Five injured at Palo Duro this morning

Hereford and Amarillo officials expected tonight's Palo Duro vs. Hereford football game to be played despite a shooting this morning at Palo Duro High School.

One person was shot at close range by a gunman at Palo Duro High School at the end of the school's pep rally this morning. The shooting caused students and others to panic. At least four persons were seriously injured in the ensuing panic and were taken to Northwest Texas Hospital.

Palo Duro officials dismissed school after the pep rally. "As far as we know the game is still on," said Hereford head football coach and boys athletic director Danny Haney. "We talked with Sonny Lang (Amarillo ISD athletic director) and he said no one on the football team was injured. It's a terrible deal and we just hope everyone comes out okay."

Bush begins selling plan

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Bush is taking his repackaged economic renewal agenda to Midwestern voters today, asking for an election mandate to "tax less, spend less, cut the deficit" and curb the federal government.

His Democratic challenger and congressional leaders scoffed at what they called more of the same.

Bush was campaigning in Joplin and Kansas City, Mo., and he was planning to add a stop in St. Louis on his way out of the state to announce that the United States plans to sell F-15 fighter aircraft to Saudi Arabia, campaign sources said.

St. Louis-based McDonnell Douglas Corp. manufactures the aircraft, and the Bush administration's plan to sell 72 of the F-15s to Saudi Arabia would save thousands of jobs in St. Louis and Tulsa, Okla.

On Thursday, Bush made a high-profile effort to put a new look on his economic proposals by combining them in one package.

He also outlined second-term goals that included a start toward doubling the size of the sluggish U.S. economy by the early years of the 21st century.

"We can do that," Bush claimed. The president acknowledged that economic growth has been anemic, but won't stay that way.

In a speech billed as a major campaign milestone, Bush told the Economic Club of Detroit on Thursday that he was prepared to slash White House and congressional spending, and to cut top-level federal salaries as part of a quest to save money that could finance a 1 percentage point cut in the income tax rate along with capital gains and small business tax reductions.

Bush didn't advocate those specific cuts, just cited them as examples of what could be done with the savings "if we discipline spending." He's sought a capital gains tax reduction since taking office, but Congress has balked at his terms.

The Bush program was printed in a 29-page campaign pamphlet, "Agenda for American Renewal" with Bush's signature emblazoned on the dark blue cover. Five-minute advertisements highlighting the Bush address were broadcast as campaign ads on the television networks Thursday night, and voters were invited to call in for copies of the booklet.

Sen. Bob Dole of Kansas, the Republican leader, said Bush was "right on track" and promised to seek enactment of his proposed cuts in the legislative budget. That's been tried before, and rejected.

Sen. George Mitchell of Maine, leader of the Democratic majority, dismissed Bush's suggestion that the economy could double in size in the next decade under his proposals. He said at the economic growth rate of the Bush years so far, it would take 139 years, not 10.

President's Proposals

Here's what President Bush proposed in his talk Thursday:

- Across-the-board rate cut of one percent, a reduction of the small business tax rate from 15 percent to 10 percent, and a reduction of the capital gains tax, if Congress will follow through with $132 billion in spending cuts Bush has placed on the table.
- Bush will cut the White House budget by one-third if Congress will cut its budget by one-third.
- A five percent pay cut for all federal employees making more than $75,000 a year.
- A deficit reduction checkoff box on income tax returns.

Ready for big performance tonight

Andrew's eco-Holocaust could be big Florida boon

MIAMI (AP) - Hurricane Andrew inflicted an eco-holocaust on south Florida, crushing the Everglades, scouring coral reefs and turning protected pinelands into trash dumps. Now, the cleanup is adding to the damage, as the open burning of huge mounds of debris fills the skies with toxic smoke.

But environmentalists say the storm also brought lessons and opportunities that could ultimately be a boon.

"Nature has basically done some housecleaning here," said Joe Podgor of Friends of the Everglades. "She's wiped off the earth the trees, houses and things that don't fit into the environment. It's a harsh, harsh lesson to learn."

Although nature here has lived with and adapted to hurricanes for thousands of years, many wild areas were devastated, at least in the short run.

Hardwood hammocks, islands of trees that dot the Everglades and provide refuge for some wildlife, were laid flat when Andrew marched across the Florida Peninsula.

More than 10,000 acres of mangrove wetlands, which filter pollutants and provide nurseries for fish, were badly damaged. The border of mangroves on the Gulf Coast was obliterated, said Everglades biologist Mike Robblee.

Coral reefs north of Key Largo suffered varying degrees of damage.

The more sensitive elkhorn coral broke off along many stretches.

Many of Dade County's dwindling natural pineland tracts were mowed down by Andrew's winds. The tracts support several endangered species - the sabal palm, which is Florida's state tree; the rimrock crowned snake; the indigo snake; and atala butterfly.

The biggest fear is not what nature did to nature, however, but what the cleanup and reconstruction may be doing.

The Army Corps of Engineers is investigating reports that overeager contractors bulldozed federally-protected pinelands to make room to burn tons of debris, said corps spokesman David Rich.

First Lady defends president's actions

LUBBOCK (AP) - First Lady Barbara Bush has promised the president would not make any cuts in Social Security or Medicare if re-elected.

"Every campaign year the opponents always say you are going to cut Social Security," Mrs. Bush told reporters during a West Texas campaign swing Thursday. "We are not going to cut Social Security or Medicare. That is the biggest campaign gimmick in the world."

"George Bush and President Ronald Reagan strengthened Social Security. It's not going to be touched."

While touring a senior citizens home, the first lady also defended the president against Democratic attacks that his view on parental leave for medical emergencies is anti-family.

Democrats on Thursday challenged Bush to back up his "family values" platform by passing a parental leave program, requiring companies with 50 employees or more to provide up to 12 weeks of leave for childbirth or a medical emergency.

The House on Thursday sent to the White House the emergency leave bill that Democrats said would boost family values. But the vote fell far short of the two-thirds majority needed to override a veto by Bush.

The House approved the measure 241-161.

"George is for family leaves but it should be voluntary, not mandatory," Mrs. Bush said Thursday in Lubbock responding to questions from reporters.

Bush vetoed a similar bill two years ago, claiming it would be a burden on business.

"This bill is about decency, giving working men and women the right to be at home in time of emergencies," said U.S. Rep. William Clay, D-Mo. "Let's vote and we will see who is opposed to family values and who supports them."

When asked if she thought the president would veto the updated bill, Mrs. Bush responded, "I have no idea ... but he feels it would break many, many businesses."

Mrs. Bush criticized Democratic challenger Bill Clinton as a tax and spender who robbed from Arkansas' social programs as governor to beef up that state's economy.

The first lady said "he (Clinton) took all the money out of the senior citizen places and put it into the economy this year. I mean that's a cinch."

Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro, who is heading Clinton's campaign in Texas, said Thursday the first lady is misinformed.

"That's just not true. And if it were true that he was dipping into social programs to help Arkansas' economy you would have heard about it somewhere else besides Lubbock. That would be headline news," Mauro said.

"If you look at the economy of Arkansas, you will see gradual improvement over the 11 years," Mauro added. "He has worked diligently to improve their economy every year."

She said Bush will do well in Lubbock, which is commonly referred to as the president's pulse of America.

Kingsmill residents leery of new Celanese plan to buy houses

KINGSMILL (AP) - Carolyn Hood says it may not be enough for a Panhandle petrochemical company to buy her community.

Amidst allegations of groundwater contamination, the Hoechst Celanese petrochemical plant in Pampa is considering buying the tiny communities of Kingsmill and Cabot Camp, where 100 residents live in 35 homes.

Celanese officials have not been officially blamed for polluting the water in the towns bordering the plant. But they are taking responsibility.

"We have stated that if there is a reasonable possibility that the Kingsmill well problem stems even in part from our plant, we will take responsible action," Celanese plant manager Jerry Moore said Wednesday in a prepared statement. "We are now at that point."

But Ms. Hood says that might not be enough.

"Since we know the extent of the contamination, we need to have major medical (insurance) as exemplary damages," she said. "Our fear right now is, in a few years, we'll come down with a serious illness. It's not just our property now - it's our lives."

The Texas Water Commission said in May the Kingsmill Community Water Supply Corp. water well was contaminated with benzene in concentrations as high as 79.9 parts per billion.

The federal Environmental Protection Agency standard for benzene allowable in drinking water is 5 parts per billion.

Benzene is a suspected human carcinogen and appears on a government list of extremely hazardous substances, according to the state water commission.

Moore said his statement was not an admission that Celanese is responsible for the contamination of the water well.

"In all likelihood, a single source of this contamination will never be defined," Moore said. "But our values say we're going to handle this like responsible people."

Celanese, which was established near Pampa in 1952, produces acetic acid and acetic anhydride.

Moore said Wednesday's offer involves about 35 homes serviced by the contaminated well.

The land in question is about seven miles west of Pampa and less than a mile west of the Celanese plant, and another 40 acres in Cabot Camp, which is directly north of the plant, Moore said.

Moore said the appraised value of the property would be non-negotiable, and he said no deadline had been established for residents to accept the company's offer.

News digest

DETROIT - The White House candidate is introduced as "the man with the plan" and in fact he has one - 13 proposals he wants Congress to enact in his first 100 days. Not a bad strategy for a fresh new face in a national campaign. But this is a familiar face and the election is in several weeks.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. - Whatever the subject, Bill Clinton is fond of calling his approach neither liberal nor conservative. "It's new and it's different," is his favorite label, and it's one Clinton hopes voters attach not only to his policies but to him as well.

MIAMI - Hurricane Andrew inflicted an eco-holocaust on south Florida, crushing the Everglades, scouring coral reefs and turning protected pinelands into trash dumps. Environmentalists say the storm provided lessons and opportunities that ultimately could be a boon.

WASHINGTON - A federal grand jury indictment alleges the House Post Office operated as a favor mill for lawmakers, in which their personal checks were cashed and their campaign donations delivered by congressional employees on government time.

SARAJEVO, Bosnia-Herzegovina - The chief European and U.N. peace negotiators arrive to find "ghastly" conditions in the Bosnian capital, as U.N. Secretary-General Boutros Boutros-Ghali recommends that the United Nations send up to 6,000 more troops to the region.

Minorities criticize health task force

AUSTIN (AP) - Minority groups are criticizing a state task force for backing away from a recommendation to establish a public health insurance plan to cover all Texans.

"The revised recommendation, which only speaks to health care for children and women when they are pregnant, pits vulnerable groups against one another," said Rep. Fred Blair, D-Dallas.

The Governor's Health Policy Task Force originally suggested that the state administer a health insurance plan that replaced private insurance and provided all Texans with basic coverage.

Business and insurance representatives criticized that idea as "socialized medicine." The task force then lowered its goal to recommend providing health coverage for children and pregnant women.

"The first proposal offered a real solution," Blair said Thursday. "But it has been replaced with one which seeks to bamboozle the public with the old scam of children and pregnant women first."

"The lack of care for the elderly in the draft report is a disgrace," he said.

The Texas Minority Health Network, an informal statewide group of mostly blacks and Hispanics, threw copies of the task force report in trash bins.

Members of the group said comprehensive health coverage for all Texans is needed, especially for minorities who suffer from diseases more often than whites and die at an earlier age.

The group's action and statements came as health professionals from across the state gathered for a conference on health problems among minorities in Texas.

"There is an unacceptable crisis in health care among people of color in Texas which the task force has ultimately failed to address entirely," Blair said.

The task force has come under mounting criticism since it changed its recommendation. On Tuesday, a coalition of citizen groups called on the Legislature to immediately extend health care coverage to all Texans.

Currently, between 3 million and 4 million Texans have no health insurance.

Gov. Ann Richards has said she wants health care reform to be one of the major topics tackled by lawmakers during the regular legislative session that starts in January.

Tailhook resolution months away

WASHINGTON (AP) - Senior Pentagon sources say it may be several more months before charges of sex abuse from the infamous Tailhook convention of a year ago are formally aired.

Top Pentagon officials, speaking on condition of anonymity, say the independent probe being conducted by the Pentagon's inspector general into the events at the convention in Las Vegas will not be ready for release until December.

Meanwhile, the inspector general's office will release one report that has been completed in connection with the incident, where at least 26 women say they were sexually assaulted by drunken Navy and Marine Corps aviators.

The first report will assess whether the Navy's bureaucracy botched its handling of the incident, and it will be made public in about two weeks, the sources said this week.

In any case, top Pentagon officials said they expect "multiple assault cases" to be filed against military officers who attended the convention because of the weight of evidence that has already been compiled.

"It's really ugly," one official said of the evidence of sex harassment gleaned so far.

The inspector general cannot recommend that the charges be filed, but in the second report, expected in December, he will lay out the evidence and state the violations of the military code that have occurred.

The official indicated that the Navy would have no choice but to bring charges in many of the cases, given the weight of evidence being compiled.

The incident has haunted the Navy and Marine Corps for nearly a year.

The accusations stem from several nights of rowdy partying at the Las Vegas Hilton, where the women were pushed through a ganlet of drunken Marine and Navy aviators who grabbed at their breasts and crotches. In some cases, the women were disrobed.

Since then, the Navy has cut its ties with the Tailhook Association, a booster club for naval aviation composed of active-duty and retired officers. Its name comes from the hook that helps a plane land on an aircraft carrier's deck.

The Navy also announced a "zero tolerance" policy towards sexual harassment and ordered everyone in the service to undergo an entire day of training aimed at eradicating such activity.

White House offers incentive plan

WASHINGTON (AP) - The White House, seeking to blunt backlash from a veto of family leave legislation, suggests President Bush might offer tax incentives to encourage employers to offer the benefit voluntarily.

The House on Thursday sent the president a bill guaranteeing many American workers up to 12 weeks of unpaid leave a year to care for newborn and sick children, ailing spouses or aging and ill parents.

Democrats hailed the measure as the very embodiment of the family values that Bush and the Republican National Convention placed at the center of his re-election effort.

But the 261-141 vote by which the measure passed the House fell short of the two-thirds majority needed to override a presidential veto. Those voting for the measure included 203 Democrats, 37 Republicans and one independent. Forty-two Democrats and 119 Republicans voted no. The Senate passed the bill last month.

Democrats said repeatedly that Bush's decision on whether to veto the family leave bill will show his true colors. He vetoed similar legislation in the last Congress.

Democratic vice presidential candidate Al Gore, campaigning in Lexington, Ky. said Bush can either change his mind and sign the bill into law or "he can hold onto the status quo and force Americans to read his lip service to family values."

And as Thursday's vote neared, White House aides passed word on Capitol Hill that the president might be ready to offer a compromise in the form of several hundred million dollars in tax incentives to encourage small employers to provide family leaves voluntarily.

A senior White House official, speaking on condition of anonymity, said Bush would like to provide the tax break to companies with up to 500 employees. Such a program could be financed for under $500 million, the official said, but the final terms of a proposal are not set.

But he said that how Democrats respond to the overture will disclose their motives.

Ann Landers

DEAR READERS: The subject of today's column is a book that will send shivers down the spine of the psychiatric profession. Barbara Noel enlisted the help of writer Kathryn Watterson to tell the world her story about a Chicago psychiatrist who injected her with Amytal, a barbiturate, and had sex with her while she was knocked out.

This was not just ANY psychiatrist. It was Jules H. Masserman, past president of both the American Academy of Psychoanalysis and The American Psychiatric Association, and honorary life president of the World Association for Social Psychiatry. He was also co-chairman of psychiatry and neurology at Northwestern University Medical School.

This column is not meant to suggest that ALL psychiatrists are exploitative and unethical. I know many competent, caring psychiatrists who have helped their patients enormously and changed their lives.

In her book, Barbara Noel gives real names and addresses. She is painfully frank about her anger, telling how she paid more than $100,000 to this doctor who she says used her unconscious body for his own sexual gratification. Noel makes him sound like a real Michigan Avenue Lech. She states that she became an alcoholic while under his care and that the man was truly sadistic.

According to Noel, after getting her addicted to Amytal, Dr. Masserman would decide, without rhyme or reason, "there will be no Amytal today" and make her beg for it. Noel says that on one occasion he prepared her for the injection, lifted the vial in the air and deliberately dropped it. When it crashed on the floor, he said with a sweet smile, "What a shame. I don't have any more."

When Noel decided to take Masserman to court, her resolve was strengthened by two other women who had been Masserman's patients and also stated they had been sexually molested by him. They asked to join in her suit. One woman was an attorney, the other a businesswoman. The suit was filed in the Circuit Court of Cook County, Ill. The attorneys representing the three women were Ken Cuniff and William Carroll. Noel settled out of court for $200,000 and the other two women settled for $25,000 each.

In November 1986, less than a month after the out-of-court settlements, Jules H. Masserman was honored by the 11th World Congress for Social Psychiatry at its international convention in Rio de Janeiro. There was an extraordinary outpouring of praise and affection for Dr. Masserman.

The women who collected damages, were not content with the monetary compensation. They wanted to see to it that Jules Masserman would no longer be permitted to practice medicine and decided to file a complaint with the Illinois Department of Registration and Education. Instead of defending himself, Dr. Masserman agreed to sign a consent order surrendering his license to practice.

This story has a strange ending. After he surrendered his medical license, the American Psychiatric Association Appeals Board voted to SUSPEND Dr. Masserman for five years. According to Noel, by suspending rather than expelling him, the American Psychiatric Association protected him against unfavorable publicity. Noel notes that the Masserman case received little publicity and was not reported in any psychiatric publication.

I recently asked Chicago attorney Paul Episcopo to check on Masserman's status. The Illinois Department of Professional Regulation said that Dr. Masserman's license had been "relinquished." The American Psychiatric Association simply said, "Dr. Masserman has retired." I was stunned to learn that Masserman is still listed as a member of the APA Board of Trustees. The psychiatric community does indeed take care of its own, but Ann Landers takes care of HER own, too, and this column will be read by 90 million people.

The book is "You Must Be Dreaming" by Barbara Noel. The publisher, Poseidon Press. The price, $21. You will not be able to put it down.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I had to laugh when I read that letter from "Steve T. in Harrisburg," stating "the male point of view"--that socks can be left on the floor and the dishes not washed until the end of the week.

Three men I know keep their homes so spotless that I am almost ashamed to let them into my place. Everything is so orderly and immaculate you could eat off the floors. Every one of these men is a veteran of the U.S. Navy--Dust Balls in Santa Fe

JV Herd holds off Vega with goal line stand

The Hereford junior varsity football team held off the Vega varsity in a goal line stand in the final minutes and won 20-14 Thursday in Vega.

Vega got the ball on a fumble with four minutes left in the game. A pair of offsides penalties moved the ball down to the Hereford two-yard line. The Hereford defense held on four plays, and the Hereford offense ran the final minute off the clock.

Hereford defensive coach Ron Young cited the defensive play of Russ Watts, Robert Jimenez, Hayden Andrews and Shawn Malone as key in the game and in the goal line stand particularly.

"Defensively, we played probably as well as we possibly could considering we were playing a varsity team," Young said. "We made some mistakes but we're only going to get better."

Hereford got 12 quick points in the first half on two touchdown passes from Stacey Sanders to Hayden Andrews. The first one was a 23-yarder on an out-and-up. Jason Cole forced a fumble on the ensuing kickoff, Hereford took over at the 14, and Sanders and Andrews hooked up on another out-and-up for another touchdown. The kick failed after the first TD, and a two-point try failed after the second. Hereford led 12-0 at the half.

Vega started the second half with a 46-yard scoring run by Luis Martinez. The extra point kick cut the lead to 12-7.

Hereford answered near the end of the third quarter. Watts blocked a Vega punt, setting up Chris Vallejo's 20-yard touchdown run with 23 seconds left in the third. Sanders and Andrews completed a pass for two points, and Hereford led 20-7.

Vega quarterback Justin Moore ran for a 52-yard touchdown with six minutes left in the game, but it only served to put some drama in the goal line stand.

Vallejo totaled 104 yards on 27 carries. Sanders completed 3-of-6 for 43 yards, all to Andrews.

"Our offense played real well," coach Craig Yenzler said. "Our offensive line (Cole, Josh Gamboa, Joey Ballejo, Chris Williams and Ricky Mendez) came a long way in this ballgame. They opened some gaping holes. I also want to compliment (fullback) Todd Alexander. He did a great job blocking. He didn't get a lot of carries, but he did a great job blocking."

Coach Young said Brandon Gearn had an interception.

Most of Hereford's sub-varsity football teams won Thursday. The sophomores pounded Palo Duro 31-6. Both freshman A teams won: the Maroon won 14-13 at Randall and the White beat Pampa 14-8. The Maroon B team lost to Randall, 12-0.

In the sophomore game in Amarillo, Jacob Lopez ran eight yards for a score and Michael Brown ran 53 for a second score. O.J. Rodriguez' extra point kick after the first TD gave Hereford a 13-0 lead. PD scored just before the half.

In the second half, Brown threw touchdown passes to three different receivers: a 35-yarder to Rodriguez; a 25-yarder to Raymond Alaniz; and a 10-yarder to Benton Buckley.

Corey Laing had an interception and Gabriel Guerrero recovered a fumbled to help the defense, coach Joe Cabezuella said.

The ninth grade Maroon got a pair of long TD runs from fullback Joe Ricenbaw. Armando Zambrano ran for two points after Ricenbaw's first, a 67-yarder, to give Hereford a 8-0 lead, coach James Salinas said. Ricenbaw's 53-yarder made the score 14-6 with five minutes left, and Hereford hung on.

The White team only played an A game in Pampa. Marquise Brown started the scoring with a 30-yard touchdown run. Pampa took an 8-6 lead, but Ronald Torres scored on a 60-yard pass from Todd Dudley with 20 second left in the half. Brown ran for the two points.

Coach Chris Christopher said Hereford ended the game with a six-minute drive. He said the defense "bent but we didn't break." Tackles Ismael Garcia and Josh Hernandez and rover Geronimo Ruiz were standouts, he said.

Harris picks Palo Duro by 7

Hereford is a seven-point underdog to Palo Duro, according to the Harris Rating System. The Herd and the Dons meet at 7:30 tonight at Whiteface Stadium.

WHEN YOU HAVE SOMETHING TO SELL, NEWSPAPER SELLS IT BEST.

No matter what it is you're selling, newspaper can sell it best. You can show it. Describe it. Explain it. Compare it. Offer a coupon for it. And cover your entire marketplace with it. All in one day. And for a lot less than radio and TV.

And the unique thing about newspaper is that it adds credibility to your message. People believe it when they read it in the paper. Maybe that's why retailers use newspaper more than any other medium?

Newspaper. It delivers.

Jurors throw out Plan B in McNeil vs. NFL lawsuit

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) - The NFL promises more appeals. The lead attorney for the NFL players talks of more lawsuits.

It seems the one sure thing to come of this latest decision in the long series of legal skirmishes between the league's owners and its players is a quick return to court.

The NFL said it will appeal Thursday's federal court verdict, in which eight jurors tossed out the league's restrictive Plan B free agency system and awarded $543,000 in damages to four of the eight players who brought the lawsuit.

Fridge, Deion return to action

By The Associated Press
Welcome back Fridge. Hello Deion.

William "The Refrigerator" Perry and Deion Sanders, two of the NFL's most recognizable players who usually chill offensive opponents, return to action Sunday after missing the first week of the season.

The trimmed down, charismatic 315-pound Perry, who signed a two-year contract last week, was to be activated by the Chicago Bears and ready to play against the New Orleans Saints at the Superdome.

The versatile Sanders, also an outfielder with the Atlanta Braves, agreed to a one-year contract worth an estimated $2 million with the Atlanta Falcons Thursday and could play against the defending Super Bowl champion Washington Redskins at RFK Stadium.

In other Sunday games, it will Buffalo at San Francisco, Dallas at the New York Giants, Green Bay at Tampa Bay, Minnesota at Detroit, Philadelphia at Phoenix, Houston at Indianapolis, the Los Angeles Raiders at Cincinnati, the New York Jets at Pittsburgh, San Diego at Denver, Seattle at Kansas City and New England at the Los Angeles Rams.

The Monday night game is Miami at Cleveland.

Sierra's three-run homer propels A's past M's

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) - Ruben Sierra was cast in the role of Jose Canseco from the moment he came to the Oakland Athletics in the trade. The A's moved him into right field and the No. 3 spot in the batting order, both formerly held by Canseco. On Thursday night, Sierra took the role one step further, supplying the power and the drama in the A's 6-4 win over the Seattle Mariners.

better average, I think. I can hit my 20 home runs. I can drive people in. But they can't expect me to hit 40 home runs. I'm not as powerful as he is."

Elsewhere in the AL, Detroit beat Chicago 8-0, and Toronto at Texas was postponed because of rain. Sierra, acquired Aug. 31 with pitchers Bobby Witt and Jeff Russell in the trade that sent Canseco to Texas, broke a 3-all tie with a three-run homer off Randy Johnson, his first for the A's. "He's been a clutch-hitting, run-producing hitter ever since he got into the league," Oakland manager Tony La Russa said. "Fortunately, he's doing it for us now." "He fits in this club house just fine," Ron Darling said. "He's a free spirit. He fits in fine. If he keeps hitting three-run homers, he'll fit in even finer." Darling (13-9) kept the game close, allowing three runs on five hits in 7 1-3 innings. Dennis Eckersley got the final five outs, allowing a pinch homer in the ninth to Greg Briley, to register his 44th save. For Seattle, it got harder as the Mariners lost their eighth straight overall and 11th straight at the Oakland Coliseum. "It's been a long year, a year of many frustrations," said Jay Buhner, who hit a two-run homer before leaving in the sixth after turning his right ankle on a defensive play. Tigers 8, White Sox 0 Rookie David Haas pitched his first major league shutout and complete game, tossing a four-hitter to lead Detroit.

Major-league RBI leader Cecil Fielder and Scott Livingstone highlighted a five-run sixth for the Tigers. Haas (4-2) struck out two and didn't walk a batter to win for the first time since Aug. 25. He gave up a one-out single in the first, then retired the next 14 hitters before giving up a leadoff hit in the sixth. Alex Fernandez (7-9) gave up six runs on seven hits in six innings, walking three and striking out three.

Sanders arrives in time to help Braves beat Reds

ATLANTA (AP) - Leave it to Deion Sanders to turn a pinch-running appearance into an event - and a victory. Sanders, who earlier Thursday was practicing with the NFL's Atlanta Falcons, showed up for a late appearance in the Atlanta Braves' game with Cincinnati. Sanders was inserted in the ninth inning as a pinch-runner and scored the winning run in the Braves's 3-2 victory over Cincinnati. "It's only appropriate that Deion signs with the Falcons and on the same day scores the winning run," Atlanta manager Bobby Cox said. "He'll probably intercept a pass to beat the Washington Redskins on Sunday." Beginning Sunday when the Falcons are in Washington, Sanders, a Pro Bowl cornerback, will play both sports. He signed a contract with the Falcons on Thursday.

Sanders scored the winning run on Ron Gant's sacrifice fly. In other NL games on Thursday, it was San Francisco 5, Houston 2, and San Diego 3, Los Angeles 1.

Sanders was inserted in the ninth when Lonnie Smith led off with a walk off Scott Bankhead (9-4). Respecting Sanders' speed, Bankhead threw over to first twice. His third throw sailed past first baseman Hal Morris and Sanders easily scampered to third. After David Justice was walked intentionally, Gant hit his sacrifice fly to left and Sanders scored without a throw. Sanders wasn't talking. He was upset with an article written in a local newspaper two weeks ago and hasn't spoken to the media since. "It's rare when the player of the game is a pinch-runner," said reliever Mike Stanton (3-4), who was the beneficiary of Sanders' speed. He earned the win by pitching a scoreless ninth. Giants 3, Astros 2 Cory Snyder doubled and scored the tie-breaking run on Kirt Manwaring's double in the sixth inning and homered in the eighth. Snyder led off the sixth with a double and scored one out later on Manwaring's double to break a 2-2 tie. He hit his 13th homer in the eighth off reliever Rob Murphy to increase the lead to 4-2, and Willie McGee tripled in another run. John Burkett (12-9) broke a two-game losing streak by allowing seven hits over six-plus innings. Rod

Beck pitched the ninth for his 14th save. Padres 3, Dodgers 1 Jerald Clark stole home for the tie-breaking run in the seventh inning when the Dodgers neglected to ask for time out, and Jim Deshaies pitched a five-hitter over eight innings. Clark beat out a single with one out and took third on a wild pickoff throw by Orel Hershiser (9-13). Tim Teufel grounded to short with the infield in and Tony Gwynn grabbed a bat to hit to win for winning Deshaies (4-4). Rookie catcher Mike Piazza - making his Dodger Stadium debut - went to talk to Hershiser on the mound, but no one in the infield called time and Gwynn wasn't announced as a pinch-hitter. Clark bolted for the uncovered plate before any of the befuddled Dodgers knew what hit them.

Tulsa may have tough time at A&M

By JOHN NICHOLSON Associated Press Writer Kyle Field has a reputation as a difficult place for an opposing team. Imagine what it will be like Saturday night when No. 7 Texas A&M plays its home opener against the team that wrecked its season a year ago. "We'll have some problems with the noise," Tulsa coach Dave Rader said. "I would assume A&M still suits up 150 or 200 players. When they come out for the game, they keep running out there for five or 10 minutes. I hope our guys aren't intimidated by it." Tulsa rallied from an 18-point halftime deficit to upset Texas A&M 35-34 at home last season for the Aggies' only loss of the regular season. "If A&M remembers the game and it's more special to them because of it, then that's how they'll prepare," Rader said. "Our guys remember the game as a good day for them, something they'll always remember. But that's gone... history. We're playing a different A&M team and A&M is playing a different Tulsa team." The Hurricane extended their winning streak to eight games last week with a 28-25 victory at home over Houston. Texas A&M beat Stanford 10-7 in the Pigskin Classic in Anaheim, Calif., on Aug. 26 and LSU 31-22 last week. The Aggies' offense features running backs Greg Hill and Rodney Thomas in the same backfield, Hill had 98 yards on 21 carries and Thomas added 96 yards on 19 carries. "If I was a defensive coordinator and saw Greg Hill and Rodney Thomas in the same backfield, it would double my worries," Texas A&M coach R.C. Slocum said. "We're probably going to expand on what we can do with both of them in there at the same time as the season goes along." In a game that will likely knock one of them out of contention for the national title, No. 3 Notre Dame entertains No. 6 Michigan on Saturday. Last season, Michigan held Notre Dame running back Jerome Bettis to 28 yards and the Irish to 78 yards rushing in a 24-14 victory at Ann Arbor. "They just whipped us last year," Notre Dame coach Lou Holtz said. "They dominated the line of scrimmage on both sides of the ball."

The 247-pound Bettis rushed for 130 yards on 19 carries in Notre Dame's 42-7 victory over Northwestern at Soldier Field last week. Florida State's "puntooskie" play is still the topic of conversation as the No. 5 Seminoles enter Saturday's game at No. 15 Clemson. Florida State used the fake punt in 1988 for a 74-yard gain with 21 seconds left to set up the winning field goal in a 24-21 victory. "I've heard a lot all summer about it," Clemson coach Ken Hatfield said. Florida State's Bobby Bowden said he expects Hatfield to try it. Both opened with victories at home last week. The Seminoles beat Duke 48-21 in their ACC debut and Clemson topped Ball State 24-10. No. 2 Washington faces Wisconsin in Seattle. In other games involving top 10 teams Saturday, Kentucky (1-0) is at No. 4 Florida (0-0), Southern Mississippi (1-0) at No. 8 Alabama (1-0), Texas (0-1) at No. 9 Syracuse (1-0), and Temple (1-0) at No. 10 Penn State (1-0). On Thursday night, Marshall Faulk rushed for 299 yards and three touchdowns as visiting San Diego

State beat No. 25 Brigham Young 45-38. Faulk had 211 yards and two touchdowns in the second half as the Aztecs (1-0-1) ended BYU's home winning streak at 17 games. Eric Drage had nine receptions for 198 yards and three touchdowns for BYU, which dropped to 1-1. In other top 25 games Saturday, Middle Tennessee State (1-0) is at No. 11 Nebraska (1-0), No. 12 Colorado (1-0) at Baylor (0-1), Arkansas State (0-1) at No. 13 Oklahoma (1-0), No. 20 Tennessee (1-0) at No. 14 Georgia (1-0), Cal State-Fullerton (1-0) at No. 16 UCLA (0-0), No. 17 California (1-0) at Purdue (0-0), No. 18 Mississippi State (1-0) at LSU (0-1), No. 19 North Carolina State (2-0) at Maryland (0-1), Oregon (0-1) at No. 21 Stanford (0-1), Bowling Green (1-0) at No. 22 Ohio State (1-0), No. 23 Virginia (1-0) at Navy (0-0), and Western Carolina (1-0) at No. 24 Georgia Tech (0-0). In other Southwest Conference games, No. 12 Colorado goes to Baylor as a 9-point favorite; Texas is a 14-point underdog at Syracuse; Texas Tech is host to Wyoming; Southern Methodist is host to North Texas and Western Michigan is at Texas Christian. Rice and Houston have open dates.

Raiders want revenge against Wyoming

LUBBOCK (AP) - Wyoming represents everything Texas Tech coach Spike Dykes would like to forget about last season. A triumph against the Cowboys early in 1991 probably would have been the extra victory Texas Tech needed for a bowl berth at the end of the season. Instead, the Red Raiders suffered an uninspired 22-17 defeat in Laramie, Wyo., in the midst of falling to 1-4 before finishing 6-5. "That game hurt," said Dykes, whose team faces Wyoming in Lubbock Saturday night. "Any time you lose to a team that you really thought you had a chance to beat, it worries the dickens out of you." The fact that Wyoming went on to finish sixth in the Western Athletic Conference made matters worse, says Tech linebacker Mike Liscio. "It was disappointing then," Liscio said. "Now it's time to pay 'em back. We've got to avoid being bit by the same dog twice."

Wyoming coach Joe Tiller says he expects revenge to be a large part of Tech's motivation. "We're kind of one of those red-letter games for them," Tiller said. "One of those must-win football games for them. They've been waiting in the bushes for us a year." Dykes' team is a 12-point favorite to defeat Wyoming Saturday night. But he says his team has a lot to prove after opening with a 34-9 loss to Oklahoma last week. "You hate to start off belly-deep in alligators every time you come out of the tunnel," Dykes said. "We're going to have to play like crazy to win the game. But why shouldn't we? We should play good." Tiller says Tech's performance against Oklahoma was not indicative of the Red Raiders' talent. "It's a physical football team," Tiller said. "I think they had the unlucky draw of opening with

Oklahoma. I think it's tough to judge them on the basis of that." Dykes said he was impressed with the Cowboys' 25-6 season-opening victory against Nevada last week. "They have a big, strong defense that shut out one of the better offensive teams in the country last week," Dykes said. "They have a great kicking game." Texas Tech will be without defensive end Harry Dyas, whose left ankle was grazed by a bullet while he was attempting to break up a fight at a school fraternity party last weekend. John Pitts, a senior with plenty of game experience, will start in his place.

Edberg/Lendl match suspended

NEW YORK (AP) - Stefan Edberg couldn't finish off Ivan Lendl at the U.S. Open and neither could beat the rain. The two former champions - Edberg is defending the title he won last year; Lendl has captured the crown three times, the last in 1987 - were to resume their quarterfinal battle today, weather permitting, after their match was suspended by rain in the fifth set Thursday night. Actually, Edberg could have moved into a semifinal berth opposite Michael Chang by winning the fourth set. He had four match points in the 10th game.

During the service, teachers and youth leaders will be installed and Bibles will be presented to the fifth graders.
New fall Sunday school classes begin Sept. 13. Adult studies will include a course on "Basic Beliefs" taught by Helen Rose in the small fellowship hall and the Serendipity course "12 Steps: The Path To Wholeness" taught by Jim Cory which will look at the concepts and Biblical principles behind the 12-step program that helps us deal with our addictions.
Sunday school for all ages begins at 9:30 a.m.
The Youth Fellowship groups will go to Wonderland Park in Amarillo Sunday leaving at the conclusion of the morning worship service.
Training for acolytes will be held from 4:30-5 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 16, and adult choir practice will be held at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 16.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

SAILING SHIPS

AS EARLY AS 3000 B.C., OR EVEN BEFORE, MEN HAD LEARNED TO NAVIGATE ON THE NILE, AND SHIPS FOR THIS PURPOSE WERE BUILT. SOME OF THE PHAROHS HAD OCEANGOING VESSELS ALSO FORMING THE FIRST NAVIES OF THEIR TIME. MANY OF THE BOATS ON THE NILE WHICH WERE USED FOR FISHING AND FOWLING WERE MADE BY TYING BUNDLES OF PAPYRUS REEDS TOGETHER AND DAUBING THEM WITH PITCH...

...THE ISRAELITES WERE NOT A SEAFARING PEOPLE BUT THEY CARRIED ON TRADE USING THE SEAWAYS. SOLOMON CONDUCTED COMMERCIAL ENTERPRISES THROUGH HIS FLEET OF SHIPS BUT THESE TRANSIENT EFFORTS WERE MORE OR LESS DEPENDANT ON THE PHOENICIAN SAILORS WHO MANNED THEM. SOME OF THESE SEAGOING VESSELS WERE PROPELLED BY SAILS ALONE--OTHERS BY SAILS AND OARS.
