Just Passing Through

Approximately 500 jeeps and other Army vehicles rolled into Hereford Saturday carrying the 45th Infantry Brigade of the Oklahoma National Guard. The brigade bivouaced on the grounds of the Hereford Municipal Airport, leaving early Sunday morning for El Paso, where it will undergo two weeks of training camp. There were 1,200 national guardsmen at the airport, where they ate, pitched tents and slept before leaving at 4 a.m. Sunday. Additional photos are on page 5. [Brand photo by Paul Sims]

Democrats Sponsor Farm Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) - An Agriculture Department official Monday praised as worthy the objectives of a bill that would radically alter federal farm programs but said its passage is not "in the best long term interests of the nation's economy."

The Carter administration opposes the measure developed by Arkansas' two senators on the basis of idea from the American Agriculture protest group, administrator Ray Fitzgerald of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service told a Senate subcommittee.

Among other things, the measure would set up a presidentially appointed 21-member "national board of agricultural governors" that would be outside the control of anyone else in the Agriculture Department and would take over many of the policy making and administrative duties of the agriculture secretary.

The bill sponsored by Democratic Sens. Kanaster Hodges Jr. and Dale Bumpers also would require minimum sales and exports prices on virtually all farm products based on board-determined production costs.

The starting 1978 prices in the bill show that basic and retail prices would rise by 30 to 100 percent for major commodities, including such staples as sugar, milk, corn and wheat.

Hodges, the only senator attending the hearing of the Agriculture Committee's production subcommittee, said that his bill "is inflationary...It has to be, of its very nature" to end the farmers' role as economic victims.

A major landowner, Hodges said that existing farm programs are geared to landholders, food processors and traders. (See FARM, Page 2) meeting of commissioners, makes Hereford one of a few Panhandle cities to decide against intervention. Cities have the right to set their own electricity rates, and Hereford commissioners decided Monday that would schedule hearings to determine the fairness of the SPS request for higher rates without intervening on behalf of rural customers.

The PUC, according to state law, has jurisdiction over rates for residents living outside city limits. The PUC is expected to act on the rural rates within 60 days, and any decision in that hearing may determine what city customers of SPS have to pay for electricity.

Representatives of 27 Panhandle cities met for two hours Monday afternoon in Canyon to discuss the constitutionality of the proposed fuel adjustment increases on electric bills. Most of the cities decided they would join with the Texas Municipal League in its intervention in the hearing on rural rates.

"We didn't intervene in the rural case because the other cities have insured a proper hearing on the rural rates," Hereford City Manager Dudley Bayne said.

"When we found out that the rural rate was being contested by the Texas Municipal League, we thought we had better stay out. We're keeping the gate open so we might get in there and contest them later. Someone should be on the outside so everyone won't be eliminated at once."

Bayne was one of five representatives at the Canyon meeting to be appointed to a steering committee to coordinate the battle against the electric company's proposed 10 percent residential rate increase. Also named to the committee were Amarillo City Attorney Don Cheatham, Dumas City Attorney Bill Menkley, Canyon City Commissioner Pat Stevens and Jerry McGuire, Amarillo assistant city manager.

The Hereford commission, in its Monday morning meeting, decided to use City Attorney Earnest Langley and rate analyst Bill McMorries of Amarillo in its case against SPS.

In other business, the commission agreed to purchase 400 cloth-covered, high back chairs for the new Community Center dining room from Adirondack Chair Co. The total cost of the chairs is $7,100.

The commission also purchased 50 tables for the facility from Adirondack at a total cost of $2,028.50.

Bell, Hill Disagree on Rates

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - Attorney General John Hill called Southwestern Bell Telephone's $220.3 million rate increase request inflationary Monday, but Bell said it was hurting financially.

The Texas Public Utility Commission's hearing on the Bell rate case was expected to include a mass protest Monday afternoon by the Association of Concerned Organizations for Reform Now (ACORN).

Hill's statement, read in his absence by Assistant Attorney General David Hughes, said Bell's request for higher revenue was "grossly overstated."

Utility commission accountants, economists and engineers have recommended an increase that would increase Bell revenues in one year by $97.8 million - less than half the amount requested.

"With our nation in a deadlock struggle over inflation, with every effort being made to trim costs, we can ill afford a philosophy by a major public utility of anticipatory inflation through automatic rate increases based upon further future inflation," Hill said.

He particularly singled out Bell's request for higher rates for CENTREX service, such as that used to link most state government offices in Austin.

Hill said the cost to the taxpayers would run as high as $40,000 a month or almost $500,000 a year.

Bell, he said, had "singled out the CENTREX state telephone communications system by saying that we can dump a large part of this rate increase on state government, and the people will never know the difference."

Included in Bell's rate package is a boost in residential rates that would increase household costs by as much as $1.36 a month in the largest cities.

John Hayes, Bell's Texas vice-president for revenues, said the Texas had slipped from 38th to 40th among the states in Bell system returns on investment since the utility commission began regulation in 1976.

He said that while the commission authorized a 9.5 percent return on investment from rates approved in December 1976, the company had earned only 7.74 percent.

Bell, he said, has experienced great increases in expenses because of inflation and the state's rapid growth. Revenue has not risen as fast as costs, he said. Bell also must spend about $1 billion per year to expand and improve its equipment.

"Our obligations to the people of Texas require that we provide quality service now, and that we be ready to provide it in the future. To meet that obligation requires higher rates, we must ask for them," Hayes said in pre-filed written testimony.

Under cross-examination from lawyer Don Butler of the Texas Municipal League, Hayes said Texas' economic boom actually is hurting Bell.

"Growth is good for a regulated utility that has an obligation to provide service only when growth in revenues exceeds growth in expenditures," he said.

A major issue in the hearing is $245 million in construction work in progress that Bell wants to include in its rate base. The commission staff excluded the money from the rate base.

"The point is, if a plant under construction is not included in the rate base, when it comes on line it cannot be earned on," Hayes said.

At one point, Hayes said he recognized the bad publicity arising from this case because it includes a hike in basic household phone rates.

"The rate case at this time creates further negative visibility," he said, adding that it costs about $17 a month to provide residential service while the average charge is $6.50 monthly.

Bob Collie, Houston city attorney, said Bell's costs in his city were 46 percent higher than in the smallest cities but Bell was charging 68 percent more.

"Rather than correct this, Bell proposes an increase across the board," he said.

Budget Meeting Also Scheduled

County Sets Hearing on Funds

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

Deaf Smith County commissioners Monday discussed the 1978-79 budget for the first time this year, then scheduled the proposed-use hearing on revenue-sharing money for June 12.

County Auditor Alex Schroeter was on hand Monday to solicit input from commissioners James Voyles and Alfred Smith before beginning any work on the 1978-79 budget. Austin Rose had to leave town during Monday's meeting and was unable to discuss the budget, and Bruce Coleman was absent for the entire meeting.

Since only Voyles and Smith were present, discussion of the budget was limited to a few minutes.

Schroeter asked the two commissioners present now $17,000 in unappropriated revenue-sharing funds should be spent.

Voyles said that road equipment, some of which he claimed is wearing out, should be a priority for the money.

The auditor added that the county would receive $206,000 in revenue-sharing money for the upcoming fiscal year and that a public hearing on what to do with the funds should be scheduled for June 12.

The commission agreed to the public hearing and said that June 12 would also be the date for close examination of the proposed 1978-79 budget.

The commission, in other business Monday:

--allowed representatives of Hereford High School to sponsor a dance for the Senior Class.

--permitted a woman to use the Little Bull Barn for a wedding dance.

--agreed to write a policy on use of the Bull Barn and Little Bull Barn.

--gave the candidates for Fiestas Patrias queen permission to set up concession stands during the Senior Class dance at the Bull Barn.

--opened bids on courthouse roof repairs but tabled a final decision.

--heard a report from John Gilliland, county representative to the Panhandle Emergency Medical Services System.

--and considered a request from County Surveyor Major Schroeter to continue using his large office in the courthouse even though his private company, A.O. Thompson Abstract, is moving.

Francis Mays asked the commission for permission to use the Bull Barn for a Senior Class supper Wednesday night and for a dance Thursday night. The court gave its approval, then heard a request from Esther DeLaCruz to set up a concession stand outside the Bull Barn on the night of the dance.

Mrs. DeLaCruz said proceeds from the sale of soft drinks and "Frito pies" would go toward the construction of a new San Jose Catholic Church.

County Judge Sam Morgan told the commission that since it never had established a definite policy concerning use of the Bull Barn, the request should be approved. Two other women asked the court if they could also set up concession stands since Mrs. DeLaCruz was asking in behalf of one of the five queen candidates, they said.

The commission agreed to grant their request, pending approval of the senior dance sponsors.

Morgan recommended that the commission formulate a policy governing use of the Bull Barn with the assistance of the public. Morgan said letters from (See COUNTY, Page 2)

Chamber Breakfast Thursday

The bi-monthly Fun Breakfast, sponsored by Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, is scheduled Thursday morning in the high school cafeteria with games, prizes and surprises again on the full-filled agenda.

Doug Manning and Lynton Alred will be masters of ceremonies for the event, which gets underway at 6:30 a.m. Tickets are $2.75 for the breakfast. The meeting is open to all interested citizens.

Cash prizes of $75 and $25 will be presented to two lucky people at the breakfast, and a cash drawing of $400 will be held for a chamber member who must be present to win. Those planning to attend are urged to call the C of C office (364-3333) by noon Wednesday in order for officials to have an estimate on the number of breakfast plates needed.

Manning, committee chairman for the event, announced that a "Bull Chip Award" will be presented at the meeting, and a number of citizens will be making announcements on upcoming events and projects in the community.

The Fun Breakfasts have been scheduled every-other month for this year. Other breakfasts are set for July 27, Sept. 28 and Nov. 30. The co-sponsor for this week's breakfast is Alred Oil Co.

Local Residents

Asked for Blood

Local residents are asked to continue their support of Coffee Memorial Blood Bank by giving blood at the Community Center from 3-6 p.m. Wednesday.

Joan Bookout, local blood drive chairman, stated that blood may be designated for blood insurance or given in the name of the following:

Corinne Gandy, who owes 8 pints; Hursel Lee, owes 8 pints; E.M. Green, owes 8 pints; Violet Charles, owes 8 pints; Larry Bain, owes 76 pints; John Dawson, owes 40 pints; Margaret Plummer, owes 26 pints; Joe Lopez, owes 8 pints; Oliver Waller, owes 8 pints; Gladys Braly, owes 8 pints; and Patrick Hanlon, owes 4 pints.

Pool To Open

Starting Saturday

City officials have announced that the municipal swimming pool will open to the public Saturday at 2 p.m.

The pool will be open from 2-6 p.m. daily throughout the summer, with the exception of Mondays.

Admission prices will be 20 cents for children under 12 and 35 cents for 12 and over.

Terry Stands Up for Bell during Turmoil

Gary Terry understands why they're protesting. He also understands why his telephone company has had to apply for a rate increase. And he wishes the protesters would understand.

"It's not wrong for people to protest. If you disagree with anything you should be able to stand up for your opinion. There are things that bother me, too," said Terry, Southwestern Bell's business office manager for Hereford and Canyon.

The Texas Public Utility Commission is considering Bell's request for higher rates today in a hearing which is expected to last three weeks. Terry said the reason for the request is inflation, not profits.

"Like any other business, we've been hit by inflation. For example, in 1973, it cost us approximately $3,300 to buy an installation van, without the equipment, just the van. In 1976, it cost approximately $5,200 for the same van in the same lot. We buy in lots to try to reduce the cost.

"Also, the cost of minerals, the cost of copper, is going up.

"Then, there's the cost of maintaining the number of employees that Bell maintains."

Terry said the rate hike, if approved, would increase the cost of a one-party private line in Hereford from $5.00 a month to $5.80. The cost of an extension would be raised from $1.50 to $1.60.

"It's not because we want more profits; it's because we have to," said Terry, who has been on the job in Hereford since July, 1977, when he replaced Mike Patrick.

Terry, as business office manager, is responsible for customer service, installation orders, account collections and "being the liaison between the customer and telephone company." He usually works three days in Hereford, where he lives, and two in Canyon.

Terry also handles all business accounts for the Amarillo district, excluding Amarillo and including several Panhandle cities.

"I'm usually the one Hereford customers contact for their complaints. If it's about rates or service, I'm the one they contact," Terry said.

"The most common complaint we used to get was about service. Since we've gone to a new concept phone center, service is faster. It used to take two days to have service installed. About a year ago, we started on what we call a modularity concept—we put in a modular plug-in, like a jack, and the customer can

Animal Trainer Bitten By Killer Whale

SAN DIEGO (AP) - A lucky animal trainer walked away with minor wounds after 7,500-pound killer whale chomped down on his legs at Sea World Marine Park.

Winston the whale was only acting "playfully" when he nipped trainer Greg Williams on Monday, park spokesman Bill Seaton said.

The 20-foot whale, which has been at the park since October 1976, took the trainer's legs in its mouth during a training session, Seaton said.

"The whale released Greg Williams almost immediately and nudged him over to the stage as is routine during the act," he said. "Williams walked off the stage unassisted."

Williams, 29, was treated at Mission Bay Hospital for several small puncture wounds. Park officials described it as a minor incident, the first of its kind in several years.

The incident could have been worse. Killer whales have no known enemies in the sea and can kill the largest creature on earth, the blue whale which grows to 50 feet in length.

Belgian Paratroopers Stationed in Zaire

KOLWEZI, Zaire (AP) - About 600 Belgian paratroopers took up station today in Kamina, 130 miles north of here, as 800 French legionnaires patrolled this copper-mining city to keep order after a rebel invasion in which hundreds died.

Belgian Premier Leo Tindemans said in Brussels the mission of the remaining paratroop battalion would be "to guarantee the safety" of the Belgians staying in Zaire's mineral-rich Shaba Province. Several thousand Europeans are still in the province, many living in Likasi, to the east, and Lubumbashi, to the southeast. About 1,200 Belgians pulled out of Kolwezi, which normally has a population of about 100,000, and headed for the government air base at Kamina on Monday after completing the evacuation of about 2,500 foreigners, leaving the city in the hands of French and Zaire troops.

Roughly half the Belgian paratroopers stayed in Kamina and the rest flew to Brussels. The Belgians and French parachuted into Kolwezi Friday and Saturday and recaptured it from invading rebels forces who had crossed into Zaire May 12 from their base in Angola through a small strip of Zambia.

Officials in Paris reported at least 170 whites were killed by the rebels after they captured Kolwezi. Some survivors estimated the figure at 200. The officials said 50 French civilians and six French soldiers who served as advisers to Zairean army units were missing and might have been taken hostage by the rebels.

Policeman Killed During Disturbance

PORT ISABEL, Tex. (AP) - A 29-year-old policeman was shot and killed late Monday as he and another officer approached a house where a family disturbance had been reported.

James Ralph Turner, 29, of Port Isabel died en route to a hospital at Brownsville, about 15 miles southwest, police said.

Melchor Salinas, 38, was arrested and charged with capital murder. Justice of the Peace Bud Emmons of Port Isabel denied bond and ordered Salinas held in the Cameron County Jail at Brownsville.

Turner was shot in the chest with a bullet from a .22-caliber rifle, police said, from a distance of about 16 feet.

He and another officer, Joe Flores, responded to the disturbance call at 10:55 p.m. Port Isabel police dispatcher Gloria Sandoval said.

Salinas surrendered about 20 minutes later, she said, after additional officers arrived from the Cameron County sheriff's office and the Padre Island police department and called out on a loud speaker system for him to give up.

Flores lay on the ground during the time, and several shots were exchanged but no one else was injured.

Turner was married and had worked with the Port Isabel police less than a year, having earlier served as an officer at Mission and South Padre Island.

Disarmament Policies To Be Discussed

UNITED NATIONS (AP) - Proposals calling for specific goals and new machinery to end the arms race will be taken up by the General Assembly in its first special session on disarmament in the 33-year history of the United Nations.

The opening program, set for this afternoon, centers on election of Yugoslav Deputy Foreign Minister Lazar Mojsov to preside over the special session as he did over the 1977 regular session.

Upward of 20 heads of government and 50 cabinet ministers are to speak in a two-and-a-half-week debate starting Wednesday. A committee will put the proposals in shape for the assembly's adoption.

Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance's and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko's appearances in the assembly will be a prelude to their resumption of talks on a new strategic arms limitation agreement.

Vance will come up from Washington late today and will speak second in the debate after Yugoslav Prime Minister Vseslav Djuranovic opens it Wednesday afternoon. He will fly back to Washington late Thursday.

Gromyko will speak Friday morning and fly to Washington afterward to begin the new talks with Vance later that same day.

MH-MR Board Meeting Is Thursday

The Amarillo Mental Health and Retardation Regional Board of Trustees will meet at the Hereford Family Services Center at 610 East Park Avenue Thursday at 12:30 p.m.

Included on the meeting agenda are a report by the executive director of Amarillo MH-MR, budgetary matters and various monthly reports.

Bruce Coleman of Hereford serves as chairman of the board for the organization, and all interested persons are invited to attend and become better informed on the mental health services available to Panhandle residents, according to Coleman.

3 Hereford Men Named Outstanding

Three Hereford men--Roland Saul, Richard Green and Charles Kuntz--have been selected for inclusion in the 1978 edition of "Outstanding Young Men of America", it was announced this week by the OYM board of advisors in Montgomery, Ala.

The OYM program, endorsed by the U.S. Jaycees, recognizes the achievements and abilities of men between the ages of 21 and 36. They are honored for outstanding civic and professional contributions to their community, state and nation.

Saul is associated with the Tubb, Easterwood & Saul law offices; Green is associated with the Witherspoon, Aikin & Langley law firm, and Kuntz is associated with Cotton & Warrick CPA offices.

Lynn Brisendine, former Hereford resident and now publisher of The Brownfield News, was also among the honorees. The men are selected from nominations received from senators, congressmen, governors, mayors, state legislators, and various civic groups--including the U.S. Jaycees.

The criteria for selection, according to Doug Blankenship, chairman of the program and a former U.S. Jaycee president, is a man's voluntary service to community, professional leadership, academic achievement, business advancement, cultural accomplishments and civic and political participation.

The complete biographies of each man selected will appear in the annual edition of "Outstanding Young Men of America."

Tonnie Arbuthnot, an American Agriculture representative from Lamar, Colo., praised the bill as one that "meets all the necessary criteria that will let agriculture receive its prices from the marketplace."

He said that he felt "neither pride nor privilege" in testifying before a Congress that has passed "insufficient, bandaids measures" that are strangling farmers.

Transporters, federal employees, minimum-wage workers, steelmakers and airplane firms all have federal protections that farmers don't have, he added.

Fitzgerald said that widespread changes in farm policy enacted last fall are beginning to boost the farm economy.

"Instead of introducing the drastic changes mandated by this bill, let us continue to operate using the tools available," he said. "Give us a fair chance to administer the comprehensive agricultural policy based on the provisions in current law."

The support levels in the bill, which could be overturned by a farmer referendum, "are at such a high level that they could disrupt or bring ruin to some sectors," Fitzgerald said.

Severe production cutbacks and controls would be needed to maintain them, he said.

No Incidents Reported At Tokyo Airport

NARITA, Japan (AP) - Airplanes took off and landed without incident at Tokyo's newly opened international airport Monday as opponents of the $1-billion facility burned automobile tires within sight of the runway, sending up billows of acrid smoke.

Thousands of protesters - environmentalists, farmers and political radicals - tried to force their way into the airport through a cordon of 13,000 riot police over the weekend in a last-ditch attempt to stop the opening. It had been postponed 11 times over the past seven years by protest demonstrations that led to bloody clashes with police.

But commercial flights began arriving Sunday without major hitches, and today flights started taking off with no trouble.

Krueger Favors Meat Import Limits

WASHINGTON (AP) - Congress should enact limits on meat imports in the United States, Rep. Bob Krueger, D-Texas, and Texas Agriculture Commissioner Reagan Brown urged Monday.

Rewarding the Lazy

This is strange: All this to-do over retired military personnel who keep working and earning and paying taxes.

Ambition is now to be punished further--while our government continues to reward the lazy, the indigent and the promiscuous.

After studying the subject of military retirement pay, a presidential commission has come up with the recommendation that "it costs too much money."

Now it may be as senseless to retire all military personnel at half pay after 20 years as it is to arbitrarily force retirement on anybody at any age.

But for us now to renege on the benefits with which we have lured people into military service is unconscionable. The very idea that our nation should now break its promise to those who have contributed most selflessly to our country and its security is inconceivable.

Yet here it comes. Now, if a man or woman has been in uniform for more than four years, the old 20-year retirement would apply. But for any in uniform less than four years and for any who sign up in the future, 30 years' service would be required for retirement.

Proponents of the plan predict it will save $10 billion a year--eventually.

Retarding the retirement date for military personnel in the future does deserve consideration, probably is a good idea.

But the arguments being advanced suggest some ominous possibilities.

For one thing, the House Civil Service Committee has been making much of the fact that at least 39 retired military men--with full-time jobs to supplement their pensions--now earn more than the Vice President of the United States.

That is supposed to imply what?

I respectfully suggest that many retired generals and admirals and others, lending their experience and administrative ability to industry, are worth more than the Vice President of the United States.

In every reference to what the report calls "inordinately high levels of compensation being received by some retired military," there is no mention of the increased income taxes these people must pay.

In many cases the increased taxes amount to more than the total military pension!

Also -- with HEW Secretary Joseph Califano publicly advocating taking Social Security benefits away from any and all retirees who have what he considers an "adequate" income--the very worrisome possibility exists that our government might also renege on already established military pensions, using that money to buy the votes of the do-nothings.

It was Britain's Prince Philip who traced Britain's decline with these words: "Government became too concerned with rewards for the underprivileged and the unfortunate until now everybody in Britain is underprivileged and unfortunate."

DAR Women Attend Closing Luncheon

The Los Ciboleros Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution held its annual luncheon meeting in the Halbert Room of the Hereford Country Club Saturday.

The ritual was led by the regent, Mrs. C.F. Newsom.

Mrs. Jess Robinson read the President General's Message.

The National Defense report was given by Mrs. Austin Rose, Jr. She said that competition is the miracle factor which has given America the highest standard of living of any nation in the world. Speaking of the Post Office she said that more competition would bring on lower costs and greater efficiency.

The regent, Mrs. Newsom, announced that the chapter had received the Honor Roll Gold Award. She requested that members save cancelled stamps for veterans and Campbell Soup labels for the DAR schools.

Mrs. Merlin Kaul, textbook chairman, spoke on the importance of reviewing textbooks and asked for volunteers to review textbooks used by our local schools.

The hostesses were Mrs. Joe Reinauer, Sr., Mrs. D.D. Henslee, Mrs. L.W. Norvell and Mrs. T.J. Carter.

Guests present were Mmes. Tom Draper, Clint Formby, George Millard, Everett McBroom of Friona and Mrs. Lucien Lepphaile of San Francisco, Calif.

Others present were Mmes. A.L. Jordan, LeRoy K. Williamson, Charlie Holt, Ron Smith, J.T. Carroll, Alfred Smith, Baxter, Lambert, Stan Knox, Michael Carr, Charles Watson, Charles Vasek, Sue James and Miss Bea Barrett.

Miss Rebecca Rudd of 103 Douglas and David Fortenberry of 520 Star, were selected by the 1977 Camp faculty from over one hundred 1977 campers on the basis of talent, performance, and leadership. Miss Rudd from Hereford High School, will be serving as Dorm Resident Assistant, and Fortenberry, from Stanton Junior High School, as Property Manager.

The Texas Tech Orchestra Camp is designed to complement the public school string program and offers classes in chamber music, sight-reading orchestra; string technique, theory, conducting, body movement and swimming. Concerts by the Symphonic and Concert orchestras will be presented on Friday, June 23, and Friday, June 30, in the Recital Hall of the Texas Tech Music Department.

Applications and further information regarding tuition, housing and recreation is available from Richard Meek, Camp Director, Texas Tech Orchestra Camp, Department of Music Texas Tech University, Box 4239, Lubbock, Texas 79409.

HD Club Wraps Up Year

The Wyche Home Demonstration Club met Friday afternoon, in the Medallion Room of the REC building.

Clara Trowbridge read a poem "Take Time" Author unknown.

The meeting was called to order by Lorena Ward president. Roll call was answered by "A Grocery buying gimmick." Committee reports were heard.

Esther Thuet announced that this was the last regular meeting for the club. Members voted to meet for a crafts demonstration the last week in May. Place and demonstrator are to be announced later, but, an effort is being made to have a teacher on making silk flowers.

Joyce Shipp was introduced by Argen Draper, and then gave a program on Label Logic. She advises all shoppers to read the label on all can foods and other articles. Cans of fruit must carry the form, weight and whether packed in light or heavy syrup. Also manufacturer, distributor and ingredients.

She also passed unlabeled cans of food for members to identify. Most members could identify one or two.

Argen Draper and Elizabeth Hellman served as hostesses. Refreshments were served to the following members and Mmes. Shipp, Mrs. H.L. Ward, Robert Trowbridge, E.C. Hewitt, Ira Ott, Bob Thuet, Frank Duncan, Lewis Fanning, Baxter Landon, Leo Hollowell, W.P. Axe, Courtney Brooke and the hostesses.

Mrs. Probst Graduates With Honors

STEPHENVILLE — Mary Gayle Gripp Probst of Hereford graduated with honors Sunday afternoon during commencement exercises from Tarleton State University here. The largest class since TSU began conferring four-year degrees in 1963 was graduated during the ceremony.

Mrs. Probst was awarded her bachelor of arts degree in speech.

Dr. John C. Calhoun Jr., Executive Vice Chancellor for Programs for the Texas A&M University System, was commencement speaker. Clyde H. Wells, chairman of the board of regents of the Texas A&M University System, and Dr. Jack K. Williams, system chancellor, brought greetings to the graduates.

MAYOR W.B. DOWELL

...declares Poppy Day in presence of Mrs. Grant Hanna and Mrs. Jacob King Poppy Day To Be Wednesday

Mayor W.B. Dowell has proclaimed Wednesday May 24, 1978 as Poppy Day in Hereford, Texas, according to Mrs. Jacob King, Poppy Chairman of American Legion Auxiliary Unit #192 which sponsors the annual observance.

The proclamation reads as follows "Whereas, the American Legion Auxiliary adopted the Poppy as its Memorial Flower which pays tribute to the war dead, and aids the living veterans and their families; and "Whereas, the contributions are used solely for Children and Youth and Rehabilitation in our local community;

"NOW THEREFORE, I, W.B. DOWELL, MAYOR of the City of Hereford, Texas, do hereby proclaim the Month of May, 1978 as Poppy Month and Wednesday May 24, 1978 as Poppy Day in our community.

Members of Unit #192 American Legion and volunteers will be distributing the bright red crepe paper Poppies in memory of the Nation's war dead-while assisting the needy veteran and his family.

The American Legion Auxiliary adopted the Poppy as a memorial flower at its National Convention at Cleveland in September, 1920. This was followed through with the adoption of the Poppy as the American Legion Auxiliary's memorial flower.

Throughout the year, disabled and hospitalized veterans make Poppies in hospitals and special convalescent workshops maintained by the Auxiliary. Assembling Poppies provides both financial and psychological therapy.

Contributions made on Poppy Day are used by the local Unit to aid needy veterans and their families in the community and veterans in hospitals throughout the state. All proceeds are channeled directly into rehabilitation and children and youth welfare work.

Headquarters for the local campaign will be at Hereford State Bank.

4-H Firsthand

4-H leaders and adults with added minds and a soft spot in their hearts for kids—all kinds of kids; their own kids, other people's kids, tall kids, short kids, thin kids, regular kids, responsive kids, and ungrateful kids from teen-agers to teenagers. At their own time and expense and neglecting their own personal interests, they serve without pay and often with a minimum of parent cooperation, knowing that they are nece-sities that the Agricultural Extension Service and the 4-H membership could not do without.

A leader explains to, shows how, does for, phones up, pleads with, bosses around, and reminds for the tenth time; and when the result is negative, patiently swallows an urge to throttle and once again explains to, shows how, does for, phones up, pleads with, bosses around, and reminds for the eleventh time.

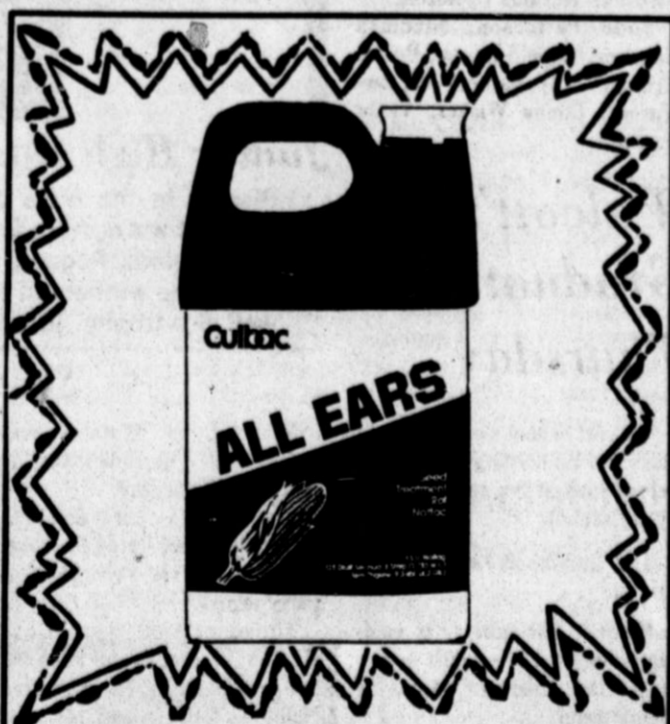

No one gets madder, or more tired; no one is more often offended, forgives more quickly, shows better sportsmanship, or is a bigger pushover to a request for community service than a 4-H leader. The leader is Determination with fingers crossed, Patience with a twinkle in the eye, Ambition drawing tomorrow's blueprints, and Zeal that observes no curfew.

4-H leaders are sometimes happy, but often are frustrated, discouraged, disgusted, and vow that they will quit 4-H forever with as little violence as possible. That is -- until their members suddenly blossom forth with blue ribbons, gold medals, exemplary conduct, unsuspected poise, inner-glow, and unmistakable admiration for their leader shining in their eyes. That is when the soft spot in every leader's heart grows softer, and the new year finds him in the midst of his more or less attentive group explaining to, showing how, doing for, phoning up, pleading with, bossing around, reminding again--except for one difference. Three more members have been added.

Ann Landers

Interesting Statistics

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I just heard a fascinating program on the radio. Unfortunately, I tuned in too late to catch the identity of the person speaking, but he came up with some interesting facts that I'd like to pass along.

First: It is not true that women are worse drivers than men. Their safety record is better - up until the age of 65. Then they are about even.

Fifty percent of all fatal traffic accidents are alcohol-related.

The best drivers in the world are Swedes. The Japanese come in second. Tied for third place are the Americans and the British. The booby prize goes to the Italians. They are the worst. The French are not much better.

In the United States, the poorest drivers are physicians - and among them, psychiatrists have 25 percent more crackups than surgeons. The best drivers are laborers. Why? Nobody seems to know - I Never Ride If I Can Walk.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Your signature was also good advice.

Walking is not only healthier than riding, it is also safer. And in the same vein your chances for survival are greater if you travel by air than by car. (That last statement should be especially noted by the white-knuckle crowd. Thanks for the fill-in.)

DEAR ANN LANDERS: May I unload my jet grille on you? I speak for thousands of associates across the land. It's the telephone numbers of people who call the boss.

Some of the callers phone several times a day. They start off with, "Is HE there?" or "Where is HE?" Or, "May I talk to HE?"

Although they know as well they never ask, "How are you?" or call us by name. Of course we get no "Please" or "Thank you."

How do we deal with such people? - Head Bands.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Nothing accentuates rudeness like courtesy. Put extra honey in your voice and pour it on.

When asked, "Is HE there?" reply "Good morning. -- Yes.

Mr. J is here. I'll put you through right away. One moment, please."

Even the dullest clod will catch on - eventually.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This letter is for "Frothing In Friona," who objected to cards that include the names of family pets along with the children.

It is apparent that "Frothing" does not have a pet, doesn't like pets, and is envious of people who enjoy them.

Friends frequently send my cat, Minerva, cards and gifts on her birthday and on holidays. Relatives always inquire about her and extend greetings when they phone.

Minerva received a letter from the daughter of a former President of the United States, a note from the secretary of a U.S. Senator written on behalf of his own cat, and many cards from people of high station. Some days Minerva gets more mail than I do.

I hope "Frothing's" friends quit sending cards and letters. She doesn't deserve a word. - Minerva's Gramma

DEAR GRAMMA: I hope Frothing sees your letter and is properly chastened. She's got some nerve knocking a family pet. Take that and that and that, you old meanie!

Mrs. Farmer Receives BSP

LAWRENCE, KANS. — Janna L. Farmer, 122 E. 15th St., was among graduates who were honored last night at the 106th annual commencement exercises at the University of Kansas here.

The local woman received a bachelor of science degree in pharmacy.

The commencement program listed approximately 3,100 students who expected to complete work toward degrees by the end of final examinations on May 19.

An additional 1,444 have completed degree work at K.U. since the May 1977 commencement.

Commencement exercises were held in Memorial Stadium. Hooding ceremonies for those receiving doctoral degrees will be held earlier in the day.

At Wits End

BY ERMA BOMBECK

Christopher Andersen has just written a book advancing a theory I've always believed -- your name can make you a winner or a loser.

It's true. I never knew a "Ginger" who wasn't born with pom-pom hands, a "Ruth" who didn't iron tennis shoe tongues, or an "Elvira" who didn't smile without a piece of spinach wrapped around her front tooth.

Sure enough, in Andersen's book, "The Name Game," Ginger means "cute," Ruth means "earth mother" and Elvira translates to "drab and slow."

Most people hate their names. They're always pronouncing them, spelling them, explaining them, defending them, or changing them. When you think of it, it makes good sense. Can you imagine a man tall in the saddle with a patch over one eye holding reins in his teeth and guns blazing from both hands by the name of Marion Morrison? Which is probably why Marion Morrison became John (trustworthy, very manly) Wayne.

And there has to be something catchier than Salvatore Bono and Cheryl La Pierre who opted for Sonny (athletic) and Cher (a legendary one-word name).

I always felt Erma was a fat name and rated in popularity right under Popeye and Iodine. It probably shaped my destiny because with a name like Erma, you have to laugh first and loudest. Given a choice, I would have preferred to be named Astrid (Luscious). But I didn't have the thighs for it -- not even at birth.

How different things might have been if I had been named Astrid. I would never have dated Ellis (lackluster), Melvin (wilted), Rollo (mama's boy) or Lou (yawn).

I would have hung out with Bart (very macho!), Kent (a big winner) and Hank (virile and active).

I would never have been intimidated by anyone else in my neighborhood with a nickname. Names like Wheezie, Bunny, Ducky, Happy and all those other cute dwarf's names. They could have called me...surely they would have thought of something better than what I got -- "The Mound."

It was with some reluctance that I turned to find what connotation my name really had in Andersen's book. On page 151, there it was: Erma sexy, but listless.

I'm not sure, but I think one cancels out the other.

Death Row Poet Confident of Stay of Execution

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) - He adjusted his gold-rimmed glasses, and with the looks and the voice of a young college professor read one of his poems. "...I behind a strange sight, as the prisoner strains his bonds, struggles with all muscle and might. "Then the executioner proceeds, advancing with purposable strides. The intention is an obvious one with no effort made to hide. "Frantically the prisoner strains, fighting the tight bonds again. But the executioner is too deft and injects the poison beneath the skin. "Finally the struggle is eased and the fight is ceased. The prisoner lies still in death, at least seemingly in peace.

"In terror I reel back from that hideous sight, with a moan of compassion at the prisoner's plight. "The execution I just witnessed with only a spider killing a fly. "But any execution strikes home when you are the next scheduled to die." Leonard Freeman, the poet of death row, wrote those words prior to one of his many execution dates, all of which have been postponed. He now is to die by injection Aug. 3. "I will get a stay," he said in a recent interview. "I have been here on death row almost four years, longer now than anyone, except for one. And, if I can just live long enough, maybe I will be named poet laureate of Texas. Now wouldn't that be something?"

Leonard Freeman is on death row, because he was convicted of the July 1973 slaying of Luis Garza, a deputy sheriff from Atascosa County, and the officer's wife, Elidia. The deputy stopped Freeman, who had fled from a rehabilitation center in Houston, near the community of Charlotte.

Freeman pulled a gun and took the couple to deserted farmhouse, where he handcuffed them and killed them. The officer was hit by three slugs, his wife with one. Later, Freeman stole a pickup truck, but with 300 officers on his trail, he was trapped and surrendered without resistance.

Church Construction Supervisor Puzzled Over Cause of Collapse

GARLAND, Texas (AP) - The man who supervised construction of the Walnut Village Church of Christ said Monday he doesn't have the slightest idea what caused the roof to collapse. The roof caved in during Sunday services, killing a 9-year-old girl and injuring 57 other persons. Garland city officials formed an investigative team Monday to probe the splintered beams and debris. "The cause is still unknown," said Dewaine Howard, city public information officer said. "It will take a couple of days to sift through the debris."

A city official said the church had met all building code stipulations for design safety. Church Deacon Dean Ohlhausen, involved with construction of the building, said the roof was flat, with a metal retainer raising three or four inches above three sides of the roof. The fourth side was open for drainage. "There wasn't supposed to be any appreciable amount of water on the roof," Ohlhausen said. "That just wasn't supposed to happen."

The roof was about 80 feet by 80 feet so two to three inches of water might have weighed as much as 50 to 65 tons. It was of a diagonal beam design and about 22 feet from the ground and was built to a plan Hays described as "standard church construction." "There are several thousand churches across the country that use that plan," Hays said. Several of them are in the Dallas-Fort Worth area. There was bedlam when the roof collapsed. Lisa Weaver was at the rear of the church, listening to Elder

Gene Griffin lead the congregation in prayer. Then she saw the roof begin falling down around her. As she saw it coming, she knew her sister, two years younger, was sitting amidst "where most of it hit." "At first I thought one of the transformers had broken down," she said outside a hospital room at Garland Community Hospital where her sister, Rhonda, was undergoing surgery for a fractured hand. "My sister got trapped under the rubble, but was not injured too bad.

Most of his time was served for burglary, beginning when he was 17 and took money from a hospital safe. "I probably would have received probation on that first charge," he said, "except I hit the sheriff on the head and tried to escape. "Believe me, prison can't rehabilitate you, no matter how hard they try. I enjoyed stealing. The only prison who could rehabilitate me, is me. I think that goes for most of us on death row. The only way to change is to change yourself," he said.

Freeman, with his scholarly looks and vast vocabulary, knowledge of world affairs, of writing, of politics, seems to be a mistake on death row, a man more offer, and a job and you got nothing to worry about. Well, in 10 days I was stealing again and back in prison." Freeman said he was "not proud of what I am, but at least I know. It is hard to realize what you really are. Once you come to grips with yourself you know, you know maybe you shouldn't be out until you have rehabilitated yourself."

He said Dallas consulting engineer Edward L. Wilson will coordinate the investigation. Hubert L. Hays of Fort Worth heads the company that built the church two and a half years ago. He said the church elders acted as their own general contractors. "I haven't the slightest idea what happened," Hays said. "None whatsoever. We'll have to do some engineering to determine what happened, but right now I just don't know."

Witnesses to the cave-in say it was a buildup of water from heavy rains the night before. Apparently the water did not drain properly off the roof and victims said tons of water fell with it. From 1.8 inches to 2.5 inches of rain had fallen the night before. The timbers cracked, buckled, then crashed down on the 140 members in the midst of prayer. Another 45, mostly children, were not injured because they were in another part of the church. Five of those injured were in critical condition and seven others were admitted for treatment of injuries. Nine-year-old Shannon Smith was the only fatality. Sitting with her parents in the middle of the church when the tragedy struck, she was pinned beneath roofing and oak pews and apparently was killed instantly. Three Garland police officers and a firefighter were injured when a part of the remaining roof structure fell on them as they attempted to rescue churchgoers. Minister Vernor Ulrich, who was sitting at the back of the church with his family and was not injured, said the church had

Houston Grand Jury Hears Testimony Against Medical Student in Arson Case

By ROB WOOD Associated Press Writer HOUSTON (AP) - An arson investigator for the Houston fire department testified Monday that Travis Morales, a former medical school student, was yelling "burn it, burn it," to a group that burned and looted several stores following a Mexican fiesta May 7. Manuel Caballero, said Travis Morales, 25, who dropped out of the Baylor College of Medicine in his third year, and Margolis Youngdahl, 24, urged the "yelling, screaming crowd" to burn buildings and to "get the pigs." The testimony came during a hearing before State District Judge Joe Keagans on a motion by defense attorneys to reduce the $500,000 bonds for Morales, Youngdahl, and Tomas Robert Hirschi, 24. Each is charged with felony riot, holding the three responsible for nine separate acts of violence that occurred in a park near a predominately Mexican-American section of Houston.

Caballero said he saw three cars burning and people throwing Molotov cocktails. He said Morales was using a bullhorn to urge on the crowd and that Ms. Youngdahl was walking in front of a group gathering at a shopping center and calling for them to get justice for Joe Campos Torres. Also called by the prosecution was Randy Southerland, owner of a variety store, said his building was destroyed by fire during the riot and that he suffered a loss of at least $50,000 in goods. Phil Archer, a newsmen for a Houston television station, said the crowd overturned a company car and destroyed equipment valued at $100,000. Archer was hit in the head by a thrown object and stabbed in the hip while filming the riot. He spent one week in the hospital and was still had scars on his face and walked with limp to the witness stand. Morales is the leader of a small group called People United Against Police Brutality.

He and the other two involved in the case were arrested shortly after a news conference on the steps of city hall May 12. More than 40 persons were arrested during disturbances at the park Sunday night, May 7 and early Monday morning, May 8. Three policemen were injured. Two convenience stores were looted and fire caused heavy damage to a bakery, a variety store, a laundry, and a department store. Joe Campos Torres drowned in Buffalo Bayou, a stream that flows through a section of downtown Houston, in May 1977 while in police custody. Three officers were convicted of violating the civil rights of Campos Torres and sentenced to one year in prison and 10-year suspended sentences. The light sentences handed down by U.S. District Judge Ross Sterling has brought protests from Mexican-Americans and an appeal by the U.S. Attorney's office. Barbs By PHIL PASTORET We have a continental-style drunk in the neighborhood - he drives on the left-hand side of the street. ## GAS COOKING OUTDOORS

Gas cooking outdoors sure makes sense in the summertime. It keeps the heat out, so your house stays cool. You save on air conditioning. Plus there's no charcoal or lighter fluid to buy, and no wait. Gas reaches cooking temperature fast and cooks full family dinners, everything your inside range and oven can cook, with that great outdoor flavor.

Take the heat out of the kitchen. Install a gas grill on the patio. It sure makes sense in the summertime, or anytime!

Jackson Nips Gold Sox

By The Associated Press
Western Division-leading San Antonio snapped a four-game Texas League losing streak Monday night, sliding past Tulsa 6-2 behind a six-hitter by Rick Nitz.

In other loop action, Midland took Arkansas, 6-4, Jackson nipped Amarillo, 3-2 and Shreveport powered past El Paso 10-7.

Nitz retired 14 straight Drillers during one stretch as he ran his record to 5-1 on the season.

San Antonio erupted for four runs in the sixth inning to break open the game. Mickey Hatcher's two-run single was the big blow.

Midland slipped into second place in the Western Division with its victory over Arkansas as El Paso dropped to third by losing to Shreveport.

Brian Rosinski had a two-run homer and Jim Buckner ripped a two-run single to pace the Midland attack.

Arkansas rallied for single runs in the fifth and seventh, then plated two more in the ninth, but couldn't overcome the Cubs' lead.

Dave Bialas struck three triples in Arkansas' losing effort.

Herman Segelke was the winner while Dan O'Brien took the loss.

El Paso blew a 5-0 lead when Shreveport sent 10 men to the plate in the seventh for five runs. Big blows were a double by Larry Littleton, who had four RBIs on the night, and a triple by Ernie Young.

Winner Dennis Davis ran his record to 2-3. The loser was Ken Schrom, primarily a reliever and making his first start of the season.

Jim Bestwick drove in two runs in the top of the ninth to give Jackson its narrow victory over Amarillo.

Bob Grote picked up the win and Tom Tellman absorbed the loss.

Dedication Ceremony

although youngsters in the summer baseball program are playing in the dirt and dust is a problem this year, subsequent sowing of grass should transform the appearance of the parks by next summer, and the baseball facilities will be a cause for civic pride for years to come. ## Pinch Hit Spurs Dodgers to 8-1 Win

By BRUCE LOWITT
It's not that Manny Mota is consciously thinking about trying to out Smokey Burgess as the king of the pinch hitters. It's just that it's going to work out that way anyway.

"I would like to play until I catch Smokey. I think it would be very important to be the greatest pinch hitter. But when I go to the plate I don't think about it too much," he said.

What he does is, win games for the Los Angeles Dodgers. . . like on Monday night, for example.

With the bases loaded in the eighth inning and the Dodgers locked in a 1-1 tie with San Diego, Manager Tom Lasorda called pitcher Don Sutton back from the on-deck circle and sent up the 40-year-old Mota.

And Mota sent a Bob Ovwinko pitch down the left field line for three runs. Before the carnage ended, four more runs scored in the inning, two on Vic Davalillo's bases-loaded single, and the Dodgers had a tidy 8-1 victory that jumped them in with San Francisco and Cincinnati, all virtually deadlocked for the National League West lead.

In the NL's only other action, Cincinnati trampled Atlanta 10-0 and Montreal beat Pittsburgh 5-2.

"That Mota's amazing," exclaimed Lasorda, "an outstanding man to have on the team." And he's delighted to have Davalillo around, too.

Dusty Baker's single, Lee Lacy's double and an intentional walk to Steve Yeager preceded Mota's hit. Dave Lopes ran for Mota, Bill North walked, then reliever Mark Lee's pickoff throw hit Lopes, who raced home as the ball bounced into center field. North, who reached third on the error, scored on Bill Russell's bunt. Reggie Smith's single and a walk to Ron Cey loaded the bases again and Davalillo singled to center.

With the victory the Dodgers are 24-15 with a .615 winning percentage. The idle Giants are .622 and the Red .610.

Reds 10, Braves 0
"I've seen articles that say that we can't hit," Ray Knight sneered. "And they always include me." Knight, included in the Reds' batting order as a late replacement for Pete Rose, crashed a three-run homer in the rout of the Braves.

Ken Griffey hit a two-run homer and Bill Bonham won his fifth game without a loss by limiting Atlanta to five hits in eight innings.

Expos 5, Pirates 2
For 71-3 innings, Montreal's Steve Rogers flirted with a no-hitter then Rennie Stennett got the 1,000th hit of his career. Before the seventh inning was over Pittsburgh had three more singles, one by Frank Taveras driving in two runs, and Rogers was in the clubhouse.

Seeking U.S. Open Spot

Mike Horton, golf pro at Pitman Municipal Golf Course, Monday qualified for the U.S. Open Golf Championship sectional qualifying round in Arlington. Horton remained in contention by firing a 71-71-142 at Hillcrest Country Club in Lubbock Monday. Four area golfers will go to the sectional tourney in Arlington June 12-13 where about 40 will compete for five spots in the U.S. Open.

Marshall Saves Twins In Bout With Rangers

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

When the Minnesota Twins are in trouble—these days, all they have to do is dial "M" for Marshall.

"His arm is indestructible," gleamed Minnesota Manager Gene Mauch after watching Mike Marshall save another game Monday night.

Marshall has truly been a subject for superlatives since his return to baseball just a week ago. In that period, the burly right-hander has won a game and saved four others, including Monday night's 2-0 victory over the Texas Rangers.

In five appearances in a Twins' uniform, Marshall is yet to give up an earned run. He has pitched a total of eight innings and allowed just one hit and one walk.

"I've seen the guy do so many wonderful things that it's hard for me to single out what he's doing now as any different," said Mauch, who once managed Marshall when both were with the Montreal Expos.

Marshall, winner of the Cy Young Award in 1974 with the Los Angeles Dodgers, made his last appearance in the majors with the Rangers last June. He appeared to be finished with baseball after injuring a knee, but the Twins took a chance on him, offering a contract on May 15.

The new life seems to have inspired Marshall to an intimacy he never had before with the press. Characteristically tight-lipped, Marshall appears to have opened a bit more in interviews. After his most recent success, he provided this bit of insight:

"The toughest situation in baseball is to come in and get one out at the end of an inning.

You've got to be right, right now. Fortunately, we accomplished that tonight."

Elsewhere in the American League, the Seattle Mariners routed the Kansas City Royals 10-1 and the Boston Red Sox edged the Toronto Blue Jays 5-4.

Texas Manager Billy Hunter said his Rangers "haven't been hitting well lately, but I know we will. If our guys hit two-thirds of their lifetime averages, we're going to get a lot of hits and win some games."

On the pennant race, Hunter said if anybody runs away with the American League West, "I think it will be our club, because we have better personnel. But I'll give the Twins an edge at first base."

At first for Minnesota is Red Carew, the major league's leading batter with a .403 mark.

Marshall came to the rescue of Geoff Zahn, who needed help in the eighth inning. The Twins' reliever nailed down Zahn's fourth victory and the Twin's sixth in their last seven games.

The Twins scored their runs on a force-play grounder by Dan Ford in the first and another by Butch Wynegar in the second off loser Jon Matlack. Jim Sundberg continued his hot streak for Texas by hitting in his 22nd straight game.

Mariners 10, Royals 1
Tom House scattered nine hits and Seattle took advantage of a sloppy Kansas City defense to route the Royals. House, who had been working primarily out of the bullpen in recent weeks, got the starting assignment because of a hectic schedule that has the Mariners playing nine games in seven days.

Red Sox 5, Blue Jays 4
Carl Yastrzemski belted a three-run homer in the eighth inning to lead Boston over Toronto and give rookie Alan Ripley his first major league victory. Yastrzemski's blast over-shadowed two home runs by Toronto's John Mayberry.

  8. Disrobe - float with clothes - 5 mins.
  9. Long shallow dive.
  10. Running front dive.
  11. 10-minute swim.

Anybody who's taken a Red Cross swim course knows how tough it can be. There's a good reason. We believe drowning is a serious business. Last year alone, we taught 2,589,203 Americans not to drown—in the seven different swim courses we offer all across the country. (Incidentally, most of the teaching — as with almost everything American Red Cross does — is done by dedicated volunteers.) A good many of the youngsters not only are learning to keep themselves safe. Thousands upon thousands of them are learning to become lifesavers. And the life they save — it just might be your own.

Foreign Companies Put Hands in American Till

NEW YORK (AP) - Although foreign investment in the United States dates back to the founding of the colonies, the "buy America" bug is experiencing a new wave of enthusiasm among foreign companies.
Within the past few years, there has been a dramatic increase in the number of foreign owned operations opening plants in the United States, or buying into U.S. companies. Real estate purchases also appear to be on the rise.
Purchase of farmland are particularly sensitive and difficult to track because foreign investors sometimes work through third parties to avoid the hostility of farmers who worry that prices will skyrocket and the land will lay idle.
In one such case, near Wichita Falls, Texas, wealthy Arabs reportedly purchased a track of land for $1,000 an acre last year when the going price should have been around $350 an acre, according to David Edwards, who is researching a book on international financing.
Some states are considering, or already have laws, to limit foreign ownership of land or other property. But in other areas foreign investors are being actively wooed because new businesses mean new jobs.
The State of Pennsylvania, for instance, was jubilant when Volkswagen chose New Stanton as the site for its first U.S. production plant. So far about 1,200 new jobs have been provided and officials estimate that eventually will grow to 5,000.
Because there are no reporting requirements for foreign investment, no one knows the total amount or types of investment and purchases.
But Richard Apar, a Commerce Department economist, notes it "has very definitely gone up in the past 10 years."

In other business developments this past week:
-The cost of mailing a letter will be going up on May 29 to 15 cents, two cents higher than the current first class letter rate.
-The total of wages, salaries and other personal income jumped sharply in April, in what economists saw as a sign that spending will remain strong and continue to spur the economy.
-The White House proposed a government tax credit program for private businesses who hire poor young workers. Government officials say the plan could result in nearly two million jobs for economically disadvantaged workers under age 24.

-Profits of corporations declined in the first quarter of this year, the government said. But Commerce Department officials predicted a rebound in the spring quarter. After tax profits in the first three months slipped 2 percent to $102.9 billion after rising 1.3 percent in the previous quarter.
-The Commerce Department also revised its earlier report on Gross National Product in the first three months, but it still showed a decline. The revised figure showed GNP fell at an annual rate of .4 percent instead of the .6 percent decline it initially reported.

Berkowitz Goes Berserk in Court

NEW YORK (AP) - David Berkowitz, the Son of Sam killer, was dragged from a Brooklyn courtroom Monday, kicking, biting and yelling as the boyfriend of one of his victims shouted obscenities at him. Members of the girl's family jumped to their feet and cursed the confessed murderer.
A judge postponed the sentencing for six murders until June 12 and ordered another psychiatric examination for Berkowitz, 24.
After he was brought briefly into the courtroom in handcuffs, Berkowitz began chanting, "Stacy was a whore!" over and over again. Stacy Moskowitz was the 1st of Berkowitz's murder victims.
Berkowitz also shouted, "That's right! That's right! I'd kill her again."
As 10 guards wrestled the 44-caliber killer from the court chamber, Robert Violante, the Moskowitz girl's date was also shot by Berkowitz, stood up in the courtroom and began shouting obscenities at him. Members of the Moskowitz family jumped to their feet and screamed curses at the pudgy former postal worker.
The girl's mother then broke down crying, and Violante sobbed into his hands.
The victim's father, Jerry Moskowitz, cried, "No Justice!" after Justice Joseph Corso of Brooklyn announced the sentencing Friday.
Earlier, as guards tried to bring Berkowitz into the courtroom the first time about 10 a.m., he lunged toward a window and had to be subdued. In the struggle, he bit and kicked several of the guards and one of them was taken to a hospital, according to a police source.

The extent of the guard's injuries was not known.
Edward McCarthy, aide to Bronx District Attorney Mario Merola, said Berkowitz told court authorities he did not want to be sentenced - "at least not today."
Berkowitz faced prison terms totaling up to 175 years.
Three judges from three boroughs - Brooklyn, the Bronx and Queens - had planned to deliver sentence in the same courtroom, taking the bench one at a time. The procedure was to be similar to that they followed two weeks ago, when Berkowitz admitted killing six people and wounding seven others during a 12-month shooting rampage.
Last year, Berkowitz offered to plead guilty but only if he was allowed to warn the world of the bloodthirsty demons that he said made him kill. Since then, Berkowitz says he has become a born-again Christian.

Henderson Endorses Jerry Sadler

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - John Henderson, defeated candidate for the railroad commission Monday endorsed Jerry Sadler for the commission in his runoff against John Poerner.
Henderson, 71, received 514,603 votes in losing by slightly over 300,000 votes to commissioner Mack Wallace in the May 6 Democratic primary.
Sadler, 70, led commissioner Poerner 656,069 to 408,283 in a separate four-man race but was forced into a runoff.

Bomb Explodes In Wasington

WASHINGTON (AP) - A small explosive device blew up Monday on the sidewalk near the Justice Department's headquarters, causing little damage. No injuries were reported.
District of Columbia police spokesman J.C. Gentile said bomb squad experts were attempting to determine what kind of device was used and who placed it on the ground under a sign reading "Department of Justice."
Hedda Polanski, a public information officer with the department, said the device was a pipebomb.
Police roped off the Constitution Avenue side of the Justice Department and police squads using specially trained dogs searched the area for other bombs.

Gentile said there were no immediate indication of who was responsible.
"The only sign of the explosion was a shiny metal shard about eight inches long on the sidewalk in front of the building."

In 1977, New York City was host to 1,850,000 overseas visitors, says the New York Convention and Visitors Bureau.

Bullet Coach Still Confident

LANDOVER, Md. (AP) - Can the Washington Bullets shake off the psychological effects of blowing a 19-point lead and losing the opening game of the National Basketball Association championship series to the Seattle SuperSonics?

"Sure we can, we have to," said Bullets Coach Dick Motta brushing off the suggestion that letting a game that was seemingly won slip away might have a lasting effect on his team. "The fact we lost was bad, but we can correct the things we did wrong."

Getting down to specifics, what do the Bullets - beaten 106-102 Sunday at Seattle - have to do to even the best-of-seven series which resumes Thursday night?

"We have to work harder on our inside game," said Motta. "When they came back in the fourth quarter, we did an awful job of standing around. We were lethargic. They outthrusted us. We went away from the things we do well - especially rebounding.

"If this trend continues, we're in trouble - but I don't think it will."

For one thing, Motta does not expect his club to get out-rebounded again, certainly not by as lopsided a margin as the 57-37 advantage Seattle enjoyed off the boards in the series opener, including a 21-8 edge in offensive rebounds.

"Going to the boards is our game, it's no secret," said Motta. "Offensive rebounding is one of our strengths and we've got to exploit this against Seattle."

Also, Motta expects more point production from his forwards, Bob Dandridge and Elvin Hayes, the team's top scorers during the regular season who managed just three baskets between them in the second half Sunday.

Dandridge was almost invisible, finishing the game with six points on 3-for-12 shooting. Dandridge, who had outplayed Philadelphia's Julius Erving in the playoff semifinals, was rendered ineffective by Seattle's John Johnson.

How did Johnson do it?

"I just try to apply as much pressure as I can and hope Bobby misses some shot," said Johnson. "He's not going to go around all night shooting layups or unmolesed jumps shots. He's going to have to shoot it in my face to make it."

Carlos Gibson, a junior on the Marshall basketball team, set an all-time Division 1 record for free-throw accuracy in the 1977-78 season. He made 84 of 89 foul shots for a .944 percentage.

Childish Exercises Observed in Sports

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

In the complex, tenxiled and gilded world of big-time professional sports, it often is difficult to realize that the components are not cold machines grinding out their million-dollar extravaganzas but actually human beings with normal frailties and sensitivities.

And sometimes they are confused, introverted individuals or maybe just immature kids who need understanding.

That was brought graphically to light in recent days with the latest eruption of dissension in the New York Yankees' clubhouse, not totally unexpected, and in the stable of the great 3-year-old race horse, Affirmed - totally shocking.

Two different situations in two widely separated sports, yet on common footing in that they both represented snap responses to frustration, wounded pride and absence of maturity.

Let's look at the second case first - the dramatic victory of Affirmed in last Saturday's Preakness.

It should have been a moment of great rejoicing for everyone connected with the effort - Lou and Patrice Wolfson, the owners and Patrice Wolfson, the owners; Laz Barrera, the cagey trainer, and 18-year-old Steve Cauthen, the jockey. It was time to laugh and celebrate.

But Barrera was upset first by the fact that Cauthen, flying in from New York after fulfilling a heavy riding schedule, reached Pimlico while the horses were being saddled for the big race.

The trainer's frayed nerves were further jabbed after the race when Pimlico officials whisked the young jockey aboard the single press box elevator while Barrera and his wife were shunted to the rear, forced to wait 20 minutes for the next trip.

Told of Barrera's chagrin, Cauthen was crestfallen. He said he had reached Pimlico as quickly as possible. He said he was a victim of circumstances in the elevator incident. Of Barrera, he said, "I love the guy."

The Yankees' incident is less excusable. These guys in pinstripes are grown men, champions of their sport, should be examples of maturity and decorum.

A couple of weeks ago, Manager Billy Martin got upset at Mickey Rivers when he felt his moody center fielder had loafed on a ball hit to the outfield. He benched Rivers. On the team's air charter, Martin became angry because two other Yankees, catcher Thurman Munson and pitcher Ken Holtzman, were playing cards with Rivers. He threatened to get rid of Holtzman, Rivers' main buddy on the team.

After serving his penance, Rivers returned to the lineup and won a couple of games with his hitting and flashy fielding. Rivers is a complex man, haunted by personal problems, but a certain .300 hitter.

Martin, an excellent field manager, seems to make no attempt to find out what bothers his sullen outfielder. Instead of talking to him man-to-man, he communicates through intermediaries. Rivers feels demeaned.

So Rivers sulks while Martin burns. It is a very childish exercise. The Yankees have some growing up to do.

Staub Enthused Over Young Tigers

By HAL BOCK
AP Sports Writer

Rusty Staub took off his baseball cap and donned his chef's hat the other day to cook a sumptuous lunch for some friends at his mid-Manhattan eatery.

The assignment was almost as tough for Staub as swinging against Nolan Ryan. "The kitchen's hot today and we needed three different sauces for you guys," said Rusty, who has turned his gourmet cooking hobby into a thriving business.

At 34, Staub is the senior citizen in the lineup of the surprising Detroit Tigers, who have been residing in first place in the East Division for most of the American League season. And Rusty can't hide his enthusiasm over the young Tigers.

Detroit's success has been built around some hot hitters, including Staub. Rusty is hitting .285, but the bat he likes to talk about most belongs to first baseman Jason Thompson, who is hitting a hefty .306 with 11 home runs and 29 runs batted in.

At second base and shortstop, Houk uses a full platoon with four youngsters. Rookies Lou Whitaker and Alan Trammell form one pair while Steve Dillard and Mark Wagner picture-of-patchwork, with Houk juggling bodies like Bob Sykes, Milt Wilcox and Jack Billingham while heavyweights like Mark Fidrych and Dave Rozema rest their ailing arms.

Put it all together and it spells first place so far for the Tigers and a whole lot of fun for the designated hitter, Chef Staub, who is swinging a productive bat and does quit a job with barbecued short ribs on his days off. "The kids have been great," said Rusty.

So was the veal picata.

Max McGee of the Green Bay Packers scored the first touchdown in Super Bowl history, catching a 37-yard pass from Bart Starr against Kansas City in 1967.

Freeman Williams of Portland State was the 1977-78 major college basketball scoring champion with an average of 35.9 per game.

The Hereford Brand Sports

"He's got some sweet swing," said Staub. "The first time I saw him swing, I knew he'd be something special. What's he got, 11 homers? He'll have 15 by the end of the month."

Thompson is, of course, an everyday player in Manager Ralph Houk's lineup, but the rest of the infield is a platoon operation that would make Houk's old boss, Casey Stengel, proud.

comprise the other. Whitaker and Trammell play against right-handers and Dillard and Wagner go against lefties. At third base, the platoon is veteran Aurelio Rodriguez and young Phil Mankowski and again, Houk has been successful with it.

The manager also platoons catchers, with Milt May playing against right-handers and Lance Parrish against lefties.
