Vote! Vote! Vote!!!

Tomorrow we go to the polls to cast our vote to decide an important question. What is the question? Is it to determine whether prohibition will destroy many appetite for strong drink? It is to determine whether it will put whiskey beyond the reach of every individual in Deaf Smith County? It is to prohibit any one from taking a drink in Deaf Smith County? No, this is not the question. The question is, "Shall I give my indorsement to the saloon and all its train of evils" or shall I refuse that indorsement. This is the question and whatever difficulties may present themselves this is the issue. Let us decide the issue, first from the stand point of our duty to ourselves, our families our county and our God and if this brings new obligations in the way of enforcement of law, let us make up our minds as to the question now at issue, indorsement or no indorsement, and when other phases of the matter present themselves, let assert ourselves in defense of the right that is ours.

Who would have any use for the legislator, who would refuse to condemn them by passing a law against it simply because he thought people would continue to steal after the passage of such laws? Who would respect the preacher who refuse to condemn sin because he could not eradicate sin entirely? The question is, "The Saloon versus the Church, the school the home" and we are called upon to vote for the interests of one or the other. It is not a question of expediency but a question of right or wrong, pure and simple, and we can not dodge it. We are called upon for an institution which openly declares that it will not obey the laws, that if it is condemned by law it will violate that law; an institution that defiantly warns us that it will not respect the will of the majority of will people, but promises that their will shall not be the law of the land. Let us come to the polls and vote, not for appetite, not for expediency, not for pocketbooks, or some one interested in the business, but for right, leaving the consequences to be seen and determined by honesty and honor of the officer-whose oath is on record for the enforcement of the law.

Two Appreciated Letters.

AMARILLO, TEXAS.

Sept. 29, 1900.

To The Reporter:—

While I have left your little town, I am by no means careless as to its welfare. I believe local option will be a great blessing to your town and would rejoice to know that the majority of the voters of Deaf Smith county would think the same and I feel that I know them well enough to expect nothing but for it to carry at the election. Whiskey is the main thing to draw her trade from its majority of consumers, but the fair dealings and progressiveness of your merchants and business men generally are the great drawing cards. If local option carries in Hereford my opinion is that the town will continue to build up with the substantial citizens that has been characteristic of it since the day it started. Citizens, guard your boys against every evil as our fathers did us. Respectfully, to the fountain of all evil, as appears in the Hereford Reporter of Sept. 13 under the caption of "Some Interrogatories."

F. T. DENSON,

We naturally expect this position from our religious papers. It requires no especial bravery for me, a writer of a Christian journal, to denounce the popular evils and at the same time, point to the saloon as the creator of these evils. It is part of "our stock in trade" and we run no danger of losing any influence. On the contrary we would lose both if we were silent. But when a circular journal and a young journal as well is brave enough to write "Some Interrogatories" then suddenly right and truth and all that goes to make home sacred and beautiful seem to be standing on a firmer foundation; we look out on a brighter world we feel that a better day with a cleaner light is dawning and our boys and girls seem safer. The friends of a clean living the fathers and who long to shield their children from the pit falls into which so many young feet are sitting owe a firm support to the Hereford REPORTER. May the journal become a mighty power in our great and growing west and it never be less than true.

A Protest.

The mob and lynch law has now reached the point of being alarming. So common has it become for the mob to take into their own hands the punishment of crime and burn or hang the criminal that public sensibilities are scarcely shocked at the announcement of the burning of a fiend at the stake, and so bold has the mob become that at the first provocation offered by one of the negro race, that the whole community is at fever-heat, then into frenzy demanding revenge by the blood of the criminal even to the point endangering the life of the officer, sworn to protect the life of the prisoner, breaking down the jails and prisons and thus becoming violators of law and committing crime in attempts to avenge a crime.

Can't there be some check upon this recklessness and bring our people to their senses and make them realize that this is bringing us to a condition that threatens the very fabric and purpose of our organic law.

I would not like that a public trial be given the rape-fiend for his dastardly acts and thus humiliate to the very dust an already enduring and enraged community, but let there be prescribed by our laws a court of swift justice eliminating the long routine of special venues and court routine and paper publications, but let him be dispatched by a due process of law without publicity. If necessary to comply with our constitutional requiring indictment by grand jury, make statutory provision allowing the district judge to order a special session of a grand jury for investigating and presenting indictments in such cases.

Two Business Changes

Owing to a shortness of help also a lack of space we were unable to mention last week that Dr. R. M. Black had disposed of his half interest in the furniture dealing firm of McGlothlin & Black to B. T. Hinton who would hereafter be actively associated with the business. Mr. Hinton needs introduction, no words of commendation from the REPORTER. He has been in business in Hereford since its inception and every body knows "Blev." This firm is already carrying a very large and varied stock of goods, and a car of the very latest designs and novelties in furniture is expected to arrive in a few days. Keep posted by watching their adv. and give them your trade.

Last Friday Andrew May sold his half interest in the livery firm of Cox & May to Chas. Davis, who with Tom Cox will continue the business. Mr. May took Mr. Davis' beautiful ranch and cattle in Castro County in exchange for his interest in the stable, paying difference in cash. His family will continue to reside in town. Mr. Davis is one of the well known young men of the Panhandle, who always makes a success of what ever he undertakes. The new firm Cox & Davis will restock and re-fit and re-plenish until they have one of the best stables in the country. Call and see them.

Judge Kerr, wife and children were in from their Dimmitt home in Castro county Saturday and Sunday. The Judge reports Dimmitt as growing as rapidly as ever.

Dissolution Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the livery firm of Hinton & May is this day dissolved by mutual consent, B. T. Hinton retiring. Andrew May will continue the business—assuming all indebtedness and collecting all outstanding accounts.

Notice to Shippers of Weekly Stock Train.

AMARILLO, TEXAS, August 29, 1901.

Carlsbad	12:30 a.m.	Monday
Roswell	4:00 "	"

Higgins	9:50 "	"
Gage	10:45 "	"
Woodward	11:35 "	"

Where it will connect with a train on the Atchison line that it is hoped will put cattle into Kansas City for Wednesday's market but it must be understood that we do not guarantee to make this market, as we are liable to be delayed in gathering shipments all along the road, as this train contemplates and may have to unload for feed and rest, in order to comply with the law. We have selected Wednesday's market for the reason that we are assured that the market on the following day, Thursday, is equally good. and our patrons are therefore protected as far as we can protect them against loss on account of possible delay as above suggested. We will still continue to handle train load shipments, with proper notice, on any day of the week as suits shipper. This weekly stock train is simply intended to take care of shipments that would otherwise have to be handled by way of freight trains and necessarily suffer considerable delay.

The store of Smith, Walker & Co is brilliantly lighted each night by two 16 candle power gas lamps and 3 immense oil lamps, which makes their store as brilliant as day.

Upon being asked by the REPORTER the occasion for so much display of light, the manager of the dry goods department replied, "The ladies and gentlemen, who during the day were too busy to do their shopping were compelled to come after dark and for their convenience, the firm kept their store as light as day." The REPORTER can but admire firms thoughtfulness and advises all those who during the day are prevented from doing their shopping, to go down in the evening and see their magnificent stock of goods that this firm has just received. 33t

The Sale Of Yesterday.

The sale of fine registered and unregistered cattle yesterday held by R. L. Faulkner & W. S. Davis of Missouri was a success in every particular. A goodly crowd was present and at times the bidding was very spirited. As a rule the stock brought good prices, still the prices were not what they would have been had the sale been held at any other time of the year and the cattle been in better condition. Mr. Faulkner assures us that he is pleased with the sale and that the next time he comes he will have stuff that can be unsurpassed any where. Many of our prominent stockmen invested yesterday, with the intention of improving their herds.

Smith Walker & Co. are anxious for your trade, dry goods and groceries. Give them a trial.
