Guerrero faces high heat

GUERRERO

AUSTIN (AP) - From radio programs to coffee shops, Texans are talking about Railroad Commission Chairman Lena Guerrero's admission that she isn't a college graduate and claim that she doesn't know how she became erroneously linked to the Phi Beta Kappa honors society.

University of Texas-Austin, as she has claimed for 12 years. It grew more heated this week. On Monday, Republican opponent Barry Williamson produced literature from Ms. Guerrero's 1984 state House campaign - which he said was prepared by her own advertising firm - that claimed she was a member of the prestigious Phi Beta Kappa honors society.

Vaughan said the issue of her graduation status was discussed with Ms. Guerrero or a member of her staff in February or March of 1991 after she was selected as an "Outstanding Young Texas Ex."

Bush playing commander's role

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) - President Bush is turning again to the powers of incumbency to present himself on the campaign trail as a commander in chief willing to change with the post-Cold War times. It's a tactic Bill Clinton can't match.

Bush said he also was asking Congress to shift $250 million from the Pentagon's weapons-buying account to increase government research on supercomputers and other high-tech items for use in the civilian economy.

war ended on his administration's watch. Thus, by implication, he can be trusted with America's economic security. Opinion polls, however, indicate most voters aren't accepting that argument.

Clinton addressed the National Guard shortly after the president and scrapped a planned response to the expected Bush attack, instead arguing that "national security begins with economic security."

Kauai residents picking up pieces

LIHUE, Hawaii (AP) - Residents returned to hurricane-ravaged Kauai for their first heartbreaking look at the damage. Health officials, meanwhile, warned people to bury spoiled food and issued instructions on digging latrines.

Limited water, telephone and electrical service were restored and the first commercial flights resumed Tuesday, four days after Hurricane Iniki hit.

Duette Rochelle, a 67-year-old retired nurse who left her house last week, was on one of the first flights back. She returned to find her carport torn off the house and her garden ruined.

"I am just sick," she said. "I just don't have the heart right now to do anything about this."

Mayor JoAnn Yukimura rejoiced over the first shipment of 43 million square feet of plastic tarp to protect what remains of many people's belongings from rain. "In my opinion we are making real great progress," she said.

The mayor asked people on the island of 52,000 residents to be sure they really needed to come to Kauai before getting on a plane.

"We are all existing on a very skeletal infrastructure," she said.

Still, a sense of order was returning.

The Red Cross said 8,000 people were still in shelters, but the number was dropping daily.

Homeowners carted trash, tree limbs and aluminum siding to their curbs. People lined up outside banks, which reopened Tuesday, and at markets and drugstores.

Phil Luttrell, who runs the Kauai Christian Academy, stood in the remains of his house and looked at the sky through what was once the roof. "If there is any time to be here and hang in here, now is the time," he said.

Iniki blasted Kauai on Friday, damaging half the island's 21,000 homes and most of its 70 resort hotels. Damage was estimated at $1 billion.

A fourth death was blamed on the storm Monday after a sergeant with the Hawaiian Air National Guard was pinned under a truck that flipped. Two fishermen whose boat sank during the hurricane remained missing.

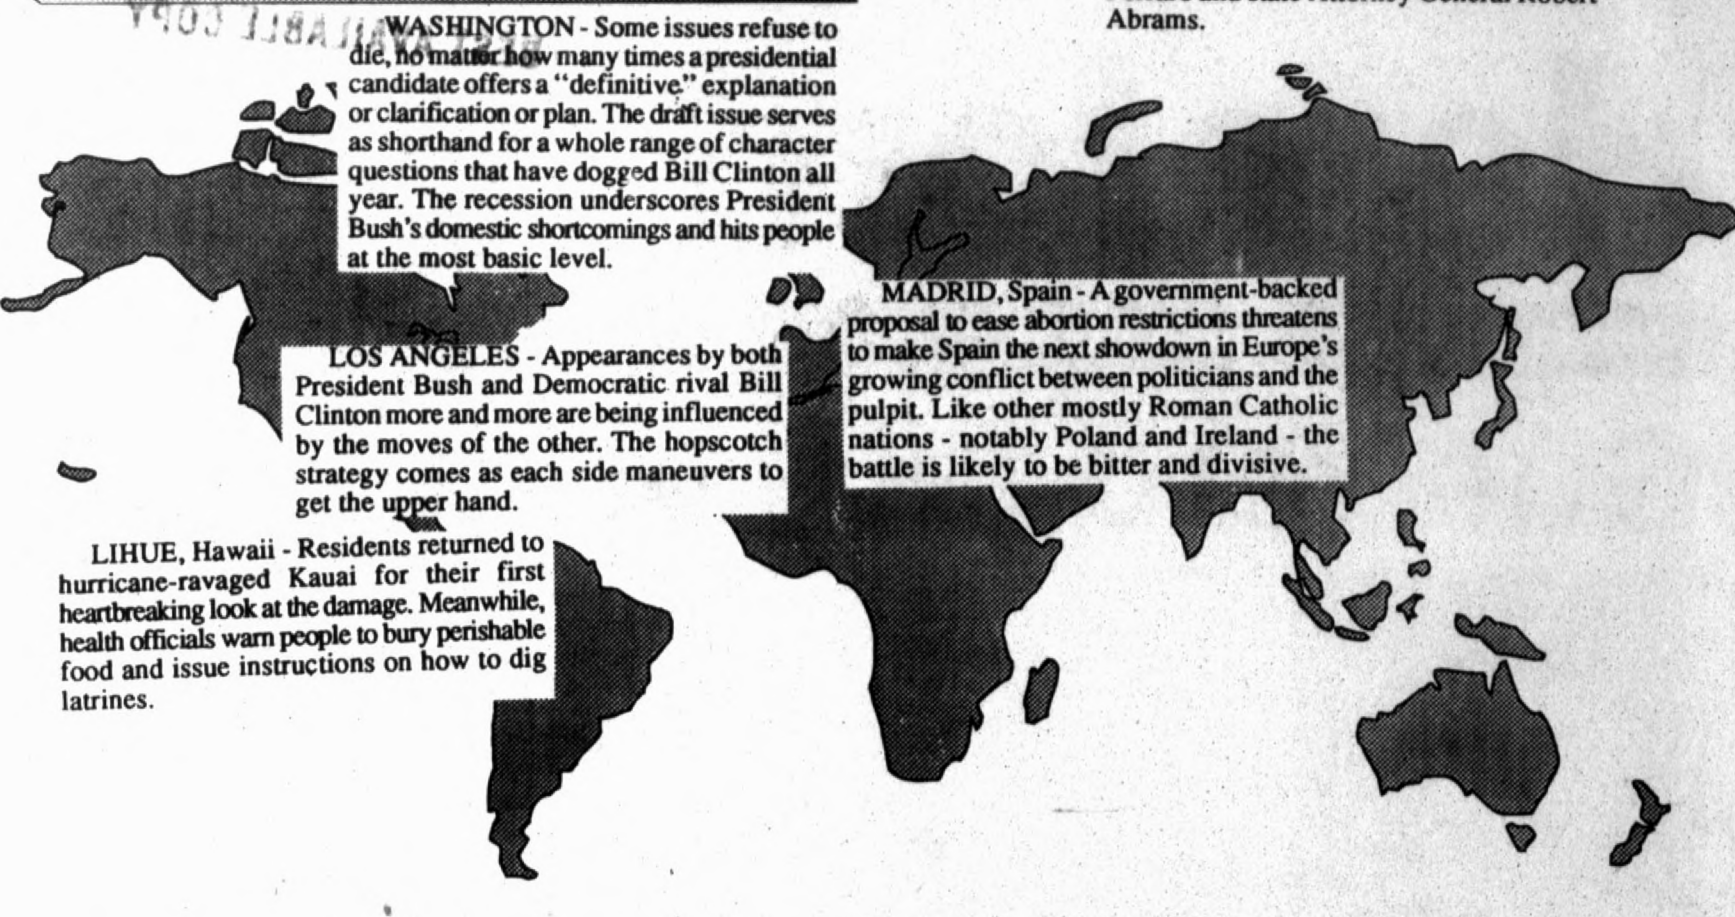

As of today, water service had been reconnected to 70 percent of the island. Wilcox Memorial Hospital in Lihue continued to depend on truck deliveries of water and brigades of people distributing it around the hospital.

Health officials warned residents to bury perishable food and issued instructions on how to build trench latrines. Rotting food and raw sewage can breed disease.

More than 3,000 military and federal personnel have been sent to the island.

The Navy ship USS Belleau Wood returned to Pearl Harbor for another load of bulldozers, generators and other relief supplies, while the Army ship LSV Gross made a second trip with National Guardsmen troops and engineering gear.

Telephone service was restored to 19,000 of the island's 30,000 customers.

WASHINGTON - Some issues refuse to die, no matter how many times a presidential candidate offers a "definitive" explanation or clarification or plan. The draft issue serves as shorthand for a whole range of character questions that have dogged Bill Clinton all year. The recession underscores President Bush's domestic shortcomings and his people at the most basic level.

LOS ANGELES - Appearances by both President Bush and Democratic rival Bill Clinton more and more are being influenced by the moves of the other. The hopscotch strategy comes as each side maneuvers to get the upper hand.

LIHUE, Hawaii - Residents returned to hurricane-ravaged Kauai for their first heartbreaking look at the damage. Meanwhile, health officials warn people to bury perishable food and issue instructions on how to dig latrines.

MADRID, Spain - A government-backed proposal to ease abortion restrictions threatens to make Spain the next showdown in Europe's growing conflict between politicians and the pulpit. Like other mostly Roman Catholic nations - notably Poland and Ireland - the battle is likely to be bitter and divisive.

ACROSS THE USA - The defeats of Chester Atkins of Massachusetts and Stephen Solarz of New York bring to a record 19 the number of House members ousted in primaries this year. New York's Democratic Senate race heads for a photo finish between Geraldine Ferraro and state Attorney General Robert Abrams.

Hispanic dropout rate still climbing

WASHINGTON (AP) - High school dropout rates are declining for blacks and whites but not for Hispanics, the Education Department said today.

The department's fourth annual dropout report to Congress showed that nationally, the percentage of students ages 15 through 24 in grades 10 through 12 who quit in a single year without completing high school declined about 34 percent, from a 6.1 percent rate in 1980 to 4 percent in 1991. That means about 348,000 students left school without graduating in 1991.

Using a slightly different age sampling, the department calculated that 12.5 percent of the 16-24 age group, or 3.9 million people, was not enrolled and had not completed high school in 1991, down from 14.1 percent in 1980. That rate reflects the cumulative effects of annual dropouts over a number of years.

Hispanic dropout rates have remained high during the last 20 years, while the dropout rates for whites and blacks declined between 1980 and 1991.

The report by the National Center for Education Statistics measures the dropout rate in three ways. Officials track those who leave high school each year; the proportion of the population who have not completed high school, regardless of when they dropped out; and a single group of students over a period of time.

From 1972 to 1991, the report showed, the dropout rates for 16-through-24-year-olds went from 21.3 percent to 13.6 percent. For whites in that age group, the rates dropped from 12.3 percent in 1972 to 8.9 percent in 1991. The rates are for those who have not completed high school, regardless of when they dropped out.

According to the report, the Hispanic dropout rate was 35.3 percent in 1991 for ages 16 through

24. In 1972, that rate was 34.3 percent.

Most of the eighth-grade students who were tracked over a period of time listed school-related reasons for leaving, such as "did not like school," had failing grades or "could not get along with teachers."

Most of the eighth-grade students who were tracked over a period of time listed school-related reasons for leaving, such as "did not like school," had failing grades or "could not get along with teachers." However, 31 percent of the female dropouts were pregnant.

Twenty-three of the nation's largest cities have nearly twice the number of dropouts as the national rate, when measured by the percentage of Americans from ages 16 through 19 who had not completed high school and were not currently enrolled in school. The report said 1.6 million Americans, or 11.2 percent, fall in that category.

The dropout rate among this age group soared in several California cities. Santa Ana reported a rate of 36.7 percent, followed by 27.8 in El Monte, 26.3 in Ontario, 24.9 in Pomona and 24 in Compton.

Overall, the dropout rate was above 20 percent in 23 of the 250 largest cities in the United States, above 20 percent in 133 counties and above 30 percent in 17 counties.

When the dropout rate is computed for the 16- through 19-year age group for each state, the District of Columbia had the highest rate with 19.1 percent, followed by 14.9 percent in Nevada, 14.3 in Arizona and in California, 14.2 in Florida and 14.1 in Georgia. North Dakota had the lowest dropout rate at 4.3 percent.

Services are pending at Rix Funeral Directors of Hereford.

He was a member of Summerfield Baptist Church, the American Angus Association and Texas Angus Association and National Cattlemen's Association. He served many years on the Extension Service Program Building Committee.

He married Patty Riley on August 31, 1946 in Dodge City, Kan.

He is survived by his wife; one son, Dr. Charles Atchley of Dimmitt; three daughters, Sue Powell of Hereford, Ann Perry of Bethel, Alaska, and Kay Stephens of Groom; five sisters, Gertrude Wade of Hereford, Christine Lance of Bentonville, Ark., Ruth Marceau of San Antonio; Annie Hawkins of Lamesa; and 10 grandchildren.

GUERRERO

She said she told the association to look under Maria E. or Maria Elena Guerrero. Two days later, when she showed up at the event, the program carried the notation, "BJ, 1980," she said.

"Leo and I looked at each other and said, 'Hmm, they must have found it,'" Ms. Guerrero said.

Ms. Guerrero, a Democrat, said she had been under the mistaken impression ever since the end of her college days that she had earned a bachelor's degree. She said she never intended to mislead anyone.

She said it was only after being questioned by news reporters that she discovered - to her shock - that she was four classroom hours short of the 120 hours required for a degree.

As for the Phi Beta Kappa claims in her old campaign and legislative biographies, she said, "I have never myself, I believe, made that claim."

While political analysts were assessing the fallout, so were voters. "Her credibility is zero," said a KLBJ caller. Another called Ms. Guerrero the victim of a backlash against Gov. Ann Richards and her "good ol' girl appointees." Offered a third, "The governor's reputation

- especially with her emphasis on ethics - is suffering."

Bill Cryer, the governor's press secretary, says Richards has no regrets about naming Ms. Guerrero as her first appointee. "I don't think Lena should resign," Cryer said. "If you look at Lena's record, she has been one of the most effective Railroad Commissioners we've ever had."

Several newspaper editorial pages Tuesday said the incident raises serious questions about Ms. Guerrero.

The Dallas Morning News editorialized: "'Honesty is the best policy,' wrote H.L. Mencken, 'unless, of course, you are an exceptionally good liar.' Lena Guerrero is in trouble on both counts."

Said the Houston Post: "For Guerrero to have used or allowed the use of such information repeatedly in her political career is not only deceitful, it's just plain dumb. If she had simply told the truth and corrected any misinformation before it was perpetuated, her career would probably have fared just as well."

FDIC banking on increasing profits

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. is taking a chance that this year's record bank profits will lead to permanent improvement for the troubled industry.

The FDIC board, in a 4-0 vote Tuesday, opted to spare most healthy banks and savings institutions from an insurance premium increase next year, partly retreating from a four-month-old proposal for a bigger rise. Bankers and the Bush administration applauded the decision, but Democrats in Congress said they wondered if the insolvent FDIC will be able to meet a 15-year deadline for repaying up to $75 billion in borrowing from taxpayers.

Rep. Charles Schumer, D-N.Y. and a member of the House Banking Committee, said record bank profits of $15.7 billion during the first six months of this year are based on temporarily low deposit rates.

"Huge problems still lie ahead," he said. Now, while profits are high, the FDIC "should have gotten while the getting was good," he said.

However, Bush administration officials pressed the quasi-independent FDIC for months to shrink the premium increase. They feared charging banks more to insure deposits up to $100,000 per account would reduce already crimped bank lending, desperately needed to spur the economy.

The FDIC decision "was responsible given the rapid and substantial improvement the industry has seen this year," said Deputy Treasury Secretary John Robson.

For 9,115 banks, or about 75 percent of the industry, the premium in 1993 will remain at 23 cents per $100 in deposits. For the worst 222 banks, the rate will jump to 31 cents. The remaining 2,703 banks will pay 26 cents, 29 cents or 30 cents.

The average premium will be 25.4 cents. Currently all banks pay the same 23-cent premium.

Herd netters tie Canyon

The Hereford High School tennis team played its first home match of the year Tuesday, tying Canyon 9-9. In a weird battle of the sexes, all the Hereford girls won and all the Canyon boys won.

The match with Canyon was a final tune-up for district play, which starts Saturday with a match at Borger. Hereford, Borger and Pampa would be the favorites for the two playoff spots.

Against Canyon, Hereford won the tiebreaker: Hereford's girls won all nine matches in straight sets, while two of the boys' matches went to three sets, so Hereford won two more sets than Canyon. Hereford's top doubles pair, Jamie Kapka and Donny Perales, lost to Pre Patel and Lane Canon, 6-1, 4-6, 6-4, and Canyon's Ben Browden beat Richard Drager, 4-6, 6-3, 7-5 in No. 6 singles.

"We played Canyon an extremely tough match," Herd coach Natalie Sims said. "All their players were back, which made this a legit tie."

Canyon has played recently without some of its top players, and has been beaten by teams the Eagles normally beat.

"It's a great feeling to do this well against such a great team," Sims said. "Our boys have got to start providing us with some team points. I am very excited about all the girls. They didn't give up a set. They all have their heads on straight and are ready for competition."

Here are the scores for all the matches. Again, all Hereford girls won and all Hereford boys lost.

Girls' singles: Bri Reinauer def. Erin Metcalf, 6-0, 6-2; Sherry Fuston def. Robin Pearcey, 6-0, 6-1; Michelle Berend def. Jill Hamrick, 6-1, 6-1; Emily Fuston def. Sarah Morian, 6-1, 6-4; Brooke Weishaar def. Sarah Parks, 6-1, 6-1; and Gabriela Gamez def. Wendy Brandt, 6-4, 6-1.

Girls' doubles: Reinauer/Berend def. Pearcey/Hamrick, 6-1, 6-1; Fuston/Fuston def. Morian/Metcalf, 7-5, 6-4; and Weishaar/Gamez def. Brandt/Parks, 6-4, 6-3.

Boys' singles: Sat Patel def. Jamie Kapka, 6-3, 6-4; Pre Patel def. Donny Perales, 6-1, 6-0; Steve Trevino def. Chris Lyles, 6-1, 6-3; Lane Canon def. Tom Jarecki, 6-1, 6-1; Brig Rindlesbacher def. Pete Vargas, 7-5, 6-0; and Ben Browden def. Richard Drager, 4-6, 6-3, 7-5.

Boys' doubles: P.Patel/Canon def. Kapka/Perales, 6-1, 4-6, 6-4; S.Patel/Trevino def. Lyles/Drager, 6-1, 6-0; and Rindlesbacher/Browden def. Perez/Jarecki, 6-4, 6-3.

Brock digs

Hereford's Michelle Brock digs a hard hit from a Tascosa player. Hereford played the Lady Rebels tough, but lost 16-14, 17-15, Tuesday in Hereford.

Lady Rebels squeak by Lady Whitefaces

The Lady Whitefaces volleyball team fell just a few timely hits short of beating Class 5A Tascosa Tuesday in Whiteface Gym. Tascosa squeaked by in two games, 16-14, 17-15.

In the first game, Hereford mistakes--especially problems with passing--and the hitting of Tascosa's Amy Mitchell staked the Lady Rebels to a 14-7 lead.

"We would make two or three service receive errors, then we'd correct it and be fine, and then in some other area of our game we'd be lax," Hereford coach Brenda Reeh said. "What hurt us most was missed serves at key times."

Hereford battled back to 14-11, and though the Herd had consecutive service errors, Tascosa matched them error for error. Hereford finally pulled to 14-14 when a Tascosa hit sailed long.

After a few more rotations, Tascosa got a point to lead 15-14. From that point, six straight kills--not mistakes--decided the next six side outs. After three more rotations, a Rebel kill ended the game.

"I think both teams worked real hard to get side-outs, but by the same token, both teams relaxed when they got the serve," Reeh said. "I can't remember how many times we went back and forth in the first game."

HJH gridgers have tough debut

The season opened Tuesday for the Hereford Junior High football teams, but only one of the eight teams came away with a win.

The seventh grade white B team beat Borger 12-0. Jeremiah Lozoya scored on a 40-yard run, and Hereford also got a touchdown on a fumble recovery in the end zone.

The eighth grade maroon A team played Dumas to a scoreless tie.

"We were inside the 20 three times and couldn't score," coach Rodney Allen said. "Dumas probably didn't have 40 yards total offense the whole game. We stuffed them. We just couldn't score."

Otherwise, it was bad news for HJH. The eighth maroon B team gave up 14 points in the fourth quarter and lost 22-0 to Dumas.

The eighth grade white A team fell

34-0 to Dumas, and the B team lost 12-6. Hereford's Alfredo Penalber scored on a 12-yard run to tie the game at 6-6 in the second quarter, but Dumas scored in the second half for the victory.

The seventh grade white A team lost 48-6 to Borger. Joey Galan ran 55 yards for Hereford's lone score.

Results of the seventh grade maroon teams were not reported.

ENMU boasts 3 former Whitefaces

Three former Hereford football players are on the roster at Eastern New Mexico University.

Anthony Tijerina, a 1990 graduate of Hereford High School, lettered for ENMU last year after redshirting during his freshmen year. He stands 6-foot-4 and weighs 250 pounds. He earned all-state honors during his senior season with the Herd.

ENMU boasts two freshmen defensive linemen from Hereford. Mark Kriegshauser, a 6-4, 200-pound end, and Monroe Timberlake, a 5-11, 230-pound tackle, both graduated from HHS in 1992. Timberlake twice was named first-team All-District 1-4A at tackle. Kriegshauser gained second-team honors at end during his senior year.

Athletics tighten grip on AL West

By BEN WALKER
AP Baseball Writer

All season, the Oakland Athletics have been one step in front of the Minnesota Twins. For two straight days, the A's have been one run ahead, too.

The Athletics again strengthened their strong hold on the AL West Tuesday, beating the second-place Twins 2-1 for their eighth straight victory.

Oakland, which beat Minnesota 3-2 Monday night at the Coliseum, leads the division by eight games. The A's reduced their magic number to 10, and tonight will face the fading World Series champions for the final time this season.

"The idea is to finish it," Oakland manager Tony La Russa said. "As far as I'm concerned, that means don't get sloppy, don't get comfortable and don't do anything we haven't been doing, and that's pushing."

In other games, Toronto defeated Cleveland 5-4, Baltimore beat Kansas City 2-1 in 14 innings, Milwaukee downed Boston 7-2, California stopped Seattle 9-0, Chicago beat New York 4-2 and Texas topped Detroit 6-5.

Rangers 6, Tigers 5

Jose Canseco homered onto the roof at Tiger Stadium and Rafael Palmeiro and Dean Palmer also hit home runs for Texas.

Palmeiro had three hits, including his homer, and drove in three runs.

Jose Guzman (14-11) gave up five hits in seven innings. Matt Whiteside pitched 1 2-3 innings for his first major league save.

Bill Gullickson (14-11) has won only one of his last seven starts.

Bucs, Expos to meet in showdown

By The Associated Press

For Pittsburgh and Montreal, this series is definitely a showdown. For the Atlanta Braves, though, their tussle with Cincinnati is more like a slowdown.

The Pirates and Expos, who'll finally play each other tonight after nearly a summer's worth of watching scoreboards, both won Tuesday night to set up a final run at the NL East.

In the West, however, the first-place Braves continued to shuffle along, knowing time is running out for Cincinnati. Even a 4-2 loss to the second-place Reds on Tuesday night still seemed like just a minor delay toward Atlanta's second-straight title.

There's so little drama at Riverfront Stadium that feisty

Cincinnati manager Lou Piniella concedes he's not real fired up playing Atlanta.

"We've got two more games with them and hopefully we can slow down their pennant express and solidify our hold on second place," Piniella said.

In the East, however, it looks like the two-time champion Pirates are going to have to battle the Expos the rest of the season. Pittsburgh has won 12 of its last 16 games, including a 4-2 victory over St. Louis Tuesday night, but still only holds a four-game lead over Montreal.

Elsewhere, it was Houston 9, San Francisco 6 in 11 innings; the New York Mets 4, the Chicago Cubs 2 in 7 1/2 innings; and Los Angeles 6, San Diego 3.

Astros 9, Giants 6

Jeff Bagwell's three-run homer in the 11th inning was his fifth hit of the game and helped Houston overcome a five-run lead.

Bagwell's 15th homer, a two-out shot to center field in the Astrodom off reliever Steve Reed, followed consecutive singles allowed by loser Dave Righetti (2-6).

Doug Jones (9-8) worked three innings, allowing a run on two hits, for the victory.

SPIKERS

game, Hereford started the second game well by getting the first point on a Robyn Watts kill. For the rest of the game, the biggest lead either team had was two points.

Hereford went from an 11-11 tie to a 14-12 lead. Then Hereford was called in the net for a Tascosa point, and a Mitchell kill tied the game.

Watts had consecutive kills to give Hereford a 15-14 lead, but Mitchell came through with another kill for a side out. Tascosa tied it at 15 on a controversial call. A Tascosa hit appeared long, but the referee overruled the line judge and called it in. On the next play, Hereford was called in the net for a 16-15 Tascosa lead. Two rotations later, a Tascosa ace ended the match.

The second game was close all the way and the first was close much of the way. Reeh said she had mixed emotions about how her team (now 9-6) stayed with Tascosa (13-5) and got some of the big points, but couldn't get the biggest points.

"In either game, I don't believe the momentum was on either team's side for very long. It was a dogfight for momentum," Reeh said. "I'm proud of the kids for being mean enough and tough enough to fight like that, but by the same token we didn't hold on to it long enough to win."

Watts led Hereford with 10 kills, followed by nine for Jill Robinson and six for Erin Bullard. Reeh said the other statistics were evenly distributed.

Tascosa's Mitchell, who wore number 10, had 20 kills.

Hereford travels to Lubbock Saturday for a 2 p.m. match with Coronado. Hereford beat Coronado earlier this season in the Lubbock Invitational.

Hereford got the better end of the first match Tuesday, as the Hereford junior varsity beat Tascosa's JV, 15-12, 15-9 to improve its record to 7-4.

Hereford trailed late in the first game until Beth Weatherly knocked down two consecutive Tascosa oversets to tie and take the lead at 13-12. Moments later, with Hereford up 14-12, Melissa Berend had a kill for a sideout then served as Crystal Kelley put down another Tascosa oversight for the win.

In the second game, Hereford led 7-0. Tascosa battled back to take a 8-7 lead, then could score only once more. Weatherly ended the game with a kill.

"It was a good night for us--any time you beat up on the big schools," coach Royce Spies said. "We had good serving. We served really tough, and I think that was the difference."

Nacogdoches duo leads high school honor roll

DALLAS (AP) - Nacogdoches' Todd Loyd is a jack of all trades. Teammate Karl Chatman is a master of one.

Loyd's best position is defensive back. But he could make a good argument for wide receiver.

Then there's his punting - he was among the state leaders with a 45-yard average last season - and he's a pretty good place kicker. He's also not bad at returning punts and kickoffs.

Chatman concentrates only on playing quarterback in the Dragons' wishbone offense. He shelved his spot at free safety, where he starred, and passed on to Loyd the chore of returning kicks.

The dynamic duo were all over the field last Friday night, helping Nacogdoches end a five-year losing streak to Henderson with a 37-25 victory. Their efforts put them atop The Associated Press schoolboy honor roll for the season's second week.

"I have a feeling they should have a couple of big nights ahead of them," Nacogdoches coach Bob French said.

Chatman completed six of nine passes for 205 yards and touchdowns of 79 and 68 yards caught by Loyd. He had a third reception for a total of 170 yards.

Chatman also rushed for 105 yards and two scores. Loyd broke up a two-point conversion and had two interceptions, the first coming in the end zone to kill Henderson's game-opening drive.

Chatman gave up his multiple roles to concentrate on playing quarterback because of a lack of depth at the position. Loyd was more than happy to assume the extra duties.

"He's always wanting to do more," French said. "He catches his breath coming off defense, then is next to me on the sidelines wanting to get in on offense. If he goes down, we have a lot of people to replace."

Two players who stepped up in dire circumstances last week were quarterbacks Adrian Woodson of Temple and Wink's Shea Scott.

Woodson, slowed by a stomach virus, completed 14 of 19 passes for 231 yards and two touchdowns leading the Wildcats to a 20-14 upset victory over then-No. 1 Odessa Permian. Temple took over the top ranking.

Scott threw touchdown passes of 94 and 40 yards in the final 61 seconds against Eunice, N.M., as Wink came from behind for a 22-16 victory.

The senior, who transferred to Wink this season when his father Sam Scott was named the school's head coach, also kicked a field goal and an extra point. The Scott family duo led Garden City into the playoffs the last two seasons.

In other outstanding individual performances:

Henderson's junior quarterback Jayson Sears, overshadowed by Chatman and Loyd, set a school record by throwing for 290 yards and three touchdowns on 13 of 32 attempts. He threw only six passes the previous week.

William Price of Houston Clear Brook had second consecutive 200-yard rushing game with 232 yards and three touchdowns in a 33-27 victory over Houston Furr.

Carthage retained its No. 1 ranking in 4A as Joey Blissett completed 24 of 30 passes for 277 yards and two touchdowns in a 30-7 victory over Jacksonville. Anthony Pope caught 10 passes for 123 yards and Charles Westmoreland had nine for 110 and both scores.

Casey Taber helped Schulenburg defending its No. 1 ranking by completing 14 of 15 passes for 226 yards and two touchdowns in a 49-14 rout of Rice Consolidated.

Byron Hanspard of DeSoto rushed for 262 yards on 18 carries in a 49-17 victory over Arlington Martin. He scored two touchdowns and a two-point conversion.

Fred Coleman of Tyler Lee caught three passes - all for touchdowns - in a 31-14 victory over Sulphur Springs. He has six TD receptions this season.

Leon Clark of South Garland gained 315 all-purpose yards in a 21-13 loss to Terrell. He had 35 rushes for 188 yards, three kick returns for 96 yards for 96 yards and two receptions.

Lewis Jackson of 2A's McGregor rushed for 203 yards and two touchdowns in a 19-13 victory over Burnet, knocking the Bulldogs out of the 3A poll.

Sophomore Charles Jackson rushed for 207 yards and all four of El Paso Parkland's touchdowns in a 28-7 victory over El Paso Cathedral.

Carlo Gooden of Hooks scored four touchdowns in a 34-0 victory over Mount Vernon. He scored on three rushes and returned a punt 61 yards for a touchdown.

Liberty's tandem of quarterback Jason Barranco and receiver Jason Ryan keyed a 43-31 victory over Willis. Barranco completed nine of 16 passes for 169 yards - all caught by Ryan, who turned three of them into touchdowns.

Junior Hodridge of Union Hill had 202 yards on 11 carries, including a 92-yard touchdown run in a 29-7 victory over Como-Pickton.

Eric Tippins of Fort Worth Eastern Hills rushed for 158 yards and two touchdowns, and gained another 100 yards on two receptions in a 33-29 loss to Arlington Bowie.

Richard Jones of Sweeny rushed for 235 yards and scored three times in a 38-27 victory over Columbia.

In 6-man, Christian Looney of McLean scored nine touchdowns in a 61-36 victory over Follett. He rushed 20 times for 156 yards and five touchdowns, and completed 15 of 24 attempts for 344 yards and four scores.

Packers pick up ex-Poke Noonan

DALLAS (AP) - Defensive tackle Danny Noonan, who was waived by the Dallas Cowboys after helping lead them to a 2-0 start, learned Tuesday that he's headed to the Green Bay Packers.

The winless Packers, whose defensive line has produced one sack in two weeks, claimed Noonan off the waiver wire. By going to Green Bay, Noonan will retain his $615,000 base salary.

"I think they're looking to play me at end in their 3-4. I'm excited. I just look forward to something new, starting over," Noonan said.

The Cowboys made the former

Nebraska all-American their No. 1 pick in the 1987 draft. He was released Monday to make room on the roster for Mark Stepnoski, a holdout for whom the club had obtained a two-week roster exemption after he signed just before the season's first game.

Cowboys head coach Jimmy Johnson called Noonan Tuesday afternoon to inform him that the Packers had claimed him.

"I think it's going to work out well for Danny," said Johnson, who added that trade discussions over the summer with Packers general manager Ron Wolf never produced an offer.

"They got one of their players (Shawn Patterson) hurt, so I talked with Ron several weeks ago. Really, the tone of the conversation was just that I didn't think there was much interest in Danny," Johnson said.

In announcing Noonan's release, the Cowboys said they had tried for several months to trade him, but received no offers.

"I'm looking forward to some cold weather," Noonan said.

"I've been kind of spoiled here, all this warm weather, but I like the cold."

Hoelscher speaks to local DAR Chapter

R.C. Hoelscher, local attorney, presented a program on a section of the Constitution of the United States for members of the Los Ciboleros Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The group met Thursday, Sept. 10, in the Heritage Room of the Deaf Smith County Library.

Hoelscher chose the section about the election of a president and gave some of the history of what is referred to as the Electoral College and some of the problems such as it took 35 votes for the House of Representatives to settle a tie between Thomas Jefferson and Aaron Burr. This brought on Amendment 12 which provides for separate choice of president and vice president who were at first chosen at the same vote. The person getting the largest vote became president and the second highest became vice president under the original Constitution.

Regent Charlotte Clark, who presided over the meeting, reported that during the August executive meeting, Helen Rose was appointed as chaplain and Leta Lee Neill corresponding secretary. She also gave the President General's Message from the summer issues of the DAR Magazine. This was about the challenges and changes to meet the needs of the modern women and to encourage the eligible younger women to consider DAR membership.

National Defense Committee Chairman Ruth Knox gave a report on an article, "Other Kinds of Censorship" by Virginia Mikler, chapter chairman of the Sallie Harrison Chapter, NSDAR. She pointed out that the omission of important news is a form of censorship and, using librarians as an example, said they "must guard against 'preemptive censorship.'" They must be ever cautious not to let their own political or religious biases result in selection of materials which would result in a lopsided collection.

Violet Reinauer donated a figure of Uncle Sam, made by her daughter-in-law, Kim Reinauer, to the chapter.

The meeting began by Regent Clark leading the chapter in the DAR Ritual with assistance from Chaplain Helen Rose. The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America was led by Mary Williamson and Patricia Robinson led the reading of the American's Creed. Violet Reinauer directed the singing of the National Anthem.

The next meeting will be held Oct. 8 in the home of Patricia Robinson.

Members present included Charlotte Clark, Mary Williamson, Ruth Knox, Violet Reinauer, Wanda Jones, Patricia Robinson, Mildred Sheffy, Margaret Ann Durham, Juanita Brown, Argen Draper, Lois Gilliland, Kathryn Ruga, Margaret Bell, Helen Rose and guests, Patricia Pugliese and Jeane Drury.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Recently, while stopped at a red light, I saw a man on the street corner holding a sign that said, "Vet. Homeless. Will Work for Food."

At that very moment, a teen-ager pulled into a nearby parking lot, walked over to the vet and handed him a bag of food from a fast-food chain. I was so moved, I nearly wept.

Today I spotted a young woman and her dog. Her sign said, "Homeless. Hungry. Can you help?" I purchased an extra-large sandwich, some bottled water and a bag of food for the dog. I gave her the bags along with a $20 bill. She was so grateful she cried when she thanked me.

For those who fear their handouts will go for cigarettes, alcohol or drugs, try ordering a second sandwich along with your own. It will make you feel better about yourself and the world in general.--Patti in Calif.

DEAR PATTI: Your letter brought back some memories of growing up during the Depression in Sioux City, Iowa.

I remember so well when my twin and I would walk on Fourth Street with our father, Abe Friedman. He was stopped often by down-and-out panhandlers, and he never turned anyone down.

On one occasion, when the panhandler was visibly drunk, I asked, "Why would you give that man money? He'll just buy more liquor. Can't you see how drunk he is?" Daddy replied, "That's probably true, but I can also see that I am much better off than he is." And then he slipped some money into the man's hand. We learned a lot from our father.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: May I answer the question, "What can be done to improve our schools?"

Ann, it is imperative that parents get involved in their children's problems. Nor should we continue to throw federal and state money out the window in an effort to change that which can be changed only in the home.

What WILL make a difference is spending time with our children. My husband and I both work, and our children attend day care, grade school and high school. School is only a small part of their lives. My husband and I volunteer to be coaches, bus drivers, sponsors and fund-raisers. Parents,

NEW YORK (AP) - The people who wear the clothes - like models Cindy Crawford and Naomi Campbell - the people who design the clothes - like Calvin Klein - and the people who buy the clothes - like Liza Minnelli and Ivana Trump - were on hand for a party that raised thousands of dollars for AIDS research.

John McEnroe and wife Tatum O'Neal, filmmaker Spike Lee and tennis player Monica Seles also attended designer Gianni Versace's Rock 'N Rule party Monday night. Dozens wore Versace's leather outfits with bondage overtones.

Entertainment included the musical group C&C Music Factory. The event raised about $180,000 for the American Foundation for AIDS Research.

don't say, "I don't have time." MAKE time.

Vow to spend 10 minutes a day with each child. Talk about anything on his or her mind. Check their homework. Praise grades and skills. Read aloud. Provide interest and support for extracurricular programs, drug awareness, ball games and church activities. Ask your library to sponsor free story hours for children of all ages.

Our high school basketball team helped coach a league for elementary school students. Parents were called on to keep score and officiate. The big kids had a ball, and the little ones now have excellent role models.

Only when we take responsibility as parents will the school systems change.--J.R., Hondo, Texas

DEAR TEXAS: What a terrific letter--loaded with constructive suggestions. The name of the game is involvement. Parents who love their children will find the time and energy to get involved, and it will be the best investment they will ever make. Trust me.

Get on the road again with old denim jeans

Some denim jeans seem to last forever. But if you have jeans that have seen better days and you would just like to recycle them, make this simple and sturdy car organizer/tote to corral your kids' stuff for jaunts around town.

When you arrive at the dentist's or doctor's office, sling the tote over your shoulder and enjoy stashed-away games, books and projects in the waiting room, to keep your kids occupied and calm before your appointment.

Here's how to make the recycled jean tote:

Cut off the legs of an old, clean pair of adult-size jeans. You will be using only the top portion of the jeans for the project. Turn the top portion inside out and sew a 1/2 inch seam along the cut edge. (Be sure the cut edge is even before you sew.) Turn the denim right side out. For a strap, sew a 20-inch length of sturdy ribbon to the top sides or the organizer at the side seams of the waistband.

To use, drape the organizer over the headrest on the back of the front seat of your car. Fill the pockets and the roomy center section with storybooks, sticker and coloring books, markers, magnetic car games, finger puppets, tissues, juice cans, liter bag and favorite audio cassettes, if you wish. Your kids' stuff will be at arm's reach while on a trip or for driving around town.

Two Dawn residents return from Ukraine

Two residents of the Dawn area have returned from an evangelistic crusade in Ukraine, a republic of the former Soviet Union.

They are Ray and Arless Stewart. Stewart is a retired farmer and rancher, and she is a homemaker. The Stewarts are members of First Baptist Church in Dawn.

The Stewarts were involved in local church activities in the Donetsk area of Ukraine as well as a central crusade in the Ice Palace of the city. In addition, there were open-air services, street witnessing, and a school of evangelism.

The Stewarts were part of a 49-person team led by Jim Baker, an evangelist from Orlando, Florida. The trip was under the auspices of SBC-Russia Partnership, a Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board volunteer program.

The Ponder team spent eight days in Donetsk. During the first four days the entire group was divided into nine teams for as many churches in the area. On the evening of the fifth day there was an open-air service on Lenin Square in Donetsk. The final three days were reserved for a central crusade in the city's Ice Palace.

Donetsk is a city of about 1 million people.

Ponder indicated that there were more than 12,500 professions of faith in Jesus Christ during the eight days. He said that in the three nights of the central crusade there were more than 10,500 such professions. Following the open-air service on Lenin Square, there were 789 professions of faith, he noted. During church services there were reported 807 professions, and there were 338 additional professions in street witnessing situations.

The team distributed 40,000 copies of the New Testament and scripture portions, he said.

In order to forestall jet lag as much as possible, the team spent one day in St. Petersburg, Russia, on the way to Donetsk and a day and a half in Moscow and one day in Amsterdam on the return trip.

The 49-person team was gathered from 12 states.

Travel arrangements for the trip were made by Heritage Travel of Louisville, Kentucky. The president of Heritage Travel is Wayne Dehoney, a former president of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Mrs. Stewart said, "Ray and I were on our 12th mission to share Jesus at various parts in the world."

"It was very encouraging to see the depth of faith, the tenacity of the patriarchs, and the love of the Ukrainian people. I hope that people in the United States would have the courage under oppression to be faithful to the Lord as these Ukrainians have been. Hopefully, we will never have to be tested as they have."

"We saw pictures of 'brothers who were torn to bits by dogs in prison camps, one dear saint of 84 years who endured Siberian labor camps, and one who lost his mind because of torture. Many simply disappeared."

"This was a spiritually moving experience."

Stewart added, "While waiting to Keepsake magic

If you kids' collections and keepsakes from summer camp, strolls on the beach or autumn nature walks are showing up in nooks and crannies all over the house, here are some ways to contain the treasures while at the same time spurring on your child's creativity.

-Glue small pinecones or seashells on picture frames. If you've picked up old frames at garage sales this summer, be sure rusty nails and sharp wires are removed. Enlarge a photo from your vacation or from the place you collected the pinecones. Mat the photo and display it in the frame. Label the location and date on the matting. If you don't have a photo, your child might enjoy drawing or painting a picture of summer memories.

-Use a glue gun (with adult assistance) or household glue to affix small shells, feathers, etc. to the top rim of kid-size sunglasses. Add beads, glitter and bows for more pizzazz. Wear the sunglasses on a sunny day or use them for the makings of a costume for a back-yard play or for Halloween.

-To create a unique vase for the kitchen table, glue the collectibles and craft supplies on the outside of an empty coffee can. Arrange dried weeds and colorful leaves in the can for a fabulous centerpiece. For fresh flowers, place a jar in the can, fill the jar with water and arrange the flowers.

-Set aside a special "nature table" in a family room or bedroom. As your child's collection grows, arrange and display the items for your child to identify and talk about when friends and relatives visit.

Military Muster

Marine Lance Cpl. Rodolfo Vasquez, son of Rodolfo E. and Connie Vasquez of 143 Ranger, Hereford, Tx. recently returned from a six-month deployment to Okinawa, Japan and from participating in exercise Cobra Gold '92 with 1st Battalion, 7th Marines, 1st Marine Division, Twentynine Palms, Ca.

The joint/combined exercise involved U.S. military forces and military members from the Kingdom of Thailand. Vasquez participated in various land operations in Sattahip and Chantburi provinces approximately 75 miles southeast of Bangkok. The purpose of the exercise is to give both military forces the opportunity to train together to strengthen and learn from each other.

Vasquez helped his battalion compose the ground combat element for the 37th Marine Expeditionary Unit throughout the exercise.

The 1990 graduate of Hereford High School joined the Marine Corps in March 1991.

FLOWER POTS

Q. I'm getting ready to move and am giving away many of my potted plants but keeping the pots. How can I clean the pots? — Ronnie, Atlanta, Ga.

A. It's as easy as washing them in liquid detergent and hot water. Then to be sure you kill all bacteria, soak them in a solution of 1 cup of chlorine bleach to a gallon or so of water. Rinse well and dry before packing. — Heloise

DESK ORGANIZER

Dear Heloise: I use an old muffin tin for a desk-drawer organizer. It fits perfectly into the drawer and holds paper clips, address labels, rubber bands and stamps — all the little things I used to have to dig through the drawer to find. — David, Elizabethtown, Ky.

Dripping with wonder

If you visit a real cave with stalactites and stalagmites, the experience can be breathtaking. Here's a fun science activity you can try at home to observe the formation of stalactites and stalagmites on your own turf.

You will need:
 2 small glass baby-food jars with labels removed;
 6 teaspoons baking soda;
 1 large disposable plastic plate household glue;
 1 length of wool yarn, 14 inches long;

Hot water.
 To keep the jars steady and in place during the experiment, glue the jars to the plate three to four inches apart. Fill each jar with hot water. Stir three teaspoons of baking soda into the water in each jar. Set the plate on a shelf or table, in a place where the jars are least likely to be disturbed.

Put the ends of the yarn in the solution in each jar, allowing the yarn to hang between the jars without touching the plate. After two to three days, observe stalagmites forming on the plate and stalactite forming on the jars. Use a magnifying glass to observe the formations during the initial stages.

How it works: The baking soda and water solution travels up the yarn and drips onto the plate. The water evaporates and leaves the baking soda in a pile, forming stalagmites. Baking soda on the yarn forms stalactites. In underground caves, the formations develop from minerals dissolved in slowly dripping water.

For extra fun, make cave drawings on a piece of paper cut from a recycled brown grocery bag. Use colors from nature to brighten the artwork by rubbing nontoxic plants such as geranium petals or blades of grass on the drawings. Hang the cave drawings behind the experiment.

BRANSON, Mo. (AP) - Wayne Newton, who filed for bankruptcy protection last month, is opening a $10 million theater without a penny of his own money.

"I have no financial stake other than if it doesn't open, I've got 20 weeks I've got to book," the 50-year-old entertainer said Tuesday.

The Wayne Newton Theater is being backed by a group of investors. According to Newton's bankruptcy filing, he has an estimated $20 million in debts.

Construction has only just begun on the 3,000-seat theater in this country music mecca in the Ozarks, but Newton said he has scheduled the first performance for next May.
