoon on greased cookie sheet several inches apart to allow for spreading. Bake in a very moderate oven and remove from sheet at once.

Sweet Potato Pone

This is a favorite Southern dish. Here's Miss Michaelis' recipe.
4 large sweet potatoes
1/2 cup brown sugar
4 eggs
1/2 cup rind of lemon
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup butter
1/2 teaspoon each of nutmeg, ground cloves and cinnamon
1/2 cup molasses
Wash and grate the potatoes. Beat the eggs well; stir the butter and sugar till creamy; add the eggs, then grated potatoes and spices, also milk. Beat all well together, add lemon rind. Put into a well buttered pan and bake slowly for an hour.
May be served either warm or cold. Usually cut in slices.

Delicious dishes! How one enjoys cooking them in a cheerful kitchen! Brighten your kitchen! You'll be a happier woman and the whole family will benefit.

Porcelain enamel is greatly in demand for kitchen equipment because it is so easily cleaned. The latest turn this development has taken is in stove tops. Now for the first time you can buy a modern stove with a smooth, porcelain enamel top.

Oil Operations

Speaking before the "mineral law section" of the American Bar Association Secretary Work took occasion to warn the oil industry that it could force government interference if it failed to stop the wasteful, useless production which now characterizes its operations.

Secretary Work does not overstate the case, or the remedy that must be applied. No industry has a right to jeopardize the public interest for private gain.

No industry has a right to waste a resource that is known to be limited.—Fort Worth Press.

Drilling Active North of Baird

With one completion, one drilling at a depth of 300 feet and two machines rigging up preparatory to drilling Gibson & Johnson, Abilene operators, plan to sink a total of 18 tests north of Baird in Callahan County as rapidly as the contractor's three machines can do the work, declared H. F. Gibson Friday night.—Baird Star.

T. & P. RY. IMPROVEMENTS AT STANTON

The Texas & Pacific Railway Company is putting in a water tank in Stanton on Saint Peter and N. Front streets, south of the Post Office. It is to be a tank similar to the one the city has, holding 100,000 gallons. This is to replace the wooden tank they are now using, and will be a great improvement over it.

WHAT OF DAIRYING?

The golden promise for the future of dairying is found in the fact that more dairy products are being consumed today than ever before. Not only is this true so far as the total consumption of dairy products but also the per capita consumption. During the last ten years the people of this country have learned to drink an extra glass of milk per day per capita, which translated into actual money means $500,000,000 more per year for the dairy farmers.

Likewise the consumption of butter, cheese, and condensed milk products has increased notably. The advertising of ice cream and special milk drinks is increasing the consumption of these products very rapidly. Consumers paid between $5,000,000,000 and $6,000,000,000 for dairy products in 1926. Certainly the dairy farmer can squeeze out a very comfortable profit from such an enormous expenditure for foods. Dairying is the great division of agriculture. It produces one-fourth of the total agricultural wealth. Today it is in one of the strongest positions it has ever occupied.—Farm Market Sayings.

STATE POTASH REPORT VERY FAVORABLE

Report on samples of potash taken from formation discovered six miles south of Stanton show the biggest percentage of potash ever discovered. Incomplete chemical analysis from the State Department at Austin show almost 15 per cent potash. Chemical analysis shows potassium as follows:

Potassium as K...3.62 per cent.
Potassium as K2O...4.36 per ct.
Potassium as KCl...6.99 per ct.
The sample was taken from the well which is being drilled by the Landreth Production Company on A. L. Houston's ranch, section 12, block 36, Township 2 south.

A standard drill rig churned the mass from which the sample was taken, thus leading the people to believe that a fair and complete chemical analysis, using a core drill with which to get the sample, will show a much greater percentage of potash than was the findings in the above report. Similar findings in other wildcat wells near Stanton indicate that Stanton may be in the middle of a great commercial potash field.—Stanton Reporter.

INDOOR JOYRIDING

A novelty in the automobile building at the State Fair of Texas this year will be a demonstration track on which the prospective purchaser of a car may take a spin. This never has been done before, anywhere, it is claimed.

PRETENSE OF LONG PRAYERS

He said unto them, Beware of the scribes, which love to go in long clothing, and love salutations in the market places, and the chief seats in the synagogues, and the uppermost room at feasts; which devour widow's houses, and for pretense make long prayers; these shall receive greater damnation.—Mark xii 38 to 40.

The home of Tommie Mason in the east part of the city was struck by lightning during the storm last Friday night. Some shingles were torn off a corner of the roof by the bolt.

W. I. Scrivner who has been looking after property interests in this county left Friday night for his home in Arizona. Mr. Scrivner owns several sections of land not far from the producing wells on the W. R. Settles ranch and he has been here to sell leases and royalties to oil men.

If Big Spring can make progress in the face of such adverse conditions as have been encountered so far this year, just picture how we could forge ahead when prosperous conditions are with us. Big Spring has a splendid opportunity to make a big city. Do your part to aid this growth.

WHAT ARE THE FACTS IN CASE

Civil Courts were established to adjudicate differences between citizens arising out of written or implied contracts and to adjust and define the rights of individuals, companies or corporations. Criminal courts were created to protect law-abiding citizens by punishing those who defy and break the laws of the land.

If our judges and lawyers would keep the purposes of the courts strictly in mind and exercise common sense in administering the law, there would be no congested dockets even though the number of courts were reduced by one-half. But, through the years gone by, the procedure used in early days of England, and adopted by the courts of this country, has been made more complex, whereas in England the old form was discarded for the simple rules of justice. Today, in America, the road to justice winds and twists around one technically and another, and through a maze of form and procedure, until he who attempts to travel it is delayed for years, and more often is entirely lost.

Inasmuch as courts were established for a definite end, why should we not seek that end in the simplest possible manner? Why beat about the bush? Why should not our judges be empowered to select the jury instead of permitting lawyers to interrogate from 100 to 500 men in an effort to get a jury favorable to their side of the case? Why should not our judges demand that the lawyers lay their cards on the table in order that a just judgment be rendered? What are courts for anyway? Were they created to serve the people, or as a means of creating business for the lawyers?

"What are the facts in the case?" should be the question asked by the judge, and he should have the power to bring out the facts in a straightforward manner without any quibbling.

Bringing out the facts is the last thing lawyers want to do. A trial in one of our courts is no more than a verbal sparring match between attorneys, with the judge acting as umpire. What the people want and what they are going to have is a change in procedure and in the manner of conducting lawsuits that will make verdicts dependent upon the law and the evidence brought out in a direct and simple manner, not upon tricks, sentiment, and oratorical ability of lawyers.

No other courts in the entire world are conducted in such an extravagant manner as the courts in this country. This is admitted by Chief Justice Taft and many other leading jurists and attorneys, but for some reason or other, we continue to make a farce out of justice and make litigation so expensive that citizens of ordinary means are barred from having their rights defined and protected. The rights of either the defendant or the plaintiff are given little consideration when once a case is filed. Some blunder on the part of a clerk will cause a case to be thrown out of court even though it has already cost the parties to the suit many hundreds of dollars. What are rights of individuals as compared with the sacred form and rules of procedure established for the conduct of courts?—Farm and Ranch.
