Hospital District To Secure Loan

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

The Deaf Smith County Hospital District may borrow as much as $100,000 to pay off an overdraft and to compensate for a smaller-than-expected patient load in Deaf Smith General Hospital.

Hospital district directors Thursday night authorized board president Dr. H.A. Cavness to negotiate "terms of repayment and execute such documents" with Hereford State Bank in securing short-term financing for the hospital's financing.

The authorization came in the form of a written resolution adopted by the board in a special meeting called to discuss financial problems at the hospital.

Ren Welty, who resigned as hospital administrator effective last Saturday, was on hand to discuss the problems and possible solutions because, as Cavness said "we need his expertise..."

Welty blamed "an unusually low census in April and May" as the reason a loan was necessary. "The census affected our cash flow and we need to borrow money to make up for that," Welty said.

Welty said the loan should provide relief until taxes are received next fiscal year.

"The biggest amount of cash receipts as far as tax funds comes in November and December. A lot of those funds should help the cash flow," Welty said.

The former administrator said the hospital census has drastically improved in the last three or four weeks and "if it stays up like it is, it'll take care of everything."

He added that "all of our accounts payable have been taken care of, but we do have one overdraft that needs to be taken care of."

Board member Frank Zinser Jr. said he hopes that publicizing the loan would not

Patient Load Blamed On Hospital Misfortunes

create misconceptions in the public about the hospital. "People need to know this is just to establish a line of credit," Zinser said.

Cavness added, "We might not have to use it. We can authorize $100,000 and draw it down as needed."

Welty provided the board with "assumptions" which might affect hospital operations in the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1. He forecasted the following increases over the current fiscal year:

Prices, 8 percent; payroll, 7 percent; inflation of cost of supplies, 9 percent; and employee benefits (primarily group health insurance), 25 percent.

He added that he expects a 10 percent increase in loss on accounts.

Welty had anticipated 12,400 patient days in the 1977-78 fiscal year when he prepared the budget last year. He revised the figure Thursday to 9,240 days and predicted that 1978-79 would include between 8,480 and 10,750 patient days.

"Our net operating margin at 8,480 days would be a loss of $97,400. At 8,480 days, I think the hospital would be forced to do away with some departmentalization, like maybe eliminating ICU (intensive care unit) as a separate unit."

"At 9,240 patient days, there would be a $162,900 loss, but you would be keeping the departments."

With 10,750 days, the hospital would earn a profit of $20,600, Welty said.

The board agreed that Hereford's medical staff is responsible for improving the patient load at the hospital.

"I would suggest that we get very close to the medical staff and ask them to have some input in the number of patient days," Welty said.

Director Ed Reinauer said it would be unethical "to put a patient in here that doesn't need to be in here."

Welty said, "I wouldn't suggest that at all."

Cavness added that "no doctor should have a closed practice, but these people are going elsewhere."

Reinauer then said, "You can't put patients in the hospital that don't need to be in here, so their (doctors') only option in changing this thing is in the persons they might refer elsewhere."

The hospital itself is not a reason for the year's low census, Cavness said. "The physical plant speaks for itself. The quality of care is a fact that cannot be refuted. If you're not giving it, then your records show it and you are no longer accredited."

"We just need to get a stabilization of our patient load. I don't think it's a matter of anybody sitting on their big 88-acre duff. I know these men and I know they're working hard."

After discussion of the census and adoption of the loan resolution, the board met in closed session to discuss salaries for hospital personnel.

Cavness reported that the closed meeting dealt with a survey taken by the Texas Hospital Association to compare salaries around the state. "We needed to study it to see where we stand on salaries when our new administrator gets here."

Unemployment Dips Drastically

WASHINGTON (AP) — The unemployment rate dropped dramatically from 6.1 percent to 5.7 percent of the nation's workforce in June, the lowest rate in nearly four years, the Labor Department said today.

Teen-agers accounted for about half of the 400,000 decline in the number of unemployed persons during June, as their jobless rate dropped from 16.5 percent to 14.2 percent.

Nearly all of this gain was among white teen-agers, the department said.

A booming economy produced 710,000 new jobs last month, the biggest increase since 800,000 positions were created in November 1977.

Meanwhile, the Labor Department reported that rising food costs again contributed to a 0.7 percent increase in wholesale prices last month, the same increase as in May. The rises were smaller than during last winter, but could still keep inflation going at an 8.4 percent rate if they continue throughout the year.

Wholesale prices for food rose 1.1 percent in June, a sharp jump from the 0.5 percent gain the month before.

The 5.7 percent jobless rate last month marked the first time that unemployment has fallen below the 6 percent barrier since October 1974, when it was 5.9 percent. And the June level was the lowest since the 5.4 percent rate in August 1974.

Unemployment peaked at 9.1 percent in May 1975 before dropping to 7.1 percent in April and 6.1 percent in February of this year.

The Labor Department said the unemployment rate among black teen-agers, a major concern to the Carter administration, declined only slightly, from 38.4 percent to 37.1 percent.

A department analyst, Jack Bregger, said much of the gain for white teen-agers last month could be attributed to the opening up of summer jobs.

The unemployment rate for adult men dropped from 4.2 percent to 3.9 percent in June, while joblessness among adult women declined from 6.3 percent to 6.1 percent.

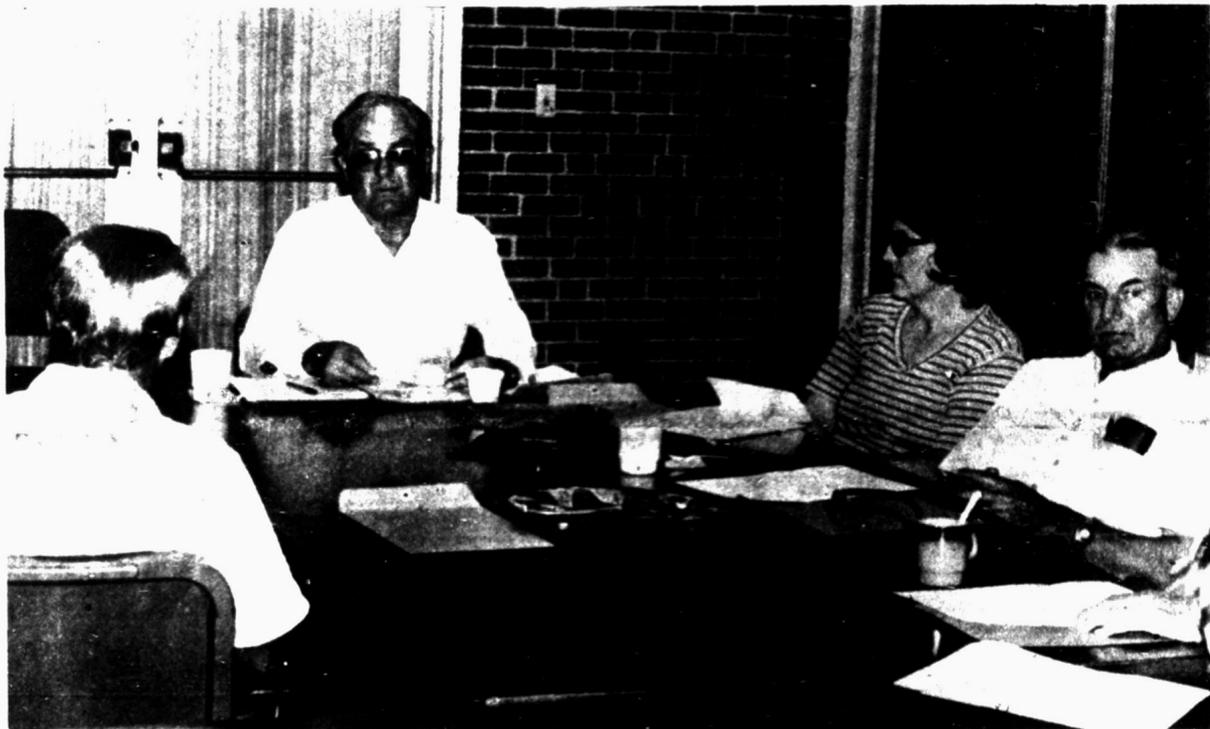

Blacks and other minorities had slightly better luck finding jobs as their unemployment rate dipped from 12.3 percent to 11.9 percent.

The biggest gain in June was in the construction industry, where 85,000 jobs were created. In the past year, about 500,000 persons have found new building jobs, but most economists expect the housing boom to level off later in the year.

Other industries enlarging their payrolls were state and local government, service industries, retail stores and finance, insurance and real estate companies.

However, factories did little new hiring after employing 645,000 new workers over the past year, the department said.

Overall, 94.8 million persons held jobs in June, providing 58.9 percent of the working-age population with jobs. (See ECONOMY, Page 2)

Commission Appoints Election Judges

By SPEEDY NIEMAN
Editor-Publisher

In a brief 45-minute session Friday morning, Deaf Smith County Commissioners appointed election judges for 1978-79, passed a resolution concerning a Metro Intelligence grant, approved a minor transfer as a budget amendment, and approved monthly bills and reports.

Commissioners also briefly discussed the question of county equipment being used in a private ambulance, and the use of office space at the courthouse.

Bush To Speak

To County GOPs

George Bush of Midland, who won the Republican nomination for the U.S. House of Representatives in District 19 in May's primary, will speak to members of Deaf Smith County Republican Party at 8 p.m. Monday at the Community Center.

Bush defeated former Odessa mayor Jim Reese for the Republican nomination. The Midland businessman will face Democratic nominee and State Sen. Kent Hance in November's general election.

"All Republicans and people of similar thinking are invited Monday," said Garth Thomas, county party chairman.

County Judge Sam Morgan pointed out that EMS communication equipment is currently installed in a Smith & Co. ambulance. The funeral home recently announced it would not take emergency calls from the county or city, only calls made direct to the home.

One commissioner inquired as to whether or not the equipment was still serving the public. Judge Morgan said he thought the question to be answered was: "Should the county allow county equipment to be used in a private or commercial vehicle?" The court decided to consider the question and ask a Smith & Co. official to be present at the next meeting. Morgan reported to commissioners that the office being vacated by county surveyor Major Schroeter was already being eyed by other courthouse officials. He asked the commissioners to consider the assignment of the office space.

The county judge also announced that commissioners had been invited to a party at the county library. Personnel there are holding a covered-dish supper July 21 in honor of Gwen London, librarian, who recently resigned, effective July 31. Morgan added that applications are being taken for the

Hawkins Earns Life Sentence

HOUSTON — Samuel Christopher Hawkins III of Amarillo was found guilty of the 1976 rape of a Hereford woman after a jury deliberated for two hours Thursday in 262nd District Court here.

A six-man, six-woman jury found Hawkins guilty around 6:40 p.m. Thursday of the aggravated rape of a young ex-Hereford housewife, who had been stabbed 17 times and apparently left for dead at her former residence on Ave. H.

Judge Sam Robertson sentenced Hawkins to a life prison term because of two prior convictions. Hawkins was convicted in 1968 in Colorado of rape, burglary and assault in 1972 for an attempted burglary in Oklahoma.

Hawkins also was convicted earlier this year in Lubbock of the brutal murder of a pregnant Borger housewife. He has appealed his death sentence in that case.

Hawkins defended himself in the trial, calling Hutchinson County Sheriff Lon Blackmon, Amarillo psychiatrist Hugh Pennal and a Lubbock psychologist to the stand Thursday.

The defendant asked Blackmon whether or not he had seen a transcribed copy of a taped interview between Hawkins and Amarillo detectives who were interrogating him after his 1977 arrest. Deaf Smith County District Atty. Roland Saul objected to the question, calling it "heresy", and Robertson ordered Hawkins to stop.

Hawkins tried to prove his insanity at the time of the rape by calling Dr. Pennal, who testified that Hawkins was not insane "and the most dangerous man I've ever known."

Dr. Pennal told the court that treatment would be of little or no value to

Hawkins and that he was not insane at the time of the rape.

The Lubbock psychologist testified that Hawkins had episodes where he probably is insane, adding that there was no way to tell whether he was insane when the offense was committed.

Hawkins will be formally sentenced on July 17. He then has 10 days to appeal.

Thousands Remain Homeless in Flood

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — Thousands of residents remained homeless and thousands more were without electricity today as authorities began a house-to-house survey of damage from heavy flooding that left at least five people dead.

About 80 percent of the city's 58,000 residents were without electricity and officials said widespread power outages might continue through Saturday.

Some of the 5,000 residents forced from their homes Wednesday night returned late Thursday. But most stayed with relatives or at hotels.

The Red Cross said 159 people spent Thursday night at shelters set up in three churches and one state hospital in Rochester.

In addition to the flooding, officials were concerned about a power dam on the Zumbro River about 10 miles north of town. An engineer flying over the area spotted what he said was an old crack in the dam. It was to be surveyed today.

"Whether it's an old crack or not, we're going to take precautions," Deputy Sheriff Marty Burns said. Most roads into the city had been closed by high water but were re-opened late in the day.

U.S. Sen. Wendell Anderson, D-Minn., and Gov. Rudy Perpich toured the city by helicopter and car and said they would ask President Carter to declare the southwestern Minnesota city a disaster area.

The Zumbro crested at about 23 feet, 11 feet above flood stage, after up to 9 inches of rain fell Wednesday night. A flash flood watch was called off early today, though the National Weather Service said there was a chance of light thundershowers.

The dead included four elderly people who drowned early Thursday when the elevator they were riding at a nursing home descended into the flooded basement. The fifth victim died when her car plunged off an Olmsted County road about 10 miles southwest of Rochester.

They were identified as Lilian Hoelsy, 72, a nursing assistant at National Health (See FLOODING, Page 2)

Bell Lawyers Attempt To Halt Contempt Ruling

NEW YORK (AP) — Lawyers for Attorney General Griffin B. Bell are trying to overturn a contempt of court ruling issued because Bell refused to give the Socialist Workers Party the files of 18 FBI informants.

A hearing on the appeal was scheduled today, a day after Bell filed an affidavit in U.S. District Court to force the contempt issue and thus allow a higher court to review the government's position against producing the files.

"I am advised by the solicitor general that my entering a status of contempt... will allow appellate review of the court's ruling," Bell said in the affidavit filed Thursday with Judge Thomas P. Griesa.

Griesa, on vacation in California, responded almost immediately by invoking a contempt citation issued last week but held in abeyance to give the nation's highest law enforcement officer a final chance to give up the files.

Government lawyers answered Griesa's order by filing papers with an Appeals Court judge to say the contempt citation pending appeal.

A Justice Department spokesman in Washington said it was not unprecedented for an attorney general to defy a court order. But he said he knew of no prior case in which an attorney general actually had been held in contempt for such defiance.

In issuing his ultimatum last week, Griesa denied a motion by the Socialist (See CONTEMPT, Page 2)

NEA Members Continue Anti-Proposition War

DALLAS (AP) — Members of the National Education Association have pocketed the anti-Proposition 13 buttons they sported all week and left their annual convention resolved to battle similar tax-cutting measures in other states.

Before the conference ended Thursday, some 8,000 delegates overwhelmingly approved five action items aimed at insuring the health of public education in the face of taxpayer revolts.

The organization voted to make one-third federal funding of education its top legislative objective for the coming year, a decade-old goal that NEA president John Ryor said has taken on new importance in the aftermath of California's controversial property tax limitation initiative.

Proposition 13 limited California property taxes as of July 1 to 1 percent of market value, reducing tax revenues statewide an average 57 percent.

School districts were hit especially hard by the initiative because most now receive an average 75 percent of their funds from local property taxes.

The disaster of Proposition 13 for educators was a recurring theme throughout the 116th annual gathering of the nation's largest teachers organization. Because an NEA survey showed that a widespread ignorance of the amendment's impact on schools contributed to its success, the group vowed to contribute advice and resources to campaigns against such measure in other states.

5 Family Members Disappear from Home

WINNIE, Tex. (AP) — Whoever was responsible for the disappearance of five family members from a small frame house in this Southeast Texas town sometime last weekend appears to have several days' lead on authorities trying to unravel the mystery.

Although the burnt-out car belonging to one of the missing persons was found Thursday morning, the vehicle actually burned up early Sunday, according to a Fannett, Texas youth.

Ike Revia, 18, said he spotted the burning blue Ford with Oklahoma tags about 4 a. m. Sunday 12 miles southeast of the home of 64-year-old Bishop Phillips, a tenant rice farmer.

Phillips, his wife, Ester, his 31-year-old son, Elmer, and his wife, Martha, and their 4-year-old son were reported missing early Monday.

Revia said he called local fire officials about the car, which belonged to Elmer Phillips. He said he waited for about an hour near the car, but when no one showed up he left and thought nothing more about it.

Chambers County Sheriff Doil Pounds said late Thursday authorities had searched a three-mile radius on foot, on horseback and in airplanes and helicopters around Taylor's Bayou where the car was found but turned up nothing, not even footprints.

Pounds said the search by his deputies, Jefferson County sheriff's deputies, the Texas Rangers and the FBI would continue Friday.

Insurance Board Sets Vote on Home Policies

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — State Insurance Board members scheduled a decision Monday on insurance rate increases that mean "many, many millions of dollars" to Texas home owners.

The Monday session was set after board chairman Hugh Yantis recommended late Thursday that Texans be given another year without an increase in their homeowners insurance premiums.

Insurance authorities estimate the present insurance bill paid by Texas property owners at $807.8 million.

Yantis also asked his fellow board members to prohibit any insurance company from reducing agents' commissions as a result of any rate increase the company fails to get.

Yantis said he had no objection of a 9.4 increase in separate fire policies recommended by the board staff.

The staff had recommended a 13.1 percent hike in homeowners' premiums. The insurance industry asked for a 14.1 percent hike.

"My study of the reports shows that about 80 percent of the homeowner policies sold are sold at deviated or discounted prices at an average rate of about 15 percent," Yantis said. "What the figures say to me is that almost all insurance sold on homes is being sold at rates lower than the requested rate increase."

"I cannot see that a rate increase is justified," Yantis said.

Closed Hearing Begins In Plainview Shooting

PLAINVIEW, Tex. (AP) — A Hale County grand jury investigating the shooting death of Timothy Rosales Jr., 25, during a scuffle with a reserve sheriff's deputy, called 16 witnesses to today's closed-door session.

The grand jury opened its investigation into the June 25 shooting Thursday after considering several other cases. Before recessing until today, grand jurors listened to testimony from two Department of Public Safety chemists and the pathologist who conducted an autopsy on Rosales' body.

The pathologist, Dr. Jose A. Diaz-Esquivel, said previously tests showed Rosales was "pretty drunk" when he died during a scuffle with the reserve deputy.

Hale County Sheriff Charles Tue has identified the deputy involved as Charles Cyper, 45, and said Cyper stopped Rosales' car at a rural intersection because it was running on the rims of two wheels. When Cyper approached the car, Tue said, Rosales ran but was subdued by the officer in the front yard of a nearby residence.

The deputy's .45-caliber pistol discharged during the scuffle, and Rosales was killed. Cyper was suspended from the force pending an investigation.

Government Jobs Often Most Dangerous

NEW YORK (AP) — Somewhere below you, a sewer worker handling bacteria laden filth is risking hepatitis.

A street level, a highway repairman is grimy with benzene and coal tar pitch — known cancer agents.

And somewhere above you, scaling cables hundreds of feet up, a bridge maintainer is risking his neck to change ornamental lightbulbs.

Alongside the numerous office jobs, the payrolls of state and local governments are peppered with jobs like these. On average, working for the public is more than three times as dangerous as performing the average job in private industry, according to recently published figures from the National Safety Council.

A recent Labor Department study found that injuries to federal workers are costing the government about $5 billion a year in direct costs and lost productivity. No figures exist on what public employee injuries are costing state and local government, but those costs are likely in the billions, too.

In New York alone, Mayor Edward Koch has estimated that the 21,000 disabling public worker injuries each year are costing the city nearly $100 million.

Labor and urban experts say the growing health and safety hazards public employees face are a hidden consequence of the money crunch effecting local government in the 1970s, especially in the Northeast.

The workplaces and tools of these jobholders — the public buildings, roads, bridges and tunnels, the fire equipment, the garbage trucks — are deteriorating, and local governments have less to spend on repairs and replacement.

The Urban Institute calculates that city and state governments spent the equivalent of $10 billion less in 1977 than the $36.4 billion spent in 1970 for capital needs, taking inflation into account.

The safety council's latest injury figures, which combine the years 1974 through 1976, show that in all industries, there were 10.87 disabling injuries, and 668 missed work-days, per million hours worked. But public employees suffered 37.55 disabling injuries, and lost 1,174 work-days per million hours worked.

Federal job safety laws formulated in 1970 require, among other things, that private industry keep track of safety and health conditions in the work-place. They also protect private sector workers who complain about unsafe job conditions from losing their jobs.

But city and state employees have no such federal protection. The Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 specifically excludes state and local workers from its provisions. Twenty-four states have adopted OSHA-like safeguards from public employees. But in the remaining 26 states, public workers have virtually none of the workplace safety protections that private sector workers have.

The safety council's figures, and interviews with labor experts in and out of government, reveal how some of the more dangerous private and public jobs compare:

The average garbage collector is injured on the job twice as often as the average coal miner, who holds the most hazardous private sector job, according to the council's statistics. Mining injuries tend to be far more severe, however.

Coal miners also face black lung disease from the air they breathe. The New York City Health Department found that sanitation men have twice the rate of heart disease as other workers in similar age groups because, walking as they do behind garbage trucks, they breathe in high levels of exhaust fumes.

And a recent study by the federal Environmental Protection Agency found that four out of ten solid waste workers are injured each year, have a 9 percent chance of having a limb amputated during their work life, and a 23 percent chance of permanent disability.

"Yet, ironically, a sanitation worker employed by a private tractor hauling trash is covered by the federal OSHA Act, while one who works for a city, county or a state is not," says Joe Adler, an official of the American Federation of State county and Municipal Employees.

Firefighters have the highest death rate of any job, at 70 deaths per 100,000 workers, 10 percent higher than the next highest, the coal miner, at 63 deaths per 100,000 workers. Police average 39 deaths per 100,000 workers. The average for all industries is 14 deaths per 100,000 workers.

Firemen can expect to be injured four times as often, and twice as severely, as a steel foundry worker, according to the safety council.

Many health and safety risks to policemen, firemen and others in the public sector are obvious and well known. Police, for instance, know the violent risks of interrupting a family fight, and firemen know the exposure to 350-degree heat on the job means an increased risk of lung problems and heart attacks.

But Mike Smith, an official of the International Association of Firefighters, says there are now occasional reports in large cities of firemen being shot by arsonists in the course of fighting fires.

There have also been instances of arsonists apparently sawing holes in the floors of buildings so that firemen attempting to fight the blaze fall through the floor and injure themselves.

Economy

record high. Despite the failure of wholesale prices to dip in June from May's 0.7 percent growth rate, a top economic adviser to President Carter predicts a sharp slowdown later this year in food price increases, which soared at an annual rate of 18.1 percent in the first five months of this year.

Charles Schultze, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, says he expects the inflation rate to brake to about 5 percent for the rest of the year, after climbing at an annual rate of 10.2 percent from January to May.

At a news conference Thursday, Schultze said government's latest estimate of 7.2 percent as the expected inflation rate for 1978 is based on the expectation that inflation will run at a rate of 5 percent from May to December.

If the 7.2 percent forecast holds true, it would be the worst inflation since 1974, when prices rose 12.2 percent.

The administration in January had predicted growth in economic output for 1978 of about 4.7 percent but now expects it to be closer to 4 percent, Schultze said. That is important because it takes an economic growth rate of more than 4 percent to improve the job picture.

"What's happened to that the rate of unemployment has fallen significantly more than we had expected. Similarly inflation is higher than we had expected," he said. Growth that is too rapid can be inflationary, he said. "In light of this, we think the lower 4 percent rate is desirable," Schultze said. "It means economic recovery but at a more moderate pace."

The Congressional Budget Office reported, meanwhile, that the rippling effect of the Proposition 13 decision by California voters in rolling back property taxes could produce an actual reduction in the national cost of living by next year.

In a study conducted at the request of Rep. Robert N. Giacomini, D-Conn., chairman of the House Budget Committee, the budget office said it expects a reduction in the inflation rate of 0.2 percentage points in 1979 and 0.4 percentage points in 1980.

Workers Party to jail Bell until he complies but gave permission for the motion to be renewed if the attorney general continued to defy the order. Attorneys for the party said they would ask Griesa on Monday to jail Bell until he turns over the files.

Griesa's order, issued a year ago, was to enable lawyers for the party to proceed with trial of a $40 million damage suit against the government on claims that the FBI engaged in break-ins and other illegal activities while keeping track of the party between 1938 and 1976. The party says the files are necessary to show the nature and extent of the alleged wrongful acts.

In his affidavit filed Thursday, Bell urged Griesa to stay the order and certify that it should be reviewed by higher courts or impose sanctions other than contempt.

Bell said Griesa's ruling was "unprecedented and damaging to the government's ability to obtain information through informants for law enforcement and foreign counter-intelligence purposes."

Following submission of the Bell affidavit, a telephone conference was held between the judge, U.S. Attorney Robert B. Fiske Jr., who represented Bell, and party lawyer Leonard Boudin, who opposed a stay.

NORTH WILKESBORO, N.C. (AP) — Plans for a greased-pig chase fell through because "the pig was just too hot," says Bob Hege, president of the Wilkes County Chamber of Commerce, which sponsored the Fourth of July event.

"The pig got listless," Hege said Tuesday of the 75-pound hog. "I don't think he would fare too well in this heat."

Authorities said the animal just refused to run in the 95-degree weather.

NEW YORK (AP) — Police went hunting in Brooklyn and bagged snakes, a penguin and a mongoose.

They also managed to nab four youths and charged them with poaching the stuffed animal and reptile carcasses Wednesday.

"We were laughing when we tried to apprehend these guys," said Sgt. Richard Klev of the Public Morals Division. "It looked like a zoo with all these animals coming down the block."

The movable menagerie was first spotted after plainclothesmen heard glass breaking at Schoepfer Studios in Manhattan. They then "saw one person removing stuff from the window," Klev said.

The others were carrying the animals away. One of them, according to the Klev, had a snake "wrapped around his neck."

The 17- and 18-year-old youths told police they stole the dead beasts "because they were there."

They were charged with third-degree burglary and possession of stolen property.

FARMINGTON, Utah (AP) — One contestant in a Fourth of July watermelon-eating contest at the Lagoon amusement park near here couldn't be faulted for lack of enthusiasm.

Contest helpers for Tuesday's event said one elderly participant lost his upper-plate while chomping down on a watermelon slice.

Apparently the heart of competition was so great that the unidentified man didn't notice his loss until about an hour later when he quietly asked contest helpers if they had found his teeth.

They said he was referred to the park's lost and found department, where man and teeth were reunited.

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — The district attorney in this Panhandle city says he meant what he said when he told a county commissioner he would file suit if the commissioners cut salaries in the prosecutor's office.

The Amarillo Globe News revealed a conversation between District Attorney Tom Curtis and commissioner Steve Scott in Sunday editions of the paper. Scott said he had recorded the conversation. Scott said Curtis last month threatened to sue the commissioners if they reduced the salaries of his staff.

Scott and a majority of the other commissioners voted in favor of some budget increases for Curtis, but later Scott apparently felt he had been unfairly coerced and released the tape to the Amarillo newspaper.

Saturday's rings cannot be seen except through a telescope of at least 3-inch aperture.

Dinner Party To Honor Contestant

Local citizens are urged to show their support for Miss Hereford Stephanie Stringer Tuesday night during a Good Luck Party at the Country Club, where members of the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division will be convening in their quarterly meeting.

The dinner and style show are being held in Miss Stringer's honor as she prepares to compete in the Miss Texas Universe Pageant August 21 at El Paso. Miss Stringer is sponsored by the Chamber Women's Division in the state pageant.

This is the second year for Hereford to send a coed to the Miss Texas-Universe contest. In years before, the community sent contestants to the Miss Texas-Miss America Pageant at Fort Worth.

Miss Dee Anne Caison, who held the Miss Hereford title last year, was the first local coed to compete in the El Paso pageant. She had been asked to return to the pageant this summer, not as a contestant, but in the capacity of official hostess, a newly-created position.

Miss Stringer will model those clothes which have been donated by local merchants for pageant competition. Also modeling summer wardrobe will be Miss Caison, Miss Teen Tammy Stringer and runners-up to the Miss Hereford 1978 title, Kathy Wilson and Judy Hill.

Special entertainment is to be presented by Miss Caison, who is an accomplished organist.

The Women's Division will conduct a brief business session, to be conducted by president Margaret Formby. All Chamber Women are urged to attend with guests.

Reservations may be made by contacting the Chamber office, 364-3333. The cost per ticket will be $6, which will cover the cost of the meal.

Ann Landers Opinion Needed

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Now that so many people are getting divorced, the problems regarding ex-in-laws and grandchildren are becoming more and more common.

This situation is different than most because both our daughter-in-law and our ex-daughter-in-law are wonderful girls. We have lovely grandchildren from both.

For the last four Christmases, Easters, children's birthdays, family reunions, etc., we have invited both The Current and The Ex. They seem to get along well. (Incidentally, for Christmas and birthdays we buy them identical gifts.) My husband says I'm kidding myself -- that The Ex must suffer terribly when she is in the presence of The Current. If he is right, I want to spare the poor girl further grief, which is why I'm writing.

What is your honest opinion? -- Mrs. Zereisenheit, If You Know What I Mean

DEAR MRS. Z: Yes, I do know what you mean. Zereisenheit means "torn to pieces" in German, and your signature was aptly chosen.

Since both Current and Ex seems to be handling the situation, I see no reason to suddenly exclude Ex. So, my dear -- as the old song goes, "Don't trouble trouble 'til trouble troubles you."

DEAR ANN: Several years ago I loaned a friend a baby scale and told her laughingly, "I'll want this back when I begin to have grandchildren, so take good care of it."

Yesterday my daughter announced that she is pregnant. I phoned my friend and asked her to return the scale. She shrieked, "For Lord's sake, I gave that old thing away for a rummage sale years ago. You GAVE it to me!"

I did not give it to her -- I remember clearly explaining that it was a loan. We went 'round and 'round and finally she said, "I certainly can't afford to buy you a new scale at these prices! You are being very unreasonable."

Who is wrong and what should I do? -- Nonplussed

DEAR NON: It goes without saying that a loan is not a gift, but your mistake was not giving your friend an outside-time limit. You should have asked her to return it "next May, June or July."

If the woman values your relationship, she will buy you a new scale -- but don't hold your breath waiting, dear. I have a feeling she's going to attach a lot less weight to your friendship from now on. Too bad.

DEAR ANN: Our daughter has been living with her boyfriend for 18 months. She told us last night she wants a big church wedding with all the trimmings. We may have to borrow some money from the bank to swing it.

The worst part is that she insists on wearing a white gown and veil. Everyone in town knows they have been sharing an apartment and I'm afraid she will look ridiculous -- especially the white gown part. Please advise. -- Embarrassed Mom

DEAR MOM: A white gown merely signifies a first wedding. It is not meant to broadcast the physical condition of the bride. As for going into debt, I don't recommend it. Tell your daughter you will give her as nice a wedding as possible, within your limits -- then do it.

Elderly Have Much to Offer

COLLEGE STATION - Older people in a family have much to give, says a family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

They influence their children and their grandchildren in many ways, Vivian Blair points out.

Because older generations in this country have mainly lived in one place, one town, and maybe only one house, they have a feeling of identity and responsibility with all about them.

However, in the last few decades the population has become highly mobile. Many people have lived in several towns and houses or apartments, the specialist explains.

They do not have this feeling of identity and responsibility to the people and things about them.

Grandparents can, to some degree, provide these things, Mrs. Blair suggests.

They can provide family history, family heritages and family relationships as a stabilizing influence in the life of the young.

OOPS! Your Positives are showing!

We all know that the person running around with a knack for negatives has the same effect on those he meets as the plague.

The spontaneous reaction toward "booing" is almost overwhelming.

What we fail to acknowledge is the person with the positives! That's your everybody cock-eyed optimist. The person we label as silly and unrealistic.

But hand around Polly Positive. It will take a while, but you'll come to realize that Polly has a strong healthy self-concept that can be "learned" (they're not inherited, you know).

You'll soon discover that with your PFOP's (pocket full of positives) you will accomplish much, much more than you ever have. And you'll have a lot more fun doing it, too.

Newcomers To Assemble For Picnic

New residents of Hereford are reminded that a picnic is to be held by Hereford Newcomers Club Tuesday in Veteran's Park. All newcomers and their children are welcome.

A success story.

Once upon a time there was a merchant. You probably know him. Because he is very successful and always seems to have lot of business, even when things seem slow everywhere else.

There are a lot of reasons why he is successful. But one of the biggest is that he advertises regularly, even when things seem slow everywhere. You see, he realizes that he is open every week of the year and wants customers every day. He realizes that advertising is designed to build business and it works best when repeated regularly. Consistent advertising builds dividends. He realizes that people buy all year around. Many stores sell blankets and furs in the summer and air conditioners and grass cutters in the winter.

Think you know who this success story is about? Well, to tell you the truth, it's about many of the merchants in Hereford. They all have one thing in common, though. They advertise regularly in the Hereford Brand. Isn't it about time you became a successful merchant?

FAITH DEMONSTRATES THE FUTILITY OF ENVY

If all the human emotions in our repertoire, envy is perhaps the most destructive of our happiness and spiritual well-being, and is just as unnecessary. The very time we waste in resentment over another's good fortune could be far better spent in counting our own blessings and increasing our own accomplishments. The good Lord endowed each of us with different abilities, and it is up to us to make the most of them. Wealth can evaporate and good luck reverse itself; however real peace of mind depends not on transient things but on the knowledge that God loves us equally and asks only that we do our best. Learn this at the Church of your choice, and think of the person you have envied as just an example of what you yourself can do.

"For we ourselves also were sometimes foolish... living in malice and envy."
—Titus 3:3

Envy is a pain of mind that successful men cause their neighbors.
—Onasander (49 A.D.)

Austin
Motels
To Fill

AUSTIN, Texas (AP)-Texas
legislators summoned to Austin for a special session beginning Monday have a problem.

There may not be room at the inn.

More than 4,200 nurses and 100 members of the Texas Mental Health Association are expected next week in addition to the several hundred officials and contractors who normally come to Austin the second week of the month for highway department bid lettings.

"It's tight," said Chamber of Commerce executive director Vic Mathias. "Any time you have 4,200 people come to town, there just isn't any hotel space left."

"The timing of the special session could not have been worse for the hotel business in Austin," said John Bogardus, manager of the Driskill Hotel.
He noted that the nurses, who will be taking examinations, have had blocks of rooms
reserved for months.

However, Bogardus was optimistic. "We'll find them accommodations somewhere and arrange for transfer at our expense," he said.

Over the last 100 years, the Metric System has seen steadily increasing use in the United States; today it is of importance nearly equal to that of the Customary System.

2nd Half Prompts Fears, Hopes

NEW YORK (AP) - We enter the second half of 1978 hauling a mixed bag of economic fears and hopes, tension and relief, good news and bad, bright prospects and grim.

While some might describe this situation as one in which we don't know whether to laugh or cry, its impact on stock market advisers has been, confusion.
The indicators, you might say,
are blinking green and red.

What can analysts make of gambling stocks providing the leadership on the New York Stock Exchange? It is bad money chasing out good? Is the infusion of excitement isolated or contagious? What are the odds?

Ceasar's World Inc. hit the jackpot, leading all Big Board stocks through June with 247.27 percent gain. Playboy Enterprises followed at 196.67. And on the Amex, Resorts International soared 220.9 percent.

But, a study by Interactive Data Corp. shows, shares of some of the market's most substantial companies also soared, especially in the aerospace, agricultural machinery and electronics categories.

In the second quarter, for example, the market value of International Business Machines rose by $3.18 billion, while Eastman Kodak rose $1.80 billion and Schlumberger $1.41 billion.

While brokers wonder just what is and is not a blue chip, especially since the casinos lay prior claim to the term, there is need for clarification also in what's happening in consumer forecasting.

They agree on at least one thing, that inflation is causing a lot of concern among all economic levels, that confidence in government is eroding and that there could be a message in it for President Carter.

But it isn't quite clear whether or not they agree about the extent of buying in advance of higher prices, which could have a pronounced and negative impact on sales during the second half of the year.

The University of Michigan Survey Research Center says the buy-in-advance psychology is very strong. The Conference Board claims that "Contrary to popular theory, rising prices do not spur consumers to buy now in fear of paying more later."

The point is quite important, because if sales are indeed being "borrowed" from later in the year, then current sales figures are unrealistically inflated and will result in weakness later on.

While the consumer analysts are working out their differences, there remains a deeper concern among economists:

With the expansion now in its 40th month, can it continue much longer?

Very few expansions have lasted this long, despite attempts to tame the economic cycle. It is for this reason that some economists tend to say it has to end soon. But most remain a bit more confident.

With the discovery of gold in the sand bars of Canada's Fraser River in 1859, 30,000 fortune-seekers swarmed into the area.

Fidel Castro seized power in Cuba following the collapse of Fulgencio Batista's government on Jan. 1, 1959.

Exile's Text Exalted

NEW YORK (AP) - That thundering blast at the spiritual decline of the west by Russian exile Alexander Solzhenitsyn is getting a wide airing in religious circles, including passages not generally reported elsewhere.

Some church publications have carried the full 4,500-word text, projecting his message as a kind of modern prophet's indictment of America's "present sickness."

"We turned our backs on the Spirit and ... based western civilization on the dangerous trend to worship man and his material needs," he said in that June 9 commencement address to 15,000 at Harvard University.

"Man's sense of responsibility to God and society grew dimmer and dimmer," he said.
Calling it a "Calamity of despiritualized and irreligious humanistic consciousness," plunging democracies toward ruin, he said:

"All the glorified technological achievements of progress, including the conquest of outer space, do not redeem the 20th century's moral poverty ..."

Theologians noted that the Nobel laureate writer, banished from Russia in 1974 for his scathing portrayal of Soviet prison camps, identified the West's failing with the Biblically designated prime sin:

self deification of man as supreme.

To that inverted view, he said, "man is the touchstone of evaluating everything on earth."

Its modern social roots, he said, are in "rationalistic humanism," proclaiming the "autonomy of man from any higher force above him. It could also be called anthropocentricity, with man seen as the center of everything that exists."

He said it has "ugly parallels" with Marxism's oaths
"about Man with a capital M," its rulers outlawing spiritual reality, while in the West
"commercial interests" suffocate it.

"Society appears to have little defense against the abyss of human decadence such as ...
misuse of liberty for moral violence against young people, motion pictures full of pornography, crime and horror."

"It is considered to be part of freedom ... Such a tilt of freedom in the direction of evil has come about gradually ...
There are meaningful warnings which history gives a ... perishing society."

At the birth of American democracy, he said, "all individual human rights were granted because man is God's creature. That is, freedom was given to the individual condi-tionally, in the assumption of his religious responsibility.

"Such was the heritage ...
Even 50 years ago, it would have seemed quite impossible in America, that an individual could be granted boundless freedom simply for the satisfaction of his instincts or whims.

"Subsequently, however, all such limitations were discarded everywhere in the West; a total liberation occurred from the moral heritage of Christian centuries with their great reserves of mercy and sacrifice."

Carter, Peanuts Have Problems

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter is slipping in the popularity polls and peanuts aren't doing well, either.

You remember peanuts? They were on all tongues in 1976 as dark horse Carter vaulted to the presidency amid a hail of peanut jokes, cartoons and hoopla that made goobers a national byword.

On Inauguration Day, a French restaurant near the White House sold peanut butter sandwiches for $10 with parsley or $7.50 without.

But now, the bloom is off the legume. Carter's peanut business is run by a trust. His mother, Miss Lillian, recently told some Denver school children she doesn't eat them.
And at capital cocktail fests, they're down the table with the potato chips.

Peanuts are being doctored to taste like almonds, pecans and walnuts.

Economically, the industry was hurting even in 1976, after leveling-off meat prices caused consumers to switch back from protein-rich peanut butter to steaks and chops.

Meat prices are up again, but so is peanut butter. And other sticky problems have emerged to help cause a production drop of 29 million pounds in 1977, and the trend continues.

The problems:
-More Americans are dining out, with few searching menus for peanut butter sandwiches.

-Peanut butter is about 40 percent fat, causing calorie-conscious dieters to link it with chunkiness and middle-age spread.

Last but not least, a declining birthrate has resulted in a shortage of peanut butter and jelly sandwiches' best customers - children.

"Zero population growth is hurting the peanut industry," declared Barbara Schlei, an Agriculture Department official, at a recent convention of the Peanut Butter Manufacturers and Nut Salters Association.

But peanuts are fighting back, and that takes us to Tyrone, Pa., where Flavored Nuts Inc., is removing the oil from them and substituting essences of almonds, pecans and walnuts. Millions of pounds of the bogus nuts are sold annually.

That's not exactly peanuts.
Also, the Georgia Peanut Growers are flooding the nation's restaurants with recipes for Southern-style peanut soup, peanut and sweet pea salad, and peanut pie.

And the Agricultural Department is pushing peanuts abroad. Exports have leaped from 229,000 metric tons in 1975 to 288,000 in 1977.

Japan is a new customer for "American-made peanut butter."
There, it is reprocessed into a creamier, sweeter product to tempt Japanese taste buds. In Britain, along with a heavy American-backed advertising campaign, U.S. goobers are being turned into peanut butter.

China grows nearly all the peanuts it consumes, but there's one possible way the market might be opened slightly.

A peanut disguised to taste like that Chinese favorite, the litchi nut?

Honey is one of the earth's purest foods, since disease-causing bacteria cannot exist in it.

A major earthquake struck Bucharest, Romania in March, 1977, killing over 1,300 people and causing extensive damage to housing and industry.

Funk, Adonis Clash In Lions' Wrestling

Lions Club wrestling presents a special attraction Saturday night at the Bull Barn - a special challenge match between the golden boy, Adrian Adonis, and Dory Funk, Jr. Fans may remember that Adonis has issued the "Golden Challenge" to all entries: $5,000 to the man who can pin him in ten minutes for a three-count, under National Wrestling Alliance rules.

The golden boy is a product of Buffalo, New York, has an extensive amateur background, and was a notorious street fighter. At 6-1, 245, he is a formidable opponent. Funk is 6-3, 259, and stays in shape by working cattle and farming.

Funk held the world heavyweight wrestling championship longer than anyone in the history of the sport. Adonis has stipulated that all challengers must sign a legal release absolving him of all responsibility.

In the semi-main, Funk will join former amateur great and ex-coach Larry Lane in tag team action. They will defend their western states tag team title against Adonis and Dennis Stamp. Stamp and Lane both hit the scales at 239. Lane was a world-class wrestler as an amateur, while Stamp was all-American in both football and wrestling at Concordia College. Stamp, like Lane, has wrestled all over the world. He has shown his class in Mexico, and may be contesting in Columbia in the near future.

Scott Casey, 235-pound Dallas strong boy, will take on Barrel-shaped Rip Hawk, 230-pound veteran who recently moved to Albuquerque. Casey played football for Pascal High School in Fort Worth, is a noted weight lifter, and makes no secret of the fact that he was once in training as a hairdresser. He is popular with feminine fans. Hawk was once a coach, and known for his vicious ring tactics.

One other match will fill out the card.

In last week's action, the brass knucks title match between Mr. Pogo and Super Destroyer was stopped when the Super Destroyer was bleeding profusely. Stamp was disqualified against Noah Jones, and Terry Garvin succumbed to Ricky Romero's sleeper hold. Garvin wrestled a draw against Hawk in the first match, when Don Diamond of Dallas failed to show.

Action at the Bull Barn will start at 9 p.m. Saturday.

Legion Limelight

According to his mother, Richard Waters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Waters of 224 Ave. E., lives and breathes baseball. Waters, a 6-4, 165 towering right-hander, has an extensive Kids, Inc. background as well as having played for the Hereford Whitefaces and spent three seasons with the Local American Legion Redbirds.

"Richard is a hard worker, and his hitting and fielding seem to improve with each passing game," Legion coach Joe Don Cummings commented. "He has a great attitude, and is a hard worker."

Waters, who recently reached an agreement on a partial scholarship to play baseball at Panhandle State University at Goodwell, Oklahoma, also played football in junior high, but put all his efforts into his favorite sport when he reached high school.

Playing with a team in the YMCA high school basketball league has helped keep him in shape as have countless hours out in the field hunting duck, goose, and pheasant. In fact, Waters plans to either become an agriculturist or find work with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department when he finishes college.

The 17-year-old HHS graduate also loves to water ski, and has earned his senior lifesaving certificate as well. He was a member of the Key Club while in high school.

Evert Counting On Wimby Experience

WINSOR DOBBIN
AP Sports Writer

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Chris Evert counted on experience to carry her through, while her opponent, Martina Navratilova, hoped that a psychological advantage would give her the edge today in the Wimbledon women's singles final.

"I have been through this three times before," said the top-seeded Evert. "It's Martina's first Wimbledon final and I think that gives me a little advantage."

Evert, who lost to Billie Jean King in her first final in 1973, captured the singles crown the following year, beating Olga Morozova of the Soviet Union. She also won in 1976, defeating Evonne Goolagong in a three-set thriller.

Navratilova, a powerful left-hander who plays the serve-and-volley game, is the type of player to do well on Wimbledon's fast grass surface.

She proved that point when she beat Evert on grass in a warm-up tournament at Eastbourne two weeks ago. The victory may have given Navratilova the psychological lift she needed to defeat Evert, who holds a 20-5 match advantage.

"That success at Eastbourne should give me a lot of confidence," said Navratilova. "It all depends on whether I serve well."

They said the same about Virginia Wade, the big-serving defending champion, who met Evert in the semifinals Wednesday. But Wade's serve was off-target, and Evert swept her in two sets 8-6, 6-2.

Navratilova, the No. 2 seed, earned a berth in the final with a 2-6, 6-4, 6-4 triumph over Goolagong, who suffered a cramp in her left leg but finished the match.

The winner collects a prize of $30,780.

In the men's final Saturday, Sweden's Bjorn Borg will go after his third consecutive Wimbledon's singles title when he faces the powerful Jimmy Connors.

Connors reached the final when he fought off a set point in a brilliantly entertaining first set Thursday and went on to eliminate Vitas Gerulaitis 9-7, 6-2, 6-1.

In the hour-long first set Gerulaitis raced about the court, matching Connors shot for shot, and danced to the net to put his volleys away. But by the end of the set his spirit was broken and Connors easily took the next two sets.

Borg, after sweeping past the surprising Dutchman Tom Okker, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4 Thursday, admitted that his match with Connors will be the most important match of his life.

"He is the guy to beat," said Borg. "We always have tough games down to almost the last point."

The winner in men's singles will pocket $34,200.

Meanwhile, King, who is trying to beat the record she holds jointly with Elizabeth Ryan of 19 Wimbledon titles, got a step closer as she and Ray Ruffels advanced to the quarter-finals of the mixed doubles.

Shoot Variety On Slate Tonight

Hereford and Dimmitt area trap shooters will be popping plenty of caps tonight during a full-scale round of jackpot trap shooting at the Hereford Gun Club.

Practice rounds will get underway at 7 p.m. at the trap facility, located east of the Hereford Municipal Airport.

Tonight's events will include two jackpot rounds, one from the 27 yard line and one from the 16-yard line.

The 16-yard event will involve 50 rounds, and a $7 entry fee will be charged. The winner will receive a 50 percent payback.

A total of 25 rounds will be fired in the 27-yard contest, with an entry fee of $4 and a 50 percent payback.

An Annie Oakley elimination event will be fired from the 27-yard line and will feature a 70 percent payback to the winner.

Entry fee will be $2 with a buy-back.

A protection shoot involving a minimum of 10 teams will also be held.

Each contestant will be charged a $5 entry fee, and shooters will draw for a partner to back them up on the firing line in the event of a miss.

The winning team will receive a 50 percent payback in the event.

Eastwick 'Earning' His Money With Phils

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

When Rawly Eastwick was with the New York Yankees earlier this season, a lot of people thought that he was being underworked and overpaid.

One of them was Rawly Eastwick.

"I knew something was wrong," said the right-handed relief pitcher.

Before Eastwick rusted away altogether in the Yankee bullpen, the high-priced free agent was dealt to the Philadelphia Phillies a couple of weeks ago - and now figures to be earning his money with an overworked bullpen.

"These guys are counting on me now," said Eastwick after saving a 7-6 victory for Philadelphia over the Montreal Expos Thursday night. "I've got to do a job for them. The rest of the bullpen needs a rest."

Elsewhere in the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers beat the Atlanta Braves 5-1 in 11 innings; the San Francisco Giants turned back the San Diego Padres 5-4; the St. Louis Cardinals tripped the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-2 and the New York Mets beat the Chicago Cubs 9-6.

Eastwick has been noticeably brightened by the change from Yankee Black to Philadelphia Red.

"I'm now with the best organization in baseball," said the 26-year-old Eastwick. "I grew up across the river Haddonfield, N.J. I feel at home. I'm relaxed. I go out there without a care in the world. I know I can pitch."

Eastwick gave up just one hit in 4 1/2 innings after relieving starter Jim Kaat. That was a triple to Warren Cromartie in the sixth, the inning the Expos got two unearned runs.

The Phillies rocked NL All-Star Ros Grimsley for 10 hits and seven runs in four innings, including Greg Luzinski's league-leading 20th homer.

Dodgers 5, Braves 1

Dave Lopes blasted a grand slam homer in the bottom of the 11th to lead Los Angeles over Atlanta. Lopes' homer, his 10th of the year and his first career grand slam, came off Craig Skok, the third Atlanta pitcher.

Giants 5, Padres 4

Bill Madlock's three-run

triple with one out in the seventh inning triggered San Francisco over San Diego. Randy Jones, making his first relief appearance of the season, walked Marc Hill and Terry Whitfield to start the seventh-inning rally.

Cardinals 3, Pirates 2

Garry Templeton circled the bases in the fifth with the winning run on an infield hit and shortstop Frank Taveras' three-base error as St. Louis beat Pittsburgh. Templeton dashed from first to home after Taveras fielded his grounder and hit the St. Louis runner with his errant throw.

Cubs 9, Mets 6

Willie Montanez's two-run double sparked a five-run sixth inning, leading New York over Chicago. Tim Lincecum and Lee Mazzilli led off the sixth with singles before Montanez doubled to the wall in left center off Chicago starter Dennis Lamp to score both runners.

World Shot Put Record Broken

COTEBOURG, Sweden (AP)—Last week Udo Beyer hit his personal best in the shot put, but Thursday night he outdid himself, not to mention the rest of the world.

"I had definitely not expected this," said Beyer. "I thought I had reached my top ... last weekend."

What Beyer did was shatter the world record in the shot put Thursday night with an explosive toss of 72 feet, 8 inches.

Beyer, who just last week won the East German Championships with a career best of 71-9 1/2 - the best toss this year, broke by a whopping 5 1/2 inches the mark set in July 1976 by the Soviet Union's Alexander Barshnikov.

The huge East German, who has been on top in the shotput since winning the world championship in Dusseldorf, West Germany, last September, set the mark on his second of six attempts.

The U.S. squad, who came to the international track and field meet with high hopes, managed only one victory - by Herman Frazier in the men's 400 meters. Frazier was timed in 45.8 seconds, followed by fellow Americans Maurice Peoples in 46.3 and Quentin Wheeler in 47.0.

In the high jump, Sweden's Rume Almen scored a surprising victory, clearing 7-3, beating Americans Rory Kotinek, who jumped 7-1 1/4 and Tom Woods, 6-10 1/4.

European record holder Wladyslaw Kozakiewicz of Poland won the pole vault with a leap of 18-2 1/2. Americans Dan Ripley, who only cleared 17-0 1/4 and Earl Bell, 16-5, finished a disappointing second and seventh, respectively.

Weaver Ejected

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

Toronto's Dave Lemanczyk got the best of Baltimore's Jim Palmer, which didn't figure, while umpire Marty Springstead - as usual - had the last word in his running feud with Orioles Manager Earl Weaver.

While Lemanczyk, 3-10, who entered the game with a 7.33 earned run average, was besting perennial all-star Palmer 2-0 with last-out help from Mike Willis, Springstead took over undisputed possession of first place in the "Make Weaver a Leaver" club by ejecting the feisty Baltimore skipper for the seventh time. Ron Luciano is second with six thumbs.

In other American League action, the California Angels trounced the Kansas City Royals 9-2, the Seattle Mariners nipped the Oakland A's 3-2, the New York Yankees trimmed the Texas Rangers 7-2, the Boston Red Sox edged the Chicago White Sox 7-6 in 10 innings and the Detroit Tigers downed the Cleveland Indians 8-4.

Bob Bailor singled home an unearned run for Toronto in the fifth inning and Weaver lasted until the eighth, when he argued with umpire Durwood Merrill that Bailor's double into the left field corner was foul. Bailor later scored on Rico Carty's single.

Angels 9, Royals 2

Slump-ridden Joe Rudi unloaded a grand slam home run in the first inning and a run-scoring single in the third as California moved back into first place in the American League West, one-half game ahead of Oakland. Rudi's blast was his eighth career grand slam and second against the Royals in nine days. Meanwhile, Don Aase held the Royals to seven hits.

Mariners 3, A's 2

Tom Paciorek's two-run single in the seventh inning ended Oakland's four-game winning streak while Paul Mitchell and Enrique Romo collaborated on a four-hitter. The Mariners trailed 2-1 before they loaded the bases with two out against John Johnson and Paciorek greeted Elias Sosa with his broken-bat game-winning hit as Seattle defeated the A's for the first time this season after dropping 10 straight.

Yankees 7, Rangers 2

Roy White and Thurman Munson each drove in two runs, helping Dick Tidrow record his first victory since May 25. Tidrow scattered eight hits in raising his career mark against Texas to 8-2. Meanwhile, the Yankees raked ex-teammate Doc Medich for two hits and two runs in the first inning and two more runs in the second.

Red Sox 7, White Sox 6

Governors To Vote Today

CHICAGO (AP)—Ownership turmoil, as well as championships, is a Boston Celtics hallmark, and management confusion confronted the on-court powerful National Basketball Association team again today.

John Y. Brown of Kentucky, owner of the Buffalo Braves, sought control of the Celtics in an unprecedented franchise swap with owner Irv Levin.

The NBA Board of Governors, headed by Levin, was expected to allow the Los Angeles-based movie executives to make over Brown's Braves and move them to San Diego.

The Buffalo franchise has been in the NBA since 1970. San Diego already lost one NBA team, the Rockets, now in Houston.

Eight individuals or companies have owned the Celtics since founder Walter Brown - no relation to John Y. - died in 1964 after 18 years in control.

As for John Brown's takeover, "We have no reason to think it won't happen," said Jeff Cohen, Celtic assistant general manager.

Red Auerback, Celtics president and general manager, and coach from 1950-66, was in Chicago to discuss his future with Brown, a millionaire who made his fortune in the fast food business.

Auerback's contract expires Aug. 1. He's had an offer from CBS-TV and feelers from the NBA's New York Knicks.

Winners of 13 NBA titles, the Celtics compiled their worst record 32-50 in history last season, missing the playoffs. Levin was booed by Celtics fans before a national television audience at John Havlicek's farewell NBA game.

Rattlers, copperheads and cottonmouths are pit vipers.

Little League Baseball

A team from Taiwan was the 1977 Little League champ, beating a team from El Cajon, Calif., in the final game.

The Winners

Last year's win by Taiwan marked that country's sixth World Series win. Teams from that country do well because most of the boys play on teams at school.

Eight teams compete each year in the Little League World Series: four teams from our country — one each from the North, South, East and West — and one each from Latin America, Europe, Canada and the Far East.

Reggie played Little League

Reggie Jackson of the New York Yankees used to play Little League ball.

In fact, some 300 Little League graduates have played or are playing on major league teams.

Reggie Jackson's five home runs in last year's World Series set a record.

He grew up just outside of Philadelphia. He participated in football, track and baseball in high school.

Little League baseball is the world's largest organized sports program for kids.

It is played in 31 countries around the world.

There are over 70,000 teams of 9-to-12-year-olds. Over two-and-a-half million youngsters play it.

There is also a Senior League for ages 13 to 15 and a Big League for ages 16 to 18.

In 1974, Little League started a softball program, too.

Not all baseball for children is a part of Little League. Some cities have their own teams and do not compete in the Little League program.

Over 70,000 people come to Williamsport, Pa., during Little League World Series week.

The World Series

Each year thousands of kids are picked to play on all-star teams from their league. Local tournaments are held. The winner at each level moves to higher play-offs and then on to the World Series in Williamsport, Pa.

This year's series will be held from August 21 through 26.

Following the series, all eight teams travel to Washington, D.C., where they have a chance to learn about our capital.

Hart Dykes Jr., Football and Baseball Champion

BAY CITY, TEXAS — "Try your hardest and keep at it."

All you super sports who want to succeed had better listen to this champ.

Hart Dykes Jr., now 11, has done something outstanding.

He is a national champ in two sports.

He is good at football.

In the fall of 1976, Hart won the Punt, Pass and Kick national championship in his age bracket.

He is also good at baseball.

Last summer, he won the Pitch, Hit and Run national championship for 10-year-olds.

His father and brothers help him get ready for the competition.

Hart would like to be a pro-pitcher someday.

Hart plays baseball. He likes pitching best, but he also plays third base on his team.

He has never played football on a team, but hopes to start when he reaches the seventh grade.

Other kids often ask him for tips on how to punt, pass, kick, pitch, hit and run.

His football hero is Tony Dorsett of the Dallas Cowboys. His baseball hero is Rod Carew of the Minnesota Twins.

Someday he hopes to play pro ball . . . baseball, that is.

His hobby is collecting cards . . . football cards, that is.

Batter Up! It's Pitch, Hit and Run Time

The Pitch, Hit and Run contest is major-league baseball's program for kids.

This year, boys and girls ages 9 to 12 have taken part in the competition.

The finals will be held at the All-Star game in San Diego, Calif., on July 11.

To make the finals, the players have competed and won on five steps up the ladder . . . from local to national competition.

This contest is sponsored by Thom McAn shoes and the National Recreation and Park Association.

The program started in April. Kids went by Thom McAn shoe stores and picked up registration forms and a booklet on how to pitch, hit and run.

The 1977 winners at the finals held in Yankee Stadium: Scott Sellner of Rancho Cordova, Ca., 12; Dan Drane of Columbia, Miss., 11; Hart Dykes Jr. of Bay City, Texas, 10; Chris Schaefer of Evansville, Ind., 9.
